10 For the mountains shall remove, and the hills shall fall down; but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace fall away, saith the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with the <sup>1</sup>carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with sapphires, 12 And I will make thy windows of <sup>1</sup>emeralds, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall be <sup>1</sup>taught of the Lord, and much peace shall be to thy children.

14 In <sup>1</sup>righteousness shalt thou be established, and be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear it: and from fear; for it shall not come near thee.

16 Behold, I have created the <sup>1</sup>smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment, thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the Lord's servants, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord.

55 1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 God's counsels are not as man's. 12 The joy of the faithful.

1 Ho, everyone that <sup>1</sup>thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and ye that have <sup>2</sup>no silver, come, buy and eat: come, I say, buy <sup>3</sup>wine and milk without silver and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye lay out silver, and not for bread? <sup>1</sup>and your labor without being satisfied? hearken diligently unto me, and eat that which is 53:12 <sup>2</sup> That is, of all that believe in him.

54:1 <sup>1</sup> After that he hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the Church, because it should feel the fruit of the same, and calleth her barren, because that in the captivity she was a widow without hope to have any children.

<sup>2</sup> The Church in this her affliction and captivity shall bring forth more children, than when she was at liberty: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number that should come of her. Her deliverance under Cyrus was her childhood, and therefore this was accomplished, when she came to her age, which was under the Gospel.

54:2 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that for the great number of children that God should give her, she should seem to lack room to lodge them.

54:5 <sup>1</sup> That did regenerate thee by his holy Spirit.

54:6 <sup>1</sup> As a wife which wast forsaken in thy youth.

54:9 <sup>1</sup> As sure as the promise that I made to Noah, that the waters should no more overflow the earth.

54:11 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he declareth the excellent estate of the Church under Christ.

54:12 <sup>1</sup> Or, jasper, or pearl.

54:13 <sup>1</sup> By the hearing of his word and inward moving of his Spirit.

54:14 <sup>1</sup> In stability and sureness, so that it shall stand forever.

54:15 <sup>1</sup> And therefore shall not prevail.

54:16 <sup>1</sup> Signifying hereby, that man can do nothing, but so far as God giveth power: for seeing that all are his creatures, he must needs govern and guide them.

55:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his Church, exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined works, and the Epicureans, which are full with their worldly lusts, and so thirst not after these waters.

<sup>3</sup> By waters, wine, milk and bread, he meaneth all things necessary to the spiritual life, as these are necessary to this corporal life.

55:2 <sup>1</sup> He revolveth their ingratitude, which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, and in the meantime spare neither cost nor labor to obtain those which are nothing profitable.

good, and let your soul delight in <sup>2</sup>fatness.

3 Incline your ears, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live, and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the <sup>1</sup>sure mercies of David.

4 Behold, I gave <sup>1</sup>him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master unto the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, <sup>1</sup>and a nation that knew not thee, shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God, and the Holy one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the Lord while he may be <sup>1</sup>found: call ye upon him while he is near.

7 Let the wicked <sup>1</sup>forsake his ways, and the unrighteous his own imaginations, and return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive.

8 For my <sup>1</sup>thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts above your thoughts.

10 Surely as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread unto him that eateth,

11 So shall my <sup>1</sup>word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the <sup>1</sup>mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into joy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thorns there shall grow fir trees; for nettles shall grow the myrrh tree, and it shall be to the Lord <sup>1</sup>for a name, and for an everlasting <sup>2</sup>sign that shall not be taken away.

1 Thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Keep judgment and do justice, for my salvation is at hand to come, and my <sup>2</sup>righteousness to be revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man which layeth hold on it; he that keepeth the <sup>1</sup>Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 And let not the son of the strangers, which <sup>1</sup>is joined to the Lord, speak and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people; neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord unto the Eunuchs that keep my Sabbaths, and choose the thing that pleaseth me, and take hold of my covenant,

5 Even unto them will I give in mine <sup>1</sup>House and within my walls, a place, and a <sup>2</sup>name better than of the sons and of the daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleave unto the Lord, to serve him, and to love the Name of the Lord, and to be his servants; everyone that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraceth my covenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy mountain, and make them joyful in mine House of prayer; their burnt <sup>1</sup>offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for <sup>2</sup>all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye <sup>1</sup>beasts of the field, come to devour, even all ye beasts of the forest.

55:3 <sup>1</sup> The same covenant which through my mercy I ratified and confirmed to David, that it should be eternal, 2 Sam. 7:13; Acts 13:34.

55:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning Christ, of whom David was a figure.

55:5 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou didst not receive to be thy people.

55:6 <sup>1</sup> When he offereth himself by the preaching of his word.

55:7 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he showeth that repentance must be joined with faith, and how we cannot call upon God aright, except the fruits of our faith appear.

55:8 <sup>1</sup> Although you are not soon reconciled one to another and judge me by yourselves, yet I am most easy to be reconciled, yea, I offer my mercies to you.

55:11 <sup>1</sup> If these small things have their effect, as daily experience showeth, much more shall my promise which I have made and confirmed, bring to pass the things which I have spoken for your deliverance.

55:13 <sup>1</sup> To set forth his glory.

56:1 <sup>1</sup> God showeth what he requireth of them after that he hath delivered them: to wit, the works of charity whereby true faith is declared.

56:2 <sup>1</sup> Under the Sabbath he comprehendeth the whole service of God and true religion.

56:3 <sup>1</sup> Let none think himself unmeet to receive the graces of the Lord: for the Lord will take away all impediments, and will forsake none which will keep his true religion, and believe in him.

56:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in his Church.

<sup>2</sup> They shall be called after my people, and be of the same religion: yea, under Christ the dignity of the faithful shall be greater than the Jews were at that time.

56:7 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he meaneth the spiritual service of God, to whom the faithful offer continual thanksgiving, yea themselves and all that they have, as a lively and acceptable sacrifice.

56:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, etc., thus he speaketh to fear the hypocrites and to assure the faithful that when this cometh, they may know it was told them before.

10 Their <sup>1</sup>watchmen are all blind: they have no knowledge: they are all dumb dogs: they cannot bark: they lie and sleep, and delight in sleeping.

11 And these greedy dogs can never have enough: and these shepherds cannot understand: for they all look to their own way, everyone for his advantage, and for his own purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink, and <sup>1</sup>tomorrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

57 1 God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked idolaters, 9 and their vain confidence.

1 The righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart, and merciful men are taken away, and no man understandeth that the righteous is taken away <sup>1</sup>from the evil to come.

2 <sup>1</sup>Peace shall come: they shall rest in their beds, everyone that walketh before him.

3 But you <sup>1</sup>witches' children, come hither, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 On whom have ye jested? upon whom have ye gaped and thrust out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a false seed?

5 Inflamed with idols under every green tree? and sacrificing the <sup>1</sup>children in the valleys under the tops of the rocks?

6 Thy portion is in the smooth stones <sup>1</sup>of the river: they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering: thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delight in <sup>2</sup>these?

7 Thou hast made thy <sup>1</sup>bed upon a very high mountain: thou wentest up thither, even thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the <sup>1</sup>doors also and posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thyself to another, than me, and wentest up, and didst <sup>2</sup>enlarge thy bed, and make a covenant between thee and them, and lovedst their bed in every place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest <sup>1</sup>to the kings with oil, and didst increase thine ointments, and send thy messengers far off, and didst humble thyself unto hell.

10 Thou weariedst thyself in thy manifold journeys, yet saidest thou not, <sup>1</sup>There is no hope: thou <sup>2</sup>hast found life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And whom didst thou reverence or fear, seeing thou hast <sup>1</sup>lied unto me, and hast not remembered me, neither set thy mind thereon? is it not because I hold my peace, and that of long <sup>2</sup>time? therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I will declare thy righteousness <sup>1</sup>and thy works, and they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together, deliver thee: but the wind <sup>1</sup>shall take them all away: vanity shall pull them away: but he that trusteth in me shall inherit the land, and shall possess mine holy Mountain.

14 <sup>1</sup>And he shall say, Cast up, cast up: prepare the way: take up the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith he that is high and excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternity, whose Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the high and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to revive the spirit of the humble, and to give life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend forever: neither will I be 56:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that this affliction shall come through the fault of the governors, prophets, and pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, avarice and obstinacy provoked God's wrath against them.

56:12 <sup>1</sup> We are well yet, and tomorrow shall be better: therefore let us not fear the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

57:1 <sup>1</sup> From the plague that is at hand, and also because God will punish the wicked.

57:2 <sup>1</sup> The soul of the righteous shall be in joy, and their body shall rest in the grave unto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

57:3 <sup>1</sup> He threateneth the wicked hypocrites, who under the pretence of the name of God's people, derided God's word and his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithful and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them bastards, and the children of sorcerers, which forsook God, and fled to wicked means for succor.

57:5 <sup>1</sup> Read Lev. 18:21; 2 Kings 23:10.

57:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, every place was polluted with their idolatry: or every fair stone that they found, they made an idol of it.

you did serve God.

57:7 <sup>1</sup> To wit, thine altars in an open place, like an impudent harlot, that careth not for the sight of her husband.

57:8 <sup>1</sup> Instead of setting up the word of God in the open places on the posts and doors to have it in remembrance, Deut. 6:9 and 27:1, thou hast set up signs and marks of thine idolatry in every place.

57:9 <sup>1</sup> Thou didst seek the favor of the Assyrians by gifts and presents to help thee against the Egyptians: and when they failed thou soughtest to the Babylonians, and more and more didst torment thyself.

57:10 <sup>1</sup> Although thou sawest all thy labors to be in vain, yet wouldst thou never acknowledge thy fault, and leave off.

57:11 <sup>1</sup> Broken promise with me.

57:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, thy naughtiness, idolatries, and impieties which the wicked call God's service: thus he derideth their obstinacy.

57:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Assyrians and others, whose help they looked for.

57:14 <sup>1</sup> God shall say to Darius and Cyrus.

always wroth, <sup>1</sup>for the spirit should fail before me: and I have made the breath.

17 For his <sup>1</sup>wicked covetousness I am angry with him, and have smitten him: I hid me, and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his own heart.

18 I have seen his ways, and will <sup>1</sup>heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comfort unto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the <sup>1</sup>fruit of the lips, to be peace: peace unto them that are <sup>2</sup>far off, and to them that are near, saith the Lord: for I will heal him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that <sup>1</sup>cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

1 Cry <sup>1</sup>aloud, spare not: lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins.

2 Yet they <sup>1</sup>seek me daily, and will know my ways, even as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice: they will draw near unto God, saying,

3 <sup>1</sup>Wherefore have we fasted, and thou seest it not? we have punished ourselves, and thou regardest it not. Behold, in the day of your fast you will seek <sup>2</sup>your will, and require all your debts.

4 Behold, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do today, to make your voice to be <sup>1</sup>heard above.

5 Is it such a fast that I have chosen, that a man should afflict his soul for a day, and to bow down his head, as a bull rush, and to lie down in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to take off the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every <sup>1</sup>yoke?

7 Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that wander, unto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and hide not thyself from <sup>1</sup>thine own flesh?

8 Then shall thy <sup>1</sup>light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy <sup>2</sup>righteousness shall go before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the <sup>1</sup>finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou <sup>1</sup>pour out thy soul to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soul: then shall thy light spring out in the <sup>2</sup>darkness, and thy darkness shall be as the noon day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones, and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the old <sup>1</sup>waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach, and the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou <sup>1</sup>turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine Holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor seeking thine own will, nor speaking a vain word,

14 Then shalt thou delight in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

57:16 <sup>1</sup>I will not use my power against frail man, whose life is but a blast.

57:17 <sup>1</sup>That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by covetousness.

57:18 <sup>1</sup>Though they were obstinate, yet I did not withdraw my mercy from them.

57:19 <sup>1</sup>That is, I frame the speech and words of my messengers which shall bring peace.

57:20 <sup>1</sup>Their evil conscience doth ever torment them, and therefore they can never have rest, read Isa. 48:22.

58:1 <sup>1</sup>The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to use all diligence and severity to rebuke the hypocrites.

58:2 <sup>1</sup>They will seem to worship me and have outward holiness.

<sup>2</sup>Thus he convinceth the hypocrites by the second table, and by their duty toward their neighbor, that they have neither faith nor religion.

58:4 <sup>1</sup>So long as you use contention and oppression, your fasting and prayers shall not be heard.

58:6 <sup>1</sup>That you leave off all your extortions.

58:7 <sup>1</sup>For in him thou seest thyself as in a glass.

58:8 <sup>1</sup>That is, the prosperous estate wherewith God will bless thee.

58:9 <sup>1</sup>Whereby is meant all manner of injury.

58:12 <sup>1</sup>Signifying, that of the Jews should come such as should build again the ruins of Jerusalem and Judea: but chiefly this is meant of the spiritual Jerusalem, whose builders were the Apostles.

58:13 <sup>1</sup>If thou refrain thyself from thy wicked works.

1 Behold, "the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save: neither is his ear heavy, that it cannot hear.

2 But <sup>b</sup>your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For your hands are defiled with <sup>1</sup>blood, and your fingers with iniquity: your lips have spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquity.

4 No man calleth for justice: no man <sup>1</sup>contendeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak vain things: they conceive mischief, and <sup>2</sup>bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch cockatrice <sup>1</sup>eggs, and weave the spider's <sup>2</sup>web: he that eateth of their eggs, died, and that which is trode upon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webs shall be no garment, neither shall they cover themselves with their labors: for their works are works of iniquities, and the work of cruelty is in their hands.

7 Their feet turn to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equity in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is <sup>1</sup>judgment far from us, neither doth <sup>2</sup>justice come near unto us: we wait for light, but lo, it is darkness: for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

10 We grope for the wall like the <sup>1</sup>blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noon day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

CHAPTER 59

11 We roar all like <sup>1</sup>bears, and mourn like doves: we look for equity, but there is none: for health, but it is far from us.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our <sup>1</sup>sins testify against us: for our trespasses are with us, and we know our iniquities

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we have departed away from our God, and have spoken of cruelty and rebellion, conceiving and uttering out of the heart <sup>1</sup>false matters.

14 Therefore <sup>1</sup>judgment is turned backward, and justice standeth far off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and he that refraineth from evil, maketh himself <sup>1</sup>a prey: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no judgment.

16 And when he saw that there was no man, he wondered that none would offer himself. <sup>1</sup>Therefore his arm did <sup>2</sup>save it, and his righteousness itself did sustain it.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an <sup>1</sup>helmet of salvation upon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the fury of the adversaries with a recompense to his enemies: he will fully repair the <sup>1</sup>islands.

19 So shall they fear the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the Sun; for the enemy shall <sup>1</sup>come like a flood; but the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come unto Zion, and unto <sup>1</sup>them that turn from iniquity in Jacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my Covenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words, which I have put in thy mouth, <sup>1</sup>shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of the seed of thy seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth even forever.

59:3 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 1:15.

59:4 <sup>1</sup> All men wink at the injuries and oppressions, and none go about to remedy them.

59:10 <sup>1</sup> We are altogether destitute of counsel, and can find no end of our miseries.

59:11 <sup>1</sup> We express our sorrows by outward signs, some more, some less.

59:12 <sup>1</sup> This confession is general to the Church to obtain remission of sins, and the Prophets did not exempt themselves from the same.

59:13 <sup>1</sup> To wit, against our neighbors.

59:14 <sup>1</sup> There is neither justice nor uprightness among men.

59:15 <sup>1</sup> The wicked will destroy him.

59:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to do justice, and to remedy the things that were so far out of order.

59:17 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God hath all means at hand to deliver his Church and to punish their enemies.

59:18 <sup>1</sup> To wit, your enemies, which dwell in divers places, and beyond the sea.

59:19 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there shall be great affliction in the Church, but God will ever deliver his.

59:20 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he declareth that the true deliverance from sin and Satan belongeth to none, but to the children of God, whom he justifieth.

59:21 <sup>1</sup> Because the doctrine is made profitable by the virtue of the Spirit, he joineth the one with the other, and promiseth to give them both to his Church forever.

1 Arise, O Jerusalem; be bright, for thy <sup>1</sup>light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, darkness shall cover the <sup>1</sup>earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walk in <sup>1</sup>thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising up.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all <sup>1</sup>these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart shall be astonished <sup>1</sup>and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be converted unto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The <sup>1</sup>multitude of camels shall cover thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and show forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the sheep of <sup>1</sup>Kedar shall be gathered unto thee: the rams of Nebajoth shall serve thee: they shall come up to be accepted upon mine <sup>2</sup>altar: and I will beautify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these <sup>1</sup>that fly like a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships <sup>1</sup>of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sons from far, and their silver and their gold with them unto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their <sup>1</sup>Kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring unto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the <sup>1</sup>kingdom, that will not serve thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The <sup>1</sup>glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the elm and the box tree together to beautify the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorify the place of my <sup>2</sup>feet.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bow unto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall <sup>1</sup>down at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee; The city of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternal glory, and a joy from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the <sup>1</sup>breasts of Kings: and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Savior, and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

17 For brass will I bring gold, and for iron will I bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron. I will also make thy government <sup>1</sup>peace, and thine exactors righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt <sup>1</sup>call salvation, thy walls, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt have no more Sun to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the <sup>1</sup>Moon shine unto thee: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy Sun shall never go down, neither shall thy Moon be hid: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy sorrow shall be ended.

60:19 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that all worldly means shall cease, and that Christ shall be all in all, as Rev. 21:23 and 22:5.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possess the land forever, the <sup>1</sup>grass of my planting shall be the work of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a <sup>1</sup>thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

61 1 He prophesieth that Christ shall be anointed, and sent to preach. 10 The joy of the faithful.

1 The "Spirit of the Lord God is <sup>1</sup>upon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preach good tidings unto the poor, to bind up the <sup>2</sup>broken hearted, to preach liberty to the <sup>3</sup>captives, and to them that are bound, the opening of the prison,

2 To preach the <sup>1</sup>acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of <sup>2</sup>vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn,

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, and to give unto them beauty for <sup>1</sup>ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of gladness for the spirit of heaviness, that they might be called <sup>2</sup>trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the old waste places, and raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the cities that were desolate and waste through many <sup>1</sup>generations.

5 And the strangers shall <sup>1</sup>stand and feed your sheep, and the sons of the strangers shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the <sup>1</sup>Priests of the Lord, and men shall say unto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eat the <sup>2</sup>riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteousness to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

62 1 The great desire that the Prophets have had for Christ's coming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preach.

1 For Zion's sake I will not <sup>1</sup>hold my tongue, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof break forth as the <sup>2</sup>light, and salvation thereof as a burning lamp.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all Kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by <sup>1</sup>a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a <sup>1</sup>crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

60:22 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the Church should be miraculously multiplied.

61:1 <sup>1</sup> Thus appertaineth to all the Prophets and ministers of God, but chiefly to Christ, of whose abundant graces everyone receiveth according as it pleaseth him to distribute.

61:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, for a long time.

61:5 <sup>1</sup> They shall be ready to serve you in all your necessities.

61:6 <sup>1</sup> This is accomplished in the time of Christ, by whom all the faithful are made Priests and Kings, 1 Pet. 2:9; Rev. 1:6 and 5:10.

<sup>4</sup> Whereas the Gentiles had dominion over the Jews in times past, now they shall have double authority over them and possess twice so much.

61:8 <sup>1</sup> I will not receive their offerings which are extortioners, deceivers, hypocrites, or that deprive me of my glory.

61:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, of the Church.

61:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what shall be the affection, when they feel this their deliverance.

62:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet saith that he will never cease to declare unto the people the good tidings of their deliverance.

62:2 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt have a more excellent fame than thou hast had hitherto.

62:3 <sup>1</sup> He shall esteem thee as dear and precious as a king doth his crown.

62:4 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt no more be contemned as a woman forsaken of her husband.

5 For as a young man marieth a virgin, so shall thy sons <sup>1</sup>marry thee: and as a bridegroom is glad of the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have set <sup>1</sup>watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which all the day and all the night continual shall not cease: <sup>2</sup>ye that are mindful of the Lord, keep not silence,

7 And give him no rest, till he repair, and until he set up Jerusalem the <sup>1</sup>praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand and by his strong arm, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies, and surely the sons of the strangers shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast labored.

9 But they that have gathered it, shall eat it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drink it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A <sup>1</sup>city sought out and not forsaken.

1 Who is this that cometh <sup>1</sup>from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? he is glorious in his apparel, and walketh in his great strength. <sup>2</sup>I speak in righteousness, and am mighty to save.

2 <sup>1</sup>Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winepress?

3 I have trodden the winepress alone, and of all people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them under foot in my wrath, and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the <sup>1</sup>year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help, and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own <sup>1</sup>arm helped me, and my wrath itself sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread down the people in my wrath, and make them <sup>1</sup>drunken in mine indignation, and will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 I will <sup>1</sup>remember the mercy of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according unto all that the Lord hath given us, and for the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath given them according to his tender love, and according to his great mercies.

8 For he said, Surely they are my <sup>1</sup>people, children that will not lie: so he was their Savior.

9 In all their troubles he was <sup>1</sup>troubled, and the Angel <sup>2</sup>of his presence saved them: in his love and in his mercy he redeemed them, and he bare them and carried them always continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then he <sup>1</sup>remembered the old time of Moses and

62:5 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as they confess one faith and religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee, and they are called the children of the Church, inasmuch as Christ maketh her plentiful to bring forth children unto him.

<sup>2</sup> He exhorteth the ministers never to cease to call upon God by prayer for the deliverance of his Church, and to teach others to do the same.

62:10 <sup>1</sup> Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what means he would prepare for the restitution of the same, as Isa. 57:14.

62:11 <sup>1</sup> Ye Prophets and Ministers show the people of this their deliverance: which was chiefly meant of our salvation by Christ, Zech. 9:9; Matt. 21:5.

62:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, one over whom God hath had a singular care to recover her when she was lost.

63:1 <sup>1</sup> This prophecy is against the Idumeans and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chief city of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and under the title of circumcision and the kindred of Abraham, claimed to themselves the chief religion, and hated the true worshippers, Ps. 137:7.

63:2 <sup>1</sup> Another question, to the which the Lord answereth.

63:4 <sup>1</sup> Showing that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profit and deliverance of his Church.

63:5 <sup>1</sup> God showeth that he hath no need of man's help for the deliverance of his, and though men refuse to do their duty through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himself will deliver his Church, and punish the enemies, read Isa. 59:16.

63:6 <sup>1</sup> I will so astonish them and make them so giddy, that they shall not know which way to go.

63:7 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet speaketh this to move the people to remember God's benefits in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles.

63:8 <sup>1</sup> For I did choose them to be mine, that they should be holy, and not deceive mine expectation.

63:9 <sup>1</sup> He bare their afflictions and griefs as though they had been his own.

<sup>2</sup> Which was a witness of God's presence, and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of Salvation.

63:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, the people of Israel, being afflicted, called to remembrance God's benefits, which he had bestowed upon their fathers in times past.

his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the <sup>2</sup>shepherd of his sheep? Where is he that put his holy Spirit within <sup>3</sup>him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his own glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting Name.

13 He led them through the deep, as an <sup>1</sup>horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gave them rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious Name.

15 <sup>1</sup>Look down from heaven, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holiness, and of thy glory. Where is thy <sup>2</sup>zeal and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassion? they are restrained from <sup>3</sup>me.

16 Doubtless thou art our Father: though <sup>1</sup>Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel know us not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is forever.

17 O Lord, why hast <sup>1</sup>thou made us to err from thy ways? and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy <sup>2</sup>servant's sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holiness have possessed it, but a little <sup>1</sup>while: for our adversaries have trodden down thy Sanctuary.

19 We have been as they, over whom thou never barest rule, and upon whom thy name was not called.

64 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet prayeth for the sins of the people. <sup>6</sup>Man's righteousness is like a filthy cloth.

1 Oh, that thou wouldest <sup>1</sup>break the heavens, and come down, and that the mountains might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused <sup>1</sup>the waters to boil, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thine adversaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou didst terrible things, which we looked not for, thou camest down, and the mountains melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world, they have not <sup>1</sup>heard nor understood with the ear, neither hath the eye seen another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou didst meet him, <sup>1</sup>that rejoiced in thee, and did justly: they remembered thee in thy <sup>2</sup>ways: behold, thou art angry, for we have sinned: yet in <sup>3</sup>them is continuance, and we <sup>4</sup>shall be saved.

6 But we have all been as an unclean thing, and all our <sup>1</sup>righteousness is as filthy cloths, and we all do fade like a leaf, and our iniquities like the wind have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy Name, neither that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the <sup>1</sup>clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the work of thine hands.

9 Be not angry, O Lord, <sup>1</sup>above measure, neither remember iniquity forever: Lo, we beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

10 <sup>1</sup>Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wilderness, and Jerusalem a desert.

11 The house of our Sanctuary, and of our glory, <sup>1</sup>where our fathers praised thee, is burnt up with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.

63:11 <sup>2</sup> Meaning, Moses.

63:13 <sup>1</sup> Peaceably and gentle, as an horse is led to his pasture.

63:15 <sup>1</sup> Having declared God's benefits showed to their forefathers, he turned himself to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them.

63:16 <sup>1</sup> Though Abraham would refuse us to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father.

63:17 <sup>1</sup> By taking away the holy Spirit from us, by whom we were governed, and so for our ingratitude didst deliver us up to our own concupiscence, and didst punish sin by sin according to thy just judgment.

63:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, in respect of the promise, which is perpetual: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan, a thousand and four hundred years: and thus they lament, to move God rather to remember his Covenant, than to punish their sins.

64:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his love toward his Church by miracles, and mighty power, as he did in mount Sinai.

64:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the rain, hail, fire, thunder, and lightnings.

64:5 <sup>1</sup> Thou showedst favor toward our fathers, when they trusted in thee, and walked after thy Commandments.

64:6 <sup>1</sup> We are justly punished and brought into captivity, because we have provoked thee to anger, and though we would excuse ourselves, yet our righteousness, and best virtues are before thee as vile cloths, or (as some read) like the menstruous clothes of a woman.

64:8 <sup>1</sup> Albeit, O Lord, by thy just judgment thou mayest utterly destroy us as the potter may his pot, yet we appeal to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt us to be thy children.

64:9 <sup>1</sup> For so the flesh judgeth when God doth not immediately send succor.

64:10 <sup>1</sup> Which were dedicated to thy service, and to call upon thy Name.

64:11 <sup>1</sup> Wherein we rejoiced and worshipped thee.

12 Wilt thou hold thyself still<sup>1</sup> at these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace and afflict us above measure?

2 I have<sup>1</sup> spread out mine hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, even after their own<sup>2</sup> imaginations.

3 A people that provoked me ever unto my face: that sacrificeth in<sup>1</sup> gardens, and burneth incense upon<sup>2</sup> bricks.

4 Which remain among the<sup>1</sup> graves, and lodge in the deserts, which eat<sup>2</sup> swine's flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which say, <sup>1</sup>Stand apart, come not near to me; for I am holier than thou; these are a smoke in my wrath, and a fire that<sup>2</sup> burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is<sup>1</sup> written before me; I will not keep silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosom.

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers, shall be<sup>1</sup> together (saith the Lord) which have burnt incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills; therefore will I measure their old work into their bosom.

65:17 <sup>1</sup> I will so alter and change the state of my church, that it shall seem to dwell in a new world.

that I shall create; for behold, I will create Jerusalem, as a rejoicing, and her people as a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people, and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more there a child of years, nor an old man that hath <sup>1</sup>not filled his days: for he that shall be an hundred years old, shall die as a young man: but the sinner being <sup>2</sup>an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall <sup>1</sup>build houses, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of the tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall enjoy in old age the work of their hands.

24 Yea, before they call, I will answer, and whiles they speak, I will hear.

25 The <sup>1</sup>wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and to the serpent dust shall be his meat. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy Mountain, saith the Lord.

1 Thus saith the Lord, <sup>a</sup>The <sup>1</sup>heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that house that ye will build unto me? and where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things hath mine hand made, <sup>1</sup>and all these things have been, saith the Lord: and to him will I look, even to him that is poor, and of <sup>2</sup>a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my words.

3 He that killeth a bullock, is as if he <sup>1</sup>slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheep, as if he cut off a dog's neck: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood: he that remembereth incense, as if he blessed an idol: yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 Therefore will I <sup>1</sup>choose out their delusions, and I will bring their fear upon them, because I called and none would answer: I speak, and they would not hear: but they did evil in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

5 Hear the word of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his <sup>1</sup>word, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my Name's sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 <sup>1</sup>A voice soundeth from the city, even a voice from the Temple, the voice of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

7 Before <sup>1</sup>she travailed, she brought forth: and before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be brought forth in one <sup>1</sup>day? or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I <sup>1</sup>cause to travail, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth, and shall be barren, saith thy God?

10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her,

11 That ye may suck, <sup>1</sup>and be satisfied with the 65:20 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in this wonderful restoration of the Church there should be no weakness of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should be fresh and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heavenly Jerusalem, when all sin shall cease, and the tears shall be wiped away.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby he showeth that the infidels and unrepentant sinners have no part of this benediction.

65:21 <sup>1</sup> He proposeth to the faithful the blessings which are contained in the Law, and so under temporal things comprehendeth the spiritual promises.

66:1 <sup>1</sup> My majesty is so great, that it filleth both heaven and earth, and therefore cannot be included in a temple like an idol: condemning hereby their vain confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices.

66:2 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein, with the sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he showeth that he hath no need thereof, and that he can be without them, Ps. 50:10.

<sup>2</sup> To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiveth my doctrine with reverence and fear.

66:3 <sup>1</sup> Because the Jews thought themselves holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the mean season had neither faith nor repentance, God showeth that he doth no less detest these ceremonies than he doth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men, dogs, and swine to their idols, which things were expressly forbidden in the Law.

66:4 <sup>1</sup> I will discover their wickedness and hypocrisy, wherewith they think to blind mine eyes, to all the world.

66:5 <sup>1</sup> He encourageth the faithful by promising to destroy their enemies, which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites, and hated them that feared God.

66:6 <sup>1</sup> The enemies shall shortly hear a more terrible voice, even fire and slaughter, seeing they would not hear the gentle voice of the Prophets, which called them to repentance.

66:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the restoration of the Church should be so sudden and contrary to all men's opinions, as when a woman is delivered before she looked for it, and that without pain in travail.

66:8 <sup>1</sup> This shall pass the capacity of man to see such a multitude that shall come up at once, meaning, under the preaching of the Gospel, whereof they that came up out of Babylon were a sign.

66:9 <sup>1</sup> Declaring hereby, that as in his power and providence women travailed and delivered, so he giveth the power to bring forth the Church at his time appointed.

66:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, may rejoice for all the benefits that God bestoweth upon his Church.

breasts of her consolation: that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the brightness of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, behold, I will extend <sup>1</sup>peace over her like a flood, and the glory of the <sup>2</sup>Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be <sup>3</sup>born upon her sides, and be joyful upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your hearts shall rejoice, and your <sup>1</sup>bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his servants, and his indignation against his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and his chariots like a whirlwind, that he may <sup>1</sup>recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord will judge with fire, and with his sword all flesh, and the flame of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctify <sup>1</sup>themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one tree in the midst eating <sup>2</sup>swine's flesh, and such abomination, even the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I will visit their works, and their imaginations, for it shall come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my <sup>1</sup>glory.

20 And they shall bring all your <sup>1</sup>brethren for an offering unto the Lord out of all nations, upon <sup>2</sup>horses, and in chariots, and in horse litters, and upon mules, and swift beasts, to Jerusalem mine holy Mountain, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a clean vessel in the House of the Lord.

21 And I will take of them for <sup>1</sup>Priests, and for Levites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new <sup>1</sup>heavens, and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name continue.

23 And from month to month, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

66:14 <sup>1</sup> Ye shall have new strength and new beauty.

66:15 <sup>1</sup> This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and hath ever continued it against the enemies of his Church, and will do till the last day, which shall be the accomplishment thereof.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby are meant them that did maliciously transgress the Law, by eating beasts forbidden, even to the mouse, which nature abhorreth.

66:18 <sup>1</sup> The Gentiles shall be partakers of that glory, which before I showed to the Jews.

66:19 <sup>1</sup> I will make these that I chose, that they perish not with the rest of the infidels: whereby he alludeth to the marking of the posts of his people, whom he preserved, Exod. 12:7.

66:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shall be made the children of Abraham as you are.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby he meaneth that no necessary means shall want, when God shall call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospel.

66:21 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothy, and Titus first, and others after to preach his word.

66:22 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he signifieth the kingdom of Christ wherein his Church shall be renewed, and whereas before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice, in this there shall be one continual Sabbath, so that all times and seasons shall be meet.

66:24 <sup>1</sup> As he that declared the felicity that shall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, so doth he show what horrible calamity shall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church.

1 1 In what time Jeremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord showeth him the destruction of Jerusalem. 17 He commandeth him to preach his word without fear.

1 The <sup>1</sup>words of Jeremiah the son of <sup>2</sup>Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at <sup>3</sup>Anathoth in the land of Benjamin.

2 To whom the <sup>1</sup>word of the Lord came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon King of Judah in the thirteenth year of his reign:

3 And also in the days of Jehoiakim the <sup>1</sup>son of Josiah king of Judah unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah king of Judah, even unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth <sup>2</sup>month.

4 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Before I <sup>4</sup>formed thee in the womb, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the womb, I sanctified thee, and ordained thee to be a Prophet unto the <sup>2</sup>nations.

6 Then said I, <sup>1</sup>Oh, Lord God, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a child.

7 But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee, shalt thou speak.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand, and

10 Behold, this day have I set thee over the <sup>1</sup>nations, and over the kingdoms, to pluck up, and to root out, and to destroy, and throw down, to build, and to plant.

11 After this the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a <sup>1</sup>rod of almond tree.

12 Then said the Lord unto me, Thou hast seen aright: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

13 Again the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething <sup>1</sup>pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord unto me, Out of the <sup>1</sup>North shall a plague be spread upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and everyone shall set his throne in the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and on all the walls thereof round about, and in all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will declare unto them my <sup>1</sup>judgments touching all the wickedness of them that have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 Thou therefore truss up thy loins, and arise and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not afraid of their faces, lest I <sup>1</sup>destroy thee before them.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, the sermons and prophecies.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken to confirm his vocation and office, forasmuch as he did not presume of himself to preach and prophesy, but was called thereunto by God.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the nephew of Josiah: for Jehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three months, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Jehoiakim that reigned no longer.

<sup>2</sup> Of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Jews were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> The scripture useth this manner of speech, to declare that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were born, as Isa. 49:1; Gal. 1:15.

<sup>2</sup> For Jeremiah did not only prophesy against the Jews, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Considering the great judgments of God, which according to his threatening should come upon the world, he was moved with a certain compassion on the one side to pity them that should thus perish, and on the other side by the infirmity of man's nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, as Isa. 6:11; Exod. 3:21 and 4:1.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that God maketh them meet, and assureth them, whom he calleth to set forth his glory: giving them all means necessary for the same, Exod. 4:12; Isa. 6:7.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is the authority of God's true ministers, which by his word have power to bear down whatsoever lifeth itself up against God: and to plant and assure the humble, and such as give themselves to the obedience of God's word, 2 Cor. 10:4, 5; Heb. 4:12, and these are the keys which Christ hath left to loose, and bind, Matt. 18:18.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> He joineth the sign with the word, for a more ample confirmation: signifying by the rod of the Almond tree, which first buddeth, the hasty coming of the Babylonians against the Jews.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the Chaldeans and Assyrians should be as a pot to seethe the Jews which boiled in their pleasures and lust.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Syria and Assyria were Northward in respect of Jerusalem, which were the Chaldeans' dominion.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> I will give them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the Idolaters which have forsaken me for their idols.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that God's vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their duty faithfully, either for fear of man, or for any other cause, 1 Cor. 9:16.

18 For I, behold, I this day have made thee a defenced city, and an <sup>1</sup>iron pillar and walls of brass against the whole land, against the Kings of Judah, and against the Princes thereof, against the Priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

2 <sup>2</sup> God rehearseth his benefits done unto the Jews. <sup>8</sup> Against the priests and false prophets. <sup>12</sup> The Jews are destroyed because they forsake God.

1 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the <sup>1</sup>kindness of thy youth and the love of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness <sup>2</sup>in a land that was not sown.

3 Israel was as a thing <sup>1</sup>hallowed unto the Lord, and his firstfruits: all they <sup>2</sup>that eat it, shall offend: evil shall come upon them, saith the Lord.

4 Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone <sup>1</sup>far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become <sup>2</sup>vain?

6 For they said not, Where is the Lord that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a desert, and waste land, through a dry land, and by <sup>1</sup>the shadow of death, by a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entered, ye defiled <sup>1</sup>my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, <sup>1</sup>Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the <sup>2</sup>Law, knew me not: the <sup>3</sup>pastors also offended against me, and the prophets prophesied in <sup>4</sup>Baal, and went after things that did not profit.

9 Wherefore I will yet <sup>1</sup>plead with you, saith the Lord, and I will plead with your children's children.

10 For go ye to the isles of <sup>1</sup>Chittim, and behold, and send unto <sup>2</sup>Kedar, and take diligent heed, and see whether there be such things.

12 O ye <sup>1</sup>heavens, be astonished at this: be afraid and utterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me <sup>1</sup>the fountain of living waters, to dig them pits, even broken pits that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a <sup>1</sup>servant, or is he born in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The <sup>1</sup>Lions roared upon him and yelled, and they have made his land waste: his cities are burnt without <sup>2</sup>an inhabitant.

17 Hast not thou procured this unto thyself,

1:18 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, on the one part, that the more that Satan and the world rage against God's Ministers, the more present will he be to help them, Josh. 1:5; Heb. 13:5, and on the other part, that they are utterly unmeet to serve God in his Church, which are afraid, and do not resist wickedness, whatsoever danger depend thereon, Isa. 50:7; Ezek. 3:8.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> According to that grace and favor which I showed thee from the beginning, when I did first choose thee to be my people, and married thee to myself, Ezek. 16:8.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, fallen to most vile idolatry.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Where for lack of all things necessary for life, ye could look for nothing every hour but present death.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> By your idolatry and wicked manners, Ps. 78:58 and 106:38.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> They taught not the people to seek after God.

worship of God to serve idols: for by Baal, which was the chief idol of the Moabites, are meant all idols.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that he would not as he might, straightway condemn them, but showeth them by evident examples their great ingratitude that they might be ashamed and repent.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, God which is their glory, and who maketh them glorious above all other people, reproving the Jews that they were less diligent to serve the true God, than were the idolaters to honor their vanities.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the insensible creatures abhor this vile ingratitude, and as it were tremble for fear of God's great judgments against the same.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that when men forsake God's word, which is the fountain of life, they reject God himself, and so fall to their own inventions, and vain confidence, and procure to themselves destruction, Jonah 2:8; Zech. 10:2.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> Have I ordered them like servants and not like dearly beloved children? Exod. 4:22, therefore it is their fault only, if the enemy spoil them.

because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he <sup>1</sup>led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of <sup>1</sup>Egypt? to drink the water of Nilus? or what maketh thou in the way of Assyria? to drink the water of the <sup>2</sup>River?

19 Thine own wickedness shall <sup>1</sup>correct thee, and thy turnings back shall reprove thee: know therefore and behold, that it is an evil thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts.

20 For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saidest, <sup>1</sup>I will no more transgress, but like an harlot thou runnest about upon all high hills, and under all green trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, whose <sup>1</sup>plants were all natural: how then art thou turned unto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with <sup>1</sup>nitre, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither have I <sup>1</sup>followed Baal? behold thy ways in the valley, and know what thou hast done: thou art like a swift <sup>2</sup>dromedary, that runneth by his ways.

24 And as a wild <sup>1</sup>ass used to the wilderness that snuffeth up the wind by occasion at her pleasure: who can turn her back? all they that seek her, will not weary themselves, but will find her in her <sup>2</sup>month.

25 Keep thou thy feet from <sup>1</sup>bareness, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidest desperately, No, for I have loved strangers, and them will I follow.

26 As the <sup>1</sup>thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes and their priests, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my <sup>1</sup>father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and help us.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can help thee in the time of thy trouble: for according <sup>1</sup>to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will <sup>1</sup>ye plead with me? ye all have rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I have smitten your children in vain, they received no correction: your own <sup>1</sup>sword hath devoured your Prophets like a destroying lion.

31 O generation, take heed to the word of the Lord: have I been as a <sup>1</sup>wilderness unto Israel? or a land of darkness? Wherefore saith my people then, We are lords, <sup>2</sup>we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me, days without number.

33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to <sup>1</sup>seek amity? even therefore will I teach thee, that thy ways are wickedness.

34 Also in thy <sup>1</sup>wings is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it in holes, but upon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltless, surely his wrath shall turn from me: behold, I will enter with thee into judgment, because thou sayest, I have

2:17 <sup>1</sup> Showing that God would have still led them aright, if they would have followed him.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> To seek help of man, as though God were not able enough to defend thee, which is to drink of the puddles, and to leave the fountain, read Isa. 31:1.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the wicked are insensible, till the punishment for their sin waken them as verse 26; Isa. 3:9.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> When I delivered thee out of Egypt, Exod. 19:8; Deut. 5:27; Josh. 24:16; Ezra 10:12; Heb. 8:6.

2:21 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, seed was all true.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> Though thou use all the purifications and ceremonies of the law, thou canst not escape punishment, except thou turn to me by faith and repentance.

2:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that hypocrites deny that they worship the idols, but that they honor God in them, and therefore they call their doings, God's service.

2:24 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the idolaters to a wild ass: for she can never be tamed nor yet wearied: for as she runneth she can take her wind at every occasion.

<sup>2</sup> That is, when she is with foal, and therefore the hunters wait their time: so though thou canst not be turned back now from thine idolatry, yet when thine iniquity shall be at the fall, God will meet with thee.

2:25 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he warneth them that they should not go into strange countries to seek help: for they should but spend their labor, and hurt themselves, which is here meant by the bare foot and thirst, Isa. 57:10.

2:26 <sup>1</sup> As a thief will not acknowledge his fault, till he be taken with the deed, and ready to be punished, so they will not confess their idolatry, till the plagues due to the same light upon them.

2:27 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that idolaters spoil God of his honor: and whereas he hath taught to call him the father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idols.

2:28 <sup>1</sup> Thou thoughtest that thy gods of blocks and stones could have helped thee, because they were many in number and present in every place: but now let us see whether either the multitude, or their presence can deliver thee from my plague, Jer. 11:13.

2:29 <sup>1</sup> As though I did you injury in punishing you, seeing that your faults are so evident.

2:30 <sup>1</sup> That is, you have killed your Prophets, that exhorted you to repentance, as Zechariah, Isaiah, etc.

2:31 <sup>1</sup> Have I not given them abundance of all things?

2:33 <sup>1</sup> With strangers.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy ways? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, <sup>1</sup>as thou art confounded of Assyria.

37 For thou shalt go forth from thence, and thine hands upon <sup>1</sup>thine head, because the Lord hath rejected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

3 God calleth his people unto repentance. 14 He promiseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reproveth Judah and Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

1 They <sup>1</sup>say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return again unto her? shall not this land <sup>2</sup>be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many <sup>3</sup>lovers: yet <sup>4</sup>turn again to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sat waiting for them in the ways, as the <sup>1</sup>Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showers have been restrained, and the <sup>1</sup>latter rain came not, and thou haddest a <sup>2</sup>whore's forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Didst thou not still cry <sup>1</sup>unto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keep his anger forever? will he reserve it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest evil, even more and more.

6 The Lord said also unto me, in the days of Josiah the King, Hast thou seen what this rebel <sup>1</sup>Israel hath done? for she hath gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I said, when she had done all this, Turn thou unto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Judah saw.

8 When I saw, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast <sup>1</sup>her away, and gave her a bill of divorcement: yet her rebellious sister Judah was not afraid, but she went also and played the harlot.

9 So that for the <sup>1</sup>lightness of her whoredom she hath even defiled the land: for she hath committed fornication with stones and stocks.

10 Nevertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Judah hath not returned unto me with <sup>1</sup>her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said unto me, The rebellious Israel hath <sup>1</sup>justified herself more than the rebellious Judah.

12 Go and cry these words toward <sup>1</sup>the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, return, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not always keep mine anger.

13 But know thine iniquity: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast <sup>1</sup>scattered thy ways to the strange gods under every green tree, but ye would not obey my voice, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turn again, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a city, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those days, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The <sup>1</sup>Ark of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to mind, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, for that shall be no more done.

2:36 <sup>1</sup> For the Assyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Judah even unto Jerusalem: and the Egyptians slew Josiah, and vexed the Jews in sundry sorts.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Which dwelleth in tents and waiteth for them that pass by to spoil them.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> As God threatened by his Law, Deut. 28:24.

<sup>2</sup> Thou wouldest never be ashamed of thine acts and repent: and this impudency is common to idolaters, which will not give off, though they be never so manifestly convicted.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the wicked in their miseries will cry unto God and use outward prayer as the godly do, but because they turn not from their evil, they are not heard, Isa. 58:3, 4.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the ten tribes.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> And gave her into the hands of the Assyrians.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word may either signify lightness, and wantonness, or noise and brute.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> Judah feigned for a time that she did return, as under Josiah and other good kings, but she was never truly touched, or wholly reformed, as appeared when occasion was offered by any wicked prince.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> Israel hath not declared herself so wicked as Judah, which yet hath had more admonitions and examples to call her to repentance.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> Whereas the Israelites were now kept in captivity by the Assyrians, to whom he promiseth mercy, if they will repent.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> There was no way, which thou didst not haunt to seek after the idols, and to trot a pilgrimage.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> This is to be understood of the coming of Christ: for then they shall not seek the Lord by ceremonies, and all figures shall cease.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Church, where the Lord will be present to the world's end, Matt. 28:20.

throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, even to the Name of the Lord in Jerusalem: and thence forth they shall follow no more the hardness of their wicked heart.

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the <sup>1</sup>North, into the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I said, How did I take thee for children, and give thee a pleasant land, even the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and say, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shall not turn from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her <sup>1</sup>husband: so have ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 <sup>1</sup>A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping, and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, return and I will heal your rebellions. <sup>1</sup>Behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly the hope of the hills is but vain, nor the multitude of mountains: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath devoured our <sup>1</sup>father's labor, from our youth, their sheep and their bullocks, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our confusion, and our shame covereth us: <sup>1</sup>for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth, even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

1 O Israel, if thou return, <sup>1</sup>return unto me, saith the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 And thou shalt <sup>1</sup>swear, The Lord liveth in truth, in judgment and in righteousness, and the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Judah, and to Jerusalem,

4 Break up <sup>1</sup>your fallow ground, and sow not among the thorns: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your hearts, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, lest my wrath come forth like fire, and burn, that none can quench it, because of the wickedness of your inventions.

5 <sup>1</sup>Declare in Judah, and show forth in Jerusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the land: cry, and gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into strong cities.

6 Set up the standard in Zion: <sup>1</sup>prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The <sup>1</sup>lion is come up from his den, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shall be destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with sackcloth: lament, and howl, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned back from us.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shall be astonished, and the <sup>1</sup>Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast <sup>1</sup>deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace, and the sword pierceth unto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A dry <sup>1</sup>wind in the high places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither <sup>2</sup>to fan nor to cleanse.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> Where they are now in captivity.

3:20 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word signifieth a friend or companion, and here may be taken for a husband, as it is used also, Hos. 3:1.

3:21 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God, whom they had forsaken, would bring their enemies unto them, who should lead them captive, and make them to cry and lament.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken in the person of Israel to the shame of Judah, which stayed so long to turn unto God.

3:24 <sup>1</sup> For their idolatry God's vengeance hath light upon them and theirs.

3:25 <sup>1</sup> They justify not themselves, or say that they would follow their fathers, but condemn their wicked doings and desire forgiveness of the same, as Ezra 9:7; Ps. 106:6; Isa. 64:6.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, wholly, and without hypocrisy, Joel 2:12, not dissembling to turn and serve God as they do which serve him by halves, as Hos. 7:16.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt detest the name of idols, Ps. 16:4, and shalt with reverence swear by the living God, when thine oath may advance God's glory, and profit others: and here, by swearing he meaneth the true religion of God.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> He willetth them to pluck up the impiety and wicked affection and worldly respects out of their heart, that the true seed of God's word may be sown therein, Hos. 10:12, and this is the true circumcision of the heart, Deut. 10:16; Rom. 2:29; Col. 2:11.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> He warneth them of the great dangers that shall come upon them by the Chaldeans, except, they repent and turn to the Lord.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, the false prophets, which still prophesied peace and security.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> By the false prophets which promised peace and tranquility: and thus thou hast punished their rebellious stubbornness by causing them to hearken unto lies which would not believe thy truth, 1 Kings 22:23; Ezek. 14:9; 2 Thess. 2:11.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> The North wind whereby he meaneth Nebuchadnezzar.

12 A mighty wind shall come unto me from those places, and now will I also give sentence upon them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as the <sup>1</sup>clouds, and his chariots shall be as a tempest: his horses are lighter than eagles. <sup>2</sup>Woe unto us, for we are destroyed.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remain within thee?

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Jerusalem, Behold, the scouts come from a far country, and cry out against the cities of Judah.

17 They have compassed her about as the watchmen of the <sup>1</sup>field, because it hath provoked me unto wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy ways and thine inventions have procured thee these things, such is thy wickedness: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pierce unto thine heart.

19 My belly, my <sup>1</sup>belly, I am pained, even at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I cannot be still: for my soul hath heard the sound of the trumpet, and the alarm of the battle.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my <sup>1</sup>tents destroyed, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me: they are foolish children, and have none understanding: <sup>1</sup>they are wise to do evil, but to do well they have no knowledge.

23 I have looked upon the earth, and lo, it was without form and <sup>1</sup>void: and to the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains: and lo, they trembled, and all the hills shook.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heaven were departed.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I <sup>1</sup>not make a full end.

28 Therefore shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above shall be darkened, because I have pronounced it: I have thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen: they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou do? Though thou <sup>1</sup>clothest thyself with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou paintest thy face with colors, yet shalt thou trim thyself in vain: for thy lovers will abhor thee and seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a noise as of a woman travailing, or as one laboring of her first child, even the voice of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: <sup>1</sup>woe is me now: for my soul fainteth because of the murderers.

5 1 In Judah no righteous man is found, neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Judah is destroyed of the Chaldeans.

1 Run to and fro by the streets of Jerusalem, and behold now, and know, and inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can find a man, or if there be any that executeth judgment, and seeketh the truth, and I will spare <sup>1</sup>it.

2 For though they say, The <sup>1</sup>Lord liveth, yet do they swear falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the <sup>1</sup>truth? thou hast <sup>2</sup>stricken them, but they have not sorrowed: thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a stone, and have refused to return.

4:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Nebuchadnezzar should come as suddenly, as a cloud that is carried with the wind.

4:17 <sup>1</sup> Which keep the fruits so straightly, that nothing can come in nor out: so should the Babylonians compass Judah.

4:19 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the true ministers are lively touched with the calamities of the Church, so that all the parts of their body feel the grief of their heart, albeit with zeal to God's glory they pronounce his judgments against the people.

4:20 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the cities, which were as easily cast down as a tent.

4:22 <sup>1</sup> Their wisdom and policy tend to their own destruction and pulleth them from God.

4:23 <sup>1</sup> By these manner of speeches he showeth the horrible destruction that should come upon the land, and also condemmeth the obstinacy of the people, who repent not at the fear of these terrible tidings, seeing that the insensible creatures are moved therewith, as if the order of nature should be changed, Isa. 13:10 and 24:23; Ezek. 32:7; Joel 2:31 and 3:15.

4:27 <sup>1</sup> But for his mercy's sake, he will reserve himself a residue to be his Church, and to praise him in earth, Isa. 1:9.

4:30 <sup>1</sup> Neither thy ceremonies nor rich gifts shall deliver thee.

4:31 <sup>1</sup> As the Prophets were moved to pity the destruction of their people, so they declared it to the people to move them to repentance, Isa. 22:4; Jer. 9:1.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, the city.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> Though they pretend religion and holiness, yet all is but hypocrisy: for under this kind of swearing is contained the true religion.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> Dost not thou love uprightness and faithful dealing?

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poor, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the <sup>1</sup>great men, and will speak unto them: for they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore a <sup>1</sup>lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the wilderness shall destroy them: a leopard shall watch over their cities: everyone that goeth out thence, shall be torn in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and <sup>1</sup>sworn by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adultery, and assembled themselves by companies in the harlot's houses.

8 They rose up in the morning like fed horses: for every man <sup>a</sup>neighed after his neighbor's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 <sup>1</sup>Climb up upon their walls, and destroy them, but make not a full end: <sup>2</sup>take away their battlements, for they are not the Lord's.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Judah have grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They have <sup>1</sup>denied the Lord, and said, It is not he, neither shall the plague come upon us, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shall be as <sup>1</sup>wind, and the word is <sup>2</sup>not in them: thus shall it come unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak such words, behold, I will put my words into <sup>1</sup>thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you <sup>1</sup>from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mighty nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Whose quiver is as an <sup>1</sup>open sepulcher: they

17 And they shall eat thine harvest and thy bread: they shall devour thy sons and thy daughters: they shall eat up thy sheep and thy bullocks: they shall eat thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall destroy with the sword thy fenced cities, wherein thou didst trust.

18 Nevertheless, at those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end of <sup>1</sup>you.

19 And when <sup>b</sup>ye shall say, Wherefore doth the Lord our God do these things unto us? then shalt <sup>1</sup>thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, 21 Hear now this, O foolish people, and <sup>1</sup>without understanding, which have <sup>c</sup>eyes and see not, which have ears and hear not.

22 Fear ye not me, saith the Lord? or will ye not be afraid at my presence, which have placed the sand for the <sup>d</sup>bounds of the sea by the perpetual decree that it cannot pass it, and though the waves thereof rage, yet can they not prevail, though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

23 But this people hath an unfaithful and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain both early and late in due season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 Yet your <sup>1</sup>iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have hindered good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay wait as he that setteth snares: they have made a pit, to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: thereby they are become great and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and shining: they do overpass the deeds of the wicked: <sup>e</sup>they execute no judgment, no not the judgment of the fatherless: yet they <sup>1</sup>prosper, though they execute no judgment for the poor.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that to swear by anything than by God, is to forsake him.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> He commandeth the Babylonians and enemies to destroy them.

5:12 <sup>1</sup> Because they gave no credit to the words of his Prophets, as Isa. 28:15.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> Their words shall be of none effect, but vain.

5:18 <sup>1</sup> Here the Lord declareth his unspeakable favor toward his Church, as Jer. 4:27.

5:21 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, without heart.

5:25 <sup>1</sup> If there be any stay, that we receive not God's blessings in abundance, we must consider that it is for our own iniquities, Isa. 59:1, 2.

5:28 <sup>1</sup> They feel not the plague of God for it.

29 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the land.

2 I have compared the daughter of Zion to <sup>1</sup>a beautiful and dainty woman.

3 The Pastors with their flocks <sup>1</sup>shall come unto her: they shall pitch their tents round about by her, and everyone shall feed in his place.

4 <sup>1</sup>Prepare war against her: arise, and let us go up toward the South: woe unto us: for the day declineth, and the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let us go up by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hosts said, Hew down wood, and cast a mount against Jerusalem: this city must be visited; all oppression is in the midst of it.

7 As the fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice; <sup>1</sup>cruelty and spoil is continually heard in her before me, with sorrow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O <sup>1</sup>Jerusalem, lest my soul depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turn <sup>1</sup>back thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Unto whom shall I speak, and admonish that they may hear? behold, their ears are <sup>1</sup>uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them as a reproach: they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: <sup>1</sup>I will pour it out upon the <sup>2</sup>children in the street, and likewise upon the assembly of the young men: for the husband shall even be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And their houses with their lands, and wives also shall be turned unto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, even unto the greatest of them, everyone is given unto covetousness, and from the Prophet even unto the Priest, they all deal falsely.

14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, <sup>1</sup>Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they have any shame: therefore they shall fall among the <sup>1</sup>slain: when I shall visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the ways and behold, and ask for the <sup>1</sup>old way, which is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I set <sup>1</sup>watchmen over you, which said, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not take heed.

18 Hear therefore, ye <sup>1</sup>Gentiles, and thou Congregation know, what is among them.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in the person of the Babylonians, which complain that the time faileth them before they have brought their enterprises to pass.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the cause why it should be destroyed, and how it cometh of themselves.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> He warneth them to amend by his correction, and turn to him by repentance.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth the Babylonians to be diligent to search out all and to leave none.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> They delight to hear vain things, and to shut up their ears to true doctrine.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> As the Lord had given him his word to be as a fire of his indignation to burn the wicked, Jer. 5:14, so he kindleth it now when he seeth that all remedies are past.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the <sup>1</sup>North country, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bow and shield shall they be weaponed: they are cruel and will have no compassion: their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses well appointed, like men of war against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 We have heard their fame, and our hands wax <sup>1</sup>feeble: sorrow is come upon us, as the sorrow of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way: for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

27 I have set <sup>1</sup>thee for a defense and fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their ways.

29 The <sup>1</sup>bellows are burnt; the lead is consumed in the fire; the founder melteth in vain; for the wicked are not taken away.

30 They shall call them reprobate silver, because the Lord hath rejected them.

7 <sup>2</sup>Jeremiah is commanded to show unto the people the words of God, which trusteth in the outward service of the Temple. 13 The evils that shall come to the Jews, for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doth not the Lord chiefly require of the Jews, but that they should obey his word.

1 The words that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lord's house, and cry this word there, and say, Hear the word of the Lord, all ye of Judah that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, <sup>a</sup>Amend your ways and your works, and I will let you dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in <sup>1</sup>lying words, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord; this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend and redress your ways and your works; if you execute judgment between a man and neighbor,

6 And oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then <sup>1</sup>will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gave unto your fathers forever and ever.

8 Behold, you trust in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will you steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not?

10 And come and stand before me in this House, whereupon my Name is called, and say, We are delivered, though we have done all these abominations?

11 Is this House become <sup>1</sup>a den of thieves, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Behold, even I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, <sup>1</sup>where I set my Name at the beginning, and behold, what I did to it for the wickedness, of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because ye have done all these works, saith the Lord, (and I <sup>1</sup>rose up early and spake unto you: but when I spake, ye would not hear me, neither when I called, would <sup>2</sup>ye answer.)

14 Therefore will I do unto this house, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, even unto

6:20 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 1:11 and Amos 5:21.

6:24 <sup>1</sup> For fear of the enemy: he speaketh this in the person of the Jews.

6:27 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Jeremiah, whom God had appointed to try out the godly from the wicked, as a founder doth the pure metal from the dross.

6:29 <sup>1</sup> All the pain and labor that hath been taken with them, is lost.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> Believe not the false prophets, which say that for the Temple's sake, and the sacrifices there, the Lord will preserve you, and so nourish you in your sin, and vain confidence.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> God showeth on what condition he made his promise to this Temple: that they should be an holy people unto him, as he would be a faithful God to them.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> As thieves hid in holes and dens think themselves safe, so when you are in my Temple, you think to be covered with the holiness thereof, and that I cannot see your wickedness, Matt. 21:13.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> Because they depended so much on the Temple, which was for his promise, that he would be present and defend them where the Ark was, he sendeth them to God's judgments against Shiloh, where the Ark had remained about 300 years, and after was taken, the Priests slain, and the people miserably discomfited, 1 Sam. 4:1; Jer. 26:6.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, I never ceased to warn you, as Isa. 65:2; Prov. 1:23.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth what is the only remedy to redress our faults: to suffer God to lead us into the way, and to obey his calling, Isa. 66:4.

the place that I gave to you, and to your fathers, as I have done unto Shiloh.

15 And I will cast <sup>1</sup>you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not <sup>1</sup>pray for this people, neither lift up cry or prayer for them, neither entreat me, for I will not hear thee.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women kneed the dough to make cakes to <sup>1</sup>the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me unto anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be poured upon this place; upon man and upon beast, and upon the tree of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burn and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

22 For <sup>1</sup>I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways which I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their ear, but went after the counsels, and the stubbornness of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came up out of the land of Egypt, unto <sup>1</sup>this day, I have even sent unto you all my servants the Prophets, <sup>2</sup>rising up early every day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not hear me, nor incline their ear, but hardened their neck, and did worse than

27 Therefore shalt thou speak all these words unto them, but they <sup>1</sup>will not hear thee: thou shalt also cry unto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiveth discipline: truth is perished, and is clean gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine <sup>1</sup>hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a complaint on the high places: for the Lord hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his <sup>2</sup>wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith the Lord: they have set their abominations in the house, whereupon my Name is called to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high place of <sup>1</sup>Tophet, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I <sup>2</sup>commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet till there be no place.

33 And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 <sup>b</sup>Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

8 <sup>1</sup> The destruction of the Jews. <sup>4</sup> The Lord moveth the people to amendment. <sup>10</sup> He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the covetousness of the Prophets and Priests.

1 At that time, saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their <sup>1</sup>graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they

7:15 <sup>1</sup> I will send you into captivity as I have done Ephraim, that is, the ten tribes.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> To assure them that God had determined with himself to punish their wickedness, he showeth that the prayer of the godly can nothing avail them, whiles they remain in their obstinacy against God, and will not use the means that he useth to call them to repentance, Jer. 11:14 and 14:11.

7:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, they sacrifice to the Sun, Moon and Stars, which they called the queen of heaven, Jer. 44:17; 2 Kings 23:5.

7:22 <sup>1</sup> Showing that it was not his chief purpose and intent, that they should offer sacrifices: but that they should regard, wherefore they were ordained: to wit, to be joined to the word as seals and confirmations of remissions of sins in Christ: for without the word they were vain and unprofitable.

7:27 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he showeth that the pastors ought not to leave their flocks in their obstinacy, for the Lord will use the means of his servants to make the wicked more faulty and to prove his.

7:29 <sup>1</sup> In sign of mourning, as Job 1:20.

have loved, and whom they have served, and whom they have followed, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as dung upon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired <sup>1</sup>rather than life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked family, which remain in all the places where I have scattered them, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 Thou shalt say unto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they <sup>1</sup>fall, and not arise? shall he turn away and not turn again?

5 Wherefore is this people of Jerusalem turned back by a perpetual rebellion? they gave themselves to deceit, and would not return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? <sup>1</sup>everyone turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Even the stork in the air knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the <sup>1</sup>judgment of the Lord.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with us? Lo, <sup>1</sup>certainly in vain made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 The <sup>1</sup>wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall possess them: <sup>1</sup>for everyone from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, and from the Prophet even unto the Priest, everyone dealeth falsely.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, <sup>1</sup>Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they have any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slain: when I shall visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade, and the things that I have given them shall depart from them.

14 Why do we stay? <sup>1</sup>assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the strong cities, and let us be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put us to silence, and given us water with <sup>2</sup>gall to drink, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 <sup>1</sup>We looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The neighing of his horses was heard from <sup>1</sup>Dan, the whole land trembled at the noise of the neighing of his strong horses: for they are come, and have devoured the land with all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will <sup>1</sup>send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would have <sup>1</sup>comforted myself against sorrow, but mine heart is heavy in me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people for fear of them of a far country, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why <sup>1</sup>have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The <sup>1</sup>harvest is past, the Summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am <sup>1</sup>sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people, I am heavy, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balm <sup>1</sup>at Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

9 <sup>1</sup> The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we only to rejoice. 26 The uncircumcision of the heart.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Because of the afflictions that they shall feel through God's judgments.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> Is there no hope that they will return?

8:6 <sup>1</sup> They are full of hypocrisy, and everyone followeth his own fantasy without any consideration.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> He accuseth them in that that they are more ignorant of God's judgments, than these birds are of their appointed seasons to discern the cold and heat, as Isa. 1:3.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> The Law doth not profit you, neither need it to have been written for ought that you have learned by it.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> They that seem wise, may be ashamed of their ignorance, for all wisdom consisteth in God's word.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 6:14.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh in the person of the people, who when the enemy cometh, will turn about to hide themselves, and acknowledge that it is God's hand.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 4:15.

8:17 <sup>1</sup> God threateneth to send the Babylonians among them, who shall utterly destroy them in such sort, as by no means they shall escape.

8:21 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet speaketh this.

8:22 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that no man's help or means could save them: for in Gilead was precious balm, Jer. 46:11, or else deriding the vain confidence of the people, who looked for help at their Priests, who should have been the Physicians of their souls, and dwelt at Gilead, Hos. 6:8.

CHAPTER 9

Ps. 120:4

1 Oh, that mine head were full of <sup>1</sup>water, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a <sup>1</sup>cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all <sup>2</sup>adulterers, and an assembly of rebels.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bows for <sup>1</sup>lies: but they have no courage for the truth upon the earth, for they proceed from evil to worse, and they have not known me, saith the Lord.

4 Let everyone take heed of his neighbor, and trust you not in any <sup>1</sup>brother: for every brother will use deceit, and every friend will deal deceitfully,

5 And everyone will deceive his friend, and will not speak the truth: for they <sup>1</sup>have taught their tongue to speak lies, and take great pains to do wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceivers: <sup>1</sup>because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will <sup>1</sup>melt them, and try them: for what should I else do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue <sup>a</sup>is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth wait for him.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 Upon the <sup>1</sup>mountains will I take up a weeping and a lamentation, and upon the fair places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt up, so that none can pass through them, neither can men hear the voice of the flock: both the fowl of the air, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem a heap, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah waste without an inhabitant.

12 Who is <sup>1</sup>wise to understand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, even he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 And the Lord saith, because they have forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked thereafter, 14 But have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after Baal, which <sup>1</sup>their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with worm-wood, and give them waters of gall <sup>1</sup>to drink:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Take heed, and call for <sup>1</sup>the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skillful women, that they may come,

18 And let them make haste, and let them take up a lamentation for us, that our eyes may cast out tears, and our eyelids gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and utterly confounded, for we have forsaken the land, and our dwellings <sup>1</sup>have cast us out.

20 Therefore hear the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your ears regard the words of his mouth, and <sup>1</sup>teach your daughters to mourn, and everyone her neighbor to lament.

21 For death is come up into our <sup>1</sup>windows, and is entered into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the Lord, The carcasses of men shall lie, even as the dung upon the field, and as the handful after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the <sup>1</sup>wise man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

9:1 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet showeth the great compassion that he had toward this people, seeing that he could never sufficiently lament the destruction that he saw to hang over them, which is a special note to discern the true pastors from the hirelings, read Jer. 4:19.

9:2 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that this were more quietness and greater safety for him to dwell among the wild beasts than among this wicked people, save that God hath enjoined him this charge.

9:3 <sup>1</sup>To belie and slander their neighbors.

9:4 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could find an honest man.

9:5 <sup>1</sup>They have so practiced deceit, that they cannot forsake it.

9:6 <sup>1</sup>They had rather forsake God, than leave their wicked trade.

9:7 <sup>1</sup>With the fire of affliction.

9:10 <sup>1</sup>Signifying, that all the places about Jerusalem should be destroyed.

9:12 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, that they are all without sense and understanding, and that God hath taken his spirit from them.

9:14 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that the children cannot excuse themselves by their fathers: for both father and child if they be wicked shall perish.

9:15 <sup>1</sup>Read Jer. 8:14.

9:17 <sup>1</sup>Seeing you cannot lament your own sins, call for those foolish women, whom of a superstition you have to lament for the dead, that they by their feigned tears may provoke you to some sorrow.

9:19 <sup>1</sup>As though they were weary of us, because of our iniquities, Lev. 18:28 and 20:22.

9:20 <sup>1</sup>He derideth the superstition of the women which made an art of mourning, and taught to weep with feigned tears.

9:21 <sup>1</sup>Signifying, that there is no means to deliver the wicked from God's judgments: but when they think to be most sure, and most far off, then they are soonest taken.

9:23 <sup>1</sup>Forasmuch as none can save himself by his own labor, or any worldly means, he showeth that it is vain to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and rejoice in him, who only can deliver us, 1 Cor. 1:31; 2 Cor. 10:17.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which <sup>1</sup>show mercy, judgment, and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the days come saith the Lord, that I will visit all them which are <sup>1</sup>circumcised with the uncircumcised:

26 Egypt and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the utmost corners of them that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

10 The constellations of the stars are not to be feared. 5 The weakness of idols. 6 Of the power of God. 21 Their Pastors are become brute beasts.

1 Hear ye the word of the Lord that he speaketh unto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the <sup>1</sup>signs of heaven, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the <sup>1</sup>customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the work of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it <sup>1</sup>with silver, and with gold: they fasten it with nails and hammers that it fall not.

5 The idols stand up as the palm tree, but speak not: they are borne because they cannot go: fear them not, for they cannot do evil, neither can they do good.

6 There is none like unto thee, O Lord: <sup>1</sup>thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not fear thee, O king of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdoms there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stock is a <sup>1</sup>doctrine of vanity.

9 Silver plates are brought from Tarshish, and gold <sup>1</sup>from Uphaz, for the work of the workman, and the hands of the founder: the blue silk, and the purple is their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the living God, and an everlasting King: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say unto them, The gods <sup>1</sup>that have not made the heavens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his discretion.

13 He giveth by his voice the multitude of waters in the heaven, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man is a <sup>1</sup>beast by his own knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

9:24 <sup>1</sup> These three points are necessary to know aright: his mercy, wherein consisteth our salvation, his judgment, which he executeth continually against the wicked, and his justice, whereby he defendeth and maintaineth the faithful.

9:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, both Jews and Gentiles, as in this next verse he showeth the cause, read Jer. 4:4.

10:2 <sup>1</sup> God forbiddeth his people to give credit or fear the constellations and conjunctions of stars and planets which have no power of themselves, but are governed by him, and their secret motions and influences are not known to man and therefore there can be no certain judgment thereof, Deut. 18:9.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, not only in the observation of the stars, but their laws and ceremonies whereby they confirm their idolatry, which is forbidden, Deut. 12:30.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> The Prophets use thus plainly and simply to set forth the vile absurdity of the idolaters, that men might learn to be ashamed of that whereunto their corrupt nature is most subject, read Isa. 44:12.

10:6 <sup>1</sup> He teacheth the people to lift up their eyes to God, who hath all power and therefore ought only to be feared: and herein he showeth them not only the evil that they ought to eschew: but the good which they ought to follow, Rev. 15:4.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> Because the people thought that to have images, was a means to serve God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he showeth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanity, the work of errors, verse 15, and Hab. 2:18 calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the books of the lay people.

10:9 <sup>1</sup> Whereas they found the best gold: showing, that they thought nothing too dear for their idols, some read Ophir, as 1 Kings 9:28.

10:11 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that all that hath been in this chapter spoken of idols, was to arm the Jews when they should be in Chaldea among the idolaters, and now with one sentence he instructeth them both how to protect their own religion against the idolaters, and how to answer them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatry, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Chaldean's tongue for a memorial, whereas all the rest of his writing is Hebrew.

10:14 <sup>1</sup> The more that man thinketh to do anything well by his own wisdom, and not as God instructeth him, the more doth he prove himself to be a vile beast.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> By these words Portion and Rod, he signifieth their inheritance, meaning, that God should be all sufficient for them: and that their felicity consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helps and succors as of idols, etc. Deut. 32:9; Ps. 16:5.

17 ¶<sup>1</sup>Gather up thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall find it so.

19 Woe is me for my destruction, and my grievous plague: but I thought, Yet it <sup>1</sup>is my sorrow, and I will bear it.

20 <sup>1</sup>My Tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent anymore, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the Pastors <sup>1</sup>are become beasts, and have not sought the Lord: therefore have they none understanding: and all the flocks of their pastures are scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the <sup>1</sup>North country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 O Lord, I know that <sup>1</sup>the way of man is not in himself, neither is it in man to walk and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with <sup>1</sup>judgment, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out <sup>1</sup>thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy Name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

11 <sup>3</sup> A curse of them that obey not the word of God's covenant. 10 The people of Judah following the steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord forbiddeth Jeremiah to pray for them.

1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, <sup>1</sup>Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded unto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do according to all these things which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirm the oath, that I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land, which floweth with milk and honey, as appeareth this day. Then answered <sup>1</sup>I, and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said unto me, Cry all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.

7 For I have protested unto your fathers, when I brought them up out of the land of Egypt unto this day, <sup>1</sup>rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

8 Nevertheless they would not obey, nor incline their ear: but everyone walked in the stubbornness of his <sup>1</sup>wicked heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the <sup>2</sup>words of this covenant which I commanded them to do, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said unto me, A <sup>1</sup>conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words: and they went after other gods to serve them: thus the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague upon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry unto me, <sup>1</sup>I will

10:17 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet willett the Jews to prepare themselves to this captivity, showing that it was now at hand that they should feel the things whereof he had told them.

10:19 <sup>1</sup> It is my just plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behave themselves toward God.

10:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth how Jerusalem shall lament.

10:23 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this because that Nebuchadnezzar purposed to have made war against the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiah's rebellion, he turned his power to go against Jerusalem, Ezek. 21:21, therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lord's direction.

10:24 <sup>1</sup> Considering that God had revealed unto him the certitude of their captivity, Jer. 7:16, he only prayeth, that he would punish them with mercy, which Isaiah calleth in measure, Isa. 27:8, measuring his rods by their iniquity, 1 Cor. 10:13, for here by judgment is meant not only the punishment, but also the merciful moderation of the same, as Jer. 30:11.

10:25 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as God cannot only be known and glorified by his mercy, that he useth toward his Church, but also by his justice in punishing his enemies, he prayeth that this glory may fully appear both in the one and the other, Ps. 79:6.

11:3 <sup>1</sup> He calleth the Jews to the consideration of God's mercy, who freely chose them, made a covenant of eternal felicity with them, and how he ever performed it on his behalf, and how they ever showed themselves rebellious and ingrate toward him, and brake it on their part, and so are subject to the curse of the Law, Deut. 27:26.

11:5 <sup>1</sup> Thus he speaketh in the person of the people, which agreed to the covenant.

11:7 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 7:13.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> According to his own fantasy, and not as my word appointed him.

12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense, but they shall not be able to help them in time of their trouble.

13 <sup>1</sup>For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Judah, and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars of confusion, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not <sup>1</sup>pray for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for when they cry unto me in their trouble, I will not hear them.

15 What should my <sup>1</sup>beloved tarry in mine house, seeing they have committed abomination with many, and the holy flesh <sup>2</sup>goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest evil, thou rejoicest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: but with <sup>1</sup>noise and great tumult he hath set fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hosts that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickedness of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Baal,

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I know it, even then thou showedst me <sup>1</sup>their practices.

19 But I was like a lamb, or a bullock, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised thus against me, saying, Let us <sup>1</sup>destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the living, that his name may be no more in memory,

20 But O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, and triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy <sup>1</sup>vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of <sup>1</sup>Anathoth, (that seek thy life, and say, <sup>2</sup>Prophecy not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands.)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will visit them: the young men shall die by the sword: their sons and their daughters shall die by famine,

23 And none of them shall remain: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

1 O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art <sup>1</sup>righteous: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: wherefore doth the way of the wicked <sup>2</sup>prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgress?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they have taken root: they grow, and bring forth fruit, thou art near in their mouth, and far from their <sup>1</sup>reins.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and <sup>1</sup>prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, <sup>1</sup>He will not see our last end.

5 If thou hast run with the <sup>1</sup>footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou match thyself with horses? and if thou thoughtest thyself safe in 11:19 <sup>1</sup> Let us destroy the Prophet and his doctrine. Some read, Let us corrupt his meat with wood, meaning, poison.

11:20 <sup>1</sup> Thus he spake, not for hatred, but being moved with the Spirit of God, he desireth the advancement of God's glory, and the verifying of his word, which is by the destruction of his enemies.

11:21 <sup>1</sup> To wit, both the Priests and the rest of the people: for this town was the Priests, and they dwelt in it, read Jer. 1:1.

<sup>2</sup> Not that they could not abide to hear God named: (for herein they would show themselves most holy) but because they could not abide to be sharply reprov'd, and therefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30:10, and to be maintained in their pleasures, Mic. 2:11, and not to hear vice condemned, Amos 7:12.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> They profess God in mouth, but deny him in heart, which is here meant by the reins, Isa. 29:13; Matt. 15:8.

12:3 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word is, Sanctify them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giveth prosperity, that afterward they should the more feel his heavy judgment when they lack their riches which were a sign of his mercy.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> Abusing God's lenity and his promises, they flattered themselves as though God would ever be merciful, and not utterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselves in sin, till at length the beasts and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborn rebellion against God.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> Some think that God reproveth Jeremiah, in that that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to march with men, that he were far unable to dispute with God. Others, by the footmen, mean them of Anathoth: and by the horsemen, them of Jerusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse than his own countrymen did.

a peaceable land, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?

6 For even thy brethren and the house of thy father, even they have dealt unfaithfully with thee, and they have cried out altogether upon thee: but believe them not, though they speak fair to thee.

7 I have forsaken <sup>1</sup>mine house: I have left mine heritage: I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me, as a <sup>1</sup>lion in the forest: it crieth out against me, therefore have I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage be unto me, as a bird <sup>1</sup>of divers colors? are not the birds about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eat her?

10 Many pastors have destroyed my <sup>1</sup>vineyard, and trodden my portion under foot: of my pleasant portion they have made a desolate wilderness.

11 They have laid it waste, and it, being waste mourneth unto me, and the whole land lieth waste, because no man setteth his mind on <sup>1</sup>it.

12 The destroyers are come upon all the high places in the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shall devour from the one end of the land, even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 <sup>1</sup>They have sown wheat, and reaped thorns: they were <sup>2</sup>sick, and had no profit: and they were ashamed of <sup>3</sup>your fruits, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil <sup>1</sup>neighbors, that touch the inheritance, which I have caused my people Israel to inherit, Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And after that I have plucked them out, I <sup>1</sup>will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring again every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And if they will learn the <sup>1</sup>ways of my people, to swear by my Name, (The <sup>2</sup>Lord liveth, as they taught my people to swear by Baal) then shall they be built <sup>3</sup>in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I utterly pluck up, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

13 The destruction of the Jews is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was received to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

1 Thus saith the Lord unto me, Go, and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandment of the Lord, and put it upon my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go toward <sup>1</sup>Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rock.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many days the Lord said unto me, Arise, go toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and dug, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This wicked people have refused to hear my word, and walk after the stubbornness of their own heart, and walk after other gods to serve them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I tied to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Judah, saith the Lord, that they might be my people: that they might have a name, and praise, and glory, but they would not hear.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> God willeth the Prophet to denounce his judgments against Jerusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatenings and flatteries, labor to put him to silence.

12:8 <sup>1</sup> Ever ramping and raging against me and my Prophets.

12:9 <sup>1</sup> Instead of bearing my livery, and wearing only my colors, they have change and diversity of colors of their idols and superstitions, therefore their enemies as thick as the fowls of the air shall come about them to destroy them.

12:10 <sup>1</sup> He prophecieth of the destruction of Jerusalem, by the captains of Nebuchadnezzar, whom he calleth pastors.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> Because no man regardeth my word, or the plagues that I have sent upon the land.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> Because this river Perath or Euphrates was far from Jerusalem, it is evident that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Jews should pass over Euphrates to be captives in Babylon, and there for length of time should seem to be rotten, although they were joined to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.

12 Therefore thou shalt say unto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every <sup>1</sup>bottle shall be filled with wine, and they shall say unto thee, do we not know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon the throne of David, and the Priests and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with drunkenness.

14 And I will <sup>1</sup>dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pity, nor have compassion, but destroy them.

15 Hear and give ear, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Give glory to the Lord your God before he bring <sup>1</sup>darkness, and or ever your feet stumble in the dark mountains, and while you look for <sup>2</sup>light, he turn it into the shadow of death and make it as darkness.

17 But if ye will not hear this, my soul shall <sup>1</sup>weep in secret for your pride, and mine eye shall weep and drop down tears, because the Lord's flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto the <sup>1</sup>King and to the Queen: Humble yourselves, sit down, for the crown of your glory shall come down from your heads.

19 The cities of <sup>1</sup>the South shall be shut up, and no man shall open them: all Judah shall be carried away captive: it shall be wholly carried away captive:

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the North: where is the <sup>1</sup>flock that was given thee, even thy beautiful flock?

21 What wilt thou say when he shall visit thee? (for thou hast <sup>1</sup>taught them to be captains and as chief over thee) shall not sorrow take thee as a woman in travail?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts <sup>1</sup>discovered and thy heels made bare.

23 Can the black Moor change his skin? or the leopard his spots, then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil?

24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South wind.

25 This is thy portion, and the part of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I have also discovered thy skirts upon thy face, <sup>1</sup>that thy shame may appear.

27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy <sup>1</sup>neighings, the filthiness of thy whoredom on the hills in <sup>2</sup>the fields, and thine abominations. [Woe] unto thee, O Jerusalem: wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

3 And their nobles have sent their inferiors to the water, who came to the wells, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded: and <sup>1</sup>covered their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no rain in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and covered their heads.

9 Why art thou as a man astonished, and as <sup>1</sup>a strong man that cannot help? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of us, and thy name is called upon us: forsake us not.

18 For if I go into the field, behold the slain with the sword: and if I enter into the city, behold them that are sick for hunger also: moreover, the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandering <sup>1</sup>into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected <sup>1</sup>Judah, or hath thy soul abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten us, that we cannot be healed? We looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We <sup>1</sup>acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhor us: for thy Name's sake cast not down the throne of thy glory: remember and break not thy covenant with us.

14:17 <sup>1</sup> The false prophets promised peace and assurance, but Jeremiah calleth to tears, and repentance for their affliction, which is at hand, as Jer. 9:1; Lam. 1:16 and 2:18.

14:18 <sup>1</sup> Both high and low shall be led captives into Babylon.

14:19 <sup>1</sup> Though the Prophet knew that God had cast off the multitude, which were hypocrites, and bastard children, yet he was 6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the fan <sup>1</sup>in the gates of the earth: I have wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not return from their ways.

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, neither did I rejoice, but sat alone <sup>1</sup>because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heaviness continual? and my plague desperate and cannot be healed, why art thou unto me <sup>1</sup>as a liar, and as waters that fail?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou <sup>1</sup>return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the <sup>2</sup>precious from the vile, thou shalt be <sup>3</sup>according to my word: let them return <sup>4</sup>unto thee, but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a strong brazen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not <sup>1</sup>prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee, and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

16 <sup>2</sup>The Lord forbidding Jeremiah to marry, showeth him what should be the afflictions upon Judah. 13 The captivity of Babylon. 15 Their deliverance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

15:4 <sup>2</sup> Not that the people was punished for the king's sin only, but for their own sins also, because they consented to his wickedness, 2 Kings 21:9.

15:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, I will not call back my plagues or spare thee any more.

15:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the cities.

15:10 <sup>1</sup> By these are the Prophet's words, complaining of the obstinacy of the people and that he was reserved to so wicked a time: wherein also he showeth what is the condition of God's ministers, to wit, to have all the world against them, though they give none occasion.

15:11 <sup>1</sup> In this perplexity the Lord comforted me, and said that my last days should be quiet: and by the enemy he meaneth here, Nebuzaradan the captain of Nebuchadnezzar, who gave Jeremiah the choice either to remain in his country, or to go whither he would: or by the enemy he meaneth the Jews, which should afterward know Jeremiah's fidelity, and therefore favor him.

15:12 <sup>1</sup> As for the people, though they seemed strong as iron, yet should they not be able to resist the hard iron of Babylon, but should be led captives.

15:13 <sup>1</sup> Or, ransom.

15:15 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh not this for desire of revengeance, but wishing that God would deliver his Church of them whom he knew to be hardened and incorrigible.

15:16 <sup>1</sup> I received them with a great joy, as he that is famished, eateth meat.

15:17 <sup>1</sup> I had nothing to do with the wicked contemners of thy word, but lamented bitterly for thy plagues: showing what the faithful should do when they see tokens of God's anger.

15:18 <sup>1</sup> And hast not assisted me according to the promise? wherein appeareth that in the Saints of God is imperfection of faith, which through impatience is oftentimes assailed, as Jer. 20:7.

15:20 <sup>1</sup> I will learn thee with an invincible strength and constancy, so that all the powers of the world shall not overcome thee.

CHAPTER 16

<sup>a</sup> Jer. 5:19<sup>b</sup> Jer. 7:26<sup>c</sup> Jer. 23:7

1 The word of the Lord came also unto me, saying,
 2 Thou shalt not take <sup>1</sup>thee a wife, nor have sons nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons, and concerning the daughters, that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bear them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung upon the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carcasses shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, nor be moved for them: for I have taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, even mercy and compassion.

6 Both the great, and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, <sup>1</sup>nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they give them the <sup>1</sup>cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, even in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt show this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, <sup>a</sup>Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against us? or what is <sup>1</sup>our iniquity? and what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my Law,

12 (<sup>b</sup>And ye have done worse than your fathers:

for behold, you walk everyone after the stubbornness of his wicked heart, and will not hear me.)

13 Therefore will I drive you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither you nor your fathers, and there ye shall serve other gods day and night: for I will show you no grace.

14 Behold therefore saith the Lord, the days come that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel <sup>1</sup>from the land of the North, and from all the lands where he had scattered them, and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many <sup>1</sup>fishers, and they shall fish them, and after will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the caves of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double, because they have defiled my land, and have filled mine inheritance with their filthy <sup>1</sup>carrions and their abominations.

19 O Lord, thou art my <sup>1</sup>fortress, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited <sup>2</sup>lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Behold, therefore I will this once <sup>1</sup>teach them: I will show them mine hand and my power, and they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

16:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the affliction should be so horrible in Jerusalem, that wife and children should but increase his sorrow.

16:5 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the affliction should be so great, that one should not have leisure to comfort another.

16:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, should not rent their clothes in sign of mourning.

16:7 <sup>1</sup> For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shall be in vain.

16:10 <sup>1</sup> Because the wicked are always rebellious, and dissemble their own sins, and murmur against God's judgments, as though he had no just cause to punish them, he showeth him what to answer.

16:15 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, the benefit of their deliverance out of Babylon should be so great, that it should abolish the remembrance of their deliverance from Egypt: but he hath here chiefly respect to the spiritual deliverance under Christ.

16:16 <sup>1</sup> By the fishers and hunters are meant the Babylonians and Chaldeans, who should destroy them in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other should take them.

16:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, their sons and daughters, which they offered to Molech.

16:19 <sup>1</sup> He wondereth at the great mercy of God in this deliverance, which shall not only extend to the Jews, but also to the Gentiles.

16:21 <sup>1</sup> They shall once again feel my power and mercy for their deliverance, that they may learn to worship me.

2 <sup>1</sup>They remember their altars as their children, with their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 <sup>1</sup>O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoiled, for the sin of thy high places throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou shalt rest, <sup>1</sup>and in thee shall be a rest from thine heritage that I gave thee, and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn forever.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 <sup>1</sup>For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not feel when the heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not care for the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 <sup>1</sup>The heart is deceitful and wicked above all things, who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, and try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his works.

11 <sup>1</sup>As the partridge gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 As a glorious throne <sup>1</sup>exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written <sup>1</sup>in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be whole: <sup>1</sup>save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, <sup>1</sup>they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But <sup>1</sup>I have not thrust in myself for a pastor after thee, neither have I desired the day of misery, thou knowest that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not <sup>1</sup>terrible unto me: thou art mine hope in the day of adversity.

18 Let them be confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring upon them the day of adversity, <sup>1</sup>and, destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go and stand in the <sup>1</sup>gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem,

20 And say unto them, Hear the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heed to your souls, and bear no burden in the <sup>1</sup>Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.

17:1 <sup>1</sup>The remembrance of their contempt of God cannot pass, albeit for a time he defer the punishment, for it shall be manifest to men and Angels.

17:2 <sup>1</sup>Some read, So that their children remember their altars, that is, follow their fathers' wickedness.

17:3 <sup>1</sup>Zion that was my mountain, shall now be left as a waste field.

17:4 <sup>1</sup>Because thou wouldst not give the land rest, at such times, days, and years as I appointed, thou shalt hereafter be carried away, and it shall rest for lack of laborers.

17:5 <sup>1</sup>The Jews were given to worldly policies, and thought to make themselves strong by the friendship of the Egyptians, Isa. 31:3, and strangers, and in the mean season did not depend on God, and therefore he denounceth God's plagues against them, showing that they prefer corruptible man to God, which is immortal, Isa. 2:22; Jer. 48:6, 7.

17:9 <sup>1</sup>Because the wicked have ever some excuse to defend their doings, he showeth that their own lewd imaginations deceive them, and bring them to these inconveniences: but God will examine their deeds by the malice of his hearts, 1 Sam. 16:7; 1 Chron. 28:9; Ps. 7:10; Jer. 11:20 and 20:12; Rev. 2:13.

17:11 <sup>1</sup>As the Partridge by calling gathered others which forsake her, when they see that she is not their dam: so the covetous man is forsaken of his riches, because he cometh by them falsely.

17:12 <sup>1</sup>Showing that the godly ought to glory in nothing, but in God, who doth exalt his, and hath left a sign of his favor in his Temple.

17:13 <sup>1</sup>Their names shall not be registered in the book of life.

17:14 <sup>1</sup>He desireth God to preserve him that he fall not into temptation, considering the great contempt of God's word, and the multitude that fall from God.

17:15 <sup>1</sup>The wicked say that my prophecy shall not come to pass, because thou deferrest the time of thy vengeance.

17:16 <sup>1</sup>I am assured of my vocation, and therefore know that the thing which thou speakest by me, shall come to pass, and that I speak not of any worldly affection.

17:17 <sup>1</sup>Howsoever the wicked deal rigorously with me, yet let me find comfort in thee.

17:19 <sup>1</sup>Whereas thy doctrine may be best understood both of high and low.

17:21 <sup>1</sup>By naming the Sabbath day, he comprehendeth the thing that is thereby signified: for if they transgressed in the ceremony, they must needs be culpable of the rest, read Exod. 20:8, and by the breaking of this one commandment, he maketh them transgressors of the whole law, forasmuch as the first and second table are contained herein.

22 Neither carry forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither do ye any work, but sanctify the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ears, but made their necks stiff, and would not hear, nor receive correction.

24 Nevertheless, if ye will hear me, saith the Lord, and bear no burden through the gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctify the Sabbath day, so that ye do no work therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this city, and shall sit upon the throne of David, and shall ride upon chariots and upon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall remain forever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not hear me to sanctify the Sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, nor to go through the gates of Jerusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise, and go down into the potter's house, and there shall I show thee my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.

4 And the vessel that he made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter, so he returned, and made it another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter, saith the Lord? behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speak suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdom to pluck it up, and to root it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation against whom I have pronounced turn from their wickedness, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring upon them.

9 And I will speak suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it do evil in my sight, and hear not my voice, I will repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speak thou now therefore unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: return you therefore every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your works good.

12 But they said desperately, Surely we will walk after our own imaginations, and do every man after the stubbornness of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ask now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and have burnt incense to vanity, and their prophets have caused them to stumble in their ways from the ancient ways, to walk in the paths and way that is not trodden,

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual derision, so that everyone that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and wag his head,

17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will show them the back, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let us imagine some device against Jeremiah: for the Law shall not perish

18:4 <sup>1</sup> As the potter hath power over the clay to make what pot he will, or to break them, when he hath made them: so have I power over you to do with you as seemeth good to me, Isa. 45:9; Rom. 9:20, 21.

18:8 <sup>1</sup> When the Scripture attributeth repentance unto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secret counsel: but when he threateneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giveth man grace to repent, the threatening (which ever containeth a condition in it) taketh no place: and this the scripture calleth repentance in God, because it so appeareth to man's judgment.

18:12 <sup>1</sup> As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their own self-will.

18:14 <sup>1</sup> As no man that hath thirst refuseth fresh conduit waters which he hath at home, to go and seek waters abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seek for help and succor at strangers, and leave God which was present with them.

18:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the way of truth which God had taught by his law, read Jer. 6:16.

18:17 <sup>1</sup> I will show mine anger and not my favor toward them.

18:18 <sup>1</sup> This argument the wicked have ever used against the servants of God. The Church cannot err: we are the Church, and therefore whosoever speaketh against us, they ought to die, 1 Kings 22:24; Jer. 7:4 and 20:2; Mal. 2:4, and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outward pomp, and in multitude, but is known by the graces of the holy Ghost.

from the Priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the Prophet: come, and let us smite him with the <sup>2</sup>tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Hearken unto me, O Lord, and hear the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have dug a pit for my soul: remember that I stood before thee, to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, <sup>1</sup>deliver up their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, let their wives be robbed of their children, and be widows: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slain by the sword in the battle.

22 Let the cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an host suddenly upon them: for they have dug a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me tendeth to death: forgive not their iniquity, neither put out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee: deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

19 He prophesieth the destruction of Jerusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

1 Thus saith the Lord, Go, and buy an earthen bottle of a potter, and take of the ancients for the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And go forth unto the valley of Ben-Hinnom, which is by the entry of the <sup>1</sup>East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O <sup>1</sup>Kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall <sup>2</sup>tingle.

4 Because they have forsaken me, and profaned this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers have known, nor the Kings of Judah (they have filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I <sup>1</sup>commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

6 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called <sup>1</sup>Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the field.

8 <sup>a</sup>And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing, so that everyone that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 <sup>b</sup>And I will feed them with the flesh of their sons, and with the flesh of their daughters, and everyone shall eat the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies that seek their lives, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a <sup>1</sup>potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again, and they shall bury them in Topheth till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this city like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Judah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the <sup>1</sup>houses upon whose <sup>2</sup>roofs they have burnt incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the Lord's house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city, and upon all her towns, all the plagues that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, and would not hear my words.

18:18 <sup>2</sup> Let us slander him, and accuse him: for we shall be believed.

18:21 <sup>1</sup> Seeing the obstinate malice of the adversaries, which grew daily more and more, the Prophet being moved with God's Spirit, without any carnal affection prayeth for their destruction, because he knew that it should tend to God's glory, and profit of his Church.

19:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, gate of the sun.

19:5 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is declared, that whatsoever is not commanded by God's word touching his service, is against his word.

19:6 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 7:31 and 2 Kings 23:10; Isa. 30:33.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> This visible sign was to confirm them touching the assurance of this plague, which the Lord threatened by his prophet.

20 Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 He prophesieth the captivity of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stock for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

1 When Pashhur, the son of Immer, the priest, which was appointed governor in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashhur smote Jeremiah the Prophet, and put him in the <sup>1</sup>stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashhur, but <sup>1</sup>Magor-Missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall carry them captive into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliver all the substance of this city, and all the labors thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them away and carry them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashhur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall go into captivity, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy <sup>1</sup>friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I am <sup>1</sup>deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast <sup>2</sup>prevailed: I am in derision daily: everyone mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed <sup>1</sup>desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproach unto me, and in derision daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak anymore in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones,

10 For I had heard the railing of many, and fear on every side. <sup>1</sup>Declare, said they, and we will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shall prevail against him, and we shall execute our vengeance upon him.

11 <sup>1</sup>But the Lord is with me like a mighty giant: therefore my persecutors shall be overthrown, and shall not prevail, and shall be greatly confounded: for they have done unwisely, and their everlasting shame shall never be forgotten.

12 <sup>a</sup>But, O Lord of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

13 Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of the wicked.

14 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Cursed be the day wherein I was born: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man that showed my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the <sup>1</sup>cities, which the Lord hath overturned and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noon tide,

17 Because he hath not slain me, even from the womb, or that my mother might have been my grave, or her womb a perpetual <sup>1</sup>conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the womb, to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

21 He prophesieth that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the city burned.

1 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashhur, the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah, the son of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

20:2 <sup>1</sup> Thus we see that the thing which neither the King, nor the princes, nor the people durst enterprise against the Prophet of God, this Priest as a chief instrument of Satan first attempted, read Jer. 18:18.

20:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, fear round about.

20:6 <sup>1</sup> Which have suffered themselves to be abused by thy false prophecies.

20:7 <sup>1</sup> Herein appeareth the impatience, which oftentimes overcome the servants of God, when they see not their labors to profit, and also feel their own weakness, read Jer. 15:18.

20:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that he did his office in that he reproved the people of their vices, and threatened them with God's judgments:

but because he was derided and persecuted for this, he was discouraged, and thought to have ceased to preach, save that God's Spirit did force him thereunto.

20:10 <sup>1</sup> Thus the enemies conferred together to know what they had heard him say, that they might accuse him thereof, read Isa. 29:21.

20:11 <sup>1</sup> Here he showeth how his faith did strive against temptation, and sought to the Lord for strength.

20:14 <sup>1</sup> How the children of God are overcome in this battle of the flesh and the Spirit, and into what inconveniences they fall till God raise them up again: read Job 3:1 and Jer. 15:10.

20:16 <sup>1</sup> Alluding to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, Gen. 19:25.

20:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the fruit thereof might never come to profit.

2 <sup>1</sup>Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for us, (for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel maketh war against us) if so be that the Lord will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may return up from us.

3 Then said Jeremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will <sup>1</sup>turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Chaldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

5 And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arm, even in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah the King of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their lives, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither have pity nor compassion.

8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the <sup>1</sup>way of life, and the way of <sup>2</sup>death.

9 <sup>a</sup>He that abideth in this city, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chaldeans, that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a <sup>1</sup>prey.

10 For I have set my face against this city, for evil and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burn it with fire.

11 ¶ And say unto the house of the King of Judah, Hear ye the word of the Lord.

of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the wickedness of your works.

13 Behold, I come against thee, <sup>1</sup>O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the Lord, which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visit you according to the fruit of your works, saith the Lord, and I will kindle a fire <sup>1</sup>in the forest thereof, and it shall devour round about it.

22 <sup>1</sup>He exhortheth the King to judgment and righteousness. <sup>9</sup>Why Jerusalem is brought into captivity. <sup>11</sup>The death of Shallum the son of Josiah is prophesied.

1 Thus said the Lord, Go down to the house of the King of Judah, and speak there this thing,

2 And say, Hear the word of the Lord, O King of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lord, <sup>a</sup>Execute ye judgment and <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and deliver the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vex not the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow: do no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing, then shall the kings sitting upon the throne of David enter in by the gates of this House, <sup>b</sup>and ride upon chariots and upon horses, both he and his servants and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, I <sup>1</sup>swear by myself, saith the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken upon the king's house of Judah, Thou art <sup>1</sup>Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will <sup>1</sup>prepare destroyers against thee, everyone with his weapons, and they shall cut down thy chief <sup>2</sup>cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 <sup>1</sup>And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbor, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they have

21:2 <sup>1</sup> Not that the King was touched with repentance of his sins, and so sought to God, as did Hezekiah, when he sent to Isaiah, 2 Kings 19:1; Isa. 37:2, but because the Prophet might pray unto God to take this present plague away, as Pharaoh sought unto Moses, Exod. 9:28.

21:4 <sup>1</sup> To wit, from your enemies to destroy yourselves.

21:12 <sup>1</sup> Be diligent to do justice.

21:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Jerusalem which was built part on the hill, and part in the valley, and was compassed about with mountains.

21:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, in the houses thereof, which stood as thick as trees in the forest.

22:3 <sup>1</sup> This was his ordinary manner of preaching before the Kings, from Josiah unto Zedekiah, which was about forty years.

22:5 <sup>1</sup> Showing that there is none greater than he is, Heb. 6:13, and that he will most certainly perform his oath.

22:6 <sup>1</sup> He compareth Jerusalem to Gilead, which was beyond Jordan, and the beauty of Judea to Lebanon.

22:7 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word signifieth to sanctify, because the Lord doth dedicate to his use and purpose such as he prepareth to execute his work, Isa. 13:3; Jer. 6:4 and 12:3.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> As they that wonder at a thing which they thought would never have come so to pass, Deut. 29:24; 1 Kings 9:8.

forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 ¶ Weep not for the dead, and be not moved for them, but weep for him <sup>1</sup>that goeth out: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching <sup>1</sup>Shallum the son of Josiah King of Judah, which reigned for Josiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not return thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe unto him that buildeth his house by <sup>1</sup>unrighteousness, and his chambers without equity: he useth his neighbor without wages, and giveth him not for his work.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himself large windows, and ceiling with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign, because thou closest thyself in cedar? did not thy <sup>1</sup>father eat and drink and prosper, when he executed judgment and justice?

16 When he judged the cause of the afflicted and the poor, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, even to do this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah king of Judah, They shall not <sup>1</sup>lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah sister: neither shall they mourn for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried, as an ass <sup>1</sup>is buried, even drawn and cast forth without the gates of Jerusalem.

20 ¶ Go up to <sup>1</sup>Lebanon, and cry: shout in <sup>2</sup>Bashan, and cry by the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee when thou wast in prosperity: but thou saidest, I will not hear, this hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voice.

22 The wind shall feed all thy pastors, <sup>1</sup>and thy lovers shall go into captivity: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickedness.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the <sup>1</sup>cedars, how beautiful shalt thou be when sorrows come upon thee, as the sorrow of a woman in travail?

24 As I live, saith the Lord, though <sup>1</sup>Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence.

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carry thee away, and thy mother that bare thee into another country, where ye were not born, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land, whereunto they desire to return, they shall not return thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idol? or as a vessel, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they carried away, he and his seed, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O <sup>1</sup>earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this <sup>1</sup>man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for there shall be no man of his seed that shall prosper and sit upon the throne of David, or bear rule anymore in Judah.

1 Woe be unto <sup>1</sup>the pastors that destroy and scatter the <sup>2</sup>sheep of my pasture, saith the Lord.

22:10 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that they should lose their king: for Jehoiachin went forth to meet Nebuchadnezzar and yielded himself, and was carried into Babylon, 2 Kings 24:12.

22:11 <sup>1</sup> Whom some think to be Jehoiachin, and that Josiah was his grandfather: but as seemeth, this was Jehoiakim, as verse 18.

22:13 <sup>1</sup> By bribes, and extortion.

22:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Josiah, who was not given to ambition and superfluity, but was content with mediocrity, and did only delight in setting forth God's glory, and to do justice to all.

22:18 <sup>1</sup> For everyone shall have enough to lament for himself.

22:19 <sup>1</sup> Not honorably among his fathers, but as carrions are cast in a hole, because their stink should not infect, read 2 Kings 24:9. Josephus Antiquities 10:8, writeth that the enemy slew him in the city and commanded him to be cast before the walls unburied, see Jer. 36:30.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> To call to the Assyrians for help.

<sup>2</sup> For this was the way out of India to Assyria, whereby is meant that all help should fail: for the Chaldeans have subdued both them and the Egyptians.

22:22 <sup>1</sup> Both thy governors and they that should help thee, shall vanish away as wind.

22:24 <sup>1</sup> Who was called Jehoiachin, or Jeconiah, whom he calleth here Coniah in contempt, who thought his kingdom could never depart from him, because he came of the stock of David, and therefore for the promise sake could not be taken from his house: but he abused God's promise, and therefore was justly deprived of the kingdom.

22:29 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all posterities shall be witnesses of his just plague, as though it were registered for perpetual memory.

22:30 <sup>1</sup> Not that he had no children (for after that he begat Shealtiel in the captivity, Matt. 1:12) but that none should reign after him as King.

23:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the princes, governors and false prophets, as Ezek. 34:2.

2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto the pastors that <sup>1</sup>feed my people, Ye have scattered my flock, and thrust them out, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit you for the wickedness of your works, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the <sup>1</sup>remnant of my sheep out of all countries, whither I had driven them, and will bring them again to their folds, and they shall grow and increase:

4 And I will set up shepherds over them, which shall feed them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraid, neither shall any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous <sup>1</sup>branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and <sup>a</sup>Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, <sup>b</sup>The Lord our righteousness.

7 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The <sup>1</sup>Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

8 But the Lord liveth, which brought up and led the seed of the house of Israel out of the North country, and from all countries where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the <sup>1</sup>prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath <sup>2</sup>overcome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holy words.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of oaths the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their <sup>1</sup>course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest <sup>1</sup>do wickedly: and their wickedness have I found in mine <sup>2</sup>House, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I have seen foolishness in the prophets of Samaria that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem <sup>1</sup>filthiness: they commit adultery and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked, that none can return from his wickedness: they are all <sup>2</sup>unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feed them with <sup>1</sup>wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is <sup>2</sup>wickedness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hear not the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you, and teach you vanity: they speak the vision of their own <sup>1</sup>heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye <sup>1</sup>shall have peace: and they say unto everyone that walketh after the stubbornness of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For <sup>1</sup>who hath stood in the counsel of the Lord that he hath perceived, and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwind shall fall down upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not return until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye <sup>1</sup>shall understand it plainly.

21 I have not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and <sup>1</sup>had declared my words to my people, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the wickedness of their inventions.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> Whose charge is to feed the flock, but they eat the fruit thereof, Ezek. 34:3.

23:3 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Prophets ever used to mix the promises with the threatenings, lest the godly should be too much beaten down, and therefore he showeth how God will gather his Church after this dispersion.

23:5 <sup>1</sup> This prophecy is of the restitution of the Church in the time of Jesus Christ, who is the true branch, read Isa. 11:1 and 45:8; Jer. 35:15; Dan. 9:24.

23:7 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 16:14.

23:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the false prophets which deceive the people: wherein appeareth his great love toward his nation, read Jer. 14:13.

23:10 <sup>1</sup> They run headlong to wickedness, and seek vain help.

23:14 <sup>1</sup> They which should have profited by my rods against Samaria, are become worse than they.

23:16 <sup>1</sup> Which they have invented of their own brain.

23:17 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 6:14 and 8:11.

23:18 <sup>1</sup> Thus they did deride Jeremiah, as though the word of God were not revealed unto him: so also spake Zedekiah to Micaiah, 1 Kings 22:24.

23:20 <sup>1</sup> Both that God hath sent me, and that my words shall be true.

23:22 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the difference between the true Prophets and the false, between the hiring and the true minister.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God <sup>1</sup>far off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Do not I fill heaven and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I have heard what the prophets said, that prophesied lies in my Name, saying, I <sup>1</sup>have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long? <sup>1</sup>Do the prophets delight to prophesy lies, even prophesying the deceit of their own heart?

27 Think they to cause <sup>1</sup>my people to forget my Name by their dreams, which they tell every man to his neighbor, as their forefathers have forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dream, let him <sup>1</sup>tell a dream, and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully: <sup>2</sup>what is the chaff to the wheat, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word even like a fire, saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that <sup>1</sup>steal my word every one from his neighbor.

31 Behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which have sweet tongues, and say, <sup>1</sup>He saith.

32 Behold, I will come against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they bring no profit unto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall ask thee, saying, What is the <sup>1</sup>burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The <sup>1</sup>burden of the Lord, I will even visit every such one, and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbor, and every one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lord spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord shall ye mention no more: for every man's <sup>1</sup>word shall be his burden: for ye have perverted the words of the living God, the Lord of hosts our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and what hath the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lord.

39 Therefore behold, I, even I will utterly <sup>1</sup>forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence, 40 And will bring <sup>d</sup>an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame which shall never be forgotten.

24 The vision of the baskets of figs. 5 Signifieth that part of the people should be brought again out of captivity. 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

1 The Lord showed me, and behold, two <sup>1</sup>baskets of figs were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah with the workmen, and cunning men of Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe, and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so evil.

3 Then said the Lord unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs: the good figs very good, and the naughty very naughty, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

4 Again the word of the Lord came unto me,

23:23 <sup>1</sup> Do I not see your falsehood, however you cloak it, and wheresoever you commit it?

23:25 <sup>1</sup> I have a prophecy revealed unto me, as Num. 1:26.

23:26 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, Is it in the heart of the Prophets?

23:27 <sup>1</sup> He sheweth that Satan raiseth up false prophets to bring the people from God.

23:28 <sup>1</sup> Let the false prophet declare that it is his own fantasy, and not slander my word as though it were a cloak to cover his lies.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that it is not sufficient for God's ministers to abstain from lies, and to speak the word of God: but that there be judgment in alleging it, and that it may appear to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezek. 3:27; 1 Cor. 2:13 and 4:2; 2 Tim. 2:25; 2 Pet. 4:10, 11.

23:30 <sup>1</sup> Which set forth in my Name that which I have not commanded.

23:31 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Lord.

23:33 <sup>1</sup> The Prophets called their threatenings God's burden, which the sinners were not able to sustain, therefore the wicked in deriding the word, would ask of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, You seek nothing else, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they rejected the word of God, as a grievous burden.

23:34 <sup>1</sup> Because this word was brought to contempt and derision, he will teach them another manner of speech, and will cause this word burden to cease, and teach them to ask with reverence, What saith the Lord?

23:36 <sup>1</sup> The thing which they mock and contemn, shall come upon them.

23:39 <sup>1</sup> Or, take you away.

24:1 <sup>1</sup> The good figs signified them that were gone into captivity, and so saved their life, as Jer. 21:8, and the naughty figs them that remained, which were yet subject to the sword, famine and pestilence.

saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I know them that are carried away captive of Judah to be good, whom I have sent out of this <sup>1</sup>place, into the land of the Chaldeans.

6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land, and I will build them and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not root them out.

7 And I will give them <sup>1</sup>an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be <sup>a</sup>my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

8 <sup>b</sup>And as the naughty figs which cannot be eaten, they are so evil (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I give Zedekiah the King of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell <sup>4</sup>in the land of Egypt:

9 I will even give them for a terrible plague to all the kingdoms of the earth, and for a reproach and for a proverb, for a common talk, and for a curse, in all places where I shall cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gave unto them, and to their fathers.

25 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth that they shall be in captivity seventy years. 12 And that after the seventy years the Babylonians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

1 The word that came to Jeremiah, concerning all the people of Judah, in the <sup>1</sup>fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that was in the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, come unto me, and I have spoken unto you <sup>2</sup>rising early and speaking, but ye would not hear.

4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his servants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, but ye would not hear, nor incline your ears, to obey.

5 They <sup>1</sup>said, Turn again now everyone from his evil way, and from the wickedness of your inventions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you, and to your fathers forever and ever.

6 And go not after other gods to serve them and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Nevertheless, ye would not hear me, saith the Lord, but have provoked me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye have not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take to me all the <sup>1</sup>families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel my <sup>2</sup>servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations <sup>3</sup>round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

10 <sup>a</sup>Moreover I will <sup>1</sup>take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the noise of the <sup>2</sup>millstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serve the king of Babel seventy years.

12 And when the <sup>1</sup>seventy years are accomplished, I will visit <sup>2</sup>the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, even the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it a perpetual desolation.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all nations.

14 For many nations, and great kings shall even 24:5 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he approveth the yielding of Jeconiah and his company, because they obeyed the Prophet, who exhorted them thereunto.

24:7 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that man of himself can know nothing, till God give the heart and understanding.

24:8 <sup>1</sup> Which fled thither for succor.

25:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, in the third year accomplished and in the beginning of the fourth: for though Nebuchadnezzar began to reign in the end of the third year of Jehoiakim's reign, yet that year is not here counted, because it was almost expired, Dan. 1:1.

25:3 <sup>1</sup> Which was the fifth year and the ninth month of Jehoiakim's reign.

25:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the Prophets, wholly with one consent did labor to pull the people from those vices, which then reigned, to wit, from idolatry, and the vain confidence of men: for under these two all others were contained, 2 Kings 17:13; Jer. 18:11 and 35:15; Jonah 3:8.

25:9 <sup>1</sup> The Chaldeans and all their power.

<sup>2</sup> So the wicked and Satan himself are God's servants, because he maketh them to serve him by constraint, and turneth that which they do of malice, to his honor and glory.

25:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, destroy.

25:12 <sup>1</sup> This revelation was for the confirmation of his prophecy, because he told them of the time that they should enter and remain in captivity, 2 Chron. 36:22; Ezra 1:1; Jer. 29:10; Dan. 9:2.

<sup>1</sup>serve themselves of them: thus will I recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken unto me, <sup>1</sup>Take the cup of wine of this mine indignation at mine hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the Lord's hand, and made all people to drink, unto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 Even Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, <sup>1</sup>as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaoh also, King of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all sorts of people, and all the Kings of the land <sup>1</sup>of Uz: and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and <sup>2</sup>Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

21 <sup>1</sup>Edom, and Moab, and the Ammonites,

22 And all the Kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the <sup>1</sup>Isles, that are beyond the sea,

23 And <sup>1</sup>Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that dwell in the uttermost corners,

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of Arabia that dwell in the <sup>1</sup>desert,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of <sup>1</sup>Elam, and all the kings of the Medes, 26 And all the kings of the North, far and near one to another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the earth, and the king of <sup>1</sup>Sheshach shall drink after them.

27 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Drink and be drunken, and spew and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For lo, <sup>1</sup>I begin to plague the city, where my Name is called upon, and should you go free? Ye shall not go acquitted: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, <sup>6</sup>The Lord shall roar from above, and thrust out his voice from his holy habitation: he shall roar upon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that press the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sounds shall come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hath a controversy with the nations, and will enter into judgment with all flesh, and he will give them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, a plague shall go forth from nation to nation, and a <sup>1</sup>'great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

33 And <sup>1</sup>the slain of the Lord shall be at that day, from one end of the earth, even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shall be as the dung upon the ground.

35 And the <sup>1</sup>flight shall fail from the shepherds, and the escaping from the principal of the flock.

36 A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flock, shall be heard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the <sup>1</sup>best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

38 He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is waste, because of the wrath of the oppressor, and because of the wrath of his indignation.

26 <sup>2</sup>Jeremiah moveth the people to repentance. <sup>7</sup>He is taken of the false prophets and priests, and brought to judgment. <sup>23</sup>Urijah the Prophet is killed of Jehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

25:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, of the Babylonians, as Jer. 27:7.

25:15 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, the extreme affliction, that God had appointed for everyone, as Ps. 75:8; Isa. 51:17, and this cup, which the wicked drink, is more bitter than that which he giveth to his children, for he measureth the one by mercy, and the other by justice.

25:18 <sup>1</sup> For now it beginneth and shall so continue till it be accomplished.

25:21 <sup>1</sup> Edom is here taken for the whole country, and Uz for a part thereof.

25:22 <sup>1</sup> As Greece, Italy and the rest of those countries.

25:23 <sup>1</sup> These were people of Arabia which came of Dedan the son of Abraham and Keturah.

25:24 <sup>1</sup> For there were two countries so named, the one called plentiful, and the other barren, or desert.

25:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, of Babylon, as Jer. 51:41.

1 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the <sup>1</sup>court of the Lord's House, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the Lord's House, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them: keep not <sup>2</sup>a word back,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may <sup>1</sup>repent me of the plague, which I have determined to bring upon them because of the wickedness of their works.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not hear me to walk in my Laws, which I have set before you,

5 And to hear the words of my servants the Prophets, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like <sup>1</sup>Shiloh, and will make this city <sup>2</sup>a curse to all nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak unto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people took him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, <sup>1</sup>This House shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Judah heard of these things, they came up from the king's house into the House of the Lord, and sat down in the entry of the <sup>1</sup>new gate of the Lord's House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets unto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, <sup>1</sup>This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 Then spake Jeremiah unto all the Princes and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath <sup>1</sup>sent me to prophesy against this House and against this city all the things that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your ways, and your works, and hear the voice of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: do with me as ye think good and right:

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me unto you, to speak all these words in your ears.

16 Then said the Princes and all the people unto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken unto us in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose up certain of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Micah the Morashite <sup>a</sup>prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heap, and the mountain of the <sup>1</sup>house shall be as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Judah, and all Judah put him to death? did he not fear the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the <sup>1</sup>plague, that he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great evil against our souls.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Urijah the son of Shemaiah, of Kirjath Jearim, who prophesied against this city, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Jehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the King sought to slay him. But when Urijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiakim the king <sup>1</sup>sent men into Egypt, even Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain with him into Egypt.

26:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, in that place of the Temple whereunto the people resort out of all Judah to sacrifice.

26:3 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 18:8

26:6 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 7:12.

26:9 <sup>1</sup> Because of God's promises to the Temple, Ps. 132:14, that he would forever remain there, the hypocrites thought this Temple could never perish, and therefore thought it blasphemy to speak against it, Matt. 26:61; Acts 6:13, not considering that this was meant of the Church, where God will remain forever.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> So called, because it was repaired by Jotham, 2 Kings 15:35.

26:11 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, judgments of death belongeth to this man.

26:12 <sup>1</sup> He both showeth the cause of his doings plainly, and also threateneth them that they should nothing avail, though they should put him to death, but heap greater vengeance upon their heads.

26:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, of the House of the Lord, to wit, Zion, and these examples the godly alleged to deliver Jeremiah out of the Priests' hands, whose rage else would not have been satisfied but by his death.

26:19 <sup>1</sup> So that the city was not destroyed, but by miracle was delivered out of the hands of Sennacherib.

26:22 <sup>1</sup> Here is declared the fury of tyrants, who cannot abide to hear God's word declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they prevail nothing but provoke God's judgments so much the more.

23 And they fetched Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and <sup>1</sup>cast his dead body into the graves of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam <sup>1</sup>the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

27 1 Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Judah and to the other Kings that were near, whereby they are monished to be subjects unto Nebuchadnezzar. 9 He warneth the people, and the Kings and rulers that they believe not false Prophets.

1 In the beginning of the reign of <sup>1</sup>Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee <sup>1</sup>bonds, and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah the king of Judah,

4 And command them to say unto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say unto your masters,

5 I have made the earth, the man, and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel my <sup>1</sup>servant, and the beasts of the field have I also given him to serve him.

7 And all nations shall serve him, and his <sup>1</sup>son, and his son's son until the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great kings shall <sup>2</sup>serve themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visit saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have wholly given them into his hands.

9 Therefore hear not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your sorcerers which say unto you thus, Ye shall not serve the king of Babel.

10 For they prophesy a lie unto you to cause you to go far from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their necks under the yoke of the king of Babel, and serve him, those will I let remain still in their own land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Put your necks under the yoke of the king of Babel, and serve him and his people, that ye may live.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serve the king of Babel?

14 Therefore hear not the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babel: for they prophesy a lie unto you.

15 For I have not <sup>a</sup>sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesy a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesy unto you.

16 Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hear not the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, <sup>b</sup>the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be <sup>1</sup>brought again from Babel: for they prophesy a lie unto you.

17 Hear them not, but serve the king of Babel, that ye may live: wherefore should this city be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them <sup>1</sup>entreat the Lord of hosts, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, concerning the <sup>c</sup>pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city,

26:23 <sup>1</sup> As in the first Hezekiah's example is to be followed, so in this other Jehoiakim's act is to be abhorred: for God's plague did light on him, and his household.

26:24 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that nothing could have appeased their fury, if God had not moved this noble man to stand valiantly in his defense.

27:1 <sup>1</sup> As touching the disposition of these prophecies, they that gathered them into a book, did not altogether observe the order of times, but did set some afore, which should be after, and contrary wise, which if the reader mark well it shall avoid many doubts, and make the reading much more easy.

27:2 <sup>1</sup> By such signs the Prophets used sometimes to confirm their prophecies which notwithstanding they could not do of themselves, but in as much as they had a revelation for the same, Isa. 20:2, and therefore the false Prophets to get more credit, did use also such visible signs, but they had no revelation, 1 Kings 22:12.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 25:9.

27:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Evil-Merodach, and his son Belshazzar.

27:18 <sup>1</sup> For it was not only the Prophet's office to show the word of God, but also to pray for the sins of the people, Gen. 20:7, which these could not do because they had no express word: for God had pronounced the contrary.

20 Which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel took not, when he carried <sup>4</sup>away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Judah, and Jerusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem,

22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall be until the day that I visit <sup>1</sup>them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them up, and restore them unto this place.

28 1 The false prophecy of Hananiah. 12 Jeremiah reproveth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

1 And that same year in the beginning of the <sup>1</sup>reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, in the <sup>2</sup>fourth year, and in the fifth month, Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of <sup>3</sup>Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 <sup>1</sup>Within two years space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lord's House, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel took away from this place, and carried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, with all them that were carried away captive of Judah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiah said unto the <sup>1</sup>Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord.

6 Even the Prophet Jeremiah said, So be it: the <sup>1</sup>Lord so do, the Lord confirm thy words which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lord's house, and all that is carried captive from Babel, into this place.

7 But hear thou now this word that I will speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people.

8 The Prophets that have been before me, and before thee in time past, <sup>1</sup>prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to pass, then shall the Prophet be known that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet took the yoke from the Prophet Jeremiah's neck, and <sup>1</sup>brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, from the neck of all nations within the space of two years: and the Prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the neck of the Prophet Jeremiah) saying, 13 Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, I have put a <sup>1</sup>yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel: for they shall serve him, and I have given him the <sup>2</sup>beasts of the field also.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremiah, unto the Prophet Hananiah, Hear now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet <sup>1</sup>died the same year in the seventh month.

29 1 Jeremiah writeth unto them that were in captivity in Babylon. 10 He prophesieth their return after seventy years. 16 He prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remain in Jerusalem. 21 He threateneth the prophets that seduce the people. 25 The death of Shemaiah is prophesied.

1 Now these are the words of the <sup>1</sup>book that 27:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, for the space of seventy years till I have caused the Medes and Persians to overcome the Chaldeans.

28:1 <sup>1</sup> When Jeremiah began to bear these bonds and yokes.

28:3 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, two years of days.

28:5 <sup>1</sup> He was so esteemed though he was a false prophet.

28:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, I would wish the same for God's honor, and wealth of my people, but he hath appointed the contrary.

28:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the Prophets that did either denounce war or peace, were tried either true or false by the success of their prophecies, albeit God maketh to come to pass sometimes that which the false prophet speaketh to try the faith of his, Deut. 13:3.

28:10 <sup>1</sup> This declareth the impudence of the wicked hirelings, which have no zeal to the truth, but are led with ambition to get the favor of men, and therefore cannot abide any that might discredit them but burst forth into rages and contrary to their own conscience, pass not what lies they report or how wickedly they do, so that they may maintain their estimation.

28:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, a hard and cruel servitude.

28:17 <sup>1</sup> Seeing this thing was evident in the eyes of the people, and yet they returned not to the Lord, it is manifest, that miracles cannot move us, neither the word itself, except God touch the heart.

29:1 <sup>1</sup> Or, letter.

CHAPTER 29

a Jer. 24:1

Jeremiah the Prophet sent from Jerusalem unto <sup>2</sup>the residue of the Elders, which were carried away captives, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Jeconiah the King, and the <sup>1</sup>Queen, and the eunuchs, the <sup>2</sup>princes of Judah, and of Jerusalem, and the workmen, and cunning men were departed from Jerusalem)

3 By the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah <sup>1</sup>sent unto Babel to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hosts the God of Israel spoken unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have <sup>1</sup>caused to be carried away captives from Jerusalem unto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

6 Take you wives, and beget sons and daughters, and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seek the prosperity of the city, whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and <sup>1</sup>pray unto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Let not your prophets, and your soothsayers that be among you, deceive you, neither give ear to your dreams, which you dream.

9 For they prophesy you a lie in my Name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, that after seventy years be accomplished at Babel, I will visit you, and perform my good promise toward you, and cause you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts, that I have thought towards you, saith the Lord, even the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to give you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you cry unto me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hear you,

13 And ye shall seek me, and find me, because ye shall seek me with all <sup>1</sup>your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I have cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you again unto the place, whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 Because ye have said, The Lord hath raised us up <sup>1</sup>Prophets in Babel.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the King, that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity:

17 Even thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will send upon them the <sup>1</sup>sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile <sup>2</sup>figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughty.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdoms of the earth, and <sup>1</sup>a curse, and astonishment, and an hissing and a reproach among all the nations whither I have cast them,

19 Because they have not heard my words saith the Lord, which I sent unto them by my servants the Prophets, <sup>1</sup>rising up early, and sending them, but ye would not hear, saith the Lord.

20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babel.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy lies unto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captivity of Judah, that are in Babel, shall take up this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the King of Babel burnt <sup>1</sup>in the fire,

23 Because they have committed <sup>1</sup>villainy in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbor's wives, and have spoken lying words in my Name, which I have not commanded them, even I know it, and testify it, saith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speak to Shemaiah the 29:7 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet speaketh not this for the affection that he bare to the tyrant, but that they should pray for the common rest and quietness, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and less grief wait for the time of their deliverance, which God had appointed most certain: for else not only the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should rejoice when these tyrants should be destroyed, as Isa. 14:4.

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people, that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for <sup>1</sup>Jehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for every man that raveth and maketh himself a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth unto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent unto us in Babel, saying, This captivity is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie,

32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man <sup>1</sup>to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good, that I will do for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee, in <sup>1</sup>a book.

3 For lo, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: for I will restore them unto the land, that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 Again, these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus saith the Lord, We have heard a <sup>1</sup>terrible voice, of fear and not of peace.

6 Demand now and behold, if man travail with child: wherefore do I behold every man with his hands on his loins as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into a paleness?

7 Alas, for this <sup>1</sup>day is great: none hath been like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble, yet shall he be delivered from it.

8 <sup>1</sup>For in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will break <sup>2</sup>his yoke from off thy neck, and break thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves <sup>3</sup>of him.

9 But they shall serve the Lord their God, and <sup>1</sup>David their King, whom I will raise up unto them.

10 Therefore fear not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for lo, I will deliver thee from a far country, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall turn again, and shall be in rest and prosperity, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee saith the Lord, to save thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I have scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by judgment, and not utterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to judge thy cause, or to lay a plaster: there are no medicines, nor help for thee.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they seek thee not: for I have stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharp chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sins were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places, and the city shall be built upon her own heap,<sup>1</sup> and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed<sup>1</sup> thanksgiving, and the voice of them that are joyous, and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few: I will also glorify them, and they shall not be diminished.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of<sup>1</sup> Samaria, and the planters that plant them,<sup>2</sup> shall make them common.

6 For the days shall come, that the<sup>1</sup> watchmen upon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let us go up unto<sup>2</sup> Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Rejoice with gladness for Jacob, and shout for joy among the chief of the Gentiles: publish praise and say, O Lord, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 <sup>1</sup>Behold, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coasts of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is delivered also: a great company shall return hither.

31:4 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt have still occasion to rejoice: which is meant by timbrels, and dancing, as their custom was after notable victories, Exod. 15:20; Judg. 5:2 and Jer. 18:34.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoice in the <sup>1</sup>dance, and the young men and the old men together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and give them joy for their sorrows.

14 And I will replenish the soul of the Priests with <sup>1</sup>fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voice was heard on high, a mourning, and bitter weeping. <sup>1</sup>Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refrain the voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own borders.

18 I have heard <sup>1</sup>Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an <sup>2</sup>untamed calf: <sup>3</sup>convert thou me, and I shall be converted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I was converted, I repented, and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my <sup>1</sup>thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim <sup>1</sup>my dear son or pleasant child? yet since I spake unto him, I still <sup>2</sup>remembered him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him. I will surely have compassion upon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee up <sup>1</sup>signs: make thee heaps: set thine heart toward the path and way, that thou hast walked: turn again, O virgin of Israel: turn again to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created <sup>1</sup>a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compass a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity, The Lord bless thee, O habitation of justice and holy mountain.

24 And Judah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that go forth with the flock.

25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleep <sup>1</sup>was sweet unto me.

27 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Judah <sup>1</sup>with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And like as I have watched upon them, to pluck up and to root out, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch over them, to build and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those days shall they say no more, The fathers have <sup>1</sup>eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

30 But everyone shall die for his own iniquity, every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a <sup>1</sup>new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah, 31:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, the people that were led captive.

31:22 <sup>1</sup> Because their deliverance from Babylon, was a figure of their deliverance from sin, he showeth how this should be procured, to wit, by Jesus Christ, whom a woman should conceive and bear in her womb. Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be born of a virgin without man, or he meaneth that Jerusalem, which was like a barren woman in her captivity, should be fruitful as she, that is joined in marriage, and whom God blesseth with children.

31:26 <sup>1</sup> Having understood this vision of the Messiah to come, in whom the two houses of Israel and Judah should be joined, I rejoiced.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, forever.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heavens can be measured, <sup>1</sup>or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the <sup>1</sup>city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananel, unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall go forth [in] his presence upon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, and unto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shall be holy unto the Lord, neither shall it be plucked up nor destroyed anymore forever.

their own possession. 38 The people of God are his servants, and he is their Lord.

1 The word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the <sup>1</sup>tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

2 For then the king of Babel's host besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the Prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Judah's house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>a</sup>Behold, I will give this city into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hands of the king of Babel, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face,

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, until <sup>1</sup>I visit him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanamel, the son of Shallum thine uncle, shall come unto thee and say, <sup>1</sup>Buy unto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the <sup>2</sup>title by kindred appertaineth unto thee <sup>3</sup>to buy it.

8 So Hanamel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said unto me, Buy my <sup>1</sup>field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth unto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanamel, mine uncle's son, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the silver, even seven <sup>1</sup>shekels, and ten pieces of silver.

10 And I wrote it in the book and signed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the silver in the balances.

31:33 <sup>1</sup> In the time of Christ, my law shall instead of tables of stone be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Heb. 8:10.

31:34 <sup>1</sup> Under the kingdom of Christ there shall be none blinded with ignorance, but I will give them faith, and knowledge of God for remission of their sins and daily increase the same: so that it shall not seem to come so much by the preaching of my ministers, as by the instruction of my holy Spirit, Isa. 54:13, but the full accomplishing hereof is referred to the kingdom of Christ, when we shall be joined with our head.

31:35 <sup>1</sup> If the sun, moon and stars cannot but give light according to mine ordinance, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church never fail, neither shall anything hinder it: and as sure as I will have a people, so certain is it, that I will leave them my word forever to govern them with.

31:37 <sup>1</sup> The one and the other is impossible.

31:38 <sup>1</sup> As it was performed, Neh. 3:1. By this description he showeth that the city should be as ample, and beautiful as ever it was: but he alludeth to the spiritual Jerusalem, whose beauty should be incomparable.

32:1 <sup>1</sup> So that Jeremiah had now prophesied from the thirteenth year of Josiah unto the last year save one of Zedekiah's reign, which was almost forty years.

32:5 <sup>1</sup> Till I take Zedekiah away by death: for he shall not die by the sword, as Jer. 34:4.

32:7 <sup>1</sup> Whereby was meant that the people should return again out of captivity and enjoy their possessions and vineyards, as verses 15 and 44.

32:8 <sup>1</sup> Of the possession of the Levites, read Lev. 25:32.

32:9 <sup>1</sup> Which mounteth to of our money about ten shillings six pence, if this shekel were the common shekel, read Gen. 23:15, for the shekel of the Temple was of double value, and ten pieces of silver were half a shekel: for twenty made the shekel.

11 So I took the book of the possession, being sealed <sup>1</sup>according to the Law, and custom, with the book that was open,

12 And I gave the book of the possession unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the sight of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the book of the possession, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this book of the possession, both that is sealed, and this book that is open, and put them in an earthen <sup>1</sup>vessel, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the book of the possession unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the Lord, saying, 17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arm, and there is nothing <sup>1</sup>hard unto thee.

18 <sup>b</sup>Thou showest mercy unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their <sup>1</sup>children after them: O God the great and mighty, whose name is the Lord of hosts,

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in work, (for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give to everyone according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his works)

20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt unto this day, and in Israel and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, <sup>1</sup>as appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and a stretched out arm, and with great terror,

22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, even a land that floweth with milk and honey,

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they have not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come upon them.

24 Behold, the <sup>1</sup>mounts, they are come into the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans, that fight against it by means of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to pass, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy unto thee the field for silver, and take witnesses: for the city shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all <sup>1</sup>flesh: is there anything too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babel, and he shall take it.

29 And the Chaldeans shall come and fight against this city, and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me unto anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Judah have surely done evil before me, from their <sup>1</sup>youth: for the children of Israel have surely provoked me to anger with the works of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this city hath been unto me as a provocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, even unto this day, that I should remove it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, even they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the back and not the face: though I taught them, <sup>1</sup>rising up early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receive doctrine,

34 But they set their abominations in the house

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, wherein I have scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soul.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I have brought all this great plague upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And the fields shall be possessed in this land, whereof ye say, it is desolate without man or beast, and shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

these strong cities remained of the cities of Judah)

8 This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people, which were at Jerusalem, <sup>1</sup>to proclaim liberty unto them,

9 That every man should let his <sup>1</sup>servant go free, and every man his handmaid, which was an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, and that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which was agreed to the covenant, heard that everyone should let his servant go free, and everyone his handmaid, and that none should serve themselves of them anymore, they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterward they <sup>1</sup>repented and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and held them in subjection as servants and handmaids.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of <sup>1</sup>servants, saying,

14 <sup>b</sup>At the term of seven years, let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew which hath been sold unto thee: and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their ears.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming liberty, every man to his neighbor, and ye had made a covenant before me in <sup>1</sup>the house, whereupon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye have caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and hold them in subjection to be unto you as servants and as handmaids.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye have not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedom every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbor: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the Lord, to <sup>1</sup>the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terror to all the kingdoms of the earth.

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babel's host, which <sup>1</sup>are gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to return to this city, and they shall fight against it, and take it and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah desolate without an inhabitant.

3 Then took I Jaazaniah, the son of Jeremiah the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah a man <sup>1</sup>of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the <sup>2</sup>treasure.

6 But they said, We will drink no wine: for <sup>1</sup>Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, <sup>2</sup>Ye shall drink no wine, neither you nor your sons forever.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any, but all your days ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, and we drink no wine all our days, neither we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for us to dwell in, neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed,

10 But we have remained in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to <sup>1</sup>all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel came up into the land, we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem, from the host of the Chaldeans, and from the host of Aram: so we <sup>1</sup>dwell at Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Go, and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will <sup>1</sup>ye not receive doctrine to obey my words, saith the Lord?

14 The commandment of Jonadab the son of Rechab that he commanded his sons, that they should drink no wine, is surely kept: for unto this day they drink none, but obey their father's commandment: notwithstanding I have spoken unto you, <sup>1</sup>rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I have sent also unto you all my servants the Prophets: rising up early, and sending them, saying, <sup>a</sup>Return now every man from his evil way, and amend your works, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given unto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your ear, nor obey me.

36 Baruch writeth as Jeremiah inditeth, the book of the curses against Judah and Israel. 9 He is sent with the book unto the people, and readeth it before them all. 14 He is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them also. 23 The king casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandment of the Lord.

1 And in the fourth <sup>1</sup>year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roll or book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken to thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake unto thee, even <sup>1</sup>from the days of Josiah unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear of all the evil, which I determined to do unto them, that they may return every man from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their sins.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote <sup>1</sup>at the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll or book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am <sup>1</sup>shut up, and cannot go into the House of the Lord.

6 Therefore go thou, and read the roll wherein thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lord's house upon the <sup>1</sup>fasting day: also thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

35:11 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that they were not so bound to their vow, that it could not be broken for any necessity: for where they were commanded to dwell in tents, they dwell now at Jerusalem for fear of the wars.

36:2 <sup>1</sup> Which were twenty and three years, as Jer. 25:3, counting from the thirteenth year of Josiah's reign.

36:4 <sup>1</sup> As he did indite.

36:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in prison, through the malice of the Priests.

36:6 <sup>1</sup> Which was proclaimed for fear of the Babylonians, as their custom was when they feared war, or any great plague of God.

7 It may be that they will <sup>1</sup>pray before the Lord, and everyone return from his evil way, for great is the anger and the wrath that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the son of Neriah did according unto all, that Jeremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the Lord in the Lord's house.

9 ¶ And in the fifth <sup>1</sup>year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, in the ninth month, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the Secretary, in the higher court at the entry of the <sup>1</sup>new gate of the Lord's house in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan had heard out of the book all the words of the Lord,

12 Then he went down to the King's house into the Chancellor's chamber, and lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the Chancellor, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read in the book in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it, that we may hear. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Now when they had heard all the words, they were <sup>1</sup>afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will certify the King of all these words.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell us now, how didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, <sup>1</sup>hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king to the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellor, and told the King all the words, that he might hear.

21 So the King sent Jehudi to fetch the roll, and he took it out of Elishama the Chancellor's chamber, and Jehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the King.

22 Now the King sat in the winter house, in the <sup>1</sup>ninth month, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Jehudi had read three or four sides, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent <sup>1</sup>their garments, neither the King, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 Nevertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.

26 But the King commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hammelech, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet, but the Lord <sup>1</sup>hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah (after that the King had burnt the roll and the words that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying,

28 Take thee again <sup>1</sup>another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll which Jehoiakim the King of Judah hath burnt,

29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim King of Judah, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast burnt this roll, saying, <sup>1</sup>Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

36:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that fasting without prayer and repentance, availeth nothing, but is mere hypocrisy.

36:9 <sup>1</sup> The fast was then proclaimed, and Baruch read this rule, which was a little before that Jerusalem was first taken, and then Jehoiakim, and Daniel and his companions were led away captives.

36:10 <sup>1</sup> Which is the East gate of the Temple.

36:16 <sup>1</sup> The godly were afraid, seeing God so offended, and the wicked were astonished for the horror of the punishment.

36:19 <sup>1</sup> They that were godly among the princes gave this counsel, by whose means it is like that Jeremiah was delivered: for they knew the rage of the king and of the wicked to be such, that they could not escape without danger of their lives.

36:26 <sup>1</sup> Thus we see the continual care, that God hath ever over his to preserve them from the rage of the wicked.

36:28 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked think to have abolished the word of God, when they have burnt the book thereof: yet this declareth that God will not only raise it up again, but also increase it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as verse 32.

36:29 <sup>1</sup> These are Jehoiakim's words.

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Jehoiakim King of Judah, He shall have <sup>1</sup>none to sit upon the throne of David, and his <sup>2</sup>dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visit him and his seed, and his servants for their iniquity, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah all the evil that I have pronounced against them: but they would not hear.

32 Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the Scribe the son of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim King of Judah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like words.

1 And "King Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned for <sup>1</sup>Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel <sup>2</sup>made king in the land of Judah.

2 But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land would obey the words of the Lord which he spake by the <sup>1</sup>ministry of the Prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king <sup>1</sup>sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto the Lord our God for us.

4 (Now Jeremiah went <sup>1</sup>in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

5 Then Pharaoh's host was <sup>1</sup>come out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem, heard tidings of them, they <sup>2</sup>departed from Jerusalem.)

6 Then came the word of the Lord unto the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the King of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaoh's host, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.

8 And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it and burn it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us:

CHAPTER 37

<sup>2</sup> Chron. 36:10

for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole host of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained, but wounded men among them, yet should every man rise up in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 ¶ When the host of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem, because of Pharaoh's army, 12 Then Jeremiah went out of Jerusalem to go into the <sup>1</sup>land of Benjamin, separating himself thence from among the people.

13 And when he was in the <sup>1</sup>gate of Benjamin, there was a chief officer, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou <sup>2</sup>fleest to the Chaldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Chaldeans: but he would not hear him: so Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Jeremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Jehonathan the Scribe: for they had made that the <sup>1</sup>prison.

16 When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time,

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took him out, and the king asked him secretly, in his house, and said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 <sup>1</sup>Where are now your prophets, which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the King: let my prayer be <sup>1</sup>acceptable before thee, that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded, that they should put Jeremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the baker's street until all the <sup>1</sup>bread in the city were eaten up. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

37:1 <sup>1</sup> Who was called Jehoiachin, or Jeconiah.

37:3 <sup>1</sup> Because he was afraid of the Chaldeans that came against him.

37:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, was out of prison, and at liberty.

37:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, lift not up your minds.

37:12 <sup>1</sup> As some think, to go to Anathoth his own town.

37:13 <sup>1</sup> By the which men went into the country of Benjamin.

37:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, so long as there was any bread in the city: thus God provideth for his, that he will cause their enemies to preserve them to that end whereunto he hath appointed them.

1 Then Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of <sup>1</sup>Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans, shall live: for he shall have his life for <sup>1</sup>a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babel's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said unto the king, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus he <sup>1</sup>weakeneth the hands of the men of war <sup>2</sup>that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can deny <sup>1</sup>you nothing.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the son of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords: and in the dungeon there was no water but mire: so Jeremiah stuck fast in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-Melech ye <sup>1</sup>black Moor, one of the Eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon, (then the king sat in the <sup>2</sup>gate of Benjamin)

8 And Ebed-Melech went out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, <sup>1</sup>these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the Prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon, and he dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-Melech the black Moor, saying, Take from hence thirty men

11 So Ebed-Melech took the men with him, and went to the house of the king under the treasury, and took there old rotten rags, and old worn clouts, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-Melech the black Moor said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old rotten rags and worn, under thine arm holes, between the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the <sup>1</sup>court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the Prophet unto him, into the third entry that is in the House of the Lord, and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not slay me? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hear me.

16 So the King sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord liveth, that made us these souls, I will not slay thee, nor give thee into the hands of those men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hosts the God of Israel, If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babel's <sup>1</sup>princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burnt up with fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babel's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am careful for the Jews that are fled unto the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hands, and they <sup>1</sup>mock me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee: hearken unto the voice of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speak unto thee: so shall it be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath showed me.

38:1 <sup>1</sup> For Zedekiah had sent these to Jeremiah, to inquire at the Lord for the state of the country now when Nebuchadnezzar came, as Jer. 21:1.

38:2 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 21:9 and 45:5.

<sup>2</sup> Thus we see how the wicked when they cannot abide to hear the truth of God's word, seek to put the ministers to death, as transgressors of policies.

38:5 <sup>1</sup> Wherein he grievously offended in that that not only he would not hear the truth spoken by the Prophet, but also gave him to the lusts of the wicked to be cruelly entreated.

38:9 <sup>1</sup> Hereby is declared that the Prophet found more favor at this stranger's hands, than he did by all them of his country, which was to their great condemnation.

38:10 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, under thine hand.

38:13 <sup>1</sup> Where the king had set him before to be at more liberty, as Jer. 37:21.

38:17 <sup>1</sup> And yield thyself unto them.

38:19 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that he more feared the reproach of men, than the threatenings of God.

22 And behold, all the women that are <sup>1</sup>left in the king of Judah's house, shall be brought forth to the king of Babel's princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have persuaded thee, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are fastened in the mire, and they are turned back.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives, and thy children to the Chaldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this city shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes understand that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now, what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not slay thee: also what the King said unto thee,

26 Then shalt thou say unto them, I humbly <sup>1</sup>besought the king that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah and asked him, And he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

1 In "the ninth year of Zedekiah King of Judah in the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel and all his host against Jerusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken <sup>1</sup>up.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarsechim, Rabсарis, Nergal-Sharezer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

CHAPTER 39
2 Kings 25:15
Jer. 52:4

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went out of the city by night, through the king's garden, and by the <sup>1</sup>gate between the two walls, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Chaldean's host pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel unto <sup>1</sup>Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in chains to carry him to Babel.

8 And the Chaldeans burnt the king's house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

9 Then Nebuzaradan the <sup>1</sup>chief steward carried away captive into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that were fled and fallen unto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzaradan the chief steward left the <sup>1</sup>poor that had nothing in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel gave charge concerning Jeremiah <sup>1</sup>unto Nebuzaradan the chief steward, saying, 12 Take him, and <sup>1</sup>look well to him, and do him no harm, but do unto him <sup>2</sup>even as he shall say unto thee.

13 So Nebuzaradan the chief steward sent, and Nebushasban, Rabсарis, and Nergal-Sharezar, Rabmag, and all the King of Babel's princes:

14 Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto <sup>1</sup>Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speak to Ebed-Melech the black Moor, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel,

38:22 <sup>1</sup> When Jeconiah and his mother, with others, were carried away, these women of the king's house were left: which shall be taken, saith the Prophet, and tell the king of Babel how Zedekiah hath been seduced by his familiar friends and false prophets, which have left him in the mire.

38:26 <sup>1</sup> Herein appeareth the infirmity of the Prophet, who did dissemble to save his life albeit it was not to the denial of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

39:2 <sup>1</sup> The gates and walls were broken down.

39:4 <sup>1</sup> Which was a postern door, read 2 Kings 25:4.

39:5 <sup>1</sup> Which is called Antioch in Syria.

39:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, captain of the guard.

39:10 <sup>1</sup> For the rich and the mighty which put their trust in their shifts and means, were by God's just judgments most rigorously handled.

39:12 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, set thine eyes upon them.

39:14 <sup>1</sup> Whom the King of Babel had now appointed governor over the rest of the Jews that he left behind.

Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou <sup>1</sup>hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

40 Jeremiah hath license to go whither he will. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remain with Gedaliah.

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzaradan the chief steward had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babel.

2 <sup>1</sup>And the chief steward took Jeremiah and said unto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague upon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have <sup>1</sup>sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, <sup>1</sup>tarry still: behold, all the land is <sup>2</sup>before thee: whither it seemeth good, and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he said, Return to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babel hath made governor over all the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people, or go wheresoever it pleaseth thee to go. So the chief steward gave him vittles and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, to <sup>1</sup>Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captains of the host, <sup>1</sup>which were in the fields, even they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and that he had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, that were not carried away captive to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even <sup>1</sup>Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan, and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai, the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan <sup>a</sup>swore unto them, and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you:

10 As for me, Behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to <sup>1</sup>serve the Chaldeans, which will come unto us: but you, gather you wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye have <sup>2</sup>taken.

11 Likewise when all the Jews that were in <sup>1</sup>Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, 12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places where they were driven, and came to the land of Judah to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits, very much.

13 Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

14 And said unto him, Knowest thou not that <sup>1</sup>Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not.

15 Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Jews, which are gathered unto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt <sup>1</sup>not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

39:18 <sup>1</sup> Thus God recompensed his zeal and favor, which he showed to his Prophet in his troubles.

40:2 <sup>1</sup> From this second verse unto Jer. 42:7, it seemeth to be as a parenthesis, and separated matter: and there this story beginneth again, and this vision is declared what it was.

40:3 <sup>1</sup> God moved this infidel to speak this to declare the great blindness and obstinacy of the Jews, which could not feel that which this heathen man confessed.

40:6 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city of Judah.

40:7 <sup>1</sup> Which were scattered abroad for fear of the Chaldeans.

40:8 <sup>1</sup> Who was of the king's blood and after slew him, Jer. 41:2.

40:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, to receive them, or to entreat them for you.

40:11 <sup>1</sup> Which were fled also for fear of the Chaldeans.

40:14 <sup>1</sup> For under the color of entertaining of Ishmael, he sought only to make them destroy one another.

40:16 <sup>1</sup> Thus the godly, which think no harm to others, are soonest deceived, and never lack such as conspire their destruction.

1 But in the <sup>1</sup>seventh month came Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama of the seed royal, and the princes of the <sup>2</sup>king, and ten men with him, unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did <sup>3</sup>eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him whom the king of Babel had made governor over the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of war.

4 Now the second day that he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent and cut, with <sup>1</sup>offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping, as he went: and when he met them, he said unto them, Come <sup>1</sup>to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the midst of the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey: so he stayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the [pit] wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slain because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the king had <sup>1</sup>made because of Baasha king of Israel, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the King's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the chief steward had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the <sup>1</sup>captains of the host that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they all took their men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Ishmael carried away captive, saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, returned and came again, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the <sup>1</sup>Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had carried away captive from Mizpah, (after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam) even the strong men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth <sup>1</sup>Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go and to enter into Egypt, 18 Because of the Chaldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made governor in the land.

42 <sup>1</sup> The captains ask counsel of Jeremiah what they ought to do. 7 He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to go into Egypt.

1 Then all the captains of the host, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least unto the most, came,

2 And said unto Jeremiah the Prophet, <sup>1</sup>Hear our prayer, we beseech thee, and pray for us unto the Lord thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold)

3 That the Lord thy God may show us the way

41:1 <sup>1</sup> The city was destroyed in the fourth month: and in the seventh month, which contained part of September, and part of October, was the governor Gedaliah slain.

41:5 <sup>1</sup> For they thought that the Temple had not been destroyed and therefore came up to the feast of Tabernacles: but hearing of the burning thereof in the way, they showed these signs of sorrow.

41:6 <sup>1</sup> For his death was kept secret, and he feigned that he lament for the destruction of Jerusalem, and the Temple: but after slew them when they seemed to favor Gedaliah.

41:9 <sup>1</sup> Asa fortified Mizpah for fear of the enemy, and cast ditches and trenches, 1 Kings 15:22.

41:11 <sup>1</sup> Which had been captains under Zedekiah.

41:15 <sup>1</sup> For Baalis the king of the Ammonites was the cause of this murder.

41:17 <sup>1</sup> Which place David of old had given to Chimham the son of Barzillai the Gileadite, 2 Sam. 19:38.

wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may <sup>1</sup>do.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said unto them, I have heard you: behold, I will pray unto the Lord your God according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lord shall answer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, <sup>1</sup>The Lord be a witness of truth, and faith between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good or evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord God, to whom we send thee, that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And so after ten days came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And said unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not root you out: for I <sup>1</sup>repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Fear not for the king of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith the Lord: for I am with you, to save you, and to deliver you <sup>1</sup>from his hand, 12 And I will grant you mercy that he may have compassion upon you, and he shall cause you to <sup>1</sup>dwell in your own land.

13 But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither hear the voice of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore hear the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah: thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to dwell there,)

16 Then the sword that ye feared, <sup>1</sup>shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang upon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remain, nor escape from the plague, that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so shall my wrath be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and ye shall be a detestation, and an astonishment, and a <sup>1</sup>curse, and a reproach, and ye shall see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Judah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Go not into Egypt: know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye <sup>1</sup>dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me unto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for us unto the Lord our God, and declare unto us even according unto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will do it.

21 Therefore I have this day declared it you, but you have not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, nor anything for the which he hath sent me unto you.

22 Now therefore, know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence <sup>1</sup>in the place whither ye desire to go and dwell.

43 Johanan carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt, contrary to the mind of Jeremiah. 8 Jeremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

1 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

2 Then spake <sup>1</sup>Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the <sup>2</sup>proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, <sup>3</sup>Thou speakest falsely:

42:3 <sup>1</sup> This declareth the nature of hypocrites, which would know of God's word what they should do, but will not follow it, but inasmuch as it agreeth with that thing, which they have purposed to do.

42:5 <sup>1</sup> There are none more ready to abuse the Name of God and take it in vain, than the hypocrites, which to color their falsehood use it without all reverence, and make it a means for them to deceive the simple and the godly.

42:7 <sup>1</sup> Here is declared the vision and the occasion thereof, whereof mention was made, Jer. 40:1.

42:10 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 18:8.

42:11 <sup>1</sup> Because all kings' hearts and ways are in his hands, he can turn them and dispose them as it pleaseth him, and therefore they need not to fear man, but only obey God, Prov. 21:1.

42:12 <sup>1</sup> Or, return.

42:16 <sup>1</sup> Thus God turneth the policy of the wicked to their own destruction: for they thought themselves sure in Egypt, and there Nebuchadnezzar destroyed them and the Egyptians, Jer. 46:25.

42:18 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 26:6 and 24:12, showing that this should come upon them for their infidelity and stubbornness.

42:20 <sup>1</sup> For ye were fully minded to go into Egypt, whatsoever God spake to the contrary.

42:22 <sup>1</sup> To wit, in Egypt.

the Lord our God hath <sup>4</sup>not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to dwell there,

3 But Baruch the son of Neriah <sup>1</sup>provoketh thee against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might slay us, and carry us away captives into Babel.

4 So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, and all the people obeyed not the voice of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host took all the remnant of Judah that were returned from all <sup>1</sup>nations, whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah:

6 Even men and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the chief steward had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the <sup>1</sup>Prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they to <sup>1</sup>Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and <sup>1</sup>hide them in the clay in the brick kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Judah,

10 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel <sup>1</sup>my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid, and he shall spread his pavilion over them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: <sup>1</sup>such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captivity, to captivity, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them and carry them away captives, and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a <sup>1</sup>shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

that is in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.

44 He reproveth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that set light by the threatening of the Lord, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt, and of the Jews therein, is prophesied.

1 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at <sup>1</sup>Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah: and behold, this day they are desolate and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed, to provoke me to anger in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor you, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the Prophets <sup>1</sup>rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not hear nor incline their ear to turn from their wickedness, and to burn no more incense unto other gods.

6 Wherefore <sup>1</sup>my wrath, and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Judah, and leave you none to remain?

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction unto yourselves, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach among all nations of the earth.

9 Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers,

43:2 <sup>4</sup> He showeth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, to feign that they would obey God and embrace his word, if they were assured that his messenger spake the truth: though indeed they be most far from all obedience.

43:3 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked do not only contemn and hurt the messengers of God, but slander, and speak wickedly of all them that support or favor the godly.

43:5 <sup>1</sup> As from the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites, Jer. 40:11.

43:6 <sup>1</sup> Whom these wicked lead away by force.

43:7 <sup>1</sup> A city in Egypt near to Nilus.

43:10 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 25:9.

43:11 <sup>1</sup> Everyone shall be slain by that means that God hath appointed, Jer. 15:2.

43:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, most easily and suddenly shall he carry the Egyptians away.

43:13 <sup>1</sup> Or, the house of the Sun.

44:1 <sup>1</sup> These were all famous and strange cities in Egypt, where the Jews that were fled, dwelt for their safety: but the Prophet declareth that there is no hold so strong that can preserve them from God's vengeance.

44:4 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 7:25; 25:3; 36:5; 29:19 and 32:33.

44:6 <sup>1</sup> He setteth before their eyes God's judgments against Judah and Jerusalem for their idolatry, that they might beware by their example, and not with the like wickedness provoke the Lord: for then they should be double punished.

and the wickedness of the <sup>1</sup>kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

10 They are not <sup>1</sup>humbled unto this day, neither have they feared nor walked in my law nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you <sup>4</sup>to evil, and to destroy all Judah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah that <sup>1</sup>have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall even be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die from the least unto the most, by the sword, and by the famine and they shall be a detestation and an astonishment, and a <sup>2</sup>curse and a reproach.

13 For I will visit them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have visited Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence,

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah to the which they <sup>1</sup>have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but <sup>2</sup>such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken unto us in the Name of the Lord, we will <sup>1</sup>not hear it of thee,

17 But we will do whatsoever thing goeth out of our own mouth, as to burn incense unto <sup>1</sup>the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then <sup>2</sup>had we <sup>3</sup>plenty of vittles and were well and <sup>4</sup>felt none evil.

18 But since we left off to burn incense to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have had <sup>1</sup>scarceness of all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense unto the Queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes <sup>1</sup>to make her glad, and pour out drink offerings unto her without <sup>2</sup>our husbands?

20 Then said Jeremiah unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, both you and your fathers, your kings, and your Princes, and the people of the land, and <sup>1</sup>hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickedness of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which ye have committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because you have burnt incense, and because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come upon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people and to all the women, Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your <sup>1</sup>hand, saying, We will perform our vows that we have vowed to burn incense to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings to her: ye will perform

44:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we ought to keep in memory God's plagues from the beginning, that considering them, we might live in his fear, and know if he have not spared our fathers, yea, kings, princes, and rulers, and also whole countries, and nations for their sins, that we vile worms, cannot look to escape punishment for ours.

44:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, beaten down.

44:12 <sup>1</sup> Which have fully set their minds, and are gone thither on purpose. Whereby he excepteth the innocents, as Jeremiah and Baruch that were forced: therefore the Lord showeth that he will set his face against them: that is, purposely destroy them.

44:16 <sup>1</sup> This declareth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, and to follow our own fantasies: for Satan ever soliciteth such, and doth not leave them till he have brought them to extreme impudency and madness, even to justify their wickedness against God and his Prophets.

44:17 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 7:18, it seemeth that the Papists gathered of this place Salve Regina, and Regina caeli latere, calling the virgin Mary Queen of heaven, and so of the blessed virgin and mother of our Savior Christ, made an idol: for here the Prophet condemneth their idolatry.

<sup>3</sup> This is still the argument of idolaters, which esteem religion by the belly, and instead of acknowledging God's works, who sendeth both plenty and dearth, health and sickness, they attribute it to their idols, and so dishonor God.

<sup>2</sup> This teacheth us how great danger it is for the husbands to permit their wives anything whereof they be not assured by God's word: for thereby they take an occasion to justify their doings, and their husbands shall give an account thereof before God, read Isa. 3:25.

44:21 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, is it not come up into his heart?

44:25 <sup>1</sup> You have committed double evil in making wicked vows, and in performing the same.

your vows, and do the things that ye have vowed.

26 Therefore hear the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I have sworn by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name <sup>1</sup>shall no more be called upon by the mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liveth.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good, and all men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, until they be utterly destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, <sup>1</sup>shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah: and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a sign unto you, saith the Lord, when I visit you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will <sup>1</sup>give Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life: as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

45 2 Jeremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring him that he should not perish in the destruction of Jerusalem.

1 The word that Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto <sup>1</sup>Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these <sup>2</sup>words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou didst say, Woe is me now: for the Lord hath laid sorrow unto my sorrow: I <sup>1</sup>fainted in my mourning, and I can find no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say unto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I have built, will I <sup>1</sup>destroy, and that which I have planted, will I pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And seekest <sup>1</sup>thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for behold, I will bring a plague upon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I give thee for <sup>2</sup>a prey in all places, whither thou goest.

46 He prophesieth the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliverance is promised to Israel.

1 The words of the Lord, which came to Jeremiah the Prophet against the <sup>1</sup>Gentiles,

2 As against Egypt, against the army of <sup>1</sup>Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah.

3 <sup>1</sup>Make ready buckler and shield, and go forth to battle.

4 Make ready the horses, and let the horsemen get up, and stand up with your sallets, furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

5 <sup>1</sup>Wherefore have I seen them afraid, and driven back? for their mighty men are smitten, and are fled away, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the Lord.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and <sup>1</sup>fall toward the North by the river Perath.

7 Who is this that cometh up as <sup>1</sup>a flood, whose waters are moved like the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like the flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers, and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth: I will destroy the city with them that dwell therein.

9 Come up ye horses, and rage ye chariots, and let the valiant men come forth, <sup>1</sup>the black Moors, and the Libyans that bear the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

44:26 <sup>1</sup> This declareth an horrible plague toward idolaters, seeing that God will not vouchsafe to have his Name mentioned by such as have polluted it.

44:28 <sup>1</sup> We see therefore that God hath a perpetual care over his, wheresoever they are scattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliver them when he destroyeth his enemies.

44:30 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the means whereby they should be destroyed to assure them of the certainty of the plague, and yet they remain still in their obstinacy till they perish: for Josephus, lib. 10, de Antiq., cap. 11, writeth that five years after the taking of Jerusalem, Nebuchadnezzar the younger having overcome the Moabites and the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the king, and so brought these Jews and others into Babylon.

45:1 <sup>1</sup> Which was Jeremiah's disciple, and wrote his prophecies under him.

imprisonment, but chiefly for the destruction of the people, and the Temple, maketh this lamentation, as Ps. 6:6.

45:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God might destroy this people, because he had planted them.

45:5 <sup>1</sup> Thinkest thou to have honor and credit? wherein he showeth his infirmity.

46:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, nine nations, which are round about the land of Egypt.

46:2 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 23:29 and 24:7; 2 Chron. 35:20.

46:3 <sup>1</sup> He warneth the Egyptians to prepare themselves to war.

46:5 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet had this vision of the Egyptians, which should be put to flight by the Babylonians at Carchemish.

46:7 <sup>1</sup> He derideth the boastings of the Egyptians, who thought by their riches and power to have overcome all the world, alluding to the river Nilus, which at certain times overfloweth the country of Egypt.

10 ¶ For this is the day of the Lord God of hosts, and a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his enemies: for the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate, and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord God of hosts hath <sup>1</sup>a sacrifice in the North country <sup>2</sup>by the river Perath.

11 Go up unto Gilead, <sup>1</sup>and take balm, <sup>2</sup>O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many <sup>3</sup>medicines: for thou shalt have no health.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the strong hath stumbled against the strong, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the Lord spake to Jeremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Publish in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and proclaim in Noph, and in Tahpanhes, and say, Stand still and prepare thee, for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men put back? they could not stand, because the Lord did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, and one fell upon another: and they said, Arise, let us go again to our <sup>1</sup>own people, and to the land of our nativity from the sword of the violent.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of a great multitude, <sup>1</sup>hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hosts, surely as Tabor is in the mountains, and as Carmel is in the sea: so shall <sup>1</sup>it come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee gear to go into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a <sup>1</sup>fair calf, but destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.

21 Also her hired men <sup>1</sup>are in the midst of her like fat calves: they are also turned back and fled away together: they could not stand, because the day of their destruction was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go forth like a <sup>1</sup>serpent: for they shall march with an army, and come against <sup>2</sup>her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down <sup>1</sup>her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot be counted, because they are more than the <sup>2</sup>grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be delivered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit thy <sup>1</sup>common people of No and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their kings, even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him,

26 And I will deliver them into the hands of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and into the hands of his servants, and afterward she shall dwell as <sup>1</sup>in the old time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliver thee from a far country, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall return and be in rest, and prosperity, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the Lord, for I am with thee, and I will utterly destroy all the nations, whither I have driven thee: but I will not utterly destroy thee, but correct <sup>1</sup>thee by judgment, and not utterly cut thee off.

47 The word of the Lord against the Philistines.

1 The words of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the Prophet, against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote <sup>1</sup>Gaza.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise up out of the <sup>1</sup>North, and shall be as a swelling flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl,

46:10 <sup>1</sup> He calleth the slaughter of God's enemies a sacrifice, because it is a thing that doth please him, Isa. 34:6.

46:11 <sup>1</sup> For at Gilead did grow most sovereign balm for wounds.

46:16 <sup>1</sup> As they that should repent that they helped the Egyptians.

46:17 <sup>1</sup> He derideth them which shall impute their overthrow to lack of counsel and policy, or to fortune, and not observing of time: not considering that it is God's just judgment.

46:18 <sup>1</sup> To wit, that the Egyptians shall be destroyed.

46:20 <sup>1</sup> They have abundance of all things, and therefore are disobedient and proud.

46:21 <sup>1</sup> As verse 9.

46:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, they shall slay the great and mighty men of power.

46:26 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that after the space of forty years Egypt should be restored, Isa. 19:23; Ezek. 29:13.

46:27 <sup>1</sup> God comforteth all his that were in captivity, but specially the small Church of the Jews, whereof were Jeremiah and Baruch, which remained among the Egyptians: for the Lord never forsaketh his, Isa. 44:2; Jer. 30:10.

46:28 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 10:14.

47:1 <sup>1</sup> Which was also called Gaza, a city of the Philistines.

4 Because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistines, and to destroy Tyre, and Sidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the isle of <sup>1</sup>Caphtor.

5 <sup>1</sup>Baldness is come upon Gaza: Ashkelon is cut up with the rest of their valleys. How long wilt <sup>2</sup>thou cut thyself?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be or thou cease! turn again into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it <sup>1</sup>cease, seeing the Lord hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea bank? even there hath he appointed it.

48 The word of the Lord against the Moabites. 26 Because of their pride and cruelty.

1 Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Woe unto <sup>1</sup>Nebo: for it is wasted: Kirjathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they have devised evil against it. <sup>1</sup>Come, and let us destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt be destroyed, <sup>2</sup>O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones have caused their cry to be heard.

6 Flee and save your lives, and be like unto the <sup>1</sup>heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy <sup>1</sup>works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and <sup>2</sup>Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his Priests and his Princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come upon all cities, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish and the plain shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 <sup>1</sup>Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord <sup>2</sup>negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath been at rest from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been <sup>1</sup>poured from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.

12 ¶ Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will send unto him such as shall carry him away, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of <sup>1</sup>Bethel their confidence.

14 How think you thus, We are mighty and strong men of war?

15 Moab is destroyed, and his cities <sup>1</sup>burnt up, and his chosen young men are gone down to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hosts.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourn for him, and all ye that know his name, say, <sup>1</sup>How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come

47:4 <sup>1</sup> For the Capthorims, which are also called Cappadocians, had destroyed in old time the Philistines, and dwelt in their land even to Gaza, Deut. 2:23.

47:5 <sup>1</sup> They that pilled off their hair for sorrow and heaviness.

47:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that it is not possible that the wicked should by any means escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

48:1 <sup>1</sup> These were cities of the Moabites, which Nebuchadnezzar took before he went to fight against Necho king of Egypt.

48:5 <sup>1</sup> Horonaim and Luhith were two places whereby the Moabites should flee, Isa. 15:5.

48:6 <sup>1</sup> Hide yourselves in barren places, where the enemy will not pursue after you, Jer. 17:6.

48:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the idols which are the works of thine hands. Some read, in thy possessions, for so the word may signify, as 1 Sam. 25:2.

<sup>2</sup> Both thy great idol and his maintainers shall be led away captives, so that they shall then know that it is in vain to look for help at idols, Isa. 15:2.

48:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God would punish the Chaldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a courage, and call this executing of his vengeance against his enemies, his work: though the Chaldeans sought another end, Isa. 10:11.

48:11 <sup>1</sup> Hath not been removed as the Jews have, but have lived at ease, and as a wine that feedeth itself on his lees.

48:13 <sup>1</sup> As the calf of Bethel was not able to deliver the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliver the Moabites.

48:15 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, gone up, or destroyed.

48:17 <sup>1</sup> How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches?

down from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strongholds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold ask him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 <sup>1</sup>Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed, howl and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste,

21 And judgment is come upon the plain country, upon Holon and upon Jahzah, and upon Me-phaaath,

22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon the house of Diblathaim,

23 And upon Kirjathaim, and upon Beth Gamul, and upon Beth Meon,

24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab far or near.

25 The <sup>1</sup>horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him <sup>1</sup>drunken: for he magnified himself against the Lord: Moab shall <sup>2</sup>wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though he had been found among thieves? for when thou speakest of him, thou art <sup>1</sup>moved.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rocks, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth.

29 <sup>a</sup>We have heard the pride of Moab (he is exceeding proud) his stoutness, and his arrogance, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>but it shall not be so: and his dissimulations, for they do not right.

31 <sup>1</sup>Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir Heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, as I wept for Jazer: thy plants are gone over the sea, they are come to the sea <sup>1</sup>of Jazer: the destroyer is fallen upon thy summer fruits, and upon thy vintage,

33 And joy, and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab: and I have caused wine to fail from the winepress: none shall tread with shouting: their shouting shall be no shouting.

Ezek. 7:18

34 From the cry of Heshbon unto Elealeh and unto Jahaz have they made their noise: from Zoar unto Horonaim, the <sup>1</sup>heifer of three years old shall go lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a <sup>1</sup>shawm, and mine heart shall sound like a shawm for the men of Kir Heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 <sup>1</sup>For every head shall be <sup>1</sup>bald, and every beard plucked: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall be upon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is he destroyed? how hath Moab turned the back with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a fear to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, <sup>1</sup>he shall flee as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strongholds are won, and the mighty men's hearts in Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in travail.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath set up himself against the Lord:

43 <sup>1</sup>Fear, and pit, and snare shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the fear, shall fall in the pit, and he that getteth up out of the pit, shall be taken [in] the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood under the shadow <sup>1</sup>of Heshbon, because of the force: for <sup>2</sup>the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and devoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Woe be unto thee, O Moab: the people of 48:20 <sup>1</sup> Thus they that flee, shall answer.

48:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, his power and strength.

48:26 <sup>1</sup> He willed the Chaldeans to lay afflictions enough upon them, till they be like drunken men that fall down to their shame and are derided of all.

48:30 <sup>1</sup> He shall not execute his malice against his neighbors.

48:31 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 16:7.

48:32 <sup>1</sup> Which city was in the utmost border of Moab: and hereby he signifieth that the whole land should be destroyed, and the people carried away.

48:34 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 15:5.

48:36 <sup>1</sup> Their custom was to play on flutes or instruments, heavy and grave tunes at burials and in the time of mourning, as Matt. 9:23.

48:37 <sup>1</sup> Or, shaven.

48:43 <sup>1</sup> He that escapeth one danger shall be taken of another, Isa. 24:17.

48:45 <sup>1</sup> They fled thither, thinking to have succor of the Amorites.

1 Unto the children of <sup>1</sup>Ammon thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sons? or hath he none heir? Why then hath their king <sup>2</sup>possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in <sup>3</sup>his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noise of war to be heard in <sup>1</sup>Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possess those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: cry ye daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourn and run to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captivity; and his Priests, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the <sup>1</sup>valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: she trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring <sup>1</sup>a fear upon thee, saith the Lord God of hosts, of all those that be about thee, and ye shall be scattered every man <sup>2</sup>right forth, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And <sup>1</sup>afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hosts, Is wisdom no more in <sup>1</sup>Teman? is counsel perished from their children? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (<sup>1</sup>they are turned back, and have consulted to dwell) for I have brought the destruction of Esau upon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the <sup>1</sup>grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some grapes? if thieves come by night, they will destroy till they have enough.

10 For I have discovered Esau: I have uncovered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbors, and there shall be none to say,

11 Leave thy <sup>1</sup>fatherless children, and I will preserve them alive, and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup, have assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the Lord, that <sup>1</sup>Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproach, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual desolations.

14 I have heard a rumor from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against <sup>1</sup>her, and rise up to the battle.

15 For lo, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy <sup>1</sup>fear, and the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, and keepest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord.

17 Also Edom shall be desolate: everyone that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof,

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and of Gomorrah, and the places thereof near about, saith the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sons of men remain in it.

19 Behold, <sup>1</sup>he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, even I will make <sup>2</sup>him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man

48:46 <sup>1</sup> Which vaunted themselves of their idol, as though he could have defended them.

48:47 <sup>1</sup> That is, they shall be restored by the Messiah.

49:1 <sup>1</sup> They were separated from the Moabites by the river Arnon, and after that the ten tribes were carried away into captivity, they invaded the country of Gad.

49:2 <sup>1</sup> Which was one of the chief cities of the Ammonites, as were Heshbon and Ai: there was also a city called Heshbon among the Moabites.

49:4 <sup>1</sup> In thy plentiful country.

49:5 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that power and riches cannot prevail, when as God will execute his judgments.

49:6 <sup>1</sup> In the time of Christ, when the Gentiles shall be called.

49:7 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city of Edom, called by the name of Teman Eli-phaz'son, who came of Esau.

49:8 <sup>1</sup> The enemies that shall dissemble as though they fled away, shall turn back and invade your land, and possess it.

49:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God would utterly destroy them, and not spare one, though the grape gatherers leave some grapes, and thieves seek but till they have enough, Obad. 1:5.

49:11 <sup>1</sup> The destruction shall be so great, that there shall be none left to take care over the widows and the fatherless.

49:12 <sup>1</sup> I have not spared mine own people, and how should I pity thee?

49:13 <sup>1</sup> Which was a chief city of Edom.

49:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, Bozrah.

49:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, idol.

that I may appoint against her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is the <sup>3</sup>shepherd that will stand before me?

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall: the cry of their voice is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up, and fly as the eagle, <sup>1</sup>and spread his wings over Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in travail.

23 ¶ Unto <sup>1</sup>Damascus he saith, Hamath is confounded and Arpad, for they have heard evil tidings, and they are faint hearted as one on the fearful sea that can not rest:

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth herself to flight, <sup>1</sup>and fear hath seized her: anguish and sorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 How is the glorious <sup>1</sup>city not reserved, the city of my joy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of <sup>1</sup>Ben-Hadad.

28 Unto <sup>1</sup>Kedar, and to the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel shall smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, and go up unto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: yea, they shall take to themselves their <sup>1</sup>curtains and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 Flee, get you far off (<sup>1</sup>they have consulted to dwell) O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord: for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel hath taken counsel against you, and hath devised a purpose against you.

31 <sup>1</sup>Arise, and get you up unto the wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which have neither gates nor bars, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a bootie, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil, and I will scatter them into all winds, and to the utmost corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and desolation forever: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sons of men remain in it.

34 ¶ The words of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the Prophet, concerning <sup>1</sup>Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, 35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will break the <sup>1</sup>bow of Elam, even the chief of their strength.

36 And upon Elam I will bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them towards all these winds, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitives of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afraid before their enemies, and before them that seek their lives, and will bring upon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.

38 And I will set my <sup>1</sup>throne in Elam, and I will destroy both the king and the princes from thence, saith the Lord: but <sup>2</sup>in the latter days I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the Lord.

50 He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliverance of Israel which was in captivity.

1 The word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Chaldeans by the <sup>1</sup>ministry of Jeremiah the Prophet.

49:22 <sup>1</sup> As Jer. 48:40, was said of Moab.

49:23 <sup>1</sup> Which was the chief city of Syria, whereby he meaneth the whole country.

49:24 <sup>1</sup> When she heard the sudden coming of the enemy.

49:25 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in the person of the king and of them of the country, who shall wonder to see Damascus the chief city destroyed.

49:27 <sup>1</sup> Who was king of Syria, 1 Kings 20:26, and had built these palaces, which were still called the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

49:28 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Arabians, and their borderers.

49:29 <sup>1</sup> Because they used to dwell in tents, he nameth the things that pertain thereunto.

49:30 <sup>1</sup> The enemies will dwell in your places.

49:31 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that they of Hazor will flee to the Arabians for succor, but that shall not avail them.

49:34 <sup>1</sup> That is, Persia, so called of Elam the son of Shem.

49:35 <sup>1</sup> Because the Persians were good archers, he showeth that the thing wherein they put their trust, should not profit them.

49:38 <sup>1</sup> I will place Nebuchadnezzar there, and in these prophecies Jeremiah speaketh of those countries, which should be subdued under the first of those four monarchies whereof Daniel maketh mention.

50:1 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, hands.

50:2 <sup>1</sup> After that God had used the Babylonians' service to punish other nations, he showeth that their turn shall come to be punished.

3 For out of the North <sup>1</sup>there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

4 In those days, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall <sup>1</sup>come, they, and the children of Judah together, going, and <sup>2</sup>weeping shall they go, and seek the Lord their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us cleave to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 ¶ My people hath been as lost sheep: their <sup>1</sup>shepherds have caused them to go astray, and have turned them away to the mountains: they have gone from <sup>2</sup>mountain to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them have devoured them, and their enemies said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, <sup>1</sup>the habitation of justice, even the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 <sup>1</sup>Flee from the midst of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be ye as the he goats <sup>2</sup>before the flock.

9 For lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North country, and they shall set themselves in array against her, whereby she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her, <sup>1</sup>shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because you were glad and rejoiced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the grass, <sup>1</sup>and neighed like strong horses,

12 Therefore your mother shall be sore confounded, and she that bare you shall be ashamed, behold, the uttermost of the nations shall be a desert, a dry land, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: everyone that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, <sup>1</sup>and hiss at all her plagues.

CHAPTER 50

14 <sup>1</sup>Put yourselves in array against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath <sup>2</sup>sinned against the Lord.

15 Cry against her round about: she hath <sup>1</sup>given her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walls are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance upon her: as she hath done, do unto her.

16 Destroy the <sup>1</sup>sower from Babel, and him that handleth the scythe in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressor they shall turn everyone to his people, and they shall flee everyone to his own land.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the king of Babel, and his land, as I have visited the King of Assyria.

19 And I will bring Israel again to his habitation: he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those days, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none: and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will be merciful unto them whom I reserve.

21 Go up against the land of the <sup>1</sup>rebels, even against it and against the inhabitants <sup>2</sup>of <sup>2</sup>Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

22 A cry of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the <sup>1</sup>hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken! how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I have snared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the work of the Lord God of hosts in the land of the Chaldeans.

27 Destroy all her <sup>1</sup>bullocks: let them go down to the slaughter. Woe unto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that <sup>1</sup>flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion, the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call up the archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bow, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: <sup>1</sup>recompense her according to her work, and according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the Lord, even against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I come unto thee, O proud man, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, even the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel, and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives, held them, and would not let them go.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hosts, he shall maintain their cause, that he may give rest to the land, <sup>1</sup>and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babel, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36 A sword is upon the <sup>1</sup>soothsayers, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the multitude that are in the midst of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A <sup>1</sup>drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they dote upon their idols.

there, and <sup>2</sup>the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation unto generation.

40 As God destroyed <sup>1</sup>Sodom and Gomorrah with the places thereof near about, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the son of man remain therein.

41 ¶ Behold, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from <sup>1</sup>the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the buckler: they are cruel and unmerciful: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, and be put in array like men to the battle against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands <sup>1</sup>waxed feeble: sorrow came upon him, even sorrow as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he <sup>d</sup>shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is the <sup>1</sup>shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear the counsel of the Lord, that he hath devised against Babel, and his purpose that he hath conceived against the land of the Chaldeans: surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the winning of Babel the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

2 And will send unto Babel fanners that shall fan her, and shall empty her land, for in the day of trouble they shall be against her on every side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bow, and to him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her young men, but destroy all her host.

50:38 <sup>1</sup> For Cyrus did cut the river Euphrates, and divided the course thereof into many streams, so that it might be passed over as though there had been no water: which thing he did by the counsel of two of Belshazzar's captains, who conspired against their king, because he

6 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Flee out of the midst of Babel, and deliver every man his soul: be not destroyed in her iniquity: for this is the time of the Lord's vengeance: he will render unto her a recompense.

7 Babel hath been as a golden cup in the <sup>1</sup>Lord's hand, that made all the earth drunken, the nations have drunken of her wine, therefore do the nations <sup>2</sup>rage.

8 <sup>a</sup>Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howl for her, bring balm for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We would have cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, and let <sup>1</sup>us go everyone into his own country: for her judgment is come up into heaven, and is lifted up to the clouds.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our <sup>1</sup>righteousness: come and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrows: <sup>1</sup>gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the <sup>2</sup>vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set up the standard upon the walls of Babel, make the watch strong: set up the watchmen: prepare the scouts: for the Lord hath both devised, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest upon many <sup>1</sup>waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, even the <sup>2</sup>end of thy covetousness.

CHAPTER 51

16 He giveth by his voice the multitude of waters in the heaven, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth, he turneth lightnings to rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

17 Every man is a beast by his own <sup>1</sup>knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their <sup>1</sup>visitation they shall perish.

20 Thou art mine <sup>1</sup>hammer, and weapons of war: for with thee will I break the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms, 21 And by thee will I break horse and horseman, and by thee will I break the chariot and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I break man and woman, and by thee will I break old and young, and by thee will I break the young man and the maid.

23 I will also break by thee the shepherd and his flock, and by thee will I break the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I break the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render unto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Chaldeans all their evil, that they have done in Zion, even in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, I come unto thee, O destroying <sup>1</sup>mountain, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the <sup>2</sup>rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations: but thou shalt be destroyed forever, saith the Lord.

27 Set up a standard in the land: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call up the kingdoms of <sup>1</sup>Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz against her, appoint the prince against her, cause

51:5 <sup>1</sup> Though they were forsaken for a time, yet they were not utterly cast off as though their husbands were dead.

51:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there remaineth nothing for them that abide in Babylon, but destruction, Jer. 17:6 and 48:6.

51:7 <sup>1</sup> By whom the Lord poured out the drink of his vengeance, to whom it pleased him.

51:9 <sup>1</sup> Thus the people of God exhort one another to go to Zion and praise God.

51:17 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 10:14.

51:18 <sup>1</sup> When God shall execute his vengeance.

51:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, the true God of Israel is not like to these idols: for he can help when all things are desperate.

51:20 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth the Medes and Persians, as he did before call the Babylonians his hammer, Jer. 50:23.

51:25 <sup>1</sup> Not that Babylon stood on a mountain, but because it was strong and seemed invincible.

horses to come up as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for the device of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel have ceased to fight: they have remained in their holds: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they have burnt her dwelling places, and her bars are broken.

31 A post shall run to meet the post, and a messenger to meet the messenger, to show the King of Babel, that his city is taken on a <sup>1</sup>side thereof, 32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reeds burnt with fire, and the men of war troubled.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshingfloor: the time of her threshing is come: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest <sup>1</sup>shall come.

34 Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babel hath <sup>1</sup>devoured me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an empty vessel: he swallowed me up like a dragon: and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The spoil of me, and that which was left of me, is brought unto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood unto the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will maintain thy <sup>1</sup>cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry up the sea, and dry up her springs.

37 And Babel shall be as heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roar together like lions, and yell as the lion's whelps.

39 In their <sup>1</sup>heat I will make them feasts, and I will make them drunken that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, and like rams and goats.

41 How is <sup>1</sup>Sheshach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The <sup>1</sup>sea is come up upon Babel: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth the son of man pass thereby.

44 I will also visit Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth, that which <sup>1</sup>he hath swallowed up, and the nations shall run no more unto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people, go out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce wrath of the Lord,

46 Lest your heart even faint, and ye fear the rumor that shall be heard in the land: the rumor shall come this year, and after that in the other <sup>1</sup>year shall come a rumor, and cruelty in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will visit the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then the heaven and <sup>1</sup>the earth, and all that is therein, shall rejoice for Babel: for the destroyers shall come unto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the <sup>1</sup>slain of Israel to fall, so by Babel the slain of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that <sup>1</sup>have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the Lord afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are <sup>1</sup>confounded because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lord's house.

52 Wherefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will visit her graven images, and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Babel should mount up to <sup>1</sup>heaven, and 51:31 <sup>1</sup> By turning the course of the river one side was made open and the reeds that did grow in the water were destroyed, which Cyrus did by the counsel of Gobia and Gabatha Belshazzar's captains.

51:33 <sup>1</sup> When she shall be cut up and threshed.

51:34 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken in the person of the Jews bewailing their state and the cruelty of the Babylonians.

51:36 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Lord esteemed the injury done to his Church, as done to himself, because their cause is his.

51:39 <sup>1</sup> When they are inflamed with surfeiting and drinking, I will feast with them, alluding to Belshazzar's banquet, Dan. 5:2.

51:41 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Babel, as Jer. 25:26.

51:44 <sup>1</sup> That is, his gifts and presents which he had received as part of the spoil of other nations, and which the idolaters brought unto him from all countries.

51:46 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Babylon should not be destroyed all at once, but little by little should be brought to nothing: for the first year came the tidings, the next year the siege, and in the third year it was taken: yet this is not that horrible destruction which the prophets threatened in many places: for that was after this when they rebelled and Darius overcame them by the policy of Zopyrus, and hanged three thousand gentlemen besides the common people.

51:49 <sup>1</sup> Babylon did not only destroy Israel, but many other nations.

51:50 <sup>1</sup> Ye that are now captives in Babylon.

51:51 <sup>1</sup> He showeth how they should remember Jerusalem by lamenting the miserable affliction thereof.

51:53 <sup>1</sup> For the walls were two hundred foot high.

though she should defend her strength on high, yet from me shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans,

55 Because the Lord hath laid Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voice, and her waves shall roar like great waters, and a sound was made by their noise:

56 Because the destroyer is come upon her, even upon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bows are broken: for the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompense.

57 And I will <sup>1</sup>make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The <sup>1</sup>thick wall of Babel shall be broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labor in vain, and the folk in the fire, for they shall be weary.

59 The word which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babel, in the <sup>1</sup>fourth year of his reign, and this Seraiah was a peaceable Prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babel, even all these things that are written against Babel.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest unto Babel, and shalt see and shalt read all these words, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate forever.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this book, thou shalt bind a <sup>1</sup>stone to it, and cast it in the midst of Euphrates, 64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned and shall not rise from the evil, that I will bring upon her: and they shall <sup>1</sup>be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

1 Zedekiah <sup>4</sup>was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3 <sup>1</sup>Doubtless because the wrath of the Lord was against Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 <sup>b</sup>But in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month the tenth day of the month came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, he and all his host against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of the king Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went out of the city by night, by the <sup>1</sup>way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the King's garden: (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and took Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho, and all the host was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the King and carried him up unto the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, <sup>1</sup>where he gave judgment upon him.

10 And the king of Babel slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chains, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month in the <sup>1</sup>tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of the king Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel) came Nebuzaradan chief steward which <sup>2</sup>stood before the king of Babel in Jerusalem,

13 And burnt the House of the Lord, and the 51:57 <sup>1</sup> I will so astonish them by afflictions that they shall not know which way to turn them.

51:59 <sup>1</sup> This was not in the time of his captivity, but seven years before, when he went either to gratulate Nebuchadnezzar, or to entreat of some matters.

51:63 <sup>1</sup> St. John in his Revelation alludeth to this place, when he saith that the Angel took a millstone and cast it into the sea: signifying thereby the destruction of Babylon, Rev. 18:21.

51:64 <sup>1</sup> They shall not be able to resist, but shall labor in vain.

52:3 <sup>1</sup> So the Lord punished sin by sin, and gave him up to his rebellious heart, till he had brought the enemy upon him to lead him away and his people.

52:7 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 39:4.

52:9 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 25:6; Jer. 39:5.

52:12 <sup>1</sup> In 2 Kings 25:8, it is called the seventh day, because the fire began then, and so continued to the tenth.

King's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the army of the Chaldeans that were with the chief steward, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzaradan the chief steward carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzaradan the chief steward left certain of the poor of the land, to dress the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the <sup>1</sup>pillars of brass that were in the House of the Lord, and the bases, and the brazen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the <sup>1</sup>besoms, and the instruments of music, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

19 And the bowls, and the ashpens, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of gold, and that was of silver, took the chief steward away,

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelve brazen bulls, that were under the bases, which King Solomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brass of all these vessels was without <sup>1</sup>weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a thread of twelve cubits did compass it, and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brass was upon it, and the height of one chapter was five cubits with network, and pomegranates upon the chapters round about, all of brass: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like unto these.

23 And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates upon the network were an <sup>1</sup>hundred round about.

24 And the chief steward took Seraiah the chief Priest, and Zephaniah <sup>1</sup>the second Priest, and the three keepers of the door.

25 He took also out of the city an Eunuch, which had the oversight of the men of war, and <sup>1</sup>seven men that were in the King's presence, which were found in the city, and Sopher captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.

26 Nebuzaradan the chief steward took them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive, in the <sup>1</sup>seventh year, even three thousand Jews, and three and twenty.

29 In the <sup>1</sup>eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two <sup>2</sup>persons.

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the chief steward carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 And in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin King of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, Evil-Merodach king of Babel, in the first year of his reign, <sup>1</sup>lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him out of prison,

32 And spake kindly unto him, and set his throne above the throne of the Kings, that were with him in Babel, 33 And changed his prison <sup>1</sup>garments, and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 His portion was a <sup>1</sup>continual portion given him of the king of Babel, every day a certain, all the days of his life until he died.

52:17 <sup>1</sup> Of these pillars, read 1 Kings 7:15.

52:18 <sup>1</sup> Which were also made of brass, as 1 Kings 7:45.

52:20 <sup>1</sup> It was so much in quantity.

52:23 <sup>1</sup> But because of the roundness, no more could be seen but ninety and six.

52:24 <sup>1</sup> Which served in the high Priest's stead, if he had any necessary impediment.

52:25 <sup>1</sup> In 2 Kings 25:19, is read but of five: those were the most excellent, and the other two, which were not so noble, are not there mentioned with them.

52:28 <sup>1</sup> Which was the latter end of the seventh year of his reign, and the beginning of the eighth.

52:29 <sup>1</sup> In the latter end also of that year, and the beginning of the nineteenth.

52:31 <sup>1</sup> That is, restored him to liberty and honor.

52:33 <sup>1</sup> And gave him princely apparel.

52:34 <sup>1</sup> That is he had allowance in the court, and thus at length he had rest and quietness because he obeyed Jeremiah the Prophet, whereas the others were cruelly ordered, that would not obey him.

LAMENTATIONS

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Jerusalem. 5 And showeth that they are plagued because of their sins. The first and second Chapter begin every verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for every letter, and the fourth is as the first.

1 How doth <sup>1</sup>the city remain solitary that was full of people? she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, <sup>2</sup>and princess among the provinces, is made tributary.

2 She weepeth continually in the <sup>1</sup>night, and her tears run down by her cheeks: among all her <sup>2</sup>lovers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt unfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Judah is carried away captive, because <sup>1</sup>of affliction, and because of great servitude, she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecutors took her in the straits.

4 The ways of Zion lament, because no man cometh <sup>1</sup>to the solemn feasts, all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in <sup>2</sup>heaviness.

5 Her adversaries <sup>1</sup>are the chief, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become <sup>1</sup>like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jerusalem remembered the days of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that she had in times past, when her people <sup>1</sup>fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the adversary saw her, and did mock at her <sup>2</sup>Sabbaths.

8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is <sup>1</sup>in derision: all that honored her, despise her, because they have seen her filthiness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 <sup>1</sup>Her filthiness is in her skirts: she remembered not her last end, therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemy <sup>2</sup>is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seen the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whom <sup>1</sup>thou didst command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seek their bread: they have given their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soul: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Have ye no regard, all ye that pass by this way? behold and see, if there be any <sup>1</sup>sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From above hath <sup>1</sup>he sent fire into my bones, which prevail against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me back: he hath made me desolate, and daily in heaviness.

14 The <sup>1</sup>yoke of my transgressions is bound upon his hand: they are wrapped, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall: the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my valiant men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to destroy my young men: the Lord hath trodden <sup>1</sup>the winepress upon the virgin the daughter of Judah.

16 <sup>a</sup>For these things I weep: mine eye, even mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that

1:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet wondereth at the great judgment of God, seeing Jerusalem, which was so strong and so full of people, to be now destroyed and desolate.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> So that she taketh no rest.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> For her cruelty toward the poor and oppression of servants, Jer. 34:11.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> As they used to come up with mirth and joy, Ps. 42:4.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, have rule over her, Deut. 28:41.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> As men pined away with sorrow and that have no courage.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> In her misery she considered the great benefits and commodities that she had lost.

<sup>2</sup> At her religion and serving of God, which was the greatest grief to the godly.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> Or, driven away.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> She is not ashamed of her sin, although it be manifest.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> God forbiddeth that the Ammonites and Moabites should enter into the Congregation of the Lord, and under them he comprehendeth all enemies, Deut. 23:3.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> Thus Jerusalem lamenteth moving others to pity her and to learn by her example.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that we should acknowledge God to be the author of all our afflictions to the intent that we might seek unto him for remedy.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Mine heavy sins are continually before his eyes, as he that tieth a thing to his hand for a remembrance.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> He hath trodden them underfoot as they tread grapes in the winepress.

should refresh my soul, is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion stretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Jacob round about him: Jerusalem is <sup>1</sup>as a menstruous woman in the midst of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I have rebelled against his <sup>1</sup>commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the city, while they <sup>1</sup>sought their meat to refresh their souls.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heaviness: the sword spoileth abroad, as death doeth at home.

21 They have heard that I mourn, but there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like unto me.

22 <sup>1</sup>Let all their wickedness come before thee: <sup>2</sup>do unto them, as thou hast done unto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and mine heart is heavy.

2 1 How hath the Lord <sup>1</sup>darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath cast down from <sup>2</sup>heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his <sup>3</sup>footstool in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Jacob, and not spared: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strongholds of the daughter of Judah: he hath cast them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the <sup>1</sup>horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his <sup>2</sup>right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Jacob like a flame of fire, which devoured round about.

hand was stretched up as an adversary, and slew all that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath devoured Israel and consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strongholds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden he hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath caused the feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath, the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuary: he hath given into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made a <sup>1</sup>noise in the House of the Lord, as in the day of solemnity.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he stretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart, <sup>1</sup>and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunk to the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her bars: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets <sup>1</sup>receive any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads: they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears: my bowels swell: my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings <sup>1</sup>swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They have said to their mothers, Where is <sup>1</sup>bread and drink? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, and when they <sup>2</sup>gave up the ghost in their mother's bosom.

13 <sup>1</sup>What thing shall I take to witness for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Jerusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may

1:18 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, mouth.

1:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, they died for hunger.

1:22 <sup>1</sup> Of desiring vengeance against the enemy, read Jer. 11:20 and 18:21.

<sup>3</sup> Alluding to the Temple, or to the Ark of the covenant, which was called the footstool of the Lord, because they should not set their minds so low, but lift up their hearts toward the heavens.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the glory and strength, as 1 Sam. 2:1.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Showing that there is no remedy but destruction, where God is the enemy.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> As the people were accustomed to praise God to the solemn feasts with a loud voice, so now the enemies blaspheme him with shouting and cry.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> This is a figurative speech, as that was, when he said, the ways did lament, Lam. 1:4, meaning, that this sorrow was so great, that the insensible things had their part thereof.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, find.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> Or, faint.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, wheat and wine.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that her calamity was so evident, that it needed no witnesses.

comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy Prophets have<sup>1</sup>looked out vain and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity, but have looked out for thee false<sup>2</sup>prophecies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that pass by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hiss and wag their head upon the daughter Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, and the joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth, saying, Let us devour it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we have found and seen it.

17 <sup>a</sup>The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that he had determined of old time: he hath thrown down, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to rejoice over thee, and set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart<sup>b</sup>cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let tears run down like a river, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches, pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thine hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eat their fruit, and children of a <sup>1</sup>span long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slain in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed, and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my <sup>1</sup>terrors round about, so that in the day of the Lord's wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I have nourished and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

<sup>a</sup> Lev. 26:15,25
Deut. 28:15,25

Lam. 1:16

3 1 I am the man that hath seen <sup>1</sup>affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he caused to wax old, and he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath <sup>1</sup>built against me, and compassed me with gall and labor.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead forever.

7 He hath hedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chains heavy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my <sup>1</sup>prayer.

9 He hath <sup>1</sup>stopped up my ways with hewn stone, and turned away my paths.

10 <sup>1</sup>He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath stopped my ways, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and made me a mark for the arrow.

13 He caused <sup>1</sup>the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, and made me drunken with <sup>1</sup>wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath covered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soul was far off from peace: I forgot prosperity,

18 And I said, My strength and my <sup>1</sup>hope is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembering mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them in remembrance, and is humbled <sup>1</sup>in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore have I hope.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> Because the false prophets called themselves Seers, as the others were called, therefore he showeth that they saw amiss, because they did not reprove the people's faults, but flattered them in their sins, which was the cause of their destruction.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> Or, brought up in their own hands.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> Or, enemies, whom I feared.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet complaineth of the punishments and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets and hypocrites, when he declared the destruction of Jerusalem, as Jer. 20:1, 2.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this, as one that felt God's heavy judgment, which he greatly feared, and therefore setteth them out with this diversity of words.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> This is a great tentation to the godly when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and causeth them to think that they are not heard, which thing God useth to do, that they might pray more earnestly and the oftener.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> And keepeth me in hold as a prisoner.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> He hath no pity on me.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, sons.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> With great anguish and sorrow he hath made me to lose my sense.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> Thus with pain he was driven to and fro between hope and despair, as the godly oftentimes are, yet in the end the spirit getteth the victory.

3:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God thus useth to exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may know themselves, and feel his mercies.

22 It is the Lord's <sup>1</sup>mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are renewed <sup>1</sup>every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my <sup>1</sup>portion, saith my soul: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good unto them that trust in him, and to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to wait for the salvation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his <sup>1</sup>youth.

28 He sitteth alone, <sup>1</sup>and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 He putteth his <sup>1</sup>mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproaches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake forever.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not <sup>1</sup>punish <sup>2</sup>willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 In stamping under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

35 In overthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High,

36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord <sup>1</sup>seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that saith, and it cometh to pass, and the Lord <sup>1</sup>commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not <sup>1</sup>evil and good?

39 Wherefore then is the living <sup>1</sup>man sorrowful? man suffereth for his sin.

40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord.

41 Let us lift up <sup>1</sup>our hearts with our hands unto God in the heavens.

42 We have sinned, and have rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast covered us with wrath, and persecuted

us: thou hast slain, and not spared.

44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.

45 Thou hast made us as the <sup>a</sup>offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.

46 All our enemies have opened their mouth against us.

47 Fear, and a snare is come upon us with desolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye casteth out rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye droppeth without stay, and ceaseth not,

50 Till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.

51 Mine eye <sup>1</sup>breaketh mine heart because of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies chased me sore, like a bird, without cause.

53 They have shut up my life<sup>1</sup> in the dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.

54 Waters flowed over mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called upon thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voice: stop not thine ear from my sigh, and from my cry.

57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidest, Fear not.

58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my <sup>1</sup>soul, and hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong, judge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance, and all their devises against me:

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations against me.

62 The lips also of those that rose against me, and their whispering against me continually.

63 Behold, their sitting down, and their rising up, how I am their song.

64 <sup>b</sup>Give them a recompense, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> Considering the wickedness of man, it is [a] marvel that any remaineth alive: but only that God for his own mercy's sake and for his promise, will ever have his Church to remain, though they be never so few in number, Isa. 1:9.

3:23 <sup>1</sup> We feel thy benefits daily.

3:24 <sup>1</sup> The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore look for none other inheritance, as Ps. 16:5.

3:27 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we can never begin too timely to be exercised under the cross, that when the afflictions grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger.

3:28 <sup>1</sup> He murmureth not against God, but is patient.

3:29 <sup>1</sup> He humbleth himself as they that fall down with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succor.

3:33 <sup>1</sup> He taketh no pleasure in it, but doeth it of necessity for our amendment, when he suffereth the wicked to oppress the poor.

3:36 <sup>1</sup> He doth not delight therein.

3:37 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that nothing is done without God's providence.

3:38 <sup>1</sup> That is, adversity and prosperity, Amos 3:6.

3:39 <sup>1</sup> When God afflicteth him.

3:41 <sup>1</sup> That is, both hearts and hands: for else to lift up the hands, is but hypocrisy.

3:51 <sup>1</sup> I am overcome with sore weeping for all my people.

3:53 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 37:16, how he was in the miry dungeon.

3:58 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the cause wherefore his life was in danger.

65 Give them <sup>1</sup>sorrow of heart even thy curse to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from under the heaven, O Lord.

tion: he hath poured out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath devoured the foundations thereof.

<sup>12</sup> The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jerusalem:

<sup>15</sup> But they cried unto them, Depart ye polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they have said among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

<sup>17</sup> While we waited for our vain help, our eyes failed: for in our waiting we looked for <sup>1</sup>a nation that could not save us.

<sup>18</sup> They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled, for our end is come.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> By the gold, he meaneth the princes, as by the stones he understandeth the Priests.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, no strength was against her.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> They that were before most in God's favor, are now in greatest abomination unto him.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> For lack of food they pine away and consume.

4:13 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth that these things are come to pass therefore, contrary to all men's expectation.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> Some refer this to the blind men, which as they went, stumbled on the blood, whereof the city was full.

4:17 <sup>1</sup> He showeth two principal causes of their destruction: their cruelty and their vain confidence in man: for they trusted in the help of the Egyptians.

4:20 <sup>1</sup> Our king Josiah, in whom stood our hope of God's favor, and on whom depended our state and life, was slain, whom he calleth Anointed, because he was a figure of Christ.

4:22 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth the Church, by that after seventy years their sorrows shall have an end, whereas the wicked should be tormented forever.

5 The prayer of Jeremiah.

1 Remember, O Lord, what is come upon us: <sup>1</sup>consider, and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, our houses to the aliens.

3 We are fatherless, even without father, and our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunk our <sup>1</sup>water for money, and our wood is sold unto us.

5 Our necks are under persecution: we are weary, and have no rest.

6 We have given our <sup>1</sup>hands to the Egyptians, and to Assyria, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned, and are not, and we have borne <sup>1</sup>their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us, none would deliver us out of their hands.

9 We got our bread with the peril of our lives, because of the sword <sup>1</sup>of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was black like as an oven because of the terrible famine.

11 They defiled the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 The princes are hanged up by <sup>1</sup>their hand: the faces of the Elders were not had in honor.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under <sup>1</sup>the wood.

14 The Elders have ceased from the <sup>1</sup>gate and the young men from their songs.

15 The joy of our heart is gone, our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown of our head is fallen: woe now unto us, that we have sinned.

17 Therefore our heart is heavy for these things, our <sup>1</sup>eyes are dim, 18 Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate: the foxes run upon it.

19 But thou, O Lord, remainest <sup>1</sup>forever: thy throne is from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget us forever, and forsake us so long time?

21 <sup>1</sup>Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned: renew our days as of old.

22 But thou hast utterly rejected us: thou art exceedingly angry against us.

5:1 <sup>1</sup>This prayer as is thought, was made when some of the people were carried away captive, others, as the poorest remained, and some went into Egypt, and other places for succor: albeit it seemeth that the Prophet foreseeing their miseries to come, thus prayed.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, their extreme servitude and bondage.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> We are joined in league and amity with them, or have submitted ourselves unto them.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> As our fathers have been punished for their sins: so we that are culpable of the same sins, are punished.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> Because of the enemy that came from the wilderness, and would not suffer us to go and seek our necessary food.

5:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, by the enemy's hand.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> Their slavery was so great, that they were not able to abide it.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> There were no more laws nor form of commonwealth.

5:17 <sup>1</sup> With weeping.

5:19 <sup>1</sup> And therefore thy covenant and mercies can never fail.

5:21 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is declared that it is not in man's power to turn to God, but is only his work to convert us, and thus God worketh in us before we can turn to him, Jer. 31:18.

EZEKIEL

1 It came to pass in the <sup>1</sup>thirtieth year in the fourth month, and in the fifth day of the month (as I was among the captives by the river <sup>2</sup>Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of <sup>3</sup>GOD.

2 In the fifth day of the month (which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity)

3 The word of the Lord came unto Ezekiel the Priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, where the <sup>1</sup>hand of the Lord was upon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a <sup>1</sup>whirlwind came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightness was about it, and in the midst thereof, to wit, in the midst of the fire came out as the likeness of <sup>2</sup>amber.

5 Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of <sup>1</sup>four beasts, and this was their form: they had the appearance of a man,

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the soles of a calf's foot, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brass.

8 And the hands of a man came out from under their wings in the four parts of them, and they four had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were <sup>1</sup>joined by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but every one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as <sup>1</sup>the face of a man: and they four had the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of a bullock on the left side: they four also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out above: two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And every one went straight forward: they went whither their <sup>1</sup>spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gave a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ran, and <sup>1</sup>returned like unto lightning.

15 Now as I beheld the beasts, behold, a wheel appeared upon the earth by the beasts, having four faces.

16 The fashion of the wheels and their work was like unto a <sup>1</sup>Chrysolite: and they four had one form, and their fashion and their work was as one wheel in another wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also <sup>1</sup>rings, and height, and were fearful to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them four.

19 And when the beasts went, the wheels went with them: and when the beasts were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheels lead them, and the wheels were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheels.

21 When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheels.

22 And the similitude of the firmament upon the heads of the beasts was wonderful, like unto crystal spread over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings

1:1 <sup>1</sup> After that the book of the Law was found, which was the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah, so that five and twenty years after this book was found, Jeconiah was led away captive with Ezekiel and many of the people, who the first year after saw these visions.

<sup>3</sup> That is notable and excellent visions, so that it might be known, it was no natural dream, but came of God.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, the spirit of prophecy, as Ezek. 3:22 and 37:1.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> By this diversity of words he signifieth the fearful judgment of God and the great afflictions that should come upon Jerusalem.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> Which were the four Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Ezek. 3:23.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> The wing of the one touched the wing of the other.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Every Cherubim had four faces, the face of a man, and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullock and of an Eagle on the left side.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, whither their spirit or w[ings] was to go.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, when they had executed God's will: for afore they returned not till God had changed the state of things.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word is tarshish meaning that the color was like the Cilician Sea, or a precious stone so called.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> Or, the trent.

straight, the one toward the other: every one had two which covered them, and every one had two which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their <sup>1</sup>wings, like the noise of great waters, and as the voice of the Almighty, even the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: even when they stood, they <sup>2</sup>let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the fashion of a throne like unto a Sapphire stone, and upon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire <sup>1</sup>round about within it to look too, even from his loins upward: and to look too, even from his loins downward, I saw as a likeness of fire, and brightness round about it.

28 As the likeness of the bow, that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the light round about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord: and when I saw it, I fell <sup>1</sup>upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

2 The Prophet is sent to call the people from their error.

1 And <sup>1</sup>he said unto me, <sup>2</sup>Son of man, stand up upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 <sup>1</sup>And the Spirit entered into me, when he had spoken unto me, and set me upon my feet, so that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of Man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: for they and their fathers have rebelled against me, even unto this very day.

4 For they are <sup>1</sup>impudent children, and stiff-hearted: I do send thee unto them, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not hear, neither indeed will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that <sup>1</sup>there hath been a Prophet among them.

6 And thou son of man, <sup>1</sup>fear them not, neither be afraid of their words, although rebels and thorns be with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: fear not their words, nor be afraid at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speak my words unto them: but surely they will not hear, neither will they indeed cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou son of man, hear what I say unto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and <sup>1</sup>eat that I give thee.

9 And when I looked up, behold, an hand was sent unto me, and lo, a roll of a book was therein.

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, <sup>1</sup>Lamentations and mourning, and woe.

3 1 The Prophet being fed with the word of God and with the constant boldness of the spirit, is sent unto the people that were in captivity. 17 The office of true ministers.

1 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest: <sup>1</sup>eat this roll, and go, and speak unto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gave me this roll to eat.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey.

4 And he said unto me, Son of man, go and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my words.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an <sup>1</sup>unknown tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel,

6 Not to many people of an unknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand: yet if I should send thee to them, they would obey thee.

1:24 <sup>1</sup> Which declared the swiftness and the fearfulness of God's judgments.

1:27 <sup>1</sup> Whereby was signified a terrible judgment toward the earth.

1:29 <sup>1</sup> Considering the majesty of God, and the weakness of flesh.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Lord.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, man which is but earth and ashes, which was to humble him, and cause him to consider his own state, and God's grace.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> So that he could not abide God's presence, till God's Spirit did enter into him.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, hard of face.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> This declareth on the one part God's great affection toward his people, that notwithstanding their rebellion, yet he will send his Prophets among them, and admonisheth his ministers on the other part that they cease not to do their duty, though the people be never so obstinate: for the word of God shall be either to their salvation or greater condemnation.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 1:17, he showeth that for none afflictions they should cease to do their duties.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> He doth not only exhort him to his duty, but also giveth him the means wherewith he may be able to execute it.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what were the contents of this book: to wit, God's judgments against the wicked.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is meant that none is meet to be God's messenger before he have received the word of God in his heart, as verse 10, and have a zeal thereunto, and delight therein, as Jer. 15:16; Rev. 10:10.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, deep lips.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiff-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy <sup>1</sup>face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I have made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder than the flint: fear them not therefore, neither be afraid at their looks: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreover unto me, Son of man, <sup>1</sup>receive in thine heart all my words that I speak unto thee, and hear them with thine ears,

11 And go and enter to them that are led away captives unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not hear, neither will they indeed cease.

12 Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a noise of a great rushing, saying, <sup>1</sup>Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the beasts, that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheels that were by them, even a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I <sup>1</sup>went in bitterness and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong upon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captives to <sup>1</sup>Tel Abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them <sup>2</sup>seven days.

16 And at the end of seven days, the word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, I have made thee a <sup>1</sup>watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me

18 When I shall say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou givest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may live, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

CHAPTER 3

* Rev. 22:11

19 Yet, if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Likewise if a <sup>1</sup>righteous man turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, I will lay a <sup>2</sup>stumbling block before him and he shall die, because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his <sup>3</sup>righteous deeds, which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and that he doth not sin, he shall live because he is admonished: also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 And the <sup>1</sup>hand of the Lord was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, and go into the <sup>2</sup>field, and I will there talk with thee.

23 So when I had risen up, and gone forth into the field, behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the <sup>1</sup>glory which I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell down upon my face.

24 Then the Spirit entered into me, which <sup>1</sup>set me up upon my feet, and spake unto me, and said to me, Come, and <sup>2</sup>shut thyself within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue <sup>1</sup>cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I shall have spoken unto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, He that heareth, let him hear, and he that leaveth off, <sup>1</sup>let him leave: for they are a rebellious house.

4 <sup>1</sup>The besieging of the city of Jerusalem is signified. <sup>9</sup>The long continuance of the captivity of Israel. <sup>16</sup>An hunger is prophesied to come.

1 Thou also son of man, take thee a brick, and

3:8 <sup>1</sup> God promiseth his assistance to his ministers, and that he will give them boldness and constancy in their vocation, Isa. 50:7; Jer. 1:18; Mic. 3:8.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is meant by the eating of the book, which is that the ministers of God may speak nothing as of themselves, but that only, which they have received of the Lord.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he signifieth, that God's glory should not be diminished, although he departed out of his Temple, for this declared that the city and Temple should be destroyed.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> This showeth that there is ever an infirmity of the flesh which can never be ready to render full obedience to God, and also God's grace who ever assisteth his, and overcometh their rebellious affections.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> Which was a place by Euphrates, where the Jews were prisoners.

<sup>2</sup> Declaring hereby that God's ministers must with advisement and deliberation utter his judgments.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> Of this read Ezek. 33:2.

3:20 <sup>1</sup> If he that hath been instructed in the right way turn back.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Spirit of prophecy.

3:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the vision of the Cherubims, and the wheels.

3:26 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth the terrible plague of the Lord, when God stoppeth the mouths of his ministers, and that all such are the rods of his vengeance that do it.

lay it before thee, and portray upon it the city, even Jerusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it, set the camp also against it, and lay engines of war against it round about.

3 Moreover, take an <sup>1</sup>iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a sign unto the house of Israel.

4 Sleep thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the <sup>1</sup>house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days, that thou shalt sleep upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity according to the number of the days, even three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleep again upon thy <sup>1</sup>right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee a day for a year, even a day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine <sup>1</sup>arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

8 And behold, I will lay <sup>1</sup>bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, <sup>1</sup>and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the days, that thou shalt sleep upon thy side: even <sup>2</sup>three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, even the sixth part of <sup>1</sup>an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it <sup>1</sup>in the dung that cometh out of man in their sight.

13 And the Lord said, So shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up, even unto this hour, I have not eaten of a thing dead or torn in pieces, neither came there any <sup>1</sup>unclean flesh in my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee bullocks <sup>1</sup>dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break <sup>1</sup>the staff of bread in Jerusalem, and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shall fail, they shall be astonished one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquity.

5 The sign of the hairs, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

1 And thou son of man, take thee a sharp knife, or take thee a barber's razor, and cause it <sup>1</sup>to pass upon thine head, and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 Thou shalt burn with fire the third part in the midst of the <sup>1</sup>city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy <sup>1</sup>lap.

4 Then take of them again and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire: <sup>1</sup>for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Jerusalem, I

4:3 <sup>1</sup> Which signified the stubbornness and hardness of their heart.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Which declared Judah, who had now from the time of Josiah slept in their sins forty years.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> In token of a speedy vengeance.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> The people should so straightly be besieged, that they should not be able, to turn them.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the famine should be so great, that they should be glad to eat whatsoever they could get.

<sup>2</sup> Which were fourteen months that the city was besieged, and this was as many days as Israel sinned years.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> Which make a pound.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> Read Exod. 29:40.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> Signifying hereby the great scarcity of fuel and matter to burn.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> Much less such vile corruption.

4:15 <sup>1</sup> To be as fire to bake thy bread with.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, the force and strength wherewith it should nourish, Isa. 3:1; Ezek. 5:17 and 14:13.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> To shave thine head and thy beard.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of that city which he had portrayed upon the brick, Ezek. 4:1. By the fire and pestilence he meaneth the famine, wherewith one part perished during the siege of Nebuchadnezzar. By the sword, those that were slain whom Zedekiah fled, and those that were carried away captive. And by the scattering into the wind, those that fled into Egypt, and into other parts after the city was taken.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that a very few should be left, which the Lord should preserve among all these storms, but not without troubles and trial.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> Out of that fire which thou kindlest shall a fire come, which shall signify the destruction of Israel.

have set it in the midst of the nations and countries, that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my <sup>1</sup>judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries, that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments, and my statutes, and they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because your <sup>1</sup>multitude is greater than the nations that are round about you, and ye have not walked in my statutes, neither have ye kept my judgments: no, ye have not done according to the judgments of the nations, that are round about you.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I, even I come against thee, and will execute judgment in the midst of thee, even in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that I never did before, neither will do anymore the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the midst of thee, the fathers <sup>a</sup>shall eat their sons, and the sons shall eat their fathers, and I will execute judgment in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore as I live, saith the Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthiness, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have any pity.

12 The third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be <sup>1</sup>comforted: and they shall know, that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that pass by.

15 So thou shalt be a reproach and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment unto the nations, that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in wrath, and in sharp rebukes:

I the Lord have spoken it.

16 When I shall send upon them the <sup>1</sup>evil <sup>2</sup>arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread.

17 <sup>b</sup>So I will send upon you famine, and evil beasts, and they shall spoil thee: and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee: and I will bring the sword upon thee: I the Lord have spoken it.

6 He showeth that Jerusalem shall be destroyed for their idolatry. 8 He prophesieth the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their deliverance.

1 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, Set thy face towards the <sup>a</sup>mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

3 And say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the <sup>1</sup>mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Behold, I, even I will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places:

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the <sup>1</sup>Sun shall be broken: and I will cast down your slain men before your idols.

5 And I will lay the dead carcasses of the children of Israel before their <sup>1</sup>idols, and I will <sup>b</sup>scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the high places shall be laid waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, and your idols shall be broken and cease, and your images of the Sun shall be cut in pieces, and your works shall be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leave a remnant, <sup>a</sup>that you may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captivity, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which have departed from me, and for their eyes, which have gone a whoring after their idols, and they <sup>1</sup>shall be displeased in themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> My word and law into idolatry and superstitions.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> Because your idols are in greater number, and your superstitions more than among the professed idolaters, read Isa. 65:11, or he condemneth their ingratitude in respect of his benefits.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, I will not be pacified, till I be revenged, Isa. 1:24.

5:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, dangerous.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh to all the places where the Israelites accustomed to commit their idolatries, threatening them destruction.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 23:11.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> In contempt of their power and force, which shall neither be able to deliver you nor themselves.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that in all dangers God will preserve a few, which shall be as the seed of his Church and call upon his Name.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> They shall be ashamed to see that their hope in idols was but vain, and so shall repent.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I have not said in vain, that I would do this evil unto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, <sup>1</sup>Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is near, shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath upon them.

13 Then <sup>1</sup>ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, which is the place where they did offer sweet savor to all their idols.

14 So will I <sup>6</sup>stretch mine hand upon them, and make the land waste and desolate <sup>1</sup>from the wilderness unto Diblath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 The end of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come.

1 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Also thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come unto the land of Israel: the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send my wrath upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will lay upon thee all <sup>1</sup>thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will lay thy ways upon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The <sup>1</sup>morning is come unto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the <sup>2</sup>sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now I will shortly pour out my wrath upon thee, and fulfill mine anger upon thee: I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will lay upon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity, but I will lay upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the <sup>1</sup>rod flourisheth: <sup>2</sup>pride hath budded.

11 <sup>1</sup>Cruelty is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be <sup>2</sup>lamentation for them.

13 For he that selleth, shall not <sup>1</sup>return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the <sup>2</sup>vision was unto all the multitude thereof, and they returned not, <sup>3</sup>neither doth any encourage himself in the punishment of his life.

14 <sup>1</sup>They have blown the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the field, shall die with the sword, and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountains, like the doves of the valleys: all they shall mourn, every one for his iniquity.

17 <sup>4</sup>All hands shall be weak, and all knees shall fall away as water.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> By these signs he would that the Prophet should signify the great destruction to come.

6:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, all nations when you shall see my judgments.

6:14 <sup>1</sup> Some read, more desolate than the wilderness of Diblath, which was in Syria, and bordered upon Israel, or from the wilderness, which was South unto Diblath, which was North: meaning, the whole country.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> I will punish thee as thou hast deserved for thine idolatry.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, behold, evil cometh after evil.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the judgments of God ever watch to destroy the sinners, which notwithstanding he delayeth till there be no more hope of repentance.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> The beginning of his punishments is already come.

7:10 <sup>1</sup> The scourge is in a readiness.

force and is ready.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> This cruel enemy shall be a sharp scourge for their wickedness.

<sup>2</sup> Their own affliction shall be so great, that they shall have no regard to lament for others.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> In the year of the Jubilee, meaning that none should enjoy the privilege of the law, Lev. 25:13, for they should all be carried away captives.

<sup>2</sup> This vision signified, that all should be carried away, and none should return for the Jubilee.

<sup>3</sup> No man for all this endeavoreth himself, or taketh heart to repent for his evil life. Some read, for none shall be strengthened in his iniquity of his life: meaning, that they should gain nothing by flattering themselves in evil.

7:14 <sup>1</sup> The Israelites made a brag, but their hearts failed them.

18 <sup>b</sup>They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and fear shall cover them, and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be cast far off: their silver and their gold cannot deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: for this ruin is for their iniquity.

20 He had also set the beauty of his <sup>1</sup>ornament in majesty: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idols therein: therefore have I set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the <sup>1</sup>strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my <sup>1</sup>secret place: for the destroyers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a <sup>1</sup>chain: for the land is full of the <sup>2</sup>judgment of blood, and the city is full of cruelty.

24 Wherefore I will bring the most wicked of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the mighty to cease, and their <sup>1</sup>holy places shall be defiled.

25 When destruction cometh, they shall seek peace, and shall not have it.

26 Calamity shall come upon calamity, and rumor shall be upon rumor: then shall they seek a vision of the Prophet: but the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsel from the Ancient.

27 The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them according to their ways, and according to their judgments will I judge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

and the Elders of Judah sat before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, there was a likeness, as the appearance of <sup>1</sup>fire, to look to, from his loins downward, and from his loins upward, as the appearance of brightness, and like unto amber.

3 And he stretched out the likeness of an hand, and took me by an hairy lock of mine head, and the Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me <sup>1</sup>by a Divine <sup>2</sup>vision to Jerusalem, into the entry of the inner <sup>3</sup>gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idol of <sup>4</sup>indignation, which provoked indignation.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw <sup>1</sup>in the field.

5 Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now toward the North. So I lifted up mine eyes toward the North, and behold, Northward, at the gate of the <sup>1</sup>altar, this idol of indignation was in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou not what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from <sup>1</sup>my Sanctuary? but yet turn thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall. And when I had dug in the wall, behold, there was a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and behold, there was every similitude of creeping things, and <sup>1</sup>abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel painted upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy <sup>1</sup>men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah, the son of Shaphan, with every man his censor in his hand, and the vapor of the incense went up like <sup>2</sup>a cloud.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the Ancients of the house of Israel <sup>1</sup>do in 13 Again he said also unto me, Turn thee again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entry of the gate of the Lord's house, which was toward the North: and behold, there sat women mourning for <sup>1</sup>Tammuz.

15 Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Turn thee again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the Temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar were about five and twenty men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sun, toward the East.

17 Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Judah to commit these abominations which they do here? for they have filled the land with cruelty, and have returned to provoke me: and lo, they have cast out <sup>1</sup>stink before their noses.

CHAPTER 10

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was <sup>1</sup>gone up from the Cherub, whereupon he was, and stood on the <sup>2</sup>door of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side.

4 And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, even through the midst of Jerusalem, and <sup>1</sup>set a mark upon the foreheads of them that <sup>2</sup>mourn, and cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might hear, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let your eye spare none, neither have pity.

6 Destroy utterly the old, and the young, and the maids, and the children, and the women, but touch no man, upon whom is the <sup>1</sup>mark, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the <sup>2</sup>ancient men, which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain, then go forth: and they went out and slew them in the city.

8 Now when they had slain them, and I had escaped, I fell down upon my face, and cried, saying, <sup>1</sup>Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in pouring out thy wrath upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel, and Judah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of <sup>1</sup>blood, and the city full of corrupt judgment: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth us not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I have pity, but will recompense their ways upon their heads.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen which had the inkhorn by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> Or, mark with [x].

<sup>2</sup> He showeth what is the manner of God's children, whom he marketh to salvation: to wit, to mourn and cry out against the wickedness, which they see committed against God's glory.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> Thus in all his plagues the Lord preserveth his small number, which he marketh, as Exod. 12:12; Rev. 7:3, but the chief mark is the Spirit of adoption, wherewith the heart is sealed up to life everlasting.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> Which in Ezek. 1:5, he called the four beasts.

appeared upon them like unto the similitude of a throne, as it were a sapphire stone.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the Cherub, and fill thine hands with coals of fire from between the Cherubims, and scatter them over <sup>1</sup>the city. And he went in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood upon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord <sup>1</sup>went up from the Cherub, and stood over the door of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was filled with the brightness of the Lord's glory.

5 And the <sup>1</sup>sound of the Cherubims' wings was heard into the utter court, as the voice of the Almighty God, when he speaketh.

6 And when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, and from between the Cherubims, then he went in and stood beside the wheel.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from between the Cherubims unto the fire that was between the Cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likeness of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked up, behold, four wheels were beside the Cherubims, one wheel by one Cherub, and another wheel by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheels was as the color of a <sup>1</sup>Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all four of one fashion) was as if one wheel had been in another wheel.

11 When they went forth, they went upon their four sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they <sup>1</sup>turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their <sup>1</sup>rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even in the same four wheels.

13 And the Cherub cried to these wheels in mine hearing, saying, O wheel.

14 And every beast had four faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted up: <sup>4</sup>this is the beast that I saw at the river Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the Cherubims lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted up, they lifted themselves up also: for the <sup>1</sup>spirit of the beast was in them.

18 <sup>1</sup>Then the glory of the Lord departed from above the door of the house, and stood upon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lifted up their wings and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them: and everyone stood at the entry of the gate of the Lord's House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was upon them on high.

20 <sup>4</sup>This is the <sup>1</sup>beast that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces, and every one four wings, and the likeness of man's hands was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the selfsame faces, which I saw by the river Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the selfsame, and they went every one straight forward.

11 <sup>1</sup>Who they were that seduced the people of Israel. <sup>5</sup>Against these he prophesieth, showing them how they shall be dispersed abroad. <sup>19</sup>The renewing of the heart cometh of God. <sup>21</sup>He threateneth them that lean unto their own counsels.

1 Moreover, the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the East gate of the Lord's house, which lieth Eastward, and behold, at the entry of the gate were five and twenty men: among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and devise wicked counsel in this city.

3 For they say, <sup>1</sup>It is not near, let us build houses: this city is the <sup>2</sup>caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophecy against them, son of man,

10:2 <sup>1</sup> This signified, that the city should be burnt.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the glory of God should depart from the Temple.

10:5 <sup>1</sup> Read Ezek. 1:24.

10:9 <sup>1</sup> Read Ezek. 1:16.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the Lord, O ye house of Israel, this have ye said, and I know that which riseth up of your minds.

6 Many have ye murdered in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, They that ye have slain, and have laid in the midst of it, they are <sup>1</sup>the flesh, and this city is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the midst of it.

8 Ye have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into <sup>1</sup>the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will judge you in the border of <sup>1</sup>Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof, but I will judge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the son of <sup>1</sup>Benaiah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy <sup>1</sup>brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholly are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Depart ye far from the Lord: for the land is given us in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little <sup>1</sup>Sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you again from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

CHAPTER 11

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idols thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 <sup>a</sup>And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: and I will take the <sup>1</sup>stony heart out of their bodies, and will give them an heart of flesh,

20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and execute them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But upon them, whose heart is toward their idols, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way upon their own heads saith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was upon them on high.

23 And the glory of the Lord went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is toward the East side of the city.

24 Afterward the Spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea to them that were led away captives: so the vision that I had seen, went up from me.

25 Then I declared unto them that were <sup>1</sup>led away captives, all the things that the Lord had showed me.

1 The word of the Lord also came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see <sup>1</sup>not: they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou son of man, <sup>1</sup>prepare thy stuff to go into captivity, and go forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt pass from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as the stuff of him that goeth into captivity: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.

11:7 <sup>1</sup> Contrary to their vain confidence he showeth in what sense the city is the caldron: that is, because of the dead bodies that have been murdered therein, and so lie as flesh in the caldron.

11:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, of the Chaldeans.

11:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, in Riblah, read 2 Kings 25:6.

11:13 <sup>1</sup> It seemeth that this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange judgment of God toward the rest of the people.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> They that remained still at Jerusalem thus reproached them that were gone into captivity, as though they were cast off and forsaken of God.

11:16 <sup>1</sup> They shall be yet a little Church: showing that the Lord will ever have some to call upon his Name, whom he will preserve and restore, though they be for a time afflicted.

11:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the heart whereunto nothing can enter, and regenerate them anew, so that their heart may be soft, and ready to receive my graces.

11:25 <sup>1</sup> When Jeconiah was led away captive.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, they receive not the fruit of that which they see and hear.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders and carry it forth in the dark: thou shalt cover thy face that thou see not the earth: for I have set thee as a <sup>1</sup>sign unto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuff by day, as the stuff of one that goeth into captivity: and by night I dug through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the dark, and I bore it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What <sup>1</sup>doest thou?

10 But say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, This <sup>1</sup>burden concerneth the chief in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall go into bondage and captivity.

12 And the chiefest that is among them, shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall, to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also will I spread upon <sup>1</sup>him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his garrisons, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

16 But I will leave a <sup>1</sup>little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, eat thy bread with trembling, and drink thy water with trouble, and with carefulness,

19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with desolation: for the land shall be desolate from her abundance, because of the cruelty of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be left void, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb that you have in the land of Israel, saying, The days <sup>1</sup>are prolonged, and all visions <sup>2</sup>fail?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For no vision shall be anymore in vain, neither shall there be any flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speak, and that thing that I shall speak, shall come to pass: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will perform it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

27 Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for <sup>1</sup>many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my words shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I have spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of <sup>a</sup>Israel, that prophesy, and say thou unto them, that prophesy out of their <sup>1</sup>own hearts, Hear the word of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe unto the foolish Prophets that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes <sup>1</sup>in the 12:6 <sup>1</sup> That as thou doest, so shall they do, and therefore in thee they shall see their own plague and punishment.

12:9 <sup>1</sup> Do not they deride thy doings?

12:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, prophecy.

12:13 <sup>1</sup> When the king shall think to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Ezek. 17:20 and 32:3.

12:16 <sup>1</sup> Which should bear his Name, and should be his Church, read Ezek. 11:16.

12:22 <sup>1</sup> Because they did not immediately see the prophecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they should never be fulfilled.

12:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, it shall not come to pass in our days, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked ever abuse God's patience and benignity.

5 <sup>1</sup>Ye have not risen up in the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the Lord.

6 They have seen vanity, and lying divination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word of their prophecy.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision? and have ye not spoken a lying divination? <sup>1</sup>ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I have not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye have spoken vanity and have seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God,

9 And mine hand shall be upon the Prophets that see vanity, and divine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the <sup>1</sup>writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they have deceived my people, saying, <sup>1</sup>Peace, and there was no peace: and one built up a <sup>2</sup>wall, and behold, the others daubed it with untempered mortar, 11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great shower, and I will send hailstones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormy wind shall break it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormy wind to break forth in my wrath, and a great shower shall be in mine anger, and hailstones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with <sup>1</sup>untempered

17 Likewise thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart: and prophesy thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe unto the women that sow <sup>1</sup>pillows under all armholes, and make veils upon the head of everyone that standeth up, to hunt souls: will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye give life to the souls that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of <sup>1</sup>barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the souls of them that should not die, and <sup>2</sup>to give life to the souls that should not live, in lying to my people, that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will have to do with your pillows, wherewith ye hunt the <sup>1</sup>souls to make them to flee, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them to flee.

21 Your veils also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hands to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies ye have made the heart of the <sup>1</sup>righteous sad, whom I have not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life,

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burnt. Is it meet for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet for any work, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, as the vine tree, that is among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire to be consumed, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shall go out from one <sup>1</sup>fire, and another fire shall consume them: and ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them,

1 Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God unto Jerusalem, Thine habitation and thy kindred is of the land <sup>1</sup>of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy nativity when thou wast <sup>1</sup>born, thy navel was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaddled in cloths.

5 None eye pitied thee to do any of these unto thee, for to have compassion upon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast born.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine <sup>1</sup>own blood, and I said unto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt live: even when thou wast in thy blood, I said unto thee, Thou shalt live.

7 I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of love, and I spread my skirts over thee, and covered <sup>1</sup>thy filthiness: yea, I swear unto thee, and entered into a covenant with <sup>2</sup>thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with <sup>1</sup>water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I <sup>2</sup>anointed thee with oil.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my <sup>1</sup>beauty which I had set upon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didst <sup>1</sup>trust in thine own beauty, and playedst the harlot, because of thy renown, and hast poured out <sup>2</sup>thy fornications on everyone that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou didst take thy garments, and deckedst thine high places with divers colors, <sup>1</sup>and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels made of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and <sup>1</sup>madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and my perfume before them.

19 My meat also, which I gave thee, as fine flour, oil and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a sweet savor: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them, to <sup>1</sup>be devoured: is this thy whoredom a small matter?

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through fire for them?

23 And beside all thy wickedness (woe, woe unto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also built unto thee an high place, and hast made thee an high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thine high place at every <sup>1</sup>corner of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy feet to everyone that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredom.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the <sup>1</sup>Egyptians thy neighbors, which have great members, and hast increased thy whoredom, to provoke me.

27 Behold, therefore I did stretch out mine hand over thee, and will diminish thine ordinary, and deliver thee unto the will of them that hate thee, even to the <sup>1</sup>daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldst not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan unto Chaldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, even the work of a <sup>1</sup>presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine high place in the corner of every way, and makest thine high place in every street, and hast not been as an harlot <sup>1</sup>that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

33 They give gifts to all other whores, but thou givest gifts unto all thy lovers, and rewardest them that they may come unto thee on every side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shall be after thee: for in that thou givest a reward and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord.

36 Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy <sup>1</sup>shame was poured out, and thy filthiness discovered through thy fornications with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst offer unto them,

37 Behold, therefore I will gather all <sup>1</sup>thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated: I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy filthiness unto them, that they may see all thy filthiness.

16:31 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that some harlots contemn small rewards, but no lovers gave a reward to Israel, but they gave to all others: signifying that the idolaters bestow all their substance, which they receive of God for his glory, to serve their vile abominations.

that are harlots, and of them that shed blood, and I will give thee the blood of wrath, and jealousy.

39 I will also give thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine high place, and shall break down thine high places: they shall strip thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall burn up thine houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt give no reward anymore.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will cease, and be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast provoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also have brought thy way upon thy head, saith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that use proverbs, shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsook their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but as it had been a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

48 As I live, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither she nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fullness of bread and abundance of idleness was in her, and in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 But they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as pleased me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast justified thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sins, that thou hast committed more abominable than they which are more righteous than thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and bear thy shame, seeing that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring again their captivity, with the captivity of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captivity of Samaria, and her daughters: even the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them,

54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall return to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall return to their former state: when thou and thy daughters shall return to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as in that same time of the reproach of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistines round about her, which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickedness and thine abomination, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might even deal with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the oath, in breaking the covenant.

16:38 <sup>1</sup> I will judge thee to death, as the adulterers and murderers.

16:42 <sup>1</sup> I will utterly destroy thee, and so my jealousy shall cease.

16:43 <sup>1</sup> I have punished thy faults, but thou wouldest not repent.

16:44 <sup>1</sup> As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites and others your predecessors, so are you their successors.

<sup>2</sup> Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee Sodom and Samaria were just.

16:53 <sup>1</sup> This he speaketh in comparison, seeing that he would restore Jerusalem when Sodom should be restored, that is, never: and this is meant of the greatest part of the Jews.

16:54 <sup>1</sup> In that thou hast showed thyself worse than they and yet thoughtest to escape punishment.

16:55 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that it should never come to pass.

<sup>2</sup> Thou wouldest not call her punishment to mind when thou wast aloft, to learn by her example to fear my judgments.

60 Nevertheless, I will <sup>1</sup>remember my covenant made with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will confirm unto thee an everlasting Covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive <sup>1</sup>thy sisters, both thy elder and thy younger, and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not <sup>2</sup>by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord,

63 That thou mayest remember, and be <sup>1</sup>ashamed, and never open thy mouth anymore: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

17 The parable of the two Eagles.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a parable and speak a proverb unto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, The great <sup>1</sup>eagle with great wings and long wings, and full of feathers, which had diverse colors, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar,

4 And brake off the top of his twig, and carried it into the land of <sup>1</sup>merchants, and set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the <sup>1</sup>seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful ground: he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded up, and was like <sup>1</sup>a spreading vine of <sup>2</sup>low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were under it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 There was also <sup>1</sup>another great Eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did turn her roots toward it, and spread forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great <sup>1</sup>waters, that it should bring forth branches, and bear fruit, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall <sup>1</sup>he not pull up the roots thereof, and destroy the fruit thereof, and cause them to dry? all the leaves of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people, to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Behold, it was planted: but shall it prosper? shall it not be dried up, and wither? <sup>1</sup>when the East wind shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches, where it grew.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, behold, the king of Babel is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken <sup>1</sup>the king thereof and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken one of the King's seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath taken <sup>1</sup>an oath of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdom might be in subjection, and not lift itself up, but keep their covenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses, and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the midst of Babel, in the place of the king that had made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant made with him, he brake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty host, and great multitude of people, maintain him in the war, when they have cast up mounts, and built ramparts to destroy many persons.

18 For he hath despised the oath, and broken the covenant (yet lo, he had given <sup>1</sup>his hand) because he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

20 <sup>a</sup>And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel, and will enter into judgment with him there for his trespass that he hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all the winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take off the top<sup>1</sup> of this high cedar, and will set it, and cut off the <sup>2</sup>top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it upon an high mountain and great.

23 Even in the high mountain of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be an excellent cedar, and under it shall remain all birds, and every <sup>1</sup>fowl shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the <sup>1</sup>trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, and exalted the low tree: that I have dried up the green tree, and made the dry tree to flourish: I the Lord have spoken it, and have done it.

2 What mean ye that ye speak this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, <sup>1</sup>The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall use this proverb no more in Israel.

shall the father bear the iniquity of the son, but the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself.

21 But if the wicked will return from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my <sup>1</sup>statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be <sup>1</sup>mentioned unto him, but in his <sup>2</sup>righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.

23 <sup>1</sup>Have I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? <sup>2</sup>or shall he not live, if he return from his ways?

24 But if the righteous turn away from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and do according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? all his <sup>1</sup>righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not <sup>1</sup>equal: hear now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your ways unequal?

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and commiteth iniquity, he shall even die for the same, he shall even die for his iniquity that he hath done.

27 Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, and shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? or are not your ways unequal?

30 Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, everyone according to his ways, saith the Lord God: return therefore, and cause others to turn away from all your transgressions: so iniquity shall not be your 31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed and make <sup>1</sup>you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

7 Then said I unto them, Let every man cast away the abominations of his eyes, <sup>1</sup>and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hear me: for none cast away the abominations of <sup>1</sup>their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I thought to pour out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my <sup>1</sup>Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made myself known unto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Now I carried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and declared my judgments unto them, “which if a man do, he shall live in them.

12 Moreover I gave them also my <sup>6</sup>Sabbaths to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanctify them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them, and my Sabbaths have they greatly polluted: then I thought to pour out mine indignation upon them “in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my name, that it should not be polluted before the <sup>1</sup>heathen in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet nevertheless, I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land, which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which was pleasant above all lands,

16 Because they cast away my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but have polluted my <sup>1</sup>Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilder-

19:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the Chaldeans should destroy them as the East wind doth the fruit of the vine.

19:14 <sup>1</sup> Destruction is come by Zedekiah, who was the occasion of this rebellion.

20:4 <sup>1</sup> This declareth the great lenity and patience of God, which calleth sinners to repentance before he condemns them.

20:5 <sup>1</sup> I swear that I would be their God, which manner of oath was observed from all antiquity, where they used to lift up their hands toward the heaven, acknowledging God to be the author of truth, and the defender thereof, and also the Judge of the heart, wishing that he should take vengeance, if they concealed anything which they knew to be truth.

20:7 <sup>1</sup> God had forbidden them to make mention of the idols, Exod. 23:13; Ps. 16:4.

20:8 <sup>1</sup> Which thing declareth the wickedness of man's heart, which judge God's service by their eyes and outward senses.

20:9 <sup>1</sup> God had ever this respect to his glory, that he would not have his Name evil spoken of among the Gentiles for the punishment that his people deserved, in confidence whereof the godly ever prayed, as Exod. 32:12; Num. 14:13.

20:14 <sup>1</sup> Who might thereby take an occasion to blaspheme my Name and to accuse me of lack of ability, or else that I had sought a means to destroy them more commodiously.

20:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, my true religion, which I had commanded them, and gave themselves to serve me according to their own fantasies.

ness, Walk ye not in the ordinances of your <sup>1</sup>fathers, neither observe their manners, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

19 I am the Lord your God: walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments and do them,

20 And sanctify my Sabbaths, and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall live in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to pour out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless, I withdrew mine hand and had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries,

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after <sup>1</sup>their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore I gave <sup>1</sup>them also statutes that were not good, and judgments, wherein they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own <sup>1</sup>gifts in that they caused to pass by the fire all that first openeth the womb, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, though they had before grievously transgressed against me.

28 <sup>1</sup>For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of provocation: there also they made their sweet savor, and poured out there their drink offerings.

29 Then I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? And the name thereof was called <sup>1</sup>Bamah unto this day.

30 Wherefore, say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted <sup>1</sup>after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your gifts, and make your sons to pass through the fire, you pollute yourselves with all your idols unto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord God, <sup>1</sup>I will not answer you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall that be done that cometh into your mind: for ye say, we will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countries, and serve wood, and <sup>1</sup>stone.

33 As I live, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and in my wrath poured out,

34 And will bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countries, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and in my wrath poured out,

35 And I will bring you into the <sup>1</sup>wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will <sup>1</sup>choose out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

20:18 <sup>1</sup> Whereby the holy Ghost confuteth them that say that they will follow the religion and example of their fathers, and not measure their doings by God's word whether they be approvable thereby or no.

20:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that they set their delight upon them.

20:25 <sup>1</sup> Because they would not obey my laws, I gave them up to themselves, that they should obey their own fantasies, as verse 39; Rom. 1:21, 24.

20:26 <sup>1</sup> I condemned those things, and counted them as abominable, which they thought had been excellent, and to have declared most zeal, Luke 16:15, for that which God required, as most excellent, that they gave to their idols.

20:28 <sup>1</sup> Not only in the wilderness, when I brought them out of Egypt, but since I placed them in this land: which declareth how prompt man's heart is to idolatry, seeing that by no admonitions he can be drawn back.

20:29 <sup>1</sup> Which signifieth an high place, declaring that they vaunted themselves of their idolatry, and were not ashamed thereof, though God had commanded them expressly that they should have no altar lifted upon high by stairs, Exod. 20:26.

20:30 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in the way.

20:31 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the ingratitude of the people deserveth that God should cut them off, and that they should not have the comfort of his word.

20:32 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that man of nature is wholly enemy unto God, and to his own salvation, and therefore God calleth him to the right way, partly by chastising, but chiefly by his mercy in forgiving his rebellion, and wickedness.

20:35 <sup>1</sup> I will bring you among strange nations as into a wilderness, and there will visit you, and so call you to repentance, and then bring the godly home again, Isa. 65:9.

20:38 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that he will not burn the corn with the chaff, but choose out the wicked to punish them when he will spare his.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, <sup>1</sup>Go you, and serve everyone his idol, seeing that ye will not obey me, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For in mine holy mountain, even in the high mountain of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all in the land serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweet savor, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countries, wherein ye have been scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your works, wherein ye have been defiled, and ye <sup>1</sup>shall judge yourselves worthy to be cut off, for all your evils, that ye have committed.

44 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have respect unto you for my Name's sake, and not after your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt works, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

46 Son of man, Set thy face toward the way of Teman, and drop thy word toward <sup>1</sup>the South, and prophesy toward the forest of the field of the South,

47 And say to the forest of the South, Hear the word of the Lord: thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour all the <sup>1</sup>green wood in thee, and all the dry wood: the continual flame shall not be quenched, and every face from the South to the North shall be burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shall see, that I the Lord have kindled it, and it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, they say of me, Doth not he speak <sup>1</sup>parables?

21 <sup>3</sup> He threateneth the sword and destruction to Jerusalem. <sup>25</sup> He showeth the fall of king Zed*ekiah.* <sup>29</sup> He is commanded to prophesy the destruction of the children of Ammon. <sup>30</sup> The Lord threateneth to destroy Nebuchadnezzar.

1 The word of the Lord came to me again, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, <sup>1</sup>and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut off from thee both the <sup>1</sup>righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword go out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the <sup>1</sup>North,

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord have drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not return anymore.

6 Mourn therefore thou son of man, as in the pain of thy <sup>1</sup>reins, and mourn bitterly before them.

7 And if they say unto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? Then answer, Because <sup>1</sup>of the bruit: for it cometh, and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be weak, and all minds shall faint, and all knees shall fall away as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, say, A sword, a sword both sharp and furbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, and it is furbished that it may <sup>1</sup>glitter: how shall we rejoice? for it contemneth the <sup>2</sup>rod of my son, as <sup>3</sup>all other trees.

11 And he hath given it to be furbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharp, and is furbished that he may give it into the hand of the <sup>1</sup>slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man: for this shall come to my people, and it shall come unto all the princes of Israel: the terrors of the sword shall be upon my people, <sup>1</sup>smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, <sup>1</sup>and what shall this be, if the sword contemn even the rod? It shall be no more, 20:39 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken to the hypocrites.

20:43 <sup>1</sup> Your own consciences shall convict you after, that you have felt my mercies.

20:47 <sup>1</sup> Both strong and weak in Jerusalem.

20:48 <sup>1</sup> The people said that the Prophet spake darkly: therefore he desireth the Lord to give them a plain declaration thereof.

21:2 <sup>1</sup> Speak sensibly, that all may understand.

21:3 <sup>1</sup> That is such which seem to have an outward show of righteousness, by observation of the ceremonies of the law.

21:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, through all the land.

21:6 <sup>1</sup> As though thou were in extreme anguish.

21:7 <sup>1</sup> Because of the great noise of the army of the Chaldeans.

21:10 <sup>1</sup> And so cause a fear.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the scepter: showing that it will not spare the King, who should be as the son of God, and in his place.

21:13 <sup>1</sup> Ezekiel moved with compassion, thus complaineth, fearing the destruction of the kingdom which God had confirmed to David and his posterity by promise, which promise God performed, although here it seemed to man's eye that it should utterly perish.

saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy and smite <sup>1</sup>hand to hand, and let the sword be doubled: let the sword that hath killed, return the third time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their privy chambers.

15 I have brought the fear of the sword into all their gates to make their heart to faint, and to multiply their ruins. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee <sup>1</sup>alone: go to the right hand, or get thyself to the left hand, whithersoever thy face turneth.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, and will cause my wrath to cease. I the Lord have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying,

19 Also thou son of man, appoint thee <sup>1</sup>two ways, that the sword of the King of Babel may come: both twain shall come out of one land, and choose a place, and choose it in the corner of the way of the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and <sup>1</sup>to Judah in Jerusalem the strong city.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the <sup>1</sup>parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, consulting by divination, and made his arrows bright: he consulted with idols, and looked in <sup>2</sup>the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem to appoint captains to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift up their voice with shouting, to lay engines of war against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fortress.

23 And it shall be unto them <sup>1</sup>as a false divination in their sight for the oaths made unto them: <sup>2</sup>but he will call to remembrance their iniquity, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered in discovering your rebellion, that in all your works your sins might appear: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou <sup>1</sup>Prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the <sup>1</sup>diadem, and take off the crown: this shall be no more the same: I will exalt the humble, and will abase him that is high.

27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it shall be no more until he <sup>1</sup>come, whose right it is, and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemy: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn forth and furbished to the slaughter, to consume, because of the glittering,

29 While they see <sup>1</sup>vanity unto thee, and prophesied a lie unto thee to bring thee upon the necks of the wicked that are slain, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, even in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, and will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of beastly men, and skillful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be devoured: thy blood shall be in the midst of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have spoken it.

22 1 Jerusalem is reproved for cruelty. 25 Of the wicked doctrine of the false prophets and priests, and of their unsatiable covetousness. 26 The tyranny of rulers. 29 The wickedness of the people.

1 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Now thou son of man, wilt thou <sup>1</sup>judge, wilt

21:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, encourage the sword.

21:16 <sup>1</sup> Provide for thyself: for thou shalt see God's plague of all parts on this country.

21:19 <sup>1</sup> This was spoken, because that when Nebuchadnezzar came against Judah, his purpose was also to go against the Ammonites: but doubting in the way, which enterprise to undertake first he consulted with his soothsayers, and so went against Judah.

21:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, to the tribe of Judah that kept themselves in Jerusalem.

21:21 <sup>1</sup> To know whether he should go against the Ammonites or them of Jerusalem.

21:23 <sup>1</sup> Because there was a league between the Jews, and the Babylonians, they of Jerusalem shall think nothing less than that this thing should come to pass.

and so come upon them.

21:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Zedekiah, who practiced with the Egyptians to make himself high and able to resist the Babylonians.

21:26 <sup>1</sup> Some refer this to the Priest's attire: for Jehozadak the Priest went into captivity with the king.

21:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, unto the coming of Messiah: for though the Jews had some sign of government afterward under the Persians, Greeks and Romans, yet this restitution was not till Christ's coming, and at length should be accomplished, as was promised, Gen. 49:10.

21:29 <sup>1</sup> Though the Jews and Ammonites would not believe that thou, to wit, the sword, shouldst come upon them, and said, that the Prophets, which threatened, spake lies, yet thou shalt as surely come, as though thou werest already upon their necks.

22:2 <sup>1</sup> Art thou ready to execute thy charge, which I commit unto thee against Jerusalem, that murdereth the Prophets and them that are godly?

thou judge this bloody city? wilt thou show her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her <sup>1</sup>time may come, and maketh idols against <sup>2</sup>herself, to pollute herself.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, and hast polluted thyself in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come unto thy term: therefore have I made thee a reproach to the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art vile in <sup>1</sup>name and sore in affliction.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel everyone in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

7 In thee have they despised father and mother: in the midst of thee <sup>1</sup>have they oppressed the stranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that carry tales to shed blood: in thee are they that eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit abomination.

10 <sup>a</sup>In thee have they discovered their fathers' shame: in thee have they vexed her that was polluted in her flowers.

11 And everyone <sup>b</sup>hath committed abomination with his neighbor's wife, and everyone hath wickedly defiled his daughter-in-law, and in thee hath every man forced his own sister, even his father's daughter.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken usury and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbors by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Behold, therefore I have <sup>c</sup>smitten mine hands upon thy covetousness, that thou hast used, and upon the blood, which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands <sup>d</sup>be strong, in the days that I shall have to do with thee? I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will cause thy <sup>e</sup>filthiness to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine <sup>1</sup>inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, the house of Israel is unto me as <sup>1</sup>dross: all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead in the midst of the furnace: they are even the dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye are all as dross, behold, therefore I will gather you in the midst of Jerusalem.

20 As they gather silver and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there <sup>1</sup>and melt you.

21 I will gather you, I say, and blow the fire of my wrath upon you, and you shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof, and ye shall know that I the Lord have poured out my wrath upon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land, that is unclean, <sup>1</sup>and not rained upon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracy <sup>1</sup>of her prophets in the midst thereof like a roaring lion, ravening the prey: they have devoured souls: they have taken the riches and precious things: they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 Her Priests have broken my Law, and have defiled mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither discerned between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their <sup>1</sup>eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her princes in <sup>1</sup>the midst thereof are like wolves, ravening the prey to shed blood, and to destroy souls for their own covetous lucre.

28 And her <sup>1</sup>prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanities, and divining

22:5 <sup>1</sup> Whose very name all men hate.

22:7 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth hereby that there was no kind of wickedness which was not committed in Jerusalem, and therefore the plagues of God should speedily come upon her.

22:13 <sup>1</sup> In token of my wrath and vengeance.

22:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, able to defend thyself.

22:15 <sup>1</sup> I will thus take away the occasion of thy wickedness.

22:16 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt be no more the inheritance of the Lord, but forsaken.

22:18 <sup>1</sup> Which before was most precious.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, hereby that the godly should be tried, and the wicked destroyed.

22:24 <sup>1</sup> Thou art like a barren land which the Lord plagueth with drought.

22:25 <sup>1</sup> The false prophets have conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.

22:26 <sup>1</sup> They have neglected my service.

22:28 <sup>1</sup> They which should have reprov'd them, flattered them in their vices, and covered their doings with lies, Ezek. 13:10.

lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land have violently oppressed by spoiling and robbing, and have vexed the poor and the needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should <sup>1</sup>make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own ways have I rendered upon their heads, saith the Lord God.

23 Of the Idolatry of Samaria and Jerusalem, under the names of Oholah and Oholibah.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one <sup>1</sup>mother.

3 And they committed fornication in <sup>1</sup>Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of <sup>1</sup>them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters: thus were their names: Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

5 And Oholah played the harlot <sup>1</sup>when <sup>2</sup>she was mine, and she was set on fire with her lovers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbors,

6 Which were clothed with blue silk, both captains and princes they were all pleasant young men, and horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredom with them, even with all them that were the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled herself with all their idols.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they <sup>1</sup>lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I delivered her into the hands of her lovers, even into the hands of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her shame: they took away her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and she had an evil name among women: for <sup>1</sup>they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her sister Oholibah saw this, she marred herself with inordinate love more than she, and with her fornications more than her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians her neighbors, both captains and princes clothed with divers suits, horsemen riding upon horses: they were all pleasant young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort,

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when she saw men <sup>1</sup>painted upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans painted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles upon their loins, and with dyed attire upon their heads (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land of their nativity)

16 As soon, I say, as she saw them, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them, into Chaldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discovered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsook her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet she increased her whoredom more, and called to remembrance the days of her youth wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their servants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickedness of thy youth, when thy teats were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the paps of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on every side, 22:30 <sup>1</sup> Which would show himself zealous in my cause by resisting vice, Isa. 59:16 and 63:5, and also pray unto me to withhold my plagues, Ps. 106:23.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Israel and Judah, which came both out of one family.

23:3 <sup>1</sup> They became idolaters after the manner of the Egyptians.

23:4 <sup>1</sup> Oholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in herself, meaning Samaria, which was the royal city of Israel and Oholibah signifieth my mansion in her, whereby is meant Jerusalem, where God's Temple was.

23:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, under me.

<sup>2</sup> When the Israelites were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and forsook God, and put their trust in the Assyrians.

23:8 <sup>1</sup> The holy Ghost useth these terms which seem strange to chaste ears, to cause this wicked vice of idolatry so to be abhorred, that [...] any should abide to hear the name thereof.

23:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Assyrians.

23:14 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that no words are able sufficiently to express the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging love and filthy lusts dote upon the images and paintings of them after whom they lust.

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, <sup>1</sup>Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant young men, captains and princes: all they were valiant and renowned, riding upon horses.

24 Even these shall come against thee with chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet round about, and <sup>1</sup>I will leave the punishment unto them, and they shall judge thee according to their <sup>2</sup>judgments.

25 And I will lay mine indignation upon thee, and they shall deal cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy <sup>1</sup>nose and thine ears, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall carry away thy sons and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickedness to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt anymore.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest, even into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy <sup>1</sup>labor, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications <sup>2</sup>shall be discovered, both thy wickedness, and thy whoredom.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I give her <sup>1</sup>cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with <sup>1</sup>drunkenness and sorrow, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drink it, and wring it out to the dregs, and thou shalt break the shards thereof, and tear thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore thou shalt also bear thy wickedness and thy whoredom.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreover unto me, Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they have played the whores, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, whom they bore unto me, to pass by the fire to be their <sup>1</sup>meat.

38 Moreover, thus have they done unto me: they have defiled my Sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to defile it: and lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from <sup>1</sup>far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came? for whom thou didst wash thyself, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

41 And satest <sup>1</sup>upon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the company great, were brought men of <sup>1</sup>Saba from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then I said unto her that was old in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an end.

44 And they went in unto her as they go to a common harlot: so went they to Oholah and Oholibah the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall judge them after the manner of <sup>1</sup>harlots, and after the manner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, I will bring a multitude upon them, and will give them unto the tumult and to the spoil,

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones,

23:23 <sup>1</sup> These were the names of certain princes and captains under Nebuchadnezzar.

23:25 <sup>1</sup> They shall destroy thy princes and priests with the rest of thy people.

23:29 <sup>1</sup> All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labor.

23:31 <sup>1</sup> I will execute the same judgments and vengeance against thee, and that with greater severity.

23:33 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that its afflictions should be so great that they should cause them to lose their senses, and reason.

23:37 <sup>1</sup> That is, to be sacrifices to their idols, read Ezek. 16:20.

23:40 <sup>1</sup> They sent into other countries to have such as should teach the service of their idols.

23:41 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth the altar that was prepared for the idols.

23:42 <sup>1</sup> Which should teach the manner of worshipping their gods.

23:45 <sup>1</sup> That is, worthy of death, read Ezek. 16:38.

and cut them with their swords: they shall slay their sons, and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickedness to cease out of the land, that all <sup>1</sup>women may be taught not to do after your wickedness.

49 And they shall lay your wickedness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

24 He showeth the destruction of Jerusalem by a parable of a seething pot. 16 The parable of Ezekiel's wife being dead.

1 Again in the <sup>1</sup>ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the <sup>2</sup>month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: for the King of Babel set himself against Jerusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speak a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a <sup>1</sup>pot, prepare it, and also pour water into it.

4 Gather the <sup>1</sup>pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chief bones.

5 Take one of the best sheep, and <sup>1</sup>burn also the <sup>2</sup>bones under it, and make it boil well, and seethe the bones of it therein,

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Woe to the bloody city, even to the pot, <sup>1</sup>whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it: bring it out <sup>2</sup>piece by piece: let no <sup>3</sup>lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her: she set it upon an high <sup>1</sup>rock, and poured it not upon the ground to cover it with dust,

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: even I have set her blood upon an high rock that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, <sup>4</sup>Woe to the bloody city, for I will make <sup>1</sup>the burning great.

10 Heap on much wood: <sup>1</sup>kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that <sup>1</sup>the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, and that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 <sup>1</sup>She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not out of her: therefore her scum shall be consumed with fire.

13 Thou remainest in thy filthiness and wickedness: because I would <sup>1</sup>have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness, till I have caused my wrath to light upon thee.

14 I the Lord have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it: I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy ways, and according to thy works shall <sup>1</sup>they judge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and bind the tire of thine head upon thee, <sup>1</sup>and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat <sup>2</sup>not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died: and I did in <sup>1</sup>the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things mean toward us that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, behold, I will <sup>1</sup>pollute my Sanctuary, even the <sup>2</sup>pride of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and 22 And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, neither shall ye eat the bread of men.

23 And your tire shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep, but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done, ye shall do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the joy of their honor, the pleasure of their eyes, and the <sup>1</sup>desire of their heart, their sons and their daughters,

26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come unto thee to tell thee that which he hath heard with his ears?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb, and thou shalt be a sign unto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

25 <sup>2</sup> The word of the Lord against Ammon, which rejoiced at the fall of Jerusalem, 8 against Moab and Seir, Idumea and the Philistines.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesy against them,

3 And say unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saidest, <sup>1</sup>Ha, ha, against my Sanctuary, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity,

4 Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the <sup>1</sup>men of the East for a possession, and they shall set their <sup>2</sup>palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk:

5 And I will make <sup>1</sup>Rabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a sheepcote, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped the hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel,

7 Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee to be spoiled of the heathen, and I will root thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countries, and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab, even of the cities <sup>1</sup>of his cities, I say, in his frontiers with the pleasant country, Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kirjathaim.

10 I will call the men of the East against the Ammonites, and will give them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, because that Edom hath done evil by taking vengeance upon the house of Judah, and hath committed great offence, and revenged himself upon them,

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to mine indignation, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistines have executed vengeance, and revenged themselves with a despiteful heart, to destroy it for the old hatred,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the <sup>1</sup>Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the seacoast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

2 Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, the <sup>1</sup>gate of the people is broken: it is turned unto me: for seeing she is desolate, I shall be <sup>2</sup>replenished,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Tyre, and I will bring up many nations against thee, as the sea mounteth up with his waves.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 Thou shalt be for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall be a spoil to the nations.

6 And her <sup>1</sup>daughters which are in the field, shall be slain by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring upon Tyre Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, a King of kings from the North, with horses and with chariots, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engines of war before him against thy walls, and with his weapons break down thy towers.

10 The dust of his horses shall cover thee, for their multitude: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates as into the entry of a city that is broken down.

11 With the hooves of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay the people by the sword, and the <sup>1</sup>pillars of thy strength shall fall down to the ground.

12 And they shall rob thy riches, and spoil thy merchandise, and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the midst of the water.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyre, Shall not the isles tremble at the sound of thy fall? and at the cry of the wounded, when they shall be slain and murdered in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the <sup>1</sup>sea shall come down from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their brodered garments, and shall clothe themselves with astonishment: they shall sit upon the ground and be astonished at every moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited <sup>1</sup>of the Sea men, the renowned city which was strong in the sea, both she and her inhabitants, which cause their fear to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shall the isles be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the isles that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, when I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee,

20 When I shall cast thee down with them that descend into the pit, with the people <sup>1</sup>of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, like the old ruins, with them, I say, which go down to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited, and I shall show my glory in the land of the <sup>2</sup>living.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord God, because thine heart is exalted, and thou hast said, <sup>1</sup>I am a god, I sit in the seat of God in the midst of the sea, yet thou art but a man and not God, and <sup>2</sup>though thou didst think in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,

3 Behold, thou art wiser than <sup>1</sup>Daniel: there is no secret that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdom and thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdom and by thine occupying hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou didst think in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, even the terrible nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

8 They shall cast thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the death of them, that are slain in the midst of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before him that slayeth thee, I am a god? but thou shalt be a man, and no god, in the hands of him that slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the death of the <sup>1</sup>uncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the King of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest up the sum, and art full of <sup>1</sup>wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was in thy garment, the ruby, the topaz, and the <sup>1</sup>diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, <sup>2</sup>emerald, and the carbuncle and gold: the workmanship of thy timbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art <sup>1</sup>the anointed Cherub, that covereth, and I have set thee <sup>2</sup>in honor: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God: thou hast walked in the midst of the <sup>3</sup>stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast <sup>1</sup>created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise, they have filled the midst of thee with cruelty, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the <sup>1</sup>mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering Cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty,

27:36 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is meant a long time: for it was prophesied to be destroyed but seventy years, Isa. 23:15.

28:16 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt have no part among my people.

and thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground. I will lay thee before kings that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy <sup>1</sup>sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, and by the iniquity of thy merchandise: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, which shall devour thee: and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth, in the sight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be <sup>1</sup>a terror, and never shalt thou be anymore.

20 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, set thy face against Sidon, and prophesy against it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Sidon, and I will be <sup>1</sup>glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets, and the slain shall fall in the midst of her: <sup>1</sup>the enemy shall come against her with the sword on every side, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 And they shall be no more a pricking thorn unto the house of Israel, nor any grievous thorn of all that are round about them, and despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people where they are scattered, and shall be <sup>1</sup>sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in the land, that I have given to my servant Jacob.

26 And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell safely, when I have executed judgments upon all round about them that despise them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

29 He prophesieth against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promiseth that he will restore Egypt after forty years. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchadnezzar for the labor which he took against Tyre.

1 In the <sup>1</sup>tenth year and in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great <sup>1</sup>dragon, that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it for myself.

4 But I will put <sup>1</sup>hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will draw thee out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee in the wilderness, both thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowls of heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a staff of <sup>1</sup>reed to the house of Israel.

7 When they took hold of thee with their hand, thou didst break and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loins to <sup>1</sup>stand <sup>2</sup>upright.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord: because he hath said, <sup>1</sup>The river is mine, and I have made it,

10 Behold, therefore I come upon thee, and upon thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate from the tower of Syene, even unto the borders of the <sup>1</sup>black Moors.

11 No foot of man shall pass by it, nor foot of beast shall pass by it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate for forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

28:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, the honor, whereunto I called them.

28:19 <sup>1</sup> Or, brought to nothing.

28:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, Nebuchadnezzar.

28:25 <sup>1</sup> He showeth for what cause God will assemble his Church, and preserve it still, though he destroy his enemies: to wit, that they should praise him, and give thanks for his great mercies.

29:1 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of the reign of Zedekiah. Of the order of these prophecies, and how the former sometimes standeth after the latter, read Jer. 27:1.

29:3 <sup>1</sup> He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon which hideth himself in the river Nile, as Isa. 51:9.

29:4 <sup>1</sup> I will send enemies against thee, which shall pluck thee, and thy people which trust in thee, out of thy sure places.

29:6 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 18:21; Isa. 36:6.

29:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, shake.

<sup>2</sup> When they felt their hurt, they would stay no more upon thee, but stood upon their feet, and put their trust in others.

29:9 <sup>1</sup> Thus God cannot suffer that man should arrogate anything to himself, or put his trust in anything save in him alone.

29:10 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, Cush, or Ethiopia.

13 Yet thus saith the Lord God, <sup>a</sup>At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered,

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they shall be there a <sup>1</sup>small kingdom.

15 It shall be the smallest of the kingdoms, neither shall it exalt itself anymore above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their <sup>1</sup>iniquity to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they know that I am the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the <sup>1</sup>seven and twentieth year also in the first month, and in the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel caused his army to serve a great <sup>1</sup>service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was made bare: yet he had no wages, <sup>2</sup>nor his army for Tyre, for the service that he served against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel, and he shall take her multitude, and spoil her spoil, and take her prey, and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt for his labor, that he served <sup>1</sup>against it, because they wrought <sup>2</sup>for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to grow, and I will give thee an open mouth in the midst of them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

30 The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Howl and cry, Woe be unto this day.

3 For the day is near, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudy day, and it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and fear shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, and when her foundations shall be broken down.

5 <sup>1</sup>Ethiopia and Put, and Lud, and all the common people, and Chub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that maintain Egypt, shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of <sup>1</sup>Syene shall they fall by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall there messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Moors afraid, and fear shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, even the terrible nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hands of the wicked, and I will make the land waste, and all that therein is by the hands of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their idols to cease out of <sup>1</sup>Noph, and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will send a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in <sup>1</sup>Zoan, and I will execute judgment in No.

15 And I will pour my wrath upon <sup>1</sup>Sin, which is the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of <sup>2</sup>No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall have great sorrow, and No shall be destroyed, and Noph shall have sorrows daily.

18 At Tehaphnehes the day <sup>1</sup>shall restrain his light, when I shall break there the <sup>2</sup>bars of Egypt: and when the pomp of her power shall cease in her, the cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And in the <sup>1</sup>eleventh year, in the first month, and in the seventh day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, <sup>1</sup>I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, neither shall they put a roll to bind it, and so make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will break <sup>1</sup>his arm that was strong, but is broken, and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arm of the king of Babel, and put my sword in his hand, but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he shall cast out sighings, as the sighings of him that is wounded before him.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babel, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down, and they shall know, that I am the Lord, <sup>1</sup>when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

31 <sup>2</sup>A comparison of the prosperity of Pharaoh with the prosperity of the Assyrians. <sup>10</sup>He prophesieth a like destruction to them both.

1 And in the <sup>1</sup>eleventh year, in the third month, and in the first day of the month the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou <sup>1</sup>like in thy greatness?

3 Behold, Assyria was like a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with thick shadowing boughs, and shot up very high, and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 The waters nourished him, and the deep exalted him on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her <sup>1</sup>little rivers unto all the trees of the <sup>2</sup>field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, which the deep sent out.

6 All the fowls of the heavens made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all mighty nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, and in the length of his branches: for his root was near great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden <sup>1</sup>of God could not hide him: no fir tree was like his branches: and the chestnut trees were not like his boughs: all the trees in the garden of God were not like unto him in his beauty.

9 I made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because <sup>1</sup>he is lifted up on high, and hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height, 11 I have therefore delivered him into the hands of the <sup>1</sup>mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, for I have cast him away for his wickedness.

12 And the strangers have destroyed him, even the terrible nations, and they have left him upon the mountains, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are <sup>1</sup>broken by all the rivers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and have forsaken him.

13 Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches,

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shall be exalted by their height, neither shall shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither shall 30:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that there shall be great sorrow and affliction.

30:20 <sup>1</sup> Of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of Zedekiah's reign.

30:21 <sup>1</sup> For Nebuchadnezzar destroyed Pharaoh Necho at Carchemish, Jer. 46:26.

30:22 <sup>1</sup> His force and power.

30:25 <sup>1</sup> Whereby we see that tyrants have no power of themselves, neither can do anymore harm than God appointeth, and when he will they must cease.

31:1 <sup>1</sup> Of Zedekiah's reign, or of Jeconiah's captivity.

31:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he was not like in strength to the King of the Assyrians, whom the Babylonians overcame.

31:4 <sup>1</sup> Many other nations were under their dominion.

31:8 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that there was no greater power in the world than his was.

31:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, thou wast lifted up.

31:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, of Nebuchadnezzar, who afterward was the monarch and only ruler of the world.

31:12 <sup>1</sup> Hereby is signified the destruction of the power of the Assyrians by the Babylonians.

their leaves stand up in their height, which drink so much water: for they are all delivered unto death in the nether parts of the earth in the midst of the children of men among them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went down to hell, I caused them to mourn, and I <sup>1</sup>covered the deep for him, and I did restrain the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell, with them that descend into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: even all that are nourished with waters, shall <sup>1</sup>be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down to hell with him unto them that were slain with the sword, and his arm, and they that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou art like a <sup>1</sup>lion of the nations, and art as a <sup>2</sup>dragon in the sea: thou castedst out thy rivers <sup>3</sup>and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and stampedst in their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, <sup>a</sup>I will therefore spread my net over thee a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come up into my net, cast thee upon the open field, and I will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill all the beasts of the field with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys <sup>1</sup>with thine height.

6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou <sup>1</sup>swimmest, even to the mountains, and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall <sup>1</sup>put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark: <sup>b</sup>I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the lights of heaven will I make dark for thee, and bring <sup>1</sup>darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also trouble the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, and upon the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be astonished with fear for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter against their faces, and they shall be afraid at every moment: every man for his own life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babel shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shall be terrible nations, and they shall destroy the <sup>1</sup>pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from the great watersides, neither shall the foot of man trouble them anymore, nor the hooves of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make <sup>1</sup>their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country with all that is therein, shall be laid waste: when I shall smite all them which dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

31:15 <sup>1</sup> The deep waters that caused him to mount so high (meaning his great abundance and pomp) shall now lament as though they were covered with sackcloth.

31:16 <sup>1</sup> To cause this destruction of the king of Assyria to seem more horrible, he setteth forth other kings and princes which are dead, as though they rejoiced at the fall of such a tyrant.

31:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Pharaoh's power was nothing so great as his was.

32:1 <sup>1</sup> Which was the first year of the general captivity under Zedekiah.

32:2 <sup>1</sup> Thus the scriptures compare tyrants to cruel and huge beasts which devour all that be weaker than they, and such as they may overcome.

32:5 <sup>1</sup> With heaps of the carcasses of thine army.

32:6 <sup>1</sup> As Nile overfloweth Egypt, so will I make the blood of thine host to overflow it.

32:7 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth to be put out as a candle is put out.

32:8 <sup>1</sup> By this manner of speech is meant the great sorrow that shall be for the slaughter of the king and his people.

32:12 <sup>1</sup> This came to pass in less than four years after this prophecy.

32:14 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of the Chaldeans thine enemies, which shall quietly enjoy all thy commodities.

17 ¶ In the twelfth year also in the fifteenth day of the month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and <sup>1</sup>cast them down, even them and the daughters of the mighty nations under the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom dost thou pass <sup>1</sup>in beauty? go down and sleep with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: <sup>1</sup>she is delivered to the sword: draw her down, and all her multitude.

21 The most mighty and strong shall speak to <sup>1</sup>him out of the midst of hell with them that help her: they are gone down, and sleep with the uncircumcised that be slain by the sword.

22 Assyria is there and all his company: their graves are about him: all they are slain and fallen by the sword.

23 Whose graves are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are round about his grave: all they are slain and fallen by the sword, which caused fear to be in the land of the living.

24 There is <sup>1</sup>Elam and all his multitude round about his grave: all they are slain and fallen by the sword, which are gone down with the uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused themselves to be feared in the land of the <sup>2</sup>living, yet have they borne their shame with them that are gone down to the pit.

25 They have made his bed in the midst of the slain with all his multitude: their graves are round about him: all these uncircumcised are slain by the sword: though they have caused their fear in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: they are laid in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is <sup>1</sup>Meshech, Tubal, and all their multitude: their graves are round about them: all these uncircumcised were slain by the sword, though they caused their fear to be in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the valiant <sup>1</sup>of the uncircumcised, that are fallen, which are gone down to the grave with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquity shall be upon their bones: because they were the fear of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and lie with them that are slain by the sword.

29 There is Edom, his kings, and all his princes, which with their strength are laid by them that were slain by the sword: they shall sleep with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 There be all the princes of the <sup>1</sup>North, with all the Sidonians, which are gone down with the slain, with their fear: they are ashamed of their strength, and the uncircumcised sleep with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and he shall be <sup>1</sup>comforted over all his multitude: Pharaoh, and all his army shall be slain by the sword, saith the Lord God.

32 For I have caused my <sup>1</sup>fear to be in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them, that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

33 <sup>2</sup>The office of the governors and ministers. <sup>14</sup>He strengtheneth them that despair, and boldeneth them with the promise of mercy. <sup>30</sup>The word of the Lord against the mockers of the Prophet.

1 Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man <sup>1</sup>from among them, and make him their <sup>2</sup>watchman,

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people,

4 Then he that heareth the sound of the trumpet, and will not be warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be admonished: therefore his blood shall be upon him: but he that receiveth warning, shall save his life.

32:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, prophesy, that they shall be cast down: thus the Lord giveth his Prophets power both to plant and to destroy by his word, read Jer. 1:10.

32:19 <sup>1</sup> Have not other kingdoms, more beautiful than thou, perished?

32:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, Egypt.

32:21 <sup>1</sup> To make the matter more sensible, he bringeth in Pharaoh whom the dead shall meet and marvel at him, read Isa. 14:9.

32:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Persians.

32:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Cappadocians and Italians, or Spaniards, as Josephus writeth.

32:27 <sup>1</sup> Which died not by cruel death, but by the course of nature, and are honorably buried with their coat armor, and signs of honor.

32:30 <sup>1</sup> The Kings of Babylon.

32:31 <sup>1</sup> As the wicked rejoice when they see others partakers of their miseries.

32:32 <sup>1</sup> I will make the Egyptians afraid of me, as they caused others to fear them.

33:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, of their coasts.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that the people ought to have continually governors and teachers which may have a care over them, and to warn them ever of the dangers which are at hand.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away for his <sup>1</sup>iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 "So thou, O son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt hear the word at my <sup>1</sup>mouth, and admonish them from me.

8 When I shall say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou dost not speak and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquity, but his blood will I <sup>1</sup>require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, if he do not turn from his way, he shall die for his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak and say, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we are consumed because of them, <sup>1</sup>how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, <sup>1</sup>I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn you, turn you from your evil ways, for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The <sup>1</sup>righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression, nor the wickedness of the wicked shall cause him to fall therein, in the day that he returneth from his wickedness, neither shall the righteous live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say unto the righteous, that he shall surely live, if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousness shall be no more remembered, but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for the same.

14 Again when I shall say unto the wicked, Thou shalt die the death, if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and <sup>1</sup>right,

CHAPTER 33

15 To wit, if the wicked restore the pledge, and give again that he had robbed, and walk in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity, he shall surely live, and not die.

16 None of his sins that he hath committed, shall be mentioned unto him: because he hath done that, which is lawful and right, he shall surely live.

17 Yet the children of thy people say, <sup>b</sup>The way of the Lord is not equal: but their own way is unequal.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked return from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal, O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 Also in the twelfth year of our <sup>1</sup>captivity, in the tenth month, and in the fifth day of the month, one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came unto me, and said, The city is smitten.

22 Now the <sup>1</sup>hand of the Lord had been upon me in the evening afore he that had escaped, came, and had opened my mouth until he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my <sup>2</sup>mouth, I was no more dumb.

23 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, and said,

24 Son of man, these that dwell in the desolate places of the land of Israel, talk and say, <sup>1</sup>Abraham was but one, and he possessed the land: but we are many, therefore the land shall be given us in possession.

25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Ye eat with the <sup>1</sup>blood, and lifted up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood: should ye then possess the land?

26 Ye lean upon your <sup>1</sup>swords, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbor's wife: should ye then possess the land?

27 Say thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I live, so surely they that are in the desolate places, 33:6 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the wicked shall not escape punishment though the watchman be negligent: but if the watchman blow the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he shall deserve double punishment.

33:7 <sup>1</sup> Which teacheth that he that receiveth not his charge at the Lord's mouth, is a spy, and not a true watchman.

33:8 <sup>1</sup> The watchman must answer for the blood of all that perish through his negligence.

33:10 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked when they hear God's judgments for their sins, despair of his mercies, and murmur.

33:11 <sup>1</sup> Read Ezek. 18:23.

33:12 <sup>1</sup> Read of this righteousness, Ezek. 18:21, 24.

33:14 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he condemneth all them of hypocrisy, which pretend to forsake wickedness, and yet declare not themselves such by their fruits, that is, in obeying God's commandments, and by godly life.

33:21 <sup>1</sup> When the Prophet was led away captive with Jeconiah.

33:22 <sup>1</sup> I was endued with the Spirit of prophecy, Ezek. 8:1.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby is signified that the ministers of God cannot speak till God give them courage, and open their mouths, Ezek. 24:27 and 29:21; Eph. 6:19.

33:24 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked think themselves more worthy to enjoy God's promises than the Saints of God, to whom they were made: and would bind God to be subject to them, though they would not be bound to him.

33:25 <sup>1</sup> Contrary to the Law, Lev. 17:14.

shall fall by the sword: and him that is in the open field, will I give unto the beasts to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the 'pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominations, that they have committed.

30 Also thou son of man, the children of thy people that <sup>1</sup>talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of houses, and speak one to another, everyone to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh from the Lord.

31 For they come unto thee, as the people useth to come: and my people sit before thee, and hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouths they make <sup>1</sup>jests, and their heart goeth after their covetousness.

32 And lo, thou art unto them, as a <sup>1</sup>jesting song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can sing well: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to pass (for lo, it will come) then shall they know, that a Prophet hath been among them.

34 2 Against the shepherds that despised the flock of Christ, and seek their own reign. 7 The Lord saith that he will visit his dispersed flock, and gather them together. 23 He promiseth the true shepherd Christ, and with him peace.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds, "Woe be unto the <sup>1</sup>shepherds of Israel, that feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?"

3 Ye eat the <sup>1</sup>fat, and ye clothe you with the wool: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feed not the sheep.

4 The <sup>1</sup>weak have ye not strengthened: the sick have ye not healed, neither have ye bound up the broken, nor brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost, but with cruelty, and with rigor have ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepherd: and when they were dispersed, they were <sup>1</sup>devoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered through all the earth, and none did seek or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord.

8 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely because my flock was spoiled, and my sheep were devoured of all the beasts of the field, having no shepherd, neither did my shepherds seek my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep,

9 Therefore, hear ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepherds.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepherds, and will require my sheep at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep: neither shall the shepherds feed themselves anymore: for I will deliver thy sheep from <sup>1</sup>their mouths, and they shall no more devour them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 As a shepherd searcheth out his flock, when he hath been among his sheep that are scattered, so will I seek out my sheep and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been scattered in <sup>1</sup>the cloudy and dark day,

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my sheep, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen the weak, but I will destroy the fat and the <sup>1</sup>strong, and I will

33:30 <sup>1</sup> In derision.

33:31 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that we ought to hear God's word with such zeal and affection, that we should in all points obey it, else we abuse the word to our own condemnation, and make of his ministers, as though they were jests to serve men's foolish fantasies.

17 Also you my sheep, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, between the rams and the goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good <sup>1</sup>pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet, the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must trouble the residue with your feet.

19 And my sheep eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and drink that which ye have troubled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God unto them, Behold, I, even I will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the weak with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad,

22 Therefore will I help my sheep, and they shall no more be spoiled, and I will judge between sheep and sheep.

23 And I will set up a shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant <sup>1</sup>David, he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and my servant David shall be the Prince among them, I the Lord have spoken it.

27 And the <sup>1</sup>tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall give her fruit, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the cords of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hands of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be spoiled of the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them, but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a <sup>1</sup>plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the reproach of the heathen anymore.

30 Thus shall they understand, that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel are my people, saith the Lord God.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword in the time of their calamity, when their <sup>1</sup>iniquity had an end,

6 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: except thou <sup>1</sup>hate blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thine hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers shall they fall, that are slain with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not <sup>1</sup>return, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

20 <sup>b</sup>And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they polluted mine holy Name, when they said of them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone out of his land.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities, and the desolate places shall be built.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

35 For they said, This waste land was like the garden of Eden, and these waste, and desolate, and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen, that are left round about you, shall <sup>j</sup>know that I the Lord build the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I will yet for this be sought of the house of Israel, to perform it unto them: I will increase them with men like a flock.

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and make flesh grow upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, that ye may live, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold, there was a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews, and the flesh grew upon them, and above the skin covered them, but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the wind: prophecy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord God, Come from the four <sup>1</sup>winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, and we are clean cut off.

12 <sup>1</sup>And seven months long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and they shall have a name, when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall choose out men to go continually through the <sup>1</sup>land with them that travail, to bury those that remain upon the ground, to cleanse it: they shall search to the end of seven months.

15 And the travelers that pass through the land, if any see a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon Gog.

16 And also the name of the city shall be <sup>1</sup>Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God, Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to all the beasts of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come: <sup>1</sup>gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice: for I do sacrifice a great sacrifice for you upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the valiant, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambs, and of the goats, and of bullocks, even of all fat beasts of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I have sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord God.

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment, that I have executed, and mine hand, which I have laid upon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

39:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, destroy thee with six plagues, as Ezek. 38:22.

39:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that by the virtue of God's word the enemy shall be destroyed wheresoever he assaileth his Church.

39:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, seem they never so far separated.

39:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, this plague is fully determined, in my counsel, and cannot be changed.

39:9 <sup>1</sup> After this destruction the Church shall have great peace and tranquility, and burn all their weapons, because they shall no more fear the enemies, and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christ's kingdom when by their head Christ, all enemies shall be overcome.

39:11 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that the enemies shall have an horrible fall.

39:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, a long time.

39:14 <sup>1</sup> Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion that the children of God have, even on their enemies.

39:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, multitude.

39:17 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he signifieth the horrible destruction that should come upon the enemies of his Church.

23 And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for <sup>1</sup>their iniquity, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleanness, and according to their transgressions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have compassion upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they have borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they have transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without fear of any.

27 When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am <sup>a</sup>sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they know, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them anymore there,

29 Neither will I hide my face anymore from them: for I have poured out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

40 The restoring of the city and the Temple.

1 In the five and twentieth year of our being in captivity, in the <sup>1</sup>beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, the hand of the Lord was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by <sup>1a</sup> a divine vision, and set me upon a very high mountain, whereupon was as the building of a city, toward the South.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a <sup>1</sup>man, whose similitude was to look to, like brass, with a linen thread in his hand, and a reed to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall show thee: for to the intent that they might be showed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest unto the house of Israel.

5 And behold, I saw a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the man's hand was a reed to measure with, of six cubits long, by the cubit, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reed, and the height with one reed.

6 Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the East, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the <sup>1</sup>post of the gate, which was one reed broad, and <sup>2</sup>the other post of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and between the chambers were five cubits: and the post of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within with one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate of eight cubits and the <sup>1</sup>posts thereof, of two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the Chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the posts had one measure on this side, and one on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits, and the height of the gate thirteen cubits.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubit on this side and the space was one cubit on that side, and the chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of a chamber to the top of the gate: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.

14 He made also posts of threescore cubits, and the posts of the court, and of the gate, had one measure round about.

15 And upon the forefront of the entry of the gate unto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were fifty cubits.

16 And there were narrow windows in the chambers, and in their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windows went round about within: and upon the posts were palm trees.

17 ¶ Then brought he me into the outward court, and lo, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about, and thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates

39:23 <sup>1</sup> The heathen shall know that they overcame not my people by their strength, neither yet by the weakness of mine arm, but that this was for my people's sins.

over against the length of the gates, and the pavement was beneath.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the fore-front of the lower gate without, unto the forefront of the court within, an hundred cubits Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches with their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and the going up unto it had seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood over against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 After that, he brought me toward the South, and lo, there was a gate toward the South, and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the height was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side upon the post thereof.

27 ¶ And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate, according to these measures,

29 And the chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter Court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ Again he brought me into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ After he brought me to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures, 36 The chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windows therein round about: the height was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the utter court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And every chamber, and the entry thereof was under the posts of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, upon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steps, at the entry of the North gate stood two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side by the side of the gate even eight tables whereupon they slew their sacrifice.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broad, fastened round about, and upon the tables lay the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, having the prospect toward the North.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South is for the Priests, that have charge to keep the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priests that have the charge to keep the Altar: these are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, which may come near to the Lord to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, even four square: likewise the Altar that was before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the posts of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it, and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side and another on that side.

41 1 The disposition and order of the building of the Temple, and the other things thereunto belonging.

1 Afterward, he brought me to the Temple and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entry was ten cubits, and the sides of the entry were five cubits, on the one side, and five cubits on the other side, and he measured the length thereof forty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

3 Then went he in, and measured the posts of the entry two cubits, and the entry six cubits, and the breadth of the entry seven cubits.

4 So he measured the length thereof twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the Temple, and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, he measured the wall of the house, six cubits, and the breadth of every chamber four cubits round about the house, on every side.

6 And the chambers were chamber upon chamber, three and thirty foot high, and they entered into the wall made for the chambers which was round about the house, that the posts might be fastened therein, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large, and went round mounting upward to the chambers: for the stairs of the house was mounting upward, round about the house: therefore the house was larger upward: so they went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall which was for the chamber without, was five cubits, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the House on every side.

11 And the doors of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one door toward the North, and another door toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubits long, and the separate place and the building with the walls thereof were an hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place, which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundred cubits with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The posts and the narrow windows, and the chambers round about, on three sides over against the posts, ceiled with cedar wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were ceiled.

17 And from above the door unto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without it was ceiled according to the measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a Cherub and a Cherub: and every Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were Cherubims, and palm trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The posts of the Temple were squared, and thus to look unto was the similitude and form of the Sanctuary.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits, and the corners thereof and the length thereof and the sides thereof were of wood. And he said unto me, This is the Table that shall be before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two wickets, even two turning wickets, two wickets for one door, and two wickets for another door.

25 And upon the doors of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palm trees, like as was made upon the walls, and there were thick planks upon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and upon the sides of the house, and thick planks.

42 Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

CHAPTER 43

*Ezek. 9:3

1 Then brought he me into the utter court by the way toward the North, and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits, was the North door, and it was fifty cubits broad.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement, which was for the utter court, was chamber against chamber in three rows.

4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubits wide, and within was a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the North.

5 Now the chambers above were narrower: for those chambers seemed to eat up these, to wit, the lower, and those that were in the midst of the building.

6 For they were in three rows, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middlemost, even from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the utter court on the forefront of the chambers, was fifty cubits long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court, was fifty cubits: and lo, before the Temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And under these chambers was the entry, on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the East, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was after the manner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers, that were toward the South, was a door in the corner of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entereth.

13 Then said he unto me, The North chambers and the South chambers which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers wherein the Priests that approach unto the Lord, shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering: for the place is holy.

14 When the Priests enter therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and so shall approach to those things, which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring rod, five hundred reeds even with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured also the North side, five hundred reeds, even with the measuring reed round about.

18 And he measured the South <sup>1</sup>side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

19 He turned about also to the West side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad to make a separation between the Sanctuary, and the profane place.

43 <sup>2</sup>He seeth the glory of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. <sup>7</sup>He mentioneth the idolatry of the children of Israel, for the which they were consumed and brought to naught. <sup>9</sup>He is commanded to call them again to repentance.

1 Afterward he brought me to the gate even the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel, came from out of the East, whose voice was like a noise of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glory.

3 And the vision which I saw was <sup>4</sup>like the vision, even as the vision that I saw <sup>5</sup>when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell upon my face.

4 And the <sup>1</sup>glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit took me up and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house: and there stood a man by me,

7 Which said unto me, Son of man this place is my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel forever, and the house of Israel shall no more <sup>1</sup>defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their kings by their fornication, nor by the carcasses of <sup>2</sup>their kings in their high places.

8 Albeit they set their thresholds by my thresholds, and their posts by my posts (for there was but a wall between me and them) yet have they defiled mine holy Name with their abominations, that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, and the carcasses of their kings far from me, and I will dwell among them forever.

10 ¶ Thou son of man, show this House to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickedness, and let them measure the pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, show them the form of the house, and the pattern thereof, and the going out thereof, and the coming in thereof, and the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the <sup>1</sup>description of the house, It shall be upon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the Altar, after the cubits, the cubit is a cubit, and an hand breadth, even the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about shall be a span: and this shall be the height of the Altar.

14 And from the bottom which toucheth the ground to the lower piece shall be two cubits and the breadth one cubit, and from the little piece to the great piece shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So the altar shall be four cubits, and from the altar upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long and twelve broad, and foursquare in the four corners thereof.

17 And the frame shall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the foursquare corners thereof, and the border about it shall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about, and the steps thereof shall be turned toward the East.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it to offer the burnt offering thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to the Priests, and to the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord God, a young bullock for a sin offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the frame, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcile it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin offering, and burn it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an he goat without blemish for a sin offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the Priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering unto the Lord.

25 Seven days shalt thou prepare every day an he goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seven days purify the altar, and cleanse it, and <sup>1</sup>consecrate it.

27 And when these days are expired upon the eighth day and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings, and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

44 He reproveth the people for their offense. 7 The uncircumcised in heart, and in the flesh. 9 Who are to be admitted to the service of the Temple, and who to be refused.

1 Then he brought me toward the gate of the outward Sanctuary, which turneth toward the East, and it was shut.

2 Then said the Lord unto me, This gate shall be <sup>1</sup>shut, and shall not be opened, and no man shall enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entered by it, and it shall be shut.

3 It appertaineth to the Prince: the Prince himself shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me toward the North gate before the house: and when I looked, behold, the glory of the Lord, filled the house of the Lord, and I fell upon my face.

5 And the Lord said unto me, Son of man, <sup>1</sup>mark well and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, all that I say unto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the laws thereof, and mark well the entering in of the house with every going forth of the Sanctuary.

43:12 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, law.

43:26 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, fill his hand.

44:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, from the common people, but not from the Priests, nor the Prince, read Ezek. 46:8,9.

44:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, set thine hearts.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, O house of Israel, ye have enough of all your abominations,

7 Seeing that ye have brought into my Sanctuary <sup>1</sup>strangers uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuary, to pollute mine house, when ye offer my bread, even fat, and blood: and they have broken my covenant, because of all your abominations.

8 For ye have not kept the <sup>1</sup>ordinances of mine holy things: but you yourselves have set others to take the charge of my Sanctuary.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, No stranger uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel,

10 Neither yet the <sup>1</sup>Levites that are gone back from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols, but they shall bear their iniquity.

11 And they shall serve in my Sanctuary, and keep the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people: and they shall stand before them to serve them.

12 Because they served before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall bear their iniquity,

13 And they shall not come near unto me to do the office of the Priest unto me, neither shall they come near unto any of mine holy things in the most holy place, but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations, which they have committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the Priests of the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that <sup>1</sup>kept the charge of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to serve me, and they shall stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and shall come near to my table, to serve me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 And when they shall enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments, and no wool shall come upon them while they serve in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins: they shall not gird themselves in the sweating places.

19 But when they go forth into the utter court, even to the utter court to the people, they shall put off their garments, wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments: for they shall not sanctify the people with their garments.

20 They shall not also <sup>1</sup>shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long, but round their heads.

21 <sup>a</sup>Neither shall any Priests drink wine when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their <sup>b</sup>wives a widow, or her that is divorced: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that hath been the widow of a Priest.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controversy they shall stand to judge, and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall sanctify my Sabbaths.

25 <sup>c</sup>And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves, except at their father or mother, or son or daughter, brother or sister, that hath had yet none husband: in these may they <sup>1</sup>be defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days.

27 And when he goeth into the Sanctuary, unto the inner court, to minister in the Sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord God.

28 <sup>d</sup>And the Priesthood shall be their inheritance, yea, I am their inheritance: therefore shall ye give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession.

29 They shall eat the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering, and every dedicated thing in Israel shall be theirs.

30 <sup>e</sup>And all the first of all the firstborn, and every oblation, even all of every sort of your oblations shall be the Priest's. Ye shall also give unto the Priest the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

1 Moreover, when ye shall divide the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord an <sup>1</sup>holy portion of the land, five and twenty thousand reeds long, and ten thousand broad: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, all square round about, and fifty cubits round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuary, which came near to serve the Lord: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Levites that minister in the house, have their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Also ye shall appoint the possession of the city, five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side, and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, even before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shall be by one of the portions from the West border unto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people, and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it <sup>1</sup>suffice you, O princes of Israel: leave off cruelty and oppression, and execute judgment and justice: take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and drink offerings in the solemn feasts and in the new moons, and in the Sabbaths, and in all the high feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meat offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, In the first month, in the first day of the <sup>1</sup>month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish and cleanse the Sanctuary.

46 <sup>1</sup> The sacrifices of the Sabbath and of the new moon. <sup>8</sup> Through which doors they must go in, or come out of the Temple, etc.

1 Thus saith the Lord God, The gate of the inner court, that turneth toward the East, shall be shut the six working days: but on the Sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the Priests shall make his burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: after he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut till the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the entry of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths, and in the new moons.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the Lord on the Sabbath day, shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat offering shall be an Ephah for a ram: and the meat offering for the lambs <sup>1</sup>a gift of his hand, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat offering, even an Ephah for a bullock, and an Ephah for a ram, and for the lambs <sup>1</sup>according as his hand shall bring, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the North gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the South gate: and he that entereth by the way of the South gate, shall go forth by the way of the North gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but they shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince shall be in the midst of them: he shall go in when they go in, and when they go forth, they shall go forth together.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities the meat offering shall be an Ephah to a bullock, and an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambs, the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall make a free burnt offering, or peace offerings freely unto the Lord, one shall then open him the gate that turneth toward the East, and he shall make his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after he shall go forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a burnt offering unto the Lord of a lamb of one year, without blemish: thou shalt do it every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oil, to mingle with the fine flour: this meat offering shall be continually by a perpetual ordinance unto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil every morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift of his inheritance unto any of his sons, it shall be his sons, and it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the <sup>1</sup>year of liberty: after, it shall return to the Prince, but his inheritance shall remain to his sons for them.

18 Moreover the prince shall not <sup>1</sup>take of the people's inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: but he shall cause his sons to inherit of his own possession, that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests, which stood toward the North: and behold, there was a place at the West side of them.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the Priests shall see the trespass offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meat offering, that they should not bear them into the utter court, <sup>1</sup>to sanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to go by the four corners of the court: and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts joined of forty cubits long, and thirty broad:

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was a <sup>1</sup>river, that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flow, as a river that could not be passed over.

13 And over against the border of the Priests the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand long, and [ten] thousand broad: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither change it, nor alienate the firstfruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

DANIEL

1 In the <sup>1</sup>third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel unto Jerusalem and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried into the land of <sup>1</sup>Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his god's treasury.

3 And the King spake unto <sup>1</sup>Ashpenaz the master of his <sup>2</sup>Eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, of the <sup>3</sup>King's seed, and of the princes:

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well <sup>1</sup>favoured, and instruct in all wisdom, and well seen in knowledge, and able to utter knowledge, and such as were able to stand in the king's palace, and whom they might <sup>2</sup>teach the learning, and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them provision every day of a <sup>1</sup>portion of the king's meat, and of the wine, which he drank, so nourishing them <sup>2</sup>three years, that at the end thereof, they might stand <sup>3</sup>before the king.

6 Now among these were certain of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

7 Unto whom the chief of the Eunuchs <sup>1</sup>gave other names: for he called Daniel, Belteshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Mishael, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniel had determined in his heart, that he would not <sup>1</sup>defile himself with the portion of the King's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he required the chief of the Eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into favor, and tender love with the chief of the Eunuchs.)

10 And the chief of the Eunuchs said unto Daniel, <sup>1</sup>I fear my lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: therefore if he see your faces worse liking than the other children which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head unto the King.

11 Then said Daniel to Melzar, whom the chief of the Eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, <sup>1</sup>ten days, and let them give us <sup>2</sup>pulse to eat, and water to drink.

<sup>2</sup> He calleth them Eunuchs whom the King nourished and brought up to be rulers of other countries afterward.

<sup>3</sup> His purpose was to keep them as hostages, and that he might show himself victorious, and also by their good entreaty and learning of his religion, they might favor rather him than the Jews, and so to be able to serve him as governors in their land: moreover by this means the Jews might be better kept in subjection, fearing otherwise to procure hurt to these noble men.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witty and learned, and that they should be of a strong and comely nature, that they might do him better service: this he did for his own commodity, therefore it is not to praise his liberality: yet in this he is worthy praise, that he esteemed learning, and knew that it was a necessary means to govern by.

<sup>2</sup> That they might forget their own religion, and country fashions to serve him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learn any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refused the abuse of things and superstition, insomuch that he would not eat the meat which the King appointed him, but was content to learn the knowledge of natural things.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> That by their good entertainment they might learn to forget the mediocrity of their own people.

<sup>2</sup> To the intent that in this time they might both learn the manners of the Chaldeans, and also their tongue.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Jews gave their children names, which might ever put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great temptation and a sign of servitude, which they were not able to resist.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> Not that he thought any religion to be in the meat or drink, (for afterward he did eat) but because the king should not entice him by this sweet poison to forget his religion and accustomed sobriety, and that in his meat and drink he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in to show how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore herein he representeth them, which are of no religion: for neither he would condemn theirs, nor maintain his own.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that within this space he might have the trial, and that no man should be able to discern it: and thus he spake, being moved by the Spirit of God.

<sup>2</sup> Not that it was a thing abominable to eat dainty meats, and to drink wine, as both before and after they did, but if they should have hereby been won to the King, and have refused their own religion, that meat and drink had been accursed.

before thee, and the countenances of the children that eat of the portion of the King's meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days, their <sup>1</sup>countenances appeared fairer, and in <sup>2</sup>better liking than all the children's, which did eat the portion of the King's meat.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse.

17 As for these four children, God gave them knowledge, and understanding in all learning <sup>1</sup>and wisdom: also he gave Daniel understanding of all <sup>2</sup>visions and dreams.

18 Now when the time <sup>1</sup>was expired, that the King had appointed to bring them in, the chief of the Eunuchs brought them before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the King communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom, and understanding that the King enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the enchanters and astrologians that were in all his realm.

1 And in the <sup>1</sup>second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed <sup>2</sup>dreams wherewith his spirit was <sup>3</sup>troubled, and his <sup>4</sup>sleep was upon him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the enchanters, and the astrologians, and the sorcerers, and the <sup>1</sup>Chaldeans for to show the king his dreams: so they came and stood before the King.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in the <sup>1</sup>Aramite's language, O king, live forever: show thy servants thy dream, and we shall show the interpretation.

5 And the King answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me. If ye will not make me understand the dream with the interpretation thereof, ye <sup>1</sup>shall be drawn in pieces, and your houses shall be made a jakes.

6 But if ye declare the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards, and great honor: therefore show me the dream and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered again, and said, Let the king show <sup>1</sup>his servants the dream, and we will declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered, and said, I know certainly that ye <sup>1</sup>would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not declare me the dream, there is but one judgment for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words, to speak before me till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, that I may know, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is no man upon earth that can declare the king's matter: yea, there is neither King nor Prince nor lord that asked such things at an enchanter, or

<sup>4</sup> He was so heavy with sleep, that he began to sleep again. Some read, and his sleep was broken from him.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Herein appeared their ignorance, that notwithstanding their brags, yet were they not able to tell the dream, except he entered them into the matter, and therefore they would pretend knowledge where was but mere ignorance, and so as deluders of the people, they were worthy to die.

astrologian, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the king, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and in great fury, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 ¶ And when sentence was given, the wise men were slain: and they <sup>1</sup>sought Daniel and his fellows to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the king's <sup>1</sup>chief steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 Yea, he answered and said unto Arioch the king's captain, Why is the sentence so hasty from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the king that he would give him leisure, and that he would show the king the interpretation thereof.

17 ¶ Then Daniel went to his house, and showed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions, 18 That they should beseech the God of heaven for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heaven.

20 And Daniel answered and said, <sup>a</sup>The Name of God be praised forever and ever: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 And he changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and understanding to those that understand.

22 He discovereth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in darkness, and the <sup>1</sup>light dwelleth with him.

<sup>2</sup>strength, and hast showed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared unto us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went unto Arioch, whom the King had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babel: he went and said thus unto him, Destroy not <sup>1</sup>the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the king, and I will declare unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of Judah that were brought captives, that will declare unto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king, and said unto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to show me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the enchanters, nor the soothsayers declare unto the king.

28 But there is a God in <sup>1</sup>heaven that revealeth secrets, and showeth the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the things which thou hast seen in thine head upon thy bed, is this:

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy mind, what should come to pass hereafter, and he that revealeth secrets, telleth thee what shall come.

30 As <sup>1</sup>for me, this secret is not showed me for any wisdom that I have more than any other living, but only to show the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O king, thou sawest, and behold, there was a great image: this great image whose glory was so excellent, stood before thee, and the form therefore was terrible.

32 This image's head was of fine <sup>1</sup>gold, his breast, and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass,

33 His legs of iron, and his feet were part of iron,

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that God would not have his servant joined in the company of these sorcerers and Astrologers, whose arts were wicked, and therefore justly ought to die, though the king did it upon a rage and no zeal.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> Or, the captain of the guards.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that man hath neither wisdom nor knowledge, but very dark blindness and ignorance of himself: for it cometh only of God, that man understandeth anything.

2:23 <sup>1</sup> To whom thou madest thy promise, and who lived in thy fear: whereby he excludeth all other gods.

2:24 <sup>1</sup> Whereby appeareth that many were slain, as verse 13, and the rest at Daniel's offer were preserved on condition: not that Daniel favored their wicked profession, but that he had respect to equity, because the King proceeded according to his wicked affection, and not considering if their science were lawful or no.

2:28 <sup>1</sup> He affirmeth that man by reason and art is not able to attain to the cause of God's secrets, but the understanding only thereof must come of God: whereby he smiteth the king with a certain fear and reverence of God, that he might be the more apt to receive the high mysteries, that should be revealed.

2:30 <sup>1</sup> Because he had said that God only must reveal the signification of this dream, the King might have asked, why Daniel did enterprise to interpret it, and therefore he showeth that he was but God's minister and had no gifts, but such as God had given him to set forth his glory.

2:32 <sup>1</sup> By gold, silver, brass and iron, are meant the Chaldean, Persian, Macedonian and Roman kingdoms, which should successively rule all the world till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himself, and destroy the last: and this was to assure the Jews, that their affliction should not end with the empire of the Chaldeans, but that they should patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth monarchy.

and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image upon his feet, that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver and the gold broken all together, and became like the chaff of the summer flowers, and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dream, and we will declare before the king the interpretation thereof.

37 ¶ O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And in all places where the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art <sup>1</sup>this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall rise another kingdom, <sup>1</sup>inferior to thee, of silver, and another <sup>2</sup>third kingdom shall be of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: for as iron breaketh in pieces, and subdueth all things, and as iron bruiseeth all these things, so shall it break in <sup>1</sup>pieces, and bruise all.

41 Whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potter's clay, and part of iron: the kingdom shall be <sup>1</sup>divided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, as thou sawest the iron mixed with the clay, and earth.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so shall the kingdom be partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with clay and earth, they shall mingle themselves with <sup>1</sup>the seed of men: but they shall not join one with another, as iron cannot be mixed with clay.

44 And in the days of these kings, shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which <sup>1</sup>shall never be destroyed: and this kingdom shall not be given to another people, but it shall break, and destroy all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

45 Whereas thou sawest, that the <sup>1</sup>stone was cut of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold: so the great God hath showed the king, what shall come to pass hereafter, and the dream is true, and the interpretation thereof is sure.

46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and <sup>1</sup>bowed himself unto Daniel, and commanded that they should offer meat offerings, and sweet odors unto him.

47 Also the King answered unto Daniel, and said, I know of a truth that your <sup>1</sup>God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and the revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest open this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many and great <sup>1</sup>gifts. He made him governor over the whole province of Babel, and chief of the rulers, and above all the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniel <sup>1</sup>made request to the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the charge of the province of Babel: but Daniel sat in the <sup>2</sup>gate of the king.

3 <sup>1</sup> The king setteth up a golden image. <sup>8</sup> Certain are accused because they despised the king's commandment,

2:38 <sup>1</sup> Daniel leaveth out the kingdom of the Assyrians, which was before the Babylonian, both because it was not a Monarchy and general empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the coming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderful alterations, and he calleth the Babylonian kingdom the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet it was of itself wicked and cruel.

2:39 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Persians which were not inferior in dignity, power, and riches, but were worse touching ambition, cruelty, and all kind of vice, showing that the world should grow worse and worse, till it was restored by Christ.

<sup>2</sup> That is, of the Macedonians shall be of brass, not alluding to the hardness thereof, but to the vileness in respect of silver.

2:40 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Roman empire shall subdue all these other aforementioned, which after Alexander were divided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians and Egyptians.

2:41 <sup>1</sup> They shall have civil wars, and continual discords among themselves.

2:43 <sup>1</sup> They shall by marriages and affinities think to make themselves strong: yet shall they never be joined in hearts.

2:44 <sup>1</sup> His purpose is to show, that all the kingdoms of the world are transitory, and that the kingdom of Christ shall only remain forever.

2:45 <sup>1</sup> Meaning Christ, who was sent of God, and not set up by man, whose kingdom at the beginning should be small and without beauty to man's judgment, but should at length grow and fill the whole earth, which he calleth a great mountain, as verse 35. And this kingdom which is not only referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to every member thereof, shall be eternal: for the Spirit that is in them is life eternal, Rom. 8:10.

2:46 <sup>1</sup> Though this humbling of the king seemed to deserve commendation, yet because he joined God's honor with the Prophet's, it is to be reprov'd, and Daniel herein erred, if he suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it.

2:47 <sup>1</sup> This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exod. 9:28, but his heart was not touched, as appeared soon afterward.

2:48 <sup>1</sup> Not that the Prophet was desirous of gifts or honor, but because by this means he might relieve his poor brethren, which were grievously oppressed in this their captivity, and also he received them, lest he should offend this cruel king, which willingly gave them.

2:49 <sup>1</sup> He did not this for their private profit: but that the whole Church, which was then there in affliction, might have some release and ease by this benefit.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that either he was a judge, or that he had the whole authority, so that none could be admitted to the king's presence, but by him.

and are put into a burning oven. 15 By belief in God they are delivered from the fire. 25 Nebuchadnezzar confesseth the power of God after the sight of the miracle.

1 Nebuchadnezzar the king made <sup>1</sup>an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babel.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes and the dukes, the judges, the receivers, the counselors, the officers, and all the governors of the provinces, that they should come to the <sup>1</sup>dedication of the image, which Nebuchadnezzar the <sup>2</sup>King had set up.

3 So the nobles, princes, and dukes, the judges, the receivers, the counselors, the officers, and all the governors of the provinces were assembled unto the dedicating of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set up and they stood before the image which Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, Be it known to you, O people, <sup>1</sup>nations, and languages,

5 That when ye hear the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all instruments of music, ye fall down, and worship the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6 And whosoever falleth not down, and worship-peth, shall the same hour be cast into the midst of an hot fiery furnace.

7 Therefore as soon as all the people heard the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all instruments of music, all the people, nations, and languages fell down, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 ¶ By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Chaldeans, and grievously accused the Jews.

9 For they spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O King, live forever.

10 Thou, O King, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all instruments of music, shall fall down, and worship the golden image.

11 And whosoever falleth not down, and worship-peth, that he should be cast into the midst of an hot fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the charge of the province of Babel, <sup>1</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: these men, O King, have not regarded thy commandment, neither will they serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his anger and wrath commanded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, so these men were brought before the king.

14 And Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said unto them, What disorder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, serve my god, nor worship the golden image that I have set up?

15 <sup>1</sup>Now therefore are ye ready when ye hear the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all instruments of music, to fall down, and worship the image which I have made? for if ye worship it not, ye shall be cast immediately into the midst of an hot fiery furnace: for who is that God, that can deliver you out of mine hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the King, O Nebuchadnezzar, we <sup>1</sup>are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 Behold, our God whom we serve, is <sup>1</sup>able to deliver us from the hot fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known to thee, O king, that

3:1 <sup>1</sup> Under pretence of religion, and holiness in making an image to his idol Bel, he sought his own ambition and vain glory: and this declareth that he was not toucheth with the true fear of God before but that he confessed him on a sudden motion as the wicked when they are overcome with the greatness of his works. The Greek interpreters write, that this was done eighteen years after the dream, and as may appear, the King feared lest the Jews by their religion, should have altered the state of his commonwealth, and therefore he meant to bring all to one kind of religion, and so rather sought his own quietness than God's glory.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Showing that the idol is not known for an idol so long as he is with workmen: but when the ceremonies and customs are recited and used, and the consent of the people is there, then of a block they think they have made a god.

<sup>2</sup> This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approve their religion, if the king's authority were alleged for the establishment thereof, not considering in the mean season what God's word did permit.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> These are the two dangerous weapons, wherewith Satan used to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude, and the cruelty of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude, which consented to the wickedness, astonished them: and here the King required, not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Jews might by little and little learn to forget their true religion.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the king's favor, thinking if these three had been destroyed, they might have had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policy of erecting this image was invented by the malicious flatterers which sought nothing but the destruction of the Jews, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that he would receive them to grace if they would now at the length obey his decree.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> For they should have done injury to God, if they should have doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for God's cause.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> They ground on two points, first on the power and providence of God over them, and secondly on their cause, which was God's glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatry.

we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of rage, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commanded that they should heat the furnace at once seven <sup>1</sup>times more than it was wont to be heated.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of war that were in his army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hot fiery furnace.

21 So these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their cloaks, with their other garments, and cast into the midst of the hot fiery furnace.

22 Therefore, because the king's commandment was strait, that the furnace should be exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that brought forth Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego fell down bound into the midst of the hot fiery furnace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counselors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? Who answered, and said unto him, It is true, O king.

25 And he answered, and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the <sup>1</sup>son of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the hot fiery furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, the servants of the high God, go forth and come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego <sup>1</sup>came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, and the king's counselors came together to see these men, because the fire had no power over their bodies: for not an hair of their head was burnt, neither were their coats changed, nor any smell of fire came upon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, <sup>1</sup>Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and delivered his servants, that put their trust in him, and have changed the king's commandment, and yielded their bodies rather than they would serve or worship any god save their own God.

29 Therefore I make a decree that every people, nation, and language, which speak any <sup>1</sup>blasphemy against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be drawn in pieces, and their houses shall be made a jakes, because there is no god that can deliver after this sort.

30 Then the King promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the province of Babel.

31 Nebuchadnezzar king unto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the <sup>1</sup>world, Peace be multiplied unto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signs and wonders, that the high God hath wrought toward me.

33 How great are his signs, and how mighty are his wonders! <sup>1</sup>his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 <sup>2</sup> Another dream of Nebuchadnezzar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proud king, he should become as a beast. 31 After he confesseth the power of God, and is restored to his former dignity.

1 I Nebuchadnezzar being at <sup>1</sup>rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Saw a <sup>1</sup>dream, which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babel before me, that they might declare unto me the interpretation of the dream.

4 So came the enchanters, the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers, to whom I told the dream, but <sup>1</sup>they could not show me the interpreta-

3:19 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more witty they show themselves inventing strange and cruel punishments, the more is God glorified by his servants to whom he giveth patience and constancy to abide the cruelty of their punishment: for either by delivereth them from death, or else for this life giveth them a better.

3:25 <sup>1</sup> For the Angels were called the sons of God, because of their excellency: therefore the king called this Angel whom God sent to comfort his in these great torments, the son of God.

3:26 <sup>1</sup> This commendeth their obedience unto God, that they would not for any fear depart out of this furnace, till the time appointed, as Noah remained in the ark, till the Lord called him forth.

3:28 <sup>1</sup> He was moved by the greatness of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to convert men to God, but that doctrine most chiefly be adjoined, without the which there can be no faith.

3:29 <sup>1</sup> If this heathen king moved by God's Spirit would not see blasphemy unpunished, but made a law and set a punishment to such transgressors, much more ought all they that profess religion, take order that such impiety reign not, lest according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment.

3:31 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, so far as his dominion extended.

3:33 <sup>1</sup> Read Dan. 2:44.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> There was no trouble that might cause me to dream, and therefore it came only of God.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> This was another dream besides that which he saw of the four Empires, for Daniel both declared what that dream was, and what it meant, and here he only expoundeth the dream.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> In that that he sent abroad to others, whose ignorance in times past he had experimented, and left Daniel which was ever ready at hand, it declareth the nature of the ungodly, which never seek to the servants of God, but for very necessity, and then they spare no flatterings.

tion thereof,

5 Till at the last Daniel came before me, (whose name was <sup>1</sup>Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him) and before him I told the dream, saying,

6 O Belteshazzar, <sup>1</sup>chief of the enchanters, because I know, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream, that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus were the visions of my head in my bed, and behold, I saw a <sup>1</sup>tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great:

8 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

9 The boughs thereof were fair and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: it made a shadow under it for the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

10 I saw in the visions of mine head upon my bed, and behold, a <sup>1</sup>watchman and an holy one came down from heaven,

11 And cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and break off his branches: shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit, that the beasts may flee from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

12 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, and with a band of iron and brass bind it among the grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts among the grass of the field.

13 <sup>1</sup>Let his heart be changed from man's nature, and let a beast's heart be given unto him, and let seven times be passed over him.

14 <sup>1</sup>The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holy ones: the demand was answered, to the intent that living men may know, that the most High hath power over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will,

and appointeth over it the most abject among men.

15 This is the dream, that I King Nebuchadnezzar have seen: therefore thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to show me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

16 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) held his <sup>1</sup>peace by the space of one hour, and his thoughts troubled him, and the King spake and said, Belteshazzar, let neither the dream, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mighty, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof through all the world,

18 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all, under the which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven did sit,

19 It is thou, O king, that art great and mighty: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

20 Whereas the King saw a watchman, and an holy one that came down from heaven, and said, Hew down the tree, and destroy it, yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, and with a band of iron and brass bind it among the grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, <sup>1</sup>till seven times pass over him.

21 This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord the king,

22 That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as the <sup>1</sup>oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven: and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know, that <sup>2</sup>the

4:5 <sup>1</sup> This no doubt was a great grief to Daniel not only to have his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idol, which thing Nebuchadnezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Which also was a great grief to the Prophet to be numbered among the sorcerers and men whose practices were wicked and contrary to God's word.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> By the tree is signified the dignity of a king whom God ordaineth to be a defense for all kind of men, and whose state is profitable for mankind.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor sleepeth, but is ever ready to do God's will, and is not infected with man's corruption, but is ever holy: and in that that he commandeth to cut down this tree, he knew that it should not be cut down by man, but by God.

4:13 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he meaneth that Nebuchadnezzar should not only for a time lose his kingdom, but be like a beast.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> God hath decreed this judgment and the whole army of heaven have as it were subscribed unto it, like as also they desire the execution of his decree against all them that lift up themselves against God.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> He was troubled for the great judgment of God, which he saw ordained against the king, and so the Prophets used on the one part to denounce God's judgments for the zeal they bare to his glory, and on the other part to have compassion upon man, and also to consider that they should be subject to God's judgments, if he did not regard them with pity.

4:20 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he meaneth a long space, as seven years. Some interpret seven months, and others seven weeks, but it seemeth he means of years.

4:22 <sup>1</sup> Not that his shape or form was changed into a beast, but that he was either stricken mad, and so avoided man's company, or was cast out for his tyranny, and so wandered among the beasts, and ate herbs and grass.

most High beareth rule over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

23 Whereas they said, that one should leave the stump of the tree roots, thy kingdom shall remain unto thee: after that, thou shalt know, that the heavens have the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and <sup>1</sup>break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by mercy towards the poor: lo, let there be a <sup>2</sup>healing of thine error.

25 All these things shall come upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

26 ¶ At the end of twelve <sup>1</sup>months, he walked in the royal palace of Babel.

27 And the king spake and said, Is not this great Babel that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honor of my majesty?

28 While the word was in the king's mouth, a voice came down from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdom is departed from thee,

29 And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass, as the oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou knowest, that the most High beareth rule over the kingdom of men, and giveth it unto whomsoever he will.

30 The very same hour was this thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar, and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as the oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown as eagles feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

31 And at the end of these <sup>1</sup>days, I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding was restored unto me, and I gave thanks unto the most High, and I praised and honored him, that liveth forever, <sup>4</sup>whose power is an everlasting power, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

<sup>a</sup> Dan. 7:14

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his <sup>1</sup>will he worketh in the army of heaven, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say unto him, What doest thou?

33 At the same time was mine understanding restored unto me, and I returned to the honor of my kingdom: my glory and my beauty was restored unto me, and my counselors and <sup>1</sup>my princes sought unto me, and I was established in my kingdom, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Now therefore I Nebuchadnezzar <sup>1</sup>praise, and extol and magnify the king of heaven, whose works are all truth, and his ways judgment: and those that walk in pride, he is able to abase.

1 King <sup>1</sup>Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and drank wine <sup>2</sup>before the thousand.

2 And Belshazzar <sup>1</sup>while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and silver vessels, which his <sup>2</sup>father Nebuchadnezzar had brought from the Temple in Jerusalem, that the king and his princes, his wives, and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lord's house at Jerusalem, and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praised the <sup>1</sup>gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 At the same hour appeared fingers of a man's hand, which wrote over <sup>1</sup>against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace, and the 4:24 <sup>1</sup> Cease from provoking God to anger any longer by thy sins, that he may mitigate his punishment, if thou show by thine upright life that thou hast true faith and repentance.

4:26 <sup>1</sup> After that Daniel had declared this vision: and this his pride declareth that it is not in man to convert to God, except his Spirit move him: seeing that these terrible threatenings could not move him to repent.

4:31 <sup>1</sup> When the term of these seven years was accomplished.

4:32 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth God's will to be the rule of all justice, and a most perfect law, whereby he governeth both man and Angels and devils, so that none ought to murmur or ask a reason of his doings, but only to stand content therewith and give him the glory.

4:33 <sup>1</sup> By whom it seemeth that he had been put from his kingdom before.

4:34 <sup>1</sup> He doth not only praise God for his deliverance, but also confesseth his fault that God may only have the glory, and man the shame, and that he may be exalted and man cast down.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> Daniel reciteth this history of king Belshazzar, Evil-merodach's son, to show God's judgments against the wicked for the deliverance of his Church: and how the prophecy of Jeremiah was true, that they should be delivered after seventy years.

<sup>2</sup> The kings of the East parts then used to sit alone commonly, and disdained that any should sit in their company: and now to show his power, and how little he set by his enemy, which then besieged Babylon, he made a solemn banquet, and used excess in their company, which is meant here by drinking wine: thus the wicked are most dissolute and negligent, when their destruction is at hand.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> In contempt of the true God, they praise their idols, not that they thought that the gold or silver were gods, but that there was a certain virtue and power in them to do them good, which is also the opinion of all idolaters.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> That it might the better be seen.

king saw the palm of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his loins were loosed, and his <sup>1</sup>knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried loud, that they should bring <sup>1</sup>the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Babel, Whosoever can read this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and shall have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came all the king's wise men, but they could neither read the writing, nor show the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonished.

10 Now the <sup>1</sup>Queen by reason of the talk of the King and his princes, came into the banquet house, and the Queen spake, and said, O king, live forever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the days of thy father, light and understanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made chief of the <sup>1</sup>enchanters, astrologians, Chaldeans, and soothsayers,

12 Because a more excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding (for he did expound dreams, and declare hard sentences, and dissolved doubts) were found in him, even in Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the king, and the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom my father the king brought out of Jewry?

14 Now I have heard of thee, that <sup>1</sup>the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that light and understanding, and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 Now therefore wise men and Astrologians have been brought before me, that they should read this writing, and show me the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest show interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and show me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and shall have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, Keep thy rewards to thyself, and give thy gifts to another: yet I will read the writing unto the king, and show him the interpretation.

18 O king, hear thou, The most high God gave unto <sup>1</sup>Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and honor, and glory.

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages trembled, and feared before him: he put to death whom he would: he smote whom he would: whom he would he set up, and whom he would he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was puffed up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his honor from him.

21 And he was driven from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the heaven, till he knew that the most high God bare rule over the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it, whomsoever he pleaseth.

22 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things,

23 But hast lifted thyself up against the Lord of heaven, and they have brought the vessels of his House before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood and stone, which neither see, neither hear, nor understand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy ways, him hast thou not glorified.

24 <sup>1</sup>Then was the palm of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> So he that before contemned God, was moved by this sight to tremble for fear of God's judgments.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked in their troubles seek many means, who draw them from God, because they seek not to him who is the only comfort in all afflictions.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> To wit, his grandmother Nebuchadnezzar's wife, which for her age was not before at the feast, but came thither when she heard of these strange news.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> Read Dan. 4:6, and this declareth that both this name was odious unto him, and also he did not use these vile practices, because he was not among them when all were called.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> For the idolaters thought that the Angels had power as God, and therefore had them in like estimation, as they had God, thinking that the spirit of prophecy and understanding came of them.

5:18 <sup>1</sup> Before he read the writing, he declareth to the king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moved to give him the glory, considering his wonderful work toward his grandfather, and so sheweth that he doth not sin of ignorance but of malice.

5:24 <sup>1</sup> After that God had so long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendment.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written, <sup>1</sup>MENE, MENE, TEKEL UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and hath finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weighed in the balance, and art found <sup>1</sup>too light.

28 PERES, thy kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commandment of Belshazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 The same night was Belshazzar the King of the Chaldeans slain.

31 And Darius <sup>1</sup>of the Medes took the kingdom, being threescore and two years old.

6 1 Daniel is made ruler over the governors. 5 An act against Daniel. 16 He is put into a den of lions by the commandment of the king. 23 He is delivered by faith in God. 24 Daniel's accusers are put unto the lions. 25 Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

1 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom <sup>1</sup>an hundred and twenty governors, which should be over the whole kingdom,

2 And over these three rulers, (of whom Daniel was one) that the governors might give accmpts unto them, and the king <sup>1</sup>should have no damage.

3 Now this Daniel <sup>1</sup>was preferred above the rulers, and governors, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ Wherefore the rulers and governors <sup>1</sup>sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom: but they could find none occasion nor fault: for he was so faithful that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find an occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the Law of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these governors went together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live forever.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdom, the officers and governors, the counselors and dukes have consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, confirm the decree, and seal the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius <sup>1</sup>sealed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel understood that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his <sup>1</sup>window being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed and praised his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication unto his God.

12 So they came and spake unto the king concerning the king's decree, Hast thou not sealed the decree, that every man that shall make a request to any god or man within thirty days, save to thee, O King, shall be cast into the den of lions? The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said unto the King, This Daniel which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the King heard these words, he was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliver him: and he labored till the sun went down, to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the King, Understand, O King, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king confirmeth, may be <sup>1</sup>altered.

5:25 <sup>1</sup> This word is twice written for the certainty of the thing: showing that God had most surely counted: signifying also that God hath appointed a term for all kingdoms, and that a miserable end shall come on all that raise themselves against him.

5:27 <sup>1</sup> Or, wanting.

5:31 <sup>1</sup> Cyrus his son-in-law gave him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> Read Esther 1:1.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, not be troubled.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> This heathen king preferred Daniel a stranger to all his nobles and familiars, because the graces of God were more excellent in him than in others.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked cannot abide the graces of God in others, but seek by all occasions to deface them, therefore against such assaults there is no better remedy than to walk upright in the fear of God, and to have a good conscience.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> Herein is condemned the wickedness of the king, who would be set up as a god, and passed not what wicked laws he approved for the maintenance of the same.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> Because he would not by his silence show that he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windows toward Jerusalem, when he prayed: both to stir up himself with the remembrance of God's promises to his people, when they should pray toward that Temple, and also that others might see, that he would neither consent in heart nor deed for these few days to anything that was contrary to God's glory.

6:15 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked maintain evil laws by constancy and authority, which is ofttimes either lightness, or stubbornness, when as the innocents thereby perish, and therefore governors neither ought to fear, nor be ashamed to break such.

16 ¶ Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions: now the king spake, and said unto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou always servest, even he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the King sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went unto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of music brought before him, and his sleep went from him.

19 ¶ Then the king arose early in the morning, and went in all haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel: and the king spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel the servant of the living God, is not thy God (whom thou always servest) <sup>1</sup>able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel unto the King, O king, live forever.

22 My God hath sent his Angel and hath shut the lion's mouths, and they have not hurt me: for <sup>1</sup>my justice was found out before him: and unto thee, O king, I have done <sup>2</sup>no hurt.

23 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel out of the den: so Daniel was brought out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he <sup>1</sup>believed in his God.

24 And by the commandment of the King these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were <sup>1</sup>cast into the den of lions, even they, their children, and their wives: and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones a pieces, or ever they came at the ground of the den.

25 ¶ Afterward King Darius wrote, Unto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and fear <sup>1</sup>before the God of Daniel: for he is the <sup>2</sup>living God, and remaineth forever: and his kingdom shall not perish, and his dominion shall be everlasting.

27 He rescueth and delivereth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth: who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus of Persia.

7 <sup>3</sup>A vision of four beasts is showed unto Daniel. <sup>8</sup>The ten horns of the fourth beast. <sup>27</sup>Of the everlasting kingdom of Christ.

1 In the first year of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel saw a dream, and there were visions in his head, upon his bed: <sup>1</sup>then he wrote the dream, and declared the sum of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon <sup>1</sup>the great sea:

3 And four great beasts came up from the sea one divers from another.

4 The first was as a <sup>1</sup>lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked off, and it was lifted up from the earth, and set upon his feet as a man, and a man's heart was given him.

5 And behold, another beast which was the second, was like a <sup>1</sup>bear, and stood upon the <sup>2</sup>one side: and he had three ribs in his <sup>3</sup>mouth between his teeth, <sup>4</sup>and they said thus unto him, Arise, and devour much flesh.

6:20 <sup>1</sup>This declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power.

6:22 <sup>1</sup>My just cause and uprightness in this thing wherein I was charged, is approved of God.

<sup>2</sup>For he did disobey the king's wicked commandment to obey God, and so did no injury to the king, who ought to command nothing whereby God should be dishonored.

6:23 <sup>1</sup>Because he committed himself wholly unto God whose cause he did defend, he was assured that nothing but good could come unto him: wherein we see the power of faith, as Heb. 11:33.

6:24 <sup>1</sup>This is a terrible example against all the wicked which do against their conscience make cruel laws to destroy the children of God, and also admonisheth Princes how to punish such when their wickedness is come to light: though not in every point, or with like circumstances, yet to execute true justice upon them.

6:26 <sup>1</sup>This proveth not that Darius did worship God aright, or else was converted: for then he would have destroyed all superstition and idolatry: and not only given God the chief place, but also have set him up, and caused him to be honored according to his word: but this was a certain confession of God's power, whereunto he was compelled by this wonderful miracle.

<sup>2</sup>Which hath not only life in himself, but is the only fountain of life, and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

7:1 <sup>1</sup>Whereas the people of Israel looked for a continual quietness, after their seventy years, as Jeremiah had declared, he showeth that this rest shall not be a deliverance from all troubles, but a beginning, and therefore encourageth them to look for a continual affliction, till the Messiah be uttered and revealed, by whom they should have a spiritual deliverance, and all the promises be fulfilled: whereof they should have a certain token in the destruction of the Babylonian kingdom.

7:2 <sup>1</sup>Which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in the world in all corners of the world, and at sundry times.

7:4 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, the Assyrian and Chaldean empire, which was most strong and fierce in power, and most soon come to their authority, as though they had wings to fly: yet their wings were pulled by the Persians, and they went on their feet, and were made like other men, which is here meant by man's heart.

7:5 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, the Persians which were barbarous and cruel.

<sup>4</sup>To wit, the Angels by God's commandment, who by this means punished the ingratitude of the world.

6 After this, I beheld, and lo, there was another like a <sup>1</sup>leopard, which had upon his back <sup>2</sup>four wings of a fowl: the beast had also four heads, and <sup>3</sup>dominion was given him.

7 After this, I saw in the visions by night, and behold, the <sup>1</sup>fourth beast was fearful and terrible and very strong. It had great <sup>2</sup>iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped <sup>3</sup>the residue under his feet: and it was unlike to the beasts that were before it: for it had <sup>4</sup>ten horns.

8 As I considered the horns, behold, there came up among them another little <sup>1</sup>horn, before whom there were <sup>2</sup>three of the first horns plucked away: and behold, in this horn were <sup>3</sup>eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the <sup>1</sup>thrones were set up, and the <sup>2</sup>Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels, as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand <sup>1</sup>thousands stood before him: the judgment was set, and the <sup>2</sup>books opened.

11 Then I beheld, <sup>1</sup>because of the voice of the presumptuous words which the horn spake: I beheld, even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning fire.

12 As <sup>1</sup>concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion: yet their lives were prolonged for a certain time and season.

13 ¶ As I beheld in visions by night, behold, <sup>1</sup>one like the son of man came in the clouds of heaven, and <sup>2</sup>approached unto the Ancient of days, and they brought him before him.

14 And he gave him <sup>1</sup>dominion, and honor, and a kingdom, that all people, nations and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall never be taken away: and his dominion shall never be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was <sup>1</sup>troubled in my spirit, in the midst of my body, and the visions of mine head made me afraid.

16 Therefore I came unto <sup>1</sup>one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, and showed me the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beasts which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth,

7:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Alexander the king of Macedonia.

<sup>2</sup> That is, his four chief captains, which had the empire among them after his death. Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus the less, Cassander and after him Antipater was king of Macedonia, and Ptolemy had Egypt.

<sup>3</sup> It was not of himself nor of his own power that he got all these countries: for his army contained but thirty thousand men, and he overcame in one battle Darius, which had ten hundred thousand, when he was so heavy with sleep, that his eyes were scarce open, as the stories report: therefore this power was given him of God.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Roman Empire which was a monster, and could not be compared to any beasts, because the nature of none was able to express it.

<sup>3</sup> That which the Romans could not quietly enjoy in other countries, they would give it to other Kings and rulers, that at all times when they would, they might take it again: which liberality is here called the stamping of the rest under the feet.

<sup>4</sup> That is, sundry and divers provinces which were governed by the deputies and proconsuls, whereof everyone might be compared to a King.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> Which is meant of Julius Caesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, etc., who were as kings in effect, but because they could not rule, but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little horn. For Muhammad came not of the Roman Empire, and the Pope hath no vocation of government: therefore this cannot be applied unto them, and also in this prophecy the Prophet's purpose is chiefly to comfort the Jews unto the revelation of Christ. Some take it for the whole body of Antichrist.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, a certain portion of the ten horns: that is, a part from the whole estate was taken away. For Augustus took from the Senate the liberty of choosing the deputies to send into the provinces, and took the government of certain countries to himself.

<sup>3</sup> These Roman Emperors at the first used a certain humanity and gentleness, and were content that others, as the Consuls, and Senate, should bear the names of dignity, so that they might have the profit, and therefore in election and counsels would behave themselves according as did other Senators: yet against their enemies and those that would resist them, they were fierce and cruel, which is here meant by the proud mouth.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the places where God and his Angels should come to judge these Monarchies, which judgment should begin at the first coming of Christ.

<sup>2</sup> That is, God which was before all times, and is here described as man's nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glory.

7:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, an infinite number of Angels, which were ready to execute his commandment.

<sup>2</sup> This is meant of the first coming of Christ, when as the will of God was plainly revealed by his Gospel.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he was astonished when he saw these Emperors in such dignity and pride, and so suddenly destroyed at the coming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchy was subject to men of other nations.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> As the three former Monarchies had an end at the time that God appointed, although they flourished for a time, so shall this fourth have, and they that patiently abide God's appointment, shall enjoy the promises.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> Which is meant of Christ, who had not yet taken upon him man's nature, neither was the son of David according to the flesh, as he was afterward: but appeared then in a figure, and that in the clouds: that is, being separate from the common sort of men by manifest signs of his divinity.

<sup>2</sup> To wit, when he ascend into the heavens, and his divine majesty appeared, and all power was given unto him, in respect of that that he was our Mediator.

7:14 <sup>1</sup> This is meant of the beginning of Christ's kingdom, when God the Father gave unto him all dominion, as to the Mediator, to the intent that he should govern here his Church in earth continually, till the time that he brought them to eternal life.

7:15 <sup>1</sup> Through the strangeness of the vision.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the Angels, as verse 10.

18 And they shall take the <sup>1</sup>kingdom of the Saints of the <sup>2</sup>most High, and shall possess the kingdom forever, even forever and ever.

19 ¶ After this, I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was <sup>1</sup>so unlike to all the others, very fearful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass: which devoured brake in pieces, and stamped the <sup>2</sup>residue under his feet.

20 Also to know of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the others which came up, before whom three fell, and of the horn that had eyes, and of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose <sup>1</sup>look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same <sup>1</sup>horn made battle against the Saints, yea, and prevailed against them,

22 Until <sup>1</sup>the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the Saints of the most High: and the time approached, that the Saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Then he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom in the earth, which shall be unlike to all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten Kings that shall rise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be unlike to the first, and he shall subdue <sup>1</sup>three Kings,

25 And shall speak words against <sup>1</sup>the most High, and shall consume the Saints of the most High, and think that he may <sup>2</sup>change times and laws, and they shall be given into his hand until a <sup>3</sup>time, and times, and the dividing of time.

26 But the <sup>1</sup>judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion to consume and destroy it unto the end.

27 And the <sup>1</sup>kingdom, and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven shall be given to the holy people of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all <sup>2</sup>powers shall serve and obey him.

28 Even this is the end of the matter, I Daniel had many <sup>1</sup>cogitations which troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

8 A vision of a battle between a ram and a goat: 20 The understanding of the vision.

1 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, <sup>1</sup>after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is in the province <sup>1</sup>of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I looked up and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a <sup>1</sup>ram which had two horns, and these two horns were high: but one was <sup>2</sup>higher than another, and the highest came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing against the West, and

7:18 <sup>1</sup> Because Abraham was appointed heir of all the world, Rom. 4:13, and in him all the faithful, therefore the kingdom thereof is theirs by right, which these four beasts or tyrants should invade, and usurp until the world were restored by Christ: and this was to confirm them that were in troubles, that their afflictions should have an end at length.

<sup>2</sup> That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen them out of this world, that they should look up to the heavens, whereon all their hope dependeth.

7:19 <sup>1</sup> For the other three Monarchies were governed by a King, and the Roman Empire by Consuls: the Romans changed their governors yearly, and the other Monarchies retained them for term of life: also the Romans were the strongest of all the others, and were never quiet among themselves.

7:20 <sup>1</sup> This is meant of the fourth beast, which was more terrible than the others.

7:21 <sup>1</sup> Meaning the Roman Emperors, who were most cruel against the Church of God both of the Jews and of the Gentiles.

7:22 <sup>1</sup> Till God showed his power in the person of Christ, and by the preaching of the Gospel gave unto his some rest, and so obtained a famous Name in the world, and were called the Church of God, or the kingdom of God.

7:24 <sup>1</sup> Read the exposition hereof, verse 8.

7:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, shall make wicked decrees and proclamations against God's word, and send throughout all their dominion, to destroy all that did profess it.

<sup>2</sup> These Emperors shall not consider that they have their power of God, but think it is in their own power to change God's laws and man's, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavius, Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitian, etc.

<sup>3</sup> God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saints for a long time, which is meant by the time and times, but at length he will assuage these troubles, and shorten the time for his elect's sake, Matt. 24:22, which is here meant by the dividing of time.

7:26 <sup>1</sup> God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horn, that it shall never rise up again.

7:27 <sup>1</sup> He showeth wherefore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might have rest and quietness, which though they do not fully enjoy here, yet they have it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enjoy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these words: Under the heaven: and therefore he here speaketh of the beginning of Christ's kingdom in this world, which kingdom the faithful have by the participation that they have with Christ their head.

7:28 <sup>1</sup> Though he had many motions in his heart which moved him to and fro to seek out this matter curiously, yet he was content with that which God revealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the use of the Church.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> After the general vision, he cometh to certain particular visions as touching the destruction of the Monarchy of the Persians, and Macedonians: for the ruin of the Babylonians was at hand, and also he had sufficiently spoken thereof.

8:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, of Persia.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Which represented the kingdom of the Persians and Medes, which were joined together.

against the North, and against the South: so that no <sup>1</sup>beasts might stand before him, nor could deliver out of his hand, but he did what he listed, and became great.

5 And as I considered, behold, <sup>1</sup>a goat came from the West over the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goat had an <sup>2</sup>horn that appeared between his eyes.

6 And he came unto the ram that had the two horns, whom I had seen standing by the river, and ran unto him in his fierce rage.

7 And I saw him come unto the ram, and being moved against him, he <sup>1</sup>smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand against him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him, and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his power.

9 And out of one of them came forth a <sup>1</sup>little horn, which waxed very great toward the <sup>2</sup>South, and toward the <sup>3</sup>East, and toward the <sup>4</sup>pleasant land.

10 Yea, it grew up unto the <sup>1</sup>host of heaven, and it cast down some of the host, and of the stars to the ground, and trode upon them,

11 And extolled himself against the <sup>1</sup>prince of the host, from whom the <sup>2</sup>daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his Sanctuary was cast down.

12 And <sup>1</sup>a time shall be given him over the daily sacrifice for the iniquity: and it shall <sup>2</sup>cast down the truth to the ground, and thus shall it do, and prosper.

13 Then I heard one of the <sup>1</sup>Saints speaking, and one of the Saints spake unto a certain one, saying, How long shall endure the vision of the daily sacrifice, and the iniquity of the <sup>2</sup>desolation to tread both the Sanctuary and the <sup>3</sup>army underfoot?

14 And <sup>1</sup>he answered me, Unto the <sup>2</sup>evening and the morning, two thousand and three hundred: then shall the Sanctuary be cleansed.

15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, behold, there stood before me <sup>1</sup>like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, <sup>1</sup>make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man: for <sup>1</sup>in the last time shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking unto me, I being asleep fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me up in my place.

19 And he said, Behold, I will show thee what shall be in the last <sup>1</sup>wrath: for in the end of the time appointed it shall come.

20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns, are the Kings of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the goat is the King of Greece, and the great horn that is between his eyes, is the first king.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, no kings or nations.

8:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Alexander that came from Greece with great speed and expedition.

<sup>2</sup> Though he came in the name of all Greece, yet he bore the title and dignity of the general captain, so that the strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this horn.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> Alexander overcame Darius in two sundry battles, and so had the two kingdoms of the Medes and Persians.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> Alexander's great power was broken: for when he had overcome all the East, he thought to return toward Greece to subdue them that had rebelled, and so died by the way.

<sup>2</sup> That is, which were famous: for almost in the space of fifteen years there were fifteen divers successors before this monarchy was divided to these four, whereof Cassander had Macedonia, Seleucus Syria, Antigonus Asia the less, and Ptolemy Egypt.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who was of a servile and flattering nature, and also there were others between him and the kingdom, and therefore is here called the little horn, because neither princely conditions, nor any other thing was in him, why he should obtain this kingdom.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> Antiochus raged against the elect of God, and trode his precious stars under feet, which are so called, because they are separated from the world.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, God, who governeth and maintaineth his Church.

<sup>2</sup> He labored to abolish all religion, and therefore cast God's service out of his Temple, which God had chosen as a little corner from all the rest of the world to have his Name there truly called upon.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that their sins are the cause of these horrible afflictions: and yet comforteth them, in that he appointeth this tyrant a time, whom he would not suffer utterly to abolish his religion.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he heard one of the Angels asking this question of Christ, whom he called a certain one, or a secret one, or a marvelous one.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ answered me for the comfort of the Church.

<sup>2</sup> That is, until so many natural days be past, which make 6 years, 3 months and an half: for so long under Antiochus was the Temple profaned.

8:15 <sup>1</sup> Which was Christ who in this manner declared himself to the old fathers, how he would be God manifest in flesh.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> This power to command the Angel, declared that he was God.

8:17 <sup>1</sup> The effect of this vision shall not yet appear, but a long time after.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that great rage which Antiochus should show against the Church.

22 And that that is broken, and four stood up for it, are four kingdoms, which shall stand up <sup>1</sup>of that nation, but not <sup>2</sup>in his strength.

23 And in the end of their kingdom, when the rebellious shall be consumed, a King of <sup>1</sup>fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not <sup>1</sup>in his strength: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practice, and shall destroy the <sup>2</sup>mighty, and the holy people.

25 And through his <sup>1</sup>policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and he shall extol himself in his heart, and by <sup>2</sup>peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the <sup>3</sup>prince of princes, but he shall be broken down <sup>4</sup>without hand.

26 And the vision of the <sup>1</sup>evening and the morning, which is declared, is true: therefore seal thou up the vision, for it shall be after many days.

27 And I Daniel was stricken and sick <sup>1</sup>certain days: but when I rose up, I did the king's business, and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

9 <sup>3</sup>Daniel desireth to have that performed of God, which he had promised concerning the return of the people from their banishment in Babylon. <sup>5</sup>A true confession. <sup>20</sup>Daniel's prayer is heard. <sup>21</sup>Gabriel the Angel expoundeth unto him the vision of the seventy weeks. <sup>24</sup>The anointing of Christ. <sup>25</sup>The building again of Jerusalem. <sup>26</sup>The death of Christ.

1 In the first year of Darius the son of <sup>1</sup>Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the <sup>2</sup>realm of the Chaldeans,

2 Even in the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by <sup>1</sup>books the number of the years, whereof the Lord had spoken unto Jeremiah the Prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolation of Jerusalem.

3 And I turned my face unto the Lord God, and <sup>1</sup>sought by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

4 And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, Oh Lord God which art <sup>1</sup>great and fearful, and keepest covenant and mercy toward them which love <sup>2</sup>thee, and toward them that keep thy commandments,

5 We have sinned and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, yea, we have rebelled, and have departed from thy precepts, and from thy judgments.

6 For we would not obey thy servants the Prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, <sup>1</sup>righteousness belongeth unto thee, and unto us <sup>2</sup>open shame, as appeareth this day unto every man of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, yea, unto all Israel, both near and far off, through all the country, whither thou hast driven them, because of their offences, that they have committed against thee.

8 O Lord, unto us appertaineth open shame, to our <sup>1</sup>Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 Yet compassion and forgiveness is in the Lord our God, albeit we have rebelled against him.

10 For we have not obeyed the <sup>1</sup>voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he hath laid before us by the ministry of his servants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy Law, and are turned back, and have not heard thy voice: therefore the <sup>1</sup>curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the Law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he

8:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, out of Greece.

8:23 <sup>1</sup> Noting that this Antiochus was impudent and cruel, and also crafty that he could not be deceived.

8:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, not like Alexander's strength.

8:25 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever he goeth about by his craft, he shall bring it to pass.

8:26 <sup>1</sup> Read verse 14.

8:27 <sup>1</sup> For fear and astonishment.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Who was also called Astyages.

<sup>2</sup> For Cyrus led with ambition, went about wars in other countries, and therefore Darius had the title of the kingdom, though Cyrus was king in effect.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> For though he was an excellent Prophet, yet he daily increased in knowledge by reading of the Scriptures.

9:3 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh not of that ordinary prayer, which he used in his house thrice a day, but of a rare and vehement prayer, least their sins should cause God to delay the time of their deliverance prophesied by Jeremiah.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, hast all power in thyself to execute thy terrible judgments against obstinate sinners, as thou art rich in mercy to comfort them which obey thy word and love thee.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that whensoever God punisheth, he doeth it for just cause: and thus the godly never accuse him of rigor as the wicked do, but acknowledge that in themselves there is just cause why he should so entreat them.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> He doth not excuse the kings because of their authority, but prayeth chiefly for them as the chief occasions of these great plagues.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that they rebel against God, which serve him not according to his commandment and word.

9:11 <sup>1</sup> As Deut. 27:15, or the curse confirmed by an oath.

spake against us, and against our judges that <sup>1</sup>judged us, by bringing upon us a great plague: for under the whole heaven hath not been the like, as hath been brought upon Jerusalem.

13 All this plague is come upon us, as it is written in the Law of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord <sup>1</sup>made ready the plague, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we would not hear his voice.

15 <sup>4</sup>And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as appeareth this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy <sup>1</sup>righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy city Jerusalem thine holy Mountain: because of our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to <sup>1</sup>shine upon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the <sup>2</sup>Lord's sake.

18 O my God, incline thine ear and hear: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city whereupon thy Name is called: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our own <sup>1</sup>righteousness, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lord hear, O Lord forgive, O Lord <sup>1</sup>consider, and do it: defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy Name is called upon thy city, and thy people.

20 ¶ And while I was speaking and praying, and

confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy Mountain of my God, 21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, even the man <sup>b</sup>Gabriel, whom I had seen before in the vision, came flying, and touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee knowledge and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to show thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seventy <sup>1</sup>weeks are determined upon <sup>2</sup>thy people and upon thine holy city, to finish the wickedness, and to seal up <sup>3</sup>the sins, and to reconcile the iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.

25 Know therefore and understand that from <sup>1</sup>the going forth of the commandment to bring again the people, and to build Jerusalem, unto Messiah the Prince, shall be seven <sup>2</sup>weeks and <sup>3</sup>threescore and two weeks, and the street shall be built again, and the wall even in a <sup>4</sup>troublous time.

26 And after threescore and two <sup>1</sup>weeks, shall Messiah be slain, and shall <sup>2</sup>have nothing, and the people of the <sup>3</sup>prince that shall come, shall destroy the city and the Sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood: and unto the end of the battle it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 And he <sup>1</sup>shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to <sup>2</sup>cease, <sup>3</sup>and for the overspreading of the abominations, he shall 9:12 <sup>1</sup> Or, governed us.

9:14 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, watched upon the evil.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, according to all thy merciful promises and the performance thereof.

9:17 <sup>1</sup> Show thyself favorable.

9:18 <sup>1</sup> Declaring, that the godly flee only unto God's mercies, and renounce their own works, when they seek for remission of their sins.

9:19 <sup>1</sup> Thus he could not content himself with any vehemence of words: for he was so led with a fervent zeal considering God's promise made to the city in respect of his Church, and for the advancement of God's glory.

9:24 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to Jeremiah's prophecy: who prophesied that their captivity should be seventy years: but now God's mercy should sevenfold exceed his judgment, which should be four hundred and ninety years, even to the coming of Christ, and so then it should continue forever.

9:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, from the time that Cyrus gave them leave to depart.

<sup>2</sup> These weeks make forty-nine years, whereof 46 are referred to the time of the building of the Temple, and three to the laying of the foundation.

<sup>3</sup> Counting from the sixth year of Darius, who gave the second commandment for the building of the Temple are 62 weeks, which make 434 years, which comprehend the time from the building of the Temple unto the baptism of Christ.

9:26 <sup>1</sup> In this least week of the seventy, shall Christ come and preach and suffer death.

<sup>3</sup> Meaning Titus, Vespasian's son, who should come and destroy both the Temple and the people without all hope of recovery.

9:27 <sup>1</sup> By the preaching of the Gospel he confirmed his promise, first to the Jews, and after to the Gentiles.

<sup>3</sup> Meaning, that Jerusalem and the Sanctuary should be utterly destroyed for their rebellion against God, and their idolatry: or as some read, that the plague shall be so great, that they shall be all astonished at them.

make it desolate, even until the consummation determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

10 <sup>1</sup> There appeareth unto Daniel a man clothed in linen, <sup>11</sup> which showeth him wherefore he is sent.

1 In the <sup>1</sup>third year of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the word was true, but the time appointed was <sup>2</sup>long, and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

2 At the same time I Daniel was in heaviness for three weeks of days.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three weeks of days were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the <sup>1</sup>first month, as I <sup>2</sup>was by the side of that great river, even Hiddekel,

5 And I lifted mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there was a man <sup>1</sup>clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of <sup>a</sup>Uphaz.

6 His body also was like the Chrysolite, and his face (to look upon) like the lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet were like in color to polished brass, and the voice of his words was like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me, saw not the vision: but a great fear fell upon them, so that they fled away and hid themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for <sup>1</sup>my strength was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no power.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, I slept on my face, and my face was toward the ground.

10 And behold, an <sup>1</sup>hand touched me, which set

me up upon my knees, and upon the palms of mine hands,

11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand in thy place: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had said this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the <sup>1</sup>prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, <sup>2</sup>Michael one of the chief princes, came to help me, and I remained there by the Kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to show thee what shall come to thy people in the latter days: for yet the <sup>1</sup>vision is for many days.

15 And when he spake these words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And behold, <sup>1</sup>one like the similitude of the sons of man touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my Lord, <sup>2</sup>by the vision my sorrows are returned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can the servant of this my Lord talk with my Lord being such one? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again, and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And said, O man, greatly beloved, fear not: <sup>1</sup>peace be unto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had spoken unto me, I <sup>2</sup>was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speak: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? but now will I return to fight with the Prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo,

10:1 <sup>1</sup> He noteth this third year, because at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus' son, when the father made war in Asia minor against the Scythians, which was a discouraging to the godly, and a great fear to Daniel.

<sup>2</sup> Which is to declare that the godly should not hasten too much, but patiently to abide the issue of God's promise.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> Called Abib, which containeth part of March, and part of April.

10:5 <sup>1</sup> This was the Angel of God, which was sent to assure Daniel in this prophecy that followeth.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> The word also signifieth comeliness, or beauty, so that for fear he was like a dead man for deformity.

10:10 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that when we are struck down with the majesty of God, we cannot rise, except he also lift us up with his hand, which is his power.

10:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Cambyses who reigned in his father's absence, and did not only for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would have further raged, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore have I stayed for the profit of the Church.

<sup>2</sup> Though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, yet to assure his children of his love, he sendeth forth double power, even Michael, that is, Christ Jesus the head of Angels.

10:14 <sup>1</sup> For though the Prophet Daniel should end and cease, yet his doctrine should continue till the coming of Christ, for the comfort of his Church.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> This was the same Angel that spake with him before in the similitude of a man.

10:19 <sup>1</sup> He declareth hereby that God would be merciful to the people of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> Which declareth that when God smiteth down his children, he doth not immediately lift them up at once (for now the Angel had touched him twice) but by little and little.

the <sup>1</sup>Prince of Greece shall come.

21 But I will show thee that which is decreed in the Scripture of truth: <sup>1</sup>and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

11 A prophecy of the kingdoms, which should be enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Greece, 5 of Egypt, 28 of Syria, 36 and of the Romans.

1 Also I, in the first year of Darius of the Medes, even I <sup>1</sup>stood to encourage and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I show thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet <sup>1</sup>three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength, and by his riches he shall stir up <sup>2</sup>all against the realm of Greece.

3 But a <sup>1</sup>mighty King shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his pleasure.

4 And when he shall stand up, <sup>1</sup>his kingdom shall be broken, <sup>2</sup>and shall be divided toward the <sup>3</sup>four winds of heaven: and not to his <sup>4</sup>posterity, nor according to <sup>5</sup>his dominion, which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up even to be for others besides <sup>6</sup>those.

5 And the <sup>1</sup>King of the South shall be mighty, and one of <sup>2</sup>his princes, and shall prevail against him, and bear rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they shall be joined together: for the King's <sup>1</sup>daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shall not retain the power of the <sup>2</sup>arm, neither shall <sup>3</sup>he continue, nor his <sup>4</sup>arm: but she shall be delivered to death, and they that brought her, and he <sup>5</sup>that begat her, and he that comforted her, in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her <sup>1</sup>roots shall one stand up in his stead, <sup>2</sup>which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the King of the North, and do with them as he list, and shall prevail,

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods: with their molten images, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue <sup>1</sup>more years than the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 Wherefore his <sup>1</sup>sons shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a mighty great army: and one <sup>2</sup>shall come, and overflow, and pass through: then shall he <sup>3</sup>return, and be stirred up at his fortress.

11 And the King of the South shall be angry, and shall come forth, and fight with him, even with the king of the North: for he shall set forth a great <sup>1</sup>multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shall be proud, and their heart shall be lifted up: for he shall cast down thou-

10:20 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he would not only himself bridle the rage of Cambyses, but also the other Kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia.

10:21 <sup>1</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defense of the Church under Christ, who is the head thereof.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> The Angel assureth Daniel that God hath given him power to perform these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius when he overcame the Chaldeans.

11:2 <sup>1</sup> Whereof Cambyses that now reigned, was the first, the second Smerdis, the third Darius the son of Hystaspis, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God, and stood against them.

<sup>2</sup> For he raised up all the East countries to fight against the Greeks, and albeit he had in his army nine hundred thousand men, yet in four battles he was discomfited and fled away with shame.

11:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, Alexander the great.

11:4 <sup>1</sup> For when his estate was most flourishing, he overcame himself with drink, and so fell into a disease: or as some write, was poisoned by Cassander.

11:5 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Ptolemy king of Egypt.

<sup>2</sup> That is, Antiochus the son of Seleucus, and one of Alexander's princes shall be more mighty: for he should have both Asia and Syria.

11:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolemy Philadelphus shall be given in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinity that Syria and Egypt should have a continual peace together.

<sup>5</sup> Some read, she that begate her, and thereby understand her nurse, which brought her up: so that all they that were occasion of this marriage, were destroyed.

11:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Ptolemeus Euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus should succeed in the kingdom being of the same stock that Berenice was.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> For this Ptolemy reigned six and forty years.

11:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Seleucus and Antiochus the great, the sons of Callinicus, shall make war against Ptolemy Philopater the son of Philadelphus.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> For Antiochus had six thousand horsemen, and threescore thousand footmen.

sands: but he shall not still prevail,

13 For the King of the North <sup>1</sup>shall return, and shall set forth a greater multitude than afore, and shall come forth (after certain years) with a mighty army, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall <sup>1</sup>many stand up against the king of the South: also the rebellious children of thy <sup>2</sup>people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the North shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the strong city: and the arms of the South shall <sup>1</sup>not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that shall come, shall do unto him as he list, and none shall stand against him: and he shall stand in the <sup>1</sup>pleasant land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 Again he shall <sup>1</sup>set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdom, and his confederates with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the <sup>2</sup>daughter of women to destroy <sup>3</sup>her: but <sup>4</sup>she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the <sup>1</sup>isles, and shall take many, but a prince <sup>2</sup>shall cause his shame to light upon him, besides that he shall cause his own shame to turn upon <sup>3</sup>himself.

19 For he shall turn his face toward the forts of <sup>1</sup>his own land: but he shall be overthrown and fall, and be no more <sup>2</sup>found.

20 <sup>1</sup>Then shall stand up in his place in the glory of the kingdom, one that shall raise taxes: but after few days he shall be destroyed, neither in <sup>2</sup>wrath, nor in battle.

21 And in his place shall stand up a <sup>1</sup>vile person, to whom they shall not give the honor of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And the <sup>1</sup>arms shall be overthrown with a flood before him, and shall be broken: and also the prince of the <sup>2</sup>covenant.

23 And after <sup>1</sup>the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and overcome with a <sup>2</sup>small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentiful province, and he shall do that which his fathers <sup>1</sup>have not done, nor his fathers' fathers: he shall divide among them the prey and the spoil, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strongholds, even for a <sup>2</sup>time.

25 Also he shall stir up his power, and his courage against the King of the South with a great army, and the King of the South shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army: but he shall not <sup>1</sup>stand: for they shall forecast and practice against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of <sup>1</sup>his meat, shall destroy him: and his army <sup>2</sup>shall overflow: and many shall fall, and be slain.

27 And both these Kings' hearts shall be to do <sup>1</sup>mischief, and they shall talk of deceit at one table:

11:13 <sup>1</sup> After the death of Ptolemy Philopater, who left Ptolemeus Epiphanes his heir.

11:14 <sup>1</sup> For not only Antiochus came against him but also Philip King of Macedonia, and these two brought great power with them.

<sup>2</sup> For under Onias which falsely alleged that place of Isa. 19:19, certain of the Jews retired with him into Egypt to fulfill this prophecy: also the Angel showeth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the providence and counsel of God.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> The Egyptians were not able to resist Scopas Antiochus' captain.

11:16 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that he shall not only afflict the Egyptians, but also the Jews, and shall enter into their country, whereof he admonisheth them before, that they may know that all these things came by God's providence.

11:17 <sup>1</sup> This was the second battle that Antiochus fought against Ptolemy Epiphanes.

<sup>4</sup> She shall not agree to his wicked counsel, but shall love her husband, as her duty requireth, and not seek his destruction.

11:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, toward Asia, Greece, and those isles which are in the sea called Mediterranean: for the Jews called all countries isles which were divided from them by sea.

11:19 <sup>1</sup> For fear of the Romans he shall flee to his holds.

<sup>2</sup> For when as under the pretence of poverty he would have robbed the Temple of Jupiter Dodomeus, the countrymen slew him.

11:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, Seleucus shall succeed his father Antiochus.

11:21 <sup>1</sup> Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought was the occasion of Seleucus his brother's death, and was of a vile, cruel and flattering nature, and defrauded his brother's son of the kingdom, and usurped the kingdom without the consent of the people.

11:22 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that great foreign powers shall come to help the young son of Seleucus against his uncle Antiochus: and yet shall be overthrown.

11:23 <sup>1</sup> For after the battle Philometor and his uncle Antiochus made a league.

11:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in Egypt.

<sup>2</sup> He will content himself with the small holds for a time, but ever labor by craft to attain to the chiefest.

11:25 <sup>1</sup> He shall be overcome with treason.

11:26 <sup>1</sup> Signifying his princes and the chief about him.

<sup>2</sup> Declaring that his soldiers shall brast out and venture their life to slay and to be slain for the safeguard of their prince.

11:27 <sup>1</sup> The uncle and the nephew shall take truce, and banquet together, yet in their hearts they shall imagine mischief one against the other.

but it shall not avail: for <sup>2</sup>yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great <sup>1</sup>substance: for his heart shall be against the holy covenant: so shall he do and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships <sup>1</sup>of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be sorry and return and fret against the holy covenant: so shall he do, he shall even return <sup>2</sup>and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms <sup>1</sup>shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuary <sup>2</sup>of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall set up the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly <sup>1</sup>break the covenant, shall he cause to sin by flattery: but the people that do know their God, shall prevail and prosper.

33 And they that understand among the <sup>1</sup>people, shall instruct many: <sup>2</sup>yet they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captivity and by spoil many days.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a <sup>1</sup>little help: but many shall cleave unto them <sup>2</sup>feignedly.

35 And some of them <sup>1</sup>of understanding shall fall to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the <sup>1</sup>king shall do what him list: he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself against all, that is God, and shall speak marvelous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper, till the wrath <sup>2</sup>be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shall he regard the <sup>1</sup>God of his fathers, nor the desires <sup>2</sup>of women, nor care for any God: for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 But in his place shall he honor the <sup>1</sup>god Mauzzim, and the god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honor with <sup>2</sup>gold and with silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in <sup>1</sup>the holds of Mauzzim with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: he shall increase his glory, and shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain.

40 And at the end of time shall the king of the <sup>1</sup>South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlwind with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass through.

41 He shall enter also into the <sup>1</sup>pleasant land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall 11:27 <sup>2</sup> Signifying, that it standeth not in the counsel of men to bring things to pass, but in the providence of God, who ruleth the Kings by a secret bridle, that they cannot do what they list themselves.

11:28 <sup>1</sup> Which he shall take of the Jews in spoiling Jerusalem and the Temple, and this is told them before to move them to patience, knowing that all things are done by God's providence.

11:30 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Roman power shall come against him: for P. Popilius the Ambassador appointed him to depart in the Romans' name, to which thing he obeyed, although with grief, and to revenge his rage he came against the people of God the second time.

<sup>2</sup> So called because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant set up in the Temple the image of Jupiter Olympius, and so began to corrupt the pure service of God.

11:32 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, such as bare the name of Jews, but indeed were nothing less, for they sold their souls, and betrayed their brethren for gain.

11:33 <sup>1</sup> They that remain constant among the people shall teach others by their example, and edify many in the true religion.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby he exhorteth the godly to constancy, although they should perish a thousand times, and though their miseries endure never so long.

11:34 <sup>1</sup> As God will not leave his Church destitute, yet will he not deliver it all at once, but so help, as they may still seem to fight under the cross, as he did in the time of the Maccabees, whereof he here prophesieth.

11:35 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of them that fear God and will lose their life for the defense of true religion. Signifying also that the Church must continually be tried and purged, and ought to look for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed the time: therefore we must obey.

11:36 <sup>1</sup> Because the Angel's purpose is to show the whole course of the persecutions of the Jews unto the coming of Christ, he now speaketh of the Monarchy of the Romans which he noteth by the name of a King, who were without religion and condemned the true God.

<sup>2</sup> So long the tyrants shall prevail as God hath appointed to punish his people: but he showeth that it is but for a time.

11:37 <sup>1</sup> The Romans shall observe no certain form of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasures, yea, contemn them and prefer themselves to their gods.

11:38 <sup>1</sup> That is, the god of power and riches: they shall esteem their own power above all their gods and worship it.

<sup>2</sup> Under pretence of worshipping the gods, they shall enrich their city with the most precious jewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should have them in admiration for their power and riches.

11:39 <sup>1</sup> Although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should have been despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they got any country, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profit ever came to the Romans.

11:40 <sup>1</sup> That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romans, but they shall be overcome.

11:41 <sup>1</sup> The Angel forewarneth the Jews that when they should see the Romans invade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not think but that all this was done by God's providence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, and therefore he would still preserve them.

escape out of his hand, even Edom and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hands also upon the countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Libyans, and of the black Mores where he shall pass.

44 But the tidings out of the East and the North shall <sup>1</sup>trouble him: therefore he shall go forth <sup>2</sup>with great wrath to destroy and root out many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles <sup>1</sup>of his palace between the seas in the glorious and holy mountain, yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

1 And at that <sup>1</sup>time shall Michael stand up, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there began to be a nation unto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, everyone that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many <sup>1</sup>of them that sleep in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and perpetual contempt.

3 And they that be <sup>1</sup>wise, shall shine, as the brightness of the firmament: and they that <sup>2</sup>turn many to righteousness, shall shine as the stars, forever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, <sup>1</sup>shut up the words, and seal the book <sup>2</sup>till the end of the time: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the brink of the <sup>1</sup>river, and the other on that side of the brink of the river.

6 And one said unto the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, When shall be the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his <sup>1</sup>right hand, and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth forever, that it shall tarry for a <sup>2</sup>time two times and a half: and when he shall have accomplished <sup>3</sup>to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I understood it not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up, and sealed, till the end of the time.

10 Many shall be purified, made white, and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the wicked shall have understanding: but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the <sup>1</sup>daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abominable desolation set up, there <sup>2</sup>shall be a thousand, two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth and cometh to the thousand, three hundred and <sup>1</sup>five and thirty days.

13 But go <sup>1</sup>thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest and stand up in thy lot, at the end of the days.

11:44 <sup>1</sup> Hearing that Crassus was slain, and Antonius discomfited.

11:45 <sup>1</sup> The Romans after this reigned quietly throughout all countries, and from sea to sea, and in Judea: but at length for their cruelty God shall destroy them.

12:1 <sup>1</sup> The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christ's coming, and next that God will send his Angel to deliver it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, all shall rise at the general resurrection, which thing he here nameth because the faithful should have ever respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort.

12:3 <sup>1</sup> Who have kept the true fear of God and his religion.

<sup>2</sup> He chiefly meaneth the ministers of God's word, and next all the faithful which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> Though the most part despise this prophecy, yet keep thou it sure and esteem it as a treasure.

<sup>2</sup> Till the time that God hath appointed for the full revelation of these things: and then many shall run to and fro to search the knowledge of these mysteries which things they obtain now by the light of the Gospel.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> Which was Tigris.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> Which was as were a double oath, and did the more confirm the thing.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time: signifying that their troubles should have an end.

<sup>3</sup> When the Church shall be scattered and diminished in such sort as it shall seem to have no power.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> From the time that Christ by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the Law.

<sup>2</sup> Signifying that the time shall be long of Christ's second coming, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged, though it be deferred.

12:12 <sup>1</sup> In this number he addeth a month and a half to the former number, signifying that it is not in man to appoint the time of Christ's coming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing.

12:13 <sup>1</sup> The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide; till the time appointed come, signifying that he should depart this life, and rise again with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

HOSEA

1 The word of the Lord that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days <sup>1</sup>of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, <sup>2</sup>kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel.

2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord said unto Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife <sup>1</sup>of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went, and took <sup>1</sup>Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a son.

4 And the Lord said unto him, Call his name <sup>1</sup>Jezreel: for yet a little, and I will visit the blood of Jezreel upon the house of <sup>2</sup>Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5 And at that <sup>1</sup>day will I also break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 She conceived yet again, and bare a daughter, and God said unto him, Call her name <sup>1</sup>Lo-Ruhamah: for I will no more have pity upon the house of Israel: but I will utterly <sup>2</sup>take them away.

7 Yet I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will <sup>1</sup>save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name <sup>1</sup>Lo-Ammi: for ye are not my people: therefore will I not be yours.

10 Yet the number of the <sup>1</sup>children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor told: and in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.

2 <sup>1</sup> The people is called to repentance. <sup>5</sup> He showeth their idolatry and threateneth them except they repent.

1 Say unto your <sup>1</sup>brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah,

3 Lest I strip her naked, and <sup>1</sup>set her as in the day that she was <sup>2</sup>born, and make her as a wilderness, and

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Called also Azariah, who being a leper was disposed from his kingdom.

<sup>2</sup> So that it may be gathered by the reign of these four kings, that he preached above threescore years.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he saw this in a vision, or else was commanded by God to set forth under this parable or figure the idolatry of the Synagogue, and of the people her children.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim clusters of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt like rotten figs.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites of the which name they boasted because Israel, did prevail with God: but that they were as bastard, and therefore should be called Jezreelites, that is scattered people, alluding to Jezreel, which was the chief city of the ten tribes under Ahab where Jehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings 10:8.

<sup>2</sup> I will be revenged upon Jehu for the blood that he shed in Jezreel: for albeit God stirred him up to execute his judgments, yet he did them for his own ambition, and not for the glory of God as the end declared: for he built up that idolatry which he had destroyed.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> When the measure of their iniquity is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policy and force.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, not obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that God's favor was departed from them.

<sup>2</sup> For the Israelites never returned after that they were taken captives by the Assyrians.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> For after their captivity he restored him miraculously by the means of Cyrus, Ezra 1:1.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, not my people.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Because they thought that God could not have been true in his promise except he had preserved them, he declareth though they were destroyed, yet the true Israelites, which are the sons of the promise, should be without number, which stand both of the Jews and the Gentiles, Rom. 9:26.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> To wit, after the captivity of Babylon when the Jews were restored, but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Jews and Gentiles.

<sup>2</sup> The calamity and destruction of Israel shall be so great, that to restore them shall be as a miracle.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that I have promised you deliverance, it remaineth that you encourage one another to embrace the same, considering that ye are my people on whom I will have mercy.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> God showeth that the fault was not in him, but in their Synagogue, and their idolatries, that he forsook them, Isa. 50:1.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that their idolatry was so great, that they were not ashamed, but boasted of it, Ezek. 16:25.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparel and dowry and certain signs of his favor, but if they continued still, he would utterly destroy them.

leave her like a dry land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I will have no pity upon her children: for they be the <sup>1</sup>children of fornication.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them, hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after thy <sup>1</sup>lovers that give me my bread and my water, my wool, and my flax, mine oil and my drink.

6 Therefore behold, I will stoop <sup>1</sup>thy way with thorns, and make an hedge, that she shall not find her paths.

7 Though she follow after her lovers, yet shall she not come at them: though she seek them, yet shall she not find them: then shall she say, <sup>1</sup>I will go and return to my first husband: for at that time was I better than now.

8 Now she did not know that I <sup>1</sup>gave her corn, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they bestowed upon Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away <sup>1</sup>my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recover my wool and my flax lent, to cover her shame.

10 And now will I discover her <sup>1</sup>lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and no man shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them as a forest, and the wild beasts shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the days of <sup>1</sup>Baal, wherein she burnt incense to them: and she decked herself with her <sup>2</sup>earrings and her jewels, and she followed her lovers, and forgot me, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore behold, I will <sup>1</sup>allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak friendly unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley <sup>1</sup>of Achor for the door of hope, and she shall <sup>2</sup>sing there as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me <sup>1</sup>Ishi, and shalt call me no more <sup>2</sup>Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baal out of her mouth, and they shall be no more remembered by their <sup>1</sup>names.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the <sup>1</sup>wild beasts, and with the fowls of the heaven, and with that that creepeth upon the earth: and I will break the bow, and the sword and the battle out of the earth: and will make them to sleep safely.

19 And I will marry thee unto me forever: yea, I will marry thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in mercy, and in compassion.

20 I will even marry thee unto me in <sup>1</sup>faithfulness, and thou shalt know the Lord.

21 And in that day I will hear, saith the Lord, I will even hear <sup>1</sup>the heavens, and they shall hear the earth,

22 And the earth shall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and they shall hear Jezreel.

23 And I will sow her unto me in the earth, and I will have mercy upon her, that was not pitied, <sup>4</sup>and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people. And they shall say, Thou art my God.

3 <sup>1</sup> The Jews shall be cast off for their idolatry.    <sup>5</sup> Afterward they shall return to the Lord.

1 Then said the Lord to me, <sup>1</sup>Go yet, and love a woman (beloved of her husband, and was an harlot)

2:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, bastards and begotten in adultery.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the idol which they served, and by whom they thought they had wealth and abundance.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> I will punish thee that then thou mayest try whether thine idols can help thee, and bring thee into such straightness that thou shalt have no lust to play the wanton.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> This he speaketh of the faithful, which are truly converted, and also sheweth the use and profit of God's rods.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that idolaters defraud God of his honor, when they attribute his benefits to their idols.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God will take away his benefits when man by his ingratitude doth abuse them.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, all her service, ceremonies and inventions whereby she worshipped her idols.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> I will punish her for her idolatry.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> By my benefits in offering her grace and mercy, even in that place where she shall think herself destitute of all help and comfort.

2:15 <sup>1</sup> Which was a plentiful valley, and wherein they had great comfort when they came out of the wilderness, as Josh. 7:26, and is called the door of hope, because it was a departing from death and an entry into life.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, mine husband, knowing that I am joined to thee by an inviolable covenant.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> No idolatry shall once come into their mouth, but they shall serve me purely according to my word.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he will so bless them that all creatures shall favor them.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> With a covenant that never shall be broken.

2:21 <sup>1</sup> Then shall the heaven desire rain for the earth which shall bring forth for the use of man.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> Herein the Prophet representeth the person of God, which loved his Church before he called her, and did not withdraw the same when she gave herself to idols.

according to the love of the Lord toward the children of Israel: yet they looked to other gods, and <sup>2</sup>loved the wine bottles.

2 So <sup>1</sup>I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley, and an half homer of barley.

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt abide with <sup>1</sup>me many days: thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt be to none other man, and I will be so unto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall <sup>1</sup>remain many days without a king and without a <sup>2</sup>prince, and without an offering, and without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel convert and seek the Lord their God, and <sup>1</sup>David their king, and shall fear the Lord and his goodness in the latter days.

4 A complaint against the people and the priests of Israel.

1 Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord <sup>1</sup>hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and whoring, they break out, and <sup>1</sup>blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourn, and everyone that dwelleth therein shall be cut off, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of the heaven, and also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Yet <sup>1</sup>let none rebuke, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the <sup>1</sup>day, and the Prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy <sup>2</sup>mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because <sup>1</sup>thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee that thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing <sup>2</sup>thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were <sup>1</sup>increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 <sup>1</sup>They eat up the sins of my people, and lift up their minds in their iniquity.

9 And there shall be like people like <sup>1</sup>priest: for I will visit their ways upon them, and reward them their deeds.

10 For they shall eat, and not have enough, they shall <sup>1</sup>commit adultery, and shall not increase, because they have left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 <sup>1</sup>Whoredom, and wine, and new wine take away their heart.

12 My <sup>1</sup>people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff teacheth them: for the <sup>2</sup>spirit of fornications hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills under the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elm, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be <sup>1</sup>harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not <sup>1</sup>visit your daughters when they are harlots: nor your spouses, when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doth not understand, shall fall.

3:1 <sup>2</sup> That is, gave themselves wholly to pleasure, and could not take up, as they that are given to drunkenness.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Yet I loved her and paid a small portion for her, lest she perceiving the greatness of my love, should have abused me, and not been under duty: for fifteen pieces of silver were but half the price of a slave, Exod. 21:32.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> I will try thee a long time as in thy widowhood whether thou wilt be mine or no.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, not only all the time of their captivity, but also unto Christ.

<sup>2</sup> That is, they should neither have policy nor religion, and their idols also wherein they put their confidence, should be destroyed.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> This is meant of Christ's kingdom, which was promised unto David to be eternal, Ps. 72:17.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Because the people would not obey the admonitions of the Prophet, he citeth them before the judgment seat of God, against whom they chiefly offended, Isa. 7:13; Zech. 12:10; Mic. 6:1, 2.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> In every place appeareth a liberty to most heinous vices, so that one followeth in the neck of another.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> As though he would say that it were in vain to rebuke them: for no man can abide it: yea, they will speak against the prophets and priests whose office it is chiefly to rebuke them.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Ye shall perish all together the one because he would not obey, and the other, because he would not admonish.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Priests shall be cast off, because that for lack of knowledge, they are not able to execute their charge, and instruct others, Deut. 33:3; Mal. 2:7.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> The more I was beneficial unto them.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Priests seek to eat the people's offerings, and flatter them in their sins.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that as they have sinned together, so shall they be punished together.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> Showing that their wickedness shall be punished on all sorts: for though they think by the multitude of wives to have many children, yet they shall be deceived of their hope.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> In giving themselves to pleasures, they become like brute beasts.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> Thus he speaketh by derision in calling them his people, which now for their sins they were not: for they sought help of stocks and sticks.

4:13 <sup>1</sup> Because they take away God's honor, and give it to idols: therefore he will give them up to their lusts, that they shall dishonor their own bodies, Rom. 1:28.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendment, but let you run headlong to your own damnation.

15 Though thou Israel, play the harlot, yet <sup>1</sup>let not Judah sin: come not ye unto <sup>2</sup>Gilgal, neither go ye up to <sup>3</sup>Beth Aven, nor swear, The Lord liveth.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an unruly heifer. Now the Lord will feed them as a <sup>1</sup>lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone.

18 Their drunkenness stinketh: they have committed whoredom: their rulers love to say with shame, <sup>1</sup>Bring ye.

19 The wind hath <sup>1</sup>bound them up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

1 O ye Priests, hear this, and hearken ye, O house of Israel, and give ye ear, O house of the King: for judgment is toward you, because you have been a <sup>1</sup>snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 Yet they were profound to decline to <sup>1</sup>slaughter, though I have been a <sup>2</sup>rebuker of them all.

3 I know <sup>1</sup>Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They will not give their minds to turn unto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the midst of them, and they have not known the Lord.

5 And the <sup>1</sup>pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity: Judah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their sheep, and with their bullocks, to seek the Lord: but they shall not find him: for he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have transgressed against the Lord: for they have begotten <sup>1</sup>strange children: now shall <sup>2</sup>a month devour them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the trumpet in Gibeah, and the shame in Ramah: cry out at Beth Aven, after thee, O <sup>1</sup>Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I caused to <sup>1</sup>know the truth.

10 The princes of Judah were like them that <sup>1</sup>remove the bound: therefore will I pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after the <sup>1</sup>commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as a rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his wound, then went Ephraim unto <sup>1</sup>Assyria, and sent unto King <sup>2</sup>Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lion's whelp, to the house of Judah: I, even I will spoil and go away: I will take away, and none shall rescue it.

15 I will go, and return to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seek me: in their affliction, they will seek me diligently.

1 Come, and let <sup>1</sup>us return to the Lord: for he hath spoiled, and he will heal us: he hath wounded us, and he will bind us up.

2 After two days will <sup>1</sup>he revive us, and in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 Then shall we have knowledge, and endeavor ourselves to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come unto us as the rain, and as the latter rain unto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, how shall I entreat thee? for <sup>1</sup>your goodness is as a morn-

4:15 <sup>1</sup> God complaineth that Judah is infected, and willeth them to learn to return in time.

<sup>2</sup> For albeit the Lord had honored this place in time past by his presence, yet because it was abused by their idolatry, he would not that his people should resort thither.

<sup>3</sup> He calleth Bethel, that is, the house of God, Beth Aven, that is, the house of iniquity, because of their abominations set up there, signifying that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> God will so disperse them, that they shall not remain in any certain place.

4:18 <sup>1</sup> They are so impudent in receiving bribes, that they will command men to bring them unto them.

4:19 <sup>1</sup> To carry them suddenly away.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> The Priests and Princes caught the poor people in their snares, as the fowlers did the birds, in these two high mountains.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> Notwithstanding they seemed to be given altogether to holiness, and to sacrifices which here he calleth slaughter in contempt.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> They boasted themselves not only to be Israelites, but also Ephraimites, because their king Jeroboam came of that tribe.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, their contemning of all admonitions.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, their children are degenerate, so that there is no hope in them.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, all Israel comprehended under this part, signifying that the Lord's plagues should pursue them from place to place till they were destroyed.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> By the success they shall know that I have surely determined this.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> They have turned upside down all political order and all manner of religion.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> To wit, after king Jeroboam's commandment, and did not rather follow God.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> Instead of seeking for remedy at God's hand.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the people how they ought to turn to the Lord, that he might call back his plagues.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> Though he correct us from time to time, yet his help will not be far off, if we return to him.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> You seem to have a certain holiness and repentance, but it is upon the sudden, and as a morning cloud.

ing cloud, and as the morning dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I cut down by the Prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth, and thy judgments were as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

7 But they like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they trespassed against me.

8 Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as the thieves wait for a man, so the company of Priests murder in the way by consent: for they work mischief.

10 I have seen villainy in the house of Israel: there is the whoredom of Ephraim: Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, Judah hath set a plant for thee, while I would return the captivity of my people.

7 1 Of the vices and wantonness of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

1 When I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria: for they have dealt falsely: and the thief cometh in, and the robber spoileth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedness: now their own inventions have beset them about: they are in my sight.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, and as a very oven heated by the baker, which ceaseth from raising up, and from kneading the dough until it be leavened.

5 This is the day of our king: the princes have made him sick with flagons of wine: he stretcheth out his hand to scorners.

6 For they have made ready their heart like an oven while they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges: all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim hath mixed himself among the people. Ephraim is as a cake on the hearth not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here, and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they do not return to the Lord their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a dove deceived without heart: they call to Egypt: they go to Assyria.

12 But when they shall go, I will spread my net upon them, and draw them down as the fowls of the heaven: I will chastise them as their Congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them: for they have fled away from me: destruction shall be unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their hearts, when they howled upon their beds: they assembled themselves for corn, and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I have bound and strengthened their arm, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword, for the rage of their tongues: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8 1 The destruction of Judah and Israel, because of their idolatry.

1 Set the trumpet to thy mouth: he shall come as an eagle against the House of the Lord, because

6:5 I have still labored by my prophets, and as it were framed you to bring you to amendment, but all was in vain: for my word was not food to feed them, but a sword to slay them.

6:6 He showeth to what scope his doctrine tended, that they should join the obedience of God, and the love of their neighbor with outward sacrifices.

6:7 That is, like light and weak persons.

6:8 Which was the place where the Priests dwelt, and which should have been best instructed in my word.

6:11 That is, doth imitate thine idolatry, and hath taken grafts of thy trees.

7:1 Meaning, that there was no one kind of vice among them, but that they were subject to all wickedness, both secret and open.

7:3 They esteem their wicked king Jeroboam above God, and seek but how to flatter and please him.

7:4 He compareth the rage of the people to a burning oven which the baker heateth, still till his dough be leavened and raised.

7:5 They used all riot and excess in their feasts, and solemnities whereby their king was overcome with surfeit, and brought into diseases, and delighted in flatteries.

7:7 By their occasion God hath deprived them of all good rulers.

7:8 That is, he counterfeited the religion of the Gentiles, yet is but as a cake baked on the one side, and raw on the other, that is, neither thoroughly hot, nor thoroughly cold, but partly a Jew, and partly a Gentile.

7:9 Which are a token of his manifold afflictions.

7:11 That is, without all judgment, as they that cannot tell whether it is better to cleave only to God, or to seek the help of man.

7:12 According to my curses made to the whole Congregation of Israel.

7:13 That is, divers times redeemed them, and delivered them from death.

7:14 When they were in affliction, and cried out for pain, they sought not unto me for help.

7:16 Because they boast of their own strength, and pass not what they speak against me and my servants, Ps. 73:9.

8:1 God encourageth the Prophet to signify the speedy coming of the enemy against Israel, which was once the people of God.

they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall <sup>1</sup>cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They have set up a <sup>1</sup>king, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols: therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off: mine anger is kindled against them: how long will they be without <sup>1</sup>innocency!

6 <sup>1</sup>For it came even from Israel: the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have <sup>1</sup>sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the bud shall bring forth no meal: if so be it brought forth, the strangers shall devour it.

8 Israel is devoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria: they are as a <sup>1</sup>wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers.

10 Yet though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them and they shall sorrow a little for the <sup>1</sup>burden of the king and the princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, his altars shall be to sin.

12 I have written to them the great things of my Law: but they were counted as a <sup>1</sup>strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it: but the <sup>1</sup>Lord accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth

Temples, and Judah hath increased strong cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

9 Of the hunger and captivity of Israel.

1 Rejoice not, O Israel for joy <sup>1</sup>as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God: thou hast loved <sup>2</sup>a reward upon every corn floor.

2 <sup>1</sup>The floor, and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They will not dwell in the Lord's land, but Ephraim will return to Egypt, and they will eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer <sup>1</sup>wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasant unto him: but they shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof, shall be polluted: for their bread <sup>2</sup>for their souls shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What will ye do <sup>1</sup>then in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

6 For lo, they are gone from <sup>1</sup>destruction: but Egypt shall gather them up, and Memphis shall bury them: the nettle shall possess the pleasant places of their silver, and the thorn shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come: the days of recompense are come: Israel shall know it: <sup>1</sup>the Prophet is a fool: the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim <sup>1</sup>should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred in the house of his God.

9 They <sup>1</sup>are deeply set: they are corrupt as in the days of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like <sup>1</sup>grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the fig tree at her first time: but they went to Baal Peor, and separated

8:2 <sup>1</sup> They shall cry like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deeds declare.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, Jeroboam by whom they sought their own liberty, and not to obey my will.

8:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, upright judgment and godly life.

8:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the calf was invented by themselves, and of their fathers in the wilderness.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> Showing that their religion hath but a show, and in itself is but vanity.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> They never cease, but run to and fro to seek help.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, for the king and the princes shall lay upon them: which means the Lord useth to bring them to repentance.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> Thus the idolaters count the word of God as strange in respect of their own inventions.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> Saying that they offer it to the Lord, but he accepteth no service, which he himself hath not appointed.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> For though all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished.

barns filled, Jer. 44:17, as an harlot that had rather live by playing the whore, than to be entertained of her own husband.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> These outward things that thou seekest, shall be taken from thee.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> All their doings both touching policy and religion, shall be rejected as things polluted.

9:5 <sup>1</sup> When the Lord shall take away all the occasions of serving him, which shall be the most grievous point of your captivity, when ye shall see yourselves cut off from God.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> Though they think to escape by fleeing the destruction that is at hand, yet shall they be destroyed in the place whither they flee for succor.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> Then they shall know that they were deluded by them, who challenged to themselves to be their prophets and spiritual men.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet's duty is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God.

9:9 <sup>1</sup> This people is so rooted in their wickedness, that Gibeah which was like to Sodom, was never more corrupt, Judg. 19:22.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he so esteemed them and delighted in them.

themselves unto that shame, and their abominations were according to <sup>2</sup>their lovers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the birth <sup>1</sup>and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet I will deprive them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw, is as a tree <sup>1</sup>in Tyre planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 O Lord, give them: what wilt thou give them? give them a <sup>1</sup>barren womb and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness is in <sup>1</sup>Gilgal: for there do I hate them: for the wickedness of their inventions, I will cast them out of mine House: I will love them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up: they can bring no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the dearest of their body.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations.

10 <sup>1</sup>Against Israel and his idols. <sup>14</sup>His destruction for the same.

1 Israel is a <sup>1</sup>empty vine, yet hath it brought forth fruit unto itself, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof he hath increased the altars: according to the <sup>2</sup>goodness of their land they have made fair images.

2 Their heart is <sup>1</sup>divided: now shall they be found faulty: he shall break down their altars; he shall destroy their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no <sup>1</sup>King because we feared not the Lord: and what should a King do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making <sup>1</sup>a covenant: thus <sup>2</sup>judgment groweth as wormwood in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall <sup>1</sup>fear because of the calf of Beth Aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the <sup>2</sup>Chemarims thereof, that rejoiced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also brought to Assyria, for a present unto king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed, as the foam upon the water.

8 The high places also of <sup>1</sup>Aven shall be destroyed, even the sin of Israel: the thorn and the thistle shall grow upon their altars, and they shall say to the mountains, <sup>4</sup>Cover us, and to the hills, Fall upon us.

9 O Israel, thou hast <sup>1</sup>sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they <sup>2</sup>stood: the battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not <sup>3</sup>touch them.

10 It is my desire <sup>1</sup>that I should chastise them, and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall gather themselves in their two <sup>2</sup>furrows.

11 And Ephraim is as a heifer used to delight in <sup>1</sup>threshing: but I will pass by her <sup>2</sup>fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride: Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sow to yourselves in righteousness: reap after the measure of mercy: <sup>1</sup>break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 But you have plowed wickedness: ye have reaped iniquity: you have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thine own ways, and in the multitude of thy strong men,

9:10 <sup>2</sup>They were as abominable unto me, as their lovers the idols.

9:11 <sup>1</sup>Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry means, and so consume them by little and little.

9:13 <sup>1</sup>As they kept tender plants in their houses in Tyre to preserve them from the cold air of the sea, so was Ephraim at the first unto me, but now I will give him to the slaughter.

9:14 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, prayeth to God to make them barren, rather than that this great slaughter should come upon their children.

9:15 <sup>1</sup>The chief cause of their destruction is that they commit idolatry, and corrupt my Religion in Gilgal.

10:1 <sup>1</sup>Whereof though the grapes were gathered, yet ever as it gathered new strength, it increased new wickedness, so that the correction which should have brought them to obedience, did but utter their stubbornness.

10:2 <sup>1</sup>To wit, from God.

10:3 <sup>1</sup>The day shall come that God shall take away their king, and then they shall feel the fruit of their sins, and how they trusted in him in vain, 2 Kings 17:6, 7.

10:4 <sup>1</sup>In promising to be faithful toward God.

<sup>2</sup>Thus their integrity and fidelity, which they pretended, was nothing but bitterness and grief.

10:5 <sup>1</sup>When the calf shall be carried away.

10:8 <sup>1</sup>This he speaketh in contempt of Bethel, read Hos. 4:15.

10:9 <sup>1</sup>In those days wast thou as wicked as the Gibeonites, as God there partly declared: for thy zeal could not be good in executing God's judgments, seeing thine own deeds were as wicked as theirs.

10:10 <sup>1</sup>Because they are so desperate, I will delight to destroy them.

10:11 <sup>1</sup>Wherein is pleasure, as in plowing is labor and pain.

10:12 <sup>1</sup>Read Jer. 4:4.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroyed, as <sup>1</sup>Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battle: the mother with the children was dashed in pieces.

15 So shall Bethel do unto you, because of your malicious wickedness: in a morning shall the king of Israel be destroyed.

1 When Israel <sup>1</sup>was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.

2 They called them, but they <sup>1</sup>went thus from them: they sacrificed unto Baal, and burnt incense to images.

3 I led Ephraim also, as one should bear them in his arms: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I led them with cords <sup>1</sup>of a man, even with bands of love, and I was to them, as he was taketh off the yoke from their jaws, and I laid the meat unto them.

5 He shall no more return into the land of Egypt: but Assyria shall be his <sup>1</sup>King, because they refused to convert.

6 And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to rebellion against me: though <sup>1</sup>they called them to the most high, yet none at all would exalt him.

8 <sup>1</sup>How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee, as <sup>2</sup>Admah? how shall I set thee, as Zehoim? mine heart is turned within me: <sup>3</sup>my repentings are rouled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of my wrath: I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee, and

I will not <sup>1</sup>enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the Lord: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children of the West shall fear.

11 <sup>1</sup>They shall fear as a sparrow out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with <sup>1</sup>God, and is faithful with the Saints.

12 He admonisheth by Jacob's example to trust in God, and not in riches.

1 Ephraim is fed <sup>1</sup>with the wind, and followeth after the East wind: he increaseth daily lies and destruction, and they do make a covenant with Assyria, and <sup>2</sup>oil is carried into Egypt.

2 The Lord hath also a controversy with <sup>1</sup>Judah, and will visit Jacob, according to his ways: according to his works, will he recompense him.

3 He took his brother by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he had <sup>1</sup>power with God,

4 And had <sup>1</sup>power over the Angel, and prevailed: he wept and prayed unto him: <sup>2</sup>he found him in Bethel, and there he spake with us.

5 Yea, the Lord God of hosts, the Lord is himself his memorial.

6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and hope still in thy God.

7 He is <sup>1</sup>Canaan: the balances of decree are in his hand: he loveth to oppress.

8 And Ephraim said, Notwithstanding I am rich, I have found me out riches in all my labors: they shall find none iniquity in me, <sup>1</sup>that were wickedness.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet will I make thee to dwell in the 10:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, Shalmaneser in the destruction of that city spared neither kind nor age.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> While the Israelites were in Egypt, and did not provoke my wrath by their malice and ingratitude.

11:2 <sup>1</sup> They rebelled and went a contrary way when the Prophets called them to repentance.

11:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, friendly: and not as beasts or slaves.

11:5 <sup>1</sup> Seeing they contemn all this kindness, they shall be led captive into Assyria.

11:7 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Prophets.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> God considereth with himself, and that with a certain grief, how to punish them.

<sup>3</sup> Meaning, that his love wherewith he first loved them, made him between doubt and assurance what to do: and herein appeareth his Fatherly affection: that his mercy toward his shall overcome his judgments, as he declareth in the next verse.

11:9 <sup>1</sup> To consume thee, but will cause thee to yield, and so receive thee to mercy: and this is meant of the final number who shall walk after the Lord.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> The Egyptians, and the Assyrians shall be afraid when the Lord maintaineth his people.

11:12 <sup>1</sup> Governeth their state according to God's word, and doth not degenerate.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> Which in those points was like to Ephraim, but not in idolatries.

12:3 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that God did thus prefer Jacob their father, Judah's ingratitude was the more to be abhorred.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> Read Gen. 32:24-32.

<sup>2</sup> God found Jacob as he lay sleeping in Bethel, Gen. 28:12, and so spake with him there, that the fruit of that speech appertained to the whole body of the people, whereof we are.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> As for Ephraim he is more like the wicked Canaanites, than godly Abraham or Jacob.

12:8 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked measure God's favor by outward prosperity and like hypocrites cannot abide that any should reprove their doings.

tabernacles, as in <sup>1</sup>the days of the solemn feast.

10 I have also spoken by the Prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes by the ministry of the Prophets.

11 Is there <sup>1</sup>iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal, and their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the field.

12 <sup>1</sup>And Jacob fled into the country of Aram, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 And by a <sup>1</sup>Prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a Prophet was he reserved.

14 But Ephraim provoked him with high places: therefore shall his blood be poured upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord reward him.

13 <sup>1</sup> The abomination of Israel, <sup>9</sup> and cause of their destruction.

1 When Ephraim spake, there was <sup>1</sup>trembling: he <sup>2</sup>exalted himself in Israel, but he hath sinned in Baal, <sup>3</sup>and is dead.

2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding: they were all the work of the craftsmen: they say one to another while they sacrifice a <sup>1</sup>man, Let them kiss the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the morning dew that passeth away, as the chaff that is driven with a whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God <sup>1</sup>from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no Savior beside me.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me.

7 And I will be unto them as a very lion, and as a leopard in the way of Assyria.

8 I will meet them, as a bear that is robbed of her whelps, and I will break the caul of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: the wild beasts shall tear them.

9 O Israel, one <sup>1</sup>hath destroyed thee, but in me is thine help.

10 <sup>1</sup>I am: where is thy king that should help thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom thou saidest, Give me a king and princes?

11 I gave thee a king in mine anger, and I took him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is <sup>1</sup>bound up: his sin is hid.

13 The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son, else would he not stand still at the time, even at the <sup>1</sup>breaking forth of the children.

14 I will redeem them from the power of the grave: I will deliver them from death: O <sup>1</sup>death, I will be thy death: O grave, I will be thy destruction: <sup>2</sup>repentance is hid from mine eyes.

15 Though he grew up among his brethren, an East wind shall come, even the wind of the Lord shall come up from the wilderness, and dry up his vein, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

1 Samaria shall be desolate: for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped.

2 O Israel, <sup>1</sup>return unto the Lord thy God: for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

3 Take unto you words, and turn to the Lord, and say unto him, <sup>1</sup>Take away all iniquity, and 12:9 <sup>1</sup> Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefits, I will bring thee again to dwell in tents, as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou dost now contemn.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> The people thought that no man durst have spoken against Gilead, that holy place, and yet the Prophet saith, that all their religion was but vanity.

12:12 <sup>1</sup> If you boast of your riches and nobility, ye seem to reproach your father, who was a poor fugitive and servant.

12:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Moses, whereby appeareth, that whatsoever they have, it cometh of God's free goodness.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the excellency and authority that this tribe had above all the rest.

13:2 <sup>1</sup> The false prophets persuaded the idolaters to offer their children after the example of Abraham, and he showeth how they would exhort one another to the same, and to kiss and worship these calves which were their idols.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> He calleth them to repentance, and reproveth their ingratitude.

13:9 <sup>1</sup> Thy destruction is certain, and my benefits toward thee declare that it cometh not of me: therefore thine own malice, idolatry and vain confidence in men must needs be the cause thereof.

13:10 <sup>1</sup> I am all one, James 1:17.

13:12 <sup>1</sup> It is surely laid up to be punished, as Jer. 17:1.

13:13 <sup>1</sup> But would come out of the womb, that is out of this dangers wherein he is and not to tarry to be stifled.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that no power shall resist God when he will deliver his, but even in death will he give them life.

14:2 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth them to repentance to avoid all these plagues, willing them to declare by words their obedience and repentance.

14:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth them how they ought to confess their sins.

receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our <sup>2</sup>lips.

4 Assyria shall <sup>1</sup>not save us, neither will we ride upon horses, neither will we say anymore to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

5 <sup>1</sup>I will heal their rebellion: I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

6 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lily and fasten his roots, as the trees of Lebanon.

7 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

8 They that dwell under his <sup>1</sup>shadow, shall return: they shall revive as the corn, and flourish as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

9 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do anymore with idols? I <sup>1</sup>have heard him, and looked upon him: I am like a green fir tree: upon me is thy fruit found.

10 Who is <sup>1</sup>wise, and he shall understand these things? and prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are righteous and the just shall walk in them: but the wicked shall fall therein.

<sup>2</sup> Declaring that this is the true sacrifice, that the faithful can offer, even thanks and praise, Heb. 13:15.

14:4 <sup>1</sup> We will leave off all vain confidence and pride.

14:5 <sup>1</sup> He declareth how ready God is to receive them that do repent.

14:8 <sup>1</sup> Whosoever join themselves to this people, shall be blessed.

14:9 <sup>1</sup> God showeth how prompt he is to hear his, when they repent, and to offer himself, as a protection and safeguard unto them, as a most sufficient fruit and profit.

14:10 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the true wisdom and knowledge consisteth in this even to rest upon God.

JOEL

1 <sup>1</sup> A prophecy against the Jews. <sup>2</sup> He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting for the misery that was at hand.

1 The word of the Lord that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear ye this, O <sup>1</sup>Elders, and hearken ye all inhabitants of the land, whether <sup>2</sup>such a thing hath been in your days, or yet in the days of your fathers.

3 Tell you your children of it, and let your children show to their children, and their children, to another generation.

4 That which is left of the palmerworm, hath the grasshopper eaten, and the residue of the grasshopper hath the cankerworm eaten, and the residue of the cankerworm hath the caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake ye <sup>1</sup>drunkards, and weep and howl all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine, for it shall be pulled from your mouth.

6 Yea, <sup>1</sup>a nation cometh upon my land, mighty and without number, whose teeth are like the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaws of a great lion.

7 He maketh my vine waste, and pilleth off the bark of my fig tree: he maketh it bare, and casteth it down: the branches thereof are made white.

8 Mourn like a virgin girded with sackcloth, for the <sup>1</sup>husband of her youth.

9 The meat offering and the drink offering is <sup>1</sup>cut off from the house of the Lord: the Priests the Lord's ministers mourn.

10 The field is wasted: the land mourneth: for the corn is destroyed: <sup>1</sup>the new wine is dried up, and the oil is decayed.

11 Be ye ashamed, O husbandmen: howl, O ye vinedressers for the wheat and for the barley, because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig tree is decayed: the pomegranate tree and the palm tree, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: surely the joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 <sup>1</sup>Gird yourselves and lament ye Priests: howl ye ministers of the altar: come, and lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat offering, and the drink offering is taken away from the house of your God.

14 Sanctify you a fast: call a solemn assembly: gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and cry unto the Lord, 15 Alas: for the day, for the <sup>1</sup>day of the Lord is at hand, and it cometh as a destruction from the Almighty.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes? and joy, and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The seed is rotten under their clods: the garners are destroyed: the barns are broken down, for the corn is withered.

18 How did the beasts mourn! the herds of cattle pine away, because they have no pasture, and the flocks of sheep are destroyed.

19 O Lord, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burnt up all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the river of waters are dried up, and the <sup>1</sup>fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

2 He prophesieth of the coming and cruelty of their enemies. <sup>13</sup> An exhortation to move them to convert. <sup>18</sup> The love of God toward his people.

1 Blow <sup>1</sup>the trumpet in Zion, and shout in mine holy mountain, let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is come: for it is at hand.

2 A <sup>1</sup>day of darkness, and of blackness, a day of clouds and obscurity, as the morning spread upon the mountains, so is there a <sup>2</sup>great people, and a mighty: there was none like it from the beginning, neither shall be anymore after it, unto the years of many generations.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Signifying the Princes, the Priests and the governors.

<sup>2</sup> He calleth the Jews to the consideration of God's judgments, who had now plagued the fruits of the ground for the space of four years, which was for their sins, and to call them to repentance.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the occasion of their excess and drunkenness was taken away.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> This was another plague wherewith God had punished them when he stirred up the Assyrians against them.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> Mourn grievously, as a woman which hath lost her husband to whom she hath been married in her youth.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> The tokens of God's wrath did appear in his Temple, insomuch as God's service was left off.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> All comfort and substance for nourishment is taken away.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the only means to avoid God's wrath, and to have all things restored, is unfeigned repentance.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> We see by these great plagues that utter destruction is at hand.

1:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, drought.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the great judgments of God, which are at hand, except they repent.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> Of affliction and trouble.

3 A fire devoureth before him, and behind him a flame burneth up: the land is as the garden of <sup>1</sup>Eden before him, and behind him a desolate wilderness, so that nothing shall escape him.

4 The beholding of him is like the sight of horses, and like the horsemen, so shall they run.

5 Like the noise of chariots in the tops of the mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, and as a mighty people prepared to the battle.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble: all faces <sup>1</sup>shall gather blackness.

7 They shall run like strong men, and go up to the wall like men of war, and every man shall go forward in his ways, and they shall not stay in their paths.

8 Neither shall one <sup>1</sup>thrust another, but everyone shall walk in his path: and when they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall run to and fro in the city: they shall run upon the wall: they shall clime up upon the houses, and enter in at the windows like the thief.

10 The earth shall tremble before him, the heavens shall shake, the <sup>1</sup>sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

11 And the Lord shall <sup>1</sup>utter his voice before his host: for his host is very great: for he is strong that doeth his word: "for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?"

12 Therefore also now the Lord saith, Turn you unto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning,

13 And <sup>1</sup>rent your heart, and not your clothes: and turn unto the Lord your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

14 Who knoweth, if he will <sup>1</sup>return and repent and leave a blessing behind him, even a meat offering and a drink offering unto the Lord your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly.

16 Gather the people, sanctify the congregation: gather the elders: assemble the <sup>1</sup>children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her bride chamber.

17 Let the Priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage into reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. <sup>b</sup>Wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the Lord be <sup>1</sup>jealous over his land, and spare his people.

19 Yea, the Lord will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn and wine, and oil, and you shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen.

20 But I will remove far off from you the <sup>1</sup>North-ern army, and I will drive him into a land, barren and desolate with his face toward the <sup>2</sup>East sea, and his end to the utmost sea, and his stink shall come up, and his corruption shall ascend, because he hath exalted himself to do this.

21 Fear not, O land, but be glad, and rejoice: for the Lord will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness are green for the tree beareth her fruit: the fig tree and the vine do give their force.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord your God, for he hath given you the rain of <sup>1</sup>righteousness, <sup>c</sup>and he will cause to come down for you the rain, even the first rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

24 And the barns shall be full of wheat, and the presses shall abound with wine and oil.

25 And I will render you the years that the grasshopper hath eaten, the cankerworm and the caterpillar and the palmerworm, my great host which I sent among you.

26 So you shall eat and be satisfied and praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt marvelously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 Ye shall also know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God and none

2:3 <sup>1</sup> The enemy destroyed our plentiful country, wheresoever he cometh.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> They shall be pale and black for fear, as Nah. 2:10.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> For none shall be able to resist them.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> Read Joel 2:31 and Isa. 13:10; Ezek. 32:7; Joel 3:15; Matt. 24:29.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Mortify your affections and serve God with pureness of heart, and not with ceremonies.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this to stir up their slothfulness, and not that he doubted of God's mercies, if they did repent. How God repenteth, read Jer. 18:8.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> That as all have sinned, so all may show forth signs of their repentance, that men seeing the children which are not free from God's wrath, might be the more lively touched with the consideration of their own sins.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> If they repent he showeth that God will preserve and defend them with a most ardent affection.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Assyrians your enemies.

<sup>2</sup> Called the salt sea, or Persian sea: meaning, that though his army were so great that it filled all from this sea to the sea called Mediterranean, yet he would scatter them.

2:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, such as should come by just measure, and as was wont to be sent when God was reconciled with them.

other, and my people shall never be ashamed.

28 And afterward will I pour <sup>1</sup>out my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy: your old men shall dream <sup>2</sup>dreams, and your young men shall see visions.

29 And also upon the servants, and upon the maids in those days will I pour my Spirit.

30 And I will show <sup>1</sup>wonders in the heavens and in the earth: blood and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The <sup>1</sup>sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord come.

32 But whosoever shall call <sup>1</sup>on the Name of the Lord, shall be saved: for in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance as the Lord hath said, and in the <sup>2</sup>remnant, whom the Lord shall call.

3 Of the judgment of God against the enemies of his people.

1 For behold, in <sup>1</sup>those days and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

2 I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into the <sup>1</sup>valley of Jehoshaphat, and will plead with them there for my people, and for mine heritage Israel: whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they have cast lots for my people, and have given the child <sup>1</sup>for the harlot, and sold the girl for wine, that they might drink.

4 Yea, and <sup>1</sup>what have you to do with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coasts of Philistia? will ye render me <sup>2</sup>a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I render your recompense upon your head:

5 For ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly and pleasant things.

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have you sold unto the Grecians, that ye might send them far from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place where ye have sold them, and will render your reward upon your own head.

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they <sup>1</sup>shall send them to the Sabeans, to a people far off, for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Publish this among the Gentiles: prepare war, wake up the mighty men: let all the men of war draw near and come up.

10 <sup>1</sup>Break your plowshares into swords, and your scythes into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble yourselves, and come all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: there shall the Lord cast down the mighty men.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 Put in your <sup>1</sup>scythes, for the harvest is ripe, come, get you down, for the winepress is full: yea, the winepresses run over, for their wickedness is great.

14 O multitude, O multitude, come into the valley of threshing: for the day of the Lord is near in the valley of threshing.

15 The sun and moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their light.

16 The Lord also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord will be the <sup>1</sup>hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God

2:28 <sup>1</sup>That is, in greater abundance, and more generally than in times past: and this was fulfilled under Christ, when as God's graces, and his Spirit under the Gospel was abundantly given to the Church, Isa. 44:3; Acts 2:17; John 7:38, 39.

2:30 <sup>1</sup>He warneth the faithful what terrible things should come, to the intent that they should not look for continual quietness in this world, and yet in all these troubles he would preserve them.

2:31 <sup>1</sup>The order of nature shall seem to be changed for the horrible afflictions that shall be in the world, Isa. 13:10; Ezek. 32:7; Joel 3:15; Matt. 24:29.

2:32 <sup>1</sup>God's judgments are for the destruction of the infidels, and to move the godly to call upon the Name of God, who will give them salvation.

3:1 <sup>1</sup>When I shall deliver my Church, which standeth of the Jews and of the Gentiles.

3:2 <sup>1</sup>It appeareth that he alludeth to that great victory of Jehoshaphat, when as God without man's help destroyed the enemies, 2 Chron. 20:26, also he hath respect to this word Jehoshaphat which signifieth pleading or judgment, because God would judge the enemies of his Church, as he did there.

3:3 <sup>1</sup>That which the enemy gat for the sale of my people, he bestowed upon harlots and drink.

3:4 <sup>1</sup>He taketh the cause of his Church in hand against the enemy, as though the injury were done to himself.

3:8 <sup>1</sup>For afterward God sold them by Nebuchadnezzar and Alexander the great, for the love he bare to his people, and thereby they were comforted, as though the price had been theirs.

3:10 <sup>1</sup>When I shall execute my judgments against mine enemies, I will cause everyone to be ready, and to prepare their weapons to destroy one another for my Church's sake.

3:13 <sup>1</sup>Thus he shall encourage the enemies when their wickedness is full ripe, to destroy one another, which he calleth the valley of God's judgment.

3:16 <sup>1</sup>God assureth his against all trouble, that when he destroyeth his enemies, his children shall be delivered.

dwelling in Zion, mine holy Mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers go <sup>1</sup>through her anymore.

18 And in that day shall the mountains <sup>1</sup>drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall run with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the House of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 <sup>1</sup>Egypt shall be waste, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the injuries of the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall dwell forever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will <sup>1</sup>cleanse their blood, that I have not cleansed, and the Lord will dwell in Zion.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> The strangers shall no more destroy his Church: which if they do, it is the people, which by their sins make the breach for the enemy.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> He promiseth to his Church abundance of graces, read Ezek. 47:1, which should water and comfort the most barren places, Amos

3:19 <sup>1</sup> The malicious enemies shall have no part of his graces.

3:21 <sup>1</sup> He had suffered his Church hitherto to lie in their filthiness, but now he promiseth to cleanse them and to make them pure unto him.

AMOS

1 The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen at <sup>1</sup>Tekoa, which he saw upon Israel, in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of <sup>2</sup>Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the <sup>3</sup>earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepherds shall perish, and the top <sup>1</sup>of Carmel shall wither.

3 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For <sup>1</sup>three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they have <sup>2</sup>threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron.

4 Therefore will I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the <sup>1</sup>palaces of Ben-Hadad.

5 I will break also the bars of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant of Bkeath-Aven: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth Eden, and the people of Aram shall go into captivity unto <sup>1</sup>Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Gaza, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they <sup>1</sup>carried away prisoners the whole captivity to shut them up in Edom.

7 Therefore will I send a fire upon the walls of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon, and turn mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they shut the whole captivity in Edom, and have not remembered the <sup>1</sup>brotherly covenant.

10 Therefore will I send a fire upon the walls of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not turn to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and <sup>1</sup>did cast off all pity, and his anger spoiled him evermore, and his wrath watched him <sup>2</sup>[always].

12 Therefore will I send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the places of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they <sup>1</sup>have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.

15 And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

2 Against Moab, Judah, and Israel.

1 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn to it, because it burnt the <sup>1</sup>bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 Therefore will I send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the judge out of the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Which was a town five miles from Jerusalem in Judea, but he prophesied in Israel.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever is fruitful and pleasant in Israel, shall shortly perish.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth first that all the people round about should be destroyed for their manifold sins: which are meant by three and four, which make seven, because the Israelites should the more deeply consider God's judgments toward them.

<sup>2</sup> If the Syrians shall not be spared for committing this cruelty against one city, it is not possible that Israel should escape punishment which hath committed so many and grievous sins against God and man.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> The antiquity of their buildings shall not avoid my judgments, read Jer. 49:27.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> Tiglath-Pileser led the Assyrians captive, and brought them to Cyrene, which he calleth here Kir.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> They joined themselves with the Edomites their enemies, which carried them away captives.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> For Esau (of whom came the Edomites) and Jacob were brethren, therefore they ought to have admonished them of their brotherly friendship, and not to have provoked them to hatred.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, corrupt his compassions.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> He noteth the great cruelty of the Ammonites, that spared not the women, but most tyrannously tormented them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot, who was of the household of Abraham.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> For the Moabites were so cruel against the king of Edom, that they burnt his bones after that he was dead: which declared their barbarous rage, seeing they would revenge themselves of the dead.

him, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, <sup>1</sup>I will not turn to it, because they have cast away the Law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err after the which their fathers have walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of <sup>1</sup>Israel, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for <sup>2</sup>shoes.

7 They gape over the head of the poor, in the <sup>1</sup>dust of the earth, and pervert the ways of the meek: and a man and his father will go in to a maid, to dishonor mine holy Name.

8 And they lie down upon clothes laid to pledge <sup>1</sup>by every altar: and they <sup>2</sup>drink the wine of the condemned in the house of their God.

9 Yet destroyed I the <sup>1</sup>Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks: notwithstanding I destroyed his fruit from above, and his root from beneath.

10 Also I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised up of your sons for Prophets, and of <sup>1</sup>your young men for Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

12 But ye gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophecy not.

13 Behold, I am <sup>1</sup>pressed under you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.

14 Therefore the flight shall perish from the <sup>1</sup>swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty save his life.

15 Nor he that handleth the bow shall stand, and he that is swift of foot, shall not escape, neither shall he that rideth the horse, save his life.

16 And he that is of a mighty courage among the strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

3 He reproveth the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11 For the which God will punish them.

1 Hear this word that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, even against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You <sup>1</sup>only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visit you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together except they be <sup>1</sup>agreed?

4 Will a <sup>1</sup>lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? or will a lion's whelp cry out of his den, if he hath taken nothing?

5 <sup>1</sup>Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no fowler is? or will he take up the <sup>2</sup>snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?

6 Or <sup>1</sup>shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people be not afraid? or shall there <sup>2</sup>be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he <sup>1</sup>revealeth his secret unto his servants the Prophets.

8 The lion hath roared: who will not be afraid? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but <sup>1</sup>prophecy?

9 Proclaim in the palaces at <sup>1</sup>Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria: so behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressed in the midst thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, saith the Lord: they store up violence, and robbery <sup>1</sup>in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An adversary

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing the Gentiles that had not so far knowledge were thus punished, Judah which was so fully instructed of the Lord's will, might not think to escape.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> If he spare not Judah unto whom his promises were made, much more he will not spare this degenerate kingdom.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> When they have spoiled him and thrown him unto the ground, they gape for his life.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> Thinking by these ceremonies, that is, by sacrificing, and being near mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickedness.

<sup>2</sup> They spoil others and offer thereof unto God, thinking that he will dispense with them, when he is made partaker of their iniquity.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> The destruction of their enemies and his mercy toward them, should have caused their hearts to melt for love toward him.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> Ye contemned my benefits, and abused my graces, and craftily went about to stop the mouths of my Prophets.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> You have wearied me with your sins, Isa. 1:14.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> None shall be delivered by any means.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> I have only chosen you to be mine among all other people, and yet you have forsaken me.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> Hereby the Prophet signifieth that he speaketh not of himself, but as God guideth and moveth him, which is called the agreement between God and his Prophets.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Will God threaten by his Prophet, except there be some great occasion?

3:5 <sup>1</sup> Can anything come without God's providence?

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Shall the Prophets threaten God's judgments and the people not be afraid?

3:7 <sup>1</sup> God dealeth not with the Israelites, as he doeth with other people: for he ever warneth them before of his plagues by his Prophets.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> Because the people ever murmured against the Prophets, he showeth that God's Spirit moved them so to speak as they did.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> He calleth the strangers, as the Philistines and Egyptians, to be witness of God's judgments against the Israelites for their cruelty and oppression.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> The fruit of their cruelty and theft appeareth by their great riches, which they have in their houses.

shall come even round about the country, and shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepherd taketh <sup>1</sup>out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed: and in <sup>2</sup>Damascus, as in a couch.

13 Hear, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hosts.

14 Surely in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Bethel, and the horns of the altar shall be broken off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house, and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lord.

4 Against the governors of Samaria.

1 Hear this word, ye <sup>1</sup>kine of Bashan that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, and destroy the needy, and they say to their masters, <sup>2</sup>Bring, and let us drink.

2 The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that lo, the days shall come upon you, that he will take you away with <sup>1</sup>thorns, and your posterity with fish-hooks.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches every cow forward: and ye shall cast yourselves out of the palace, saith the Lord.

4 Come to <sup>1</sup>Bethel, and transgress: to Gilgal, and multiply transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your riches after three <sup>2</sup>years.

5 And offer a thanksgiving <sup>1</sup>of leaven, publish and proclaim the free offerings: for this <sup>2</sup>liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 And therefore have I given you <sup>1</sup>cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and scarceness of bread in all your places, yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

7 And also I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three <sup>1</sup>months to the harvest, and I caused it to rain upon one city, and have not caused it to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, but they were <sup>1</sup>not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

9 I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: your great gardens and your vineyards, and your fig trees, and your olive trees did the palmerworm devour: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

10 Pestilence have I sent among you after the manner of <sup>1</sup>Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses: and I have made the stink of your tents to come up even into your nostrils, yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

11 I have overthrown you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah: and ye were as a <sup>1</sup>firebrand plucked out of the burning, yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do thus unto thee, prepare to <sup>1</sup>meet thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkness, and walketh upon the high places of the earth, the Lord God of hosts is his Name.

5 A lamentation for the captivity of Israel.

1 Hear ye this word, which I lift up upon you, even a lamentation of the house of Israel.

2 The <sup>1</sup>virgin Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise: she is left upon her land, and there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord God, The city which went out by a thousand, shall leave <sup>1</sup>an hundred: and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leave ten to the house of Israel.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> When the lion hath satiated his hunger, the shepherd findeth a leg or a rip of an ear, to show that the sheep have been worried.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Thus he calleth the princes and governors, which being overwhelmed with the great abundance of God's benefits, forgot God, and therefore he calleth them by the name of beasts and not of men.

<sup>2</sup> They encourage such as have authority over the people to powle them, so that they may have profit by it.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to fishers, which catch fish by hooks and thorns.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in contempt of them which resorted to those places, thinking that their great devotion and good intention had been sufficient to have bound God unto them.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> As Lev. 7:13.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, lack of bread and meat.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> I stayed the rain till the fruits of the earth were destroyed with drought, and yet you would not consider it to return to me by repentance.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> They could not find water enough where they had heard say it had rained.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> As I plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9:10.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> You were almost all consumed, and a few of you wonderfully preserved, 2 Kings 14:26.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> Turn to him by repentance.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> He so calleth them, because they so boasted of themselves or because they were given to wantonness and daintiness.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the tenth part should scarcely be saved.

4 For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live.

5 But seek not Bethel, nor enter into <sup>1</sup>Gilgal, and go not to Beersheba: for Gilgal shall go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to nought.

6 Seek the Lord, and ye shall live, lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turn <sup>1</sup>judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth.

8 He <sup>1</sup>maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and he maketh the day dark as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mighty, and the destroyer shall come against the fortress.

10 They have hated him <sup>1</sup>that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorred him that speaketh uprightly.

11 Forasmuch then as your treading is upon the poor, and <sup>1</sup>ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take rewards, and they oppress the poor in the gate.

13 Therefore <sup>1</sup>the prudent shall keep silence in that time, for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good and not evil, that ye may live: and the Lord God of hosts shall be with you, as you have spoken.

15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be merciful unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streets: and they shall say in all the high ways, Alas, alas: and they shall call the <sup>1</sup>husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourn, to mourning.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will pass through thee, saith the Lord.

18 Woe unto you, that <sup>1</sup>desire the day of the Lord: what have you to do with it? the day of the Lord is darkness and not light, 19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him: or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light, even darkness and no light in it?

21 I hate and abhor your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings and meat offerings, <sup>1</sup>I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs (for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.)

24 And let judgment run down as <sup>1</sup>waters, and righteousness as a mighty river.

25 Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?

26 But you have born <sup>1</sup>Sikkuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the star of your gods which you made to yourselves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose Name is the God of hosts.

6 Against the princes of Israel living in pleasure.

1 Woe to <sup>1</sup>them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, <sup>2</sup>which were famous at the beginning of the nations: and the house of Israel came to them.

5:5 <sup>1</sup>In those places they worshipped new idols, which aforesaid served for the true honor of God: therefore he saith that these shall not save them.

5:7 <sup>1</sup>Instead of judgment and equity they execute cruelty and oppression.

5:8 <sup>1</sup>He describeth the power of God, Job 9:9.

5:10 <sup>1</sup>They hate the Prophets, which reprove them in the open assemblies.

5:11 <sup>1</sup>Ye take both his money and also his food, wherewith he should live.

5:13 <sup>1</sup>God will so plague them that they shall not suffer the godly once to open their mouths to admonish them of their faults.

5:16 <sup>1</sup>So that all degrees shall have matter of lamentation for the great plagues.

5:18 <sup>1</sup>Thus he speaketh, because the wicked and hypocrites said they were content to abide God's judgments, whereas the godly tremble and fear, Jer. 30:7; Joel 2:2, 11; Zeph. 1:15.

5:22 <sup>1</sup>Because ye have corrupted my true service, and remain obstinate in your vices, Isa. 1:11; Jer. 6:10.

5:24 <sup>1</sup>Do your duty to God, and to your neighbor, and so ye shall feel his grace plentifully, if you show your abundant affections according to God's word.

6:1 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet threateneth the wealthy, which regarded not God's plagues nor menaces by his Prophets.

3 Ye that put far away the <sup>1</sup>evil day, and approach to the seat of iniquity?

4 They lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their beds, and eat the lambs of the flock, and the calves out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viol: they invent to themselves instruments of music like <sup>1</sup>David.

6 They drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments, but no man is <sup>1</sup>sorry for the affliction of Joseph.

7 Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and <sup>1</sup>the sorrow of them that stretched themselves, is at hand.

8 <sup>1</sup>The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the Lord God of hosts, I abhor <sup>2</sup>the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.

9 And if there remain ten men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his uncle <sup>1</sup>shall take him up and burn him, to carry out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him, that is by the <sup>2</sup>sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shall he say, <sup>3</sup>Hold thy tongue: for we may not remember the Name of the Lord.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 Shall horses <sup>1</sup>run upon the rock? or will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into <sup>2</sup>wormwood.

13 Yet rejoice in a thing of nought: ye say, Have not we gotten us <sup>1</sup>horns by our own strength?

they shall afflict you from the entering in of <sup>1</sup>Hamath unto the river of the wilderness.

7 God showeth certain visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10 The false accusation of Amaziah, 12 His crafty counsel.

1 Thus hath the Lord God showed unto me, and behold, he formed <sup>1</sup>grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth: and lo, it was in the latter growth <sup>2</sup>after the King's mowing.

2 And when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise up Jacob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord <sup>1</sup>repented for this. It shall not be, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Thus also hath the Lord God showed unto me, and behold, the Lord God called to judgment by fire, <sup>1</sup>and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee: who shall raise up Jacob? for he is small.

6 So the Lord repented for this. This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 ¶ Thus again he showed me, and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by line <sup>1</sup>with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a line in the midst of my people Israel, and will pass by them no more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then Amaziah the Priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> Ye that continue still in your wickedness, and think that God's plagues are not at hand, but give yourselves to all idleness, wantonness, and riot.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> As he caused divers kinds of instruments to be made to serve God's glory, so these did contend to invent as many to serve their wanton affections and lusts.

6:6 <sup>1</sup> They pitied not their brethren, whereof now many were slain and carried away captive.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> The destruction shall be so great, that none shall almost be left to bury the dead: and therefore they shall burn them at home, to carry out the burnt ashes with more ease.

<sup>3</sup> They shall be so astonished at this destruction, that they shall boast no more of the Name of God, and that they are his people: but they shall be dumb when they hear God's Name, and abhor it, as they that are desperate, or reprobate.

6:12 <sup>1</sup> He compareth them to barren rocks, whereupon it is in vain to bestow labor: showing that God's benefits can have no place among them.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God's indignation was inflamed against the stubbornness of this people.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would defer his judgment no longer.

7:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, when Amos had prophesied that the king should be destroyed: for the wicked Priest more for hatred he bare to the Prophet than for love toward the king, thought this accusation sufficient to condemn him, whereas none other could take place.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also <sup>1</sup>Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou the Seer, go, flee thou away into the land of Judah, and there eat thy bread, and prophesy there.

13 But prophesy no more at Bethel: for it is the king's chapel, and it is the king's court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no <sup>1</sup>Prophet, neither was I a Prophet's son, but I was an herdsman, and a gatherer of wild figs.

15 And the Lord took me as I followed the flock, and the Lord said unto me, Go prophesy unto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore hear thou the word of the Lord. Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and speak nothing against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

3 And the songs of the Temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: many dead bodies shall be in every place: they shall cast them forth with <sup>1</sup>silence.

4 Hear this, O ye that <sup>1</sup>swallow up the poor, that ye may make the needy of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the <sup>1</sup>new month be gone, that we may sell corn? and the Sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, and make <sup>2</sup>the Ephah small and the shekel great, and falsify the weights by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for shoes: yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat.

7 The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely, I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every-one mourn, that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and <sup>1</sup>drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord God, I will even cause the <sup>1</sup>Sun to go down at noon: I will darken the earth in the clear day.

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning: and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the Land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even unto the East shall they run to and fro to seek the <sup>1</sup>word of the Lord, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men perish for thirst.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hosts shall touch the land, and it shall melt away, and all that dwell therein shall mourn, and it shall rise up wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his <sup>1</sup>spheres in the heaven, and hath laid the foundation of his globe of elements in the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians <sup>1</sup>unto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord? have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from <sup>2</sup>Caphtor, and Aram from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it clean out of the earth. Nevertheless I will not utterly <sup>1</sup>destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.

9 For lo, I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve: yet shall not the <sup>1</sup>least stone fall upon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not come, nor hasten for us.

11 In that day will I raise up the <sup>1</sup>Tabernacle of David, that is fallen down, and close up the breaches thereof, and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it, as in the days of old,

O B A D I A H

<sup>3</sup> The <sup>1</sup>pride of thine heart hath deceived thee: thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocks, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

<sup>4</sup> Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and make thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the Lord.

<sup>5</sup> <sup>1</sup>Came thieves to thee or robbers by night? how wast thou brought to silence? would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leave some grapes?

<sup>9</sup> And thy strong men, O Teman, shall be afraid, because everyone of the mount of Esau shall be cut off by slaughter.

day that the strangers carried away his substance, and strangers entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

<sup>12</sup> But thou shouldest not have beholden the day of thy brother, in the day that he was made <sup>1</sup>a stranger, neither shouldest thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah, in the day of their destruction: thou shouldest not have spoken proudly in the day of affliction.

<sup>13</sup> Thou shouldest not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their destruction, neither shouldest thou have once looked on their affliction in the day of their destruction, nor have laid hands on their substance in the day of their destruction.

<sup>17</sup> But upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and it shall be holy, and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions, <sup>18</sup> And the house of Jacob shall be <sup>1</sup>a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau as stubble, and they shall kindle in them and devour them: and there shall be no remnant of the house of Esau: for the Lord hath spoken it.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> God hath certainly revealed to his prophets, that he will raise up the heathen to destroy the Edomites, whereof the rumor is now published, Jer. 49:14.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Which despiseth all others in respect of thyself, and yet art but an handful in comparison of others, and art shut up among the hills as separate from the rest of the world.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> They in whom thou didst trust for to have help and friendship of them, shall be thine enemies and destroy thee.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the cause why the Edomites were so sharply punished: to wit, because they were enemies to his Church, whom he now comforteth by punishing their enemies.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> When Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem, thou joinedest with him, and hadest part of the spoil, and so didst rejoice when my people, that is, thy brother were afflicted, whereas thou shouldest have pitied and helped thy brother.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> When the Lord deprived them of their former dignity, and gave them to be carried into captivity.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> When he will summon all the heathen, and send them to destroy thee.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, rejoiced and triumphed.

<sup>2</sup> The Edomites shall be utterly destroyed, and yet in despite of all the enemies I will reserve my Church and restore it.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> God attributeth this power, to consume his enemies, to his Church, which power is only proper to himself, as Isa. 10:17; Deut. 4:24; Heb. 12:29.

unto Zarephath, and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South.

21 And they <sup>1</sup>that shall save, shall come up to mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau, and the kingdom shall be the Lord's.

1:19 <sup>1</sup> He describeth how the Church shall be enlarged and have great possessions: but this chiefly is accomplished under Christ, when as the faithful are made heirs and lords of all things by him which is their head.

Zarephath, France, and by Sepharad, Spain.

1:21 <sup>1</sup> Meaning that God will raise up in his Church such as shall rule and govern for the defense of the same, and destruction of his enemies under Messiah, whom the Prophet calleth here, the Lord and head of this kingdom.

JONAH

1 <sup>3</sup> Jonah fled when he was sent to preach. <sup>4</sup> A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

1 The word of the Lord came <sup>1</sup>also unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, and go to <sup>1</sup>Nineveh, that <sup>2</sup>great city, and cry against it: for their wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jonah rose up to <sup>1</sup>flee into Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord, and went down to <sup>2</sup>Japho: and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, that he might go with them unto Tarshish, from the <sup>3</sup>presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast the wares that were in the ship, into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone down <sup>1</sup>into the sides of the ship, and he lay down, and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? Arise, call upon thy <sup>1</sup>God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said everyone to his fellow, Come, and let us cast <sup>1</sup>lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then said they unto him, Tell us for whose cause this evil is upon us? What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? which is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrew, and I fear the Lord God of heaven, which hath made the sea, and the dry land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them)

11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? (for the sea wrought, and was troublous)

12 And he said unto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men rowed to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, <sup>1</sup>We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men <sup>1</sup>feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah: and Jonah was in the <sup>1</sup>belly of the fish three days and three nights.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he declared his weakness, that would not promptly follow the Lord's calling, but gave place to his own reason, which persuaded him that he should nothing at all profit there, seeing he had done so small good among his own people, Jonah 4:2.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> As one that would have cast off this care and solicitude by seeking rest and quietness.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> As they had called on their idols, which declareth that idolaters have no stay nor certainty, but in their troubles seek they cannot tell to whom.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that the matter was in great extremity and doubt, which thing was God's motion in them, for the trial of the cause: and this may not be done but in matters of great importance.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that the very wicked in their necessities flee unto God for succor and also that they are touched with a certain fear to shed man's blood, whereas they know no manifest sign of wickedness.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> They were touched with a certain repentance of their life past, and began to worship the true God by whom they saw themselves so wonderfully delivered: but this was done for fear, and not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to God's word.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Lord would chastise his Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, and hereby also confirmed him of his favor and support in this his charge which was enjoined him.

1 Then Jonah prayed unto the Lord his God <sup>1</sup>out of the fish's belly,

2 And said, I cried in mine affliction unto the Lord, and he heard me: out of the belly <sup>1</sup>of hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 For thou hadst cast me into the bottom in the midst of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy surges, and all thy waves passed over me.

4 Then I said, I am <sup>1</sup>cast away out of thy sight: yet will I look again toward thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed me about unto the soul: the depth closed me round about, and the weeds were wrapped about mine head.

6 I went down to the bottom of the mountains: the earth with her bars was about me forever, yet hast thou brought up my <sup>1</sup>life from the pit, O Lord my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the Lord: and my prayer came unto thee into thine holy Temple.

8 They that wait upon lying <sup>1</sup>vanities, forsake their own <sup>2</sup>mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving, and will pay that that I have vowed: salvation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake unto the fish, and it cast out Jonah upon the dry land.

3 1 Jonah is sent again to Ninevah. 5 The repentance of the king of Ninevah.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto <sup>1</sup>Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching which I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh according to the word of the Lord: now Nineveh was a <sup>1</sup>great and excellent city of three days journey.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's <sup>1</sup>journey, and he cried and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

5 So the people of Nineveh <sup>1</sup>believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he rose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

7 And he proclaimed and said through Nineveh, (by the counsel of the king and his nobles) saying, Let neither man, nor <sup>1</sup>beast, bullock nor sheep taste anything, neither feed nor drink water.

8 But let man and beast put on sackcloth, and <sup>1</sup>cry mightily unto God: yea, let every man turn from his evil way, and from the wickedness that is in their hands.

9 <sup>1</sup>Who can tell if God will turn, and repent and turn away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

10 And God saw their <sup>1</sup>works that they turned from their evil ways: and <sup>2</sup>God repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

4 The great goodness of God toward his creatures.

1 Therefore it displeased <sup>1</sup>Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry.

2 And he prayed unto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? therefore I prevented it to flee unto <sup>1</sup>Tarshish: for I knew, that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

3 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life <sup>1</sup>from me: for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be <sup>1</sup>angry?

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Being now swallowed up of death, and seeing no remedy to escape, his faith brast out unto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hell he was able to deliver him.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> For he was now in the fish's belly as in a grave or place of darkness.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> This declared what his prayer was, and how he labored between hope and despair, considering the neglect of his vocation, and God's judgments for the same: but yet in the end faith got the victory.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast delivered me from the belly of the fish and all these dangers, as it were raising me from death to life.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> They that depend upon anything save on God alone.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> This is a great declaration of God's mercy, that he receiveth him again, and sendeth him forth as his Prophet, which had before showed so great infirmity.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> Read Jonah 1:2.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> He went forward one day in the city, and preached, and so he continued till the city was converted.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> For he declared that he was a Prophet sent to them from God to denounce his judgments against them.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> Not that the dumb beasts had sinned or could repent, but that by their example man might be astonished, considering that for his sin the anger of God hanged over all creatures.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> He willed that the men should earnestly call unto God for mercy.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> For partly by the threatening of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his own conscience, he doubted whether God would show them mercy.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, the fruits of their repentance, which did proceed of faith, which God had planted by the ministry of his Prophet.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Because hereby he should be taken as a false prophet, and so the Name of God, which he preached, should be blasphemed.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Read Jonah 1:3.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> Thus he prayed of grief fearing lest God's Name by this forgiveness might be blasphemed, as though he sent his Prophets forth to denounce his judgments in vain.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> Wilt thou be judge when I do things for my glory, and when I do not?

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the East side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow <sup>1</sup>till he might see what should be done in the city.

6 And the Lord God prepared a <sup>1</sup>gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, and deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the sun did arise, God prepared also a fervent East wind: and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted and wished in his heart to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said unto Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be <sup>1</sup>angry unto the death.

10 Then said the Lord, Thou hast had pity on the gourd for the which thou hast not labored, neither madest it grow, which came up in a night and perished in a night,

4:5 <sup>1</sup> For he doubted as yet whether God would show them mercy or not, and therefore after forty days he departed out of the city, looking what issue God would send.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Which was a further means, to cover him from the heat of the sun, as he remained in his booth.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> This declareth the great inconveniences whereinto God's servants do fall when they give place to their own affections, and do not in all things willingly submit themselves to God.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus God mercifully reproveth him which would pity himself, and this gourd, and yet would restrain God to show his compassion to so many thousand people.

MICAH

1 <sup>1</sup> The destruction of Judah and Jerusalem because of the idolatry.

1 The word of the Lord, that came unto Micah the <sup>1</sup>MoresHITE in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria, and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, <sup>1</sup>all ye people: hearken thou, O earth, and all that therein is, and let the Lord God be witness against you, even the Lord from his holy Temple.

3 For behold, the Lord cometh out of his place, and will come <sup>1</sup>down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall melt under him (so shall the valleys cleave) as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured downward.

5 For the wickedness of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel: what is the wickedness of Jacob? Is not <sup>1</sup>Samaria? and which are the high <sup>2</sup>places of Judah? Is not Jerusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and for the planting of a vineyard, and I will cause the stones thereof to tumble down into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof shall be broken, and all the <sup>1</sup>gifts thereof shall be burnt with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I destroy: for she gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they shall return <sup>2</sup>to the wages of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will mourn and howl: I will go without clothes, and naked: I will make lamentation like the dragons, and mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her plagues are grievous: for it is come into Judah: the enemy is come unto the gate of my people, unto Jerusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at <sup>1</sup>Gath, neither weep ye: for the house of <sup>2</sup>Aphrah roll thyself in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest at <sup>1</sup>Shaphir, go together naked with shame: she that dwelleth at Zaanan, shall not come forth in the mourning of Beth Ezel: the enemy shall <sup>2</sup>receive of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waited for good, but evil came from the Lord unto the <sup>1</sup>gate of Jerusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, bind the chariot to the beasts <sup>1</sup>of price: she <sup>2</sup>is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou give presents to MoresHETH <sup>1</sup>Gath: the houses of Achzib shall be as a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an <sup>1</sup>heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah, he shall come unto Adullam, <sup>2</sup>the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee bald: and shave thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle, for they are gone into captivity from thee.

1 Woe unto them that imagine iniquity, and work wickedness upon their beds: <sup>1</sup>when the morning is light they practice it, because their hand <sup>2</sup>hath power.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Born in MoresHETH, a city of Judah.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Because of the malice and obstinacy of the people, whom he had so oft exhorted to repentance, he summoneth them to God's judgments, taking all creatures, and God himself to witness, that the preaching of his Prophets, which they have abused, shall be revenged.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning hereby, that God will come to judgment against the strong cities and holds.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> Samaria, which should have been an example to all Israel of true religion and justice, was the puddle, and stews of all idolatry and corruption, and boasted themselves of their father Jacob.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Which they gathered by evil practices, and thought that their idols had enriched them therewith for their service unto them.

<sup>2</sup> The gain that came by their idols shall be consumed as a thing of naught: for as the wages or riches of harlots are wickedly gotten, so are they vilely and speedily spent.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Lest the Philistines our enemies rejoice at our destruction.

<sup>2</sup> Which was a city near to Jerusalem, Josh. 18:23, there called Ophrah, and signifieth dust: therefore he willeth them to mourn and roll themselves in the dust, for their dusty city.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> These were cities wherby the enemy should pass as he came to Judah.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> For Rabshakeh had shut up Jerusalem, that they could not send to succor them.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> To flee away: for Sennacherib laid siege first to that city, and remained therein when he sent his captains and army against Jerusalem.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt bribe the Philistines thy neighbors, but they shall deceive thee, as well as they of Jerusalem.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth against his own city: and because it signified an heritage, he saith that God would send an heir to possess it.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> As soon as they rise, they execute their wicked devices of the night, and according to their power hurt others.

2 And they covet fields, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppress a man and his house, even man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, against this family have I devised a plague, whereout ye shall not pluck your necks, and ye shall not go so proudly, for this time is evil.

4 In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, and say, <sup>1</sup>We be utterly wasted: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he taken it away to restore it unto me? he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast a cord by lot in <sup>1</sup>the congregation of the Lord.

6 <sup>1</sup>They that prophesy, Prophesy ye not. <sup>2</sup>They shall not prophesy to them, neither shall they take shame.

7 O thou that art named of the house of Jacob, is the Spirit of the Lord shortened? <sup>1</sup>are these his works? are not my works good unto him <sup>2</sup>that walketh uprightly?

8 But he that was <sup>1</sup>yesterday my people, is risen up on the other side, as against an enemy: they spoil the <sup>2</sup>beautiful garment from them that pass by peaceably, as though they returned from the war.

9 The women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses, and from their children have ye taken away <sup>1</sup>my glory continually.

10 Arise and depart, for this is not your <sup>1</sup>rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

11 If a man <sup>1</sup>walk in the spirit, and would lie falsely, saying, <sup>2</sup>I will prophesy unto thee of wine, and of strong drink, he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely gather <sup>1</sup>thee wholly, O Jacob: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, even as the flock in the midst of their fold: the cities shall be full of brute of the men.

13 The <sup>1</sup>breaker up shall come up before them: they shall break out, and pass by the gate, and go out by it, and their king shall go before them, and the Lord shall be <sup>2</sup>upon their heads.

1 And I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel: should not ye know <sup>1</sup>judgment?

2 But they hate the good, and love the evil: <sup>1</sup>they pluck off their skins from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eat also the flesh of my people, and flay off their skin from them, and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then <sup>1</sup>shall they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, because they have done wickedly in their works.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceive my people, and <sup>1</sup>bite them with their teeth, and cry, peace, but if a man put not into their mouths, they prepare war against him.

6 Therefore <sup>1</sup>night shall be unto you for a vision, and darkness shall be unto you for a divination, and the Sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the Soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall all cover <sup>1</sup>their lips, for they have none answer of God.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Jews lament and say that there is no hope of restitution, seeing their possessions are divided among the enemies.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Ye shall have no more lands to divide as you had in times past, and as you used to measure them in the Jubilee.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Thus the people warn the prophets that they speak to them no more, for they cannot abide their threatenings.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Are these your works according to his Law?

2:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, aforesaid.

<sup>2</sup> The poor can have no commodity by them, but they spoil them, as though they were enemies.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, their substance and living, which is God's blessing, and as it were part of his glory.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> Jerusalem shall not be your safeguard: but the cause of your destruction.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, show himself to be a Prophet.

<sup>2</sup> He sheweth what prophets they delight in, that is, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, and speak of their commodities.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> To destroy thee.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> The enemy shall break their gates and walls, and lead them into Chaldea.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> That thing which is just and lawful, both to govern my people aright, and also to discharge your own conscience.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet condemneth the wicked governors not only of covetousness, theft, and murder, but compareth them to wolves, lions, and most cruel beasts.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, when I shall visit their wickedness: for though I hear the godly before they cry, Isa. 65:24, yet I will not hear these though they cry, Isa. 1:15 and Ezek. 8:18; James 2:13; 1 Pet. 3:11, 12.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> They devour all their substance, and then flatter them, promising that all shall go well, but if one restrain from their bellies, then they invent all ways to mischief.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> As you have loved to walk in darkness, and to prophesy lies, so God shall reward you with gross blindness and ignorance, so that when all others shall see the bright beams of God's graces, ye shall as blind men grope as in the night.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> When God shall discover them to the world, they shall be afraid to speak: for all shall know that they were but false prophets, and did belie the word of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding I am full <sup>1</sup>of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of judgment, and of strength to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.

10 They build up Zion with <sup>1</sup>blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity, 11 The heads thereof judge for rewards, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof prophesy for money: yet will they <sup>1</sup>lean upon the Lord and say, Is not the Lord among us? no evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be <sup>1</sup>plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heap, and the mountain of the house, as the high places of the forest.

4 1 Of the kingdom of Christ, and felicity of his Church.

1 But in the <sup>1</sup>last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the House of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the <sup>2</sup>hills, and people shall flow unto it.

2 Yea, many nations shall come and say, Come, and let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, and to the House of the God of Jacob, and he will <sup>1</sup>teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the Law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and <sup>1</sup>rebuke mighty nations afar off, and they shall break their swords into mattocks, and their spears into <sup>2</sup>scythes: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they <sup>3</sup>learn to fight anymore.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine, and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk <sup>1</sup>everyone in the name of his god, and we will walk in the Name of the Lord our God, forever and ever.

6 At the same day saith the Lord, will I gather her that halteth, and I will gather her that is cast out, and her that I have afflicted.

7 And I will make her that halteth, <sup>1</sup>a remnant, and her that was cast far off, a mighty nation, and the Lord shall reign over them in Mount Zion, from henceforth even forever.

8 And thou, O <sup>1</sup>tower of the flock, the stronghold of the daughter Zion, unto thee shall it come, even <sup>2</sup>the first dominion, and kingdom shall come to the daughter Jerusalem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out with lamentation? is <sup>1</sup>there no king in thee? is thy counselor perished? for sorrow hath taken thee, as a woman in travail.

10 Sorrow and mourn, O daughter Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth of the city, and dwell in the field, and shalt go into Babel, but there shalt thou be delivered: there the Lord shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zion shall be condemned, and our eye shall look upon Zion.

12 But they <sup>1</sup>know not the thoughts of the Lord: they understand not his counsel, for he shall gather them as the sheaves in the barn.

13 Arise and thresh, <sup>1</sup>O daughter Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thine hooves brass, and thou shalt break in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their riches unto the Lord: and their substance unto the ruler of the whole world.

5 1 The destruction of Jerusalem. 2 The excellency of Bethlehem.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet being assured of his vocation by the Spirit of God, setteth himself alone against all the wicked, showing how God both gave him gifts, ability and knowledge, to discern between good and evil, and also constancy to reprove the sins of the people, and not to flatter them.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> They build them houses by bribery, which he calleth blood and iniquity.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> They will say, that they are the people of God, and abuse his Name, as a pretence to cloak their hypocrisy.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> Read Jer. 26:18.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> When Christ shall come, and the Temple shall be destroyed.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there is no true Church, but where as the people are taught by God's pure word.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> By his corrections and threatenings he will bring the people into subjection which are in the utmost corners of the world.

<sup>2</sup> They shall abstain from all evil doing, and exercise themselves in godliness and in well doing to others.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the people of God ought to remain constant in their religion, albeit all the world should give themselves to their superstition and idolatry.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> I will cause that Israel, which is now as one lame and halting, and so almost destroyed, shall live again, and grow into a great people.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Jerusalem, where the Lord's flock was gathered.

<sup>2</sup> The flourishing state of the kingdom, as it was under David and Solomon, which thing was accomplished to the Church by the coming of Christ.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> In the mean season he showeth that they should endure great troubles and temptations when thy saw themselves neither to have king nor counsel.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the faithful ought not to measure God's judgments by the brags and threatenings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift up their hearts to God to call for deliverance.

4:13 <sup>1</sup> God giveth his Church this victory, so oft as he overcometh their enemies: but the accomplishment thereof shall be at the last coming of Christ.

1 Now assemble thy garrisons, O daughter <sup>1</sup>of garrisons: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 And thou Bethlehem Ephrathah art <sup>1</sup>little to be among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me, that shall be the ruler in Israel: whose <sup>2</sup>goings forth have been from the beginning and from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that <sup>1</sup>she which shall bear, shall travail: then the remnant of their brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall <sup>1</sup>stand, and feed in the strength of the Lord, and in the majesty of the Name of the Lord his God, and they shall dwell still: for now shall he be magnified unto the ends of the world.

5 And he <sup>1</sup>shall be our peace when Assyria shall come into our land: when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men.

6 And they shall destroy <sup>1</sup>Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their swords: thus shall he <sup>2</sup>deliver us from Assyria, when he cometh into our land, and when he shall tread within our borders.

7 And the <sup>1</sup>remnant of Jacob shall be among many people, as a dew from the Lord, and as the showers upon the grass, that waiteth not for man, nor hopeth in the sons of Adam.

8 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people, as the Lion among the beasts of the forest, and as the Lion whelp among the flocks of sheep, who when he goeth through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

9 Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thine <sup>1</sup>horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots.

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and overthrow all thy strongholds.

12 And I will cut off thine enchanters out of thine hand: and thou shalt have no more soothsayers.

13 Thine idols also will I cut off, and thine images out of the midst of thee: and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.

14 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thine enemies.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath and indignation upon the heathen, <sup>1</sup>which they have not heard.

6 An exhortation to the dumb creatures to bear the judgment against Israel being unkind. 6 What manner of sacrifices do please God.

1 Hearken ye now what the Lord saith, Arise thou, and contend before the <sup>1</sup>mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear ye, O mountains, the Lord's quarrel, and ye mighty foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarrel against his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? or wherein have I grieved thee? testify against me.

4 Surely I <sup>1</sup>brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants, and I have sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him, from <sup>1</sup>Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the <sup>2</sup>righteousness of the Lord.

6 Wherewith <sup>1</sup>shall I come before the Lord, and

5:1 <sup>1</sup> He forewarneth them of the dangers that shall come before they enjoy these comforts, showing that forasmuch as Jerusalem was accustomed with her garrisons to trouble others, the Lord would now cause other garrisons to vex her, and that her rulers should be smitten on the face most contemptuously.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> For so the Jews divided their country that for every thousand there was a chief captain: and because Bethlehem was not able to make a thousand, he calleth it little, but yet God will raise up his captain and governor therein: and thus it is not the least by reason of this benefit, as Matt. 2:6.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that the coming of Christ and all his ways were appointed of God from all eternity.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the Jews to women with child, who for a time should have great sorrows, but at length they should have a comfortable deliverance, John 16:21.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, Christ's kingdom shall be stable and everlasting, and his people as well the Gentiles as the Jews shall dwell in safety.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> This Messiah shall be a sufficient safeguard for us, and though the enemy invade us for a time, yet shall God stir up many which shall be able to deliver us.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> These whom God shall raise up for the deliverance of his Church, shall destroy all the enemies thereof, which are meant here by the Assyrians and Babylonians which were the chief at that time.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> This remnant or Church which God shall deliver shall only depend on God's power and defense, as doth the grass of the field, and not on the hope of man.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> I will destroy all things wherein thou putteth thy confidence, as thy vain confidence and idolatry, and so will help thee.

5:15 <sup>1</sup> It shall be so terrible that the like hath not been heard of.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> He took the high mountains and hard rocks to witness against the obstinacy of his people.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> I have not hurt thee, but bestowed infinite benefits upon thee.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, remember my benefits from the beginning how I delivered you from Balaam's curse, and also spared you from Shittim, which was in the plain of Moab, till I brought you into the land promised.

6:6 <sup>1</sup> Thus the people by hypocrisy ask how to please God and are content to offer sacrifices, but will not change their lives.

bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calves of a year old?

7 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousand rivers of oil? shall I give my <sup>1</sup>firstborn for my transgression, even the fruit of my body, for the sin of my soul?

8 He hath showed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: <sup>1</sup>surely to do justly, and to love mercy, and to humble thyself, to walk with thy God.

9 The Lord's voice crieth unto the <sup>1</sup>city, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: Hear the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, that is abominable?

11 Shall I justify the wicked balances, and the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof <sup>1</sup>are full of cruelty, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, and in making thee desolate, because of thy sins.

14 Thou shalt eat and not be satisfied, and <sup>1</sup>thy casting down shall be in the midst of thee, and thou <sup>2</sup>shalt take hold, but shalt not deliver, and that which thou deliverest, will I give up to the sword.

15 Thou shalt sow, but not reap: Thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil, and make sweet wine, but shall not drink wine.

16 For the <sup>1</sup>statutes of Omri are kept, and all the manner of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

7 <sup>1</sup> A complaint for the small number of the righteous. <sup>4</sup> The wickedness of those times. <sup>14</sup> The prosperity of the Church.

1 Woe is me, for I am as the <sup>1</sup>Summer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: my soul desired the first ripe fruits.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth, and there is none righteous among men: <sup>1</sup>they all lie in wait for blood: every man hunteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the evil of their hands, the prince asked, and the judge judgeth for a reward: therefore the <sup>1</sup>great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soul: so <sup>2</sup>they wrapped it up.

4 The best of them is as <sup>1</sup>a brier, and the most righteous of them is sharper than a thorn-hedge: the day of <sup>2</sup>thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh: then shall be their confusion.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, neither put ye confidence in a counselor: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6 For the son revileth the father: the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law, and a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 Therefore <sup>1</sup>I will look unto the Lord: I will wait for God my Savior: my God will hear me.

8 Rejoice not against me, <sup>1</sup>O mine enemy: though I fall, I shall arise, when I shall sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me.

9 I will bear the wrath of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: then will he bring me forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousness.

10 Then she that is mine enemy, shall look upon it, and shame shall cover her, which said unto me, Where is the Lord thy God? Mine eyes shall behold

6:7 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing so dear to man, but the hypocrites will offer it unto God, if they think thereby to avoid his anger: but they will never be brought to mortify their own affections, and to give themselves willingly to serve God as he commandeth.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet in few words calleth them to the observation of the second Table, to know if they will obey God aright or no, saying that God hath prescribed them to do this.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that when God speaketh to any city or nation, the godly will acknowledge his majesty and consider not the mortal man that bringeth the threatening, but God that sendeth it.

6:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, of Jerusalem.

6:14 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt be consumed with inward grief and evils.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that the city should go about to save her men, as they that lay hold on that which they would preserve.

6:16 <sup>1</sup> You have received all the corruption and idolatry, wherewith the ten tribes were infected under Omri and Ahab his son: and to excuse your doings, you allege the King's authority by his statutes, and also wisdom and policy in so doing, but you shall not escape punishment: but as I have shown you great favor, and taken you for my people, so shall your plagues be accordingly, Luke 12:47.

7:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet taketh upon him the person of the earth, which complaineth that all her fruits are gone, so that none is left: that is, that there is no godly man remaining: for all are given to cruelty and deceit, so that none spareth his own brother.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the prince, the judge, and the rich man are linked together all to do evil, and to cloak the doings one of another.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, the rich man that is able to give money, abstaineth from no wickedness nor injury.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> They that are of most estimation and are counted most honest among them, are but thorns and briars to prick.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth that the only remedy for the godly in desperate evils, is to flee unto God for succor.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken in the person of the Church which calleth the malignant Church her enemy.

her: now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets.

11 This is <sup>1</sup>the day, that thy walls shall be built: this day shall drive far away <sup>2</sup>the decree.

12 In this day also they shall come unto thee from <sup>1</sup>Assyria, and from the strong cities, and from the strongholds even unto the river, and from Sea to Sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 Notwithstanding the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruits of <sup>1</sup>their inventions.

14 <sup>1</sup>Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage (which dwell solitary in the wood) as in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in old time.

15 <sup>1</sup>According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt, will I show unto him marvelous things.

16 The nations shall see, and be confounded for all their power: they shall <sup>1</sup>lay their hand upon their mouth: <sup>2</sup>their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall <sup>1</sup>lick the dust like a serpent: they shall move out of their holes like worms: they shall be afraid of the Lord our God, and shall fear because of thee.

18 Who is a God like unto thee, that taketh away iniquity, and <sup>1</sup>passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage! He retaineth not his wrath forever, because mercy pleaseth him.

19 He will turn again, and have compassion upon us: he will subdue our iniquities, and cast all <sup>1</sup>their sins into the bottom of the sea.

20 Thou wilt perform thy <sup>1</sup>truth to Jacob, and mercy to Abraham, as thou hast sworn unto our fathers in old time.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> To wit, when God shall show himself a deliverer of his Church, and a destroyer of his enemies.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> When the Church shall be restored, they that were enemies afore, shall come out of all the corners of the world unto her, so that neither holds, rivers, seas, nor mountains shall be able to let them.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> Afore this grace appear, he showeth how grievously the hypocrites themselves shall be punished, seeing that the earth itself, which cannot sin shall be made waste because of their wickedness.

7:14 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet prayeth to God to be merciful unto his Church, when they should be scattered abroad as in solitary places in Babylon, and to be beneficial unto them as in times past.

7:15 <sup>1</sup> God promiseth to be favorable to his people, as he had been afore time.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> They shall be as dumb men, and dare brag no more.

<sup>2</sup> They shall be astonished and afraid to hear men speak, lest they should hear of their destruction.

7:17 <sup>1</sup> They shall fall flat on the ground for fear.

7:18 <sup>1</sup> As though he would not see it, but wink at it.

7:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning of his elect.

7:20 <sup>1</sup> The Church is assured, that God will declare in effect the truth of his merciful promise, which he had made of old to Abraham, and to all that should apprehend the promise by faith.

NAHUM

1 Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliverance of Israel.

1 The <sup>1</sup>burden of Nineveh. <sup>2</sup>The book of the vision of Nahum the <sup>3</sup>Elkoshite.

2 God is <sup>1</sup>jealous, and the Lord revengeth: the Lord revengeth: even the Lord <sup>2</sup>of anger, the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

3 The <sup>1</sup>Lord is slow to anger, but he is great in power, and will not surely clear the wicked: the Lord hath his way in the whirlwind, and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and drieth it, and he drieth up all the rivers: Bashan is wasted and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon is wasted.

5 The mountains tremble for him, and the hills melt, and the earth is burnt at his sight, yea the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 <sup>1</sup>Who can stand before his wrath? or who can abide in the fierceness of his wrath? his wrath is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken by him.

7 The Lord is good <sup>1</sup>and as a stronghold in the day of trouble, and he knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But passing over as with a flood, he will utterly destroy the <sup>1</sup>place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.

9 What do ye <sup>1</sup>imagine against the Lord? he will make an utter destruction: affliction shall not rise up the second time.

10 For he shall come as unto <sup>1</sup>thorns folden one in another, and as unto drunkards in their drunkenness: they shall be devoured as stubble fully dried.

11 There <sup>1</sup>cometh one out of thee that imagineth evil against the Lord, even a wicked counselor.

12 Thus saith the Lord, Though they be <sup>1</sup>quiet, and also many, yet thus shall they be cut off when he shall pass by: though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now I will break his yoke from thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14 And the Lord hath given a commandment concerning thee that no more of thy name be <sup>1</sup>sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven, and the molten image: I will make it thy grave for thee, for thou art vile.

15 <sup>a</sup>Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that declareth, and publisheth <sup>1</sup>peace: O Judah, keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for the wicked shall no more pass through thee: he is utterly cut off.

2 He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans against the Assyrians.

1 The <sup>1</sup>destroyer is come before thy face: keep the munition: look to the way: make thy loins strong: increase thy strength mightily.

2 For the Lord hath <sup>1</sup>turned away the glory of Jacob, as the glory of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and <sup>2</sup>marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, <sup>1</sup>the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots shall be as in

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 13:1.

1:2 Meaning, of his glory.

<sup>2</sup> With his he is but angry for a time, but his anger never assuageth toward the reprobate, though for a time he defer it.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked would make God's mercy an occasion to sin, but the Prophet willeth them to consider his force and justice.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> If all creatures be at God's commandment, and none is able to resist his wrath, shall man flatter himself, and think by any means to escape, when he provoketh his God to anger?

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Lest the faithful should be discouraged by hearing the power of God, he showeth them that his mercy appertain unto them, and that he hath care over them.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God will suddenly destroy Nineveh, and the Assyrians, in such sort as they shall lie in perpetual darkness, and never recover their strength again.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the enterprises of the Assyrians against Judah and the Church, were against God, and therefore he would so destroy them at once, that he should not need to return the second time.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Although the Assyrians think themselves like thorns that prick on all sides, yet the Lord will set fire on them, and as drunken men are not able to stand against any force, so they shall be nothing able to resist him.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> Which may be understood either of Sennacherib, or of the whole body of the people of Nineveh.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> Though they think themselves in most safety, and of greatest strength, yet when God shall pass by, he will destroy them: notwithstanding he comforteth his Church, and promiseth to make an end of punishing them by the Assyrians.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Sennacherib, who should have no more children, but be slain in the house of his gods, 2 Kings 19:36, 37.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> Which peace the Jews should enjoy by the death of Sennacherib.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> Seeing God hath punished his own people Judah and Israel, he will now punish the enemies by whom he scourged them, read Isa. 10:12.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Both to fear the enemy, and also that they themselves should not so soon espy blood one of another to discourage them.

4 The chariots shall rage in the streets: they shall run to and fro in the highways: they shall seem like lamps: they shall shoot like the lightning.

5 <sup>1</sup>He shall remember his strong men: they shall stumble as they go: they shall make haste to the walls thereof, and the defense shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall melt.

7 And Huzzab the Queen shall be led away captive, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of doves, smiting upon their breasts.

8 But Nineveh is <sup>1</sup>of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry: but none shall look back.

9 <sup>1</sup>Spoil ye the silver, spoil the gold: for there is none end of the store and glory of all the pleasant vessels.

10 <sup>1</sup>She is empty and void and waste, and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and sorrow is in all loins, and the faces <sup>2</sup>of them all gather blackness.

11 Where is the <sup>1</sup>dwelling of the lions, and the pasture of the lion's whelps? where the lion and the lioness waked, and the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid.

12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and worried for his lioness, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with spoil.

13 Behold, I come unto thee saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the <sup>1</sup>smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions, and I will cut off thy spoil from the earth, and the voice of thy <sup>2</sup>messengers shall no more be heard.

3 1 Of the fall of Ninevah. 8 No power can escape the hand of God.

1 O bloody city, it is all full of lies and robbery: <sup>1</sup>the prey departeth not.

2 The noise of a whip, <sup>1</sup>and the noise of the moving of the wheels, and the beating of the horses, and the leaping of the chariots.

3 The horseman lifteth up both the bright sword, and the glittering spear, and a multitude is slain, and the dead bodies are many: there is none end of their corpses: they stumble upon their corpses,

4 Because of the multitude of the fornications of the <sup>1</sup>harlot that is beautiful, and is a mistress of witchcraft, and selleth the people through her whoredom, and the nations through her witchcrafts.

5 Behold, I come upon thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and will show the nations thy filthiness, and the kingdoms thy shame.

6 And I will cast filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazing stock.

7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is destroyed, who will have pity upon her? where shall I seek comforters for thee?

8 Art thou better than <sup>1</sup>No, which was full of people? that lay in the rivers, and had the waters round about it? whose ditch was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and there was none end: Put and Lubim were <sup>1</sup>her helpers.

10 Yet was she carried away, and went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets: and they cast lots for her noble men, and all her mighty men were bound in chains.

11 Also thou shalt be drunken: thou shalt hide thyself, and shalt seek help because of the enemy.

12 All thy strong cities shall be like fig trees with the first ripe figs: for if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, thy people within thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be opened unto thine enemies, and the fire shall devour thy bars.

14 Draw thee waters for the siege: fortify thy strongholds: go into the clay, and temper the mortar: make strong brick.

15 There shall the fire devour thee: the sword shall

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Then the Assyrians shall seek by all means to gather their power, but all things shall fail them.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> The Assyrians will flatter themselves and say, that Nineveh is so ancient that it can never perish, and is as a fishpool, whose waters they that walk on the banks cannot touch, but they shall be scattered, and shall not look back though men would call them.

cut thee off: it shall eat thee up like the <sup>1</sup>locusts, though thou be multiplied like the locusts, and multiplied like the grasshopper.

16 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the locust spoileth and flieth away.

17 Thy princes are as the grasshoppers, and thy captains as the great grasshoppers which remain in the hedges in the cold day: but when the sun ariseth, they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

18 Thy <sup>1</sup>shepherds do sleep, O king of Assyria: thy strong men lie down: thy people is scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.

HABAKKUK

1 1 A complaint against the wicked that persecute the just.

1 The burden, which Habakkuk the Prophet did see.

2 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee <sup>1</sup>for violence, and thou wilt not help!

3 Why dost thou show me iniquity, and cause me to behold sorrow? for spoiling, and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 Therefore the Law is dissolved, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth <sup>1</sup>compass about the righteous: therefore <sup>2</sup>wrong judgment proceedeth.

5 Behold among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and marvel: for I will work a work in your days: <sup>1</sup>ye will not believe it, though it be told you.

6 For lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall go upon the breadth of the land to possess the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and fearful: <sup>1</sup>their judgment, and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the wolves in the <sup>4</sup>evening: and their horsemen are many: and their horsemen shall come from far: they shall fly as the eagle hastening to meat.

9 They come all to spoil: for their faces shall be an <sup>1</sup>East wind, and they shall gather the captivity <sup>2</sup>as the sand.

10 And they shall mock the Kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every stronghold: for they shall gather <sup>1</sup>dust, and take it.

CHAPTER I

11 Then shall they <sup>1</sup>take a courage, and transgress and do wickedly, imputing this their power unto their god.

12 Art not thou of old, O Lord my God, mine holy One? we shall not <sup>1</sup>die: O Lord, thou hast ordained them for judgment, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see evil: thou canst not behold wickedness: wherefore dost thou look upon the transgressors, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked devoureth the man, that is more righteous than he?

14 And makest men as the <sup>1</sup>fishes of the sea, and as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

15 They take up all with the angle: they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarn, whereof they rejoice and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice unto their <sup>1</sup>net, and burn incense unto their yarn, because by them their portion is fat, and their meat plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay <sup>1</sup>the nations?

2 1 A vision. 5 Against pride, covetousness, drunkenness, and idolatry.

1 I will stand upon my <sup>1</sup>watch, and set me upon the tower, and will look and see what he would say unto me, and what I shall answer to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run <sup>1</sup>that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but

1:2 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet complaineth unto God, and bewaileth that among the Jews is left none equity and brotherly love: but instead hereof reigneth cruelty, theft, contention and strife.

1:4 <sup>1</sup>To suppress him, if any should show himself zealous of God's cause.

1:5 <sup>1</sup>As in times past you would not believe God's word, so shall ye not now believe the strange plagues which are at hand.

1:7 <sup>1</sup>They themselves shall be your judges in this cause, and none shall have authority over them to control them.

1:9 <sup>1</sup>For the Jews most feared this wind, because it destroyed their fruits.

1:10 <sup>1</sup>They shall cast up mounds against it.

1:11 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet comforteth the faithful that God will also destroy the Babylonians, because they shall abuse this victory, and become proud and insolent, attributing the praise hereof to their idols.

1:12 <sup>1</sup>He assureth the godly of God's protection, showing that the enemy can do no more than God hath appointed, and also that their sins required such a sharp rod.

1:14 <sup>1</sup>So that the great devoureth the small, and the Chaldeans destroy all the world.

1:16 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, that the enemies flatter themselves, and glory in their own force, power and wit.

1:17 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, that they should not.

2:1 <sup>1</sup>I will renounce mine own judgment, and only depend on God to be instructed what I shall answer them that abuse my preaching, and to be armed against all temptations.

2:2 <sup>1</sup>Write it in great letters, that he that runneth may read it.

at the <sup>1</sup>last it shall speak and not lie: though it tarry, wait: for it shall surely come, and shall not stay.

4 Behold, <sup>1</sup>he that lifteth up himself, his mind is not upright in him, but the just shall live by his faith,

5 Yea, indeed the proud man is as <sup>1</sup>he that transgresseth by wine: therefore shall he not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapech unto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Ho, he that increaseth that which is not his? <sup>1</sup>how long? and he that ladeth himself with thick clay?

7 Shall <sup>1</sup>they not rise up suddenly, that shall bite thee? and awake, that shall stir thee? and thou shalt be their prey?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee, because of men's blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city, and unto all that dwell therein.

9 Ho, he that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, to escape from the power of evil.

10 Thou <sup>1</sup>hast consulted shame to thine own house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine own soul.

11 For the <sup>1</sup>stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Woe unto him that buildeth a town with blood, and erecteth a city by iniquity.

13 Behold, is it not of the <sup>1</sup>Lord of hosts, that the people shall labor in the very fire? the people shall even weary themselves for very vanity.

14 For the earth shall <sup>1</sup>be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor <sup>1</sup>drink: thou joinest thine heat, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their privities.

16 Thou art filled with shame <sup>4</sup>for glory: drink thou also, and be made naked: the cup of the Lord's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be for thy glory.

17 For the <sup>1</sup>cruelty of Lebanon shall cover thee: so shall the spoil of the beasts, which made them afraid, because of men's blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city, and unto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the <sup>1</sup>image? for the maker therefore hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though he that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumb idols.

19 Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake, and to the dumb stone, Rise up, it shall teach thee: <sup>1</sup>behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy Temple: let all the earth keep silence before him.

3 <sup>2</sup> A prayer for the faithful.

1 A prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet for the <sup>1</sup>ignorances.

2 <sup>1</sup>O Lord, I have heard thy voice, and was afraid: O Lord, revive thy <sup>2</sup>work in the midst of the people, in the midst of the years make it known: in wrath remember mercy.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Which contained the destruction of the enemy, and the comfort of the Church: which thing though God execute not according to man's hasty affections, yet the issue of both is certain at his time appointed.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> To trust in himself, or in any worldly thing, is never to be quiet: for the only rest is to stay upon God by faith, Rom. 1:17; Gal. 3:11; Heb. 10:38.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the proud and covetous man to a drunkard that is without reason and sense, whom God will punish and make him a laughing stock to all the world: and this he speaketh for the comfort of the godly, and against the Chaldeans.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that all the world shall wish the destruction of tyrants, and that by their oppression and covetousness, they heap but upon themselves more heavy burdens: for the more they get, the more are they troubled.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Medes and Persians, that should destroy the Babylonians?

2:10 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the covetous man is the ruin of his own house, when as he thinketh to enrich it by cruelty and oppression.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> The stones of the house shall cry, and say that they are built of blood, and the wood shall answer and say the same of itself.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God will not defer his vengeance long, but will come and destroy all their labors, as though they were consumed with fire.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> In the destruction of the Babylonians his glory shall appear through all the world.

2:15 <sup>1</sup> He reproacheth thus the king of Babylon, who as he was drunken with covetousness and cruelty, so he provoked others to the same, and inflamed them by his rage, and so in the end brought them to shame.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Whereas thou thoughtest to have glory of these thy doings, they shall turn to thy shame: for thou shalt drink of the same cup with others in thy turn.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> Because the Babylonians were cruel not only against other nations, but also against the people of God, which is meant by Lebanon and the beasts therein, he showeth that the like cruelty shall be executed against them.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the Babylonians' gods could nothing avail them, for they were but blocks or stones, read Jer. 10:8.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> If thou wilt consider what it is, and how that it hath neither breath nor life, but is a dead thing.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet instructeth his people to pray unto God, not only for their great sins but also for such as they had committed of ignorance.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Thus the people were afraid when they heard God's threatenings, and prayed.

<sup>2</sup> That is, the state of thy Church which is now ready to perish, before it come to half a perfect age, which should be under Christ.

3 God cometh from <sup>1</sup>Teman, and the holy One from mount Paran, Selah. His glory covereth the heavens, and the earth is full of his praise,

4 And his brightness was as the light: <sup>1</sup>he had horns coming out of his hands, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth before his feet.

6 He stood and measured the earth: he beheld and dissolved the nations, and the everlasting mountains were broken, and the ancient hills did bow: his <sup>1</sup>ways are everlasting.

7 <sup>1</sup>For his iniquity I saw the tents of Cushan, and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the Lord angry against the <sup>1</sup>rivers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride <sup>2</sup>upon thine horses? thy chariots brought salvation.

9 Thy <sup>1</sup>bow was manifestly revealed, and the <sup>2</sup>oaths of the tribes were a sure word, Selah, thou <sup>3</sup>didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the stream of the water <sup>1</sup>passed by: the deep made a noise, and lifted up his hand on high.

11 The <sup>1</sup>sun and moon stood still in their habitation: <sup>2</sup>at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the bright shining of thy spears.

12 Thou trodest down the land in anger, and didst thresh the heathen in displeasure.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine <sup>1</sup>Anointed: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discoveredst the foundations unto the <sup>2</sup>neck, Selah.

14 Thou didst <sup>1</sup>strike through with his own staves the heads of his villages: they came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 Thou didst walk in the sea with thine horses upon the heap of great waters.

16 When I <sup>1</sup>heard, my belly trembled: my lips shook at the voice: rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in <sup>2</sup>the day of trouble: for when he cometh up <sup>3</sup>unto the people, he shall destroy them.

17 For the fig tree shall not flourish, neither shall fruit be in the vines: the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat: the sheep shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no bullock in the stalls.

18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: I will joy <sup>1</sup>in the God of my salvation.

19 The Lord God is my strength: he will make my feet like hinds' feet, and he will make me to walk upon mine high places. <sup>1</sup>To the chief singer on Neginoth.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> Teman and Paran were near Sinai, where the Law was given: whereby is signified that his deliverance was as present now as it was then.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is meant a power that was joined with his brightness, which was hid to the rest of the world, but was revealed in mount Sinai to his people, Ps. 31:16.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God hath wonderful means, and ever had a marvelous power when he would deliver his Church.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> The iniquity of the king of Syria in vexing thy people was made manifest by thy judgment, to the comfort of thy Church, Judg. 5:10, and also of the Midianites, which destroyed themselves, Judg. 7:22.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God was not angry with the waters, but that by this means he would destroy his enemies, and deliver his Church.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, thy power.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the red sea and Jordan, which gave passage to God's people, and showed signs of their obedience as it were by the lifting up their hands.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> As appeareth, Josh. 10:11.

<sup>2</sup> According to thy commandment, the sun was directed by the weapons of thy people, that fought in thy cause, as though it durst not go forward.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that there is no salvation, but by Christ.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> God destroyed his enemies both great and small with their own weapons, though they were never so fierce against his Church.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> He returneth to that which he spake in the second verse, and showeth how he was afraid of God's judgments.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that the faithful can never have true rest, except they feel before the weight of God's judgments.

<sup>3</sup> That is, the enemy, but the godly shall be quiet, knowing that all things shall turn to good unto them.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> He declareth wherein standeth the comfort and joy of the faithful, though they see never so great afflictions prepared.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> The chief singer upon the instruments of music, shall have occasion to praise God for this great deliverance of his Church.

ZEPHANIAH

1 The word of the Lord, which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of <sup>a</sup>Josiah, the son of <sup>b</sup>Amon king of Judah.

2 I will surely destroy all things from off the land, saith the Lord.

3 I will destroy man and beast: I will destroy the <sup>1</sup>fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and ruins shall be to the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the Lord.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the <sup>1</sup>Chemarims with the Priests,

5 And them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops, and them that worship and swear by the Lord, and swear by <sup>1</sup>Milcam.

6 And them that are turned back from the Lord, and those that have not sought the Lord, nor inquired for him.

7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and hath sanctified his guests.

8 And it shall be in the day of the Lord's sacrifice, that I will visit the princes and the king's children, and all such as are clothed with <sup>1</sup>strange apparel.

9 In the same day also will I visit all those that <sup>1</sup>dance upon the threshold so proudly, which fill their masters' houses by cruelty and deceit.

10 And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be a noise, and cry from the <sup>1</sup>fish gate, and an howling from the second gate, and a great destruction from the hills.

11 Howl ye inhabitants of <sup>1</sup>the low place: for the

3:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the punishment for thy sin.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God delighteth to show his love and great affection toward his Church.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, them that were had in hatred and reviled for the Church, and because of their religion.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> I will deliver the Church, which now is afflicted, as Mic. 4:6.

HAGGAI

1 1 The time of the Prophecy of Haggai. 8 An exhortation to build the Temple again.

1 In the second year of king <sup>1</sup>Darius, in the sixth month, the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord (by the ministry of the Prophet Haggai) unto <sup>2</sup>Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, a prince of Judah, and to Jehoshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people say, the time is not yet come, <sup>1</sup>that the Lord's house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by the ministry of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

4 Is it time for yourselves to dwell in your <sup>1</sup>ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider your own ways in your hearts.

6 <sup>1</sup>Ye have sown much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drink, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warm: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bag.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider your own ways in your hearts.

8 Go <sup>1</sup>up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build this House, and <sup>2</sup>I will be favorable in it, and I will <sup>3</sup>be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did blow <sup>1</sup>upon it. And why, saith the Lord of hosts? Because of mine House that is waste, and ye turn every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore the heaven over you stayed itself from dew, and the earth stayed her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, upon all that the ground bringeth forth: both upon men and upon cattle, and upon all the labor of the hands.

12 When Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, with all the remnant of the people, heard the <sup>1</sup>voice of the Lord their God, and the words of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did fear before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lord's messenger in the Lord's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred up <sup>1</sup>the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, a prince of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the work in the House of the Lord of hosts their God.

2 He showeth that the glory of the second Temple shall exceed the first.

1 In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of king Darius,

2 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by the ministry of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel prince of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you that saw this <sup>1</sup>House in her first glory, and how do you see it now? is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good courage, O Zerubbabel,

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Who was the son of Histaspis and the third king of the Persians, as some think.

<sup>2</sup> Because the building of the Temple began to cease, by reason that the people were discouraged by their enemies: and if these two notable men had need to be stirred up and admonished of their duties, what shall we think of other governors, whose doings are either against God, or very cold in his cause?

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Not that they condemned the building thereof, but they preferred policy and private profit to religion, being content with small beginnings.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> Showing that they sought not only their necessities, but their very pleasures before God's honor.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Consider the plagues of God upon you for preferring your policies to his religion, and because ye seek not him first of all.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that they should leave off their own commodities, and go forward in the building of God's Temple, and in the setting forth of his religion.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> And so bring it to nothing.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that God was the author of the doctrine, and that he was but the minister, as Exod. 14:31; Judg. 7:20; Acts 15:28.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that men are inept and dull to serve the Lord, neither can they obey his word or his messengers, before God reform their hearts, and give them new spirits, John 6:44.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> For the people according as Isa. 30:19 and Ezek. 41:1, had prophesied, thought this Temple should have been more excellent than Solomon's Temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophets meant the spiritual Temple, The Church of Christ.

saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak the high Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and <sup>1</sup>do it: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts.

6 According to the word that I covenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirit shall remain among you, fear ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, <sup>1</sup>Yet a little while, and I will shake the heavens and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

8 And I will move all nations, and <sup>1</sup>the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this House with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.

9 The <sup>1</sup>silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts.

10 The glory of this last House shall be greater than the first, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give <sup>1</sup>peace, saith the Lord of hosts.

11 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Ask now the Priests concerning the Law, and say,

13 If one bear <sup>1</sup>holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch the bread or the pottage, or the wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the Priests answered and said, No.

14 Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the Priests answered, and said, It shall be unclean.

15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the works of their hands, and that which they offer here, is unclean.

16 And now, I pray you, consider in your minds: from this <sup>1</sup>day and afore, even afore a stone was laid upon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

17 <sup>1</sup>Before these things were, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the winepress, for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, and with hail, in all the labors of your hands: yet you turned not to me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider, I pray you, in your minds, from <sup>1</sup>this day, and afore, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid: consider it in your minds.

20 Is the <sup>1</sup>seed yet in the barn? as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

21 And again the word of the Lord came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

22 Speak to Zerubbabel the prince of Judah, and say, I <sup>1</sup>will shake the heavens and the earth.

23 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the <sup>1</sup>kingdoms of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a <sup>1</sup>signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, go forward in building the Temple.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth them to patience though see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophets had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christ, by whom all things should be renewed.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Christ whom all ought to look for and desire: or by desire he may signify all precious things, as riches, and such like.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Therefore when his time cometh he can make all the treasures of the world to serve his purpose: but the glory of this second Temple doth not stand in material things, neither can be built.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, all spiritual blessings and felicity purchased by Christ, Phil. 4:7.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, the flesh of the sacrifices, whereby he signifieth that thing which of itself is good, cannot make another thing so: and therefore they ought not to justify themselves by their sacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary he that is unclean and not pure of heart, doth corrupt those things and make them detestable unto God, which else are good and godly.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, before the building was begun.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiseth that God would bless them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they should have plenty.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth them to patience, and to abide till the harvest came, and then they should see God's blessings.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> I will make a change, and renew all things in Christ, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

2:23 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he showeth that there shall be no let or hindrance, when God will make this wonderful restitution of his Church.

2:24 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that his dignity should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in Christ.

1 He exhorteth the people to return to the Lord, and to eschew the wickedness of their fathers. 16 He signifieth the restitution of Jerusalem and the Temple.

1 In the eighth month of the second year of <sup>1</sup>Darius, came the word of the Lord unto <sup>2</sup>Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

2 The Lord hath been <sup>1</sup>sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, <sup>1</sup>Turn ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former <sup>a</sup>Prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Turn you now from your evil ways, and from your wicked works: but they would not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where <sup>1</sup>are they? and do the Prophets live forever?

6 But did not my words and my statutes, which I commanded by my servants the Prophets, take hold of <sup>1</sup>your fathers? and <sup>2</sup>they returned, and said, As the Lord of hosts hath determined to do unto us according to our own ways, and according to our works, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month <sup>1</sup>Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo

CHAPTER I

<sup>a</sup> Jer. 3:12
Ezek. 18:30
Hos. 14:2
Joel 2:12

the Prophet, saying,

8 I <sup>1</sup>saw by night, and behold <sup>2</sup>a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in a bottom, and behind him were there <sup>3</sup>red horses speckled and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the Angel that talked with me, said unto me, I will show thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle trees, answered and said, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go through the world.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lord that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have gone through the world: and behold, all the world sitteth still and is at rest.

12 Then the <sup>1</sup>Angel of the Lord answered and said, O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou be unmerciful to Jerusalem, and to the cities of Judah, with whom thou hast been displeased now these threescore and ten years?

13 And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with me, with good words and comfortable words.

14 So the Angel that communed with me, said unto me, Cry thou, and speak, thus saith the Lord of hosts, I am <sup>1</sup>jealous over Jerusalem and Zion with a great zeal, 15 And am greatly angry against the careless heathen: for I was angry but <sup>1</sup>a little, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will return unto Jerusalem with tender mercy: mine house shall be

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Who was the son of Histaspis.

<sup>2</sup> This was not that Zechariah, whereof is mentioned 2 Chron. 24:20, but had the same name, and is called the son of Berechiah, as he was, because he came of those progenitors, as of Joiada or Berechiah, and Iddo.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this to fear them with God's judgments, that they should not provoke him as their fathers had done, whom he so grievously punished.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Let your fruits declare that you are God's people, and that he hath wrought in you by his Spirit, and mortified you: for else man hath no power to return to God, but God must convert him, as Jer. 31:18; Lam. 5:21; Isa. 21:8 and 31:6 and 45:21.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> Though your fathers be dead, yet God's judgments in punishing them ought still to be before your eyes: and though the Prophets be dead, yet their doctrine remaineth forever, 2 Pet. 1:15.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Seeing ye saw the force of my doctrine in punishing your fathers, why do ye not fear the threatenings contained in the same, and declared by my Prophets?

<sup>2</sup> As men astonished with my judgments, and not that they were touched with true repentance.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Which containeth part of January and part of February.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> This vision signifieth the restoration of the Church: but as yet it should not appear to man's eyes, which is here meant by the night, by the bottom, and by the myrrh trees which are black, and give a dark shadow, yet he compareth God to a King, who hath his posts and messengers abroad by whom he still worketh his purpose and bringeth his matters to pass.

<sup>3</sup> These signified the divers offices of God's Angels by whom God sometimes punisheth and sometimes comforteth and bringeth forth his works in divers sorts.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, Christ the mediator prayed for the salvation of his Church, which was now troubled, when all the countries about them were at rest.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Though for a time God defer his help and comfort from his Church, yet this declareth that he loveth them still most dearly, as a most merciful father his children, or an husband his wife, and when it is expedient for them, his help is ever ready.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> In destroying the reprobate, I showed myself but a little angry toward my church, but the enemy would have destroyed them also, and considered not the end of my chastisements.

built in it, saith the Lord of hosts, and a line <sup>1</sup>shall be stretched upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry yet, and speak, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, My cities shall yet <sup>1</sup>be broken with plenty: the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 Then lifted I up mine eyes and saw, and behold, <sup>1</sup>four horns.

19 And I said unto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And the Lord showed me four <sup>1</sup>carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he answered, and said, These are the horns, which have scattered Judah, so that a man durst not lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lifted up their horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 The restoring of Jerusalem and Judah.

1 I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold, a <sup>1</sup>man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and another Angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this <sup>1</sup>young man, and say, <sup>2</sup>Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls, for the multitude of men and cattle therein.

5 For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of <sup>1</sup>fire round about, and will <sup>2</sup>be the glory in the midst of her.

6 Ho, ho, come <sup>1</sup>forth, and flee from the land of the North, saith the Lord: for I have scattered you into the four <sup>2</sup>winds of the heaven, saith the Lord.

7 <sup>1</sup>Save thyself, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, After this <sup>1</sup>glory hath he sent me unto the nations, which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the <sup>2</sup>apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will lift up mine hand <sup>1</sup>upon them: and <sup>2</sup>they shall be a spoil to those that served them, and ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath <sup>3</sup>sent me.

10 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter Zion: for lo, I come, and will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the Lord shall inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised up out of his holy place.

3 A prophecy of Christ and of his kingdom.

1 And he showed me Joshua the high Priest, <sup>1</sup>standing before the Angel of the Lord, and <sup>2</sup>Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the <sup>1</sup>Lord said unto Satan, The Lord reprove thee, O Satan: even the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem, reprove thee. Is not this a <sup>2</sup>[brand] taken

1:16 <sup>1</sup> To measure out the buildings.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> The abundance shall be so great, that the places of store shall not be able to contain these blessings that God will send, but shall even break for fullness.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> Which signified all the enemies of the Church, East, West, North, South.

1:20 <sup>1</sup> These Carpenters or Smiths are God's instruments, which with their mallets and hammers break these hard and strong horns which should overthrow the Church, and declare that none enemy's horn is so strong, but God hath an hammer to break it in pieces.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> This is the Angel who was Christ: for in respect of his office he is oftentimes called an Angel, but in respect of his eternal essence, is God, and so called.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, himself Zechariah.

<sup>2</sup> Signifying the spiritual Jerusalem and Church under Christ, which should be extended by the Gospel through all the world, and should need no material walls, nor trust in any worldly strength, but should be safely preserved and dwell in peace among all their enemies.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> To defend my Church, to fear the enemies and to destroy them if they approach near.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> He calleth to them, which partly for fear, and partly for their own case, remained still in captivity, and so preferred their own private commodities to the benefits of God promised in his Church.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> By fleeing from Babylon, and coming to the Church.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that God had begun to show his grace among you by delivering you, he continueth the same still toward you, and therefore sendeth me his Angel and his Christ to defend you from your enemies, that they shall not hurt you, neither by the way nor at home.

<sup>2</sup> Ye are so dear unto God, that he can no more suffer your enemies to hurt you, than a man can abide to be thrust in the eye, Ps. 17:8.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Upon the heathen your enemies.

<sup>3</sup> This must necessarily be understood of Christ, who being God equal with his Father, was sent as he was Mediator to dwell in his Church and to govern them.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> He prayed to Christ the Mediator for the state of the Church.

<sup>2</sup> Which declareth that the faithful have not only war with flesh and blood, but with Satan himself and spiritual wickedness, Eph. 6:12.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, Christ speaketh to God as the Mediator of his Church, that he would rebuke Satan: and here he showeth himself to be the continual preserver of his Church.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that Joshua was wonderfully preserved in the captivity, and now Satan sought to afflict and trouble him when he was doing his office.

out of the fire?

3 Now Joshua was clothed with <sup>1</sup>filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the <sup>1</sup>filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have <sup>2</sup>caused thine iniquity to depart from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them <sup>1</sup>set a fair diadem upon his head. So they set a fair diadem upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lord testified unto Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, If thou wilt walk in my ways, and keep my watch, thou shalt also <sup>1</sup>judge mine house, and shalt also keep my <sup>2</sup>courts, and I will give thee place among <sup>3</sup>these that stand by.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high Priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they <sup>1</sup>are monstrous persons: but behold, I will bring forth the <sup>2</sup>Branch my servant.

9 For lo, the <sup>1</sup>stone that I have laid before Joshua: upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I <sup>2</sup>will cut out the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will take <sup>3</sup>away the iniquity of this land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbor under the <sup>1</sup>vine, and under the fig tree.

4 The vision of the golden candlestick, and the exposition thereof.

1 And the Angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is raised out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold, a <sup>1</sup>candlestick all of gold with a bowl upon the top of it, and his seven lamps therein, and seven <sup>2</sup>pipes to the lamps which were upon the top thereof,

3 And two olive trees over it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto <sup>1</sup>Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by <sup>2</sup>an army nor strength, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.

7 Who art thou, O <sup>1</sup>great mountain, before Zerubbabel? thou shall be a plain, and <sup>2</sup>he shall bring forth the headstone thereof, with shoutings, crying,

3:3 <sup>1</sup> In respect of the glorious garments and precious stones that the Priests did wear before the captivity: and by this contemptible state the Prophet signifieth, that these small beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> See verse 3.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth of what apparel he speaketh, which is, when our filthy sins are taken away, and we are clad with God's mercies, which is meant of the spiritual restitution.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet prayeth, that besides the raiment, the Priest might also have tyre for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignity of the Priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are condemned, that can content themselves with any mean reformation in religion, seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, and obtaineth it.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, have rule and government in my Church, as thy predecessors have had.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> Because they follow my word, they are contemned in the world, and esteemed as monsters, Isa. 8:18.

<sup>2</sup> That is, Christ, who did so humble himself, that not only he became the servant of God, but also the servant of men: and therefore in him they should have comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Isa. 11:1; Jer. 23:5 and 33:14, 15.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the ministers cannot build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giveth light unto all others, and that all ought to seek light at him, Zech. 4:10.

<sup>3</sup> Though I have punished this land for a time, yet I will even now be pacified, and visit their sins no more.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> Ye shall then live in peace and quietness, that is, in the kingdom of Christ, Isa. 2:2; Mic. 4:4; Hag. 2:10.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Which was ever in the midst of the Temple, signifying that the graces of God's spirit should shine there in most abundance, and in all perfection.

<sup>2</sup> Which conveyed the oil that dropped from the trees into the lamps, so that the light never failed: and this vision was to confirm the faithful that God had sufficient power in himself to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to pass though he had no help of man.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Who was a figure of Christ and therefore this doctrine was directed to all the Church who are his body and members.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that God's power only is sufficient to preserve his Church, though he use not man's help thereunto.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the power of the adversaries to a great mountain, who thought the Jews nothing in respect of them, and would have hindered Zerubbabel, who represented Christ, whom the enemies daily labor to let in the building of his spiritual Temple, but all in vain.

<sup>2</sup> Though the enemies think to stay this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall rejoice, and pray unto God that he would continue his grace and favor toward the Temple.

Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of the <sup>1</sup>small things? but they shall rejoice, and shall see the stone of <sup>2</sup>tin in the hand of Zerubbabel: <sup>3</sup>these seven are the eyes of the Lord, which go through the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right and upon the left side thereof?

12 And I spake moreover, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches, which through the two golden pipes empty themselves into the gold?

13 And he answered me, and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two <sup>1</sup>olive branches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

5 <sup>1</sup>The vision of the flying book, signifying the curse of thieves, and such as abuse the Name of God. <sup>6</sup>By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Judah's afflictions into Babylon.

1 Then I turned me, and lifted up mine eyes and looked, and behold, a flying book.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying <sup>1</sup>book: the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the whole earth: for everyone that <sup>1</sup>stealeth, shall be cut off, as well on this <sup>2</sup>side, as on that: and everyone that <sup>3</sup>swareth, shall be cut off, as well on this side, as on that.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that falsely swareth by my Name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an <sup>1</sup>Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is the <sup>2</sup>sight of them through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lifted up a <sup>1</sup>talent of lead: and this is a <sup>2</sup>woman that sitteth in the midst of the Ephah.

8 And he said, This is <sup>1</sup>wickedness, and he cast it into the midst of the Ephah, and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then I lifted mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came out two <sup>1</sup>women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a stork) and they lifted up the Ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the Ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To build it an house in the land of Shinar, and it shall be <sup>1</sup>established and set there upon her own place.

6 By the four chariots he describeth the four Monarchies.

1 Again, I turned and lifted up mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came four <sup>1</sup>chariots out from between <sup>2</sup>two mountains, and the mountains

4:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building and preservation of my spiritual Temple.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that all were discouraged at the small and poor beginnings of the Temple.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby he signifieth the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Christ, should go forward with his building to the joy and comfort of the godly, though the world be against him, and though his for a while be discouraged, because they see not things pleasant to the eye.

<sup>3</sup> That is, God hath seven eyes: meaning, a continual providence, so that neither Satan nor any power in the world, can go about to bring anything to pass to hinder his work, Zech. 5:9.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> Which were ever green and full of oil, so that still they poured forth oil into the lamps: signifying, that God will continually maintain and preserve his Church, and endure it still with abundance and perfection of grace.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> Because the Jews had provoked God's plagues by contemning his word, and casting off all judgment and equity, he showeth that God's curses written in this book had justly light both on them and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Chaldeans their former enemies.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, useth any injury toward his neighbor.

<sup>3</sup> He that transgresseth the first table, and serveth not God aright but abuseth God's Name.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> Which was a measure in dry things, containing about ten potsels.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> To cover the measure.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that Satan should not have such power against the Jews to tempt them, as he had in time past, but that God would shut up iniquity in a measure as in a prison.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> Which declared that God would execute his judgment by the means of the weak and infirm means.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> To remove the iniquity and affliction that came for the same from Judah, to place it forever in Babylon.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> By chariots here, as by horses afore, he meaneth the swift messengers of God to execute and declare his will.

were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were <sup>1</sup>red horses, and in the second chariot <sup>2</sup>black horses,

3 And in the third chariot <sup>1</sup>white horses, and in the fourth chariot, horses of <sup>2</sup>divers colors, and reddish.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and said unto me, These are the four <sup>1</sup>spirits of the heaven, which go forth from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the black horse went forth into the land of the North, and the white went out after them, and they of divers colors went forth toward the <sup>1</sup>South country.

7 And the <sup>1</sup>reddish went out, and required to go, and pass through the world, and he said, Go, pass through the world. So they went throughout the world.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the North country, have pacified my <sup>1</sup>spirit in the North country.

9 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, and of Tobijah, and Jedaiah, which are come from Babel, and come thou the same day, and go unto the house of <sup>1</sup>Josiah, the son of Zephaniah.

11 Take even silver, and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the <sup>1</sup>head of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak the high Priest,

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, and saith, Behold, the man whose name is the <sup>1</sup>Branch, and he shall grow <sup>2</sup>up out of his place, and he shall <sup>3</sup>build the Temple of the Lord.

13 Even he shall build the Temple of the Lord, and he shall bear the <sup>1</sup>glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne, and he shall be a Priest upon his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between <sup>2</sup>them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to <sup>1</sup>Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to <sup>2</sup>Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a <sup>3</sup>memorial in the Temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are <sup>1</sup>far off, shall come and build in the Temple of the Lord, and ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will <sup>2</sup>obey the voice of the Lord your God.

7 5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

1 And in the fourth year of King Darius, the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in <sup>1</sup>Chisleu,

2 For <sup>1</sup>they had sent unto the House of God Sharezer, and Regem-Melech and their men to pray before the Lord,

3 And to speak unto the Priests, which were in the House of the Lord of hosts, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I <sup>1</sup>weep in the fifth month, and <sup>2</sup>separate myself as I have done these so many <sup>3</sup>years?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying,

6:2 <sup>1</sup> Which signified the great cruelty and persecution that the Church had endured under divers enemies.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> These represented their state under the Persians, which restored them to liberty.

<sup>2</sup> Which signified, that God would sometimes give his Church rest, and pour his plagues upon their enemies, as he did in destroying Nineveh and Babylon, and others their enemies.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, all the actions and motions of God's Spirit, which according to his unchangeable counsel he causeth to appear through all the world.

6:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, toward Egypt, and other countries there about.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, they of divers colors, which ask [...], to signify that Satan hath no power to hurt or afflict, till God gives it him, Job 1:12.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> By punishing the Chaldeans mine anger ceased, and you were delivered.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> To receive of him and the other three, money to make the two crowns: which were men of great authority among the Jews, and doubted of the restitution of the kingdom, and of the Priesthood, and hurt others by their example.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> Because this could not be attributed to anyone according to the Law, therefore it followeth that Joshua must represent the Messiah, who was both Priest and king.

6:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Christ, of whom Joshua was the figure: for in Greek they were both called Jesus.

<sup>3</sup> Which declareth, that none could build this Temple whereof Haggai speaketh, but only Christ: and therefore it was spiritual, and not material, Hag. 2:10.

6:13 <sup>1</sup> Whereof Joshua had but a shadow.

<sup>2</sup> The two offices of the kingdom, and Priesthood shall be so joined together, that they shall be no more dissevered.

6:14 <sup>1</sup> Who was also called Heldai.

<sup>3</sup> That they may acknowledge their infirmity, which looked that all things should have been restored incontinently: and of this their infidelity these two crowns shall remain as tokens, Acts 1:16.

6:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Gentiles by the preaching of the Gospel, shall help toward the building of the spiritual Temple.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, the rest of the people that remained yet in Chaldaea, sent to the Church at Jerusalem, for the resolution of these questions, because these feasts were consented upon by the agreement of the whole Church, the one in the month that the Temple was destroyed, and the other when Gedaliah was slain, Jer. 41:2.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> By weeping and mourning, appear what exercises they used in their fasting.

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the <sup>1</sup>Priests, and say, When ye fasted, and mourned in the fifth and seventh month, even the seventy years, did ye fast unto me? <sup>2</sup>do I approve it?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did ye not eat <sup>4</sup>for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

7 Should ye not hear the words which the Lord <sup>1</sup>hath cried by the ministry of the former Prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited, and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when the South and the plain was inhabited?

8 And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, <sup>1</sup>Execute true judgment, and show mercy and compassion, every man to his brother,

10 And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger nor the poor, and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and <sup>1</sup>pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the Law and the words which the Lord of hosts sent in his <sup>1</sup>Spirit by the ministry of the former Prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear, so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 But I scattered them among all the nations, whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate <sup>1</sup>after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land <sup>2</sup>waste.

8 <sup>2</sup>Of the return of the people unto Jerusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them. <sup>16</sup>Of good works. <sup>20</sup>The calling of the Gentiles.

1 Again the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I was <sup>1</sup>jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus saith the Lord, I will return unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a <sup>1</sup>city of truth, and the Mountain of the Lord of hosts, the holy Mountain.

4 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, There shall yet old <sup>1</sup>men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls, playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Though it be <sup>1</sup>impossible in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should it therefore be impossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hosts?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will deliver my people from the East country, and from the West country.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall <sup>1</sup>dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth, and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Let your <sup>1</sup>hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day, that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hosts was laid, that the Temple might be built.

10 For before these days there was no hire for <sup>1</sup>man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any

7:5 <sup>1</sup>For there were both of the people, and of the Priests, which doubted as touching this controversy, besides them which as yet remained in Chaldea, and reason of it, as of one of the chief points of their religion.

<sup>2</sup>For they thought they had deserved toward God because of this fast, which they invented of themselves: and though fasting of itself be good, yet because they thought it a service toward God, and trusted therein, it is here reprov'd.

7:6 <sup>1</sup>Did ye not eat and drink for your own commodity and necessity, and so likewise ye did abstain according to your own fantasies, and not after the prescript of my Law.

7:7 <sup>1</sup>Hereby he condemneth their hypocrisy, which thought by their fasting to please God and by such things as they invented, and in the mean season would not serve him as he had commanded.

7:9 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that they did not fast with a sincere heart, but for hypocrisy, and that it was not done of a pure religion, because that they lacked these offices of charity, which should have declared that they were godly, Matt. 23:23.

7:11 <sup>1</sup>And would not carry the Lord's burden, which was sweet and easy, but would bear their own, which was heavy and grievous to the flesh, thinking to merit thereby: which similitude is taken of oxen, which shrink at the yoke, Neh. 9:29.

7:12 <sup>1</sup>Which declareth that they rebelled not only against the Prophets, but against the Spirit of God that spake in them.

7:14 <sup>1</sup>That is, after they were called captive.

8:2 <sup>1</sup>I loved my city with a singular love, so that I could not abide that any should do her any injury.

8:3 <sup>1</sup>Because she shall be faithful and loyal toward me her husband.

8:4 <sup>1</sup>Though their enemies did greatly molest and trouble them, yet God would come and dwell among them, and so preserve them so long as nature would suffer them to live, and increase their children in great abundance.

8:6 <sup>1</sup>He showeth wherein our faith standeth, that is, to believe that God can perform that which he hath promised, though it seem never so impossible to man, Gen. 18:14; Rom. 4:20.

8:8 <sup>1</sup>So that their return shall not be in vain: for God will accomplish his promise, and their prosperity shall be sure and stable.

8:9 <sup>1</sup>Let neither respect of your private commodities neither counsel of others, nor fear of enemies discourage you in the going forward with the building of the Temple, but be constant and obey the Prophets, which encourage you thereunto.

8:10 <sup>1</sup>For God cursed your work, so that neither man nor beast had profit of their labors.

peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men, everyone against his neighbor.

11 But now, I will not entreat the residue of this people as aforetime, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be prosperous: the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew: and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel, so will I deliver you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me unto wrath, saith the Lord of hosts, and repented not,

15 So again have I determined in these days <sup>1</sup>to do well unto Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do, Speak ye every man the truth unto his neighbor: execute judgment truly, and uprightly in your gates,

17 And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbor, and love no false oath: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the <sup>1</sup>tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and prosperous high feasts: therefore love the truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, That there shall yet come <sup>1</sup>people, and the inhabitants of great cities.

21 And they that dwell in one city, shall go to another, saying, "Up, let us go and pray before the Lord, and seek the Lord of hosts: I will go also.

22 Yea great people and mighty nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

CHAPTER 8

Mic. 4:1

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, In those days shall ten men take hold out of all languages of the nations, even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, and say, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

9 The threatenings of the Gentiles. 9 The coming of Christ.

1 The burden of the word of the Lord in the land of <sup>1</sup>Hadrach: and Damascus shall be his <sup>2</sup>rest: when the <sup>3</sup>eyes of man, even of all the tribes of Israel shall be toward the Lord.

2 And Hamath also shall border <sup>1</sup>thereby: Tyre also and Sidon, though they be <sup>2</sup>very wise.

3 For Tyre did build herself a stronghold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will spoil her, and he will smite her <sup>1</sup>power in the sea, and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and fear, and Gaza also shall be very sorrowful, and Ekron: for her countenance shall be ashamed, and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And the <sup>1</sup>stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his <sup>1</sup>teeth: but he that remaineth, even he shall be for our God, and he shall be as a prince in Judah, but <sup>2</sup>Ekron shall be as a Jebusite.

8 And I will camp about <sup>1</sup>mine House against the army, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressor shall come upon them anymore: for now <sup>2</sup>have I seen with mine eyes.

9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter Zion: shout for

8:14 <sup>1</sup> Read Ezek. 18:20.

8:15 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that man cannot turn to God till he changes man's heart by his spirit, and so begin to do well, which is to pardon his sins and to give him his graces.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> Which fast was appointed when the city was besieged, and was the first fast of these four: and here the Prophet showeth, that if the Jews will repent, and turn wholly to God, they shall have no more occasion to fast, or to show signs of heaviness: for God will send them joy and gladness.

8:20 <sup>1</sup> He declareth the great zeal that God should give the Gentiles to come to his Church, and to join with the Jews in his true religion, which should be in the kingdom of Christ.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he meaneth Syria.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, by Damascus: meaning, that Hamath or Antioch should be under the same rod and plague.

<sup>2</sup> He secretly showeth the cause of their destruction, because they deceived all others by their craft and subtlety, which they cloaked with this name of wisdom.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> Though they of Tyre think themselves invincible by reason of the sea that compass them round about, yet they shall not escape God's judgments.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that all should be destroyed, save a very few, that should remain as strangers.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> He promiseth to deliver the Jews when he shall take vengeance on their enemies for their cruelty and wrongs done to them.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's power only shall be sufficient to defend his Church against all adversaries be they never so cruel, or assemble their power never so often.

<sup>2</sup> That is, God hath now seen the great injuries and afflictions wherewith they have been afflicted by their enemies.

joy, O daughter Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee: <sup>1</sup>he is just, and saved himself, poor and riding upon an <sup>2</sup>ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I will cut off the <sup>1</sup>chariots from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem: the bow of the battle shall be broken, and he shall speak peace unto the heathen, and his dominion shall be from <sup>2</sup>sea unto sea, and from the <sup>3</sup>River to the end of the land.

11 <sup>1</sup>Thou also shall be saved through the blood of thy covenant. I have loosed thy <sup>2</sup>prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turn you to the <sup>1</sup>stronghold, ye <sup>2</sup>prisoners of hope: even today do I declare, that I will render the <sup>3</sup>double unto thee.

13 For Judah have I bent as a <sup>1</sup>bow for me: Ephraim's hand have I filled, and I have raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and have made thee as a giant's sword.

14 And the Lord shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall come forth with the whirlwinds of the South.

15 The Lord of hosts shall defend them, and they shall devour them, <sup>1</sup>and subdue them with sling stones, and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine, and they shall be filled like bowls, and as the horns of the Altar.

16 And the Lord their God shall deliver them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the <sup>1</sup>stones of the crown lifted up upon his land.

17 For how great is his goodness! and how great is his beauty! corn shall make the young men cheerful, and new wine the maids.

10 <sup>1</sup>The vanity of Idolatry. <sup>3</sup>The Lord promiseth to visit and comfort the house of Israel.

1 Ask you of the <sup>1</sup>Lord rain in the time of the latter rain: so shall the Lord make white clouds, and give you showers of rain, and to everyone grass in the field.

2 Surely the <sup>1</sup>idols have spoken vanity, and the soothsayers have seen a lie, and the dreamers have told a vain thing: they comfort in vain: therefore <sup>2</sup>they went away as sheep: they were troubled, because there was no shepherd.

3 My wrath was kindled against the shepherds, and I did visit the <sup>1</sup>goats: but the Lord of hosts will visit his flock the house of Judah, and will make them as <sup>2</sup>his beautiful horse in the battle.

4 Out <sup>1</sup>of him shall the corner come forth: out of him the nail, out of him ye bow of battle, and out of him every <sup>2</sup>appointer of tribute also.

5 And they shall be as the mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle, and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, and the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will preserve the <sup>1</sup>house of Joseph, and I will bring 9:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, he hath righteousness and salvation in himself for the use and commodity of his Church.

<sup>2</sup> Which declareth that they should not look for such a king as should be glorious in the eyes of man, but should be poor, and yet in himself have all power to deliver his: and this is meant of Christ, as Matt. 21:5.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> No power of man or creature shall be able to let this kingdom of Christ, and he shall peaceably govern them by his word.

<sup>2</sup> That is, from the red sea, to the sea, called Syriacum: and by these places which the Jews knew, he meant an infinite space and compass over the whole world.

9:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Jerusalem, or the Church which is saved by the blood of Christ whereof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the covenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church: and left it with them for the love that he bare unto them.

<sup>2</sup> God showeth that he will deliver his Church out of all dangers, seem they never so great.

9:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, into the holy land where the city and the Temple are, where God will defend you.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning the faithful, which seemed to be in danger of their enemies on every side, and yet lived in hope that God would restore them to liberty.

<sup>3</sup> That is, double benefits and prosperity, in respect of that which your fathers enjoyed from David's time to the captivity.

9:13 <sup>1</sup> I will make Judah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians.

9:15 <sup>1</sup> He promiseth that the Jews shall destroy their enemies, and have abundance and excess of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to move them to intemperancy, but to sobriety, and a thankful remembrance of God's great liberality.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> The faithful shall be preserved, and revered of all, that the very enemies shall be compelled to esteem them: for God's glory shall shine in them, as Josephus declareth of Alexander the great when he met Jaddi the high Priest.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet reproveth the Jews, because by their own infidelity they put back God's graces promised, and so famine came by God's just judgment: therefore to avoid this plague, he willet them to turn to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he will give them abundance.

10:2 <sup>1</sup> He calleth to remembrance God's punishments in times past, because they trusted not in him, but in their idols and sorcerers who ever deceived them.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the cruel governors which did oppress the poor sheep, Ezek. 34:16, 17.

<sup>2</sup> He will be merciful to his Church and cherish them as a king or prince doth his best horse which shall be for his own use in war.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> Out of Judah shall the chief governor proceed, who shall be as a corner to uphold the building, and as a nail to fasten it together.

10:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, the ten tribes, which should be gathered under Christ to the rest of the Church.

them again, for I pity them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will hear them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be as a giant: and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad: and their heart shall rejoice in the Lord.

8 I will <sup>1</sup>hiss for them: and gather them: for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase, as they have increased.

9 And I will <sup>1</sup>sow them among the people, and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children and <sup>2</sup>turn again.

10 I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: and I will bring them into the land of Gilead, and Lebanon, and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he <sup>1</sup>shall go into the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the river shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be cast down, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walk in his Name, saith the Lord.

11 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithful is committed to Christ. 7 A grievous vision against Jerusalem and Judah.

1 Open thy doors, O <sup>1</sup>Lebanon, and the fire shall devour thy cedars.

2 Howl, <sup>1</sup>fir trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mighty are destroyed: howl ye, O oaks of Bashan, for the <sup>2</sup>defenced forest is cut down.

3 There is the voice of the howling of the shepherds: for their <sup>1</sup>glory is destroyed: the voice of the roaring of lion's whelps: for the pride of Jordan is destroyed.

4 Thus saith the Lord my God, Feed the sheep of the <sup>1</sup>slaughter.

5 They that possess them, slay them <sup>1</sup>and sin not: and they that sell them, say, <sup>2</sup>Blessed be the Lord: for I am rich, and their own shepherds spare them not.

6 Surely I will no more spare those that dwell in the land, saith the Lord: but lo, <sup>1</sup>I will deliver the men every one into his neighbor's hand, and into the hand of his <sup>2</sup>king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliver them.

7 For I fed the sheep of slaughter, even the <sup>1</sup>poor of the flock, and I took unto me <sup>2</sup>two staves: the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheep.

8 <sup>1</sup>Three shepherds also I cut off in one month, and my soul loathed <sup>2</sup>them, and their soul abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let it die: and that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eat, everyone the flesh of his neighbor.

10 And I took my staff, even Beauty, and brake it, that I might disannul my covenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the <sup>1</sup>poor of the sheep that waited upon me, knew that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I said unto them, If ye think it good, give me <sup>1</sup>my wages: and if no, leave off: so they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the Lord said unto me, Cast it unto the 10:8 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he declareth the power of God, who needeth no great preparation when he will deliver his: for with a beck or hiss he can call them from all places suddenly.

10:9 <sup>1</sup> Though they shall yet be scattered and seem to be lost, yet it shall be profitable unto them: for there they shall come to the knowledge of my Name, which was accomplished under the Gospel, among whom it was first preached.

<sup>2</sup> Not that they should return into their country, but be gathered and joined in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospel.

10:11 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the deliverance of the people out of Egypt, whereas the Angel smote the floods and rivers.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> Because the Jews thought themselves so strong by reason of this mountain, that no enemy could come to hurt them, the Prophet showeth that when God sendeth the enemies, it shall show itself ready to receive them.

11:2 <sup>1</sup> Showing, that if the strong men were destroyed, the weaker were not able to resist.

<sup>2</sup> Seeing that Lebanon was destroyed, which was the strongest munition, the weaker places could not think to hold out.

11:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, the renown of Judah and Israel should perish.

11:4 <sup>1</sup> Which being now destinate to be slain, were delivered as out of the lion's mouth.

11:5 <sup>1</sup> Their governors destroy them without any remorse of conscience, or yet thinking that they do evil.

<sup>2</sup> He noteth the hypocrites, which ever have the Name of God in their mouths, though in their life and doings they deny God, attributing their gain to God's blessings, which cometh of the spoil of their brethren.

11:6 <sup>1</sup> I will cause one to destroy another.

11:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the small remnant, whom he thought worthy to show mercy unto.

<sup>2</sup> God showeth his great benefits toward his people to convince them of greater ingratitude, which would neither be ruled by his most beautiful order of government, neither continue in the bands of brotherly unity, and therefore he breaketh both the one and the other. Some read, for Bands, Destroyers, but in verse 14 the first reading is confirmed.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he showeth his care and diligence that he would suffer them to have no evil rulers, because they should consider his great love.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the least part ever profit by God's judgments.

11:12 <sup>1</sup> Besides their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickedness, which did not only forget his benefits, but esteemed them as things of naught.

<sup>1</sup>potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I mine other staff: even the Bands, that I might dissolve the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the Lord said unto me, Take to thee yet <sup>1</sup>the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not look for the thing that is lost, nor seek the tender lambs, nor heal that that is hurt, nor feed that that <sup>1</sup>standeth up, but he shall eat flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 O idol shepherd that leaveth the flock: the sword shall be upon his <sup>1</sup>arm, and upon his right eye. His arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

12 Of the destruction and building again of Jerusalem.

1 The burden of the word of the Lord upon <sup>1</sup>Israel, saith the Lord, which spread the heavens, and laid the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a <sup>1</sup>cup of poison unto all the people round about: and also with Judah will he be in the siege against Jerusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Jerusalem an heavy stone for all people: all that lift it up, shall be torn, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness, and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the princes of Judah shall say in their hearts, The <sup>1</sup>inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the Lord of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Judah like coals of fire among the wood, and like a firebrand in the sheaf, and they shall devour all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preserve the <sup>1</sup>tents of Judah, as afore time: therefore the glory of the house of David shall not boast, nor the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem against Judah.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that is feeble among them, in that day shall be as David: and the house of David shall be as God's house, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day will I seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the Spirit of <sup>1</sup>grace and of compassion, and they shall look upon me, whom they have <sup>2</sup>pierced, and they shall lament for <sup>3</sup>him, as one mourneth for his only son, and be sorry for him as one is sorry for his firstborn.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the <sup>1</sup>mourning of <sup>2</sup>Hadad Rimmon in the valley of Megiddo.

12 And the <sup>1</sup>land shall bewail every family <sup>2</sup>apart, the family of the <sup>3</sup>house of David apart, and their wives apart: the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart:

13 The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart: the family of <sup>1</sup>Shemei apart, and their wives apart:

14 All the families that <sup>1</sup>remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

11:13 <sup>1</sup> Showing that it was too little to pay his wages, which could scarce suffice to make a few tiles to cover the Temple.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that they should have a certain kind of regiment and outward show of government: but in effect it should be nothing: for they should be wolves, and devouring beasts instead of shepherds.

11:16 <sup>1</sup> And is in health and sound.

11:17 <sup>1</sup> By the arms he signifieth strength, as he doth wisdom and judgments by the eye: that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and judgment.

12:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, the ten tribes, which neglected God's benefit in delivering their brethren, and had rather remain in captivity, than to return home when God called them.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> Jerusalem shall be defended against all her enemies: so shall God defend all Judah also, and shall destroy the enemies.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> Every captain, that had many under him afore, shall now think that the small power of Jerusalem shall be sufficient to defend them against all enemies, because the Lord is among them.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> The people which are now as it were dispersed by the fields, and lie open to their enemies, shall be no less preserved by my power, than if they were under their kings (which is meant by the house of David) or in their defended cities.

12:10 <sup>1</sup> They shall have the feeling of my grace by faith, and know that I have compassion on them.

<sup>2</sup> That is, whom they have continually vexed with their obstinacy, and grieved my Spirit, John 19:37, where it is referred to Christ's body, which here is referred to the Spirit of God.

<sup>3</sup> They shall turn to God by true repentance, whom before they had so grievously offended by their ingratitude.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> They shall lament and repent exceedingly for their offences against God.

<sup>2</sup> Which was the name of a town and place near to Megiddo where Josiah was slain, 2 Chron. 35:22.

12:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, in all places where the Jews shall remain.

<sup>2</sup> Signifying, that this mourning or repentance should not be a vain ceremony: but everyone touched with his own griefs, shall lament.

<sup>3</sup> Under these certain families he containeth all the tribes, and showeth that both the Kings and the Priests had by their sins pierced Christ.

12:13 <sup>1</sup> Called also Simeon.

12:14 <sup>1</sup> To wit, which were elected by grace, and preserved from the common destruction.

13 1 Of the fountain of grace. 2 Of the clean riddance of idolatry. 3 The zeal of the godly against false prophets.

1 In that day there <sup>1</sup>shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness.

2 And in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will cut off the <sup>1</sup>names of the idols out of the land: and they shall no more be remembered: and I will cause the <sup>2</sup>prophets, and the unclean spirit to depart out of the land.

3 And when any shall yet <sup>1</sup>prophesy, his father and his mother that begat him, shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live: for thou speakest lies in the Name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begat him, <sup>2</sup>shall thrust him through, when he prophesieth.

4 And in that day shall the prophets <sup>1</sup>be ashamed everyone of his vision, when he hath prophesied: neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive.

5 But he shall say, I am no <sup>1</sup>Prophet: I am an husbandman: for man taught me to be an herdsman from my youth up.

6 And one shall say unto him, What are these <sup>1</sup>wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7 ¶ Arise, O sword, upon my <sup>1</sup>shepherd, and upon the man, that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.

8 And in all the land, saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>two parts therein shall be cut off, and die: but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring that third part through the fire, and will fine them as the silver is fined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my Name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

14 8 Of the doctrine that shall proceed out of the Church, and of the restoration thereof.

1 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, and thy spoil shall be <sup>1</sup>divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken, and the houses spoiled, and the women defiled, and half of the city shall go into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then the Lord shall go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he <sup>1</sup>fought in the day of battle.

4 And his feet shall stand in that day upon the <sup>1</sup>mount of olives, which is before Jerusalem on the Eastside, and the mount of olives shall cleave in the midst thereof: toward the East and toward the West there shall be a very great <sup>2</sup>valley, and half of the mountain shall remove toward the North, and half of the mountain toward the South.

5 And ye shall flee unto the <sup>1</sup>valley of the mountains: for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from the <sup>2</sup>earthquake, in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the Lord <sup>3</sup>my God shall come, and all the Saints with thee.

6 And in that day shall there be no clear light but dark.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what shall be the fruit of their repentance, to wit, remission of sins by the blood of Christ, which shall be a continual running fountain, and purge them from all uncleanness.

13:2 <sup>1</sup> He promiseth that God will also purge them from all superstition, and that their religion shall be pure.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the false prophets and teachers, who are the corrupters of all religion, whom the Prophet here calleth unclean spirits.

13:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, when they shall prophesy lies, and make God, who is the author of truth, a cloak thereunto.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> God shall make them ashamed of their errors and lies, and bring them to repentance, and they shall no more wear Prophet's apparel to make their doctrine seem more holy.

13:5 <sup>1</sup> They shall confess their former ignorance, and be content to labor for their living.

13:6 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he showeth that though their parents and friends dealt more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false prophets, that the marks and signs should remain forever.

13:7 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet warneth the Jews, that before this great comfort should come under Christ, there should be an horrible dissipation among the people: for their governors and pastors should be destroyed, and the people should be as scattered sheep: and the Evangelist applieth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastors, Matt. 26:31.

13:8 <sup>1</sup> The greatest part shall have no portion of these blessings, and yet they that shall enjoy them, shall be tried with great afflictions, so that it shall be known that only God's power and his mercies do preserve them.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> He armeth the godly against the great tentations that should come, before they enjoyed this prosperous estate promised under Christ, that when these dangers should come, they might know that they were warned of them afore.

14:3 <sup>1</sup> As your fathers and you have had experience both at the red sea, and at all other times.

14:4 <sup>1</sup> By this manner of speech the Prophet showeth God's power and care over his Church, and how he will as it were by miracle save it.
<sup>2</sup> So that out of all the parts of the world, they shall see Jerusalem, which was before hid with this mountain: and this he meaneth of the spiritual Jerusalem the Church.

14:5 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh of the hypocrites, which could not abide God's presence, but should flee into all places, where they might hide them among the mountains.

<sup>3</sup> Because they did not credit the Prophet's words, he turneth to God and comforteth himself in that that he knew that these things should come, and saith, Thou, O God, with thine Angels wilt come to perform this great thing.

7 And there shall be a day (it is known to the Lord) <sup>1</sup>neither day nor night, but about the evening time it shall be light.

8 And in that day shall there <sup>1</sup>waters of life go out from Jerusalem, half of them toward the East sea, and half of them toward the uttermost sea, and shall be, both in summer and winter.

9 And the Lord shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one <sup>1</sup>Lord, and his Name shall be one.

10 All the land shall be turned <sup>1</sup>as a plain from Geba to Rimmon, toward the South of Jerusalem, and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place: from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananiel unto the king's winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more destruction, but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all people, that have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 But in that day <sup>1</sup>a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and everyone shall take <sup>2</sup>the hand of his neighbor, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbor.

14 And Judah shall fight also against Jerusalem, and the arm of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with <sup>1</sup>gold and silver, and great abundance of apparel.

15 Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel and of the ass, and of all the beasts that be in these tents at this <sup>1</sup>plague.

16 But it shall come to pass that everyone that is left of all the nations, which came against Jerusalem, shall go up from year to year to worship the King the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of Tabernacles.

17 And who so will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King the Lord of hosts, even upon them shall come no rain.

18 And if the family of <sup>1</sup>Egypt go not up, and come not, it shall not rain upon them. This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the heathen, that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not up to keep the feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be written upon the <sup>1</sup>bridles of the horses, The holiness unto the Lord, and the <sup>2</sup>pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holy unto the Lord of hosts, <sup>1</sup>and all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts.

14:7 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that there should be great troubles in the Church, and that the time hereof is in the Lord's hands, yet at length (which is here meant by the evening) God would send comfort.

14:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, the spiritual graces of God, which should ever continue in most abundance.

14:9 <sup>1</sup> All idolatry and superstition shall be abolished, and there shall be one God, one faith, and one religion.

14:10 <sup>1</sup> This new Jerusalem shall be seen through all the world, and shall excel the first in excellency, wealth, and greatness.

14:13 <sup>1</sup> God will not only raise up war without, but sedition at home to try them.

14:14 <sup>1</sup> The enemies are rich, and therefore shall not come for a prey, but to destroy and shed blood.

14:15 <sup>1</sup> As the men should be destroyed, verse 12.

14:18 <sup>1</sup> By the Egyptians, which were greatest enemies to true religion, he meaneth all the gentiles.

14:20 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that to what service they were put now (whether to labor, or to serve in war) they were now holy, because the Lord had sanctified them.

14:21 <sup>1</sup> But all shall be pure and clean, and there shall neither be hypocrites, nor any that shall corrupt the true service of God.

MALACHI

1 A complaint against Israel, and chiefly the Priests.

1 The <sup>1</sup>burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by the ministry of Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, <sup>1</sup>Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother, saith the Lord? Yet I loved Jacob,

3 And I <sup>1,2</sup>hated Esau, and made his mountains waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places: yet saith the Lord of hosts, They shall build, but I will destroy it, and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and the people, with whom the Lord is angry forever.

5 And your eyes shall see it, and ye shall say, The Lord will be magnified upon the border of Israel.

6 A son honoreth his father, and a servant his master. If then I be a father, where is my honor? and if I be a master, where is my fear, saith the Lord of hosts unto you, <sup>1</sup>O Priests that despise my Name? and ye say, <sup>2</sup>Wherein have we despised thy Name?

7 Ye offer <sup>1</sup>unclean bread upon mine altar: and you say, Wherein have we polluted thee? in that ye say, The table of the Lord is not <sup>2</sup>to be regarded.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is <sup>1</sup>not evil: and if ye offer the lame and sick, it is not evil: offer it now unto thy princes: will he be content with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hosts?

9 And now I pray you, <sup>1</sup>pray before God that he may have mercy upon us: this hath been by your means: will he regard <sup>2</sup>your persons, saith the Lord of hosts?

10 Who is there even among you <sup>1</sup>that would shut the doors, and kindle not fire on mine altar in vain? I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, my Name is <sup>1</sup>great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my Name, and a pure offering: for my Name is great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 But ye have polluted it, in that ye say, <sup>1</sup>The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit thereof even his meat is not to be regarded.

13 Ye said also, Behold, it is a <sup>1</sup>weariness, and ye have snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hosts, and ye offered that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick: thus ye offered an offering: should I accept this of your hand, saith the Lord?

14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth their great ingratitude that did not acknowledge this love, which was so evident, in that he chose Abraham from out of all the world, and next chose Jacob the younger brother of whom they came, and left Esau the elder.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> For beside here the signs of mine hatred appeared even when he was made servant unto his younger brother, being yet in his mother's belly, and also afterward in that he was put from his birth-right, yet even now before your eyes the signs hereof are evident, in that that his country lieth waste and he shall never return to inhabit.

<sup>2</sup> Whereas ye my people, whom the enemy hated more than them, are by my grace and love toward you delivered, read Rom. 9:13.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Besides the rest of the people he condemneth the Priests chiefly, because they should have reprov'd others for their hypocrisy, and obstinacy against God, and not have hardened them by their example to greater evils.

<sup>2</sup> He noteth their gross hypocrisy, which would not see their faults, but most impudently covered them, and so were blind guides.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Ye receive all manner offerings for your own greediness, and do not examine whether they be according to my Law, or no.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them, that think it sufficient to serve God partly as he hath commanded, and partly after man's fantasy: and so come not to the pureness of religion, which he requireth, and therefore in reproach he showeth them that a mortal man would not be content to be so served.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> He derideth the Priests who bare the people in hand that they prayed for them, and showeth that they were the occasion, that these evils came upon the people.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Because the Levites who kept the doors did not try whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Law, God wisheth that they would rather shut the doors, than to receive such as were not perfect.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> God showeth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true service shall be the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and here the Prophet that was under the Law, framed his words to the capacity of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spiritual service of God, which should be under the Gospel, when an end should be made to all these legal ceremonies by Christ's only sacrifice.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> Both the Priests and the people were infected with this error, that they passed not what was offered: for they thought that God was as well content with the lean, as with the fat: but in the mean season they showed not that obedience to God, which he required, and so committed both impiety, and also showed their contempt of God, and covetousness.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> The Priests and people were both weary with serving God, and passed not what manner of sacrifice and service they gave to God: for that which was least profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord.

flock <sup>1</sup>a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

1 And now, O ye <sup>1</sup>Priests, this commandment is for you.

2 If ye will not hear it, nor consider it in your heart, to give glory <sup>1</sup>unto my Name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and will curse your <sup>2</sup> blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not consider it in your heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt <sup>1</sup>your seed, and cast dung upon your faces, even the <sup>2</sup> dung of your solemn feasts, and you shall be like unto it.

4 And ye shall know, that I have <sup>1</sup>sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant, which I made with Levi, might stand, saith the Lord of hosts.

5 My <sup>1</sup>covenant was with him of life and peace, and I <sup>2</sup>gave him fear, and he feared me, and was afraid before <sup>3</sup>my Name.

6 The Law of <sup>1</sup>truth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquity found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the Priest's <sup>1</sup>lips should preserve knowledge, and they should seek the Law at his mouth: for he is the <sup>2</sup>messenger of the Lord of hosts.

8 But ye are gone out of the way: ye have caused many to fall by the Law: ye have broken the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you to be despised, and vile before all the people, because ye kept not my ways, but have been partial in the Law.

10 Have we not all one <sup>1</sup>father? hath not one God made us? why do we transgress everyone against his brother, and break the covenant of <sup>2</sup>our fathers?

11 Judah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Israel hath defiled the holiness of the Lord, which he loved, and hath married the <sup>1</sup>daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord will cut off the man that doeth this: both the master and the servant out of the Tabernacle of Jacob, and him that <sup>1</sup>offereth an offering unto the Lord of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, and <sup>1</sup>covered the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither received acceptably at your hands.

14 Yet ye say, <sup>1</sup>Wherein? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed: yet is she thy <sup>2</sup>companion, and the wife of thy <sup>3</sup>covenant.

16 If thou hatest her, <sup>1</sup>put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he covereth <sup>2</sup>the injury under his

1:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath ability to serve the Lord according to his word, and yet will serve him according to his covetous mind.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh unto them chiefly, but under them he containeth the people also.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> To serve me according to my word.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Your seed sown shall come to no profit.

<sup>2</sup> You boast of your holiness, sacrifices and feasts, but they shall turn to your shame and be as vile as dung.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> The Priests objected against the Prophet that he could not reprove them, but he must speak against the Priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but he showeth that the office is nothing slandered, when these villains and dung are called by their own names.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what were the two conditions of the covenant made with the tribe of Levi on God's part, that he would give them long life and felicity, and on their part, that they should faithfully serve him according to his word.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the Priests ought to have knowledge to instruct others in the word of the Lord.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> He is as the treasure house of God's word, and ought to give to everyone according to their necessity, and not to reserve it for himself.

<sup>2</sup> Showing that whosoever doth not declare God's will, is not his messenger, and Priest.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Jews toward God and man: for seeing they were all born of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offend God nor their brethren.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> They have joined themselves in marriage with them that are of another religion.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Priest.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Yet cause the people to lament, because that God doth not regard their sacrifices, so that they seem to sacrifice in vain.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> This is another fault, whereof he accuseth them, that is, that they broke the laws of marriage.

2:15 <sup>1</sup> Did not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many?

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Not that he doth allow divorcement, but of two faults he showeth, which is the less.

<sup>2</sup> He thinketh it sufficient to keep his wife still, albeit he take others, and so as it were covereth his fault.

garment, saith the Lord of hosts: therefore keep yourselves in your spirit, and transgress not.

17 Ye have <sup>1</sup>wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Everyone that doeth <sup>2</sup>evil, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them. Or where is the God of <sup>3</sup>judgment?

3 <sup>1</sup> Of the messenger of the Lord, John Baptist, and of Christ's office.

1 Behold, I will send my <sup>1</sup>messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the <sup>2</sup>Lord whom ye seek, shall speedily come to his Temple: even the <sup>3</sup>messenger of the Covenant, whom ye desire: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts.

2 But who <sup>1</sup>may abide the day of his coming? and who shall endure, when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fire, and like fuller's soap.

3 And he shall sit down to try and fine the silver: he shall even fine the sons of <sup>1</sup>Levi and purify them as gold and silver, that they may bring offerings unto the Lord in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be acceptable unto the Lord, as in old time and in the years afore.

5 And I will come near to you to judgment, and I will be a swift witness against the soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrongfully keep back the hireling's wages, and vex the widow, and the fatherless, and oppress the stranger, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and ye sons of Jacob <sup>1</sup>are not consumed.

7 From the days of your fathers, ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: <sup>1</sup>return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the Lord of hosts: but ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 Will a <sup>1</sup>man spoil his gods? yet have ye spoiled me: but ye say, Wherein have we spoiled thee? In <sup>2</sup>tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have spoiled me, even this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven unto you, and pour you out a blessing <sup>1</sup>without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the <sup>1</sup>devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruit of your ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a pleasant land, saith the Lord of hosts.

13 Your words have been stout <sup>1</sup>against me, saith the Lord: yet ye say, What have we spoken against thee?

14 Ye have said, It is in vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his commandment, and that we walked humbly before the Lord of hosts?

15 Therefore we count the proud blessed: even they that work wickedness, are set up, and they that tempt God, yea, they are <sup>1</sup>delivered.

16 <sup>1</sup>Then spake they that feared the Lord, everyone to his neighbor, and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a <sup>2</sup>book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his Name.

17 And they shall be to me, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day <sup>1</sup>that I shall do this, for a flock,

2:17 <sup>1</sup> Ye murmur against God, because he heard not you as soon as ye called.

<sup>3</sup> Thus they blasphemed God in condemning his power and justice, because he judged not according to their fantasies.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> This is meant of John Baptist, as Christ expoundeth it, Luke 7:27.

<sup>3</sup> That is, Christ, by whom the covenant was made and ratified, who is called the Angel or messenger of the covenant, because he reconciled us to his father and is Lord or king, because he hath the government of his Church.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the hypocrites which wish so much for the Lord's coming will not abide when he draweth near: for he will consume them, and purge his and make them clean.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> He beginneth at the Priests that they might be lights, and shine unto others.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> They murmured against God, because they saw not his help ever present to defend them: and therefore he accuseth them of ingratitude, and showeth that in that they are not daily consumed, it is a token, that he doth still defend them, and so his mercy toward them never changeth.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> Read Zech. 1:3.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> There are none of the heathen so barbarous, that will defraud their gods of their honor, or deal deceitfully with them.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby the service of God should have been maintained, and the Priests and the poor relieved.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> Not having respect how much ye need, but I will give you in all abundance: so that ye shall lack place to put my blessings in.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the caterpillar, and whatsoever destroyeth corn and fruits.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet condemneth them of double blasphemy against God: first, in that they said that God had no respect to them that served him, and next, that the wicked were more in his favor than the godly.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> They are not only preferred to honor, but also delivered from dangers.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> After these admonitions of the Prophet, some were lively touched, and encouraged others to fear God.

<sup>2</sup> Both because the thing was strange that some turned to God in that great and universal corruption, and also that this might be an example of God's mercies to all penitent sinners.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> When I shall restore my Church according to my promise, they shall be as mine own proper goods.

and I will <sup>2</sup>spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 Then shall you return, and discern between the righteous and wicked, between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

4 The day of the Lord before the which Elijah should come.

1 For behold, the day cometh that shall <sup>1</sup>burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble, and the day that cometh, shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, and shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 But unto you that fear my name, shall the <sup>1</sup>sun of righteousness arise, and health shall be under his wings, and ye shall go <sup>2</sup>forth and grow up as fat calves.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked: for they shall be dust under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 <sup>1</sup>Remember the Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel with the statutes and judgments.

5 Behold, I will send you <sup>1</sup>Elijah the Prophet before the coming of the great and <sup>2</sup>fearful day of the Lord.

6 And he shall <sup>1</sup>turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and <sup>2</sup>smite the earth with cursing.

3:17 <sup>2</sup> That is, forgive their sins, and govern them with my Spirit.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth of God's judgments against the wicked, who would not receive Christ, when as God should send him for the restoration of his Church.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Christ, who with his wings or beams of his grace should lighten and comfort his Church, Eph. 5:14, and he is called the sun of righteousness, because in himself he hath all perfection and also the justice of the Father dwelleth in him: whereby he regenerateth us unto righteousness, cleanseth us from the filth of this world, and reformeth us to the image of God.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> Because the time was come that the Jews should be destitute of Prophets until the time of Christ, because they should with more fervent minds desire his coming, the Prophet exhorteth them to exercise themselves diligently in studying the Law of Moses in the mean season, whereby they might continue in the true religion, and also be armed against all tentations.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> This Christ expoundeth of John Baptist, Matt. 11:13, 14, who both for his zeal, and restoring of religion, is aptly compared to Elijah.

<sup>2</sup> Which as it is true for the wicked, so doth it waken the godly, and call them to repentance.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth wherein John's office should stand: in the turning of men to God, and joining the father and children in one voice of faith: so that the father shall turn to the religion of his son which is converted to Christ, and the son shall embrace the faith of the true fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

<sup>2</sup> The second point of his office was to denounce God's judgments against them that would not receive Christ.

15 And Eliud begat Eleazar. And Eleazar begat Matthan. And Matthan begat Jacob.

16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, that is called Christ.

17 So <sup>1</sup>all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations. And from David until they were carried away into Babylon, fourteen generations: and after they were carried away into Babylon until Christ, fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the birth of <sup>1</sup>Jesus Christ was thus, When as his mother Mary was <sup>2</sup> betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a just man, and not willing to <sup>3</sup>make her a public example, was minded to put her away secretly.

21 And she shall bring <sup>1</sup>forth a son, and thou shalt <sup>2</sup>call his name JESUS: for he shall <sup>3</sup>save his people from their sins.

22 And all this was done that it might be fulfilled, which is spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

23 <sup>1</sup>Behold, a <sup>1</sup>virgin shall be with child, and shall bear a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with us.

24 ¶ Then Joseph being raised from sleep, did as the Angel of the Lord had enjoined him, and took his wife.

25 But he knew her not, <sup>1</sup>till she had brought forth

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Jesus Christ came of Abraham of the tribe of Judah, and of the stock of David as God promised.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, the captivity fell in the days of Jakim and Jeconiah: for Jeconiah was born before their carrying away into captivity.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> All those which are reckoned up in this pedigree of David's stock, as they begat one another orderly in their degrees.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> Christ is the true Emmanuel, and therefore, Jesus (that is, Savior) is conceived in the Virgin by the holy Ghost, as it was foretold by the Prophets.

1:20 <sup>1</sup> Receive her at her parents' and kinsfolk's hands.

1:21 <sup>1</sup> Christ is born of the same Virgin which never knew man: and is called Jesus of God himself, by the Angel.

1:23 <sup>1</sup> There is in the Hebrew and Greek text, an article added, to point out the woman, and set her forth plainly: as you would say, that Virgin, or a certain virgin.

1:25 <sup>1</sup> This little word Till, in the Hebrew tongue, giveth us to understand also, that a thing shall not come to pass in time to come: as Michal had no children Till her death day, 2 Sam. 6:23. And in the last Chapter of this Evangelist: Behold, I am with you till the end of the world.

her first born son, and he called his name JESUS.

2 The wise men, who are the firstfruits of the Gentiles, worship Christ. 14 Joseph fled into Egypt with Jesus and his mother. 16 Herod slayeth the children.

1 When <sup>a,1</sup>Jesus then was born at Bethlehem in <sup>2</sup>Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came <sup>3</sup>Wise men from the East to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, Where is the King of the Jews that is born? for we have seen his star in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When king Herod heard this, he was <sup>1</sup>troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the <sup>1</sup>chief Priests and <sup>2</sup>Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, At Bethlehem in Judea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 <sup>b</sup>And thou Bethlehem in the land of Judah, art not the <sup>1</sup>least among the Princes of Judah: for out of thee shall come the governor that <sup>2</sup>shall feed my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the Wise men, and diligently inquired of them the time of the star that appeared,

8 And sent them to Bethlehem, saying, Go, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 ¶ So when they had heard the king, they departed: and lo, the star which they had seen in the East, went before them, till it came and stood over the place where the babe was.

10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with an exceeding great joy,

11 And went into the house, and found the babe with Mary his mother, and <sup>1</sup>fell down, and worshipped him, and opened their <sup>2</sup>treasures, and presented unto him gifts, even gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

John 7:42

12 And after they were <sup>1</sup>warned of God in a dream, that they should not go again to Herod, they returned into their country another way.

13 ¶ <sup>1</sup>After their departure, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I bring thee word, for Herod will seek the babe to destroy him.

14 So he arose and took the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt.

15 And was there unto the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled, which is spoken of the Lord by the <sup>c</sup>Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

16 ¶ Then Herod, seeing that he was mocked of the Wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently searched out of the Wise men.

17 Then was that fulfilled which is spoken <sup>1</sup>by the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

18 <sup>d</sup>In Ramah was <sup>1</sup>a voice heard, mourning, and weeping, and great howling: <sup>2</sup>Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.

19 <sup>1</sup>And when Herod was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the babe's life.

21 Then he arose up, and took the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea instead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: yet after he was warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee.

23 And went and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, which was, That he should be called a Nazarite.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ a poor child, laid down in a crib, and nothing set by of his own people, receiveth notwithstanding a noble witness of his divinity from heaven, and of his kingly estate of strangers: which his own also unwittingly allow of, although they do not acknowledge him.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Was much moved, for he was a stranger, and came to the kingdom by force: and the Jews were troubled: for wickedness is mad and raging.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> The chief priests, that is, such as were of Aaron's family, which were divided into four and twenty orders, 1 Chron. 14:5 and 2 Chron. 36:14.

<sup>2</sup> They that expound the Law to the people, for the Hebrews take this word of another, which signifieth as much as to expound and declare.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Though thou be a small town, yet shalt thou be very famous and notable through the birth of the Messiah, who shall be born in thee.

<sup>2</sup> That shall rule and govern: for Kings are fitly called leaders and shepherds of the people.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> A kind of humble and lovely reverence.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> God warned and told them of it, whereas they asked it not.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ being yet scarce born, beginneth to be crucified for us, both in himself, and also in his members.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> For God speaketh by the mouth of the Prophets.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> A voice of lamenting, weeping, and howling.

<sup>2</sup> That is to say, All that compass about Bethlehem: for Rachel Jacob's wife, who died in childbirth, was buried in the way that leadeth to this town, which is also called Ephrathah, because of the fruitfulness of the soil, and plenty of corn.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> Christ is brought up in Nazareth, after the death of the tyrant by God's providence: that by the very name of the place, it might plainly appear to the world, that he is the Lord's true Nazarite.

1 And <sup>a</sup>in <sup>1</sup>those days, <sup>2</sup>John the Baptist came and preached in the <sup>3</sup>wilderness of Judea,

2 And said, <sup>1</sup>Repent: for the <sup>2</sup>kingdom of heaven is at hand.

4 <sup>c</sup>And this John had his garment of camel's hair, and a girdle of a skin about his loins, his meat was also <sup>1</sup>locusts and wild honey.

5 <sup>d</sup>Then went out to him <sup>1</sup>Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan,

6 And they were baptized of him in Jordan, <sup>1</sup>confessing their sins.

7 <sup>1</sup>Now when he saw many of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, <sup>c</sup>O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 <sup>1</sup>Bring forth therefore fruit worthy amendment of life,

9 <sup>1</sup>And <sup>2</sup>think not to say <sup>3</sup>with yourselves, <sup>f</sup>We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able even of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

10 And now also is the axe put to the root of the trees: <sup>e</sup>therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 <sup>b,1</sup>Indeed I baptize you with water to <sup>2</sup>amendment of life, but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear, he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

12 <sup>1</sup>Which hath his fan in his hand, and will <sup>2</sup>make clean his floor, and gather his wheat into his garner, but will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 ¶ <sup>1,1</sup>Then came Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John to be baptized of him.

14 But John earnestly put him back, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 Then Jesus answering, said to him, Let be now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill <sup>1</sup>all righteousness. So he suffered him.

16 And Jesus when he was baptized, came straight out of the water. And lo, the heavens were opened unto <sup>1</sup>him, and John saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and [lighting] upon him.

17 <sup>1</sup>And lo, a voice came from heaven, saying, <sup>j</sup>This is my beloved Son, in whom I am <sup>2</sup>well pleased.

1 Then <sup>1</sup>was <sup>1</sup>Jesus led aside of the Spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> Not when Joseph went to dwell at Nazareth, but a great while after, about the space of 15 years: for in the 30 year of his age was Jesus baptized of John: therefore by those days is meant, at that time that Jesus remained as yet an inhabitant of the town of Nazareth.

<sup>2</sup> John, who through his singular holiness and rare austereness of life caused all men to cast their eyes upon him, prepareth the way for Christ following fast on his heels, as the Prophet Isaiah foretold, and delivereth the sum of the Gospel, which in short space after should be delivered more fully.

<sup>3</sup> In a hilly country, which was notwithstanding inhabited, for Zechariah dwelt there, Luke 1:40, and there was Joab's house, 1 Kings 2:34; and besides these, Joshua maketh mention of six towns that were in the wilderness, Josh. 15:62.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> The word in the Greek tongue signifieth a changing of our minds and heart from evil to better.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> Make him a plain and smooth way.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Locusts were a kind of meat which certain of the East people use, which were therefore called devourers of Locusts. . . .

3:5 <sup>1</sup> The people of Jerusalem.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Acknowledging that they were saved only by free remission and forgiveness of their sins.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing that stoppeth up the way of mercy and salvation against us so much as the opinion of our own righteousness doth.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> True repentance is an inward thing which hath its seat in the mind and heart.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> The faith of the fathers availeth their unbelieving children nothing at all: and yet for all that God playeth not the liar, nor dealeth unfaithfully in his league which he made with the holy fathers.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> We may neither dwell upon the signs which God hath ordained as means to lead us unto our salvation, neither upon them: but we must climb up to the matter itself, that is to say, to Christ, who inwardly worketh that effectually, which is outwardly signified unto us.

<sup>2</sup> The outward sign putteth us in mind of this, that we must change our lives and become better, assuring us as by a seal, that we are engrafted into Christ; whereby our old man dieth and the new man riseth up, Rom. 6:4.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> The triumphs of the wicked shall end in everlasting torment. <sup>2</sup> Will cleanse it thoroughly, and make a full riddance.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ sanctified our baptism in himself.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> All such things as it hath appointed us to keep.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> To John.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ's full consecration and authorizing to the office of mediatorship, is showed by the father's own voice, and a visible sign of the holy Ghost.

<sup>2</sup> The Greek word betokeneth a thing of great account, and such as highly pleaseth a man. So then the Father saith, that Christ only is the man whom when he beholdeth, look what opinion he had conceived of us, he layeth it clean aside.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ was tempted all manner of ways and still overcometh, that we also through his virtue may overcome.

2 And when he had fasted <sup>1</sup>forty days, and forty nights, he was afterward hungry.

3 Then came to him the tempter, and said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answering, said, It is written, <sup>b</sup>Man shall not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil took him up into the holy city, and set him on a <sup>1</sup>pinnacle of the Temple.

6 And said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down, for it is written, <sup>c</sup>that he will give his Angels charge over thee, and with their hands they shall lift thee up, lest at any time thou shouldst dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, <sup>d</sup>Thou shalt not <sup>1</sup>tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devil took him up into an exceeding high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them,

9 And said to him, All these will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down, and worship me.

10 Then said Jesus unto him, Avoid Satan: for it is written, <sup>e</sup>Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 <sup>f</sup>Then the devil left him: and behold, the Angels came, and ministered unto him.

12 ¶ <sup>g</sup>1 And when Jesus had heard that John was committed to prison, he returned into Galilee,

13 And leaving Nazareth, went and dwelt in <sup>1</sup>Capernaum, which is near the sea in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali,

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the Prophet, saying,

16 The people which sat in darkness, saw great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is risen up.

17 <sup>1</sup>From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Amend your lives: for the kingdom of heaven is at <sup>1</sup>hand.

18 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers.)

19 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway leaving the nets, followed him.

21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets, and he called them.

22 And they without tarrying, leaving the ship and their father, followed him.

23 So <sup>1</sup>Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in <sup>2</sup>their <sup>3</sup>Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the <sup>4</sup>kingdom, and healing <sup>5</sup>every sickness, and every <sup>6</sup>disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroad through all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people, that were taken with divers diseases, and <sup>1</sup>torments, and them that were possessed with devils, and those which were <sup>2</sup>lunatic, and those that had the <sup>3</sup>palsy: and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Full forty days.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> The battlement wherewith the flat roof of the temple was compassed about, that no man might fall down: as was appointed by the Law, Deut. 22:8.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, Thou shalt not go on still in tempting.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> When the Herald's mouth is stopped, the Lord revealeth himself, and bringeth full light into the darkness of this world, preaching free forgiveness of sins to them that repent.

4:13 <sup>1</sup> Which was a town a great deal more famous than Nazareth was.

4:15 <sup>1</sup> Of Tiberias, or because that country bended toward Tyre, which standeth upon the sea that cutteth the midst of the world.

<sup>2</sup> So called, because it bordered upon Tyre and Sidon, and because Solomon gave the king of Tyre twenty cities in that quarter, 1 Kings 9:11.

4:17 <sup>1</sup> Is come to you.

4:18 <sup>1</sup> Christ thinking by time, that he should at length depart from us, even at the beginning of his preaching getteth him disciples after an heavenly sort, men indeed poor, and utterly unlearned, and therefore such as might be least suspected witnesses of the truth of those things which they heard and saw.

4:23 <sup>1</sup> Christ assureth the hearts of the believers of his spiritual and saving virtue, by healing the diseases of the body.

<sup>6</sup> The word signifieth properly the weakness of the stomach: but here it is taken for those diseases which make men faint, and wear away, that have them.

4:24 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth properly, the stone wherewith gold is tried: and by a borrowed kind of speech is applied to all kinds of examination by torture, when as by rough dealing and torments, we go about to draw out the truth of men, which otherwise they would not confess: and in this place it is taken for those diseases, which put sick men to great woe.

<sup>2</sup> Which at every full Moon, or other changes of the Moon, are shrewdly troubled and diseased.

1 And when he saw the multitude, he went up into a mountain; and when he was set, his disciples came to him.

2 <sup>1</sup> And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 <sup>a</sup> Blessed are the <sup>1</sup>poor in <sup>2</sup>spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 <sup>b</sup> Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 <sup>c</sup> Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 <sup>d</sup> Blessed are they which hunger and thirst for righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the <sup>e</sup>pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 Blessed are they which suffer persecution for righteousness' sake; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 <sup>f</sup> Blessed shall ye be when men revile you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you for my sake, falsely.

12 Rejoice and be glad, for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

13 <sup>b</sup>Ye <sup>1</sup>are the salt of the <sup>2</sup>earth: but if the salt have lost his savor, wherewith shall it be <sup>3</sup>salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 Ye are the <sup>1</sup>light of the world. A city that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

15 <sup>1</sup>Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 <sup>2</sup>Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your father which is in heaven.

17 <sup>1</sup>Think not that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets. I am not come to destroy them, but to <sup>2</sup>fulfill them.

18 <sup>k</sup>For truly I say unto you, Till heaven and earth perish, one jot or one tittle of the Law shall not escape, till all things be fulfilled.

19 <sup>l</sup>Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and teach men so, he shall be called the <sup>2</sup>least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall observe and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, except your righteousness <sup>m</sup>exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> Christ teacheth that the greatest joy and felicity is not in the commodities and pleasures of this life, but is laid up in heaven for them that willingly rest in the good will and pleasure of God, and endeavor to profit all men, although they be cruelly vexed, and troubled of the worldlings, because they will not fashion themselves to their manners.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> Under the name of poverty are all such miseries meant, as are joined with poverty.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> Fitly is this word Pure, joined with the heart, for as a bright and shining resemblance or image may be seen plainly in a clear and pure looking glass, even so doth the face (as it were) of the everlasting God, shine forth, and clear appears in a pure heart.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> The ministers of the word, especially (unless they will be the most caitiff of all) must needs lead others both by word and deed to this greatest joy and felicity.

<sup>2</sup> Your doctrine must be very sound and good, for if it be not so, it shall be naught set by, and cast away as a thing unsavory and vain.

<sup>3</sup> What shall you have to salt withal? And so are fools in the Latin tongue called saltless, as you would say, men that have no salt, or savor and taste in them.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> You shine and give light, by being made partakers of the true light.

5:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ came not to bring any new way of righteousness and salvation into the world, but to fulfill that in deed which was shadowed by the figures of the Law, by delivering men through grace from the curse of the Law: and moreover to teach the true use of obedience which the Law appointed, and to engrave in our hearts the force of obedience.

5:19 <sup>1</sup> He beginneth with the true expounding of the Law, and setteth it against the old (but yet false) glosses of the Scribes: So far is he from abolishing the least commandment of his Father.

5:21 <sup>1</sup> The true meaning of the first commandment.

5:22 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh of the judgment of God, and of the difference of sins, and therefore applieth his words to the form of civil judgments, which were then used.

<sup>2</sup> Of that judgment which was ruled by three men, who had the hearing and deciding of money matters, and such other small causes.

<sup>3</sup> By that judgment which stood of 23 Judges, who had the hearing and deciding of weighty affairs and matters of life and death: as the highest Judges of all, were to the number of 71, which had the hearing of most weighty affairs, as the matter of a whole tribe or of an high Priest, or of a false prophet.

And whosoever shall say, Fool, shall be worthy to be punished with <sup>4</sup>hell <sup>5</sup>fire.

23 <sup>1</sup>If then thou bring thy gift to the <sup>2</sup>altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee,

24 Leave there thine offering before the altar, and go thy way: first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 <sup>1</sup>Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him, lest thine adversary deliver thee to the Judge, and the Judge deliver thee to the sergeant, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast <sup>1</sup>paid the utmost farthing.

27 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, <sup>2</sup>Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28 But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 <sup>1</sup>Wherefore if thy <sup>1</sup>right eye cause thee <sup>2</sup>to offend, pluck it out and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 Also if thy right hand make thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said also, <sup>1</sup>Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorcement.

32 But I say unto you, whosoever shall put away his wife (except it be for fornication) causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

33 <sup>1</sup>Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, <sup>2</sup>Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform thine oaths to the Lord.

34 But I say unto you, Swear not at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God:

35 Nor yet by the earth, for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem: for it is the city of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thine head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 <sup>1</sup>But let your communication be <sup>1</sup>Yea, yea: Nay, nay. For whatsoever is more than these, cometh of <sup>2</sup>evil.

38 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Ye have heard that it hath been said, An <sup>2</sup>eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say unto you, <sup>1</sup>Resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 And whosoever will compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 <sup>1</sup>Give to him that asketh, and from him that would borrow of thee, turn not away.

43 Ye have heard that it hath been said, <sup>2</sup>Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy.

44 But I say unto you, <sup>1</sup>Love your enemies: bless them that curse you: do good to them that hate you, <sup>2</sup>and pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you,

45 <sup>1</sup>That ye may be the children of your father

5:22 <sup>4</sup> Whereas we read here, Hell, it is in the text itself, Gehenna, which is an Hebrew word made of two, and is as much to say, as the Valley of Hinnom, which otherwise the Hebrews called Tophet: it was a place where the Israelites were wont most cruelly to sacrifice their children to false gods, whereupon it was taken for a place appointed to torment the reprobates in Jer. 7:31.

<sup>5</sup> The Jews used four kinds of punishments, before their government was taken away by Herod, hanging, heading, stoning, and burning: this is it that Christ shot at, because burning was the greatest punishment, therefore in that he maketh mention of a judgment, a council, and a fire, he showeth that some sins are worse than other sins, but yet they are all such that we must give account for them, and will be punished for them.

5:23 <sup>1</sup> The covetous Pharisees taught that God was appeased by the sacrifices appointed in the Law, which they themselves devoured. But Christ on the contrary side denieth that God accepteth any man's offering, unless he maketh satisfaction to his brother whom he hath offended: and saith moreover, that these stubborn and stiffnecked despisers of their brethren, shall never escape the wrath and curse of God, before they have made full satisfaction to their brethren.

<sup>2</sup> He applieth all this speech to the state of his time, when as there was an altar standing in Jerusalem, and therefore they are very foolish, that gather hereupon, that we must build altars, and use sacrifices: but they are more fools, which draw that to purgatory, which is spoken of peacemaking and atonement one with another.

5:25 <sup>1</sup> Cut off all cause for enmity.

5:26 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt be dealt withall to the utmost extremity.

5:27 <sup>1</sup> He is taken for an adulterer before God, whatsoever he be, that coveteth a woman: and therefore we must keep our eyes chaste, and all the members we have, yea, and we must eschew all occasions which might move us to evil, how dear soever it cost us.

5:29 <sup>1</sup> He nameth the right eye and the right hand, because the parts of the right side of our bodies are the chiefest, and the readiest to commit any wickedness.

<sup>2</sup> Word for word, do cause thee to offend: for sins are stumbling blocks as it were, that is to say, rocks which we are cast upon.

5:33 <sup>1</sup> The meaning of the third commandment against the froward opinion and judgment of the Scribes, which excused by oaths or indirect forms of swearing.

5:37 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever you vouch, vouch it barely, and whatsoever you deny, deny it barely without any more words.

5:38 <sup>1</sup> He showeth clean contrary to the doctrine of the Scribes, that the sum of the second table must be understood, that we may in no wise render evil for evil, but rather suffer double injury, and do well to them that are our deadly enemies.

5:45 <sup>1</sup> A double reason: the one is taken of relatives, that children must be like their father: the other is taken of comparison, The children of God must be better, than the children of this world.

that is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to arise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and unjust.

46 For if ye love them, which love you, what reward shall you have? Do not the Publicans even the same?

47 And if ye be friendly to your brethren only, what singular thing do ye? do not even the <sup>1</sup>Publicans likewise?

48 Ye shall therefore be perfect, as your Father which is in heaven, is perfect.

1 Take heed that ye give not your <sup>1</sup>alms before men to be seen of them, or else ye shall have no <sup>2</sup>reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 "Therefore when thou givest thine alms, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blown before thee, as the <sup>1</sup>hypocrites do in the Synagogues and in the streets, to be praised of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

3 But when thou doest thine alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth,

4 That thine alms may be in secret, and thy Father that seeth in secret, he will reward thee openly.

5 <sup>1</sup>And when thou prayest, be not as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, because they would be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber: and when thou hast shut thy door, pray unto thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 Also when ye pray, use no <sup>1</sup>vain repetitions as the Heathen: for they think to be heard for their much babbling.

8 Be ye not like them therefore: for your Father knoweth whereof ye have need, before ye ask of him.

9 <sup>1</sup>After this manner therefore pray ye, <sup>h</sup>Our father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done even in earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our <sup>1</sup>daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us 'from <sup>1</sup>evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for ever. Amen.

14 <sup>d1</sup>For if ye do forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if ye do not forgive men their trespasses, no more will your father forgive you your trespasses.

16 <sup>1</sup>Moreover, when ye fast, look not sour as the hypocrites: for they <sup>2</sup>disfigure their faces, that they might seem unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you that they have their reward.

17 But when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face,

18 That thou seem not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, will reward thee openly.

19 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Lay not up treasures for yourselves upon the earth, where the moth and canker corrupt, and where thieves dig through and steal.

20 <sup>1</sup>But lay up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither the moth nor canker corrupteth, and where thieves neither dig through nor steal.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 ¶ <sup>d1</sup>The light of the body is the eye: if then thine <sup>2</sup>eye be single, thy whole body shall be light.

23 But if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shall be dark. Wherefore if the light that is in thee, be darkness, how great is that darkness?

24 <sup>g1</sup>No man can serve <sup>2</sup>two masters: for either

5:47 <sup>1</sup> They that were the toll masters, and had the oversight of tributes and customs: a kind of men that the Jews hated to death, both because they served the Romans in these offices, (whose yokeful bondage they could hardly away withall) and also because these toll masters are for the most part given to covetousness.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> Ambition maketh alms vain.

<sup>2</sup> This word, Reward, is always taken in the Scriptures for a free recompense, and therefore the schoolmen do fondly set it to be answerable to a deserving, which they call merit.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> Counterfeits, for Hypocrites were players that played a part in a play.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> He reprehendeth two foul faults in prayer, ambition, and vain babbling.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> Long prayers are not condemned, but vain needless, and superstitious.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> A true sum and form of all Christian prayers.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> That, that is meet for our nature for our daily food, or such, as may suffice our nature and complexion.

6:13 <sup>1</sup> From the Devil, or from all adversity.

6:14 <sup>1</sup> They that forgive wrongs, to them sins are forgiven, but revenge is prepared for them that revenge.

6:16 <sup>1</sup> Against such as hunt after a name of holiness, by fasting.

6:22 <sup>1</sup> Men do maliciously and wickedly put out even the little light of nature that is in them.

<sup>2</sup> The judgment of the mind: that as the body is with the eyes, so our whole life may be ruled with right reason, that is to say, with the Spirit of God wherewith we are lightened.

6:24 <sup>1</sup> God will be worshipped of the whole man.

he shall hate the one, and love the other, or else he shall lean to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and <sup>3</sup>riches.

25 <sup>h,1</sup>Therefore I say unto you, be not careful for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink: nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth than meat? and the body than raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the <sup>1</sup>heaven: for they sow not, neither reap, nor carry into the barns, yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you by <sup>1</sup>taking care is able to add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learn how the Lilies of the field do grow: they <sup>1</sup>are not wearied, neither spin:

29 Yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grass of the field which is today, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall he not do much more unto you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or what shall we drink? or wherewith shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things seek the Gentiles) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be ministered unto you.

34 Care not then for the morrow, for the morrow shall care for itself: the day hath enough with his own grief.

judged, and with what <sup>b</sup>measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you again.

3 And why seest thou the mote, that is in thy brother's eye, and perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 'Or how sayest thou to thy brother, Suffer me to cast out the mote out of thine eye, and behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Hypocrite, first cast out that beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Give ye not that which is holy to dogs, neither cast ye your <sup>2</sup>pearls before swine, lest they tread them under their feet, and turning again, all to rent you.

7 ¶ <sup>d,1</sup>Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall find: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

8 For whosoever asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his son ask him bread, would give him a stone?

10 Or if he ask fish, will he give him a serpent?

11 If ye then, which are evil, can give to your children good gifts, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven, give good things to them that ask him?

12 <sup>c,1</sup>Therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do to you: even so do ye to them: for this is the <sup>2</sup>Law and the Prophets.

13 ¶ <sup>f,1</sup>Enter in at the strait gate: for it is the wide gate, and broad way that leadeth to destruction: and many there be which go in thereat.

14 Because <sup>1</sup>the gate is strait, and the way narrow that leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. <sup>g</sup>Do men gather grapes of thorns? or figs of thistles?

17 So every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

6:24 <sup>3</sup>This word is a Syrian word, and signifieth all things that belong to money.

6:25 <sup>1</sup>The froward carking carefulness for things of this life is corrected in the children of God by an earnest thinking upon the providence of God.

6:26 <sup>1</sup>Of the air, or that live in the air: for in all tongues almost this word Heaven is taken for the air.

6:27 <sup>1</sup>He speaketh of care which is joined with thought of mind, and hath for the most part difficult yoke with it.

6:28 <sup>1</sup>By labor.

7:1 <sup>1</sup>We ought to find fault one with another, but we must beware we do it not without cause, or to seem holier than they, or in hatred of them.

7:6 <sup>1</sup>The stiffnecked and stubborn enemies of the Gospel are unworthy to have it preached unto them.

<sup>2</sup>A pearl hath his name among the Grecians, for the orient brightness that is in it: and a pearl was in ancient time in great estimation among the Latins: for a pearl that Cleopatra had, was valued at two hundred and fifty thousand crowns, and the word is now borrowed from that, to signify the most precious heavenly doctrine.

7:7 <sup>1</sup>Prayers are a sure refuge in all miseries.

7:12 <sup>1</sup>A rehearsal of the meaning of the second table.

7:13 <sup>1</sup>Example of life must not be taken from a multitude.

7:14 <sup>1</sup>The way is straight and narrow we must pass through this rough way, and suffer and endure, and be thronged, and to enter into life.

7:15 <sup>1</sup>False teachers must be taken heed of, and they are known by false doctrine and evil living.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 <sup>b</sup>Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth my Father's will which is in heaven.

22 <sup>2</sup>Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not by thy <sup>1</sup>Name prophesied, and by thy name cast out devils? and by thy name done many <sup>2</sup>great works?

23 And then will I profess to them, <sup>k,1</sup>I never knew you, <sup>l</sup>depart from me <sup>2</sup>ye that work iniquity.

24 <sup>1</sup>Whosoever then heareth of me these words, <sup>m</sup>and doeth the same, I will liken him to a wise man, which hath builded his house on a rock:

25 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it fell not: for it was grounded on a rock,

26 But whosoever heareth these my words, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which hath builded his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it fell, and the fall thereof was great.

28 ¶ <sup>n</sup>And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these words, the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the Scribes.

4 Then Jesus said unto him, See thou tell no man, but go, and show thyself unto the Priest, and offer the gift that <sup>h</sup>Moses commanded, for a witness to them.

5 ¶ <sup>c,1</sup>When Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And said, Master, my servant lieth sick at home of the palsy, and is grievously pained.

7 And Jesus said unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 But the Centurion answered, saying, Master, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man also under the authority of another, and have soldiers under me: and I say to one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard that, he marveled, and said to them that followed him, Verily, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, even in Israel.

11 But I say unto you, that many shall come from the East and West, and shall <sup>1</sup>sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.

12 And the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into <sup>1</sup>utter <sup>d</sup>darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 Then Jesus said unto the Centurion, Go thy way, and as thou hast believed, so be it unto thee. And his servant was healed the same hour.

14 ¶ <sup>c,1</sup>And when Jesus came to Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid down, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: so she arose, and ministered unto them.

16 <sup>f</sup>When the Even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed <sup>1</sup>all that were sick,

7:21 <sup>1</sup> Even the best gifts that are, are nothing without godliness.

7:22 <sup>1</sup> By Name here, is meant that mighty working power of God, which every man witnesseth that calleth upon him.

<sup>2</sup> Properly powers: Now these excellent works wrought are called Powers, by occasion of these things which they bring to pass, for by them we understand, how mighty the power of God is.

7:23 <sup>1</sup> This is not of ignorance, but because he will cast them away.

7:24 <sup>1</sup> True godliness resteth only upon Christ, and therefore always remaineth invincible.

8:2 <sup>1</sup> Christ in healing the leprosy with the touching of his hand, showeth that he abhorreth no sinners that come unto him, be they never so unclean.

8:5 <sup>1</sup> Christ by setting before them the example of the uncircumcised Centurion, and yet of an excellent faith, provoketh the Jews to emulation, and together forewarneth them of their casting off, and the calling of the Gentiles.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> A Metaphor taken of banquets, for they that sit down together are fellows in the banquet.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> Which are without the kingdom: For in the kingdom is light, and without the kingdom darkness.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ, in healing divers diseases, showeth that he was sent of his Father, that in him only we should seek remedy in all our miseries.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> Of all sorts.

17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by <sup>g</sup>Isaiah the Prophet, saying, He took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ <sup>h</sup>And when Jesus saw great multitudes of people about him, he commanded them to go <sup>1</sup>over the water.

19 <sup>1</sup>Then came there a certain Scribe, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 But Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have <sup>1</sup>nests, but the Son of man hath not whereon to rest his head.

21 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And another of his disciples said unto him, Master, suffer me first to go, and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury the dead.

23 ¶ <sup>i,1</sup>And when he was entered into the ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waves: but he was asleep.

25 Then his disciples came, and awoke him, saying, Master, save us: we perish.

26 And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea: and so there was a great calm.

27 And the men marveled, saying, What man is this, that both the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ¶ <sup>j,1</sup>And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils which came out of the graves very fierce, so that no man might go by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, Jesus the son of God, what have we to do with thee? Art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 Now there was <sup>1</sup>afar off from them, a great herd of swine feeding.

31 And the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. So they went out and departed into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran headlong into the sea, and died in the water.

33 Then the herdmen fled: and when they were come into the city, they told all things, and what was become of them that were possessed with the devils,

34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him to <sup>1</sup>depart out of their coasts.

1 Then he <sup>1</sup>entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his <sup>2</sup>own city.

2 And <sup>lo</sup>, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy laid on a bed. And Jesus <sup>1</sup>seeing their faith, said to the sick of the palsy, Son be of good comfort: thy sins are forgiven thee.

3 And behold, certain of the Scribes said with themselves, This man <sup>1</sup>blasphemeth.

4 But when Jesus saw their thoughts, he said, Wherefore think ye evil things in your hearts?

5 For whether is it easier to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 And that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority in earth to forgive sins (then said he unto the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go to thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his own house.

8 So when the multitude saw it, they marveled, and glorified God, which had given such authority to men.

9 ¶ <sup>b,1</sup>And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man sitting at the <sup>2</sup>custom, named Matthew, and said to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

8:18 <sup>1</sup> For Capernaum was situated upon the lake of Tiberias.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> The true disciples of Christ must prepare themselves to all kind of miseries.

8:20 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, shades made with boughs.

8:21 <sup>1</sup> When God requireth our labor, we must leave off all our duty to men.

8:23 <sup>1</sup> Although Christ seemeth oftentimes to neglect his, even in most extreme danger, yet in time convenient he assuageth all tempests, and bringeth them to the haven.

8:28 <sup>1</sup> Christ came to deliver me from the miserable thralldom of Satan: but the world had rather lack Christ, than the vilest and least of their commodities.

house, behold, many Publicans and <sup>1</sup>sinners that came thither, sat down at the table with Jesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw that, they said to his disciples, Why eateth your Master with Publicans and sinners?

12 Now when Jesus heard it, he said unto them, The whole need not the Physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what this is, 'I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the <sup>2</sup>sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ <sup>3</sup>Then came the disciples of John to him, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the <sup>1</sup>children of the marriage chamber mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreover, no man pieceth an old garment with a piece of <sup>1</sup>new cloth: for that that should fill it up, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither do they put new wine into old vessels: for then the vessels would break, and the wine would be spilt, and the vessels would perish: but they put new wine into new vessels, and so are both preserved.

18 ¶ <sup>1</sup>While he thus spake unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased: but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose and followed him with his disciples.

20 (And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment.

21 For she said in herself, If I may touch but his garment only, I shall be whole.

22 Then Jesus turned him about, and seeing her, did say, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that same moment.)

25 And when the multitude were put forth, he went in and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And this bruit went throughout all that land.

27 <sup>1</sup>And as Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, O son of David, have mercy upon us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind came to him, and Jesus said unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? And they said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Jesus gave them great charge, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they spread abroad his fame throughout all that land.

32 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: then the multitude marveled, saying, The like was never seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, <sup>b</sup>He casteth out devils, through the prince of devils.

35 ¶ And Jesus went about all cities and towns, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 <sup>1</sup>But <sup>2</sup>when he saw the multitude, he had compassion upon them, because they were dispersed, and scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

9:23 <sup>1</sup> Even death itself giveth place to the power of Christ.

4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas <sup>1</sup>Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve did Jesus send forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritans enter ye not:

15 Truly I say unto you, it shall be easier for them of the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

19 <sup>1</sup>But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that hour, what ye shall say.

23 And when they persecute you in this city, flee into another: for verily I say unto you, ye shall not <sup>1</sup>go over all the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.

24 <sup>m</sup>The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his Lord.

25 It is enough for the disciple to be as his master is, and the servant as his Lord. <sup>n</sup>If they have called the master of the house <sup>1</sup>Beelzebub, how much more them of his household?

26 <sup>1</sup>Fear them not therefore: <sup>e</sup>for there is nothing covered, that shall not be disclosed, nor hid, that shall not be known.

27 What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye on the <sup>1</sup>houses.

10:7 <sup>1</sup> The sum of the Gospel: or preaching of the Apostles.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> Miracles are dependences of the word.

10:9 <sup>1</sup> The ministers of the word must cast away all cares that might hinder them the least wise that might be.

<sup>2</sup> For this journey, to wit, both that nothing might hinder them, and also that they might feel some taste of God's providence: for at their return back, the Lord asketh of them, whether they lacked anything by the way, Luke 22:35.

10:10 <sup>1</sup> God will provide you meat.

10:11 <sup>1</sup> Happy are they that receive the preaching of the Gospel: and unhappy are they, that refuse it.

10:13 <sup>1</sup> It is manner of speech taken from the Hebrews, whereby they meant all kind of happiness.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth how the ministers must behave themselves under the cross.

<sup>3</sup> You shall not so much as revenge an injury: and by the mixing of these beasts' natures together, he will not have our wisdom to be malicious, nor our simplicity mad, but a certain form of good nature as exquisitely framed of both of them, as may be.

10:17 <sup>1</sup> For in the cause of religion men are wolves one to another.

10:23 <sup>1</sup> Bring to an end, that is, you shall not have gone through all the cities of Israel, and preached in them.

10:25 <sup>1</sup> It was the idol of the Acronites, which we call the god of flies.

10:26 <sup>1</sup> Truth shall not always be hid.

10:27 <sup>1</sup> Openly, and in the highest places. For the tops of their houses were so made, that they might walk upon them, Acts 10:9.

28 And <sup>1</sup>fear ye not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him, which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a <sup>1</sup>farthing, and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father?

30 <sup>2</sup>Yea, and all the hairs of your head are numbered.

31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 <sup>3</sup>Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

33 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 <sup>4</sup>Think not that I am come to send peace into the earth, but the sword.

35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

36 <sup>5</sup>And a man's enemies shall be they of his own household.

37 <sup>6</sup>He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me. And he that loveth son, or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.

38 <sup>7</sup>And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

39 <sup>8</sup>He that will find <sup>1</sup>his life, shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake, shall find it.

40 <sup>9</sup>He that receiveth you, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

41 <sup>10</sup>He that receiveth a Prophet in <sup>2</sup>the name of a Prophet, shall receive a Prophet's reward: and he that receiveth a righteous man, in the name of a righteous man, shall receive the reward of a righteous man.

42 <sup>11</sup>And whosoever shall give unto one of these <sup>1</sup>little ones to drink a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

10 For this is he of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send my messenger before thy face which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them which are begotten of women, arose there not a greater than John Baptist, notwithstanding, he that is the least in the <sup>1</sup>kingdom of heaven, is greater than he.

12 And from <sup>4</sup>the time of John Baptist hitherto, the kingdom of God suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 For all the Prophets and the Law <sup>1</sup>prophesied unto John.

10:39 <sup>1</sup> They are said to find their life, which deliver it out of danger: and this is spoken after the opinion of the people which think them clean lost that die, because they think not of the life to come.

10:40 <sup>1</sup> God is both author and revenger of his holy ministry.

10:41 <sup>1</sup> We shall lose nothing that we bestow upon Christ.

<sup>3</sup> The disciples' cities, that is to say, in Galilee, where many of them were born, Acts 2:7.

11:7 <sup>1</sup> What agreement, and what difference is betwixt the ministry of the Prophets, the preaching of John, and the full light of the Gospel, which Christ hath brought.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> In the new state of the Church where the true glory of God shineth: the persons are not compared together, but the kinds of doctrines, the preaching of John with the law and the Prophets, and again, the most clear preaching of the Gospel with John's.

11:13 <sup>1</sup> They prophesied of things to come, which are now present and clearly and plainly seen.

which was to come.

15 ¶ He that hath ears to hear let him hear.

16 <sup>f1</sup>But whereunto shall I liken this generation? <sup>2</sup>It is like unto little children which sit in the markets, and call unto their fellows,

17 And say, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced, we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

19 The Son of men came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a glutton and a drinker of wine, a friend unto Publicans and sinners: <sup>2</sup>but <sup>2</sup>wisdom is justified of her children.

20 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then began he to upbraid the cities, wherein most of his great works were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe be to thee Chorazin: Woe be to thee Bethsaida: for if the great works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they had repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say to you, It shall be easier for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which art lifted up unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the great works, which have been done in thee, had been done among them of Sodom, they had remained to this day.

24 But I say unto you, that it shall be easier for them of the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 <sup>b</sup>At that time Jesus answered and said, I give thee thanks, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise, and men of understanding, and hast <sup>1</sup>opened them unto babes.

26 It is <sup>1</sup>so, O Father, because thy <sup>2</sup>good pleasure was such.

27 <sup>i1</sup>All things are given unto me of my Father: and <sup>j</sup>no man knoweth the Son, but the Father: neither knoweth any man the Father, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

2 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do <sup>b</sup>that which is not lawful to do upon the Sabbath.

3 But he said unto them, <sup>c</sup>Have ye not read what David did when he was an hungered, and they that were with him?

4 How he went into the house of God, and did eat the <sup>1</sup>showbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the <sup>d</sup>Priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the Law, how that on the Sabbath days the Priests in the Temple <sup>e1</sup>break the Sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, that here is one greater than the Temple.

7 Wherefore if ye knew what this is, <sup>f1</sup>I will have mercy and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the innocents.

8 For the son of man is Lord, even of the Sabbath.

9 <sup>g1</sup>And he departed thence, and went into their Synagogue:

12:5 <sup>1</sup> When the Priests do God's service upon the Sabbath day, yet they break not the Law: much less doth the Lord of the Sabbath break the Sabbath.

12:9 <sup>1</sup> The ceremonies of the Law are not against the love of our neighbor.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that hath a sheep, and if it fall on the Sabbath day into a pit, doth not take it and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better than a sheep? therefore, it is lawful to do well on a Sabbath day.

13 Then said he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth, and it was made whole as the other.

14 <sup>1</sup>Then the Pharisees went out, and consulted against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he departed thence, and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them in threatening wise, that they should not make him known,

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the Prophet, saying,

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, <sup>7</sup>This man casteth the devils no otherwise out but through Beelzebub the prince of devils.

5 And some fell upon stony ground, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprung up, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sun was up, they were parched, and for lack of rooting withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprung up, and choked them.

8 And some again fell in good ground, and brought forth fruit, one corn an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, and another thirtyfold.

9 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 <sup>1</sup>And he answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: and hearing, they hear not, neither understand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which prophecy saith, <sup>y</sup>By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive.

15 For this people's heart is waxed fat, and their ears are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they have winked, lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their hearts, and should return, that I might heal them.

16 <sup>1</sup>But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 <sup>d</sup>For verily I say unto you, that many Prophets, and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them, and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Hear ye therefore the parable of the Sower.

19 Whosoever any man heareth the word of that kingdom, and understandeth it not, that evil one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sown in his <sup>1</sup>heart: and this is he which hath received the seed by the way side.

20 And he that received seed in the stony ground,

12:42 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth the Queen of Sheba: whose country is South in respect of the land of Israel, 1 Kings 10.

12:46 <sup>1</sup> Christ teacheth by his own example, how that all things ought to be set apart in respect of God's glory.

12:49 <sup>1</sup> None are more near unto us, than they that are of the household of faith.

13:2 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth in putting forth this parable of the Sower, that the seed of life which is sown in the world, cometh not on so well in one as in another, and the reason is, for that men for the most part either do not receive it, or suffer it not to ripen.

13:11 <sup>1</sup> The gift of understanding and of faith is proper to the elect, and all the rest are blinded through the just judgment of God.

13:16 <sup>1</sup> The condition of the Church under and since Christ, is better than it was in the time of the Fathers under the Law.

13:19 <sup>1</sup> Though there be mention made of the heart yet this sowing is referred to hearing without understanding. For whether the seed be received in the heart or no, yet he that soweth, soweth to the heart.

is he which heareth the word, and incontinently with joy receiveth it,

21 Yet hath he no root in himself, and endureth but a season: for as soon as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that received the seed among thorns, is he that heareth the word: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he is made unfruitful.

23 But he that received the seed in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, and some thirtyfold.

24 ¶<sup>1</sup> Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a man which sowed good seed in his field.

25 But while men slept, there came his enemy and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the servants of the householder, and said unto him, Master, sowest thou not good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said unto them, Some envious man hath done this. Then the servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye pluck up also with them the wheat.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest, and in time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and bind them in sheaves to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶<sup>1</sup> Another parable he put forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and build in the branches thereof.

33 ¶<sup>2</sup> Another parable spake he to them, The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman taketh and hideth in three pecks of meal, till all be leavened.

34 ¶<sup>3</sup> All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not unto them,

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, and will utter the things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Jesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of that field.

37 <sup>1</sup> Then answered he, and said to them, He that soweth the good seed, is the son of man, 38 And the field is the world, and the good seed are the children of the kingdom, and the tares are the children of that wicked one.

39 And the enemy that soweth them, is the devil, <sup>2</sup> and the harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers be the Angels.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity,

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 <sup>3</sup> Then shall the just men shine as the sun in the kingdom of their father. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶<sup>4</sup> Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, and for joy thereof departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶<sup>5</sup> Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a merchant man that seeketh good pearls, 46 Who having found a pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

47 ¶<sup>6</sup> Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kinds of things.

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world. The Angels shall go forth, and sever the bad from among the just,

50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

13:24 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth in another parable of the evil seed mixed with the good, that the Church shall never be free and quit from offences, both in doctrine and manners, until the day appointed for the restoring of all things to come, and therefore the faithful have to arm themselves with patience and constancy.

13:31 <sup>1</sup> God beginneth his kingdom with very small beginnings, to the end that by the growing on of it, beside the expectation and hope of all men, his mighty power and working may be the more set forth.

13:37 <sup>1</sup> He expoundeth the former parable of the good and evil seed.

13:44 <sup>1</sup> Few men understand how great the riches of the kingdom of heaven are, and no man can be partaker of them, but he that redeemeth them with the loss of all his goods.

13:47 <sup>1</sup> There are many in the Church, which notwithstanding are not of the Church, and therefore at length shall be cast out: but the full and perfect cleansing of them is deferred to the last day.

13:51 <sup>1</sup> They ought to be diligent, which have not only to be wise for themselves, but to dispense the wisdom of God to others.

these things? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every Scribe which is taught unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Jesus had ended these parables, he departed thence,

54 <sup>1</sup>And came into his own country, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, Whence cometh this wisdom and great works unto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary,<sup>m</sup> and his brethren James and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And are not his sisters all with us? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Jesus said to them, <sup>n</sup>A Prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58 And he did not many great works there, for their unbelief's sake.

would give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a platter.

9 And the king was sorry: nevertheless, because of the oath, and them that sat with him at the table, he commanded it to be given her,

10 And sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and given to the maid, and she brought it unto her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

13 <sup>a</sup>And when Jesus heard it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus went forth and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when even was come,<sup>f</sup> his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may go into the towns, and buy them vittles.

16 But Jesus said to them, They have no need to go away: give ye them to eat.

17 Then said they unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were sufficed, and they took up of the fragments that remained, twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women and little children.

22 ¶ And straightway Jesus compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to go over before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And as soon as he had sent the multitude away, he went up into a mountain alone to pray: and <sup>g</sup>when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 <sup>1</sup>And the ship was now in the midst of the sea,

13:54 <sup>1</sup> Men do not only sin of ignorance, but also wittingly and willfully lay stumbling blocks in their own ways, that when God calleth them, they may not obey, and so most plainly destroy and cast away themselves.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> Here is in John an example of an invincible courage, which all faithful Ministers of God's word ought to follow: in Herod, an example of tyrannous vanity, pride and cruelty, and to be short, of a courtly conscience, and of their insufferable slavery, which have once given themselves over to pleasures: in Herodias and her daughter, an example of whore-like wantonness, and womanlike cruelty.

14:2 <sup>1</sup> By works he meaneth that force and power, whereby works are wrought and not the works, as is seen oft before.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> There were three Herods: the first of them was Antipater's son, who is also called Ascalonius, in whose reign Christ was born, and he it was that caused the children to be slain. The second was called Antipas, Magnus his son, whose mother's name was Malthace or Martaca, and this was called Tetrarch, by reason of enlarging his dominion, when Archelaus was banished to Vienna in France. The third was Agrippa, Magnus his nephew by Aristobulus, and he it was that slew James.

14:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ refresheth a great multitude with five loaves and two little fishes, showing thereby, that they shall want nothing, which lay all things aside and seek the kingdom of heaven.

14:24 <sup>1</sup> We must sail even through mighty tempests, and Christ will never forsake us, so that we go whither he hath commanded us.

and was tossed with waves: for it was a contrary wind.

25 And in the <sup>1</sup>fourth watch of the night, Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when his disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a <sup>1</sup>spirit, and cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good comfort, It is I: be not afraid.

28 <sup>1</sup>Then Peter answered him, and said, Master, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water to go to Jesus.

30 But when he saw a mighty wind, he was afraid: and as he began to sink, he cried, saying, Master, save me.

31 So immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said to him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt.

32 And as soon as they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

34 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And when they were come over, they came into the land of <sup>1</sup>Gennesaret.

35 <sup>1</sup>And when the men of that place knew him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were sick,

36 And besought him, that they might touch the hem of his garment only: and as many as touched it were made whole.

1 Then <sup>1</sup>came to Jesus the Scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 <sup>a</sup> Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the Elders? for they <sup>1</sup>wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 <sup>1</sup>But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 <sup>b</sup>For God hath commanded, saying, <sup>1</sup>Honour thy father and mother: <sup>c</sup>and he that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, <sup>1</sup>Whosoever shall say to father or mother, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest have profit,

6 Though he honor not his father, or his mother, shall be free: thus have ye made the commandment of God of no <sup>1</sup>authority by your tradition.

7 <sup>1</sup>O hypocrites, Isaiah prophesied well of you, saying,

8 <sup>d</sup>This people draweth near unto me with their mouth, and honoreth me with the lips, but their heart is far off from me.

9 But in vain they worship me, teaching for doctrines, men's precepts.

10 <sup>1</sup>Then he called the multitude unto him, and said to them, Hear and understand.

11 <sup>e</sup>That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which cometh out of the mouth that defileth the man.

12 ¶ Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Perceivest thou not, that the Pharisees are offended in hearing this saying?

13 But he answered and said, <sup>f</sup>Every plant which mine heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone, they be the <sup>g</sup>blind leaders of the blind: and if the blind lead the blind, both shall 14:25 <sup>1</sup> By the fourth watch is meant the time near to day breaking: for in old time they divided the night into four watches, in which they scouted.

14:26 <sup>1</sup> A spirit, as it is here taken, is that which a man imagineth to himself vainly in his mind, persuading himself that he seeth something, and seeth nothing.

14:28 <sup>1</sup> By faith we tread under our feet even the tempests themselves, but yet by the virtue of Christ, which helpeth that virtue, which he of his mercy hath given.

14:34 <sup>1</sup> This Gennesaret was a lake nigh to Capernaum, which is also called the Sea of Galilee, and Tiberias, so that the country itself grew to be called by that name.

14:35 <sup>1</sup> In that that Christ healeth the sick, we are given to understand that we must seek remedy for spiritual diseases at his hands: and that we are bound not only to run ourselves, but also to bring others to him.

15:1 <sup>1</sup> None commonly are more bold contemners of God, than they whom God appointeth keepers of his law.

15:2 <sup>1</sup> Which they received of their ancestors from hand to hand, or their elders allowed, which were the governors of the Church.

15:3 <sup>1</sup> Their wicked boldness, in corrupting the commandments of God, and that upon the pretence of godliness, and usurping authority to make laws, is here reproved.

15:4 <sup>1</sup> By honor is meant all kinds of duties which children owe to their parents.

15:5 <sup>1</sup> The meaning is this: whatsoever I bestow upon the Temple, is to thy profit, for it is as good as if I gave it thee, for (as the Pharisees of our time say) it shall be meritorious for thee: for under this color of religion, they raked all to themselves, as though that he that had given anything to the Temple, had done the duty of a child.

15:6 <sup>1</sup> You made it of no power and authority as much as lay in you: for otherwise the commandments of God stand fast in the Church of God, in despite of the world and Satan.

15:7 <sup>1</sup> The same men are condemned for hypocrisy and superstition, because they made the kingdom of God to stand in outward things.

15:10 <sup>1</sup> Christ teacheth us that hypocrisy of false teachers which deceive our soul, is not to be borne withal, no not in indifferent matters, and there is no reason why their ordinary vocation should blind our eyes: otherwise we are like to perish with them.

fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ <sup>b</sup>Then answered Peter, and said to him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 Then said Jesus, Are ye yet without understanding?

17 Perceive ye not yet, that whatsoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart <sup>i</sup>come evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, slanders.

20 These are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashed hands, defileth not the man.

21 <sup>j</sup>And Jesus went thence, and departed into the <sup>1</sup>coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman a <sup>1</sup>Canaanite came out of the same coasts, and cried, saying unto him, Have mercy on me, O Lord, the son of David: my daughter is miserably vexed with a devil.

23 <sup>1</sup>But he answered her not a word. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent, but unto the <sup>1</sup>lost sheep of the <sup>1</sup>house of Israel.

25 Yet she came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord help me.

26 And he answered, and said, It is not good to take the children's bread, and to cast it to whelps.

27 But she said, Truth, Lord: yet indeed the whelps eat of the crumbs, which fall from their master's table.

28 Then Jesus answered, and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that hour.

29 ¶ <sup>1</sup>So Jesus <sup>1</sup>went away from thence, and came near unto the sea of Galilee, and went up in a mountain and sat down there.

30 And great multitudes came unto him, <sup>m</sup>having with them, halt, blind, dumb, <sup>1</sup>maimed, and many others, and cast them down, at Jesus' feet, and he healed them.

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, to see the dumb speak, the maimed whole, the halt to go, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 <sup>n,1</sup>Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on this multitude, because they have <sup>2</sup>continued with me already three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples said unto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wilderness, as should suffice so great a multitude!

34 And Jesus said unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 Then he commandeth the multitude <sup>1</sup>to sit down on the ground.

36 And took the seven loaves, and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

14 And they said, Some say, <sup>1</sup>John Baptist: and some, Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the Prophets.

15 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 Then Simon Peter answered, and said, <sup>i</sup>Thou art that Christ, the son of the living God.

17 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the son of Jonah: for <sup>2</sup>flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

16:3 <sup>1</sup> The outward show and countenance as it were of all things, is called in the Hebrews' tongue, a face.

16:4 <sup>1</sup> The article showeth the notableness of the deed.

16:5 <sup>1</sup> False teachers must be taken heed of.

16:8 <sup>1</sup> Not by others, but by virtue of his divinity.

16:9 <sup>1</sup> That five thousand men were filled with so many loaves?

16:13 <sup>1</sup> There are divers judgments and opinions of Christ, notwithstanding he is known of his alone.

<sup>2</sup> There were two Caesareas, the one called Stratonis upon the sea Mediteranean, which Herod built sumptuously in the honor of Octavius, Josephus, lib. 15. The other was Caesarea Philippi, which Herod the great the Tetrarch's son by Cleopatra built in the honor of Tiberius at the foot of Lebanon, Josephus, lib. 15.

16:14 <sup>1</sup> As Herod thought.

16:17 <sup>1</sup> Faith is of grace, not of nature.

<sup>2</sup> By this kind of speech is meant man's natural procreation upon the earth, the creature not being destroyed which was made, but deformed through sin: So then this is the meaning: this was not revealed to thee by any understanding of man, but God showed it thee from heaven.

16:18 <sup>1</sup> That is true faith, which confesseth Christ, the virtue whereof is invisible.

<sup>2</sup> Christ spoke in the Syrian tongue, and therefore used not this descanting betwixt Petros, which signifieth Peter, and Petra, which signifieth a rock, but in both places used this word Cephas: but his mind was that wrote in Greek, by the divers termination to make a difference between Peter, who is a piece of the building, and Christ the Petra, that is, the rock and foundation: or else he gave his name Peter, because of the confession of his faith, which is the Church's as well as his, as the old fathers witness: For so saith Theophylact, That confession which thou hast made, shall be the foundation of the believers.

<sup>3</sup> The enemies of the Church are compared to a strong kingdom, and therefore by Gates, are meant cities which are made strong with counsels and fortresses, and this is the meaning, whatsoever Satan can do by counsel or strength. So doth Paul, 2 Cor. 10:4, call them strongholds.

16:19 <sup>1</sup> The authority of the Church is from God.

<sup>2</sup> A metaphor taken of stewards which carry the keys: and here is set forth the power of the ministers of the word, as Isa. 22:22, and that power is common to all ministers, as Matt. 18:18, and therefore the ministers of the Gospel may rightly be called the key of the kingdom of heaven.

<sup>3</sup> They are bound whose sins are retained, heaven is shut against them, because they received not Christ by faith: on the other side, how happy are they, to whom heaven is open, which embrace Christ, and are delivered by him, and become fellow heirs with him.

16:20 <sup>1</sup> Men must first learn and then teach.

16:21 <sup>1</sup> The minds of men are in time to be prepared and made ready against the stumbling block of persecution.

<sup>2</sup> It was a name of dignity and not of age, and it is put for them, which were the Judges, which the Hebrews called Sanhedrin.

16:22 <sup>1</sup> Took him by the hand and led him aside, as they used to do, which meant to talk familiarly with one.

rebuke him, saying, Master, pity thyself: this shall not be unto thee.

23 <sup>1</sup>Then he turned back, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, <sup>2</sup>Satan: thou art an offence unto me, because thou <sup>3</sup>understandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

24 <sup>1</sup>Jesus then said to his disciples, <sup>1</sup>If any man will follow me, let him forsake himself: and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For <sup>m</sup>whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, shall <sup>1</sup>find it.

26 <sup>m</sup>For what shall it profit a man though he should win the whole world, if he lose his own soul? or what shall a man give for recompense of his soul?

27 For the son of man shall come <sup>1</sup>in the glory of his Father with his Angels, and <sup>a</sup>then shall he give to every man according to his deeds.

28 <sup>p</sup>Verily I say unto you, there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the Son of man come in his <sup>1</sup>kingdom.

5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud shadowed them: and behold, there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, <sup>b</sup>This is <sup>1</sup>that my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear him.

6 And when the disciples heard that, they <sup>1</sup>fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7 Then Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 ¶ And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Show the <sup>1</sup>vision to no man, until the Son of man rise again from the dead.

10 <sup>c</sup>And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes that <sup>d</sup>Elijah must first come?

11 And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Certainly Elijah must first come, and restore all things.

12 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they would: likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples perceived that he spake unto them of John Baptist.

14 ¶ <sup>e,1</sup>And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, and <sup>2</sup>fell down at his feet,

15 And said, Master, have pity on my son: for he is <sup>1</sup>lunatic, and is sore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft times into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heal him.

17 Then Jesus answered, and said, O generation faithless, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you! how long now shall I suffer you! bring him hither to me.

16:23 <sup>1</sup> Against a preposterous zeal.

<sup>2</sup> The Hebrews call him Satan, that is to say, an adversary, whom the Grecians call diabolos, that is to say, slanderer, or tempter: but it is spoken of them, that either of malice, as Judas, John 6:70, or of lightness and pride resist the will of God.

16:24 <sup>1</sup> No men provide worse for themselves, than they that love themselves more than God.

16:25 <sup>1</sup> Shall gain himself. And this is his meaning, they that deny Christ to save themselves, do not only not gain that which they look for, but also lose the thing they would have kept, that is themselves, which loss is the greatest of all: but as for them that doubt not to die for Christ, it fareth far otherwise with them.

16:27 <sup>1</sup> Like a King, as Matt. 6:29.

16:28 <sup>1</sup> By his kingdom is understood the glory of his ascension, and what followeth thereof, Eph. 4:10, or the preaching of the Gospel, Mark 9:1.

17:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ is in such sort humble in the Gospel, that in the mean season he is Lord both of heaven and earth.

<sup>2</sup> Luke reckoneth eight days, containing in that number the first and last, and Matthew speaketh but of them that were betwixt them.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> Changed into another hue.

17:5 <sup>1</sup> The article or the word, That, severeth Christ from other children. For he is God's natural Son, we by adoption, therefore he is called the first begotten among the brethren, because that although he be of right the only Son, yet is he chief among many in that he is the fountain and head of the adoption.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> Fell down flat on their faces and worshipped him, as Matt. 2:11.

17:9 <sup>1</sup> Which they saw: otherwise the word, used in this place is properly spoken of that which is seen in a dream.

17:14 <sup>1</sup> Men are unworthy of Christ his goodness, yet notwithstanding he regardeth them.

17:15 <sup>1</sup> They that at certain times of the moon are troubled with the falling sickness, or any other kind of disease: but in this place, we must so take it, that besides the natural disease, he had a devilish frenzy.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he went out of him: and the child was healed at that hour.

19 <sup>1</sup>Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for <sup>1</sup>verily I say unto you, if ye have faith as much as is a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 <sup>1</sup>Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by <sup>2</sup>prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And they <sup>2</sup>being in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of Man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

23 And they shall kill him, but the third day shall he rise again: and they were very sorry.

24 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received poll money, came to Peter, and said, Doth <sup>2</sup>not your Master <sup>3</sup>pay <sup>4</sup>poll money?

25 He said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? Of whom do the kings of the earth take tribute, or poll money? of their <sup>1</sup>children, or of strangers?

26 Peter said unto him, Of strangers. Then said Jesus unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Nevertheless, lest we should offend them: go to the sea, and cast in an angle, and take the first fish that cometh up, and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a <sup>1</sup>piece of twenty pence: that take, and give it unto them for me and thee.

2 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus called a <sup>2</sup>little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, except ye be <sup>b,1</sup>converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And whosoever shall receive one such little child in my Name, receiveth me.

6 <sup>c,1</sup>But whosoever shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 <sup>1</sup>Woe be unto the world because of offences, for it must needs be that <sup>2</sup>offences shall come, but woe be to that man by whom the offence cometh.

8 <sup>d</sup>Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foot cause thee to <sup>1</sup>offend, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, than having two hands, or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, pluck it out and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

10 <sup>1</sup>See that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say unto you, that in heaven their <sup>e</sup>Angels always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

11 For <sup>f</sup>the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 How think ye? <sup>g</sup>If a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave ninety and nine, and go into the mountains, and seek that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray:

14 So is it not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

17:22 <sup>1</sup>Our minds must be prepared more and more against the offence of the cross.

<sup>4</sup>They that were from twenty years of age to fifty, paid half a shekel of the Sanctuary, Exod. 30:13. This was an Attic didrachma which the Romans exacted, after they had subdued Judea.

17:25 <sup>1</sup>By children we must not understand subjects which pay tribute, but natural children.

17:27 <sup>1</sup>The word here used, is stater, which is in value 4 didrachmas; every drachma is about five pence.

18:3 <sup>1</sup>A kind of speech taken from the Hebrews, and it is as much as, repent.

18:6 <sup>1</sup>We ought to have great respect to our brethren be they never so base: and he that doeth otherwise, shall be sharply punished.

18:7 <sup>1</sup>A good man cannot but go through the midst of offences, yet he must cut off all occasion of offences.

<sup>2</sup>Lets and hindrances which stop the course of good works. The Greek word importeth thus much, things which we stumble at.

18:8 <sup>1</sup>See Matt. 5:29.

18:10 <sup>1</sup>The weaker that a man is, the greater care we ought to have of his salvation, as God teacheth us by his own example.

18:15 <sup>1</sup>We must labor for concord, not to revenge injuries.

<sup>2</sup>thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast won thy brother.

16 But if he hear thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the <sup>i,1</sup>mouth of two or three witnesses, every word may be <sup>2</sup>confirmed.

17 <sup>1</sup>And if he <sup>2</sup>refuse to hear them, tell it unto the <sup>3</sup>Church: and if he refuse to hear the Church also, let him be unto thee as an <sup>4</sup>heathen man, and a Publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, <sup>j</sup>Whatsoever ye bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and <sup>k</sup>whatsoever ye loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

19 Again, verily I say unto you, that if two of you shall <sup>1</sup>agree in earth upon anything, whatsoever they shall desire, it shall be given them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 <sup>1</sup>Then came Peter to him, and said, Master, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I shall forgive him? <sup>4</sup>unto seven times?

22 Jesus said unto him, I say not to thee, Unto seven times, but, Unto seventy times seven times.

23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain King, which would take an account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which ought him <sup>1</sup>ten thousand talents.

25 And because he had nothing to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and his children, and all that he had, and the debt to be paid.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and <sup>1</sup>worshipped him, saying, Lord, <sup>2</sup>refrain thine anger toward me, and I will pay thee all.

29 Then his fellow servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Refrain thine anger toward me, and I will pay thee all.

30 Yet he would not, but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 And when his other fellow servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came, and declared unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord called him unto him, and said to him, O evil servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou prayedst me.

33 Oughtest not thou also to have had pity on thy fellow servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34 So his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due to him.

18:17 <sup>1</sup> He that contemneth the judgment of the Church, contemneth God.

<sup>3</sup> He speaketh not of any kind of policy, but of an Ecclesiastical assembly, for he speaketh afterward of the power of loosing and binding, which belonged to the Church, and he hath regard to the order used in those days, at what time the Elders had the judgment of Church matters in their hands, John 9:22 and 12:42 and 16:2, and used casting out of the Synagogue for a punishment, as we do now excommunication.

18:21 <sup>1</sup> They shall find God severe and not to be pleased, which do not forgive their brethren, although they have been diversly and grievously injured by them.

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder that, which God hath <sup>1</sup>coupled together.

7 <sup>1</sup>They said to him, Why did then <sup>4</sup>Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He said unto them, Moses, <sup>1</sup>because of the hardness of your heart, <sup>2</sup>suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore unto you, <sup>1</sup>that whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be <sup>1</sup>for whoredom, and marry another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marryeth her which is divorced, doth commit adultery.

10 Then said his disciples to him, If the <sup>1</sup>matter be so between man and wife, it is not good to marry.

11 <sup>1</sup>But he said unto them, All men cannot <sup>2</sup>receive this thing, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some <sup>1</sup>eunuchs, which were so born of their mother's belly: and there be some eunuchs, which be gelded by men: and there be some eunuchs, which have <sup>2</sup>gelded themselves for the kingdom of heaven. He that is able to receive this, let him receive it.

13 ¶<sup>1</sup>Then were brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

22 And when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

19:5 <sup>1</sup> The Greek word imported to be glued unto, whereby is signified that straight knot, which is between man and wife, as though they were glued together.

<sup>2</sup> They which were two, become as it were one: and this word flesh is by a figure taken for the whole man, or the body after the manner of the Hebrews.

19:6 <sup>1</sup> Hath made them yoke fellows, as the marriage itself is by a borrowed kind of speech called a yoke.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> Because political Laws are constrained to bear with some things, it followeth not by and by that God alloweth them.

19:8 <sup>1</sup> Being occasioned by reason of the hardness of your hearts.

<sup>2</sup> By a political law, not by the moral law: for this law is a perpetual law of God's justice, the other boweth and bendeth as the carpenter's Bevel.

19:9 <sup>1</sup> Therefore in these days the Laws that were made against adulterers were not regarded: for they should have needed no divorcement, if marriage had been cut asunder with punishment by death.

19:10 <sup>1</sup> If the matter stands so between man and wife, or in marriage.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> The gift of continency is peculiar, and therefore no man can set a law to himself of perpetual continency.

<sup>2</sup> Receive and admit, as by translation we say, that a straight and narrow place is not able to receive many things.

19:12 <sup>1</sup> The word Eunuch is a general word, and hath divers kinds under it, as gelded men and barren men.

19:13 <sup>1</sup> Infants and little children are contained in the free covenant of God.

19:16 <sup>1</sup> They neither know themselves nor the Law, that seek to be saved by the Law.

19:21 <sup>1</sup> The young man did not answer truly in saying that he had kept all the commandments: and therefore he layeth out an example of true charity before him, to show the disease that lay lurking in his mind.

19:23 <sup>1</sup> Rich men have need of a singular gift of God, to escape out of the snares of Satan.

19:24 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, it is of less labor.

<sup>2</sup> Theophylact noteth, that by this word is meant a cable rope, but Caninius allegeth out of the Talmuds that it is a proverb, and the word Camel, signifieth the beast itself.

19:28 <sup>1</sup> It is not lost, that is neglected for God's sake.

<sup>2</sup> The regeneration is taken for that day, wherein the elect shall begin to live a new life, that is to say, when they shall enjoy the heavenly inheritance, both in body and soul.

29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Name's sake, he shall receive an hundredfold more, and shall inherit everlasting life.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace,

4 And said unto them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will give you: and they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And he went about the <sup>1</sup>eleventh hour, and found others standing idle, and said unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They said unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He said to them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 ¶ And when even was come, the master of the vineyard said unto his steward, Call the laborers, and give them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about the eleventh hour, came and received every man a penny.

13 And he answered one of them, saying, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that which is thine own, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, as much as to thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do as I will with mine own? Is thine eye <sup>1</sup>evil, because I am good?

16 <sup>a</sup>So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many are called, but few chosen.

17 <sup>b,1</sup>And Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 <sup>1</sup>Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief Priests, and unto the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 <sup>1</sup>And <sup>1</sup>shall deliver him to the Gentiles, to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him, but the third day he shall rise again.

20 <sup>d,1</sup>Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She said to him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdom.

22 And Jesus answered, and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to <sup>1</sup>drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the <sup>2</sup>baptism that I shall be baptized with? they said to him, We are able.

23 And he said unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and shall be baptized with the baptism, that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is <sup>1</sup>not mine to give: but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

19:30 <sup>1</sup> To have begun well, and not to continue unto the end, doth not only not profit, but also hurteth very much.

20:1 <sup>1</sup> God is bound to no man, and therefore he calleth whomsoever and whensoever he listeth. This only every man ought to take heed of, and hereupon bestow his whole endeavor, that he go forward and come to the mark without all stopping or staggering, and not curiously to examine other men's doings, or the judgments of God.

20:2 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, fell in time: it is a kind of speech taken from song.

20:6 <sup>1</sup> The last hour: for the day was twelve hours long, and the first hour began at the Sun rising.

20:15 <sup>1</sup> Naught, that is, to say, dost thou envy at my goodness towards them? for the Hebrews by an evil eye, meant envy, because such dispositions appear chiefly in the eyes, as above in Matt. 6:23. It is set to answer the word, single, and is taken there for corrupt: for whereas he said there before, verse 22, if thine eye be single, he addeth in verse 23, but if thine eye be wicked, or corrupt, the word being the same in that place, as it is here.

20:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ goeth to the cross necessarily, but yet willingly.

20:18 <sup>1</sup> They that least ought, are the greatest persecutors of Christ.

20:19 <sup>1</sup> The ignomy of the cross, is the sure way to the glory of everlasting life.

20:20 <sup>1</sup> The manner of the heavenly kingdom is quite contrary to the earthly kingdom.

20:22 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken by a figure, taking the cup, for that which is contained in the cup. And again the Hebrews understand by this word, Cup, sometime the manner of punishment which is rendered to sin, as Ps. 11:6. or the joy that is given to the faithful, as Ps. 23:5, and sometime a lot or condition, as Ps. 16:5.

20:23 <sup>1</sup> The almightiness of Christ his divinity is not shut out by this, but it showeth the debasing of himself by taking man's nature upon him.

24 <sup>c</sup>And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

25 Therefore Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the lords of the Gentiles have <sup>1</sup>domination over them, and they that are great, exercise authority over them.

26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your servant.

27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant.

28 <sup>f</sup>Even as the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life for the ransom of many.

29 ¶ <sup>g1</sup>And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 And behold, two blind men, sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried, saying, O Lord, the Son of David, have mercy on us.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, O Lord, the Son of David, have mercy on us.

32 Then Jesus stood still, and <sup>1</sup>called them, and said, What will ye that I should do to you?

33 They said to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 And Jesus moved with compassion, touched their eyes, and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, say ye, that the Lord hath need of them, and straightway <sup>1</sup>he will let them go.

4 All this was done that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,

5 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Tell ye the <sup>1</sup>daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek and sitting upon an ass, and a colt, the foal of an ass used to the yoke.

6 So the disciples went, and did as Jesus had commanded them,

7 And brought the ass and the colt, and put on them their <sup>1</sup>clothes, and set him <sup>2</sup>thereon.

8 And a great multitude spread their garments in the way: and others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cried, saying, <sup>1</sup>Hosanna to the Son of David, <sup>2</sup>Blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna thou which art in the highest heavens.

10 <sup>c</sup>And when he was come into Jerusalem, <sup>1</sup>all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the people said, This is Jesus that Prophet of Nazareth in Galilee.

12 ¶ And Jesus went into the Temple of God, and cast out all them <sup>a</sup>that sold and bought in the Temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said to them, It is written, <sup>c</sup>My house shall be called the house of prayer: but <sup>1</sup>ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 Then the blind, and the halt came to him, in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 <sup>1</sup>But when the chief Priests and Scribes saw the marvels that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David, they disdained,

16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus said unto them, Yea: read ye never, <sup>e</sup>By the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast <sup>1</sup>made perfect the praise?

17 ¶ <sup>1</sup>So he left them, and went out of the city

20:25 <sup>1</sup> Somewhat sharply and roughly.

20:29 <sup>1</sup> Christ by healing these blind men with an only touch, sheweth that he is the only light of the world.

20:32 <sup>1</sup> Himself, not by other men's means.

21:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ by his humility triumphing over the pride of this world, ascendeth to true glory by ignomy of the cross.

21:3 <sup>1</sup> He that shall say anything to you, shall let them go, to wit, the ass and the colt.

21:5 <sup>1</sup> The city of Zion. An Hebrew kind of speech, common in the lamentations of Jeremiah.

21:7 <sup>1</sup> Their uppermost garments.

21:9 <sup>1</sup> This was an ancient kind of crying which they used in the feast of Tabernacles, when they carried boughs according as God commanded, Lev. 23:40. And the word is corruptly made of two, for we should say, Hoshiangna, which is as much to say, as Save I pray thee.

<sup>2</sup> Well be it to him that cometh in the name of the Lord, that is to say, whom the Lord hath given us for our king.

21:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, all the men of Jerusalem were moved.

21:15 <sup>1</sup> Such as should be masters of godliness, are they that do most envy the glory of Christ: but in vain.

21:16 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast made most perfect. We read in David, Thou hast established or grounded, and if the matter be considered well, it is all one that the Evangelist saith, for that is stable and sure, which is most perfect.

21:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ doth so forsake the wicked, that yet he hath a consideration and regard of his Church.

unto Bethany, and lodged there.

18 <sup>1</sup>And <sup>h</sup>in the morning, as he returned into the city, he was hungry.

19 And seeing a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said to it, Never fruit grow on thee henceforward. And anon the fig tree withered.

20 And when his disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered!

21 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus answered and said unto them, <sup>1</sup>Verily I say unto you, if ye have faith, and <sup>2</sup>doubt not, ye shall not only do that, which I have done to the fig tree, but also if ye say unto this mountain, Take thyself away, and cast thyself into the sea, it shall be done.

22 <sup>j</sup>And whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, if ye believe, ye shall receive it.

23 ¶ <sup>k,1</sup> And when he was come into the Temple, the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people came unto him, as he was teaching, and said, By what <sup>2</sup>authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, I also will ask of you <sup>1a</sup> a certain thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The <sup>1</sup>baptism of John, whence was it? from <sup>2</sup>heaven, or of men? Then they <sup>3</sup>reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we fear the multitude, for all hold John as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Jesus, and said, We can not tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 ¶ <sup>1</sup>But what think ye? A certain man had two sons, and came to the elder, and said, Son, go and work today in my vineyard.

29 But he answered, and said, I will not: yet afterward he repented himself, and went.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of the father? They said unto him, The first. Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the Publicans and the harlots <sup>1</sup>go before you into the kingdom of God.

32 For John came unto you in the <sup>1</sup>way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the Publicans and the harlots believed him, and ye though ye saw it, were not moved with repentance afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Hear another parable, There was a certain householder, <sup>2</sup>which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a winepress therein, and <sup>2b</sup>built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen to receive the fruits thereof.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again he sent other servants, more than the first: and they did the like unto them.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his own son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, <sup>1</sup>This is the heir: come, let us kill him, and let us <sup>1</sup>take his inheritance.

39 So they took him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?

41 They said unto him, He will <sup>1</sup>cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall deliver him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus said unto them, Read ye never in the Scriptures, <sup>o</sup>The stone which the <sup>1</sup>builders refused, 21:18 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites shall at length have their masks discovered, and their vizards plucked from their faces.

21:21 <sup>1</sup> How great the force of faith is.

<sup>2</sup> The Greek word signifieth a sticking or wavering of mind, so that we cannot tell which way to take.

21:23 <sup>1</sup> Against them which overstepping the doctrine, blind the calling and vocation to an ordinary succession going about by that false pretext, to stop Christ's mouth.

21:24 <sup>1</sup> One word, that is to say, I will ask you in one word.

21:25 <sup>1</sup> John his preaching is called by a figure, Baptism, because he preached the baptism of repentance, etc., Mark 1:4; Acts 19:3.

21:28 <sup>1</sup> It is no new thing to see them to be the worst of all men, which ought to show the way of godliness to others.

21:31 <sup>1</sup> They make haste to the kingdom of God, and you slack so that at least wise you should have followed their example. Mark then that this word (go before) is improperly taken in this place, whereas no man followeth.

21:32 <sup>1</sup> Living uprightly, being of a good and honest conversation: For the Hebrews use this word, Way, for life and manners.

21:33 <sup>1</sup> Those men oftentimes are the cruellest enemies of the Church, to whose fidelity it is committed: But the vocation of God, is neither tied to time, place, nor person.

21:38 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, let us hold it fast.

21:41 <sup>1</sup> A kind of proverb, showing what end the wicked are worthy of.

21:42 <sup>1</sup> Master builders, which are chief builders of the house, that is, of the Church.

the same is <sup>2</sup>made the <sup>3</sup>head of the corner? <sup>4</sup>This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and shall be given to a nation, which shall bring forth the <sup>1</sup>fruits thereof.

44 <sup>1</sup>And whosoever shall fall on this stone, he shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will <sup>1</sup>dash him in pieces.

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king which married his son,

3 And sent forth his servants, to call them that were bidden to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my fatlings are <sup>1</sup>killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, and another about his merchandise.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all that ever they found, both good and <sup>1</sup>bad: so the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 Then the king came in, to see the guests, and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

22:1 <sup>1</sup> Not all of the whole company of them that are called by the voice of the Gospel are the true Church before God: for the most part of them had rather follow the commodities of this life: and some do most cruelly persecute those that call them: but they are the true Church, which obey when they are called, such as for the most part they are, whom the world despiseth.

22:4 <sup>1</sup> The word here used is commonly used in sacrifices, and is by translation used for other feasts also: for feasts and banquets were wont to be begun with sacrifices.

23 ¶ <sup>f,1</sup>The same day the Sadducees came to him, (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, <sup>g</sup>Moses said, If a man die, having no <sup>1</sup>children, his brother shall marry his wife by the right of alliance, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now therefore were with us seven brethren, and the first married a wife, and deceased: and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

39 And the second is like unto this, <sup>k</sup>Thou shalt love thy <sup>1</sup>neighbor as thyself.

40 On these two commandments hangeth the whole Law and the Prophets.

41 ¶ <sup>l,1</sup>While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? <sup>1</sup>whose son is he? They said unto him, David's.

43 He said unto them, How then doth David in spirit, call him Lord, saying,

44 <sup>m</sup>The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

22:19 <sup>1</sup> Before Matt. 17:24 there is mention made of a didrachma, and here, of a penny, whereas a didrachma is more by the seventh part than a penny: so that there seemeth to be a jar in these two places: but they may easily be recorded thus: The penny was paid to the Romans for tribute according to the proportion they were rated at, the drachma was paid of everyone to the Temple, which also the Romans took to themselves when they had subdued Judea.

22:30 <sup>1</sup> He saith not that they shall be without bodies, for then they should not be men anymore, but they shall be as Angels, for they shall neither marry nor be married.

22:37 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew text readeth, Deut. 6:5, with thine heart, soul, and strength: and in Mark 12:30 and Luke 10:27 we read with soul, heart, strength and thought.

22:39 <sup>1</sup> Another man.

22:41 <sup>1</sup> Christ proveth manifestly that he is David's son according to the flesh, but otherwise, David's Lord, and very God.

22:42 <sup>1</sup> Or, whose stock or family: for the Hebrews call a man's posterity, sons.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> We ought to hear whatsoever any wicked teachers teach us purely out of the word of God, yet so that we eschew their evil manners.

<sup>2</sup> Because God appointed the order, therefore the Lord would have his word to be heard even from the mouth of hypocrites and hirelings.

3 <sup>1</sup>All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do: but after their works do not: for they say, and do not.

4 <sup>b,1</sup>For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders, but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 <sup>1</sup>All their works they do for to be seen of men: for they make their <sup>2</sup>phylacteries broad, and make long <sup>3</sup>the 'fringes of their garments,

16 Woe be unto you blind guides, which say, Whosoever sweareth by the Temple, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the gold of the Temple, he <sup>1</sup>offendeth.

18 And whosoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the offering that is upon it, offendeth.

19 Ye fools and blind, whether is greater, the offering, or the altar which sanctifieth the offering?

20 Whosoever therefore sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 <sup>1</sup>And whosoever sweareth by the Temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 <sup>1</sup>And he that sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the <sup>1</sup>throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 ¶ <sup>k,1</sup>Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye tithe mint, and anise, and cummin, and leave the weightier matters of the law, as judgment, and mercy and <sup>2</sup>fidelity. These ought ye to have done, and not to have left the other.

24 Ye blind guides, which strain out a gnat, and 23:3 <sup>1</sup> Provided always, that they deliver Moses his doctrine which they profess, which thing the Metaphor of the seat showeth, which they occupied as teachers of Moses his learning.

23:4 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites for the most part are most severe exactors of those things which they themselves chiefly neglect.

23:5 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites are ambitious.

<sup>2</sup> It was a thread, or ribbon of blue silk in the fringe of a corner, the beholding whereof made them to remember the laws and ordinances of God: and therefore was it called a Phylactery, as ye would say, a keeper, Num. 15:38; Deut. 6:8, which order the Jews afterward abused, as they do nowadays, which hang the St. John's Gospels about their necks: a thing condemned many years ago in the Council of Antioch.

23:6 <sup>1</sup> When assemblies and Councils are gathered together.

23:7 <sup>1</sup> This word Rabbi, signifieth one that is above his fellows, and is as good as a number of them: and we may see by the repeating of it, how proud a rule it was. Now they were called Rabbi, which by the laying on of hands were uttered and declared to the world to be wise men.

23:8 <sup>1</sup> Modesty is a singular ornament of God's ministers.

<sup>2</sup> Seek not ambitiously after it: for our Lord doth not forbid us to give the Magistrate and our Masters the honor that is due to them, Augustine de sermone verbi Domine ex, Matt. 11.

23:9 <sup>1</sup> He shooteth at a fashion which the Jews used, for they called the Rabbis, our fathers.

23:10 <sup>1</sup> It seemeth that the Scribes did very greedily hunt after such titles, whom verse 16 he calleth blind guides.

23:12 <sup>1</sup> He seemeth to allude to the name of the Rabbis, for Rabbi signifieth one that is aloft.

23:13 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites can abide none to be better than themselves.

<sup>2</sup> Christ when he reproveth any man sharply, uses this word, to give us to understand that there is nothing more detestable than hypocrisy and falsehood in religion.

23:14 <sup>1</sup> It is a common thing among hypocrites, to abuse the presence of zeal to covetousness and extortion.

<sup>2</sup> Word for word, under a color of long praying. And this word, Even, noteth a double naughtiness in them: the one, that they devoured widows' goods: the other, that they did it under a color of godliness.

23:15 <sup>1</sup> The dry part: now that part of that earth is called dry, which the Lord hath given us to dwell upon.

23:16 <sup>1</sup> Is a debtor. Sins are called in the Syrian tongue, Debts, and it is certain that Christ spake in the Syrian tongue.

23:17 <sup>1</sup> Causeth the gold to be counted holy, which is dedicated to an holy use.

23:22 <sup>1</sup> If heaven be God's throne, then he is no doubt above all this world.

23:23 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites are careful in trifles, and neglect the greatest things of purpose.

25 ¶<sup>1</sup> Woe be to you, <sup>1</sup>Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye make clean the utter side of the cup, and of the platter: but within they are full of bribery and excess.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are like unto whited tombs, which appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and all filthiness.

28 So are ye also: for outward ye appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 <sup>m-1</sup> Woe be unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye build the tombs of the Prophets, and garnish the sepulchers of the righteous,

30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partners with them in the blood of the Prophets.

31 So then ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them that murdered the Prophets.

32 <sup>1</sup> Fulfill ye also the measure of your fathers.

33 O serpents, the generation of vipers, how should ye escape the damnation of <sup>1</sup>hell!

34 <sup>1</sup> Wherefore behold, I send unto you Prophets, and wise men, and Scribes, and of them ye shall kill and crucify: and of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute from city to city,

35 <sup>1</sup> That upon you may come all the righteous blood that was shed upon the earth, <sup>m</sup>from the blood of Abel the righteous, unto the blood of Zechariah the son of <sup>2</sup>Berechiah, <sup>m</sup>whom ye slew between the Temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

1 And <sup>a</sup>Jesus went out, and departed from the Temple, and his disciples came to him, to show him the building of the Temple.

2 <sup>1</sup> And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, <sup>b</sup>there shall not be here left a stone upon a stone, that shall not be cast down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, his disciples came unto him apart, saying, Tell us when these things shall be, and what sign shall be of thy coming, and of the end of the world.

4 <sup>1</sup> And Jesus answered, and said unto them, <sup>c</sup>Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars, and rumors of wars: see that ye be not <sup>t</sup>troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the <sup>1</sup>end is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and realm against realm, and there shall be famine, and pestilence, and earthquakes in <sup>1</sup>divers places.

8 All these are but the beginning of <sup>1</sup>sorrows.

9 <sup>d</sup>Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated of all nations for my Name's sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall be increased, the love of many shall be cold.

23:25 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites are too much careful of outward things, and the inward they utterly contemn.

23:29 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites when they go most about to cover their wickedness, then do they by the just judgment of God, shame themselves.

23:32 <sup>1</sup> A proverb used of the Jews, which hath this meaning, Go ye on also and follow your ancestors, that at length your wickedness may come to the full.

23:33 <sup>1</sup> See also Matt. 5:22.

23:37 <sup>1</sup> Where the mercy of God was greatest, there was greatest wickedness and rebellion, and at length the most sharp judgments of God.

<sup>2</sup> He speaketh of the outward ministry, and as he was promised for the saving of this people, so was he also careful for it, even from the time that the promise was made to Abraham.

24:2 <sup>1</sup> The destruction of the city, and especially of the Temple is foretold.

24:4 <sup>1</sup> The Church shall have a continual conflict with infinite miseries and offences, and that more is, with false prophets, until the day of victory and triumph cometh.

24:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, when those things are fulfilled, yet the end shall not come.

24:7 <sup>1</sup> Everywhere.

24:8 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, of great torments, like unto women in travail.

13 <sup>c1</sup>But he that endureth to the end, he shall be saved.

14 And this <sup>1</sup>Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached through the whole <sup>2</sup>world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come.

15 ¶<sup>1</sup>When ye<sup>f</sup>therefore shall see the <sup>2</sup>abomination of desolation spoken of by <sup>8</sup>Daniel the Prophet, set in the holy place (let him that readeth consider it.)

16 Then let them which be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

17 Let him which is on the housetop, not come down to fetch anything out of his house.

18 And he that is in the field, let not him return back to fetch his <sup>1</sup>clothes.

19 And woe shall be to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days.

20 But pray that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the <sup>b1</sup>Sabbath day.

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world to this time, nor shall be.

28 <sup>j1</sup>For wheresoever a dead <sup>2</sup>carcass is, thither will the Eagles be gathered together.

29 <sup>k1</sup>And immediately after the tribulations of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

24:15 <sup>1</sup> The Kingdom of Christ shall not be abolished when the city of Jerusalem is utterly destroyed, but shall be stretched out even to the end of the world.

<sup>2</sup> The abomination of desolation, that is to say, which all men detest and cannot abide, by reason of the foul and shameful filthiness of it: and he speaketh of the idols that were set up in the Temple, or as others think, he meant the morning of the doctrine in the Church.

24:18 <sup>1</sup> This betokeneth the great fear that shall be.

24:20 <sup>1</sup> It was not lawful to take a journey on the Sabbath day; Josephus, book 13.

24:22 <sup>1</sup> Those things which befell the people of the Jews, in the 34 years, when as the whole land was wasted, and at length the city of Jerusalem taken, and both it and their Temple destroyed, are mixed with those which shall come to pass before the last coming of our Lord.

<sup>2</sup> The whole nation should utterly be destroyed: and this word Flesh is by a figure taken for man, as the Hebrews used to speak.

24:24 <sup>1</sup> Shall openly lay forth great signs for men to behold.

24:28 <sup>1</sup> The only remedy against the furious rage of the world, is to be gathered and joined to Christ.

<sup>2</sup> Christ, who will come with speed and his presence will be with a majesty to whom all shall flock even as Eagles.

24:29 <sup>1</sup> Everlasting damnation shall be the end of the security of the wicked, and everlasting bliss, of the miseries of the godly.

24:30 <sup>1</sup> The exceeding glory and majesty, which shall bear witness, that Christ the Lord of heaven and earth draweth near to judge the world.

<sup>2</sup> All nations: and he alludeth to the dispersion which we read of, Gen. 10 and 11, or to the dividing of the people of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> They shall be in such sorrow, that they shall strike themselves: and it is transferred to the mourning.

24:31 <sup>1</sup> From the four quarters of the world.

24:32 <sup>1</sup> If God hath prescribed a certain order to nature, much more hath he done so to his eternal judgments, but the wicked understand it not, or rather make a mock at it: but the godly do mark it, and wait for it.

<sup>2</sup> When his tenderness showeth that the sap which is the life of the tree, is come from the root into the bark.

24:34 <sup>1</sup> This age: this word generation or Age, being used for the men of this age.

24:35 <sup>1</sup> The Lord doth now begin the judgment, which he will make an end of in the latter day.

24:36 <sup>1</sup> It is sufficient for us to know that God hath appointed a latter day for the restoring of all things, but when it shall be, it is hidden from us all, for our profit, that we may be so much the more watchful, that we be not taken as they were in old time in the flood.

37 But as the days of Noah were, so likewise shall the coming of the Son of man be.

38 <sup>o</sup>For as in the days before the flood, they did <sup>1</sup>eat and drink, marry, and give in marriage, unto the day that Noah entered into the Ark, 41 <sup>1</sup>Two women shall be grinding at the mill: the one shall be received, and the other shall be refused.

42 <sup>q1</sup>Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your master will come.

43 <sup>o</sup>Of this be sure, that if the good man of the house knew at what watch the thief would come, he would surely watch, and not suffer his house to be dug through.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in the hour that ye think not, will the Son of man come.

45 <sup>o</sup>Who then is a faithful servant and wise, whom his master hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in season?

46 Blessed is that servant, whom his master when he cometh, shall find so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My master doth defer his coming,

49 And begin to smite his fellows, and to eat, and to drink with the drunken,

50 That servant's master will come in a day, when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

2 And five of them were wise, and five foolish.

3 The foolish took their lamps, but took no oil with them.

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 Now while the bridegroom tarried long, all <sup>1</sup>slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh: go out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, Give us of your oil, for our lamps are out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so, lest there will not be enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came: and they that were ready, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

24:38 <sup>1</sup> The word which the Evangelist useth, expresseth the matter more fully than ours doth: for it is a word which is proper to brute beasts: and his meaning is, that in those days men shall be given to their bellies like unto brute beasts: for otherwise it is no fault to eat and drink.

24:40 <sup>1</sup> Against them that persuade themselves that God will be merciful to all men, and do by that means give over themselves to sin, that they may in the meanwhile live in pleasure void of all care.

24:41 <sup>1</sup> The Greek women and the Barbarians did grind and bake. (Plutarch, book Problem)

24:42 <sup>1</sup> An example of the horrible carelessness of men in those things whereof they ought to be most careful.

24:51 <sup>1</sup> To wit, from the rest, or will cut him into two parts, which was a most cruel kind of punishment, wherewith as Justin Martyr witnesseth, Isaiah the Prophet was executed by the Jews: the like kind of punishment we read of, 1 Sam. 15:33 and Dan. 3:29.

25:1 <sup>1</sup> We must desire strength at God's hand, which may serve us as a torch while we walk through this darkness, to bring us to our desired end: otherwise if we become slothful and negligent as weary of our pains and travail, we shall be shut out of the doors.

<sup>2</sup> The pomp of bridals was wont for the most part to be kept in the night seasons, and that by damsels.

25:5 <sup>1</sup> Their eyes being heavy with sleep.

25:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ witnesseth that there shall be a long time between his departure to his father, and his coming again to us, but yet notwithstanding that, he will at that day take an account not only of the rebellious and obstinate, how they have bestowed that which they received of him, but also of his household servants, which have not through slothfulness employed those gifts which he bestowed upon them.

25:15 <sup>1</sup> According to the wisdom and skill in dealing, which was given them.

five talents.

17 Likewise also he that received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that received that one, went and dug it in the earth, and hid his master's money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those servants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came he that had received five talents, and brought other five talents, saying, Master, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained with them other five talents.

21 Then his master said unto him, It is well done good servant and faithful, Thou hast been faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: <sup>1</sup>enter into thy master's joy.

22 Also he that had received two talents, came, and said, Master, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents more.

23 His master said unto him, It is well done good servant, and faithful, Thou hast been faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter into thy master's joy.

24 Then he that had received the one talent, came, and said, Master, I knew that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not:

25 I was therefore afraid, and went, and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine own.

26 And his master answered, and said unto him, Thou evil servant, and slothful, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I strawed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the <sup>1</sup>exchangers, and then at my coming should I have received mine own with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 <sup>4</sup>For unto every man that hath, it shall be given, and he shall have abundance, and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away.

30 Cast therefore that unprofitable servant into utter <sup>4</sup>darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And when the Son of man cometh in his glory and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory,

Luke 22:1

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, and the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the king say to them on his right hand, Come ye <sup>1</sup>blessed of my father: take the inheritance of the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 <sup>4</sup>For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I thirsted, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in unto you.

36 I was naked, and ye clothed me: I was <sup>4</sup>sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, and fed thee? or athirst, and gave thee drink?

38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in unto us? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?

40 And the king shall answer, and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it to me.

41 Then shall he say to them on the left hand, <sup>8</sup>Depart from me ye cursed, into everlasting fire, which is prepared for the devil and his angels.

42 For I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I thirsted, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in unto you: I was naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, and say, Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 <sup>b</sup>And these shall go into everlasting pain, and the righteous into life eternal.

1 And <sup>a</sup>it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

25:21 <sup>1</sup> Come, and receive the fruit of goodness, now the Lord's joy is doubled, John 15:11, that my joy may remain in you, and your joy be fulfilled.

2 <sup>1</sup>Ye know that after two days is the Passover, and the Son of man shall be delivered to be crucified.

3 <sup>b</sup>Then assembled together the chief Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hall of the high Priest called Caiaphas:

4 And consulted together that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the <sup>1</sup>feast day, lest any uproar be among the people.

6 ¶ <sup>c,1</sup>And when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 <sup>1</sup>There came unto him a woman, which had a <sup>2</sup>box of very costly ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at the table.

8 And when his <sup>1</sup>disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, What needed this <sup>2</sup>waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and been given to the poor.

10 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus knowing it, said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 <sup>d,1</sup>For ye have the poor always with you, but me shall ye not have always.

12 For <sup>1</sup>in that she poured this ointment on my body, she did it to bury me.

17 ¶ <sup>f,1</sup>Now <sup>2</sup>on the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the Passover?

18 And he said, Go ye into the city to such a man, and say to him, The master saith, My time is at hand: I will keep the Passover at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had given them charge, and made ready the Passover.

20 <sup>g</sup>So when the even was come, he <sup>1</sup>sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, <sup>h</sup>Verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

23 And he answered and said, <sup>i</sup>He that <sup>1</sup>dippeth his hand with me in the dish, he shall betray me.

24 Surely the Son of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe be to that man, by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had never been born.

25 Then Judas <sup>1</sup>which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, master? He said unto him, Thou hast said it.

26 ¶ <sup>j,1</sup>And as they did eat, Jesus took the bread,

26:2 <sup>1</sup> God himself and not men, appointed the time that Christ should be crucified in.

26:5 <sup>1</sup> By the word Feast, is meant the whole feast of unleavened bread: the first and eighth day whereof were so holy, that they might do no manner of work therein, though the whole company of the Sanhedrin determined otherwise: And yet it came to pass through God's providence, that Christ suffered at that time, to the end that all the people of Israel might be witnesses of his everlasting sacrifice.

26:6 <sup>1</sup> By this sudden work of a sinful woman, Christ giveth the guests to understand of his death and burial which was nigh: the favor whereof shall bring life to all sinners which flee unto him. But Judas taketh an occasion hereby to accomplish his wicked purpose and counsel.

26:7 <sup>1</sup> For these things were done before Christ came to Jerusalem: and yet some think that the Evangelists recite two histories.

26:8 <sup>1</sup> This is a figure called Synecdoche: for it is said but of Judas that he was moved thereat, John 12:4.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> We ought not rashly to condemn that which is not orderly done.

26:11 <sup>1</sup> Christ, who was once anointed in his own person, must always be anointed in the poor.

26:12 <sup>1</sup> In that she poured this ointment upon my body, she did it to bury me.

26:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ verily purposing to bring us into our country out of hand, and so to abrogate the figure of the Law, fulfilleth the Law, neglecting the contrary tradition and custom of the Jews, and there withall showeth that all things shall so come to pass by the ministry of men, that the secret counsel of God shall govern them.

<sup>2</sup> This was the fourteenth day of the first month: and the first day of unleavened bread should have been the fifteenth, but because this day's evening (which after the manner of the Romans was referred to the day before) did belong by the Jews' manner to the day following, therefore it is called the first day of unleavened bread.

26:20 <sup>1</sup> Because the Law appointed them to be shod, and have their staffs in their hands, as though they were in haste, thereby it is to be gathered that they sat not down when they did eat the Passover, but stood, for otherwise when they went to meat, they put off their shoes: therefore he speaketh here in this place, not of the Passover, but of the Supper, which was celebrated after that the Passover was solemnly done.

26:23 <sup>1</sup> That is to say, whom I vouchsafed to come to my table, alluding to the place, Ps. 41:9, which is not so to be understood, as though at the selfsame instant that the Lord spake these words, Judas had had his hand in the dish (for that had been an undoubted token) but it is meant of his tabling and eating with them.

26:25 <sup>1</sup> Whose head was about nothing then but to betray him.

26:26 <sup>1</sup> Christ minding forthwith to fulfill the promises of the old covenant, instituteth a new covenant with new figures.

and when he had <sup>2</sup>blessed, he brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat: <sup>3</sup>this is my body.

27 Also he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it them, saying, Drink ye <sup>1</sup>all of it.

28 <sup>1</sup>For this is my blood of the <sup>2</sup>new Testament that is shed for many, for the remission of sins.

29 I say unto you that I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine until that day, when I shall drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 And when they had sung <sup>1</sup>a Psalm, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 ¶ <sup>1,k</sup>Then said Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I <sup>1</sup>will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered.

32 But <sup>m</sup>after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

33 But Peter answered, and said unto him, Though that all men should be offended by thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 <sup>n</sup>Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Peter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, I will in no case deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ <sup>o,1</sup>Then went Jesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, and said unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go, and pray yonder.

37 And he took unto him Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to wax sorrowful, and <sup>1</sup>grievously troubled.

38 <sup>1</sup>Then said Jesus unto them, My soul is very heavy, even unto the death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.

39 So he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, <sup>1</sup>let this <sup>2</sup>cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 <sup>1</sup>After, he came unto the disciples, and found them asleep, and said to Peter, What? could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 Watch, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

42 Again he went away the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup cannot pass away from me, but that I must drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy.

44 So he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then came he to his disciples, and said unto them, Sleep henceforth, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is given into the hands of sinners.

46 <sup>1</sup>Rise, let us go: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 <sup>p</sup>And while he yet spake, lo, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, <sup>1</sup>from the high Priests and Elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he, lay hold on him.

49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, God save thee, Master, and kissed him.

<sup>2</sup> Mark saith, Had given thanks: and therefore blessing is not a consecrating, with a conjuring kind of murmuring and force of words: and yet the bread and the wine are changed, not in nature, but in quality, for they become undoubted tokens of the body and blood of Christ, not of their own nature or force of words, but by Christ his institution, which must be recited and laid forth, that faith may find what to lay hold on, both in the word and in the elements.

<sup>3</sup> This is a figurative speech, which is called Metonymy: that is to say, the putting of one name for another—so calling the bread his body, which is the sign and sacrament of his body: and yet notwithstanding, it is so a figurative and changed kind of speech, that the faithful do receive Christ indeed with all his gifts (though by a spiritual means) and become one with him.

26:27 <sup>1</sup> Therefore they which took away the cup from the people, did against Christ his institution.

26:28 <sup>1</sup> To wit, this cup or wine, is my blood Sacramentally, as Luke 22:20.

<sup>2</sup> Or covenant, that is to say, whereby the new league and covenant is made, for in making of leagues, they used pouring of wine, and shedding of blood.

26:30 <sup>1</sup> When they had made an end of their solemn singing, which some think was six Psalms, beginning at Ps. 112 to 117.

26:31 <sup>1</sup> Christ being more careful of his disciples, than of himself, forewarneth them of their flight, and putteth them in better comfort.

26:36 <sup>1</sup> Christ having regard to the weakness of his disciples, leaving all the rest in safety, taketh with him but three to be witnesses of his anguish, and goeth of purpose into the place appointed to betray him in.

26:37 <sup>1</sup> The word which he useth, signifieth great sorrow, and marvelous and deadly grief: which thing, as it betokeneth the truth of man's nature, which shunneeth death as a thing that entered in against nature, so it sheweth that though Christ were void of sin, yet he sustained this horrible punishment, because he felt the wrath of God kindled against us for sins, which he revenged and punished in his person.

26:38 <sup>1</sup> Christ a true man, going about to suffer the punishment which was due unto us, for forsaking of God is forsaken of his own: he hath a terrible conflict with the horror and fear of the curse of God: out of which he escaping as a conqueror, causeth us not to be afraid anymore of death.

26:39 <sup>1</sup> Let it pass me, and not touch me.

<sup>2</sup> That is, which is at hand, and is offered and prepared for me: a kind of speech which the Hebrews use, for the wrath of God, and the punishment he sendeth. See also Matt. 20:22.

26:40 <sup>1</sup> An example of the carelessness of man.

26:46 <sup>1</sup> Christ offereth himself willingly to be taken, that in so obeying willingly, he might make satisfaction for the willful fall of man.

26:47 <sup>1</sup> Sent from the high Priests.

50 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus said unto him, <sup>2</sup>Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high Priest, and smote off his ear.

52 <sup>1</sup>Then said Jesus unto him, Put up thy sword into his place: <sup>4</sup>for all that <sup>2</sup>take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 <sup>1</sup>Either thinkest thou, that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he will give me more than twelve legions of Angels?

54 <sup>1</sup>How then should the <sup>2</sup>Scriptures be fulfilled, which say, that it must be so?

55 The same hour said Jesus to the multitude, Ye be come out as it were against a thief, with swords and staves to take me: I sat daily teaching in the Temple among you, and ye took me not.

56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. <sup>4</sup>Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And they took Jesus, and led him to <sup>2</sup>Caiaphas the high Priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 And Peter followed him afar off unto the high Priest's <sup>1</sup>hall, and went in and sat with the servants to see the end.

59 Now <sup>4</sup>the chief Priests and the Elders, and all the whole Council sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death.

60 But they found none, and though many false witnesses came, yet found they none: but at the last came two false witnesses,

61 And said, This man said, <sup>1</sup>I can destroy the Temple of God, and build it in three days.

62 Then the chief Priest arose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing? <sup>1</sup>What is the matter that these men witness against thee?

63 But Jesus held his peace. Then the chief Priest answered, and said to him, I charge thee swear unto us by the living God, to tell us, If thou be that Christ the son of God, or no.

65 Then the high Priest <sup>1</sup>rent his clothes, saying, He hath blasphemed, what have we any more need of witnesses: behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 What think ye? They answered, and said, He is guilty of death.

67 <sup>1</sup>Then spat they in his face, and buffeted him, and others smote him with rods,

68 Saying, Prophecy to us, O Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

69 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Peter <sup>2</sup>sat without in the hall, and a maid came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee:

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I wot not what thou sayest.

71 And when he went out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This man was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, saying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while, came unto him they that stood by, and said unto Peter, Surely thou art also one of them: for even thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to <sup>1</sup>curse himself, and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75 Then Peter remembered the words of Jesus, which had said unto him, Before the cock crow thou shalt deny me thrice. So he went out, and wept bitterly.

26:50 <sup>1</sup> Christ is taken that we might be delivered.
<sup>2</sup> Christ reprehendeth Judas tauntingly, and rebuketh him sharply, for he knew well enough for what cause he came.
26:52 <sup>1</sup> Our vocation must be the rule of our zeal.
<sup>2</sup> They take the sword to whom the Lord hath not given it, that is to say, they which use the sword, and are not called to it.
26:53 <sup>1</sup> Christ was taken, because he was willing to be taken.
26:54 <sup>1</sup> By this questioning he answereth a sly objection, for they might have asked him why he did not in this his great extremity of danger, call to his Father for aid: but to this he answereth by a question.
26:57 <sup>1</sup> Christ being innocent is condemned of the high Priest for that wickedness whereof we are guilty.
26:58 <sup>1</sup> The word here used, signifieth properly an open large room before an house, as we see in Kings' palaces and noble men's houses: we call it a court, for it is open to the air, and by a figure Synecdoche is taken for the house itself.

26:62 <sup>1</sup> How cometh it to pass that these men witness against thee?
26:64 <sup>1</sup> This word distinguisheth his first coming from the latter.
26:65 <sup>1</sup> This was an usual matter among the Jews: for so were they bound to do, when they heard any Israelite to blaspheme God, and it was a tradition of their Talmud in the book of the Magistrates, in the title, of the four kinds of death.
26:69 <sup>1</sup> Peter by the wonderful providence of God appointed to be a witness of all these things, is prepared to the example of singular constancy, by the experience of his own incredulity.
<sup>2</sup> That is, without the place where the Bishop sat, but not without the house, for afterward he went from thence into the porch.
26:74 <sup>1</sup> He swore and cursed himself.

1 When the "morning was come, all the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, to put him to death.

2 And led him away bound, and delivered him unto Pontius Pilate the governor.

3 ¶<sup>1</sup>Then when Judas which betrayed him, saw that he was condemned, he repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief Priests, and Elders,

4 Saying, I have sinned, betraying the innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? see thou to it.

5 And when he had cast down the silver pieces in the Temple, he <sup>1</sup>departed, and went, <sup>2</sup>and hanged himself.

6 And the chief Priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for us to put them into the <sup>1</sup>treasure, because it is the price <sup>2</sup>of blood.

7 And they took counsel, and bought with them a potter's field, for the burial of <sup>1</sup>strangers.

8 Wherefore that field is called, <sup>1</sup>The field of blood, until this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by <sup>1</sup>Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, <sup>2</sup>And they took thirty silver pieces, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel valued.

10 And they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 ¶<sup>1</sup>And Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou that King of the Jews? Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest it.

12 And when he was accused of the chief Priests, and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee?

14 But he answered him not to one word, insomuch that the governor marveled greatly.

15 <sup>1</sup>Now at the feast the governor was wont to deliver unto the people a prisoner whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner called Barabbas.

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whether will ye that I let loose unto you Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 (For he knew well, that for envy they had delivered him.

19 Also when he was set down upon the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream by reason of him.)

20 <sup>1</sup>But the chief Priests and the elders had persuaded the people that they should ask Barabbas, and should destroy Jesus.

21 Then the governor answered, and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I let loose unto you? And they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.

23 Then said the governor, But what evil hath he done? Then they cried the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 <sup>1</sup>When Pilate saw that he availed nothing, but that more tumult was made, he took water and <sup>2</sup>washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the <sup>3</sup>blood of this just man: look you to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, <sup>1</sup>His blood be on us, and on our children.

26 Thus let he Barabbas loose unto them, and scourged Jesus, and delivered him to be crucified.

27 ¶<sup>1</sup>Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered about him the whole band,

28 <sup>1</sup>And they stripped him, and <sup>2</sup>put about him a <sup>3</sup>scarlet robe,

29 And platted a crown of thorns, and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying, God save thee, King of the Jews,

27:3 <sup>1</sup> An example of the horrible judgment of God, as well against them which sell Christ, as against them which buy Christ.

27:5 <sup>1</sup> Out of men's sights.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> The treasury of the Temple.

27:7 <sup>1</sup> Strangers and guests, whom the Jews could not abide to be joined unto, no not after they were dead.

27:9 <sup>1</sup> Seeing this prophecy is read in Zech. 11:12, it cannot be denied, but Jeremiah's name crept into the text, either through the Printer's fault, or some other's ignorance: it may be also that it came out of the margin, by reason of the abbreviation of the letters, the one being iou, and the other zou, which are not much unlike: but in the Syrian text the Prophet's name is not set down at all.

<sup>2</sup> The Evangelist doth not follow the Prophet's words, but his meaning, which he showeth to be fulfilled.

27:11 <sup>1</sup> Christ holdeth his peace when he is accused, that we may not be accused: acknowledging our guiltiness, and therewithall his own innocence.

27:15 <sup>1</sup> Christ is first quitted of the same Judge, before he be condemned, that we might see how the just died for the unjust.

27:24 <sup>1</sup> Christ being quit by the testimony of the Judge himself, is notwithstanding condemned by the same to quit us before God.

<sup>2</sup> It was a manner in old time, when any man was murdered, and in other slaughters, to wash their hands in water, to declare themselves guiltless.

27:25 <sup>1</sup> If there be any offence committed in slaying him, let us and our posterity smart for it.

27:28 <sup>1</sup> Christ suffereth that reproach which was due to our sins; notwithstanding in the meantime by the secret providence of God, he is entitled King by them which did him that reproach.

<sup>3</sup> John and Mark make mention of a purple robe, which is also a very pleasant red. But these profane and malapert saucy soldiers clad Jesus in this array, to mock him withall, who was indeed a true King.

30 And spitted upon him, and took a reed, and smote him on the head.

31 Thus when they had mocked him, they took the robe from him, and put his own raiment on him, and let him away to crucify him.

32 <sup>b</sup>And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they <sup>1</sup>compelled to bear his cross.

33 <sup>i1</sup>And when they came unto the place called Golgotha (that is to say, the place of dead men's skulls)

34 <sup>1</sup>They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet,<sup>j</sup>They divided my garments among them, and upon my vesture did cast lots.

36 And they sat and watched him there.

37 ¶ <sup>1</sup>They set up also over his head his cause written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And there were two thieves crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 <sup>1</sup>And they that passed by, reviled him, wagging their heads, 40 And saying,<sup>k</sup>Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the high Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharisees, said, 42 He saved others, but he cannot save himself: if he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe in him.

43 <sup>1</sup>He trusted in God, let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 The self same thing also the <sup>1</sup>thieves which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 <sup>1</sup>Now from the sixth hour was there darkness over all the land, unto the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with loud voice, saying, <sup>m</sup>Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, why hast thou <sup>l</sup>forsaken me?

47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth <sup>1</sup>Elijah.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and took <sup>n</sup>a sponge and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 Others said, Let be: let us see if Elijah will come and save him.

50 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and yielded up the ghost.

51 <sup>1</sup>And behold, <sup>o</sup>the <sup>2</sup>veil of the Temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the stones were cloven.

52 And the <sup>1</sup>graves did open themselves, and many bodies of the Saints, which slept, arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 When the Centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earth quake, and the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 ¶ And many women were there, beholding him afar off, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him.

56 Among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

57 ¶ <sup>1p</sup>And when the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who had also himself been Jesus' disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and asked the body of Jesus.

27:32 <sup>1</sup> They compelled Simon to bear his burdensome cross, whereby it appeareth that Jesus was so sore handled before, that he fainted by the way, and was not able to bear his cross throughout: for John writeth that he did bear the cross, to wit, at the beginning.

27:33 <sup>1</sup> He is led out of the city, that we may be brought into the heavenly kingdom.

27:34 <sup>1</sup> Christ found no comfort anywhere, that in him we might be filled with all comfort.

27:35 <sup>1</sup> He is made a curse, that in him we may be blessed: he is spoiled of his garments, that we might be enriched by his nakedness.

27:37 <sup>1</sup> He is pronounced the true Messiah, even of them of whom he is rejected.

27:38 <sup>1</sup> Christ began then to judge the world, when after his judgment he hung betwixt two thieves.

27:39 <sup>1</sup> To make full satisfaction for us, Christ suffereth and overcometh, not only the torments of the body, but also the most horrible torments of the mind.

27:44 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken by the figure Synecdoche, for there was but one of them that did revile him.

27:45 <sup>1</sup> Heaven itself is darkened for very horror, and Jesus crieth out from the depth of hell, and in the meanwhile he is mocked.

27:46 <sup>1</sup> To wit, in this misery: and this crying out is proper to his humanity, which notwithstanding was void of sin, but yet felt the wrath of God which is due to our sins.

27:47 <sup>1</sup> They allude to Elijah's name, not for want of understanding the tongue, but of a profane impudence and sauciness, and he repeated these words, to the end that this better harping upon the name might be understood.

27:50 <sup>1</sup> Christ after he had overcome other enemies, at length provoked and setteth upon death itself.

27:51 <sup>1</sup> Christ, when he is dead, showeth himself to be God almighty, even his enemies confessing the same.

27:52 <sup>1</sup> That is to say, the stones clave asunder, and the graves did open themselves, to show by this token, that death was overcome: and the resurrection of the dead followed the resurrection of Christ, as appeareth by the next verse following.

27:57 <sup>1</sup> Christ is buried, not privately or by stealth, but by the governor's consent by a famous man, in a place not far distant, in a new sepulcher, so that it cannot be doubted of his death.

Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 So Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,

60 And put it in his new tomb, which he had hewn out in a rock, and rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulcher, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulcher.

62 ¶<sup>1</sup>Now the next day that followed the Preparation of the Sabbath, the high Priests and Pharisees assembled to Pilate, 63 And said, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, Within three days I will rise.

64 Command therefore, that the sepulcher be made sure until the third day, lest his Disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so shall the last error be worse than the first.

65 Then Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch: go, and make it sure, as ye know.

66 And they went, and made the sepulcher sure, with the watch, and sealed the stone.

1 Now <sup>4</sup>in <sup>1</sup>the <sup>2</sup>end of the Sabbath, when the first day of the week <sup>3</sup>began to dawn, Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, came to see the sepulcher.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 And his <sup>1</sup>countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for fear of him, the keepers were astonished, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and said to the women, Fear <sup>1</sup>ye not: for I know that ye seek Jesus which was crucified:

6 He is not here, for he is risen, as he said: come, see the place where the Lord was laid,

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee: there ye shall see him: lo, I have told you.

8 So they departed quickly from the sepulcher, with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 <sup>1</sup>And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus also met them, saying, God save you. And they came, and took him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid. Go, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶<sup>1</sup>Now when they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and showed unto the high Priests all the things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and took counsel, and gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this matter <sup>1</sup>come before the governor to be heard, we will persuade him, and so use the matter that you shall not need to care,

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is noised among the Jews unto this day.

16 ¶<sup>1</sup>Then the eleven disciples went into Galilee, into a mountain, where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Jesus came, and spake unto them, saying, <sup>b</sup>All power is given unto me, in heaven, and in earth.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO MARK

5 And all the country of Judea, and they of Jerusalem went out unto him, and were all baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, and was tempted of Satan: he was also with the wild beasts, and the Angels ministered unto him.

14 ¶ <sup>i</sup>Now after that John was committed to prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the Gospel of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent and believe the Gospel.

16 ¶ <sup>j</sup>And as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers.)

17 Then Jesus said unto them, Follow me, and I will make you to be fishers of men.

19 <sup>1</sup>And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20 And anon he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with his hired servants, and went their way after him.

21 ¶ So <sup>k</sup>they entered into <sup>1</sup>Capernaum: and straightway on the Sabbath day he entered into the Synagogue, and taught.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> John goeth before Christ, as it was forespoken by the Prophets.

<sup>3</sup> The Prophet useth the present tense, when he speaketh of a thing to come, being as a sure of it, as if he saw it.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> The sum of John's doctrine, or rather Christ's, is remission of sins and amendment of life.

<sup>2</sup> The Jews used many kinds of washings: but here is spoken of a peculiar kind of washing, which hath all the parts of true baptism, amendment of life, and forgiveness of sins.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> John and all ministers cast their eyes upon Christ the Lord.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all the force of baptism proceedeth from Christ, who baptizeth within.

23 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And there was in their Synagogue a man <sup>2</sup>in whom was an unclean spirit, and he cried out,

24 Saying, Ah, what have we to do with thee, O <sup>1</sup>Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee what thou art, even thou <sup>2</sup>holy one of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the unclean spirit <sup>1</sup>tare him, and cried with a loud voice, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded <sup>1</sup>one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he <sup>2</sup>commandeth even the foul spirits with authority, and they obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region <sup>1</sup>bordering on Galilee.

29 ¶ <sup>m.1</sup>And as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 And Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they told him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up, and the fever forsook her by and by, and she ministered unto them.

32 And when even was come, at what time the Sun setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And the whole city was gathered together at the door.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases: and he cast out many devils, and <sup>1</sup>suffered not the devils to say that they knew him.

39 And he preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast the devils out.

40 ¶ <sup>m.1</sup>And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeled down unto him, and said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus had compassion, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean.

43 And after he had given him a straight commandment, he sent him away forthwith,

44 <sup>1</sup>And said unto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and show thyself to the <sup>a.2</sup>Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimonial unto them.

45 But when he was departed, <sup>b</sup>he began to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

8 And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit, that thus they reasoned with themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know, that the Son of man hath authority in earth to forgive sins, he said unto the sick of the palsy, 21 Also no man soweth a piece of new cloth in an old garment: for else the new piece that filled it up, taketh away somewhat from the old, and the breach is worse.

22 Likewise, no man putteth new wine into old vessels: for else the new wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost; but new wine must be put into new vessels.

23 ¶<sup>1</sup>And it came to pass as he went through the corn on the <sup>2</sup>Sabbath day, that his disciples, as they went on their way, began to pluck the ears of corn.

2:23 <sup>1</sup> Secondly, for that they make no difference between the laws which God made concerning the same things, and laws that are made of things which are utterly unlawful.

4 And he said to them, Is it lawful to do a good deed on the Sabbath day, or to do evil? to save the <sup>1</sup>life, or to kill? but they held their peace.

5 Then he looked round about on them <sup>1</sup>angrily, mourning also for the <sup>2</sup>hardness of their hearts, and said to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored, as whole as the other.

2 And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 <sup>1</sup>Hearken: Behold, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to pass as he sowed, that some fell by the wayside, and the fowls of the heaven came, and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang up, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But as soon as the Sun was up, it was burnt up, and because it had not root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, so that it gave no fruit.

8 Some again fell in good ground, and did yield fruit that sprung up, and grew, and it brought forth, some thirtyfold, some sixtyfold, and some an hundredfold.

9 Then he said unto them, He that hath ears, to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was <sup>1</sup>alone, they that were <sup>2</sup>about him with the twelve, asked him of the parable.

11 And he said unto them, To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are <sup>1</sup>without, all things be done in parables,

12 <sup>1</sup>That they seeing, may see, and not discern: and they hearing, may hear, and not understand, lest at any time they should turn, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 Again he said unto them, Perceive ye not this parable? how then should ye understand all other parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they that receive the seed by the wayside, in whom the word is sown: but when they have heard it, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receive the seed in stony ground, are they, which when they have heard the word, straightway receive it with gladness.

17 Yet have they no root in themselves, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediately they be offended.

18 Also they that receive the seed among the thorns, are such as hear the word:

19 But the cares <sup>1</sup>of this world, and the <sup>1</sup>deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is unfruitful.

20 But they that have received seed in good ground, are they that hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit: one corn thirty, another sixty, and some an hundred.

21 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Also he said unto them, <sup>4</sup>Cometh the candle in, to be put under a bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put in a candlestick?

29 And as soon as the fruit showeth itself, anon he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶<sup>b,1</sup> He said moreover, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which when it is sown in the earth, is the least of all seeds that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sown, it groweth up, and is greatest of all herbs, and beareth great branches, so that the fowls of the heaven may build under the shadow of it.

33 And <sup>i</sup>with many such parables he preached the word unto them, <sup>1</sup>as they were able to hear it.

34 And without parables spake he nothing unto them: but he <sup>1</sup>expounded all things to his disciples apart.

39 And he arose up, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, and be still. So the wind ceased, and it was a great calm.

5 And always both night and day he cried in the mountains, and in the graves, and struck himself with stones.

6 And when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran, and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus the Son of the most High God? I <sup>1</sup>will that thou swear to me by God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he <sup>1</sup>prayed him instantly, that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there in the <sup>1</sup>mountains a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Jesus gave them leave. Then the unclean spirits went out and entered into the swine, and the herd ran headlong from the high bank into the <sup>1</sup>sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were choked up in the sea.

14 And the swineherds fled, and told it in the city, and in the country, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Jesus, and saw him that had been possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sit both clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it, told them, what was done to him that was possessed with the devil, and concerning the swine.

20 So he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, what great things Jesus had done unto him: and all men did marvel.

21 ¶ And when Jesus was come over again by ship unto the other side, a great multitude gathered together to him, and he was near unto the sea.

22 <sup>b</sup>And <sup>1</sup>behold, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Jairus: and when he saw him, he fell down at his feet,

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for she knew what was done in her, and she came and fell down before him, and told him the whole truth.

34 And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.)

38 So he came unto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And he went in, and said unto them, Why make ye this trouble, and weep? the child is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 <sup>1</sup>And they laughed him to scorn: but he put them all out, and took the father, and the mother of the child, and them <sup>2</sup>that were with him, and entered in where the child lay,

5 And he <sup>1</sup>could there do no great works, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6 And he marveled at their unbelief, <sup>c</sup>and went about by the towns on every side, teaching.

18 For John said unto Herod, <sup>k</sup>It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19 Therefore Herodias <sup>1</sup>laid wait against him: and would have killed him, but she could not:

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man, and an holy, and revered him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him <sup>1</sup>gladly.

21 But the time being convenient, when Herod on his birthday made a banquet to his princes and captains, and chief estates of Galilee:

22 And the daughter <sup>1</sup>of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat at table together, the King said unto the maid, Ask of me what thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

24 <sup>1</sup>So <sup>1</sup>she went forth, and said to her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, John Baptist's head.

25 Then she came in straightway with haste unto the King, and asked, saying, I would that thou shouldst give me even now in a charger the head of John Baptist.

26 Then the King was very sorry: yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat at table with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediately the King sent the <sup>1</sup>hangman, and gave charge that his head should be brought in. So he went and beheaded him in the prison, 33 But the people saw them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled unto him.

34 "Then Jesus went out, and saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheep which had no shepherd: <sup>p</sup>and he began to teach them many things.

46 Then as soon as he had sent <sup>1</sup>them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 "And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them troubled in rowing, (for the wind was contrary unto them) and about the fourth watch of the night, he came unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 And when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out.

50 For they all saw him, and were sore afraid: but anon he talked with them, and said unto them, Be ye of good comfort: it is I, be not afraid.

51 Then he went up unto them into the ship, and the wind ceased, and they were <sup>1</sup>much more amazed in themselves, and marveled.

52 For they had not <sup>1</sup>considered the matter of the loaves, because their hearts were hardened.

53 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And they came over, and went into the land of Gennesaret, and arrived.

54 <sup>1</sup>So when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,

55 And ran about throughout all that region round about, and began to carry hither and thither in couches all that were sick, where they heard that he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered into towns, or cities, or villages, they laid their sick in the streets, and prayed him that they might touch at the least the edge of his garment. And as many as touched <sup>1</sup>him, were made whole.

1 Then <sup>a</sup><sup>1</sup>gathered unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the Scribes which came from Jerusalem.

6:37 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that there is an horrible disorder among the people, where the true preaching of God's word wanteth.

6:39 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, by banquets, after the manner of the Hebrews, who have no distributives, as Mark 6:7. Now he calleth the rows of the sitters, banquets.

6:40 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth the beds in a garden, and it is word for word, by beds and beds, meaning thereby that they sat down in rows one by another, as beds in a garden.

6:45 <sup>1</sup> The faithful servants of God after their little labor, are subject to great tempest, which Christ doth so moderate being present in power, although absent in body, that he bringeth them to an happy haven, at such time and by such means, as they looked not for: A lively image of the Church tossed to and fro in this world.

6:46 <sup>1</sup> His disciples.

6:51 <sup>1</sup> They were so far from leaving to be amazed, when they knew that it was no spirit, that they were much more astonished than ever they were before, when they saw the wind and the seas obey his commandment.

6:52 <sup>1</sup> Either they perceived not, or had not well considered that miracle of the five loaves, insomuch that that virtue of Christ was no less strange to them, than if they had not been present at that miracle which was done but a little before.

6:54 <sup>1</sup> Christ being rejected in his own country, and arriving upon a sudden among them of whom he was not looked for, is received to their profit.

6:56 <sup>1</sup> Or, the hem of the garment.

7:1 <sup>1</sup> None do more resist the wisdom of God, than they that should be wisest, and that upon a zeal of their own traditions: for men do not please themselves more in anything than in superstition, that is to say, in a worship of God fondly devised of themselves.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples <sup>1</sup>eat meat with <sup>2</sup>common hands, (that is to say, unwashed) they complained.

3 (For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, <sup>1</sup>holding the traditions of the Elders.

4 And when they come from the <sup>1</sup>market, except they wash, they eat not: and many other things there be, which they have taken upon them to observe, as the washing of cups, and <sup>2</sup>pots, and of brazen vessels, and of beds.)

5 Then asked him the Pharisees and Scribes, Why <sup>1</sup>walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eat meat with unwashed hands?

6 <sup>1</sup>Then he answered and said unto them, Surely <sup>6</sup>Isaiah hath prophesied well of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoreth me with lips, but their heart is far away from me.

7 <sup>1</sup>But they worship me in vain, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 <sup>1</sup>For ye lay the Commandments of God apart, and observe the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and of cups, and many other such like things ye do.

9 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto them, Well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may observe your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, <sup>6</sup>Honor thy father and thy mother: and <sup>4</sup>Whosoever shall speak evil of father or mother, let him <sup>1</sup>die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, that is, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest have profit, he shall be free.

12 So ye suffer him no more to do anything for his father, or his mother.

13 Making the word of God of none authority, by your tradition which ye have ordained: and ye do many such like things.

15 There is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entereth into him: but the things which proceed out of him, are they which defile the man.

16 If any have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 And when he came into an house, away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he said unto them, What? are ye without understanding also? Do ye not know that whatsoever thing from without entereth into a man, cannot defile him, 19 Because it entered not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught which is the <sup>1</sup>purging of all meats?

20 Then he said, That which cometh out of man, that defileth man.

26 (And the woman was a <sup>1</sup>Greek, a <sup>2</sup>Syro-Phoenician by nation) and she besought him that he would cast out the devil out of her daughter.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> The more earnest the superstitious are, the more they are mad, in promising themselves God's favor by their deserts.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> The devices of superstitious men do not only not fulfill the Law of God (as they blasphemously persuade themselves) but also do

7:9 <sup>1</sup> True Religion, which is clean contrary to superstition, consisteth in spiritual worship: and all enemies of true Religion, although they seem to have taken deep root, shall be plucked up.

29 Then he said unto her, For this saying go thy way: the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come home to her house, she found the devil departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And he departed again from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, and came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of <sup>2</sup>Decapolis.

32 And they brought unto him one that was deaf and stammered in his speech, and prayed him to put his hand upon him.

33 Then he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his ears, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And he commanded them that they should tell no man: but how much soever he forbade them, the more a great deal they published it,

4 Then his disciples answered him, Whence can a man satisfy these with bread here in the wilderness?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 Then he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, brake them, and gave to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

10 So they <sup>1</sup>kept that matter to themselves, and <sup>2</sup>demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead again should mean.

11 <sup>1</sup>Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, that ‘Elijah must first come?

Apostles forsook all things for Christ's sake. 33 Christ fore-showeth his death. 35 Zebedee's sons' request. 46 Blind Bartimaeus healed.

1 And <sup>1</sup>he arose from thence, and went into the coasts of Judea by the far side of Jordan, and the people resorted unto him again, and as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 Then the Pharisees came and asked him, if it were lawful for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.

3 And he answered, and said unto them, What did <sup>b</sup>Moses command you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote this <sup>2</sup>precept unto you.

6 But at the beginning of the creation <sup>c</sup>God made them male and female:

7 <sup>d</sup>For this cause shall man leave his father and mother, and cleave unto his wife.

8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so that they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9 <sup>e</sup>Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let not man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of that matter.

11 And he said unto them, <sup>f</sup>whosoever shall put away his wife and marry another, commiteth adultery <sup>1</sup>against her.

12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be married to another, she commiteth adultery.

13 ¶<sup>g1</sup> Then they brought little children to him, that he should touch them, and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Jesus saw it, he was displeased, and said to them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God <sup>1</sup>as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he took them up in his arms, and put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

9:37 <sup>1</sup> He doth not only receive me, but also him that sent me.

9:38 <sup>1</sup> God who is the author of an ordinary vocation, worketh also extraordinarily so oft as it pleaseth him. But an extraordinary vocation is tried by the doctrine and the effects.

9:42 <sup>1</sup> God is so severe a revenger of offenses, that it is better to suffer any loss, than to be an occasion of offense unto any.

9:44 <sup>1</sup> Their worm which shall be cast into that flame.

9:49 <sup>1</sup> We must be seasoned and powdered by God, both that we may be acceptable sacrifices unto him: and also that we being knit together, may season one another.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> That is to say, departed and went from thence: for in the Hebrew tongue, sitting and dwelling are all one, and so are rising and going forth.

10:5 <sup>1</sup> God did never allow those divorces, which the Law did tolerate.

10:11 <sup>1</sup> Whom he putteth away, for he is an adulterer by keeping company with another.

10:13 <sup>1</sup> God of his goodness comprehendeth in the covenant not only the fathers, but the children also: and therefore he blesseth them.

10:15 <sup>1</sup> We must in malice become children, if we will enter into the kingdom of heaven.

17 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And when he was gone out on the way, there came one <sup>b</sup>running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do, that I may possess eternal life?

18 Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, even God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, <sup>r</sup>Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness. Thou shalt <sup>1</sup>hurt no man. Honor thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things have I observed from my youth.

21 And Jesus looked upon him, and loved him, and said unto him, One thing is lacking unto thee. Go and sell all that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, follow me, and take up the cross.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 And Jesus looked round about, and said unto his disciples, How hardly do they that have riches, enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And his disciples were afraid at his words. But Jesus answered again, and said unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 But Jesus looked upon them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ <sup>j</sup><sup>1</sup>Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have forsaken all, and have followed thee.

29 Jesus answered, and said, Verily I say unto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels,

30 But he shall receive an <sup>1</sup>hundredfold, now at this present, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands <sup>2</sup>with persecutions, and in the world to come, eternal life.

32 ¶ <sup>l</sup><sup>1</sup>And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus went before them, and they were troubled, and as they followed, they were afraid, and Jesus took the twelve again, and began to tell them what things should come unto him,

33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the high Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shall mock him, and scourge him, and spit upon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise again.

35 ¶ <sup>m</sup><sup>1</sup>Then James and John the sons of Zebedee came unto him, saying, Master, <sup>2</sup>we would that thou shouldest do for us that we desire.

36 And he said unto them, What would ye I should do for you?

37 And they said to him, Grant unto us, that we may sit, one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and be baptized with the baptism that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they said unto him, We can. But Jesus said unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of the cup that I shall drink of, and be baptized with the baptism wherewith I shall be baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hand and at my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdain at James and John.

42 <sup>1</sup>But Jesus called them unto him, and said to them, <sup>2</sup>Ye know that <sup>3</sup>they which are princes among the Gentiles, have domination over them, and they that be great among them, exercise authority over them.

43 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your servant.

44 And whosoever will be chief of you, shall be the servant of all.

45 For even the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life for the ransom of many.

10:17 <sup>1</sup> Two things are chiefly to be eschewed of them which earnestly seek eternal life: that is to say, an opinion of their merits or deservings, which is not only understood, but condemned by the due consideration of the Law: and the love of riches, which turneth aside many, from that race wherein they ran with a good courage.

10:19 <sup>1</sup> Neither by force nor deceit, nor any other means whatsoever.

10:28 <sup>1</sup> To neglect all things in comparison of Christ, is a sure way unto eternal life, so that we fall not away by the way.

10:30 <sup>1</sup> An hundredfold as much, if we look to the true use and commodities of this life, so that we measure them after the will of God, and not after the wealth itself, and our greedy desire.

10:32 <sup>1</sup> The disciples are again prepared to patience, not to be overcome by the foretelling unto them of his death, which was at hand, and therewithall of life which should most certainly follow.

10:35 <sup>1</sup> We must first strive, before we triumph.

10:42 <sup>1</sup> The Magistrates according to God's appointment, rule over their subjects: but the Pastors are not called to rule, but to serve, according to the example of the Son of God himself, who went before them, for so much as he also was a Minister of his Father's will.

46 ¶<sup>a,1</sup> Then they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, Bartimaeus the son of Timaeus, a blind man, sat by the wayside, begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry, and to say, Jesus the Son of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, because he should hold his peace: but he cried much more, O Son of David, have mercy on me.

49 Then Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blind, saying unto him, Be of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threw away his cloak, and rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered, and said unto him, What wilt thou that I do unto thee? And the blind said unto him, Lord, that I may receive sight.

52 Then Jesus said unto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath saved thee. And by and by he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

1 And <sup>a,1</sup> when they came near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany unto the mount of Olives, he sent forth two of his disciples,

2 And said unto them, Go your ways into that town that is over against you, and as soon as ye shall enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? Say that the Lord hath need of him, and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found a colt, tied by the door without, in a place where two ways met, and they loosed him.

5 Then certain of them, that stood there, said unto them, What do ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said unto them, as Jesus had commanded them: So they let them go.

7 ¶<sup>b</sup> And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sat upon him.

10 <sup>1</sup> Blessed be the kingdom that cometh in the Name of the Lord of our father David: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heavens.

11 <sup>c</sup> So Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the Temple: and when he had looked about on all things, and now it was evening, he went forth unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 <sup>d</sup> And on the morrow when they were come out from Bethany, he was hungry.

27 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then they came again to Jerusalem: and as he walked in the Temple, there came to him the high Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders,

28 And said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority, that thou shouldst do these things?

3 But they took him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again he sent another, and him they slew, and many others, beating some, and killing some.

12 Then they <sup>1</sup>went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake that parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ <sup>c</sup>And they sent unto him certain of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians, that they might take him in his talk.

14 And when they came, they said unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou <sup>1</sup>considerest not the person of men, but teachest the <sup>2</sup>way of God truly, Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?

12:1 <sup>1</sup> The calling of God is not tied either to place, person, or time, without exception.

18 ¶<sup>a,1</sup>Then came the Sadducees unto him, (which say, there is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, <sup>f</sup>Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, and leave his wife, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 There were seven brethren, and the first took a wife, and when he died, left no issue.

21 Then the second took her, and he died, neither did he yet leave issue, and the third likewise:

22 So these seven had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise again, whose wife shall she be of them? for seven had her to wife.

24 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, Are ye not therefore deceived, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise again from the dead, neither men marry, nor wives are married, but are as the Angels which are in heaven.

26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise again, have ye not read in the book of Moses how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I <sup>g</sup>am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 God is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living. Ye are therefore greatly deceived.

28 ¶<sup>b,1</sup>Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, he asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, <sup>h</sup>Hear, Israel, The Lord our God is the only Lord.

30 Thou shalt therefore love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31 And the second is like, that is, <sup>i</sup>Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

34 Then when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 ¶<sup>k,1</sup>And Jesus answered and said teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the son of David?

36 For David himself said by <sup>1</sup>the holy Ghost, <sup>r</sup>The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

43 Then he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury.

44 For they all did cast in of their superfluity: but she of her poverty did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives, over against the Temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew asked him secretly,

4 Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answered them, and began to say, <sup>c</sup>Take heed lest any man deceive you.

6 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceive many.

7 Furthermore when ye shall hear of wars, and rumors of wars, be ye not troubled, for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be earthquakes in divers quarters, and there shall be famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 But take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a <sup>d</sup>testimonial unto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 <sup>e</sup>But when they lead you, and deliver you up, <sup>f</sup>be not careful before hand, <sup>g</sup>neither study what ye shall say: but what is given you at the same time, that speak: for it is not you that speak, but the holy Ghost.

12 Yea, and the brother shall deliver the brother to death, and the father the son, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to die.

13 And ye shall be hated of all men <sup>h</sup>for my Name's sake: but whosoever shall endure unto the end, he shall be saved.

14 <sup>i</sup>Moreover, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by <sup>j</sup>Daniel the Prophet) <sup>k</sup>set where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) then let them that be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

15 And let him that is upon the house, not come down into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch anything out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the field, not turn back again to take his garment.

17 Then woe shall be to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days.

18 Pray therefore that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For <sup>l</sup>those days shall be such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those days.

21 Then <sup>m</sup>if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or lo, he is there, believe it not.

22 For false Christs shall rise, and false prophets, and shall show signs and wonders, to deceive if it were possible the very elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I have showed you all things before.

24 ¶ <sup>n</sup>Moreover in those days, after that tribulation, <sup>o</sup>the sun shall wax dark, and the moon shall not give her light,

25 And the stars of heaven shall fall: and the powers which are in heaven, shall shake.

26 And then shall they see the Son of man, coming in the clouds, with great power and glory.

27 <sup>p</sup>And he shall then send his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, and from the utmost part of the earth to the utmost part of heaven.

28 Now learn a parable of the fig tree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near.

29 So in like manner, when ye see these things come to pass, know that the kingdom of God is near, even at the doors.

30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

31 Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

32 <sup>q</sup>But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heaven, neither the Son himself, but the Father.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> The destruction of the Temple, city, and whole nation is foretold, and the troubles of the Church, but yet there are annexed many comforts, and last of all, the end of the world is described.

13:9 <sup>1</sup> The hearing of you preaching shall be a most evident witness against them, so that they shall not be able to pretend ignorance.

13:11 <sup>1</sup> We are not forbidden to think beforehand, but pensive carefulness whereby men discourage themselves, which proceedeth from distrust, and want of confidence and sure hope of God's assistance: that carefulness we are willed to beware of, see also Matt. 6:27.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> When the heathen and profane people shall not only enter into the Temple, and defile both it and the city, but also clean destroy it.

13:19 <sup>1</sup> This is a kind of speech which the Hebrews use, and it hath a great force in it, for it giveth us to understand that in all that time one misery shall so follow upon another, as if the time itself were very misery itself: So the Prophet Amos, 5:20 saith, that the day of the Lord shall be darkness.

13:32 <sup>1</sup> The latter day is not curiously to be searched for which the Father alone knoweth: but let us rather take heed, that it come not upon us unaware.

33 <sup>J</sup>Take heed: watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the Son of man is as a man going into a strange country, and leaveth his house, and giveth authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 Watch ye therefore, (for ye know not when the master of the house will come, at even, or at midnight, at the cock crowing, or in the dawning,)

36 Lest if he come suddenly, he should find you sleeping.

37 And those things that I say unto you, I say unto all men, Watch.

1 And <sup>a1</sup>two days after followed the feast of the Passover, and of unleavened bread: and the high Priests, and Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.

3 <sup>b</sup>And when he was in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at table, there came a woman having a box of ointment of Spikenard, very costly, and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

4 <sup>1</sup>Therefore some disdained among themselves, and said, To what end is this waste of ointment?

5 For it might have been sold for more than <sup>1</sup>three hundred pence, and been given unto the poor, and they murmured against her.

6 But Jesus said, Let her alone: Why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

7 <sup>1</sup>For ye have loved the poor with you always, and when ye will ye may do them good, but me ye shall not have always.

8 <sup>1</sup>She hath done that she could: she came afore-hand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say unto you, wheresoever this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shall be spoken of in remembrance of her.

10 ¶ <sup>61</sup>Then Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went away unto the high Priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would give him money: therefore he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12 ¶ <sup>d1</sup>Now the first day of unleavened bread, <sup>2</sup>when <sup>3</sup>they sacrificed the <sup>4</sup>Passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the Passover?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whithersoever he goeth in, say ye to the good man of the house, The master saith, Where is the lodging where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples?

15 And he will show you an <sup>1</sup>upper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for us.

16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the city, and found as he had said unto them, and made ready the Passover.

17 ¶ And at even he came with the twelve.

18 <sup>61</sup>And as they sat at table and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.

19 Then they began to be sorrowful and to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve that <sup>1</sup>dippeth with me in the platter.

21 Truly the Son of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: <sup>1</sup>but woe be to that man, by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had never been born.

22 <sup>g</sup>And as they did eat, Jesus took the bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it and gave it to them, and said, Take, eat, this is my body.

23 Also he took the cup, and when he had given

14:1 <sup>1</sup> By the will of God, against the counsel of men, it came to pass that Christ should be put to death upon the solemn day of the Passover, that in all respects the truth might agree to the figure.

14:4 <sup>1</sup> Rash judgments are frustrated before God.

14:5 <sup>1</sup> Which is about six pounds English.

14:7 <sup>1</sup> Christ suffered himself to be anointed once or twice for certain considerations: but his will is to be daily anointed in the poor.

14:8 <sup>1</sup> This woman by the secret instinct of the Spirit, anointing Christ, setteth before men's eyes, his death and burial which were at hand.

14:10 <sup>1</sup> Covetousness cloaked with a zeal of charity, is an occasion to betray and crucify Christ.

14:12 <sup>1</sup> Christ being made subject to the Law for us, doth celebrate the Passover according to the Law: and therewithall by a miracle showeth that notwithstanding he in the flesh shall straightway suffer, yet that he is God.

<sup>2</sup> That is, upon which day, and at the evening of the same day, which was the beginning of the fifteenth, see also Matt. 26:17.

14:15 <sup>1</sup> The Greek word signifieth that part of the house that is highest from the ground, to what use soever it be put, but because they used to sup in that part of the house, they called it a supping chamber.

14:18 <sup>1</sup> The figure of the law, which is by and by to be fulfilled, is abrogated: and in place thereof are put figures of the new covenant answerable unto them, which shall continue to the world's end.

14:20 <sup>1</sup> That useth to eat meat with me.

thanks, gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of that new Testament which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine until that day, that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out to the mount of Olives.

27 ¶<sup>b,1</sup> Then Jesus said unto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go into Galilee before you.

29 <sup>1</sup>And Peter said unto him, Although all men should be offended at thee, yet would not I.

30 Then Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, this day, even in this night before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he said <sup>1</sup>more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee: likewise also said they all.

32 ¶<sup>k,1</sup> After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he said to his disciples, Sit ye here, till I have prayed.

33 And he took with him Peter, and James, and John, and he began to be troubled, and in great heaviness, 34 And said unto them, My soul is very heavy, even unto the death: tarry here, and watch.

35 So he went forward a little, and fell down on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that hour might pass from him,

36 And he said, <sup>1</sup>Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee: take away this cup from me: nevertheless not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 <sup>1</sup>Then he came, and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst not thou watch one hour?

38 ¶ Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And he returned, and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy: neither knew they what they should answer him.

41 And he came the third time, and said unto them, Sleep henceforth, and take your rest: it is enough: the hour is come: behold, the Son of man is delivered into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up: let us go: lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 <sup>1</sup>And immediately while he yet spake, came Judas that was one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves from the high Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, he it is: take him and lead him away <sup>1</sup>safely.

45 And as soon as he was come, he went straightway to him, and said, Hail Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And <sup>1</sup>one of them that stood by, drew out a sword, and smote a servant of the high Priest, and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus answered, and said to them, Ye be come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves, to take me.

49 I was daily with you, teaching in the Temple, and ye took me not: but this is done that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 Then they <sup>1</sup>all forsook him, and fled.

51 <sup>1</sup>And there followed him a certain young man, clothed in <sup>2</sup>linen upon his bare body, and the young men caught him.

52 But he left his linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 <sup>m</sup>So they led Jesus away to the high Priest, and to him came <sup>1</sup>together all the high Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the 14:27 <sup>1</sup> Christ foretelleth how he shall be forsaken of his, but yet that he will never forsake them.

14:29 <sup>1</sup> Here is set forth in an excellent person, a most sorrowful example of man's rashness and weakness.

14:31 <sup>1</sup> That doubling of words, setteth out more plainly Peter's vehement affirmation.

14:32 <sup>1</sup> Christ suffering for us in that flesh which he took upon him for our sakes, the most horrible terrors of the curse of God, receiveth the cup at his Father's hands, which he being just, doth straightway drink of for the unjust.

14:36 <sup>1</sup> This doubling of the word was used in those days, when their languages were so mixed together: for this word, Abba, is a Syrian word.

14:37 <sup>1</sup> An horrible example of the sluggishness of men, even in the disciples whom Christ had chosen.

14:43 <sup>1</sup> As men did willingly spoil God their Creator of his praise in forsaking and betraying him: so Christ willingly going about to make satisfaction for this ruin, is forsaken for his own, and betrayed by one of his familiars as a thief, that the punishment might be agreeable to the sin, and we who are very traitors, forsakers, and sacrilegers might be delivered out of the devil's snare.

14:44 <sup>1</sup> So diligently, that he escape not out of your hands.

14:47 <sup>1</sup> That is, Peter.

14:50 <sup>1</sup> All his disciples.

14:51 <sup>1</sup> Under pretence of godliness, all things are lawful to such as do violence against Christ.

<sup>2</sup> Which he cast about him, when he hearing that stir in the night suddenly ran forth: whereby we may understand with how great licentiousness these villains violently set upon him.

14:53 <sup>1</sup> The highest council was assembled, because Christ was accused as a blasphemer and a false prophet: for as for the other crime of treason, it was forged against him by the Priests, to enforce Pilate by that means to condemn him.

hall of the high Priest, and sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 <sup>1</sup>And the <sup>h</sup>high Priests, and all the Council sought for witness against Jesus, to put him to death, but found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 Then there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, <sup>o</sup>I will destroy this Temple made with hands, and within three days I will build another, made without hands.

59 But their witness yet agreed not together.

60 Then the high Priest stood up amongst them, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is the matter that these bear witness against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high Priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou that Christ the son of the <sup>1</sup>Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I am he, <sup>o</sup>and ye shall see the Son of man sit at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high Priest rent his clothes, and said, What have we anymore need of witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 <sup>1</sup>And some began to spit at him, and to cover his face, and to beat him with fists, and to say unto him, Prophecy. And the sergeants smote him with their rods.

66 <sup>o1</sup>And as Peter was beneath in the hall, there came one of the maids of the high Priest.

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked on him, and said, Thou wast also with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied it, saying, I know him not, neither wot I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the porch, and the cock crew.

69 <sup>o</sup>Then <sup>1a</sup>maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 But he denied it again: and anon after, they that stood by, said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galilee, and thy speech is like.

1 And <sup>o1</sup>anon in the dawning, the high Priests held a Council with the Elders, and the Scribes, and the whole Council, and bound Jesus, and led him away, and <sup>2</sup>delivered him to Pilate.

2 Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered, and said unto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the high Priests accused him of many things.

4 <sup>o</sup>Wherefore Pilate asked him again, saying, Answered thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.

5 But Jesus answered no more at all, so that Pilate marveled.

6 Now at the feast, Pilate <sup>1</sup>did deliver a prisoner unto them, whomsoever they would desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bound with his fellows, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cried aloud, and began to desire that he would do as he had ever done unto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and said, Will ye that I let loose unto you the King of the Jews?

10 For he knew that the high Priests had delivered him of envy.

11 But the high Priests had moved the people to desire that he would rather deliver Barabbas unto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said again unto them, What will ye then that I do with him, whom ye call the King of the Jews?

14:55 <sup>1</sup> Christ, who was so innocent that he could not be oppressed, no not by false witnesses, is at the length, for confessing God to be his father, condemned of impiety before the high Priest: that we, who denied God and were indeed wicked, might be quit before God.

14:61 <sup>1</sup> Of God, who is most worthy of all praise?

14:65 <sup>1</sup> Christ suffering all kinds of reproach for our sakes, getteth everlasting glory to them that believe in him.

14:66 <sup>1</sup> An heavy example of the frailness of man, together with a most comfortable example of the mercy of God, who giveth the spirit of repentance and faith to his elect.

14:69 <sup>1</sup> If we compare the Evangelists diligently together, we shall perceive that Peter was known of many through the maiden's report:

yea, and in Luke, when the second denial is spoken of, there is a manservant mentioned, and not a maid.

15:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ being bound before the judgment seat of an earthly judge, in open assembly is condemned as guilty unto the death of the cross, not for his own sins, (as appeareth by the judge's own words) but for all ours, that we most guilty creatures being delivered from the guiltiness of our sins, might be quitted before the judgment seat of God, even in the open assembly of the Angels.

<sup>2</sup> It was not lawful for them to put any man to death, for all causes of life and death were taken away from them, first by Herod the great, and afterward by the Romans, about forty years before the destruction of the Temple, and therefore they deliver Jesus to Pilate.

15:6 <sup>1</sup> Used Pilate to deliver.

13 And they cried again, Crucify him.
 14 Then Pilate said unto them, But what evil hath he done? And they cried the more fervently, Crucify him.
 15 So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.
 16 Then the soldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band,
 17 <sup>1</sup>And clad him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,
 18 And began to salute him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews.
 19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and spat upon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reverence.
 20 And when they had mocked him, they took the purple off him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.
 21 <sup>c</sup>And they <sup>1</sup>compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the country, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to bear his cross.
 22 <sup>d,1</sup>And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens' skulls.
 23 And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.
 24 <sup>e,1</sup>And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots for them, what every man should have.
 25 And it was the third hour when they crucified him.
 26 And the title of his cause was written above, THAT KING OF THE JEWS.
 27 They crucified also with him two thieves, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.
 28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith,

 29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, <sup>g</sup>Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three days,
 30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.
 31 Likewise also even the high Priests mocking, said among themselves with the Scribes, He saved other men, himself he cannot save.
 32 Let Christ the king of Israel now come down from the cross, that we may see, and believe. They also that were crucified with him, reviled him.
 33 ¶ Now when the sixth hour was come, <sup>1</sup>darkness arose over <sup>2</sup>all the land until the ninth hour.
 34 And at the <sup>1</sup>ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, <sup>h</sup>Eloi, Eloi, lama-sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
 35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah.
 36 And one ran, and filled a <sup>i</sup>sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let him alone: let us see if Elijah will come, and take him down.
 37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.
 38 And the veil of the Temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom.
 39 Now when the Centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he thus crying gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

15:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ going about to take away the sins of men, who went about to usurp the throne of God himself, is condemned as one that hunted after the kingdom, and mocked with a false show of a kingdom, that we on the other side, who shall indeed be eternal kings, might receive the crown of glory at God's own hand.
 15:21 <sup>1</sup> The rage of the wicked hath no measure, but in the mean season, even the weakness of Christ, being in pain under the heavy burden of the cross, doth manifestly show that a lamb is led to be sacrificed.
 15:22 <sup>1</sup> Christ is led out of the walls of the earthly Jerusalem, into a foul place of dead men's carcasses, as a man most unclean, not touching himself, but touching our sins, which were laid upon him, to the end that we being made clean by his blood, might be brought into the heavenly Sanctuary.
 15:24 <sup>1</sup> Christ hangeth naked upon the cross, and as the most wickedest caitiff that ever was, most vilely reproved: that we being clothed with his righteousness, and blessed with his curses, and sanctified by his only oblation, may be taken up into heaven.
 15:33 <sup>1</sup> How angry God was against our sin, which he punished in our surety, his son, it appeareth by this horrible darkness.

<sup>2</sup> By this word, land, he meaneth Palestine: so that the strangeness of the wonder, is so much the more set forth in that, that at the feast of the Passover, and in the full moon, when the Sun shined over all the rest of the world and at midday that corner of the world, wherein so wicked an act was committed, was overcovered with most gross darkness.
 15:34 <sup>1</sup> Christ striving mightily with Satan, with sin, and with death, all three armed with the horrible curse of God, grievously tormented in body hanging upon the cross, and in soul plunged in the depth of hell, yet he riddeth himself, crying with a mighty voice: and notwithstanding the wound which he received of death in that that he died, yet by smiting both things above and things beneath, by renting of the veil of the Temple, and by the testimony wrung out of them which murdered him, he showeth evidently unto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mock at him, that he shall be known out of hand to be conqueror and Lord of all.

43 <sup>1</sup>Joseph of Arimathea, an <sup>1</sup>honorable counselor, which also looked for the kingdom of God, came, and went in <sup>2</sup>boldly unto Pilate, and asked the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate marveled, if he were already dead, and called unto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether he had been any while dead.

45 And when he knew the truth of the Centurion, he gave the body to Joseph:

46 Who bought a linen cloth, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulcher:

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulcher, when the Sun was now risen.

3 And they said one to another, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulcher?

4 And when they <sup>1</sup>looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one)

5 <sup>b</sup>So they went into the <sup>1</sup>sepulcher, and saw a young man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were sore troubled.

6 But he said unto them, Be not so troubled: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which hath been crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they put him.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO LUKE

1 Luke: Preface 5 Zacharias and Elizabeth. 15 What an one John should be. 20 Zacharias stricken dumb, for his incredulity. 26 The Angel saluteth Mary, and foretelleth Christ's nativity. 39 Mary visited Elizabeth. 46 Mary's song. 68 The song of Zacharias, showing that the promised Christ is come. 76 The office of John.

1 Forasmuch as <sup>1</sup>many have <sup>2</sup>taken in hand to set forth the story of those things, whereof we are fully persuaded,

2 <sup>1</sup>As they have delivered them unto us, which from the beginning saw them themselves, and were ministers of the word,

3 It seemed good also to me (<sup>1</sup>most noble Theophilus) as soon as I had searched out perfectly all things <sup>2</sup>from the beginning, to write unto thee thereof from point to point,

4 That thou mightest <sup>1</sup>acknowledge the certainty of those things whereof thou hast been instructed.

5 In <sup>1</sup>the <sup>2</sup>time of <sup>3</sup>Herod King of Judea, there was a certain Priest named Zacharias, of the <sup>4</sup>course of Abijah: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 Both were <sup>1</sup>just before God, and <sup>2</sup>walked in all the <sup>3</sup>commandments and ordinances of the Lord, <sup>4</sup>without reproof.

7 And they had no child, because that Elizabeth was barren: and both were well stricken in age.

8 And it came to pass, as he executed the Priest's office before God, as his course came in order,

9 <sup>b</sup>According to the custom of the Priest's office, his lot was to burn incense, when he went into the <sup>1</sup>Temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared unto him an Angel of the Lord, standing at the right side of the Altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the Angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth.

17 <sup>e</sup>For he shall go <sup>1</sup>before him <sup>2</sup>in the spirit and

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Luke commendeth the witnesses that saw this history.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Luke was not an eyewitness, and therefore it was not he to whom the Lord appeared when Cleopas saw him: and he was taught not only by Paul, but by others of the Apostles also.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> It is most mighty, and therefore Theophilus was a very honorable man, and in place of great dignity.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> Have fuller knowledge of those things, which before thou knewest but meanly.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> John who was another Elijah, and appointed to be herald of Christ, coming of the stock of Aaron, and of two famous and blameless parents, hath showed in his conception, which was against the course of nature, a double miracle, to the end that men should be more readily stirred up to the hearing of his preaching, according to the forewarning of the Prophets.

<sup>2</sup> Word for word, in the days: so speak the Hebrews, giving us to understand, how short and frail a thing the power of princes is.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> The true mark of righteousness is, to be liked and allowed of in the judgment of God.

<sup>2</sup> Lived, so speak the Hebrews, for our life is as a way, wherein we must walk, until we come to the mark.

<sup>4</sup> Whom no man could justly reprove: now so it is, that the fruits of justification are set forth here, and not the cause, which is faith only, and nothing else.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> The Temple was one, and the Court another, for Zacharias went out of the Court or outward room, where all the people were, and therefore are said to be without, into the temple.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> So speak the Hebrews when it signified a rare kind of excellency: so is it said of Nimrod, Gen. 10:9. He was a valiant hunter before God.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> Shall be a means to bring many to repentance, and turn themselves to the Lord from whom they fell.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> As they used to go before kings, and when you see them, you know the king is not far off.

power of Elijah, to turn the <sup>3</sup>hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the <sup>4</sup>wisdom of the just men, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 Then Zacharias said unto the Angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angel answered, and said unto him, I am Gabriel <sup>1</sup>that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not be able to speak, until the day that these things be done, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marveled that he tarried so long in the Temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: then they perceived that he had seen a vision in the Temple: for he made signs unto them, and remained dumb.

23 And it came to pass, when the days of his office were fulfilled, that he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days, his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me, in the days wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And in the sixth month, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 <sup>1</sup>To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Joseph, of the <sup>1</sup>house of David, and the virgin's name was Mary.

28 And the Angel went in unto her, and said, Hail thou that art <sup>1</sup>freely beloved: the Lord is with thee: <sup>2</sup>blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was <sup>1</sup>troubled at his saying, and thought what manner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast <sup>1</sup>found favor with God.

31 <sup>g</sup>For lo thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bear a son, <sup>h</sup>and shalt call his Name Jesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be <sup>1</sup>called the Son of the most High, and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.

33 <sup>1</sup>And he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom shall be none end.

34 Then said Mary unto the Angel, <sup>1</sup>How shall this be, seeing <sup>2</sup>I know not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said unto her, The holy Ghost <sup>1</sup>shall come upon thee, and the power of the most High shall overshadow thee: therefore also that <sup>3</sup>Holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be <sup>3</sup>called the Son of God.

36 And behold, thy <sup>1</sup>cousin, Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is her <sup>2</sup>sixth month, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be impossible.

38 Then Mary said, Behold the servant of the Lord: be it unto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And Mary arose in those days, and went into the <sup>2</sup>hill country with haste to a <sup>3</sup>city of Judah, 40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to pass, as Elizabeth heard the <sup>3</sup> By this figure Synecdoche, he showeth that he shall take away all kinds of enmities, which used to breed great troubles and turmoils amongst men.

<sup>4</sup> Wisdom and goodness are two of the chiefest causes which make men to reverence and honor their fathers.

1:19 <sup>1</sup> That appears, for so the Hebrews use this word (to stand) meaning that they are ready to do his commandment.

1:26 <sup>1</sup> The Angel serving the Lord which should be born, is sent to the virgin Mary, in whom the Son of the most high promised to David, is conceived by the virtue of the holy Ghost.

1:27 <sup>1</sup> As much is to be said of Mary, otherwise Christ had not been of the stock, not the son of David.

1:28 <sup>1</sup> It might be rendered word for word, full of favor and grace, and he showeth straight after, laying out plainly unto us, what that favor is, in that he saith, the Lord is with thee.

1:29 <sup>1</sup> Moved at the strangeness of the matter.

1:30 <sup>1</sup> So speak the Hebrews, saying, that men have found favor, which are in favor.

1:32 <sup>1</sup> He shall be declared so to be, for he was the Son of God from everlasting, but was made manifest in the flesh in his time.

1:34 <sup>1</sup> The greatness of the matter causeth the Virgin to ask this question, not that she distrusteth any whit at all, for she asketh only of the manner of the conceiving, so that it is plain she believed all the rest.

<sup>2</sup> So speak the Hebrews, signifying by this modest kind of speech the company of man and wife together, and this is the meaning of it: how shall this be, forseeing, I shall be Christ his mother, I am very sure. I shall not know any man: for the godly virgin had learned by the Prophets, that the Messiah should be born of a Virgin.

1:35 <sup>1</sup> That is, the holy Ghost shall cause thee to conceive by his mighty power.

<sup>2</sup> That pure thing and void of all spot of uncleanness: for he that was to take away sin, must needs be void of sin.

1:36 <sup>1</sup> Though Elizabeth were of the tribe of Levi, yet she might be Mary's cousin: for whereas it was forbidden by the Law, for maidens to be married to men of other tribes, this could not let, but that the Levites might take them wives out of any tribe: for the Levites had no portion allotted them, when the land was divided among the people.

1:39 <sup>1</sup> Elizabeth being great with child with John, and Mary with Christ, by the inspiration of the holy Ghost, do rejoice each for other.

salutation of Mary, the babe <sup>1</sup>sprang in her belly, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because <sup>1</sup>the fruit of thy womb is blessed.

43 And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe sprang in my belly for joy.

45 And blessed is she that believed: for those things shall be performed, which were told her from the Lord.

46 <sup>1</sup>Then Mary said, My soul magnifieth the Lord, 47 And my spirit rejoiceth in God my Savior.

48 For he hath <sup>1</sup>looked on the <sup>2</sup>poor degree of his servant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed,

49 Because he that is mighty hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercy is from generation to generation on them <sup>1</sup>that fear him.

51 <sup>1</sup>He that showed strength with his <sup>1</sup>arm: <sup>4</sup>he hath <sup>2</sup>scattered the proud in the <sup>3</sup>imagination of their hearts.

58 And her neighbors and cousins heard tell how the Lord had showed his great mercy upon her, and they <sup>p</sup>rejoiced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63 So he asked for writing tablets, and wrote, saying, His name is John, and they marveled all.

1:51 <sup>1</sup> That is, an heaping up of words more than needed, which the Hebrews use very much, and the arm is taken for strength.

1:69 <sup>1</sup> This word Horn in the Hebrew tongue signifieth might, and it is a Metaphor, taken from beasts, that fight with their horns: and by raising up the might of Israel, is meant, that the kingdom of Israel was defended, and the enemies thereof laid on the ground, even then when the strength of Israel seemed to be utterly decayed.

74 Which was, that he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, should serve him without fear,

2 (This first taxing was made when Quirinius was governor of Syria.)

3 Therefore went all to be taxed, every man to his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee out of a city called Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David,)

8 ¶<sup>1</sup> And there were in the same country shepherds, abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock.

9 And lo, the Angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 Then the Angel said unto them, Be not afraid: for behold, I bring you glad tidings of great joy, that shall be to all the people, 11 That is, that unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign to you, Ye shall find the babe swaddled, and laid in a cratch.

13 And straightway there was with the Angel a multitude of heavenly soldiers, praising God, and saying,

14 Glory be to God in the high heavens, and peace in earth, and toward men good will.

15 And it came to pass when the Angels were gone away from them into heaven, that the shepherds said one to another, Let us go then unto Bethlehem, and see this thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath showed unto us.

16 So they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph and the babe laid in the cratch.

17 And when they had seen it, they published abroad the thing that was told them of that child.

18 And all that heard it, wondered at the things which were told them of the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned glorifying and praising God, for all that they had heard and seen, as it was spoken unto them.

21 ¶<sup>b,1</sup> And when the eight days were accomplished, that they should circumcise the child, his name was then called Jesus, which was named of the Angel,

1:79 <sup>1</sup> Into the way which leadeth us to true happiness.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ the son of God, taking upon him the form of a servant, and making himself of no reputation, is poorly born in a stable: and by the means of Augustus the mightiest prince in the world (thinking nothing less) hath his cradle prepared in Bethlehem, as the Prophets forewarned.

22 <sup>d,1</sup>And when the days of <sup>2</sup>her purification, after the Law of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord,

25 <sup>1</sup>And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was just, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the <sup>2</sup>holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was declared to him from God by the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen that Anointed of the Lord.

27 And he came by the motion of the spirit into the Temple, and when the <sup>1</sup>parents brought in the babe Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the Law.

28 Then he took him in his arms, and praised God, and said,

29 Lord, now <sup>1</sup>lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy <sup>2</sup>word,

30 For <sup>1</sup>mine eyes have seen thy <sup>2</sup>salvation, seven years from her virginity:

37 And she was widow about fourscore, and four years, and went not out of the Temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 She then coming at the same instant upon them, confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things, according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong in Spirit, <sup>1</sup>and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

41 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Now his parents went to Jerusalem, every year, <sup>b</sup>at the feast of the Passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, and they were come up to Jerusalem, after the custom of the feast,

43 And had finished the days thereof, as they returned, the child Jesus remained in Jerusalem, and Joseph knew not, nor his mother, 44 But they supposing that he had been in the company, went a day's journey, and sought him among their kinsfolk, and acquaintances.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back to Jerusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to pass three days after, that they found him in the Temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions:

47 And all that heard him, were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 'So when they saw him, they were amazed, and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee with very heavy hearts.

49 Then said he unto them, How is it that ye sought me? knew ye not that I must go about my Father's business?

50 But they understood not the word that he spake to them.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> Christ, upon whom all our sins were laid, being offered to God, according to the Law, doth purify both Mary and us all in himself.

<sup>2</sup> This is meant, for the fulfilling of the Law: for otherwise the virgin was not defiled, nor unclean, by the birth of this child.

2:25 <sup>1</sup> Simeon doth openly in the Temple foretell the deaf, of the coming of Messiah, of the casting out of the greatest part of Israel, and of the calling of the Gentiles.

2:29 <sup>1</sup> Lettest me depart out of this life, to be joined to my fathers.

2:30 <sup>1</sup> That is, for I have seen with my very eyes: for he saw before in mind, as it is said of Abraham, He saw my day, and rejoiced.

2:34 <sup>1</sup> Is appointed and set of God for a mark.

<sup>2</sup> Fall of the reprobate, which perish through their own default: and for the rising of the elect, unto whom God shall give faith to believe.

2:35 <sup>1</sup> Shall wound and grieve most sharply.

2:36 <sup>1</sup> Another witness besides Simeon, against whom no exception may be brought, inviting all men to the receiving of the Messiah.

2:40 <sup>1</sup> As Christ grew up in age, so the virtue of his Godhead showed itself more and more.

2:41 <sup>1</sup> The Scribes and Pharisees are stirred up to hear the wisdom of Christ in his time, by an extraordinary deed.

2:48 <sup>1</sup> All duties which we owe to men as they were not to be neglected, so are they according to our vocation, not to be preferred before the glory of God.

51 <sup>1</sup>Then he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus increased in wisdom, and stature, and in favor with God and men.

1 Now <sup>1</sup>in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being Tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and of the country of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

2 (<sup>a</sup>When <sup>1</sup>Annas and Caiaphas were the high Priests) the word of God came unto John, the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 <sup>b</sup>And he came into all the coasts about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins,

4 As it is written in the book of the sayings of Isaiah the Prophet, which saith, ‘The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and crooked things shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth.

6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, <sup>d</sup>O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy amendment of life, and begin not to say with yourselves, We have Abraham to our Father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9 Now also is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

12 Then came there Publicans also to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?

13 And he said unto them, Require no more than that which is <sup>1</sup>appointed unto you.

14 The soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your <sup>1</sup>wages.

15 <sup>1</sup>As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of John, if he were not that Christ.

16 John answered, and said to them all, ‘Indeed I baptize you with water, but one stronger than I, cometh, whose shoe’s latchet I am not worthy to unloose: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

2:51 <sup>1</sup> Christ very man is made like unto us in all things, except sin.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> John cometh at the time foretold of the Prophets, and layeth the foundation of the Gospel which is exhibited unto us, setting forth the true observing of the Law, and free mercy in Christ, which cometh after him, using also baptism the effectual sign both of regeneration and also of forgiveness of sins.

but lift up our eyes to Christ, who is the author of the sacraments, and the giver of that which is represented by the sacraments.

3:21 <sup>1</sup> Our baptism is sanctified in the head of the Church, and Christ also is pronounced, by the voice of the Father, to be our everlasting King, Priest, and Prophet.

3:23 <sup>1</sup> The stock of Christ, according to the flesh, is brought by order even to Adam, and so to God, that it might appear, that he only it was, whom God promised to Abraham and David, and appointed from everlasting to his Church, which is gathered together of all sorts of men.

 4 But Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, <sup>b</sup>That man shall not live by bread only, but by every word of God.
 5 Then the devil took him up into an high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, in the twinkling of an eye.

8 But Jesus answered him, and said, Hence from me, Satan: for it is written, <sup>c</sup>Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone thou shalt serve.

9 Then he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence,

10 For it is written, <sup>d</sup>That he will give his Angels charge over thee to keep thee:

11 And with their hands they shall lift thee up, lest at anytime thou shouldest dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answered, and said unto him, It is said, <sup>e</sup>Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a little season.

14 ¶ And Jesus returned by the power of the spirit into Galilee: and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about:

15 For he taught in their Synagogues, and was honored of all men.

16 <sup>f</sup>And he came to Nazareth where he had been brought up, and (as his custom was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the Prophet Isaiah: and when he had <sup>1</sup>opened the book, he found the place, where it was written,

18 <sup>g</sup>The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me, that I should preach the Gospel to the poor: he hath sent me, that I should heal the brokenhearted, that I should preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, that I should set at liberty them that are bruised:

19 And that I should preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and gave it again to the minister, and sat down: and the eyes of all that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 Then he began to say unto them, This day is the Scripture fulfilled in your ears.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ being carried away (as it were out of the world, into the desert) after the fast of forty days, and the overcoming of Satan thrice, coming as it were suddenly from heaven, beginneth his office.
 4:3 <sup>1</sup> Christ being stirred up of Satan, first to distrust in God, secondly to the desire of riches and honor, and lastly to a vain confidence of himself, overcometh him thrice by the word of God.
 4:6 <sup>1</sup> By this word power, are the kingdoms themselves meant, which have the power: and so it is spoken by the figure Metonymy.
<sup>2</sup> That is surely so, for he is prince of the world yet not absolutely, and is the sovereign over it, but by sufferance, and way of entreaty, and therefore he saith not true, that he can give it to whom he will.

 4:7 <sup>1</sup> Out of an high place, which had a goodly champion country underneath it, he showed him the situation of all countries.
 4:16 <sup>1</sup> Who Christ is, and wherefore he came, he showeth out of the prophet Isaiah.
 4:17 <sup>1</sup> Their books in those days were rolled up as scrolls upon a ruler: and so Christ unrolled, or unfolded it, which is here called opened.

22 <sup>1</sup>And all <sup>2</sup>bare him witness, and <sup>3</sup>wondered at the <sup>4</sup>gracious words, which proceeded out of his mouth, and said, Is not this Joseph's son?

23 Then he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this Proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do it here likewise in thine own country.

24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, <sup>b</sup>No Prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of <sup>i</sup>Elijah, when heaven was shut three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the <sup>l</sup>land:

26 But unto none of them was Elijah sent, save into Zarephath, a city of Sidon, unto a certain widow.

27 Also many lepers were in Israel, in the time of <sup>j</sup>Elisha the Prophet: yet none of them was made clean, saving Naaman the Syrian.

28 <sup>1</sup>Then all that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled with wrath,

29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the edge of the hill, whereon their city was built, to cast him down headlong.

30 But he passed through the midst of them, and went his way,

31 ¶ <sup>k</sup>And came down into Capernaum a city of Galilee, and there taught them on the Sabbath days.

32 <sup>l</sup>And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with authority.

40 Now at the Sun setting, all they that had sick folks of divers diseases, brought them unto him, and he laid his hands on everyone of them, and healed them.

41 <sup>o,1</sup>And devils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art that Christ that Son of God: but he rebuked them, and suffered them not to say that they knew him to be that Christ.

4:34 <sup>1</sup> Christ astonisheth not only men, be they never so blockish, but even the demons also, whether they will or no.

4:38 <sup>1</sup> In that, that Christ healeth the diseases of the body with his word only, he proveth that he is God Almighty, sent for man's salvation.

4:41 <sup>1</sup> Satan, who is a continual enemy to the truth, ought not to be heard, no not then, when he speaketh the truth.

washing their nets.

3 And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and required him that he would thrust off a little from the land: and he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 ¶ Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, and said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Master, we have travailed sore all night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had so done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckoned to their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them, who came then, and filled both the ships, that they did sink.

8 Now when Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus knees, saying, Lord, go from me: for I am a sinful man.

9 For he was utterly astonished, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they took.

10 And so was also James and John the sons of Zebedee, which were companions with Simon. Then Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought the ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.

12 ¶ <sup>b,1</sup>Now it came to pass, as he was in a certain city, behold, there was a man full of leprosy, and when he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 So he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he commanded him that he should tell it no man: but Go, saieth he, and show thyself to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as <sup>c</sup>Moses hath commanded, for a witness unto them.

15 <sup>1</sup>But so much more went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But he kept himself apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

was teaching, that the Pharisees and doctors of the Law sat by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lord <sup>2</sup>was in him, to heal them.

18 <sup>d</sup>Then behold, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palsy, and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the press, they went up on the house, and let him down through the tiling, bed and all, in the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God only?

22 But when Jesus perceived their reasoning he answered, and said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee, or to say, Rise and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority to forgive sins in earth, (he said unto the sick of the palsy) I say to thee, Arise: take up thy bed, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up his bed whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, praising God.

26 And they were all amazed, and praised God, and were filled with fear, saying, Doubtless we have seen strange things today.

27 ¶ <sup>e,1</sup>And after that, he went forth and saw a Publican named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 Then Levi made him a great feast in his own house, where there was a great company of Publicans, and of others that sat at table with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharisees among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why eat ye and drink ye with Publicans and sinners?

31 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, They that are whole, need not the Physician, but they that are sick.

35 But the days will come, even when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them: then shall they fast in those days.

36 Again he spake also unto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a new garment into an old vesture: for then the new renteth it, and the piece taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.

37 Also no man poureth new wine into old vessels: for then the new wine will break the vessels, and it will run out, and the vessels will perish:

38 But new wine must be poured into new vessels: so both are preserved.

39 Also no man that drinketh old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is more profitable.

7 And the Scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the Sabbath day, that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand up in the midst. And he arose, and stood up.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you a question, Whether is it lawful on the Sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to <sup>1</sup>destroy?

10 And he beheld them all in compass, and said unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored again, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of madness, and communed one with another, what they might do to Jesus.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the Elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come, and heal his servant.

4 So they came to Jesus, and besought him instantly, saying that he was worthy that he should do this for him:

5 For he loveth, said they, our nation, and he hath built us a Synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them: but when he was now not far from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof:

7 Wherefore I thought not myself worthy to come unto thee: but say the word, and my servant shall be whole:

8 For I likewise am a man set under authority, and have under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 And when they that were sent, turned back to the house, they found the servant that was sick, whole.

CHAPTER 7

12 Now when he came near to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, who was the only begotten son of his mother, which was a widow, and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

14 And he went and touched the coffin (and they that bare him, stood still) and he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat up, and began to speak, and he delivered him to his mother.

16 Then there came a fear on them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is risen among us, and God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumor of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 <sup>1</sup>And the disciples of John showed him of all these things.

19 So John called unto him two certain men of his disciples, and sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall we wait for another?

20 And when the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall we wait for another?

21 And <sup>1</sup>at that time, he cured many of their sicknesses, and plagues, and of evil spirits, and unto many blind men he gave sight freely.

22 And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Go your ways and show John, what things ye have seen and heard, that the blind see, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor receive the Gospel.

23 And blessed is he, that shall not be offended in me.

25 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they which are gorgeously appareled, and live delicately, are in Kings' courts.

26 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I say to you, and greater than a Prophet.

29 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicans justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John.

30 But the Pharisees and the expounders of the Law despised the counsel of God against themselves, and were not baptized of him.

31 <sup>c1</sup>And the Lord said, Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? and what thing are they like unto?

32 They are like unto little children sitting in the marketplace, and crying one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

33 For John Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hath the devil.

36 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him: and he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down at table.

38 <sup>d</sup>And she stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 <sup>1</sup>Now when the Pharisee which bade him, saw it, he spake within himself, saying, If this man were a Prophet, he would surely have known who, and what manner of woman this is which toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

44 Then he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, and thou gavest me no water to my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46 Mine head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment.

4 <sup>b,1</sup>Now when much people were gathered together, and were come unto him out of all cities, he spake by a parable.

5 A sower went out to sow his seed, and as he sowed, some fell by the wayside, and it was trodden under feet, and the fowls of heaven devoured it up.

6 And some fell on the stones, and when it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moistness.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit, an hundredfold. And as he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 Then his disciples asked him, demanding what parable that was.

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the <sup>1</sup>secrets of the kingdom of God, but to others in parables, that when <sup>4</sup>they see, they should not see, and when they hear, they should not understand.

11 <sup>d</sup>The parable is this, The seed is the word of God.

12 And they that are beside the way, are they that hear: afterward cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe, and be saved.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they which when they have heard, receive the word with joy: but they have no roots: which for a while believe, but in the time of temptation go away.

14 And that which fell among thorns, are they which have heard, and after <sup>1</sup>their departure are choked with cares and with riches, and voluptuous living, and <sup>2</sup>bring forth no fruit.

15 But that which fell in good ground, are they which with an <sup>1</sup>honest and good heart hear the word,

16 ¶ <sup>6,1</sup>No man when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it under a vessel, neither putteth it under the bed, but setteth it on a candlestick, that they that enter in, may see the light.

17 <sup>f</sup>For nothing is secret, that shall not be evident: neither anything hid, that shall not be known, and come to light.

18 <sup>1</sup>Take <sup>2</sup>heed therefore how ye hear: for <sup>s</sup>who-soever hath, to him shall be given: and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that <sup>3</sup>which it seemeth that he hath.

19 ¶ <sup>h,1</sup>Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come near to him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, and would see thee.

21 But he answered, and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ <sup>i,1</sup>And it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 And as they sailed, he fell <sup>1</sup>asleep, and there came down a storm of wind on the lake, and <sup>2</sup>they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and the waves of water: and they ceased, and it was calm.

25 Then he said unto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondered among themselves, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the winds and water, and they obey him!

26 ¶ <sup>j</sup>So they sailed unto the region of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 <sup>1</sup>And as he went out to land, there met him a

8:4 <sup>1</sup> The selfsame Gospel is sown everywhere, but not with like fruit, and that through the only fault of men themselves.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> Those things are called secret, which may not be uttered: for the word used here, is as much as we say in our tongue, to hold a man's peace.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, so soon as they have heard the word, they go about their business.

<sup>2</sup> They bring not forth perfect and full fruit to the ripening: or, they begin, but they bring not to an end.

8:15 <sup>1</sup> Which seeketh not only to seem such a one, but is so indeed: so that this word, Honest, respecteth the outward life, and the word, good, is referred to the good gifts of the mind.

<sup>2</sup> With much ado: for the devil and the flesh fight against the spirit of God, which is a new guest.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> That that every man hath received in private, he ought to bestow to the use and profit of all men.

8:18 <sup>1</sup> Heavenly gifts are lost with niggardliness, and increase with liberality.

<sup>2</sup> That is, with what minds you come to hear the word, and how you behave yourselves when you have heard it.

<sup>3</sup> Either to himself, or to others, or to both: for there are none so proud, as these fellows, if it were possible to see that, that they cloke: neither are there that deceive the simple more than they do.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> There is no knot of flesh and blood, among men so nigh and strait, as the band which is between Christ, and them who embrace him with a true faith.

8:22 <sup>1</sup> It is expedient for us sometimes to come into extreme danger, as though Christ passed not for us, that we may have a better trial, both of his power, and also of our weakness.

8:23 <sup>1</sup> Jesus fell on sleep: and it appeareth, that he was very fast on sleep, because they called twice before he awoke.

8:27 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth, by casting out a Legion of devils by his word only, that his heavenly virtue was appointed to deliver men from the slavery of the devil: but foolish men will not for the most part redeem this so excellent grace freely offered unto them, with the least loss of their pelting self.

certain man out of the city, which had devils long time, and he wore no garment, neither abode in house, but in the graves.

28 And when he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus the son of God the most High? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 For he commanded the foul spirit to come out of the man: (for oft times he had caught him: therefore he was bound with chains, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bands, <sup>1</sup>and was carried of the devil into wildernesses.)

30 Then Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? and he said, Legion, because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him, that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was thereby an herd of many swine feeding on an hill: and the devils besought him, that he would suffer them to enter into them. So he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd was carried with violence from a steep down place into the lake, and was choked.

34 When the herdsmen saw what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what means he that was possessed with the devil, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country about the Gadarenes, besought him that he would depart from them: for they were taken with a great fear: and he went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man, out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 Return into thine own house, and show what great things God hath done to thee. So he went his way, and preached <sup>1</sup>throughout all the city, what great things Jesus had done unto him.

40 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jesus was come again, that the people <sup>1</sup>received him: for they all waited for him.

41 ¶ <sup>k</sup> <sup>1</sup>And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was the ruler of the Synagogue, who fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house.

42 For he had but a daughter only, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying (and as he went, the people thronged him.

43 And a woman having an issue of blood, twelve years long, which had spent all her <sup>1</sup>substance upon physicians, and could not be healed of any:

44 When she came behind him, she touched the hem of his garment, and immediately her issue of blood stanchd.

45 Then Jesus said, Who is it that hath touched me? When every man denied, Peter said and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, and tread on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Someone hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and fell down before him, and told him before all the people: for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath saved thee: go in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there came one from the ruler of the Synagogue's house, which said to him, Thy daughter is dead: disease not the Master.

50 When Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be saved.

51 And when he went into the house, he suffered no man to go in with him, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and mother of the maid.

52 And all wept, and <sup>1</sup>sorrowed for her: but he said, Weep not: for she is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 So he thrust them all out, and took her by the hand, and cried, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came again, and she <sup>1</sup>rose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

56 Then her parents were astonished: but he commanded them that they should tell no man what was done.

8:29 <sup>1</sup> By force and violence, as a horse when he is spurred.

8:39 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the city of the Gadarenes: and though Mark says that he preached it in Decapolis, they differ not, for Pliny recordeth, lib. 5, chap. 18, that Gadara is a town of Decapolis, so that Decapolis was partly on this side Jordan, and partly on the other side.

8:40 <sup>1</sup> The multitude was glad he was come again, and rejoiced greatly.

8:41 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth by a double miracle, that he is Lord both of life and death.

8:43 <sup>1</sup> All that she had to live upon.

8:52 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth to beat and strike, and is transferred to the mournings and lamentations, that are at burials, at which times men use such kind of behavior.

8:55 <sup>1</sup> The corpse was laid out, and the wench received life, and rose out of the bed, that all the world might see, she was not only restored to life, but also void of all sickness.

9 <sup>1</sup> The Apostles are sent to preach. 7 and 19 The common people's opinion of Christ. 12 Of the five loaves and two fishes. 20 The Apostle's confession. 24 To lose the life. 35 We must hear Christ. 39 The possessed of a spirit. 46 Strife among the Apostles for the Primacy. 49 One casting out devils in Christ's Name. 52 The Samaritans will not receive Christ. 55 Revenge forbidden. 57, 59, 61 Of three that would follow Christ, but on divers conditions.

1 Then <sup>a,1</sup> called he his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to heal diseases.

2 <sup>b</sup> And he sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to cure the sick.

3 And he said to them, <sup>c</sup> Take nothing to your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, nor silver, neither have two coats apiece.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there <sup>d</sup> abide, and thence depart.

5 And how many soever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, <sup>d</sup> shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 And they went out, and went through every town preaching the Gospel, and healing everywhere.

9 Then Herod said, John have I beheaded: who then is this of whom I hear such things? and he desired to see him.

12 <sup>b</sup> And when the day began to wear away, the twelve came, and said unto him, Send the people away, that they may go into the towns and villages round about, and lodge, and get meat: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes, <sup>1</sup> except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. Then he said to his disciples, Cause them to sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looked up to heaven, and <sup>b</sup> blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples, to set before the people.

17 So they did all eat, and were satisfied: and there was taken up of that remained to them, twelve baskets full of broken meat.

18 ¶ <sup>i,1</sup> And it came to pass, as he was <sup>2</sup> alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answered, and said, John Baptist: and others say, Elijah: and some say, that one of the old Prophets is risen again.

20 And he said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answered, and said: That Christ of God.

21 And he warned and commanded them, that they should tell that to no man,

22 <sup>1</sup> Saying, <sup>j</sup> The Son of man must suffer many things, and be reprov'd of the Elders, and of the high Priests and Scribes, and be slain, and the third day rise again.

24 <sup>1</sup> For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, the 9:1 <sup>1</sup> The twelve Apostles are sent forth at the only commandment of Christ, and furnished with the power of the holy Ghost: both that none of the Israelites might pretend ignorance, and also that they might be better prepared to their general embassy.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> When you depart out of any city, depart from thence where you first took up your lodging: so that in few words, the Lord forbiddeth them to change their lodgings: for this publishing of the Gospel, was as it were a thorough passage, that none of Judea might pretend ignorance, as though he had not heard that Christ was come.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> So soon as the world heareth tidings of the Gospel, it is divided into divers opinions, and the tyrants especially are afraid.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> They shall lack nothing that follow Christ, no not in the wilderness.

9:13 <sup>1</sup> This is unperfectly spoken, and therefore we must understand something, as this, we cannot give them to eat, unless we go and buy, etc.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> He gave God thanks for these loaves and fishes, and withal prayed him to feed this so great a multitude with so small a quantity, and to be short, that this whole banquet might be to the glory of God.

9:18 <sup>1</sup> Although the world be tossed up and down, betwixt divers errors, yet we ought not to contemn the truth, but be so much the more desirous to know it, and be more constant to confess it.

9:22 <sup>1</sup> Christ himself attained to the heavenly glory by the cross and invincible patience.

9:23 <sup>1</sup> Even as one day followeth another, so doth one cross follow another, and the cross is by the figure Metonymy, taken for the miseries of this life: for to be hanged, was the sorest and cruelest punishment that was amongst the Jews.

same shall save it.

25 <sup>m</sup>For what advantageth it a man, if he win the whole world, and destroy himself, or lose himself?

26 <sup>r</sup>For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his glory, and in the glory of the Father, and of the holy Angels.

27 <sup>o</sup>And I tell you of a surety, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God.

28 <sup>p1</sup>And it came to pass about an eight days after those words, that he took Peter and John, and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, and his garment was white and glistered.

30 And behold, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elijah:

31 Which appeared in glory, and told of his <sup>1</sup>departing, which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heavy with sleep, and when they awoke, they saw his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: let us therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah, and wist not what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud and overshadowed them, and they feared when they were entering into the cloud.

35 <sup>a</sup>And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is that my beloved Son, hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and told no man in <sup>1</sup>those days any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And it came to pass on the next day, as they came down from the mountain, much people met him.

38 <sup>r</sup>And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, behold my son: for he is all that I have.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and he teareth him, that he foameth, and hardly departeth from him, when he hath <sup>1</sup>bruised him.

40 Now I have besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

41 Then Jesus answered and said, O generation faithless, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you, and suffer you? bring thy son hither.

42 And while he was yet coming, the devil rent him, and tore him: and Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him to his father.

43 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: and while they all wondered at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 <sup>1</sup>Mark these words diligently: <sup>1</sup>for it shall come to pass, that the son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not that word: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceive it: and they feared to ask him of that word.

46 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest.

47 When Jesus saw the thoughts of their hearts, he took a little child, and set him by him,

48 And said unto them, Whosoever receiveth this little child in my Name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, he shall be great.

49 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy Name, and we forbad him, because he followeth thee not with us.

50 Then Jesus said unto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against us, is with us.

51 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And it came to pass, when the days were accomplished, that he should be received up, he <sup>2</sup>settled himself fully to go to Jerusalem,

52 And sent messengers before him: and they went and entered into a town of the Samaritans, to prepare him lodging.

53 But they would not receive him, because his behavior was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 <sup>1</sup>And when his disciples, James and John saw it, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command, that fire come down from heaven, and consume them, even as <sup>1</sup>Elijah did?

9:28 <sup>1</sup> Lest the disciples of Christ should be offended at the debasing himself in his flesh, he teacheth them that it is voluntary, showing therewithall for a space the brightness of his glory.

9:31 <sup>1</sup> What death he should die in Jerusalem.

9:36 <sup>1</sup> Until Christ was risen again from the dead.

9:37 <sup>1</sup> Christ is offended with nothing so much as with incredulity, although he bears with it for a time.

9:39 <sup>1</sup> As it fareth in the falling sickness.

9:43 <sup>1</sup> We have no cause to promise ourselves rest and quietness in this world, seeing that they themselves which seemed to fawn upon Christ, do shortly after crucify him.

9:44 <sup>1</sup> Give diligent ear unto them, and when you have once heard them, see that you keep them.

9:46 <sup>1</sup> The end of ambition is ignomy; but the end of modest obedience is glory.

9:49 <sup>1</sup> Extraordinary things are neither rashly to be allowed, nor condemned.

9:51 <sup>1</sup> Christ goeth willingly to death.

<sup>2</sup> Word for word: he hardened his face, that is, he resolved with himself to die, and therefore ventured upon his journey, and cast away all fear of death, and went on.

9:54 <sup>1</sup> We must take heed of the immoderateness of zeal, and fond imitation, even in good causes, that whatsoever we do, we do it to God's glory, and the profit of our neighbor.

55 But Jesus turned about, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not of what <sup>1</sup>spirit ye are.

56 For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. Then they went to another town.

57 ¶<sup>1</sup>And it came to pass that as they went in the way, <sup>2</sup>a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee, Lord, whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven nests, but the Son of man hath not whereon to lay his head.

59 <sup>1</sup>But he said unto another, Follow me. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 And Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury <sup>1</sup>their dead: but go thou, and preach the kingdom of God.

61 <sup>1</sup>Then another said, I will follow thee, Lord: but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at mine house.

62 And Jesus said unto him, No man that putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh back, is apt to the kingdom of God.

17 ¶<sup>k</sup>And the seventy turned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subdued to us <sup>2</sup>through thy Name.

9:55 <sup>1</sup> So speak the Hebrews, that is, you know not what will, mind, and counsel you are of: so the gifts of God are called the spirit, because they are given of God's Spirit, and so are they, that are contrary to them, which proceed of the wicked spirit, as the spirit of covetousness, of pride, and madness.

9:57 <sup>1</sup> Such as follow Christ, must prepare themselves, to suffer all discommodities.

9:59 <sup>1</sup> The calling of God ought to be preferred, without all controversy before all duties that we owe to men.

9:60 <sup>1</sup> Who notwithstanding that they live in this frail life of man, yet are strangers from the true life, which is everlasting and heavenly.

9:61 <sup>1</sup> Such as follow Christ, must at once renounce all worldly cares.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> The seventy are sent as the second forewarners, of the coming of Christ.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> The faithful ministers of the word are in this world as lambs among wolves: but if they be diligent to do their duty, he that sent them will also preserve them.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken after the manner of a figure, which men use, when they put down more in words, than is meant: usually among the Hebrews, when they command a thing to be done speedily without delay, as 2 Kings 4:29: for otherwise courteous and gentle salutations, are points of Christian duty: as for the calling it was but for a season.

10:6 <sup>1</sup> So speak the Hebrews: that is, he that favoereth the doctrine of peace and embraceth it.

10:7 <sup>1</sup> Take up your lodging in that house, which ye first enter into, that is, be not careful for commodious lodging, as men do which purpose to stay long in a place: for here is not instituted that solemn preaching of the Gospel, which was used afterward, when the Churches were settled: but these are sent abroad to all the coasts of Judea, to give them to understand, that the last Jubilee is at hand.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> Content yourselves with that meat that is set before you.

10:10 <sup>1</sup> God is a most severe revenger of the ministry of his Gospel.

10:17 <sup>1</sup> Neither the gift of miracles, neither what else soever excellent gift, but only our election giveth us occasion of true joy: and the only publishing of the Gospel is the destruction of Satan.

<sup>2</sup> For Christ's disciples used no absolute authority, but wrought such miracles as they did, by calling upon Christ's Name.

18 And he said unto them, I saw Satan, like lightning, <sup>1</sup>fall down from heaven.

19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on Serpents, and Scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall <sup>1</sup>hurt you.

20 Nevertheless, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subdued unto you: but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ <sup>1</sup>That same hour rejoiced Jesus in the spirit, and said, I confess unto thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the <sup>2</sup>wise and understanding, and hast revealed them to babes: even so, Father, because it so pleased thee.<sup>3</sup>

22 <sup>1</sup>All things are given me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the son is, but the Father: neither who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And he turned to his disciples, and said secretly, <sup>2</sup>Blessed are the eyes, which see that ye see.

24 For I tell you that many Prophets and Kings have desired to see those things, which ye see, and have not seen them: and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 ¶ <sup>1,2</sup>Then behold, <sup>2</sup>a certain Lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 And he said unto him, What is written in the Law? how readest thou?

27 And he answered and said, <sup>1</sup>Thou shalt love thy Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, <sup>2</sup>and thy neighbor as thyself.

28 Then he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

29 <sup>1</sup>But he willing to <sup>2</sup>justify himself, said unto Jesus, Who is then my neighbor?

30 And Jesus answered, and said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, and they robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 Now so it fell out, that there came down a certain Priest that same way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise also a Levite, when he was come near to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 Then a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came near unto him, and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds and poured in oil and wine, and put him on his own beast, and brought him to an Inn, and made provision for him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will recompense thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbor unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain town, and a certain woman named Martha, received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his preaching.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Master, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore, that she help me.

41 And Jesus answered, and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, and art troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needful, Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

1 And so it was, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, <sup>1</sup>Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come: Let thy will be done, even in earth, as it is in heaven:

10:18 <sup>1</sup> Paul placeth the devil and his angels, in the air, Eph. 6:12, and he is said to be cast down from thence by force when his power is abolished by the voice of the Gospel.

10:19 <sup>1</sup> Shall do you wrong.

10:21 <sup>1</sup> The Church is contemptible, if we behold the outward face of it, but the wisdom of God is not so marvelous, in any thing, as in it.

10:22 <sup>1</sup> Whosoever seeketh the Father without the Son, wandereth out of the way.

10:23 <sup>1</sup> The difference of the old Testament and the new consisteth in the measure of revelation.

10:25 <sup>1</sup> Faith doth not take away, but establisheth the doctrine of the Law.

10:29 <sup>1</sup> All they are comprehended in the name of our neighbor, by the Law, whomsoever we may help.

<sup>2</sup> That is, to vouch his righteousness, or show, that he was just, that is, void of all faults: and James 5:1 useth the word of justification in this sense.

10:38 <sup>1</sup> Christ careth not to be entertained delicately, but to be heard diligently, that is it which he especially requireth.

11:2 <sup>1</sup> A form of true prayer.

3 Our daily bread give us <sup>1</sup>for the day:

4 And forgive us our sins: for even we forgive every man that is indebted to us: And lead us not into temptation: but deliver us from evil.

5 ¶<sup>1</sup>Moreover he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go to him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves?

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I have nothing to set before him:

7 And he within should answer, and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and give them to thee.

8 I say unto you, Though he would not arise and give him, because he is his friend, yet doubtless because of his <sup>1</sup>importunity, he would rise and give him as many as he needed.

9 <sup>b</sup>And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall find: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For everyone that asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 <sup>d</sup>If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion?

13 If ye then which are evil, can give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the holy Ghost to them that desire him?

14 ¶<sup>1</sup>Then he cast out a devil which was dumb: and when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake, and the people wondered.

15 <sup>1</sup>But some of them said, <sup>f</sup>He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chief of the devils.

16 And others tempted him, seeking of him a sign from heaven.

17 <sup>1</sup>But he knew their thoughts, and said unto them, <sup>g</sup>Every kingdom divided against itself, shall be desolate, and an house divided against an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand, because ye say that I

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your judges.

20 But if I by the <sup>1</sup>finger of God cast out devils, doubtless the kingdom of God is come unto you.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his <sup>1</sup>palace, the things that he possesseth, are in peace.

22 But when a stronger than he cometh upon him, and overcometh him: he taketh from him all his armor wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 <sup>1</sup>He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 <sup>b,1</sup>When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest: and when he findeth none, he saith, I will return unto mine house whence I came out.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits worse than himself: and they enter in, and dwell there: so the last state of that man is worse than the first.

27 ¶<sup>1</sup>And it came to pass as he said these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 ¶<sup>1</sup>And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is a wicked generation: they seek a sign, and there shall no sign be given them, but the sign of <sup>k</sup>Jonah the Prophet.

30 For as Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites: so shall also the son of man be to this generation.

31 <sup>1</sup>The Queen of the South shall rise in judgment, with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

32 The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they <sup>m</sup>repented at the preaching of Jonah: and behold, a greater than Jonah is here.

11:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, as much as is needful for us this day, whereby we are not debarred to have an honest care for the maintenance of our lives; but that carping care, which killeth a number of men, is cut off and restrained.

11:5 <sup>1</sup> We must pray with faith.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, impudency: but that impudency which is spoken of here, is not to be found fault withall, but is very commendable before God, for he liketh well of such importunity.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> An example of horrible blindness, and such as cannot be healed, when as upon an evil conscience, and pretended malice, the power of God is blasphemed.

11:17 <sup>1</sup> The true way to know the true Christ, from the false, is this, that the true Christ hath no accord or agreement with Satan: And it remaineth that after we know him, we acknowledge him.

11:18 <sup>1</sup> By the name and power of Beelzebub.

11:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, by the power of God: so it is said, Exod. 8:19.

11:21 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth properly an open and void room before an house, and so by translation is taken for noblemen's houses.

11:23 <sup>1</sup> Against indifferent men, and such as love to have a mean, which seek means to reconcile Christ and Satan together.

11:24 <sup>1</sup> He that doth not continue, is in worse case, than he that never began.

11:27 <sup>1</sup> Christ seeketh not praise in himself, but in our salvation.

11:29 <sup>1</sup> They that are fond desirers of miracles, instead of miracles shall receive punishment.

33 ¶<sup>n.1</sup>No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a privy place, neither under a bushel: but on a candlestick, that they which come in, may see the light.

34 ¶The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, then is thy whole body light: but if thine eye be evil, then thy body is dark.

35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkness.

36 If therefore thy whole body shall be light, having no part dark, then shall all be light, even as when a candle doth light thee with the brightness.

37 ¶<sup>1</sup>And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down at the table.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marveled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 ¶And the Lord said to him, Indeed ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup, and of the platter: but the inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 Therefore, give alms <sup>1</sup>of those things which you have, and behold, all things shall be clean unto you.

42 <sup>1</sup>But woe be to you, Pharisees: for ye <sup>2</sup>tithe the mint and the rue, and <sup>3</sup>all manner herbs, and pass over <sup>4</sup>judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to have left the other undone.

43 ¶<sup>1</sup>Woe be to you, Pharisees: for ye love the uppermost seats in the Synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

45 ¶<sup>1</sup>Then answered one of the Lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou puttest us to rebuke also.

46 And he said, Woe be to you also, ye Lawyers: <sup>1</sup>for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 <sup>1</sup>Woe be to you: <sup>1</sup>for ye build the sepulchers of the Prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly <sup>1</sup>ye bear witness, and allow the deeds of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their sepulchers.

49 Therefore said the wisdom of God, I will send them Prophets and Apostles, and of them they shall slay, and <sup>1</sup>persecute away,

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, <sup>1</sup>shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation,

51 From the blood of <sup>1</sup>Abel unto the blood of <sup>2</sup>Zechariah, which was slain between the altar and the Temple: verily I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation.

52 <sup>1</sup>Woe be to you, Lawyers: for ye have <sup>2</sup>taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that came in, ye forbade.

53 <sup>1</sup>And as he said these things unto them, the Scribes and Pharisees began to urge him sore, and to <sup>2</sup>provoke him to speak of many things, 54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something of his mouth, whereby they might accuse him.

11:33 <sup>1</sup> Our minds are therefore lightened with the knowledge of God, that we should give light unto others, and therefore our chiefest labor ought to be to pray for that light.

11:37 <sup>1</sup> The service of God consisteth not in outward cleanliness, and devised rites or ceremonies, but in the spiritual righteousness of the heart, and charity.

11:41 <sup>1</sup> That is, according to your abilities as who would say, instead of your extortions, which hindered you, that you could not eat cleanly, use charity, and accordingly as your ability shall serve you, be good to the poor, and so shall that, that is within the platter, be sanctified though the platter be unwashed.

11:42 <sup>1</sup> It is the propense of hypocrites, to stand stoutly for little trifles, and let pass greater matters.

<sup>3</sup> Of all kind of herbs some, as Augustine expoundeth it in his Enchiridion to Laurence, chap. 99, where he showeth in like sort how that place of Paul, 1 Tim. 2:4, God will have all men to be saved, is to be expoundeth after the same manner.

<sup>4</sup> That is to say, that that is right and reason to do: for this word, Judgment, containeth the commandments of the second table, and the other words, The love of God, contain the first.

11:43 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrisy and ambition are commonly joined together.

11:45 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites are very severe against other men, but think all things lawful to themselves.

11:47 <sup>1</sup> Hypocrites honor those saints when they are dead, whom they most cruelly persecute, when they were alive.

11:48 <sup>1</sup> When you persecute God's servants, like mad men, even as your fathers did, though you color it with a pretence of godliness, yet notwithstanding, in that you beautify the sepulchers of the Prophets, what do you else, but glory in your fathers' cruelty, and set up monuments (as it were) in glory and triumph of it?

11:49 <sup>1</sup> They shall so vex them and trouble them, that at length they shall banish them.

11:50 <sup>1</sup> That you may be called to an account for it, yea, and be punished, for the shedding of that blood of the Prophet.

11:52 <sup>1</sup> They have of long time chiefly hindered the people, from entering into the knowledge of God, which ought to be the door-keepers of the Church.

11:53 <sup>1</sup> The more the world is reprehended, the worse it is, and yet must we not betray the truth.

the rich man whose land was very fertile. 21 Not to care for earthly things. 31 But to seek the kingdom of God. 39 The thief in the night. 51 Debate for the Gospel's sake.

1 In <sup>a,1</sup>the meantime, there gathered together <sup>2</sup>an innumerable multitude of people, so that they trod one another: and he began to say unto his disciples first, Take heed to yourselves of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2 <sup>b</sup>For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed: neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Wherefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness, it shall be heard in the light: and that which ye have spoken in the ear, in secret places, shall be preached on the houses.

4 <sup>c,1</sup>And I say unto you, my friends, be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that are not able to do anymore.

5 But I will <sup>1</sup>forewarn you, whom ye shall fear: fear him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell: yea, I say unto you, him fear.

6 Are not five sparrows bought for two farthings, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 <sup>d</sup>Yea, and all the hairs of your head are numbered: fear not therefore: ye are more of value than many sparrows.

8 <sup>e,1</sup>Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man confess also before the Angels of God.

9 But he that shall deny me before men, shall be denied before the Angels of God.

10 <sup>f</sup>And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that shall blaspheme the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11 <sup>h,1</sup>And when they shall bring you unto the Synagogues, and unto the rulers and Princes, take no thought how, or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall speak.

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour, what ye ought to say.

13 <sup>1</sup>And one of the company said unto him, Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over you?

15 Wherefore he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of <sup>1</sup>covetousness: for though a man have abundance, yet his <sup>2</sup>life standeth not in his riches.

16 <sup>1</sup>And he put forth a parable unto them, saying, The <sup>2</sup>ground of a certain rich man brought forth fruits plenteously.

17 Therefore he <sup>1</sup>thought with himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where I may lay up my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do, I will pull down my barns, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits, and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years, live at ease, eat, drink, and <sup>1</sup>take thy pastime.

20 But God said unto him, O fool, this night will they fetch away thy soul from thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches <sup>1</sup>to himself, and is not rich in God.

22 <sup>1</sup>And he spake unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, <sup>b</sup>Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat: neither for your body, what ye shall put on.

<sup>2</sup> They proposed many questions to him, to draw something out of his mouth, which they might traitorously carp at.

12:1 <sup>1</sup> The faithful teachers of God's word, which are appointed by him for his people, must both take good heed of them, which corrupt the purity of doctrine with goodly glosses, and also take pains through the help of God, to set forth sincere doctrine, openly and without fear.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> Although hypocrites have princes to execute their cruelty, yet there is no cause why we could be afraid of them, the least iota that may be, seeing they can do nothing, but what pleaseth God, and God wills not anything that may be against the salvation of his elect.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> He warneth them of dangers that presently hang over their heads, for those that come upon the sudden, do make the greater wound.

12:8 <sup>1</sup> Great is the reward of a constant confession: and horrible is the punishment of the denying of Christ, yea impossible to be called back again shall the punishment be, if upon set purpose, both with mouth and heart we blaspheme a known truth.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> It is a great and hard conflict to confess the truth, yet he that can do all things, and is almighty, will not be wanting to the weakest which strive and contend in his appointed time.

12:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ would not for three causes be a judge to divide an inheritance. First, for that he would not foster up and cherish the fleshly opinion that the Jews had of Messiah: Secondly for that he would distinguish the civil governance, from the Ecclesiastical: Thirdly, to teach us to beware of them which abuse the show of the gospel, and also the name of ministers, to their own private commodities.

12:15 <sup>1</sup> By covetousness is meant, that greedy desire to get, commonly with other men's hurt.

12:16 <sup>1</sup> There are none more mad, than rich men which hang upon their riches.

<sup>2</sup> Or rather country, for here is set forth a man that possesseth not a piece of ground only, but an whole country, as they do, which join house to house, and field to field, Isa. 5:8.

12:17 <sup>1</sup> Made his reckoning within himself, which is the property of covetous churls that spend their life in those trifles.

12:19 <sup>1</sup> Be merry and make good cheer.

12:21 <sup>1</sup> Caring for no man but for himself, and minding to trust in himself.

12:22 <sup>1</sup> An earnest thinking upon the providence of God, is a present remedy against the most foolish and pining carefulness of men for this life.

23 The life is more than meat: and the body more than the raiment.

24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap: which neither have storehouse nor barn, and yet God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they labor not, neither spin they: yet I say unto you, that Solomon himself in all his royalty was not clothed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grass which is today in the field, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 Therefore ask not what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither <sup>1</sup>hang you in suspense.

30 For all such things the people of the world seek for: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 <sup>1</sup>But rather seek ye after the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be cast upon you.

32 <sup>1</sup>Fear not, little flock: for it is your Father's pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 ¶ <sup>i,1</sup>Sell that ye have, and give <sup>2</sup>alms: make you bags which wax not old: a treasure that can never fail in heaven, where no thief cometh neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your hearts be also.

35 ¶ <sup>j,1</sup>Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning,

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their master, when he will return from the wedding, that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when he cometh shall find waking: verily I say unto you, he will gird himself about, and make them to sit down at table, and will come forth, and serve them.

38 And if he come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and shall find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 <sup>k</sup>Now understand this, that if the good man of the house had known at what hour the thief would have come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be dug through.

40 <sup>1</sup>Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Son of man will come at an hour when ye think not.

41 Then Peter said unto him, Master, tellest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithful steward and wise, whom the master shall make ruler over his household, to give them their <sup>1</sup>portion of meat in season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his master when he cometh, shall find so doing.

44 Of a truth, I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But if that servant say in his heart, My master doth defer his coming, and shall begin to smite the servants, and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken,

46 The master of that servant will come in a day when he thinketh not, and at an hour when he is not aware of, and will cut him off, and give him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 ¶ And that servant that knew his master's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knew it not, and yet did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes: for unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required, and to whom men much commit, <sup>1</sup>the more of him will they ask.

49 ¶ <sup>1</sup>I am come to put fire on the earth, and what is my desire, if it be already kindled?

50 Notwithstanding I must be baptized with a baptism, and how am I grieved till it be ended?

51 <sup>1</sup>Think ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, nay, but rather debate.

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

12:29 <sup>1</sup> A Metaphor taken of things that hang in the air, for they that are careful for this worldly life, and hang upon the arm of man, have always wavering and doubtful minds, swaying sometimes this way, and sometimes that way.

12:31 <sup>1</sup> They shall lack nothing, which are careful for the kingdom of heaven.

12:32 <sup>1</sup> It is a foolish thing not to look for small things, at his hands, which giveth us freely the greatest things.

12:33 <sup>1</sup> A godly bountifulness is a ready way to get true riches.

<sup>2</sup> This is the figure Metonymy, for by this word, Alms, is meant that compassion and friendliness of an heart that tendereth the misery and poor estate of man, and showeth forth itself by some gift, and hath the name given it in the Greek tongue, of mercy and compassion: and therefore he is said to give alms, who parteth with some thing to another, and giveth to the poor, showing thereby, that he pitieth their poor estate.

12:35 <sup>1</sup> The life of the faithful servants of God, in this world is a certain watchful peregrination, having the light of the word going before it.

12:40 <sup>1</sup> None have more need to watch, than they that have some degree of honor in the household of God.

12:42 <sup>1</sup> That is, every month such measure of corn as was appointed them.

12:48 <sup>1</sup> More than of him to whom so much was not given.

12:49 <sup>1</sup> The Gospel is the only cause of peace between the goodly, and so is it the occasion of great trouble among the wicked.

53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

54 ¶<sup>m.1</sup>Then said he to the people, When ye see a cloud <sup>2</sup>rise out of the West, straightway ye say, A shower cometh: and so it is.

55 And when ye see the South wind blow, ye say, that it will be hot: and it cometh to pass.

56 Hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the earth, and of the sky: but why discern ye not this time?

57 <sup>1</sup>Yea, and why judge ye not of yourselves what is right?

58 ¶<sup>1</sup>While thou goest with thine adversary to the ruler, as thou art in the way, give diligence in the way, that thou mayest be delivered from him, lest he draw thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the <sup>1</sup>jailer, and the jailer cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the utmost mite.

1 There <sup>1</sup>were certain men present at the same season, that showed him of the Galileans, whose blood <sup>2</sup>Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Suppose ye, that these Galileans were greater sinners than all the other Galileans, because they have suffered such things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except ye amend your lives, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or think you that those eighteen, upon whom the tower in <sup>1</sup>Siloam fell, and slew them, were sinners above all men that dwell in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, nay: but except ye amend your lives, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶<sup>1</sup>He spake also this parable, A certain man had a fig tree, planted in his vineyard: and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, this three years have I come and sought fruit of this fig tree, and find none: cut it down: why keepeth it also the ground <sup>1</sup>barren?

8 And he answered, and said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I dig round about it, and dung it.

9 And if it bear fruit, well: if not, then after thou shalt cut it down.

10 ¶<sup>1</sup>And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a <sup>1</sup>spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could not lift up herself in any wise.

12 When Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art <sup>1</sup>loosed from thy disease.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight again, and glorified God.

14 <sup>1</sup>And the <sup>2</sup>ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus healed on the Sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and said, Hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the Sabbath day loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: but all the people rejoiced at all the excellent things that were done by him.

12:54 <sup>1</sup> Men which are very quick of sight in earthly things, are blind in those things which pertain to the heavenly life, and that through their own malice.

12:57 <sup>1</sup> Men that are blinded with the love of themselves, and therefore are detestable and stubborn, shall bear the reward of their folly.

12:58 <sup>1</sup> To him that had to demand and gather the americiaments which they were condemned unto that had wrongfully troubled men: moreover, the magistrate's officers make them which are condemned, pay that, that they owe, yea, and oftentimes if they be obstinate, they do not only take the cost and charge of them, but also imprison them.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> We must not rejoice at the just punishment of others, but rather be instructed thereby to repentance.

<sup>2</sup> Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, almost ten years, and about the fourth year of his government, which might be about the fifteenth year of Tiberius' reign, Christ finished the work of our redemption by his death.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> To wit, in the place, or river: for Siloam was a small river, from whence the conduits of the city came, whereof John 9:7 and Isa. 8:6, and therefore it was a tower or castle, built upon the conduit side, which fell down suddenly, and killed some.

13:6 <sup>1</sup> Great and longsuffering is the patience of God, but yet so that at length he executed judgment.

13:7 <sup>1</sup> Maketh the ground barren in that part, which otherwise were good for vines.

13:10 <sup>1</sup> Christ came to deliver us from the bands of Satan.

13:11 <sup>1</sup> Troubled with a disease which Satan brought.

13:12 <sup>1</sup> For Satan had the woman bound, as if she had been in chains, insomuch that for eighteen years space she could not hold up her head.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> A lively image of hypocrisy, and reward thereof.

<sup>2</sup> One of the rulers of the Synagogue, for it appeareth by Mark 5:22 and Acts 13:15 that there were many rulers of the Synagogue.

18 ¶<sup>a</sup>Then said he, What is the kingdom of God like? or whereto shall I compare it?

19 <sup>1</sup>It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree, and the fowls of the heaven made nests in the branches thereof.

20 ¶<sup>b</sup>And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three pecks of flour, till all was leavened.

22 ¶<sup>c</sup>And he went through all cities and towns, teaching, and journeying towards Jerusalem.

23 Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that shall be saved? And he said unto them,

24 <sup>d</sup>Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye began to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us, and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are,

26 <sup>1</sup>Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 <sup>a</sup>But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

28 <sup>1</sup>There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves thrust out at doors.

29 Then shall come many from the <sup>1</sup>East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit at Table in the kingdom of God.

30 <sup>f</sup>And behold, there are last, which shall be first, and there are first, which shall be last.

9 And he that bade both him and thee, come, and say to thee, Give this man room, and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 <sup>a</sup>But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room, that when he that bade thee, cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, sit up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at table with thee.

11 <sup>b</sup>For whosoever exalteth himself, shall be brought low, and he that humbleth himself, shall be exalted.

12 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then said he also to him that had bidden him, <sup>c</sup>When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor the rich neighbors, lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee.

mured, saying, He receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake he this parable to them, saying,

4 <sup>a</sup>What man of you having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders with joy.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbors, saying unto them, Rejoice with me: for I have found my sheep which was lost.

7 I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven for one sinner that converteth, more than for ninety and nine just men, which need none amendment of life.

8 Either what woman having ten groats, if she lose one groat, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends, and neighbors, saying, Rejoice with me: for I have found the groat which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that converteth.

11 ¶ <sup>1</sup>He said moreover, A certain man had two sons,

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of the goods that falleth to me. So he divided unto them his substance.

13 So not many days after, when the younger son had gathered all together, he took his journey into a far country, and there he wasted his goods with riotous living.

14 Now when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and he began to be in necessity.

15 Then he went and clave to a citizen of that country, and he sent him to his farm, to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine ate: but no man gave them him.

17 <sup>1</sup>Then he came to himself, and said, How many hired servants at my father's have bread enough, and I die for hunger?

before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thine hired servants.

20 So he arose and came to his father, and when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 <sup>1</sup>And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 Then the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet,

23 And bring the fat calf, and kill him, and let us eat, and be merry:

24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again: and he was lost, but he is found. And they began to be merry.

25 <sup>1</sup>Now the elder brother was in the field, and when he came and drew near to the house, he heard melody, and dancing,

26 And called one of his servants, and asked what those things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fat calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 Then he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.

29 But he answered, and said to his father, Lo, these many years have I done thee service, neither brake I at anytime thy commandment, and yet thou never gavest me a kid that I might make merry with my friends.

30 But when this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy goods with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fat calf.

31 And he said unto him, Son thou art ever with me, and all that I have, is thine. It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again: and he was lost, but he is found.

16 <sup>1</sup> The parable of the steward accused to his master. <sup>13</sup> To serve two masters. <sup>16</sup> The law and the Prophets. <sup>19</sup> Of Dives and Lazarus.

1 And he said also unto his disciples, <sup>1</sup>There was 15:11 <sup>1</sup> Men by their voluntary falling from God, having spoiled themselves of the benefits which they received of him, cast themselves headlong into infinite calamities: but God of his singular goodness, offering himself freely to them, whom he called to repentance, through the greatness of their misery wherewith they were tamed, doth not only gently receive them, but also enricheth them with far greater gifts, and blesseth them with the chiefest bliss.

15:17 <sup>1</sup> The beginning of repentance is the acknowledging of the mercy of God, which stirreth us to hope well.

15:18 <sup>1</sup> Against God, because he is said to dwell in heaven.

15:21 <sup>1</sup> In true repentance there is a feeling of our sins, joined with sorrow and shame, from whence springeth a confession, after which followeth forgiveness.

15:25 <sup>1</sup> Such as truly fear God, desire to have all men to be their fellows.

16:1 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that men oftentimes purchase friendship to themselves, by other men's costs, it is a shame for us, if with a free and liberal bestowing of the goods which the Lord hath given us to that purpose, we do not please him, nor procure the good will of our neighbors, seeing that by this only means, riches, which are oftentimes occasions of sin, are turned to another end and purpose.

a certain rich man, which had a steward, and he was accused unto him, that he wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? Give an account of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my master taketh away from me the stewardship. I cannot dig, and to beg I am ashamed.

4 I know what I will do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 Then called he unto him everyone of his master's debtors, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my master?

6 And he said, An hundred measures of oil. And he said to him, Take thy writing, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. Then he said to him, Take thy writing and write fourscore.

8 And the Lord commended <sup>1</sup>the unjust steward, because he had done wisely. Wherefore the <sup>2</sup>children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, Make you friends with the riches <sup>1</sup>of iniquity, that when ye shall want, they may receive you into everlasting <sup>2</sup>habitations.

10 <sup>1</sup>He that is faithful in the least, he is also faithful in much: and he that is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much.

11 If then ye have not been faithful in the wicked riches, who will trust you in the <sup>1</sup>true treasure?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in <sup>1</sup>another man's goods, who shall give you that which is yours?

18 ¶ <sup>d</sup>Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marieth another, commiteth adultery: and whosoever marieth her <sup>1</sup>that is put away from her husband, commiteth adultery.

19 ¶ <sup>1</sup>There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in <sup>2</sup>purple and fine linen, and fared well and delicately every day.

20 Also there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores,

21 And desired to be refreshed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the beggar died, and was carried by the Angels into Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torments, <sup>1</sup>he lifted up his eyes, and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24 Then he cried, and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue: for I

16:8 <sup>1</sup>This parable doth not approve the steward's naughty dealing, for it was every theft: but parables are set forth, to show a thing covertly, and as it were under a figure to represent the truth, though it agree not thoroughly with the matter itself: so that Christ meaneth by this parable to teach us, that worldly men are more heady in the affairs of this world, than the children of God are careful for everlasting life.

<sup>2</sup>Men that are given to this present life, contrary to whom the children of light are set: St. Paul calls those spiritual, and the other carnal.

16:9 <sup>1</sup>This is not spoken of goods that are evil gotten, for God will have our bountifulness to the poor, proceed and come from a good fountain: but he calleth those riches of iniquity, which men use naughtily.

16:10 <sup>1</sup>We ought to take heed that for abusing our earthly function and duty, we be not deprived of heavenly gifts: for how can they use spiritual gifts aright, who abuse worldly things?

16:11 <sup>1</sup>That is, heavenly and true riches: which are contrary to worldly and flitting substance.

16:12 <sup>1</sup>In worldly goods, which are called other men's, because they are committed to our credit.

16:13 <sup>1</sup>No man can love God and riches together.

16:15 <sup>1</sup>Our sins are not hidden to God, although they be hidden to men, yea although they be hidden to them whose sins they are.

16:16 <sup>1</sup>The Pharisees despised the excellency of the new Covenant, in respect of the old, being ignorant of the perfect righteousness of the Law, and how false expounders they were of the Law, Christ declareth by the seventh Commandment.

16:18 <sup>1</sup>They that gather by this place, that a man cannot be married again after that he hath put away his wife for adultery, while she liveth, reason fondly: for Christ speaketh of those divorces which the Jews used, of which sort we cannot take the divorcement for adultery, for adulterers were put to death by the law.

16:19 <sup>1</sup>The end of the poverty and misery of the godly, shall be everlasting joy: as the end of riotousness and cruel pride of the rich shall be everlasting misery, without all hope of mercy.

<sup>2</sup>Very gorgeously and sumptuously, for purple garments were costly, and this fine linen which was a kind of linen that came out of Achaia, was as dear as gold.

16:23 <sup>1</sup>Heavenly and spiritual things are expressed, and set forth under colors and resemblances fit for our senses.

am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivest thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus pains: now therefore is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, between you and us there is a great gulf set, so that they which would go from hence to you, cannot: neither can they come from thence to us.

27 <sup>1</sup>Then he said, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house,

28 (For I have five brethren) that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham said unto him, They have Moses and the Prophets: let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one came unto them from the dead, they will amend their lives.

31 Then he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rise from the dead again.

1 Then said he to his disciples, <sup>a,1</sup>It cannot be avoided, but that offences will come, but woe be to him by whom they come.

2 It is better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were cast into the sea, then that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgive him.

4 <sup>b</sup>And though he sin against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, it repenteth me, thou shalt forgive him.

6 And the Lord said, 'If ye had faith, as much as is <sup>1</sup>a grain of mustard seed, and should say unto this mulberry tree, Pluck thyself up by the roots, and plant thyself in the sea, it should even obey you.

7 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Who is it also of you, that having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, would say unto him by and by, when he were come from the field, Go, and sit down at table,

8 And would not rather say to him, Dress wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken, and afterward eat thou, and drink thou?

9 Doth he thank that servant, because he did that which was commanded unto him? I trow not.

10 <sup>1</sup>So likewise ye, when ye have done all those things, which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And so it was when he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria, and Galilee.

12 And as he entered into a certain town, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off.

13 And they lifted up their voices and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, <sup>d</sup>Go, show yourselves unto the Priests. And it came to pass, that as they went, they were cleansed.

15 Then one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice praised God,

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, and gave him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answered, and said, Are there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There is none found that returned to give God praise, save this stranger.

19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way, thy faith hath saved thee.

20 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them, and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with <sup>2</sup>observation.

16:27 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that we have a most sure rule to live by, laid forth unto us in the word of God, rashly and vainly do men seek for other revelation.

17:1 <sup>1</sup> The Church is of necessity subject to offences, but the Lord will not suffer them unpunished, if any of the least be offended.

17:3 <sup>1</sup> Our reprehensions must be just, and proceed of love and charity.

17:5 <sup>1</sup> God will never be utterly lacking to the Godly (although he be not so perfectly with them, as they would) even in those difficulties, which cannot be overcome by man's reason.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> If you had no more faith, but the quantity of the grain of mustard seed.

17:7 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that God may challenge unto himself of right, both us and all that is ours, he can be debtor unto us for nothing, although we labor manfully even unto death.

17:10 <sup>1</sup> The most perfect keeping of the Law, which we can perform, deserves no reward.

17:11 <sup>1</sup> Christ doeth well even unto such, as will be unthankful, but the benefits of God profit them only to salvation, which are thankful.

17:20 <sup>1</sup> The kingdom of God is not marked of many, although it be most present before their eyes: because they fondly persuade themselves, that it is joined with outward pomp.

<sup>2</sup> With any outward pomp and show of majesty, to be known by: for there were otherwise many plain and evident tokens, whereby men might have understood, that Christ was the Messiah, whose kingdom was so long looked for: but he speaketh in this place of those signs which the Pharisees dreamed of, which looked for an earthly kingdom of Messiah.

21 Neither shall men say, Lo here, or lo there: for behold, the kingdom of God is <sup>1</sup>within you.

22 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto the disciples, the days will come, when ye shall desire to see <sup>2</sup>one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 <sup>1</sup>Then they shall say to you, Behold here, or behold there: but go not thither, neither follow them.

24 For as the lightning that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven, so shall the Son of man be in his day.

25 But first must he suffer many things and be proved of this generation.

26 <sup>1</sup>And as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the days of the Son of man.

27 They ate, they drank, they married wives, and gave in marriage unto the day that Noah went into the Ark: and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 <sup>1</sup>Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot: They ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built.

29 But in the day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

30 After these examples shall it be in the day when the son of man revealed.

31 <sup>1</sup>At that day he that is upon the house, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it out: and he that is in the field likewise, let him not turn back to that he left behind.

32 <sup>1</sup>Remember Lot's wife.

33 <sup>1</sup>Whosoever will seek to save his soul, shall loose it: and whosoever shall loose it, shall <sup>1</sup>get it life.

34 <sup>1</sup>I tell you, in that night there shall be two in one bed: the one shall be received, and the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together, the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

36 Two shall be in the field: one shall be received,

1 And <sup>1</sup>he spake also a parable unto them, to this end, that they <sup>1</sup>ought always to pray, and not to <sup>2</sup>wax faint,

2 <sup>1</sup>Saying, there was a judge in a certain city, which feared not God, neither revered man.

3 And there was a widow in that city, which came unto him, saying, Do me justice against mine adversary.

4 And he would not of a long time: but afterward he said with himself, Though I fear not God, nor reverence man,

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will do her right, lest at the last she come and <sup>1</sup>make me weary.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unrighteous judge saith.

7 Now shall not God avenge his elect, which cry day and night unto him, yea, though <sup>1</sup>he suffer long for them?

8 I tell you he will avenge them quickly: but when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 ¶ <sup>1</sup>He spake also this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were just, and despised others.

10 Two men went up into the Temple to pray: the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publican.

17:21 <sup>1</sup> You look about for Messiah as though he were absent, but he is amongst you in the midst of you.

17:22 <sup>1</sup> We oftentimes neglect those things when they be present, which we afterward desire when they are gone, but in vain.

<sup>2</sup> The time will come that you shall seek for the Son of man, with great sorrow of heart, and shall not find him.

17:23 <sup>1</sup> Christ forewarneth us that false Christs shall come, and that his glory shall suddenly be spread far and wide through the world, after that the ignomy of the cross is put out and extinguished.

17:26 <sup>1</sup> The world shall be taken unawares with the sudden judgment of God: and therefore the faithful ought to watch continually.

17:31 <sup>1</sup> We must take good heed, that neither distrust, nor the enticements of this world, nor any respect of friendship hinder us the least that may be.

17:33 <sup>1</sup> That is, shall save it, so Matthew expoundeth it: for the life that is here spoken of, is everlasting salvation.

17:37 <sup>1</sup> The only way to continue is to cleave to Christ.

18:1 <sup>1</sup> God will have us to continue in prayer, not to weary us, but to exercise us, therefore we must so strive with impatience, that long delay cause us not to break off the course of our prayers.

18:2 <sup>1</sup> He doth not compare things that are equal together, but the less with the greater: If a man get his right at a most unrighteous judge's hands, much more shall the prayers of the godly prevail before God.

18:5 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, beat me down with her blows, and it is a metaphor taken of wrestlers, who beat their adversaries with their fists or clubs: so do they that are importunate beat the judge's ears with their crying out, even as it were with blows.

18:7 <sup>1</sup> Though he seems slow in revenging the injury done to his.

18:9 <sup>1</sup> Two things especially make our prayers void and of none effect: confidence of our own righteousness, and the contempt of others: and an humble heart is contrary to both these.

11 <sup>1</sup>The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, O God, I thank thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this Publican.

12 I fast twice in the week: I give tithe of all that ever I possess.

13 But the Publican standing <sup>1</sup>afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes to heaven, but smote his breast, saying, O God, be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man departed to his house, justified rather than the other: <sup>b</sup>for every man that exalteth himself shall be brought low, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 ¶ <sup>c,1</sup>They brought unto him also babes that he should touch them. <sup>2</sup>And when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 <sup>1</sup>But Jesus <sup>2</sup>called them unto him, and said, Suffer the babes to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

17 <sup>1</sup>Verily I say unto you, whosoever receiveth not the kingdom of God as a babe, he shall not enter therein.

18 <sup>d</sup>Then a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what ought I do, to inherit eternal life?

19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, even God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, <sup>c</sup>Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness: Honor thy father and thy mother.

21 <sup>1</sup>And he said, All these have I kept from my youth.

22 Now when Jesus heard that, he said unto him, yet lackest thou one thing, Sell all that ever thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come follow me.

23 But when he heard those things, he was very heavy: for he was marvelous rich.

24 <sup>1</sup>And when Jesus saw him very sorrowful, he said, With what difficulty shall they that have riches, enter into the kingdom of God!

25 Surely it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the 26 Then said they that heard it, And who then shall be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 ¶ <sup>f</sup>Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, there is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdom of God's sake,

30 Which shall not receive much more in this world, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ <sup>g,1</sup>Then Jesus took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things shall be fulfilled to the Son of man, that are written by the Prophets.

32 For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shall be spiteful entreated, and shall be spitted on.

33 And when they have scourged him, they will put him to death: but the third day he shall rise again.

34 But they understood <sup>1</sup>none of these things, and this saying was hid from them, neither perceived they the things, which were spoken.

35 ¶ <sup>h,1</sup>And it came to pass, that as he was come near unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the wayside, begging.

36 And when he heard the people pass by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they said unto him, that Jesus of Nazareth passed by.

38 Then he cried, saying, Jesus the Son of David, have mercy on me.

39 <sup>1</sup>And they which went before, rebuked him that he should hold his peace, but he cried much more, O Son of David have mercy on me.

40 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be brought unto him. And when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

18:11 <sup>1</sup> Although we confess that whatsoever we have, we have it of God, yet are we despised of God, as proud and arrogant, if we put never so little trust in our own works before God.

18:13 <sup>1</sup> Far from the Pharisee in a lower place.

18:15 <sup>1</sup> The children were tender and young, in that they were brought, which appeareth more evidently in that, that they were infants, which is to be marked against them that are enemies to the baptizing of children.

<sup>2</sup> To judge or think of Christ after the reason of our flesh, is the cause of infinite corruptions.

18:16 <sup>1</sup> The children also of the faithful are comprehended in the free covenant of God.

18:21 <sup>1</sup> The enticement of riches carrieth away many from the right way.

18:24 <sup>1</sup> To be both rich and godly, is a singular gift of God.

18:29 <sup>1</sup> They become the richest of all, which refuse not to be poor for Christ's sake.

18:31 <sup>1</sup> As sure and certain as persecution is, so sure is the glory which remaineth for the conquerors.

18:34 <sup>1</sup> Hereby we see how ignorant the disciples were.

18:35 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth by a visible miracle, that he is the light of the world.

18:39 <sup>1</sup> The more stops and lets that Satan layeth in our way, even by them which profess Christ's Name, so much the more ought we to go forward.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.

43 Then immediately he received his sight, and followed him, praising God: and all the people, when they saw this, gave praise to God.

19 2 Zacchaeus the Publican. 13 Ten pieces of money delivered to servants to occupy withall. 19 Jesus entereth into Jerusalem. 41 He foretelleth the destruction of the city with tears. 45 He casteth the sellers out of the Temple.

1 Now <sup>1</sup>when Jesus entered and passed through Jericho,

2 Behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the <sup>1</sup>chief receiver of the tribute, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus, who he should be, and could not for the press, because he was of a low stature.

4 Wherefore he ran before, and climbed up into a wild fig tree, that he might see him: for he should come that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zacchaeus, come down at once: for today I must abide at thine house.

6 Then he came down hastily, and received him joyfully.

7 <sup>1</sup>And when all they saw it, they murmured, saying, that he was gone in to lodge with a sinful man.

8 <sup>1</sup>And Zacchaeus stood forth, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor: and if I have taken from any man by <sup>2</sup>forged cavillation, I restore him fourfold.

9 Then Jesus said to him, This day is salvation come unto this house, forasmuch as he is also become the <sup>1</sup>son of Abraham.

10 <sup>4</sup>For the son of man is come to seek, and to save that which was lost.

11 <sup>1</sup>And while they heard these things, he continued and spake a parable, because he was near to Jerusalem, and because also they thought that the kingdom of God should shortly appear.

12 He said therefore, <sup>b</sup>A certain noble man went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and so to come again.

13 <sup>1</sup>And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pieces of money, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, when he was come again, and had received his kingdom, that he commanded the servants to be called to him, to whom he gave his money, that he might know what every man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, <sup>1</sup>thy piece hath increased ten pieces.

17 And he said unto him, Well, good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little thing, take thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased five pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler over five cities.

20 <sup>1</sup>So the other came, and said, Lord, behold thy piece, which I have laid up in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straight man: thou takest up that thou laidst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 Then he said unto him, Of thine own mouth will I judge thee, O evil servant. Thou knewest that I am a straight man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow.

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the <sup>1</sup>bank, that at my coming I might have required it with vantage?

24 And he said to them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and give it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

19:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ preventeth them with his grace especially which seemed to be furthest from it.

19:2 <sup>1</sup> The overseer and head of the Publicans which were there together: for the Publicans were divided into companies: as we may gather by many places of Cicero his orations.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> The world forsaketh the grace of God, and yet is unwilling that it should be bestowed upon others.

19:8 <sup>1</sup> The example of true repentance, is known by the effect.

<sup>2</sup> By falsely accusing any man: and this agreeth most fitly to the master of the customer's person: for commonly they have this trade among them when they rob and spoil the commonweal, they have nothing in their mouths, but the profit of the commonweal, and under that color they play the thieves, insomuch that if men reprove and go about to redress their robbery, and spoiling, they cry out, the commonweal is hindered.

19:9 <sup>1</sup> Beloved of God, one that walketh in the steps of Abraham's faith: and we gather that salvation came to that house, because they received the blessing as Abraham had, for all of the household were circumcised.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> We must patiently wait for the judgment of God, which shall be revealed in his time.

19:13 <sup>1</sup> There are three sorts of men in the Church: the one sort fall from Christ whom they see not; the other, which according to their vocation, bestow the gifts which they have received of God, to his glory with great pains and diligence: the third live idly, and do no good. As for the first, the Lord when he cometh will justly punish them in his time: the other he will bless, according to the pains which they have taken: and as for the slothful and idle persons, he will punish them as the first.

19:16 <sup>1</sup> This was a piece of money, which the Grecians used, and was in value about an hundred pence, which is about ten crowns.

19:20 <sup>1</sup> Against them which spend their life idly in deliberating, and otherwise, in contemplation.

19:23 <sup>1</sup> To the bankers and changers.

26 ¶For I say unto you, that unto all them that have, it shall be given: and from him that hath not, even that he hath, shall be taken from him.

27 Moreover, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, <sup>1</sup>he went forth before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

29 <sup>a.1</sup>And it came to pass, when he was come near to Bethphage, and Bethany, besides the mount which is called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Go ye to the town which is before you, wherein as soon as ye are come, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any ask you, why ye loose him, thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 ¶ So they brought him to Jesus, and they cast their garments on the colt, and set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was now come near to the going down of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice, and to praise God with a loud voice, for all the great works that they had seen,

38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the Name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest places.

39 <sup>1</sup>Then some of the Pharisees of the company said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered, and said unto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would cry.

43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side,

46 Saying unto them, It is written, <sup>h</sup>Mine house is the house of prayer, <sup>i</sup>but ye have made it a den of thieves.

1 And <sup>a.1</sup>it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests and the Scribes came upon him, with the Elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us by what authority thou doest these things, or who is he that hath given thee this authority?

3 And he answered, and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing: tell me therefore:

19:28 <sup>1</sup> The disciples staggered and stayed at the matter, but Christ goeth on boldly though death were before his eyes.

19:29 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth in his own person, that his kingdom is not of this world.

19:39 <sup>1</sup> When they linger which ought to be the chiefest preachers and setters forth of the kingdom of God, he will raise up others extraordinarily, in despite of them.

19:41 <sup>1</sup> Christ is not simply delighted with the destruction, no not of the wicked.

19:42 <sup>1</sup> Christ breaketh off his speech, which showeth partly how he was moved with compassion for the destruction of the city, that was like to ensue: and partly to upbraid them for their treachery and stubbornness against him, such as hath not lightly been heard of.

<sup>3</sup> If after the slaying of so many Prophets, and so oft refusing me the Lord of the Prophets, now especially in this my last coming to thee, thou hadst had any regard to thyself.

19:44 <sup>1</sup> That is, this very instant wherein God visited thee.

19:45 <sup>1</sup> Christ showeth after his entry into Jerusalem by a visible sign, that it is his office enjoined him of his Father to purge the Temple.

Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 Then Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you, by what authority I do these things.

9 ¶<sup>b,1</sup>Then began he to speak to the people this parable, A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen: and went into a strange country, for a great time.

10 And at the time convenient he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 Again he sent yet another servant: and they did beat him, and foul entreated him, and sent him away empty.

12 Moreover he sent the third, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be that they will do reverence when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore do unto them?

16 He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 ¶ And he beheld them, and said, What meaneth this then that is written, 'The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner?

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone, shall be broken: and on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 Then the high Priests, and the Scribes the same hour went about to lay hands on him (but they feared the people) for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

22 Is it lawful for us to give Caesar tribute or no?

23 But he perceived their <sup>1</sup>craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Show me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered, and said, Caesars.

25 Then he said unto them, 'Give then unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and to God those which are God's.

26 And they could not reprove his saying before the people: but they marveled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 <sup>f,1</sup>Then came to him certain of the Sadducees (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him,

28 Saying, Master, <sup>g</sup>Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 Now there were seven brethren, and the first took a wife, and he died without children.

30 And the second took the wife, and he died childless.

31 Then the third took her: and so likewise the seven died, and left no children.

32 And last of all, the woman died also.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seven had her to wife.

34 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, The <sup>1</sup>children of this world marry wives, and are married.

35 But they which shall be counted worthy to enjoy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wives, neither are married.

36 For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equal unto the Angels, and are the sons of God, since they are the <sup>1</sup>children of the resurrection.

20:23 <sup>1</sup> Craftiness is a certain diligence and witness to do evil, gotten by much use and great practice in matters.

20:34 <sup>1</sup> They are called here in this place, the children of this world, which live in this world: and not they, that wholly are given to the world, as before Luke 16:8, which are contrary to the children of light.

20:36 <sup>1</sup> That is, men partakers of the resurrection, for as we say truly, that they shall live indeed, which shall enjoy everlasting bliss, so do they rise indeed, which rise to life, though if this word resurrection, be taken generally, it belongeth also to the wicked which shall rise to condemnation, which is not properly life, but death.

38 For he is not the God of the dead, but of them which live: for all <sup>1</sup>live unto him.

39 Then certain of the Scribes answered, and said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, durst they not ask him anything at all.

41 ¶ <sup>h,1</sup>Then said he unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son?

42 And David himself saith in the book of the Psalms, <sup>j</sup>The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit at my right hand, 43 Till I shall make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 Seeing David called him Lord, how is he then his son?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people he said unto his disciples,

46 <sup>k,1</sup>Beware of the Scribes, which willingly go in long robes, and love salutations in the markets, and the highest seats in the assemblies, and the chief rooms at feasts:

24 And they shall fall on the <sup>1</sup>edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all nations, and Jerusalem shall be trodden under foot of the Gentiles, until the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 <sup>b,1</sup>Then there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars, and upon the earth trouble among the nations, with perplexity: the sea and the waters shall roar.

26 <sup>1</sup>And men's hearts shall fail them for fear and for looking after those things which shall come on the world: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Son of man come in a cloud, with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads: <sup>1</sup>for your redemption draweth near.

29 <sup>1</sup>And he spake to them a parable, Behold, the fig tree, and all trees,

2 And the high Priests and Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 <sup>b,1</sup>Then entered Satan into Judas, who was called Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the high Priests and <sup>1</sup>captains, how he might betray him to them.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them, when the people were <sup>1</sup>away.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the <sup>1</sup>Passover that we may eat it.

10 Then he said unto them, Behold, when ye be entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house that he entereth in,

11 And say unto the good man of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the lodging where I shall eat my Passover with my disciples?

15 Then he said unto them, I have earnestly desired to eat this Passover with you, before I <sup>1</sup>suffer.

16 For I say unto you, Henceforth I will not eat of it anymore, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among you:

18 For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God be come.

19 <sup>e,1</sup>And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body, which is given for you: do this in the remembrance of me.

25 But he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles reign over them, and they that bear rule over them, are called <sup>1</sup>bountiful.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> Here is a double Metonymy: for first the vessel is taken for that which is contained in the vessel, as the cup, for the wine which is within the cup. Then the wine is called the Covenant or Testament, whereas indeed it is but the sign of the Testament, or rather of the blood of Christ, whereby the Testament was made: neither is it a vain sign, though it be not all one with the thing that it representeth.

<sup>2</sup> This word, that, showeth the excellency of the Testament, and answereth to the place of Jeremiah, Chapter 31:31, where the new Testament is promised.

them, Pray, lest ye enter into tentation.

41 <sup>1</sup>And he was drawn aside from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed,

42 Saying, Father, If thou wilt, take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel unto him from heaven, comforting him.

44 But being in an <sup>1</sup>agony, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was like <sup>2</sup>drops of blood, trickling down to the ground.

45 <sup>1</sup>And he rose up from prayer, and came to his disciples, and found them sleeping for heaviness.

46 And he said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into tentation.

47 ¶ <sup>o1</sup>And while he yet spake, behold, a company, and he that was called Judas one of the twelve, went before them, and came near unto Jesus to kiss him.

48 And Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49 <sup>1</sup>Now when they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 And one of them smote a servant of the high Priest, and struck off his right ear.

51 Then Jesus answered, and said, Suffer them thus far: and he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus said unto the high Priests, and captains of the Temple, and the Elders which were come to him, Be ye come out as unto a thief with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the Temple, ye stretched not forth the hands against me: but this is your very hour, and the <sup>1</sup>power of darkness.

54 ¶ <sup>p</sup>Then took they him, and led him, and brought him to the high Priest's house. <sup>1</sup>And Peter followed afar off.

55 <sup>q</sup>And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter also sat down among them.

56 And a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and having well looked on him, said, This man was also with him.

57 But he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a little while, another man saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of an hour after, a certain other affirmed, saying, Verily, even this man was with him: for he is also a Galilean.

60 And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately while he yet spake, the cock crew.

61 Then the Lord turned back, and looked upon Peter: and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, <sup>r</sup>Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ <sup>s1</sup>And the men that held Jesus, mocked him, and struck him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophecy who it is that smote thee.

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 <sup>t2</sup>And as soon as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the high Priests and the Scribes came together, and led him into their Council, 67 Saying, Art thou that Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe it.

68 And if also I ask you, you will not answer me, nor let me go.

69 Hereafter shall the Son of man sit at the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said to them, Ye say, that I am.

71 Then said they, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard it of his own mouth.

22:41 <sup>1</sup> Prayers are a sure succor against the most perilous assaults of our enemies.

22:44 <sup>1</sup> This agony showeth that Christ strove much, and was in great distress: for Christ strove not only with the fears of death, as other men used to do, for so many martyrs might seem more constant than Christ, but with the fearful judgment of his angry Father, which is the fearfullest thing in the world: and the matter was, for that he took the burden of all our sins upon himself.

<sup>2</sup> These do not only show that Christ was true man, but other things also which the goodly have to consider of, wherein redemption of all mankind is contained in the son of God his debasing himself to the state of a servant: such things as no man can sufficiently declare.

22:45 <sup>1</sup> Men are utterly sluggish, even in their greatest dangers until Christ stir them up.

22:47 <sup>1</sup> Christ is willingly betrayed and taken, that by his obedience he might deliver us which were guilty for the betraying of God's glory.

22:49 <sup>1</sup> That zeal which carrieth us out of the bounds of our vocation, pleaseth not Christ.

22:52 <sup>1</sup> Even the very fear of them which took Christ, proveth partly their evil conscience, and partly also that all these things were done by God's providence.

22:53 <sup>1</sup> The power that was given to darkness, to oppress the light for a season.

22:54 <sup>1</sup> We have to behold in Peter an example both of the fragility of man's nature, and of the singular goodness of God toward his elect.

22:63 <sup>1</sup> Christ bare the shame that was due to our sins.

22:66 <sup>1</sup> Christ is wrongfully condemned of blasphemy before the high Priest's judgment seat, that we might be quit before God from the blasphemy which we deserved.

23 1 He is accuseth before Pilate. 7 He is sent to Herod. 11 He is mocked. 24 Pilate yieldeth him up to the Jews' request. 27 The women bewail him. 33 He is crucified. 39 One of the thieves revileth him. 43 The other is saved by faith. 45 He dieth. 53 He is buried.

1 Then <sup>1</sup>the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We have found this man <sup>1</sup>perverting the nation, <sup>a</sup>and forbidding to pay tribute to Caesar, saying, That he is Christ a King.

3 <sup>b</sup>And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the high Priests, and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, saying, He moveth the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning at Galilee, even to this place.

6 <sup>1</sup>Now when Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when he knew that he was of <sup>1</sup>Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, which was also at Jerusalem in those days.

8 And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and trusteth to have seen some sign done by him.

9 Then questioned he with him of many things: but he answered him nothing.

10 The high Priests also and Scribes stood forth and accused him vehemently.

11 And Herod with his <sup>1</sup>men of war, despised him, and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 <sup>1</sup>And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then Pilate called together the high Priests, and the <sup>2</sup>rulers, and the people,

14 <sup>c</sup>And said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverted the people: and behold, I have examined him before you, and have found no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him: and lo, nothing worthy of death is done of him.

16 <sup>1</sup>I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

17 (For of necessity he must have let one loose unto them at the feast.)

18 Then all the multitude cried at once, saying, Away with him, and deliver unto us Barabbas:

19 Which for a certain insurrection made in the city, and murder, was cast in prison.

20 Then Pilate spake again to them, willing to let Jesus loose.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucify, crucify him.

22 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto them the third time, But what evil hath he done? I find no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

23 But they were instant with loud voices, and required that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the high Priests prevailed.

24 So Pilate gave sentence, that it should be as they required.

25 And he let loose unto them him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired, and delivered Jesus to do with him what they would.

26 ¶ <sup>d.1</sup> And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, coming out of the field, and on him they laid the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

27 <sup>1</sup>And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turned back unto them, and said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 For behold, the days will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, <sup>e</sup>Fall on us: and to the hills, Cover us.

31 <sup>f</sup>For if they do these things to a <sup>1</sup>green tree,

23:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ, who is now ready to suffer for the sedition, which we raised in this world, is first of all pronounced guiltless, that it might appear that he suffered not for his own sins (which were none) but for ours.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> Corrupting the people, and leading them into errors.

23:6 <sup>1</sup> Christ is a laughingstock to princes, but to their great smart.

23:7 <sup>1</sup> This was Herod Antipas the Tetrarch, in the time of whose governance, which was almost the space of 22 years, John the Baptist preached and was put to death, and Jesus Christ also died and rose again, and the Apostles began to preach, and divers things were done at Jerusalem almost seven years after Christ's death. This Herod was sent into banishment to Lyons, about the second year of Gaius Caesar.

23:11 <sup>1</sup> Accompanied with his nobles and soldiers which followed him from Galilee.

23:12 <sup>1</sup> The hatred of godliness joineth the wicked together.

23:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ is quit the second time, even of him of whom he is condemned, that it might appear, how he being just, redeemed us which were unjust.

23:16 <sup>1</sup> The wisdom of the flesh, of two evils chooseth the less, but God curseth such counsels.

23:22 <sup>1</sup> Christ is quit the third time, before he was condemned once, that it might appear, how that our sins were condemned in him.

23:26 <sup>1</sup> An example of the outrageousness and disorder of the soldiers.

23:27 <sup>1</sup> The triumph of the wicked hath a most horrible end.

23:31 <sup>1</sup> As if he said, If they do thus to me that am fruitful, and always flourishing, and who lives forever by reason of my Godhead, what will they do to you, that are unfruitful and void of all lively righteousness?

what shall be done to the dry?

32 <sup>g</sup>And there were two others, which were evildoers, led with him to be slain.

33 <sup>1</sup>And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the evildoers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 <sup>1</sup>Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them: for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood, and beheld: and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saved others: let him save himself, if he be that Christ the <sup>1</sup>Chosen of God.

36 The soldiers also mocked him, and came and offered him vinegar,

37 And said, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself.

38 <sup>1</sup>And a superscription was also written over him, in Greek letters, and in Latin, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THAT KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And <sup>2</sup>one of the evildoers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be that Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answered, and rebuked him, saying, Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 We are indeed righteously here: for we receive things worthy of that we have done: but this man hath done nothing <sup>1</sup>amiss.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 Then Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in <sup>1</sup>Paradise.

44 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And it was about the sixth hour: and there was a darkness over all the land, until the ninth hour.

the Temple rent through the midst.

46 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and said, <sup>b</sup>Father, into thine hands I commend my spirit. And when he thus had said, he gave up the ghost.

47 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Now when the Centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a surety this man was just.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done: smote their breasts, and returned.

49 <sup>1</sup>And all his acquaintances stood afar off, and the women that followed him from Galilee, beholding these things.

50 ¶ <sup>i1</sup>And behold, there was a man named Joseph, which was a counselor, a good man and a just.

51 He did not consent to the counsel and deed of them, which was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews: who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 He went unto Pilate, and asked the body of Jesus,

53 And took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid it in a tomb hewn out of a rock, wherein was never man yet laid.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the Sabbath <sup>1</sup>drew on.

55 <sup>1</sup>And the women also that followed after, which came with him from Galilee, beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned and prepared odors, and ointments, and resteth the Sabbath day according to the commandment.

24 The women come to the sepulchre. 9 They report that which they heard of the Angels, unto the Apostles. 13 Christ doth accompany two going to Emmaus. 27 He expoundeth the Scriptures unto them. 39 He offereth himself to his Apostles to be handled. 49 He promiseth the holy Ghost. 51 He is carried up into heaven.

23:33 <sup>1</sup> Christ became accused for us upon the Cross, suffering the punishment which they deserved that would be God's.

23:34 <sup>1</sup> Christ in praying for his enemies, showeth that he is both the sacrifice and the Priest.

23:35 <sup>1</sup> Whom God loveth more than all others.

23:38 <sup>1</sup> Pilate at unawares is made a preacher of the kingdom of Christ.

23:39 <sup>1</sup> Therefore either we must take that spoken by Synecdoche which Matthew saith, or that both of them mocked Christ. But one of them at length overcome with the great patience of God, brake forth into that confession worthy all memory.

<sup>2</sup> Christ, in the midst of the humbling of himself upon the cross, showeth indeed that he hath both power of life to save the believers, and of death to revenge the rebellious.

23:41 <sup>1</sup> More than he ought.

23:43 <sup>1</sup> God made the visible paradise to the East part of the world: but that which we behold with the eyes of our mind is the place of everlasting joy and salvation through the goodness and mercy of God, a most pleasant rest of the souls of the godly, and most quiet and joyful dwelling.

23:44 <sup>1</sup> Christ being even at the point of death, showeth himself to be God almighty, even to the blind.

23:45 <sup>1</sup> Christ entereth stoutly into the very darkness of death, for to overcome death even within his most secret places.

23:47 <sup>1</sup> Christ causeth his very enemies to give honorable witness on his side, so oft as it pleaseth him.

23:49 <sup>1</sup> Christ gathereth together, and defendeth his little flock in the midst of the tormentors.

23:50 <sup>1</sup> Christ through his famous burial confirmeth the truth both of his death, and resurrection, by the plain and evident witness of Pilate.

23:54 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, dawning, as now beginning, for the light of the former day drew toward the going down, and that was the day of preparation for the feast which was to be kept the day following.

23:55 <sup>1</sup> Christ, being set upon by the devil and all his instruments, and being even, in death's mouth, setteth weak women in his forward, minding straightways to triumph over those terrible enemies without any great endeavor.

1 Now the <sup>a,1</sup>first day of the week <sup>2</sup>early in the morning, they came unto the sepulcher, and brought the odors which they had prepared, and certain women with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulcher,

3 And went in, but found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to pass, that as they were amazed thereat, behold, two men suddenly stood by them in shining vestures.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said to them, Why seek ye him that liveth, among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember <sup>b</sup>how he spake unto you, when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, that the Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 <sup>1</sup>And returned from the sepulcher, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the remnant.

10 Now it was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women with them which told these things unto the Apostles.

11 But their words seemed unto them as a feigned thing, neither believed they them.

12 <sup>c,1</sup>Then arose Peter and ran unto the sepulcher, and <sup>2</sup>looked in and saw the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 ¶ <sup>d,1</sup>And behold two of them went that same day to a town which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs, called Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all these things that were done.

15 And it came to pass, as they communed together, and reasoned, that Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 <sup>1</sup>But their eyes were holden, that they could not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another as ye walk and are sad?

18 And <sup>1</sup>the one (named Cleopas) answered and said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass therein in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Of Jesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet, mighty indeed and in word before God, and all people, 20 <sup>1</sup>And how the high Priests, and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had been he that should have delivered Israel, and as touching all these things, today is the third day, that they were done.

22 Yea, and certain women among us made us astonished, which came early unto the sepulcher.

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of Angels, which said, that he was alive.

24 Therefore certain of them which were with us, went to the sepulcher, and found it even so as the women had said, but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools and slow of heart to believe all that the Prophets have spoken!

26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And he began at Moses, and at all the Prophets, and interpreted unto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

28 And they drew near unto the town, which they went to, but he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us, for it is towards night, and the day is far spent. So he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at table with them, he took the bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave it to them.

31 Then their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he was <sup>1</sup>no more seen of them.

24:1 <sup>1</sup> Poor silly women, even beside their expectation are chosen to be the first witnesses of the resurrection, that there might be no suspicion either of deceit or violence.

<sup>2</sup> Very early as Mark saith: or as John saith, while it was yet dark, that is, when it was yet scarce the dawning of the day.

24:9 <sup>1</sup> The cowardly and dastardly minds of the disciples is upbraided by the stout courage of women, (so wrought by God's great mercy) to show that the kingdom of God consisteth in an extraordinary power.

24:12 <sup>1</sup> Christ useth the incredulity of his disciples, to the fuller setting forth of the truth of his resurrection, lest they should seem to have believed that too lightly, which they preached afterward to all the world.

24:13 <sup>1</sup> The resurrection is proved by two other witnesses, which saw it, and that it was no forged thing framed of purpose in their own brains, all the circumstances do declare.

24:16 <sup>1</sup> Were held back and stayed, God so appointing it, no doubt: and therefore his body was not invisible, but their eyes were dimmed.

24:18 <sup>1</sup> Some of the old fathers think that the other disciple was this our Evangelist, but Epiphanius writing against the Saturnilians, saith it was Nathanael, but all these are uncertainties.

24:20 <sup>1</sup> It appeareth by the converting of the forewarnings of the Prophets, that all those things are true and certain, which the Evangelists have put down in writing of Christ.

24:31 <sup>1</sup> Suddenly taken away, and therefore we may not imagine that he was there in such a body as could not be seen, but believe indeed that he changed his place.

32 And they said between themselves, Did not our hearts burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and when he opened to us the Scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Which said, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 Then they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in <sup>1</sup>breaking of bread.

36 ¶ <sup>e,1</sup>And as they spake these things, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and said unto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were abashed and afraid, supposing that they had seen a spirit.

38 Then he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do <sup>1</sup>doubts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold mine hands and my feet: for it is I myself: handle me, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he showed them his hands and feet.

41 And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honeycomb,

43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 <sup>1</sup>And he said unto them, These are the words, which I spake unto you while I was yet with you, that all must be fulfilled which are written of me in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms.

45 Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures,

46 And said unto them, Thus is it written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead the third day,

47 And that repentance, and remission of sins should be preached in his Name among all nations, <sup>1</sup>beginning at Jerusalem.

48 Now ye are witnesses of these things.

49 And behold, I do send the <sup>f</sup>promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, <sup>1</sup>until ye be endued with power from on high.

50 <sup>1</sup>Afterward he lead them out into Bethany, and lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51 And it came to pass, that as he blessed them, <sup>g</sup>he departed from them, and was carried up into heaven.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy,

53 And were continually in the Temple, praising, and lauding God. Amen.

24:35 <sup>1</sup> When he brake bread, which that people used, and as the Jews use yet at this day at the beginning of their meals, and say a prayer.

24:36 <sup>1</sup> The Lord himself showeth by certain and necessary signs, that he was risen again, and that in the same body which he took upon him.

24:38 <sup>1</sup> Divers and doubtful thoughts which fall oft into men's heads, when any strange thing falleth out, whereof there is no great likelihood.

24:44 <sup>1</sup> The preaching of the Gospel, which was promised to the Prophets and performed in his time, is committed unto the Apostles: the sum whereof, is repentance and remission of sins.

24:47 <sup>1</sup> The Apostles who are the preachers of the Gospel beginning at Jerusalem.

24:49 <sup>1</sup> Until the holy Ghost comes down from heaven upon you.

24:50 <sup>1</sup> Christ ascendeth into heaven, and departing bodily from his disciples, filleth their hearts with the holy Ghost.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO JOHN

2 This same was in the beginning with God.

3 <sup>a,1</sup>All <sup>2</sup>things were made by it, and <sup>3</sup>without it <sup>4</sup>was made nothing that was made.

4 <sup>1</sup>In it <sup>2</sup>was life, and that life was <sup>3</sup>the light of men.

5 <sup>1</sup>And that light shineth in the wilderness, and the darkness <sup>2</sup>comprehendeth it not.

6 ¶ <sup>b,1</sup>There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 This same came for a witness, to bear witness of that light, that all men <sup>1</sup>through him might believe.

8 He was not <sup>1</sup>that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light.

9 <sup>1</sup>This was <sup>2</sup>that true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 <sup>1</sup>He was in the world, and the world was <sup>4</sup>made by him: and the world knew him not.

11 He came <sup>1</sup>unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 <sup>1</sup>But as many as received him, to them he gave <sup>2</sup>prerogative to be the sons of God, even to them that believe in his Name,

13 Which are born not of blood, nor of the <sup>1</sup>will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> The Son of God is of one, and the selfsame eternity or everlastingness, and of one and the selfsame essence or nature, with the Father.

<sup>2</sup> From his beginning, as the Evangelist saith, 1 John 1:1, as though he said, that the world began not then to have his being, when God began to make all that was made: for the word was even then when all things that were made, began to be made, and therefore he was before the beginning of all things.

<sup>4</sup> This word, That, pointeth out to us a peculiar and choice thing above all other, and putteth a difference between this Word, which is the Son of God, and the Laws of God, which otherwise also are called the word of God.

<sup>6</sup> This word (Word) is the first in order in the sentence, and is that which the learned call (Subjectum) and this word (God) is the latter in order, and the same which the learned call (Predicatum).

1:3 <sup>1</sup> The son of God declareth that same his everlasting Godhead, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preserving of them, and especially by the excellent gifts of reason and understanding, wherewith he that beautified man above all other creatures.

<sup>3</sup> That is, as the Father did work, so did the Son work with him: for he was fellow worker with him.

<sup>4</sup> Of all those things which were made, nothing was made without him.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, by him: and it is spoken after the manner of the Hebrews, meaning thereby that by his force and working power all life cometh to the world.

<sup>2</sup> To wit, even then, when all things are made by him, for else he would have said, Life is in him, and not life was.

<sup>3</sup> That force of reason and understanding, which is kindled in our minds to acknowledge him, the author of so great a benefit.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> The light of men is turned into darkness, but yet so that there is clearness enough to make them without excuse.

<sup>2</sup> They could not perceive nor reach unto it, to receive any light of it, no, they did not so much as acknowledge him.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> There is another more full manifestation of the Son of God, to the consideration whereof men are in good time stirred up, even by John's voice, who is as it were the herald of Christ.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Through John.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> That light which we spake of, to wit, Christ, who only can lighten our darkness.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> When as the Son of God saw, that man did not acknowledge him by his works, although they were endued with understanding (which he had given to them all) he exhibited himself unto his people to be seen of them with their corporal eyes: yet neither so did they acknowledge him, nor receive him.

<sup>2</sup> Who only and properly deserveth to be called the light, for he shineth of himself and borroweth light of none.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> That person of the Word, was made manifest even at that time when the world was made.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> The Word showed himself again, when he came in the flesh.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> The Son being shut out of the most of his people, and acknowledged but of a few, doth regenerate them by his own virtue and power, and receiveth them into that honor which is common to all the children of God, that is to be the sons of God.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> Of that gross and corrupt nature of man, which is throughout the Scriptures set as enemy to the Spirit.

15 ¶<sup>1</sup> John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I said, He that cometh <sup>2</sup>after me, was <sup>3</sup>before me: for he was better than I.

16 <sup>f1</sup>And of his fullness have all we received, and <sup>2</sup>grace for grace.

17 For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 <sup>g1</sup>No man hath seen God at any time: that only begotten Son, which is in the <sup>2</sup>bosom of the Father, he hath <sup>3</sup>declared him.

19 ¶<sup>1</sup> Then this is the record of John, when the Jews sent Priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he <sup>1</sup>confessed and <sup>2</sup>denied not, and said plainly, I <sup>b</sup>am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elijah? And he said, <sup>1</sup>I am not. Art thou <sup>2</sup>that Prophet?

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou, that we may give an answer to them that sent us? What sayest thou of thyself?

23 He said, I <sup>i</sup>am the voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Isaiah.

24 <sup>1</sup>Now they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, neither Elijah, nor that Prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one <sup>1</sup>among you, whom ye know not.

27 <sup>1</sup>He it is that cometh after me, which was before me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John did baptize.

29 ¶<sup>1</sup> The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold <sup>2</sup>that Lamb of God, which

1:14 <sup>1</sup> That Son, who is God from everlasting, took upon him man's nature, that one and the selfsame might be both God and man, which manifestly appeared to many witnesses, that saw him amongst whom he was conversant, and unto whom by sure and undoubted arguments he showed both his natures.

<sup>2</sup> That is, man: so that the part is taken for the whole, by the figure Synecdoche: for he took upon him all our whole nature, that is to say, a true body, and a true soul.

<sup>3</sup> For a season, and when that was ended, he went up into heaven: for the word which he useth, is taken from tents: and yet notwithstanding, his absence from us in body is not such, but that he is always present with us, though not in flesh, yet by the virtue of his Spirit.

<sup>4</sup> The glory which he speaketh of here, is that manifestation of Christ's majesty, which was as it were laid open before our eyes when the Son of God appeared in flesh.

<sup>5</sup> This word (as) doth not in this place betoken a likeness, but the truth of the matter, for his meaning is this, that we saw such a glory, as be-seemed and was meet for the true and only begotten Son of God, who is Lord and King over all the world.

<sup>6</sup> He was not only a partaker of grace and truth, but was full of the very substance of grace and truth.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> John is a faithful witness of the excellency of Christ.

<sup>2</sup> That is, He before whom I am sent to prepare him the way: so that these words are referred to the time of his calling, and not of his age, for John was six months older than he.

<sup>3</sup> This sentence hath in it a turning of the reason as we call it, as who would say, a setting of that first which should be last, and that last which should be first: for in plain speech this it is: He that cometh after me, is better than I am, for he was before me. The like kind of turning the reason we find in Luke 7:47: many sins are forgiven her, because she loved much, which is thus much to say, she loved much, because many sins are forgiven her.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> Christ is the most plentiful fountain of all goodness, but then he poured out his gifts most bountifully, when as he exhibited and showed himself to the world.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> That true knowledge of God proceedeth only from Jesus Christ.

<sup>2</sup> Who is nearest to his Father, not only in respect of his love towards him, but by the bond of nature, and for that union or oneness that is between them, whereby the Father and the Son are one.

<sup>3</sup> Revealed him, and showed him unto us, whereas before he was hid under the shadows of the Law, so that the quickness of the sight of our minds was not able to perceive him: for whosoever seeth him, seeth the Father also.

1:19 <sup>1</sup> John is neither the Messiah, nor like to any of the other Prophets, but is the herald of Christ, who is now present.

1:20 <sup>1</sup> He did acknowledge him, and spake of him plainly and openly.

<sup>2</sup> This repeating of the one and the selfsame thing, though in divers words, is used much of the Hebrews, and it hath great force: for they used to speak one thing twice, to set it out more certainly and plainly.

1:21 <sup>1</sup> The Jews thought that Elijah should come again before the days of Messiah, and they took the ground of that their opinion out of Mal. 4:5, which place is to be understood of John, Matt. 11:14. And yet John denieth that he is Elijah, answering them indeed according as they meant.

<sup>2</sup> They inquire of some great Prophet, and not of Christ, for John denied before, that he is Christ, for they thought that some great Prophet should be sent like unto Moses, wresting to that purpose that place of Deut. 18:15, which is to be understood of all the company of the Prophets and ministers, which have been and shall be to the end, and especially of Christ, who is the head of all Prophets.

1:24 <sup>1</sup> Christ is the author of baptism, and not John: and therefore the force thereof consisteth not in John, who is the minister, but wholly in Christ the Lord.

1:25 <sup>1</sup> Hereby we may prove that the Jews knew there should be some change in religion under Messiah.

1:26 <sup>1</sup> Whom all the world seeth not, and is even amongst you.

1:29 <sup>1</sup> The body and truth of all the sacrifices of the Law, to make satisfaction for the sin of the world, is in Christ.

<sup>2</sup> This word (That) which is added, hath great force in it, not only to set forth the worthiness of Christ, and so to separate him from the Lamb which was a figure of him, and from all other sacrifices of the Law, but also to bring into our mind the Prophecies of Isaiah and others.

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man, which was before me: for he was better than I.

31 And <sup>1</sup>I knew him not: but because he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come, baptizing with water.

32 <sup>5</sup>So John bare record, saying, I beheld, <sup>6</sup>that Spirit come down from heaven, like a dove, and it abode upon him,

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see that Spirit come down, and tarry still on him, that is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is <sup>1</sup>that Son of God.

35 ¶ <sup>1</sup>The next day, John stood again, and two of his disciples.

36 <sup>1</sup>And he beheld Jesus walking by, and said, Behold that Lamb of God.

37 <sup>1</sup>And the two disciples heard him speak, and followed Jesus.

38 Then Jesus turned about, and saw them follow, and said unto them, What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say by interpretation, Master) <sup>1</sup>where dwellest thou?

39 He said unto them, Come, and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the <sup>1</sup>tenth hour.

40 Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two which had heard it of John, and that followed him.

41 The same found his brother Simon first, and said unto him, We have found that Messiah which is by interpretation, that <sup>1</sup>Christ.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And Jesus beheld him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of Jonah:

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 <sup>1</sup>Philip found Nathanael, and said unto him, We have found him of whom <sup>1</sup>Moses did write in the Law, and the <sup>m</sup>Prophets, Jesus that Son of Joseph, that was of Nazareth.

46 <sup>1</sup>Then Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip said to him, Come, and see.

47 <sup>1</sup>Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and said of him, Behold indeed an Israelite, in whom is no guile.

48 <sup>1</sup>Nathanael said unto him, Whence knewest thou me? Jesus answered, and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and said unto him, Rabbi, thou art that Son of God: thou art that King of Israel.

50 Jesus answered, and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see heaven open, and the Angels of God <sup>n</sup>ascending, and descending upon that Son of man.

1:29 <sup>3</sup>This word of the present time signifieth a continual act, for the Lamb hath this virtue proper unto him, and forever, to take away the sins of the world.

<sup>4</sup>That is, that root of sins, to wit, our corruption, and so consequently, the fruits of sin, which are commonly called in the plural number sins.

1:31 <sup>1</sup>I never knew him by face before.

1:32 <sup>1</sup>Christ is proved to be the Son of God, by the coming down of the holy Ghost, by the Father's voice, and by John's testimony.

1:34 <sup>1</sup>This word (That) pointeth out unto us some excellent thing, and maketh a difference between Christ and others, whom Moses and the Prophets commonly call the sons of God, or the sons of the most high.

1:35 <sup>1</sup>John gathered disciples, not to himself, but to Christ.

1:36 <sup>1</sup>Christ is set before us to follow not as a vain shadow, but as our Mediator.

1:37 <sup>1</sup>In this first gathering of the disciples we have shown unto us, that the beginning of salvation is from God, who calleth us unto his Son by the ministry of his servants: whom (so preventing us) we must also hear, and follow him home, that being instructed by him, we may also instruct others.

1:38 <sup>1</sup>Where is thy lodging?

1:39 <sup>1</sup>The night grew on.

1:41 <sup>1</sup>That is, anointed, and King after the manner of the Jewish people.

1:45 <sup>1</sup>The good endeavors even of the unlearned, God doth so allow, that he maketh them masters to the learned.

1:46 <sup>1</sup>We must especially take heed of false presumptions, which shut up against us the entrance to Christ.

1:47 <sup>1</sup>Simple uprightness discerneth the true Israelites from the false.

1:48 <sup>1</sup>The end of miracles is to set before us Christ the Almighty, and also the only author of our salvation, that we may apprehend him by faith.

1:51 <sup>1</sup>By these words the power of God is signified which should appear in his ministry by the angels serving him as the head of the Church.

2:1 <sup>1</sup>Christ declaring openly in an assembly by a notable miracle, that he hath power over the nature of things, to feed man's body, leadeth the minds of all men, to his spiritual and saving virtue and power.

<sup>2</sup>After the talk which he had with Nathanael, or after that he departed from John, or after that he came into Galilee.

Cana a town of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.

2 And Jesus was called also, and his disciples unto the marriage.

3 <sup>1</sup>Now when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus said unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus said unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine <sup>1</sup>hour is not yet come.

5 His mother said unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there, six <sup>1</sup>waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three <sup>2</sup>firkins apiece.

7 And Jesus said unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. Then they filled them up to the brim.

8 Then he said unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. So they bare it.

9 Now when the governor of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, (for he knew not whence it was, but the servants, which drew the water, knew) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And said unto him, All men at the beginning set forth good wine, and when men have <sup>1</sup>well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept back the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana a town of Galilee, and showed forth his glory: and his disciples believed on him.

12 After that, he went down into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his <sup>1</sup>brethren, and his disciples: but they continued not many days there.

13 <sup>1</sup>For the Jews' Passover was at hand. Therefore Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

14 <sup>1</sup>And he found in the Temple those that sold oxen, and sheep, and doves, and changers of money sitting there.

15 Then he made a scourge of small cords and drove them all out of the Temple with the sheep and oxen, and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables,

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence: make not my father's house, an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered, that it was written, <sup>a</sup>The <sup>1</sup>zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 <sup>1</sup>Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, What <sup>2</sup>sign showest thou unto us, that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered, and said unto them, <sup>b</sup>Destroy this Temple, and in three days I will raise it up again.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this Temple a building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake of the <sup>1</sup>temple of his body.

22 As soon therefore as he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he thus said unto them: and they believed the Scriptures, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was at Jerusalem at the Passover in the feast, many believed in his Name, when they saw his miracles which he did.

24 <sup>1</sup>But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew them all.

25 <sup>1</sup>And had no need that any should testify of man, for he knew what was in man.

3 <sup>1</sup>Christ teacheth Nicodemus the very principles of Christian regeneration. <sup>14</sup> The serpent in the wilderness. <sup>23</sup> John baptizeth. <sup>27</sup> and teacheth his, that he is not Christ.

1 There <sup>1</sup>was now a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a <sup>2</sup>ruler of the Jews.

2 This man came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a <sup>1</sup>teacher come from God, for no man could do these miracles that thou doest, <sup>2</sup>except God were with him.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Christ is careful enough of our salvation, and therefore hath no need of others to put him in mind of it.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Mine appointed time.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> These were vessels appointed for water, wherein they washed themselves.

<sup>2</sup> Every firkin contained an hundred pounds, at twelve ounces the pound: Whereby we gather that Christ helped them with a thousand and eight hundred pounds of wine.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, are drunken. Now this speech, to be drunken, is not always taken in evil part in the Hebrew tongue, but signifieth sometime such store, and plentiful use of wine, as doth not pass measure, as Gen. 43:34.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, his cousins.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ being made subject to the Law for us, satisfieth the Law of the Passover.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ being ordained to purge the Church, doth with great zeal begin his office both of Priest and Prophet.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> Zeal in this place is taken for a wrathful indignation and displeasure of the mind, conceived of some naughty and evil dealing towards them whom we love well.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> Against them which so bind God to an ordinary calling which they themselves most shamefully abuse, that they will not admit an extraordinary, which God confirmeth from heaven, (and they although in vain would have it extinguished) unless it be sealed with outward and bodily miracles.

<sup>2</sup> With what miracle dost thou confirm it, that we may see that heavenly power and virtue, which giveth thee authority to speak and do thus?

2:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, of his body.

2:24 <sup>1</sup> It is not good crediting them, which stand only upon miracles.

2:25 <sup>1</sup> Christ is the searcher of hearts, and therefore true God.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> There are none sometimes more unlearned, than the learned: but as well the learned as the unlearned must desire wisdom of Christ only.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> We know that thou art sent from God to teach us.

<sup>2</sup> But he in whom some part of the excellency of God appeareth. And if Nicodemus had known Christ aright, he would not only have said that God was with him, but in him: as Paul doth, 2 Cor. 1:19.

3 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot <sup>2</sup>see the <sup>3</sup>kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus said unto him, How <sup>1</sup>can a man be born which is old? can he enter into his mother's womb again, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily I say unto thee, except that a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh, is <sup>1</sup>flesh; and that that is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said to thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The wind bloweth where it <sup>1</sup>listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every man that is born of the Spirit.

10 Jesus answered, and said unto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily I say unto thee, We speak that we know, and testify that we have seen: but ye receive not our <sup>1</sup>witness.

12 If when I tell you earthly things, ye believe not, how should ye believe, If I shall tell you of heavenly things?

which <sup>4</sup>is in heaven.

14 <sup>a</sup>And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must that Son of man be lifted up,

15 That whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have eternal life.

16 <sup>b1</sup>For God so loveth the world, that he hath given his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth <sup>2</sup>in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 <sup>c1</sup>For God sent not his Son into the world, that he should <sup>2</sup>condemn the world, but that the <sup>3</sup>world through him might be saved.

18 He that believeth in him, is not condemned: but he that believeth not, is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the Name of that only begotten Son of God.

19 <sup>d1</sup>And this is the <sup>2</sup>condemnation, that that light came into the world, and men loved darkness rather than that light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For every man that evil doeth, hateth the light, neither cometh to light, lest his deeds should be reprov'd.

21 But he that <sup>1</sup>doeth truth, cometh to the light, that his deeds might be made manifest, that they are wrought <sup>2</sup>according to God.

22 ¶ After these things came Jesus, and his disciples into the land of Judea, and there tarried with them, and <sup>4</sup>baptized.

23 And John also baptized in Aeon besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came

3:3 <sup>1</sup> The beginning of Christianity consisteth in this, that we know ourselves not only to be corrupt in part, but to be wholly dead in sin: so that our nature hath need to be created anew, as touching the qualities thereof: which can be done by no other virtue, but by the divine and heavenly, whereby we were first created.

<sup>3</sup> The Church: for Christ showeth in this place, how we come to be citizens, and to have ought to do in the city of God.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> How can I that am old, be born again? for he answereth, as if Christ's words belonged to none but to him.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, fleshly, to wit, wholly unclean and under the wrath of God: and therefore this word (Flesh) signifieth the corrupt nature of man: contrary to which is the Spirit, that is, the man ingrafted into Christ through the grace of the holy Ghost, whose nature is everlasting and immortal, though the strife of the flesh remaineth.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> With free and wandering blasts, as it listeth.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> The secret mystery of our regeneration which cannot be comprehended by man's capacity, is perceived by faith, and that in Christ only, because that he is both God on earth, and man in heaven, that is to say, in such sort man, that he is God also, and therefore almighty: and in such sort God, that he is man also, and therefore his power is manifest unto us.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> You handle doubtful things, and such as you have no certain author for, and yet men believe you: but I teach those things that are of a truth and well known, and you believe me not.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> Only Christ can teach us heavenly things for no man ascendeth, etc.

<sup>2</sup> That is, hath any spiritual light and understanding, or ever had, but only that Son of God, which came down to us.

<sup>3</sup> Whereas he is said to have come down from heaven, that must be understood of his Godhead, and of the manner of his conception: for Christ's birth upon the earth was heavenly, and not earthly, for he was conceived by the holy Ghost.

<sup>4</sup> That which is proper to the divinity of Christ, is here spoken of whole Christ, to give us to understand that he is but one person, wherein two natures are united, and this kind of speech men call, the communicating of proprieties.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> Nothing else but the free love of the Father, is the beginning of our salvation, and Christ is he in whom our righteousness and salvation is resident: and faith is the instrument or mean whereby we apprehend it, and life everlasting is that which is set before us to apprehend.

<sup>2</sup> It is not all one to believe in a thing, and to believe of a thing, for we may not believe (in anything) save only in God, but we may believe (of anything) whatsoever, this saith Nazianzene in his oration of the Spirit.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> Not Christ, but the despising of Christ doth condemn.

<sup>2</sup> That is, to be the cause of the condemning of the world, for indeed sins are the cause of death, but Christ shall judge the quick and the dead.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> Only wickedness is the cause, why men refuse the light that is offered them.

<sup>2</sup> That is, the cause of condemnation, which sticketh fast in men, unless through God's great benefit they be delivered from it.

24 For John was not yet cast into prison.

25 <sup>1</sup>Then there arose a question between John's disciples and the Jews, about purifying.

26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom <sup>f</sup>thou barest witness, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 John answered, and said, A man <sup>1</sup>can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28 Ye yourselves are my witnesses, that <sup>g</sup>I said, I am not that Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly, because of the bridegroom's voice. This my joy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that is come from on high, is above all: he that is of the earth, is of the <sup>1</sup>earth, and <sup>2</sup>speaketh of the earth: he that is come from heaven, is above all.

32 And what he hath <sup>1</sup>seen and heard, that he testifieth: but <sup>2</sup>no man receiveth his testimony.

33 He that hath receiveth his testimony, hath sealed that <sup>b</sup>God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giveth him not the Spirit by measure.

35 The Father loveth the Son, and hath <sup>i</sup>given all things into his hand.

36 <sup>j</sup>He that believeth in the Son, hath everlasting life, and he that obeyeth not the Son, shall not <sup>1</sup>see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not: but his disciples.)

3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

5 <sup>1</sup>Then came he to a city of Samaria called Sychar, near unto the possession that <sup>b</sup>Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6 And there was Jacob's Well. Jesus then wearied in the journey, sat <sup>1</sup>thus on the Well: it was about the <sup>2</sup>sixth hour.

7 There came a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus said unto her, Give me drink.

8 For his disciples were gone away into the city, to buy meat.

9 Then said the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it, that thou being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Jews <sup>1</sup>meddle not with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest <sup>1</sup>that gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me drink, thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee <sup>2</sup>water of life.

11 The woman said unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the Well is deep: from whence then hast thou that water of life?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the Well, and he himself drank thereof, and his sons, and his cattle.

13 Jesus answered, and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst again:

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never be more athirst: but the water that I shall give him, shall be in him a well of water, springing up into everlasting life.

15 The woman said unto him, Sir, give me of that water, that I may not thirst, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus said unto her, Go, call thine husband, and come hither.

3:25 <sup>1</sup> Satan inflameth the disciples of John with a fond emulation of their master, to hinder the course of the Gospel: but John being mindful of his office, doth not only break off their endeavors, but also taketh occasion thereby to give testimony of Christ, how that in him only the Father hath set forth life everlasting.

3:27 <sup>1</sup> What mean you to go about to better my state? this is every man's lot and portion that they cannot better themselves one iota.

3:31 <sup>1</sup> Is nothing else but man, a piece of work and of the slime of the earth.

3:35 <sup>1</sup> Committed them to his power and will.

3:36 <sup>1</sup> Shall not enjoy.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> This measure is to be kept in doing of our duty, that neither by fear we be terrified from going forward, neither by rashness procure or pluck dangers upon our heads.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Christ leaving the proud Pharisees, communicateth the treasures of everlasting life with a poor sinful woman, and stranger, refelling the gross errors of the Samaritans, and defending the true service of God, which was delivered to the Jews, but yet so, that he calleth both of them back to himself as one whom only all the fathers, and also all the ceremonies of the Law did regard, and had a respect unto.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Even as he was weary, or because he was weary.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> There is no familiarity nor friendship, between the Jews and the Samaritans.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> By this word (That) we are given to understand, that Christ speaketh of some excellent gift, that is to say, even of himself, whom his Father offered to this woman.

<sup>2</sup> This everlasting water, that is to say, the exceeding love of God, is called living, or of life, to make a difference between it, and the water that should be drawn out of a well: and these metaphors are very much used of the Jews, Jer. 2:13; Joel 3:18; Zech. 13:11.

17 The woman answered, and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, thou hast well said, I have no husband.

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast, is not thine husband: that saidest thou truly.

19 The woman said unto him, Sir, I see that thou art a Prophet.

20 <sup>1</sup>Our fathers worshipped in this <sup>2</sup>mountain, and ye say, that in <sup>3</sup>Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus said unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor at Jerusalem worship the Father.

22 Ye worship that which ye <sup>d</sup>know not: we worship that which we know: for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in <sup>1</sup>Spirit and Truth: for the Father requireth even such to worship him.

24 <sup>c</sup>God is a <sup>1</sup>Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in Spirit and Truth.

25 The woman said unto him, I know well that Messiah shall come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus said unto her, I am he, that speak unto thee.

27 ¶ And upon that, came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with a woman: yet no man said unto him, What askest thou? or why talkest thou with her.

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and said to the men,

29 Come, see a man which hath told me all things that ever I did: is not he that Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶ In the meanwhile, the disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 <sup>1</sup>But he said unto them, I have meat to eat, that 33 Then said the disciples between themselves, Hath any man brought him meat?

34 Jesus said unto them, My meat is that I may do the will of him that sent me, and finish his work.

35 <sup>1</sup>Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? Behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the regions: <sup>f</sup>for they are white already unto harvest.

36 <sup>1</sup>And he that reapeth, receiveth reward, and gathered fruit unto life eternal, that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth might rejoice together.

37 For herein is the <sup>1</sup>saying true, that one soweth and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that, whereon ye bestowed no labor: other men labored, and ye are entered into their labors.

39 <sup>1</sup>Now many of the Samaritans of that city believed in him, for the saying of the woman which testified, He hath told me all things that ever I did.

40 Then when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him, that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed because of his own word.

42 And they said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed that Christ the Savior of the world.

43 ¶ <sup>1</sup>So two days after he departed thence, and went into <sup>2</sup>Galilee.

44 For Jesus himself had <sup>g</sup>testified, that a Prophet hath none honor in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, which had seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they went also to the feast.

46 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus came again into <sup>b</sup>Cana a town of Galilee, where he had made of water wine. And 4:20 <sup>1</sup> All the religion of superstitious people, standeth for the most part, upon two pillars, but very weak, that is to say upon the examples of the fathers perverted, and a foolish opinion of outward things: against which errors we have to set the word and nature of God.

<sup>2</sup> The name of this mountain is Gerizim, whereupon Sanaballetta the Cushite built a Temple by Alexander of Macedonia's leave, after the victory of Issica, and made there Manasses his son-in-law high priest, Josephus, book 11.

4:23 <sup>1</sup> This word (Spirit) is to be taken here, as it is set against that commandment, which is called carnal, Heb. 7:16, as the commandment is considered in itself: and so he speaketh of (Truth) not as we set it against a lie, but as we take it in respect of the outward ceremonies of the Law: which did only shadow that which Christ performed indeed.

4:24 <sup>1</sup> By the word (Spirit) he meaneth the nature of the Godhead, and not the third person in the Trinity.

4:32 <sup>1</sup> We may have care of our bodies, but yet so, that we prefer willingly and freely the occasion which is offered us to enlarge the kingdom of God, before all necessities of this life whatsoever.

4:35 <sup>1</sup> When the spiritual corn is ripe, we must not linger: for so the children of this world would condemn us.

4:36 <sup>1</sup> The doctrine of the Prophets was as it were a sowing time: and the doctrine of the Gospel, as the harvest, and there is an excellent agreement between them both, and the ministers of them both.

4:37 <sup>1</sup> That proverb.

4:39 <sup>1</sup> The Samaritans do most joyfully embrace that which the Jews most stubbornly rejected.

4:43 <sup>1</sup> The despisers of Christ deprive themselves of his benefit: yet Christ prepareth a place for himself.

<sup>2</sup> Into the towns and villages of Galilee: for he would not make abode in his country of Nazareth, because they despised him, and where (as the other Evangelists write) the efficacy of his benefits was hindered through their marvelous stiffneckedness.

4:46 <sup>1</sup> Although Christ be absent in body, yet he worketh mightily in the believers by his word.

there was a certain <sup>2</sup>ruler, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would go down, and heal his son: for he was even ready to die.

48 Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The ruler said unto him, Sir, go down before my son dies.

50 Jesus said unto him, Go thy way, thy son liveth: and the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 Then the father knew that it was the same hour in the which Jesus had said unto him, Thy son liveth. And he believed, and all his household.

54 This second miracle did Jesus again, after he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sick folk, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an Angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had been diseased eight and thirty years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he now long time had been diseased, he said unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus said unto him, Rise: take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.

10 <sup>1</sup>The Jews therefore said to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: <sup>b</sup>it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole he said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed, knew not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Jesus found him in the Temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 ¶ The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus that had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Jews did persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 <sup>1</sup>But Jesus answered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 <sup>c</sup>Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him: not only because he had broken the Sabbath: but said also that God was <sup>1</sup>his Father, and made himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus, and said unto them, Verily, verily I say unto you, The Son can do nothing <sup>1</sup>of himself, save that he <sup>2</sup>seeth the Father do: for whatsoever things he doeth, the same things doeth the Son <sup>3</sup>in like manner.

<sup>2</sup> Some of Herod's courtiers, for though Herod was not a king, but a Tetrarch, yet the lofty name only except, he was a king, or at least the people called him a king.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> There is no disease so old, which Christ cannot heal.

<sup>2</sup> Whereof cattle drank, and used to be plunged in; whereof there could not be but great store at Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> That is to say, the house of pouring out, because great store of water was poured out into that place.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> True religion is no more cruelly assaulted by any means, than by the pretence of religion itself.

5:17 <sup>1</sup> The work of God was never the breach of the Sabbath: but the works of Christ are the works of the Father, both because they are one God, and also because the Father doth not work but in the Son.

5:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, his only and no man's else, which they gather by that, that he saith, (And I work) applying this word (work) to himself, which is proper to God, and therefore maketh himself equal to God.

5:19 <sup>1</sup> Not only without his Father's authority, but also without his mighty working and power.

<sup>2</sup> This must be understood of Christ's person, which consisteth of two natures, and not simply of his Godhead: so then he saith that his Father moveth and governeth him in all things, but yet notwithstanding, when he saith he worketh with his Father, he voucheth his Godhead.

<sup>3</sup> In like sort, jointly and together. Not for that the Father doeth some things, and then the son worketh after him, and doeth the like, but because the might and power of the Father and the Son do work equally and jointly together.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and showeth him all things, whatsoever he himself doeth, and he will show him greater works than these, that ye should marvel.

21 <sup>1</sup>For likewise as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them, so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father <sup>1</sup>judgeth <sup>2</sup>no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son, 23 Because that all men should honor the Son, as they honor the Father: he that honoreth not the Son, the same honoreth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 <sup>1</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death to life.

25 <sup>1</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, the hour shall come, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear it shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself, so likewise hath he given to the Son to have life in himself.

27 And hath given him <sup>1</sup>power also to execute judgment, in that he is the <sup>2</sup>Son of man.

28 <sup>1</sup>Marvel not at this: for the hour shall come, in the which all that are in the graves, shall hear his voice.

29 <sup>1</sup>And they shall come <sup>2</sup>forth, <sup>4</sup>that have done good, unto the <sup>3</sup>resurrection of life: but they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of condemnation.

30 <sup>1</sup>I can <sup>2</sup>do nothing of mine own self: <sup>3</sup>as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just, because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father who hath sent me.

31 If I <sup>4</sup>should bear witness of myself, my witness were not <sup>1</sup>true.

34 But I receive not the record of man: nevertheless these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining candle: and ye would for <sup>1</sup>a season have rejoiced in his light.

36 But I have greater witness than the witness of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father sent me.

37 And the <sup>h</sup>Father himself, which hath sent me, beareth witness of me. Ye have not heard his voice at any time, <sup>i</sup>neither have ye seen his shape.

38 And his word have you not abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believed not.

39 <sup>4</sup>Search the Scriptures: for in them ye think to have eternal life, and they are they which testify of me.

40 But ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not the praise of men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the <sup>1</sup>love of God in you.

45 <sup>1</sup>Do not think that I will accuse you to my Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he <sup>4</sup>wrote of me.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words.

5:21 <sup>1</sup> The Father maketh no man partaker of everlasting life, but in Christ, in whom only also he is truly worshipped.

5:22 <sup>1</sup> This word (judgeth) is taken by the figure Synecdoche, for all government.

<sup>2</sup> These words are not so to be taken, as though they simply denied that God governeth the world, but as the Jews imagined it, which separate the Father from the Son, whereas indeed, the Father doth not govern the world but only in the person of his Son, being made manifest in the flesh: so saith he afterward, verse 30, that he came not to do his own will: that his doctrine is not his own, John 7:16, that the blind man and his parents sinned not, etc., John 9:3.

5:24 <sup>1</sup> The Father is not worshipped but by his Son's word apprehended by faith, which is the only way that leadeth to eternal life.

5:25 <sup>1</sup> We are all dead in sin and cannot be quickened by any other means, than by the word of Christ apprehended by faith.

5:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, high and sovereign power to rule and govern all things, insomuch that he hath power of life and death.

<sup>2</sup> That is, he shall not only judge the world as he is God, but also as he is man, he received this of his Father to be judge of the world.

5:28 <sup>1</sup> All shall appear before the judgment seat of Christ at length to be judged.

5:42 <sup>1</sup> Love toward God.

5:45 <sup>1</sup> This denial doth not put away that which is here said, but correcteth it, as if Christ said, the Jews shall have no sorer an accuser than Moses.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

8 Then said unto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother,

9 There is a little boy here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the people sit down. (Now there was much grass in that place.) Then the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

15 <sup>1</sup>When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come, and take him to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 ¶ <sup>1</sup>When even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 <sup>c</sup>And entered into a ship, and went over the sea, <sup>1</sup>towards Capernaum: and now it was dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the Sea arose with a great wind that blew.

19 And when they had rowed about five and twenty, or thirty furlongs, they saw Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing near unto the ship: so they were afraid.

20 But he said unto them, It is I: be not afraid.

21 Then <sup>1</sup>willingly they received him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other ship there, save that one, where into his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone alone,

23 And that there came other ships from Tiberias near unto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had given thanks.

24 Now when the people saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say unto you, Ye seek me not, because ye saw the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled.

27 <sup>1</sup>Labor not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat that endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath <sup>d</sup>God the Father <sup>2</sup>sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the <sup>1</sup>works of God?

6:17 <sup>1</sup> In Mark 6:45 they are willed to go before to Bethsaida, for Bethsaida was in the way to Capernaum.

6:21 <sup>1</sup> They were afraid at the first, but when they knew his voice, they became new men, and took him willingly into the ship, whom they had shunned and fled from before.

6:26 <sup>1</sup> They that seek the kingdom of heaven lack nothing: notwithstanding the Gospel is not the food of the belly, but of the mind.

6:27 <sup>1</sup> Bestow your labor and pain.

<sup>2</sup> That is, whom God the Father hath distinguished from all other men by planting his own virtue in him, as though he had sealed him with his seal, that he might be a lively pattern and representer of him: and that more is, installed him to this office, to reconcile us men to God, and bring us to everlasting life, which is only proper to Christ.

6:28 <sup>1</sup> Which please God: for they think that everlasting life hangeth upon the condition of fulfilling the Law: therefore Christ calleth them back to faith.

29 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered, and said unto them, <sup>62</sup>This is the work of God, that ye believe in him, whom he hath sent.

30 <sup>1</sup>They said therefore unto him, What sign showest thou then, that we may see it, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 Our fathers did eat Manna in the desert, as it is <sup>f</sup>written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily I say unto you, Moses gave you not <sup>2</sup>that bread from heaven, but my Father giveth you that true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then they said unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am that bread <sup>1</sup>of life: he that cometh to me, shall not hunger, and he that believeth in me, shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, that ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 <sup>1</sup>All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me: and him that cometh to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine <sup>1</sup>own will, but his will which hath sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every man which <sup>1</sup>seeth the Son, and believeth in him, should have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 <sup>1</sup>The Jews then murmured at him because he said, I am that bread, which is come down from heaven.

42 And they said, <sup>8</sup>Is not this Jesus that son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how then saith he, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus then answered, and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 It is written in the <sup>b1</sup>Prophets, And they shall be all <sup>2</sup>taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me:

46 <sup>1</sup>Not that any man hath seen the Father, <sup>1</sup>save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily, verily I say unto you, he that believeth in me, hath everlasting life.

48 <sup>1</sup>I am that bread of life.

49 <sup>1</sup>Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 <sup>1</sup>This is that bread, which cometh down from heaven, that he which eateth of it, should not die.

51 <sup>1</sup>I am that <sup>2</sup>living bread, which came down from heaven: if any man <sup>3</sup>eat of this bread, he shall live forever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 <sup>1</sup>Then the Jews strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

6:29 <sup>1</sup> Men torment themselves in vain, when they go about to please God without faith.

<sup>2</sup> That is, this is the work that God requireth, that you believe in me, and therefore he calleth them back to faith.

6:30 <sup>1</sup> The spiritual virtue of Christ is contemned of them which are desirous of earthly miracles.

6:32 <sup>1</sup> Christ, who is the true and only author and giver of eternal life, was signified unto the fathers, in Manna.

<sup>2</sup> He denieth that Manna was that true heavenly bread, and saith that he himself is that true bread, because he feedeth unto the true and everlasting life. And as for that, that Paul 1 Cor. 10 calleth Manna spiritual food, it maketh nothing against this place, for he joineth the thing signified with the sign: but in this whole disputation, Christ dealeth with the Jews after their own opinion and conceit of the matter, and they had no further consideration of the Manna, but in that it fed the belly.

6:35 <sup>1</sup> Which have life, and give life.

6:37 <sup>1</sup> The gift of faith proceedeth from the free election of the Father in Christ, after which followeth necessarily everlasting life: Therefore faith in Christ Jesus is a sure witness of our election, and therefore of our glorification, which is to come.

6:38 <sup>1</sup> See John 5:22.

6:40 <sup>1</sup> Seeing and believing are joined together: for there is another kind of seeing, which is general, which the devils have, for they see: but here he speaketh of that kind of seeing, which is proper to the elect.

6:41 <sup>1</sup> Flesh cannot perceive spiritual things, and therefore the beginning of our salvation cometh from God, who changeth our nature, so that we being inspired of him, may abide to be instructed and saved by Christ.

6:45 <sup>1</sup> In the book of the Prophets, for the old Testament was divided by them into three several parts, into the Law the Prophets, and the Holy writ.

<sup>2</sup> To wit, they shall be children of the Church, for so the Prophet Isaiah expoundeth it, Isa. 54:13, that is to say, ordained to life, Acts 13:48, and therefore the knowledge of the heavenly truth, is the gift and work of God, and standeth not in any power of man.

6:46 <sup>1</sup> If the son only hath seen the Father, then it is he only that can teach and instruct us truly.

6:48 <sup>1</sup> The true use of Sacraments, is to ascend from them to the thing itself, that is to Christ: and by the partaking of whom only, we get everlasting life.

6:50 <sup>1</sup> He pointed out himself when he spake these words.

6:51 <sup>1</sup> Christ being sent from the Father, is the selfsame unto us for the getting and keeping of everlasting life, that bread and flesh, yea meat and drink are to the use of this transitory life.

6:52 <sup>1</sup> Flesh cannot put a difference between fleshly eating which is done by the help of the teeth, and spiritual eating which consisteth in faith, and therefore is condemneth that which it understandeth not: yet notwithstanding the truth must be preached and taught.

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have <sup>1</sup>no life in you.

54 Whosoever <sup>k</sup>eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As <sup>1</sup>that living Father hath sent me, so live I by the <sup>2</sup>Father, and he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers have eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall live forever.

59 These things spake he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 <sup>1</sup>Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) said, This is an hard saying: who can hear it?

61 But Jesus knowing in himself, that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 What then if ye should see that Son of man ascend up <sup>1</sup>where he was before?

63 <sup>1</sup>It is the <sup>2</sup>spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, are spirit and life.

64 But there are some of you that believe not: for Jesus knew from the beginning, which they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of my Father.

66 <sup>1</sup>From that time, many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus to the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life:

69 And we believe and know that thou art that Christ that Son of the living God.

70 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered them, Have not I <sup>m</sup>chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

71 Now he spake it of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelve.

1 After these things, Jesus walked in Galilee, and would not walk in Judea: for the Jews sought to kill him.

2 Now the Jews' <sup>a,1</sup> feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

3 <sup>1</sup> His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples may see thy works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth anything secretly, and he himself seeketh to be famous. If thou doest these things, show thyself to the world.

5 For as yet his <sup>1</sup> brethren believed not in him.

6 <sup>1</sup> Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 The world cannot hate you: but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go ye up unto this feast: I will not go up yet unto this feast: <sup>b</sup> for my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 ¶ These things he said unto them, and abode still in Galilee.

6:53 <sup>1</sup> If Christ be present, life is present, but when Christ is absent, then is death present.

6:57 <sup>1</sup> In that that Christ is man, he receiveth that power which quickeneth and giveth life to them that are his, of his Father: and he addeth this word (That) to make a difference between him and all other fathers.

<sup>2</sup> Christ his meaning is, that though he be man, yet his flesh can give life, not of the own nature, but because that flesh of his liveth by the Father, that is to say, death suck and draw out of the Father, that power which it hath to give life.

6:60 <sup>1</sup> The reason of man cannot comprehend the uniting of Christ and his members: therefore let it worship and reverence that which is better than itself.

6:63 <sup>1</sup> The flesh of Christ doth therefore quicken us, because that he that is man, is God: which mystery is only comprehended by faith, which is the gift of God, properly only to the elect.

<sup>2</sup> Spirit, that is, that power which floweth from the Godhead, causeth the flesh of Christ, which otherwise were nothing but flesh, but to live in itself, and to give life to us.

6:66 <sup>1</sup> Such is the malice of men, that they take occasion of their own destruction, even of the very doctrine of salvation (unless it be a few, which believe through the singular gift of God.)

6:70 <sup>1</sup> The number of the professors, of Christ is very small, and among them also there be some hypocrites, and worse than all others.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> This feast was so called, because of the booths and tents which they pight of divers kinds of boughs, and sat under them seven days together; all which time the feast lasted.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> The grace of God cometh not by inheritance, but it is a gift that cometh other ways, whereby it cometh to pass, that oftentimes the children of God suffer more affliction by their own kinsfolk than by strangers.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> His kinsfolk: for so use the Hebrews to speak.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> We must not follow the foolish desires of our friends.

10 <sup>1</sup>But as soon as his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were privily.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay: but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake <sup>1</sup>openly of him for fear of the Jews.

14 <sup>1</sup>Now when <sup>2</sup>half the feast was done, Jesus went up into the Temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that he never learned!

16 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered them, and said, <sup>2</sup>My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

18 <sup>1</sup>He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 <sup>1</sup>Did not Moses give you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? <sup>2</sup>Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered, and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered, and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 <sup>1</sup>Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the <sup>2</sup>fathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circumsise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath receive circumcision, that the <sup>1</sup>Law of Moses should not be broken, be ye angry with me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the Sabbath day?

24 <sup>1</sup>Judge not <sup>2</sup>according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they go about to kill?

26 And behold, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him: do the rulers know indeed that this is indeed that Christ?

27 <sup>1</sup>Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when that Christ cometh, no man shall know whence he is.

28 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then cried Jesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am: yet am I not come of myself, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 <sup>1</sup>Then they sought to take him, but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 Now many of the people believed on him, and said, When that Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than this man hath done?

32 <sup>1</sup>The Pharisees heard that the people murmured these things of him, and the Pharisees, and high Priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet am I a little while with you, and then go I unto him that sent me.

34 <sup>1</sup>Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me, and where I am, can ye not come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? Will he go unto them that are <sup>1</sup>dispersed among the Greeks,

7:10 <sup>1</sup> An example of horrible confusion in the very bosom of the Church. The Pastors oppress the people with terrors and fear: the people seek Christ, when he appeareth not: when he offereth himself, they neglect him. Some also that know him condemn him rashly: a very few think well of him, and that in secret.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> Or, boldly and freely: for the chief of the Jews sought nothing so much, as to bury his fame and name.

7:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ striveth with goodness against the wickedness of the world: in the mean season the most part of men take occasion of offense even by that fame, whereby they ought to have been stirred up to embrace Christ.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Therefore are there few to whom the Gospel favoreth well, because the study of godliness is very rare.

<sup>2</sup> See John 5:22, and he speaketh this after the opinion of the Jews, as if he said, My doctrine is not mine, that is, it is not his whom you take to be a man as others are, and therefore set light by him, but it is his that sent me.

7:18 <sup>1</sup> The true doctrine of salvation differeth from the false in this, that the same setteth forth the glory of God, and this by puffing up of men darkeneth the glory of God.

7:19 <sup>1</sup> None do more confidently boast themselves to be the defenders of the Law of God, than they that do most impudently break it.

7:21 <sup>1</sup> The Sabbath day (which is here set before us for a rule of all ceremonies) was not appointed to hinder but to further and practice God's works: amongst which the love of our neighbor is the chiefest.

7:23 <sup>1</sup> That is to say, if the law of circumcision which Moses gave, be of so great accompt amongst you, that you doubt not to circumcise upon the Sabbath, do you rightly reprove me for healing a man thoroughly?

7:24 <sup>1</sup> We must judge according to the truth of things, lest the persons of men do turn us and carry us away.

<sup>2</sup> By the show that I make: for I seem to be but an abject and rascal of Galilee, and a carpenter's son, whom no man maketh account of: but mark the matter itself well, and judge the tree by the fruit.

7:25 <sup>1</sup> Many do marvel that the endeavors of the enemies of God have no success: yet in the mean season they do not acknowledge the virtue and power of God.

7:27 <sup>1</sup> Men are very wise to procure stops and stays to themselves.

7:28 <sup>1</sup> The truth of Christ doth not hang upon the judgment of man.

7:30 <sup>1</sup> The wicked cannot do what they list, but what God hath appointed.

7:32 <sup>1</sup> As the kingdom of God increaseth, so increaseth the rage of his enemies, till at length they in vain seek for those blessings absent, which they despised when they were present.

7:35 <sup>1</sup> Word for word, (to the dispersion of the Gentiles or Greeks) and under the name of the Greeks he understandeth the Jews which were dispersed amongst the Gentiles.

and teach the Greeks?

36 What saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me? and where I am, can ye not come?

37 <sup>1</sup>Now in the <sup>2</sup>last and <sup>3</sup>great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 He that believeth in me,<sup>4</sup>as saith the <sup>1</sup>Scripture, out of his belly shall flow rivers of water of life.

39 (<sup>k</sup>This spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed in him, should receive: for the <sup>1</sup>holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet <sup>2</sup>glorified.)

40 <sup>1</sup>So many of the people, when they heard this saying, said, <sup>1</sup>Of a truth this is that Prophet:

41 Others said, This is that Christ: and some said, But shall that Christ come out of Galilee?

42 <sup>m</sup>Saith not the Scripture that that Christ shall come of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?

43 So was there dissension among the people for him.

44 And some of them would have taken him, but no man laid hands on him.

45 <sup>1</sup>Then came the officers to the high Priests and Pharisees, and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48 <sup>1</sup>Doth any of the rulers, or of the Pharisees believe in him?

49 But this people, which know not the Law, are cursed,

50 Nicodemus said unto them, (<sup>1</sup>he that came to Jesus by night, and was one of them.)

51 Doth our Law judge a man before it hear him, <sup>o</sup>and know <sup>1</sup>what he hath done?

52 They answered, and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no Prophet.

53 <sup>1</sup>And every man went unto his own house.

1 And Jesus went unto the mount of Olives,

2 And early in the morning came again into the Temple, and all the people came unto him, and he sat down and taught them.

3 <sup>1</sup>Then the Scribes and the Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery, and set her in the midst,

4 And said unto him, Master, we found this woman committing adultery even in the very act.

5 <sup>a</sup>Now Moses in our Law commanded, that such should be stoned: what sayest thou therefore?

6 And this they said to tempt him, that they might have, whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground,

7 <sup>1</sup>And while they continued asking him, he lifted himself up, and said unto them, <sup>b</sup>Let him that is among you without sin, cast the first stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their own conscience, they went out, one by one, beginning at the eldest even to the last: so Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 <sup>1</sup>When Jesus had lifted up himself again, and saw no man, but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go and sin no more.

12 <sup>1</sup>Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I <sup>c</sup>am that light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walk in darkness, but shall have that light

7:37 <sup>1</sup> There are two principles of our salvation: the one is to be thoroughly touched with a true feeling of our extreme poverty: the other to seek in Christ only (whom we catch hold on by faith) the abundance of all good things.

<sup>2</sup> The last day of the feast of Tabernacles, that is, the eighth day, was as high a day, as the first.

7:38 <sup>1</sup> This is not read word for word in any place, but it seemeth to be taken out of many places where mention is made of the gifts of the holy Ghost, as Joel 2; Isa. 44, but especially in Isa. 55.

7:39 <sup>1</sup> What is meant by the holy Ghost, he expressed a little before, speaking of the Spirit which they that believed in him should receive. So that by the name of holy Ghost, are meant the virtues and mighty workings of the holy Ghost.

<sup>2</sup> That is, those things were not yet seen and perceived, which were to show and set forth the glory of the only begotten.

7:40 <sup>1</sup> There is contention even in the Church itself about the chief point of religion: neither hath Christ any more cruel enemies than those that occupy the seat of truth: yet can they not do what they would.

7:45 <sup>1</sup> God from heaven scorneth such as are his son's enemies.

7:48 <sup>1</sup> False Pastors are so fond and foolish that they esteem the Church of God according to the multitude and outward show.

7:51 <sup>1</sup> What he hath committed, who is accused.

7:53 <sup>1</sup> There is no counsel against the Lord.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> Christ would not take upon him the civil Magistrates office: he contented himself to bring sinners to faith and repentance.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> The world which is blind in itself cannot come to have ray light but in Christ only.

of life.

13 <sup>1</sup>The Pharisees therefore said unto him, <sup>2</sup>Thou bearest record of thyself: thy record is not true.

14 <sup>d</sup>Jesus answered, and said unto them, <sup>1</sup>Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I come, and whither I go: but ye cannot tell whence I came, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the flesh: I <sup>1</sup>judge no man.

16 And if I also judge, my judgment is true, for I am not alone, but I, and the Father, that sent me.

17 And it is also written in your Law, 'that the testimony of two men is true.

18 <sup>1</sup>I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 <sup>1</sup>Then said they unto him, Where is that Father of thine? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor the Father of mine. If ye had known me, ye should have known that Father of mine also.

20 These words spake Jesus in the <sup>1</sup>treasury, as he taught in the Temple, and no man laid hands on him: <sup>2</sup>for his hour was not yet come.

21 <sup>1</sup>Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins, Whither I go, can ye not come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself, because he saith, Whither I go, can ye not come?

23 And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from above: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore unto you, That ye shall die in your sins: for except ye believe, that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

27 <sup>1</sup>They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as my Father hath taught me, so I spake these things.

29 For he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do always those things that please him.

30 ¶ As he spake these things, many believed in him.

31 <sup>1</sup>Then said Jesus to the Jews which believed in him, If ye continue in my word, ye are verily my disciples, 32 And shall know the truth, and the truth shall <sup>1</sup>make you free.

33 <sup>1</sup>They answered him, We be <sup>2</sup>Abraham's seed, and were never bond to any man: why sayest thou then, Ye shall be made free?

34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily I say unto you, that whosoever committeth sin, is the <sup>1</sup>servant of sin.

35 And the servant abideth not in the house forever: but the Son abideth forever.

36 If that Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 <sup>1</sup>I know that ye are Abraham's seed, but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ is without all exception the best witness of the truth, for he was sent by his Father for that purpose, and was by him approved to the world by infinite miracles.

<sup>2</sup> Thou bearest witness of thyself which thing by all men's opinion, is naught: and for a man to commend himself is very discommendable.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> That which he denied afore, John 5:31, must be taken by a manner of granting, for in that place he framed himself somewhat to the humor of his hearers, which acknowledged nothing in Christ but his humanity, and therefore he was content they should set light by his own witness, unless it were otherwise confirmed. But in this place he standeth for the maintenance of his Godhead, and praiseth his Father, who is his witness, and agreeth with him.

8:15 <sup>1</sup> I do now only teach you, I condemn no man: but yet if I list to do it, I might lawfully do it, for I am not alone, but my Father is with me.

8:18 <sup>1</sup> The Godhead is plainly distinguished from the manhood, else there were not two witnesses: for the party accused is not taken for a witness.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> No man can know God, but in Christ only.

8:20 <sup>1</sup> This was some place appointed for the gathering of the offerings.

<sup>2</sup> We live and die at the pleasure of God and not of men: Therefore this one thing remaineth that we go forward constantly in our vocation.

8:21 <sup>1</sup> Because that men do naturally abhor heavenly things, no man can be a fit disciple of Christ, unless the Spirit of God frame him: in the mean season notwithstanding, the world must of necessity perish, because it refuseth the life that is offered unto it.

8:25 <sup>1</sup> He shall at length know who Christ is, which will diligently hear, what he saith.

<sup>2</sup> That is, I am Christ, and the savior, for so I told you from the beginning that I was.

8:26 <sup>1</sup> God is the revenger of Christ's doctrine despised.

8:27 <sup>1</sup> Even the contempt of Christ maketh for his glory: which thing his enemies shall feel at length to their great smart.

8:31 <sup>1</sup> The true disciples of Christ continue in his doctrine, that profiting more and more in the knowledge of the truth, they may be delivered from the most grievous burden of sin, into the true liberty of righteousness and life.

8:32 <sup>1</sup> From the slavery of sin.

8:33 <sup>1</sup> Some of the multitude, not they that believed: for this is not the speech of men that consent unto him but of men that are against him.

8:37 <sup>1</sup> Our wicked manners declare, that we are plainly born of a devilish nature, But we are changed, and made of the household of God, according to the covenant which he made with Abraham by Christ only, apprehended and laid hold on by faith: which faith is known by a godly and honest life.

38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your Father.

39 They answered, and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 But now ye go about to kill me, a man that have told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the works of your father. Then said they to him, We are not born of fornication: we have one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, then would ye love me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God, neither came I of myself, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not understand my <sup>1</sup>talk? because ye cannot hear my word.

44 <sup>ε</sup>Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he hath been a murderer from the <sup>1</sup>beginning, and <sup>2</sup>abode not in the <sup>3</sup>truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his <sup>4</sup>own: for he is a liar, and the <sup>5</sup>father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 <sup>1</sup>Which of you can rebuke me of sin? and if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

47 <sup>b</sup>He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 <sup>1</sup>Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil?

49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil, but I honor my Father, and ye have dishonored me.

50 And I seek not mine own praise: but there is one that <sup>1</sup>seeketh it, and judgeth.

<sup>ε</sup> 1 John 3:8

<sup>b</sup> John 4:6

51 <sup>1</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, If a man keep my word, he shall never <sup>2</sup>see death.

52 <sup>1</sup>Then said the Jews to him, Now know we that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keep my word, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself?

54 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered, If I honor myself, mine honor is <sup>2</sup>nothing worth: it is my Father that honoreth me, whom ye say, that he is your God.

55 <sup>1</sup>Yet ye have not known him: but I know him, and if I should say I know him not, I should be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his word.

56 <sup>1</sup>Your father Abraham <sup>2</sup>rejoiced to see my <sup>3</sup>day, and he <sup>4</sup>saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?

58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily I say unto you, before Abraham was, I <sup>1</sup>am.

59 <sup>1</sup>Then took they up stones to cast at him, but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the Temple: And he passed through the midst of them, and so went his way.

9 <sup>1</sup> Christ giveth sight on the Sabbath day, to him that was born blind. 13 Whom, after he had long reasoned against the Pharisees, 22, 35 and was cast out of the Synagogue, 36 Christ endueth with the knowledge of the everlasting light.

1 And <sup>1</sup>as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master,

8:43 <sup>1</sup> Or, language: as though he said, you do no more understand what I say, than if I spake in a strange and unknown language to you.

8:44 <sup>1</sup> From the beginning of the world: for as soon as man was made, the devil cast him headlong into death.

8:46 <sup>1</sup> Christ did thoroughly execute the office, that his Father enjoined him.

8:48 <sup>1</sup> The enemies of Christ make their bravery for a while, but the Father will appear at his time to revenge the reproach that is done unto him in the person of his son.

8:50 <sup>1</sup> That is, that will revenge both your despising of me, and of him.

8:51 <sup>1</sup> The only doctrine of the Gospel apprehended by faith, is a sure remedy against death.

8:52 <sup>1</sup> Against them which abuse the glory of the Saints, to darken

Christ's glory.

8:54 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing farther off from all ambition than Christ, but his Father hath set him above all things.

<sup>2</sup> This is spoken by manner of [a grant]: as if he had said, Be it so, let this report which I give of myself, be of no force: yet there is another that glorifieth me, that is, that honoreth my Name.

8:55 <sup>1</sup> There is no right knowledge of God, without Christ, neither any right knowledge of Christ without his word.

8:56 <sup>1</sup> The virtue of Christ showed itself through all former ages in the Fathers, for they saw in the promises, that he should come, and did very joyfully lay hold on him with a lively faith.

<sup>3</sup> A day is a space that a man liveth in, or doeth any notable act, or suffereth any great thing.

8:58 <sup>1</sup> Christ as he was God, was before Abraham: and he was the Lamb slain from the beginning of the world.

8:59 <sup>1</sup> Zeal without knowledge, breaketh out at length into a most open madness: and yet the wicked cannot do what they list.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Sin is the beginning even of all bodily diseases, and yet doth it not follow, that God always respecteth their sins, whom he most sharply punisheth.

who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3 Jesus answered, <sup>1</sup>Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the works of God should be showed on him.

4 <sup>1</sup>I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is <sup>2</sup>day: the night cometh when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, <sup>a</sup>I am the light of the world.

6 <sup>1</sup>As soon as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed the eyes of the blind with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore and washed, and came again seeing.

8 <sup>1</sup>Now the neighbors and they that had seen him before, when he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: and others said, He is like him: but he himself said, I am he.

10 Therefore they said unto him, How were thine eyes <sup>1</sup>opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and received sight.

12 Then they said unto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 ¶ They brought to the Pharisees him that was once blind.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him, how he had received sight. And he said unto them, He laid clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 <sup>1</sup>Then said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? and there was a dissension among them.

CHAPTER 9

<sup>a</sup>John 1:9
John 8:12
John 12:35

17 Then spake they unto the blind again, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Jews did not believe him (that he had been blind, and received his sight) until they had called the parents of him that had received sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, whom ye say was born blind? How doth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, can we not tell: he is old enough: ask him: he shall answer for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had ordained already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be excommunicated out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is old enough: ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that had been blind, and said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Give glory unto God: we know that this man is a <sup>2</sup>sinner.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I cannot tell: one thing I know, that I was blind, and now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye have not heard it: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 <sup>1</sup>Then reviled they him, and said, Be thou his disciple: we be Moses' disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and said unto them, Doubtless, this is a marvelous thing, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth

9:3 <sup>1</sup> Christ reasoneth here, as his disciples thought, which presuppose that there come no diseases but for sins only: whereupon he answereth that there was another cause of this man's blindness, and that was, that God's his work might be seen.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> The works of Christ are as it were a light, which lighten the darkness of the world.

<sup>2</sup> By (day) is meant the light, that is, the lightsome, doctrine of the heavenly truth: and by (night) is meant the darkness which cometh by the obscurity of the same doctrine.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> Christ healing the man born blind, by taking the sign of clay, and afterward the sign of the fountain of Siloam (which signifieth Sent) showeth that as he at the beginning made man, so doth he again restore both his body and soul: and yet so, that he himself cometh first of his own accord to heal us.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> A true image of all men, who as they are of nature blind, do neither themselves receive the light that is offered unto them, nor suffer it in others, and yet make a great ado amongst themselves.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> This is an Hebrew kind of speech, for they call a man's eyes shut, when they cannot receive any light: And therefore they are said to have their eyes opened, which of blind men are made to see.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> Religion is not assaulted by any means more than by pretence of Religion: but the more it is pressed down, the more it riseth up.

9:24 <sup>1</sup> A solemn order, whereby men were constrained in old time to acknowledge their fault before God, as if they should say, Consider thou art before God, who knoweth the whole matter, and therefore see thou reverence his majesty, and do him this honor, rather to confess the whole matter openly, than to lie before him, Josh. 7:19; 1 Sam. 6:5.

<sup>2</sup> He is called a sinner in the Hebrew tongue, which is a wicked man, and maketh as it were an art of sins.

9:28 <sup>1</sup> Proud wickedness must needs at length break forth, which in vain lieth hid under a zeal of godliness.

his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began, was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.

33 If this man were not of God, he could have done nothing.

34 They answered, and said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Thou art altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? so they cast him out.

35 <sup>1</sup>Jesus heard that they had cast him out: and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe in the Son of God?

36 He answered, and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe in him?

37 And Jesus said unto him, Both thou hast seen him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he said, Lord, I believe, and worshipped him.

39 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus said, I am come unto <sup>2</sup>judgment into this world, that they <sup>3</sup>which see not, might see: and that they <sup>4</sup>which see, might be made blind.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these things, and said unto him, Are we blind also?

41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should not have sin: but now ye say, We see: therefore your sin remaineth.

10 1 Christ proveth that the Pharisees are the evil shepherds, 8 and by many reasons, that himself 11, 14 is the good shepherd: 19 And thereof dissension ariseth. 31 They take up stones, 39 and go about to take him, but he escapeth.

1 Verily, <sup>1</sup>verily I say unto you, He that entereth not in by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up another way, he is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that goeth in by the door, is the shepherd

<sup>b</sup> John 3:17
John 12:47

<sup>a</sup> Isa. 40:11
Ezek. 34:23

of the sheep.

3 To him the <sup>1</sup>porter openeth, and the sheep hear his voice, and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he hath sent forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And they will not follow a stranger, but they flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This <sup>1</sup>parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily I say unto you, I am that door of the sheep.

8 <sup>1</sup>All that <sup>2</sup>ever came before me, are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 <sup>1</sup>I am that door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall <sup>2</sup>go in, and go out, and find pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and have it in abundance.

11 <sup>1</sup>I am that good shepherd: that good shepherd giveth his life for his sheep.

12 But an hireling, and he which is not the shepherd, neither the sheep are his own, seeth the wolf coming, and he leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14 I am that good shepherd, and know mine, and am known of mine.

15 As the Father <sup>1</sup>knoweth me, so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for my sheep.

16 <sup>1</sup>Other sheep I have also, which are not of this

9:34 <sup>1</sup> Thou art naught even from the cradle, and as we use to say, there is nothing in thee but sin.

9:35 <sup>1</sup> Most happy is their state, which are cast furthest out of the Church of the wicked (which proudly boast themselves of the name of the Church) that Christ may come never to them.

9:39 <sup>1</sup> Christ doth lighten all them by the preaching of the Gospel, which acknowledge their own darkness, but such as seem to themselves to see clearly enough, those he altogether blindeth: of which sort are they oftentimes, which have the highest place in the Church.

<sup>2</sup> With great power and authority, to do what is righteous and just: as if he said, These men take upon them to govern the people of God after their own lusts, as though they saw all things, and no man but they: but I will rule far otherwise than these men do: for whom they account for blind men, them I will lighten, and such as take themselves to be wisest, them will I drown in most gross darkness of ignorance.

<sup>3</sup> In these words (of seeing and not seeing) there is a secret taunting and check to the Pharisees: for they thought all men blind but themselves.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that by Christ only we have access to the Father, there are neither other true shepherds, than those which come to Christ themselves, and bring others thither also, neither is any to be thought the true sheepfold, but that which is gathered to Christ.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> In those days they used to have a servant always sitting at the door, and therefore he speaketh after the manner of those days.

10:6 <sup>1</sup> This word (parable) which the Evangelist useth here, signifieth a dark kind of speech, when words are taken from their natural meaning, to signify another thing to us.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> It maketh no matter, how many, neither how old the false teachers there have been.

<sup>2</sup> These large terms must be applied to the matter he speaketh of. And therefore when he calleth himself the door, he calleth all them thieves and robbers which take upon them this name of Door, which none of the Prophets can, for they showed the sheep, that Christ was the door.

10:9 <sup>1</sup> Only Christ is the true Pastor, and that only is the true Church, which acknowledgeth him to be properly their only Pastor: To him are opposite thieves which feed not the sheep, but kill them: and hirelings also, which forsake the flock in time of danger, because they feed it only for their own profit and gains.

<sup>2</sup> That is, shall live safely: so use the Jews to speak, as Deut. 26:6, and yet there is a peculiar alluding to the shepherd's office.

10:15 <sup>1</sup> Loveth me, alloweth me.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> The calling of the Gentiles.

fold: them also must I bring, and they shall hear my voice: and <sup>b</sup>there shall be <sup>2</sup>one sheepfold, and one shepherd.

17 <sup>1</sup>Therefore doth my Father love me, because <sup>c2</sup>I lay down my life, that I might take it again.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself: I have power to lay it down, and have power to take it again: this <sup>d</sup>commandment have I received of my Father.

19 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then there was a dissension again among the Jews for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad: why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil: can the devil open the eyes of the blind?

22 And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the <sup>1</sup>Dedication, and it was winter.

23 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus walked in the Temple, in Solomon's porch.

24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be that Christ, tell us plainly.

25 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the works that I do in my Father's Name, they bear witness of me.

26 <sup>1</sup>But ye believe not: <sup>2</sup>for ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me,

28 And I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of mine hand.

29 My Father which gave them me, is greater than all, and none is able to take them out of my Father's hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

31 <sup>c1</sup>Then the Jews again took up stones, to stone him.

Matt. 26:7

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I showed you from my <sup>1</sup>Father: for which of these works do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For the good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy, and that thou being a man, makest thyself God.

34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your Law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God was given, and the Scripture cannot be <sup>1</sup>broken, 36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Son of God?

37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do, then though ye believe not me, yet believe the works, that ye may know and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 <sup>1</sup>Again they went about to take him: but he escaped out of their hands,

40 And went again beyond Jordan, into the place where John first baptized, and there abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man, were true.

42 And many believed in him there.

1 And <sup>1a</sup> a certain man was sick, named Lazarus of Bethany, the <sup>2</sup>town of Mary, and her sister Martha.

2 (And it was that <sup>a</sup>Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)

10:16 <sup>2</sup> The certain mark of the Catholic Church throughout all the world, which hath one head, that is Christ, the only keeper and only shepherd of it.

10:17 <sup>1</sup> Christ is by the decree of the Father, the only true shepherd of the true Church, for he willingly gave his life for his sheep, and by his own power rose again to life.

<sup>2</sup> He speaketh in the time that now is because Christ's whole life was as it were a perpetual death.

10:19 <sup>1</sup> The Gospel discovereth hypocrisy, and therefore the world must needs rage when it cometh forth.

10:22 <sup>1</sup> The feast of the Dedication was instituted by Judas Macca-beus and his brethren, after the restoring of God's true religion, by the casting out of Antiochus his garrison, 1 Macc. 4:59.

10:23 <sup>1</sup> The unbelievers and proud men accuse the Gospel of darkness, which darkness indeed is within themselves.

10:25 <sup>1</sup> The doctrine of the Gospel is proved from heaven by two witnesses: both by the purity of the doctrine, and by miracles.

10:26 <sup>1</sup> It is no marvel that there do but a few believe, seeing that all men are by nature untamed beasts: yet notwithstanding God hath his, which he turneth into sheep, and commiteth them unto his Son, and preserveth them against the cruelty of all wild beasts.

10:32 <sup>1</sup> Through my Father's authority and power.

10:35 <sup>1</sup> Void of and none effect.

10:39 <sup>1</sup> Christ fleeth danger, not of mistrust, nor for fear of death, nor that he would be idle, but to gather a Church in another place.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ in restoring the stinking carcass of his friend to life, showeth an example both of his mighty power, and also of his singular good will toward men: which is also an image of the resurrection to come.

3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest, is sick.

4 When Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto <sup>1</sup>death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 ¶ Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 <sup>1</sup>And after he had heard that he was sick, yet abode he two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, said he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again.

8 <sup>1</sup>The disciples said unto him, Master, the Jews lately sought to <sup>b</sup>stone thee, and dost thou go thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not <sup>1</sup>twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after, he said unto them, Our friend Lazarus <sup>1</sup>sleepeth: but I go to wake him up.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall be safe.

13 Howbeit, Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the natural sleep.

14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may believe: but let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thomas (which is called Didymus) unto his fellow disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 ¶ Then came Jesus, and found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

18 (Now Bethany was near unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off.)

19 <sup>1</sup>And many of the Jews were come to Martha and Mary to comfort them for their brother.

20 Then Martha, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went to meet him: but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not been dead.

22 But now I know also, that whatsoever thou askest of God, God will give it thee.

26 And whosoever liveth, and believeth in me, shall never die: Believest thou this?

27 She said unto him, Yea, Lord, I believe that thou art that Christ that Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when she heard it, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 For Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave, to weep there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not been dead.

33 <sup>1</sup>When Jesus therefore saw her weep, and the Jews also weep which came with her, he <sup>2</sup>groaned in the spirit, and was troubled in himself, 34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 And Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, behold, how he loved him.

37 And some of them said, <sup>c</sup>Could not he which opened the eyes of the blind, have made also, that this man should not have died?

38 Jesus therefore again groaned in himself, and came to the grave. And it was a cave, and a stone was laid upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, said unto him, Lord, he stinketh already for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus said unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou didst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place

11:4 <sup>1</sup> That is to say, sent for the purpose to kill him.

11:6 <sup>1</sup> In that, that God seemeth sometimes to linger in helping of us, he doeth it both for his glory, and for our salvation, as the falling out of the matter in the end, plainly proveth.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> This only is the sure and right way to life, to follow God boldly without fear, who calleth us and shineth before us in the darkness of this world.

11:9 <sup>1</sup> All things are fitly wrought and brought to pass in their season.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> The Jews used a milder kind of speech, and called death a sleep, whereupon in other languages the place of burial where the dead are laid, waiting for the resurrection, is called a sleeping place.

11:19 <sup>1</sup> God who is the maker of nature, doth not condemn natural affections, but showeth that they ought to be examined by the rule of faith.

11:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, shall recover life again.

11:33 <sup>1</sup> Christ took upon him together with our flesh all affections of man (sin only excepted) and amongst them especially mercy and compassion.

<sup>2</sup> These are tokens that he was greatly moved, but yet they were without sin: and these affections are proper to man's nature.

where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee, because thou hast heard me.

42 I know that thou hearest me always, but because of the people that stand by, I said it, that they may believe, that thou hast sent me.

43 As he had spoken these things, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foot with bands, and his face was bound with a napkin. Jesus said unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 ¶ Then many of the Jews, which came to Mary, and had seen the things, which Jesus did, believed in him.

46 <sup>1</sup>But some of them went their way to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

47 Then gathered the high Priests, and the Pharisees a <sup>1</sup>council, and said, What shall we do? For this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe in him, and the Romans will come and <sup>1</sup>take away both our place, and the nation.

49 <sup>1</sup>Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the high Priest that same year, said unto them, Ye perceive nothing at all,

50 <sup>1</sup>Nor yet do you consider that it is expedient for us, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 <sup>1</sup>This spake he not of himself: but being high Priest that same year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation only, but that he should gather together in one the children of God, which <sup>1</sup>were scattered.

53 Then from that day forth they consulted together, to put him to death.

54 <sup>1</sup>Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there

55 ¶ And the Jews' Passover was at hand, and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the Passover, to purify themselves.

56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the Temple, What think ye, that he cometh not to the feast?

57 Now both the high Priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he were, he should show it, that they might take him.

12 2 As Christ is at supper with Lazarus, 3 Mary anointeth his feet. 5 Judas findeth fault with her. 7 Christ defendeth her. 10 The Priests would put Lazarus to death. 12 As Christ cometh to Jerusalem. 18 The people meet him. 22 The Greeks desire to see him. 42 The chief rulers that believe in him, but for fear do not confess him. 44 he exhorteth to faith.

1 Then <sup>a</sup>Jesus, six days before the Passover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, who died, whom he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha served: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then took Mary a pound of ointment of Spikenard very costly, and anointed Jesus' feet, and wiped his feet with her hair, and the house was filled with the savor of the ointment.

4 Then said one of his disciples, even Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him:

5 <sup>1</sup>Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 Now he said thus, not that he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and <sup>b</sup>had the bag, and bore that which was given.

7 <sup>1</sup>Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poor always ye have with you, but me ye shall not have always.

11:46 <sup>1</sup> The last point of hard and iron-like stubbornness is this, to proclaim open war against God, and yet ceaseth not to make a presence both of godliness and of the profit of the commonwealth.

11:47 <sup>1</sup> The Jews called the council Sanhedrin: and the word that John useth is Synedri.

11:48 <sup>1</sup> That is, take away from us by force: for at that time, though the high Priest's authority was greatly lessened and decayed, yet there was some kind of government left among the Jews.

11:49 <sup>1</sup> The raging and mad company of the false Church, persuade themselves that they cannot be in safety, unless he is taken away, who only upholdeth the Church: And so likewise judgeth the wisdom of the flesh in worldly affairs, which is governed by the spirit of giddiness or madness.

11:51 <sup>1</sup> Christ doth sometimes so turn the tongues, even of the wicked, that in cursing, they bless.

11:52 <sup>1</sup> For they were not gathered together in one country, as the Jews were, but to be gathered from all quarters, from the East to the West.

11:54 <sup>1</sup> We may give place to the rage of the wicked, when it is expedient so to do, but yet in such sort, that we swerve not from God's vocation.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> An horrible example in Judas of a mind blinded with covetousness, and yet pretending godliness.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> This Extraordinary anointing, which was for a sign, is so allowed of God, that he witnesseth how he will not be worshipped with outward pomp, or costly service, but with alms.

12:9 <sup>1</sup> When the light of the Gospel showeth itself, some are found to be curious, and others (which left ought) to be open enemies: others in a rage honor him, whom they will straightway fall from: and very few do so reverently receive him as they ought: Notwithstanding Christ beginneth his spiritual kingdom in the midst of his enemies.

9 <sup>1</sup>Then much people of the Jews knew that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 The high Priests therefore consulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

11 because that for his sake many of the Jews went away, and believed in Jesus.

12 ¶ On the morrow a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus should come to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Jesus found a young ass, and sat thereon, as it is written,

15 <sup>d</sup>Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh sitting on an ass's colt.

16 But his disciples understood not these things at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they, that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witness that he called Lazarus out of the grave and raised him from the dead.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 <sup>1</sup>And the Pharisees said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? Behold, the world goeth after him.

20 ¶ Now there were certain Greeks among them that <sup>1</sup>came up to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida in Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see that Jesus.

22 Philip came and told Andrew: and again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23 And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man must be glorified.

24 <sup>1</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, Except the wheat

25 <sup>1</sup>He that loveth his life, shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 <sup>1</sup>If any man serve me, let him follow me: for where I am, there shall my servant be: and if any man serve me, him will my father honor.

27 <sup>1</sup>Now is my soul troubled: and what shall I say? Father, save me from this <sup>2</sup>hour: but therefore came I unto this hour.

28 Father, <sup>1</sup>glorify thy Name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 Then said the people that stood by, and heard, that it was a thunder: others said, An Angel spake to him.

30 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered, and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 <sup>g</sup>And I, if I were <sup>1</sup>lift up from the earth, will draw <sup>2</sup>all men unto me.

33 Now this said he, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We have heard out of the <sup>h</sup>Law, that that Christ bideth forever: and how sayest thou, that that Son of man must be lift up? Who is that Son of man?

35 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is <sup>1</sup>the light with you: walk while ye have that light, lest the darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in the dark, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have that light, believe in that light, that ye may be the <sup>1</sup>children of the light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and hid himself from them.

37 ¶ <sup>1</sup>And though he had done so many miracles before them, yet believed they not on him,

38 That the saying of Isaiah the Prophet might be 12:19 <sup>1</sup>Even they which go about to oppress Christ, are made instruments of his glory.

12:20 <sup>1</sup>After the solemn custom: the Greeks were first so called by the name of the country of Greece, where they dwelt: but afterward, all that were not of the Jew's religion, but worshipped false gods, and were also called Heathens, were called by this name.

12:24 <sup>1</sup>The death of Christ is as it were a sowing, which seemeth to be a dying to the corn, but indeed is the cause of a far greater harvest: and such as is the condition of the head, so shall it be of the members.

<sup>2</sup>A wheat corn dieth when it is changed by virtue of the ground, and becometh a root of a fruitful blade.

12:27 <sup>1</sup>Whilst Christ went about to suffer all the punishment which is due to our sins, and whilst his divinity did not yet show his might and power so far as this satisfaction might thoroughly wrought, now when he is stricken with the great fear of the curse of God, he crieth out and prayeth, and desireth to be released:

yet notwithstanding he preferreth the will and glory of his Father before all things, whose obedience the Father alloweth even from heaven.

12:28 <sup>1</sup>So then the Father's glory is Christ's glory.

12:30 <sup>1</sup>Christ foretelleth to the deaf, the manner of his death, the overcoming of the devil and the world, and in conclusion his triumph.

12:32 <sup>1</sup>Christ used a word, which hath a double meaning: for it signifieth either to lift up, or to rid out of the way, for his meaning was to put them in mind of his death, but the Jews seem to take it another way.

<sup>2</sup>Chrysostom and Theophylact refer this word, All, to all nations: that is, not to the Jews only.

12:35 <sup>1</sup>Unmeasurable is the mercy of God, but an horrible judgment followed, if it be contemned.

12:36 <sup>1</sup>That is, partakers of light.

fulfilled, that he said, <sup>J</sup>Lord, who believed our report? and to whom is the <sup>1</sup>arm of the Lord revealed?

39 Therefore could they not believe, because that Isaiah saith again,

40 <sup>k</sup>He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

41 These things said Isaiah when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 <sup>1</sup>Nevertheless, even among the chief rulers, many believed in him: but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be cast out of the Synagogue.

43 <sup>1</sup>For they loved the praise of men, more than the praise of God.

44 <sup>1</sup>And Jesus cried, and said, He that believeth in me, believeth <sup>2</sup>not in me, but in him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 I <sup>m</sup>am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth in me, should not abide in darkness.

47 <sup>n</sup>And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: <sup>o</sup>the word that I have spoken, it shall judge him in the last day.

49 For I have not spoken of myself: but the father which sent me, he gave me a commandment what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: the things therefore that I speak, I speak them so as the Father said unto me.

2 And when supper was done (and that the devil had now put in the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him.)

3 Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his <sup>1</sup>hands, and that he was come forth from God, and went to God,

4 He <sup>1</sup>riseth from Supper, and layeth aside his upper garments, and took a towel, and girded himself.

5 After that, he poured water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who said to him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

8 Peter said unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt have <sup>1</sup>no part with me.

9 Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also the hands and the head.

10 Jesus said to him, He that is washed, needeth not, save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are <sup>b</sup>clean, but not all.

11 For he knew who should betray him: therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 ¶ So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lord, and Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For I have given you an example, that ye should do, even as I have done to you.

16 Verily, verily I say unto you, <sup>c</sup>The servant is not greater than his master, neither the <sup>1</sup>ambassador

12:38 <sup>1</sup> The arm of the Lord, is the Gospel, which is the power of God to salvation to all that believe: And therefore the arm of the Lord is not revealed to them, whose hearts the Lord hath not opened.

12:42 <sup>1</sup> Such as believe, are not only few in number, if they be compared with the unbelievers, but also the most of those few (yea and that especially the chiefest) do fear men more than God.

12:44 <sup>1</sup> The sum of the Gospel, and therefore of salvation, which Christ witnessed in the midst of Jerusalem, by his crying out, is this: to rest upon Christ through faith, as the only Savior appointed and given us of the Father.

<sup>2</sup> This word Not, doth not take any whit of this from Christ which is here spoken of, but is in way of correction rather, as if he said, He that believeth in me, doth not so much believe in me, as in him that sent me. So is it in Mark 9:37.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ no less certain of the victory, than of the combat which was at hand, using the sign of washing the feet, doth partly thereby give an example of singular modesty, and his great love toward his Apostles in this notable act, being like very shortly to depart from them: and partly witnesseth unto them, that it is he only which washeth away the filth of his people, and that by little and little, in their time and season.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> In that he is said to rise, it argueth that there was a space between the ceremonies of the Passover, and this washing of feet, at what time it seemeth that the Supper was instituted.

13:8 <sup>1</sup> Unless thou suffer me to wash thee, thou shalt have no part in the kingdom of heaven.

13:16 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth an Apostle which is anyone that is sent from another.

greater than he that sent him.

17 If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but it is that the Scripture might be fulfilled, <sup>d</sup>He that eateth bread with me, hath lift up his heel against me.

19 From henceforth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to pass, ye might believe that I am he.

20 <sup>e</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, If I send any, he that receiveth him, receiveth me, and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

21 When Jesus had said these things, he was troubled in the Spirit, and <sup>1</sup>testified, and said, Verily, verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 <sup>f</sup>Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now there was one of his disciples, which <sup>1</sup>leaned on Jesus' bosom, whom Jesus loved.

24 To him beckoned therefore Simon Peter, that he should ask who it was of whom he spake.

25 He then as he leaned on Jesus' breast, said unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it: and he wet a sop, and gave it to Judas Iscariot, Simon's son.

27 And after the sop, Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew, for what cause he spake it unto him.

29 For some of them thought because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast: or that he should give something to the poor.

30 As soon then as he had received the sop, he went immediately out, and it was night.

35 By this shall all men know, that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 <sup>1</sup>Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now: but thou shalt follow me afterward.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why can I not follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou have denied me thrice.

14 He comforteth his disciples, 2, 7 declaring his divinity and the fruit of his death, 16 promising the comforter, 17 even the holy Spirit, 26 whose office he setteth out. 27 He promiseth his peace.

1 Let <sup>1</sup>not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

4 <sup>1</sup>And whither I go, ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas said unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest: how can we then know the way?

6 Jesus said unto him, I am <sup>1</sup>that Way, and that

13:18 <sup>1</sup> The betraying of Christ was not casual, or a thing that happened by chance, but the Father so ordained the cause of our salvation, to reconcile us unto himself in his Son, and the Son did willingly and voluntarily obey the Father.

13:21 <sup>1</sup> He affirmed it openly, and sealed it.

13:23 <sup>1</sup> John's leaning was such, that sitting down in his bed, his head was toward Jesus' head: so that it was an easy matter for him to touch Jesus' bosom: for it is certain that in old time men used not to sit at the table, but to lie down: on the one side.

13:31 <sup>1</sup> We have to consider the glorifying of Christ in his ignominy. <sup>2</sup> This verse and the next following, are a most plain and evident testimony of the divinity of Christ.

13:33 <sup>1</sup> The eternal glory shall flow by little and little from the head into the members. But in the meantime, we must take good heed that we pass over the race of this life in brotherly love.

13:36 <sup>1</sup> An heavy example of rash trust and confidence.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> He believeth in God that believeth in Christ, and there is no other way to confirm our minds in greatest distresses.

14:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, if it were not so as I tell you, to wit, unless there were place enough not only for me, but for you also in my father's house, I would not thus deceive you with a vain hope, but I would have told you so plainly.

<sup>2</sup> All the speech is by way of an allegory, whereby the Lord comforteth his own, declaring unto them his departure into heaven, which is, not to reign there alone, but to go before, and prepare a place for them.

14:3 <sup>1</sup> Christ went not away from us: to the end to forsake us, but rather that he might at length take us up with him into heaven.

<sup>2</sup> These words are to be referred to the whole Church, and therefore the Angels said to the disciples when they were astonished, What stand you gazing up into heaven? This Jesus shall so come as you saw him go up, Acts 1:11, and in all places of the Scripture, the full comfort of the Church is referred to that day when God shall be all in all, and is therefore called the day of redemption.

14:4 <sup>1</sup> Christ only is the way to true and everlasting life, for he it is in whom the Father hath revealed himself.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> This saying showeth unto us both the nature, the will and office of Christ.

Truth, and that Life. No man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 <sup>1</sup>If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip said unto him, Lord, show us thy Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus said unto him, I have been so long time with you, and hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me, hath seen my Father: how then sayest thou, Show us thy Father?

10 <sup>1</sup>Believest thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The words that I speak unto you, I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me: at the least, believe me for the very works' sake.

12 <sup>1</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, he that believeth in me, the works that I do, he shall do also, and <sup>2</sup>greater than these shall he do: for I go unto my Father.

13 <sup>a</sup>And whatsoever ye ask in my Name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask anything in my Name, I will do it.

15 <sup>1</sup>If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever,

17 Even the <sup>1</sup>Spirit of truth, whom the <sup>2</sup>world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him: for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you fatherless: but I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world shall see me no more, but ye shall see me: because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day shall ye know that I am <sup>1</sup>in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them: is he that loveth me: and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father: and I will love him, and will <sup>1</sup>show mine own self to him.

22 <sup>1</sup>Judas said unto him, (not Iscariot) Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt show thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Jesus answered, and said unto him, If any man love me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and will dwell with him.

24 He that loveth me not, keepeth not my words, and the word which ye hear, is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 <sup>1</sup>These things have I spoken unto you, being present with you.

26 <sup>b</sup>But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my Name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, which I have told you.

27 <sup>1</sup>Peace I leave with you: my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor fear.

28 <sup>1</sup>Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and will come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would verily rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for the Father <sup>2</sup>is greater than I.

29 And now have I spoken unto you, before it come, that when it is come to pass, ye might believe.

30 <sup>1</sup>Hereafter will I not speak many things unto you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath 14:7 <sup>1</sup> It is plain by this place, that to know God, and to see God, is all one: Now whereas he said before, that no man saw God at any time, that it is to be understood thus, without Christ: or were it not through Christ, no man could ever see, nor saw God at any time: for as Chrysostom saith, the Son is a very short and easy setting forth of the father's nature unto us.

14:10 <sup>1</sup> The majesty of God showeth itself most evidently, both in Christ's doctrine and deeds.

14:12 <sup>1</sup> The approving of the virtue of Christ is not included within his own person, but it is spread through the body of his whole Church.

14:15 <sup>1</sup> He loveth Christ aright, which obeyeth his commandments: and because the same is accompanied with an infinite sort of miseries, although he be absent in body, yet doth he comfort his with the present virtue of the holy Ghost, whom the world despiseth, because it knoweth him not.

14:17 <sup>1</sup> The holy Ghost is called the Spirit of truth, of the effect which he worketh, because he inspireth the truth into us, whereas otherwise he hath truth in himself.

14:20 <sup>1</sup> The Son is in the Father after such sort, that he is of one self-same substance with the Father, but he is in his disciples in a certain respect as an aider and helper of them.

14:21 <sup>1</sup> I will show myself to him, and be known of him, as if he saw me with his eyes: but this showing of himself is not bodily, but spiritually, yet so plain as none can be more.

14:22 <sup>1</sup> We must not ask why the Gospel is revealed to some rather than to others, but we must rather take heed, that we embrace Christ who is offered unto us, and that we truly love him, that is to say, that we give ourselves wholly to his obedience.

14:25 <sup>1</sup> It is the office of the holy Ghost to imprint in the midst of the elect in their times and seasons, that which Christ once spake.

14:27 <sup>1</sup> All true felicity cometh to us by Christ alone.

14:28 <sup>1</sup> So far is it, that we should be sorry for the departing of Christ, from us according to the flesh, that we should rather rejoice for it, seeing that all the blessing of the members dependeth upon the glorifying of the head.

<sup>2</sup> This is spoken in that, that he is Mediator, for so the Father is greater than he, inasmuch as the person to whom request is made, is greater than he that maketh the request.

14:30 <sup>1</sup> Christ goeth to death not unwillingly, but willingly, not as yielding to the devil, but obeying his Father's decree.

31 But it is that the world may know that I love my Father: and as the Father hath commanded me, so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

15 1 By the parable of the vine, 2 and the branches, 5, 6 he declareth how the disciples may bear fruit. 12, 17 He commendeth mutual love. 18 He exhorteth them to bear afflictions patiently, 20 by his own example.

1 I<sup>a</sup> am that true vine, and my Father is that husbandman.

2 <sup>a</sup>Every branch that beareth not fruit in me, he taketh away: and everyone that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 <sup>b</sup>Now are ye clean through the word, which I have spoken unto you.

4 Abide in me, and I in you: as the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am that vine: ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me can ye do nothing.

6 <sup>c</sup>If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burn.

7 <sup>d,1</sup>If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask what ye will, and it shall be done to you.

8 <sup>1</sup>Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, and be made my disciples.

9 <sup>1</sup>As the father hath loved me, so have I loved you: <sup>2</sup>continue in that my love.

10 If ye shall keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love, as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

12 <sup>e</sup>This is my commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love than this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 <sup>1</sup>Henceforth call I you not servants: for the servant knoweth not what his master doeth: but I have called you friends: for all things that I have heard of my Father, have I made known to you.

16 <sup>1</sup>Ye <sup>2</sup>have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, <sup>f</sup>that ye go and bring forth fruits, and that your fruit remain, that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my Name, he may give it you.

17 These things command I you, that ye love one another.

18 <sup>1</sup>If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, <sup>g</sup>The servant is not greater than his master. <sup>h</sup>If they have persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they have kept my word, they will also keep yours.

21 <sup>1</sup>But <sup>1</sup>all these things will they do unto you for my Name's sake, because they have not known him that sent me.

22 <sup>1</sup>If I had not come and spoken unto them, they should not have had sin: but now have they no cloak for their sin.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done works among them which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen, and have hated both me, and

<sup>2</sup> As who would say, Satan will by and by set upon me with all the might he can, but he hath no power over me, neither shall he find any such thing in me as he thinketh he shall.

15:1 <sup>1</sup> We are of nature dry and fit for nothing but the fire: Therefore that we may live and be fruitful, we must first be grafted into Christ, as it were into a vine by the Father's hand: and then be daily shred with a continual meditation of the word and the cross; otherwise it shall not avail any man at all to have been grafted, unless he cleave fast unto the vine, and so draw juice out of it.

15:7 <sup>1</sup> He abideth in Christ, which resteth in his doctrine, and therefore bringeth forth good fruit: And the Father will deny such an one nothing.

15:8 <sup>1</sup> As who would say, Herein shall my Father be glorified, and herein also shall you be my disciples, if you bring forth much fruit.

15:9 <sup>1</sup> The love of the Father towards the Son, and of the Son towards us, and ours towards God and our neighbor, are joined together with an inseparable knot: and there is nothing more sweet and pleasant than it is. Now this love showeth itself by its effects: a most perfect example whereof, Christ himself exhibited unto us.

<sup>2</sup> That is, in that love, wherewith I love you: which love is on both parts.

15:15 <sup>1</sup> The doctrine of the Gospel (as it is uttered by Christ's own mouth) is a most perfect and absolute declaration of the counsel of God, which pertaineth to our salvation, and is committed unto the Apostles.

15:16 <sup>1</sup> Christ is the author and preserver of the ministry of the Gospel, even to the world's end, but the ministers have above all things need of prayer and brotherly love.

<sup>2</sup> This place teacheth us plainly, that our salvation cometh from the only favor and gracious goodness of the everlasting God towards us, and of nothing that we do or can deserve.

15:18 <sup>1</sup> It ought not only not to fear, but rather confirm the faithful ministers of Christ, when they shall be hated of the world as their Master was.

15:21 <sup>1</sup> The hatred that the world beareth against Christ, proceedeth of the blockishness of the mind, which notwithstanding is voluntary blind, so that the world can pretend no excuse to cover their fault.

15:22 <sup>1</sup> As who would say, If I had not come, these men would not have stuck to have said still before God's judgment seat, that they are religious, and void of sin: but seeing I came to them, and they clean refuse me, they can have no cloak for their wickedness.

my Father.

25 But it is that the word might be fulfilled, that is written in their <sup>1</sup>Law,<sup>2</sup>They hated me without a cause.

26 <sup>1</sup>But when that Comforter shall come, <sup>2</sup>whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testify of me.

27 And ye shall witness also, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

16 1 He foretelleth the disciples of persecution. 7 He promiseth the Comforter, and declareth his office. 21 He compareth the affliction of his, to a woman that travaileth with child.

1 These <sup>1</sup>things have I said unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall excommunicate you: yea the time shall come, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doeth God service.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 <sup>1</sup>But these things have I told you, that when the hour shall come, ye might remember, that I told you them. And these things said I not unto you from the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, your hearts are full of sorrow.

7 <sup>1</sup>Yet I tell you the truth, It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, that Comforter will not come unto you: but if I depart, I will send him unto you,

8 <sup>1</sup>And when he is come, he will <sup>2</sup>reprove the <sup>3</sup>world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment.

9 Of sin, because they believed not in me:

10 Of <sup>1</sup>righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.

11 Of <sup>1</sup>judgment, <sup>2</sup>because the prince of this world is judged.

12 <sup>1</sup>I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the spirit of truth, he will lead you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself, but whatsoever he shall hear, shall he speak, and he will show you the things to come.

14 <sup>1</sup>He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and show it unto you.

16 <sup>1</sup>A <sup>2</sup>little while, and ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me: <sup>3</sup>for I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and again a little while, and ye shall see me, and, For I go to the Father.

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we know not what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they would ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves, of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, and the world shall rejoice, and ye shall 15:25 <sup>1</sup> Sometime by this word, Law, are meant the five books of Moses, but in this place, the whole Scripture: for the place alleged is in the Psalms.

15:26 <sup>1</sup> Against the rage of the wicked, we shall stand surely by the inward testimony of the holy Ghost: But the holy Ghost speaketh not otherwise, than he spake by the mouth of the Apostles.

16:1 <sup>1</sup> The ministers of the Gospel must look for all manner of reproaches, not only of them which are open enemies, but even of them also which seem to be of the same household, and the very pillars of the Church.

16:7 <sup>1</sup> The absence of Christ, according to the flesh, is profitable to the Church, that we may wholly depend upon his spiritual power.

16:8 <sup>1</sup> The Spirit of God worketh so mightily by the preaching of the word, that he constraineth the world, will it, nill it, to confess its own unrighteousness, and Christ's righteousness and almightiness.

<sup>3</sup> He respecteth the time that followed his ascension, when as all gainsayers were manifestly reprov'd through the pouring out of the holy Ghost upon the Church: So that the very enemies of Christ were reprov'd of sin, in that they were constrained to confess that they were deceived, in that they believed not, and therefore they said to Peter, Acts 2, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

16:10 <sup>1</sup> Of Christ himself: For when the world shall see, that I have poured out the holy Ghost, they shall be constrained to confess that I was just, and was not condemned of my Father, when I went out of this world.

16:11 <sup>1</sup> Of that authority and power, which I have both in heaven and earth.

<sup>2</sup> That is, because they shall then understand and know indeed, that I have overcome the devil, and do govern the world, when all men shall see, that they set themselves against you in vain, for I will arm you with that heavenly power, whereby you may destroy every high thing which is lifted up against the knowledge of God, 2 Cor. 10:12.

16:12 <sup>1</sup> The doctrine of the Apostles proceeded from the holy Ghost, and is most perfect.

16:14 <sup>1</sup> The holy Ghost bringeth no new doctrine, but teacheth that which was uttered by Christ's own mouth, and imprinteth it in our minds.

16:16 <sup>1</sup> The grace of the holy Ghost is a most lively glass, wherein Christ is truly beholden with the most sharpsighted eyes of faith, and not with the bleared eyes of the flesh: whereby we feel a continual joy even in the midst of sorrows.

<sup>3</sup> For I pass to eternal glory, so that I shall be much more present with you, than I was before: for then you shall feel indeed what I am, and what I am able to do.

sorrow, but your sorrow shall be turned to joy.

21 A woman when she travaileth hath sorrow because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 And ye now therefore are in sorrow: but I will see you again, and your hearts shall rejoice, and your joy shall no man take from you.

23 And in that day shall ye ask me nothing, <sup>b</sup>Verily, verily I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my Name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my Name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 <sup>1</sup>These things have I spoken unto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speak to you in parables: but I shall show you plainly of the Father.

26 <sup>1</sup>At that day shall ye ask in my Name, and I say not unto you, that I will pray unto the Father for you:

27 For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: again I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 <sup>1</sup>His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee. By this we believe, that thou art come out from God.

31 Jesus answered them, Do you believe now?

32 <sup>d,1</sup>Behold, the hour cometh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered every man into his own, and shall leave me alone: But I am not alone:

for the Father is with me.

33 <sup>1</sup>These things have I spoken unto you, that <sup>2</sup>in me ye might have peace: in the world ye shall have affliction, but be of good comfort: I have overcome the world.

17 <sup>1</sup> Christ prayeth that his glory together with his Father's may be made manifest. <sup>9</sup> He Prayeth for his Apostles, <sup>20</sup> and for all believers.

1 These <sup>1</sup>things spake Jesus, and lift up his eyes to heaven, and said, <sup>2</sup>Father, that hour is come: glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee,

2 <sup>a</sup>As thou hast given him power <sup>1</sup>over <sup>1</sup>all flesh, that he should give eternal life to all them that thou hast given him.

3 And this is life eternal, that they know thee <sup>1</sup>to be the <sup>1</sup>only very God, and whom thou hast sent, Jesus Christ.

4 I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now glorify me, thou Father, with thine own self, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 <sup>1</sup>I have declared thy Name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: <sup>2</sup>thine they were, and thou <sup>3</sup>gavest them me, and they have kept thy word.

7 <sup>b</sup>Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast given me, are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me, and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and have believed that thou hast sent me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me: for they are thine.

16:25 <sup>1</sup> The holy Ghost which was poured upon the Apostles after the Ascension of Christ, instructed both them in all chiefest mysteries and secrets of our salvation, and also by them the Church, and will also instruct it to the end of the world.

16:26 <sup>1</sup> The sum of the worship of God, is the invocation of the Father in the Name of the Son the Mediator, who is already heard for us, for whom he hath abased himself, and is now also glorified.

16:29 <sup>1</sup> Faith and foolish security differ very much.

16:32 <sup>1</sup> Neither the wickedness of the world, neither the weakness of his own can diminish anything of the virtue of Christ.

16:33 <sup>1</sup> The surety and stay of the Church dependeth only upon the victory of Christ.

<sup>2</sup> That in me you might be thoroughly quieted. For by (peace) is meant in this place, that quiet state of mind, which is clean contrary to disquietness and heaviness.

17:1 <sup>1</sup> Jesus Christ the everlasting high Priest being ready straightway to offer up himself, doth by solemn prayers consecrate himself to God the Father as a sacrifice: and us together with himself. Therefore this prayer was from the beginning, is, and shall be to the end of the world, the foundation and ground of the Church of God.

<sup>2</sup> He first declareth, that as he came into the world to the end that the Father might show in him, being apprehended by faith, his glory in saving his elect, so he applied himself to that only: and therefore desireth of the Father, that he would bless the work which he hath finished.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> Over all men.

17:3 <sup>1</sup> He calleth the Father the only very God, to set him against all false gods, and not to shut out himself and the holy Ghost. For straightway he joineeth the knowledge of the Father and the knowledge of himself together, and according to his accustomed manner, setteth forth the whole Godhead in the person of the father: So is the Father alone said to be King, immortal, wise, and dwelling in the light which no man can attain unto, invisible, Rom. 16:17; 1 Tim. 1:17.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> First of all he prayeth for those his disciples, by whom he would have the rest to be gathered together, commendeth them unto the Father, (having once rejected the whole company of the reprobate) because he received them of him into his custody, and for that they embracing his doctrine, shall have so many and so mighty enemies, that there is no way for them to be in safety, but by his help only.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth hereby that everlasting election and choice, which was hidden in the good will and pleasure of God, which is the groundwork of our salvation.

<sup>3</sup> He showeth how the everlasting and hidden purpose of God is declared in Christ, by whom we are justified and sanctified, if we lay hold of him by faith, that at length we may come to the glory of the election.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy Name, even them whom thou hast given me, that they may be <sup>1</sup>one as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy Name: those that thou gavest me, have I kept, and none of them is lost, but the child of perdition, that the <sup>c</sup>Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things speak I in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

15 <sup>1</sup>I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou keep them from evil.

16 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

17 <sup>1</sup>Sanctify them with thy truth: thy word is truth.

18 <sup>1</sup>As thou didst send me into the world, so have I sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes sanctify I myself, that they also may be sanctified through the <sup>1</sup>truth.

20 <sup>1</sup>I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shall believe in me, through their word,

21 That they all may be one, as thou, O Father, art in me, and I in thee: even that they may be also one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory that thou gavest me, I have given them, that they may be one, as we are one,

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

24 <sup>d</sup>Father, I will that they which thou hast given me, be with me even where I am, that they may behold that my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou

18 By Christ's power, whom Judas betrayeth, 6 the soldiers are cast down to the ground. 13 Christ is led to Annas, and from him to Caiaphas. 22, 23 His answer to the officer that smote him with a rod. 28 Being delivered to Pilate. 36 he declareth his kingdom.

1 When <sup>1</sup>Jesus had spoken these things, he went forth with his disciples over the brook <sup>a</sup>Kidron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 And Judas which betrayed him knew also the place: for Jesus oftentimes resorted thither with his disciples.

3 <sup>b1</sup>Judas then, after he had received a band of men and officers of the high Priests, and of the Pharisees, came thither with lanterns and torches, and weapons.

4 <sup>1</sup>Then Jesus, knowing all things that should come unto him, went forth and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus said unto them, I am he. Now Judas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went away backwards, and fell to the ground.

7 Then he asked them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered, I said unto you, that I am he: therefore if ye seek me, let these go their way.

9 This was that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, 'Of them which thou gavest me, have I lost none.

17:11 <sup>1</sup> He prayeth that his people may peaceably agree and be joined together in one, that as the Godhead is one, so they may be of one mind and one consent together.

17:15 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what manner of deliverance he meaneth: not that they should be in no danger, but that they being preserved from all, might prove by experience that the doctrine of salvation is true, which they received at his mouth to deliver to others.

17:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, make them holy: and that is said to be holy, which is dedicated and made proper to God only.

17:18 <sup>1</sup> He addeth moreover, that the Apostles have a vocation common with him, and therefore that they must be holden up by the selfsame virtue to give up themselves wholly to God, whereby he being first, did consecrate himself to the Father.

17:19 <sup>1</sup> The true and substantial sanctification of Christ, is set against the outward purifyings.

17:20 <sup>1</sup> Secondly he offereth to God the Father, all his, that is, how many soever shall believe in him by the doctrine of the Apostles: that as he cleaveth unto the Father receiving from him all fullness, so they being joined with him, may receive life from him, and at length being together beloved in him, may also with him enjoy everlasting glory.

17:26 <sup>1</sup> He communicateth with his by little and little, the knowledge of the Father, which is most full in Christ the Mediator, that they may in him be beloved of the Father, with the selfsame love wherewith he loveth the Son.

18:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ goeth of his own accord into a garden, which his betrayer knew, to be taken: that by his obedience he might take away the sin that entered into the world by one man's rebellion, and that in a garden.

18:3 <sup>1</sup> Christ, who was innocent, was taken as a wicked person, that we which are wicked might be let go as innocent.

18:4 <sup>1</sup> Christ's person (but not his virtue) was bound of the adversaries, when and how he would.

18:8 <sup>1</sup> Christ doth not neglect the office of a good pastor, nor not in his greatest danger.

10 <sup>1</sup>Then Simon Peter having a sword, drew it, and smote the high Priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. Now the servants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: shall I not drink of the cup which my Father hath given me?

12 Then the band and the captain, and the officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him.

13 <sup>1</sup>And led him away to <sup>d</sup>Annas first (for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, which was the high Priest that same year.)

14 <sup>e</sup>And Caiaphas was he, that gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ <sup>f1</sup>Now Simon Peter followed Jesus, and another disciple, and that disciple was known of the high Priest: therefore he went in with Jesus into the hall of the high Priest.

16 But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out the other disciple which was known unto the high Priest, and spake to her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maid that kept the door, unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He said, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, which had made a fire of coals: for it was cold, and they warmed themselves. And Peter also stood among them, and warmed himself.

19 ¶ (<sup>1</sup>The high Priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine, 20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world: I ever taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Jews resort continually, and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me what I said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stood by, smote Jesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I have evil spoken, bear witness of the evil: but if I have well spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 ¶ <sup>g</sup>Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high Priest.)

25 <sup>h1</sup>And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself, and they said unto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high Priest, his cousin whose ear Peter smote off, said, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied again, and immediately the cock crew.

28 <sup>i1</sup>Then led they Jesus from <sup>2</sup>Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, and they themselves went not into the common hall, lest they should be <sup>j</sup>defiled, but that they might eat the Passover.

29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered, and said unto him, If he were not an evil doer, we would not have delivered him unto thee.

31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him after your own Law. Then the Jews said unto him, <sup>1</sup>It is not lawful for us to put any man to death.

32 It was that the word of Jesus <sup>k</sup>might be fulfilled which he spake, <sup>1</sup>signifying what death he should die.

33 <sup>l</sup>So Pilate entered into the common hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the king of the Jews?

34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the high Priest have delivered thee unto me. What hast thou done?

36 <sup>1</sup>Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, my servants would surely fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pilate then said unto him, Art thou a King then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth: everyone that is of the truth, heareth my voice.

18:10 <sup>1</sup> We ought to contain the zeal we bear to God, within the bounds of our vocation.

18:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ is brought before an earthly high Priest to be condemned for our blasphemies, that we might be acquitted of the everlasting high Priest himself.

18:15 <sup>1</sup> A lively example of the fragility of man even in the best, when they be once left to themselves.

18:19 <sup>1</sup> Christ defendeth his cause but slenderly, not that he would withdraw himself from death, but to show that he was condemned as an innocent.

18:25 <sup>1</sup> After that men have once fallen, they cannot only not lift themselves by their own strength, but also they fall more and more into worse, until they be raised up again, by a new virtue of God.

18:28 <sup>1</sup> The Son of God is brought before the judgment seat of an earthly and profane man, in whom there is found much less wickedness, than in the princes of the people of God: A lively image of the wrath of God against sin, and therewithal of his great mercy, and least of all, of his most severe judgment against the stubborn contempters of his grace when it is offered unto them.

18:31 <sup>1</sup> For judgments of life and death were taken from them forty years before the destruction of the temple.

18:32 <sup>1</sup> For Christ had foretold that he should be crucified.

18:36 <sup>1</sup> Christ avoucheth his spiritual kingdom, but rejecteth a worldly.

38 <sup>1</sup>Pilate said unto him, <sup>2</sup>What is truth? And when he had said that, he went out again unto the Jews, and said unto them, I find in him no cause at all.

39 <sup>m</sup>But you have a custom that I should deliver you one loose at the Passover: will ye then that I loose unto you the King of the Jews?
