18:27 <sup>1</sup> You esteem him as God.

<sup>2</sup> He mocketh their beastly madness, which think that by any instance or suit, the dead and vile idols can help their worshippers in their necessity.

did it the third time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar: and he <sup>1</sup>filled the ditch with water also.

36 And when they should offer the evening sacrifice, Elijah the Prophet came and said, Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, let it be known this day, that thou art the God of Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that I have done all these things at thy commandment.

37 Hear me, O Lord, hear me, and let this people know that thou art the Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart again <sup>1</sup>at the last.

38 Then the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the burnt offering, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the ditch.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces, and said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Elijah said unto them, Take the prophets of Baal, let not <sup>1</sup>a man of them escape: and they took them, and Elijah brought them to the brook Kishon, and slew them there.

41 ¶ And Elijah said unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink, for there is a sound of much rain.

42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink, and Elijah went up to the top of Carmel: and he crouched unto the earth, and put his face between his knees,

43 And said to his servant, Go up now, and look toward the way of the Sea. And he went up, and looked, and said, There is nothing. Again he said, Go again <sup>1</sup>seven times.

44 And at the seventh time he said, Behold, there ariseth a little cloud out of the Sea like a man's hand. Then he said, Up, and say unto Ahab, Make ready the chariot, and get thee down, that the rain stay thee not.

45 And <sup>1</sup>in the meanwhile the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. Then Ahab went up, and came to Jezreel, 46 And the hand of the Lord was on Elijah, and he girded up his loins, and ran <sup>1</sup>before Ahab till he came to Jezreel.

CHAPTER 19

19 <sup>5</sup> Elijah fleeing from Jezebel, is nourished by the Angel of God. 15 He is commanded to anoint Hazael, Jehu, and Elisha.

1 Now Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and how he had slain all the <sup>1</sup>prophets with the sword.

2 Then Jezebel sent a messenger unto Elijah, saying, <sup>1</sup>The gods do so to me and more also, if I make not thy life like one of their lives by tomorrow this time.

3 ¶ When he saw that, he arose, and went <sup>1</sup>for his life, and came to Beersheba, which is in Judah, and left his servant there.

4 But he went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a Juniper tree, and desired that he might die, and said, It is now enough: O Lord, <sup>1</sup>take my soul, for I am no better than my fathers.

5 And as he lay and slept under the Juniper tree, behold now, an Angel touched him, and said unto him, Up, and eat.

6 And when he looked about, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a pot of water at his head: so he did eat and drink, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came again the second time, and touched him, and said, Up, and eat: for <sup>1</sup>thou hast a great journey.

8 ¶ Then he arose, and did eat and drink, and walked in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights, unto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there he entered into a cave, and lodged there: and behold, the Lord spake to him, and said unto him, What doest thou here, Elijah?

10 And he answered, I have <sup>1</sup>been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts: for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, broken down thine altars, and slain thy Prophets with the sword, <sup>a</sup>and I only am left, and they seek my life to take it away.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And behold, the Lord went by, and a mighty strong wind rent the mountains, and brake the rocks before the Lord: but the Lord was <sup>1</sup>not 18:35 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he declared the excellent power of God, who contrary to nature could make the fire burn even in the water, to the intent they should have none occasion to doubt that he is the only God.

18:37 <sup>1</sup> Though God suffer his to run in blindness and error for a time, yet at the length he calleth them home to him by some notorious sign and work.

18:40 <sup>1</sup> He commanded them that as they were truly persuaded to confess the only God: so they would serve him with all their power, and destroy the idolaters his enemies.

18:43 <sup>1</sup> As God's spirit moved him to pray, so was he strengthened by the same, that he did not faint, but continued still till he had obtained.

18:45 <sup>1</sup> Or, here and there.

18:46 <sup>1</sup> He was so strengthened with God's spirit, that he ran faster than the chariot was able to run.

19:2 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked rage against God's children, yet he holdeth them back that they cannot execute their malice.

19:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, whither his mind led him.

19:4 <sup>1</sup> So hard a thing it is to bridle our impatience in affliction, that the Saints could not overcome the same.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that except God had nourished him miraculously, it had not been possible for him to have gone this journey.

19:10 <sup>1</sup> He complaineth that the more zealous that he showed himself to maintain God's glory, the more cruelly was he persecuted.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> For the nature of man is not able to come near unto God, if he should appear in his strength and full majesty, and therefore of his mercy he submitteth himself to our capacity.

in the wind: and after the wind came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake came fire: but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a still and soft voice.

13 And when Elijah heard it, he covered his face with his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering of the cave: and behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, What doest thou here, Elijah?

14 And he answered, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts, <sup>1</sup>because the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, cast down thine altars, and slain thy Prophets with the sword, and I only am left, and they seek my life to take it away.

15 And the Lord said unto him, Go, return by the wilderness unto Damascus, and when thou comest there, anoint Hazael king over <sup>1</sup>Aram.

16 And Jehu the son of Nimshi shalt thou anoint King over Israel: and Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel Meholah shalt thou anoint to be Prophet in thy room.

17 And <sup>b</sup>him that escapeth from the sword of Hazael, shall Jehu slay: and him that escapeth from the sword of Jehu, shall Elisha slay.

18 Yet will <sup>c</sup>I leave seven thousand in Israel: even <sup>1</sup>all the knees that have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth that hath not kissed him.

19 ¶ So he departed thence, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelfth: and Elijah went towards him, and cast his mantle upon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and said, <sup>1</sup>Let me, I pray thee, kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. Who answered him, Go, return: for what have I done to thee?

21 And when he went back again from him, he took a couple of oxen, and slew them, and sod their flesh with the <sup>1</sup>instruments of the oxen, and gave unto the people, and they did eat: then he arose and went after Elijah, and ministered unto him.

1 Then Ben-Hadad the king of <sup>1</sup>Aram assembled all his army, and two and thirty <sup>2</sup>kings with him, with horses, and chariots, and went up and besieged <sup>3</sup>Samaria, and fought against it.

2 And he sent messengers to Ahab king of Israel, into the city,

3 And said unto him, Thus saith Ben-Hadad, Thy silver and thy gold is mine: also thy women, and thy fair children are mine.

4 And the king of Israel answered, and said, My lord king, according to thy saying, <sup>1</sup>I am thine, and all that I have.

5 And when the messengers came again, they said, Thus commandeth Ben-Hadad, and saith, When I shall send unto thee, and command, thou shalt deliver me thy silver and thy gold, and thy women, and thy children,

6 <sup>1</sup>Or else I will send my servants unto thee by tomorrow this time, and they shall search thine house, and the houses of thy servants: and whatsoever is pleasant in thine eyes, they shall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the King of Israel sent for all the Elders of the land, and said, Take heed, I pray you, and see how he seeketh mischief: for he sent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my silver, and for my gold, and I denied him not.

8 And all the Elders, and all the people said to him, Hearken <sup>1</sup>not unto him, nor consent.

9 Wherefore he said unto the messengers of Ben-Hadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didst send for to thy servant at the first time, that I will do, but this thing I may not do. And the messengers departed, and brought him an answer.

10 And Ben-Hadad sent unto him, and said, The gods do so to me and more also, if the <sup>1</sup>dust of Samaria be enough to all the people that follow me, for every man an handful.

11 And the king of Israel answered, and said, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth his harness, boast himself, as he that <sup>1</sup>putteth it off.

19:14 <sup>1</sup> We ought not to depend on the multitude in maintaining God's glory, but because our duty so requireth, we ought to do it.

19:18 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that wicked dissemblers and idolaters are not his.

19:20 <sup>1</sup> Though this natural affection is not to be contemned, yet it ought not to move us when God calleth us to serve him.

19:21 <sup>1</sup> He would not stay till wood was brought, so great was his desire to follow his vocation.

20:4 <sup>1</sup> I am content to obey and pay tribute.

20:6 <sup>1</sup> He would not accept his answer except he did out of hand deliver whatsoever he should ask, for he sought an occasion how to make war against him.

20:8 <sup>1</sup> They thought it their duties rather to venture their lives, than to grant to that thing which was not lawful, only to satisfy the lust of a tyrant.

20:10 <sup>1</sup> Much less shall there be found any prey that is worth anything, when they shall be so many.

12 And when he heard that tidings, as he was with the kings drinking in the pavilions, he said unto the servants, <sup>1</sup>Bring forth your engines. And they set them against the city.

13 ¶ And behold, there came a Prophet unto Ahab king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day, that thou mayest know, <sup>1</sup>that I am the Lord.

14 And Ahab said, By whom? and he said, Thus saith the Lord, By the servants of the princes of the provinces. He said again, Who shall order the battle? and he answered, Thou.

15 ¶ Then he numbered the servants of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred, two and thirty: and after them he numbered the whole people of all the children of Israel, even seven thousand.

16 And they went out at noon: but Ben-Hadad did drink till he was drunken in the tents, both he and the kings: for two and thirty kings helped him.

17 So the <sup>1</sup>servants of the princes of the provinces went out first: and Ben-Hadad sent out, and they showed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he said, Whether they be come out for peace, take them alive: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet alive.

19 So they came out of the city, to wit, the servants of the princes of the provinces, and the host which followed them.

21 And the king of Israel went out, and smote the horses and chariots, and with a great slaughter slew the Aramites.

22 (For there had come a Prophet to the king of Israel, and had said unto him, Go, be of good courage, and consider, and take heed what thou doest: for when the year is gone about, the king of Aram will come up against thee.)

23 ¶ Then the servants of the king of Aram said unto him, Their <sup>1</sup>gods are gods of the mountains, and therefore they overcame us: but let us fight against them in the plain, and doubtless we shall overcome them.

24 And this do, Take the kings away, everyone out of his place, and place captains for them.

25 And number thyself an army, like the army that thou hast lost, with such horses, and such chariots, and we will fight against them in the plain, and doubtless we shall overcome them: and he hearkened unto their voice, and did so.

26 And after the year was gone about, Ben-Hadad numbered the Aramites, and went up to Aphek to fight against Israel.

27 And the children of Israel were numbered, and were all <sup>1</sup>assembled, and went against them, and the children of Israel pitched before them like two little flocks of kids: but the Aramites filled the country.

28 And there came a man of God, and spake unto the king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Because the Aramites have said, The Lord is the God of the mountains, and not God of the valleys, therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye shall know that <sup>1</sup>I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one over against the other seven days, and in the seventh day the battle was joined: and the children of Israel slew of the Aramites an hundred thousand footmen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphek into the city: and there fell a wall upon seven and twenty thousand men that were left: and Ben-Hadad fled into the city, and came into <sup>1</sup>a secret chamber.

31 ¶ And his servants said unto him, Behold now, we have heard say that the Kings of the house of Israel are merciful Kings: we pray thee, let us put sackcloth about our <sup>1</sup>loins, and ropes about our heads, and go out to the King of Israel: it may be that he will save thy life.

32 Then they girded sackcloth about their loins, and put ropes about their heads, and came to the King of Israel, and said, Thy servant Ben-Hadad saith, I pray thee, let me live: and he said, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

33 Now the men took diligent heed, <sup>1</sup>if they could catch anything of him, and made haste, and said, Thy brother <sup>2</sup>Ben-Hadad. And he said, Go, bring him. So Ben-Hadad came out unto him, and he caused him to come up into the chariot.

34 And Ben-Hadad said unto him, The cities which 20:12 <sup>1</sup> Or, put yourselves in order.

20:13 <sup>1</sup> Before God went about with signs and miracles to pull Ahab from his impiety, and now again with wonderful victories.

20:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, young men trained in the service of princes.

20:23 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked blaspheme God in their fury, whom notwithstanding he suffereth not unpunished.

20:27 <sup>1</sup> All they, which were in the battle of the former year, verse 15.

20:28 <sup>1</sup> Who am of like power in the valley, as I am on the hills, and can as well destroy a multitude with few as with many.

20:30 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, from chamber, to chamber.

20:31 <sup>1</sup> In sign of submission, and that we have deserved death, if he will punish us with rigor.

20:33 <sup>1</sup> Or, and caught it of him.

my father took from thy father, I will restore, and thou shalt make streets for thee in <sup>1</sup>Damascus, as my father did in Samaria. Then said Ahab, I will let thee go with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and let him go.

35 ¶ Then a certain man of the <sup>1</sup>children of the Prophets said unto his neighbor by the commandment of the Lord, <sup>2</sup>Smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.

36 Then said he unto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voice of the Lord, behold, as soon as thou art departed from me, a lion shall <sup>1</sup>slay thee. So when he was departed from him, a lion found him, and slew him.

37 Then he found another man, and said, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, and in smiting wounded him.

38 So the Prophet departed, and waited for the King by the way, and disguised himself with ashes upon his face.

39 And when the King came by, he cried unto the King, and said, <sup>1</sup>Thy servant went into the midst of the battle, and behold, there went away a man, whom another man brought unto me, and said, Keep this man: if he be lost, and want, thy life shall go for his life, or else thou shalt pay a talent of silver.

40 And as thy servant had here and there to do, he was gone: And the King of Israel said unto him, So shall thy judgment be: thou hast given sentence.

41 And he hastened, and took the ashes away from his face: and the King of Israel knew him that he was of the Prophets:

42 And he said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>4</sup>Because thou hast let go out of thine hands a man whom I appointed to die, thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the King of Israel went to his house heavy and in displeasure, and came to <sup>1</sup>Samaria.

21 <sup>8</sup>Jezebel commandeth to kill Naboth, for the vineyard that he refused to sell to Ahab. <sup>19</sup>Elijah reproveth Ahab, and he repenteth.

1 After <sup>1</sup>these things, Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard in Jezreel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab spake unto Naboth, saying, <sup>1</sup>Give me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbs thereof, because it is nearby mine house: and I will give thee for it a better vineyard than it is: or if it please thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth said to Ahab, The Lord keep me from giving the inheritance of my father unto thee.

4 Then Ahab came into his house heavy and in displeasure, because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken unto him. For he had said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay <sup>1</sup>upon his bed, and turned his face and would eat no bread.

5 Then Jezebel his wife came unto him, and said unto him, Why is thy spirit so sad that thou eatest no bread?

6 And he said unto her, Because I spake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, and said unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money, or if it please thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: but he answered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 Then Jezebel his wife said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Dost thou now govern the kingdom of Israel? Up, eat bread, and <sup>2</sup>be of good cheer, I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8 ¶ So she wrote letters in Ahab's name, and sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters unto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his city dwelling with Naboth.

9 And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaim a <sup>1</sup>fast, and set Naboth among the chief of the people,

10 And set two wicked men before him, and let them witness against him, saying, Thou didst blaspheme God and the king: then carry him out, and stone him that he may die.

11 And the <sup>1</sup>men of the city, even the Elders and governors which dwelt in his city, did as Jezebel had sent unto them: as it was written in the letters, which she had sent unto them.

12 They proclaimed a fast, and set Naboth among the chief of the people,

13 And there came two wicked men, and sat before him: and the wicked men witnessed against Naboth

20:34 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt appoint in my chief city what thou wilt, and I will obey thee.

20:35 <sup>1</sup> Or, of the disciples.

20:36 <sup>1</sup> Because thou hast transgressed the commandment of the Lord.

20:39 <sup>1</sup> By this parable he maketh Ahab condemn himself, who made a covenant with God's enemy, and let him escape, whom God had appointed to be slain.

21:1 <sup>1</sup> Or, at this time.

21:2 <sup>1</sup> Though Ahab's tyranny be condemned by the holy Spirit, yet he was not so rigorous that he would take from another man his right without full recompense.

21:4 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked consider not what is just and lawful, but fret inwardly, when they cannot have their inordinate appetites satisfied.

21:7 <sup>1</sup> As though she said, Thou knowest not what it is to reign. Command and entreat not.

21:9 <sup>1</sup> For then they used to inquire of men's faults: for none could fast truly that were notorious sinners.

21:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus the worldlings contrary to God's commandment, who willesh not to consent to the shedding of innocent blood, obey rather the wicked commandments of princes than the just laws of God.

in the presence of the people saying, Naboth did <sup>1</sup>blaspheme God and the King. Then they carried him away out of the city, and stoned him with stones, that he died.

14 Then they sent to Jezebel, saying, Naboth is stoned and is dead.

15 ¶ And when Jezebel heard that Naboth was stoned and was dead, Jezebel said to Ahab, <sup>1</sup>Up, and take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give thee for money: for Naboth is not alive, but is dead.

16 And when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, he rose to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

18 Arise, go down to meet Ahab King of Israel, which is in Samaria: lo, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone down to take possession of it.

19 Therefore shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Hast thou killed, and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>2</sup>In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth, shall dogs lick even thy blood also.

20 And Ahab said to Elijah, Hast thou found me, O mine enemy? And he answered, I have found thee: for thou hast sold thyself to work wickedness in the sight of the Lord.

21 <sup>a</sup>Behold, I will bring evil upon thee, and will take away thy posterity, and will cut off from Ahab him that <sup>b</sup>pisseth against the wall, as well him that is <sup>c</sup>shut up, as him that is left in Israel,

22 And I will make thine house like the house of <sup>d</sup>Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of <sup>e</sup>Baasha the son of Ahijah, for the provocation wherewith thou hast provoked and made Israel to sin.

24 The dogs shall eat him of Ahab's stock, that dieth in the city: and him that dieth in the fields, shall the fowls of the air eat.

25 (But there was none like Ahab, who did <sup>1</sup>sell himself to work wickedness, in the sight of the Lord, whom Jezebel his wife provoked.

26 For he did exceeding abominably in following idols, according to all that the Amorites did, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.)

27 Now when Ahab heard those words, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon <sup>1</sup>him, and fasted, and lay in sackcloth, and went <sup>2</sup>softly.

28 And the word of the Lord came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

29 Seest thou how Ahab is humbled before me? because he submitteth himself before me, I will not bring that evil in his days, but in his <sup>1</sup>sons' days will I bring evil upon his house.

22 2 Jehoshaphat and Ahab fight against the King of Syria. 15 Micaiah showeth the king what shall be the success of their enterprise. 24 Zedekiah the false prophet smiteth him. 34 Ahab is slain. 40 Ahaziah his son succeedeth. 41 The reign of Jehoshaphat, 50 and Jehoram his son.

1 And <sup>a</sup>they continued <sup>1</sup>three years without war between Aram and Israel.

2 And in the third year did Jehoshaphat the king of Judah <sup>1</sup>come down to the king of Israel.

3 (Then the king of Israel said unto his servants, Know ye not that <sup>1</sup>Ramoth Gilead was ours? and we stay, and take it not out of the hand of the King of Aram?)

4 And he said unto Jehoshaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battle against Ramoth Gilead? And Jehoshaphat said unto the king of Israel, <sup>1</sup>I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and mine horses as thine horses.

5 Then Jehoshaphat said unto the King of Israel, <sup>1</sup>Ask counsel, I pray thee, of the Lord today.

6 Then the king of Israel gathered the <sup>1</sup>prophets upon a four hundred men, and said unto them, Shall I go against Ramoth Gilead to battle, or shall I let it alone? And they said, Go up, for the Lord shall deliver it into the hands of the King.

21:15 <sup>1</sup> This example of monstrous cruelty the holy Ghost leaveth to us, to the intent that we should abhor all tyranny, and specially in them whom nature and kind should move to be pitiful and inclined to mercy.

21:19 <sup>1</sup> Dost thou think to have any advantage by murdering of an innocent?

21:23 <sup>1</sup> Or, fortress, or possession.

21:25 <sup>1</sup> By the wicked counsel of his wife he became a vile idolater, and cruel murderer, as one that gave himself wholly to serve sin.

21:27 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, his flesh.

21:29 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in Jehoram's time, 2 Kings 9:26.

22:1 <sup>1</sup> Ben-Hadad the king of Syria, and Ahab made a peace which endureth three years.

22:2 <sup>1</sup> To see and visit him.

22:3 <sup>1</sup> The kings of Syria kept Ramoth before this league was made by Ben-Hadad: therefore he thought not himself bound thereby to restore it.

22:4 <sup>1</sup> I am ready to join and go with thee, and all mine is at thy commandment.

22:5 <sup>1</sup> He seemed that he would not go to the war, except God reprov'd it, yet when Micaiah counseled the contrary, he would not obey.

22:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the false prophets, which were flatterers and served for lucre, whom Jezebel had assembled and kept after the death of those whom Elijah slew.

7 And Jehoshaphat said, Is there here never a Prophet of the <sup>1</sup>Lord more, that we might inquire of him?

8 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Micaiah the son of Imlah) by whom we may ask counsel of the Lord, but <sup>1</sup>I hate him: for he doth not prophesy good unto me, but evil. And Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

9 Then the king of Israel called an <sup>1</sup>Eunuch, and said, Call quickly Micaiah the son of Imlah.

10 And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah sat either of them on his throne in their <sup>1</sup>apparel in the void place at the entering in of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them.

11 And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made him <sup>1</sup>horns of iron, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites, until thou hast consumed them.

12 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliver it into the king's hand.

13 ¶ And the messenger that was gone to call Micaiah, spake unto him, saying, Behold now, the words of the prophets declare good unto the king with <sup>1,2</sup>one accord, let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and speak thou good.

14 And Micaiah said, As the Lord liveth, whatsoever the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak.

15 ¶ So he came to the King, and the king said unto him, Micaiah, shall we go against Ramoth Gilead to battle, or shall we leave off? And he answered him, <sup>1</sup>Go up, and prosper: and the Lord shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king said unto him, How oft shall I charge thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the Name of the Lord?

17 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered upon the mountains, as sheep that had no shepherd. And

18 (And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would prophesy no good unto me, but evil?)

19 Again he said, Hear thou therefore the word of the Lord. I saw the Lord sit on his throne, and all the <sup>1</sup>host of heaven stood about him on his right hand and on his left hand.

20 And the Lord said, Who shall <sup>1</sup>entice Ahab that he may go and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner.

21 Then there came forth a spirit, and <sup>1</sup>stood before the Lord, and said, I will entice him. And the Lord said unto him, Wherewith?

22 And he said, I will go out, and be a <sup>1</sup>false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. Then he said, Thou shalt entice him, and shalt also prevail: go forth, and do so.

23 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the Lord hath appointed evil against thee.

24 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near, and smote Micaiah on the cheek, and said, <sup>b,1</sup>When went the spirit of the Lord from me, to speak unto thee?

25 And Micaiah said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

26 And the king of Israel said, Take Micaiah and carry him unto Amon the governor of the city, and unto Joash the king's son, 27 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, and feed him with <sup>1</sup>bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

28 And Micaiah said, If thou return in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, <sup>1</sup>Hearken all ye people.

22:7 <sup>1</sup> Jehoshaphat did not acknowledge the false prophets to be God's ministers, but did contemn them.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> Whereby we see that the wicked cannot abide to hear the truth, but hate the Prophets of God and molest them.

22:11 <sup>1</sup> The true Prophets of God were accustomed to use signs for the confirmation of their doctrine, Isa. 20:2; Jer. 7:2. Wherein the false Prophets did imitate them, thinking thereby to make their doctrine more commendable.

<sup>2</sup> This is the common argument of the wicked, who think that none should speak against a thing, if the greater part approve it, be they never so ungodly.

22:15 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in derision, because the king attributed so much to the false prophets, meaning, that by experience he should try that they were but flatterers.

22:17 <sup>1</sup> It is better they return home than to be punished and scattered, because they take war in hand without God's counsel and approbation.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> Or, persuade and deceive.

22:21 <sup>1</sup> Here we see that though the devil be ever ready to bring us to destruction, yet he hath no further power than God giveth him.

22:22 <sup>1</sup> I will cause all his prophets to tell lies.

22:24 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked would seem that none were in the favor of God, but they, and that God hath given his graces to none so much as to them.

22:27 <sup>1</sup> Let him be pined away with hunger, and be fed with a small portion of bread and water.

22:28 <sup>1</sup> That when ye shall see these things come to pass, ye may give God the glory, and know that I am his true Prophet.

29 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth Gilead.

30 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, I will change mine apparel, and will enter into the battle, but put thou on thine apparel. And the king of Israel changed himself, and went into the battle.

31 And the king of Aram commanded his two and thirty captains over his chariots, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, save only against the king of Israel.

32 And when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, they said, Surely it is the king of Israel: and they turned to fight against him: and Jehoshaphat <sup>1</sup>cried.

33 And when the captains of the chariots saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned back from him.

34 Then a certain man drew a bow <sup>1</sup>mightily, and smote the king of Israel between the joints <sup>2</sup>of his brigandine. Wherefore he said unto his chariot man, Turn thine hand, and carry me out of the host: for I am <sup>3</sup>hurt.

35 And the battle increased that day, and the <sup>1</sup>king stood still in his chariot against the Aramites, and died at even: and the blood ran out of the wound into the midst of the chariot.

36 And there were a proclamation throughout the <sup>1</sup>host about the going down of the Sun, saying, Every man to his city, and every man to his own country.

37 So the king died, and was brought to Samaria, and they buried the king in Samaria.

38 And one washed the chariot in the pool of Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood (and <sup>1</sup>they washed his armor) according <sup>4</sup>unto the word of the Lord which he spake.

39 Concerning the rest of the acts of Ahab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he built, and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

40 So Ahab slept with his fathers, and Ahaziah his son reigned in his stead.

41 ¶ <sup>d</sup>And Jehoshaphat the son of Asa began to reign upon Judah in the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel.

42 Jehoshaphat was five and thirty years old when he began to reign, and reigned five and twenty years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

43 And he walked in all the ways of Asa his father, and declined not there from, but did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord. Nevertheless, <sup>1</sup>the high places were not taken away: for the people offered still, and burnt incense in the high places.

44 And Jehoshaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

45 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, and his worthy deeds that he did, and his battles which he fought, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

46 And the Sodomites, which remained in the days of his father Asa, he put clean out of the land.

47 There was then no King in Edom: the <sup>1</sup>deputy was king.

48 Jehoshaphat made ships of <sup>1</sup>Tarshish to sail to <sup>2</sup>Ophir for gold, but they went not, for the ships were broken at Ezion Geber.

49 Then said Ahaziah the son of Ahab unto Jehoshaphat, Let my servants go with thy servants in the ships, But Jehoshaphat would not.

50 And Jehoshaphat did sleep with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Jehoram his son reigned in his stead.

51 ¶ Ahaziah the son of Ahab began to reign over Israel in Samaria, the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned two years over Israel.

52 But he did evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin.

53 For he served Baal, and worshipped him, and provoked the Lord God of Israel unto wrath, <sup>1</sup>according unto all that his father had done.

22:32 <sup>1</sup> That is, to the Lord for help.

22:38 <sup>1</sup> Or, the harlots washed it.

22:43 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he was led with an error, thinking that they might still sacrifice to the Lord in those places, as well as they did before the Temple was built.

22:47 <sup>1</sup> In the time of this king, Idumea was subject to Judah, and was governed by whom they of Judah appointed.

22:48 <sup>1</sup> By Tarshish the Scripture meaneth Cilicia and all the sea called Mediterranean.

22:53 <sup>1</sup> Or, in all points as his father did.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE KINGS

1 Then Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahab:

2 And <sup>1</sup>Ahaziah fell through the lattice window in his upper chamber which was in Samaria: so he was sick: then he sent messengers, to whom he said, Go, and inquire of <sup>2</sup>Baal-Zebub the god of Ekron, if I shall recover of this my disease.

3 Then the Angel of the Lord said to Elijah the Tishbite, Arise, and go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say unto them, <sup>1</sup>Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that ye go to inquire of Baal-Zebub the god of Ekron?

4 Wherefore thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not come down from the bed on which thou art gone up, but shalt die the death. So Elijah departed.

5 And the messengers returned unto him, to whom he said, Why are ye now returned?

6 And they answered him, There came a man and met us, and said unto us, Go, and return unto the king which sent you, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that thou sendest to inquire of Baal-Zebub the God of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come down from the bed, on which thou art gone up, but shalt die the death.

7 And he said unto them, What manner of man was he which came and met you, and told you these words?

8 And they said unto him, He was an <sup>1</sup>hairy man, and girded with a girdle of leather about his loins. Then said he, It is Elijah the Tishbite.

9 Therefore the King sent unto him a captain over fifty with his fifty men, who went up unto him: for behold, he sat on the top <sup>1</sup>of a mountain, and he said unto him, O man of God, the king hath commanded that thou come down.

10 But Elijah answered, and said to the captain over the fifty, If that I be a man of God, let fire come down from the heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty. <sup>1</sup>So fire came down from the heaven and devoured him and his fifty.

11 Again also he sent unto him another captain over fifty with his fifty. Who spake, and said unto him, <sup>1</sup>O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come down quickly.

12 But Elijah answered, and said unto them, <sup>1</sup>If I be a man of God, let fire come down from the heaven and devour thee and thy fifty. So fire came down from the heaven, and devoured him and his fifty.

13 ¶ Yet again he sent the third captain over fifty with his fifty. And the third captain over fifty went up, and came, and fell on his knees before Elijah, and besought him, and said unto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my <sup>1</sup>life and the life of these thy fifty servants be <sup>2</sup>precious in thy sight.

14 Behold, there came fire down from the heaven, and devoured the two former captains over fifty with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord said unto Elijah, Go down with him, be <sup>1</sup>not afraid of his presence. So he arose, and went down with him unto the king.

16 And he said unto him, Thus saith the Lord,

1:2 <sup>1</sup> So that he was punished for his idolatry after two sorts: for the Moabites which were wont to pay him tribute, rebelled, and he fell down at a grate which was upon his house to give light beneath.

<sup>2</sup> The Philistines which dwelt at Ekron, worshipped this idol, which figureth the god of flies, thinking that he could preserve them from the biting of flies: or else he was so called, because flies were engendered in great abundance of the blood of the sacrifices that were offered to that idol.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that idolaters have not the true God, for else they would seek to none but to him alone.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Ignorance is the mother of error and idolatry.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> Some think that this is meant of his garments, which were rough and made of hair.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Carmel.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> He declareth what power God's word hath in the mouth of his servants, when they threaten God's judgments against the wicked.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> He spake this in mockery, and therefore provoked God's wrath so much the more.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God would show by effect whether he was a true Prophet or not.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> Which humble myself before God and his servant.

<sup>2</sup> That is, spare my life, and let me not die as the other two.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Lord giveth boldness to his, that they fear not the threatenings of tyrants, which otherwise of themselves are afraid to do God's message.

Because thou hast sent messengers to inquire of Baal-Zebub the god of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israel to inquire of his word?) therefore thou shalt not come down off the bed, on which thou art gone up, but shalt die the death.

17 So he died according to the word of the Lord which Elijah had spoken. And Jehoram began to reign in his stead in the second year of <sup>1</sup>Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, because he had no son.

18 Concerning the rest of the acts of Ahaziah, that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

1 And when the Lord would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, Elijah went with Elisha from <sup>1</sup>Gilgal.

2 Then Elijah said to Elisha, Tarry here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Bethel. But Elisha said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came down to Bethel.

3 And the <sup>1</sup>children of the Prophets that were at Bethel, came out to Elisha, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Lord will take thy master from <sup>2</sup>thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I <sup>3</sup>know it: hold ye your peace.

4 Again Elijah said unto him, Elisha, tarry here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. But he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho.

5 And the children of the Prophets that were at <sup>1</sup>Jericho, came to Elisha, and said unto him, Knowest thou, that the Lord will take thy master from thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I know it: hold ye your peace.

6 Moreover Elijah said unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath sent me to Jordan. But he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went both together.

7 And fifty men of the sons of the Prophets went and stood on the other side a far off, and they two stood by Jordan.

8 ¶ Then Elijah took his cloak, and wrapped it together, and smote the <sup>1</sup>waters, and they were divided hither and thither, and they twain went over on the dry land.

9 Now when they were passed over, Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, let thy Spirit <sup>1</sup>be double upon me.

10 And he said, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou see me when I am taken from thee, thou shalt have it so: and if not, it shall not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, behold, there appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and did separate them twain. So Elijah went up by a whirlwind into <sup>1</sup>heaven.

12 And Elisha saw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof: and he saw him no more: and he took his own clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ He took up also the cloak of Elijah, that fell from him, and returned, and stood by the bank of Jordan.

14 After, he took the cloak of Elijah, that fell from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Elijah? And so he also, after he had stricken the waters, so that they were divided this way and that way, went over, even Elisha.

15 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Jericho, saw him on the other side, they said, <sup>1</sup>The Spirit of Elijah doeth rest on Elisha: and they came to meet him, and fell to the ground before him,

16 And said unto him, Behold now, there be with thy servants fifty strong men: let them go, we pray thee, and seek thy <sup>1</sup>master, if so be the Spirit of the Lord hath taken him up, and cast him upon some mountain, or into some valley. But he said, <sup>2</sup>Ye shall not send.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> Jehoshaphat going to battle against the Syrians, made his son Jehoram king in the 17th year of his reign: and in the 18th year which was the second year of his son, Jehoram the son of Ahab reigned in Israel: and in the fifth year of this Jehoram Jehoshaphat died, and the kingdom of Judah was confirmed to his son.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Which was that place where the children of Israel were circumcised after they came over Jordan, and had been forty years in the wilderness, as Josh. 5:9.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> So called, because they are begotten as it were anew by the heavenly doctrine.

<sup>2</sup> That is, from being anymore thine head: for to be as the head, is to be the master, as to be at the feet, is to be a scholar.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Not only at Bethel, but at Jericho and other places were there Prophets, which had scholars, whom they instructed and brought up in the true fear of God.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of Jordan.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Let thy Spirit have double force in me, because of these dangerous times: or let me have twice so much as the rest of the Prophets: or thy spirit being divided into three parts, let me have two.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus God hath left a testimony in all ages (both before the Law, in the Law, and in the time of the Gospel) of our resurrection.

2:15 <sup>1</sup> The Spirit of prophecy is given to him, as it was to Elijah.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Elijah: for they thought his body had been cast in some mountain.

<sup>2</sup> Because the fact was extraordinary, they doubted where he was become, but Elisha was assured that he was taken up to God.

17 Yet they were instant upon him, till he was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So they sent fifty men, which sought three days, but found him not.

18 Therefore they returned to him, (for he tarried at Jericho) and he said unto them, Did not I say unto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the men of the city said unto Elisha, Behold, we pray thee: the situation of this city is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is naught, and the ground <sup>1</sup>barren.

20 Then he said, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went unto the spring of the waters, and cast there <sup>1</sup>the salt, and said, Thus saith the Lord, I have healed this water: death shall no more come thereof, neither barrenness to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed unto this day, according to the word of Elisha which he had spoken.

23 ¶ And he went up from thence unto Bethel. And as he was going up the way, little children came out of the city, and mocked him, and said unto him, Come up, thou bald head, come up, thou bald head.

24 And he turned back, and looked on them, and <sup>1</sup>cursed them in the name of the Lord. And two bears came out of the forest, and tore in pieces two and forty children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

3 <sup>1</sup> The reign of Jehoram. 6 He and Jehoshaphat go to war against Moab which rebelled. 13 Elisha reproveth him, 17 and giveth their hosts war. 24 The Moabites are overcome. 27 Their King sacrificeth his son.

1 Now Jehoram the son of Ahab began to reign over Israel in Samaria, the <sup>1</sup>eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat King of Judah, and reigned twelve years.

2 And he wrought evil in the sight of the Lord, but not like his father nor like his mother: for he took away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 Nevertheless, he cleaved unto the <sup>1</sup>sins of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin, and departed not therefrom.

4 ¶ Then <sup>1</sup>Mesha king of Moab had store of sheep, and rendered unto the king of Israel an hundred thousand rams with the wool.

5 But when Ahab was dead, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

6 Therefore King Jehoram went out of Samaria the same season, and numbered all Israel,

7 And went, and sent to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, saying, The king of Moab hath rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me to battle against Moab? And he answered, I will go up: for <sup>1</sup>I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine horses, as thine horses.

8 Then said he, What way shall we go up? And he answered, The way of the wilderness of Edom.

9 ¶ So went the king of Israel and the king of Judah, and the <sup>1</sup>king of Edom, and when they had compassed the way seven days, they had no water for the host, nor for the cattle that <sup>2</sup>followed them.

10 Therefore the king of Israel said, Alas, that the Lord hath called these three kings, to give them into the hand of Moab.

11 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the king of Israel's servants answered, and said, Here is Elisha the son of Shaphat, which <sup>1</sup>poured water on the hands of Elijah.

12 Then Jehoshaphat said, <sup>1</sup>The word of the Lord is with him. Therefore the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat, and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Elisha said unto the king of Israel, <sup>1</sup>What have I to do with thee? get thee to the Prophets of thy father, and to the Prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel said unto him, <sup>2</sup>Nay: for the Lord hath called these three kings, to give them into the hand of Moab.

14 Then Elisha said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, in whose sight I stand, if it were not, that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, I would <sup>1</sup>not have looked toward thee, nor seen thee.

15 But now bring me a minstrel. And when the minstrel <sup>1</sup>played, the hand of the Lord came upon him.

16 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> Or, killeth the inhabitants.

2:21 <sup>1</sup> Thus God gave him power, even contrary to nature, to make that water profitable for man's use, which before was hurtful.

2:24 <sup>1</sup> Perceiving their malicious heart against the Lord and his word, he desireth God to take vengeance of that injury done unto him.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> Read the annotation in the first chapter and seventh verse.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> He sacrificed to the golden calves that Jeroboam had made.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> This was done after that David had made the Moabites tributaries to his successors.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> Read 1 Kings 22:4.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the viceroy, or lieutenant of the king of Judah, read

1 Kings 22:47.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, who was his servant.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> He is able to instruct us what is God's will in this point.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> He knew that this wicked king would have but used his counsel to serve his turn, and therefore, he disdained to answer him.

<sup>2</sup> The wicked esteem not the servants of God, but when they are driven by every necessity and fear of the present danger.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> God suffereth his word to be declared to the wicked, because of the godly that are among them.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> He sang songs to God's glory, and so stirred up the Prophet's heart to prophesy.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shall neither see wind nor see rain, yet the valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye and your cattle, and your beasts.

18 But this is a <sup>1</sup>small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he will give Moab into your hand.

19 And ye shall smite every strong town, and every chief city, and shall fell every fair tree, and shall stop all the fountains of water, and <sup>1</sup>mar every good field with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meat offering was offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edom: and the country was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kings were come up to fight against them, they gathered all that was able <sup>1</sup>to put on harness, and upward, and stood in their border.

22 And they rose early in the morning, when the Sun arose upon the water, and the Moabites saw the water over against them, as red as blood.

23 And they said, <sup>1</sup>This is blood: the kings are surely slain, and one hath smitten another: now therefore Moab, to the spoil.

24 And when they came to the host of Israel, the Israelites arose up, and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them, but they <sup>1</sup>invaded them, and smote Moab.

25 And they destroyed the cities: and on all the good field every man cast his stone, and filled them and they stopped all the fountains of water, and felled all the good trees: only in <sup>1</sup>Kir Haraseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit they went about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the King of Moab saw that the battle was too sore for him, he took with him seven hundred men that drew the sword, to break through unto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldest son, that should have reigned in his stead, and <sup>1</sup>offered him for a burnt offering upon the wall: so that Israel was sore grieved, and they departed from him, and returned to their country.

4 <sup>4</sup> God increaseth the oil to the poor widow by Elisha. <sup>12</sup> He obtaineth for the Shunammite a son at God's hand. <sup>18</sup> Who dying, <sup>32</sup> he raiseth him up again. <sup>40</sup> He maketh sweet the pottage. <sup>42</sup> and multiplied the loaves.

1 And one of the wives of the sons <sup>1</sup>of the Prophets cried unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant mine husband is dead, and thou knowest, that thy servant did <sup>2</sup>fear the Lord: and the creditor is come to take my two sons to be his <sup>3</sup>bondmen.

2 Then Elisha said unto her, What shall I do for thee? tell me, what hast thou at home? And she said, Thine handmaid hath nothing at home, save a <sup>1</sup>pitcher of oil.

3 And he said, Go and borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbors, empty vessels, and spare not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and pour out into <sup>1</sup>all those vessels, and set aside those that are full.

5 So she departed from him, and shut the door upon her, and upon her sons. And they brought to her, and she poured out.

6 And when the vessels were full, she said unto her son, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is no more vessels. And the oil <sup>1</sup>ceased.

7 Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, Go and sell the oil, and pay them that thou art in debt unto, and live thou and thy children of the <sup>1</sup>rest.

8 ¶ And on a time Elisha came to Shunem, and there a woman of great estimation constrained him to eat bread: and as he passed by, he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And she said unto her husband, Behold, I know now, that this is an holy man of God that passeth by us continually.

10 Let us make <sup>1</sup>him a little chamber, I pray thee, with walls, and let us set him there a bed, and a table,

3:18 <sup>1</sup> He will not only miraculously give you waters, but your enemies also into your hand.

3:27 <sup>1</sup> Some refer it to the king of Edom's son, whom they say he had taken in that skirmish: but rather it seemed to be his own son, whom he offered to his gods to pacify them: which barbarous cruelty moved the Israelites' hearts of pity to depart.

and a stool, and a candlestick, that he may turn in thither when he cometh to us.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thither and turned into the chamber, and lay therein,

12 And said to Gehazi his servant, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stood before him.

13 Then he said unto him, Say unto her now, Behold, thou hast had all this great care for us, <sup>1</sup>what shall we do for thee? Is there anything to be spoken for thee to the king or to the captain of the host? And she answered, I <sup>2</sup>dwell among mine own people.

14 Again he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, Indeed she hath <sup>1</sup>no son, and her husband is old.

15 Then said he, Call her. And he called her, and she stood in the door.

16 And he said, <sup>a</sup>At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a son. And she said, Oh my Lord, thou man of God, do not lie unto thine handmaid.

17 So the woman conceived, and bore a son at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elisha had said unto her.

18 ¶ And when the child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father, and to the reapers.

19 And he said to his father, <sup>1</sup>Mine head, mine head. Who said to his servant, Bear him to his mother.

20 And he took him and brought him to his mother, and he sat on her knees till noon, and died.

21 Then she went up, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door upon him and went out.

22 ¶ Then she called to her husband, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the young men and one of the asses: for I will haste to the man of God, and come again.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him today? it is neither <sup>1</sup>new moon nor Sabbath day. And she answered, <sup>2</sup>All shall be well.

24 Then she saddled an ass, and said to her servant, Drive, and go forward: stay not for me to get up, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, and came unto the man of God to mount Carmel. And when the man of God saw her <sup>1</sup>lover against him, he said to Gehazi his servant, Behold, the Shunammite.

26 Run now, I say, to meet her, and say unto her, Art thou in health? is thine husband in health? and is the child in health? And she answered, We are in health.

27 And when she came to the man of God unto the mountain, she <sup>1</sup>caught him by his feet: and Gehazi went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her soul is <sup>2</sup>vexed within her, and the Lord hath hid it from me, and hath not told it me.

28 Then she said, Did I desire a son of my lord? did I not say, Deceive me not?

29 Then he said to Gehazi, Gird thy loins, and take my staff in thine hand, and go thy way: <sup>1</sup>if thou meet any, salute him not: and if any salute thee, answer him not: and lay my staff upon the face of the child.

30 And the mother of the child said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before them, and had laid the staff upon the face of the child, but he neither spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to meet him, and told him, saying, The child is not waken.

32 ¶ Then came Elisha into the house, and behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the Lord.

34 After he went up, and <sup>1</sup>lay upon the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands, and stretched himself upon him, and the flesh of the child waxed warm.

35 And he went from him, and walked up and down in the house, and went up and spread himself upon him: then the child sneezed <sup>1</sup>seven times, and opened his eyes.

36 Then he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, which came in unto him. And he said unto her, Take thy son.

37 And she came, and fell at his feet, and bowed herself to the ground, and took up her son, and went out.

38 Afterward Elisha returned to Gilgal, and a famine was in the <sup>1</sup>land, and the children of the Prophets 39 And one went out into the field, to gather herbs, and found as it were a wild vine, and gathered thereof <sup>1</sup>wild gourds his garment full, and came and shred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew it not.

40 So they poured out for the men to eat: and when they did eat of the pottage, they cried out, and said, O thou man of God, <sup>1</sup>death is in the pot: and they could not eat thereof.

41 Then he said, Bring meal. And he cast it into the pot, and said, Pour out for the people, that they may eat: and there was none evil in the pot.

42 ¶ Then came a man from Baal Shalisha, and brought the man of God bread of the firstfruits, even twenty loaves of barley, and full ears of corn in the husk. And he said, Give unto the people, that they may eat.

43 And his servant answered, How should I set this before an hundred men? He said again, Give it unto the people, that they may eat: for thus saith the Lord, They <sup>1</sup>shall eat, and there shall remain.

44 So he set it before them, and they did eat, and left over, according to the word of the Lord.

1 Now was there one Naaman captain of the host of the King of Aram, a great man, and honorable in the sight of his lord, because that by him the Lord had <sup>1</sup>delivered the Aramites. He also was a mighty man and valiant, but a leper.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by bands, and had taken a little maid of the land of Israel, and she <sup>1</sup>served Naaman's wife.

3 And she said unto her mistress, Would God my lord were with the <sup>1</sup>Prophet that is in Samaria, he would soon deliver him of his leprosy.

4 And <sup>1</sup>he went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus saith the maid that is of the land of Israel.

5 And the king of Aram said, Go thy way thither, and I will send a letter unto the King of Israel. And he departed, and <sup>1</sup>took <sup>2</sup>with him ten talents of silver, and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiments,

6 And brought the letter to the king of Israel to this effect, Now when this letter is come unto thee, understand, that I have sent thee Naaman my servant, that thou mayest heal him of his leprosy.

7 And when the king of Israel had read the letter, he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God to kill and to give life that he doth send to me, that I should heal a man from his leprosy? wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarrel against me.

8 But when Elisha the man of God had heard that the King of Israel had rent his clothes, he sent unto the King, saying, <sup>1</sup>Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9 ¶ Then Naaman came with his horses, and with his chariots, and stood at the door of the house of Elisha.

10 And Elisha sent a messenger unto him, saying, Go and wash thee in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naaman was <sup>1</sup>wroth and went away, and said, Behold, I thought with myself, He will surely come out, and stand, and call on the Name of the Lord his God, and put his hand on the place, and heal the leprosy.

12 Are not Abanah and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? may I not wash me in them, and be cleansed? so he turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his servants came, and spake unto him, and said, <sup>1</sup>Father, if the Prophet had commanded thee a great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean?

14 Then went he down, and <sup>4</sup>washed himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again, like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

15 ¶ And he turned again to the man of God, he, and all his company, and came and stood before him, and said, Behold now, I know that there is no God in all the world but in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, take a <sup>1</sup>reward of thy servant.

16 But he said, As the Lord liveth (before whom I stand) I will not receive it. And he would have constrained him to receive it, <sup>1</sup>but he refused.

17 Moreover Naaman said, Shall there not be given to thy servant two mules' load of this earth? for thy servant will henceforth offer neither burnt sacrifice nor offering unto any other god, save unto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be <sup>1</sup>merciful unto thy servant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmon, to worship there, and leaneth on mine hand, and I bow myself in the house of Rimmon: when I do bow down, I say, in the house of Rimmon, the Lord be merciful unto thy servant in this point.

19 Unto whom he said, <sup>1</sup>Go in peace. So he departed from him about half a day's journey of ground.

20 And Gehazi the servant of Elisha the man of God said, Behold, my master hath spared this Aramite Naaman, receiving not those things at his hand that he brought: As the Lord liveth, I will run after him, and take somewhat of him.

21 So Gehazi followed speedily after Naaman. And when Naaman saw him running after him, <sup>1</sup>he lighted down from the chariot to meet him, and said, Is all well?

22 And he answered, All is well: my master hath set me, saying, Behold, there be come to me, even now from mount Ephraim two young men of the children of the Prophets: give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two changes of garments.

23 And Naaman said, Yea, take two talents: and he compelled him, and bound two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and gave them unto two of his servants, that they might bear them before him.

24 And when he came to the <sup>1</sup>tower, he took them out of their hands, and laid them in the house, and sent away the men: and <sup>2</sup>they departed.

25 ¶ Then he went in, and stood before his master. And Elisha said unto him, Whence comest thou, Gehazi? And he said, Thy servant went no whither.

26 But he said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Went not mine heart with thee, when the man turned again from his chariot to meet thee? Is this a time to take money, and to receive garments, <sup>2</sup>and olives, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and maidservants?

1 And the children of the Prophets said unto Elisha, Behold, we pray thee, the place where we dwell with thee, is too little for us.

2 Let us now go to Jordan, that we may take thence every man a <sup>1</sup>beam, and make us a place to dwell in. And he answered, Go.

3 And one said, Vouchsafe, I pray thee, to go with thy servants. And he answered, I will go.

4 So he went with them, and when they came to Jordan, they cut down wood.

5 And as one was felling of a tree, the <sup>1</sup>iron fell into the water: then he cried, and said, Alas master, it was but borrowed.

6 And the man of God said, Where fell it? And he showed him the place. Then he cut down a piece of wood, and cast in thither, and he caused the iron to <sup>1</sup>swim.

7 Then he said, Take it up to thee. And he stretched out his hand, and took it.

8 ¶ Then the king of Aram warred against Israel, and took counsel with his servants, and said, In <sup>1</sup>such and such a place shall be my camp.

9 Therefore the man of God sent unto the king of Israel, saying, Beware thou go not over to such a place: for there the Aramites are come down.

11 And the heart of the king of Aram was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his servants, and said unto them, Will ye not show me, which of us bewrayeth our counsel to the king of Israel?

12 Then one of his servants said, None, my lord, O king, but Elisha the Prophet that is in Israel, telleth the king of Israel, even the words that thou speakest in thy <sup>1</sup>privy chamber.

13 And he said, Go, and espy where he is, that I may send and fetch him. And one told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 ¶ So he sent thither horses, and chariots, and a <sup>1</sup>mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed the city.

15 And when the servant of the man of God arose early to go out, behold, an host compassed the city with horses and chariots. Then his servant said unto him, Alas master, how shall we do?

16 And he answered, <sup>1</sup>Fear not: "for they that be with us, are more than they that be with them.

23 And he made great preparation for them: and when they had eaten and drunken, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Aram came <sup>1</sup>no more into the land of Israel.

24 But afterward Ben-Hadad king of Aram gathered all his host, and went up and besieged Samaria.

25 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for lo, they besieged it until an asses head was at four score pieces of silver, and the fourth part of a cab of dove's <sup>1</sup>dung at five pieces of silver.

26 And as the king of Israel was going upon the wall, there cried a woman unto him, saying, Help, my lord, O King.

27 And he said, Seeing the Lord doth not succor thee, how should I help thee with the <sup>1</sup>barn, or with the wine press?

28 Also the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said unto me, Give thy son that we may eat him today, and we will eat my son tomorrow,

29 <sup>1</sup>So we sod my son, and did eat him: and I said to her the day after, Give thy son, that we may eat him, but she hath hid her son.

7 <sup>1</sup> Elisha prophesieth plenty of vittles, and other things to Samaria. <sup>6</sup> The Syrians run away and have no man following them. <sup>17</sup> The prince that would not believe the word of Elisha, is trodden to death.

1 Then Elisha said, Hear ye the word of the Lord: thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Tomorrow this time a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the king <sup>1</sup>leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord would make <sup>2</sup>windows in the heaven, could this thing come to pass? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not <sup>3</sup>eat thereof.

3 Now there were four leprous men at the <sup>1</sup>entering in of the gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here until we die?

4 If we say, We will enter into the city, the famine is in the city, and we shall die there: and if we sit here, we die also. Now therefore come, and let us fall into the camp of the Aramites: if they save our lives, we shall live: and if they kill us, we are but dead.

5 So they rose up in the twilight, to go to the camp of the Aramites: and when they were come to the utmost part of the camp of the Aramites, lo, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the camp of the Aramites to hear a <sup>1</sup>noise of chariots and a noise of horses, and a noise of a great army, so that they said one to another, Behold, the King of Israel hath hired against us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians to come upon us.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, and left their tents and their horses, and their asses, even the camp as it was, and <sup>1</sup>fled for their lives.

8 And when these lepers came to the utmost part of the camp, they entered into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence silver and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it: after, they returned, and entered into another tent, and carried thence also, and went and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace. If we tarry till daylight, some <sup>1</sup>mischief will come upon us. Now therefore, come, let us go, and tell the king's household.

10 So they came and called unto the porters of the city, and told them, saying, We came to the camp of the Aramites, and lo, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horses tied and asses tied: and the tents are as they were.

11 And the porters cried and declared to the king's house within.

12 Then the King arose in the night, and said unto his servants, <sup>1</sup>I will show you now, what the Aramites have done unto us. They know that we are famished, therefore they are gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the field, saying, When they come out of the city, we shall catch them alive, and get into the city.

13 And one of his servants answered, and said, Let me take now five of the horses that remain, and are left in the city, (behold, they are even as all the <sup>1</sup>multitude of Israel that are left therein: behold, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) and we will send to see.

14 So they took <sup>1</sup>two chariots of horses, and the king sent after the host of the Aramites, saying, Go and see.

15 And they went after them unto Jordan, and lo, all the way was full of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: and the messengers returned, and told the king.

16 Then the people went out and spoiled the camp of the Aramites: so a measure of fine flour was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel <sup>1</sup>according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king gave the prince (on whose hand he leaned) the charge of the gate, and the people <sup>1</sup>trode upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man

6:33 <sup>1</sup> So the wicked fall into a rage and desperation, if they find not sudden remedy against their afflictions.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> To whom the king gave the charge and oversight of things, as verse 17.

<sup>2</sup> He mocked at the Prophet's words, saying, that if God rained down corn from heaven, yet this could not come to pass.

<sup>3</sup> Thy infidelity shall be punished herein when thou shalt see this miracle, and yet not be partaker thereof.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> For it was commanded in the law that they should dwell apart, and not among their brethren, Lev. 13:46.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> Thus God needeth no great preparation to destroy the wicked, though they be never so many: for he can scatter them with a small noise, or shaking of a leaf.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> The wicked need no greater enemy than their own conscience to pursue them.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, we shall be punished for our faults.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> He mistrusted the Prophet's words, and therefore could believe nothing, as they which are more politic than godly ever cast more perils than needeth.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> There are no more left, but they, or the rest are consumed with the famine, as the rest of the people.

of God had said, which spake it, when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to pass, as the man of God had spoken to the King, saying, Two measures of barley at a shekel, and a measure of fine flour shall be at a shekel, tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord would make windows in the heaven, could it come so to pass? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof.

20 And so it came unto him: for the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died.

8 1 Elisha prophesieth unto the Shunammite the dearth of seven years. 12 He prophesieth to Hazael, that he shall be king of Syria. 15 He reigneth after Ben-Hadad. 16 Jehoram reigneth over Judah. 20 Edom falleth from Judah. 25 Ahaziah succeedeth Jehoram.

1 Then spake Elisha unto the woman, "whose son he had restored to life, saying, Up, and go, thou, and thine house, and sojourn where thou <sup>1</sup>canst sojourn: for the Lord hath called for a famine, and it cometh also upon the land seven years.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went both she and her household, and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years.

3 ¶ And at the seven year's end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines, and went out <sup>1</sup>to call upon the king for her house and for her land.

4 And the King talked with Gehazi the servant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great acts, that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he told <sup>1</sup>the king, how he had restored one dead to life, behold, the woman, whose son he had raised to life, called upon the king for her house and for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, O King, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elisha restored to life.

6 And when the king asked the woman, she told him: so the King appointed her an Eunuch, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the <sup>1</sup>fruits of her land since the day she left the land, even until this time.

7 ¶ Then Elisha came to Damascus, and Ben-Hadad the king of Aram was sick: and one told him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king said unto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, and go meet the man of God, that thou mayest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

9 So Hazael went to meet him, and took the present in his hand, and of every <sup>1</sup>good thing of Damascus, even the burden of forty camels, and came and stood before him, and said, Thy son Ben-Hadad king of Aram hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

10 And Elisha said to him, Go, and say unto him, Thou shalt <sup>1</sup>recover: howbeit the Lord hath showed me, that he shall surely die.

11 And he looked upon him steadfastly, till Hazael was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said, Why weepeth my lord? And he answered, because I know the evil that thou shalt do unto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their young men shalt thou slay with the sword, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, and rent in pieces their women with child.

13 Then Hazael said, What? is thy servant <sup>1</sup>a dog, that I should do this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath showed me, that thou shalt be King of Aram.

14 ¶ So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And he answered, He told me that thou shouldest recover.

15 And on the morrow he took a thick cloth and dipped in it water, and <sup>1</sup>spread it on his face, and he died: and Hazael reigned in his stead.

17 He was two and thirty years old, when he began to reign: and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

18 And he walked in the ways of the Kings of Israel, as did the house of Ahab: for the <sup>1</sup>daughter of Ahab was his wife, and he did evil in the sight of the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord would not destroy Judah, for David his servant's sake, <sup>c</sup>as he had promised him to give him a light, and to his children forever.

20 ¶ In those days Edom <sup>1</sup>rebelled from under the hand of Judah, and made a King over themselves.

21 Therefore Joram went to Zair, and all his chariots with him, and he arose by night, and smote the Edomites which were about him, with the captains of the chariots, and the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah unto this day: then <sup>1</sup>Libnah rebelled at that same time.

23 Concerning the rest of the acts of Joram and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

24 And Joram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David. And <sup>d</sup>Ahaziah his son reigned in his stead.

25 ¶ In the twelfth year of Joram the son of Ahab King of Israel, did Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah begin to reign.

26 <sup>1</sup>Two and twenty years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri king of Israel.

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did evil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for he was the son in law of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Joram the son of Ahab to war against Hazael king of Aram in <sup>1</sup>Ramoth Gilead, and the Aramites smote Joram.

29 And king Joram returned to be healed in <sup>1</sup>Jezeel of the wounds which the Aramites had given him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Aram. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezeel, because he was sick.

1 Then Elisha the Prophet called one of the children of the Prophets, and said unto him, <sup>a,1</sup>Gird thy loins, and take this box of oil in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth Gilead.

2 And when thou comest thither, look where is Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, and go, and make him arise up from among his brethren, and lead him <sup>1</sup>to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the box of oil and pour it on his head, and say, Thus saith the Lord, I have anointed thee for king over Israel: then open the door, and flee without any tarrying.

4 So the servant of the Prophet got him to Ramoth Gilead.

5 And when he came in, behold, the captains of the army were sitting. And he said, I have a message to thee, O captain. And Jehu said, Unto which of all us? And he answered, To thee, O captain.

6 And he arose, and went into the house, and he poured the oil on his head and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I have <sup>1</sup>anointed thee for king over the people of the Lord, even over Israel.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Ahab thy master, that I may avenge the blood of my servants the Prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the Lord <sup>b</sup>of the hand of Jezebel.

8 For the whole house of Ahab shall be destroyed: and <sup>1</sup>I will cut off from Ahab, him that maketh water against the wall, as well him that is shut up, as him that is left in Israel.

9 And I will make the house of Ahab, like the house <sup>d</sup>of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house <sup>e</sup>of Baasha the son of Ahijah.

10 And the dogs shall eat Jezebel in the field of Jezeel, and there shall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Jehu came out to the <sup>1</sup>servants of his lord. And one said unto him, Is all well? wherefore came this <sup>2</sup>mad fellow to thee? And he said unto them, Ye know the man, and what his talk was.

12 And they said, It is false, tell us it now. Then he said, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I have anointed thee for King over Israel.

8:20 <sup>1</sup> Which had been subject from David's time, until this time of Jehoram.

8:22 <sup>1</sup> This was a city in Judah given to the Levites, Josh. 21:13, and after turned from King Jehoram, because of his idolatry.

8:26 <sup>1</sup> Which is to be understood, that he was made king when his father reigned, but after his father's death he was confirmed king when he was forty-two years old, as 2 Chron. 22:2.

8:28 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city in the tribe of Gad beyond Jordan.

8:29 <sup>1</sup> This is a city belonging to the tribe of Issachar.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Prepare thyself to go diligently about thy business: for in those countries they used long garments which they tucked up, when they went about earnest business.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, from chamber to chamber.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> This anointing was for Kings, Priests and Prophets, which were all figures of Messiah, in whom these three offices were accomplished.

9:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, the rest of the army, whom he called before, his brethren, verse 2.

<sup>2</sup> In this estimation the world hath the ministers of God: notwithstanding forasmuch as the world hath ever slandered the children of God (yea they called the Son of God a deceiver, and said he had the devil) therefore they ought not to be discouraged.

13 Then they made haste, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew the trumpet, saying, Jehu is King.

14 So Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi conspired against Joram: (Now Joram kept Ramoth Gilead, he and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Aram.

15 And <sup>f</sup>king Joram returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds, which the Aramites had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram) and Jehu said, If it be your minds, let no man depart and escape out of the city, to go and tell in Jezreel.

16 So Jehu got up into a chariot, and went to Jezreel: for Joram lay there, and <sup>h</sup>Ahaziah king of Judah was come down to see Joram.

17 And the watchman that stood in the tower in Jezreel spied the company of Jehu as he came, and said, I see a company. And Jehoram said, Take a horseman and send to meet them, that he may say, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horseback to meet him, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Jehu said, What hast thou to do with peace? <sup>i</sup>turn behind me. And the watchman told, saying, The messenger came to them, but he cometh not again.

19 Then he sent out another on horseback, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turn behind me.

20 And the watchman told, saying, He came to them also, but cometh not again, and the marching is like the marching of Jehu the son of Nimshi: for he marcheth <sup>j</sup>furiously.

21 ¶ Then Jehoram said, Make ready: and his chariot was made ready. And Jehoram king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Judah went out either of them in his chariot against Jehu, and met him in the field of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 And when Jehoram saw Jehu, he said, Is it peace, Jehu? And he answered, What <sup>k</sup>peace? whiles the whoredomes of thy mother Jezebel, and her witchcrafts are yet in great number?

23 Then Jehoram turned his hand, and fled, and said to Ahaziah, O Ahaziah, there is treason.

24 But Jehu took a bow in his hand, and smote Jehoram between the shoulders, that the arrow went through his heart: and he fell down in his chariot.

25 Then said Jehu to Bidkar a captain, Take, and cast him in some place of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lord <sup>l</sup>laid this burden upon him.

26 <sup>m</sup>Surely I have seen yesterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his <sup>n</sup>sons, said the Lord, and I will render it thee in this field, saith the Lord: now therefore take and cast him in the field according to the word of the Lord.

27 But when Ahaziah the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden house: And Jehu pursued after him, and said, Smite him also in the chariot: and they smote him in the going up to Gur, which is by Ibleam. And he fled to <sup>o</sup>Megiddo, and there died.

28 And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his sepulcher with his fathers in the city of David.

29 ¶ And in the <sup>p</sup>eleventh year of Joram the son of Ahab, began Ahaziah to reign over Judah.

30 And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, and <sup>q</sup>looked out at a window.

31 And as Jehu entered at the gate, she said, Had <sup>r</sup>Zimri peace, which slew his master?

32 And he lift up his eyes to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or three of her <sup>s</sup>Eunuchs looked unto him.

33 And he said, Cast her down: and they cast her down, <sup>t</sup>and he sprinkled of her blood upon the wall, and upon the horses, and he trode her under foot.

34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and said, Visit now yonder cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a <sup>u</sup>King's daughter.

35 And they went to bury her, but they found no more of her, than the skull and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came again and told him.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> God had thus ordained, as is read, 2 Chron. 22:7, that this wicked and idolatrous King, who was more ready to gratify wicked Joram, than to obey the will of God, should perish with him, by whose means he thought to have been stronger.

9:18 <sup>1</sup> Or, follow me.

9:20 <sup>1</sup> As one that went earnestly about his enterprise.

9:22 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that forasmuch as God is their enemy because of their sins that he will ever stir up some to revenge his cause.

9:25 <sup>1</sup> Or, spake this prophecy against him.

9:26 <sup>1</sup> By this place it is evident, that Jezebel caused both Naboth and his sons to be put to death, that Ahab might enjoy his vineyard more quietly: for else his children might have claimed possession.

9:27 <sup>1</sup> After that he was wounded in Samaria, he fled to Megiddo, which was a city of Judah.

9:29 <sup>1</sup> That is, eleven whole years: for 2 Kings 8:25, before, when he said that he began to reign the twelfth year of Joram, he taketh part of the year for the whole.

9:33 <sup>1</sup> This he did by the motion of the Spirit of God, that her blood should be shed, that had shed the blood of innocents, to be a spectacle and example of God's judgments to all tyrants.

9:34 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of the king of Sidon, 1 Kings 16:31.

And he said, This is the word of the Lord, which he spake <sup>1</sup>by his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, <sup>2</sup>In the field of Jezreel shall the dogs eat the flesh of Jezebel.

37 And the carcass of Jezebel shall be as dung upon the ground in the field of Jezreel, so that none shall say, <sup>1</sup>This is Jezebel.

10 <sup>6</sup> Jehu causeth the seventy sons of Ahab to be slain, 14 And after that forty and two of Ahaziah's brethren. 25 He killeth also all the Priests of Baal. 35 After his death his son reigneth in his stead.

1 Ahab had now seventy <sup>1</sup>sons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria unto the rulers of Jezreel, and to the Elders, and to the bringers up of Ahab's children, to this effect,

2 Now when this letter cometh to you, (for ye have with you your master's sons, ye have with you both chariots and horses, and a defensed city, and armor)

3 Consider therefore which of your master's sons is best and most meet, and <sup>1</sup>set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, Behold two kings could not stand before him, how shall we then stand?

5 And he that was governor of Ahab's house, and he that ruled the city, and the Elders, and the bringers up of the children sent to Jehu, saying, We are thy servants, and will do all that thou shalt bid us: we will make no king: do what seemeth good to thee.

6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them, saying, If ye be mine, and will obey my voice, <sup>1</sup>take the heads of the men that are your master's sons, and come to me to Jezreel by tomorrow this time. (Now the king's sons, even seventy persons were with the great men of the city, which brought them up)

7 And when the letter came to them, they took the King's sons, and slew the seventy persons, and laid their heads in baskets, and sent them unto him to Jezreel.

8 ¶ Then there came a messenger and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the King's sons. And he said, Let them lay them on two heaps at the entering in of the gate until the morning.

9 And when it was day he went out, and stood and said to all the people, Ye be <sup>1</sup>righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slew all these?

10 Know now that there shall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning the house of Ahab: for the Lord hath brought to pass the things that he spake <sup>1</sup>by his servant <sup>a</sup>Elijah.

11 So Jehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all that were great with him, and his familiars, and his <sup>1</sup>priests, so that he let none of his remain.

12 ¶ And he arose, and departed, and came to Samaria. And as Jehu was in the way by an house where the shepherds did shear, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Judah, and said, Who are ye? And they answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziah, and go down to salute the children of the King and the children of the Queen.

14 And he said, Take them alive. And they took them alive, and slew them at the well beside the house where the sheep are shorn, even two and forty men, and he <sup>1</sup>left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Jehonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him, and he <sup>1,2</sup>blessed him, and said to him, Is thine heart upright, as mine heart is toward thine? And Jehonadab answered, Yea, doubtless. Then give me thine hand. And when he had given him his hand, he took him up to him into the chariot.

16 And he said, Come with me, and see the zeal that I have for the Lord: so they made him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slew all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria, till he had destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake to Elijah.

18 Then Jehu assembled all the people, and said unto them, Ahab served <sup>1</sup>Baal a little, but Jehu shall serve him much more.

19 Now therefore call unto me all ye prophets of Baal, all his servants, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I have a great sacrifice for Baal: whosoever is lacking, he shall not live. But Jehu did it by a subtlety to destroy the servants of Baal.

20 And Jehu said, 'Proclaim a solemn assembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 So Jehu sent unto all Israel, and all the servants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was full from end to end.

22 Then he said unto him that had the charge of the vestry, Bring forth vestments for all the servants of Baal. And he brought them out vestments.

23 And when Jehu went, and Jehonadab the son of Rechab into the house of Baal, he said unto the servants of Baal, Search diligently, and look, lest there be here with you any of the 'servants of the Lord, but the servants of Baal only.

24 And when they went in to make sacrifice and burnt offering, Jehu appointed four score men without, and said, If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands, escape, 'his soul shall be for his soul.

25 And when he had made an end of the burnt offering, Jehu said to the guard, and to the captains, Go in, slay them, let not a man come out. And they smote them with the edge of the sword. And the guard, and the captains cast them out, and went unto the 'city, where was the temple of Baal.

26 And they brought out the images of the temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they destroyed the image of Baal, and threw down the house of Baal, and made a jakes of it unto this day.

28 So Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 But from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat which made Israel to sin, Jehu departed not from them, neither from the golden calves that were in Bethel and that were in Dan.

30 ¶ And the Lord said unto Jehu, Because thou hast diligently executed that which was right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all things that were in mine heart, therefore shall thy 'sons unto the fourth generation sit on the throne of Israel.

31 But Jehu regarded not to walk in the law of 34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehu, and all that he did, and all his valiant deeds, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

35 And Jehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Jehoahaz his son reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria is eight and twenty years.

7 And two parts of you, that is, all that <sup>1</sup>go out on the Sabbath day, shall keep the watch of the house of the Lord about the king.

8 And ye shall compass the King round about, every man with his weapon in his hand, and whosoever cometh within the ranges, let him be slain: be you with the King, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captains of the hundreds did according to all that Jehoiada the Priest commanded, and they took every man of his men that entered into their charge on the Sabbath, with them that went out of it on the <sup>1</sup>Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the Priest.

10 And the <sup>1</sup>Priest gave to the captains of hundreds the spears and the shields that were King David's, and were in the house of the Lord.

11 And the guard stood, every man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side, about the altar and about the house, round about the King.

12 Then he brought out <sup>1</sup>the king's son, and put the crown upon him, and gave him <sup>2</sup>the Testimony, and they made him king: also they anointed him, and clapped their hands, and said, God save the King.

13 ¶ And when Athaliah heard the noise of the running of the people, she came into the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, behold, the King stood by a <sup>1</sup>pillar, as the manner was, and the princes and the trumpeters by the King, and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew with trumpets. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and cried, Treason, treason.

15 But Jehoiada the Priest commanded the captains of the hundreds that had the rule of the host, and said unto them, Have her <sup>1</sup>forth of the ranges, and he that <sup>2</sup>followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Let her not be slain in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they laid hands on her, and she went by the way, by the which the horses go to the house of the King, and there was she slain.

17 And Jehoiada made a covenant between the Lord, <sup>1</sup>and the King and the people, that they should be the Lord's people: likewise between the <sup>2</sup>King and the people.

18 Then all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, and his images brake they down courageously, and slew Mattan the Priest of Baal before the <sup>1</sup>altars: and the <sup>2</sup>Priest set a guard over the house of the Lord.

19 Then he took the captains of hundreds, and the other captains, and the guard, and all the people of the land: and they brought the King from the house of the Lord, and came by the way of the gate of the guard to the King's house: and he sat him down on the throne of the kings.

20 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was in quiet: <sup>1</sup>for they had slain Athaliah with the sword beside the king's house.

21 Seven years old was Jehoash when he began to reign.

12 <sup>6</sup> Jehoash maketh provision for the repairing of the Temple. 16 He slayeth the king of Syria by a present from coming against Jerusalem. 20 He is killed by two of his servants.

1 In <sup>a</sup>the seventh year of Jehu Jehoash began to reign, and reigned forty years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba.

2 And Jehoash did that which was good in the sight of the Lord all his time that <sup>1</sup>Jehoiada the Priest taught him.

3 But <sup>1</sup>the high places were not taken away: for the people offered yet and burnt incense in the high places.

4 ¶ And Jehoash said to the Priests, All the silver of dedicated things that be brought to the house of the Lord, that is, the money of them that are under the <sup>1</sup>count, the money that every man is set at, and all the money that one offereth willingly, and bringeth into the house of the Lord,

5 Let the Priests take it to them, every man of his acquaintance: and they shall repair the <sup>1</sup>broken places

11:7 <sup>1</sup> Whose charge is ended.

11:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, Joash, which had been kept secret six years.

11:14 <sup>1</sup> Where the king's place was in the Temple.

11:17 <sup>1</sup> That both the King and the people should maintain the true worship of God and destroy all idolatry.

<sup>2</sup> That he should govern and they obey in the fear of God.

thought to have been helped by his idol, there God poured his vengeance upon him.

11:20 <sup>1</sup> Which by her cruelty and persecution had vexed the whole land before.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> So long as rulers give ear to the true ministers of God, they prosper.

12:3 <sup>1</sup> So hard a thing it is for them, that are in authority, to be brought to the perfect obedience of God.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, the money of redemption, Exod. 30:12, also the money which the Priest valued the vows at, Lev. 27:2, and their free liberality.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> For the Temple which was built an hundred fifty and five years before, had many things decayed in it, both by the negligence of the King's predecessors, and also by the wickedness of the idolaters.

of the house, wheresoever any decay is found.

6 ¶ Yet in the three and twentieth year of King Jehoshaphat the Priests had not mended that which was decayed in the Temple.

7 Then King Jehoshaphat called for Jehoiada the Priest, and the other Priests, and said unto them, Why repair ye not the ruins of the Temple? now therefore <sup>1</sup>receive no more money of your acquaintance, except ye deliver it to repair the ruins of the Temple.

8 So the Priests consented to receive no more money of the people, neither to repair the decayed places of the Temple.

9 Then Jehoiada the Priest took a chest and bored an hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the <sup>1</sup>right side, as every man cometh into the Temple of the Lord. And the Priests that kept the <sup>2</sup>door, put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

10 And when they saw there was much money in the chest, the king's Secretary came up and the high Priest, and put it up after that they had told the money that was found in the house of the Lord,

11 And they gave the money made ready into the hands of them, <sup>1</sup>that undertook the work, and that had the oversight of the house of the Lord: and they paid it out to the carpenters and builders that wrought upon the house of the Lord,

12 And to the masons and hewers of stone, and to buy timber and hewed stone, to repair that was decayed in the house of the Lord, and for all that which was laid out for the reparation of the Temple.

13 Howbeit there was <sup>1</sup>not made for the house of the Lord bowls of silver, instruments of music, basins, trumpets, nor any vessels of gold, or vessels of silver of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

14 But they gave it to the workmen, which repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreover, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hands they delivered that money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the trespass offering, and the money of the sin offerings was not brought into the house of the Lord: for it was the Priests'.

17 ¶ Then came up Hazael king of Aram, and fought against Gath, and took it, and Hazael set his face to go up to Jerusalem.

18 And <sup>1</sup>Jehoshaphat king of Judah took all the hallowed things that Jehoshaphat, and Jehoram, and Ahaziah, his fathers, kings of Judah had dedicated, and that he himself had dedicated, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and in the king's house, and sent it to Hazael king of Aram, and he departed from Jerusalem.

19 Concerning the rest of the acts of Joash and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 ¶ And his servants arose and wrought treason, and <sup>1</sup>slew Joash in the house of <sup>2</sup>Millo, when he came down to Silla.

21 Even <sup>1</sup>Jozachar the son of Shimeath, and Jehozabad the son of Shomer his servants smote him and he died, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David. And Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

1 In the three and twentieth year of Joash the son of Ahaziah king of Judah, Jehoahaz the son of Jehu began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned seventeen years.

2 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to <sup>1</sup>sin, and departed not therefrom.

3 And the Lord was angry with Israel, and delivered them into the hand of Hazael king of Aram, and into the hand of Ben-Hadad the son of Hazael, all <sup>1</sup>his days.

4 And Jehoahaz besought the Lord, and the Lord heard him: for he saw the trouble of Israel, wherewith the king of Aram troubled them.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> He taketh from them the ordering of the money, because of their negligence.

6 Nevertheless, they departed not from the sins of the house of Jeroboam which made Israel sin, but walked in them, even the <sup>1</sup>grove also remained still in Samaria)

7 For he had left of the people to Jehoahaz but fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen, because the king <sup>1</sup>of Aram had destroyed them, and made them like dust beaten to powder.

8 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz and all that he did, and his valiant deeds, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

9 And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joash his son reigned in his stead.

10 ¶ In the seven and thirtieth year of Joash king <sup>1</sup>of Judah began Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned sixteen years.

11 And did evil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat that made Israel to sin, but he walked therein.

12 Concerning the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, and his valiant deeds, and how he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his seat: and Joash was buried in Samaria among the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ When Elisha fell sick of his sickness whereof he died, Joash the king of Israel came down unto him, and wept upon his face, and said, <sup>1</sup>O my father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen of the same.

15 Then Elisha said unto him, Take a bow and arrows. And he took unto him bow and arrows.

16 And he said to the king of Israel, Put thine hand upon the bow. And he put his hand upon it. And Elisha put his hands upon the king's hands,

17 And said, Open the window <sup>1</sup>Eastward. And when he had opened it, Elisha said, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, Behold, the arrow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance against Aram: for thou shalt smite the Aramites in Aphek, till thou hast consumed them.

18 Again he said, Take the arrows. And he took them. And he said unto the king of Israel, Smite the ground. And he smote thrice, and ceased.

19 Then the man of God was <sup>1</sup>angry with him, and said, Thou shouldest have smitten five or six times, so thou shouldest have smitten Aram, till thou hadst consumed it, where now thou shalt smite Aram but thrice.

20 ¶ So Elisha died, and they buried him. And certain bands of the Moabites came into the land that year.

21 And as they were burying a man: behold, they saw the soldiers: therefore they cast the man into the sepulcher of Elisha. And when the man was down, and touched the bones of Elisha, he <sup>1</sup>revived and stood upon his feet.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Aram vexed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz.

23 Therefore the Lord had mercy on them and pitied them, and had respect unto them, because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from him as <sup>1</sup>yet.

24 So Hazael the King of Aram died: and Ben-Hadad his son reigned in his stead.

25 Therefore Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz returned, and took out of the hand of Ben-Hadad the son of Hazael the cities which he had taken away by war out of the hand of Jehoahaz his father: for three times did Joash beat him, and restored the cities unto Israel.

14 <sup>2</sup> Amaziah the king of Judah putteth to death them that slew his father, 7 and after smiteth Edom. 15 Joash dieth, and Jeroboam his son succeedeth him. 29 And after him reigneth Zechariah.

1 The second year of Joash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel, reigned <sup>a</sup>Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah.

13:6 <sup>1</sup> Wherein they did commit their idolatry, and which the Lord had commanded to be destroyed, Deut. 16:21.

13:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, Hazael and Ben-Hadad his son, as verse 3. Read of Hazael, 2 Kings 8:12.

13:10 <sup>1</sup> His chief purpose is to describe the kingdom of Judah, and how God performed his promise made to the house of David: but by the way he showeth how Israel was afflicted and punished for their great idolatry, who though they had now degenerated, yet God both by sending them sundry Prophets and divers punishments, did call them unto him again.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> Thus they used to call the Prophets and servants of God, by whom God blesseth his people, as 2 Kings 2:12, meaning that by their prayers they did more prosper their country than by force of arms.

13:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, toward Syria: so that he did not only prophesy with words, but also confirmed him by these signs that he should have the victory.

13:19 <sup>1</sup> Because he seemed content to have victory against the enemies of God for twice or thrice, and had not a zeal to overcome them continually, and to destroy them utterly.

13:21 <sup>1</sup> By this miracle God confirmed the authority of Elisha, whose doctrine in his life they contemned, that at this sight they might return and embrace the same doctrine.

13:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, until their sins were come to a full measure, and there was no more hope of amendment.

2 He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

3 And he did <sup>1</sup>uprightly in the sight of the Lord, yet not like David his father, but did according to all that Joash his father had done.

4 Notwithstanding the high places were not taken away: for as yet the people did sacrifice, and burnt incense in the high places.

5 ¶ And when the kingdom was confirmed in his hand, he slew his servants which had <sup>6</sup>killed the king his father.

6 But the children of those that did slay him, he <sup>1</sup>slew not, according unto that which is written in the book of the Law of Moses, wherein the Lord commanded, saying, 'The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children put to death for the fathers: but every man shall be put to death for his own sin.

7 He slew also of <sup>1</sup>Edom in the valley of salt, ten thousand, and took <sup>2</sup>the city of Sela by war, and called the name thereof Joktheel unto this day.

8 ¶ Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz, son of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, <sup>1</sup>let us see one another in the face.

9 Then Jehoash the king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the <sup>1</sup>Cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and the wild beast that was in Lebanon, went and trode down the thistle.

10 Because thou hast smitten Edom, thine heart hath made thee proud: <sup>1</sup>brag of glory, and tarry at home. Why doest thou provoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Judah with thee?

11 But Amaziah would not hear: therefore Jehoash king of Israel went up: and he and Amaziah king of Judah saw one another in the face at Beth Shemesh which is in Judah.

12 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled every man to their tents.

13 But Jehoash king of Israel took Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Jehoash the son of Ahaziah at Beth Shemesh, and <sup>1</sup>came to Jerusalem, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

14 And he took all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house, and the children that were in <sup>1</sup>hostage, and returned to Samaria.

15 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoash which he did, and his valiant deeds, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

16 And Jehoash slept with his fathers, and was buried at Samaria among the kings of Israel: and Jeroboam his son reigned in his stead.

17 ¶ And Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah, lived after the death of Jehoash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel, fifteen years.

18 Concerning the rest of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

19 But they <sup>d</sup>wrought treason against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to <sup>1</sup>Lachish, but they sent after him to Lachish, and slew him there.

20 And they brought him on horses, and he was buried at Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David.

21 Then all the people of Judah took <sup>1</sup>Azariah which was sixteen years old, and made him king for his father Amaziah.

22 He built <sup>1</sup>Elath, and restored it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fifteenth year of Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah, was Jeroboam the son of Joash made king over Israel in Samaria, and reigned one and forty years.

24 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the <sup>1</sup>sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin.

25 He restored the coast of Israel, from the entering of Hamath, unto the sea of the wilderness, according to the word of the Lord God of Israel, which he 14:3 <sup>1</sup> In the beginning of his reign he seemed to have an outward show of godliness, but afterward he became an idolater and worshipped the idols of the Idumeans.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> Because they neither consented nor were partakers with their fathers in that act.

14:7 <sup>1</sup> For the Idumeans, whom David had brought to subjection, did rebel in the time of Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat.

14:8 <sup>1</sup> Let us fight hand to hand, and try it by battle, and not destroy one another's cities.

14:9 <sup>1</sup> By this parable Jehoash compareth himself to a cedar tree, because of his great kingdom over ten tribes, and Amaziah to a thistle, because he ruled but over two tribes, and the wild beasts are Jehoash's soldiers, that spoiled the cities of Judah.

14:10 <sup>1</sup> Brag of the victory, so that thou tarry at home, and envy me not.

14:24 <sup>1</sup> Because this idolatry was so vile and almost incredible, that men should forsake the living God, to worship calves, the work of man's hands, therefore the Scripture doth oftentimes repeat it in the reproach of all idolaters.

spake <sup>1</sup>by his servant Jonah the son of Amittai the Prophet, which was of Gath Hepher.

26 For the Lord saw the exceedingly bitter affliction of Israel, so that there was none <sup>1</sup>shut up, nor any left, neither yet any that could help Israel.

27 Yet the Lord <sup>1</sup>had not decreed to put out the name of Israel from under the heaven: therefore he preserved them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joash.

28 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his valiant deeds, and how he fought, and how he restored Damascus, and <sup>1</sup>Hamath to Judah in Israel, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

29 So Jeroboam slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Israel, and Zechariah his son reigned in his stead.

15 <sup>1</sup>Azariah the King of Judah becometh a leper. 5 Of Jotham, 10 Shallum, 14 Menahem, 23 Pekahiah, 30 Uzziah, 32 Jotham, 38 and Abaz.

1 In the <sup>1</sup>seven and twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, began Azariah son of Amaziah king of Judah to reign.

2 Sixteen years old was he, when he was made king, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jeholiah of Jerusalem.

3 And he did <sup>1</sup>uprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

4 But the high places were not put away: for the people yet offered, and burned incense in the high places.

5 And the Lord <sup>1</sup>smote the king, and he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in an house apart, and Jotham the king's son governed the house, and <sup>2</sup>judged the people of the land.

6 Concerning the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

7 So Azariah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

8 ¶ In the eight and thirtieth year of Azariah King of Judah, did Zechariah the son of Jeroboam reign over Israel in Samaria six <sup>1</sup>months,

9 And did evil in the sight of the Lord, as did his fathers: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin.

10 And Shallum the son of Jabesh conspired against him, and smote him, in the sight of the people, and <sup>1</sup>killed him, and reigned in his stead.

11 Concerning the rest of the acts of Zechariah, behold, they are written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

12 This was the "word of the Lord, which he spake unto Jehu, saying, Thy sons shall sit on the throne of Israel unto the fourth generation after thee. And it came so to pass.

13 ¶ Shallum the son of Jabesh began to reign in the nine and thirtieth year of Uzziah King of Judah: and he reigned the space of a month in Samaria.

14 For Menahem the son of Gadi went up from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and smote Shallum the son of Jabesh in Samaria, and slew him, and reigned in his stead.

15 Concerning the rest of the acts of Shallum, and the treason which he wrought, behold, they are written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

16 ¶ Then Menahem destroyed <sup>1</sup>Tipsah, and all that were therein, and the coasts thereof from Tirzah, because they opened not to him, and he smote it, and ripped up all their women with child.

17 The nine and thirtieth year of Azariah King of Judah, began Menahem the son of Gadi to reign over Israel, and reigned ten years in Samaria.

18 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, and departed not all his days from the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin.

19 ¶ Then Pul the king of Assyria came against the <sup>1</sup>land: and Menahem gave Pul a thousand <sup>2</sup>talents of silver, that his hand might be with him, and establish the kingdom in his hand.

20 And Menahem exacted the money in Israel that all men of substance should give the king of Assyria fifty shekels of silver a piece: so the king of Assyria returned, and tarried not there in the land.

<sup>2</sup> Instead of seeking help of God, he went about by money to purchase the favor of this king being an infidel, and therefore God forsook him, and Pul soon afterward brake promise, destroyed his country, and led his people away captive.

22 And Menahem slept with his fathers, and Pekahiah his son did reign in his stead.

23 ¶ In ye fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, began Pekahiah the son of Menahem to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned two years.

24 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat which made Israel to sin.

25 And Pekah the son of Remaliah, his captain conspired against him, and smote him in Samaria in the place of the king's palace with <sup>1</sup>Argob and Arieh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: so he killed him, and reigned in his stead.

26 Concerning the rest of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth year of Azariah King of Judah, began Pekah the son of Remaliah to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned twenty years.

28 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat that made Israel to sin.

29 In the days of Pekah king of Israel <sup>1</sup>came Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, and took Ijon, and Abel Beth Maachah, and Janoah, and Kedesh, and Hazor, and Gilead, and Galilee, and all the land of Naphtali, and carried them away to Assyria.

30 And Hoshea the son of Elah wrought treason against Pekah the son of Remaliah, and smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead in the twentieth year of Jotham the son of Uzziah.

31 Concerning the rest of the acts of Pekah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.

32 ¶ <sup>1</sup>In the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah King of Israel, began Jotham son of <sup>1</sup>Uzziah King of Judah to reign.

33 Five and twenty years old was he, when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok.

34 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord: he did according <sup>1</sup>to all that his father Uzziah had done.

36 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

37 In <sup>1</sup>those days the Lord began to send against Judah, Rezin the king of Aram, and <sup>2</sup>Pekah the son of Remaliah.

38 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

1 The seventeenth year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, <sup>1</sup>Ahaz the son of Jotham King of Judah began to reign.

2 Twenty years old was Ahaz, when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, and did not uprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like David his father:

3 But walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his son to <sup>1</sup>go through the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Also he offered and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 <sup>a</sup>Then Rezin King of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel came up to Jerusalem, to fight: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not overcome <sup>1</sup>him.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Aram restored <sup>1</sup>Elath to Aram, and drove the Jews from Elath: so the Aramites came to Elath, and dwelt there unto this day.

7 Then Ahaz sent <sup>1</sup>messengers to Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, saying, I am thy servant and thy son: come up, and deliver me out of the hand of the king of Aram, and out of the hand of the king of Israel which rise up against me.

9 And the king of Assyria consented unto him: and the king of Assyria went up against Damascus, and when he had taken it, he carried the people away to Kir, and slew Rezin.

10 And king Ahaz went unto Damascus to meet Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria: and when king Ahaz saw the altar that was at Damascus, he sent to Urijah the Priest the pattern of the altar, and the fashion of it, and all the workmanship thereof.

11 And Urijah the Priest made an altar <sup>1</sup>in all points like to that which King Ahaz had sent from Damascus, so did Urijah the Priest against king Ahaz came from Damascus.

12 So when the king was come from Damascus, the king saw the altar: and the king drew near to the altar, and offered <sup>1</sup>thereon.

13 And he burnt his burnt offering, and his meat offering, and poured his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings besides the altar.

14 And set it by the brazen altar which was before the Lord, and brought it in further before the house between the altar and the house of the Lord, and set it on the <sup>1</sup>North side of the altar.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Urijah the Priest, and said, Upon the great altar set on fire in the morning the burnt offering, and in the even the meat offering, and the king's burnt offering and his meat offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings: and pour thereby all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice, and the <sup>1</sup>brazen altar shall be for me to inquire of God.

16 And Urijah the Priest did according to all that King Ahaz had commanded.

17 And King Ahaz brake the borders of the bases, and took the caldrons from off them, and took down the sea from the brazen oxen that were under it, and put it upon a pavement of stones.

19 Concerning the rest of the acts of Ahaz, which he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

1 In the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah began Hoshea the son of Elah to reign in Samaria over Israel, and reigned nine years.

2 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, <sup>1</sup>but not as the kings of Israel, that were before him.

3 And Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against him, and Hoshea became his servant, and gave him presents.

4 And the king of Assyria found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present unto the king of Assyria, <sup>1</sup>as he had done yearly: therefore the king of Assyria shut him up, and put him in prison.

5 Then the king of Assyria came up throughout all the land, and went against Samaria, and besieged it three years.

11 And there burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen, whom the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord,

12 And served idols: whereof the Lord had said unto them, <sup>b</sup>Ye shall do no such thing,

13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Israel, and to Judah <sup>1</sup>by all the Prophets, and by all the Seers, saying, <sup>c</sup>Turn from your evil ways, and keep my commandments, and my statutes, according to all the Law, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my servants the Prophets.

14 Nevertheless they would not obey, <sup>d</sup>but hardened their necks, like to the necks of their <sup>1</sup>fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God.

15 And they refused his statutes and his covenant, that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies (wherewith he witnessed unto them) and they followed vanity, and became vain, and followed the heathen that were round about them: concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not do like them.

17 And they made their sons and their daughters <sup>1</sup>pass through the fire, and used witchcraft and enchantments, yea, <sup>2</sup>sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord, to anger him.

18 Therefore the Lord was exceedingly wroth with Israel, and put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Judah <sup>1</sup>only.

19 Yet Judah kept not the commandments of the Lord their God, but walked according to the fashion of Israel, which they used.

22 For the children of Israel walked in all the sins of Jeroboam, which he did, and departed not therefrom,

23 Until the Lord put Israel away out of his sight, as he had said <sup>1</sup>by all his servants the <sup>1</sup>Prophets, and carried Israel away out of their land to Assyria unto this day.

24 And the king of Assyria brought folk from Babylon, and from <sup>1</sup>Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria instead of the children of Israel: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 ¶ And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they <sup>1</sup>feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent lions among them, which slew them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the king of Assyria, saying, The nations which thou hast removed and placed in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent Lions among them, and behold, they slay them, because they know not the manner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Assyria commanded, saying, Carry thither one of the Priests whom ye brought thence, and let him go and dwell there, and teach them the manner of the God <sup>1</sup>of the country.

28 So one of the Priests, which they had carried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Bethel, and taught them how they should fear the Lord.

29 Howbeit, every nation made their gods, and put them in the houses of the high places, which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

34 Unto this day they do after the old manner: they neither fear God, neither do after <sup>h</sup>their ordinances, nor after their customs, nor after the Law, nor after the commandment, which the Lord commanded the children of Jacob <sup>h</sup>whom he named Israel,

35 And with whom the Lord had made a covenant, and charged them, saying, <sup>i</sup>Fear none other gods, nor bow yourselves to them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them:

4 He took away the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the <sup>h</sup>brazen serpent that Moses had made: for unto those days the children of Israel did burn incense to it, and he called it <sup>h</sup>Nehushtan.

5 He trusted in the Lord God of Israel: so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Judah, neither were there any such before him.

6 For he clave to the Lord and departed not from him, but kept his commandments, which the Lord had commanded Moses.

7 So the Lord was with him, and he prospered in all things which he took in hand, also he rebelled against the king of Assyria, and served him not.

8 He smote the Philistines unto Gaza, and the coasts thereof, <sup>h</sup>from the watchtower unto the defended city.

9 ¶ <sup>h</sup>And in the fourth year of King Hezekiah, (which was the seventh year of Hoshea son of Elah king of Israel) Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after three years they took it, even in the sixth year of Hezekiah: that is, <sup>h</sup>the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel was Samaria taken.

11 Then the king of Assyria did carry away Israel unto Assyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor, by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes,

17 ¶ And the king of Assyria sent <sup>1</sup>Tartan, and Rabсарis, and Rabshakeh from Lachish to king Hezekiah with a great host against Jerusalem. And they went up, and came to Jerusalem, and when they were come up, they stood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is by the path of the fuller's field,

18 And called to the king. Then came out to them Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the <sup>1</sup>recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said unto them, Tell ye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great king, even the great king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I have <sup>1</sup>eloquence, <sup>2</sup>but counsel and strength are for the war. On whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest now in this broken staff of reed, to wit, on <sup>1</sup>Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say unto me, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that he whose high places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath <sup>1</sup>taken away, and hath said to Judah and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem?

23 Now therefore give <sup>1</sup>hostages to my lord the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders upon them.

24 For how canst thou despise any captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and horsemen?

25 Am I now come up without the <sup>1</sup>Lord to this place, to destroy it? the Lord said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, and Shebna, and Joah said unto Rabshakeh, Speak I pray thee, to thy servants in the <sup>1</sup>Aramites' language, for we understand it, and talk not with us in the Jews' tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh said unto them, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speak these words, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink <sup>1</sup>their own piss with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stood, and spake, saying, Hear the words of the great king, of the king of Assyria.

29 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you <sup>1</sup>out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us, and this city shall not be given over into the hand of the king of Assyria.

31 Harken not unto Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make <sup>1</sup>appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may eat of his own vine, and every man of his own fig tree, and drink every man of the water of his own well,

32 Till <sup>1</sup>I come, and bring you to a land like your own land, even a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive's oil, and honey, that ye may live and not die: and obey not Hezekiah, for he deceiveth you, saying, The Lord will deliver us.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

34 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivah? how have they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the nations, that have delivered their land out of mine hand, that the <sup>1</sup>Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer ye him not.

37 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah which was steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

1 And "when King Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes and put on sackcloth, and came into the house of the Lord,

2 And sent Eliakim which was the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and the Elders of the Priests clothed in sackcloth <sup>1</sup>to Isaiah, the Prophet the son of Amoz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke, and blasphemy: for the children are come to <sup>1</sup>the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard all the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to rail on the living God, and to reproach him with words which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou up thy prayer for the <sup>1</sup>remnant that are left.

5 ¶ So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said unto them, So shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast <sup>1</sup>upon him, and he shall hear a noise, and return to his own land: and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 <sup>1</sup>He heard also men say of Tirhakah king of <sup>2</sup>Ethiopia, <sup>3</sup>Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: he therefore departed and sent other messengers unto Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, and say, Let not thy <sup>1</sup>God deceive thee in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, how they have destroyed them: and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the heathen delivered them which my fathers have destroyed? as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezech, and the children of Eden, which were in Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Shepharvaim, Hena and Ivah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spread it before the <sup>1</sup>Lord.

15 And Hezekiah <sup>1</sup>prayed before the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest between the Cherubims, thou art very God alone over all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made the heaven and the earth.

16 Lord <sup>1</sup>bow down thine ear, and hear: Lord open thine eyes and behold, and hear the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the <sup>2</sup>living God.

17 Truth it is, Lord, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed the nations and their lands,

18 And have set fire on their gods: for they were no gods, but the work of man's hands, even wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseech thee, save thou us out of his hand, that all the <sup>1</sup>kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou O Lord, art only God.

20 ¶ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I have heard that which thou hast prayed me, concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria.

21 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, O <sup>1</sup>Virgin daughter of Zion, he hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: O daughter of Jerusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

22 Whom hast thou railed on? and whom hast thou blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high?

19:2 <sup>1</sup> To hear some new prophecy, and to have comfort of him.

19:3 <sup>1</sup> The dangers are so great, that we can neither avenge this blasphemy, nor help ourselves no more than a woman in her travail.

19:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, for Jerusalem which only remained of all the cities of Judah.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> The Lord can with one blast blow away all the strength of man, and turn it into dust.

19:14 <sup>1</sup> Before the Ark of the covenant.

19:15 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is the true refuge and succor in all dangers, to wit, to flee to the Lord by earnest prayer.

19:16 <sup>1</sup> Show by effect that thou wilt not suffer thy Name to be blasphemed.

19:19 <sup>1</sup> He showeth for what end the faithful desire of God to be delivered: to wit, that he may be glorified by their deliverance.

19:21 <sup>1</sup> Because as yet Jerusalem had not been taken by the enemy, therefore he calleth her virgin.

23 By thy messengers thou hast railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the top of the mountains, by the sides of Lebanon, and will cut down the high cedars thereof, and the fair fir trees thereof, and I will go into the <sup>1</sup>lodging of his borders, and into the forest of his <sup>2</sup>Carmel.

24 I have dug and drunk the waters of others, and with the plant of my feet have I dried all the <sup>1</sup>floods closed in.

25 Hast thou not heard, how I have of old time made it, and have formed it long ago? <sup>1</sup>and should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and laid on ruinous heaps, as cities defended?

26 Whose <sup>1</sup>inhabitants have small power, and are afraid, and confounded: they are like the grass of the field, and green herb, or grass on the house tops, or as corn blasted before it be grown.

27 I know thy dwelling, yea, thy going out and thy coming in, and thy fury against me.

28 And because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come up to mine ears, I will put mine <sup>1</sup>hook in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee back again the same way thou camest.

29 And this shall be a <sup>1</sup>sign unto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this year such things as grow of themselves, and the next year such as grow without sowing, and the third year sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take <sup>1</sup>root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant, and some that shall escape out of mount Zion: the <sup>1</sup>zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this.

32 Wherefore thus saith the Lord, concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not enter into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it:

33 But he shall return the way he came, and shall not come into this city, saith the Lord.

Isa. 38:1

34 For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for David my servant's sake.

35 ¶ <sup>b</sup>And the same night the Angel of the Lord went out and smote in the camp of Assyria an hundred four score and five thousand: so when they rose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went his way, and returned and dwelt in Nineveh.

37 And as he was in the Temple worshipping Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons <sup>1</sup>slew him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat, and Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

1 About that time <sup>a</sup>was Hezekiah sick unto death: and the Prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order: for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then he turned his face to the <sup>1</sup>wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseech thee, O lord, remember now, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a <sup>1</sup>perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah <sup>2</sup>wept sore.

4 ¶ And afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, I have heard thy <sup>1</sup>prayer, and seen thy tears: behold, I have healed thee, and the third day thou shalt go up to the <sup>2</sup>house of the Lord,

6 And I will add unto thy days fifteen years, and will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and will defend this city for mine own sake, and for David my servant's sake.

19:22 <sup>1</sup> God counteth that injury done to him, and will revenge it, which is done to any of his Saints.

19:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Jerusalem, which Isaiah calleth the height of his borders, to wit, of Judah, Isa. 37:24.

19:24 <sup>1</sup> Or, the waters of cities besieged.

19:25 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that forasmuch as he is the author and beginning of his Church, he will never suffer it utterly to be destroyed, as other cities and kingdoms.

19:26 <sup>1</sup> Thus he describeth the wicked, which for a time flourish, and afterward fade and decay like flowers.

19:28 <sup>1</sup> I will bridle thy rage, and turn thee to and fro as pleaseth me.

19:29 <sup>1</sup> God did not only promise him the victory, but giveth him a sign to confirm his faith.

19:30 <sup>1</sup> The Lord will multiply in great number, that small remnant of Judah that is escaped.

19:31 <sup>1</sup> The love, that God beareth toward his Church shall overcome the counsels and enterprises of men.

19:37 <sup>1</sup> This was the just judgment of God for his blasphemy, that he should be slain before that idol, whom he preferred to the living God, and by them, by whom ought by nature to have been defended.

20:2 <sup>1</sup> That his mind might not be troubled.

20:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, without all hypocrisy.

<sup>2</sup> Not so much for his own death, as for fear that idolatry should be restored, which he had destroyed, and so God's Name be dishonored.

20:5 <sup>1</sup> Because of his unfained repentance and prayer, God turned away his wrath.

7 Then Isaiah said, Take a lump of dry figs. And they took it, and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.

8 ¶ For Hezekiah had said unto Isaiah, What shall be the sign that the Lord will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Isaiah answered, This sign shalt thou have of the Lord, that the Lord will do that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to pass forward ten degrees: not so then, but let the shadow go back ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the Prophet called unto the Lord, and he brought again the shadow ten degrees back by the degrees whereby it had gone down in the dial of Ahaz.

12 <sup>b</sup>The same season Berodach-Baladan the son of Baladan king of Babylon sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard how that Hezekiah was sick.

13 And Hezekiah heard them, and showed them all his treasure house, to wit, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his realm, that Hezekiah showed them not.

14 Then Isaiah the Prophet came unto King Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They be come from a far country, even from Babylon.

15 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures, that I have not showed them.

16 And Isaiah said unto Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord.

17 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and whatsoever thy fathers have laid up in store unto this day, shall be carried into Babylon: Nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

18 And of thy sons, that shall proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

20 Concerning the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and all his valiant deeds, and how he made a pool and a conduit, and brought water into the city, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

1 Manasseh <sup>a</sup>was twelve years old when he began to reign, and reigned fifty and five years in Jerusalem: his mother's name also was Hephzibah.

2 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord after the abomination of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went back and built the high places, which Hezekiah his father had destroyed: and he erected up altars for Baal, and made a grove, as did Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the host of heaven and served them.

4 Also he <sup>d</sup>built altars in the house of the Lord, of the which the Lord said, In Jerusalem will I put my Name.

5 And he built altars for all the host of the heaven in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sons <sup>1</sup>to pass through the fire, and gave himself to witchcraft and sorcery, and he used them that had familiar spirits and were soothsayers, and did much evil in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 And he set the image of the grove, that he had made in the house, whereof the Lord had said to David and to Solomon his son, In this house and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name forever.

8 Neither will I make the feet of Israel move anymore out of the land, which I gave their fathers: so that they will observe and do all that I have commanded them, and according to all the Law that my

20:13 <sup>1</sup> Being moved with ambition and vain glory, and also because he seemed to rejoice in the friendship of him that was God's enemy and an infidel.

20:19 <sup>1</sup> He acknowledgeth Isaiah to be the true Prophet of God, and therefore humbleth himself to his word.

<sup>2</sup> Seeing that God hath showeth me this favor to grant me quietness during my life: for he was afraid lest the enemies should have had occasion to rejoice, if the Church had decayed in his time, because he had restored religion.

21:8 <sup>1</sup> Therefore seeing they obeyed not the commandment of God, they were justly cast forth of that land, which they had but on condition.

servant Moses commanded them.

9 Yet they obeyed not, but Manasseh led them out of the way, to do more wickedly than did the heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 Therefore the Lord spake by his servants the Prophets, saying,

11 <sup>a</sup>Because that Manasseh king of Judah hath done such abominations, and hath wrought more wickedly than all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, and hath made Judah sin also with his idols.

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring an evil upon Jerusalem and Judah, that who so heareth of it, both his <sup>b</sup>ears shall <sup>1</sup>tingle.

13 And I will stretch over Jerusalem the line <sup>1</sup>of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wipe Jerusalem, as a man wipeth a dish, which he wipeth, and turneth it upside down.

14 And I will forsake the <sup>1</sup>remnant of mine inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall be robbed and spoiled of all their adversaries,

15 Because they have done evil in my sight, and have provoked me to anger, since the time their fathers came out of Egypt until this day.

16 Moreover, Manasseh shed <sup>1</sup>innocent blood exceedingly much, till he replenished Jerusalem from corner to corner, beside his sin wherewith he made Judah to sin, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord.

17 Concerning the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and all that he did, and his sin that he sinned, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

18 And Manasseh slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own house, even in the garden of Uzza: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

19 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Amon was two and twenty years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem: his mother's name also was Meshullemeth the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasseh did.

21 For he walked in all the way that his father walked in, and served the idols that his father served, and worshipped them.

24 And the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon, and the people made Josiah his son King in his stead.

25 Concerning the rest of the acts of Amon, which he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

26 And <sup>1</sup>they buried him in his sepulcher in the garden of Uzza: and Josiah his son reigned in his stead.

2 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord, and <sup>1</sup>walked in all the ways of David his father, and bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 ¶ And in the eighteenth year of King Josiah, the king sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah the son of Meshullam the chancellor, to the house of the Lord, saying,

4 Go up to Hilkiah the high Priest, that he may <sup>1</sup>sum the silver which is brought into the house of the Lord, which the keepers of the <sup>2,3</sup>door have gathered of the people.

5 And let <sup>1</sup>them deliver it into the hand of them that do the work, and have the oversight of the house of the Lord, let them give it to them that work in the house of the Lord, to repair the decayed places of the house:

7 Howbeit, let no reckoning be made with them of the money, that is delivered into their hand: for they deal <sup>1</sup>faithfully.

8 And Hilkiah the high Priest said unto Shaphan

21:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that whosoever shall hear of this great plague, shall be astonished.

21:13 <sup>1</sup> As I have destroyed Samaria and the house of Ahab, so will I destroy Judah.

21:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Judah and Benjamin, which were only left of the rest of the tribes.

21:16 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrews write that he slew Isaiah the Prophet, who was his father-in-law.

21:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, according to his commandments.

21:26 <sup>1</sup> Or, he buried him, to wit, Josiah his son.

22:2 <sup>1</sup> His zeal was prophesied of, and his name mentioned by Iddo the

22:5 <sup>1</sup> From the time of Joash for the space of 244 years, the Temple remained without reparation through the negligence of the priests, this declareth, that they that have a charge and execute it not, ought to have it taken from them.

the chancellor, I have found the <sup>1</sup>book of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

9 So Shaphan the chancellor came to the king, and brought him word again, and said, Thy servants have <sup>1</sup>gathered the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it unto the hands of them that do the work, and have the oversight of the house of the Lord.

10 Also Shaphan the chancellor showed the king, saying, Hilkiyah the Priest hath delivered me a book. And Shaphan read it before the King.

11 And when the king had heard the words of the book of the Law, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the king commanded Hilkiyah the Priest, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Achbor the son of Michaiah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asahiah the king's servant, saying,

13 Go ye and <sup>1</sup>inquire of the Lord for me and for the people, and for all Judah concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not obeyed the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written therein for us.

14 ¶ So Hilkiyah the Priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Asahiah went unto Huldah the Prophetess the wife of Shallum, the son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Jerusalem in the <sup>1</sup>college) and they communed with her.

15 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

17 Because they have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, to anger me with all the <sup>1</sup>works of their hands: my wrath also shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched:

18 But to the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The words that thou hast heard, shall come to pass.

19 But because thine heart did <sup>1</sup>melt, and thou hast humbled thyself before the Lord when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I have also heard it, saith the Lord.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy grave in <sup>1</sup>peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the evil which I will bring upon this place. Thus they brought the king word again.

23 2 Josiah readeth the Law before the people. 3 He maketh a covenant with the Lord. 4 He putteth down the idols, after he had killed their Priests. 22 He keepeth Passover. 24 He destroyeth the conjurers. 29 He was killed in Megiddo. 30 And his son Jehoahaz reigneth in his stead. 33 After he was taken, his son Jehoiakim was made King.

1 Then "the King <sup>1</sup>sent, and there gathered unto him all the Elders of Judah and of Jerusalem.

2 And the king went up into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the Priests and Prophets, and all the people both small and great: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the king stood by <sup>1</sup>the pillar, and made a <sup>2</sup>covenant before the Lord, that they should walk after the Lord, and keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all their heart, and with all their soul, that they might accomplish the words of this covenant written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.

4 Then the king commanded Hilkiyah the high <sup>1</sup>Priest, and the Priests of the second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring out of the temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven, and he burnt them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried <sup>2</sup>the powder of them into Bethel.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> This was the copy that Moses left them, as appeareth, 2 Chron. 34:14, which either by the negligence of the Priests had been lost, or else by the wickedness of idolatrous kings had been abolished.

22:9 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, melted.

22:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to some Prophet whom God revealeth the knowledge of things unto, as Jer. 21:8, though at other times they inquired the Lord by Urim and Thummim.

22:14 <sup>1</sup> Or the house of doctrine, which was near to the Temple, and where the learned assembled to entreat the Scriptures, and the doctrine of the Prophets.

22:17 <sup>1</sup> The [works] of man's hand here signify all that man inventeth beside the word of God, which are abominable in God's service.

22:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he did repent, as they that do not repent, are said to harden their heart, Ps. 95:8.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> Whereupon we may gather that the anger of God is ready against the wicked, when God taketh his servants out of this world.

23:1 <sup>1</sup> Because he saw the great plagues of God that were threatened, he knew no more speedy way to avoid them, than to turn to God by repentance which cannot come but of faith, and faith by hearing of the word of God.

23:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, them which were next in dignity to the high Priest.

5 And he put down the <sup>1</sup>Chemarims, whom the kings of Judah had founded to burn incense in the high places, and in the cities of Judah and about Jerusalem, and also them that burnt incense unto Baal, to the sun and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of heaven.

6 And he brought out the <sup>1</sup>grove from the Temple of the Lord, without Jerusalem unto the valley of Kidron, and burnt it in the valley Kidron, and stamped it to powder, and cast the dust thereof upon the <sup>2</sup>graves of the children of the people.

7 And he brake down the houses of the Sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women wove hangings for the grove.

8 Also he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the Priests had burnt incense, even from Geba to Beersheba, and destroyed the high places of the gates, that were in the entering in of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which was at the left hand of the gate of the city.

9 Nevertheless the Priests of the high places <sup>1</sup>came not up to the altar of the Lord in Jerusalem, save only they did eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also <sup>1</sup>Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man should make his son or his daughter pass through the fire to Molech.

11 He put down also the <sup>1</sup>horses that the Kings of Judah had given to the sun at the entering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-Melech the eunuch, which was ruler of the suburbs, and burnt the chariots of the sun with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord did the king break down, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the <sup>1</sup>brook Kidron.

13 Moreover the King defiled the high places that were before Jerusalem, and on the right hand of the <sup>1</sup>mount of corruption (which <sup>b</sup>Solomon the king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the idol of the Sidonians, and for Chemosh the idol of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore <sup>1</sup>the altar that was at Bethel, and the high place made by Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin, both this altar and also the high place, brake he down, and burnt the high place, and stamped it to powder and burnt the grove.

16 And as Josiah turned himself, he spied the graves that were in the mount, and sent and took the bones out of the graves, and burnt them upon the altar and polluted it, according to the word of the Lord, that the <sup>1</sup>man of God proclaimed, which cried the same words.

17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the city said unto him, It is the sepulcher of the man of God, which came from Judah, and told these things that thou hast done to the altar of Bethel.

18 Then said he, Let him alone: let none remove his bones. So his bones were saved with the bones of the <sup>1</sup>Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Josiah also took away all the houses of the high places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to anger the Lord, and did to them according to all the facts that he had done in Bethel.

20 And he sacrificed all the Priests of the high places that were there upon the altars, and burnt men's bones upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

21 ¶ Then the king commanded all the people, saying, 'Keep the Passover unto the Lord your God, <sup>d</sup>as it is written in the book of this covenant.

23 And in the eighteenth year of King Josiah was this Passover celebrated to the Lord in Jerusalem.

24 Josiah also took away them that had familiar spirits, and the soothsayers, and the images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were espied in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, to perform the words of the <sup>e</sup>Law, which were written in the book that Hilkiah the Priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 Like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might according to all the Law of Moses, neither after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the <sup>f</sup>fierceness of his great wrath wherewith he was angry against Judah, because of all the provocations wherewith Manasseh had provoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord said, I will put Judah also out of my sight, as I have put away Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem, which I have chosen, and the house whereof I said, <sup>g</sup>My name shall be there.

35 And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, and taxed the land to give the money, according to the commandment of Pharaoh: he levied of every man of the people of the land, according to his value, silver and gold to give unto Pharaoh Necho.

36 Jehoiakim was five and twenty years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name also was Zebudah the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

1 In his <sup>1</sup>days came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years: afterward he turned, and rebelled against him.

2 And the Lord sent against him bands of the Chaldeans, and bands of the Aramites, and bands of the Moabites, and bands of the Ammonites, and he sent them against Judah to destroy it, "according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by his servants the Prophets.

10 <sup>b</sup>In that time came the servants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon up against Jerusalem: so the city was besieged.

11 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came against the city, and his servants did besiege it.

12 Then Jehoiachin the king of Judah <sup>1</sup>came out against the king of Babylon, he, and his mother and his servants, and his princes, and his eunuchs: and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year <sup>2</sup>of his reign.

13 <sup>c</sup>And he carried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and brake all the vessels of gold which Solomon king of Israel had made in the Temple of the Lord, as the Lord had said.

14 And he carried away all Jerusalem, and all the princes, and all the strong men of war, even ten thousand into captivity, and all the workmen, and cunning men: so none remained saving the poor people of the land.

15 <sup>d</sup>And he carried away Jehoiachin into Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his eunuchs, and the mighty of the land, carried he away into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon,

16 And all the men of war, even seven thousand, and carpenters, and locksmiths a thousand: all that were strong and apt for war, did the king of Babylon bring to Babylon captives.

17 ¶ <sup>e</sup>And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah his uncle king in his stead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was one and twenty years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name also was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20 Therefore certainly the wrath of the Lord was against Jerusalem and Judah, until he cast them out of his <sup>1</sup>sight. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

1 <sup>a</sup>And in the <sup>1</sup>ninth year of his reign, the <sup>2</sup>tenth month, and tenth day of the month Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his host against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and they built <sup>3</sup>forts against it round about it.

2 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

3 And the ninth day of the month the famine was <sup>1</sup>sure in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night, by the way of the <sup>1</sup>gate, which is between two walls that was by the king's garden: now the Chaldeans were by the city round about: and the king went by the way of the wilderness.

5 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and took him in the deserts of Jericho, and all his host was scattered from him.

6 Then they took the king, and carried him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah, where they <sup>1</sup>gave judgment upon him.

7 And they slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in chains, and carried him to Babylon.

8 And in the fifth month, and <sup>1</sup>seventh day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan <sup>2</sup>chief steward and servant of the king of Babylon, to Jerusalem,

9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Chaldeans that were with the chief steward, brake down the walls of Jerusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the city, and those that were fled and <sup>1</sup>fallen to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzaradan chief steward carry away captive.

14 The pots <sup>1</sup>also and the besoms, and the instruments of music, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brass that they ministered in, took they away.

15 And the ash pans, and the basins, and all that was of gold, and that was of silver, took the chief steward away,

16 With the two pillars, one Sea and the bases, which Solomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brass of all these vessels was without weight.

17 <sup>c</sup>The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the chapterer thereon was brass, and the height of the chapterer was with network three cubits, and pomegranates upon the chapterer round about, all of brass: and likewise was the second pillar with the network.

18 And the chief steward took Seraiah the chief Priest, and Zephaniah the <sup>1</sup>second Priest, and the three keepers of the door.

19 And out of the city he took an Eunuch that had the oversight of the men of war, and <sup>1</sup>five men of them that were in the King's presence, which were found in the city, and Sopher captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the city.

left, and made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan ruler over them.

23 Then when all the captains of the host and their men heard, that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan the son of Careah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the son of Maachathi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah <sup>1</sup>sware to them, and to their men, and said unto them, Fear not to be the servants of the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and ye shall be well.

25 <sup>e</sup>But in the seventh month Ishmael the son of Nethaniah the son of Elishama, of the king's seed, came, and ten men with him, and smote Gedaliah, and he died, and so did he the Jews, and the Chaldeans that were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people both small and great, and the captains of the army arose, and came to <sup>1</sup>Egypt: for they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

27 Notwithstanding in the seven and thirtieth year after <sup>1</sup>Jehoiachin King of Judah was carried away, in the twelfth month and the seven and twentieth day of the month, Evil-Merodach king of Babylon in the year that he began to reign, did lift up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of the prison,

28 And spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon,

29 And changed his prison garments: and he did continually eat bread before him, all the days of his life.

30 And his <sup>1</sup>portion was a continual portion given him by the king, every day a certain, all the days of his life.

6 The sons also of Zerah were <sup>1</sup>Zimri, and <sup>2</sup>Ethan, and Heman, and Calcol, and Dara, which were five in all.

7 And the son of Carmi, <sup>1e</sup>Achar that troubled Israel, transgressing in the thing excommunicate.

8 The son also of Ethan, Azariah.

9 And the sons of Hezron that were born unto him, Jerahmeel, and <sup>1</sup>Ram and Chelubai.

10 And Ram begat Amminadab, and Amminadab begat Nahshon <sup>1</sup>prince of the children of Judah,

11 And Nahshon begat Salma, and Salma begat Boaz,

12 And Boaz begat Obed, and Obed begat <sup>1</sup>Ishai,

13 <sup>f</sup>And Jesse begat his eldest son Eliab, and Abinadab the second, and <sup>1</sup>Shimea the third,

14 Nethanel the fourth, Raddai the fifth,

15 Ozem the sixth, and David the seventh.

16 Whose sisters were Zeruiah and Abigail. And the sons of Zeruiah, Abishai, and Joab, and Asahel.

17 And Abigail bare Amasa: and the father of Amasa was Jether an Ishmaelite.

18 ¶ And <sup>1</sup>Caleb the son of Hezron begat Jerioth of Azubah his wife, and her sons are these, Jeshar, and Shobab, and Ardon.

19 And when Azubah was dead, Caleb took unto him Ephrath, which bare him Hur.

20 <sup>g</sup>And Hur begat Uri, and Uri begat Bezalel.

21 And afterward came Hezron to the daughter of Machir the father of <sup>1</sup>Gilead, and took her when he was threescore years old, and she bare him Segub.

22 And Segub begat Jair, which had three and twenty cities in the land of Gilead.

23 And Geshur with Aram took the towns of Jair <sup>1</sup>from them, and Kenath and the towns thereof, even threescore cities. All these were the sons of Machir the father of Gilead.

24 And after that Hezron was dead at <sup>1</sup>Caleb Ephrathah, then Abijah Hezron's wife bare him also Ashhur the <sup>2</sup>father of Tekoa.

25 And the sons of Jerahmeel the eldest son of Hezron were Ram the eldest, then Bunah, and Oren and Ozem and Ahijah.

26 Also Jerahmeel had another wife named Atarah, which was the mother of Onam.

27 And the sons of Ram the eldest son of Jerahmeel were Maaz, and Jamin and Eker.

28 And the sons of Onam were Shammai and Jada. And the sons of Shammai, Nadab and Abishur.

29 And the name of the wife of Abishur was called Abihail, and she bare him Ahban and Molid.

30 The sons also of Nadab were Seled and Appaim: but Seled died without children.

31 And the son of Appaim was Ishi, and the son of Ishi, Sheshan, and the son of Sheshan, <sup>1</sup>Ahlai.

32 And the sons of Jada the brother of Shammai were Jether and Jonathan: but Jether died without children.

33 And the sons of Jonathan were Peleth and Zaza. These were the sons of Jerahmeel.

34 And Sheshan had no sons, but daughters. And Sheshan had a servant that was an Egyptian named Jarha.

35 And Sheshan gave his daughter to Jarha his servant to wife, and she bare him Attai.

36 And Attai begat Nathan, and Nathan begat Zabad,

37 And Zabad begat Ephlal, and Ephlal begat Obed,

38 And Obed begat Jehu, and Jehu begat Azariah,

39 And Azariah begat Helez, and Helez begat Eleasah,

40 And Eleasah begat Sismai, and Sismai begat Shallum,

42 Also the sons of Caleb the brother of Jerahmeel, were Mesha his eldest son, which was the <sup>1</sup>father of Ziph: and the sons of Mareshah the father of Hebron.

43 And the sons of Hebron were Korah and Tapuah, and Rekem and Shema.

44 And Shema begat Raham the father of Jorkoam: and Rekem begat Shammai.

45 The son also of Shammai was Maon: and Maon was the father of Beth Zur.

46 And Ephah a <sup>1</sup>concubine of Caleb bare Haran and Moza, and Gazez: Haran also begat Gazez.

47 The sons of Jahdai were Regem, and Jotham, and Geshan, and Pelet, and Ephah, and Shaaph.

48 Caleb's concubine Maachah bare Sheber and Tirhanah.

49 She bare also Shaaph the father of Madmannah, and Sheva the father of Machbenah, and the father of Gibeaz. <sup>b</sup>And Achsah was Caleb's daughter.

50 These were the sons of Caleb the son of Hur the eldest son of Ephrathah, Shobal the father of Kirjath Jearim.

51 Salma the father of Bethlehem, and Hareph the father of Beth Gader.

52 And Shobal the father of Kirjath Jearim had sons, and he <sup>1</sup>was the overseer of half Manuhoth.

53 And the families of Kirjath Jearim were the Ithrites, and the Puthites, and the Shumathites, and the Mishraites: of them came the Zorathites, and the Eshtaolites.

54 The sons of Salma of Bethlehem, and the Netophathites, the <sup>1</sup>crowns of the house of Joab, and <sup>2</sup>half the Manahethites and the Zorites.

55 And the families of the <sup>1</sup>Scribes dwelling at Jabez, the Tirathites, the Shimeathites, the Suchathites, which are the <sup>2</sup>Kenites, that came of Hammath the father of the house of Rechab.

2:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Geshurites and Syrians took the towns from Jair's children.

2:31 <sup>1</sup> Who died while his father was alive, and therefore it is said, verse 34, that Sheshan had no sons.

2:42 <sup>1</sup> That is, the chief governor or prince of the Ziphims, because the prince ought to have a fatherly care and affection toward his people.

2:46 <sup>1</sup> This difference was between the wife and the concubine, that the wife was taken with certain solemnities of marriage, and her children did inherit: the concubine had no solemnities in marriage, neither did her children inherit, but had a portion of goods or money given them.

2:52 <sup>1</sup> Or, he that saw the half, because the prince ought to oversee his subjects.

2:54 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the chief and principle.

2:55 <sup>1</sup> Which were men learned and expert in the law.

2 The third Absalom the son of Maacah daughter of Talmai King of Geshur: the fourth Adonijah the son of Haggith:

3 The fifth Shephatiah of Abital, the sixth Ithream by Eglah his wife.

4 These six were born unto him in Hebron: and there he reigned seven years and six months: and in Jerusalem he reigned three and thirty years.

5 And these four were born unto him in Jerusalem, Shimea, and Shobab, and Nathan, and Solomon of <sup>1</sup>Bathshua the daughter of Ammiel:

6 Ibhah also, and <sup>1</sup>Elishama, and Eliphelet,

7 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Japhia,

8 And Elishama, and Eliada, and Eliphelet, nine in number.

9 These are all the sons of David, besides the sons of the concubines, and Tamar their sister.

10 ¶ And Solomon's son was Rehoboam, whose son was Abijah, and Asa his son, and Jehoshaphat his son,

11 And Joram his son, and Ahaziah his son, and Joash his son,

12 And Amaziah his son, and Azariah his son, and Jotham his son,

13 And Ahaz his son, and Hezekiah his son, and Manasseh his son,

14 And Amon his son, and Josiah his son.

15 ¶ And of the sons of Josiah, the <sup>1</sup>eldest was <sup>2</sup>Johanan, the second Jehoiakim, the third Zedekiah, and the fourth Shallum.

16 And the sons of Jehoiakim were Jeconiah his son, and Zedekiah his son.

17 And the sons of Jeconiah, Assir and Shealtiel his son:

18 Malchiram also and Pedaiiah, and Shenazzar, Jecamiah, Hoshama, and Nedabiah.

19 And the sons of Pedaiiah were <sup>1</sup>Zerubbabel, and Shimei: and the sons of Zerubbabel were Meshullam, and Hananiah, and Shelomith their sister, 20 And Hashubah, and Ohel, and Berechiah, and Hasadiah, and Jushab-Hesed, five in number.

21 And the sons of Hananiah were Pelatiah, and Jeshaiah, the sons of Rephaiah, the sons of Arnan, the sons of Obadiah, the sons of Shechaniah.

22 And the son of Shechaniah was Shemaiah: and the sons of Shemaiah were Hattush and Igal, and

1 The <sup>1</sup>sons of Judah were <sup>a</sup>Perez, Hezron, and Carmi, and Hur, and Shobal.

2 And Reaiah the son of Shobal begat Jahath, and Jahath begat Ahumai, and Lahad: these are the families of the Zorathites.

3 And these were of the father of Etam, Jezreel, and Ishma and Idbash: and the name of their sister was Hazeleponi.

4 And Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer the father of Hushah: these are the sons of Hur the <sup>1</sup>eldest son of Ephrathah, the father of Bethlehem.

5 But Ashhur the father of Tekoa had two wives, Helah, and Naarah.

6 And Naarah bare him Ahuzzam, and Hopher, and Temeni and Haahashtari: these were the sons of Naarah.

7 And the sons of Helah were Zereth, Zohar and Ethnan.

8 Also Koz begat Anub, and Zobebah, and the families of Aharhel the son of Harum.

9 But Jabez was more honorable than his brethren: and his mother called his name <sup>1</sup>Jabez, saying, Because I bare him in sorrow.

10 And Jabez called on the God of Israel, saying, If thou wilt bless me in deed, and enlarge my coasts, and <sup>1</sup>if thine hand be with me, and thou wilt cause me to be delivered from evil, that I be not hurt. And God granted the thing that he asked.

11 ¶ And Chelub the brother of Shuhah begat Mehir, which was the father of Eshton.

12 And Eshton begat Beth-Rapha, and Paseah, and Tehinnah the father of the city of Ir-Nahash: these are the men of Rechah.

13 ¶ And the sons of Kenaz were Othniel, and Seraiah, and the son of Othniel, Hathath.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> Called also Bathsheba the daughter of Eliam: for they gave them divers names.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Elishama, or Elishua, 2 Sam. 5:15, and Eliphelet died, and David named those sons, which were next born, by the same names: in the book of Kings his children are mentioned which were alive, and here both they that were alive and dead.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> So called because he was preferred to the dignity royal before his brother Jehoiakim which was the elder.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> St. Matthew saith that Zerubbabel was son of Shealtiel, meaning, that he was his nephew according to the Hebrew speech: for he was Pedaiiah's son.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> So that Shemaiah was Shechaniah's natural son, and the other five his nephews, and in all were six.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, they came of Judah, as nephews and kinsmen: for only Perez was his natural son.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> The firstborn of his mother, and not the eldest son of his father.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> Otherwise called Othniel, Judg. 1:13.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> It is to be understood, that then he would accomplish his vow which he made.

14 And Meonothai begat Ophrah. And Seraiah begat Joab the <sup>1</sup>father of the valley of craftsmen: for they were craftsmen.

15 ¶ And the sons of Caleb the son of <sup>1</sup>Jephunneh were Iru, Elah, and Naam. And the son of Elah was Kenaz.

16 And the sons of Jehallelel were Ziph, and Ziphah, Tiria, and Asarel.

17 And the sons of Ezrah were Jether and Mered, and Ephraim, and Jalon, and he begat Miriam, and Shammai, and Ishbah the father of Eshtemoa.

18 Also his <sup>1</sup>wife Jehudijah bare Jered the father of Gedor, and Heber the father of Sochoh, and Jekuthiel the father of Zanoah: and these are the sons of Bithiah the daughter of Pharaoh <sup>2</sup>which Mered took.

19 And the sons of the wife of Hodiah, the sister of Naham the father of Keilah were the Garmites, and Eshtemoa the Maachathite.

20 And the sons of Shimon were Amnon and Rinnah, Ben-Hanan and Tilon. And the sons of Ishi were Zoheth, and Ben-Zoheth.

21 ¶ <sup>b</sup>The sons of Shelah, the son of Judah were Er the father of Lecah, and Laadah the father of Mareshah, and the families of the households of them that wrought fine linen in the house of Ashbea.

22 And Jokim, and the men of Chozeba and Joash, and Saraph, which had the dominion in Moab, and <sup>1</sup>Jashubi-Lehem. These also are ancient things.

23 These were porters, and dwelt among plants and hedges: <sup>1</sup>there they dwelt with the king for his work.

24 ¶ The sons of Simeon were Nemuel, and Jamin, Jarib, Zerach, and <sup>1</sup>Shaul.

25 Whose son was Shallum, and his son Mibsam, and his son Mishma.

26 And the sons of Mishma, Hamuel was his son, Zacchur his son, and Shimei his son.

27 And Shimei had sixteen sons, and six daughters, but his brethren had not many children, neither was all their family like to the children of Judah in multitude.

28 And they dwelt at <sup>1</sup>Beersheba, and at Moladah, and at Hazar Shual,

29 And at Bilhah, and at Ezem, and at Tolad,

30 And at Bethuel, and at Hormah, and at Ziklag,

31 And at Beth Marcaboth, and at Hazar Susim, at Beth Biri, and at Shaaraim: these were their cities unto the reign of <sup>1</sup>David.

32 And their towns were Etam, and Ain, Rimmon, and Tochen, and Ashan, five cities.

33 And all their towns that were round about these cities unto Baal, these are their habitations and the declaration of their genealogy,

34 And Meshobab, and Jamlech, and Joshah the son of Amaziiah,

35 And Joel and Jehu the son of Joshibiah, the son of Seraiah, the son of Asiel,

36 And Elioenai, and Jaakobah, and Jeshohaiah, and Asaiah, and Adiel, and Jesimiel, and Benaiah, 37 And Ziza the son of Shiphi, the son of Allon, the son of Zidaiah, the son of Shimri, the son of Shemaiah.

38 These were famous Princes in their families, and increased greatly their father's houses.

39 And they <sup>1</sup>went to the entering in of Gedor, even unto the East side of the valley, to seek pasture for their sheep.

40 And they found fat pasture and good, and a wide land both quiet and fruitful: for they of Ham had dwelt there before.

41 And these described by name, came in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and smote their tents, and the inhabitants that were found there, and destroyed them utterly unto this day, and dwelt in their room, because there was pasture there for their sheep.

42 And besides these, five hundred men of the sons of Simeon went to mount Seir, and Pelatiah, and Neariah, and Rephaiah, and Uzziel the sons of Ishi were their captains.

43 And they smote the rest of Amalek that had <sup>1</sup>escaped, and they dwelt there unto this day.

the tribe of Simeon.

4:31 <sup>1</sup> Then David restored them to the tribe of Judah.

4:39 <sup>1</sup> For the tribe of Simeon was so great in number, that in the time of Hezekiah they sought new dwellings unto Gedor, which is in the tribe of Dan.

4:43 <sup>1</sup> And were not slain by Saul and David.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> Because they were made two tribes, they had a double portion.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, he was the chiefest of all the tribes according to Jacob's prophecy, Gen. 49:8, and because Christ should come of him.

4:23 <sup>1</sup> They were king David's gardeners, and served him in his works.

4:24 <sup>1</sup> His son Ohad is here omitted.

4:28 <sup>1</sup> These cities belonged of Judah, Josh. 19:2, and were given to 3 <sup>b</sup>The sons of Reuben the eldest son of Israel, were Hanoch and Pallu, Hezron and Carmi.

4 The sons of Joel, Shemaiah his son, Gog his son, and Shimei his son,

5 Micah his son, Reaiah his son, and Baal his son,

6 Beerah his son: whom Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria <sup>1</sup>carried away, he was a prince of the Reubenites.

7 And when his brethren in their families reckoned the genealogy of their generations, Jeiel and Zechariah were the chief,

8 And Bela the son of Azaz, the son of Shema, the son of Joel, which dwelt in <sup>1</sup>Aroer even unto Nebo and Baal Meon.

9 Also Eastward he inhabited unto the entering in of the wilderness from the river <sup>1</sup>Perath: for they had much cattle in the land of Gilead.

10 And in the days of Saul they warred with the <sup>1</sup>Hagrites, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East parts of Gilead.

11 ¶ And the children of Gad dwelt over against them in the land of Bashan, unto Salchah.

12 Joel was the chiefest, and Shapham the second, but Jaanai and Shaphat were in Bashan.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were Michael, and Meshullam, and Sheba, and Jorai, and Jachan, and Zia and Eber, seven.

14 These are the children of Abihail, the son of Huri, the son of Jaroah, the son of Gilead, the son of Michael, the son of Jeshishai, the son of Jahdo, the son of Buz.

15 Ahi the son of Abdiel, the son of Guni was chief of the household of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gilead in <sup>1</sup>Bashan, and in the towns thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharon by their borders.

17 All these were reckoned by genealogies in the days of Jotham King of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.

18 ¶ The sons of Reuben and of Gad, and of half the tribe of Manasseh of those that were valiant men, able to bear shield and sword, and to draw a bow exercised in war, were four and forty thousand, seven hundred and threescore, that went out to the war.

19 And they made war with the Hagrites, with <sup>1</sup>Jetur, and Naphish, and Nodab.

20 And they were <sup>1</sup>helped against them, and the Hagrites were delivered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cried to God in the battle,

21 And they led away their cattle, even their camels fifty thousand, and two hundred and fifty thousand sheep, and two thousand asses, and of <sup>1</sup>persons an hundred thousand.

22 For many fell down wounded, because the war was of God. And they dwelt in their steads until the <sup>1</sup>captivity.

23 And the children of the half tribe of Manasseh dwelt in the land, from Bashan unto <sup>1</sup>Baal Hermon, and Senir, and unto mount Hermon: for they increased.

24 And these were the heads of the households of their fathers, even Ephraim and Ishi, and Eliel and Azriel, and Jeremiah, and Hodaviah, and Jahdiel, strong men, valiant and famous, heads of the households of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whom God had destroyed before them.

26 And the God of Israel <sup>1</sup>stirred up the spirit of Pul king of Assyria, and the spirit of Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, and he carried them away: even the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh, and brought them unto <sup>1</sup>Halah and Habor, and Hara, and to the river Gozan, unto this day.

27 Eliab his son, Jeroham his son, Elkanah his son,

28 And the sons of Samuel, the eldest <sup>1</sup>Vasheni, then Abijah.

29 ¶ The sons of Merari were Mahli, Libni his son, Shimei his son, Uzzah his son, 30 Shimea his son, Haggiah his son, Asaiah his son.

31 And these be they whom David set for to sing in the house of the Lord, after that the Ark had <sup>1</sup>rest.

32 And they ministered before the Tabernacle, even the Tabernacle of the Congregation with <sup>1</sup>singing, until Solomon had built the house of the Lord in Jerusalem: then they continued in their office, according to their custom.

33 And these ministered with their children: of the sons of Kohath, Heman a singer, the son of Joel, the son of Samuel,

34 The son of Elkanah, the son of Jeroham, the son of Eliel, the son of Toah,

35 The son of Zuph, the son of Elkanah, the son of Mahath, the son of Amasai,

36 The son of Elkanah, the son of Joel, the son of Azariah, the son of Zephaniah,

37 The son of Tahath, the <sup>1</sup>son of Assir, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah,

38 The son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, the son of Israel,

39 And his <sup>1</sup>brother <sup>2</sup>Asaph stood on his right hand: and Asaph was the son of Berachiah, the son of Shimea,

40 The son of Michael, the son of Baaseiah, the son of Malchijah,

41 The son of Ethni, the son of Zerah, the son of Adaiah,

42 The son of Ethan, the son of Zimmah, the son of Shimei,

43 The son of Jahath, the son of Gershon, the son of Levi.

44 And their brethren the sons of Merari were on the left hand, even Ethan the son of Kishi, the son of Abdi, the son of Malluch,

45 The son of Hashabiah, the son of Amaziah, the son of Hilkiah,

46 The son of Amzi, the son of Bani, the son of Shamer,

47 The son of Mahli, the son of Mushi, the son of Merari, the son of Levi.

48 ¶ And their <sup>1</sup>brethren the Levites were <sup>2</sup>appointed unto all the service of the Tabernacle of the house of God,

49 But Aaron and his sons burnt incense upon the altar of burnt offering, and on the altar of incense, for all that was to do in the most holy place, and to make an atonement for Israel according to all that Moses the servant of God had commanded.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> And did valiantly resist king Uzziah, who would have usurped the Priest's office, 2 Chron. 26:17, 18.

6:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, he was led into captivity with his father Seraiah the high Priest, 2 Kings 25:18.

6:22 <sup>1</sup> Who seemeth to be called Izhar, Exod. 6:21.

6:28 <sup>1</sup> Who is also called Joel, 1 Sam. 8:2 and 1 Chron. 6:33.

6:31 <sup>1</sup> After it was brought to that place where the Temple should be built and was no more carried to and fro.

6:32 <sup>1</sup> Read Exod. 27:21.

6:37 <sup>1</sup> Or, nephews.

50 These are also the sons of Aaron, Eleazar his son, Phinehas his son, Abishua his son,

51 Bukki his son, Uzzi his son, Zerariah his son,

52 Meraioth his son, Amariah his son, Ahitub his son,

53 Zadok his son, and Ahimaaz his son.

54 ¶ And these are the <sup>1</sup>dwelling places of them throughout their towns and coasts, even of the sons of Aaron for the family of the Kohathites, for the <sup>2</sup>lot was theirs.

55 So they gave them <sup>1</sup>Hebron in the land of Judah and the suburbs thereof round about it.

56 But the field of the city, and the villages thereof they gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh.

57 And to the sons of Aaron they gave the cities of Judah for <sup>1</sup>refuge, even Hebron and Libnah with their suburbs, and Jattir, and Eshtemoa with their suburbs,

58 And <sup>1</sup>Hilen with her suburbs, and Debir with her suburbs,

59 And Ashan and her suburbs, and Beth Shemesh and her suburbs:

60 ¶ And of the tribe of Benjamin, Geba and her suburbs, and <sup>1</sup>Alemeth with her suburbs, and Anathoth with her suburbs: all their cities were thirteen cities by their families.

61 And unto the sons of <sup>1</sup>Kohath the remnant of the family of the tribe, even of the half tribe of the half of Manasseh, by lot ten cities.

62 And to the sons of Gershon according to their families out of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirteen cities.

63 Unto the sons of Merari according to their families out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, by lot twelve cities.

64 Thus the children of Israel gave to the Levites cities with their suburbs.

65 And they gave by lot out of the tribe of the children of Judah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, and out of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, these cities, which they called by their names.

Josh.21:36

66 And they of the families of the sons of Kohath, had cities and their coasts out of the tribe of Ephraim.

67 <sup>c</sup>And they gave unto them cities of refuge, Shechem in mount Ephraim, and her suburbs, and Gezer and her suburbs,

68 Jokmeam also and her suburbs, and Beth Horon with her suburbs,

69 And Ajalon and her suburbs, and Gath Rimmon and her suburbs.

70 And out of the half tribe of Manasseh, <sup>1</sup>Aner and her suburbs, and <sup>2</sup>Bileam and her suburbs, for the families of the remnant of the sons of Kohath.

72 And out of the tribe of Issachar, <sup>1</sup>Kedesh and her suburbs, Daberath and her suburbs,

74 And out of the tribe of Asher, Mashal and her suburbs, and Abdon and her suburbs,

75 And <sup>1</sup>Hukok and her suburbs, and Rehob and her suburbs, 76 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, Kedesh in Galilee and her suburbs, and <sup>1</sup>Hammon and her suburbs, and <sup>2</sup>Kirjathaim and her suburbs.

77 Unto the rest of the children of Merari were given out of the tribe of Zebulun <sup>1</sup>Rimmon and her suburbs, <sup>2</sup>Tabor and her suburbs,

78 And on the other side Jordan by Jericho, even on the Eastside of Jordan, out of the tribe of Reuben, <sup>f</sup>Bezer in the wilderness with her suburbs, and Jahzah with her suburbs, 79 And Kedemoth with her suburbs, and Mephaath with her suburbs.

80 And out of the tribe of Gad Ramoth in Gilead with her suburbs, and Mahanaim with her suburbs, 81 And Heshbon with her suburbs, and Jazer with her suburbs.

1 And the sons of Issachar were Tola and <sup>1</sup>Puah, <sup>2</sup>Jashub, and Shimron, four,

2 And the sons of Tola, Uzzi, and Rephaiah and Jeriel, and Jahmai, and Jibsam, and Shemuel, heads in the households of their fathers. Of Tola were valiant men of war in their generations, <sup>1</sup>whose number was in the days of David two and twenty thousand, and six hundred.

3 And the son of Uzzi was Izrahiah, and the sons of Izrahiah, Michael, and Obadiah, and Joel, and Ishiah, <sup>1</sup>five men all princes.

4 And with them in their generations after the household of their fathers were bands of men of war for battle six and thirty thousand: for they had many wives and children.

5 And their <sup>1</sup>brethren among all the families of Issachar were valiant men of war, reckoned in all by their genealogies fourscore and seven thousand.

6 ¶ The sons of Benjamin were Bela, and Becher, and <sup>1</sup>Jediael, <sup>2</sup>three.

7 And the sons of Bela, Ezbon, and Uzzi, and Uzziel, and Jerimoth, and Iri five heads of the households of their fathers, valiant men of war, and were reckoned by their genealogies, two and twenty thousand and thirty and four.

8 And the sons of Becher, Zemirah, and Joash, and Eliezer, and Elieonai, and Omri, and Jerimoth, and Abijah, and Anathoth, and Alemeth: all these were the sons of Becher.

9 And they were numbered by their genealogies according to their generations, and the chief of the houses of their fathers, valiant men of war, twenty thousand and two hundred.

10 And the son of Jediael was Bilhan, and the sons of Bilhan, Jeush, and Benjamin, and Ehud, and Chenaanah, and Zethan, and Tharshish, and Ahishahar.

11 All these were the sons of Jediael, chief of the fathers, valiant men of war seventeen thousand and two hundred, marching in battle array to the war.

12 And Shuppim, and Huppim were the sons of <sup>1</sup>Iri, but Hushim was the son <sup>2</sup>of <sup>3</sup>another.

13 ¶ The sons of Naphtali, Jahziel, and Guni, and Jezer, and <sup>1</sup>Shallum <sup>2</sup>of the sons of Bilhah.

Josh. 17:1

14 The son of Manasseh was Asriel whom she bare unto him, but his concubine of Aram bare Machir the "father of Gilead.

15 And Machir took to wife the sister of Huppim and Shuppim, and the name of their sister was Maachah. And the name of the second son was Zelophehad, and Zelophehad had had daughters.

16 And Maachah the wife of Machir bare a son, and called his name <sup>1</sup>Peresh, and the name of his brother was Sheresh: and his sons were Ulam and Rakem.

17 And the son of Ulam was Bedan. These were the sons of Gilead the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh.

19 And the sons of Shemida were Ahian, and Shechem, and Likhi, and Aniam.

20 ¶ The sons also of Ephraim were Shuthelah, and Bered his son, and Tahath his son, and his son Eladah, and Tahath his son, 21 And Zabad his son, and Shuthelah his son, and Ezer, and Elead: and the men of <sup>1</sup>Gath that were born in the land, slew them, because they came down to take away their cattle.

22 Therefore Ephraim their father mourned many days, and his <sup>1</sup>brethren came to comfort him.

23 And when he went in to his wife, she conceived, and bare him a son, and he called his name Beriah, because affliction was in his house.

24 And his <sup>1</sup>daughter was Sheerah, which built Beth Horon the nether, and the upper, and Uzzen Sheerah.

25 And Rephah was his <sup>1</sup>son, and Resheph, and Telah his son, and Tahan his son,

26 Laadan his son, Ammihud his son, Elishama his son,

27 Nun his son, Joshua his son.

28 And their possessions and their habitations were Bethel, and the villages thereof, and Eastward Naaran, and Westward Gezer with the villages thereof, Shechem also and the villages thereof, unto <sup>1</sup>Ayyah, and the villages thereof,

29 And by the places of the children of Manasseh,

7:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, their number was found thus great when David numbered the people, 2 Sam. 24:1.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the four sons, and the father.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, kinsmen.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> Called also Ashbel, Gen. 46:21; Num. 26:38.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, Jeezer, Num. 26:30.

7:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the sister of Gilead.

7:21 <sup>1</sup> Which was one of the five principal cities of the Philistines, slew the Ephraimites.

7:28 <sup>1</sup> Or, Adaiah.

Beth Shean and her villages, Taanach and her villages, Megiddo and her villages, Dor and her villages. In those dwelt the children of Joseph the son of Israel.

30 ¶<sup>b</sup>The sons of Asher were Imnah, and Ishvah, and Ishvi, and Beriah, and Serah their sister.

31 And the sons of Beriah, Heber, and Malchiel, which is the father of Birzaitih.

32 And Heber begat Japhlet, and Shomer, and Hotham, and Shua their sister.

33 And the sons of Japhlet were Pasach, and <sup>1</sup>Bimhal, and Ashvath: these were the children of Japhlet.

34 And the sons of Shemer, Ahi, and Rohgah, Jehubbah, and Aram.

35 And the sons of his brother Helem were Zophah and Imna, and Shelesh, and Amal.

36 The sons of Zophah, Suah, and Harnepher, and Shual, and Beri, and Imrah, 37 Bezer and Hod, and Shamma, and Shilshah, and Jithran, and Beera.

38 And the sons of Jether, Jephunneh, and Pispah and Ara.

39 And the sons of Ulla, Arah, and Haniel, and Rizia.

40 All these were the children of Asher, the heads of their father's houses, noble men, valiant men of war and chief princes, and they were reckoned by their genealogies for war and for battle to the number of six and twenty thousand men.

8 <sup>1</sup> The sons of Benjamin. 33 And race of Saul.

1 Benjamin also <sup>1</sup>begat Bela his eldest son, Ashbel the second, and Aharah the third,

2 Nohah the fourth, and Rapha the fifth.

3 And the sons of Bela were Addar, and Gera, and Abihud,

4 And Abishua, and Naaman, and Ahoah,

5 And Gera, and Shephuphan, and Huram.

6 ¶ And these are the sons of Ehud: these were the chief fathers of those that inhabited Geba: and <sup>1</sup>they were carried away captives to Manahath,

7 And Naaman, and Ahijah, and Gera, he carried them away captives: and <sup>1</sup>he begat Uzza, and Ahihud.

8 And Shaharaim begat certain in the country of Moab, after he had sent <sup>1</sup>away Hushim and Baara his wives.

9 He begat, I say, of Hodesh his wife, Jobab and Zibia, and Mesha and Malcam,

<sup>a</sup> 1 Chron. 9:35

10 And Jeuz and Sachiah and Mirmah: these were his sons, and chief fathers.

11 And of Hushim he begat Abitub and Elpaal.

12 And the sons of Elpaal were Eber, and Misham and Shemed (which built Ono and Lod, and the villages thereof.)

13 And Beriah and Shema (which were the chief fathers among the inhabitants of Aijalon: they drave away the inhabitants of Gath.)

14 And Ahio, Shashak, and Jeremoth,

15 And Zebadiah, and Arad, and Eder,

16 And Michael, and Ispah, and Joha, the sons of Beriah,

17 And Zebadiah, and Meshullam, and Hizki, and Heber,

18 And Ishmerai, and Jizliah, and Jobab, the sons of Elpaal,

19 Jakim also, and Zichri, and Zabdi,

20 And Elienai, and Zillethai, and Eliel,

21 And <sup>1</sup>Adaiah, and Beraiah, and Shimrath the sons of Shimei,

22 And Ishpan, and Eber, and Eliel,

23 And Abdon, and Zichri, and Hanan,

24 And Hananiah, and Elam, and Anthothijah,

25 Iphdeiah and Penuel the sons of Shashak,

26 And Shamsherai, and Shehariah, and Athaliah,

27 And Jaareshiah, and Elijah, and Zichri, the sons of Jeroham.

28 These were the chief <sup>1</sup>fathers according to their generations, even princes, which dwelt in Jerusalem.

29 And at <sup>a</sup>Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon, and the name of his wife was Maacah.

30 And his eldest son was Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Nadab,

31 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zecher,

32 And Mikloth begat Shimeah: these also dwelt with their brethren in Jerusalem, even by their brethren.

33 And <sup>1</sup>Ner begat Kish, and Kish begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchishua, and Abinadab, and <sup>2</sup>Esh-Baal.

34 And the son of Jonathan was <sup>1</sup>Merib-Baal, and Merib-Baal begat Micah.

35 And the sons of Micah were Pithon, and Melech, and Tarea, and Ahaz,

36 And Ahaz begat Jehoaddah, and Jehoaddah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri, and Zimri begat Moza,

7:33 <sup>1</sup> Or, Kimbal.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> He continueth in the description of the tribe of Benjamin, because his purpose is to set forth the genealogy of Saul.

8:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the inhabitants of the city of Geba.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Ehud.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> After he had put away his two wives.

8:21 <sup>1</sup> Or, Araiah.

8:28 <sup>1</sup> The chief of the tribe of Benjamin, that dwelt in Jerusalem.

8:33 <sup>1</sup> Who in 1 Sam. 9:1 is called Abiel.

8:34 <sup>1</sup> He is likewise called Mephibosheth, 2 Sam. 9:6.

37 And Moza begat Binea, whose son was Raphah, and his son Eleasah, and his son Azel.

38 And Azel had six sons, whose names are these: Azrikam, Bocheru, and Ishmael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan: all these were the sons of Azel.

39 And the sons of Eshek his brother were Ulam his eldest son, Jeush the second, and Eliphelet the third.

40 And the sons of Ulam were valiant men of war which shot with the bow, and had many sons and nephews, an hundred and fifty: all these were of the sons of Benjamin.

9 <sup>1</sup> All Israel and Judah numbered. <sup>10</sup> Of the Priests and Levites, <sup>11, 18</sup> And of their offices.

1 Thus all Israel were numbered by their genealogies: and behold, they are written in the book of the Kings of Israel and of Judah, and they were <sup>1</sup>carried away to Babel for their transgression.

2 ¶ And the chief inhabitants that dwelt in their own possessions, and in their own cities, even Israel, the Priests, the Levites, and the <sup>1</sup>Nethinim.

3 And in Jerusalem dwelt of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and Manasseh.

4 Uthai the son of Ammihud the son of Omri, the son of Imri, the son of Bani, of the children of Perez, the son of Judah.

5 And of Shiloni, Asaiah the eldest, and his sons.

6 And the sons of Zerah, Jeuel, and their brethren six hundred and ninety.

7 And of the sons of Benjamin, Sallu, the son of Meshullam, the son of Hodaviah, the son of Has-senuah.

8 And Ibneiah the son of Jeroham, and Elah the son of Uzzi, the son of Michri, and Meshullam the son of Shephatiah, the son of Reuel the son of Ibnijah.

9 And their brethren according to their generations nine hundred, fifty and six: all these men were <sup>1</sup>chief fathers in the households of their fathers.

10 ¶ And of the Priests, Jedaiah, and Jehoiarib, and Jachin,

11 And Azariah the son of Hilkiyah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub the <sup>1</sup>chief of the house of God,

12 And Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchijah, and Maasai the son of Adiel, the son of Jahzerah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Meshillemith, the son of Immer.

13 And their brethren the chief of the households of their fathers, a thousand seven hundred and threescore valiant men, for the <sup>1</sup>work of the service of the house of God.

14 ¶ And of the Levites, Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, of the sons of Merari,

15 And Bakbakkar, Heresh and Galal, and Martaniah the son of Micah, the son of Zichri, the son of Asaph,

16 And Obadiah the son of Shemaiah, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun, and Berechiah the son of Asa, the son of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Shallum was the chief.

18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Levi unto the <sup>1</sup>King's gate Eastward.

19 And Shallum the son of Kore the son of Ebiasaph the son of Korah, and his brethren the Korahites (of the house of their father) were over the work, and office to keep the gates of the <sup>1</sup>Tabernacle: so their families were over the host of the Lord keeping the entry.

20 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar was their guide, and the Lord was with him.

21 Zechariah the son of Meshelemiah was the porter of the door of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 All these were chosen for porters of the gates, two hundred and twelve, which were numbered according to their genealogies by their towns. David established these, and Samuel the Seer <sup>1</sup>in their perpetual office.

23 So they and their children had the oversight of the gates of the house of the Lord, even of the house of the Tabernacle by wards.

24 The porters were in four quarters Eastward, Westward, Northward and Southward.

25 And their brethren, which were in their towns, came at <sup>1</sup>seven days from time to time with them.

26 For these four chief porters were in perpetual office, and were of the Levites, and had charge of the <sup>1</sup>chambers, and of the treasures in the house of God.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Hitherto he hath described their genealogies before they went into captivity, and now he describeth their history after their return.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Gibeonites, which served in the Temple, read Josh. 9:13.

9:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, chief of the families.

9:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, he was the high Priest.

9:13 <sup>1</sup> To serve in the Temple, every one according to his office.

9:18 <sup>1</sup> So called because the king came into the Temple thereby, and not the common people.

9:19 <sup>1</sup> Their charge was that none should enter into those places, which were only appointed for the Priests to minister in.

9:22 <sup>1</sup> Or, for their fidelity.

9:25 <sup>1</sup> They served weekly, as Ezek. 4:10.

9:26 <sup>1</sup> Or, opening of the doors.

27 And they lay round about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, and they caused it to be opened every morning.

28 And certain of them had the rule of the ministering vessels: for they brought them in by tally, and brought them out by tally.

29 Some of them also were appointed over the instruments, and over all the vessels of the Sanctuary, and of the <sup>1</sup>flour, and the wine, and the oil, and the incense, and the sweet odors.

30 And certain of the sons of the Priests made ointments of sweet odors.

31 And Mattithiah one of the Levites which was the eldest son of Shallum the Korahite, had the charge of the things that were made in the frying pan.

32 And other of their brethren the sons of Kohath had the oversight of the <sup>a</sup>showbread to prepare it every Sabbath.

33 And these are the singers, the chief fathers of the Levites, which dwelt in the chambers, <sup>1</sup>and had none other charge: for they had to do in that business day and night.

34 These were the chief fathers of the Levites according to their generations, and the principal which dwelt at Jerusalem.

35 <sup>b</sup>And in Gibeon dwelt <sup>1</sup>the father of Gibeon, Jeiel, and the name of his wife was Maachah.

36 And his eldest son was Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab, 37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begat Shimeam: they also dwelt with their brethren at Jerusalem, even by their brethren.

39 And <sup>c</sup>Ner begat Kish, and Kish begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchishua, and Abinadab and Esh-Baal.

40 And the son of Jonathan was Merib-Baal, and Merib-Baal begat Micah.

41 And the sons of Micah were Pithon, and Melech and Tahrea.

42 And Ahaz begat <sup>1</sup>Jarah, and Jarah begat Ale-meth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri, and Zimri begat Moza.

43 And Moza begat Binea, whose son was Rephaiah, and his son was Eleasah, and his son Azel.

44 And Azel had six sons, whose names are these, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Ismael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan: these are the sons of Azel.

1 Then <sup>a</sup>the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before the Philistines, and fell down slain in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistines pursued after Saul and after his sons, and the Philistines smote Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchishua the sons of Saul.

3 And the battle was sore against Saul, and the archers <sup>1</sup>hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul to his armor-bearer, Draw out thy sword, and thrust me through therewith, lest these uncircumcised come and mock at me: but his armor-bearer would not, for he was sore afraid: therefore Saul took the sword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell likewise upon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw how they fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, they forsook their cities and fled away, and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morrow when the Philistines came to spoil them that were slain, they found Saul and his sons <sup>1</sup>lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stripped him, they took his head and his armor, and sent them into the land of the Philistines round about, to publish it unto their idols, and to the people.

10 And they laid up his armor in the house of their god, and set up his head in the house of <sup>1</sup>Dagon.

11 ¶ When all they of Jabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and took the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabesh, and buried the bones of them under an oak in Jabesh, and fasted seven days.

13 So Saul died for his transgression that he committed against the Lord, <sup>b</sup>even against the word of the Lord which he kept not, and in that he sought and asked counsel of a <sup>1c</sup>familiar spirit,

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdom unto David the son of Jesse.

captain. <sup>10</sup> His valiant men.

1 Then <sup>a</sup>all Israel <sup>1</sup>gathered themselves to David unto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, even when Saul was king, thou ledest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God said unto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be captain over my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the King to Hebron, and David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anointed David king over Israel, <sup>b</sup>according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Samuel.

4 ¶ And David and all Israel went to Jerusalem: which is Jebus, where were the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus said to David, Thou shalt not come in hither. Nevertheless David took the tower of Zion, which is the city of David.

6 And David said, <sup>c</sup>Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be the chief and captain. So Joab the son of Zeruah went first up, and was captain.

7 And David dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the city of David.

8 <sup>d</sup>And he built the city on every side, from Millo even round about: and Joab repaired the rest of the city.

9 And David prospered and grew: for the Lord of hosts was with him.

10 ¶ <sup>e</sup>These also are the chief of the valiant men that were with David, and joined their force with him in his kingdom with all Israel, to make him king over Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whom David had, Jashobeam the son of Hachmoni, the <sup>1</sup>chief among thirty: he lift up his spear against three hundred, whom he slew at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the son of <sup>1</sup>Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 He was with David at Pasdammim, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battle: and there was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistines.

14 And they stood in the midst of the field, <sup>1</sup>and saved it, and slew the Philistines: so the Lord gave a great victory.

15 ¶ And three of the <sup>1</sup>thirty captains went to a rock to David, into the cave of Adullam. And 16 And when David was in the hold, the Philistines garrison was at Bethlehem.

17 And David longed, and said, <sup>f</sup>Oh, that one would give me to drink of the water of the well of Bethlehem that is at the gate.

18 Then these three brake through the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David: but David would not drink of it, but poured it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to do this: should I drink the <sup>1</sup>blood of these men's lives? for they have brought it with the jeopardy of their lives: therefore he would not drink it: these things did these three mighty men.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Joab, he was chief of the three, and he lift up his spear against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three he was more honorable than the two, and he was their captain: <sup>g</sup>but he attained not unto the first three.

22 Benaiah the son of Jehoiada (the son of a valiant man) which had done many acts, and was of Kabzeel, he slew two <sup>1</sup>strong men of Moab, he went down also and slew a Lion in the midst of a pit in time of snow.

23 And he slew an Egyptian, a man of great stature, even five cubits long, and in the Egyptian's hand was a spear like a weaver's beam: and he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear.

24 These things did Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

25 Behold, he was honorable among thirty, but he attained not unto the <sup>1</sup>first three. <sup>b</sup>And David made him of his counsel.

26 ¶ These also were valiant men of war, Asahel the brother of Joab, Elhanan the son of Dodo of Bethlehem,

27 <sup>1</sup>Shammoth the Harorite, Helez the Pelonite,

28 Ira the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Anathothite,

47 Eliel and Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

12 <sup>3</sup> Who they were that went with David when he fled from Saul. <sup>14</sup> Their valiantness. <sup>23</sup> They that came unto him unto Hebron out of every tribe to make him King.

1 These also are they that came to David to <sup>1</sup>Ziklag, while he was yet kept close, because of Saul the son of Kish: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battle.

2 They were weaponed with bows, and could use the right and the left hand with stones, and with arrows and with bows, and were of Saul's <sup>1</sup>brethren, even of Benjamin.

3 The chief were Ahiezer, and Joash the sons of Shemaah a Gibeathite, and Jeziel, and Pelet the sons of Azmaveth, Berachah and Jehu the Anathothite,

4 And Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, a valiant man among thirty, and above the thirty, and Jeremiah, and Jahaziel, and Johanan, and Jozabad the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Jerimoth, and Bealiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite,

6 Elkanah, and Jissiah, and Azarel, and Joezer, Jashobeam of Korah,

7 And Joelah, and Zebadiah the sons of Jeroham of <sup>1</sup>Gedor,

8 And of the Gadites there separated themselves some unto David into the hold of the wilderness, valiant men of war, and men of arms, and apt for battle, which could handle <sup>1</sup>spear and shield, and their faces were like the faces of <sup>2</sup>lions, and were like the roes in the mountains in swiftness,

9 Ezer the chief, Obadiah the second, Eliab the third,

10 <sup>1</sup>Mishmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,

11 Attai the sixth, Eliel the seventh,

12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Jeremiah the tenth, Machbanai the eleventh.

14 These were the sons of Gad, captains of the host: one of the least could resist an hundred, and the greatest a thousand.

15 These are they that went over Jordan in the <sup>1</sup>first month, when he had filled over all his banks, and put to flight all them of the valley, toward the East and the West.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Judah to the hold unto David, 17 And David went out to meet them, and answered and said unto them, If ye be come peaceably unto me to help me, mine heart shall be knit unto you: but if you come to betray me to mine adversaries, seeing there is no wickedness in mine hands, the God of our fathers beheld it, and rebuke it.

18 And the <sup>1</sup>spirit came upon Amasai, which was the chief of thirty, and he said, Thine are we, David, and with thee, O son of Jesse. Peace, peace be unto thee, and peace be unto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then David received them, and made them captains of the garrison.

19 ¶ And of Manasseh, some fell to David, when he came with the Philistines against Saul to battle, but they <sup>1</sup>helped them not: for the Princes of the Philistines <sup>4</sup>by advisement sent him away, saying, He will fall to his master Saul <sup>2</sup>for our heads.

Michael, and Jozabad, and Elihu, and Zillethai, heads of the thousands that were of Manasseh.

21 And they helped David against <sup>1</sup>that band: for they were all valiant men, and were captains in the host.

22 For at that time day by day, there came to David to help him, until it was a great host, like the host of <sup>1</sup>God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captains that were armed to battle, and came to David to Hebron to turn the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Judah that bare shield and <sup>1</sup>spear, were six thousand and eight hundred armed to the war.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of war, seven thousand and an hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi four thousand and six hundred.

27 And Jehoiada was the chief of them of <sup>1</sup>Aaron: and with him three thousand and seven hundred.

28 And Zadok a young man very valiant, and of his father's household came two and twenty captains.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the brethren of Saul three thousand: for a great part of them unto that time <sup>1</sup>kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twenty thousand, and eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the household of their fathers.

31 And of the half tribe of Manasse eighteen thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make David King.

32 And of the children of Issachar which were men that had understanding of the <sup>1</sup>times, to know what Israel ought to do: the heads of them were two hundred, and all their brethren were at their commandment.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battle and were trained in the wars, forty thousand.

37 And of the other side of Jordan of the Reubenites, and of the Gadites, and of the half tribe of Manasseh with all instruments of war to fight with, an hundred and twenty thousand.

38 <sup>1</sup>All these men of war <sup>2</sup>that could lead an army, came with <sup>3</sup>upright heart to Hebron to make David king over all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make David King.

39 And there they were with David three days, eating and drinking: for their <sup>1</sup>brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover, they that were near them until Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali brought bread upon asses, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, even meat, flour, figs, and raisins, and wine and oil, and beeves and sheep abundantly: for there was joy in Israel.

13 <sup>6</sup> The Ark is brought again from Kirjath Jearim to Jerusalem. 10 Uzza dieth because he toucheth it.

1 And David counseled with the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and with all the governors.

2 And David said to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seem good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, we will send to and fro unto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Levites in the cities and their suburbs) that they may assemble themselves unto us.

3 And we will bring again the <sup>1</sup>Ark of our God to us: for we sought not unto it in the days of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let us do so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ <sup>1</sup>So David gathered all Israel together from <sup>1</sup>Shihor in Egypt, even unto the entering of Hamath, to bring the Ark of God from <sup>2</sup>Kirjath Jearim.

6 And David went up and all Israel to <sup>1</sup>Baalh in Kirjath Jearim, that was in Judah, to bring up from thence the Ark of God the Lord that dwelleth between the Cherubims, where his Name is called on.

7 And they carried the Ark of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Uzza and Ahio<sup>1</sup> guided the cart.

8 And David and all Israel played before<sup>1</sup> God with all their might, both with songs and with harps, and with viols, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came unto the threshingfloor of<sup>1</sup> Chidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the Ark, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Uzza, and he smote him, because he laid his hand upon the Ark: so he died there<sup>1</sup> before God.

11 And David was angry, because the Lord had made a breach in Uzza, and he called the name of that place, Perez Uzza unto this day.

12 And David feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring in to me the Ark of God?

13 Therefore David brought not the Ark to him into the city of David, but caused it to turn into the house of<sup>1</sup> Obed-Edom the Gittite.

14 So the Ark of God remained in the house of Obed-Edom, even in his house three months: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed-Edom, and all that he had.

up to seek David. And when David heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistines came, and spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then David asked counsel at God, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines, and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the Lord said unto him, Go up: for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal Perazim, and David smote them there: and David said, God hath divided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are divided: therefore they called the name of that place, <sup>1</sup>Baal Perazim.

12 And there they had left their gods: and David said, Let them even be burnt with fire.

13 Again the Philistines came and spread themselves in the valley.

14 And when David asked again counsel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go up after them, but turn away from them, that thou mayest come upon them over against the mulberry trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the tops of the mulberry trees, then go out to battle: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistines.

16 So David did as God had commanded him: and they smote the host of the Philistines from Gibeon even to Gezer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands: and the Lord brought the fear of him upon all nations.

4 And David assembled the sons of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the sons of Kohath, Uriel the chief, and his <sup>1</sup>brethren six score.

6 Of the sons of Merari, Asaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twenty.

7 Of the sons of Gershom, Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirty.

8 Of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Hebron, Eliel the chief, and his brethren fourscore.

10 Of the sons of Uzziel, Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelve.

11 ¶ And David called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Levites, Uriel, Asaiah and Joel, Shemaiah and Eliel, and Amminadab.

12 And he said unto them, Ye are the chief fathers of the Levites: <sup>1</sup>sanctify yourselves, and your brethren, and bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Israel unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For <sup>2</sup>because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among us: for we sought him not after due <sup>1</sup>order.

14 So the Priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Israel.

15 ¶ And the sons of the Levites bare the Ark of God upon their shoulders with the bars as Moses had commanded, <sup>3</sup>according to the word of the Lord,

16 And David spake to the chief of the Levites, that they should appoint certain of their brethren to sing with <sup>1</sup>instruments of music, with viols and harps, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and lift up their voice with joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the son of Joel, and of his brethren Asaph the son of Berechiah, and of the sons of Merari their brethren, Ethan the son of Kushaiah,

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah with viols on <sup>1</sup>Alamoth, 21 And Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-Edom, and Jeiel, and Azaziah, with harps upon <sup>1</sup>Sheminith Jenazzeah.

22 But Chenaniah the chief of the Levites had the <sup>1</sup>charge bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Ark.

24 And Shebaniah, and Joshaphat and Nethanel and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the Priests did blow with trumpets before the Ark of God, and Obed-Edom and Jehiah were porters <sup>1</sup>for the Ark.

25 <sup>4</sup>So David and the Elders of Israel and the captains of thousands went to bring up the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord from the house of Obed-Edom with joy.

26 And because that God <sup>1</sup>helped the Levites that bare the Ark of the covenant of the Lord, they offered <sup>2</sup>seven bullocks and seven rams.

27 And David had on him a linen garment, as all the Levites that bare the Ark, and the singers, and Chenaniah that had the chief charge of the singers: and upon David was a linen <sup>1</sup>Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought up the Ark of the Lord's covenant with shouting, and sound of cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a sound with viols and with harps.

29 And when the Ark of the <sup>1</sup>covenant of the Lord came into the city of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw king David dancing and playing, and <sup>e</sup>she despised him in her heart.

15:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, kinsmen.

15:8 <sup>1</sup> Who was the son of Uzziel, the fourth son of Kohath, Exod. 6:18, 22; Num. 3:30.

15:9 <sup>1</sup> The third son of Kohath, Exod. 6:18.

15:12 <sup>1</sup> Prepare yourselves and be pure, abstain from all things whereby ye might be polluted, and so not able to come to the Tabernacle.

15:13 <sup>1</sup> According as he hath appointed in the law.

15:16 <sup>1</sup> These instruments and other ceremonies, which they observed, were instructions of their infancy, which continued to the coming of Christ.

15:18 <sup>1</sup> Which were inferior in dignity.

15:20 <sup>1</sup> This was an instrument of music, or a certain tune, whereunto they accustomed to sing Psalms.

15:21 <sup>1</sup> Which was the eighth tune, over the which he that was most excellent had charge.

15:22 <sup>1</sup> To wit, to appoint Psalms, and songs to them that sung.

15:24 <sup>1</sup> With Berechiah and Elkanah, verse 23.

15:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, gave them strength to execute their office.

15:27 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Sam. 6:14.

15:29 <sup>1</sup> It was so called because it put the Israelites in remembrance of the Lord's covenant made with them.

Luke 1:73

Heb. 6:17

1 So "they brought in the Ark of God, and set it in the midst of the Tabernacle that David had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

2 And when David had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he <sup>1</sup>blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to every one of Israel both man and woman, to every one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottle of wine.

4 And he appointed certain of the Levites to minister before the Ark of the Lord, and to <sup>1</sup>rehearse and to thank and praise the Lord God of Israel:

5 Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed-Edom, even Jeiel with instruments, viols, and harps, and Asaph to make a sound with cymbals,

6 And Benaiah and Jahaziel Priests, with trumpets continually before the Ark of the covenant of God.

7 Then at that time David did <sup>1</sup>appoint at the beginning to give thanks to the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

8 <sup>1</sup>Praise the Lord and call upon his Name: declare his <sup>1</sup>works among the people.

9 Sing unto him, sing praise unto him, and talk of all his <sup>1</sup>wonderful works.

10 Rejoice in his holy Name: let the hearts of them that seek the Lord, rejoice.

11 Seek the Lord and his strength: seek his face continually.

12 Remember his marvelous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the <sup>1</sup>judgments of his mouth,

14 He is the Lord our God: his judgments are throughout all the earth.

15 Remember his Covenant forever, and the word, which he commanded to a thousand generations:

16 <sup>1</sup>Which he made with Abraham, and his oath to Isaac:

17 And hath confirmed it to Jacob for a Law, and to Israel for an everlasting Covenant, 18 Saying, To thee will I give the land of Canaan, the <sup>1</sup>lot of your inheritance.

19 When ye were <sup>1</sup>few in number, yea, a very few, and strangers therein,

20 And walked about from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people,

21 He suffered no man to do them wrong, but rebuked <sup>1</sup>Kings for their sakes, saying,

22 Touch not mine <sup>1</sup>anointed, and do my <sup>2</sup>Prophets no harm.

23 <sup>1</sup>Sing unto the Lord all the earth: declare his salvation from day to day.

24 Declare his glory among the nations, and his wonderful works among all people.

25 For the Lord is great and much to be praised, and he is to be feared above all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are <sup>1</sup>idols, but the Lord made the heavens.

27 Praise and glory are before him: power and beauty are in his place.

28 Give unto the Lord, ye families of the people: give unto the Lord glory and power.

29 Give unto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring an offering and come before him, and worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

30 <sup>1</sup>Tremble ye before him all the earth, surely the world shall be, and not move.

31 Let the <sup>1</sup>heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the sea roar, and all that therein is: let the field be joyful and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood then rejoice at the presence of the Lord: for he cometh to <sup>1</sup>judge the earth.

34 Praise the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever.

35 And say ye, Save us, O God, our salvation, and gather us, and deliver us from the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and <sup>1</sup>glory in thy praise.

16:2 <sup>1</sup> He called upon the Name of God, desiring him to prosper the people, and give good success to their beginnings.

16:4 <sup>1</sup> To wit, God's benefits toward his people.

16:7 <sup>1</sup> David gave them this Psalm to praise the Lord, signifying, that in all our enterprises the Name of God ought to be praised and called upon.

16:8 <sup>1</sup> Whereof this is the chiefest, that he hath chosen himself a Church to call upon his Name.

16:9 <sup>1</sup> Who of his wonderful providence hath chosen a few of the stock of Abraham to be his children.

16:12 <sup>1</sup> In overcoming Pharaoh, which judgments were declared by God's mouth to Moses.

16:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning hereby that the promise of adoption only appertaineth to the Church.

16:18 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, cord, whereby parcels of land were measured.

16:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, from the time that Abraham entered, unto the time that Jacob went into Egypt for famine.

16:21 <sup>1</sup> As Pharaoh and Abimelech.

16:22 <sup>1</sup> Mine elect people and them whom I have sanctified.

16:26 <sup>1</sup> His strong faith appeareth herein, though all the world would follow idols, yet he would cleave to the living God.

16:30 <sup>1</sup> Humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God.

16:31 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth the dumb creatures to rejoice with him in considering the greatness of the grace of God.

16:33 <sup>1</sup> To restore all things to their estate.

16:35 <sup>1</sup> He esteemeth this to be the chiefest felicity of man.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel forever and ever: and let all people say, <sup>1</sup>So be it, and praise the Lord.

37 ¶ Then he left there before the Ark of the Lord's Covenant Asaph and his brethren to minister continually before the Ark, that which was to be done every day:

38 And Obed-Edom and his brethren, threescore and eight: and Obed-Edom the son of Jeduthun, and Hosah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priests were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the high place that was at Gibeon,

40 To offer burnt offerings unto the Lord, upon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the evening, even according unto all that is written in the Law of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

41 And with <sup>1</sup>them were Heman, and Jeduthun, and the rest that were chosen (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord, because his mercy endureth forever.

42 Even with them were Heman and Jeduthun, to make a sound with the cornets and with the cymbals, with excellent instruments of music: and the sons of Jeduthun were at the gate.

43 And all the people departed, every man to his house: and David returned to <sup>1</sup>bless his house.

2 Then Nathan said to David, Do <sup>1</sup>all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same <sup>1</sup>night even the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go, and tell David my servant, Thus saith the

<sup>a</sup> 2 Sam. 7.2

Lord, Thou shalt not build me an house to dwell in:

5 For I have dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel unto this day, but I have been from tent to <sup>1</sup>tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefore I have <sup>1</sup>walked with all Israel, spake I one word to any of the Judges of Israel (whom I commanded to feed my people) saying, Why have ye not built me an house of cedar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say unto my servant David, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I took thee from the sheepcote <sup>1</sup>and from following the sheep, that thou shouldst be a prince over my people Israel.

8 And I have been with thee whithersoever thou hast walked, and have destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and have <sup>1</sup>made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 (Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will <sup>1</sup>plant it, that they may dwell in their place, and move no more: neither shall the <sup>2</sup>wicked people <sup>3</sup>vex them anymore, as at the beginning.

10 And since the time that I commanded judges over my people Israel) And I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say unto thee, that the Lord will <sup>1</sup>build thee an house.

11 And when thy days shall be fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then will I raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sons, and will establish his kingdom.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will establish his throne <sup>1</sup>forever.

13 I will be his father, and he shall be my son, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before <sup>1</sup>thee.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdom forever, and his throne shall be established forever, 15 According to all these words, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to David.

16 ¶ And David the king <sup>1</sup>went in and <sup>2</sup>sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me <sup>3</sup>hitherto?

16:36 <sup>1</sup> He willeth all the people both in heart and mouth to consent to these praises.

16:41 <sup>1</sup> With Zadok and the rest of the Priests.

16:43 <sup>1</sup> Declaring that after our duty to God we are chiefly bound to our own house, for the which as for all other things we ought to pray unto God, and instruct our families to praise his Name.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> As yet God had not revealed to the Prophet what he purposed concerning David: therefore seeing God favored David, he spake what he thought.

17:3 <sup>1</sup> After that Nathan had spoken to David.

17:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, in a tent which removed to and fro.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, wheresoever his Ark went, which was a sign of his presence.

17:7 <sup>1</sup> Of a shepherd of sheep I made thee a shepherd of men: so that thou camest not to this dignity through thine own merits, but by my pure grace.

17:8 <sup>1</sup> Or, gotten thee fame.

17:9 <sup>1</sup> Make them sure that they shall not remove.

17:10 <sup>1</sup> Will give thee great posterity.

17:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, unto the coming of Christ: for then these figures should cease.

17:13 <sup>1</sup> Which was Saul.

17:16 <sup>1</sup> He went into the tent where the Ark was, showing what we ought to do when we receive any benefits of the Lord.

CHAPTER 18

Jer. 52:20

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy servant for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of <sup>1</sup>high degree, O Lord God.

18 What can David desire more of thee for the honor of thy servant? for thou knowest thy servant.

19 O Lord, for thy servant's sake, even according to thine <sup>1</sup>heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 Moreover what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeem them to be his people, and to make thyself a Name, and to do great and terrible things by casting out Nations from before thy people, whom thou hast delivered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordained thy people Israel to be thine own people forever, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant, and concerning his house, be confirmed forever, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name be stable and magnified forever, that it may be said, The Lord of hosts, God of Israel, is the God of <sup>1</sup>Israel, and let the house of David thy servant be established before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast <sup>1</sup>revealed unto the ear of thy servant, that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy servant hath <sup>2</sup>been bold to pray before thee.

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art <sup>1</sup>God, and hast spoken this goodness unto thy servant.)

27 Now therefore it hath pleased thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may be before thee forever: for thou, O Lord, hast blessed it, and it shall be blessed forever.

1 And after this, David smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and took <sup>1</sup>Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistines.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became David's servants, and <sup>1</sup>brought gifts.

3 ¶ And David smote <sup>1</sup>Hadadezer King of Zobah unto Hamath, as he went to establish his border by the river <sup>2</sup>Perath.

4 And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen, and <sup>a</sup>destroyed all the chariots, but he reserved of them an hundred chariots.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succor Hadadezer king of Zobah, but David slew of the Aramites two and twenty thousand.

6 And David put a garrison in Aram of <sup>1</sup>Damascus, and the Aramites became David's servants, and brought gifts: and the Lord <sup>2</sup>preserved David wheresoever he went.

7 And David took the shields of gold that were of the servants of Hadadezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 And from <sup>1</sup>Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadadezer) brought David exceeding much brass, wherewith Solomon made the brazen <sup>a</sup>Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brass.

9 ¶ Then Tou King of Hamath heard how David had smitten all the host of Hadadezer king of Zobah:

10 Therefore he sent <sup>1</sup>Hadoram his son to king David, to salute him, and to rejoice with him, because he had fought against Hadadezer, and beaten him (for Tou had war with Hadadezer) who brought all vessels of gold and silver and brass.

11 And king David did dedicate them unto the Lord, with the silver and gold that he brought from all the nations, from <sup>1</sup>Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

12 ¶ And Abishai the son of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley <sup>1</sup>eighteen thousand,

13 And he put a garrison in Edom, and all the Edomites became David's servants: and the Lord preserved David wheresoever he went.

14 So David reigned over all Israel, and executed

17:17 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast promised a kingdom that shall continue to me and my posterity, and that Christ shall proceed of me.

17:19 <sup>1</sup> Freely and according to the purpose of thy will, without any deserving.

17:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, he showeth himself in deed to be their God, by delivering them from dangers, and preserving them.

17:25 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast declared unto me by Nathan the Prophet.

18:8 <sup>1</sup> Which in 2 Sam. 8:8, are called Betah and Berothai.

18:10 <sup>1</sup> Called also Joram, 2 Sam. 8:10.

18:11 <sup>1</sup> Because the Edomites and the Syrians joined their power together, it is said, 2 Sam. 8:12, that the Aramites were spoiled.

judgment and justice to all his people.

15 And Joab the son of Zeruiah was over the host, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud Recorder,

16 And Zadok the son of Ahitub, and Abimelech the son of Abiathar were the Priests, and <sup>1</sup>Shavsha the Scribe, 17 And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the <sup>1</sup>Cherethites and the Pelethites: and the sons of David were chief about the King.

19 <sup>4</sup>Hanun King of the children of Ammon doeth great injuries to the servants of David. <sup>6</sup>He prepareth an army against David, <sup>15</sup>and is overcome.

1 After this also <sup>4</sup>Nahash the king of the children of Ammon died, and his son reigned in his stead.

2 And David said, I will show kindness unto Hanun the son of Nahash, because his <sup>1</sup>father showed kindness unto me. And David sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun, to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanun, Thinkest thou that David doth honor thy father, that he hath sent comforters unto thee? Are not his servants come to thee to <sup>1</sup>search, to seek and to spy out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun took David's servants, and <sup>1</sup>shaved them, and cut off their <sup>2</sup>garments by the half unto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certain and told David concerning the men: and he sent to meet them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King said, Tarry at Jericho, until your beards be grown: then return.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon saw that they <sup>1</sup>stank in the sight of David, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of silver, to hire them chariots and horsemen out <sup>6</sup>of Aram Naharaim, and out of Aram Maacah, and out of <sup>2</sup>Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirty thousand chariots, and the king of Maacah and his people, which came and pitched before <sup>1</sup>Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to the battle.

8 ¶ And when David heard it, he sent Joab and all the host of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battle in array at the gate of the city. And the kings that were come, were by themselves in the field.

10 When Joab saw that the front of the battle was against him before and behind, then he chose out of all the choice of Israel, and set himself in array to meet the Aramites.

11 And the rest of the people he delivered unto the hand of Abishai his brother, and they put themselves in array against the children of Ammon.

12 And he said, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succor me: and if the children of Ammon prevail against thee, then I will succor thee.

13 Be strong, and let us show ourselves valiant for our <sup>1</sup>people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his own sight.

14 So Joab and the people that was with him, came near before the Aramites unto the battle, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishai his brother, and entered into the city: so Joab came to Jerusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Aramites saw that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers, and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyond the <sup>1</sup>river: and Shophach the captain of the host of Hadadezer went before them.

17 And when it was showed David, he gathered all Israel, and went over Jordan, and came unto them, and put himself in array against them: And when David had put himself in battle array to meet the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, and David destroyed of the Aramites <sup>1</sup>seven thousand chariots, and forty thousand footmen, and killed Shophach the captain of the host.

19 And when the servants of Hadadezer saw that they fell before Israel, they made peace with David, and served him. And the Aramites would no more succor the children of Ammon.

19:2 <sup>1</sup> Because Nahash received David and his company, when Saul persecuted him he would now show pleasure to his son for the same.

19:3 <sup>1</sup> Thus the malicious ever interpret the purpose of the godly in the worst sense.

19:4 <sup>1</sup> They shaved off the half of their beards, 2 Sam. 10:4.

<sup>2</sup> To put them to shame and villainy, whereas the ambassadors ought to have been honored: and because the Jews used to wear side garments and beards, they thus disfigured them, to make them odious to others.

19:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, had made themselves to be abhorred of David.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city of the tribe of Reuben beyond Jordan.

19:13 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that where the cause is evil, the courage cannot be valiant, and that in good causes men ought to be courageous, and commit the success to God.

19:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, Euphrates.

19:18 <sup>1</sup> For this place, read 2 Sam. 10:18.

1 And "when the year was expired, in the time that kings go out a warfare, Joab carried out the strength of the army, and destroyed the country of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged <sup>1</sup>Rabbah (but David tarried at Jerusalem) and Joab smote Rabbah, and destroyed it.

2 <sup>b</sup>Then David took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it the weight of a <sup>1</sup>talent of gold with precious stones in it: and it was set on David's head, and he brought away the spoil of the city exceeding much.

3 And he carried away the people that were in it, and cut them with saws, and with harrows of iron, and with axes: even thus did David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then David and all the people came again to Jerusalem.

4 ¶ And after this also there arose war at <sup>1</sup>Gezer with the Philistines: then Sibbechai the Hushathite slew <sup>2</sup>Sippai of the children of <sup>3</sup>Haraphah, and they were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battle with the Philistines: and Elhanan the son of Jair slew <sup>1</sup>Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose spear staff was like a weaver's beam.

6 And yet again there was a battle at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by <sup>1</sup>sixes, even four and twenty, and was also the son of Haraphah.

7 And when he reviled Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimea David's brother did slay him.

8 These were born unto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of David, and by the hands of his servants.

21 <sup>1</sup> David causeth the people to be numbered, <sup>14</sup> and there dieth seventy thousand men of the pestilence.

1 And <sup>1</sup>Satan stood up against Israel, and provoked David to number Israel.

2 Therefore David said to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, and number Israel from <sup>1</sup>Beersheba even to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Joab answered, The Lord increased his people an hundred times so many as they be, O my lord the king: are they not all my lord's servants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of <sup>1</sup>trespass to Israel?

4 Nevertheless, the king's word prevailed against Joab. And Joab departed and went through all Israel, and returned to Jerusalem.

5 And Joab gave the number and sum of the people unto David: and all Israel were <sup>1</sup>eleven hundred thousand men that drew sword: and Judah was <sup>2</sup>four hundred and seventy thousand men that drew sword.

6 But the Levites and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the King's word was abominable to Joab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.

8 Then David said unto God, I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remove the iniquity of thy servant: for I have done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake unto Gad David's <sup>1</sup>Seer, saying,

10 Go and tell David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

11 So Gad came to David, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee,

12 Either three years famine, or three months to be destroyed before thine adversaries, and the sword of thine enemies <sup>1</sup>to take thee, or else the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the land three days, that the Angel of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coasts of Israel: now therefore advise thee, what word I shall bring again to him that sent me.

13 And David said unto Gad, I am in a wonderful strait, let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceedingly great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Jerusalem to destroy it. And <sup>1</sup>as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and <sup>2</sup>repented of the evil, and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing

16 And David lifted up his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord stand between the earth and the heaven, with his sword drawn in his hand and stretched out toward Jerusalem. Then David and the Elders of Israel which were clothed in sack, fell upon their faces.

17 And David said unto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is even I that have sinned and have committed evil, but these sheep, what have they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me and on my father's house, and not on <sup>1</sup>thy people for their destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to David, that David should go up, and set up an altar unto the Lord in the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

19 So David went up according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about and saw the Angel, and his four sons that were with him, <sup>1</sup>hid themselves, and Ornan threshed wheat.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and went out of the threshing floor, and bowed himself to David with his face to the ground.

22 And David said to Ornan, Give me the place of thy threshing floor, that I may build an <sup>1</sup>altar therein unto the Lord: give it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornan said unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which seemeth him good: lo, I give thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheat for meat offering, I give it all.

24 And King David said to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it for sufficient <sup>1</sup>money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So David gave to Ornan for that place <sup>1</sup>six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26 And David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called upon the Lord, and he <sup>1</sup>answered him by fire from heaven upon the altar of burnt offering.

28 At that time when David saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.

2 And David commanded to gather together the <sup>1</sup>strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 David also prepared <sup>1</sup>much iron for the nails of the doors and of the gates, and for the joinings, and abundance of brass passing weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Sidonians and they of Tyre brought much cedar wood to David.

5 And David said, Solomon my son is young and tender, and we must build an house for the Lord, magnificent, excellent and of great fame and dignity throughout all countries: I will therefore now prepare for him. So David prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Solomon his son, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And David said to Solomon, "My son, I purposed with myself to build an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

1 So when David was old and full of days, <sup>4</sup>he made Solomon his son King over Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priests and the Levites.

3 And the Levites were numbered from the age of thirty years and above, and their number according to their sum was eight and thirty thousand men.

4 Of these four and twenty thousand were set to <sup>1</sup>advance the work of the house of the Lord, and six thousand were overseers and judges.

5 And four thousand were porters, and four thousand praised the Lord with instruments which <sup>1</sup>he made to praise the Lord.

6 <sup>b</sup>So David divided offices unto them, to wit, to the sons of Levi, to <sup>6</sup>Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites were <sup>1</sup>Laadan and Shimei.

8 The sons of Laadan, the chief was Jehiel, and Zetham and Joel, three.

9 The Sons of Shimei, Shelomith, and Haziël, and Haran, three: these were the chief fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sons of Shimei were Jahath, Zina, Jeush, and Beriah: these four were the sons of Shimei.

11 And Jahath was the chief, and <sup>1</sup>Zizah the second, but Jeush and Beriah had not many sons: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel, four.

13 <sup>d</sup>The sons of Amram, Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was separated to <sup>1</sup>sanctify the most holy place, he and his sons forever to burn incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to bless in his Name forever.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God and his children were named with the <sup>1</sup>tribe of Levi.

15 The sons of Moses were Gershon, and Eliezer.

16 Of the sons of <sup>6</sup>Gershon was Shebuel the chief.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> This declareth how greatly God detesteth the shedding of blood, seeing David for this cause is stayed to build the Temple of the Lord, albeit he enterprised no war, but by God's commandment and against his enemies.

17 And the son of Eliezer was Rehabiah the <sup>1</sup>chief; for Eliezer had none other sons: but the sons of Rehabiah were very many.

18 The son of Izhar was Shelomith the chief.

19 The sons of Hebron were Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

20 The sons of Uzziel were Michah the first, and Jesshiah the second.

21 ¶ The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sons of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sons, but daughters, and their <sup>1</sup>brethren the sons of Kish took them.

23 The sons of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three.

24 These were the sons of Levi according to the house of their fathers, even the chief fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their sum that did the work for the service of the house of the Lord from the age of <sup>1</sup>twenty years and above.

25 For David said, The Lord God of Israel hath given rest unto his people, that they may dwell in Jerusalem forever.

26 And also the Levites shall no more bear the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the service thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last words of David, the Levites were numbered from twenty years and above,

28 And their office was under the hand of the sons of Aaron, for the service of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, and in the <sup>1</sup>purifying of all holy things, and in the work of the service of the house of God,

29 Both for the showbread, and for the fine flour, for the meat offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for the fried things, and for that which was roasted, and for all measures and size,

30 And for to stand every morning, to give thanks and praise to the Lord, and likewise at even,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings unto the Lord in the Sabbaths, in the months, and at the appointed times, according to the number and according to their custom, continually before the Lord,

32 And that they should keep the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the sons of Aaron their brethren in the service of the house of the Lord.

Num. 3:4

24 <sup>3</sup> David assigneth offices to the sons of Aaron.

1 These are also the <sup>a</sup>divisions of the sons of Aaron: The sons of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died <sup>1</sup>before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priest's office.

3 And David distributed them, even Zadok of the <sup>1</sup>sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministrations.

4 And there were found more of the sons of Eleazar by the <sup>1</sup>number of men, than of the sons of Ithamar, and they divided them, to wit, among the sons of Eleazar, sixteen heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sons of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuary and the rulers of the house of God were of the sons of Eleazar, and of the sons of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the son of Nethanel the Scribe of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, and Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and before the chief fathers of the Priests and of the Levites, one family being reserved for Eleazar, and another reserved for Ithamar.

7 And the first <sup>1</sup>lot fell to Jehoiarib, and the second to Jedaiah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,

10 The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to <sup>1</sup>Abijah,

11 The ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

15 The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happpizez,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezkeel,

17 The one and twenty to Jachin, the two and twenty to Gamul,

18 The three and twenty to Delaiah, the four and twenty to Maaziah.

19 These were their orders according to their offices, when they entered into the house of the Lord according to their custom under <sup>1</sup>the hand of 23:24 <sup>1</sup> David did choose the Levites twice, first at the age of thirty, as verse 3 and again afterward at 20, as the necessity of the office did require: at the beginning they had no charge in the Temple, before they were five and twenty years old, and had none after fifty, Num. 4:3.

24:10 <sup>1</sup> Zacharias the father of John the Baptist was of this course or lot of Abija, Luke 1:5.

24:19 <sup>1</sup> By the dignity that God gave to Aaron.

Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

20 ¶ And of the sons of Levi that remained of the sons of Amram, was Shubael, of the sons of Shubael, Jehdeiah,

21 Of Rehabiah, even of the sons of Rehabiah, the first Isshiah,

22 Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the sons of Shelomoth, Jahath,

23 And his sons, Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth,

24 The son of Uzziel was Michah, the son of Michah was Shamir,

25 The brother of Michah was Isshiah, the son of Isshiah, Zechariah,

26 The sons of Merari, were Mahli and Mushi, the son of Jaaziah was Beno, 27 The sons of Merari, of Jaaziah were Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sons.

29 Of Kish: the son of Kish was Jerahmeel,

30 And the sons of <sup>1</sup>Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth: these were sons of the Levites after the household of their fathers.

31 And these also cast <sup>1</sup>lots with their brethren the sons of Aaron before King David, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chief fathers of the Priests, and of the Levites, even the chief of the families against their younger brethren.

25 The singers are appointed with their places and lots.

1 So David and the captains of the army <sup>1</sup>separated for the ministry the sons of Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun, who should sing prophesies with harps, with viols, and with cymbals, and their number was even of the men for the office of their ministry, to wit,

2 Of the sons of Asaph, Zaccur, and Joseph, and Nethaniah, and Asharelah the sons of Asaph were under the hand of Asaph, which sang prophesies by the <sup>1</sup>commission of the King.

3 Of Jeduthun, the sons of Jeduthun, Gedaliah, and Zeri, and Jeshaiah, Hashabiah and Mattithiah, <sup>1</sup>six, under the hands of their father: Jeduthun sang <sup>2</sup>prophesies with an harp, for to give thanks and to praise the Lord.

4 Of Heman, the sons of Heman, Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamti-Ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

5 All these were the sons of Heman, the King's <sup>1</sup>Seer in the words of God to lift up the <sup>2</sup>horn: and God gave to Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

6 All these were under the <sup>1</sup>hand of their father singing in the house of the Lord with cymbals, viols and harps, for the service of the house of God, and Asaph, and Jeduthun, and Heman were at the King's <sup>2</sup>commandment.

7 So was their number with their brethren that were instructed in the songs of the Lord, even of all that were cunning, two hundred fourscore and eight.

8 And they cast lots, <sup>1</sup>charge against charge, as well <sup>2</sup>small as great, the cunning man as the scholar.

9 And the first lot fell to <sup>1</sup>Joseph, which was of Asaph, the second, to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and his sons were twelve.

10 The third, to Zaccur, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve.

11 The fourth, to <sup>1</sup>Jizri, he, his sons and his brethren twelve.

12 The fifth, to Nethaniah, he, his sons and his brethren twelve.

13 The sixth, to Bukkiah, he, his sons and his brethren twelve.

14 The seventh, to Jesharelah, he, his sons and his brethren twelve.

23 The sixteenth to Hananiah, he, his sons and

26 <sup>1</sup> The porters of the Temple are ordained, every man to the gate, which he should keep, 20 and over the treasure.

1 Concerning the <sup>1</sup>divisions of the porters, of the Korahites, Meshelemiah the son of Kore of the sons of <sup>2</sup>Asaph.

2 And the sons of Meshelemiah, Zechariah the eldest, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, and Eliehoenai the seventh.

4 And the sons of Obed-Edom, Shemaiah the eldest, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethanel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God had <sup>1</sup>blessed him.

6 And to Shemaiah his son were sons born that <sup>1</sup>ruled in the house of their father, for they were men of might.

7 The sons of Shemaiah were Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, and his brethren, strong men: Elihu also, and Semachiah.

8 All these were of the <sup>1</sup>sons of Obed-Edom, they and their sons and their brethren mighty and <sup>2</sup>strong to serve, even threescore and two of Obed-Edom.

9 And of Meshelemiah sons and brethren, eighteen mighty men.

10 And of Hosah of the sons of Merari, the sons were Shimri the chief, and (though he was not the eldest, yet his father made him the chief)

11 Hilkiyah the second, Tebaliah the third, and Zechariah the fourth: all the <sup>1</sup>sons and the brethren of Hosah were thirteen.

12 Of these were the <sup>1</sup>divisions of the porters, of the chief men, having the charge <sup>2</sup>against their brethren, to serve in the house of the Lord.

13 And they cast lots both small and great, for the house of their fathers, for every gate.

14 And the lot on the East side fell to <sup>1</sup>Shelemiah: then they cast lots for Zechariah his son a <sup>2</sup>wise counselor, and his lot came out Northward:

15 To Obed-Edom Southward, and to his sons the house of <sup>1</sup>Asuphim:

16 To Shuphim and to Hosah Westward with the gate <sup>1</sup>of Shallecheth by the paved street that goeth upward, ward over against ward.

17 Eastward were six Levites, and Northward four a day, and Southward four a day, and toward Asuphim <sup>1</sup>two and two.

18 In <sup>1</sup>Parbar toward the West were four by the paved street, and two in Parbar.

19 These are the divisions of the porters of the sons of Korah, and of the sons of Merari.

20 ¶ And of the Levites. Ahijah was over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the dedicate things.

21 Of the sons of Laadan the sons of the Gershonites descending of Laadan, the chief fathers of Laadan were Gershon and Jehieli.

22 The sons of Jehieli were Zetham and Joel his brother, appointed over the treasures of the house of the Lord.

23 Of the <sup>1</sup>Amramites, of the Izharites, of the Hebronites, and of the Uzzielites.

24 And Shebuel the son of Gershon, the son of Moses, a ruler over the treasures.

28 And all that Samuel the Seer had dedicated, and Saul the son of Kish, and Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruah, and whosoever had dedicated anything, it was under the hand of Shelomith, and his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites was Chenaniah and his sons, for the business <sup>1</sup>without over Israel, for officers and for Judges.

30 Of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, men of activity, a thousand and seven hundred were officers for Israel beyond Jordan Westward in all the business of the Lord, and for the service of <sup>1</sup>the King.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jerijah the chiefest, even the Hebronites by his generations according to the families. And in the fortieth year of the reign of David they were sought for: and there were found among them men of activity at Jazer in Gilead.

32 And his <sup>1</sup>brethren men of activity, two thousand and seven hundred chief fathers, whom King David made rulers over the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh, for every matter pertaining to <sup>2</sup>God, and for the king's business.

8 The fifth for the fifth month was prince Shambuth the Izrahite: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

9 The sixth for the sixth month was Ira the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

10 The seventh for the seventh month was Helez the Pelonite, of the sons of Ephraim: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

11 The eight for the eighth month was Sibbechai the Hushathite of the Zarahites: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

12 The ninth for the ninth month was Abiezer the Anathothite of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Jemini: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

13 The tenth for the tenth month was Maharai the Netophathite of the Zarahites: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

14 The eleventh for the eleventh month was Benaiah the Pirathonite of the sons of Ephraim: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

15 The twelfth for the twelfth month was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel: and in his course four and twenty thousand.

16 ¶ Moreover <sup>1</sup>the rulers over the tribes of Israel were these: over the Reubenites was ruler, Eliezer the son of Zichri: over the Simeonites, Shephatiah the son of Maachah:

17 Over the Levites, Hashabiah the son of Kemuel: over them of Aaron, and Zadok:

18 Over Judah, Elihu of the brethren of David: over Issachar, Omri the son of Michael:

19 Over Zebulun, Ishmaiah the son of Obadiah: over Naphtali, Jerimoth the son of Azriel:

20 Over the sons of Ephraim, Hoshea the son of Azaziah: over the half tribe of Manasseh, Joel the son of Pedaiah:

21 Over the <sup>1</sup>other half of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo the son of Zechariah: over Benjamin, Jaasiel the son of Abner:

2 And King David stood up upon his feet, and said, Hear ye me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to have built an house of <sup>1</sup>rest for the Ark of the covenant of the Lord, and for a "footstool of our God, and have made ready for the building,

3 But God said unto me, <sup>b</sup>Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast been a man of war, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be King over Israel forever (for in Judah would he choose a prince, and of the house of <sup>1</sup>Judah is the house of my father, and among the sons of my father he delighted in me to make me king over all Israel)

5 So of all my sons (for the Lord hath given me many sons) he hath even chosen Solomon my son to sit upon the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Israel.

6 And he said unto me, Solomon thy son, he shall build mine house and my courts: for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his father.

7 I will establish therefore his kingdom forever, if he endeavor himself to do my commandments, and my judgments, as <sup>1</sup>this day.

29 2 The offering of David and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 David giveth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to do the same. 22 Solomon is created king. 28 David dieth, and Solomon his son reigneth in his stead.

1 Moreover, David the King said unto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Solomon mine only son, young and tender, and the work is great: for this house is not for man, but for the <sup>1</sup>Lord God.

3 Moreover, because I have <sup>1</sup>delight in the house of my God, I have of mine own gold and silver, which I have given to the house of my God, beside all that I have prepared for the house of the Sanctuary,

4 Even <sup>1</sup>three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir, and seven thousand talents of fined silver to overlay the walls of the houses.

5 The gold for the things of gold, and the silver for <sup>1</sup>things of silver, and for all the work by the hands of artificers: and who is <sup>1</sup>willing <sup>2</sup>to fill his hand today unto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captains of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the king's work, offered willingly,

7 And they gave for the service of the house of God, five thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eighteen thousand talents of brass, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were <sup>1</sup>found, gave them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Jehiel the Gershonite.

9 And the people rejoiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly unto the Lord, with a <sup>1</sup>perfect heart. And David the king also <sup>a</sup>rejoiced with great joy.

10 Therefore David blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and David said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of <sup>1</sup>Israel our father, forever and ever.

28:19 <sup>1</sup> For all this was left in writing in the book of the Law, Exod. 25:40, which book the king was bound to put in execution, Deut. 17:19.

28:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, everyone will be ready to help thee with those gifts that God hath given him.

29:5 <sup>1</sup> He was not only liberal himself, but provoked others to set forth the works of God.

29:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, them that had any.

29:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, with a good courage and without hypocrisy.

29:10 <sup>1</sup> Which didst reveal thyself to our father Jacob.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatness and power, and glory and victory, and praise: for all that is in heaven and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou excellest as head over all.

12 Both riches and honor come of thee, and thou reignest over all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things <sup>1</sup>come of thee: and of thine own hand we have given thee.

15 For we are <sup>1</sup>strangers before thee, and sojourners like all our fathers: our days are like the shadow upon the earth, and there is none <sup>2</sup>abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we have prepared to build thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand, and all is thine.

17 I know also my God, that thou <sup>h</sup>triest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousness: I have offered willingly in the uprightness of mine heart all these things: now also have I seen thy people which are found here, to offer unto thee willingly with joy.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel our fathers, keep this forever in the <sup>1</sup>purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts unto thee.

19 And give unto Solomon my son a perfect heart to keep thy commandments, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to build the house which I have prepared.

20 ¶ And David said to all the congregation, Now bless the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worshipped the Lord and the <sup>1</sup>king.

21 And they offered sacrifices unto the Lord, and on the morrow after that day, they offered burnt offerings unto the Lord, even a thousand young bullocks, a thousand rams, and a thousand sheep, with their <sup>1</sup>drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eat and drink before the Lord the same day with great joy, and they made Solomon the son of David king the second time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the high Priest.

23 So Solomon sat on the <sup>1</sup>throne of the Lord, as king instead of David his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sons of king David <sup>1</sup>submitted themselves under king Solomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Solomon in dignity, in the sight of all Israel, and gave him so glorious a kingdom, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 ¶ <sup>c</sup>Thus David the son of Jesse reigned over all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned over Israel, was forty years: seven years reigned he in Hebron, and three and thirty years reigned he in Jerusalem:

28 And he died in a good age, full of days, riches and honor, and Solomon his son reigned in his stead.

29 Concerning the acts of David the king, first and last, behold they are written in the book of Samuel the Seer, and in the book of <sup>1</sup>Nathan the Prophet, and in the book of Gad the Seer, 30 With all his reign and his power, and <sup>1</sup>times that went over him, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the earth.

29:14 <sup>1</sup> We gave thee nothing of our own, but that which we have received of thee: for whether the gifts be corporal or spiritual, we receive them all of God, and therefore must give him the glory.

29:15 <sup>1</sup> And therefore have this land but lent to us for a time.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE CHRONICLES

1 Then Solomon the son of David was <sup>1</sup>confirmed in his kingdom: and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Solomon <sup>1</sup>spake unto all Israel, to the captains of thousands, and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to all the governors in all Israel, even the chief fathers.

3 So Solomon and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at <sup>1</sup>Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle <sup>2</sup>of the Congregation of God which Moses the servant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Ark of God had David brought up from Kirjath Jearim, when David had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

5 Moreover, the <sup>1</sup>brazen altar <sup>a</sup>that Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Solomon offered there before the Lord upon the brazen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: <sup>b</sup>even a thousand burnt offerings offered he upon it.

7 ¶ The same night did God appear unto Solomon, and said unto him, Ask what I shall give thee.

8 And Solomon said unto God, Thou hast showed great mercy unto David my father, and hast made me to reign in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise unto David my father be <sup>1</sup>true: for thou hast made me King over a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may <sup>1</sup>go out and go in before this people: for who can judge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honor, nor the <sup>1</sup>lives of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom and knowledge, that thou mightest judge my people, over whom I have made thee King,

12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted unto thee, and I will give thee riches and treasures and honor, so that there hath not been the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Solomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, to Jerusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned over Israel.

14 ¶ And Solomon gathered the chariots and horsemen: and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the <sup>1</sup>chariot cities, and with the King at Jerusalem.

15 And the king gave gold and silver at Jerusalem as <sup>1</sup>stone, and gave cedar trees as the wild fig trees, that are abundantly in the plain.

16 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and <sup>d</sup>fine linen: <sup>1</sup>the King's merchants received the fine linen for a price.

17 They came up also and brought out of Egypt some chariot, worth six hundred shekels of silver, that is an horse for an hundred and fifty: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the kings of Aram by their <sup>1</sup>means.

2 And Solomon told out seventy thousand that bare burdens, and fourscore thousand men to hew stones in the mountain, and three thousand and <sup>1</sup>six hundred to oversee them.

3 And Solomon sent to <sup>1</sup>Huram the king of Tyre, saying, As thou hast done to David my father, and didst <sup>a</sup>send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in so do to me.

4 Behold, I build an house unto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctify it unto him, and to burn sweet incense before him, and for the continual showbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath days, and in the new months, and in the solemn feasts of the Lord our God: this is a perpetual thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 Who is he then that can be able to build him an house, when the heaven and the heaven of heavens can not contain him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I do it to burn <sup>1</sup>incense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can work in gold, in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in purple, and in <sup>1</sup>crimson and blue silk, and that can grave in graven work with the cunning men that are with me in Judah and in Jerusalem, whom David my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also cedar trees, fir trees and <sup>1,2</sup>Al-gummim trees from Lebanon: for I know that thy servants can skill to hew timber in Lebanon: and behold, my servants shall be with thine,

9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I do build, is great and wonderful.

10 And behold, I will give to thy servants the cutters and the hewers of timber twenty thousand <sup>1</sup>measures of beaten wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty <sup>2</sup>thousand baths of oil.

11 Then Hiram king of Tyre answered in writing which he sent to Solomon, Because the Lord hath loved his people, he hath made thee King over them.

CHAPTER 2

12 Hiram said moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heaven and the earth, and that hath given unto David the King a <sup>1</sup>wise son, that hath discretion, prudence and understanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdom.

13 Now therefore I have sent a wise man, and of understanding of my father Hiram's, 14 The son of a woman, of the <sup>1</sup>daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyre, and he can skill to work in gold, in silver, in brass, in iron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silk, and in fine linen, and in crimson, and can grave in all graven works, and broider in all broidered work that shall be given him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat and the barley, the oil and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send unto his servants.

16 And we will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt need, and will bring it to thee in <sup>1</sup>rafts by the sea to <sup>2</sup>Japho, so thou mayest carry them to Jerusalem.

17 ¶ And Solomon numbered all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering that his father David had numbered them: and they were found an hundred and three and fifty thousand, and six hundred.

18 And he set seventy thousand of them to the burden, and fourscore thousand to hew stones in the mountain, and three thousand and six hundred overseers to cause the people to work.

3 <sup>1</sup> The Temple of the Lord, and the porch are built, with other things thereto belonging.

1 So <sup>a</sup>Solomon began to build the house of the Lord in Jerusalem, in mount <sup>1</sup>Moriah which had been declared unto David his father, in the place that David prepared in the threshing floor of <sup>b</sup>Ornan the Jebusite.

2 And he began to build in the second month and the second day, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 And these are the measures whereon Solomon grounded to build the house of God: the length of cubits after the first <sup>1</sup>measure was threescore cubits,

2:2 <sup>1</sup> Which is to be understood of all sorts of officers and overseers: for else the chief officers were but 3300, as in 1 Kings 5:16.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, Hiram.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, to do the service which he hath commanded, signifying that none is able to honor and serve God in that perfection as his majesty deserveth.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, scarlet.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> Some take it for Brasil, or the wood called Ebenum, others for coral.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, Corins.

<sup>2</sup> Of Bath read 1 Kings 7:26, it is called also Ephah, but Ephah is to measure dry things, as Bath is a measure for liquors.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> The very heavens confessed that it was a singular gift of God, when he gave to any nation a King that was wise and of understanding, albeit it appeareth that this Hiram had the true knowledge of God.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> It is also written that she was of the tribe of Naphtali, 1 Kings 7:14, which may be understood that by reason of the confusion of tribes, which then began to be, they married in divers tribes, so that by her father she might be of Dan, and by her mother of Naphtali.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, ships.

and the breadth twenty cubits:

4 And the porch that was before the length in the front <sup>1</sup>of the breadth was twenty cubits, and the height was an <sup>2</sup>hundred and twenty, and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater house he ceiled with fir tree which he overlaid with good gold, and graved thereon palm trees and chains.

6 And he overlaid the house with precious stones for beauty: and the gold was gold of <sup>1</sup>Parvaim.

7 The house, I say, the beams, posts, and walls thereof and the doors thereof overlaid he with gold, and graved Cherubims upon the walls.

8 ¶ He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with the best gold, of six hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold, and he overlaid the chambers with gold.

10 ¶ And in the house of the most holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and overlaid them with gold.

11 And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubits long: the one wing was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubits, joining to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twenty cubits, they stood on their feet, and their faces were toward the house.

14 ¶ He made also the <sup>1</sup>veil of blue silk and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ And he made before the house two pillars <sup>1</sup>of five and thirty cubits high: and the chapter that was upon the top of each of them, was five cubits.

16 He made also chains for the Oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an <sup>1</sup>hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chains.

17 And he set up the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Jachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

1 And he made an altar of brass twenty cubits long, and twenty cubits broad, and ten cubits high.

2 And he made a molten <sup>1</sup>Sea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubits high: and a line of thirty cubits did compass it about.

3 And under <sup>1</sup>it was the fashion of oxen, which did compass it round about, <sup>2</sup>ten in a cubit compassing the Sea about: two rows of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood upon twelve oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickness thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the work of the brim of a cup, with flowers of <sup>1</sup>lilies: it contained <sup>2</sup>three thousand baths.

6 ¶ He made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And he made ten candlesticks of gold (according to <sup>1</sup>their form) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 ¶ And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made an hundred basins of gold.

9 And he made the <sup>1</sup>court of the Priests, and the great court and doors for the court, and overlaid the doors thereof with brass.

10 And he set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Hiram made <sup>1</sup>pots and besoms and basins, and Hiram finished the work that he should make for King Solomon for the house of God,

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Some think it is that place which is called Peru.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> Which separated the Temple from the most holy place.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> Every one was eighteen cubits long, but the half cubit could not be seen, for it was hid in the roundness of the chapter, and therefore he giveth to every one but 17 and an half.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> For every pillar an hundred, read 1 Kings 7:20.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> A great vessel of brass, so called, because of the great quantity of water, which it contained, 1 Kings 7:24.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, under the brim of the vessel, as 1 Kings 7:24.

<sup>2</sup> In the length of every cubit were ten heads or knobs which in all are 300.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, flower delices.

<sup>2</sup> In 1 Kings 7:26, mention is only made of two thousand, but the less number was taken there, and here according as the measures proved afterward, is declared.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> Even as they should be made.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> Called also the porch of Solomon, Act 3:11. It is also taken for the Temple where Christ preached, Matt. 21:23.

upon the top of the pillars:

13 And four hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rows of pomegranates for every grate to cover the two bowls of the chapters, that were upon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons upon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelve bulls under it:

16 Pots also and besoms, and flesh hooks, and all these vessels made Hiram <sup>1</sup>his father to King Solomon for the house of the Lord of shining brass.

17 In the plain of Jordan did the King cast them in clay between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brass could not be reckoned.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also and the tables, whereon the <sup>1</sup>showbread stood.

20 Moreover, the candlesticks with their lamps, to burn them after the manner before the Oracle, of pure gold.

21 And the flowers and the lamps, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold.

22 And the <sup>1</sup>hooks, and the basins, and the spoons, and the ash pans of pure gold: the entry also of the house and doors thereof within, even of the most holy place: and the doors of the house, to wit, of the Temple were <sup>2</sup>of gold.

1 So <sup>4</sup>was all the work finished that Solomon made for the house of the Lord, and Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, with the silver and the gold, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Solomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel unto Jerusalem, to bring up the Ark of the covenant of the Lord from the <sup>1</sup>city of David, which is Zion.

3 And all the men of Israel assembled unto the king at the <sup>1</sup>feast: it was in the seventh <sup>2</sup>month.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Levites took up the Ark.

5 And they carried up the Ark, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Levites bring up.

6 And king Solomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled unto him, were before the Ark, offering sheep and bullocks, which could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Ark of the covenant of the Lord unto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most Holy place, even under the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings over the place of the Ark, and the Cherubims covered the Ark and the bars thereof above.

9 And they drew out the bars, that the ends of the bars might be seen out of the Ark before the Oracle, but they were not seen <sup>1</sup>without: and there they are unto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Ark, save <sup>1</sup>the two Tables, which Moses gave at Horeb, where the Lord made a covenant with the children of Israel when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were <sup>1</sup>sanctified and did not wait by course.

12 And the Levites the singers of all sorts, as of Asaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, and of their sons and of their brethren, being clad in fine linen, stood with cymbals, and with viols, and harps at the East end of the Altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priests blowing with trumpets.

13 And they were <sup>1</sup>as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lifted up their voice with trumpets, and with cymbals, and with instruments of music, and when they praised the Lord, singing, <sup>2</sup>For he is good, because his mercy lasteth forever) then the house, even the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud, 14 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> Whom Solomon revered for the gifts that God had given him, as a father: he had the same name also that Hiram the king of Tyre had, his mother was a Jewess, and his father a Tyrian. Some read for his father, the author of this work.

1 Then <sup>a</sup>“Solomon <sup>1</sup>said, The Lord hath said that he would dwell in the dark cloud:

2 And I have built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in forever.

3 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth unto David my father, and hath with his <sup>1</sup>hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no city of all the tribes of Israel to build an <sup>1</sup>house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler over my people Israel:

6 But I have chosen Jerusalem, that my Name might be there, and have chosen David to be over my people Israel.

7 <sup>b</sup>And it was in the heart of David my father to build an house unto the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

8 But the Lord said to David my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house unto my Name, thou diddest well, that <sup>1</sup>thou wast so minded.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house, but thy son, which shall come out of thy loins, he shall build an house unto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen up in the room of David my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, and have built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I have set the Ark there, wherein is the <sup>1</sup>covenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 And the <sup>1</sup>king stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Solomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the midst of the court, of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits of height, and upon it he stood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and <sup>1</sup>stretched

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven nor in earth, which keepest covenant and mercy unto thy servants, that walk before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy servant David my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine <sup>1</sup>hand, as appeareth this day.

16 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keep with thy servant David my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou <sup>1</sup>shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit upon the throne of Israel, so that thy sons take heed to their ways to walk in my Law, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest unto thy servant David.

18 (Is it true indeed that God will dwell with man on earth? behold, the <sup>1</sup>heavens, and the heavens of heavens are not able to contain thee: how much more unable is this house which I have built?)

19 But have thou respect to the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to hear the cry and prayer which thy servant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine <sup>1</sup>eyes may be open toward this house day and night, even toward the place, whereof thou hast said, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayest hearken unto the prayer, which thy servant prayeth in this place.

21 Hear thou therefore the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: and hear thou in the place of thine habitation, even in heaven, and when thou hearest, be merciful.

and pray, and make supplication before thee in this house,

25 Then hear thou in heaven, and be merciful unto the sin of thy people Israel, and bring them again unto the land which thou gavest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heaven shall be shut up, and there shall be no rain, because they have sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place and confess thy Name, and <sup>1</sup>turn from their sin, when thou dost afflict them,

27 Then hear thou in heaven, and pardon the sin of thy servants, and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walk) and give rain upon thy land, which thou hast given unto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ <sup>1</sup>When there shall be famine in the land, when there shall be pestilence, blasting, or mildew, when there shall be grasshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemy shall besiege them <sup>1</sup>in the cities of their land, or any plague or any sickness,

37 If they <sup>1</sup>turn again to their heart in the land whither they be carried in captives, and turn and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have transgressed and have done wickedly,

38 If they turn again to thee with all their heart, and with all their soul in the land of their captivity, whither they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land, which thou gavest unto their fathers, and toward the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built for thy Name,

39 Then hear thou in heaven, in the place of thine habitation, their prayer and their supplication, and <sup>1</sup>judge their cause, and be merciful unto thy people, which have sinned against thee.

40 Now my God, I beseech thee, let thine eyes be open, and thine ears attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 <sup>1</sup>Now therefore arise, O Lord God, to come into thy <sup>1</sup>rest, thou, and the Ark of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy Priests be clothed with <sup>2</sup>salvation, and let thy Saints rejoice in goodness.

house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth upon the pavement, and worshipped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercy lasteth forever.

4 <sup>a</sup>Then the King and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of two and twenty thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Levites with the instruments of music of the Lord, which king David had made to praise the Lord, because his mercy lasteth forever: when David praised God <sup>b</sup>by them, the Priests also blew trumpets over against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Moreover, Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brazen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Solomon made <sup>c</sup>a feast at that time of seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they <sup>d</sup>made a solemn assembly: for they had made the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.

10 And the <sup>e</sup>three and twentieth day of the seventh month, he sent the people away into their tents, joyous and with glad heart, because of the goodness that the Lord had done for David and for Solomon, and for Israel his people.

17 And if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, to do according unto all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my statutes and my judgments,

18 Then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with David thy father, saying, <sup>i</sup>Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turn away, and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I pluck them up out of my land, which I have given them, and this house which I have <sup>j</sup>sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a proverb and a common talk among all people.

21 And this house which is most high, shall be an astonishment to everyone that passeth by it, so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold on other gods, and have worshipped them, and served them, therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

Luke 11:3

16 ¶ Now Solomon had made provision for all the <sup>1</sup>work from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, until it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfect.

17 Then went Solomon to Ezion Geber, and to Eloth by the <sup>1</sup>Sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the hands of his servants, ships and servants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir, and brought thence <sup>1</sup>four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to King Solomon.

9 <sup>1, 9</sup> The Queen of Sheba cometh to see Solomon, and bringeth gifts. 13 His yearly revenues. 30 The time of his reign. 31 His death.

1 And <sup>a</sup>when the Queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to <sup>1</sup>prove Solomon with hard questions at Jerusalem, with a very great train, and camels that bare sweet odors and much gold, and precious stones: and when she came to Solomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon declared her all her questions, and there was <sup>1</sup>nothing hid from Solomon, which he declared not unto her.

3 Then the Queen of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the order of his waiters, and their apparel, and his butlers, and their apparel, and his <sup>1</sup>burnt offerings which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly <sup>2</sup>astonied.

5 And she said to the King, It was a true word which I heard in mine own land of thy <sup>1</sup>sayings, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit, I believed not their report, until I came, and mine eyes had seen it: and behold, the one half of thy great wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

9 Then she gave the King sixscore talents of gold, and of sweet odors exceedingly much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odors since, as the Queen of Sheba gave unto King Solomon.

10 And the servants also of Huram, and the servants of Solomon which brought gold from Ophir, brought <sup>1</sup>Algummim wood and precious stones.

11 And the King made of the Algummim wood <sup>1</sup>stairs in the house of the Lord, and in the king's house, and harps and viols for singers: and there was no such seen before in the land of Judah.

12 And King Solomon gave to the Queen of Sheba every pleasant thing that she asked, <sup>1</sup>besides for that which she had brought unto the king: so she returned and went to her own country, both she, and her servants.

13 ¶ Also the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year, was six hundred threescore and six talents of gold,

23 And all the Kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, armor, and sweet odors, horses, and mules, from year to year.

25 And Solomon had <sup>4</sup>four thousand stalls of horses, and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he bestowed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

26 And he reigned over all the kings from the <sup>1</sup>River even unto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

5 And he said to them, Depart yet three days, then come again unto me. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboam took counsel with the old men that had stood before Solomon his father, while he yet lived, saying, What counsel give ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake unto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speak loving words to them, they will be thy servants forever.

8 But he left the counsel of the ancient men that they had given him, and took counsel of the young men that were brought up with him, and <sup>1</sup>waited on him.

9 And he said unto them, What counsel give ye, that we may answer this people, which have spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put upon us, lighter?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him, spake unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it lighter for us: thus shalt thou say unto them, My <sup>1</sup>least part shall be bigger than my father's loins.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with <sup>1</sup>scourges.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was <sup>1</sup>over the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died: then King Rehoboam <sup>2</sup>made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Levites that were in all Israel, <sup>1</sup>resorted unto him out of all their coasts.

14 For the Levites left their suburbs and their possessions, and came to Judah and to Jerusalem: <sup>b</sup>for Jeroboam and his sons had cast them out from ministering in the Priests' office unto the Lord.

15 And he ordained him Priests for the high places, and for the <sup>1</sup>devils and for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Levites there came to Jerusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their <sup>1</sup>hearts to seek the Lord God of Israel, to offer unto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the son of Solomon mighty, three years long: for three years they <sup>1</sup>walked in the way of David and Solomon.

20 And after her he took Maachah the daughter of Absalom which bare him Abijah, and Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Absalom above all his wives and his concubines: for he took eighteen wives and threescore concubines, and begat eight and twenty sons, and threescore daughters.

1 And when <sup>1</sup>Rehoboam had established the kingdom and made it strong, he forsook the Law of the Lord, and <sup>2</sup>all Israel with him.

2 Therefore in the fifth year of king Rehoboam, Shishak the king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

4 And he took the strong cities which were of Judah, and came unto Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah that were gathered together in Jerusalem, because of Shishak, and said unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Ye have forsaken me, <sup>1</sup>therefore have I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled themselves, and said, The Lord is <sup>1</sup>just.

7 And when the Lord saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They have humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will send them deliverance shortly, and my wrath shall not <sup>1</sup>be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Nevertheless they shall be his servants: so shall they know my <sup>1</sup>service, and the service of the kingdoms of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the King's house: he took even all, and he carried away the shields of gold, <sup>a</sup>which Solomon had made.

10 In stead whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brass, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that waited at the door of the king's house.

as the men of Judah shouted, God <sup>1</sup>smote Jeroboam and also Israel before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fell down wounded of Israel five hundred thousand chosen men.

18 So the children of Israel were brought under at that time: and the children of Judah prevailed, <sup>1</sup>because they stayed upon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abijah pursued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, even Bethel and the <sup>1</sup>villages thereof, and Jeshanah with her villages, and Ephron with her villages.

20 And Jeroboam recovered no strength again in the days of Abijah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 So Abijah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begat two and twenty sons, and sixteen daughters.

22 The rest of the acts of Abijah, and his manners and his sayings, are written in the story of the Prophet Iddo.

1 So <sup>a</sup>Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David, and Asa his son reigned in his stead: in whose days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he took away the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut down the <sup>1</sup>groves,

4 And commanded Judah to seek the Lord God of their fathers, and to do according to the Law and the Commandment.

5 And he took away out of all the cities of Judah the high places, and the images: therefore the Kingdom was <sup>1</sup>quiet before him.

6 He built also strong cities in Judah, because the land was in rest, and he had no war in those years: for the Lord had given him rest.

7 Therefore he said to Judah, Let us build these cities, and make walls about, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is <sup>1</sup>before us: because we have sought the Lord our God, we have sought him, and he hath given us rest on every side: so they built and prospered.

8 And Asa had an army of Judah, that bare shields and spears, three hundred thousand, and of Benjamin that bare shields and drew bows, two hundred and fourscore thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out against him Zerah <sup>1</sup>of Ethiopia with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred chariots, and came unto <sup>2</sup>Mareshah.

10 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battle in array in the valley of Zepthahah, beside Mareshah.

11 And Asa cried unto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, <sup>b</sup>it is nothing with thee to help <sup>1</sup>with many, or with no power: help us, O Lord our God: for we rest on thee, and in thy Name are we come against this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God: <sup>2</sup>let not man prevail against thee.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them unto Gerar. And the Ethiopians' host was overthrown, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his host: and they carried away a mighty great spoil.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the <sup>1</sup>fear of the Lord came upon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoil in them.

15 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattle, and carried away plenty of sheep and camels, and returned to Jerusalem.

4 But whosoever returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he <sup>1</sup>was found of him.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did go out and go in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and city of city: for God troubled them with all adversity.

7 Be ye strong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your <sup>1</sup>work shall have a reward.

8 ¶ And when Asa heard these words, and the prophecy of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and took away the abominations out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Jerusalem in the <sup>1</sup>third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa.

11 And they offered unto the Lord the same time of the <sup>1</sup>spoil which they had brought, even seven hundred bullocks, and seven thousand sheep.

12 And they made a covenant to seek the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soul.

13 And <sup>1</sup>whosoever will not seek the Lord God of Israel, shall be slain, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware unto the Lord with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Judah rejoiced at the oath: for they had sworn unto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and he was <sup>1</sup>found of them. And the Lord gave them rest round about.

16 ¶ And King Asa deposed <sup>4</sup>Maachah his <sup>1</sup>mother from her regency, because she had made an idol in a grove: and Asa brake down her idol, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were not <sup>1</sup>taken away out of <sup>2</sup>Israel: yet the heart of Asa was <sup>3</sup>perfect all his days.

18 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he had dedicated, silver, and gold, and vessels.

19 And there was no war unto the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Asa.

16 2 Asa for fear of Baasha king of Israel, maketh a covenant with Ben-Hadad king of Aram. 7 He is reproved by the Prophet. 10 Whom he putteth in prison. 12 He putteth his trust in the Physicians. 13 His death.

1 In the six and thirtieth year of the reign of Asa came <sup>1,4</sup>Baasha king of Israel up against Judah, and built <sup>2</sup>Ramah, to let none pass out or go in to Asa king of Judah.

2 Then Asa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the king's house, and sent to Ben-Hadad king of Aram that dwelt at <sup>1</sup>Damascus, saying,

3 There is a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee silver and gold: come, <sup>1</sup>break thy league with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-Hadad hearkened unto King Asa, and sent the captains of the army which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel Maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his work cease.

6 Then Asa the king took all Judah, and carried away the stones of Ramah and the timber thereof, 15:3 <sup>1</sup> For the space of twelve years under Rehoboam, and three years under Abijah, religion was neglected, and idolatry planted.

15:4 <sup>1</sup> He sheweth, that notwithstanding the wickedness of tyrants and their rage, yet God hath his, whom he heareth in their tribulation, as he delivered his from Zerah king of the Ethiopians, 2 Chron. 14:9, 12, and out of all other dangers, when they called upon the Lord.

15:11 <sup>1</sup> Which they had taken of the Ethiopians.

15:13 <sup>1</sup> These were the words of their covenant, which commanded all idolaters to be put to death, according to the Law of God, Deut. 13:5, 9, 15.

by the Law of God: but he gave place to foolish pity and would also seem after a sort to satisfy the Law.

15:17 <sup>1</sup> Which partly came through lack of zeal in him, partly through the negligence of his officers, and partly by the superstition of the people, that all were not taken away.

<sup>2</sup> Because that God was called the God of Israel, by reason of his promise to Jacob: therefore Israel is sometimes taken for Judah, because Judah was his chief people.

wherewith Baasha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanani the <sup>1</sup>Seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said unto him, Because thou hast rested upon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 <sup>b</sup>The Ethiopians and the Lubim, were they not a great host with chariots and horsemen, exceedingly many? yet because thou didst rest upon the Lord, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth, to show himself strong with them that are of perfect heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt have wars.

10 Then Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a <sup>1</sup>prison: for he was <sup>2</sup>displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed certain of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the acts of Asa first and last, lo, they are written in the book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

12 ¶ And Asa in the nine and thirtieth year of his reign was <sup>1c</sup>diseased in his feet, and his disease was <sup>2,3</sup>extreme: yet he sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the <sup>4</sup>Physicians.

13 So Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchers, which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed, which they had filled with sweet odors and divers kinds of spices made by the art of the Apothecary: and they burnt odors for him with an exceeding great fire.

1 And Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his stead, and prevailed against Israel.

2 And he put garrisons in all the strong cities of Judah, and set bands in the land of Judah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Jehoshaphat, because he walked in the <sup>1</sup>first ways of his father David, and sought not <sup>2</sup>Baalim,

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandment, and not after the <sup>1</sup>trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord established the kingdom in his hand, and all Judah brought presents to Jehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honor in abundance.

6 And he <sup>1</sup>lifted up his heart unto the ways of the Lord, and he took away moreover the high places and the groves out of Judah.

7 ¶ And in the third year of his reign he sent his princes, Ben-Hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nethanel, and Michaiah, that they should <sup>1</sup>teach in the cities of Judah,

8 And with them Levites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, and Tobadonijah, Levites, and with them Elishama and Jehoram, Priests.

9 And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the Law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Judah, and taught the people.

10 And the fear of the Lord fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Judah, and they <sup>1</sup>fought not against Jehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat gifts and tribute silver, and the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred he goats.

12 So Jehoshaphat prospered and grew up on high, and he built in Judah palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great works in the cities of Judah, and men of war, and valiant men in Jerusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, In Judah were captains of thousands, Adnah the captain, and <sup>1</sup>with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

15 And <sup>1</sup>at his hand Jehohanan a captain, and with him two hundred and fourscore thousand.

16:10 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, prison house.

<sup>2</sup> Thus instead of turning to God by repentance, he disdained the admonition of the Prophet, and punished him, as the wicked do when they be told of their faults.

<sup>3</sup> God plagued his rebellion, and hereby declareth that it is nothing to begin well, except we so continue to the end, that is, zealous of God's glory, and put our whole trust in him.

<sup>4</sup> He showeth that it is in vain to seek to the Physicians, except we first seek to God to purge our sins, which are the chief cause of all our diseases, and after use the help of the Physician, as a means by whom God worketh.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> He gave himself wholly to serve the Lord.

17:7 <sup>1</sup> He knew it was in vain to profess religion, except such were appointed which could instruct the people in the same, and had authority to put away all idolatry.

17:10 <sup>1</sup> Thus God prospereth all such that with a pure heart seek his glory, and keepeth their enemies in fear, that they cannot be able to execute their rage against them.

17:14 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in his hand.

17:15 <sup>1</sup> Or, next to him.

16 And at his hand Amasiah the son of Zichri, <sup>1</sup>which willingly offered himself unto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand valiant men.

17 And of Benjamin, Eliada a valiant man, and with him armed men with bow and shield, two hundred thousand.

18 And at his hand Jehozabad, and with him an hundred and fourscore thousand armed to the war.

19 These <sup>1</sup>waited on the king, besides those which the king put in the strong cities throughout all Judah.

1 And Jehoshaphat had riches and honor in abundance, but he was joined in <sup>1</sup>affinity with Ahab.

2 And after certain <sup>1</sup>years he went down to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab slew sheep and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to go up unto <sup>2</sup>Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat king of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will join with thee in the war.

4 And Jehoshaphat said unto the king of Israel, Ask counsel, I pray thee, at the <sup>1</sup>word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israel gathered of <sup>1</sup>Prophets four hundred men, and said unto them, Shall we go to Ramoth Gilead to battle, or shall I cease? And they said, Go up: for God shall deliver it into the king's hand.

6 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there here never a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man by whom we may ask counsel of the Lord: but I <sup>1</sup>hate him: for he doth not prophesy good unto me, but always evil: it is Michaiah the son of Imla. Then Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say <sup>2</sup>so.

8 And the king of Israel called an eunuch, and said, Call quickly Michaiah the son of Imla.

9 ¶ And the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat King of Judah sat either of them on his throne clothed in their <sup>1</sup>apparel: they sat even in the threshing floor at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made him <sup>1</sup>horns of iron, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites until thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up in Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliver it unto the hand of the king.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the Prophets declare good to the king with one <sup>1</sup>accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speak thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord liveth, whatsoever my God saith, that will I speak.

14 ¶ So he came to the king, and the King said unto him, Michaiah, shall we go to Ramoth Gilead to battle, or shall I leave off? And he said, <sup>1</sup>Go ye up, and prosper, and they shall be delivered into your hand.

15 And the King said to him, How oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd: and the Lord said, <sup>1</sup>These have no master: let them return every man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophesy good unto me, but evil?

18 Again he said, Therefore hear ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit upon his throne, and all the <sup>1</sup>host of heaven standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall <sup>1</sup>persuade Ahab King of Israel, that he may go up, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and said thus, and another said that.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a <sup>1</sup>false spirit in the mouth of these thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determined evil against thee.

23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near, and smote Michaiah upon the <sup>1</sup>cheek, and said, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speak with thee?

24 And Michaiah said, Behold, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the King of Israel said, Take ye Michaiah, and carry him to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joash the king's son, 26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this man in the prison house, and feed him with bread of <sup>1</sup>affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

27 And Michaiah said, If thou return in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And <sup>1</sup>he said, Hear, all ye people.

33 Then a certain man drew a bow <sup>1</sup>mightily, and smote the King of Israel between the joints <sup>2</sup>of his brigandine: Therefore he said to his chariotman, Turn thine hand, and carry me out of the host: for I am hurt.

34 And the battle increased that day: and the king of Israel <sup>1</sup>stood still in his chariot against the Aramites until even, and died at the time of the sun going down.

19 <sup>4</sup> After Jehoshaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he called again the people to the honoring of the Lord. <sup>5</sup> He appointed Judges and ministers, <sup>9</sup> and exhorteth them to fear God.

1 And Jehoshaphat the king of Judah returned <sup>1</sup>safe to his house in Jerusalem.

2 And Jehu the son of Hanani the Seer went out to meet him, and said to King Jehoshaphat, <sup>1</sup>Wouldst thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing the wrath <sup>2</sup>of the Lord is upon thee.

3 Nevertheless good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God.

4 ¶ So Jehoshaphat dwelt at Jerusalem, and returned and went <sup>1</sup>through the people from Beersheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them again unto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And he set judges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Judah, city by city, 18:33 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in his simplicity, or ignorantly.

18:34 <sup>1</sup> He dissembled his hurt that his soldiers might fight more courageously.

19:1 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in peace.

19:2 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that the wrath and judgment of God is over all such that support the wicked, and rather show not in deed that they are enemies to all such as hate the Lord.

19:4 <sup>1</sup> He visited all his country, and brought his people from idolatry to the knowledge of the true God.

19:6 <sup>1</sup> Both to preserve you, if you do justly, or to punish you, if you do the contrary.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> He will declare by the sharpness of the punishment, that he hateth all iniquity.

Lord: and they <sup>1</sup>returned to Jerusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of the Lord faithfully and with a perfect heart.

10 And in every cause that shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in your cities, between <sup>1</sup>blood and blood, between law and precept, statutes and judgments, ye shall judge them and admonish them that they trespass not against the Lord, that <sup>2</sup>wrath come not upon you and upon your brethren. This shall ye do and trespass not.

11 And behold, Amariah the Priest shall be the chief over you in all matters of the Lord, and Zebadiah the son of Ishmael, a ruler of the house of Judah, shall be for all the <sup>1</sup>King's affairs, and the Levites shall be officers <sup>2</sup>before you. Be of courage, and do it, and the Lord shall be with the <sup>3</sup>good.

1 After this also came the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, and with them of the <sup>1</sup>Ammonites against Jehoshaphat to battle.

2 Then there came that told Jehoshaphat, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the <sup>1</sup>Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they be in Hazazon Tamar, which is En Gedi.

3 And Jehoshaphat feared, and set himself <sup>1</sup>to seek the Lord, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah.

4 And Judah gathered themselves together to ask counsel of the Lord: they came even out of all the cities of Judah to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Jehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Judah and Jerusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court,

6 And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and reignest not thou on all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

2 Chron. 6:28

7 Didst not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and <sup>1</sup>gavest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend forever?

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy Name, saying,

9 “If evil come upon us, as the <sup>1</sup>sword of judgment, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house and in thy presence (for thy name <sup>2</sup>is in this house) and will cry unto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt hear and help.

10 And now, behold, the children of <sup>b</sup>Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldst not let Israel go, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, they reward us, in coming to cast us out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused us to inherit:

12 O our God, wilt thou not judge them? for there is no strength in us to stand before this great multitude that cometh against us, neither do we know what to do: but our eyes <sup>1</sup>are toward thee.

13 And all Judah stood <sup>1</sup>before the Lord with their young ones, their wives, and their children.

14 And Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, the son of Benaiah, the son of Jeiel, the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, was there, upon whom came <sup>1</sup>the Spirit of the Lord, in the midst of the Congregation.

15 And he said, Harken ye all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, and thou, King Jehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord unto you, Fear you not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the <sup>1</sup>battle is not yours, but God's.

16 Tomorrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the cleft of Ziz, and ye shall find them at the end of the brook before the wilderness of Jeruel.

17 Ye shall not need to fight in this battle: ‘stand still, move not, and behold the <sup>1</sup>salvation of the Lord

19:8 <sup>1</sup> The Priests and Levites, which should judge matters according to the word of the Lord.

19:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, to try whether the murder was done at unawares, or else on set purpose, Num. 35:11; Deut. 4:41.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that God would punish them most sharply, if they would not execute justice aright.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> Shall be chief overseer of the public's affairs of the Realm.

20:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, which counterfeited the Ammonites in language and apparel. The Hebrews think that they were the Amalekites, but as may appear by the tenth verse they were the Idumeans of mount Seir.

20:2 <sup>1</sup> Called the dead Sea, where God destroyed the five cities for sin.

20:3 <sup>1</sup> This declareth what the fear of the godly is, which is as the prick to stir them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord, whereas it moveth the wicked either to seek after worldly means and policies, or else to fall into despair.

20:7 <sup>1</sup> He groundeth his prayer upon God's power, whereby he is able to help, and also on his mercy, which he will continue toward his, forasmuch as he hath once chosen them and began to show his graces toward them.

20:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning war which cometh by God's just judgments for our sins.

20:12 <sup>1</sup> We only put our trust in thee, and wait for our deliverance from heaven.

20:14 <sup>1</sup> Which was moved by the Spirit of God to prophesy.

20:15 <sup>1</sup> They fight against God and not against you, therefore he will fight for you.

20:17 <sup>1</sup> Or, deliverance.

towards you: O Judah, and Jerusalem, fear ye not, neither be afraid: tomorrow go out against them, and the Lord will be with you.

18 ¶ Then Jehoshaphat <sup>1</sup>bowed down with his face to the earth, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell down before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 ¶ And the Levites of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korahites stood up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they departed, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear ye me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: believe his <sup>1</sup>Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers unto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of arms, and saying, <sup>1</sup>Praise ye the Lord, for his mercy lasteth forever.

22 And when they began to shout, and to praise, the Lord laid ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and <sup>1</sup>mount Seir, which were come against Judah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to <sup>1</sup>destroy another.

24 And when Judah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude: and behold, the carcasses were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious jewels, which they took for themselves, till they could carry no more: they were three days in gathering of the spoil: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they <sup>1</sup>assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the

Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah unto this day.

27 Then every man of Judah and Jerusalem returned with Jehoshaphat their head to go again to Jerusalem with joy: for the Lord had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jerusalem with viols, and with harps, and with trumpets, even unto the house of the Lord.

29 And the <sup>1</sup>fear of God was upon all the kingdoms of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdom of Jehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gave him rest on every side.

31 ¶ And <sup>4</sup>Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah, and was five and thirty years old, when he began to reign: and reigned five and twenty years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of <sup>1</sup>Asa his father, and departed not there from, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the high places were <sup>1</sup>not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat first and last, behold, they are written in the book of Jehu the son of Hanani, which <sup>1</sup>is mentioned in the book of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Jehoshaphat king of Judah join himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was given to do evil.

36 And he joined with him, to <sup>1</sup>make ships to go to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Geber.

37 Then Eliezer the son of Dodavah of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast <sup>1</sup>joined thyself with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy works: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

20:18 <sup>1</sup> Declaring his faith and obedience to the word of the Lord, and giving thanks for the deliverance promised.

20:20 <sup>1</sup> Give credit to their words and doctrine.

20:21 <sup>1</sup> This was a Psalm of thanksgiving which they used commonly to sing when they praised the Lord for his benefits, and was made by David, Ps. 136.

20:23 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Lord according to Jehoshaphat's prayer declared his power, when he delivered his by causing their enemies to kill one another.

20:26 <sup>1</sup> To give thanks to the Lord for the victory: and therefore the valley was called Berachah, that is, blessing or thanksgiving, which was also called the Valley of Jehoshaphat, Joel 3:2,12, because the Lord judged the enemies according to Jehoshaphat's prayer.

20:29 <sup>1</sup> He declareth hereby, that the works of God bring ever comfort or deliverance to his, and fear or destruction to his enemies.

20:32 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in his virtues, and those ways wherein he followed God.

20:33 <sup>1</sup> If the great care and diligence of this good king was not able utterly to abolish all superstition of this people, but that they would still retain theirs, how much less are they able to reform evil, which either have little zeal, or not such as he had: though here he was not to be excused?

20:37 <sup>1</sup> Thus God would not have his to join in society with idolaters and wicked men.

1 Jehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Jehoram his son reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sons of Jehoshaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of <sup>1</sup>Israel.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of silver and of gold, and of precious things, with strong cities in Judah, but the kingdom gave he to Jehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 <sup>a</sup>And Jehoram rose up upon the kingdom of his father, and made himself strong, and <sup>1</sup>slew all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of <sup>2</sup>Israel.

5 Jehoram was two and thirty years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to <sup>1</sup>wife, and he wrought evil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of David, because of the <sup>b</sup>covenant that he had made with David, and because he had promised to give a light to him, and to his sons forever.

8 ¶ In his days Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah, and made a king over them.

9 And Jehoram went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he rose up by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 But Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah unto this day. Then did <sup>1</sup>Libnah rebel at the same time from under his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreover he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to commit <sup>1</sup>fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from <sup>1</sup>Elijah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the ways of Jehoshaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Asa king of Judah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to go a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slain thy brethren of thy father's house, which were better than thou.

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy substance,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, until <sup>1</sup>thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred up against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the <sup>1</sup>Ethiopians.

17 And they came up into Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the king's house, and his sons also, and his wives, so that there was not a son left him, save <sup>1</sup>Jehoahaz the youngest of his sons.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in process of time, even after the end of two years, his guts fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reign, he was two and thirty years old, and reigned in Jerusalem eight years, <sup>1</sup>and lived without being desired: yet they buried him in the city of David, but not among the sepulchers of the Kings.

22 Ahaziah reigneth after Jehoram. 9 Jehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the King's lineage. 11 Joash escapeth.

1 And <sup>a</sup>the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah his youngest son King in his stead: for the army that came with <sup>1</sup>the Arabians to the camp, had slain all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah reigned.

2 Two and <sup>1</sup>forty years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned <sup>2</sup>one year in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Athaliah 21:2 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Chron. 15:17, how by Israel he meant Judah.

21:4 <sup>1</sup> Because the wicked live ever in fear, and also are ambitious, they become cruel, and spare not to murder them, whom by nature they ought most to cherish and defend.

21:6 <sup>1</sup> So that we see how it cannot be that we should join with the wicked, and serve God.

21:10 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 8:22.

21:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, idolatry because that the idolater breaketh promise with God, as doth the adulteress to her husband.

21:12 <sup>1</sup> Some think that this was Elisha, so called because he had the Spirit in abundance, as had Elijah.

21:15 <sup>1</sup> We see this example daily practiced upon them that fall away from God, and become idolaters and murderers of their brethren.

21:16 <sup>1</sup> There were other Arabians in Africa Southward toward Egypt.

21:17 <sup>1</sup> Called also Ahaziah, as 2 Chron. 22:1, or Azariah, verse 6 following.

21:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, as some write, he was not regarded, but deposed for his wickedness, and idolatry: so that his son reigned 22 years (his father yet living) without honor, and after his father's death he was confirmed to reign still, as 2 Chron. 22:2.

the daughter <sup>3</sup>of Omri.

3 He walked also in the ways of the house of Ahab: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his <sup>1</sup>counselors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Jehoram the son of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Joram.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Jezreel, because of the wounds wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram. Now Azariah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Jehoram the son of Ahab at Jezreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah <sup>1</sup>came of God, in that he went to Joram: for when he was come, he went forth with Jehoram against Jehu the son of Nimshi, <sup>b</sup>whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Jehu <sup>1</sup>executed judgment upon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah and the sons of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And he sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Jehu, and slew him and buried him, because said they, he is the son of <sup>1</sup>Jehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retain the kingdom.

10 ¶ Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she arose and <sup>1</sup>destroyed all the king's seed of the house of Judah.

11 But Jehoshabeath the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the king's sons, that should be slain, and put him and his nurse in the bed chamber: so Jehoshabeath the daughter of king Jehoram the wife of Jehoiada the Priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so she slew him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the <sup>1</sup>house of God six years, while Athaliah reigned over the <sup>2</sup>land.

23 Joash the son of Ahaziah is made king. 15 Athaliah is put to death. 17 The temple of Baal is destroyed. 16 Jehoiada appointeth ministers in the Temple.

1 And <sup>a,1</sup>in the seventh year Jehoiada waxed bold, and took the captains of hundreds, to wit, Azariah the son of Jeroham, and Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, and Azariah the son of Obed, and Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri in covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the <sup>1</sup>chief fathers of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the King in the house of God: and he said unto them, Behold, the King's son must reign, <sup>b</sup>as the Lord hath said of the sons of David.

4 This is it that ye shall do, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Levites, shall be porters of the doors.

5 And another third part toward the King's house, and another third part at the <sup>c</sup>gate of the <sup>1</sup>foundation, and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the Priests, and the Levites that minister, they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites shall compass the King round about, and every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entereth <sup>1</sup>into the house, shall be slain, and be you with the king, when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and took every man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that <sup>1</sup>went out on the Sabbath: for Jehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest delivered to the captains of hundreds spears, and shields, and bucklers which had been King David's, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (every man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the <sup>1</sup>house round about the king.

22:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it must needs follow that the rulers are such as their counselors be, and that there cannot be a good King, that suffereth wicked counselors.

22:7 <sup>1</sup> Hereby we see how nothing can come to any but by God's providence and as he hath appointed, and therefore he causeth all means to serve to his will.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> Or, took vengeance.

22:9 <sup>1</sup> This was the just plague of God, because he joined himself with God's enemies: yet God to declare the worthiness of Jehoshaphat his grandfather, moved them to give him the honor of burial.

22:10 <sup>1</sup> To the intent that there should be none to make title to the crown, and so she might usurp the government.

22:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in the chamber, where the Priests and Levites slept, which kept their courses weekly in the Temple.

23:1 <sup>1</sup> Of the reign of Athaliah, or after the death of Ahaziah.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning of Judah and Benjamin: read why they are called Israel, 2 Chron. 15:17.

23:5 <sup>1</sup> Which was the chief gate of the Temple toward the East.

23:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to make any tumult, or to hinder their enterprise.

23:8 <sup>1</sup> Which had finished their course on the Sabbath, and so the other part entered to keep their turn.

23:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the most holy place where the Ark stood.

11 Then they brought out the king's son, and put upon him the crown and gave him the <sup>1</sup>testimony, and made him King. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the King, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she <sup>1</sup>looked, behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the King, and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of music, and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, <sup>2</sup>Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the Priest brought out the captains of hundreds that were governors of the host, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges, and he that <sup>1</sup>followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her: and when she was come to the entering of the horse gate by the king's house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Jehoiada made a <sup>1</sup>covenant between him and all the people, and the king, that they would be the Lord's people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and <sup>1</sup>destroyed, and brake his altars and his images, and slew <sup>2</sup>Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, under the <sup>1</sup>hands of the Priests and Levites, whom David had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings unto the Lord, <sup>4</sup>as it is written in the Law of Moses, with rejoicing and singing by the appointment of David.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was unclean in anything, should enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the noble men, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the king to come down out of the house of the Lord, and they went through the <sup>1</sup>high gate of the king's house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 Then all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet <sup>1</sup>after that they had slain Athaliah with the sword.

24 Joash repaireth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Jehoiada he falleth to idolatry. 21 He stoneth to death Zechariah the Prophet. 25 Joash is killed of his own servants. 27 After him reigneth Amaziah.

1 Joash <sup>4</sup>was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba.

2 And Joash did uprightly in the sight of the Lord all the days of <sup>1</sup>Jehoiada the Priest.

3 And Jehoiada <sup>1</sup>took him two wives, and he begat sons and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Joash's mind to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out unto the cities of Judah, and gather of all <sup>1</sup>Israel money to repair the house of your God, from year to year, and haste the thing, but the Levites hastened not.

6 Therefore the king called Jehoiada the <sup>1</sup>chief, and said unto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Judah and Jerusalem <sup>b</sup>the tax of Moses the servant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimony?

7 For <sup>1</sup>wicked Athaliah, and her children brake up the house of God: and all the things that were dedicated for the house of the Lord, did they bestow upon Baal.

8 Therefore the king commanded, <sup>c</sup>and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation through Judah and Jerusalem, to bring unto the Lord <sup>d</sup>the tax of Moses the servant of God, laid upon Israel in the wilderness.

<sup>2</sup> As the Lord commanded in his Law both for the person and also the city, Deut. 13:9 and 15.

of all the people.

23:21 <sup>1</sup> For where a tyrant and an idolater reigneth, there can be no quietness for the plagues of God are ever among such people.

24:2 <sup>1</sup> Who was a faithful counselor, and governed him by the word of God.

24:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, gave him two wives.

24:5 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth not the ten tribes, but only the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin.

24:6 <sup>1</sup> For he was the high Priest.

24:7 <sup>1</sup> The Scriptures doth term her thus, because she was a cruel murderer, and a blasphemous idolatress.

24:11 <sup>1</sup> Such as were faithful men, whom the king had appointed for that matter.

unto the King's officer by the hand of the Levites: and when they saw that there was much silver, then the King's Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, and took it, and carried it to his place again: thus they did day by day, and gathered silver in abundance.

12 And the King and <sup>1</sup>Jehoiada gave it to such as did the labor and work in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the Lord: they gave it also to workers of iron and brass, to repair the house of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work <sup>1</sup>amended through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the silver before the king and Jehoiada, and he made thereof <sup>1</sup>vessels for the house of the Lord, even vessels to minister, both mortars and incense cups, and vessels of gold, and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada.

15 ¶ But Jehoiada waxed old and was full of days, and died. An hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David with the <sup>1</sup>kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Jehoiada, came the <sup>1</sup>princes of Judah, and did reverence to the king, and the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and served groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them again unto the Lord: and they <sup>1</sup>made protestation among them, but they would not hear.

20 And the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the Priest, which stood <sup>1</sup>above the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God,

Why transgress ye the commandments of the Lord? surely ye shall not prosper: because ye have forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the <sup>1</sup>commandment of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Joash the king remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his son. And when he died, he said, The Lord <sup>1</sup>look upon it and require it.

23 ¶ And when the year was out, the host of Aram came up against him, and they came against Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them unto the king of Damascus.

24 Though the army of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord delivered a very great army into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they <sup>1</sup>gave sentence against Joash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his own servants conspired against him for the blood of the <sup>1</sup>children of Jehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the city of David: but they buried him not in the sepulchers of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabad the son of Shimrath an Ammonitess, and Jehozabad the son of Shimrith a Moabite.

27 But <sup>1</sup>his sons, and the sum of the tax gathered by him, and the <sup>2</sup>foundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story of the book of the Kings. And Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

25 Amaziah putteth him to death which slew his father. 10 He sendeth back them of Israel. 11 He overcometh the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatry. 17 And Joash king of Israel overcometh Amaziah. 27 He is slain by a conspiracy.

1 Amaziah was five and twenty years old when he 24:13 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, a medicine was upon the work, meaning it was repaired.

24:14 <sup>1</sup> For the wicked kings his predecessors, and Athaliah had destroyed the vessels of the Temple, or turned them to the use of their idols.

24:16 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that they could not honor him too much, who had so excellently served in the work of the Lord, and in the affairs of the commonwealth.

24:17 <sup>1</sup> Which were flatterers, and knew now that the king was destitute of him who did watch over him as a father, and therefore brought him to most vile idolatry.

24:19 <sup>1</sup> They took heaven and earth and all creatures to witness, that except they returned to the Lord, he would most grievously punish their infidelity and rebellion, Neh. 9:26.

24:20 <sup>1</sup> In a place above the people, to the intent that he might be heard.

24:21 <sup>1</sup> There is no rage so cruel and beastly as of them whose hearts God hath hardened, and which delight more in superstition and idolatry than in the true service of God and pure simplicity of his word.

24:22 <sup>1</sup> Revenge my death and require my blood at your hands: or he speaketh this by prophecy, because he knew that God would do it. This Zechariah is also called the son of Berechiah, Matt. 23:35, because his progenitors were Iddo, Berechiah, Jehoiada, etc.

24:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, reproved and checked him, and handled him rigorously.

24:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Zechariah, which was one of Jehoiada's sons, and a Prophet of the Lord.

24:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, concerning his sons, etc.

began to reign, and he reigned nine and twenty years in <sup>a</sup>Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

2 And he did <sup>b</sup>uprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And when the kingdom was established unto him, he slew his servants, that had slain the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the book of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, <sup>c</sup>"The fathers shall not die for the <sup>d</sup>children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his own sin.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Judah, and made them captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from <sup>e</sup>twenty years old and above, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men, to go forth to the war, and to handle spear and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand valiant men <sup>f</sup>out of Israel for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the army of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not <sup>g</sup>with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If <sup>h</sup>not, go thou on, do it, make thyself strong to the battle, but God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to cast down.

9 And Amaziah said to the man of GOD, What shall we do then for the hundred talents, which I have given to the host of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to <sup>i</sup>give thee more than this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to return to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Judah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

Jer. 31:30

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of <sup>j</sup>Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Judah take alive, and carried them to the top of a <sup>k</sup>rock, and cast them down from the top of the rock, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the <sup>l</sup>army, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not go with his people to battle, fell upon the cities of Judah from Samaria unto Beth Horon, and smote three thousand of them, and took much spoil.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up to be his gods, and <sup>m</sup>worshipped them, and burned incense unto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent unto him a Prophet, which said unto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to <sup>n</sup>deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, <sup>o</sup>he said unto him, Have they made thee the King's counselor? cease thou: why should they <sup>p</sup>smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsel.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah King of Judah took counsel, and sent to Joash the son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, <sup>q</sup>let us see one another in the face.

18 But Joash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, <sup>r</sup>Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and the wild beast that was in Lebanon went and trode down the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: lo, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee up to brag: abide now at home: why dost thou provoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Judah with thee?

25:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in respect of his predecessors albeit he had his imperfections.

25:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, for that fault wherefore the child is punished, except he be culpable of the same.

25:5 <sup>1</sup> So many as were able men to bear weapons and go to the war.

25:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, out of the ten tribes, which had separated themselves before, both from God and their true king.

25:7 <sup>1</sup> And therefore to think to have help of them, whom the Lord favoereth not, is to cast off the help of the Lord.

25:8 <sup>1</sup> If thou wilt not give credit to my words.

25:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that if we depend only upon God, we shall not need to be troubled with these worldly respects, for he will give at all times that which shall be necessary, if we obey his word.

25:11 <sup>1</sup> For the Idumeans whom David had brought to subjection, rebelled under Jehoram Jehoshaphat's son.

25:12 <sup>1</sup> In 2 Kings 14:7, this rock is called the city Sela.

25:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, the hundred thousand of Israel.

25:14 <sup>1</sup> Thus where he should have given the praise to God for his benefits and great victory, he fell from God, and did most vilely dishonor him.

25:15 <sup>1</sup> He proveth that whatsoever cannot save himself nor his worshippers, is no God but an idol.

25:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the King.

<sup>2</sup> So hard it is, for the carnal man to be admonished of his fault, that he contemneth, mocketh, and threateneth him that warneth him: yea, imprisoneth him and putteth him to death, 2 Chron. 16:10 and 18:26 and 24:21.

25:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, let us try the matter hand to hand: for he was offended, that the army of the Israelites, whom he had in wages, and dismissed by the counsel of the Prophet, had destroyed certain of the cities of Judah.

20 But Amaziah would not hear: for <sup>1</sup>it was of God, that he might deliver them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Joash the king of Israel went up: and he and Amaziah king of Judah saw one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled every man to his tents.

23 But Joash the king of Israel took Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Joash, the son of Jehoahaz, in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim unto the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with <sup>1</sup>Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the king's house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah lived after the death of Joash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel, fifteen years.

26 Concerning the rest of the acts of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away from the Lord, <sup>d</sup>they wrought treason against him in Jerusalem: and when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

28 And they brought him upon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Judah.

1 Then all the "people of Judah took <sup>1</sup>Uzziah which was sixteen years old, and made him king in the stead of his father Amaziah.

2 He built <sup>1</sup>Eloth, and restored it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers.

3 <sup>b</sup>Sixteen years old was Uzziah, when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.

4 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he sought God in the days of <sup>1</sup>Zechariah (which understood the visions of God) and when <sup>2</sup>he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistines and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God helped him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur Baal and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gave <sup>1</sup>gifts to Uzziah, and his name spread to the entering in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreover Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the <sup>6</sup>turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towers in the wilderness, and dug many <sup>1</sup>cisterns: for he had much cattle both in the valleys and plains, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountains, and in <sup>2</sup>Carmel: for he loved husbandry.

11 Uzziah also had an host of fighting men that went out to war by bands, according to the count of their number under the hand of Jeiel the Scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and under the hand of Hananiah, one of the King's captains.

12 The whole <sup>1</sup>number of the chief of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And under their hand was the army for war, three hundred and seven thousand, and five hundred that fought valiantly to help the King against the enemy.

14 And Uzziah prepared them throughout all the host, shields, and spears, and helmets, and brigandines, and bows, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very <sup>1</sup>artificial engines in Jerusalem, to be upon the towers and upon the corners, to shoot arrows and great stones: and his name spread far abroad, because God did help him marvelously till he was mighty.

25:20 <sup>1</sup> Thus God oft times plagueth by those means wherein men most trust, to teach them to have their recourse only to him, and to show his judgments, moveth their hearts to follow that which shall be their destruction.

25:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the successors of Obed Edom: for the house bare the name of the chief father.

26:1 <sup>1</sup> Called also Azariah.

26:2 <sup>1</sup> He fortified it and made it strong: this city was also called Elath and Elanon near to the red Sea.

26:5 <sup>1</sup> This was not that Zechariah that was the son of Jehoiaada, but some other Prophet of that name.

<sup>2</sup> For God never forsakes any that seeketh unto him, and therefore man is the cause of his own destruction.

26:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, they paid tribute in sign of subjection.

26:9 <sup>1</sup> Whereas the wall or tower turneth.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, pits.

<sup>2</sup> That is, in mount Carmel, or as the word signifieth in the fruitful field: it is also taken for a green ear of corn, when it is full, as Lev. 2:14.

26:12 <sup>1</sup> Of the chief officers of the king's house, or of the captains and sergeants for war.

26:15 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, engines by the invention of an inventive man.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart <sup>1</sup>was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burn incense upon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourscore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Uzziah the King, and said unto him, <sup>4</sup>It pertaineth not to thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto the Lord, but to the Priests the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: <sup>1</sup>go forth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt have none honor of the Lord God.

19 Then Uzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burn it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosy rose up in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chief Priest with all the Priests looked upon him, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence: and he was even compelled to go out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 <sup>4</sup>And Uzziah the King was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an <sup>1</sup>house apart, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Jotham his son ruled over the King's house, and judged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the Prophet the son of Amoz write.

23 So Uzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the burial, which pertained to the Kings: for they said, He <sup>1</sup>is a leper. And Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

27 <sup>1</sup>Jotham reigned, and overcometh the Ammonites. <sup>8</sup>His reign and death. <sup>9</sup>Abaz his son reigneth in his stead.

1 Jotham <sup>4</sup>was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Jerushah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Uzziah did, save that he entered not into the <sup>1</sup>Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet <sup>2</sup>corrupt their ways.

3 He built the high <sup>1</sup>gate of the house of the Lord, and he built very much on the wall of the castle.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the forests he built palaces and towers.

5 And he fought with the kings of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against them. And the children of Ammon gave him the same year an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand <sup>1</sup>measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon give him <sup>2</sup>both in the second year and the third.

6 So Jotham became mighty, <sup>1</sup>because he directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jotham and all his wars and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the Kings of Israel, and Judah.

8 He was five and twenty years old, when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem.

9 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

1 Ahaz <sup>4</sup>was twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, and did not uprightly in the sight of the Lord, like David his <sup>1</sup>father.

2 But <sup>1</sup>he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and made even molten images for <sup>2</sup>Baalim.

3 Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and <sup>1</sup>burnt his sons with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hills, and under every green tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God delivered him into the hand of the king of the Aramites, and they smote

26:16 <sup>1</sup> Thus prosperity causeth men to trust in themselves, and by forgetting him which is the author thereof, procure their own perdition.

26:18 <sup>1</sup> Though his zeal seemed to be good and also his intention, yet because they were not governed by the word of God, he did wickedly, and was therefore both justly resisted and also punished.

26:21 <sup>1</sup> According to the commandment of the Lord, Lev. 13:46.

26:23 <sup>1</sup> And therefore was buried apart in the same field, but not in the same sepulchers with his predecessors.

27:2 <sup>1</sup> To wit, to offer incense against the word of God, which thing is spoken in the commendation of Jotham.

27:3 <sup>1</sup> Which was sixscore cubits high, and was for the height called Ophel: it was at the East gate, and mention is made of it, 2 Chron. 3:4.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all prosperity cometh of God, who never faileth when we put our trust in him.

28:1 <sup>1</sup> Or, predecessor.

28:2 <sup>1</sup> He was an idolater like them.

<sup>2</sup> As the idolaters have certain chief idols, who are as patrons (as were these Baalim) so have they others which are inferior and do represent the great idols.

28:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, made them pass through the fire, as 2 Chron. 33:6; Lev. 13:21.

him, and took of his <sup>1</sup>many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For <sup>1</sup>Pekah the son of Remaliah slew in Judah sixscore thousand in one day, all <sup>2</sup>valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a <sup>1</sup>mighty man of Ephraim slew Maaseiah the king's son, and Azrikam the governor of the house, and Elkanah the second after the king.

8 And the children of Israel took prisoners of their brethren, <sup>1</sup>two hundred thousand of women, sons and daughters, and carried away much spoil of them, and brought the spoil to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lord, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the host that came to Samaria, and said unto them, Behold, <sup>1</sup>because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Judah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage, that reacheth up to heaven.

10 And now ye purpose to keep under the children of Judah and Jerusalem, as servants and handmaids unto you, but are not you such that <sup>1</sup>sins are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore hear me, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certain of the chiefs of the children of <sup>1</sup>Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, and Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against them that came from the war,

13 And said unto them, Bring not in the captives hither: for this shall be <sup>1</sup>a sin upon us against the Lord: ye intended to add more to our sins and to our trespass, though our trespass be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So the army left the captives and the spoil before the princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were <sup>1</sup>named by name, rose up and took the prisoners, and with the spoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gave them meat, and gave them drink, and <sup>2</sup>anointed them, and carried all that were feeble of them upon asses, and brought them to Jericho the city of Palm trees to their <sup>3</sup>brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did King Ahaz send unto the <sup>1</sup>kings of Assyria to help him.

17 (For the Edomites came moreover, and slew of Judah, and carried away captives.)

18 The Philistines also invaded the cities in the low country, and toward the South of Judah, and took Beth Shemesh, and Aijalon, and Gederoth and Sochoh, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Judah, because of Ahaz king of <sup>1</sup>Israel: for he had brought vengeance upon Judah, and had grievously transgressed against the Lord.)

20 And Tilgath-Pilneser king of Assyria came unto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz <sup>1</sup>took a portion <sup>6</sup>out of the house of the Lord and out of the king's house and of the princes', and gave unto the king of Assyria: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is king Ahaz)

23 For he sacrificed unto the gods of Damascus, which <sup>1</sup>plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice unto them, and they will <sup>2</sup>help me: yet they were his ruin, and of all <sup>3</sup>Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut up the doors of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in every corner of Jerusalem.

25 And in every city of Judah he made high places, to burn incense unto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his acts, and all his ways first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the Kings of Judah, and Israel.

28:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, a great captivity.

28:6 <sup>1</sup> Who was king of Israel.

28:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, tyrant.

28:8 <sup>1</sup> Thus by the just judgment of God, Israel destroyed Judah.

28:9 <sup>1</sup> For they thought they had overcome them by their own valiantness, and did not consider that God had delivered them into their hands, because Judah had offended him.

28:10 <sup>1</sup> May not God as well punish you for your sins as he hath done these men for theirs, seeing yours are greater?

28:12 <sup>1</sup> Which tribe was now greatest, and had most authority.

28:13 <sup>1</sup> God will not suffer this sin, which we commit against him, to be unpunished.

28:15 <sup>1</sup> Whose name were rehearsed before, verse 12.

28:16 <sup>1</sup> To Tiglath-Pileser and those kings that were under his dominion, 2 Kings 16:7.

28:19 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth Judah, because Ahaz forsook the Lord and sought help of the infidels. Read of Israel taken for Judah, 2 Chron. 15:17.

28:21 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, divided.

28:23 <sup>1</sup> As he falsely supposed.

<sup>2</sup> Thus the wicked measure God's favor by prosperity and adversity: for if idolaters prosper, they make their idols gods, not considering that God punisheth them oft times whom he loveth, and giveth his enemies good success for a time, whom afterward he will destroy.

1 Hezekiah <sup>a</sup>began to reign, when he was five and twenty years old, and reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was <sup>1</sup>Abijah the daughter of Zechariah.

2 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that David his father had done.

3 He opened the <sup>1</sup>doors of the house of the Lord in the <sup>2</sup>first year, and in the first month of his reign, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the Priests and the Levites, and gathered them into the East street,

5 And said unto them, Hear me, ye Levites: sanctify now yourselves, and sanctify the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and carry forth <sup>1</sup>the filthiness out of the Sanctuary.

6 For our fathers have trespassed and done evil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and have forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backs.

7 They have also shut the doors of the porch, and quenched the lamps, and have neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuary unto the God of Israel.

8 <sup>1</sup>Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath been on Judah and Jerusalem, and he hath made them a <sup>2</sup>scattering, a desolation, and an hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

9 For lo, our fathers are fallen by the sword, and our sons, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for the same cause.

10 Now <sup>1</sup>I purpose to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may <sup>2</sup>turn away his fierce wrath from us.

11 Now my sons, be not deceived: for the Lord hath <sup>b</sup>chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and to be his ministers, and to burn incense.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah of the sons of the Kohathites: and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehallelel: and of the Gershonites, Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joah:

13 And of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Jeiel: and of the sons of Asaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sons of Heman, Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves and came according to the commandment of the king, and <sup>1</sup>by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to <sup>1</sup>cleanse it and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites took it, to carry it out unto the brook Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the <sup>1</sup>first month to sanctify it, and the eight day of the month came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight days, and in the sixteenth day of the first month, they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king and said, We have cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the <sup>1</sup>showbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, have we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king <sup>1</sup>rose early, and gathered the princes of the city, and went up to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven he goats for a <sup>1</sup>sin offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Judah. And he commanded the Priests the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priests received the blood, and <sup>1</sup>sprinkled it upon the altar: they slew also the rams, and sprinkled the blood upon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 Then they brought the he goats for the sin offering before the king and the Congregation, <sup>1</sup>and they laid their hands upon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering, and the sin offering.

25 He appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with viols, and with harps, <sup>d</sup>according to the commandment of David, and Gad the King's Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the <sup>1</sup>commandment was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the <sup>1</sup>Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments <sup>2</sup>of David king of Israel.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king and the princes commanded the Levites to praise the Lord with the <sup>1</sup>words of David, and of Asaph the Seer. So they praised with joy, and they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now ye have <sup>1</sup>consecrated yourselves to the Lord: come near and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices and offerings of praises, and every man that was willing in heart offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seventy bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for <sup>1</sup>sanctification six hundred bullocks, and three thousand sheep.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to flay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Levites did help them, till they had ended the work, and until other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were <sup>1</sup>more upright in heart to sanctify themselves than the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many, with the fat of the peace offerings and the drink offerings for the burnt offering: so the service of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had made the people so <sup>1</sup>ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

1 And Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and also wrote letters to <sup>1</sup>Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to keep the Passover unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsel in Jerusalem to keep the Passover in the <sup>1</sup>second month.

3 For they could not keep it at this time, because there were not Priests enough sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from <sup>1</sup>Beersheba even to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover unto the Lord God of Israel at Jerusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, <sup>2</sup>as it was written.

6 ¶ So the posts went with letters by the commission of the King, and his princes, throughout all Israel and Judah, and with the commandment of the King, saying, Ye children of Israel, turn again unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and <sup>1</sup>he will return to the remnant that are 29:25 <sup>1</sup> This thing was not appointed of man, but it was the commandment of God.

29:27 <sup>1</sup> The Psalm which David had appointed to be sung for thanksgiving.

escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Assyria.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not ye now stiff-necked like your fathers, but <sup>1</sup>give the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuary, which he hath sanctified forever, and serve the Lord your God, and the fierceness of his wrath shall turn away from you.

9 For if ye return unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall find mercy before them that led them captives, and they shall <sup>1</sup>return unto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye convert unto him.

10 ¶ So the posts went from city to city through the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, even unto Zebulun: but they <sup>1</sup>laughed them to scorn and mocked them.

11 Nevertheless, divers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun, submitted themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Judah, so that he gave them one <sup>1</sup>heart to do the commandment of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Jerusalem much people, to keep the feast of the unleavened bread in the second month, a very great assembly.

14 ¶ And they arose, and took away the <sup>1</sup>altars that were in Jerusalem, and all those for incense took they away, and cast them into the brook Kidron.

15 Afterward they slew the Passover the fourteenth day of the second month: and the Priests and Levites were <sup>1</sup>ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the <sup>1</sup>blood returned of the hands of the Levites.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the Passover for all that were not clean, to sanctify it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleansed themselves, yet did eat the Passover, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The <sup>1</sup>good Lord be merciful toward him,

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and <sup>1</sup>healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the unleavened bread seven days with great joy, and the Levites, and the priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments unto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah <sup>1</sup>spake comfortably unto all the Levites that had good knowledge to sing unto the Lord: and they did eat in that feast seven days, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly took counsel to keep it another seven days. So they kept it seven days with joy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah had given to the Congregation a <sup>1</sup>thousand bullocks, and seven thousand sheep. And the princes had given to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and ten thousand sheep: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Judah rejoiced with the Priests and the Levites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Judah.

26 So there was great joy in Jerusalem: for since the time of Solomon the son of David king of Israel there was not the like thing in Jerusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Levites arose, and <sup>1</sup>blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and 30:10 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked mock at the servants of God, by whom he calleth them to repentance, as Gen. 19:14, yet the word ceaseth not to fructify in the hearts of God's elect.

30:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the cause why some obey and some mock at God's calling, to wit, because his Spirit is with the one sort, and moveth their heart, and the others are left to themselves.

1 And when all these things were finished, all Israel, that were found in the cities of Judah, went out and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake down the high places, and the altars throughout all Judah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Manasseh, until they had made an end: afterward all the <sup>2</sup>children of Israel returned every man to his possession, into their own cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Levites by their turns, every man according to his office, both Priests and Levites for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the <sup>1</sup>tents of the Lord.

3 (And the king's portion was of his own substance for the burnt offerings, even for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the evening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moons and for the solemn feasts, <sup>4</sup>as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

4 He commanded also the people that dwelt in Jerusalem, to give a <sup>1</sup>part to the Priests, and Levites, that they might be <sup>2</sup>encouraged in the law of the Lord.

5 ¶ And when the commandment was <sup>1</sup>spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of firstfruits, of corn, wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Judah that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they also brought the tithes of bullocks and sheep, and the holy tithes <sup>1</sup>which were consecrated unto the Lord their God, and laid them on <sup>2</sup>many heaps.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heaps, they <sup>1</sup>blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we have <sup>1</sup>eaten, and have been satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them,

12 And carried in the firstfruits, and the tithes, and the dedicated things faithfully: and over them was Conaniah the Levite the chief, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Jehiel, and Azaziah and Nahath, and Asahel, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Ismachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah were overseers <sup>1</sup>by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commandment of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chief of the house of God.

14 And Kore the son of Imnah the Levite, porter toward the East, was over the things that were willingly offered unto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrated.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Jeshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelity to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

16 Their daily portion: beside their generation, being males <sup>1</sup>from three years old and above, even to all that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Levites from twenty years old and above, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their <sup>1</sup>fidelity are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sons of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, in every city the men that were appointed by names, should give portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and did well, and uprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the works that he began for the service of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

32 1 Sennacherib invadeth Judah. 3 Hezekiah prepareth for the war. 7 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord. 9 Sennacherib blasphemeth God. 20 Hezekiah prayeth. 21 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians and the king is slain. 25 Hezekiah is not thankful toward the Lord. 33 His death.

1 After these things faithfully described, <sup>a</sup>Sennacherib king of Assyria came and entered into Judah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to <sup>1</sup>win them for himself.

2 When Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib was come, and that his <sup>1</sup>purpose was to fight against Jerusalem,

3 Then he took counsel with his princes and his nobles, to stop the water of the fountains without the city: and they did help him.

4 So many of the people assembled themselves, and stopped all the fountains, and the river that ran through the midst of the country, saying, Why should the kings of Assyria come, and find much water?

5 And <sup>1</sup>he took courage, and built all the broken wall, and made up the towers, and another wall without, and repaired <sup>2</sup>Millo in the <sup>3</sup>city of David, and made many <sup>4</sup>darts and shields.

6 And he set captains of war over the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the city, and <sup>1</sup>spake comfortably unto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: fear not, neither be afraid for the king of Assyria, neither for all the multitude that is with him: <sup>6</sup>for there be more with us, then is with him.

8 With him is an <sup>1</sup>arm of flesh, but with us is the <sup>2</sup>Lord our God for to help us, and to fight our battles. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 After this, did Sennacherib king of Assyria send his servants to Jerusalem (while he was <sup>1</sup>against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sennacherib the king of Assyria, Wherein do ye trust, that ye will remain in Jerusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entice you to give over yourselves unto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his <sup>1</sup>altars, and commanded Judah, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burn incense upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other countries? were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliver their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the <sup>1</sup>gods of those nations (that my fathers have destroyed) that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither believe ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of <sup>1</sup>mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much less shall your gods deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his servants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his <sup>1</sup>servant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countries could not deliver their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they <sup>1</sup>cried with a loud voice in the Jews speech unto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to fear them and to astonish them, that they might take the city.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Jerusalem,

32:1 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, break them up.

32:2 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, face.

32:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, he was strengthened.

32:6 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, he spake to their heart.

32:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, the power of man.

<sup>2</sup> This declareth that Hezekiah did ever put his trust in God, and yet made himself strong and used lawful means, lest he should seem to tempt God.

32:9 <sup>1</sup> While he besieged Lachish.

32:12 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked put no difference between true religion and false, God and idols: for Hezekiah only destroyed idolatry, and placed true religion. Thus the Papists slander the servants of God: for when they destroy idolatry, they say that they abolish religion.

32:14 <sup>1</sup> This is his blasphemy, that he will compare the living God to vile idols.

32:15 <sup>1</sup> When man hath prosperity, he swelleth in pride, and thinketh himself able to resist and overcome even God himself.

32:16 <sup>1</sup> Herein we see that when the wicked speak evil of the servants of God, they care not to blaspheme God himself: for if they feared God, they would love his servants.

32:18 <sup>1</sup> Their words are written, 2 Kings 18:19.

as against the gods of the people of the earth, even the <sup>1</sup>works of man's hands, 20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz <sup>1</sup>prayed against this and cried to heaven.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel, which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and <sup>1</sup>captains of the host of the king of Assyria: so he returned <sup>2</sup>with shame to his own land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his <sup>3</sup>own bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib king of Assyria, and from the hand of all others, and <sup>1</sup>maintained them on every side.

23 And many brought offerings unto the Lord to Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Judah, so that he was <sup>1</sup>magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 <sup>d</sup>In those days Hezekiah was sick unto the death, and prayed unto the Lord, who spake unto him, and gave him <sup>1</sup>a sign.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bestowed upon him: for his heart <sup>1</sup>was lifted up, and wrath came upon him, and upon Judah and Jerusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himself (after that his heart was lifted up) he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honor, and he got him treasures of silver, and of gold, and of precious stones, and of sweet odors, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat and wine and oil, and stalls for all beasts, and <sup>1</sup>rows for the <sup>2</sup>stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheep and oxen in abundance: for God had given him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the upper water springs of <sup>1</sup>Gihon, and led them straight underneath toward the city of David Westward: so Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent unto him to inquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to <sup>1</sup>try him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodness, behold, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the Prophet the son of Amoz, in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulcher of the sons of David: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did him honor at his death, and Manasseh his son reigned in his stead.

33 Manasseh an idolater. 9 He causeth Judah to err. 11 He is led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is delivered. 14 He abolisheth idolatry, 16 and setteth up true religion. 20 He dieth, and Amon his son succeedeth. 24 Whom his own servants slay.

1 Manasseh was twelve years old, <sup>a</sup>when he began to reign, and he reigned five and fifty years in Jerusalem:

2 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, <sup>b</sup>whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went back and built the high places, <sup>c</sup>which Hezekiah his father had broken down: <sup>d</sup>and he set up altars for Baal, and made groves and worshipped all the host of the heaven, and served them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, <sup>e</sup>In Jerusalem shall my Name be forever.

5 And he built altars for all the host of the heaven in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sons to <sup>1</sup>pass through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gave himself to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcery, and he used them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: he did very much evil in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carved image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to David and to Solomon his son, <sup>1</sup>In this house and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name forever.

8 Neither will I <sup>g</sup>make the foot of Israel to remove anymore out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and do all that I have commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and judgments by the <sup>h</sup>hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to err, and to do worse than the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to <sup>i</sup>Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, which took Manasseh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chains, and carried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers,

13 And prayed unto him: and God was <sup>j</sup>entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom: then Manasseh knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this he built a wall without the city of David, on the West side of <sup>k</sup>Gihon in the valley, even at the entry of the fish gate, and compassed about <sup>l</sup>Ophel, and raised it very high, and put captains of war in all the strong cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Jerusalem, and cast them out of the city.

16 Also he prepared the <sup>m</sup>altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thanks, and commanded Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel.

17 Nevertheless the people did sacrifice still in the high places, but unto the <sup>n</sup>Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his <sup>o</sup>prayer unto his God, and the words of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, behold, they are written in the book of the Kings of Israel.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own <sup>q</sup>house: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twenty years old, when he began to reign, and reigned two years in Jerusalem.

22 But he did evil in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and served them.

23 And he humbled not himself before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himself: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his servants <sup>r</sup>conspired against him, and slew him in his own house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the land made Josiah his son King in his stead.

2 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of <sup>z</sup>David his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eighth year of his reign (when he was yet a <sup>aa</sup>child) he began to seek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah, and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and molten images.

4 And they brake down <sup>ab</sup>in his sight the altars of Baal, and he caused to cut down the images that were on high upon them: he brake also the groves, and the carved images and the molten images, and stamped them to powder, and strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their mauls they brake all round about.

7 And when he had <sup>1</sup>destroyed the altars, and the groves, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 ¶ <sup>2</sup>Then in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land and the temple, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the Recorder to repair the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiyah the high Priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the door, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Judah and Benjamin, and <sup>1</sup>of the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of <sup>1</sup>them that should do the work, and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord to repair and amend the house.

11 Even to the workmen and to the builders gave they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples, and for beams of the <sup>1</sup>houses, which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the work <sup>1</sup>faithfully, and the overseers of them were Jahath and Obadiah the Levites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Levites all that could skill of instruments of music.

13 And they were over the bearers of burdens, and them that set forward all the workmen in every work: and of the Levites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiyah the Priest found the <sup>1</sup>book of the Law of the Lord given by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiyah answered and said to Shaphan the chancellor, I have found the book of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the book to <sup>1</sup>the King, and brought the King word again, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy servants, that do they.

17 For they have gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and have delivered it into the hands of the overseers, and to the hands of the workmen.

18 Also Shaphan the chancellor declared to the King, saying, Hilkiyah the Priest hath given me a book, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the words of the Law, he <sup>1</sup>tare his clothes,

20 And the King commanded Hilkiyah and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asaiah the king's servant, saying,

21 Go and inquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen upon us, because our <sup>1</sup>fathers have not kept the word of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 Then Hilkiyah and they that the king had appointed went to Huldah the prophetess the wife of Shallum, the son of <sup>1</sup>Tokhath, the son of <sup>2</sup>Hasrah keeper of the <sup>3</sup>wardrobe (and she dwelt in Jerusalem within the <sup>4</sup>college) and they communed hereof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye <sup>1</sup>the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses, that are written in the book which they have read before the King of Judah:

25 Because they have forsaken me, and burnt incense unto other gods, to anger me with all the works of their <sup>1</sup>hands, therefore shall my wrath fall upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

34:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning Shaphan, etc.

34:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that they were in such credit for their fidelity, that they made none accounts of that which they received, 2 Kings 22:7, 9.

34:14 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 22:8.

34:16 <sup>1</sup> For the king was commanded to have continually a copy of this book, and to read therein day and night, Deut. 17:18.

34:19 <sup>1</sup> For sorrow that the word of God had been so long suppressed and the people kept in ignorance, considering also the curses contained therein against the transgressors.

hast heard, shall come to pass.

27 But because thine heart did <sup>1</sup>melt, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou heardest his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and tearest thy clothes, and weptest before me, I have also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the evil, which I will bring upon this <sup>1</sup>place and upon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King word again.

29 ¶ Then the King sent and gathered all the Elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30 And the King went up into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the Priests and the Levites, and all the people from the greatest to the <sup>1</sup>smallest, and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the Covenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stood by his pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all his heart, and with all his soul, and that he would accomplish the words of the Covenant written in the same book.

32 And he caused all that were found in Jerusalem, and Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the Covenant of God, even the God of their fathers.

33 So Josiah took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled all <sup>1</sup>that were found in Israel, to serve the Lord their God: so all his days they turned not back from the Lord God of their fathers.

35 <sup>1</sup>Josiah keepeth the Passover. 2 He setteth forth God's service. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 24 The people bewail him.

1 Moreover, <sup>a</sup>Josiah kept a Passover unto the Lord in Jerusalem, and they slew the <sup>1</sup>Passover in the fourteenth day of the first month.

CHAPTER 35

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the service of the house of the Lord,

3 And he said unto the Levites that <sup>1</sup>taught all Israel and were sanctified unto the Lord, Put the holy Ark in the house which Solomon the son of David King of Israel did build: it shall be no more a <sup>2</sup>burden upon your shoulders: serve now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare yourselves by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as <sup>b</sup>David the king of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Solomon his son,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the division of the families of your brethren <sup>1</sup>the children of the people, and after the division of the family of the Levites:

6 So kill the Passover, and sanctify yourselves, and <sup>1</sup>prepare your brethren that they may do according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Josiah also gave to the <sup>1</sup>people sheep, lambs and kids, all for the Passover, even to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the king's substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly unto the people, to the Priests and to the Levites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God gave unto the Priests for the Passover, even two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred bullocks.

9 <sup>1</sup>Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nethanel his brethren, and Hashabiah and Jeiel, and Jozabad, chief of the Levites gave unto the Levites for the Passover, five thousand sheep, and five hundred bullocks.

10 Thus the service was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Levites in their orders, according to the king's commandment:

11 And they slew the Passover, and the Priests <sup>1</sup>sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Levites flayed them.

34:27 <sup>1</sup> This declareth what is the end of God's threatenings, to call his to repentance, and to assure the unrepentant of their destruction.

34:28 <sup>1</sup> It may appear that very few were touched with true repentance, seeing that God spared them for a time only for the king's sake.

34:30 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as neither young nor old could be exempted from the curses contained therein, if they did transgress, he knew it pertained to all, and was his duty to see it read to all sorts, that everyone might learn to avoid those punishments by serving God aright.

34:33 <sup>1</sup> Because he had charge over all, and must answer for everyone that perished: he thought it his duty to see that all should make profession to receive the word of God.

35:1 <sup>1</sup> The Scripture useth in sundry places to call the lamb the Passover, which was but the sign of the Passover, because in all sacraments the signs have the names of the things which are signified.

35:3 <sup>1</sup> So that the Levite's charge was not only to minister in the Temple, but also to instruct the people in the word of God.

<sup>2</sup> As it was before the Temple was built: therefore your office only is now to teach the people, and to praise God.

35:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, the people.

35:6 <sup>1</sup> Exhort everyone to examine themselves, that they be not unmeet to eat of the Passover.

35:7 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, sons of the people.

35:9 <sup>1</sup> So that everyone and of all sorts gave of that they had, a liberal portion to the service of God.

35:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the Lamb, which was called the Passover: for only the Priests might sprinkle, and in necessity the Levites might kill the sacrifice.

12 And they took away from the <sup>1</sup>burnt offering to give it according to the divisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer unto the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And they roasted the Passover with fire, according to the custom, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pans, and cauldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselves and for the Priests: for the Priests the sons of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat until night: therefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sons of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sons of Asaph stood in their standing <sup>d</sup>according to the commandment of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the king's <sup>1</sup>Seer: and the porters at every gate, who might not depart from their service: therefore their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day to keep the Passover, and to offer burnt offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passover the same time, and the feast of the unleavened bread seven days.

18 And there was no Passover kept like that in Israel, from the days of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a Passover as Josiah kept, and the Priests and the Levites, and all Judah, and Israel that were <sup>1</sup>present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Passover was kept in <sup>1</sup>the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah.

20 ¶ After all this, when Josiah had prepared the Temple Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against <sup>1</sup>Carchemish by <sup>2</sup>Perath and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house <sup>1</sup>of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make haste: leave off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Josiah would not turn his face from him, but <sup>1</sup>changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot at king Josiah: then the king said to his servants, Carry me away, for I am very sick.

24 So his servants took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot which he had, and when they had brought him to Jerusalem, he died, and was buried in the sepulchers of his fathers: and all Judah and Jerusalem <sup>1</sup>mourned for Josiah.

25 And Jeremiah lamented Josiah, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Josiah in their lamentations to this day, and made the same for an ordinance unto Israel: and behold, they be written in the <sup>1</sup>Lamentations.

35:25 <sup>1</sup> Which some think Jeremiah made, wherein he lamenteth the state of the Church after this king's death.

36:2 <sup>1</sup> For three months after the death of Josiah, came Necho to Jerusalem, and so the plagues began, which Huldah and the Prophetess forewarned should come upon Jerusalem.

36:3 <sup>1</sup> To pay this as a yearly tribute.

he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and did <sup>1</sup>evil in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chains to carry him to Babel.

7 Nebuchadnezzar also <sup>b</sup>carried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his temple at Babel.

8 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and <sup>1</sup>that which was found upon him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah, and Jehoiachin his son reigned in his stead.

9 ¶ Jehoiachin was <sup>1</sup>eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did evil in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the year was out, king Nebuchadnezzar sent and brought him to Babel, with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedekiah his <sup>1</sup>brother king over Judah and Jerusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

12 <sup>4</sup>And he did evil in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himself before Jeremiah the Prophet at the commandment of the Lord.

13 But he rebelled moreover against Nebuchadnezzar, which had caused him to swear by God: and he hardened his neck and made his heart obstinate, that he might not return to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chief of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the houses of the Lord which he had sanctified in Jerusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them <sup>1</sup>by his messengers, <sup>2</sup>rising early and sending:

for he had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his Prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no <sup>1</sup>remedy.

17 For he brought upon them the king of the Chaldeans, who slew their young men with the sword <sup>1</sup>in the house of their Sanctuary, and spared neither young man nor virgin, ancient, nor aged. God <sup>2</sup>gave all into his hand,

18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these carried he to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword, carried he away to Babel, and they were servants to him, and to his sons, until the kingdom of the <sup>1</sup>Persians had rule,

21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by the <sup>1</sup>mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had her fill of her Sabbaths: for all the days that she lay desolate, she kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years.

22 ¶ <sup>4</sup>But in the <sup>1</sup>first year of Cyrus king of Persia (when the word of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah, was finished) the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, saying,

23 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the Lord God of heaven given me, and hath <sup>1</sup>commanded me to build him an house in Jerusalem, that is in Judah. Who is among you of all his people, with whom the Lord his God is? let him go up.

36:5 <sup>1</sup> Because he and the people turned not to God by his first plague, he brought a new upon him, and at length rooted them out.

36:8 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth superstitious marks which were found upon his body, when he was dead, which thing declared how deeply idolatry was rooted in his heart, seeing he bare the marks in his flesh.

36:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, he began his reign at eight years old, and reigned ten years when his father was alive, and after his father's death, which was the eighteenth year of his age, he reigned alone three months and ten days.

<sup>2</sup> By this phrase the Scripture meaneth, oftentimes, and diligently, as Jer. 11:7 and 25:3 and 26:5 and 32:33.

36:16 <sup>1</sup> Till God could no longer suffer their sins, but must needs punish them.

36:17 <sup>1</sup> Whither they fled, thinking to have been saved for the holiness thereof.

<sup>2</sup> Which is not because God approveth him, which yet is the minister of his justice, but because God would by his just judgment punish this people: for this king was led with ambition and vain glory, whereunto were joined fury and cruelty: therefore his work was condemnable, notwithstanding it was just and holy on God's part, who used this wicked instrument to declare his justice.

36:20 <sup>1</sup> When Cyrus King of Persia had made the Babylonians subject.

36:21 <sup>1</sup> Who threatened the vengeance of God and seventy years captivity, which he calleth the Sabbaths or rest of the land, Jer. 25:11.

36:22 <sup>1</sup> In the first year that he reigned over the Chaldeans, Ezra 1:1.

36:23 <sup>1</sup> God had so forewarned by his Prophet above an hundred years before Cyrus was born, Isa. 44:28, that Jerusalem and the Temple should be built again by Cyrus his anointed: so called, because God used his service for a time to deliver his Church.

1 1 Cyrus sendeth again the people that was in captivity, & restoreth them their holy vessels.

1 Now <sup>a</sup>in <sup>1</sup>the first year of Cyrus King of Persia (that the word of the LORD, spoken by the <sup>2</sup>mouth of Jeremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred up the <sup>3</sup>spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heaven hath given me <sup>1</sup>all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hath commanded me to build him an house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whom his God is? let him go up to Jerusalem which is in Judah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel: he is the God, which is in Jerusalem.

4 And everyone that remaineth in any place (where he sojourneth) <sup>1</sup>let the men of his place relieve him with silver and with gold, and with substance, and with cattle, <sup>2</sup>and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.

5 Then the chief fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the Priests and the Levites rose up, with all them whose spirit God had raised to go up, to build the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

6 And all <sup>1</sup>they that were about them, strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with substance and with cattle, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 Also the king Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, <sup>b</sup>which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of Jerusalem, and had put them in the house of his god.

8 Even them did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted them unto <sup>1</sup>Sheshbazzar the Prince of Judah.

9 And this is the number of them, thirty basins of gold, a thousand basins of silver, nine and twenty <sup>1</sup>knives,

10 Thirty bowls of gold, and of silver bowls of the second sort, four hundred and ten, and of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and silver were five thousand and four hundred. Sheshbazzar brought up all <sup>1</sup>with them of the captivity that came up from Babel to Jerusalem.

2 The number of them that returned from the captivity.

1 These <sup>a</sup>also are the sons <sup>1</sup>of the province that went up out of the captivity (whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had carried away unto Babel) and returned to Jerusalem, and to Judah, everyone unto his city,

2 Which came up with <sup>1</sup>Zerubbabel, to wit, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, <sup>2</sup>Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum, Baanah. The number of the men <sup>3</sup>of the people of Israel was,

3 The sons of Parosh, two thousand, an hundred seventy and two:

4 The sons of Shephatiah, three hundred, seventy and two:

5 The sons of Arah, seven hundred, and seventy and five:

6 The sons of <sup>1</sup>Pahath-Moab, of the sons of Jeshua, and Joab, two thousand, eight hundred and twelve:

7 The sons of Elam, a thousand, two hundred and four and fifty:

8 The sons of Zattu, nine hundred and five and forty:

1:1 <sup>1</sup> After that he and Darius had won Babylon.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> For he was chief Monarch, and had many nations under his dominion, which this heathen king confesseth to have received of the living God.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> If any through poverty were not able to return, the king's commission was that he should be furnished with necessaries.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> The Babylonians and Chaldeans gave them these presents: thus rather than the children of God should want for their necessities, he would stir up the heart of the very infidels to help them.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> So the Chaldeans called Zerubbabel who was the chief governor, so that the preeminence still remained in the house of David.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> Which served to kill the beasts that were offered in sacrifice.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> With the Jews that had been kept captives in Babylon.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Judea, which was a province, that is, a country which was in subjection.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> Zerubbabel was chief captain, and Jeshua the high Priest: but Nehemiah a man of great authority went not now, but came after 64 years.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, of the Duke of Moab.

9 The sons of Zaccai, seven hundred and three-score:

10 The sons of Bani, six hundred and two and forty:

11 The sons of Bebai, six hundred, and three and twenty:

12 The sons of Azgad, a thousand, two hundred and two and twenty:

13 The sons of Adonikam, six hundred, three score and six:

14 The sons of Bigvai, two thousand, and six and fifty:

15 The sons of Adin, four hundred and four and fifty:

16 The sons of Ater of <sup>1</sup>Hezekiah, ninety and eight:

17 The sons of Bezai, three hundred and three and twenty:

18 The sons of Jorah, an hundred and twelve:

19 The sons of Hashum, two hundred and three and twenty:

20 The sons of Gibbar, ninety and five:

21 <sup>1</sup>The sons of Bethlehem, an hundred and three and twenty:

22 The men of Netophah, six and fifty:

23 The men of Anothoth, an hundred and eight and twenty:

24 The sons of Azmaveth, two and forty:

25 The sons of Kirjath Arim, of Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and three and forty:

26 The sons of Ramah and Geba, six hundred and one and twenty:

27 The men of Michmas, an hundred and two and twenty:

28 The sons of Bethel, and Ai, two hundred and three and twenty:

29 The sons of Nebo, two and fifty:

30 The sons of Magbish, an hundred and six and fifty:

31 The sons of the other Elam, a thousand, and two hundred and four and fifty:

32 The sons of Harim, three hundred and twenty:

33 The sons of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred and five and twenty:

34 The sons of Jericho, three hundred and five and forty:

35 The sons of Senaah, three thousand six hundred and thirty:

36 The <sup>1</sup>Priests: of the sons of Jedaiah of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred seventy and three:

37 The sons of Immer, a thousand and two and fifty:

38 The sons of Pashur, a thousand, two hundred and seven and forty:

39 The sons of Harim, a thousand and seven-teen.

40 ¶ The Levites: the sons of Jeshua, and Kadmiel of the sons of Hodaviah, seventy and four.

41 ¶ The Singers: the sons of Asaph, an hundred and eight and twenty.

42 ¶ The sons of the porters: the sons of Shallum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Talmon, the sons of Akkub, the sons of Hatita, the sons of Shobai: all were an hundred and nine and thirty.

43 ¶ The <sup>1</sup>Nethinim: the sons of Ziha, the sons of Hasupha, the sons of Tabbaoth,

44 The sons of Keros, the sons of Siaha, the sons of Padon,

45 The sons of Lebanah, the sons of Hagabah, the sons of Akkub,

46 The sons of Hagab, the sons of Shamlai, the sons of Hanan,

47 The sons of Giddel, the sons of Gahar, the sons of Reaiah,

48 The sons of Rezin, the sons of Nekoda, the sons of Gazzam,

49 The sons of Uzza, the sons of Paseah, the sons of Besai,

50 The sons of Asnah, the sons of Meunim, the sons of Nephusim,

51 The sons of Bakbuk, the sons of Hakupha, the sons of Harhur,

52 The sons of Bazluth, the sons of Mehida, the sons of Harsha,

53 The sons of Barkos, the sons of Sisera, the sons of Thamah,

54 The sons of Nezhiah, the sons of Hatipha,

55 The sons of Solomon's <sup>1</sup>servants: the sons of Sotai, the sons of Sophereth, the sons of Peruda,

56 The sons of Jaala, the sons of Darkon, the sons of Giddel,

57 The sons of Shephatiah, the sons of Hattil, the sons of Pochereth Hazzebaim, the sons of Ami.

58 All the Nethinim, and the sons of Solomon's servants were three hundred ninety and two.

59 ¶ And these went up from Tel Melah, and from Tel Harsha, Cherub, Addan, and Immer, but they could not discern their father's house and their seed, whether they were of Israel.

sons of Nekoda, six hundred and two and fifty.

61 And of the sons of the Priests, the sons of Habaiah, the sons of Koz, the sons of <sup>1</sup>Barzillai: which took of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.

62 These sought their writing of the genealogies, but they were not found: therefore were they put from the Priesthood.

63 And <sup>1</sup>Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy thing, till there rose up a Priest with <sup>2</sup>Urim and Thummim.

64 The whole Congregation together was two and forty thousand, three hundred and threescore, 65 Beside their servants and their maids: of whom were seven thousand, three hundred and seven and thirty: and among them were two hundred singing men and singing women.

66 Their horses were seven hundred, and six and thirty: their mules, two hundred, and five and forty:

67 Their camels four hundred, and five and thirty: their asses, six thousand, seven hundred and twenty.

68 And certain of the chief fathers, when they came to the house of the Lord, which was in Jerusalem, they offered willingly for the house of God, to set it up upon his foundation.

69 They gave after their ability unto the treasure of the work, even one and threescore thousand <sup>1</sup>drams of gold, and five thousand <sup>2</sup>pieces of silver, and an hundred Priests' garments.

70 So the Priests and the Levites, and a certain of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

the God of Israel to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God,

3 And they set the Altar upon <sup>1</sup>his bases (for fear was among them, because of the people of those countries) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon unto the Lord, even burnt offerings in the morning, and at even.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and they burnt offering <sup>a</sup>daily, by number according to the custom day by day,

5 And afterward <sup>1</sup>the continual burnt offering, both in the new months and in all the feast days that were consecrated unto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered unto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt offerings unto the Lord: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not laid.

7 They gave money also unto the masons, and to the workmen, and meat and drink, and oil unto them of Zidon and of Tyre, to bring them cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea unto <sup>1</sup>Japho, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

8 ¶ And in the second year of their coming unto the house of God in Jerusalem, in the <sup>1</sup>second month began Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priests, and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jerusalem, and appointed the Levites from twenty years old and above, to set forward the work of the house of the Lord.

9 And Jeshua <sup>1</sup>stood with his sons, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his sons, and the sons of Judah together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God, and the sons of Henadad with their sons, and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise the Lord, <sup>b</sup>after the ordinance of David king of Israel.

11 Thus they sang when they gave praise, and when they gave thanks unto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercy endureth forever toward Israel.

And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was laid.

12 Many also of the Priests and the Levites and the chief of the fathers, ancient men which had seen the first house, (when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes) <sup>1</sup>weped with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for joy,

13 So that the people could not discern the sound of the shout for joy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud cry, and the noise was heard far off.

4 <sup>2</sup> The building of the Temple is hindered, and how, 11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answer.

1 But <sup>1</sup>the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captivity built the Temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief fathers, and said unto them, We will build with you: for we seek the Lord your God as ye do, and we have sacrificed unto him since the time of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, which brought us up hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Jeshua, and the rest of the chief fathers of Israel said unto them, It is not for you, but for us to build the house unto our God: <sup>1</sup>for we ourselves together will build it unto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.

4 Wherefore the people of the land <sup>1</sup>discouraged the people of Judah, and troubled them in building.

10 And the rest of the people whom the great and noble <sup>1</sup>Osnapper brought over, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the <sup>2</sup>River and <sup>3</sup>Cheeneth.

11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto King Artaxerxes, THY SERVANTS the men beyond the River and Cheeneth, salute thee.

12 Be it known unto the King that the Jews, which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jerusalem (a city rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walls, and have joined the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that if this city be built, and the foundations of the walls laid, they will not give toll, tribute, nor <sup>1</sup>custom: so shalt thou hinder the king's tribute.

14 Now therefore because <sup>1</sup>we have been brought up in the King's palace, it was not meet for us to see the King's dishonor: for this cause have we sent and certified the King,

15 That one may search in the book of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt find in the book of the Chronicles, and perceive that this city is rebellious and noisome unto kings and provinces, and that they have moved sedition of old time, for the which cause this city was destroyed.

16 We certify the king therefore, that if this city be built, and the foundation of the walls laid, by this means the portion beyond the River shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answer unto Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and unto the other beyond the River, <sup>1</sup>Shelam and <sup>2</sup>Cheeth.

20 There have been mighty kings also over Jerusalem, which have ruled over all beyond the River, and toll, tribute and custom was given unto them.

21 Make ye now a decree that those men may cease, and that the city be not built, till I have given another commandment.

22 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: why should damage grow to hurt the king?

23 When the copy of king Artaxerxes's letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went up in all the haste to Jerusalem unto the Jews, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the work of the house of God, which was in Jerusalem, and did stay unto the second year of Darius king of Persia.

sent unto King Darius.

7 They sent a letter unto him, wherein it was written thus, UNTO DARIUS the king, all peace.

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judea, to the house of the great God, which is built with <sup>1</sup>great stones, and beams are laid in the walls, and this work is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said unto them thus, Who hath given you commandment to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walls?

10 We asked their names also that we might certify thee, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered us thus, and said, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the house that was built of old and many years ago, which a <sup>1</sup>great king of Israel <sup>b</sup>built, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, <sup>he</sup> gave them over into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Chaldean, and he destroyed this house, and carried the people away captive unto Babel.

13 But in the <sup>1</sup>first year of Cyrus king of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels of gold and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the Temple, that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gave them unto one <sup>1</sup>Sheshbazzar by his name, whom he had made captain.

15 And he said unto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar and laid the foundation of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem, and since that time even until now, hath it been in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there be search made in the house of the king's <sup>1</sup>treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath been made by king Cyrus, to build this house of God in Jerusalem, and let the King send his mind concerning this.

1 Then king Darius gave commandment, and they made search in the <sup>1</sup>library of the treasures, which were there laid up in Babel.

2 And there was found in a <sup>1</sup>coffer (in the palace that was in the province of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST year of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem, Let the house be built, even the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walls thereof be joined together: let the height thereof be threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof threescore cubits,

4 Three <sup>1</sup>orders of <sup>2</sup>great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expenses be given of the king's house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of gold and silver, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the Temple, which was in Jerusalem, and brought unto Babel) and let <sup>1</sup>him go unto the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tattenai captain beyond the river, and Shethar-Boznai, (and their companions Apharsecai, which are beyond the River) be ye far <sup>1</sup>from thence.

7 Suffer ye the work of this house of God, that the captain of the Jews and the Elders of the Jews may build this house of God in his place.

8 For I have given a commandment what ye shall do to the Elders of these Jews, for the building of this house of God, that of the revenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyond the River, there be incontinently expenses given unto these men that they <sup>1</sup>cease not.

9 And that which they shall have need of, let it be given unto them day by day, whether it be young bullocks, or rams, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Jerusalem, that there be no fault,

10 That they may have to offer sweet odors unto the God of heaven, and pray for the king's life, and for his sons.

11 And I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled down from his house, and shall be set up, and he shall 12 And the God that hath caused his Name <sup>1</sup>to dwell there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to destroy this house of God, which is in Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 ¶ Then Tattenai the Captain beyond the River, and Shethar-Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the elders of the Jews built, and they prospered by the prophesying of <sup>1</sup>Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the son of Iddo, and they built and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the month <sup>1</sup>Adar, which was <sup>2</sup>the sixth year of the reign of King Darius.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Levites, and the residue of the children of the captivity kept the dedication of this house of God with joy,

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and twelve goats, for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Levites in their courses over the service of God in Jerusalem, as it is written in the <sup>a</sup>book of Moses.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

20 (For the Priests and the Levites were purified altogether) and they killed the Passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come again out of captivity, and all such as had <sup>1</sup>separated themselves unto them, from the filthiness of the Heathen of the land to seek the Lord God of Israel, did eat,

1 Now after these things, in the reign of <sup>1</sup>Artaxerxes king of Persia, was Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah,

2 The son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub,

3 The son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth,

4 The son of Zerariah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki,

5 The son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of <sup>1</sup>Aaron, the chief Priest.

6 This Ezra came up from Babel, and was a <sup>1</sup>Scribe, prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had given, and the king gave him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God, which was upon him.

7 And there went up certain of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim unto Jerusalem, in the seventh year of king Artaxerxes.

8 And he came to Jerusalem in the <sup>1</sup>fifth month, which was in the seventh year <sup>2</sup>of the king.

9 For upon the first day of the first month began he to go up from Babel, and on the first day of the fifth month came he to Jerusalem according to the good hand of his God that was upon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the Law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach the precepts and judgments in Israel.

13 I have given commandment, that everyone that is willing in my kingdom of the people of Israel, and of the Priests, and Levites, <sup>1</sup>to go to Jerusalem with thee, shall go.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the king and his seven counselors, to <sup>1</sup>enquire in Judah and Jerusalem, according to the Law of thy God, which is in <sup>2</sup>thine hand,

15 And to carry the silver and the gold, which the king and his counselors willingly offer unto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Jerusalem)

17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this silver, bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat offerings, and their drink offerings: and thou shalt offer them upon the Altar of the house of your God, which is in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever it pleaseth thee and thy brethren to do with the rest of the silver and gold, do ye it according to the will of your <sup>1</sup>God.

19 And the vessels that are given thee for the service of the house of thy God, those deliver thou before God in Jerusalem.

20 And the residue that shall be needful for the house of thy God, which shall be meet for thee to bestow, thou shalt bestow it out of the King's treasure house,

21 And I king Artaxerxes have given commandment to all the treasurers which are beyond <sup>1</sup>the River, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Law of the God of heaven shall require of you, that it be done incontinently,

4 Of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Pahath-Moab, Elihoenai, the son of Zerahiah, and with him two hundred males.

5 Of the sons of Shechaniah, the son of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males.

9 Of the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

10 And of the sons of Shelomith the son of Josiphiah, and with him an hundred and threescore males.

11 And of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai, and with him eight and twenty males.

12 And of the sons of Azgad, Johanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the sons of Adonikam, that were the <sup>1</sup>last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Jehiel and Shemaiah, and with them threescore males.

14 And of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them seventy males.

15 And I gathered them to the <sup>1</sup>river that goeth toward Ahava, and there abode we three days: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sons of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Jarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chief, and to Joiarib, and to Elnathan men of understanding,

17 And I gave them commandment, to Iddo the <sup>1</sup>chiefeest at the place of Casiphia, and I <sup>2</sup>told them the words that they should speak to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinim at the place of Casiphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come unto us.

18 So by the good hand of our God, which was upon us, they brought us a man of understanding of the sons of Mahli the son of Levi the son of Israel, and Sherebiah with his sons and his brethren, even eighteen.

19 Also Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiiah of the sons of Merari, with his brethren, and their sons twenty.

20 And of the <sup>1</sup>Nethinim, whom David had set, and the Princes for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty of the Nethinim, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble <sup>1</sup>ourselves before our God, and seek of him a right way for us, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was <sup>1</sup>ashamed to require of the king an army and horsemen, to help us against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them that seek him in goodness, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was entreated of us.

24 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the silver and the gold and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king and his counselors and his Princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed unto their hand six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and in silver vessel an hundred talents, and in gold, an hundred talents,

27 And twenty basins of gold, of a thousand talents, and two vessels of shining brass very good, and precious as gold.

28 ¶ And I said unto them, Ye are consecrated unto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrated, and the gold and the silver are freely offered unto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them until ye weigh them before the chief Priests and the Levites, and the chief fathers of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver, and of the gold, and of the vessels to bring them to Jerusalem, unto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahavah on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was upon us, and delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of such as laid wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days.

33 And on the fourth day was the silver weighed, and the gold, and the vessel, in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabad the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui the Levites, 34 By number and by weight of every one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captivity, which were come out of captivity, offered burnt offerings unto the God of Israel, twelve bullocks for all Israel, ninety and six rams, seventy and seven lambs, and twelve he goats for sin: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

CHAPTER 9

Num. 28:3,4

36 And they delivered the King's commission unto the King's officers, and to the captains beyond the river: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

9 1 Ezra complaineth on the people that had turned themselves from God, and married with the Gentiles. 5 He prayeth unto God.

1 When as these things were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests, and the Levites are not <sup>1</sup>separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they have taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sons, and they have mixed the holy seed with the people of the lands, and the hand of the <sup>1</sup>Princes and rulers have been chief in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucked off the hair of mine head, and of my beard, and sat down <sup>1</sup>astonied.

4 And there assembled unto me all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captivity. And I sat down <sup>1</sup>astonied until the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I rose up from mine heaviness, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell upon my knees, and spread out mine hands unto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift up mine eyes unto thee my God: for our iniquities are increased over <sup>1</sup>our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the <sup>2</sup>heaven.

7 From the days of our fathers have we been in a great trespass unto this day, and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our Priests been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, unto the sword, into captivity, into a spoil, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath been showed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giving us a <sup>1</sup>nail in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our servitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken us in our bondage, but hath inclined mercy unto us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redress the desolate places thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this? for we have forsaken thy commandments,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy servants the Prophets, saying, <sup>b</sup>The land whereunto ye go to possess it, is an unclean land, because of the filthiness of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their uncleanness have filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shall ye not give your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons, nor seek their peace nor wealth forever, that ye may be strong and eat the goodness of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your sons forever.

13 And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed us from being beneath <sup>1</sup>for our iniquities, and hast given us such deliverance.)

14 Should we return to break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou be angry toward us till thou hadst consumed us, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art just, for we have been <sup>1</sup>reserved to escape, as appeareth this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespass: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

1 While Ezra prayed thus, and <sup>1</sup>confessed himself weeping, and falling down before the house of God, there assembled unto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the son of Jehiel one of the sons of Elam answered, and said to Ezra, We have trespassed against our God, and have taken strange wives of the people of the land, yet now there is <sup>1</sup>hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our

4 Arise: for the matter <sup>1</sup>belongeth unto thee: we also will be with thee: be of comfort and do it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezra, and caused the chief Priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would do according to this word. So they sware.

6 And Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the son of Eliashib: he went even thither, but he did eat neither bread nor drunk water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captivity.

7 And they caused a proclamation to go throughout Judah and Jerusalem, unto <sup>1</sup>all them of the captivity, that they should assemble themselves unto Jerusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within three days according to the counsel of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be <sup>1</sup>forfeit, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captivity.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin assembled themselves unto Jerusalem within three days, which was the twentieth day of the <sup>1</sup>ninth month, and all the people sat in the street of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the <sup>2</sup>rain.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed, and have taken strange wives, to <sup>1</sup>increase the trespass of Israel.

11 Now therefore <sup>1</sup>give praise unto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, So will we do according to thy words unto us.

13 But the people are many, and it is a rainy weather, and we are not able to stand without, neither is it the work of one day or two: for we are many that have offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore <sup>1</sup>before all the Congregation, and let all them which have taken strange wives in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with [them] the Elders of every city and the judges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turn away from us.

16 And they of the captivity did so, and <sup>1</sup>departed, even Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chief fathers to the family of their fathers by name, and sat down in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And until the first day of the first month they were finishing the business with all the men that had taken strange wives.

18 And of the sons of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wives, to wit, of the sons of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

21 And of the sons of Harim, Maaseiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziyah.

22 And of the sons of Pashur, Eliezer, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasaah.

23 And of the Levites, Jozabad and Shimei, and Kelaiah, (which is Kelita) Pethahiah, Judah and Eliezer.

24 And of the singers, Eliashib. And of the porters, Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 And of <sup>1</sup>Israel: of the sons of Parosh, Ramiah, and Jeziah, and Malchiah, and Mijamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

26 And of the sons of Elam, Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the sons of Zattu, Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, and Jerimoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.

28 And of the sons of Bebai, Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, Athlai.

29 And of the sons of Bani, Meshullam, Malluch, and Adaiah, Jashub, and Sheal, Jeremoth.

30 And of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Pahath-Moab, Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binnui, and Manasseh.

31 And of the sons of Harim, Eliezer, Ishijah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, 32 Benjamin, Malluch, Shamariah.

33 Of the sons of Hashum, Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, Shimei.

34 Of the sons of Bani, Maadai, Amram, and Uel,

35 Banaiah, Bedeiah, Chelluh,

36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,

37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaasai,

38 And Bani, and Binnui, Shimei,

39 And Shelemiah, and Nathan, and Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,

41 Azarel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah,

42 Shallum, Amariah, Joseph.

43 Of the sons of Nebo, Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jadai, and Joel, Benaiah.

44 All these had taken strange wives: and among them were women that had <sup>1</sup>children.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> They went to the chief cities to sit on this matter which was three months in finishing.

10:19 <sup>1</sup> As a token that they would keep promise and do it.

10:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the common people: for before he spake of the Priests and Levites.

10:30 <sup>1</sup> Or, the captain of Moab.

10:44 <sup>1</sup> Which also were made illegitimate because the marriage was unlawful.

NEHEMIAH

1 <sup>4</sup> Nehemiah bewaileth the calamity of Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup> He confesseth the sins of the people, and praiseth God for them.

1 The words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah. In the month <sup>1</sup>Chislew, in the twentieth year, as I was in the palace of Shushan,

2 Came Hanani, one of my <sup>1</sup>brethren, he and the men of Judah, and I asked them concerning the Jews that were delivered, which were of the residue of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

3 And they said unto me, The residue that are left of the captivity there in the <sup>1</sup>province, are in great affliction and in reproach, and the wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these words, I sat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heaven,

5 And said, "O Lord God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him, and observe his commandments,

6 I pray thee let thine ears be attent, and thine eyes open, to hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy servants, and confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee, both I and my father's house have sinned:

7 We have <sup>1</sup>grievously sinned against thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the judgments, which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, Ye will transgress, and <sup>6</sup>I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if ye return unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them, 'though your scattering were to the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you unto the place that I have chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy servants and thy people whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine ear now hearken to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to <sup>1</sup>fear thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy servant to prosper this day, and give him favor in the presence of <sup>2</sup>this man: for I was the king's butler.

2 <sup>1</sup> After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, <sup>11</sup> he came to Jerusalem, <sup>17</sup> and built the walls.

1 Now in the month <sup>1</sup>Nisan in the twentieth year of king <sup>2</sup>Artaxerxes, the wine stood before him, and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I was not before time sad in his presence.

2 And the king said unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing, but sorrow of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3 And I said to the King, God save the king forever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city and house of the sepulchers of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are devoured with fire?

4 And the king said unto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed <sup>1</sup>to the God of heaven,

5 And said unto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant have found favor in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Judah unto the city of the sepulchers of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King said unto me, (the Queen also sitting by him:) How long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou come again? So it pleased the king, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After I said unto the King, If it please the King, let them give me letters to the captains beyond the <sup>1</sup>River, that they may convey me over, till I come into Judah,

8 And letters unto Asaph the keeper of the king's <sup>1</sup>park, that he may give me timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walls of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gave me according to <sup>2</sup>the

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, corrupted.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, to worship thee.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Which was the first month of the year, and containeth part of March and part of April.

<sup>2</sup> Who is also called Darius, read Ezra 7:1, and was the son of Hystaspis.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, Euphrates.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> Or, Paradise.

good hand of my God upon me.

9 ¶ Then came I to the captains beyond the River, and gave them the king's letters. And the king had sent captains of the army and horsemen with me.

10 But <sup>1</sup>Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a servant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Jerusalem, and there was not a beast with me, save the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem, how they were broken down, and the ports thereof devoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth unto the gate of the <sup>1</sup>fountain, and to the king's fish pool, and there was no room for the beast that was under me to pass.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and coming back, I entered by the gate of the valley, and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it unto the Jews, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that labored in the work.

17 Afterward I said unto them, Ye see the misery that we are in, how Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come, and let us build the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more <sup>1</sup>a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good over me) and also of the king's words that he had spoken unto me. And they said, Let us rise, and build. So they <sup>1</sup>strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant an Ammonite, and <sup>1</sup>Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked us, and despised us, and said, What a thing is this that ye do? Will ye <sup>2</sup>rebel against the king?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heaven, he will prosper us, and we his servants will rise up and build: but as for you, ye have no portion nor right, nor <sup>1</sup>memorial in Jerusalem.

3 The number of them that built the walls.

1 Then arose Eliashib the high Priest with his brethren the Priests, and they built the sheep gate: they <sup>1</sup>repaired it, and set up the doors thereof: even unto the tower of Meah repaired they it, and unto the tower of Hananel.

2 And next unto him built the men of Jericho, and beside him Zaccur the son of Imri.

3 But the fish port did the sons of Seneah build, which also laid the beams thereof, and set on the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them fortified Meremoth, the son of Urijah, the son of Koz: and next unto them fortified Meshullam, the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel: and next unto them fortified Zadok, the son of Baana:

5 And next unto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them <sup>1</sup>put not their necks to the works of their lords.

6 And the gate of the <sup>old</sup> fish pool fortified Jehoiada the son of Paseah, and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah: they laid the beams thereof, and set on the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 Next unto them also fortified Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the <sup>1</sup>throne of the Duke, which was beyond the River.

8 Next unto him fortified Uzziel the son of Harhaiah <sup>1</sup>of the goldsmiths: next unto him also fortified Hananiah the son <sup>2</sup>of Harakkahim, and they repaired Jerusalem unto the broad wall.

9 Also next unto them fortified Rephaiah, the son of Hur, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem.

10 And next unto him fortified Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, even over against his house: and next unto him fortified Hattush the son of Hashabniah.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> These were great enemies to the Jews, and labored always both by force and subtlety to overcome them, and Tobiah, because his wife was a Jewess, had advertisement ever of their affairs, and so wrought them great trouble.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> Or, conduit.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, contemned of other nations, as though God had forsaken us.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> They were encouraged, and gave themselves to do well, and to travel in this worthy enterprise.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> These were three chief governors under the king of Persia beyond Euphrates.

<sup>2</sup> Thus the wicked when they will burden the children of God, ever lay treason unto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stirreth the hatred of princes most against them.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> Neither are ye of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this city only) neither did any of your predecessors ever fear God.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> In Hebrew, they sanctified it, that is, they finished it, and so dedicated it to the Lord by prayer, in desiring him to maintain it.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> The rich and mighty would not obey them which were appointed officers in this work, neither would they help thereunto.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> Unto the place where the Duke was wont to sit in judgment, who governed the country in their absence.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> Or, Zorephim.

11 Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hashub the son of Pahath-Moab fortified the second <sup>1</sup>portion, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 Next unto him also fortified Shallum the son of Hallohesh, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah: they built it, and set on the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, even a thousand cubits on the wall unto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth Hacarem: he built it, and set on the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain fortified Shallun the son of Col-Hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mizpah: he built it, and covered it, and set on the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall unto the fish pool of <sup>1</sup>Shelah by the king's garden, and unto the steps that go down from the city of David.

16 After him fortified Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of the half part of Beth Zur until the other side over against the sepulchers of David and to the fish pool that was repaired, and unto the house of the mighty.

17 After him fortified the Levites, Rehum the son of Bani, and the next unto him fortified Hashabiah the ruler of the half part of Keilah in his quarter.

18 After him fortified their brethren: Bavai, the son of Henadad the ruler of the half part of Keilah:

19 And next unto him fortified Ezer, the son of Jeshua the ruler of Mizpah, the other portion over against the going up to the <sup>1</sup>corner of the armor.

20 After him was earnest Baruch the son of Zabbai, and fortified another portion from the corner unto the door of the house of Eliashib the high Priest.

21 After him fortified Meremoth the son of Urijah, the son of Koz, another portion from the door of the house of Eliashib, even as long as the house of Eliashib extended.

22 After him also fortified the Priests, the men of <sup>1</sup>the plain.

23 After them fortified Benjamin, and Hashub over against their house: after him fortified Azariah the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ananiah, by his house.

24 After him fortified Binnui, the son of Henadad another portion, from the house of Azariah unto the turning and unto the corner.

25 Palal, the son of Uzai, from over against the corner, and the high tower, that lieth out from the King's house, which is beside the court of the prison. After him Pedaiah the son of Parosh.

26 And the <sup>1</sup>Nethinim they dwelt in the fortress unto the place over against the water gate Eastward, and to the tower that lieth out.

27 After him fortified the Tekoites another portion over against the great tower that lieth out even unto the wall of the fortress.

28 From above the horse gate forth fortified the Priests, every one over against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadok the son of Immer over against his house: and after him fortified Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hanun the son of Zalaph, the <sup>1</sup>sixth, another portion: after him fortified Meshullam, the son of Berechiah, over against his chamber.

31 After him fortified Malchijah the goldsmith's son, until the house of the Nethinim, and of the Merchants over against the gate <sup>1</sup>Miphkad, and to the chamber in the corner.

32 And between the chamber of the corner unto the sheep gate fortified the goldsmiths and the merchants.

4 <sup>7</sup> The building of Jerusalem is hindered, 15 but God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Jews build with one hand, and hold their weapons in the other.

1 But when Sanballat heard that we built the wall, then was he wroth and sore grieved, and mocked the Jews,

2 And said before his <sup>1</sup>brethren and the army of Samaria, thus he said, What do these <sup>2</sup>weak Jews? will they fortify themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole again out of the heaps of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they build, yet if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stony wall.

4 <sup>1</sup>Hear, O our God (for we are despised) and turn their shame upon their own head, and give them unto a prey <sup>2</sup>in the land of their captivity,

3:11 <sup>1</sup> Or, measure.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> Or, Shoa.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> Where the weapons and armor of the city lay.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> Which dwelt in the plain country by Jordan and Jericho.

3:26 <sup>1</sup> Read Ezra 2:43.

3:30 <sup>1</sup> Meaning the sixth of his sons.

3:31 <sup>1</sup> Which was the place of judgment or execution.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria.

<sup>2</sup> Thus the wicked that consider not that God's power is ever in a readiness for the defense of his, mock them as though they were weak and feeble.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> This is the remedy that the children of God have against the derision and threatenings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.

5 And cover not their <sup>1</sup>iniquity, neither let their sin be put out in thy presence: for they have provoked us before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was joined unto the <sup>1</sup>half thereof, and the heart of the people was to work.

7 ¶ But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the walls of Jerusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to <sup>1</sup>hinder them.

9 Then we prayed unto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our adversaries had said, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the midst of them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12 But when the Jews (which dwelt beside them) came, they told us <sup>1</sup>ten times, <sup>2</sup>From all places, whence ye shall return, they will be upon us.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall upon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

14 Then I beheld, and rose up, and said unto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: <sup>1</sup>remember the great Lord, and fearful, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, then God brought their counsel to nought, and we turned all again to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And from that day half of the young men did the labor, and the other half part of them held the spears, and shields, and bows, and habergeons: and the Rulers stood <sup>1</sup>behind all the house of Judah.

17 They that built on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the work with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For every one of the builders had his sword girded on his loins, and so built: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I unto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, <sup>1</sup>resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

21 So we labored in the work, and half of them held the spears, from the appearing of the morning, till the stars came forth.

22 And at the same time said I unto the people, Let everyone with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that they may be a watch for us in the night, and labor in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the ward (which followed me) none of us did put off our clothes, save everyone put them off <sup>1</sup>for washing.

5 <sup>1</sup> The people are oppressed and in necessity. <sup>6</sup> Nehemiah remedieth it. <sup>14</sup> He took not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should grieve the people.

1 Now there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives <sup>1</sup>against their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that said, We, our sons and our daughters are many, therefore we take up <sup>1</sup>corn, that we may eat and live.

3 And there were that said, We must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take up corn for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the king's <sup>1</sup>tribute upon our lands and our vineyards.

5 And now our flesh is as <sup>1</sup>the flesh of our brethren, and our sons as their sons: and lo, we bring into subjection our sons and our daughters, as servants, and there be of our daughters now in subjection, and there is no power <sup>2</sup>in our hands: for other men have our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their cry and these words.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Let the plagues declare to the world that they set themselves against thee and against thy Church: that he prayeth only having respect to God's glory and not for any private affection, or grudge.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, half height.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, make to stay, meaning the people.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, oftentimes.

<sup>2</sup> They which brought the tidings, said thus, When you leave your work, and go either to eat or to rest, your enemies will assail you.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> Who is ever at hand to deliver his out of danger: and therefore seeing they should fight for the maintenance of God's glory, and for the preservation of their own lives and of theirs, he encourageth them to play the valiant men.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> To oversee them and to encourage them to their work.

4:20 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to resist their enemies, if need required.

4:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, when they purified themselves, or else when they washed their clothes.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> Against the rich which oppressed them.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> This is the complaint of the people, showing to what extremity they were brought unto.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted yearly of us.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> By nature the rich is no better than the poor.

<sup>2</sup> We are not able to redeem them, but for poverty are constrained to hire them to others.

7 And I thought in my mind, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and said unto them, You lay <sup>1</sup>burdens every one upon his brethren: and I set a great <sup>2</sup>assembly against them,

8 And I said unto them, We (according to our ability) have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren again, or shall they be <sup>1</sup>sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

9 <sup>1</sup>I said also, That which ye do, is not good. Ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, for the <sup>2</sup>reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 For even I, my brethren, and my servants do lend them money and corn: I pray you, let us leave off this <sup>1</sup>burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, unto them this day their lands, their vineyards, their olives, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the silver and of the corn, of the wine, and of the oil <sup>1</sup>that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will do as thou hast said. Then I called the Priests and caused them to swear, that they should do according to this promise.

13 So I shook my lap, and said, So let God shake out every man that will not perform this promise, from his house, and from his labor: even thus let him be shaken out and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gave me charge to be governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year, even unto the two and thirtieth year of King Artaxerxes, that is, twelve years, I, and my brethren have not eaten the <sup>1</sup>bread of the governor.

15 For the former governors that were before me, had been chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of silver: yea, and their servants bare rule over the people: but so did not I, because of the fear of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the work of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my servants came thither together unto the work.

17 Moreover there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews, and rulers, which came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 And there was prepared daily an ox, and six chosen sheep, and birds were prepared for me, and <sup>1</sup>within ten days wine for all <sup>2</sup>in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the governor: for the bondage was grievous unto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodness, according to all that I have done for this people.

6 <sup>8</sup> Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom and zeal to his adversary. <sup>11</sup> He is not discouraged by the false Prophets.

1 And when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no more <sup>1</sup>breaches therein (though at that time I had not set up the doors upon the gates)

2 Then sent Sanballat and Geshem unto me, saying, come thou that we may meet together in the villages in the plain of Ono: and they thought to do me evil.

3 Therefore I sent messengers unto them, saying, I have a great work to do, and I cannot come down: <sup>1</sup>why should the work cease, while I leave it and come down to you?

4 Yet they sent unto me four times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his servant after this sort unto me the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and <sup>1</sup>Gashmu hath said it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt be their king according to these <sup>2</sup>words.

7 Thou hast also ordained <sup>1</sup>the Prophets to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a King in Judah: and now according to these words it shall come to the King's ears: come now therefore, and let us take

5:7 <sup>1</sup> You press them with usury, and seek how to bring all things into your hands.

<sup>2</sup> Both because they should be moved with pity, seeing how many were by them oppressed, and also hear the judgment of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealings toward their brethren.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> Seeing God hath once delivered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaves?

5:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Nehemiah.

<sup>2</sup> Who by this occasion will blaspheme the Name of God, seeing that our acts are no better than theirs.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, usury.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> Which ye take of them for the loan.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> I received not that portion and diet, which the governors that were before me exacted, wherein he declareth that he rather sought the wealth of the people than his own commodity.

5:18 <sup>1</sup> Or, once in ten days.

<sup>2</sup> Whereas at other times they had by measure, at this time they had most liberally.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, that they were joined together, as Neh. 4:6.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that if he should obey their request, the work which God had appointed, should cease: showing hereby that we should not commit ourselves to the hands of the wicked.

6:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, Geshem.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast bribed and set up false prophets, to make thyself king, and so to defraud the king of Persia of that subjection which you owe unto him.

counsel together.

8 Then I sent unto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou sayest: for thou feignest them of thine own heart.

9 For all they afraid us, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the work, and it shall not be done: now therefore <sup>1</sup>encourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabel, and he was <sup>1</sup>shut up, and he said, Let us come together into the house of God in the midst of the Temple, and shut the doors of the Temple: for they will come to slay thee; yea, in the night will they come to kill thee.

11 Then I said, <sup>1</sup>Should such a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that would go into the Temple to live? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceived that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophecy against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraid, and do thus, and sin, and that they might have an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, remember thou Tobiah, and Sanballat according unto these their works, and Noadiah the <sup>1</sup>Prophetess also, and the rest of the prophets that would have put me in fear.

15 ¶ Notwithstanding the wall was finished on the five and twentieth day of <sup>1</sup>Elul, in two and <sup>2</sup>fifty days.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, even all the heathen that were about us, they were afraid, and their courage failed them: for they knew that this work was wrought by our God.

17 And in these days were there many of the princes of Judah, whose <sup>1</sup>letters went unto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah, that were sworn unto him: for he was the son in law of Shechaniah, the son of Arah: and his son Jehohanan had the daughter of Meshullam, the son of Berechiah.

19 Yea, they spake in his praise before me, and told him my words, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

CHAPTER 7

7 <sup>1</sup>After the wall once built, is the watch appointed. <sup>6</sup>They that returned from the captivity are numbered.

1 Now when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the porters, and the singers and the Levites were appointed,

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani and Hananiah, the prince of the palace in Jerusalem (for he was doubtless a faithful man, and feared God above many)

3 And I said unto them, Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened, until the heat of the sun: and while <sup>1</sup>they stand by, let them shut the doors, and <sup>2</sup>make them fast: and I appointed wards of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, everyone in his ward, and everyone over against his house.

4 Now the city was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not built.

5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people, to count their genealogies: and I found a book of the genealogy of them, <sup>a</sup>which came up at the first, and found written therein,

6 These are the <sup>1</sup>sons of the province that came up from the captivity that was carried away (whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had carried away) and they returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, every one unto his city.

7 They which came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, <sup>1</sup>Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. This is the number of the men of the people of Israel.

8 The sons of Parosh, two thousand an hundred seventy and two.

9 The sons of Shephatiah, three hundred seventy and two.

10 The sons of Arah, six hundred fifty and two.

11 The sons of <sup>1</sup>Pahath-Moab of the sons of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and eighteen.

12 The sons of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four.

13 The sons of Zattu, eight hundred and five and forty.

14 The sons of Zaccai, seven hundred and three-

6:11 <sup>1</sup> He doubted not but God was able to preserve him, and knew that if he had obeyed this counsel he should have discouraged all the people: thus God giveth power to his to resist false prophecies, though they seem to have never so great probability.

6:14 <sup>1</sup> Very grief caused him to pray against such, which under the pretence of being the ministers of God, were adversaries to his glory, and went about to overthrow his Church, declaring also hereby that where there is one true minister of God, the devil hath a great sort of hirelings.

15 The sons of Binnui, six hundred and eight and forty.

16 The sons of Bebai, six hundred and eight and twenty.

17 The sons of Azgad, two thousand three hundred and two and twenty.

18 The sons of Adonikam, six hundred threescore and seven.

19 The sons of Bigvai, two thousand threescore and seven.

20 The sons of Adin, six hundred and five and fifty.

21 The sons of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety and eight.

22 The sons of Hashum, three hundred and eight and twenty.

23 The sons of Bezai, three hundred and four and twenty.

24 The sons of Hariph, an hundred and twelve.

25 The <sup>1</sup>sons of Gibeon, ninety and five.

26 The men of Bethlehem and Netophah, an hundred fourscore and eight.

27 The men of Anathoth, an hundred and eight and twenty.

28 The men of Beth Azmaveth, two and forty.

29 The men of Kirjath Jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and three and forty.

30 The men of Ramah and Geba, six hundred and one and twenty.

31 The men of Michmas, an hundred and two and twenty.

32 The men of Bethel and Ai, an hundred and three and twenty.

33 The men <sup>1</sup>of the other Nebo, two and fifty.

34 The sons of the other Elam, a thousand two hundred and four and fifty.

35 The sons of Harim, three hundred and twenty.

36 The sons of Jericho, three hundred and five and forty.

37 The sons of Lod, Hadid and Ono, seven hundred and one and twenty.

38 The sons of Senaah, three thousand nine hundred and thirty.

39 The Priests: the sons of Jedaiah of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred seventy and three.

40 The sons of Immer, a thousand and two and fifty.

41 The sons of Pashur, a thousand two hundred and seven and forty.

42 The sons of Harim, a thousand and seventeen.

43 ¶ The Levites: the sons of Jeshua of Kadmiel, and of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Hodevah, seventy and four.

44 ¶ The singers: the children of Asaph, an hundred and eight and forty.

45 The porters: the sons of Shallum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Talmon, the sons of Akkub, the sons of Hatita, the sons of Shobai, an hundred and eight and thirty.

46 ¶ The <sup>1</sup>Nethinim: the sons of Ziha, the sons of Hasupha, the sons of Tabbaoth,

47 The sons of Keros, the sons of Sia, the sons of Padon,

48 The sons of Lebana, the sons of Hagaba, the sons of Shalmai,

49 The sons of Hanan, the sons of Giddel, the sons of Gahar,

50 The sons of Reaiah, the sons of Rezin, the sons of Nekoda,

51 The sons of Gazzam, the sons of Uzza, the sons of Paseah,

52 The sons of Besai, the sons of Meunim, the sons of Nephishesim,

53 The sons of Bakbuk, the sons of Hakupha, the sons of Harhur,

54 The sons of Bazlith, the sons of Mehida, the sons of Harsha,

55 The sons of Barkos, the sons of Sisera, the sons of Tamah,

56 The sons of Nezhiah, the sons of Hatipha,

57 The sons of Solomon's servants, the sons of Sotai, the sons of Sophereth, the sons of Perida,

58 The sons of Jaala, the sons of Darkon, the sons of Giddel,

59 The sons of Shephatiah, the sons of Hartil, the sons of Pochereth of Zebaim, the sons of Amon.

60 All the Nethinim, and the sons of Solomon's servants were three hundred, ninety and two.

61 ¶ And these came up from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not show their father's house, nor their seed, or if they were of Israel.

62 The sons of Delaiah: the sons of Tobiah, the sons of Nekoda, six hundred and two and forty.

63 And of the Priests: the sons of Habaiah, the sons of Koz, the sons of Barzillai, which took one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was named after their name.

64 These sought their writing of the genealogies, but it was not found: therefore they were put from the Priesthood.

65 And <sup>1</sup>the Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy, till there rose up a Priest with <sup>b</sup>Urim and Thummim.

66 All the Congregation together was two and forty thousand, three hundred and threescore, 67 Besides their servants and their maids, which were seven thousand, three hundred and seven and thirty: and they had two hundred and five and forty singing men and singing women.

68 Their horses were seven hundred and six and thirty, and their mules two hundred and five and forty.

69 The camels four hundred and five and thirty, and six thousand seven hundred and twenty asses.

70 And certain of the chief fathers gave unto the work. The Tirshatha gave to the treasure, a thousand <sup>1</sup>drams of gold, fifty basins, five hundred and thirty Priest's garments.

71 And some of the chief fathers gave unto the treasure of the work, twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand and two hundred <sup>1</sup>pieces of silver.

72 And the rest of the people gave twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pieces of silver, and threescore and seven Priest's garments.

73 And the Priests, and the Levites, and the porters and the singers, and the rest of the people and the Nethinim, and all Israel dwelt in their cities: and when the <sup>1</sup>seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

8 2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They rejoice in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keep the feast of Tabernacles or booths.

1 And all the people assembled themselves <sup>1</sup>together, in the street that was before the water gate, and they spake unto Ezra the <sup>2</sup>Scribe, that he would bring the book of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all <sup>1</sup>that could hear and understand it, in the first day of the seventh month,

3 And he read therein in the street that was before the water gate (from the morning until <sup>1</sup>the midday) before men and women, and them that understood it, and the ears of all the people hearkened unto the book of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiyah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchijah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book before all the people: for he was <sup>1</sup>above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood up.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites caused the people to understand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the book of the Law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God: mourn not, neither weep: for all the people <sup>1</sup>wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also unto them, Go and eat of the fat, and drink the sweet, and send part unto them, for whom none is <sup>1</sup>prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: be ye not sorry therefore: for the <sup>2</sup>joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Hold your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drink, and to send away part, and to make great joy, because they had understood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Levites were gathered unto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in "booths in the feast of the seventh month,

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of <sup>1</sup>myrtle, and palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them, and made them booths, every one upon the <sup>1</sup>roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street by the water gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and sat under the booths: for since the <sup>1</sup>time of Jeshua the son of Nun unto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great joy.

18 And he read in the book of the Law of God every day, from the first day unto the last day. And they kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day a solemn assembly, according unto the manner.

9 The people repent, and forsake their strange wives. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And God's great mercies toward them.

1 In the four and twentieth day of this <sup>1</sup>month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth upon them.

2 (And they that were of the seed of Israel were separated from all the <sup>1</sup>strangers) and they stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place and read in the book of the Law of the Lord their God four times on the day, and they <sup>1</sup>confessed and worshipped the Lord their God four times.

4 Then stood up upon the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, even Jeshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah, Stand up and praise the Lord your God forever and ever, and let them praise thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth above all thanksgiving and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heaven, and the heaven of all heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that are in them and thou preservest them all and the host of the heaven worshippeth thee.

Abram, and broughtest him out of <sup>a</sup>Ur in Chaldeans, and <sup>b</sup>madest his name Abraham, 8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, <sup>c</sup>and madest a Covenant with him, to give unto his seed the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Jebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy words, because thou art just.

9 <sup>d</sup>Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And showed tokens and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 <sup>e</sup>For thou didst break up the Sea before them, and they went through the midst of the sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottoms as a stone, in the mighty waters:

12 And <sup>f</sup>leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire to give them light in the way that they went.

13 <sup>g</sup>Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest unto them from heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and true laws, ordinances and good Commandments,

14 And declaredst unto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and laws, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 <sup>h</sup>And gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, <sup>i</sup>and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst: and <sup>j</sup>promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the land: for the which thou hadst lifted up thine hand for to give them.

16 But they and our fathers behaved themselves proudly and hardened their neck, so that they hearkened not unto thy Commandments,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marvelous works that thou hadst done for them, but hardened their necks, and had in their heads to return to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long-suffering, and of great mercy, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calf (and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: <sup>k</sup>the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day to lead them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to show them light, and the way whereby they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldst not thy Manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didst also feed them forty years in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: <sup>1</sup>their clothes waxed not old, and their feet <sup>1</sup>swelled not.

22 And thou gavest them kingdoms and people, and <sup>1</sup>scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed <sup>m</sup>the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 And thou didst multiply their children like the stars of the heaven, and broughtest them into the land, whereof thou hadst spoken unto their fathers, that they should go, and possess it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, even the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they took their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, cisterns dug out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and lived in pleasure through thy great goodness.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which <sup>1</sup>protested among them to turn them unto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from the heaven, and through thy great mercies thou gavest them saviors, who saved them out of the hand of their adversaries.

28 But when they had <sup>1</sup>rest, they returned to do evil before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them, yet when they converted and cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven, and deliveredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestdst among them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy Law: but they behaved themselves proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments

30 Yet thou <sup>1</sup>didst forbear them many years, and protestdst among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not hear: therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, <sup>o</sup>thou great God, mighty and terrible, that keepest covenant and <sup>p</sup>mercy, let not all the affliction that hath come unto us, seem a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the <sup>1</sup>kings of Assyria unto this day.

33 Surely thou art just in all that is come upon us: for thou hast <sup>1</sup>dealt truly, but we have done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers have not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandments, nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast <sup>1</sup>protested among them.

35 And they have not served thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodness that thou showedst unto them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst set before them, and have not converted from their evil works.

36 Behold, we are servants this day, and the land that thou gavest unto our fathers, to eat the <sup>1</sup>fruit thereof, and the goodness thereof, behold, we are servants therein.

37 And it yieldeth much fruit unto the kings whom thou hast set over us, because of our sins: and they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we make <sup>1</sup>a sure covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Levites, and our Priests seal unto it.

10 <sup>1</sup>The names of them that sealed the covenant between God and the people.

the Sabbath, or any vittles to sell, <sup>1</sup>that we would not take it of them on the Sabbath, and on the holy days:
<sup>a</sup>and that we would let the seventh year be free, and the debts of every <sup>2</sup>person.

32 And we made statutes for ourselves to give by the year, the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our God,

33 For the <sup>1</sup>showbread, and for the daily offering, and for the daily burnt offering, the Sabbaths, the new moons, for the solemn feasts, and for the things that were sanctified, and for the sin offerings, to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.

34 We cast also lots for the offering of the wood, even the Priests, the Levites, and the people, to bring it into the house of our God, <sup>1</sup>by the house of our fathers, yearly at the times appointed, to burn it upon the Altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the Law,

35 And to bring the firstfruits of our land, and the first of all the fruits of all trees, year by year, into the house of the Lord,

36 And the firstborn of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is <sup>1</sup>written in the Law, and the firstborn of our bullocks, and of our sheep, to bring it into the house of our God, unto the Priests that minister in the house of our God,

37 And that we should bring the firstfruit of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of every tree, of wine and of oil, unto the Priests, to the chambers of the house of our God: and the tithes of our land unto the Levites, that the Levites might have the tithes in all the cities of our <sup>1</sup>travail.

38 And the Priest, the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes, and the Levites shall <sup>b</sup>bring up the tenth part of the tithes unto the house of our God, unto the chambers of the treasure house.

39 For the children of Israel, and the children of Levi shall bring up the offering of the corn, of the wine, and of the oil, unto the chambers: and there shall be the vessels of the Sanctuary, and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers, and <sup>1</sup>we will not forsake the house of our God.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> Which subscribed to keep the promise.

10:14 <sup>1</sup> Or, captain of Moab.

10:29 <sup>1</sup> They made the oath in the name of the whole multitude.

10:31 <sup>1</sup> Which notwithstanding they brake soon after, as Neh. 13:15.

10:33 <sup>1</sup> This declareth wherefore they gave this third part of the shekel, which was besides the half shekel that they were bound to pay, Exod. 30:13.

10:34 <sup>1</sup> Or, into the house of.

10:36 <sup>1</sup> By this rehearsal is meant that there was no part nor ceremony in the Law, whereunto they did not bind themselves by covenant.

10:37 <sup>1</sup> Wheresoever we labored, or travailed, there the tithes were due unto the Lord both by the Law, and according to the oath and covenant that we made.

10:39 <sup>1</sup> We will not leave it destitute of that that shall be necessary for it.

11 <sup>1</sup> Who dwelled in Jerusalem after it was built, <sup>20</sup> and who in the cities of Judah.

1 And the rulers of the people dwelt in Jerusalem: the other people also cast lots, <sup>1</sup>to bring one out of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts to be in the cities.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell in Jerusalem.

3 These now are the chief of the province, that dwelt in Jerusalem, but in the cities of Judah, everyone dwelt in his own possession in their cities of Israel, the Priests and the Levites, and the Nethinim, and the sons of Solomon's servants.

4 And in Jerusalem dwelt certain of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin: Of the sons of Judah, Athaiah, the son of Uziyah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel, of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Perez,

5 And Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Col-Hozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zechariah, the son of <sup>1</sup>Shiloni.

6 All the sons of Perez that dwelt at Jerusalem, were four hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 These also are the sons of Benjamin, Sallu, the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiah.

8 And after him Gabbai, Sallai, nine hundred and twenty and eight.

9 And Joel the son of Zichri was governor over them: and Judah the son of Senuah was the second over the city:

10 Of the Priests, Jedaiah, the son of Joiarib, Jachin.

11 Seraiah, the son of Hilkiyah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, <sup>1</sup>was chief of the house of God.

12 And their brethren <sup>1</sup>that did the work in the Temple, were eight hundred, twenty and two: and Adaiah, the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchijah:

13 And his brethren, chief of the fathers, two hundred and two and forty: and Amashsai the son of Azarel, the son of Ahazai, the son of Meshilemoth, the son of Immer:

14 And their brethren valiant men, an hundred and eight and twenty: and their overseer was Zabdiel the son <sup>1</sup>of Haggedolim.

15 And of the Levites, Shemaiah, the son of Hashub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni.

16 And Shabbethai, and Jozabad of the chief of the Levites were over the works of the house of God without.

17 And Mattaniah, the son of Micha, the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph was the chief to <sup>1</sup>begin the thanksgiving and prayer: and Bakbukiah the second of his brethren, and Abda, the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.

18 All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred fourscore and four.

19 And the porters Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren that kept the <sup>1</sup>gates, were an hundred twenty and two.

20 And the <sup>1</sup>residue of Israel, of the Priests, and of the Levites dwelt in all the cities of Judah, everyone in his inheritance.

21 And the Nethinim dwelt in the <sup>1</sup>fortress, and Ziha, and Gispah was over the Nethinim.

22 And the overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micha: of the sons of Asaph singers were over the work of the house of God.

23 For it was the king's commandment concerning them, that faithful provision should be for the singers every day.

24 And Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the sons of Zerach, the son of Judah <sup>1</sup>was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And in the villages in their lands, some of the children of Judah dwelt in Kirjath Arba, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibon, and in the villages thereof, and in Jekabzeel, and in the villages thereof,

26 And in Jeshua, and in Moladah, and in Beth Pelet,

27 And in Hazar Shual, and in Beersheba, and in the villages thereof,

28 And in Ziklag, and in Mekonah, and in the villages thereof,

29 And in En Rimmon, and in Zorah, and in Jarmuth,

30 Zanoah, Adullam, and in their villages, in Lachish, and in the fields thereof, at Azekah, and in the villages thereof: and they dwelt from Beersheba,

11:1 <sup>1</sup> Because their enemies dwelt round about them, they provided that it might be replenished with men, and used this policy, because there were few that offered themselves willingly.

11:4 <sup>1</sup> Which came of Perez the son of Judah.

11:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, of a Shilonite.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, was the high Priest.

11:12 <sup>1</sup> That served and ministered in the Temple.

11:14 <sup>1</sup> Or, of one of the great men.

11:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, he began the Psalm, and was the chanter.

11:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the Temple.

unto the valley of Hinnom.

31 And the sons of Benjamin from Geba, in Michmash, and Aija, and Bethel, and in the villages thereof,

32 And Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,

34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,

35 Lod and Ono, in the carpenters valley.

36 And of the Levites were divisions in Judah and in Benjamin.

12 <sup>1</sup> The Priests and Levites which came with Zerubbabel unto Jerusalem, are numbered, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

1 These also are the Priests and the Levites that <sup>1</sup>went up with Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: to wit, Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnethoi, Abijah,

5 Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6 Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah,

7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Jedaiah: these were the <sup>1</sup>chief of the Priests, and of their brethren in the days of Jeshua.

8 And the Levites, Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, Mattaniah <sup>1</sup>were over the thanksgivings, he, and his brethren.

9 And Bakbukiah and Unni, and their brethren were about them in the <sup>1</sup>watches.

10 And Jeshua begat Joiakim: Joiakim also begat Eliashib, and Eliashib begat Joiada.

11 And Joiada begat Jonathan, and Jonathan begat Jaddua,

12 And in the days of Joiakim were these the chief fathers of the Priests: under <sup>1</sup>Seraiah was Meraiah, under Jeremiah, Hananiah,

13 Under Ezra, Meshullam, under Amariah, Jehohanan,

14 Under Melichu, Jonathan, under Shebaniah, Joseph,

15 Under Harim, Adna, under Maraioth, Helkai,

16 Under Iddo, Zechariah, under Ginnethon, Meshullam,

17 Under <sup>1</sup>Abijah, Zichri, under Minjamin, and under Moadiah, Piltai, 18 Under Bilgah, Shammua, under Shemaiah,

Jehonathan,

19 Under Joiarib, Mattenai, under Jedaiah, Uzzi,

20 Under Sallai, Kallai, under Amok, Eber,

21 Under Hilkiah, Hashabiah, under Jedaiah, Nethanel.

22 In the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan and Jaddua were the chief fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reign of Darius the Persian.

23 The sons of Levi, the chief fathers were written in the book of the Chronicles even unto the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib.

24 And the chief of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to give praise and thanks, according to the ordinances of David the man of God, ward over <sup>1</sup>against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the captain, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem, they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keep the dedication and gladness, both with thanksgivings and with songs, cymbals, viols, and with harps.

28 Then the <sup>1</sup>singers gathered themselves together both from the plain country about Jerusalem, and from the villages of <sup>2</sup>Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countries of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the singers had built them villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And <sup>1</sup>I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies to give thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and half of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,

34 Judah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And of the Priest's sons with trumpets, Zechariah, the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the 12:9 <sup>1</sup> They kept the wards and watches according to their turns, as 2 Chron. 23:6.

12:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, next to Seraiah, or rather of the order, which was called after the name of Seraiah.

son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph.

36 And <sup>1</sup>his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountain, even over against them went they up by the <sup>1</sup>stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall beyond the house of David, even unto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gave thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the half of the people was upon the wall, and upon the tower of the furnaces even unto the broad wall.

39 And upon the gate of Ephraim, and upon the old gate, and upon the fish gate, and the tower of Hananel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the sheep gate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies (of them that gave thanks) in the house of God, and I and the half of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Minjamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers <sup>1</sup>sang loud, having Jezrahiah which was the overseer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced: for God had given them great joy, so that both the women, and the children were joyful: and the joy of Jerusalem was heard far off.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed <sup>1</sup>over the chambers of the store for the offerings, (for the firstfruits, and for the tithes) to gather into them out of the fields of the cities, the portions of the Law for the Priests, and the Levites, for Judah rejoiced for the Priests and for the Levites, that served.

45 And both the singers and the Levites kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification according to the commandment of David, and Solomon his son.

46 <sup>1</sup>For in the days of David and Asaph, of old were chief singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.

47 And in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah did all Israel give portions unto the singers and porters, every day his portion, and they gave the holy things unto the Levites, and the Levites <sup>1</sup>gave the holy things unto the sons of Aaron.

CHAPTER 12

13 <sup>1</sup>The Law is read. <sup>3</sup>They separate from them all strangers. <sup>15</sup>Nehemiah reproveth them that break the Sabbath. <sup>30</sup>An ordinance to serve God.

1 And on that day they did read in the book of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite <sup>a</sup>should not enter into the Congregation of God,

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, <sup>b</sup>but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel <sup>1</sup>all those that were mixed.

4 ¶ And before <sup>1</sup>this had the Priest Eliashib the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, being <sup>2</sup>kinsman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corn, of wine, and of oil (appointed for the Levites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of <sup>1</sup>Artachshasha King of Babel, came I unto the King, and <sup>2</sup>after certain days I obtained of the King.

7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I understood <sup>1</sup>the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I again the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given, and that everyone was fled to his land, even the Levites and singers that executed the work.

11 Then reproveth I the rulers and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12:36 <sup>1</sup> That is, the brethren of Zaccur.

12:37 <sup>1</sup> Which was the going up to the mount Zion, which is called the city of David.

12:42 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, caused to hear.

12:44 <sup>1</sup> Which were chambers appointed by Hezekiah to put in the tithes, and such things, 2 Chron. 31:11 and now were repaired again for the same use.

12:47 <sup>1</sup> That is, the tenth part of the tithes.

13:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, all such which had joined in unlawful marriage, and also those with whom God had forbidden them to have society.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> That the separation was made.

13:7 <sup>1</sup> Thus we see to what inconveniences the people fall into, when they are destitute of one that hath the fear of God, seeing that their chief governor was but a while absent, and yet they fell into such great absurdities: as appeareth also, Exod. 32:1.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithes of corn and of wine, and of oil unto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers over the treasures, Shel-emiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah, and under their hand Hanan the son of Zaccur the son of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute unto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my <sup>1</sup>kindness that I have showed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In those days saw I in Judah them, that trod wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figs, and all burdens, and brought them into Jerusalem upon the Sabbath day: and <sup>1</sup>I protested to them in the day that they sold vittles.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and sold on the Sabbath unto the children of Judah even in Jerusalem.

17 Then reprov'd I the rulers of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and break the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers <sup>1</sup>thus, and our God brought all this plague upon us, and upon this city? yet ye increase the wrath upon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be <sup>1</sup>dark before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my servants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandise remained once or twice all night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said unto them, Why tarry ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once again, I will lay hands upon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I said unto the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and <sup>1</sup>keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercy.

23 In those days also I saw Jews that married wives of <sup>1</sup>Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reprov'd them, and <sup>1</sup>curs'd them, and smote certain of them, and pulled off their hair, and took an oath of them by God, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take of their daughters unto your sons nor for yourselves.

26 <sup>1</sup>Did not Solomon the king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for he was <sup>d</sup>beloved of his God, and God had made him King over Israel: yet strange women caused him to sin.

27 Shall we then obey unto you, to do all this great evil, and to transgress against our God, even to marry strange wives?

28 And one of the sons of Joiada the son of Eliashib the high Priest was the son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, that <sup>1</sup>defile the Priesthood, and the covenant of the Priesthood, and of the Levites.

30 Then cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wards of the Priests and of the Levites, every one in his office,

31 And for the offering of the wood at times appointed, and for the firstfruits. Remember me, O my God, <sup>1</sup>in goodness.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> He protesteth that he did his duty with a good conscience, yet he doth not justify himself in therein, but desireth God to favor him and to be merciful unto him for his own goodness sake, as verse 22 and 31.

13:15 <sup>1</sup> I declared unto them, that God would not suffer such transgressors of his Law to be unpunished.

13:18 <sup>1</sup> Was not this a great cause, why God plagued us in times past: meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same again, their plague should be greater.

13:19 <sup>1</sup> About the time that the Sun went down: for the Sabbath lasted from the Sun going down of the one day, to the Sun setting of the other.

13:22 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the Temple, that none that was unclean, should enter.

13:23 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city of the Philistines, and they had married wives thereof, and so had corrupted their speech and Religion.

13:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, I did excommunicate them, and drive them out of the congregation.

13:29 <sup>1</sup> Punish them according to their fault and evil example, which they have given to the rest of thy people contrary to their vocation.

13:31 <sup>1</sup> That is, to show mercy unto me.

ESTHER

1 In the days of <sup>1</sup>Ahasuerus (this is Ahasuerus that reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an <sup>2</sup>hundred, and seven and twenty provinces.)

2 In those days when the king Ahasuerus <sup>1</sup>sat on his throne, which was in the palace of <sup>4</sup>Shushan,

3 In the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes and his servants, even the power of Persia and Media, and to the captains and governors of the provinces which were before him,

4 That he might show the riches and glory of his kingdom, and the honor of his great majesty many days, even an hundred and fourscore days.

5 And when these days were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both unto great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace,

6 Under an hanging of white, green, and blue cloths, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple, in silver rings, and pillars of marble: the <sup>1</sup>beds were of gold and of silver upon a pavement of porphyry, and marble and alabaster, and blue color.

7 And they gave them drink in vessels of gold, and changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundance, according to the <sup>1</sup>power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might <sup>1</sup>compel: for so the king had appointed unto all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queen Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royal house of King Ahasuerus.

10 Upon the <sup>1</sup>seventh day when the King was

merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven eunuchs, (that served in the presence of king Ahasuerus)

11 To bring Queen Vashti before the king with the crown royal, that he might show the people and the princes her beauty: for she was fair to look upon.

12 But the Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's word, <sup>1</sup>which he had given in charge to the eunuchs: therefore the King was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King said to the wise men, <sup>1</sup>that knew the times (for so was the King's manner towards all that knew the law and the judgment:

14 And the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan the seven Princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the <sup>1</sup>King's face, and sat the first in the kingdom.)

15 What shall we do unto the Queen Vashti according to the law, because she did not according to the word of the King Ahasuerus by the commission of the eunuchs?

16 Then Memucan answered before the king and the Princes, The Queen Vashti hath not only done <sup>1</sup>evil against the King, but against all the Princes, and against all the people that are in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.

17 For the <sup>1</sup>act of the Queen shall come abroad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their own eyes, and shall say, The King Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the Queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the <sup>1</sup>Princesses of Persia and Media this day say unto all the King's Princes, when they hear of the act of the Queen: thus shall there be much despitefulness and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree proceed from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia and Media, (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come <sup>1</sup>no more before king Ahasuerus: and let the king give her royal estate unto her companion that is better than she.

20 And when the decree of the King which shall be made, shall be published throughout all his kingdom (though it be <sup>1</sup>great) all the women shall give their husbands honor, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the Princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the provinces of the King, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should <sup>1</sup>bear rule in his own house, and that he should publish it in the language of that same people.

2 2 After the Queen is put away, certain young maids are brought to the king. 17 Esther pleaseth the King, and is made Queen. 22 Mordecai discloseth unto the king those that would betray him.

1 After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus was appeased, he <sup>1</sup>remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed <sup>2</sup>against her.

2 And the King's servants that ministered unto him, said, Let them seek for the King beautiful young virgins,

3 And let the King appoint officers through all the provinces of his Kingdom, and let them gather all the beautiful young virgins unto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, under the hand of Hegai the King's eunuch, <sup>1</sup>keeper of the women, to give them their things <sup>2</sup>for purification.

4 And the maid that shall please the King, let her reign in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the city of Shushan there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish a man of Benjamin,

6 Which had been carried away from Jerusalem "with the captivity that was carried away with Jecooniah King of Judah (whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had carried away.)

CHAPTER 2
2 Kings 14:15

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was fair and beautiful to look on: and after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecai took her for his own daughter.

8 And when the king's commandment, and his decree was published, and many maids were brought together to the palace of Shushan, under the hand of Hegai, Esther was brought also unto the King's house under the hand of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the maid pleased him, and she found favor in his sight, therefore he caused her things for purification to be given her speedily, and her <sup>1</sup>state, and seven comely maids to be given her out of the King's house, and he gave change to her and to her maids of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Esther showed not her people and her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked <sup>1</sup>every day before the court of the women's house, to know if Esther did well, and what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of every maid came, to go in to King Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve months according to the manner of the women (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odors and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maids unto the King) whatsoever she required, was <sup>1</sup>given her to go with her out of the women's house unto the king's house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women under the hand of Shaashgaz the King's eunuch, which kept the concubines: she came in to the King no more, except she pleased the King, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Esther the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his own daughter) came, that she should go in to the king, she desired nothing, but what <sup>1</sup>Hege the king's eunuch the keeper of the women <sup>2</sup>said: and Esther found favor in the sight of all them that looked upon her.

1:19 <sup>1</sup> Let her be divorced, and another made Queen.

1:20 <sup>1</sup> For he had under him an hundred twenty and seven countries.

1:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, that the wife should be subject to the husband and at his commandment.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, he called the matter again into communication.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> The abuse of these countries was so great, that they invented many means to serve the lusts of Princes, and therefore as they ordained wicked laws, that the king might have whose daughters he would, so they had divers houses appointed, as one for them while they were virgins, another when they were concubines and for the Queens another.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, portions.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> For though she was taken away by a cruel law, yet he ceased not to have a fatherly care over her, and therefore did resort oftentimes to hear of her.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> What apparel she asked of the eunuch, that was he bound to give her.

2:15 <sup>1</sup> Or, Hegai.

16 ¶ So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the <sup>1</sup>month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

17 And the King loved Esther above all the women, and she found grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins: so that he set the crown of the kingdom upon her head, and made her Queen instead of Vashti.

18 Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes, and his servants, which was <sup>1</sup>the feast of Esther, and gave rest <sup>2</sup>unto the provinces, and gifts, according to the <sup>3</sup>power of a king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the <sup>1</sup>second time, then Mordecai sat in the king's gate.

20 Esther had not yet showed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In those days when Mordecai sat in the king's gate, two of the king's eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the door, were wroth, and sought to lay <sup>1</sup>hand on the King Ahasuerus.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, and he told it unto Queen Esther, and Esther certified the king thereof in Mordecai's name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the <sup>1</sup>Chronicles before the king.

3 <sup>1</sup> Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Jews should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as others had.

1 After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the king's servants that were at the king's gate, bowed their knees, and revered Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai <sup>1</sup>bowed not the knee, neither did reverence.

3 Then the king's servants which were at the king's gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's commandment?

4 And albeit they spake daily unto him, yet he would not hear them: therefore they <sup>1</sup>told Haman, that they might see how Mordecai's matters would stand: for he had told them, that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee unto him, nor did reverence unto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now he <sup>1</sup>thought it too little to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had showed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first month (that is the month <sup>1</sup>Nisan) in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur (that is a lot) <sup>2</sup>before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month unto the twelfth month, that is the month <sup>3</sup>Adar.

8 Then Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws are divers from all people, and they do not observe the <sup>1</sup>King's laws: therefore it is not the king's profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I will <sup>1</sup>pay ten thousand talents of silver by the hands of them that have the charge of this business to bring it into the king's treasury.

10 Then the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jews' adversary.

11 And the king said unto Haman, Let the silver be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the king's <sup>1</sup>Scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) unto the king's officers, and to the captains that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people, and to every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people according to their language: in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the king's ring.

13 And the letters were sent <sup>1</sup>by posts into all the

2:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, made for her sake.

2:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, at the marriage of Esther, which was the second marriage of the king.

2:21 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to kill him.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> In the Chronicles of the Medes and Persians, as Esther 10:2.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> The Persians' manner was to kneel down and reverence their kings, and such as he appointed in chief authority, which Mordecai would not do to this ambitious and proud man.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Thus we see that there is none so wicked, but they have their flatterers to accuse the godly.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, despised in his eyes.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> Which answereth to part of March and part of April.

<sup>2</sup> To know what month and day should be good to enterprise this thing, that it might have good success: but God disappointed their lots, and expectation.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> These be the two arguments which commonly the worldlings and the wicked use toward princes against the godly, that is, the contempt of their laws, and diminishing of their profit: without respect how God is either pleased or displeased.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, weigh.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> Or, secretaries.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the hands of posts.

king's provinces, to root out, to kill and to destroy all the Jews, both young and old, children and women, in one day upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (which is the month Adar) and to spoil them as a prey.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be given a commandment in all provinces, and published unto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the posts compelled by the King's commandment went forth, and the commandment was given in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman sat drinking, but the <sup>1</sup>city of Shushan was in perplexity.

4 <sup>5</sup> Mordecai giveth the Queen knowledge of the cruel decree of the king against the Jews. <sup>16</sup> She willett that they pray for her.

1 Now when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a great cry, and a bitter.

2 And he came even before the King's <sup>1</sup>gate, but he might not enter within the king's gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in every province and place, whither the king's charge and his commission came, there was great sorrow among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and <sup>1</sup>many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Esther's maids and her Eunuchs came and told it her: therefore the queen was very heavy, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he received it not.

5 Then called Esther Hathach one of the King's eunuchs, whom he <sup>1</sup>had appointed to serve her, and gave him a commandment unto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hathach went forth to Mordecai unto the street of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that which had come unto him, and of the <sup>1</sup>sum of the silver that Haman had promised to pay unto the King's treasures, because of the Jews, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gave him the <sup>1</sup>copy of the writing and commission that was given at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might show it unto Esther and declare it unto her, and to charge her that she should go in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hathach came, he told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Esther said unto Hathach, and commanded him to say unto Mordecai,

11 All the king's servants and the people of the King's provinces do know, That whosoever, man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that he may live. Now I have not been called to come unto the king these thirty days.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esther's words.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answer Esther thus, Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape in the king's house, more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, <sup>1</sup>comfort and deliverance <sup>2</sup>shall appear to the Jews out of another place, but thou and thy father's house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for <sup>3</sup>such a time?

15 Then Esther commanded to answer Mordecai,

16 Go, and assemble all the Jews that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eat not, nor drink in three days, day nor night. I also and my maids will fast likewise, and so will I go in to the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, <sup>1</sup>I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

5 <sup>1</sup> Esther entereth to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. <sup>14</sup> Haman prepareth a gallows for Mordecai.

1 And on the third <sup>1</sup>day Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the court of the King's palace within, over against the King's house: and the King sat upon his royal throne in the king's palace over against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King saw Esther the Queen standing in the court, she found favor in his sight: and the King <sup>1</sup>held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Esther drew near, and touched the top of the scepter.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Jews that were in Shushan.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Because he would advertise Esther of this cruel proclamation.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, sackcloth and ashes were spread for many.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, had caused to stand before her.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, declaration.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> Or, contents.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, breathing.

God's children ought to have: which is, that God will deliver them, though all worldly means fail.

<sup>3</sup> For to deliver God's Church out of these present dangers.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> I will put my life in danger and refer the success to God, seeing it is for his glory and the deliverance of his Church.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> To wit, after that the Jews had begun to fast.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> Which was a sign that her coming was agreeable unto him, as Esther 4:11.

CHAPTER 6

* Esther 2:22

3 Then said the King unto her, What wilt thou, Queen Esther? and what is thy request? it shall be even <sup>1</sup>given thee to the half of the kingdom.

4 Then said Esther, If it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day unto the banquet, that I have prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of <sup>1</sup>wine, What is thy petition, that it may be given thee? and what is thy request? it shall even be performed unto the half of the kingdom.

7 Then answered Esther, and said, My petition, and my request is,

8 If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to give me my petition, and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow according to the king's <sup>1</sup>saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day joyful, and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he stood not up, nor moved for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless, Haman refrained himself: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had <sup>1</sup>promoted him, and how that he had set him above the princes and servants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared, save me: and tomorrow am I bidden unto her also with the king.

13 But all this doth nothing avail me, as long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let them make a tree of fifty <sup>1</sup>cubits high, and tomorrow speak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou go joyfully with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

6 <sup>2</sup> The king turneth over the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelity of Mordecai, <sup>10</sup> and commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honor.

1 The same night <sup>1</sup>the king slept not, and he commanded to bring the book of the Records, and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai <sup>4</sup>had told of Bighthana and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs keepers of the door, who sought to lay hands on the King Ahasuerus.

3 Then the king said, What honor and dignity hath been given to Mordecai <sup>1</sup>for this? And the king's servants that ministered unto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the inner court of the king's house, that he might speak unto the king to <sup>1</sup>hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the king's servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man whom the king will honor? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king do honor more than to me?

7 And Haman answered the king, The man whom the king would honor,

8 Let them bring for him royal apparel, which the king useth to wear, and the <sup>1</sup>horse that the king rideth upon, and that the crown royal may be set upon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse be delivered by the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whom the king will honor) and cause him to ride upon the horse through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king will honor.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse, as thou hast said, and do so unto Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the king's gate: let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman took the raiment and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king

5:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning hereby, that whatsoever she asked should be granted, as Mark 6:23.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> Because they used to drink excessively in their banquets, they called the banquet by the name of that which was most in use or esteemed.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> I will declare what thing I demand.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked when they are promoted, instead of acknowledging their charge and humbling themselves, wax ambitious, disdainful, and cruel.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the highest that could be found.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the king's sleep departed.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> For he thought it unworthy his estate to receive a benefit, and not reward it.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> Thus while the wicked imagine the destruction of others, they themselves fall into the same pit.

will honor.

12 And Mordecai came again to the king's gate, but Haman hastened home mourning and his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife, and all his friends, all that had befallen him. Then said his wise men, and Zeresh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail against him, <sup>1</sup>but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's eunuchs and hastened to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7 <sup>3</sup> The queen biddeth the king and Haman again, and prayeth for herself and her people. <sup>6</sup> She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai.

1 So the king and Haman came to banquet with the queen Esther.

2 And the king said again unto Esther on the second day at the banquet of <sup>1</sup>wine, What is thy petition, Queen Esther, that it may be given thee? and what is thy request? It shall be even performed unto the half of the kingdom.

3 And Esther the queen answered, and said, If I have found favor in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are sold, I, and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish: but if we were sold for servants, and for handmaids, I would have held my tongue, although the adversary could not <sup>1</sup>recompense the king's loss.

5 Then king Ahasuerus answered, and said unto the queen Esther, Who is he? and where is he that <sup>1</sup>presumeth to do thus?

6 And Esther said, The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stood up to make request for his life to the queen Esther: for he saw that there was a <sup>1</sup>mischievous prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the king came again out of the palace garden, into the house where they drank wine, Haman was <sup>1</sup>fallen upon the bed whereon Esther sat: therefore the King said, Will he force the Queen also before me in the house? As the word went out of the King's mouth, they <sup>2</sup>covered Haman's face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuchs, said in the presence of the King, Behold, there standeth yet the tree in Haman's house fifty cubits high, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that spake <sup>1</sup>good for the king. Then the King said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the King's wrath pacified.

8 <sup>1</sup> After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. <sup>14</sup> Comfortable letters are sent unto the Jews.

1 The same day did King Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the adversary of the Jews, unto the Queen Esther. And Mordecai <sup>1</sup>came before the King: for Esther told what he was <sup>2</sup>unto her.

2 And the King took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai: and Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the King, and fell down at his feet weeping, and besought him that he would put away the <sup>1</sup>wickedness of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had imagined against the Jews.

4 And the King held out the golden <sup>1</sup>scepter toward Esther. Then arose Esther, and stood before the King,

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I have found favor in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the device of Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite may be called again, which he wrote to destroy the Jews, that are in all the King's provinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the evil, that shall come unto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the king Ahasuerus said unto the Queen Esther, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, whom they have hanged upon the tree, because he <sup>1</sup>laid hand upon

6:13 <sup>1</sup> Thus God sometimes putteth in the mouth of the very wicked, to speak that thing which he hath decreed shall come to pass.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> Read Esther 5:6.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> Haman could not so much profit the king by this his malice, as he should hinder him by the loss of the Jews, and the tribute which he hath of them.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, fillet his heart.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> His conscience did accuse him that as he had conspired the death of innocents, so the vengeance of God might fall upon him for the same.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> He fell down at the bed's feet or couch, whereupon she sat, and made request for his life.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> Which discovered the conspiracy against the king, Esther 2:21, 22.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, was received into the king's favor and presence.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he should abolish the wicked decrees, which he had made for the destruction of the Jews.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> Read Esther 5:2.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, went about to slay the Jews.

the Jews.

8 Write ye also for the Jews, as it liketh you in the King's name, and seal it with the King's ring, (for the writings written in the King's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may <sup>1</sup>no man revoke.)

9 Then were the King's Scribes called at the same time, even in the third month, that is the month <sup>1</sup>Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded, unto the Jews and to the princes, and captains and rulers of the provinces, which were from India even unto Ethiopia, an hundred and seven and twenty provinces, unto every province according to the <sup>2</sup>writing thereof, and to every people after their speech, and to the Jews, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahasuerus's name, and sealed it with the King's ring, and he sent letters by posts on horseback and that rode on beasts of price, as dromedaries, and <sup>1</sup>colts of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Jews (in what cities soever they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for <sup>1</sup>their life, and to root out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the province that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoil their goods:

12 Upon one day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, even in the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month <sup>1</sup>Adar.

13 The copy of the writing was, how there should be a commandment given in all and every province, published among all the people, and that the Jews should be ready against that day, to <sup>1</sup>avenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the posts rode upon beasts of price, and dromedaries, and went forth with speed, to execute the King's commandment, and the decree was given at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royal apparel of blue, and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.

16 And unto the Jews was come light and <sup>1</sup>joy and gladness, and honor.

17 Also in all and every province, and in all and every city and place, where the King's commandment and his decree came, there was joy and gladness to the Jews, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land <sup>1</sup>became Jews: for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

1 So in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, upon the thirteenth day of the same, when the King's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them (but it <sup>1</sup>turned contrary: for the Jews had rule over them that hated them.)

2 The Jews gathered themselves together into their cities throughout all the provinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstand them: for the fear of them fell upon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the princes and the captains, and the officers of the King <sup>1</sup>exalted the Jews: for the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the King's house, and the report of him went through all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews smote all their <sup>1</sup>enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would unto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slew the Jews and destroyed <sup>1</sup>five hundred men,

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha, 8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vajezatha,

10 The ten sons of Haman, the son of Hammedatha, the adversary of the Jews slew they: but they laid not their hands <sup>1</sup>on the spoil.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slain, unto the palace of Shushan before the King.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> This was the law of the Medes and Persians, as Dan. 6:15, notwithstanding the king revoked the former decree granted to Haman, for Esther's sake.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> Which containeth part of May and part of June.

<sup>2</sup> That is, in such letters and language, as was usual in every province.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, mules.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, to defend themselves against all that would assail them.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> Which hath part of February and part of March.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> The king gave them liberty to kill all that did oppress them.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> He showeth by these words that follow, what this light was.

8:17 <sup>1</sup> Conformed themselves to the Jew's religion.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> This was by God's great providence, who turneth the joy of the wicked into sorrow, and the tears of the godly into gladness.

9:3 <sup>1</sup> Did them honor, and showed them friendship.

9:5 <sup>1</sup> Which had conspired their death by the permission of the wicked Haman.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> Besides those three hundred, that they slew the second day, as verse 15.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> Whereby they declared that this was God's just judgment upon the enemies of his Church, forasmuch as they sought not their own gain, but to execute his vengeance.

12 And the King said unto the Queen Esther, The Jews have slain in Shushan the palace, and destroyed five hundred men, and the ten sons of Haman: what have they done in the rest of the King's provinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be given thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then said Esther, If it please the King, let it be granted also tomorrow to the Jews that are in Shushan, to do according <sup>1</sup>unto this day's decree, that they may hang upon the tree Haman's ten sons.

14 And the King charged to do so, and the decree was given at Shushan, and they hanged Haman's ten sons.

15 ¶ So the Jews that were in Shushan, assembled themselves upon the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoil they laid not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jews that were in the King's provinces assembled themselves, and stood for <sup>1</sup>their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that <sup>2</sup>hated them, seventy and five thousand: but they laid not their hand on the spoil.

17 This they did on the <sup>1</sup>thirteenth day of the month Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and joy.

18 But the Jews that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and joy.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages that dwelt in the unwall'd towns, <sup>1</sup>kept the fourteenth day of the month Adar with joy and feasting, even a joyful day, and everyone sent presents unto his neighbor.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote <sup>1</sup>these words, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were through all the provinces of the King Ahasuerus, both near and far,

21 Enjoining them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, every year.

22 According to the days wherein the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning into a joyful day, to keep them the days of feasting and joy, and to <sup>1</sup>send presents every man to his neighbor, and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them,

24 Because Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite all the Jews' adversary had imagined against the Jews to destroy them, and had <sup>1</sup>cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

25 And when <sup>1</sup>she came before the king, he commanded by letters, Let this wicked <sup>2</sup>device (which he imagined against the Jews) turn upon his own head, and let them hang him and his sons on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these days Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen besides this, and of that which had come unto them.

27 The Jews also ordained, and promised for them and for their seed, and for all that joined unto them, that they would not <sup>1</sup>fail to observe those two <sup>2</sup>days every year, according to their writing, and according unto their season,

28 And that these days should be remembered, and kept throughout every generation and every family, and every province, and every city: even these days of Purim should not fail among the Jews, and the memorial of them should not perish from their seed.

29 And the Queen Esther the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Jew wrote with all <sup>1</sup>authority (to confirm this letter of Purim the second time.)

30 And he sent letters unto all the Jews to the hundred and seven and twenty provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with <sup>1</sup>words of peace and truth,

31 To confirm these days of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the Queen had appointed them, and as they had promised for <sup>1</sup>themselves and for their seed with <sup>2</sup>fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these words of Purim, and was written in the book.

10 <sup>1</sup> The estimation and authority of Mordecai.

9:13 <sup>1</sup> This she requireth not for desire of vengeance, but with zeal to see God's judgments executed against his enemies.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> Read Esther 8:11.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that they laid hands on none that were not this enemies of God.

9:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in all places saving in Shushan.

9:19 <sup>1</sup> As the Jews do even to this day, calling it in the Persian language Purim, that is, the day of lots.

9:20 <sup>1</sup> The Jews gather hereof that Mordecai wrote this story: but it seemeth that he wrote but only these letters and decrees that follow.

9:22 <sup>1</sup> He setteth before our eyes the use of this feast, which was for the remembrance of God's deliverance, the maintenance of mutual friendship and relief of the poor.

9:24 <sup>1</sup> Read Esther 3.

9:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, Esther.

9:27 <sup>1</sup> Or, transgress.

9:29 <sup>1</sup> Or, strength, or efficacy.

9:30 <sup>1</sup> Which were letters declaring unto them quietness, and assurance and putting them out of doubt and fear.

9:31 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, souls.

<sup>2</sup> That they would observe this feast with fasting and earnest prayer, which in Hebrew is signified by this word (they cry).

1 And the King Ahasuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the isles of the sea.

2 And all the acts of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignity of Mordecai, wherewith the King magnified him, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecai the Jew was the second unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and <sup>1</sup>accepted among the multitude of his brethren, who procured the wealth of his people, and spake peaceably to all his seed.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> These three points are here set forth as commendable and necessary for him that is in authority, to have the favor of the people, to procure their wealth, and to be gentle and loving toward them.

1 1 The holiness, riches, and care of Job for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

1 There was a man in the land of <sup>1</sup>Uz called Job, and this man <sup>2</sup>was an upright and just man, <sup>3</sup>one that feared God, and eschewed evil.

2 And he had seven sons, and three daughters.

3 His <sup>1</sup>substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she asses, and his family was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the <sup>2</sup>men of <sup>3</sup>the East.

4 And his sons went and banqueted in their houses, every one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.

5 And when the days of their banqueting were gone about, Job sent, and <sup>1</sup>sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and <sup>2</sup>offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job thought, It may be that my sons have sinned, and <sup>3</sup>blasphemed God in their hearts, thus did Job <sup>4</sup>every day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when the <sup>1</sup>children of God came and stood <sup>2</sup>before the Lord, Satan <sup>3</sup>came also among them.

7 Then the Lord said unto Satan, Whence <sup>1</sup>comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, <sup>2</sup>From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou not considered my servant Job, how none is like him in the earth? an upright and just man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doth Job fear God for <sup>1</sup>nought?

10 Hast thou not made <sup>1</sup>an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand and <sup>1</sup>touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee <sup>2</sup>to thy face.

12 Then the Lord said unto Satan, Lo, all that he hath is in <sup>1</sup>thine hand: only upon himself shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the <sup>2</sup>presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,

14 There came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

1:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, of the country of Idumea, as Lam. 4:21, or bordering thereupon: for the land was called by the name of Uz, the son of Dishan the son of Seir, Gen. 36:28.

<sup>2</sup> Forasmuch as he was a Gentile, and not a Jew, and yet is pronounced upright, and without hypocrisy, it declareth that among the heathen God hath his.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> His children and riches are declared, to commend his virtue in his prosperity and his patience, and constancy, when God had taken them from him.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, commanded them to be sanctified: meaning, that they should consider the faults that they had committed, and reconcile themselves for the same.

<sup>2</sup> That is, he offered for every one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion toward God, and the care that he had toward his children.

<sup>3</sup> In Hebrew it is, and blessed God, which is sometimes taken for blaspheming and cursing, as here and 1 Kings 21:10, 13, etc.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Angels, which are called the sons of God, because they are willing to execute his will.

<sup>2</sup> Because our infirmity cannot comprehend God in his majesty, he is set forth unto us as a King, that our capacity may be able to understand that which is spoken of him.

<sup>3</sup> This declareth, that although Satan be adversary to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and do him all homage, without whose permission and appointment he can do nothing.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> This question is asked for our infirmity: for God knew whence he came.

<sup>2</sup> Herein is described the nature of Satan, which is ever ranging for his prey, 1 Pet. 5:8.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> He feareth thee not for thine own sake, but for the commodity that he received by thee.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the grace of God, which served Job as a rampart against all tentations.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> This signifieth, that Satan is not able to touch us, but it is God that must do it.

<sup>2</sup> Satan noteth the vice whereunto men are commonly subject, that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time of prosperity, which view is disclosed in the time of their adversity.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> God giveth not Satan power over man to gratify him, but to declare that he hath no power over man, but that which God giveth him.

<sup>2</sup> That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to do: for else he can never go out of God's presence.

15 And the <sup>1</sup>Sabeans came violently, and took them: yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And while he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The <sup>1</sup>fire of God is fallen from the heaven, and hath burnt up the sheep and the servants, and devoured them: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And while he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Chaldeans set on three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have taken them, and have slain the servants with the edge of the sword: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And while he was yet speaking, came another, and said, Thy <sup>1</sup>sons, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,

19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, which fell upon the children, and they are dead, and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job arose, and <sup>1</sup>rent his garment, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, <sup>a</sup>Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return <sup>1</sup>thither: the Lord hath given, and the Lord hath taken it: <sup>2</sup>blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Job sin, nor charge God <sup>1</sup>foolishly.

2 <sup>6</sup>Satan hath permission to afflict Job. <sup>9</sup>His wife tempteth him to forsake God. <sup>11</sup>His three friends visit him.

<sup>a</sup>Ecc1. 5:14
<sup>1</sup>Tim. 6:7

CHAPTER 2

<sup>a</sup>Ezek. 14:14
Job 1:1

1 And on a day the <sup>1</sup>children of God came and stood before the Lord, and <sup>2</sup>Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou not considered my servant Job, how none is like him in the earth? <sup>a</sup>an upright and just man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? for yet he continueth in his uprightness, <sup>1</sup>although thou movedst me against him, to destroy <sup>2</sup>him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, <sup>1</sup>Skin for skin, and all that ever a man hath, will he give for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his <sup>1</sup>bones and his flesh, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said unto Satan, Lo, he is in thine hand, but save <sup>1</sup>his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore <sup>1</sup>boils, from the sole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took a <sup>1</sup>potsherd to scrape him, and he sat down among the ashes.

9 Then said his <sup>1</sup>wife unto him, Dost thou <sup>2</sup>continue yet in thine uprightness? <sup>3</sup>Blaspheme God, and die.

10 But he said unto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and not <sup>1</sup>receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his <sup>3</sup>lips.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Arabians.

1:16 <sup>1</sup> Which thing was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Job the more grievously, forasmuch as he might see, that not only men were his enemies, but that God made war against him.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> This last plague declareth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send us another far more grievous, to try his, and teach them obedience.

1:20 <sup>1</sup> Which came not of impatience, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blocks, but that in their patience they feel affliction and grief of mind: yet they keep a mean herein, and rebel not against God, as the wicked do.

1:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all.

<sup>2</sup> Hereby he confesseth that God is just, and good, although his hand be sore upon him.

1:22 <sup>1</sup> But declared that God did all things according to justice and equity.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Angels, as Job 1:6.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> He proveth Job's integrity by this that he ceased not to fear God when his plagues were grievously upon him.

<sup>2</sup> That is, when thou hadst nought against him, or when thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to pass.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he meant, that a man's own skin is dearer unto him than another man's.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, his own person.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> Thus Satan can go no further in punishing, than God hath limited him.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> This sore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9:9, and threateneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28:27, so that this temptation was most grievous: for if Job had measured God's favor by the vehemency of his disease, he might have thought that God had cast him off.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> As destitute of all other help and means, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorrow of his disease.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Satan useth the same instrument against Job, as he did against Adam.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, what gainest thou to serve God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he were thine enemy? This is the most grievous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to persuade them that they trust in God in vain.

<sup>3</sup> For death was appointed to the blasphemer, and so she meant that he should soon be rid out of his pain.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, to be patient in adversity, as we rejoice when he sendeth prosperity, and so to acknowledge him to be both merciful and just.

<sup>2</sup> He so bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatience did not murmur against God.

11 Now when Job's three <sup>1</sup>friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lifted up their eyes afar off, they knew him not: therefore they lifted up their voices and wept, and every one of them rent his garment and sprinkled <sup>1</sup>dust upon their heads toward the heaven.

13 So they sat by him upon the ground seven days, and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that the grief was very <sup>1</sup>great.

3 <sup>1</sup> Job complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth.
 11 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all man's misery.

1 Afterward <sup>1</sup>Job opened his mouth, and <sup>2</sup>cursed his day.

2 And Job cried out, and said,

3 Let the day <sup>1</sup>perish wherein I was born, and the night when it was said, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkness, let not God <sup>1</sup>regard it from above, neither let the light shine upon it,

5 But let darkness and the <sup>1</sup>shadow of death stain it: let the cloud remain upon it, and let them make it fearful as a bitter day.

6 Let darkness possess that night, let it not be joined unto the days of the year, nor let it come into the count of the months.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, and let no joy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being <sup>1</sup>ready to renew their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the stars of that twilight be dim through darkness of it: let it look for light, but have none: neither let it <sup>1</sup>see <sup>2</sup>the dawning of the day,

10 Because it shut not up the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 <sup>1</sup>Why died I not in the birth? or why died I not, when I came out of the womb?

12 Why did the knees prevent me? and why did I suck the breasts?

13 For so should I now have <sup>1</sup>lain and been quiet, I should have slept then, and been at rest,

14 With the kings and counselors of the earth, which have built themselves <sup>1</sup>desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had gold, and have filled their houses with silver.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an untimely birth, either as infants, which have not seen the light?

17 The wicked <sup>1</sup>have there ceased from their tyranny, and there they that labored valiantly, are at rest.

18 The <sup>1</sup>prisoners rest together, and hear not the voice of the oppressor.

19 There are small and great, and the servant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light given to him that is in misery? and <sup>1</sup>life unto them that have heavy hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would even search it more than treasures:

22 Which joy for gladness, and rejoice, when they can find the grave.

23 Why is the light given to the man whose way is <sup>1</sup>hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the water.

25 For the thing I <sup>1</sup>feared, is come upon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come unto me.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> Which were men of authority, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint writes, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceived an evil opinion of him, as though he had been but an hypocrite, and so justly plagued of God for his sins.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> This was also a ceremony, which they used in those countries, as the renting of their clothes in sign of sorrow, etc.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> And therefore thought that he would not have hearkened unto their counsel.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> The seven days ended, Job 2:13.

<sup>2</sup> Here Job beginneth to feel his great imperfection in this battle between the spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7:18, and after a manner yieldeth, yet in the end he getteth victory, though he was in the mean time greatly wounded.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> Men ought not to be weary of their life, and curse it, because of the infirmities that it is subject unto, but because they are given to sin and rebellion against God.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Let it be put out of the number of days, and let it not have the light of the Sun to separate it from the night.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, most obscure darkness, which maketh them afraid of death that are in it.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> Which curse the day of their birth, let them lay that curse upon this night.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> Let it be always night, and never see day.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> This, and that which followeth, declareth, that when man giveth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keep measure, but runneth headlong into all evil, except God call him back.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> The vehemency of his afflictions made him to utter these words, as though death were the end of all miseries, and as if there were no life after this, which he speaketh not as though it were so, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to burst out in this error of the wicked.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> He noteth the ambition of them, which for their pleasure as it were change the order of nature, and build in most barren places, because they would hereby make their names immortal.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, by death the cruelty of the tyrants hath ceased.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> All they that sustain any kind of calamity and misery in this world: which he speaketh after the judgment of the flesh.

3:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the benefits of God are not comfortable, expect the heart be joyful, and the conscience quieted.

3:23 <sup>1</sup> That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because he dependeth not on God's providence.

3:25 <sup>1</sup> In my prosperity I looked ever for a fall, as is come now to pass.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietness, neither had I rest, <sup>1</sup>yet trouble is come.

4 <sup>5</sup> Job is reprehended of impatience, <sup>7</sup> and injustice, <sup>17</sup> and of the presumption of his own righteousness.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite, answered and said,

2 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but <sup>1</sup>who can withhold himself from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and <sup>1</sup>hast strengthened the weary hands.

4 Thy words have confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weak knees.

5 But now it is come upon thee, and thou art grieved: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy <sup>1</sup>fear, thy confidence, thy patience, and uprightness of thy ways?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who ever perished, being an <sup>1</sup>innocent? or where were the upright destroyed?

8 As I have seen, they that <sup>1</sup>plow iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same.

9 With the <sup>1</sup>blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostrils are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the <sup>1</sup>Lion, and the voice of the Lioness, and the teeth of the Lion's whelps are broken.

11 The Lion perisheth for lack of prey, and the Lion's whelps are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to me <sup>1</sup>secretly, and mine ear hath received a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleep falleth on men, 14 Fear came upon me, and dread which made all my bones <sup>1</sup>to tremble.

15 And the wind passed before me, and made the hairs of my flesh to stand up.

16 Then stood one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in <sup>1</sup>silence heard I a voice, saying,

17 Shall man be more <sup>1</sup>just than God? or shall a man be more pure than his Maker?

18 Behold, he found no steadfastness in his servants, and laid folly upon his <sup>1</sup>Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of <sup>1</sup>clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moth?

20 They be destroyed from the <sup>1</sup>morning unto the evening: they perish forever, <sup>2</sup>without regard.

21 Doth not their dignity go away with them? do they not die, and that without <sup>1</sup>wisdom?

1 Call now, if any will <sup>1</sup>answer thee, and to which of the Saints wilt thou turn?

2 Doubtless <sup>1</sup>anger killeth the foolish, and envy slayeth the idiot.

3 I have seen the <sup>1</sup>foolish well rooted, and suddenly I <sup>2</sup>cursed his habitation, saying,

4 His <sup>1</sup>children shall be far from salvation, and they shall be destroyed in the <sup>2</sup>gate, and none shall deliver them.

3:26 <sup>1</sup> The fear of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperity to seem to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Seeing this thine impatience.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast comforted others in their afflictions, and canst not now comfort thyself.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> This he concludeth that Job was but an hypocrite, and had no true fear nor trust in God.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> He concludeth that Job was reproved, seeing that God handled him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnal men make against the children of God.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> They that do evil, cannot but receive evil.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies: for he can do it with the blast of his mouth.

4:10 <sup>1</sup> Though men according to their office do not punish tyrants (whom for their cruelty he compareth to lions, and their children to their whelps) yet God both is able, and his justice will punish them.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> A thing that I knew not before, was declared unto me by vision, that is, that whosoever thinketh himself just, shall be found a sinner, when he cometh before God.

4:14 <sup>1</sup> In these visions which God showeth to his creatures, there is ever a certain fear joined, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reverence.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> When all things were quiet, or when the fear was somewhat assuaged, as God appeared to Elijah, 1 Kings 19:12.

4:17 <sup>1</sup> He proveth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more just than the Creator, which were a blasphemy.

4:18 <sup>1</sup> If God find imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall he lay folly to man's charge when he would justify himself against God?

4:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, in this mortal body, subject to corruption, as 2 Cor. 5:1.

4:20 <sup>1</sup> They see death continually before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them.

4:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, before that any of them were so wise, as to think on death.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> He willeth Job to consider the example of all them that have lived or do live godly, whether any of them be like unto him in raging against God as he doth.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> Murmuring against God in afflictions increaseth the pain, and uttered man's folly.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, the sinner that hath not the fear of God.

<sup>2</sup> I was not moved with his prosperity, but knew that God had cursed him and his.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> Though God sometimes suffer the fathers to pass in this world, yet his judgments will light upon their wicked children.

5 The hungry shall eat up his harvest: yea, they shall take it from among the <sup>1</sup>thorns, and the thirsty shall drink up their substance.

6 For misery cometh not forth of the dust, <sup>1</sup>neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is born unto <sup>1</sup>travail, as the sparks fly upward.

8 But I would inquire at <sup>1</sup>God, and turn my talk unto God:

9 Which <sup>1</sup>doeth great things, and unsearchable, and marvelous things without number.

10 He <sup>1</sup>giveth rain upon the earth, and poureth water upon the streets,

11 And setteth up on high them that be low, that the sorrowful may be exalted to salvation.

12 He scattereth the devices of the crafty: so that their hands cannot accomplish that which they do enterprise.

13 <sup>1</sup>He taketh the wise in their craftiness, and the counsel of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meet with <sup>1</sup>darkness in the daytime, and <sup>2</sup>grope at noonday, as in the night.

15 But he saveth the <sup>1</sup>poor from the sword, from their <sup>2</sup>mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poor hath his hope, but iniquity shall <sup>1</sup>stop her mouth.

17 Behold, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it up: he smiteth, and his hands make whole.

19 He shall deliver thee in <sup>1</sup>six troubles, and in the seventh the evil shall not touch thee.

20 In famine he shall deliver thee from death: and in battle from the power of the sword.

CHAPTER 5

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

22 But thou shalt <sup>1</sup>laugh at destruction and dearth, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field <sup>1</sup>shall be in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not <sup>1</sup>sin.

25 Thou shalt perceive also that thy seed shall be great, and thy posterity as the grass of the earth.

26 Thou shalt go to thy grave in <sup>1a</sup> full age, as a rick of corn cometh in due season into the barn.

27 Lo, <sup>1</sup>thus have we inquired of it, and so it is: hear this and know it for thyself.

6 <sup>1</sup> Job answereth, that his pain is more grievous than his fault. <sup>8</sup> He wisheth death. <sup>14</sup> He complaineth of his friends.

1 But Job answered and said,

2 Oh that my grief were well weighed, and my miseries were laid together in the <sup>1</sup>balance!

3 For it would be now heavier than the sand of the sea: therefore my words are <sup>1</sup>swallowed up.

4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me, the venom whereof doth drink up my spirit, and the terrors of God <sup>1</sup>fight against me.

5 Doth the <sup>1</sup>wild ass bray when he hath grass? or loweth the ox when he hath fodder?

6 That which is <sup>1</sup>unsavory, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egg?

7 Such things as my soul refused to touch, as

5:5 <sup>1</sup> Though there be but two or three ears left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, the earth is not the cause of barrenness and man's misery, but his own sin.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that sin is ever in our corrupt nature: for before it was not subject to pain and affliction.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> If I suffered as thou doest, I would seek unto God.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> He counselleth Job to humble himself unto God to whom all creatures are subject and whose works declare that man is inexcusable except he glorify God in all his works.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth by particular examples, what the works of God are.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> In things plain and evident they show themselves fools instead of wise men.

<sup>2</sup> This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as he threatened, Deut. 28:29.

5:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, he that humbleth himself before God.

5:16 <sup>1</sup> If the wicked be compelled at God's works to stop their mouths, much more they that profess God.

5:19 <sup>1</sup> He will send trouble after trouble that his children may not for one time, but continually trust in him: but they shall have a comfortable issue, even in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seventh.

5:22 <sup>1</sup> Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to rejoice.

5:23 <sup>1</sup> When we are in God's favor, all creatures shall serve us.

5:24 <sup>1</sup> God shall so bless thee, that thou shalt have occasion to rejoice in all things, and not to be offended.

5:26 <sup>1</sup> Though the children of God have not always this promise performed, yet God doth recompense it otherwise to their advantage.

5:27 <sup>1</sup> We have learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in justice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man sustaineth, cometh for his own sin.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> To know whether I complain without just cause.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> My grief is so great that I lack words to express it.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that he was not only afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battle that the faithful can have.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> Think you that I cry without cause, seeing the brute beasts do not complain when they have what they would.

6:6 <sup>1</sup> Can a man's taste delight in that, that hath no savor? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot [do] away with things that are unsavory to the mouth.

were sorrows, are my meat.

8 Oh that I might have my <sup>1</sup>desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand go, and cut me off.

10 Then should I yet have comfort, (though I burn with sorrow, let him not spare) <sup>1</sup>because I have not denied the words of the Holy one.

11 What power have I that I should endure? or what is mine <sup>1</sup>end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass?

13 Is it not so, that there is in me no <sup>1</sup>help? and that <sup>2</sup>strength is taken from me?

14 He that is in misery, ought to be comforted of his neighbor: but men have forsaken the fear of the Almighty.

15 My brethren have deceived me as a <sup>1</sup>brook, and as the rising of the rivers they pass away.

16 Which are blackish with ice, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried up with heat and are consumed: and when it is hot they fail out of their places,

18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.

19 They that go to Tema, <sup>1</sup>considered them, and they that go to Sheba, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither, and were ashamed.

21 Surely now are ye like <sup>1</sup>unto it: ye have seen my fearful plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it because I said, Bring unto me? or give a reward to me of your <sup>1</sup>substance?

23 And deliver me from the enemy's hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, and I will <sup>1</sup>hold my tongue: and cause me to understand, wherein I have erred.

25 How <sup>1</sup>steadfast are the words of righteousness? and what can any of you justly reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to reprove <sup>1</sup>words, that the talk of the afflicted should be as the wind?

27 Ye make your wrath to fall upon the fatherless, and dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to <sup>1</sup>look upon me: for I will not lie before your face.

29 Turn, I pray you, let there be none iniquity: return, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousness in that behalf. Is there iniquity in my tongue? doth not my mouth feel sorrows?

7 <sup>1</sup> Job showeth the shortness and misery of man's life.

1 Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? and are not his days as the days of an <sup>1</sup>hireling?

2 As a servant longeth for the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his work,

3 So have I had as an inheritance the <sup>1</sup>months of vanity, and painful nights have been appointed unto me.

4 If I laid me down, I said, When shall I arise? and measuring the evening, I am even full with tossing to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is <sup>1</sup>clothed with worms and filthiness of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

6 My days are swifter than <sup>1</sup>a weaver's shuttle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not return to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seen me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I shall be no longer.

9 <sup>1</sup>As the cloud vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth down to the grave, shall <sup>2</sup>come up no more.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing through impatience to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in God's promise through my impatience.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> He fearest lest he should be brought to inconveniences, if his sorrows should continue.

6:13 <sup>1</sup> Have I not sought to help myself as much as was possible?

6:15 <sup>1</sup> He compareth those friends which comfort us not in misery, to a brook, which in summer, when we need water, is dry, in winter is hard frozen, and in the time of rain, when we have no need, overfloweth with water.

6:19 <sup>1</sup> They that pass thereby to go into the hot countries of Arabia, think to find water there to quench their thirst, but they are deceived.

6:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, like to this brook which deceiveth them that think to have water there in their need, as I looked for consolation at your hands.

6:22 <sup>1</sup> He toucheth the worldlings, which for necessity will give part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not give him comfortable words.

6:24 <sup>1</sup> Show me wherein I have erred, and I will confess my fault.

6:25 <sup>1</sup> He that hath a good conscience doth not shrink at the sharp words or reasonings of others, except they be able to persuade him by reason.

6:26 <sup>1</sup> Do you cavil at my words because I should be thought to speak foolishly, which am now in misery?

6:28 <sup>1</sup> Consider whether I speak as one that is driven to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite as you condemn me.

7:1 <sup>1</sup> Hath not an hired servant some rest and ease? then in this my continual torment I am worse than an hireling.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> My sorrow hath continued from month to month, and I have looked for hope in vain.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> This signifieth that his disease was rare and most horrible.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> Thus he speaketh in respect of the brevity of man's life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof he desireth God to have compassion on him.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> If thou behold me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.

10 He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him anymore.

11 Therefore I will not <sup>1</sup>spare my mouth, but will speak in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my mind.

12 Am I a sea <sup>1</sup>or a whalefish, that thou keepest me in ward?

13 When I say, My couch shall relieve me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me <sup>1</sup>with dreams, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soul <sup>1</sup>chooseth rather to be strangled and to die, than to be in my bones.

16 I abhor it: I shall not live always: <sup>1</sup>spare me then, for my days are but vanity.

17 What is man, that thou <sup>1</sup>dost magnify him, and that thou settest thine heart upon him?

18 And dost visit him every morning, and triest him every moment?

19 How long will it be ere thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone while I may swallow my spittle.

20 I have <sup>1</sup>sinned, what shall I do unto thee? O thou preserver of men, why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden unto myself?

21 And why dost thou not pardon my trespass? and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleep in the dust, and if thou seek me in the morning, I shall <sup>1</sup>not be found.

8 1 Bildad showeth that Job is a sinner, because that God punisheth the wicked, and preserveth the good.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long wilt thou talk of these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth <sup>1</sup>be as a mighty wind?

3 Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty subvert justice?

4 If thy sons have sinned against him, and he hath sent them into the place of their <sup>1</sup>iniquity,

5 Yet if thou <sup>1</sup>wilt early seek unto God, and pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and upright, then surely he will awake up unto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning <sup>1</sup>be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.

8 <sup>1</sup>Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyself to search of their fathers.

9 (For we are but <sup>1</sup>of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our days upon earth are but a shadow)

10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and utter the words of their heart?

11 Can a rush <sup>1</sup>grow without mire? or can the grass grow without water?

12 Though it were in green and not cut down, yet shall it wither before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrite's hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a <sup>1</sup>spider.

15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The <sup>1</sup>tree is green before the Sun, and the branches spread over the garden thereof.

17 The roots thereof are wrapped about the fountain, and are folded about the house of stones.

18 If any pluck it from his place, and it <sup>1</sup>deny, saying, I have not seen thee,

7:11 <sup>1</sup> Seeing I can by none other means comfort myself, I will declare my grief by words, and thus he speaketh as one overcome with grief of mind.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> Am not I a poor wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much pain on me?

7:14 <sup>1</sup> So that I can have no rest, night nor day.

7:15 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh as one overcome with sorrow, and not of judgment, or of the examination of his faith.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Seeing my term of life is so short, let me have some rest and ease.

7:17 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that man of himself is so vile, why dost thou give him that honor to contend against him? Job useth all kinds of persuasion with God, that he might stay his hand.

7:20 <sup>1</sup> After all tentations faith bursteth forth and leadeth Job to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that he could bridle himself from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith.

7:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, I shall be dead.

8:2 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that their words which would diminish anything from the justice of God, is but as a puff of wind that vanisheth away.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquity: meaning, that Job ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.

8:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, if thou turn betime while God calleth thee to repentance.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> Though the beginnings be not so pleasant as thou wouldest desire, yet in the end thou shalt have sufficient occasion to content thyself.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> He willet Job to examine all antiquity, and he shall find it true which he here saith.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that it is not enough to have the experience of ourselves, but to be confirmed by the examples of them that went before us.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> As a rush cannot grow without moistness, so cannot the hypocrite, because he hath not faith, which is moistened with God's Spirit.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> Which is today, and tomorrow swept away.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the just to a tree, which although it be removed out of one place unto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profit.

8:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, so that there remain nothing there to prove whether the tree had grown there or no.

19 Behold, it will rejoice <sup>1</sup>by this means, that it may grow in another mold.

20 Behold, God will not cast away an upright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till he have filled thy mouth with <sup>1</sup>laughter, and thy lips with joy.

22 They that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remain.

9 2 Job declareth the mighty power of God, and that man's righteousness is nothing.

1 Then Job answered, and said,

2 I know verily that it is so: for how should man compared unto God, be <sup>1</sup>justified?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answer him one thing of <sup>1</sup>thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath been fierce against him, and hath prospered?

5 He removeth the mountains, and they feel not when he overthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He <sup>1</sup>removeth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

7 He commandeth the Sun, and it riseth not: he closeth up the stars, as under a signet.

8 He himself alone spreadeth out the heavens, and walketh upon the height of the Sea.

9 He maketh the stars <sup>1</sup>Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and unsearchable: yea, marvelous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth <sup>1</sup>by me, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceive him not:

12 Behold, when he taketh a prey, <sup>1</sup>who can make him to restore it? who shall say unto him, What doest thou?

13 God <sup>1</sup>will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helpers <sup>2</sup>do stoop under him.

14 How much less shall I answer him? or how should I find out <sup>1</sup>my words with him?

15 For though I were just, yet could I <sup>1</sup>not answer, but I would make supplication to my Judge.

16 If I <sup>1</sup>cry, and he answer me, yet would I not believe, that he heard my voice.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me <sup>1</sup>without cause.

18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

19 If we speak of strength, behold, he is <sup>1</sup>strong: if we speak of judgment, who shall bring me in to plead?

20 If I should justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: <sup>1</sup>if I would be perfect, he shall judge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfect, yet I know not my soul: therefore abhor I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the <sup>1</sup>perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly <sup>1</sup>slay, should God <sup>2</sup>laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: <sup>1</sup>he covereth the faces of the judges thereof: if not, where <sup>2</sup>is he? or who is he?

25 My days have been more swift than a post: they have fled, and have seen no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the Eagle that flieth to the prey.

27 If <sup>1</sup>I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me, 28 Then I am afraid of all my sorrows, knowing that thou wilt not judge me innocent.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleasure.

8:21 <sup>1</sup> If thou be godly, he will give thee occasion to rejoice, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> Job here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildad's oration, touching the justice of God, and his innocency, confessing God to be infinite in justice, and man to be nothing in respect.

9:3 <sup>1</sup> Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, man cannot answer him one.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> He declareth what is the infirmity of man, by the mighty and incomprehensible power that is in God, showing what he could do if he would set forth his power.

9:9 <sup>1</sup> These are the names of certain stars whereby he meaneth that all stars both known and unknown are at his appointment.

9:11 <sup>1</sup> I am not able to comprehend his works, which are common and daily before my eyes, much less in those things, which are hid and secret.

9:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that when God doth execute his power, he doeth it justly, forasmuch as none can control him.

9:13 <sup>1</sup> God will not be appeased for ought that man can say for himself for his justification.

<sup>2</sup> That is, all the reasons that men can lay to approve their cause.

9:14 <sup>1</sup> How should I be able to answer him by eloquence? whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talk, yet they felt not in heart, that which they spake.

9:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in his own opinion, signifying, that man will sometimes flatter himself to be righteous, which before God is abomination.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> While I am in my pangs, I cannot but burst forth into many inconveniences, although I know still that God is just.

9:17 <sup>1</sup> I am not able to feel my sins so great, as I feel the weight of his plagues; and this he speaketh to condemn his dullness, and to justify God.

9:19 <sup>1</sup> After he hath accused his own weakness, he continueth to justify God and his power.

9:20 <sup>1</sup> If I would stand in mine own defense, yet God hath just cause to condemn me, if he examine mine heart and conscience.

9:22 <sup>1</sup> If God punish according to his justice, he will destroy as well them, that are counted perfect as them that are wicked.

9:23 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the wicked.

<sup>2</sup> This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he would say, If God destroy but the wicked, as Job 5:3, why should he suffer the innocent to be so long tormented by them?

9:24 <sup>1</sup> That they cannot see to do justice.

9:27 <sup>1</sup> I think not to fall into these afflictions, but my sorrows bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my conscience condemneth me.

29 If I be wicked, why <sup>1</sup>labor I thus in vain?
 30 If I wash <sup>1</sup>myself with snow water, and purge mine hands most clean,
 31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine own <sup>1</sup>clothes shall make me filthy.
 32 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, if we come together to judgment.
 33 Neither is there any umpire <sup>1</sup>that might lay his hand upon us both.
 34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear astonish me:
 35 Then will I speak, and fear him not: <sup>1</sup>but because I am not so, I hold me still.

10 1 Job is weary of his life, and setteth out his fragility before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

1 My soul is cut off <sup>1</sup>though I live: I will leave my <sup>2</sup>complaint upon myself, and will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
 2 I will say unto God, <sup>1</sup>Condemn me not: show me, wherefore thou contendest with me.
 3 Thinkest thou it <sup>1</sup>good to oppress me, and to cast off the <sup>2</sup>labor of thine hands, and to favor the <sup>3</sup>counsel of the wicked?
 4 Hast thou <sup>1</sup>carnal eyes? or dost thou see as man seeth?
 5 Are thy days as man's <sup>1</sup>days? or thy years as the time of man,
 6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquity, and searchest out my sin?
 7 Thou knowest that I cannot do <sup>1</sup>wickedly: for none can deliver me out of thine hand.

8 Thine <sup>1</sup>hands have made me, and fashioned me wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as <sup>1</sup>the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?

10 Hast thou not poured me out as milk? and turned me to curds like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and joined me together with bones and sinews.

12 Thou hast given me life, and <sup>1</sup>grace: and the <sup>2</sup>visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I know <sup>1</sup>that it is so with thee.

14 If I have sinned, then thou wilt straightly look unto me, and wilt not hold me guiltless of mine iniquity.

15 If I have done wickedly, woe unto me: if I have done righteously, I will not <sup>1</sup>lift up mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lion: return and show thyself <sup>1</sup>marvelous upon me.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: <sup>1</sup>changes and armies of sorrows are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the womb? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seen me!

19 And that I were as I had not been, but brought from the womb to the grave!

20 Are not my days few? let him <sup>1</sup>cease, and leave off from me, that I may take a little comfort,

21 Before I go and shall not <sup>1</sup>return, even to the land of darkness and shadow of death:

22 Into a land, I say, dark as darkness itself, and 9:29 <sup>1</sup>Why doth not God destroy me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmity of the flesh.

9:30 <sup>1</sup>Though I seem never so pure in mine own eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.

9:31 <sup>1</sup>Whatsoever I would use to cover my filthiness with, shall disclose me so much more.

9:33 <sup>1</sup>Which might make an accord between God and me, speaking of impatience, and yet confessing God to be just in punishing him.

9:35 <sup>1</sup>Signifying that God's judgments keep him in awe.

10:1 <sup>1</sup>I am more like to a dead man, than to one that liveth.

<sup>2</sup>I will make an ample declaration of my torments, accusing myself and not God.

10:2 <sup>1</sup>He would not that God should proceed against him by his secret justice, but by the ordinary means that he punisheth others.

10:3 <sup>1</sup>Is it agreeable to thy justice to do me wrong?

10:4 <sup>1</sup>Doest thou this of ignorance?

10:5 <sup>1</sup>Art thou inconstant and changeable, as the times, today a friend, tomorrow an enemy?

10:7 <sup>1</sup>By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing evil, neither can any set me at liberty.

10:8 <sup>1</sup>In these eight verses following he describeth the mercy of God, in the wonderful creation of man: and thereon groundeth that God should not show himself rigorous against him.

10:9 <sup>1</sup>As brittle as a pot of clay.

10:12 <sup>1</sup>That is, reason and understanding, and many other gifts, whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.

<sup>2</sup>That is, thy fatherly care and providence whereby thou preservest me, and without the which I should perish straightway.

10:13 <sup>1</sup>Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confess that it is so.

10:15 <sup>1</sup>I will always walk in fear and humility, knowing that none is just before thee.

10:16 <sup>1</sup>Job being sore assaulted in this battle between the flesh and the spirit, bursteth out into these affections, wishing rather short days than long pain.

10:17 <sup>1</sup>That is, diversity of diseases and in great abundance: showing that God hath infinite means to punish man.

10:20 <sup>1</sup>He wisheth that God would leave off his affliction, considering his great misery and the brevity of his life.

10:21 <sup>1</sup>He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions and with the feeling of God's judgments, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God, and comfort of the resurrection.

into the shadow of death, where is none <sup>1</sup>order, but the light is there as darkness.

11 1 Job is unjustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that live godly.

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? or should a great <sup>1</sup>talker be justified?

3 Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, <sup>1</sup>My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But, oh that God would speak and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might show thee the <sup>1</sup>secrets of wisdom how thou hast deserved double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquity.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heavens are high, what canst thou do? <sup>1</sup>it is deeper than the hell, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and it is broader than the Sea.

10 If he cut off and <sup>1</sup>shut up, or gather together, who can turn him back?

11 For he knoweth vain men, and seeth iniquity, and him that understandeth nothing.

12 Yet vain man would be wise, though man newborn is like a wild <sup>1</sup>ass colt.

13 If thou <sup>1</sup>prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquity be in thine <sup>1</sup>hand, put it far away, and let no wickedness dwell in thy Tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift up thy <sup>1</sup>face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not fear.

16 But thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appear more clear than the noon day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bold, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pits, and shalt lie down safely.

19 <sup>a</sup>For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes <sup>1</sup>of the wicked shall fail, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorrow of mind.

12 2 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might, and power of God. 17 And how he changeth the course of things.

1 Then Job answered, and said,

2 Indeed because that ye are the people only, <sup>1</sup>wisdom must die with you.

3 But I have understanding as well as you, and am not inferior unto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 <sup>a</sup>I am <sup>1</sup>as one mocked of his neighbor, who calleth upon God, and he <sup>2</sup>heareth him: the just and the upright is laughed to scorn.

5 <sup>1</sup>He that is ready to fall, is as a lamp despised in the opinion of the rich.

6 The tabernacles of robbers do prosper, and they are in safety, that provoke God, <sup>1</sup>whom God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Ask now the beasts, <sup>1</sup>and they shall teach thee, and the fowls of the heaven, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall show thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare unto thee.

10:22 <sup>1</sup> No distinction between light and darkness, but where all is very darkness itself.

11:2 <sup>1</sup> Should he persuade by his great talk, that he is just?

11:4 <sup>1</sup> He chargeth Job with this, that he should say, that the thing which he spake was true, and that he was without sin in the sight of God.

11:6 <sup>1</sup> Which is not to stand in justifying of thyself: he signifieth that man will never be overcome, while he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must break off the controversy, and stop man's mouth.

11:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, this perfection of God, and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heaven, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the Sea, which are but creatures: how can he attain to the perfection of the Creator?

11:10 <sup>1</sup> If God should turn the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could control him?

11:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, without understanding: so that whatsoever gifts he hath afterward, come of God, and not of nature.

11:13 <sup>1</sup> If thou repent, pray unto him.

11:14 <sup>1</sup> Renounce thine own evil works, and see that they offend not God, over whom thou hast charge.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> He declareth what quietness of conscience and success in all things such shall have, which turn to God by true repentance.

11:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that contrary things shall come unto them that do not repent.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> Because you feel not that which you speak, you think the whole standeth in words, and so flatter yourselves as though none knew anything, or could know but you.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> He reproveth these his friends of two faults: the one that they thought they had better knowledge than indeed they had: and the other, that instead of true consolation, they did deride and despise their friend in his adversity.

<sup>2</sup> The which neighbor being a mocker and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in God's favor but he, because he hath all things that he desireth.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> As the rich esteem not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperity to adversity.

12:6 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, to whom God hath brought in with his hand.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdom is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts do daily teach.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all <sup>1</sup>mankind.

11 Doth not the ears <sup>1</sup>discern the words, and the mouth taste meat for itself?

12 Among the <sup>1</sup>ancient is wisdom, and in the length of days is understanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, he will break down, and it cannot be built: he shutteth a man up, and he cannot be loosed.

15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: but when he sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: he that is deceived, and that <sup>1</sup>deceiveth, are his.

17 He causeth the counselors to go as spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

18 <sup>1</sup>He looseth <sup>2</sup>the collar of kings, and girdeth their loins with a girdle.

19 He leadeth away the princes as a prey, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 He taketh away the speech from the <sup>1</sup>faithful counselors, and taketh away the judgment of the ancient.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and maketh the strength of the mighty weak.

22 He discovereth the deep places from their darkness, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

23 He <sup>1</sup>increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in again.

24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief over the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness out of the way.

25 They grope in the dark without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

13 <sup>3</sup>Job compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth unto God, that he would not handle him rigorously.

1 Lo, mine eye hath seen all this: mine ear hath heard, and understood it.

2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferior unto you.

3 But I will speak to the Almighty, and I desire <sup>1</sup>to dispute with God.

4 For indeed ye forge lies, and all you are <sup>1</sup>physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom!

6 Now hear my disputation, and give ear to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speak <sup>1</sup>wickedly for God's defense, and talk deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seek of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his fear fall upon you?

12 Your <sup>1</sup>memories may be compared unto ashes, and your bodies unto bodies of clay.

13 Hold your tongues in my presence, that I may speak, and let come upon what will.

14 Wherefore do I <sup>1</sup>take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soul in my hand?

15 Lo, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reprove my ways in his sight.

16 He shall be my salvation also: for the <sup>1</sup>hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Hear diligently my words, and mark my talk.

12:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, flesh.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> He exhortheth them to be wise in judging, and as well to know the right use why God hath given them ears, as he hath done a mouth.

12:12 <sup>1</sup> Though men by age, and continuance of time attain to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to God's wisdom, nor able to comprehend his judgments, wherein he answereth to that which was alleged, Job 8:8.

12:16 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there is nothing done in this world without God's will and ordinance, for else he should not be Almighty.

12:18 <sup>1</sup> He taketh wisdom from them.

12:20 <sup>1</sup> He causeth that their words have no credit, which is when he will punish sin.

12:23 <sup>1</sup> In this discourse of God's wonderful works, Job showeth that whatsoever is done in this world both in the order and change of things, is by God's will and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set forth his power in words as they that reasoned against, were.

13:3 <sup>1</sup> For although he knew that God had a justice, which was manifest in his ordinary working and another in his secret counsel, yet he would utter his affection to God, because he was not able to understand the cause why he did thus punish him.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> You do not well apply your medicine to the disease.

13:7 <sup>1</sup> He condemneth their zeal, which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but always grated on God's justice, as though it was not evidently seen in Job, except they had undertaken the probation thereof.

13:12 <sup>1</sup> Your fame shall come to nothing.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> Is not this a manifest sign of mine affliction, and that I do not complain without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should tear mine own flesh, and put my life in danger?

13:16 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite as they charged him.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to judgment, I know that I shall be <sup>1</sup>justified.

19 Who is he that will plead <sup>1</sup>with me? for if I withhold my tongue, I <sup>2</sup>die.

20 But do not these two things unto me: then will I not hide myself from thee.

21 <sup>1</sup>Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not thy fear make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are <sup>1</sup>mine iniquities and sins, show me my rebellion and my sin.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possess the <sup>1</sup>iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the <sup>1</sup>stocks, and lookest narrowly unto all my paths, and makest the print thereof in the <sup>2</sup>heels of my feet.

28 Such a one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is moth-eaten.

14 <sup>1</sup>Job describeth the shortness and misery of the life of man. <sup>14</sup>Hope sustaineth the godly. <sup>21</sup>The condition of man's life.

1 Man <sup>1</sup>that is born of woman, is of short continuance and full of trouble.

2 He shooteth forth as a flower, and is cut down: he vanisheth also as a <sup>4</sup>shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes upon such <sup>1</sup>one, and causest me to enter into judgment with thee.

4 <sup>6</sup>Who can bring a clean thing out of filthiness? there is not one.

5 Are not his days determined? the number of his months are with thee: thou hast appointed his bound, which he cannot pass.

6 Turn from him that he may cease until his desired day, <sup>1</sup>as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will yet sprout, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the root of it wax old in the earth, and the stock thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the scent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

10 <sup>1</sup>But man is sick, and dieth, and man perisheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters pass from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and drieth up, 12 So man sleepeth and riseth not: for he shall not wake again, nor be raised from his sleep till the heaven be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the grave, and keep me secret, until thy <sup>1</sup>wrath were past, and wouldest give me term, and <sup>2</sup>remember me!

14 If a man die, shall he live again? All the days of mine appointed time will I wait, till <sup>1</sup>my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I will <sup>1</sup>answer thee: thou lovest the work of thine own hands.

16 But now thou <sup>4</sup>numberest my steps, and doest not delay my sins.

17 Mine iniquity is sealed up, as in a <sup>1</sup>bag, and thou addest unto my wickedness.

18 And surely as the mountain that falleth, cometh to nought, and the <sup>1</sup>rock that is removed from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou overflowest the things which grow in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou prevailedst always against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.

13:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, cleared and not cast off for my sins, as you reason.

13:19 <sup>1</sup> To prove that God doth thus punish me for my sins.

<sup>2</sup> If I defend not my cause, every man will condemn me.

13:21 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what these two things are.

13:23 <sup>1</sup> His pangs thus move him to reason with God, not denying but that he had sinned: but he desired to understand what were his great sins that had deserved such rigor, wherein he offended that he would know a cause of God why he did punish him.

13:26 <sup>1</sup> Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth.

13:27 <sup>1</sup> Thou makest me thy prisoner, and dost so press me that I cannot stir hand nor foot.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> Taking occasion of his adversary's words, he describeth the state of man's life from his birth to his death.

14:3 <sup>1</sup> His meaning is, that seeing that man is so frail a creature, God should not handle him so extremely, wherein Job showeth the wickedness of the flesh, when it is not subject to the Spirit.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> Until the time that thou hast appointed for him to die, which he desireth as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labor to receive his wages.

14:10 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortality, but as a man in extreme pain, when reason is overcome by affections and torments.

14:13 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he declareth that the fear of God's judgment was the cause why he desired to die.

<sup>2</sup> That is, release my pains and take me to mercy.

14:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, unto the day of the resurrection when he should be changed, and renewed.

14:15 <sup>1</sup> Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall feel thy mercies and answer when thou callest me.

14:17 <sup>1</sup> Thou layest them all together, and sufferest none of my sins unpunished.

14:18 <sup>1</sup> He murmureth through the impatience of the flesh against God, as though he used as great severity against him as against the hard rocks, or waters that overflow, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

21 And he knoweth not if his sons shall be honorable, neither shall he understand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree,

22 But while his <sup>1</sup>flesh is upon him, he shall be sorrowful, and while his soul is in him, it shall mourn.

15 <sup>1</sup> Eliphaz reprehendeth Job, because he ascribeth wisdom and pureness to himself. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Job to be one of the number.

1 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,

2 Shall a wise man speak words of the <sup>1</sup>wind? and fill his belly <sup>2</sup>with the East wind?

3 Shall he dispute with words not comely? or with talk that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off <sup>1</sup>fear, and restrainest prayer before God:

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquity, seeing thou hast chosen the <sup>1</sup>tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testify against thee.

7 Art thou the <sup>1</sup>first man that was born? and wast thou made before the hills?

8 Hast thou heard the secret counsel of God, and dost thou restrain wisdom <sup>1</sup>to thee?

9 What knowest thou that we know not? and understandest that is not in us?

10 With us are both ancient and very aged men, far older than thy father.

11 Seem the consolations of God <sup>1</sup>small unto thee? is this thing strange unto thee?

12 Why doth thine heart <sup>1</sup>take thee away, and what do thine eyes mean, 13 That thou answerest to God <sup>1</sup>at thy pleasure, and bringest such words out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be clean? and he that is born of woman, that he should <sup>1</sup>be just?

15 Behold, he found no steadfastness in his Saints: yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthy, which <sup>1</sup>drinketh iniquity like water?

17 I will tell thee: hear me, and I will declare that which I have seen:

18 Which wise men have told, as they have heard of their fathers, and have not kept it secret:

19 To whom alone the land was <sup>1</sup>given, and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that travaileth of child, and the number <sup>1</sup>of years is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of fear is in his ears, and in his prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him.

22 He believeth not to return out of <sup>1</sup>darkness: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandereth <sup>1</sup>to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkness is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and <sup>1</sup>anguish shall make him afraid: they shall prevail against him as a king ready to the battle.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himself strong against the Almighty.

26 Therefore God shall run upon him, even upon his neck, and against the most thick part of his shield.

27 Because he hath covered his face with <sup>1</sup>his fatness, and hath collops in his flank.

28 Though he dwell <sup>1</sup>in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heaps,

29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the <sup>1</sup>perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall never depart out of darkness: the flame shall dry up his branches, and he shall go away with the breath of his mouth.

14:22 <sup>1</sup> Yet while he shall be in pain, and misery.

15:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, vain words, and without consolation?

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soon as they are uttered, as the East wind drieth up the moisture as soon as it falleth.

15:4 <sup>1</sup> He chargeth Job as though his talk caused men to cast off the fear of God, and prayer.

15:5 <sup>1</sup> Thou speakest as do the mockers and contemners of God.

15:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the most ancient, and so by reason the most wise?

15:8 <sup>1</sup> Art thou only wise?

15:11 <sup>1</sup> He accuseth Job's pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.

15:12 <sup>1</sup> Why dost thou stand in thine own conceit?

15:13 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in thy spirit.

15:14 <sup>1</sup> His purpose is to prove that Job as an unjust man, and an hypocrite is punished for his sins, like as he did before, Job 4:8.

15:16 <sup>1</sup> Which hath a desire to sin, as he that is thirsty to drink.

15:19 <sup>1</sup> Who by their wisdom so governed, that no stranger invaded them, and so the land seemed to be given to them alone.

15:20 <sup>1</sup> The cruel man is ever in danger of death, and is never quiet in conscience.

15:22 <sup>1</sup> Out of that misery whereunto he once falleth.

15:23 <sup>1</sup> God doth not only impoverish the wicked oft times, but even in their prosperity he punisheth them with a greediness evermore to gather: which is as a beggary.

15:24 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what weapons God useth against the wicked, which lift up themselves against him, to wit, terror of conscience, and outward afflictions.

15:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, he was so puffed up with great prosperity and abundance of all things, that he forgot God: noting, that Job in his felicity had not the true fear of God.

15:28 <sup>1</sup> Though he build and repair ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to naught, and turn his great prosperity into extreme misery.

15:29 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that his sumptuous buildings should never come to perfection.

31 He <sup>1</sup>believeth not that he erreth in vanity: therefore vanity shall be his change.

32 His branch shall not be green, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her sour <sup>1</sup>grape, and shall cast him off, as the olive doth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be desolate, and fire shall devour the houses of <sup>1</sup>bribes.

35 For they <sup>1</sup>conceive mischief and bring forth vanity, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

16 <sup>1</sup> Job moved by the importunity of his friends, <sup>7</sup> Counteth in what extremity he is. <sup>19</sup> And taketh God to witness of his innocence.

1 But Job answered and said,

2 I have oftentimes heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there be none end of words of <sup>1</sup>wind? or what maketh thee bold so to <sup>2</sup>answer?

4 I could also speak as ye do: (but would God your <sup>1</sup>soul were in my soul's stead) I could keep you company in speaking, and could <sup>2</sup>shake mine head at you,

5 But I would strengthen you <sup>1</sup>with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should assuage your sorrow.

6 Though I speak, my sorrow <sup>1</sup>cannot be assuaged: though I cease, what release have I?

7 But now <sup>1</sup>he maketh me weary: O God, thou hast made all my <sup>2</sup>congregation desolate,

8 And hast made me full of <sup>1</sup>wrinkles which is a witness thereof, and my leanness riseth up in me, testifying the same in my face.

9 <sup>1</sup>His wrath hath torn me, and he hateth me, and gnasheth upon me with his teeth: mine enemy hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They have opened their mouths upon me, and smitten me on the <sup>1</sup>cheek in reproach: they gathered themselves together against me.

11 God hath delivered me to the unjust, and hath made me to turn out of the way by the <sup>1</sup>hands of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the neck and beaten me, and set me as a mark for himself.

13 His <sup>1</sup>archers compass me round about: he cutteth my reins, and doth not spare, and poureth my gall <sup>2</sup>upon the ground.

14 He hath broken me with one breaking upon another, and runneth upon me like a giant.

15 I have sowed a sackcloth upon my skin, and have abased mine <sup>1</sup>horn unto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is upon mine eyes, 17 Though there be no wickedness in <sup>1</sup>mine hands, and my prayer <sup>2</sup>be pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my <sup>1</sup>blood, and let my crying find no place.

19 For lo, now my <sup>1</sup>witness is in the heaven, and my record is on high.

20 My friends <sup>1</sup>speak eloquently against me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.

21 Oh that a man might <sup>1</sup>plead with God, as man with his neighbor!

22 For the years accounted come, and I shall go the way, whence I shall not return.

17 <sup>1</sup> Job sayeth that he consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it. <sup>10</sup> He exhortheth his friends to repentance, <sup>13</sup> showing that he looketh out for death.

1 My breath is corrupt: my days are cut off, and the grave is ready for me.

2 There are none but <sup>1</sup>mockers with me, and 15:31 <sup>1</sup> He standeth so in his own conceit, that he will give no place to good counsel, therefore his own pride shall bring him to destruction.

15:33 <sup>1</sup> As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe.

15:34 <sup>1</sup> Which were built or maintained by powling and bribery.

15:35 <sup>1</sup> And therefore all their vain devises shall turn to their own destruction.

16:3 <sup>1</sup> Which serve for vain ostentation and for no true comfort.

16:4 <sup>1</sup> I would you felt that which I do.

16:5 <sup>1</sup> If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not do as ye do to me.

16:6 <sup>1</sup> If they would say, Why dost thou not then comfort thyself? he answereth, that the judgments of God are more heavy than he is able to assuage either by words or silence.

16:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, God.

16:8 <sup>1</sup> In token of sorrow and grief.

16:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, God by his wrath: and in this diversity of words and high style, he expresseth how grievous the hand of God was upon him.

16:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath handled me most contemptuously: for so smiting on the cheek signified, 1 Kings 22:24; Mark 14:65.

16:11 <sup>1</sup> They have led me whither they would.

16:13 <sup>1</sup> His manifold afflictions.

<sup>2</sup> I am wounded to the heart.

16:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, his glory was brought low.

16:17 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grievous punishment.

16:18 <sup>1</sup> Let my sin be known if I be such a sinner as mine adversaries accuse me, and let me find no favor.

16:19 <sup>1</sup> Though man condemn me, yet God is witness of my cause.

16:20 <sup>1</sup> Use painted words instead of true consolation.

16:21 <sup>1</sup> Thus by his great torments he is carried away, and breaketh out into passions, and speaketh unadvisedly, as though God should treat man more gently, seeing he hath but a short time here to live.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> Instead of comfort, being now at death's door, he had but them that mocked at him, and discouraged him.

mine eye continueth in <sup>2</sup>their bitterness.

3 <sup>1</sup>Lay down now, and put me in surety for thee: who is he, that <sup>2</sup>will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from <sup>1</sup>understanding: therefore shalt thou not set them up on high.

5 <sup>1</sup>For the eyes of his children shall fail, that speaketh flattery to his friends.

6 He hath also made me a <sup>1</sup>byword of the people, and I am as a tabret <sup>2</sup>before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dim for grief, and all my strength is like a shadow.

8 The righteous shall be astonished at <sup>1</sup>this, and the innocent shall be moved against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous will hold his <sup>1</sup>way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.

10 All <sup>1</sup>you therefore turn you, and come now, and I shall not find one wise among you.

11 My days are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart

12 Have changed the <sup>1</sup>night for the day, and the light that approached, for darkness.

13 Though I hope, <sup>1</sup>yet the grave shall be mine house, and I shall make my bed in the dark.

14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my <sup>1</sup>father, and to the worm, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing that I hoped for?

16 <sup>1</sup>They shall go down into the bottom of the pit: surely it shall lie together in the dust.

18 <sup>1</sup>Bildad rehearseth the pains of the unfaithful and wicked.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 When will <sup>1</sup>ye make an end of your words? <sup>2</sup>cause us to understand, and then we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?

4 Thou art <sup>1</sup>as one that teareth his soul in his anger. Shall the <sup>2</sup>earth be forsaken for thy sake? or the rock removed out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be <sup>1</sup>quenched, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shall be dark in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shall be restrained, and his own counsel shall cast him down.

8 For he is taken in the net by his feet, and he <sup>1</sup>walketh upon the snares.

9 The grenne shall take him by the heel, and the chief shall come upon him.

10 A snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Fearfulness shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drive him to his feet.

12 His strength shall be <sup>1</sup>famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 It shall devour the inner parts of his skin, and the <sup>1</sup>firstborn of death shall devour his strength.

14 His hope shall be rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to go to the <sup>1</sup>king of fear.

15 Fear shall dwell in his house (because it is not <sup>1</sup>his) <sup>2</sup>and brimstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut down.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.

18 They shall drive him out of the <sup>1</sup>light unto darkness, and chase him out of the world.

19 He shall neither have son nor nephew among 17:2 <sup>2</sup> I see still that they seek but to vex me.

17:3 <sup>1</sup> He reasoneth with God as a man beside himself, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light.

17:4 <sup>1</sup> That these mine afflictions are thy just judgments, though man know not the cause.

17:5 <sup>1</sup> He that flattereth a man, and only judgeth him happy in his prosperity, shall not himself only but in his posterity be punished.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> God hath made all the world to speak of me, because of mine afflictions.

17:8 <sup>1</sup> To wit, when they see the godly punished: but in the end they shalt come to understanding, and know what shall be the reward of the hypocrite.

17:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, will not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked.

17:10 <sup>1</sup> Job speaketh to them three that came to comfort him.

17:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, have brought me sorrow instead of comfort.

17:13 <sup>1</sup> Though I should hope to come from adversity to prosperity, as your discourse pretendeth.

17:14 <sup>1</sup> I have no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and worms shall be to me instead of them.

17:16 <sup>1</sup> All worldly hope and prosperity fail which you say, are only signs of God's favor: but seeing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God and in the life everlasting.

18:2 <sup>1</sup> Which count yourselves just, as Job 12:4.

<sup>2</sup> Whom you take to be but beasts, as Job 12:7.

18:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, like a madman.

<sup>2</sup> Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise than he doth with all men?

18:5 <sup>1</sup> When the wicked is in his prosperity, then God changeth his state: and this is his ordinary working for their sins.

18:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the wicked are in continual danger.

18:12 <sup>1</sup> That which should nourish him shall be consumed by famine.

18:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, some strong and violent death shall consume his strength: or as the Hebrew word signifieth, his members or parts.

18:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, with most great fear.

18:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, not truly come by.

18:18 <sup>1</sup> He shall fall from prosperity to adversity.

his people, nor any posterity in his dwellings.

20 The posterity shall be astonished at his <sup>1</sup>day, and fear shall come upon the ancient.

21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

19 <sup>2</sup> Job reproveth his friends, <sup>8</sup> and reciteth his miseries and grievous pains. <sup>25</sup> He assureth himself of the general resurrection.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 How long will ye vex my soul, and torment me with words?

3 Ye have now <sup>1</sup>ten times reproached me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had indeed erred, mine error <sup>1</sup>remaineth with me.

5 But indeed if ye will advance yourselves against me, and rebuke me for my reproach,

6 Know now, that God hath <sup>1</sup>overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of violence, but I have none answer: I cry, but there is no judgment.

8 He hath hedged up my way that I cannot <sup>1</sup>pass, and he hath set darkness in my paths.

9 He hath spoiled me of mine honor, and taken the <sup>1</sup>crown away from mine head.

10 He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and he hath removed mine hope like <sup>1</sup>a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His <sup>1</sup>armies came together, and made their way upon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath removed my brethren far from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers unto me.

14 My neighbors have forsaken me, and my familiars have forgotten me.

15 <sup>1</sup>They that dwell in mine house, and my maids took me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my servant, but he would not answer, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was strange unto my wife, though I prayed her for the children's sake of mine <sup>1</sup>own body.

18 The wicked also despised me, and when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All my secret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loved, are turned against me.

20 My bone <sup>1</sup>cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh, and I have escaped with the <sup>2</sup>skin of my teeth.

21 Have pity upon me: have <sup>1</sup>pity upon me, (O ye my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me, as <sup>1</sup>God? and are not satisfied with my <sup>2</sup>flesh?

23 Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were written even in a book, 24 And graven with <sup>1</sup>an iron pen in lead, or in stone forever!

25 For I am sure that my <sup>1</sup>Redeemer liveth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet shall I see God <sup>1</sup>in my flesh.

27 Whom I myself shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for me, though my reins are consumed within me.

28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a <sup>1</sup>deep matter in me.

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for the sword will be <sup>1</sup>avenged of wickedness, that ye may know that there is a judgment.

20 <sup>1</sup> Zophar showeth, that the wicked and the covetous shall have a short end, <sup>22</sup> though for a time they flourish.

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Doubtless my thoughts cause me to answer, and therefore I make haste.

18:20 <sup>1</sup> When they shall see what came unto him.

19:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, many times, as Neh. 4:12.

19:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, I myself shall be punished for it, or you have not yet confuted it.

19:6 <sup>1</sup> He bursteth out again into his passions, and declareth still that his affliction cometh of God, though he be not able to feel the cause in himself.

19:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, out of his afflictions.

19:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, his children, and whatsoever was dear unto him in this world.

19:10 <sup>1</sup> Which is plucked up, and hath no more hope to grow.

19:12 <sup>1</sup> His manifold afflictions.

19:15 <sup>1</sup> Mine household servants: by all these losses Job showeth that touching the flesh he had great occasion to be moved.

19:17 <sup>1</sup> Which were hers and mine.

19:20 <sup>1</sup> Besides these great losses and most cruel unkindness, he was touched in his own person, as followeth.

19:21 <sup>1</sup> Seeing I have these just causes to complain, condemn me not as an hypocrite, specially ye which should comfort me.

19:22 <sup>1</sup> Is it not enough that God doth punish me, except you by reproaches increase my sorrow?

<sup>2</sup> To see my body punished, except ye trouble my mind?

19:24 <sup>1</sup> He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions his religion is perfect: and that he is not a blasphemer as they judged him.

19:25 <sup>1</sup> I do not so justify myself before the world, but I know that I shall come before the great Judge, who shall be my deliverer and Savior.

19:26 <sup>1</sup> Herein Job declareth plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soul and body should enjoy the presence of God in the last resurrection.

19:28 <sup>1</sup> Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his sins, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration, to wit, the trial of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others.

19:29 <sup>1</sup> God will be revenged of this hasty judgment, whereby you condemned me.

3 I have heard <sup>1</sup>the correction of my reproach: therefore the spirit of mine understanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of old? and since God placed man upon the earth,

5 That the rejoicing of the wicked is short, and that the joy of the hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though <sup>1</sup>his excellency mount up to the heaven, and his head reach unto the clouds,

7 Yet shall he perish forever like his dung, and they which have seen him, shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall flee away as a dream, and they shall not find him, and shall pass away as a vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had seen him, shall do so no more, and his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall <sup>1</sup>flatter the poor, and his hands shall <sup>2</sup>restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the sin of his youth, and <sup>1</sup>it shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 When wickedness was <sup>1</sup>sweet in his mouth, and he hid it under his tongue,

13 And favored it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth,

14 Then his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of Asps was in the midst of him.

15 He hath devoured substance, and he shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the <sup>1</sup>gall of Asps, and the viper's tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not see the <sup>1</sup>rivers, nor the floods and streams of honey and butter.

18 He shall restore the labor, and shall devour no more: even according to the substance shall be his exchange, <sup>1</sup>and he shall enjoy it no more.

19 For he hath undone many: he hath forsaken the poor, and hath spoiled houses which he built not.

20 Surely he shall feel no quietness in his body, neither shall he reserve of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his <sup>1</sup>meat be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When he shall be filled with his abundance, he shall be in pain, and the hand <sup>1</sup>of all the wicked shall assail him.

23 He shall be about to fill his belly, but God shall send upon him his fierce wrath, <sup>1</sup>and shall cause to rain upon him, even upon his meat.

24 He shall flee from the iron weapons, and the bow of steel shall strike him through.

25 The arrow is drawn out, and cometh forth of the <sup>1</sup>body, and shineth of his gall, so fear cometh upon him.

26 <sup>1</sup>All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not <sup>2</sup>blown shall devour him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle shall be destroyed.

27 The heaven shall declare his wickedness, and the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The <sup>1</sup>increase of his house shall go away: it shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from <sup>1</sup>God, and the heritage that he shall have of God, for his <sup>2</sup>words.

21 <sup>7</sup>Job declareth how the prosperity of the wicked maketh them proud. <sup>15</sup>Insomuch that they blaspheme God. <sup>16</sup>Their destruction is at hand. <sup>23</sup>None ought to be judged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperity.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 Hear diligently my words, and this <sup>1</sup>shall be instead of your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak, and when I have spoken, mock on.

4 Do I direct my talk to man? If it <sup>1</sup>were so, how 20:3 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that two things moved him to speak: to wit, because Job seemed to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him.

20:6 <sup>1</sup> His purpose is to prove Job to be a wicked man, and an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperity into adversity.

20:10 <sup>1</sup> Whereas the father through ambition and tyranny oppressed the poor, the children through poverty and misery, shall seek favor at the poor.

<sup>2</sup> So that the thing which he hath taken away by violence shall be restored again by force.

20:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he shall carry nothing away with him but his sin.

20:12 <sup>1</sup> As poison that is sweet in the mouth, bringeth destruction when it cometh into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.

20:16 <sup>1</sup> He compareth evil gotten goods to the venom of Asps, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Job's great riches were not truly come by and therefore God did plague him justly for the same.

20:17 <sup>1</sup> Though God give to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he shall have no part thereof.

20:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, these ravens and spoilers of the poor shall enjoy their theft but for a time: for after, God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange.

20:21 <sup>1</sup> He shall leave nothing to his posterity.

20:22 <sup>1</sup> The wicked shall never be in rest: for one wicked man shall seek to destroy another.

20:23 <sup>1</sup> Some read, upon his flesh, alluding to Job, whose flesh was smitten with a scab.

20:25 <sup>1</sup> Some read, of the quiver.

20:26 <sup>1</sup> All fear and sorrow shall light upon him, when he thinketh to escape.

20:28 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flow away like rivers, and be dispersed in divers places.

20:29 <sup>1</sup> Thus God will plague the wicked.

21:2 <sup>1</sup> Your diligent marking of my words shall be to me a great consolation.

21:4 <sup>1</sup> As though he would say, I do not talk with man but with God, who will not answer me, and therefore my mind must needs be troubled.

should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Mark me, and be abashed, and lay your hand upon your <sup>1</sup>mouth.

6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and fear taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked <sup>1</sup>live, and wax old, and grow in wealth?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without fear, and the rod of God is not upon them.

10 Their bullock gendereth, and faileth not: their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their children <sup>1</sup>like sheep, and their sons dance.

12 They take the tambourine and harp, and rejoice in the sound of the organs.

13 They spend their days in wealth, and suddenly <sup>1</sup>they go down to the grave.

14 They say also unto God, Depart from us: for we desire not the <sup>1</sup>knowledge of thy ways.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have, if we should pray unto him?

16 Lo, their wealth is not in their <sup>1</sup>hand: therefore let the counsel of the wicked <sup>2</sup>be far from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out and their destruction come upon them? he will divide their lives in his wrath.

18 They shall be as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm carrieth away.

19 God will lay up the sorrow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 <sup>1</sup>His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off?

22 Shall any teach <sup>1</sup>God knowledge, who judgeth

<sup>a</sup> Job 35:7

the highest things?

23 One <sup>1</sup>dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperity.

24 His breasts are full of milk, and his bones run full of marrow.

25 And another <sup>1</sup>dieth in the bitterness of his soul, and never eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleep both in <sup>1</sup>the dust, and the worms shall cover them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises wherewith ye do me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the prince's <sup>1</sup>house? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked's dwelling?

29 May ye <sup>1</sup>not ask them that go by the way? and ye cannot deny their signs.

30 But the wicked is kept unto the day of <sup>1</sup>destruction, and they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way <sup>1</sup>to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?

32 Yet shall he be brought to the grave, and remain in the heap.

33 The <sup>1</sup>slimy valley shall be sweet unto him, and every man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort <sup>1</sup>ye me in vain, seeing in your answer there remain but lies?

22 <sup>2</sup> Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his sins. <sup>6</sup> He accuseth him of unmercifulness. <sup>13</sup> And that he denied God's providence. <sup>21</sup> He exhorteth to repentance.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,

2 May a man be <sup>1</sup>profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himself?

3 <sup>a</sup>Is it anything unto the Almighty, that thou art

21:5 <sup>1</sup> He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend his feeling of God's judgment, and exhorteth them therefore to silence.

21:7 <sup>1</sup> Job proveth against his adversaries that God punisheth not straightways the wicked, but oft times giveth them long life, and prosperity: so that we must not judge God just or unjust by the things that appear to our eyes.

21:11 <sup>1</sup> They have store of children, lusty and healthful, and in these points he answereth to that which Zophar alleged before.

21:13 <sup>1</sup> Not being tormented with long sickness.

21:14 <sup>1</sup> They desire nothing more than to be exempt from all subjection that they should bear to God: thus Job showeth his adversaries, that if they reason only by that which is seen by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt withal, than they that love him.

21:16 <sup>1</sup> It is not their own, but God only lendeth it unto them.

21:20 <sup>1</sup> When God recompenseth his wickedness, he shall know that his prosperity was but vanity.

21:22 <sup>1</sup> Who sendeth to the wicked prosperity, and punisheth the godly.

21:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the wicked.

21:25 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the godly.

21:26 <sup>1</sup> As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common judgment.

21:28 <sup>1</sup> Thus they called Job's house in derision, concluding that it was destroyed because he was wicked.

21:29 <sup>1</sup> Which through long travelling have experience and tokens thereof, to wit, that the wicked do prosper, and the godly live in affliction.

21:30 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked flourish here, yet God will punish him in the last day.

21:31 <sup>1</sup> Though men do flatter him, and none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is a token that he will bring him to an account.

21:33 <sup>1</sup> He shall be glad to lie in a slimy pit, which before could not be content with a royal palace.

21:34 <sup>1</sup> Saying, that the just in this world have prosperity, and the wicked adversity.

22:2 <sup>1</sup> Though man were just, yet God could have no profit of this his justice: and therefore when he punished him, he hath no regard to his justice, but to his sin.

righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy ways upright?

4 Is it for fear <sup>1</sup>of thee that he will accuse thee? or go with thee into judgment?

5 Is not thy wickedness great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the <sup>1</sup>pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were weary, thou hast not given water to drink, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man <sup>1</sup>had the earth, and he that was in authority, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widows empty, and the arms of the <sup>1</sup>fatherless were broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and fear shall suddenly trouble thee.

11 Or darkness that thou shouldest not see, and <sup>1</sup>abundance of waters shall cover thee.

12 Is not God on <sup>1</sup>high in the heaven? and behold the height of the <sup>2</sup>stars how high they are.

13 But thou sayest, How should God <sup>1</sup>know? can he judge through the dark cloud?

14 The clouds hide him that he cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heaven.

15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, <sup>1</sup>wherein wicked men have walked?

16 Which were <sup>1</sup>cut down before the time, whose foundation was as a river that overflowed:

17 Which said unto God, Depart from us, and asked what the Almighty could do for them.

18 Yet he <sup>1</sup>filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked be far from me.

19 The righteous shall see them, and shall rejoice, <sup>1</sup>and the innocent shall laugh them to scorn.

20 Surely <sup>1</sup>our substance is hid: but the fire hath devoured the remnant of <sup>2</sup>them.

21 Therefore acquaint thyself, I pray thee, <sup>1</sup>with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt have prosperity.

22 Receive, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt <sup>1</sup>be built up, and thou shalt put iniquity far from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay up gold for <sup>1</sup>dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flints of the rivers.

25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defense, and thou shalt have plenty of silver.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift up thy face unto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt render thy vows.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it unto thee, and the <sup>1</sup>light shall shine upon thy ways.

29 <sup>1</sup>When others are cast down, then shalt thou say, I am lifted up: and God shall save the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliver the <sup>1</sup>island, and it shall be preserved by the pureness of thine hands.

23 Job affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the Judge, 10 And that he is not punished only for his sins.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 Though my talk be this day in <sup>1</sup>bitterness, and my plague greater than my groaning,

3 Would God yet I knew how to find him, I would enter unto his place.

4 I would plead the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

22:4 <sup>1</sup> Lest thou shouldest reprove or hurt him?

22:6 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast been cruel and without charity, and wouldest do nothing for the poor, but for thine own advantage.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> When thou wast in power and authority, thou didst not justice but wrong.

22:9 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast not only not showed pity, but oppressed them.

22:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, manifold afflictions.

22:12 <sup>1</sup> He accuseth Job of impiety and contempt of God, as though he would say, If thou pass not for men, yet consider the height of God's majesty.

<sup>2</sup> That so much the more by that excellent work thou mayest fear God, and reverence him.

22:13 <sup>1</sup> He reproveth Job, as though he denied God's providence and that he could not see the things that were done in this world.

22:15 <sup>1</sup> How God hath punished them from the beginning?

22:16 <sup>1</sup> He proveth God's providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to pass.

22:18 <sup>1</sup> He answereth to that which Job had said, Job 21:7, that the wicked have prosperity in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like.

22:19 <sup>1</sup> The just rejoice at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God showeth himself judge of the world and by this means continueth his honor and glory: secondly, because God showeth that he hath care over his in that he punished their enemies.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, the state and preservation of the godly, is hid under God's wings.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, of the wicked.

22:21 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth Job to repentance, and to return to God.

22:23 <sup>1</sup> God will restore unto thee all thy substance.

22:24 <sup>1</sup> Which shall be in abundance like dust.

22:28 <sup>1</sup> That is, the favor of God.

22:29 <sup>1</sup> God will deliver his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom.

22:30 <sup>1</sup> God will deliver a whole country from peril, even for the just man's sake.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the just cause of his complaining, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to return to God, Job 22:21, he declareth that he desireth nothing more, but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

5 I would know the words, that he would answer me, and would understand what he would say unto me.

6 Would he <sup>1</sup>plead against me with his great power? No, but he would <sup>2</sup>put strength in me.

7 <sup>1</sup>There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be delivered forever from my Judge.

8 <sup>1</sup>Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceive him:

9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he will hide himself in the South, and I cannot behold him.

10 But he knoweth my <sup>1</sup>way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like gold.

11 My foot hath followed his steps: his way have I kept, and have not declined:

12 Neither have I departed from the commandment of his lips, and I have <sup>1</sup>esteemed the words of his mouth more than mine appointed food.

13 Yet he is in one mind, and who can <sup>1</sup>turn him? yea, he doeth what his mind desireth.

14 For he will perform that which is decreed of me, and <sup>1</sup>many such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.

16 For <sup>1</sup>God hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in <sup>1</sup>darkness, but he hath hid the darkness from my face.

24 <sup>2</sup>Job describeth the wickedness of men, and showeth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are governed by God's providence. 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

1 How should not the times <sup>1</sup>be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his <sup>2</sup>days?

2 Some remove the landmarks, that rob the flocks and feed thereof.

3 They lead away the ass of the fatherless, and take the widow's ox to pledge.

4 They make the poor to turn out of the way, so that the poor of the earth hide themselves <sup>1</sup>together.

5 Behold, others as wild asses in the wilderness, go forth to their business, and <sup>1</sup>rise early for a prey: the wilderness <sup>2</sup>giveth him and his children food.

6 They reap <sup>1</sup>his provision in the field, but they gather the late <sup>2</sup>vintage of the wicked.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, <sup>1</sup>and they embrace the rock for want of a covering.

9 They pluck the fatherless <sup>1</sup>from the breast, and take the pledge of <sup>2</sup>the poor.

10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleaning from the hungry.

11 They that make oil <sup>1</sup>between their walls, and tread their winepresses, suffer thirst.

12 Men <sup>1</sup>cry out of the city, and the souls of the slain <sup>2</sup>cry out: yet God <sup>3</sup>doth not charge them with folly.

13 These are they that abhor the <sup>1</sup>light: they know not the ways thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poor and the needy: and in the night he is as a thief.

15 The eye also of the <sup>1</sup>adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and saith, None eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face.

23:6 <sup>1</sup> Using his absolute power, and saying, because I am God, I may do what I will.

23:7 <sup>1</sup> When he of his mercy hath given strength to maintain their cause.

23:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that if he consider God's justice, he is not able to comprehend his judgments on what side or what part soever he turneth himself.

23:10 <sup>1</sup> God hath this preeminence about me, that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to judge of his works: he showeth also his confidence, that God doth use him for his profit.

23:12 <sup>1</sup> His word is more precious unto me, than the meat wherewith the body is sustained.

23:13 <sup>1</sup> Job confesseth that at this present he felt not God's favor, and yet was assured that he had appointed him to a good end.

23:14 <sup>1</sup> In many points man is not able to attain to God's judgments.

23:16 <sup>1</sup> That I should not be without fear.

23:17 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the cause of his fear, which is, that he being in trouble seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

24:1 <sup>1</sup> Thus Job speaketh in his passions, and after the judgment of the flesh: that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care over all, because he punisheth not the wicked, nor revengeth the godly.

24:4 <sup>1</sup> And for cruelty and oppression dare not show their faces.

24:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, spareth diligence.

24:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the poor man's.

24:8 <sup>1</sup> The poor are driven by the wicked into the rocks and holes where they cannot lie dry for the rain.

24:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, they so pottle and pill the poor widow, that she cannot have to sustain herself that she may be able to give her child suck.

24:11 <sup>1</sup> In such places which are appointed for that purpose: meaning, that those that labor for the wicked, are pined for hunger.

24:12 <sup>1</sup> For the great oppression and extortion.

<sup>3</sup> God doth not condemn the wicked, but seemeth to pass over it by his long silence.

24:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, God's word, because they are reproved thereby.

24:15 <sup>1</sup> By these particular vices and the licence thereunto, he would prove that God punished not the wicked, and rewardeth the just.

16 They dig through houses in the dark, which they marked for themselves in the day: they know not the light.

17 But the morning is even to them as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 He is swift upon the <sup>1</sup>waters: their <sup>2</sup>portion shall be cursed in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the dry ground and heat consume the snow waters, so shall the grave <sup>1</sup>the sinners.

20 <sup>1</sup>The pitiful man shall forget him: the worm shall feel his sweetness: he shall be no more remembered, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

21 He <sup>1</sup>doth evil entreat the barren that doth not bear, neither doeth he good to the widow.

22 He draweth also the <sup>1</sup>mighty by his power, and when he riseth up, none is sure of life.

23 Though men give him assurance to be in safety, yet his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the top of an ear of corn.

25 But if it be not <sup>1</sup>so, where is he? or who will prove me a liar, and make my words of no value?

25 Bildad proveth that no man is clean nor without sin before God.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 <sup>1</sup>Power and fear is with him, that maketh peace in his places.

3 Is there any number in his armies? <sup>1</sup>and upon whom shall not <sup>2</sup>his light arise?

4 And how may a man <sup>1</sup>be justified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of woman?

5 Behold, he will give no light to the Moon, <sup>1</sup>and the Stars are unclean in his sight.

6 How much more man, a worm, even the son of man, which is but a worm?

26 Job showeth that man cannot help God, and proveth it by his miracles.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 <sup>1</sup>Whom helpeth thou? him that hath no power? savest thou the arm that hath no strength?

3 Whom counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom? <sup>1</sup>thou showest right well as the thing is.

4 To whom dost thou declare these words? or whose spirit <sup>1</sup>cometh out of thee?

5 The <sup>1</sup>dead things are formed under the waters, and near unto them.

6 The grave is <sup>1</sup>naked before him, and there is no covering for <sup>2</sup>destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the <sup>1</sup>North over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his clouds, and the cloud is not broken under them.

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath set bounds <sup>1</sup>about the waters, until the <sup>2</sup>day and night come to an end.

11 The <sup>1</sup>pillars of heaven tremble and quake at his reproof.

12 The sea is calm by his power, and by his understanding he smiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirit hath garnished the heavens, and his hand hath formed the crooked <sup>1</sup>serpent.

14 Lo, these are part of his ways: but <sup>1</sup>how little a portion hear we of him? and who can understand his fearful power?

24:18 <sup>1</sup> He fleeth to the waters for his succor.

<sup>2</sup> They think that all the world is bent against them, and dare not go by the high way.

24:19 <sup>1</sup> As the dry ground is never full with waters, so will they never cease sinning till they come to the grave.

24:20 <sup>1</sup> Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their end shall be most vile destruction, and in this point Job commiteth to himself, and showeth his confidence.

24:21 <sup>1</sup> He showeth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not pity others.

24:22 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that after that the wicked have destroyed the weakest, they will do like to the stranger, and therefore are justly punished by God's judgments.

24:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can give perfect reasons of God's judgments, let me be reproved.

25:2 <sup>1</sup> His purpose is to prove that albeit God try and afflict the just, yet soon after he sendeth prosperity, and because he did not so to Job he concludeth that he is wicked.

25:3 <sup>1</sup> Who can hide him from his presence?

25:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, be just in respect of God?

25:5 <sup>1</sup> If God show his power, the Moon and Stars cannot have that light which is given them, much less can man have any excellency, but of God.

26:2 <sup>1</sup> Thou concludest nothing: for neither thou helpst me, which am destitute of all help, neither yet speakest sufficiently on God's behalf, who hath no need of thy defense.

26:3 <sup>1</sup> But thou dost not apply it to the purpose.

26:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, moveth thee to speak this?

26:5 <sup>1</sup> Job beginneth to declare the force of God's power and providence in the mines and metals in the deep places of the earth.

26:6 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing hid in the bottom of the earth but he seeth it.

26:7 <sup>1</sup> He causeth the whole heaven to turn about the North pole.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, he hid the heavens which are called his throne.

26:11 <sup>1</sup> Not that heaven hath pillars to uphold it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he would say, The heaven itself is not able to abide his reproach.

26:13 <sup>1</sup> Which is a figure of stars fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookedness.

26:14 <sup>1</sup> If these few things, which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how much more would they appear, if we were to comprehend all his works?

27 <sup>3</sup> The constancy and perfectness of Job. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

1 Moreover Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The living God hath taken away my <sup>1</sup>judgment: for the Almighty hath put my soul in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 <sup>1</sup>My lips surely shall speak no wickedness, and my tongue shall utter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should <sup>1</sup>justify you: until I die, I will never take away mine <sup>2</sup>innocency from myself.

6 I will keep my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me of my <sup>1</sup>days.

7 Mine enemy shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against me, as the unrighteous.

8 For what <sup>1</sup>hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped up riches, if God take away his soul?

9 Will God hear his cry, when trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he set his delight on the Almighty? will he call upon God at all times?

11 I will teach you what is in the hand of <sup>1</sup>God, and I will not conceal that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, all ye yourselves <sup>1</sup>have seen it: why then do you thus vanish <sup>2</sup>vanity?

13 This is the <sup>1</sup>portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

14 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posterity shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widows <sup>1</sup>shall not weep.

16 Though he should heap up silver as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as the <sup>1</sup>moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, <sup>1</sup>he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrors shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carry him away by night.

21 The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: and it shall hurl him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast upon him and not spare, though he would fain flee out of his hand.

23 Every man shall clap their hands at him, and hiss at him out of their place.

28 Job showeth that the wisdom of God is unsearchable.

1 The silver surely hath his vein, <sup>1</sup>and the gold his palace, where they take it.

2 Iron is taken out of the dust, and brass is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darkness, <sup>1</sup>and he trieth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bond of darkness, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the <sup>1</sup>inhabitant, and the waters <sup>2</sup>forgotten of the foot, being higher than man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh <sup>1</sup>bread, and under it, as it were fire is turned up.

6 The stones thereof are a place <sup>1</sup>of Sapphires, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no fowl hath known, neither hath the kite's eye seen it.

8 The Lion's whelps have not walked it, nor the Lion passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand upon the <sup>1</sup>rocks, and overthroweth the mountains by the roots.

27:2 <sup>1</sup> He hath so sore afflicted me, that men cannot judge of mine uprightness: for they judge only by outward signs.

27:4 <sup>1</sup> However men judge of me, yet will I not speak contrary to that which I have said, and so do wickedly in betraying the truth.

27:5 <sup>1</sup> Which condemns me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is upon me.

<sup>2</sup> I will not confess that God doth thus punish me for my sins.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> Of my life past.

27:8 <sup>1</sup> What advantage hath the dissembler to gain never so much, seeing he shall lose his own soul?

27:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, what God reserveth to himself, and whereof he giveth not the knowledge to all.

27:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, these secret judgments of God, and yet do not understand them.

27:13 <sup>1</sup> Thus will God order the wicked, and punish him even unto his posterity.

27:15 <sup>1</sup> None shall lament him.

27:18 <sup>1</sup> Which breedeth in another man's possession or garment, but is soon shaken out.

27:19 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth, that the wicked tyrants shall not have a quiet death, nor be buried honorably.

28:1 <sup>1</sup> His purpose is to declare that man may attain in this world to divers secrets of nature, but man is never able to comprehend the wisdom of God.

28:3 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing but it is compassed within certain limits, and hath an end, but God's wisdom.

28:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.

28:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, come, and underneath is brimstone or coal, which easily conceiveth fire.

28:6 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are under the earth, whereinto neither fowls nor beasts can enter.

28:9 <sup>1</sup> After that he hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature he describeth his power.

10 He breaketh rivers in the roots, and his eye seeth every precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not overflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom found? <sup>1</sup>and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not <sup>1</sup>the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the living.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the Sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 <sup>1</sup>Gold shall not be given for it, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onyx, nor the sapphire.

17 The gold nor the crystal shall be equal unto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of coral, nor of the <sup>1</sup>gabish: for wisdom is more precious than pearls.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal unto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding,

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the living, and is hid from the <sup>1</sup>fowls of the heaven?

22 Destruction and death say, We have heard the fame thereof with our ears.

23 But God understandeth the <sup>1</sup>way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is under heaven,

25 To make the weight of the winds and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunders,

27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it, and also considered it.

28 And unto man he said, Behold, <sup>1</sup>the <sup>1</sup>fear of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding.

29 <sup>1</sup>Job complaineth of the prosperity of the time past. 7, 21 His authority. 22 Justice and equity.

1 So Job proceeded, and continued his parable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as <sup>1</sup>in times past, when God preserved me!

3 When his <sup>1</sup>light shined upon mine head: and when by his light I walked through the <sup>2</sup>darkness,

4 As I was in the days of my youth: when <sup>1</sup>God's providence was upon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 when I washed my paths <sup>1</sup>with butter, and when the rock poured me out rivers of oil:

7 When I went out to the gate, even to the judgment seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the street.

8 The young men saw me, and <sup>1</sup>hid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood up.

9 The princes stayed talk, and laid their hand on their <sup>1</sup>mouth.

10 The voice of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.

11 And when the <sup>1</sup>ear heard me, it blessed me, and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to <sup>2</sup>me.

12 For I delivered the <sup>1</sup>poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him.

13 <sup>1</sup>The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came upon me, and I caused the widow's heart to rejoice.

14 I put <sup>1</sup>on justice, and it covered me: my judgment was as a robe, and a crown.

15 I was the eyes to the blind, and I was the feet to the lame.

16 I was a father unto the poor, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the jaws of the unrighteous man, and plucked the prey out of his right.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my <sup>1</sup>nest, and I shall multiply my days as the sand.

19 For my root is <sup>1</sup>spread out by the water, and the dew shall lie upon my branch.

28:12 <sup>1</sup> Though God's power and wisdom may be understood in earthly things, yet his heavenly wisdom cannot be attained unto.

28:13 <sup>1</sup> It is too high a thing for man to attain unto in this world.

28:15 <sup>1</sup> It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is only the gift of God.

28:18 <sup>1</sup> Which is thought to be a kind of precious stone.

28:21 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that there is no natural means whereby man might attain to the heavenly wisdom: which he meaneth by the souls that fly high.

28:23 <sup>1</sup> He maketh God only the author of this wisdom, and the giver thereof.

28:28 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that man hath so much of this heavenly wisdom, as he showeth by fearing God, and departing from evil.

29:2 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, month before.

29:3 <sup>1</sup> When I felt his favor.

29:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, seemed by evident tokens to be more present with me.

29:6 <sup>1</sup> By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperity that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner as they accused him.

29:8 <sup>1</sup> Being ashamed of their lightness and afraid of my gravity.

29:9 <sup>1</sup> Acknowledging my wisdom.

29:11 <sup>1</sup> All that heard me, praised me.

29:12 <sup>1</sup> Because his adversaries did so much charge him with wickedness, he is compelled to render account of his life.

29:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, I did succor him that was in distress, and so he had cause to praise me.

29:14 <sup>1</sup> I delighted to do justice, as others did to wear costly apparel.

29:18 <sup>1</sup> That is, at home in my bed without all trouble and unquietness.

29:19 <sup>1</sup> My felicity doth increase.

20 My glory shall renew toward me, and my bow shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsel.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talk <sup>1</sup>dropped upon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the rain, and they opened their mouth <sup>1</sup>as for the latter rain.

24 If I <sup>1</sup>laughed on them, they believed it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance <sup>2</sup>to fall.

25 I appointed out <sup>1</sup>their way, and did sit as chief, and dwelt as a King in the army, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

30 <sup>1</sup>Job complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 11, 21 because of his adversity and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

1 But now they that are younger than I, <sup>1</sup>mock me: yea, they whose fathers I have refused to set with the <sup>2</sup>dogs of my flocks.

2 For whereto should the strength of their hands have served me, seeing age <sup>1</sup>perished in them?

3 For poverty and famine they were solitary, fleeing into the wilderness, which is dark, desolate and waste.

4 They cut up <sup>1</sup>nettles by the bushes, and the juniper roots was their meat.

5 They were <sup>1</sup>chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a thief.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of rivers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.

7 They roared among the bushes, and under the thistles they gathered themselves.

8 They were the children of fools, and the children of villains, which were more vile than the earth.

9 And now am I their <sup>1</sup>song, and I am their talk.

10 They abhor me, and flee far from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my <sup>1</sup>cord and humbled me, <sup>2</sup>they have loosed the bridle before me.

12 The youth rise up at my right hand: they have pushed my feet, and have trode on me as on the <sup>1</sup>paths of their destruction.

13 They have destroyed my paths: they took pleasure at my calamity, they had no <sup>1</sup>help.

14 They came as a great breach of waters, and under this calamity they come on heaps.

15 Fear is turned upon me: and they pursue my soul as the wind, and mine health passeth away as a cloud.

16 Therefore my soul is now <sup>1</sup>poured out upon me, and the days of affliction have taken hold on me.

17 <sup>1</sup>It pierceth my bones in the night, and my sinews take no rest.

18 For the great vehemency is my garments changed, which compasseth me about, as the collar of my coat.

19 <sup>1</sup>He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry unto thee, thou dost not hear me, neither regardest me, when I stand up.

21 Thou turnest thyself <sup>1</sup>cruelly against me, and art enemy unto me with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me up and causest me to ride upon the <sup>1</sup>wind, and makest my <sup>2</sup>strength to fail.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all the living.

24 Doubtless none can stretch his hand <sup>1</sup>unto the grave, though they cry in his destruction.

25 Did not I weep with him that was in trouble? was not my soul in heaviness for the poor?

26 Yet when I looked for good, <sup>1</sup>evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkness.

27 My bowels did boil without rest: for the days of affliction are come upon me.

28 I went mourning <sup>1</sup>without sun: I stood up in 29:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, was pleasant unto them.

29:23 <sup>1</sup> As the dry ground thirsteth for the rain.

29:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, they thought it not to be a rest, or they thought not that I would condescend unto them.

<sup>2</sup> They were afraid to offend me and cause me to be angry.

29:25 <sup>1</sup> I had them at commandment.

30:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, mine estate is changed, and whereas before the ancient men were glad to do me reverence, the young men now contemn me.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning to be my shepherds, or to keep my dogs.

30:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, their fathers died for famine before they came to age.

30:4 <sup>1</sup> Or, mallows.

30:5 <sup>1</sup> Job showeth that these that mocked him in his affliction, were like to their fathers, wicked and lewd fellows, such as he here describeth.

30:9 <sup>1</sup> They make songs of me, and mock at my misery.

30:11 <sup>1</sup> God hath taken from me the force, credit, and authority wherewith I kept them in subjection.

<sup>2</sup> He said that the young men when they saw him, hid themselves, as Job 29:8, and now in his misery they were impudent and licentious.

30:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, they sought by all means how they might destroy me.

30:13 <sup>1</sup> They need none to help them.

30:14 <sup>1</sup> By my calamity they took an occasion against me.

30:16 <sup>1</sup> My life faileth me, and I am as half dead.

30:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, sorrow.

30:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, God hath brought me into contempt.

30:21 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh not thus to accuse God, but to declare the vehemency of his affliction, whereby he was carried beside himself.

30:22 <sup>1</sup> He compareth his afflictions to a tempest or whirlwind.

<sup>2</sup> Or, wisdom, or law.

30:24 <sup>1</sup> None can deliver me thence, though they lament at my death.

30:26 <sup>1</sup> Instead of comforting they mocked at me.

30:28 <sup>1</sup> Not delighting in any worldly thing, no not so much as in the use of the Sun.

the Congregation <sup>2</sup>and cried.

29 I am a brother to the <sup>1</sup>Dragons, and a companion to the Ostriches.

30 My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burnt with <sup>1</sup>heat.

31 Therefore mine harp is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voice of them that weep.

31 1 Job reciteth the innocence of his living and number of his virtues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithful.

1 I made a covenant with mine <sup>1</sup>eyes: why then should I think on <sup>2</sup>a maid?

2 For what portion should I have of God from above? and what inheritance of the almighty from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked, and strange punishment to <sup>1</sup>the workers of iniquity?

4 Doth not he behold my ways, and tell all my steps?

5 If I have walked in vanity, or if my foot hath made haste to deceit?

6 Let God weigh me in the just balance, and he shall know my <sup>1</sup>uprightness.

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath <sup>1</sup>walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands,

8 Let me sow, and let another <sup>1</sup>eat: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at the door of my neighbor,

10 Let my wife <sup>1</sup>grind unto another man, and let other men bow down upon her.

11 For this is a wickedness, and iniquity to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall devour <sup>1</sup>to destruction, and which shall root out all my increase.

13 If I did contemn the judgment of my servant, and of my maid, when they <sup>1</sup>did contend with me,

14 What then shall I do when <sup>1</sup>God standeth up? and when he shall visit me, what shall I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the womb, hath he not made <sup>1</sup>him? hath not he alone fashioned us in the womb?

16 If I restrained the poor of their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow <sup>1</sup>to fail,

17 Or have eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherless hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hath he grown up with me <sup>1</sup>as with a father, and from my mother's womb have I been a guide unto her.)

19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or any poor without covering,

20 If his loins have not blessed me, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheep,

21 If I have lifted <sup>1</sup>up mine hand against the fatherless, when I saw that I might help him in the gate, 22 Let mine <sup>1</sup>arm fall from my shoulder, and mine arm be broken from the bone.

23 For God's punishment was <sup>1</sup>fearful unto me, and I could not be delivered from his Highness.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or have said to the wedge of gold, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I rejoiced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the <sup>1</sup>sun, when it shined, or the moon walking in her brightness,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kiss mine <sup>1</sup>hand,

28 (This also had been an iniquity to be condemned: for I had denied the God <sup>1</sup>above.)

29 If I rejoiced at his destruction that hated me, or was moved to joy when evil came upon him,

30 Neither have I suffered my mouth to sin, by wishing a curse unto his soul.

31 Did not the men of my <sup>1</sup>Tabernacle say, Who shall give us of his flesh? we cannot be satisfied.

32 The stranger did not lodge in the street, but I

30:29 <sup>1</sup> I am like the wild beasts that desire most solitary places.

30:30 <sup>1</sup> With the heat of affliction.

31:1 <sup>1</sup> I kept my eyes from all wanton looks.

<sup>2</sup> Would not God then have punished me?

31:3 <sup>1</sup> Job declareth that the fear of God was a bridle to stay him from all wickedness.

31:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth wherein his uprightness standeth, that is, inasmuch as he was blameless before men, and sinned not against the second Table.

31:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath accomplished the lust of mine eyes.

31:8 <sup>1</sup> According to the curse of the law, Deut. 28:33.

31:10 <sup>1</sup> Let her be made a slave.

31:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that albeit man neglect the punishment of adultery, yet the wrath of God will never cease till such be destroyed.

31:13 <sup>1</sup> When they thought themselves evil entreated by me.

31:14 <sup>1</sup> If I had oppressed others, how should I have escaped God's judgment.

31:15 <sup>1</sup> He was moved to show pity unto servants, because they were God's creatures as he was.

31:16 <sup>1</sup> By long waiting for her request.

31:18 <sup>1</sup> He nourished the fatherless, and maintained the widow's cause.

31:21 <sup>1</sup> To oppress him and to do him injury.

31:22 <sup>1</sup> Let me rot in pieces.

31:23 <sup>1</sup> I refrained not from sinning for fear of men, but because I feared God.

31:26 <sup>1</sup> If I was proud of my worldly prosperity and felicity, which is meant by the shining of the sun, and brightness of the moon.

31:27 <sup>1</sup> If mine own doings delighted me.

31:28 <sup>1</sup> By putting confidence in anything but in him alone.

31:31 <sup>1</sup> My servants moved me to be revenged of mine enemy, yet did I never wish him hurt.

opened my doors unto him, that went by the way.

33 If I have hid <sup>1</sup>my sins, as Adam, concealing mine iniquity in my bosom,

34 Though I could have made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did <sup>1</sup>fear me: so I kept <sup>2</sup>silence, and went not out of the door.

35 Oh that I had some to hear me! behold my <sup>1</sup>sign that the Almighty will witness for me: though mine adversary should write a book against me, 36 Would not I take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a <sup>1</sup>crown unto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and go unto him as to a <sup>1</sup>prince.

38 If my land <sup>1</sup>cry against me, or the furrows thereof complain together,

39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without silver: or if I have grieved <sup>1</sup>the souls of the masters thereof, 40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, and cockle in the stead of barley.

THE <sup>1</sup>WORDS OF JOB ARE ENDED.

32 <sup>2</sup>Elihu reproveth them of folly. <sup>8</sup>Age maketh not a man wise, but the spirit of God.

1 So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he <sup>1</sup>esteemed himself just.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the <sup>1</sup>Buzite, of the family of <sup>2</sup>Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Job, because he justified himself <sup>3</sup>more than God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not find an answer, and yet condemned Job.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken: for <sup>1</sup>they were more ancient in years than he.)

5 So when Elihu saw, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the son of Barachel, the Buzite answered and said, I am young in years, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to show you mine opinion.

7 For I said, The days <sup>1</sup>shall speak, and the multitude of years shall teach wisdom.

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, <sup>1</sup>but the inspiration of the Almighty giveth understanding.

9 Great men are not always wise, neither do the aged always understand judgment.

10 Therefore I say, Hear me and I will show also mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did wait upon your words, and hearkened unto your knowledge, while you sought out <sup>1</sup>reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reprov'd Job, nor answered his words:

13 Lest ye should say, We have <sup>1</sup>found wisdom: for God hath cast him down, and no man.

14 Yet hath <sup>1</sup>he not directed his words to me, neither will I answer <sup>2</sup>him by your words.

15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talk.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more)

17 Then answered I in my turn, and I showed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of <sup>1</sup>matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottles that burst.

20 Therefore will I speak, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and will answer.

21 I will not now accept the person of man, <sup>1</sup>neither will I give titles to man.

22 For I may not give <sup>1</sup>titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.

33 <sup>5</sup>Elihu accuseth Job of ignorance. <sup>14</sup>He showeth that God hath divers means to instruct man and to draw him from sin. <sup>19, 29</sup>He afflicteth man and suddenly delivereth

31:33 <sup>1</sup> And not confessed it freely: whereby it is evident that he justified himself before men, and not before God.

31:34 <sup>1</sup> That is, I revered the most weak and contemned, and was afraid to offend them.

<sup>2</sup> I suffered them to speak evil of me, and went not out of my house to revenge it.

31:35 <sup>1</sup> This is a sufficient token of my righteousness, that God is my witness and will justify my cause.

31:36 <sup>1</sup> Should not this book of his accusations be a praise and commendation to me?

31:37 <sup>1</sup> I will make him account of all my life, without fear.

31:38 <sup>1</sup> As though I had withheld their wages that labored in it.

31:39 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner.

31:40 <sup>1</sup> That is, the talk which he had with his three friends.

32:1 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, was just in his own eyes.

32:2 <sup>1</sup> Which came of Buz, the son of Nahor, Abraham's brother.

32:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, the three mentioned before.

32:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the ancient, which have experience.

32:8 <sup>1</sup> It is a special gift of God that man hath understanding, and cometh neither of nature nor by age.

32:11 <sup>1</sup> To prove that Job's affliction came for his sins.

32:13 <sup>1</sup> And flatter yourselves, as though you had overcome him.

32:14 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Job.

32:18 <sup>1</sup> I have conceived in my mind great store of reasons.

32:21 <sup>1</sup> I will neither have regard to riches, credit, nor authority, but will speak the very truth.

32:22 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word signifieth, to change the name, as to call a fool a wise man: meaning, that he would not cloak the truth to flatter men.

him. 26 Man being delivered giveth thanks to God.

1 Wherefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my talk, and hearken unto all my words.

2 Behold now, I have opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My words are in the uprightness of mine heart, and my lips shall speak pure knowledge.

4 The <sup>1</sup>Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

5 If thou canst give me answer, prepare thyself and stand before me.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in <sup>1</sup>God's stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not fear thee, neither shall mine hand <sup>1</sup>be heavy upon thee.

8 Doubtless thou hast spoken in mine ears, and I have heard the voice of thy words.

9 I am <sup>1</sup>clean, without sin: I am innocent and there is none iniquity in me.

10 Lo, he hath found occasions against me, and counted me for his enemy.

11 He hath put my feet in the stocks, and looketh narrowly unto all my paths.

12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater than man.

13 Why dost thou strive against him? for he doth not <sup>1</sup>give account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh <sup>1</sup>once or twice, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreams and <sup>1</sup>visions of the night, when sleep falleth upon men, and they sleep upon their beds,

16 Then he openeth the ears of men, even by their corrections, which he <sup>1</sup>had sealed,

17 That he might cause man to turn away from his enterprise, and that he might hide the <sup>1</sup>pride of man,

18 And keep back his soul from the pit, and that his life should not pass by the sword.

19 He is also stricken with sorrow upon his bed, and the grief of his bones is sore, 20 So that his <sup>1</sup>life causeth him to abhor bread, and his soul dainty meat.

21 His flesh faileth that it cannot be seen, and his bones which were not seen, clatter.

22 So his soul draweth to the grave, and his life <sup>1</sup>to the buriers.

23 If there be a <sup>1</sup>messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand <sup>2</sup>to declare unto man his righteousness,

24 Then will he have <sup>1</sup>mercy upon him, and will say, <sup>2</sup>Deliver him, that he go not down into the pit: for I have received a reconciliation.

25 Then shall his flesh be <sup>1</sup>as fresh as a child's, and shall return as in the days of his youth.

26 He shall pray unto God, and he will be favorable unto him, and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his <sup>1</sup>righteousness.

27 He looketh upon men, and if one say, I have sinned, and <sup>1</sup>perverted righteousness, and it did not profit <sup>2</sup>me,

28 <sup>1</sup>He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 Lo, all these things will God work <sup>1</sup>twice or thrice with a man, 30 That he may turn back his soul from the pit, to be illuminated in the light of the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, and hear me: keep silence and I will speak.

32 If there be <sup>1</sup>matter, answer me, and speak: for I desire to <sup>2</sup>justify thee.

33 If thou hast not, hear me: hold thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisdom.

34 <sup>5</sup>Elibu chargeth Job, that he called himself righteous. 12 He showeth that God is just in his 33:4 <sup>1</sup> I confess the power of God, and am one of his, therefore thou oughtest to hear me.

33:6 <sup>1</sup> Because Job had wished to dispute his cause with God, Job 16:21, so that he might do it without fear, Elihu saith, he will reason in God's stead, whom he needeth not to fear, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.

33:7 <sup>1</sup> I will not handle thee so roughly as these others have done.

33:9 <sup>1</sup> He repeateth Job's words, whereby he protested his innocence in divers places, but specially in Job 13, 16 and 30.

33:13 <sup>1</sup> The cause of his judgments is not always declared to man.

33:14 <sup>1</sup> Though God by sundry examples of his judgments speak unto man, yet the reason thereof is not known: yea and though God should speak, yet is he not understood.

33:15 <sup>1</sup> God saith he, speaketh commonly, either by visions to teach us the cause of his judgments, or else by afflictions, or by his messenger.

33:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, determined to send upon them.

33:17 <sup>1</sup> He showeth for what end God sendeth afflictions: to beat down man's pride, and to turn from evil.

33:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, his painful and miserable life.

33:22 <sup>1</sup> To them that shall bury him.

33:23 <sup>1</sup> A man sent of God to declare his will.

<sup>2</sup> A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, which is able to declare the great mercies of God unto sinners: and wherein man's righteousness standeth, which is through the justice of Jesus Christ and faith therein.

33:24 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is a sure token of God's mercy toward sinners, when he causeth his word to be preached unto them.

33:25 <sup>1</sup> He shall feel God's favor and rejoice: declaring hereby wherein standeth the true joy of the faithful, and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing.

33:26 <sup>1</sup> God will forgive his sins, and accept him as just.

33:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, done wickedly.

33:28 <sup>1</sup> God will forgive the penitent sinner.

33:29 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, oftentimes, even as oft as a sinner doth repent.

33:32 <sup>1</sup> If thou doubt of anything, or see occasion to speak against it.

judgments. 24 God destroyeth the mighty. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

- 1 Moreover Elihu answered and said,
- 2 Hear my words, ye <sup>1</sup>wise men, and hearken unto me ye that have knowledge.
- 3 For the ear trieth the words, as the mouth tasteth meat.
- 4 Let us seek <sup>1</sup>judgment among us, and let us know among ourselves what is good.
- 5 For Job hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken <sup>1</sup>away my judgment.
- 6 Should I lie in my <sup>1</sup>right? my wound of the arrow is <sup>2</sup>grievous without my sin.
- 7 What man is like Job, that drinketh <sup>1</sup>scornfulness like water?
- 8 Which goeth in the <sup>1</sup>company of them that work iniquity, and walketh with wicked men?
- 9 For he hath said, It <sup>1</sup>profiteth a man nothing that he should <sup>2</sup>walk with God.
- 10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid that wickedness should be in God, and iniquity in the Almighty.
- 11 For he will render unto man according to his work, and cause everyone to find according to his way.
- 12 And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.
- 13 Whom <sup>4</sup>hath he appointed over the earth besides himself? or who hath placed the whole world?
- 14 If <sup>1</sup>he set his heart upon man, and gather unto himself his spirit <sup>2</sup>and his breath,
- 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall return unto dust.
- 16 And if thou hast understanding, hear this, and hearken to the voice of my words.
- 17 Shall he that hateth judgment, <sup>1</sup>govern? and wilt thou judge him wicked that is most just?
- 18 Wilt thou say unto a king, Thou art <sup>1</sup>wicked?

or to princes, Ye are ungodly?

- 19 How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more than the poor? for they be all the work of his hands.
- 20 They shall die suddenly, <sup>1</sup>and the people shall be troubled at midnight, <sup>2</sup>and they shall pass forth and take away the mighty without hand.
- 21 For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.
- 22 There is no darkness nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquity might be hid therein.
- 23 For he will not lay on man so much, that he should <sup>1</sup>enter into judgment with God.
- 24 He shall break the mighty without <sup>1</sup>seeking, and shall set up others in their stead.
- 25 Therefore shall he declare their <sup>1</sup>works: he shall turn the <sup>2</sup>night, and they shall be destroyed.
- 26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the <sup>1</sup>seers,
- 27 Because they have turned back from him, and would not consider all his ways:
- 28 So that they have caused the voice of the poor to <sup>1</sup>come unto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.
- 29 And when he giveth quietness, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be upon nations, or upon a man only?
- 30 Because the <sup>1</sup>hypocrite doth reign, and because the people are snared.
- 31 Surely it appertaineth unto God <sup>1</sup>to say, I have pardoned, I will not destroy.
- 32 <sup>1</sup>But if I see not, teach thou me: if I have done wickedly, I will do no more.
- 33 Will he perform the thing through <sup>1</sup>thee? for thou hast reprov'd <sup>2</sup>it, because that thou hast chosen, and not I: now speak what thou knowest.

34:2 <sup>1</sup> Which are esteemed wise of the world.

34:4 <sup>1</sup> Let us examine the matter uprightly.

34:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath afflicted me without measure.

34:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Job was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorify God and submit himself to his judgments.

34:9 <sup>1</sup> He wresteth Job's words who said that God's children are oft-times punished in this world, and the wicked go free.

34:14 <sup>1</sup> To destroy him.

34:17 <sup>1</sup> If God were not just, how could he govern the world?

34:18 <sup>1</sup> If man of nature fear to speak evil of such as have power, then much more ought they to be afraid to speak evil of God.

34:20 <sup>1</sup> When they look not for it.

34:23 <sup>1</sup> God doth not afflict man above measure, so that he should have occasion to contend with him.

34:24 <sup>1</sup> For all his creatures are at hand to serve him, so that he needeth not to seek for any other army.

34:25 <sup>1</sup> Make them manifest that they are wicked.

34:26 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, openly in the sight of all men.

34:28 <sup>1</sup> By their cruelty and extortion.

34:30 <sup>1</sup> When tyrants sit in the throne of justice which under pretence of executing justice are but hypocrites and oppress the people, it is a sign that God hath drawn back his countenance of favor from that place.

34:31 <sup>1</sup> Only it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not unto man.

34:32 <sup>1</sup> Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Job, because he would be wiser than God.

34:33 <sup>1</sup> Will God use thy counsel in doing his works?

<sup>2</sup> Thus he speaketh in the person of God, as though Job should choose and refuse affliction at his pleasure.

34 Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me.

35 Job hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his words according to wisdom.

36 I desire that Job may be <sup>1</sup>tried, unto the end, touching the answers for wicked men.

37 For he <sup>1</sup>addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words against God.

35 <sup>6</sup> Neither doth godliness profit, or ungodliness hurt God, but man. <sup>13</sup> The wicked cry unto God and are not heard.

1 Elihu spake moreover, and said,

2 Thinkst thou this right, that thou hast said, I am <sup>1</sup>more righteous than God?

3 For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee, and what availeth it me, to purge me from my sin?

4 Therefore will I answer thee, and thy <sup>1</sup>companions with thee.

5 Look unto the heaven, and see and behold the <sup>1</sup>clouds which are higher than thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou <sup>1</sup>against him, yea, when thy sins be many, what doest thou unto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what givest thou unto him? or what receiveth he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, <sup>1</sup>to cry, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giveth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and giveth us more wisdom than the fowls of the heaven.

12 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, <sup>1</sup>but he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will

<sup>a</sup> Isa. 1:19

the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, <sup>1</sup>yet judgment is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the evil with great extremity, 16 Therefore Job <sup>1</sup>openeth his mouth in vain, and multiplieth words without knowledge.

1 Elihu also proceeded and said,

2 Suffer me a little and I will instruct thee: for I have yet to speak on God's behalf.

3 I will fetch <sup>1</sup>my knowledge afar off, and will attribute righteousness unto my maker.

4 For truly my words shall not be false, and he that is <sup>1</sup>perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is <sup>1</sup>mighty and valiant of courage.

6 He <sup>1</sup>maintaineth not the wicked, but he giveth judgment to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with <sup>1</sup>kings in the throne, where he placeth them forever: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tied with the cords of affliction,

9 Then will he show them their <sup>1</sup>work and their sins, because they have been proud.

10 He openeth also their ear to discipline, and commandeth them that they return from iniquity.

11 <sup>a</sup>If they obey and serve him, they shall end their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures:

12 But if they will not obey, they shall pass by the sword and perish <sup>1</sup>without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites <sup>1</sup>of heart increase the wrath:

34:36 <sup>1</sup> That he may speak as much as he can, that we may answer him and all the wicked that shall use such arguments.

34:37 <sup>1</sup> He standeth stubbornly in the maintenance of his cause.

35:2 <sup>1</sup> Job never spake these words: but because he maintained his innocence, it seemed as though he would say, that God tormented him without just cause.

35:4 <sup>1</sup> Such as are in the like error.

35:5 <sup>1</sup> If thou canst not control the clouds, wilt thou presume to instruct God?

35:6 <sup>1</sup> Neither doth thy sin hurt God, nor thy justice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.

35:9 <sup>1</sup> The wicked may hurt man and cause him to cry, who if he sought to God which sendeth comfort should be delivered.

35:12 <sup>1</sup> Because they pray not in faith, as feeling God's mercies.

35:14 <sup>1</sup> God is just, howsoever thou judgest of him.

35:16 <sup>1</sup> For if he did punish thee as thou deservest, thou shouldst not be able to open thy mouth.

36:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that when we speak of God, we must lift up our spirits more high, than our natural sense is able to reach.

36:4 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt perceive that I am a faithful instructor, and that I speak to thee in the name of God.

36:5 <sup>1</sup> Strong and constant, and of understanding: for these are the gifts of God, and he loveth them in man: but forasmuch as God punished now Job, it is a sign that these are not in him.

36:6 <sup>1</sup> Therefore he will not preserve the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart he will show grace.

36:7 <sup>1</sup> He preferreth the godly to honor.

36:9 <sup>1</sup> He will move their hearts to feel their sins that they may come to him by repentance as he did Manasseh.

36:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, in their folly or obstination, and so shall be cause of their own destruction.

36:13 <sup>1</sup> Which are maliciously bent against God, and flatter themselves in their vices.

for they <sup>2</sup>call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soul dieth in <sup>1</sup>youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 He delivereth the poor in his afflictions, and openeth their ear in trouble.

16 Even so would he have taken thee out of the straight place into a broad place, and not shut up beneath: and <sup>1</sup>that which resteth upon thy table had been full of fat.

17 But thou art full of the <sup>1</sup>judgment of the wicked, though judgment and equity maintain all things.

18 <sup>1</sup>For God's wrath is, lest he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliver thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excel in strength.

20 <sup>1</sup>Be not careful in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heed: look not to <sup>1</sup>iniquity: for thou hast chosen it rather than affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men behold it <sup>1</sup>afar off.

26 Behold, God is excellent, <sup>1</sup>and we know him not, neither can the number of his years be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the rain <sup>1</sup>poureth down by the vapor thereof, 28 Which rain the clouds do drop and let fall abundantly upon man.

29 Who can know the divisions of the clouds, and the thunders of his <sup>1</sup>Tabernacle?

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light upon <sup>1</sup>it, and

31 For thereby he judgeth <sup>1</sup>the people, and giveth meat abundantly.

32 He covereth the light with the clouds, and commanded them to go <sup>1</sup>against it.

33 <sup>1</sup>His companion showeth him therefore, and there is anger in rising up.

37 <sup>1</sup>Elihu proveth that the unsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his works. 4 As by the thunders. 6 The snow. 9 The whirlwind. 11 And the rain.

1 At this also mine heart is <sup>1</sup>astonied, and is moved out of his place.

2 Hear the <sup>1</sup>sound of his voice, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his light unto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noise soundeth: he thundereth with the voice of his majesty, and he will not stay <sup>1</sup>them when his voice is heard.

5 God thundereth marvelously with his voice: he worketh great things, which we know not.

6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou upon the earth <sup>1</sup>likewise to the small rain and to the great rain of his power.

7 With the force thereof he <sup>1</sup>shutteth up every man, that all men may know his work.

8 Then the beasts go into the den, and remain in their places.

9 The whirlwind cometh out of the South, and the cold from the <sup>1</sup>North wind.

10 At the breath of God the frost is given, and the breadth of the waters <sup>1</sup>is made narrow.

11 He maketh also the clouds to <sup>1</sup>labor, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloud of <sup>2</sup>his light.

<sup>2</sup> When they are in affliction, they seek not to God for succor, as Asa in 2 Chron. 16:12; Rev. 16:11.

36:14 <sup>1</sup> They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.

36:16 <sup>1</sup> If thou hadst been obedient to God, he would have brought thee to liberty and wealth.

36:17 <sup>1</sup> Thou art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou dost murmur against the justice of God.

36:18 <sup>1</sup> God doth punish thee, lest thou shouldst forget God in thy wealth and so perish.

36:20 <sup>1</sup> Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of God's judgments, when he destroyeth any.

36:21 <sup>1</sup> And so murmur against God through impatience.

36:25 <sup>1</sup> The works of God are so manifest, that a man may see them afar off, and know God by the same.

36:26 <sup>1</sup> Our infirmity hindereth us so, that we cannot attain to the perfect knowledge of God.

36:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, the rain cometh of those drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.

36:29 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the clouds, which he calleth the Tabernacle of God.

36:30 <sup>1</sup> Upon the cloud.

36:31 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the rain hath double use: the one that it declareth God's judgments, when it doth overflow any places, and the other that it maketh the land fruitful.

36:32 <sup>1</sup> That is, one cloud to dash against another.

36:33 <sup>1</sup> The cold vapor showeth him: that is, the cloud of the hot exhalation, which being taken in the cold cloud mounteth up toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is engendered: that is, noise, and thunderclaps.

37:1 <sup>1</sup> At the marvelling of the thunder and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithful are lively touched with the majesty of God, when they behold his works.

37:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, the thunder, whereby he speaketh to men to waken their dullness, and to bring them to the consideration of his works.

37:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the rains and thunders.

37:6 <sup>1</sup> So that neither small rain, nor great, snow nor anything else cometh without God's appointment.

37:7 <sup>1</sup> By rains and thunders God causeth men to keep themselves within their houses.

37:9 <sup>1</sup> In Hebrew it is called the scattering wind, because it driveth away the clouds and purgeth the air.

37:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, is frozen up and dried.

37:11 <sup>1</sup> Gather the vapors and move to and fro to water the earth.

12 And it is turned about by his government, that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for <sup>1</sup>punishment, or for his land, or of mercy, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Didst thou know when God disposed them? and caused the <sup>1</sup>light of his cloud to shine?

16 Hast thou known the <sup>1</sup>variety of the cloud, and the wondrous works of him that is perfect in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are <sup>1</sup>warm, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South wind?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heavens, which are strong, and as a molten <sup>1</sup>glass?

19 Tell us what we shall say unto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of <sup>1</sup>darkness.

20 Shall it be <sup>1</sup>told him when I speak? or shall man speak when he shall be <sup>2</sup>destroyed?

21 And now men see not the light, <sup>1</sup>which shineth in the clouds, but the wind passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The <sup>1</sup>brightness cometh out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power and judgment, and abundant in justice: he <sup>1</sup>afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore fear him: for he will not regard any that are wise in their own conceit.

38 <sup>1</sup> God speaketh to Job, and declareth the weakness of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellency the power, justice, and providence of the Creator is known.

1 Then answered the Lord unto Job out of the

2 Who is this that <sup>1</sup>darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man: I <sup>1</sup>will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

4 Where wast thou when I <sup>1</sup>laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding.

5 Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line over it:

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who laid the cornerstone thereof:

7 When the stars of the morning <sup>1</sup>praised me together, and all the <sup>2</sup>children of God rejoiced:

8 Or who hath shut up the Sea with doors, when it issued and came forth as out of the womb:

9 When I made the clouds as a covering thereof, and darkness as the <sup>1</sup>swaddling bands thereof:

10 When I establisheth my commandment upon it, and set bars and doors,

11 And said, hitherto shalt thou come, but no further, and here shall it <sup>1</sup>stay thy proud waves.

12 Hast thou commanded the <sup>1</sup>morning since thy days? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be <sup>1</sup>shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, <sup>1</sup>and all stand up as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, and the high arm shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entered into the bottoms of the sea? or hast thou walked to seek out the <sup>1</sup>depth?

17 Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth?

37:13 <sup>1</sup> Rain, cold, heat, tempests and such like are sent of God, either to punish man, or to profit the earth, or to declare his favor toward man, as Job 36:31.

37:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the lightning to break forth in the clouds?

37:16 <sup>1</sup> Which is sometimes changed into rain, or snow, hail, or such like.

37:17 <sup>1</sup> Why thy clothes should keep thee warm when the South wind bloweth, rather than when any other wind bloweth?

37:18 <sup>1</sup> For their clearness.

37:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, our ignorance: signifying that Job was so presumptuous, that he would control the works of God.

37:20 <sup>1</sup> Hath God need that any should tell him when man murmureth against him?

37:21 <sup>1</sup> The cloud stoppeth the shining of the sun, that man cannot see it till the wind have chased away the cloud: and if man be not able to attain to the knowledge of these things, how much less of God's judgments?

37:22 <sup>1</sup> In Hebrew, gold, meaning, fair weather and clear as gold.

37:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, without cause.

38:1 <sup>1</sup> That his words might have greater majesty, and that Job might know with whom he had to do.

38:2 <sup>1</sup> Which by seeking out the secret counsel of God by man's reason, maketh it more obscure, and showeth his own folly.

38:3 <sup>1</sup> Because he had wished to dispute with God, Job 23:3, God reasoneth with him, to declare his rashness.

38:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing he could not judge of those things which were done so long before he was born, he was not able to comprehend all God's works: much less the secret causes of his judgments.

38:7 <sup>1</sup> The stars and dumb creatures are said to praise God, because his power, wisdom and goodness is manifest and known therein.

38:9 <sup>1</sup> As though the great sea were but as a little babe in the hands of God to turn to and fro.

38:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, God's decree and commandment, as verse 10.

38:12 <sup>1</sup> To wit, to rise, since thou wast born?

38:13 <sup>1</sup> Who having in the night been given to wickedness, cannot abide the light, but hide themselves.

38:14 <sup>1</sup> The earth which seemed in the night to have no form, by the rising of the sun, is as it were created anew, and all things therein clad with new beauty.

38:16 <sup>1</sup> If thou art not able to seek out the depth of the sea, how much less art thou able to comprehend the counsel of God?

tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkness,

20 That thou <sup>1</sup>shouldest receive it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldest know the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then born? and because the number of thy days is great?

22 Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail,

23 Which I have hid <sup>1</sup>against the time of trouble, against the day of war and battle?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East wind upon the earth?

25 Who hath divided the spouts for the rain? or the way for the lightning of the thunders,

26 To cause it to rain on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wild and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herb to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the rain? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose womb came the ice? who hath engendered the frost of the heaven?

30 The waters are hid <sup>1</sup>as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restrain the sweet influences of <sup>1</sup>the Pleiades, or loose the bands of <sup>2</sup>Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth <sup>1</sup>Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide <sup>2</sup>Arcturus with his sons?

33 Knowest thou the course of heaven, or canst thou set the <sup>1</sup>rule thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that the abundance of water may cover thee?

35 Canst thou send the lightnings that they may walk, and say unto thee, Lo, here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the <sup>1</sup>reins? or who hath given the heart understanding?

37 Who can number clouds by wisdom? or who can cause to cease the <sup>1</sup>bottles of heaven, 38 When the earth groweth into hardness, <sup>1</sup>and the clots are fast together?

39 The bounty and providence of God, which extendeth even to the young ravens, giveth man full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Job confesseth and humbleth himself.

1 Wilt <sup>1</sup>thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lion's whelps,

2 When they crouch in their places, and remain in the covert to lie in wait?

3 Who prepareth for the raven his meat, when his birds <sup>1</sup>cry unto God, wandering for lack of meat?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats bring forth young? or dost thou mark when the <sup>1</sup>hinds do calve?

5 Canst thou number the months that they <sup>1</sup>fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bow themselves: they <sup>1</sup>bruise their young and cast out their sorrows.

7 Yet their young wax fat, and grow up with corn: they go forth and return not unto them.

8 Who hath set the wild ass at liberty? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wild ass?

9 It is I which have made the wilderness his house, and the <sup>1</sup>salt places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the city: he heareth not the cry of the driver.

11 He seeketh out the mountain for his pasture, and searcheth after every green thing.

12 Will the unicorn <sup>1</sup>serve thee? or will he tarry by thy crib?

13 Canst thou bind the unicorn with his band to labor in the furrow? or will he plow the valleys after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labor unto him?

15 Wilt thou believe him, that he will bring home thy seed, and gather it unto thy barn?

16 Hast thou given the pleasant wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?

17 Which leaveth his eggs in the earth, and maketh them <sup>1</sup>hot in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foot might scatter them,

38:20 <sup>1</sup> That thou mightest appoint it highway and limits.

38:23 <sup>1</sup> To punish mine enemies with them, Exod. 9:18; Josh. 10:11.

38:30 <sup>1</sup> The ice covereth it, as though it were paved with stone.

38:31 <sup>1</sup> Which stars arise when the sun is in Taurus, which is the springtime, and bring flowers.

38:32 <sup>1</sup> Certain stars so called: some think they were the twelve signs.

38:33 <sup>1</sup> Canst thou cause the heavenly bodies to have any power over the earthly bodies?

38:36 <sup>1</sup> In the secret parts of man.

38:37 <sup>1</sup> That is, the clouds wherein the water is contained as in bottles.

38:38 <sup>1</sup> For when God doth not open these bottles, the earth cometh to this inconvenience.

39:1 <sup>1</sup> After he had declared God's works in the heavens, he sheweth his marvelous providence in earth, even toward the brute beasts.

39:3 <sup>1</sup> Read Ps. 147:9.

39:4 <sup>1</sup> He chiefly maketh mention of wild goats and hinds, because they bring forth their young with most difficulty.

39:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, how long they go with young?

39:6 <sup>1</sup> They bring forth with great difficulty.

39:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, the barren ground where no good fruits grow.

39:12 <sup>1</sup> Is it possible to make the unicorn tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the wisdom of God, whereby he governeth all the world.

39:17 <sup>1</sup> They write that the ostrich covereth her eggs in the sand, and because the country is hot and the sun still keepeth them warm, they are hatched.

or that the wild beast might break them.

19 He showeth himself cruel unto his young ones, as they were not his, and is without fear, as if he travailed <sup>1</sup>in vain.

20 For God had deprived him of <sup>1</sup>wisdom, and hath given him no part of understanding.

21 When <sup>1</sup>time is, he mounteth on high: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou given the horse strength, or covered his neck with <sup>1</sup>neighing?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grasshopper? his strong neighing is fearful.

24 He <sup>1</sup>diggeth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meet the harnessed man.

25 He mocketh at fear, and is not afraid, and turneth not back from the sword, 26 Though the quiver rattle against him, the glittering spear and the shield.

27 He <sup>1</sup>swalloweth the ground for fierceness and rage, and he believeth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.

28 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battle afar off, and the noise of the captains, and the shouting.

29 Shall the hawk fly by thy wisdom, stretching out his wings even toward the <sup>1</sup>South?

30 Doth the eagle mount up at thy commandment, or make his nest on high?

31 She abideth and remaineth in the rock, even upon the top of the rock, and the tower, 32 From thence she spieth for meat, and her eyes behold afar off.

33 His young ones also suck up blood: and where the slain are, there is she.

34 Moreover the Lord spake unto Job, and said,

35 Is this <sup>1</sup>to learn, to strive with the Almighty? he that reproveth God, let him answer to it.

36 ¶ Then Job answered the Lord, saying,

37 Behold, I am <sup>1</sup>vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.

38 Once have I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea twice, but I will proceed no further.

CHAPTER 40

40 <sup>2</sup>How weak man's power is, being compared to the work of God: <sup>10</sup>Whose power appeareth in the creation, and governing of the great beasts.

1 Again the Lord answered Job out of <sup>a</sup>the whirlwind, and said,

2 Gird up now thy loins like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

3 Wilt thou disannul <sup>1</sup>my judgment? or wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be justified?

4 Or hast thou an arm like God? or dost thou thunder with a voice like him?

5 Deck thyself now with <sup>1</sup>majesty and excellency, and array thyself with beauty and glory.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold everyone that is proud, and abase him.

7 Look on everyone that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and bind <sup>1</sup>their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confess unto thee also, that thy right hand can <sup>1</sup>save thee.

10 ¶ Behold now <sup>1</sup>Behemoth (whom I made <sup>2</sup>with thee) which eateth <sup>3</sup>grass as an ox.

11 Behold now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly.

12 When he taketh pleasure, his tail is like a cedar: the sinews of his stones are wrapped together.

13 His bones are like staves of brass, and his small bones like staves of iron.

14 <sup>1</sup>He is the chief of the ways of God: <sup>2</sup>he that made him, will make his sword to approach unto him.

15 Surely the mountains bring him forth grass, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Lieth he under the trees in the covert of the reed and fens?

17 Can the trees cover him with their shadow? or can the willows of the river compass him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the river, <sup>1</sup>and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoever meeteth him.

39:19 <sup>1</sup> If he should take care of them.

39:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, to have a care and natural affection toward his young.

39:21 <sup>1</sup> When the young ostrich is grown up, he outrunneth the horse.

39:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, given him courage? which is meant by neighing and shaking his mane: for with his breath he covereth his neck.

39:24 <sup>1</sup> He beateth with his hoof.

39:27 <sup>1</sup> He so rideth the ground that it seemeth nothing under him.

39:29 <sup>1</sup> That is, when cold cometh, to fly into the warm countries.

39:35 <sup>1</sup> Is this the way for a man that will learn, to strive with God? which thing he reproveth in Job.

39:37 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he showeth that he repented, and desired pardon for his faults.

40:3 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that they that justify themselves, condemn God as unjust.

40:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that these were proper unto God, and belonged to no man.

40:8 <sup>1</sup> Cause them to die if thou canst.

40:9 <sup>1</sup> Proving hereby that whosoever attributeth to himself power and ability to save himself, maketh himself God.

40:10 <sup>1</sup> This beast is thought to be the elephant, or some other, which is unknown.

<sup>3</sup> This commendeth the providence of God toward man: for if he were given to devour as a lion, nothing were able to resist him, or content him.

40:14 <sup>1</sup> He is one of the chiefest works of God among the beasts.

40:18 <sup>1</sup> He drinketh at leisure, and feareth nobody.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out <sup>1</sup>Leviathan with an hook, and with a line which thou shalt cast down unto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hook into his nose? canst thou <sup>1</sup>pierce his jaws with an angle?

22 Will he make many prayers unto thee? and speak thee fair?

23 Will he make a covenant with thee? and wilt thou take <sup>1</sup>him as a servant forever?

24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maids?

25 Shall the companions banquet with him? shall they divide him among the merchants?

26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skin? or the fishpanier with his head?

27 Lay thine hand upon him: remember <sup>1</sup>the battle, and do no more so.

28 Behold, <sup>1</sup>his hope is in vain: for shall not one perish even at the sight of him?

1 None is so fierce that dare stir him up. Who is he then that can <sup>1</sup>stand before me?

2 Who hath prevented me that I should <sup>1</sup>make an end? All under heaven is mine.

3 I will not keep silence concerning <sup>1</sup>his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discover the face <sup>1</sup>of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double <sup>2</sup>bridle?

5 Who shall <sup>1</sup>open the doors of his face? his teeth are fearful round about.

6 The majesty of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no wind can come between them.

8 One is joined to another: they stick together, that they cannot be sundered.

9 His sneezings <sup>1</sup>make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth go lamps, and sparks of fire leap out.

11 Out of his nostrils cometh out smoke, as out of a boiling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coals burn: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his neck remaineth strength, and <sup>1</sup>labor is rejected before his face.

14 The members of his body are joined: they are strong in themselves, and cannot be moved.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether millstone.

16 The mighty are afraid of his majesty, and for fear they faint in themselves.

17 When the sword doth touch him, he will not rise up, nor for the spear, dart nor habergeon.

18 He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turneth into stubble unto him.

20 The darts are counted as straw: and he laugheth at the shaking of the spear.

21 Sharp stones <sup>1</sup>are under him, and he spreadeth sharp things upon the mire.

22 He maketh the depth to <sup>1</sup>boil like a pot, and maketh the Sea like a pot of ointment.

23 He maketh a path to <sup>1</sup>shine after him, one would think the depth as an hoar head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without fear.

25 He beholdeth <sup>1</sup>all high things: he is a King over all the children of pride.

1 Then Job answered the Lord, and said,

2 I know that thou canst do all things, and that there is no <sup>1</sup>thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsel without <sup>1</sup>knowledge? therefore have I spoken that I understood not, even things too wonderful for me, <sup>2</sup>and which I knew not.

40:20 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the whale.

40:21 <sup>1</sup> Because he feareth lest thou shouldst take him.

40:23 <sup>1</sup> To do thy business, and be at thy commandment?

40:27 <sup>1</sup> If thou once consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him.

40:28 <sup>1</sup> To wit, that trusteth to take him.

41:1 <sup>1</sup> If none dare stand against a whale, which is but a creature, who is able to compare with God the Creator?

41:2 <sup>1</sup> Who hath taught me to accomplish my work?

41:3 <sup>1</sup> The parts and members of the whale?

41:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, who dare pull off his skin?

41:5 <sup>1</sup> Who dare look in his mouth?

41:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, casteth out flames of fire.

41:13 <sup>1</sup> Nothing is painful or hard unto him.

41:21 <sup>1</sup> His skin is so hard that he lieth with a great ease on the stones as in the mire.

41:22 <sup>1</sup> Either he maketh the sea to seem as it boiled by his wallowing, or else he spouteth water in such abundance as it would seem that the sea boiled.

41:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, a white froth and shining stream before him.

41:25 <sup>1</sup> He despiseth all other beasts and monsters, and is the proudest of all others.

42:2 <sup>1</sup> No thought so secret, but thou dost see it, nor anything that thou thinkest, but thou canst bring it to pass.

42:3 <sup>1</sup> Is there any but I? for this God laid to his charge, Job 38:2.

<sup>2</sup> I confess herein mine ignorance, and that I spake I wist not what.

4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, <sup>1</sup>and declare thou unto me.

5 I have <sup>1</sup>heard of thee by the hearing of the ear, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these words unto Job, the Lord also said unto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is <sup>1</sup>right, like my servant <sup>2</sup>Job.

8 Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks, and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering, and my servant Job shall <sup>1</sup>pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had said unto them, and the Lord accepted Job.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the <sup>1</sup>captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Job twice so much as he had before.

11 Then came unto him all his <sup>1</sup>brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion on him, and comforted him for all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him, and every man gave him a <sup>2</sup>piece of money, and everyone an earring of gold.

12 So the Lord blessed the last days of Job more than the first: for he had <sup>1</sup>fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

13 He had also seven sons, and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of one <sup>1</sup>Jemimah, and the name of the second <sup>2</sup>Keziah, and the name of the third <sup>3</sup>Keren-Happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job, and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his son's sons, even four generations.

17 So Job died, being old, and full of days.

42:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that he will be God's scholar to learn of him.

42:5 <sup>1</sup> I knew thee only before by hearsay: but now thou hast caused me to feel what thou art to me, that I may resign myself over unto thee.

42:7 <sup>1</sup> You took in hand an evil cause, in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions, and not comforted him with my mercies.

42:8 <sup>1</sup> When you have reconciled yourselves to him for the faults that you have committed against him, he shall pray for you, and I will hear him.

42:10 <sup>1</sup> He delivered him out of the affliction wherein he was.

42:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, all his kindred, read Job 19:13.

42:12 <sup>1</sup> God made him twice so rich in cattle as he was afore, and gave him as many children as he had taken from him.

42:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, of long life, or beautiful as the day.

THE <sup>1</sup>PSALMS OF DAVID

1 Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalms into a book, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to study and meditate the heavenly wisdom. For the effect hereof is, <sup>1</sup> That they be blessed which give themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures; <sup>4</sup> and that the wicked contemners of God, though they seem for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

<sup>2</sup> But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

<sup>3</sup> For he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of waters, that will bring forth her fruits in due season: whose leaf shall not fade: so whatsoever he shall do, shall prosper.

<sup>4</sup> The wicked are not so, but as the chaff, which the wind driveth away.

<sup>6</sup> For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

2 The Prophet David rejoiceth, that notwithstanding his enemies' rage, yet God will continue his kingdom forever, and advance it even to the end of the world, <sup>10</sup> and therefore exhorteth kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves under God's yoke, because it is in vain to resist God. Herein is figured Christ's kingdom.

<sup>4</sup> But he that dwelleth in the heaven shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

<sup>5</sup> Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure, saying,

<sup>7</sup> I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my son; this day have I begotten thee.

<sup>8</sup> Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

<sup>12</sup> Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burn. Blessed are all that trust in him.

CHAPTER 2

<sup>a</sup> Acts 4:25

<sup>c</sup> Acts 13:23,33

Title <sup>1</sup> Or, praises, according to the Hebrews: and were chiefly instituted to praise and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Psalms or Songs of David, because the most part were made by him.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> When a man hath given once place to evil counsel, or to his own concupiscence, he beginneth to forget himself in his sin, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seat of the scornful.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> In the holy Scriptures.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> God's children are so moistened ever with his grace, that whatsoever cometh unto them, tendeth unto their salvation.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked seem to bear the swinge in this world, yet the Lord driveth them down that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> But tremble when they feel God's wrath.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Doth approve and prosper, like as not to know, is to reprove and reject.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> The conspiracy of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Jews, and power of kings cannot prevail against Christ.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, anointed.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God, and of his Christ.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> God's plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they fought against him.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> To show that my vocation to the kingdom, is of God.

<sup>2</sup> That is to say, as touching man's knowledge, because it was the first time that David appeared to be elected of God. So is it applied to Christ in his first coming and manifestation to the world.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> Not only the Jews, but the Gentiles also.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth all rulers to repent in time.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> In sign of homage.

<sup>2</sup> When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the mind way of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1Thess. 5:3.

3 David driven forth of his kingdom, was greatly tormented in mind for his sins against God: 4 And therefore calleth upon God, and waxeth bold through his promises, against the great railings and terrors of his enemies, yea against death itself, which he saw present before his eyes. 7 Finally, he rejoiceth for the good success that God gave him and all the Church.

A Psalm of David,
when he fled from his son Absalom.

1 Lord, how are mine adversaries <sup>1</sup>increased? how many rise against me?

2 Many say to my soul, There is no help for him in God. <sup>1</sup>Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me, my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.

4 I did call unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy mountain. Selah.

5 I laid me down and slept, and rose up again: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraid for <sup>1</sup>ten thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.

7 O Lord, arise: help me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheekbone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 <sup>1</sup>Salvation belongeth unto the Lord, and thy blessing is upon thy people. Selah.

4 When Saul persecuted him, he called upon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproveth his enemies, who willfully resisted his dominion, 7 and finally preferreth the favor of God before all worldly treasures.

<sup>1</sup>To him that excelleth on Neginoth.
A Psalm of David.

1 Hear me when I call, <sup>1</sup>O God of my righteousness: thou hast set me at liberty, when I was in <sup>2</sup>distress: have mercy upon me, and hearken unto my prayer.

2 O ye <sup>1</sup>sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame, <sup>2</sup>loving vanity, and seeking lies? Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himself <sup>1</sup>a godly man, the Lord will hear when I call unto him.

4 <sup>1</sup>Tremble and sin not: examine your own heart upon your bed, and be <sup>2</sup>still. Selah.

5 <sup>1</sup>Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will show us any <sup>1</sup>good? but Lord, lift up the light of thy countenance upon us.

7 Thou hast given me more joy of heart, than they have had, when their wheat and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay me down, and also sleep in peace: for thou, <sup>1</sup>Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.

5 David oppressed with the cruelty of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succor, showing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his adversaries. 7 After, being assured of prosperous success, he conceiveth comfort, 12 concluding, that when God shall deliver him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercies.

To him that excelleth upon <sup>1</sup>Nehiloth.
A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my words, O Lord: understand my <sup>1</sup>meditation.

2 Harken unto the voice of my cry, my king and my God: for unto thee do I pray.

3 Hear my voice in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me unto thee, and I will <sup>1</sup>wait.

4 For thou art not a God that loveth <sup>1</sup>wickedness, neither shall evil dwell with thee.

5 <sup>1</sup>The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that work iniquity.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speak lies: the Lord will abhor the bloody man and deceitful.

7 But I <sup>1</sup>will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worship toward thine holy Temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, <sup>1</sup>because of mine enemies: make thy way plain before my face.

9 For no constancy is in their mouth: within

3:1 <sup>1</sup> This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Selah here signifieth a lifting up of the voice, to cause us to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> When he considered the truth of God's promise, and tried the same, his faith increased marvelously.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> Be the dangers never so great or many, yet God hath ever means to deliver his.

4:Title <sup>1</sup> Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalms, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chief to set the tune, and to begin: who had the charge, because he was most excellent, and he began this Psalm on the instrument calleth Neginoth, or in a tune so called.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Thou that art the defender of my just cause.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Ye that think yourselves noble in this world.

<sup>2</sup> Though your enterprises please you never so much, yet God will bring them to nought.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> A king that walketh in his vocation.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> For fear of God's judgment.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Serve God purely, and not with outward ceremonies.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> The multitude seek worldly wealth, but David setteth his felicity in God's favor.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> This word in Hebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to David, signifying that he should dwell as joyful alone, as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

5:Title <sup>1</sup> Or, a musical instrument or tune.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, my vehement prayer, and secret complaint and sighings.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> With patience and trust till I be heard.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that God of nature hateth wickedness, he must needs punish the wicked, and save the godly.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> Which run most ragingly after their carnal affections.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> In the deepest of his tentations he putteth his full confidence in God.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> Because thou art just, therefore lead me out of the dangers of mine enemies.

they are very corruption: their "throat is an open sepulcher, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God, <sup>1</sup>let them <sup>2</sup>fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they have rebelled against thee.

11 And <sup>1</sup>let all them that trust in thee, rejoice and triumph forever, and cover thou them: and let them that love thy name, rejoice in thee.

12 For thou Lord, wilt <sup>1</sup>bless the righteous, and with favor <sup>2</sup>wilt compass him, as with a shield.

6 When David by his sins had provoked God's wrath, and now felt not only his hand against him, but also conceived the horrors of death everlasting, he desireth forgiveness. 6 Bewailing that if God took him away in his indignation, he should lack occasion to praise him as he was wont to do while he was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling God's mercy, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which rejoiced in his affliction.

To him that excellet on Neginoth, upon the eight tune.
A Psalm of David.

1 O Lord, <sup>1</sup>rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heal me, for my <sup>1</sup>bones are vexed.

3 <sup>1</sup>My soul is also sore troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou delay?

4 Return, O Lord: deliver my soul: save me for thy mercy's sake.

5 For in <sup>1</sup>death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to swim, and water my couch with my tears.

7 <sup>1</sup>Mine eye is dimmed for despite, and sunk in because of all mine enemies.

8 <sup>1</sup>Away from me all ye workers of iniquity: for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned back, and put to shame <sup>1</sup>suddenly.

<sup>a</sup>Rom. 3:13

<sup>a</sup>Jer. 10:24

7 Being falsely accused by Cush one of Saul's kinsmen, he calleth to God to be his defender, 3 to whom he commendeth his innocence, 9 first showing that his conscience did not accuse him of any evil toward Saul. 10 Next that it touched God's glory to award sentence against the wicked. 12 And so entering into the consideration of God's mercies and promise, he waxeth bold, and derideth the vain enterprises of his enemies, 15 threatening that that shall fall on their own neck which they have purposed for others.

1 O Lord my God, in thee I put my trust: save me from all that persecute me, and deliver me,

2 Lest <sup>1</sup>he devour my soul like a lion, and tear it in pieces, while there is none to help.

3 O Lord my God, if I have done <sup>1</sup>this thing, if there be any wickedness in mine hands,

4 <sup>1</sup>If I have rewarded evil unto him that had peace with me, (yea I have delivered him that vexed me without cause.)

5 Then let the enemies persecute my soul, and take it: yea, let him tread my life down upon the earth, and lay mine <sup>1</sup>honor in the dust. Selah.

6 Arise, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift up thyself against the rage of mine enemies, and awake for me according to the <sup>1</sup>judgment that thou hast appointed.

7 So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore <sup>1</sup>return on high.

8 The Lord shall judge the people: judge thou me, O Lord, according to my <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and according to mine innocence that is in me.

9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the just: for the righteous God trieth the <sup>1</sup>hearts and reins.

10 My defense is in God, who preserveth the upright in heart.

11 God judgeth the righteous, and him that contemneth God, <sup>1</sup>every day.

12 Except <sup>1</sup>he turn, he hath whet his sword: he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared him deadly weapons: he

5:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, cause them to err.

<sup>2</sup> Let their devices come to nought.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> Thy favor toward me shall confirm the faith of all others.

5:12 <sup>1</sup> Or, give good success.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> Though I deserve destruction, yet let thy mercy pity my frailty.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> For my whole strength is abated.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> His conscience is also touched with the fear of God's judgment.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> He lamenteth that occasion should be taken from him to praise God in the congregation.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, mine eye is eaten as it were with worms.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> God sendeth comfort and boldness, in affliction, that we may triumph over our enemies.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> When the wicked think that the godly shall perish, God deliver them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

7:Title <sup>1</sup> Or, kind of tune.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God to deliver him from the rage of cruel Saul.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> Wherewith Cush chargeth me.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> If I revered not Saul for affinities sake and preserved his life, 1 Sam. 26:8,9.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> Let me not only die, but be dishonored forever.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> In promising me the kingdom.

7:7 <sup>1</sup> Not only for mine, but for thy Church's sake, declare thy power.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> As touching my behavior toward Saul and mine enemies.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> Though they pretend a just cause against me: yet God shall judge their hypocrisy.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> He doth continually call the wicked to repentance by some signs of his judgments.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> Except Saul turn his mind, I die: for he hath both men and weapons to destroy me. Thus considering his great danger, he magnifieth God's grace.

will ordain his arrows for them that persecute me.

14 <sup>b</sup>Behold, he shall travail with wickedness: for he hath conceived mischief, but he shall bring forth a lie.

15 He hath made a pit, and dug it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.

16 His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his cruelty shall fall upon his own pate.

17 I will praise the Lord according to his <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and will sing praise to the Name of the Lord most high.

8 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet considering the excellent liberality and Fatherly providence of God toward man, whom he made as it were a god over all his works, doth not only give great thanks, but is astonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compass such great mercies.

To him that excelleth on <sup>1</sup>Gittich.
A Psalm of David.

1 O Lord our Lord, how <sup>1</sup>excellent is thy Name in all the world! which hast set thy glory above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth <sup>1</sup>of babes and sucklings hast thou <sup>2</sup>ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest <sup>3</sup>still the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I behold thine heavens, even the works of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained,

4 What is <sup>1</sup>man, say I, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that thou visitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower than <sup>1</sup>God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to have dominion in the works of thine hands, thou hast put all things under his feet:

7 All <sup>1</sup>sheep and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The fowls of the air, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth through the paths of the seas.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

9 <sup>1</sup> After he had given thanks to God for the sundry victories that he had sent him against his enemies, and also proved by manifold experience, how ready God was at hand in all his troubles. 14 He being now likewise in danger of new enemies, desireth God to help him according to his wont, 17 and to destroy the malicious arrogance of his adversaries.

Job 15:35

To him that excelleth upon <sup>1</sup>Muth Labben.
A Psalm of David.

1 I will praise the Lord with my <sup>1</sup>whole heart: I will speak of all thy marvelous works.

2 I will be glad, and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most High.

3 For that mine enemies are turned back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

4 For <sup>1</sup>thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and judgest right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name forever and ever.

6 <sup>1</sup>O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memorial is perished with them.

7 But the Lord <sup>1</sup>shall sit forever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

8 For he shall judge the world in righteousness, and shall judge the people with equity.

9 The Lord also will be a refuge for the <sup>1</sup>poor, a refuge in due time, even in affliction.

10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seek thee.

11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: show the people his works.

12 For <sup>1</sup>when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.

13 Have mercy upon me, O Lord: consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death,

14 That I may show all thy praises within the <sup>1</sup>gates of the daughter of Zion, and rejoice in thy salvation.

15 The heathen are <sup>1</sup>sunken down in the pit that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foot taken.

16 <sup>1</sup>The Lord is known by executing judgment: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands,

7:17 <sup>1</sup> In keeping faithfully his promise with me.

8:Title <sup>1</sup> Or, kind of instrument, or tune.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> Or, noble, or marvelous.

8:2 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked would hide God's praises, yet the very babes are sufficient witnesses of the same.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> It had been sufficient, for him to have set forth his glory by the heavens, though he had not come so low as to man, which is but dust.

8:5 <sup>1</sup> Touching his first creation.

8:7 <sup>1</sup> By the temporal gifts of man's creation, he is led to consider the benefits which he hath by his regeneration through Christ.

9:Title <sup>1</sup> Or, kind of instrument, or tune, or for the death of Labben or Goliath.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> God is not praised, except the whole glory be given to him alone.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> Howsoever the enemy seems for a time to prevail, yet God preserveth the just.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> A derision of the enemy, that mindeth nothing but destruction: but the Lord will deliver his, and bring him into judgment.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, reign as Judge.

9:9 <sup>1</sup> Our miseries are means to cause us to feel God's present care over us.

9:12 <sup>1</sup> Though God avengeth not suddenly the wrong done to his, yet he suffereth not the wicked unpunished.

9:14 <sup>1</sup> In the open assembly of the Church.

9:15 <sup>1</sup> For God overthroweth the wicked in their enterprises.

9:16 <sup>1</sup> The mercy of God toward his Saints must be declared, and the fall of the wicked must always be considered.

17 The wicked shall turn into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For the poor shall not be always forgotten: the hope <sup>1</sup>of the afflicted shall not perish forever.

19 Up Lord: let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy sight.

20 Put them in fear, O Lord, that the heathen may know that they are but <sup>1</sup>men. Selah.

10 <sup>1</sup> He complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyranny, and all kinds of wrong, which worldly men use, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperity, and therefore setting apart all fear and reverence towards God, think they may do all things without controlling. 15 Therefore he calleth upon God to send some remedy against these desperate evils. 16 and at length comforteth himself with hope of deliverance.

1 Why standest thou far off, O Lord, and hidest thee in <sup>1</sup>due time, even in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doth persecute the poor; let them be taken in the crafts that they have imagined.

3 For the wicked hath <sup>1</sup>made boast of his own heart's desire, and the covetous blesseth himself, he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proud, that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh always, There is no God.

5 His ways always prosper: thy judgments are high above his sight; therefore <sup>1</sup>defieth he all his enemies.

6 He saith in his heart, I shall <sup>1</sup>never be moved, <sup>2</sup>nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of cursing, and deceit, and fraud; under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.

8 <sup>1</sup>He lieth in wait in the villages; in the secret places doth he murder the innocent; his eyes are bent against the poor.

9 He lieth in wait secretly, even as a lion in his den; he lieth in wait to spoil the poor; he doth spoil the poor, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth and boweth; therefore heaps of the <sup>1</sup>poor do fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will never see.

12 <sup>1</sup>Arise, O Lord God, lift up thine hand; forget not the poor.

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he saith in his heart, Thou wilt not <sup>1</sup>regard.

14 Yet thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and wrong; that thou mayest <sup>1</sup>take it into thine hands; the poor committeth himself unto thee; for thou art the helper of the fatherless.

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and malicious; search his wickedness, and thou shalt find <sup>1</sup>none.

16 The Lord is King forever and ever; the <sup>1</sup>heathen are destroyed forth of his land.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poor; thou preparest their heart; thou bendest thine ear to them,

18 <sup>1</sup>To judge the fatherless and poor, that earthly man <sup>2</sup>cause to fear no more.

11 <sup>1</sup> This Psalm containeth two parts. In the first David showeth how hard assaults of temptations he sustained, and in how great anguish of mind he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he rejoiceth that God sent him succor in his necessity, declaring his justice as well in governing the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 In the Lord put I my trust; how say ye then to my soul, <sup>1</sup>Flee to your mountain as a bird?

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bow, and make ready their arrows upon the string, that they may secretly shoot at them which are upright in heart.

3 For the <sup>1</sup>foundations are cast down, what hath the <sup>2</sup>righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy palace; the Lord's throne is in the heaven; his eyes <sup>1</sup>will consider; his eyelids will try the children of men.

5 The Lord will try the righteous; but the wicked,

<sup>2</sup> Or, this is worthy to be noted.

9:18 <sup>1</sup> God promiseth not to help us before we have felt the cross.

9:20 <sup>1</sup> Which they cannot learn without the fear of thy judgment.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> So soon as we enter into affliction, we think God should help us, but that is not always his due time.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> The wicked man rejoiceth in his own lust, he boasteth when he hath that he would: he braggeth of his wit and wealth, and blesseth himself, and thus blasphemeth the Lord.

10:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, snuffeth at.

10:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, not be moved, because he was never in evil.

<sup>2</sup> The evil shall not touch me, Isa. 28:15, or else he speaketh thus because he never felt evil.

10:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the wicked have many means to hide their cruelty, and therefore ought more to be feared.

10:10 <sup>1</sup> By the hypocrisy of them that have authority, the poor are devoured.

10:12 <sup>1</sup> He calleth to God for help, because wickedness is so far overgrown, that God must now help or never.

10:13 <sup>1</sup> Therefore thou must needs punish this their blasphemy.

10:14 <sup>1</sup> To judge between the right and the wrong.

10:15 <sup>1</sup> For thou hast utterly destroyed him.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> The hypocrites or such as live not after God's Law, shall be destroyed.

10:18 <sup>1</sup> God helpeth when man's help ceaseth.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> This is the wicked counsel of his enemies to him and his companions to drive him from the hope of God's promise.

11:3 <sup>1</sup> All hope of succor is taken away.

<sup>2</sup> Yet am I innocent and my cause good.

11:4 <sup>1</sup> Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute judgment from heaven.

and him that loveth iniquity, doth his soul hate.

6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, <sup>1</sup>fire, and brimstone, and stormy tempest; this is the <sup>2</sup>portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loveth righteousness: his countenance doth behold the just.

12 1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succor to his children. 7 Then comforting himself, and others with the assurance of God's help, he commendeth the constant verity that God observeth in keeping his promises.

To him that excelleth upon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

1 Help Lord, for there is not <sup>1</sup>a godly man left: for the faithful are failed from among the children of men.

2 They speak deceitfully every one with his neighbor, <sup>1</sup>flattering with their lips, and speak with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

4 Which have said, <sup>1</sup>With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own; who is Lord over us?

5 <sup>1</sup>Now for the oppression of the needy, and for the sighs of the poor, I will up, saith the Lord, and will <sup>2</sup>set at liberty him, whom the wicked hath [snared].

6 The words of the Lord are pure words, as the silver, tried in a furnace of earth, fined sevenfold.

7 Thou wilt keep <sup>1</sup>them, O Lord; thou wilt preserve him from this generation forever.

8 The wicked walk on every side; when they are exalted, <sup>1</sup>it is a shame for the sons of men.

13 1 David as it were overcome with sundry and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his only refuge, 3 and so at the length being encouraged through God's promises, he conceiveth most sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

<sup>a</sup>Ps. 53

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, <sup>1</sup>forever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take <sup>1</sup>counsel within myself having weariness daily in mine heart? how long shall mine enemy be exalted above me?

3 Behold, and hear me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleep not in death.

4 Lest mine enemy say, I have <sup>1</sup>prevailed against him: and they that afflict me, rejoice, when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy <sup>1</sup>mercy: mine heart shall rejoice in thy salvation; I will sing to the Lord, because he hath <sup>2</sup>dealt lovingly with me.

14 1 He describeth the perverse nature of men, which were so grown to licentiousness, that God was brought to utter contempt. 7 For the which thing, although he was greatly grieved, yet being persuaded that God would send some present remedy, he comforteth himself and others.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 The "fool hath said in his heart, <sup>1</sup>There is no God: they have <sup>2</sup>corrupted, and done an abominable work: there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understand, and seek God.

3 <sup>1</sup>All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Do not all the workers of iniquity know that they eat up my people, as they eat bread? they call not upon the Lord.

5 <sup>1</sup>There they shall be taken with fear, because God is in the generation of the just.

6 You have made <sup>1</sup>a mock at the counsel of the poor, because the Lord is his trust.

7 Oh give salvation unto <sup>1</sup>Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captivity of his people, then Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

Note that of Psalm 14:5-7, which are put into the common translation, and may seem unto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalm in the Hebrew text, but rather are put in more fully to express the manners

11:6 <sup>1</sup> As in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

12:1 <sup>1</sup> Which dare defend the truth and show mercy to the oppressed.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth the flatterers of the court which hurt him more with their tongues, than with their weapons.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> They think themselves able to persuade whatsoever they take in hand.

12:5 <sup>1</sup> The Lord is moved with the complaints of his, and delivereth in the end from all dangers.

<sup>2</sup> Because the Lord's word and promise is true and unchangeable, he will perform it and preserve the poor from this wicked generation.

12:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, thine though he were but one man.

12:8 <sup>1</sup> For they suppress the godly and maintain the wicked.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not.

13:2 <sup>1</sup> Changing my purposes as the sick man doth his place.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> Which might turn to God's dishonor: if he did not defend his.

13:5 <sup>1</sup> The mercy of God is the cause of our salvation.

<sup>2</sup> Both by the benefits past, and by others to come.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the cause of all wickedness is to forget God.

14:3 <sup>1</sup> David here maketh comparison between the faithful and the reprobate, but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3:10.

14:5 <sup>1</sup> Where they think themselves most sure.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> You mock them that put their trust in God.

14:7 <sup>1</sup> He prayeth for the whole Church whom he is assured God will deliver: for none but he only can do it.

of the wicked, and are gathered out of Psalms 5, 10, 36, 140; Isa. 59, and are alleged by S. Paul, and placed together in Romans 3.

15 <sup>1</sup> This Psalm teacheth on what condition God did choose the Jews for his peculiar people; and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by living uprightly and godly, might witness that they were his special and holy people.

A Psalm of David.

1 Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy Mountain?

2 He that <sup>1</sup>walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbor.

4 <sup>1</sup>In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoreth them that fear the Lord: he that sweareth to his own hindrance and changeth not.

5 He that <sup>1</sup>giveth not his money unto usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, <sup>2</sup>shall never be moved.

1 Preserve me, O GOD: for in thee do I <sup>1</sup>trust.

2 O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my <sup>1</sup>well doing extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.

4 The <sup>1</sup>sorrows of them, that offer to another god, shall be multiplied: <sup>2</sup>their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make <sup>3</sup>mention of their names with my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou shalt maintain my lot.

6 The <sup>1</sup>lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places:

yea, I have a fair heritage.

7 I will praise the Lord, who hath given me counsel: my <sup>1</sup>reins also teach me in the nights.

8 I have set the Lord always before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I <sup>1</sup>shall not slide.

9 Wherefore <sup>1</sup>mine heart is glad, and my tongue rejoiceth: my flesh also doth rest in hope.

10 For thou <sup>1</sup>wilt not leave my soul in the grave: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy <sup>1</sup>presence is the fullness of joy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore.

17 <sup>1</sup> Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogance of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus raged without any cause given on his part. <sup>6</sup> Therefore he desireth God to revenge his innocence and deliver him.

The prayer of David.

1 Hear <sup>1</sup>the right, O Lord, consider my cry: hearken unto my prayer of lips unfeigned.

2 Let my <sup>1</sup>sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equity.

3 Thou hast <sup>1</sup>proved and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my <sup>2</sup>mouth should not offend.

4 Concerning the works of men, by the <sup>1</sup>words of thy lips I kept me from the paths of the cruel man.

5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feet do not slide.

6 I have called upon thee: <sup>1</sup>surely thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words.

7 Show thy marvelous mercies: thou that art the Savior of them that trust in thee, from such as <sup>1</sup>resist thy right hand.

8 Keep me as the apple of the eye: hide me under the shadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppress me, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for <sup>1</sup>my soul.

10 They are enclosed in their own <sup>1</sup>fat, and they

15:2 <sup>1</sup> First God requireth uprightnes of life, next doing well to others, and thirdly, truth and simplicity in our words.

15:4 <sup>1</sup> He that flattereth not the ungodly in their wickedness.

15:5 <sup>1</sup> To the hindrance of his neighbor.

16:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we cannot call upon God except we trust in him.

16:2 <sup>1</sup> Though we can not enrich God, yet we must bestow God's gifts to the use of his children.

16:4 <sup>1</sup> As grief of conscience and miserable destruction.

16:6 <sup>1</sup> Wherewith my portion is measured.

16:7 <sup>1</sup> God teacheth me continually by secret inspiration.

16:8 <sup>1</sup> The faithful are sure to persevere to the end.

16:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, I rejoice both in body and in soul.

16:10 <sup>1</sup> This is chiefly meant of Christ, by whose resurrection all his members have immortality.

16:11 <sup>1</sup> Where God favoreth, there is perfect felicity.

17:1 <sup>1</sup> My righteous cause.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> The vengeance that thou shalt show against mine enemies.

17:3 <sup>1</sup> When thy Spirit examined my conscience.

<sup>2</sup> I was innocent toward mine enemy both in deed and thought.

17:4 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked provoked me to do evil for evil, yet thy word kept me back.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> He was assured that God would not refuse his request.

17:7 <sup>1</sup> For all rebel against thee, which trouble thy Church.

17:9 <sup>1</sup> For their cruelty cannot be satisfied but with my death.

17:10 <sup>1</sup> They are puffed up with pride, as the stomach that is choked with fat.

have spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They have compassed us now in our steps: they have set their eyes to bring down to the ground:

12 Like as a lion that is greedy of prey, and as it were a Lion's whelp lurking in secret places.

13 Up Lord, <sup>1</sup>disappoint him: cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked <sup>2</sup>with thy sword,

15 But I will behold thy face <sup>1</sup>in righteousness, and when I <sup>2</sup>wake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

18 <sup>1</sup>This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thanksgiving in the entering into his kingdom, wherein he extolth and praiseth most highly the marvelous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. <sup>32</sup> Also he setteth forth the image of Christ's kingdom, that the faithful may be assured that Christ shall always conquer and overcome by the unspeakable power of his Father, though all the whole world should strive there against.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David the servant of the Lord, which spake unto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said,

1 I will love thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

2 <sup>a,1</sup>The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and he that delivereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horn also of my salvation, and my refuge.

3 I will call upon the Lord, which is worthy to be <sup>1</sup>praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

4 <sup>1</sup>The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of wickedness made me afraid.

5 The <sup>1</sup>sorrows of the grave have compassed me about: the snares of death overtook me.

6 But in my trouble did I call upon the Lord,

and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, even into his ears.

7 <sup>1</sup>Then the earth trembled and quaked: the foundations also of the mountains moved and shook, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a <sup>1</sup>consuming fire out of his mouth: coals were kindled thereat.

9 He bowed the heavens also and came down, and <sup>1</sup>darkness was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon <sup>1</sup>Cherub, and did fly, and he came flying upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his <sup>1</sup>secret place, and his pavilion round about him, even darkness of waters, and clouds of the air.

12 At the brightness of his presence his clouds passed, hailstones and coals of fire.

13 The Lord also thundered in the heaven, and the Highest gave <sup>1</sup>his voice, hailstones and coals of fire.

14 Then he sent out <sup>1</sup>his arrows and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the channels of waters were seen, and the <sup>1</sup>foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He hath sent down from above and taken me: he hath drawn me out of many <sup>1</sup>waters.

17 He hath delivered me from my <sup>1</sup>strong enemy, and from them which hate me: for they were <sup>2</sup>too strong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: <sup>1</sup>he delivered me because he favored me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my <sup>1</sup>righteousness: according to the pureness of mine hand he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the ways of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

17:13 <sup>1</sup> Stop his rage.

17:14 <sup>1</sup> By thine heavenly power.

17:15 <sup>1</sup> This is the full felicity, comforting against all assaults, to have the face of God and favorable countenance opened unto us.

18:2 <sup>1</sup> He useth this diversity of names, to show that as the wicked have many means to hurt, so God hath many ways to help.

18:3 <sup>1</sup> For none can obtain their requests of God, that join not his glory with their petition.

18:4 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies from the which God had delivered him.

18:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, cords, or, cables

18:7 <sup>1</sup> A description of the wrath of God against his enemies, after he had heard his prayers.

18:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth how horrible God's judgments shall be to the wicked.

18:9 <sup>1</sup> Darkness signifieth the wrath of God as the clear light signifieth God's favor.

18:10 <sup>1</sup> This is described at large, Ps. 104.

18:11 <sup>1</sup> As a king angry with the people, will not show himself unto them.

18:13 <sup>1</sup> Thundered, lightninged and hailed.

18:14 <sup>1</sup> His lightnings.

18:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the deep bottoms were seen when the red sea was divided.

18:16 <sup>1</sup> Out of sundry and great dangers.

18:19 <sup>1</sup> The cause of God's deliverance is his only favor and love to us.

18:20 <sup>1</sup> David was sure of his righteous cause, and good behavior toward Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of God's favor and deliverance.

22 For all his laws were before me, and I did not cast away his <sup>1</sup>commandments from me.

23 I was upright also with him, and have kept me from my <sup>1</sup>wickedness.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, and according to the pureness of mine hands in his sight.

25 With the <sup>1</sup>godly thou wilt show thyself godly: with the upright man thou wilt show thyself upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt show thyself pure, and with the froward thou wilt show thyself froward.

27 Thus thou wilt save the poor people, and wilt <sup>1</sup>cast down to proud looks.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkness.

29 For by thee I have <sup>1</sup>broken through an host, and by my God I have leaped over a wall.

30 The way of God is uncorrupt: the <sup>1</sup>word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty save our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my <sup>1</sup>way upright.

33 He maketh my feet like hind's feet, and setteth me upon mine <sup>1</sup>high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bow of <sup>1</sup>brass is broken with mine arms.

35 Thou hast also given me the <sup>1</sup>shield of thy salvation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy <sup>2</sup>lovingkindness hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, and my heels have not slid.

37 <sup>1</sup>I have pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and have not turned again till I had consumed them.

38 I have wounded them, that they were not able to rise, they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battle: them that rose against me, thou hast subdued under me.

40 And thou hast <sup>1</sup>given me the necks of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They <sup>1</sup>cried, but there was none to save them, even unto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the <sup>1</sup>heathen, a people, whom I have not <sup>2</sup>known, shall serve me.

44 As soon as they hear they shall obey me: the strangers shall <sup>1</sup>be in subjection to me.

45 Strangers shall <sup>1</sup>shrink away, and fear in their pure chambers.

46 Let the Lord live, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my salvation be exalted.

47 It is God that giveth me power to avenge me, and subdued the people under me.

48 O my deliverer from mine enemies, even thou hast set me up from those that rose against me; thou hast delivered me from the <sup>1</sup>cruel man.

49 Therefore <sup>1</sup>I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing unto thy Name.

50 Great deliverances giveth he unto his king, and showeth mercy to his anointed, even to David, and to his <sup>1</sup>seed forever.

19 <sup>1</sup>To the intent he might move the faithful to deeper consideration of God's glory, he setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heavens, with their proportion, and ornaments. 8 And afterward calleth them to the Law, wherein God hath revealed himself more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law, he setteth forth more at large.

18:22 <sup>1</sup> For all his dangers he exercised himself in the Law of God.

18:23 <sup>1</sup> I neither gave place to their wicked tentations, nor to mine own affections.

18:25 <sup>1</sup> Here he speaketh of God according to our capacity, who showeth mercy to his and punisheth the wicked, as is said also, Lev. 26:21, 24.

18:27 <sup>1</sup> When their sin is come to the full measure.

18:29 <sup>1</sup> He attributeth it to God that he both got the victory in the field, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.

18:30 <sup>1</sup> Be the dangers never so many or great, yet God's promise must take effect.

18:32 <sup>1</sup> He giveth good success to all mine enterprises.

18:33 <sup>1</sup> As towers and forts, which he took out of the hands of God's enemies.

18:34 <sup>1</sup> Or, steel.

18:35 <sup>1</sup> To defend me from dangers.

<sup>2</sup> He attributed the beginning, continuance and increase in well doing only to God's favor.

18:37 <sup>1</sup> David declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred up by God's Spirit to execute his judgments.

18:40 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast given them into mine hands to be slain.

18:41 <sup>1</sup> They that reject the cry of the afflicted, God will also reject them, when they cry for help: for either pain or fear cause those hypocrites to cry.

18:43 <sup>1</sup> Which dwell round about me.

18:44 <sup>1</sup> Or, lie: signifying a subjection constrained and not voluntary.

18:45 <sup>1</sup> Fear shall cause them to be afraid and come forth of their secret holes and holds to seek pardon.

18:48 <sup>1</sup> That is, Saul, who of malice persecuted him.

18:49 <sup>1</sup> This prophecy appertaineth to the kingdom of Christ and vocation of the Gentiles, as Rom. 15:9.

18:50 <sup>1</sup> This did not properly appertain to Solomon, but to Jesus Christ.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 The <sup>a</sup>heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth the work of his hands.

2 <sup>1</sup>Day unto day uttereth the same, and night unto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor <sup>1</sup>language, where their voice is not heard.

4 Their <sup>1</sup>line is gone forth through all the earth, and their words into the ends of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the Sun.

5 Which cometh forth as a bridegroom out of his <sup>1</sup>chamber, and rejoiceth like a mighty man to run his race.

6 His going out is from the end of the heaven, and his compass is unto the ends of the same, and none is hid from the heat thereof.

7 The <sup>1</sup>Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giveth wisdom unto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart, the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giveth light unto the eyes.

9 The fear of the Lord is clean, and endureth forever: the judgments of the Lord are <sup>1</sup>truth: they are righteous <sup>2</sup>altogether,

10 And more to be <sup>1</sup>desired than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey, and the honeycomb.

11 Moreover by them is thy servant made circum-spect, and in keeping of them there is great <sup>1</sup>reward.

12 Who can understand his <sup>1</sup>faults? cleanse me from secret faults.

13 Keep thy servant also from <sup>1</sup>presumptuous sins: let them not reign over me: <sup>2</sup>so shall I be upright, and made clean from much wickedness.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the <sup>1</sup>meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength, and my redeemer.

4 And grant thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose:

5 That we may rejoice in thy <sup>1</sup>salvation, and set up the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall perform all thy petitions.

6 Now <sup>1</sup>know I that the Lord will help his anointed, and will hear him from his <sup>2</sup>Sanctuary, by the mighty help of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

19:1 <sup>1</sup> He reproacheth unto man his ingratitude, seeing the heavens, which are dumb creatures, set forth God's glory.

19:3 <sup>1</sup> The heavens are a Schoolmaster to all nations, be they never so barbarous.

19:4 <sup>1</sup> The heavens are as a line of great capital letters to show unto us God's glory.

19:5 <sup>1</sup> Or veil. The manner was that the bride and bridegroom should stand under a veil together, and after come forth with great solemnity, and rejoicing of the assembly.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> Though the creatures cannot serve, yet this ought to be sufficient to lead us unto him.

19:9 <sup>1</sup> So that all man's inventions and intentions are lies.

19:10 <sup>1</sup> Except God's word be esteemed above all worldly things, it is contemned.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> For God accepteth our endeavor, though it be far imperfect.

19:12 <sup>1</sup> Then there is no reward of duty, but of grace: for where sin is,

19:14 <sup>1</sup> That I may obey thee in thought, word and deed.

20:1 <sup>1</sup> Hereby kings are also admonished to call to God in their affairs.

20:3 <sup>1</sup> In token that they are acceptable unto him.

20:5 <sup>1</sup> Granted to the King in whose wealth our felicity standeth.

20:6 <sup>1</sup> The Church feeleth that God had heard their petition.

20:8 <sup>1</sup> The worldlings that put not their only trust in God.

20:9 <sup>1</sup> Let the king be able to deliver us by thy strength, when we seek unto him for succor.

21:1 <sup>1</sup> When he shall overcome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.

long life forever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy salvation: dignity and honor hast thou laid upon him.

6 For thou hast set him as <sup>1</sup> blessings forever: thou hast made him glad with the joy of thy countenance.

7 Because the king trusteth in the Lord, and in the mercy of the most high, he shall not slide.

8 <sup>1</sup>Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies, and thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his <sup>1</sup>wrath, and the fire shall devour them.

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.

11 For they <sup>1</sup>intended evil against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not prevail.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them <sup>1</sup>apart, and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 <sup>1</sup>Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

22 <sup>1</sup> David complained because he was brought into such extremities that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorrows and griefs, wherewith he was vexed. 10 He recovereth himself from the bottomless pit of tentations, and groweth in hope. And here under his own person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whom he did foresee by the spirit of prophecy, that he should marvelously, and strangely be rejected, and abased, before his Father should raise and exalt him again.

To him that excelleth upon <sup>1</sup>Aijeleth Hashahar.
A Psalm of David.

1 My <sup>1</sup>God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, and art so far from mine health, and from the words of my <sup>2</sup>roaring?

2 O my God, I cry by day, but thou hearest not: and by night, but <sup>1</sup>have no audience.

<sup>a</sup> Matt. 27:43

3 But thou art holy, and dost inhabit the <sup>1</sup>praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

5 They called upon thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a <sup>1</sup>worm, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that see me, have me in derision: they make a mow and nod the head, saying,

8 <sup>1a</sup>He trusted in the Lord, let him deliver him: let him save him, seeing he loveth him.

9 But thou didst draw me out of the <sup>1</sup>womb: thou gavest me hope, even at my mother's breasts.

10 I was cast upon thee, even from the <sup>1</sup>womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.

11 Be not far from me, because trouble is near: for there is none to help me.

12 Many young bulls have compassed me: mighty <sup>1</sup>bulls of Bashan have closed me about.

13 They gape upon me with their mouths, as a ramping and roaring lion.

14 I am like <sup>1</sup>water poured out, and all my bones are out of joint: mine heart is like wax: it is molten in the midst of my bowels.

15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws, and thou <sup>1</sup>hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogs have compassed me, and the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: they <sup>1</sup>pierced mine hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones, yet they behold, and look upon me.

18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

19 But be not thou far off, O Lord, my strength: hasten to help me.

21:8 <sup>1</sup> Here he describeth the power of Christ's kingdom against the enemies thereof.

21:9 <sup>1</sup> This teacheth us patiently to endure the cross till God destroy the adversary.

21:11 <sup>1</sup> They laid as it were their nets to make God's power to give place to their wicked enterprises.

21:12 <sup>1</sup> As a mark to shoot at.

22:6 <sup>1</sup> And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeareth the unspeakable love of God toward man, that he would thus abase his Son for our sakes.

22:8 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, rolled upon God.

22:9 <sup>1</sup> Even from my birth thou hast given me occasion to trust in thee.

22:10 <sup>1</sup> For except God's providence preserve the infants, they should perish a thousand times in the mother's womb.

22:12 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth, that his enemies were so fat, proud, and cruel, that they were rather beasts than men.

22:14 <sup>1</sup> Before he spake of the cruelty of his enemies, and now he declareth the inward griefs of the mind, so that Christ was tormented both in soul and body.

22:15 <sup>1</sup> Thou had suffered me to be without all hope of life.

22:16 <sup>1</sup> Thus David complaineth as though he were nailed by his enemies both hands and feet: but this was accomplished in Christ.

21 <sup>1</sup>Save me from the lion's mouth, and answer me in saving me from the horns of the unicorns.

22 <sup>b</sup>I will declare thy Name unto my brethren: in the midst of the Congregation will I praise thee, saying,

23 <sup>1</sup>Praise the Lord, ye that fear him: magnify ye him, all the seed of Jacob, and fear ye him all the seed of Israel.

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the <sup>1</sup>poor: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he called unto him, he heard.

25 My praise shall be of thee in the great Congregation: my <sup>1</sup>vows will I perform before them that fear him.

26 <sup>1</sup>The poor shall eat and be satisfied: they that seek after the Lord, shall praise him: your heart shall live forever.

27 All the ends of the world shall remember themselves and turn to the Lord, and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the Lord's, and he ruleth among the nations.

29 All they that be fat <sup>1</sup>in the earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down into the dust, shall bow before him, <sup>2</sup>even he that cannot quicken his own soul.

30 <sup>1</sup>Their seed shall serve him: it shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation.

31 They shall come and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, because he hath <sup>1</sup>done it.

23 <sup>1</sup>Because the Prophet had proved the great mercies of God at divers times, and in sundry manners, he gathereth a certain assurance, fully persuading himself that God will continue the very same goodness towards him forever.

1 Unto thee, <sup>1</sup>O Lord, lift I up my soul.

2 My God, I <sup>1</sup>trust in thee; let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies rejoice over me.

10 In whose hand is <sup>1</sup>wickedness, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But I will walk in mine innocency: redeem me therefore, and be merciful unto me.

12 My foot standeth in <sup>1</sup>uprightness: I will praise thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

27 1 David maketh this Psalm being delivered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises and thanksgiving annexed: 6 Wherein we may see the constant faith of David against the assaults of all his enemies. 7 And also the end wherefore he desireth to live and to be delivered, only to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord is my <sup>1</sup>light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an host pitched against me, mine heart should not be afraid: though war be raised against me, I will trust in <sup>1</sup>this.

4 <sup>1</sup>One thing have I desired of the Lord, that I will require, even that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to visit his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pavilion shall he hide me, and set me up upon a rock.

6 <sup>1</sup>And now shall he lift up mine head above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of joy: I will sing and praise the Lord.

7 Harken unto my voice, O Lord, when I cry: have mercy also upon me and hear me.

8 When thou saidest, <sup>1</sup>Seek ye my face, mine heart answered unto thee, O Lord, I will seek thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy servant away in displeasure: thou hast been my succor, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

10 <sup>1</sup>Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord will gather me up.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Give me not unto the <sup>1</sup>lust of mine adversaries: for there are false witnesses risen up against me, and such as speak cruelly.

13 I should have fainted, except I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord <sup>1</sup>in the land of the living.

14 <sup>1</sup>Hope in the Lord: be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

28 1 Being in great fear and heaviness of heart to see God dishonored by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them. 4 And crieth for vengeance against them: and at length assureth himself, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Unto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithful.

A Psalm of David.

1 Unto thee, O Lord, do I cry: O my strength, be not deaf toward me, lest if thou answer me not, I be like <sup>1</sup>them that go down into the pit.

2 Hear the voice of my petitions, when I cry unto thee, when I hold up my hands toward thine <sup>1</sup>holy Oracle.

3 <sup>1</sup>Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which speak friendly to their neighbors, when malice is in their hearts.

4 <sup>1</sup>Reward them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their inventions: recompense them after the work of their hands: render them their reward.

26:9 <sup>1</sup> Destroy me not in the overthrow of the wicked.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> Whose cruel hands do execute the malicious devices of their hearts.

26:12 <sup>1</sup> I am preserved from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will praise him openly.

27:1 <sup>1</sup> Because he was assured of good success in all his dangers, and that his salvation was surely laid up in God, he feared not the tyranny of his enemies.

27:3 <sup>1</sup> That God will deliver me and give my faith the victory.

27:4 <sup>1</sup> The loss of country, wife, and all worldly commodities grieve me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not praise thy Name in the midst of the congregation.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> David assured himself by the Spirit of prophecy that he should overcome his enemies, and serve God in his Tabernacle.

27:8 <sup>1</sup> He groundeth upon God's promise, and showeth that he is most willing to obey his commandment.

27:10 <sup>1</sup> He magnifieth God's love toward his, which far passeth the most tender love of parents towards their children.

27:12 <sup>1</sup> But either pacify their wrath, or bridle their rage.

27:13 <sup>1</sup> In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38:11.

27:14 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth himself to depend on the Lord, seeing he never failed in his promises.

28:1 <sup>1</sup> He counteth himself as a dead man, till God show his favor toward him, and grant him his petition.

28:2 <sup>1</sup> He used this outward means to help the weakness of his faith: for in that place was the Ark, and there God promised to show the tokens of his favor.

28:3 <sup>1</sup> Destroy not the good with the bad.

28:4 <sup>1</sup> He thus prayeth in respect to God's glory and not for his own cause, being assured that God would punish the persecutors of his Church.

5 For they reward not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore <sup>1</sup>break them down, and build them not up.

6 <sup>1</sup>Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shall rejoice, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is <sup>1</sup>their strength, and he is the strength of the deliverances of his anointed.

9 Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and exalt them forever.

29 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world (which for the most part think there is no God.) <sup>3</sup>At the least to fear him for the thunders and tempests, for fear whereof all creatures tremble. <sup>11</sup>And though thereby God threateneth sinners, yet he is always merciful to his, and moveth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalm of David.

1 Give unto the Lord, ye <sup>1</sup>sons of the mighty, give unto the Lord glory and strength.

2 Give unto the Lord glory due unto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

3 The <sup>1</sup>voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is upon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mighty: the voice of the Lord is glorious.

5 The <sup>1</sup>voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leap like a calf: Lebanon also and <sup>1</sup>Shirion like a young unicorn.

7 The voice of the Lord divideth the <sup>1</sup>flames of fire.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to <sup>1</sup>calve, and <sup>2</sup>discovereth the forests: therefore in his <sup>3</sup>Temple doth every man speak of his glory.

10 The Lord sitteth upon the <sup>1</sup>floods, and the Lord doth remain King forever.

11 The Lord shall give strength unto his people: the Lord shall bless his people with peace.

30 <sup>1</sup>When David was delivered, from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learn by his example, that God is rather merciful than severe and rigorous towards his children. <sup>7</sup>And also that the fall from prosperity to adversity is sudden. <sup>8</sup>This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God forever.

"A Psalm or song of the <sup>1</sup>dedication of the <sup>1</sup>house of David.

1 I will magnify thee, O Lord: <sup>1</sup>thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast <sup>1</sup>restored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought up my <sup>1</sup>soul out of the grave: thou hast revived me from them that go down into the pit.

4 Sing praises unto the Lord, ye <sup>1</sup>his Saints, and give thanks <sup>2</sup>before the remembrance of his Holiness.

5 For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his favor is life: weeping may abide at evening, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my <sup>1</sup>prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodness hadst made my <sup>1</sup>mountain to stand strong: but thou didst hide thy face, and I <sup>2</sup>was troubled.

29:1 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth the proud tyrants to humble themselves under God's hand, and not to be inferior to brute beasts and dumb creatures.

29:3 <sup>1</sup> The thunder claps that are heard out of the clouds, ought to make the wicked to tremble for fear of God's anger.

29:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, the thunderbolt breaketh the most strong trees, and shall men think their power to be able to resist God?

12 Therefore shall my <sup>1</sup>tongue praise thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will give thanks unto thee forever.

31 <sup>1</sup> David delivered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemy being ready to take him. <sup>15</sup> Then he affirmeth that the favor of God is always ready to those that fear him. <sup>20</sup> Finally he exhorteth all the faithful to trust in God and to love him, because he preserveth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 In <sup>a</sup>thee, O Lord, have I put my trust: let me never be confounded: deliver me in thy <sup>1</sup>righteousness.

2 Bow down thine ear to me: make haste to deliver me: be unto me a strong rock, and an house of defense to save me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortress: therefore for thy Name's sake direct me and guide me.

4 Draw me out of the <sup>1</sup>net, that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine <sup>1</sup>hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

6 I have hated them that give themselves to deceitful vanities: for I <sup>1</sup>trust in the Lord.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast seen my trouble: thou hast known my soul in adversities,

8 And thou hast not shut me up in the hand of the enemy, but hast set my feet at <sup>1</sup>large.

9 Have mercy upon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine <sup>1</sup>eye, my soul and my belly are consumed with grief.

10 For my life is wasted with heaviness, and my years with mourning: my strength faileth for my pain, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a <sup>1</sup>reproach among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbors: and a fear to mine acquaintance, <sup>2</sup>who seeing me in the street, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.

13 For I have heard the railing of <sup>1</sup>great men: fear was on every side, while they conspired together against me, and consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, <sup>1</sup>Thou art my God.

15 My <sup>1</sup>times are in thine hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: and save me through thy mercy.

17 Let me not be confounded, O Lord: for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, and to <sup>1</sup>silence in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be made dumb, which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speak against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodness, which thou <sup>1</sup>hast laid up for them that fear thee! and done to them that trust in thee, even before the sons of men!

20 Thou dost hide them <sup>1,2</sup>privily in thy presence from the pride of men: thou keepest them secretly in thy Tabernacle from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath showed his marvelous kindness toward me in a <sup>1</sup>strong city.

22 Though I said in mine <sup>1</sup>haste, I am cast out of thy sight, yet thou heardest the voice of my prayer, when I cried unto thee.

23 Love ye the Lord all his <sup>1</sup>Saints: for the Lord preserveth the faithful, and rewardeth abundantly the proud doer.

30:12 <sup>1</sup> Because thou hast preserved me that my tongue should praise thee, I will not be unmindful of my duty.

31:1 <sup>1</sup> For then God declareth himself just, when he preserveth his according as he hath promised.

31:4 <sup>1</sup> Preserve me from the crafty counsels and subtle practice of mine enemies.

31:5 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God not only to take care for him in this life, but that his soul may be saved after this life.

31:6 <sup>1</sup> This affection ought to be in all God's children, to hate whatsoever thing is not grounded upon a sure trust in God, as deceitful and vain.

31:8 <sup>1</sup> Largeness signifieth comfort, as straightness, sorrow and peril.

31:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that his sorrow and torment had continued a great while.

31:11 <sup>1</sup> Mine enemies had drawn all men to their part against me, even my chief friends.

<sup>2</sup> They were afraid to show me any token of friendship.

31:13 <sup>1</sup> They that were in authority, condemned me as a wicked doer.

31:14 <sup>1</sup> I had this testimony of conscience, that thou wouldest defend mine innocence.

31:15 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever changes come, thou governest them by thy providence.

31:17 <sup>1</sup> Let death destroy them to the intent that they may hurt no more.

31:19 <sup>1</sup> The treasures of God's mercy are always laid up in store for his children, albeit at all times they do not enjoy them.

31:20 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in the secret of thy face.

<sup>2</sup> That is, in a place where they shall have thy comfort, and be hid safely from the enemies' pride.

31:21 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, there was no city so strong to preserve him, as the defense of God's favor.

31:22 <sup>1</sup> And so by my rashness and infidelity deserved to have been forsaken.

31:23 <sup>1</sup> Or, ye that feel his mercies.

24 All ye that trust in the Lord, be <sup>1</sup>strong, and he shall establish your heart.

32 <sup>1</sup> David punished with grievous sickness for his sins, counteth them blessed to whom God doth not impute their transgressions. <sup>5</sup> And after that he had confessed his sins, and obtained pardon, <sup>6</sup> he exhorteth the wicked men to live godly, <sup>11</sup> and the good to rejoice.

A Psalm of David to give <sup>1</sup>instruction.

1 Blessed is he whose wickedness is <sup>1</sup>forgiven, and whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed is the man, unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 When I held my <sup>1</sup>tongue, my bones consumed, or when I <sup>2</sup>roared all the day,

4 (For thine hand is heavy upon me day and night: and my moisture is turned into the drought of Summer. Selah.)

5 Then I <sup>1</sup>acknowledged my sin unto thee, neither hid I mine iniquity: for I thought, I will confess against myself my wickedness unto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sin. Selah.

6 Therefore shall everyone that is godly, make his prayer unto thee in a <sup>1</sup>time, when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters <sup>2</sup>they shall not come near him.

7 Thou art my secret place: thou preservest me from trouble: thou compassest me about with joyful deliverance. Selah.

8 I will <sup>1</sup>instruct thee, and teach thee in the way that thou shalt go, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule which understand not: whose <sup>1</sup>mouths thou dost bind with bit and bridle, lest they come near thee.

10 Many sorrows shall come to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, and <sup>1</sup>rejoice in the Lord, and be joyful all ye, that are upright in heart.

33 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth good men to praise God, for that he hath not only created all things, and by his providence governeth the same, but also is faithful in his promises, <sup>10</sup> he understandeth man's heart, and scattereth the counsel of the wicked, <sup>16</sup> so that no man can be preserved by any creature or man's strength: by they, that put their confidence in his mercy, shall be preserved from all adversities.

1 Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it <sup>1</sup>becometh upright men to be thankful.

2 Praise the Lord with harp: sing unto him with viol and <sup>1</sup>instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing unto him a new song: sing cheerfully with a loud voice.

4 For the <sup>1</sup>word of the Lord is righteous, and all his <sup>2</sup>works are faithful.

5 He <sup>1</sup>loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made, and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He <sup>1</sup>gathereth the waters of the sea together as upon an heap, and layeth up the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, fear him.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it <sup>1</sup>stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the <sup>1</sup>counsel of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the devices of the people.

11 The counsel of the Lord shall stand forever, and the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose <sup>1</sup>God is the Lord: even the people that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord <sup>1</sup>looketh down from heaven, and 32:Title <sup>1</sup> Concerning the free remission of sins, which is the chiefest point of our faith.

32:1 <sup>1</sup> To be justified by faith, is to have our sins freely remitted, and to be reputed just, Rom. 4:6.

32:3 <sup>1</sup> Between hope and despair.

<sup>2</sup> Neither by silence nor crying found I ease, signifying that before the sinner be reconciled to God, he feeleth a perpetual torment.

32:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that as God's mercy is the only cause of forgiveness of sins, so the means thereof are repentance and confession which proceed of faith.

32:8 <sup>1</sup> David promiseth to make the rest of God's children partakers of the benefits which he felt, and that he will diligently look and take care to direct them in the way of salvation.

32:9 <sup>1</sup> If men can rule brute beasts, think they that God will not bridle and tame their rage?

32:11 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that peace and joy of conscience in the holy 33:1 <sup>1</sup> It is the duty of the godly to set forth the praises of God for his mercy and power showed toward them.

33:2 <sup>1</sup> To sing on instruments, was a part of the ceremonial service of the Temple, which doth no more appertain unto us, than the sacrifices, censings, and lights.

33:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, counsel or commandment in governing the world.

33:5 <sup>1</sup> Howsoever the world judgeth of God's works, yet he doeth all things according to justice and mercy.

33:7 <sup>1</sup> By the creation of the heavens and beautiful ornament with the gathering also of the waters, he setteth forth the power of God, that all creatures might fear him.

33:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, was created.

33:10 <sup>1</sup> No counsel can prevail against God, but he defeateth it, and it shall have evil success.

33:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all our felicity standeth in this, that the Lord is our God.

33:13 <sup>1</sup> He proveth, that all things are governed by God's providence and not by fortune.

15 He <sup>1</sup>fashioneth their hearts every one, and understandeth all their works.

16 The <sup>1</sup>King is not saved by the multitude of an host, neither is the mighty man delivered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vain help, and shall not deliver any by his great strength.

18 Behold, <sup>1</sup>the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, and upon them that trust in his mercy, 20 <sup>1</sup>Our soul waiteth for the Lord: for he is our help and our shield.

34 <sup>1</sup> After David had escaped Achish, according as it is written in 1 Sam. 2:11, whom in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a general name to all the Kings of the Philistines) he praiseth God for his deliverance, <sup>3</sup> provoking all others by his example to trust in God, to fear and serve him, <sup>7</sup> who defendeth the godly with his Angels, <sup>16</sup> and utterly destroyeth the wicked in their sins.

A Psalm of David, when he changeth his behavior before Abimelech, who drave him away, and he departed.

1 I will <sup>1</sup>always give thanks unto the Lord: his praise shall be in my mouth continually.

2 My soul shall glory in the Lord: the <sup>1</sup>humble shall hear it and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let us magnify his Name together.

7 The <sup>1</sup>Angel of the Lord pitched round about them, that fear him, and delivereth them.

8 Taste ye and see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Fear the Lord ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that fear him.

10 The <sup>1</sup>lions do lack and suffer hunger, but they which seek the Lord, shall <sup>2</sup>want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the <sup>1</sup>fear of the Lord.

12 <sup>a</sup>What man is he that desireth life, and loveth long days for to <sup>1</sup>see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips, that they speak no guile.

14 Eschew evil and do good: seek peace and follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

16 But the <sup>1</sup>face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

18 The Lord is near unto them that are of a <sup>1</sup>contrite heart, and will save such as be afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.

20 <sup>1</sup>He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the <sup>1</sup>wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord <sup>1</sup>redeemeth the souls of his servants: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

1 Plead thou my <sup>1</sup>cause, O Lord, with them that strive with me: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 <sup>1</sup>Lay hand upon the shield and buckler, and stand up for my help.

3 Bring out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me, say unto my <sup>1</sup>soul, I am thy salvation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seek after my soul: let them be turned back, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind, and let the Angel of the Lord <sup>1</sup>scatter them.

6 Let their way be dark and slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For <sup>1</sup>without cause they have hid the pit and their net for me: without cause have they dug a pit for my soul.

8 Let destruction come upon <sup>1</sup>him at unawares, and let his net, that he hath laid privily, take him: let him fall into <sup>2</sup>the same destruction.

9 Then my soul shall be joyful in the Lord: it shall rejoice in his salvation.

10 All my <sup>1</sup>bones shall say, Lord, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him, that is too strong for him! yea, the poor and him that is in misery, from him that spoileth him!

11 <sup>1</sup>Cruel witnesses did rise up: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me evil for good, to <sup>1</sup>have spoiled my soul.

13 Yet I, when they were sick, I was clothed with a sack: I humbled my soul with fasting: and <sup>1</sup>my prayer was turned upon my bosom.

14 I behaved myself as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled myself, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine <sup>1</sup>adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: the abjects assembled themselves against me, and I knew not: they tare <sup>2</sup>me, and ceased not,

16 With the false scoffers at <sup>1</sup>banquets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliver my soul from their tumult, even my desolate soul from the lions.

18 So will I give thee thanks in a great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies unjustly rejoice over me, neither let them <sup>1</sup>wink with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speak not as friends: but they imagine deceitful words against the <sup>1</sup>quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on me with their mouths, saying, Aha, aha, <sup>1</sup>our eye hath seen.

22 Thou hast seen it, O Lord: keep not silence: be not far from me, O Lord.

23 Arise and wake to my judgment, even to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

24 Judge me, O Lord my God, according to thy <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, <sup>1</sup>O our soul rejoice: neither let them say, We have devoured him.

26 Let them be confounded, and put to shame <sup>1</sup>together, that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed <sup>2</sup>with confusion and shame, that lift up themselves against me.

27 But let them be joyful and glad, <sup>1</sup>that love my righteousness: yea, let them say always, Let the Lord be magnified, which loveth the <sup>2</sup>prosperity of his servant.

35:1 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God to undertake his cause against them that did persecute him and slander him.

35:2 <sup>1</sup> Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost attributeth unto him these outward weapons to assure us of his present power.

35:3 <sup>1</sup> Assure me against these tentations, that thou art the author of my salvation.

35:5 <sup>1</sup> Smite them with the spirit of giddiness that their enterprises may be foolish, and they received just reward.

35:7 <sup>1</sup> Showing that we may not call God to be a revenger, but only for his glory, and when our cause is just.

35:8 <sup>1</sup> When he promiseth to himself peace.

35:10 <sup>1</sup> He attributeth his deliverance only to God, praising him therefore both in soul and body.

35:11 <sup>1</sup> That would not suffer me to purge myself.

35:12 <sup>1</sup> To have taken from me all comfort and brought me into despair.

35:13 <sup>1</sup> I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would have done for myself: or, I declared mine affection with bowing down mine head.

35:15 <sup>1</sup> When they saw me ready to slip, and as one that halted for infirmity.

35:16 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth cakes: meaning that the proud courtiers at their dainty feasts scoff, rail, and conspire his death.

35:19 <sup>1</sup> In token of contempt and mocking.

35:20 <sup>1</sup> Or, clefts of the earth: meaning, himself and others in their misery.

35:21 <sup>1</sup> They rejoiced as though they had now seen David overthrown.

35:24 <sup>1</sup> It is the justice of God to give to the oppressors affliction and torment, and to the oppressed aid and relief, 2 Thess. 1:6.

35:25 <sup>1</sup> Because we have that which we sought for, seeing he is destroyed.

35:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, at once, were they never so many or mighty.

35:27 <sup>1</sup> That at least favor my right, though they be not able to help me.

<sup>2</sup> He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliverance of his servants, and for the destruction of his adversaries.

28 And my tongue shall utter thy righteousness, and thy praise every day.

36 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doth complain of their malicious wickedness. <sup>6</sup> Then he turneth to consider the unspeakable goodness of God toward all creatures. <sup>9</sup> But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliverance by this ordinary course of God's work. <sup>12</sup> Who in the end destroyeth the wicked, and saveth the just.

To him that excelleth.

A Psalm of David, the servant of the Lord.

1 Wickedness saith to the wicked man, <sup>1</sup>even in mine heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For he <sup>1</sup>flattereth himself in his own eyes, while his iniquity is found worthy to be hated.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and <sup>1</sup>deceit: he hath left off to understand and to do good.

4 He <sup>1</sup>imagineth mischief upon his bed: he setteth himself upon a way, that is not good, and doth not abhor evil.

5 Thy <sup>1</sup>mercy, O Lord, reacheth unto the heavens, and thy faithfulness unto the clouds.

6 Thy righteousness is like the <sup>1</sup>mighty mountains: thy judgments are like a great <sup>2</sup>deep: thou Lord, dost save man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercy, O God! therefore the children of men trust under the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be <sup>1</sup>satisfied with the fatness of thine house, and thou shalt give them drink out of the river of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy loving-kindness unto them that <sup>1</sup>know thee, and thy righteousness unto them that are upright in heart.

11 Let not the <sup>1</sup>foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked men move me.

12 <sup>1</sup>There they are fallen that work iniquity: they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

37 <sup>1</sup> This Psalm containeth exhortation and consolation for the weak, that are grieved at the prosperity of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. <sup>7</sup> For how prosperously soever the wicked do live for the time, he doth affirm their felicity to be vain and transitory, because they are not in the favor of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. <sup>11</sup> And how miserably that the righteous seemeth to live in the world, yet his end is peace, and he is in the favor of God, he is delivered from the wicked, and preserved.

A Psalm of David.

1 Fret not <sup>1</sup>thyself because of the wicked men, neither be envious for the evildoers.

2 For they shall soon be <sup>1</sup>cut down like grass, and shall wither as the green herb.

3 <sup>1</sup>Trust thou in the Lord and do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly:

4 And delight thyself in the Lord, and he shall give thee thine heart's desire.

5 <sup>1</sup>Commit thy way unto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to pass.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy <sup>1</sup>judgment as the noon day.

7 Wait patiently upon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thyself for him <sup>1</sup>which prospereth in his way, nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to pass.

8 Cease from anger, and leave off wrath: fret not thyself <sup>1</sup>also to do evil.

9 For evildoers shall be cut off, and they that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

10 <sup>1</sup>Therefore yet a little while and the wicked shall not appear, and thou shalt look after his place, and he shall not be found.

36:1 <sup>1</sup> I see evidently by his deeds, that sin pusheth forward the reprobate from wickedness to wickedness, albeit he go about to cover his impiety.

36:2 <sup>1</sup> Though all others detest his vile sin, yet he himself seeth it not.

36:3 <sup>1</sup> The reprobate mock at wholesome doctrine, and put not difference between good and evil.

36:4 <sup>1</sup> By describing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.

36:5 <sup>1</sup> Though wickedness seemeth to overflow all the world, yet by thine heavenly providence thou governest heaven and earth.

36:6 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the mountains of God: for whatsoever is excellent, is thus called.

36:8 <sup>1</sup> Only God's children have enough of all things both concerning this life and the life to come.

36:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth who are God's children, to wit, they that know him, and lead their lives uprightly.

36:11 <sup>1</sup> Let not the proud advance himself against me, neither the power of the wicked drive me away.

36:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themselves.

37:1 <sup>1</sup> He admonisheth us neither to vex ourselves for the prosperous estate of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our state the better.

37:2 <sup>1</sup> For God's judgment cutteth down their state in a moment.

37:3 <sup>1</sup> To trust in God, and do according to his will, are sure tokens that his providence will never fail us.

37:5 <sup>1</sup> Be not led by thine own wisdom, but obey God, and he will finish his work in thee.

37:6 <sup>1</sup> As the hope of the daylight causeth us not to be offended with the darkness of the night: so ought we patiently to trust that God will clear our cause and restore us to our right.

37:7 <sup>1</sup> When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that he favoereth their doings, Job 21:7 etc.

37:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, except he moderate his affections, he shall be led to do as they do.

37:10 <sup>1</sup> He correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide till the fullness of God's time be come.

11 But <sup>a</sup>meeke men shall possess the earth, and shall have their delight in the multitude of peace.

12 <sup>1</sup>The wicked practiceth against the just, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lord shall laugh him to scorn: for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked have drawn their sword and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation.

15 But their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16 <sup>1</sup>A small thing unto the just man is better than great riches to the wicked and mighty.

17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord upholdeth the just men.

18 The Lord <sup>1</sup>knoweth the days of upright men, and their inheritance shall be perpetual.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the days of famine they shall have <sup>1</sup>enough.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be consumed as the <sup>1</sup>fat of lambs: even with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth and payeth not again: but the righteous is merciful and <sup>1</sup>giveth.

22 For such as be blessed of God shall inherit the land, and they that be cursed of him, shall be cut off.

23 <sup>1</sup>The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loveth his way.

24 Though he <sup>1</sup>fall, he shall not be cast off, for the Lord putteth under his hand.

25 I have been young, and am old: yet I saw never the righteous forsaken, nor his <sup>1</sup>seed begging bread.

26 But he is ever merciful and lendeth, and his seed enjoyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from evil and do good, and dwell forever.

28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his Saints: they shall be preserved forevermore: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherit the land, and dwell therein <sup>1</sup>forever.

30 The <sup>1</sup>mouth of the righteous will speak of wisdom, and his tongue will talk of judgment.

31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shall not slide.

32 The wicked watched the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But the Lord will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him, when he is <sup>1</sup>judged.

34 Wait thou on the Lord, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I have seen the wicked strong, and spreading himself like a green bay tree.

36 Yet he <sup>1</sup>passed away, and lo, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 <sup>1</sup>Mark the upright man, and behold the just: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But their transgressors shall be destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the <sup>1</sup>salvation of the righteous men shall be of the Lord: he shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and shall save them, because they trust in him.

38 1 David lying sick of some grievous disease, acknowledgeth himself to be chastised of the Lord for his sins, and therefore prayeth God to turn away his wrath. 5 He uttereth the greatness of his grief by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrows of God's ire, forsaken of his friends, evil intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firm confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedy help at his hand.

A Psalm of David for <sup>1</sup>remembrance.

1 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine <sup>1</sup>anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

37:12 <sup>1</sup> The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not prevail against them, but fall on their own necks, and therefore ought patiently to abide God's time, and in the meanwhile bewail their sins, and offer up their tears, is a sacrifice of their obedience.

37:16 <sup>1</sup> For they are daily fed as with Manna from heaven, and have sufficient, when the wicked have never enough, but ever hunger.

37:18 <sup>1</sup> God knoweth what dangers hang over his, and by what means to deliver them.

37:19 <sup>1</sup> For God will give them contented minds: and that which shall be necessary.

37:20 <sup>1</sup> They shall vanish away suddenly, for they are fed for the day of slaughter.

37:21 <sup>1</sup> God so furnisheth him with his blessings, that he is able to help others.

37:23 <sup>1</sup> God prospereth the faithful, because they walk in his ways with an upright conscience.

37:24 <sup>1</sup> When God doth exercise his faith with divers tentations.

37:25 <sup>1</sup> Though the just man die, yet God's blessings are extended to his posterity, and though God suffer some just man to lack temporal benefits, yet he recompenseth him with spiritual treasures.

37:29 <sup>1</sup> They shall continually be preserved under God's wings, and have at least inward rest.

37:30 <sup>1</sup> These three points are required of the faithful, that their talk be godly, that God's law be in their heart, and that their life be upright.

37:33 <sup>1</sup> For though it be sometime so expedient both for God's glory and their salvation, yet he will approve their cause, and revenge their wrong.

37:36 <sup>1</sup> So that the prosperity of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vanisheth away in a moment.

37:37 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth the faithful to mark diligently the examples both of God's mercies, and also of his judgments.

37:39 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the patient hope of the godly is never in vain, but in the end hath good success, though for a time God prove them by sundry tentations.

38:Title <sup>1</sup> To put himself and others in mind of God's chastisement for sin.

38:1 <sup>1</sup> He desireth not to be exempted from God's rod, but that he would so moderate his hand, that he might be able to bear it.

2 For thine <sup>1</sup>arrows have light upon me, and thine hand lieth upon me.

3 There is nothing sound in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my <sup>1</sup>sin.

4 For mine <sup>1</sup>iniquities are gone over mine head, and as a weighty burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds are putrefied, and corrupt because of <sup>1</sup>my foolishness.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I go <sup>1</sup>mourning all the day.

7 For my reins are full of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I <sup>1</sup>roar for the very grief of mine heart.

9 Lord, I pour my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart <sup>1</sup>panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, even <sup>2</sup>they are not mine own.

11 My lovers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my <sup>1</sup>kinsmen stand afar off.

12 They also that seek after my life, lay snares, and they that go about to do me evil, talk wicked things and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as a <sup>1</sup>deaf man heard not, and am as a dumb man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I wait: thou wilt hear me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Hear me, lest they rejoice over me: for <sup>1</sup>when my foot slippeth, they extol themselves against me.

17 Surely I am ready to <sup>1</sup>halt, and my sorrow is ever before me.

18 When I declare my pain, and am sorry for my sin,

19 Then mine <sup>1</sup>enemies are alive, and are mighty, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They also, that reward evil for good, are mine adversaries, because I follow <sup>1</sup>goodness.

21 Forsake me not, O Lord, be not thou far from me, my God.

22 Haste thee, to help me, O my Lord, my <sup>1</sup>salvation.

39 <sup>1</sup>David uttereth with what great grief and bitterness of mind he was driven to these outrageous complaints of his infirmities. <sup>2</sup>For he confesseth that when he had determined silence, that he brast forth yet into words, that he would not, through the greatness of his grief. <sup>4</sup>Then he rehearseth certain requests which taste of the infirmity of man. <sup>8</sup>And mixeth with them many prayers: but all do show a mind wonderfully trembled, that it may plainly appear how he did strive mightily against death and desperation.

To the excellent Musician <sup>1</sup>Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 I thought, <sup>1</sup>I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.

2 I was dumb and spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, <sup>1</sup>and my sorrow was more stirred.

3 Mine heart was hot within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and I <sup>1</sup>spake with my tongue, saying,

4 Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is: let me know how long I have to live.

5 Behold, thou hast made my days as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely every man in his best state is altogether <sup>1</sup>vanity. Selah.

6 Doubtless man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himself in vain: he heapeth up riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

7 And now Lord, what wait I for? mine hope is even in thee.

38:2 <sup>1</sup> Thy sickness, wherewith thou hast visited me.

38:3 <sup>1</sup> David acknowledgeth God to be just in his punishments, because his sins had deserved much more.

38:4 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth his sins, God's justice, and maketh prayer his refuge.

38:5 <sup>1</sup> That rather gave place to mine own lusts, than to the will of God.

38:6 <sup>1</sup> Or, black as one that is disfigured and consumed with sickness.

38:8 <sup>1</sup> This example warneth us never to despair, be the torment never so great: but always to cry unto God with sure trust for deliverance.

38:10 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, runneth about, or, is tossed to and fro, meaning, that he was destitute of all help and counsel.

38:11 <sup>1</sup> Partly for fear and partly for pride, they denied all duty and friendship.

38:13 <sup>1</sup> For I can have no audience before men, and therefore patiently wait for the help of God.

38:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, if they see that thou succor me not in time, they will mock and triumph, as though thou hadst forsaken me.

38:17 <sup>1</sup> I am without hope to recover my strength.

38:19 <sup>1</sup> In my greatest misery they most rejoice.

38:20 <sup>1</sup> He had rather have the hatred of all the world, than to fail in any part of his duty to Godward.

38:22 <sup>1</sup> Which are the author of my salvation: and this declareth that he prayed with sure hope of deliverance.

39:Title <sup>1</sup> This was one of the chief singers, 1 Chron. 16:41.

39:1 <sup>1</sup> Albeit he had appointed with himself patiently to have tarried God's leisure, yet the vehemency of his pain caused him to break his purpose.

39:2 <sup>1</sup> Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to have kept silence, yet his zeal caused him to change his mind.

39:3 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatness of his sorrows, and the shortness of his life.

39:5 <sup>1</sup> Yet David offended in that that he reasoned with God as though that he were too severe toward his weak creature.

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke unto the <sup>1</sup>foolish.

9 I should have been dumb, and not have opened my mouth, because <sup>1</sup>thou didst it.

10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth <sup>1</sup>makest his <sup>2</sup>beauty to consume: surely every man is vanity. Selah.

12 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and hearken unto my cry: keep not silence at my tears, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, <sup>1</sup>before I go hence and be not.

40 1 David delivered from great danger doth magnify and praise the grace of God for his deliverance, and commendeth his providence toward all mankind. 5 Then doth he promise to give himself wholly to God's service, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterwards he giveth thanks and praiseth God, and having complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for aid and succor.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 I waited <sup>1</sup>patiently for the Lord, and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me also out of the <sup>1</sup>horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon the rock, and ordered my goings.

3 And he hath put in my mouth <sup>1</sup>a new song of praise unto our God: many shall see it and fear, and shall trust in the Lord.

4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth <sup>1</sup>not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

5 <sup>1</sup>O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderful works so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts toward us: I would declare and speak of them, but they are more than I am able to express.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire: (for <sup>1</sup>mine ears hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

7 <sup>1</sup>Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the roll of the book it is written of me.

8 I desired to do thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

9 I have declared thy righteousness in the <sup>1</sup>great congregation: lo, I will not refrain my lips: O Lord, thou knowest.

10 I have not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, but I have declared thy <sup>1</sup>truth and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy mercy, and thy truth from the great Congregation.

11 Withdraw not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord, let thy mercy and thy truth always preserve me.

12 For innumerable troubles have compassed me: my sins have taken such hold upon me, that I am not able to look up: yea, they are more in number than the hairs of mine head: therefore mine heart hath <sup>1</sup>failed me.

13 Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliver me: make haste, O Lord, to help me.

14 Let them be <sup>1</sup>confounded and put to shame together, that seek my soul to destroy it: let them be driven backward and put to rebuke that desire mine hurt.

15 Let them be <sup>1</sup>destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say unto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all them that seek thee, rejoice and be glad in thee, and let them that love thy salvation, say always, <sup>1</sup>The Lord be praised.

17 Though I be poor and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliverer: my God, make no tarrying.

39:8 <sup>1</sup> Make me not a mocking stock to the wicked, or wrap me not up with the wicked, when they are put to shame.

39:9 <sup>1</sup> Seeing my troubles came of thy providence, I ought to have endured them patiently.

39:11 <sup>1</sup> Though thine open plagues light not evermore upon them, yet thy secret curse continually fretteth them.

<sup>2</sup> The word signifieth all that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beauty, and in whatsoever he hath delight, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world.

39:13 <sup>1</sup> For his sorrow caused him to think that God would destroy him utterly: whereby we see how hard it is for the very Saints to keep a measure in their words, when death and despair assail them.

40:1 <sup>1</sup> Though God deferred his help, yet he patiently abode till he was heard.

40:2 <sup>1</sup> He hath delivered me from most great dangers.

40:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, a special occasion to praise him: for God's benefits are so many occasions for us to praise his Name.

40:4 <sup>1</sup> To follow their example, which he must needs do that trusteth not only in the Lord.

40:5 <sup>1</sup> David goeth from one kind of God's favor to the contemplation of his providence over all, and confesseth that his counsels towards us are far above our capacities: we cannot so much as tell them in order.

40:6 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast opened mine ears to understand the spiritual meaning of the sacrifices: and here David esteemeth the ceremonies of the law nothing in respect of the spiritual service.

40:7 <sup>1</sup> When thou hadst opened mine ears and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the book of thine elect for this end.

40:9 <sup>1</sup> In the Church assembled in the Sanctuary.

40:10 <sup>1</sup> David here numbereth 3 degrees of our salvation: God's mercy, whereby he pitieth us: his righteousness, which signifieth his continual protection: and his truth, whereby appeareth his constant favor, so that hereof proceedeth our salvation.

40:12 <sup>1</sup> As touching the judgment of the flesh, I was utterly destitute of all counsel, yet faith inwardly moved mine heart to pray.

40:14 <sup>1</sup> He desireth that God's mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies.

40:15 <sup>1</sup> Let the same shame and confusion light upon them, which they intended to have brought upon me.

40:16 <sup>1</sup> As the faithful always praise God for his benefits, so the wicked mocked God's children in their afflictions.

41 1 David being grievously afflicted, blesseth them that pity his case, 9 and complaineth of the treason of his own friends and familiars, as came to pass in Judas, John 13:18. After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 giveth most hearty thanks to God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed is he that <sup>1</sup>judgeth wisely of the poor: the Lord shall deliver him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord will keep him and preserve him alive, he shall be blessed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will strengthen him upon the <sup>1</sup>bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his <sup>2</sup>bed in his sickness.

4 Therefore I said, Lord have mercy upon me: heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies <sup>1</sup>speak evil of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh <sup>1</sup>lies, but his heart heapeth iniquity within him, and when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate me whisper together against me: even against me do they imagine mine hurt.

8 <sup>1</sup>A mischief is light upon him, and he that lieth, shall no more rise.

9 Yea, my <sup>1</sup>familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, <sup>2</sup>hath lifted up the heel against me.

10 Therefore, O Lord, have mercy upon me, and raise me up: so shall I reward them.

11 By this I know that thou favorest me, because mine enemy doth not triumph against me.

12 And as for me thou upholdest me <sup>1</sup>in mine integrity, and dost set me before thy <sup>2</sup>face forever.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel world without end. <sup>1</sup>So be it, even so be it.

42 1 The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being letted by his persecutors, he could not be present in the congregation of God's people, protesting that although he was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And least of all he showed that he was not so far overcome with these sorrows and thoughts, 8 but that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, <sup>1</sup>committed to the sons of Korah.

1 As the Hart brayeth for the rivers of water, so <sup>1</sup>panted my soul after thee, O God.

2 My soul thirsteth for God, even for the living God: when shall I come and appear before the presence of God?

3 <sup>1</sup>Mine tears have been my meat day and night, while they daily say unto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembered <sup>1</sup>these things, I poured out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the house of God with the voice of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast down, my soul, and unquiet within me? <sup>1</sup>wait on God: for I will yet give him thanks for the help of his presence.

6 My God, my soul is cast down within me, <sup>1</sup>because I remembered thee, from the land of Jordan, and Hermon, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One <sup>1</sup>deep calleth another deep by the noise of thy waterspouts: all thy waves and thy floods are gone over me.

8 The Lord <sup>1</sup>will grant his loving-kindness in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, even a prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will say unto God, which is my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning, when the enemy oppresseth me?

10 My <sup>1</sup>bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproach me, saying daily unto me, Where is thy God?

41:1 <sup>1</sup> Not condemning him as accursed whom God doth visit, knowing that there are divers causes why God layeth his hand upon us, yea and afterward he restoreth us.

41:3 <sup>1</sup> When for sorrow and grief of mind he calleth himself upon his bed.

41:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, curse me and cannot have their cruel hate quenched, but with my shameful death.

41:6 <sup>1</sup> For pretending to comfort me, he conspireth my death in his heart, and braggeth thereof.

41:8 <sup>1</sup> The enemies thought by his sharp punishments that God was become his mortal enemy.

41:9 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the man of my peace.

<sup>2</sup> As David felt this falsehood, and as it was chiefly accomplished in Christ, John 13:18, so shall his members continually prove the same.

41:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, either in prosperity of life, or in the true fear of God against all tentations.

41:13 <sup>1</sup> By this repetition he stirreth up the faithful to praise God.

42:Title <sup>1</sup> As a treasure to be kept of them, which were of the number of the Levites.

42:1 <sup>1</sup> By these similitudes of thirst and panting, he showeth his fervent desire to serve God in his Temple.

42:3 <sup>1</sup> As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether given to weeping.

42:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, how I led the people to serve thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrary estate, I die for sorrow.

42:5 <sup>1</sup> Though he sustained grievous assaults of the flesh to cast him into despair, yet his faith grounded on God's accustomed mercies getteth the victory.

42:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment among the mountains.

42:7 <sup>1</sup> Afflictions came so thick upon me, that I felt my self as overwhelmed: whereby he showeth there is no end of our misery till God be pacified and send remedy.

42:8 <sup>1</sup> He assureth himself of God's help in time to come.

42:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, I am most grievously tormented.

11 <sup>1</sup>Why art thou cast down, my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet give him thanks: he is my present help and my God.

43 1 He prayeth to be delivered from them that conspire against him, that he might joyfully praise God in his holy congregation.

1 Judge <sup>1</sup>me, O God, and defend my cause against the unmerciful <sup>2</sup>people: deliver me from the deceitful and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why go I so mourning, when the enemy oppressed me?

3 Send thy <sup>1</sup>light and thy truth: let them lead me: let them bring me unto thine holy Mountain, and to thy Tabernacles.

4 Then <sup>1</sup>will I go unto the altar of God, even unto the God of my joy and gladness: and upon the harp will I give thanks unto thee, O God my God.

5 Why art thou cast down, my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me: <sup>1</sup>wait on God: for I will yet give him thanks, he is my present help and my God.

44 1 The faithful remember the great mercy of God toward his people. 9 After they complain, because they feel it no more. 17 Also they allege the covenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they show what grievous things they suffered. 23 Finally, they pray unto God not to contemn their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honor.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sons of Korah.

1 We have heard with our <sup>1</sup>ears, O God: our fathers have told us the works that thou hast done in their days, in the old time:

2 How thou hast driven out the <sup>1</sup>heathen with thine hand, and planted <sup>2</sup>them: how thou hast destroyed the <sup>3</sup>people, and caused <sup>4</sup>them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou didst <sup>1</sup>favor them.

4 Thou art my king, O God: send help unto <sup>1</sup>Jacob.

5 <sup>1</sup>Through thee have we thrust back our adversaries: by thy Name have we trodden down them that rose up against us.

6 For I do not trust in my bow, neither can my sword save me.

7 But thou hast saved us from our adversaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate us.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confess thy Name forever. Selah.

9 But now thou art far off, and puttest us to <sup>1</sup>confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary, and they which hate us, spoil <sup>1</sup>for themselves.

11 <sup>a</sup>Thou givest us <sup>1</sup>as spoil to be eaten, and dost scatter us among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people <sup>1</sup>without gain, and dost not increase their price.

13 Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbors, a jest and laughing stock to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makest us a proverb among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My <sup>1</sup>confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me, 16 For the voice of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and <sup>1</sup>avenger.

17 All this is come upon us, yet do we not <sup>1</sup>forget thee, neither deal we falsely concerning thy covenant.

42:11 <sup>1</sup> This repetition doth declare that David did not overcome at once, to teach us to be constant, forasmuch as God will certainly deliver his.

43:1 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God to undertake his cause against the enemies but chiefly that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.

43:3 <sup>1</sup> To wit, thy favor, which appeareth by the performance of thy promises.

43:4 <sup>1</sup> He promiseth to offer a solemn sacrifice of thanksgiving in token of his great deliverance.

43:5 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he admonisheth the faithful not to relent, but constantly to wait on the Lord, though their troubles be long and great.

44:1 <sup>1</sup> This psalm seemeth to have been made by some excellent Prophet for the use of the people, when the Church was in extreme misery, either at their return from Babylon, or under Antiochus, or in such like affliction.

44:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Canaanites.

44:3 <sup>1</sup> God's free mercy and love is the only fountain and beginning of the Church, Deut. 4:37.

44:4 <sup>1</sup> Because thou art our king, therefore deliver thy people from their misery.

44:5 <sup>1</sup> Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselves which before they did attribute to their fathers.

44:9 <sup>1</sup> As they confessed before that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his just judgment.

44:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, at their pleasure.

44:11 <sup>1</sup> Knowing God to be author of this calamity, they murmur not, but seek remedy at his hands, who wounded them.

44:12 <sup>1</sup> As slaves which are sold for a low price, neither lookest thou for him that offereth most, but takest the first chapman.

44:15 <sup>1</sup> I dare not lift up my head for shame.

44:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the proud and cruel tyrant.

44:17 <sup>1</sup> They boast not of their virtues, but declare that they rest upon God in the midst of their afflictions: who punished not now their sins, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heavenly joys.

18 Our heart is not turned back: neither our steps gone out of thy paths,

19 Albeit thou hast smitten us down into the place of <sup>1</sup>dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the Name of our God, and held up our hands to a <sup>1</sup>strange god, 21 Shall not God <sup>1</sup>search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Surely for thy sake <sup>1</sup>are we slain continually, and are counted as sheep for the slaughter.

23 Up, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not far off forever.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our misery and our affliction?

25 For our soul is <sup>1</sup>beaten down unto the dust: our belly cleaveth to the ground.

26 Rise up for our succor, and redeem us for thy <sup>1</sup>mercy's sake.

45 *1 The majesty of Solomon, his honor, strength, beauty, riches, and power are praised, and also his marriage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman, is blessed. 10 If that she can renounce her people and the love of her country, and gave herself wholly to her husband. 1 Mine heart will utter forth a good matter: I will entreat in my works of the king: my tongue is as the pen of a swift writer.

2 Thou art <sup>1</sup>fairer than the children of men: grace is poured in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee forever.

3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty,

to wit, thy worship and thy glory:

4 And prosper with thy glory: <sup>1</sup>ride upon the word of truth and of meekness and of righteousness: so thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are sharp to pierce the heart of the King's enemies: therefore the people shall fall under thee.

6 Thy <sup>1</sup>throne, O God, is forever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom, is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness, because God, even thy God, hath <sup>1</sup>anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrh and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of the ivory palaces <sup>1</sup>where they have made thee glad.

9 King's daughters were among thine honorable wives: upon thy right hand did stand the <sup>1</sup>Queen in a vesture of gold of Ophir.

10 <sup>1</sup>Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear: forget also thine own people and thy father's house.

11 So shall the King have pleasure in thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and reverence thou him.

12 And the <sup>1</sup>daughter of <sup>2</sup>Tyre with the rich of the people, shall do homage before thy face with presents.

13 The King's daughter is all glorious <sup>1</sup>within: her clothing is of broidered gold.

14 She shall be brought unto the King in raiment of needlework: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought unto thee.

15 With joy and gladness shall they be brought, and shall enter into the king's palace.

16 Instead of thy fathers shall thy <sup>1</sup>children be: thou shalt make them princes <sup>2</sup>through all the earth.

17 I will make thy <sup>1</sup>Name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people

45:2 <sup>1</sup> Solomon's beauty and eloquence to win favor with his people, and his power to overcome his enemies, is here described.

45:4 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to them that ride in chariots in their triumphs, showing that the quiet state of a kingdom standeth in truth, meekness and justice, not in worldly pomp and vanity.

45:6 <sup>1</sup> Under this figure of this kingdom of justice is set forth the everlasting kingdom of Christ.

45:7 <sup>1</sup> Hath established thy kingdom as the figure of Christ, which is the peace and joy of the Church.

45:8 <sup>1</sup> In the which palace the people made thee joyful to see them give thanks and rejoice for thee.

45:9 <sup>1</sup> Though he had many Kings' daughters among his wives, yet he loved Pharaoh's daughter best.

45:10 <sup>1</sup> Under the figure of Pharaoh's daughter, he showeth that the Church must cast off all carnal affections to obey Christ only.

45:12 <sup>1</sup> He signifieth that divers of them that be rich shall be benefactors to the Church, albeit they give not perfect obedience to the Gospel.

45:13 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing feigned, nor hypocritical, but she is glorious both within and without: and howbeit the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed only to their own ingratitude.

45:16 <sup>1</sup> They shall have greater graces than their fathers.

To him that excelleth upon <sup>1</sup>Alamoeth, a song committed to the sons of Korah.

1 God is our <sup>1</sup>hope and strength, and help in <sup>2</sup>troubles, ready to be found.

2 Therefore will not we <sup>1</sup>fear, though the earth be moved, and though the mountains fall into the midst of the sea,

3 Though the waters thereof <sup>1</sup>rage and be troubled, and the mountains shake at the surges of the same. Selah.

4 Yet there is a <sup>1</sup>River, whose stream shall make glad the City of God: even the Sanctuary of the Tabernacles of the most High.

5 God is in the midst of it: therefore shall it not be moved: God shall help it <sup>1</sup>very early.

6 When the nations raged, and the kingdoms were moved, God <sup>1</sup>thundered, and the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hosts is <sup>1</sup>with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

8 Come and behold the works of the Lord, <sup>1</sup>what desolations he hath made in the earth.

9 He maketh wars to cease unto the ends of the world, he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear, and burneth the chariots with fire.

3 He hath <sup>1</sup>subdued the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

4 He hath chosen <sup>1</sup>our inheritance for us: even the glory of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.

5 God is gone up with triumph, even the Lord with the <sup>1</sup>sound of the trumpet.

6 Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.

7 For God is the king of all the earth: sing praises everyone that hath <sup>1</sup>understanding.

To him that excelleth.

A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 Hear <sup>1</sup>this all ye people: give ear, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As well low as high, both rich and poor.

3 My mouth shall speak of wisdom, and the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine ear to a parable, and utter my grave matter upon the harp.

5 Wherefore should I <sup>1</sup>fear in the evil days, when iniquity shall compass me about, as at mine heels?

6 They trust in their <sup>1</sup>goods, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no means redeem his brother: he cannot give his ransom to God,

8 (So <sup>1</sup>precious is the redemption of their souls, <sup>2</sup>and the continuance forever)

9 That he may live still forever, and not see the grave.

10 For he seeth that wise men <sup>1</sup>die: and also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leave their riches for <sup>2</sup>others.

11 Yet they think their houses and their habitations shall continue forever, even from generation to generation, and <sup>1</sup>call their lands by their names.

12 But man shall not continue in honor; he is like the <sup>1</sup>beasts that die.

13 This their way uttereth their foolishness; yet their posterity <sup>1</sup>delight in their talk. Selah.

15 But God shall deliver my soul from the power of the grave; <sup>1</sup>for he will receive me. Selah.

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, and when the glory of his house is increased.

17 <sup>4</sup>For he shall take nothing away, when he dieth, neither shall his pomp descend after him.

18 For while he lived, <sup>1</sup>he rejoiced himself; and <sup>2</sup>men will praise thee, when thou makest much of thyself.

50 <sup>1</sup>Because the Church is always full of hypocrites, <sup>8</sup>which do imagine that God will be worshipped with outward ceremonies only without the heart: and especially the Jews were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the Law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient. <sup>21</sup>Therefore the Prophet doth reprove this gross error, and pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemed where holiness is set in ceremonies. <sup>23</sup>For he declareth the worship of God to be spiritual, whereof are two principal parts, invocation and thanksgiving.

A Psalm of <sup>1</sup>Asaph.

1 The God of gods, even the Lord hath spoken and called the <sup>1</sup>earth from the rising up of the Sun, unto the going down thereof.

2 Out of Zion, which is the <sup>1</sup>perfection of beauty, hath God shined.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: <sup>1</sup>a fire shall devour before him, and a mighty tempest shall be moved round about him.

5 Gather my <sup>1</sup>Saints together unto me, those that make a covenant with me with <sup>2</sup>sacrifice.

6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is Judge himself. Selah.

7 Hear, O my people and I will speak: hear, O Israel, and I will testify unto thee: for I am God, even thy God.

8 I will not <sup>1</sup>reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that have not been continually before me.

9 I will take no bullock out of thine house, nor goats out of thy folds.

10 <sup>1</sup>For all the beasts of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountains.

11 I know all the fowls on the mountains, and the wild beasts of the field are mine.

12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine and all that therein is.

13 <sup>1</sup>Will I eat the flesh of bulls? or drink the blood of goats?

14 Offer unto God praise, and <sup>1</sup>pay thy vows unto the most High,

15 And call upon me in the day of trouble: so will I deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

16 But unto the wicked said God, <sup>1</sup>What hast thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth,

50:13 <sup>1</sup> Though man's life for the infirmity thereof hath need of food, yet God whose life quickeneth all the world, hath no need of such means.

50:14 <sup>1</sup> Show thyself mindful of God's benefits by thanksgiving.

50:16 <sup>1</sup> Why dost thou feign to be of my people, and talkest of my covenant, seeing thou art but an hypocrite?

51 When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan for his great offenses, he did not only acknowledge the same to God, with protestation of his natural corruption and iniquity, but also left a memorial thereof to his posterity. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his sins, 10 And to renew in him his holy Spirit. 13 With promise that he will not be unmindful of those great graces. 18 Finally, fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requireth that he would rather increase his graces toward the same.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan <sup>1</sup>came unto him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

1 Have mercy upon me, O God, <sup>1</sup>according to thy loving-kindness: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash me <sup>1</sup>thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from mine sin.

3 For I <sup>1</sup>know mine iniquities, and my sin is ever before me.

4 Against thee, against thee only have I sinned, and done evil in thy sight, that thou mayest be just when thou <sup>1</sup>speakest, and pure when thou judgest.

5 Behold, I was born in iniquity, and in sin hath my mother conceived me.

6 Behold, thou <sup>1</sup>lovest truth in the inward affections: therefore hast thou taught me wisdom in the secret of mine heart.

7 Purge me with <sup>a</sup>hyssop, and I shall be clean:

wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8 Make me to hear <sup>1</sup>joy and gladness, that the <sup>2</sup>bones, which thou hast broken, may rejoice.

9 Hide thy face from my sins, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 <sup>1</sup>Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the joy of thy salvation, and establish me with thy <sup>1</sup>free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy <sup>1</sup>ways unto the wicked, and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

14 Deliver me from <sup>1</sup>blood, O God, which art the God of my salvation, and my tongue shall sing joyfully of thy righteousness.

15 <sup>1</sup>Open thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall show forth thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a <sup>1</sup>contrite spirit: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Be favorable unto <sup>1</sup>Zion for thy good pleasure: build the walls of Jerusalem.

19 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of <sup>1</sup>righteousness, even the burnt offering and oblation: then shall they offer calves upon thine altar.

A Psalm of David to give instruction.

1 Hear <sup>1</sup>my prayer, O God, and hide not thyself from my supplication.

2 Harken unto me, and answer me: I mourn in my prayer, and make a noise,

3 For the <sup>1</sup>voice of the enemy, and for the vexation of the wicked, because <sup>2</sup>they have brought iniquity upon me, and furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fear and trembling are come upon me, and an horrible fear hath <sup>1</sup>covered me.

8 He would make haste for my deliverance <sup>1</sup>from the stormy wind and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and <sup>1</sup>divide their tongues: for I have seen cruelty and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof, both <sup>1</sup>iniquity and mischief are in the midst of it.

11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 Surely mine <sup>1</sup>enemy did not defame me, for I could have borne it: neither did mine adversary exalt himself against me: for I would have hid me from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, even my <sup>1</sup>companion, my guide, and my familiar:

14 Which delighted in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.

56:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is either now time or never, that God help him, for all the world is against him and ready to devour him.

2 Mine enemies would daily swallow me up: for many fight against me, O thou most High.

3 When I was afraid, I trusted in thee.

4 I will rejoice in God, because of his <sup>1</sup>word, I trust in God, and will not fear what flesh can do unto me.

6 <sup>1</sup>They gather together, and keep themselves close: they mark my steps, because they wait for my soul.

7 <sup>1</sup>They think they shall escape by iniquity: O God, cast these people down in thine anger.

8 Thou hast counted my wanderings; put my <sup>1</sup>tears into thy bottle; are they not in thy register?

9 When I cry, then mine enemies shall turn back; this I know, for God is with me.

10 I will rejoice in God because of his word; in the Lord will I rejoice because of his word.

11 In God do I trust; I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

12 <sup>1</sup>Thy vows are upon me, O God, I will render praises unto thee.

4 My soul is among lions; I lie among the children of men, that are set on fire; whose teeth are <sup>1</sup>spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

5 <sup>1</sup>Exalt thyself, O God, above the heaven, and let thy glory be upon all the earth.

6 They have laid a net for my steps; <sup>1</sup>my soul is pressed down, they have dug a pit before me, and are fallen into the midst of it. Selah.

7 Mine heart is <sup>1</sup>prepared, O God, mine heart is prepared; I will sing and give praise.

8 <sup>1</sup>Awake my tongue, awake viol and harp: I will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing unto thee among the nations.

1 Is it true? O <sup>1</sup>congregation, speak ye justly? O sons of men judge ye uprightly?

57:2 <sup>1</sup> Who leaveth not his works begun imperfect.

57:3 <sup>1</sup> He would rather deliver me by a miracle, than that I should be overcome.

57:4 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth their calumnies and false reports.

57:5 <sup>1</sup> Suffer me not to be destroyed to the contempt of thy Name.

57:6 <sup>1</sup> For very fear seeing the great dangers on all sides.

57:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, wholly bent to give thee praise for my deliverance.

57:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that both his heart shall praise God, and his tongue shall confess him, and also he will use other means to provoke himself forward to the same.

57:10 <sup>1</sup> Thy mercies do not only appertain to the Jews, but also to the Gentiles.

58:1 <sup>1</sup> Ye counselors of Saul, who under pretence of consulting for the common wealth, conspire my death being an innocent.

58:2 <sup>1</sup> Ye are not ashamed to execute that cruelty publicly, which ye have imagined in your hearts.

58:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, enemies to the people of God even from their birth.

4 Their poison is even like the poison of a serpent; like the deaf <sup>1</sup>adder that stoppeth his ear.

5 Which heareth not the voice of the enchanter, though he be most expert in charming.

6 Break their <sup>1</sup>teeth, O God, in their mouths: break the jaws of the young lions, O Lord.

7 Let them <sup>1</sup>melt like the waters, let them pass away; when he shooteth his arrows, let them be as broken.

8 Let them consume like a snail that melteth, and like the untimely fruit of a woman, that hath not seen the sun.

9 <sup>1</sup>As raw flesh before your pots feel the fire of thorns: so let them carry them away as with a whirlwind in his wrath.

10 The righteous shall <sup>1</sup>rejoice when he seeth the vengeance; he shall wash his feet in the <sup>2</sup>blood of the wicked.

11 And men shall say, <sup>1</sup>Verily there is fruit for the righteous; doubtless there is a God that judgeth in the earth.

59 1 David being in great danger of Saul, who sent to slay him in his bed, prayeth unto God, 3 Declaring his innocency, and their fury, 5 Desiring God to destroy all those that sin of malicious wickedness. 11 Whom though he keep alive for a time to exercise his people, yet in the end he will consume them in his wrath, 13 That he may be known to be the God of Jacob to the end of the world. 16 For this he singeth praises to God assured of his mercies.

To him that excelleth. Destroy not.

A Psalm of David, on <sup>1</sup>Michtam. When Saul sent and they did watch the house to kill him.

1 O my God, <sup>1</sup>deliver me from mine enemies; defend me from them that rise up against me.

2 Deliver me from the wicked doers, and save me from the bloody men.

3 For lo, they have laid wait for my soul; the mighty men are gathered against me, not for mine <sup>1</sup>offense, nor for my sin, O Lord.

4 They run and prepare themselves without a fault on my part: arise therefore to assist me, and behold.

5 Even thou, O Lord God of hosts, O God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen, and be not <sup>1</sup>merciful unto all that transgress maliciously. Selah.

6 They go to and fro in the evening: they bark like <sup>1</sup>dogs, and go about the city.

7 Behold, they <sup>1</sup>brag in their talk, and swords are in their lips: for who, say they, doth hear?

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt have them in derision, and thou shalt laugh at all the heathen.

9 <sup>1</sup>He is strong; but I will wait upon thee: for God is my defense.

10 My merciful God will <sup>1</sup>prevent me: God will let me see my desire upon mine enemies.

11 Slay them <sup>1</sup>not, lest my people forget it: but scatter them abroad by thy power, and put them down, O Lord, our shield,

12 For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips: and let them be <sup>1</sup>taken in their pride, even for their perjury and lies, that they speak.

13 <sup>1</sup>Consume them in thy wrath: consume them that they be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, even unto the ends of the world. Selah.

14 And in the evening they <sup>1</sup>shall go to and fro, and bark like dogs, and go about the city.

15 They shall run here and there for meat, and surely they shall not be satisfied, though they tarry all night.

16 But I will sing of thy <sup>1</sup>power, and will praise thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defense and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my <sup>1</sup>Strength will I sing: for God is my defense, and my merciful God.

58:4 <sup>1</sup> They pass in malice and subtlety the crafty serpent which could preserve himself by stopping his ear from the enchanter.

58:6 <sup>1</sup> Take away all occasions and means whereby they hurt.

58:7 <sup>1</sup> Considering God's divine power, he showeth that God in a moment can destroy their force whereof they brag.

58:9 <sup>1</sup> As flesh is taken raw out of the pot before the water seeth: so he desireth God to destroy their enterprises before they bring them to pass.

58:10 <sup>1</sup> With a pure affection.

58:11 <sup>1</sup> Seeing God governeth all by his providence, he must needs put difference between the godly and the wicked.

59:Title <sup>1</sup> Read Ps. 16.

59:1 <sup>1</sup> Though his enemies were even at hand to destroy him, yet he assureth himself that God had ways now in hand to deliver him.

59:3 <sup>1</sup> For I am innocent to themwards, and have not offended them.

59:5 <sup>1</sup> Seeing it appertaineth to God's judgments to punish the wicked, he desireth God to execute his vengeance on the reprobate, who maliciously persecute his Church.

59:6 <sup>1</sup> He compareth their cruelty to hungry dogs, showing that they are never weary in doing evil.

59:7 <sup>1</sup> They boast openly in their wicked devices, and every word is as a sword: for they neither fear God nor are ashamed of men.

59:9 <sup>1</sup> Though Saul have never so great power, yet I know that thou dost bridle him: therefore will I patiently hope on thee.

59:10 <sup>1</sup> He will not fail to succor me when need requireth.

59:11 <sup>1</sup> Altogether, but by little and little, that the people seeing oftentimes thy judgments, may be mindful of thee.

59:12 <sup>1</sup> That in their misery and shame they may be as glasses and examples of God's vengeance.

59:13 <sup>1</sup> When thy time shall come, and when they have sufficiently served for an example of thy vengeance unto others.

59:14 <sup>1</sup> He mocketh at their vain enterprises, being assured that they shall not bring their purpose to pass.

To him that excelleth upon <sup>1</sup>Shushan Eduth, or Michtam.

A Psalm of David to teach. "When he fought against <sup>2</sup>Aram Naharaim, and against Aram <sup>3</sup>Zobah, when Joab returned and slew twelve thousand Edomites in the salt valley.

1 O God, thou hast cast us out, thou hast <sup>1</sup>scattered us, thou hast been angry, turn again unto us.

2 Thou hast made the land to tremble, and hast made it to <sup>1</sup>gape: heal the breaches thereof, for it is shaken.

3 Thou hast <sup>1</sup>showed thy people heavy things: thou hast made us to drink the wine of giddiness.

4 But now thou hast given <sup>1</sup>a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be displayed because of thy truth. Selah.

5 That thy beloved may be delivered, help with thy right hand and hear me.

6 God hath spoken in his <sup>1</sup>holiness: therefore I will rejoice: I shall divide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the <sup>1</sup>strength of mine head: <sup>2</sup>Judah is my lawgiver.

8 Moab shall be my <sup>1</sup>washpot: over Edom will I cast out my shoe: <sup>2</sup>Philistia show thyself joyful for me.

9 Who will lead me into the <sup>1</sup>strong city? who will bring me unto Edom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us off, and didst not go forth, O God, with our armies?

61 1 Whether that he were in danger of the Ammonites, or being pursued of Absalom, here he crieth to be heard and delivered, 7 And confirmed in his kingdom. 8 He promiseth perpetual praises.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my cry, O God: give ear unto my prayer.

2 From <sup>1</sup>the ends of the earth will I cry unto thee: when mine heart is oppressed, bring me upon the rock that is <sup>2</sup>higher than I.

3 For thou hast been my hope, and a strong tower against the enemy.

4 I will dwell in thy Tabernacle forever, and my trust shall be under the covering of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, <sup>1</sup>hast heard my desires; thou hast given an heritage unto those that fear thy Name.

6 Thou shalt give the King a <sup>1</sup>long life; his years shall be as many ages.

7 He shall dwell before God forever; prepare <sup>1</sup>mercy and faithfulness, that they may preserve him.

8 So will I always sing praise unto thy Name, in performing daily my vows.

62 This Psalm partly containeth meditation, whereby David encourageth himself to trust in God against the assaults of temptations. And because our minds are easily drawn from God by the allurements of the world, he sharply reproveth this vanity, to the intent he might cleave fast to the Lord.

To the excellent Musician <sup>1</sup>Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 Yet <sup>1</sup>my soul keepeth silence unto God; of him cometh my salvation.

2 <sup>1</sup>Yet he is my strength and my salvation, and my defense; therefore I shall not much be moved.

60:1 <sup>1</sup> For when Saul was not able to resist the enemy, the people fled hither and thither: for they could not be safe in their own houses.

60:2 <sup>1</sup> As cleft with an earthquake.

60:3 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast handled thy people sharply, in taking from them sense and judgment, in that they aided Saul the wicked King, and pursued him to whom God had given the just title of the realm.

60:4 <sup>1</sup> In making me king, thou hast performed thy promise, which seemed to have lost the force.

60:6 <sup>1</sup> It is so certain as if it were spoken by an oracle, that I shall possess those places which Saul hath left to his children.

60:7 <sup>1</sup> For it was strong and well peopled.

60:9 <sup>1</sup> He was assured that God would give him the strong cities of his enemies, wherein they thought themselves sure.

61:2 <sup>1</sup> From the place where I was banished, being driven out of the city and Temple by my son Absalom.

61:5 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing that doth more strengthen our faith, than the remembrance of God's succor in times past.

61:6 <sup>1</sup> This chiefly is referred to Christ, who liveth eternally not only in himself, but also in his members.

dignity; their delight is in lies: they bless with their mouths, but curse with their hearts. Selah.

5 <sup>1</sup>Yet my soul, keep thou silence unto God: for mine hope is in him.

6 Yet is he my strength and my salvation, and my defense: therefore I shall not be moved.

7 In God is my salvation and my <sup>1</sup>glory, the rock of my strength; in God is my trust.

8 Trust in him always, ye people; <sup>1</sup>pour out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah.

9 Yet the children of men are vanity, the chief men are liars: to lay them upon a balance they are altogether lighter than vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression nor in robbery: <sup>1</sup>be not vain: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

11 God spake <sup>1</sup>once or twice, I have heard it, that power belongeth unto God, 12 And to thee, O Lord, mercy: for thou <sup>1</sup>rewardest everyone according to his work.

63 <sup>1</sup>David after he had been in great danger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this Psalm. <sup>3</sup>Wherein he giveth thanks to God for his wonderful deliverance, in whose mercies he trusted, even in the midst of his miseries. <sup>9</sup>Prophesying the destruction of God's enemies: <sup>11</sup>And contrariwise happiness to all them that trust in the Lord.

A Psalm of David, when he was in the <sup>1</sup>wilderness of Judah.

1 O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: my soul <sup>1</sup>thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a barren and dry land without water:

2 Thus <sup>1</sup>I behold thee as in the Sanctuary, when I behold thy power and thy glory.

3 For thy loving-kindness is better than life: therefore my lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I magnify thee all my life, and lift up mine hands in thy Name.

5 My soul shall be satisfied, as with <sup>1</sup>marrow and fatness, and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips,

6 When I remember thee on my bed, and when I think upon thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast been mine helper, therefore under the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.

8 My soul <sup>1</sup>cleaveth unto thee: for thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 Therefore they that seek my soul to destroy it, they shall go into the lowest parts of the earth.

10 <sup>1</sup>They shall cast him down with the edge of the sword, and they shall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God, and all that <sup>1</sup>swear by him shall rejoice in him: for the mouth of them that speak lies, shall be stopped.

64 <sup>1</sup>David prayeth against the fury and false reports of his enemies. <sup>7</sup>He declareth their punishment and destruction. <sup>10</sup>To the comfort of the just and the glory of God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my <sup>1</sup>voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the <sup>1</sup>conspiracy of the wicked, and from the <sup>2</sup>rage of the works of iniquity.

3 Which have whet their tongue like a sword, and shot for their arrows <sup>1</sup>bitter words:

4 To shoot at the upright in secret: they shoot at him suddenly and <sup>1</sup>fear not.

5 They <sup>1</sup>encourage themselves in a wicked purpose: they commune together to lay snares privily, and say, Who shall see them?

6 They have sought out iniquities, and have accomplished that which they sought out, even everyone <sup>1</sup>his secret thoughts, and the depth of his heart.

7 But God will shoot an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shall be at once.

8 They shall cause their own tongue to fall upon

62:5 <sup>1</sup>David was greatly moved with these troubles, therefore he stirreth up himself to trust in God.

62:7 <sup>1</sup>These vehement and often repetitions were necessary to strengthen his faith against the horrible assault of Satan.

62:8 <sup>1</sup>He admonisheth us of our wicked nature, which rather hide our sorrow and bite on the bridle, than utter our grief to God to obtain remedy.

62:10 <sup>1</sup>Give yourselves wholly to God by putting away all things that are contrary to his Law.

62:11 <sup>1</sup>He hath plainly borne witness of his power, so that none needeth to doubt thereof.

62:12 <sup>1</sup>So that the wicked shall feel thy power, and the godly thy mercy.

63:Title <sup>1</sup>To wit, of Ziph, 1 Sam. 23:14.

63:1 <sup>1</sup>Though he was both hungry and in great distress, yet he made God his sufficiency and above all meat and drink.

63:2 <sup>1</sup>In this misery I exercise myself in the contemplation of thy power and glory, as if I were in the Sanctuary.

63:5 <sup>1</sup>The remembrance of thy favor is more sweet unto me than all the pleasures and dainties of the world.

63:8 <sup>1</sup>He assureth himself by the Spirit of God to have the gift of constancy.

63:10 <sup>1</sup>He prophesieth of the destruction of Saul and them that take his part, whose bodies shall not be buried, but be devoured with wild beasts.

63:11 <sup>1</sup>All that swear by God aright or profess him, shall rejoice in this worthy king.

64:1 <sup>1</sup>In that he calleth to God with his voice, it is a sign that his prayer was vehement, and that his life was in a danger.

64:2 <sup>1</sup>That is, from their secret malice.

64:3 <sup>1</sup>False reports and slanders.

64:4 <sup>1</sup>To be without fear of God, and reverence of man, is a sign of reprobation.

64:5 <sup>1</sup>The more that the wicked see God's children in misery, the more bold and impudent are they in oppressing them.

64:6 <sup>1</sup>There is no way so secret and subtle to do hurt, which they invented not for his destruction.

them: and whosoever shall see them, shall <sup>1</sup>flee away.

9 And all men shall see it, and declare the work of God, and they shall understand, what he hath wrought.

10 But the righteous <sup>1</sup>shall be glad in the Lord, and trust in him: and all that are upright of heart, shall rejoice.

65 1 A praise and thanksgiving unto God by the faithful, who are signified by Zion, 4 For the choosing, preservation, and governance of them, 9 And for the plentiful blessings poured forth upon all the earth, but especially toward his Church.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm or song of David.

1 O God, <sup>1</sup>praise waiteth for thee in Zion, and unto thee shall the vow be performed.

2 Because thou hearest the prayer, unto thee shall all <sup>1</sup>flesh come.

3 Wicked deeds <sup>1</sup>have prevailed against me: but thou wilt be merciful unto our transgressions.

4 Blessed is he, whom thou chooseth and causeth to come to thee: he shall dwell in thy courts, and we shall be satisfied with the pleasures of thine House, even of thine holy Temple.

5 O God of our salvation, thou wilt <sup>1</sup>answer us with fearful signs in thy righteousness, O thou the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are far off in the <sup>2</sup>Sea.

6 He establisheth the mountains by his power: and is girded about with strength.

7 He appeaseth the <sup>1</sup>noise of the seas, and the noise of the waves thereof, and the tumults of the people.

8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts of the earth, shall be afraid of thy signs; thou shalt make <sup>1</sup>the East and the West to rejoice.

9 Thou <sup>1</sup>visitest the earth, and waterest it; thou makest it very rich: the <sup>2</sup>river of God is full of water, thou preparest them corn; for so thou appointest <sup>3</sup>it.

10 Thou <sup>1</sup>waterest abundantly the furrows thereof; thou causeth the rain to descend into the valleys thereof; thou makest it soft with showers, and blessest the bud thereof.

11 Thou crownest the year with thy goodness, and thy steps drop fatness.

12 They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the hills shall be compassed with gladness.

13 The pastures are clad with sheep; the valleys also shall be covered with corn; therefore they shout for joy, <sup>1</sup>and sing.

66 1 He provoketh all men to praise the Lord and to consider his works. 6 He setteth forth the power of God to affray the rebels. 10 And showeth how God hath delivered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promiseth to give sacrifice, 16 And provoketh all men to hear what God hath done for him, and to praise his Name.

To him that excelleth. A song or Psalm.

1 Rejoice in God, <sup>1</sup>all ye inhabitants of the earth.

2 Sing forth the glory of his Name: make his praise glorious.

3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies be <sup>1</sup>in subjection unto thee.

4 All the world shall worship thee, and sing unto thee, even sing of thy Name. Selah.

5 <sup>1</sup>Come and behold the works of God: he is terrible in his doings toward <sup>2</sup>the sons of men.

6 He hath turned the sea into dry land: they passed through the river on foot: there did we rejoice in him.

7 He ruleth the world with his power: his eyes behold the nations: the rebellious shall not <sup>1</sup>exalt themselves. Selah.

8 Praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

64:8 <sup>1</sup> To see God's heavy judgments against them, and how he hath caught them in their own snares.

64:10 <sup>1</sup> When they shall consider that he will be favorable to them as he was to his servant David.

65:1 <sup>1</sup> Thou givest daily new occasion to thy Church to praise thee.

65:2 <sup>1</sup> Not only the Jews but also the Gentiles in the kingdom of Christ.

65:3 <sup>1</sup> He imputeth it to his sins and to the sins of the people, that God who was accustomed to assist them withdraweth his succor from them.

65:5 <sup>1</sup> Thou wilt declare thyself to be the preserver of thy Church in destroying thine enemies, as thou didst in the red Sea.

65:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there is no part nor creature in the world which is not governed by God's power and providence.

65:8 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the going forth of the morning and of the evening.

65:10 <sup>1</sup> By this description he showeth that all the order of nature is a testimony of God's love toward us, who causeth all creatures to serve our necessity.

65:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, the dumb creatures shall not only rejoice for a time for God's benefits, but shall continually sing.

66:1 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth that all nations shall come to the knowledge of God, who then was only known in Judea.

66:3 <sup>1</sup> As the faithful shall obey God willingly, so the infidels for fear shall dissemble themselves to be subject.

66:5 <sup>1</sup> He toucheth the slothful dullness of man, who is cold in the consideration of God's works.

66:7 <sup>1</sup> He proveth that God will extend his grace also to the Gentiles, because he punisheth among them such as will not obey his calling.

9 Which <sup>1</sup>holdeth our souls in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip.

10 For thou, O God, hast proved us, thou hast tried us as silver is tried.

11 Thou hast brought us unto the <sup>1</sup>snare, and laid a strait chain upon our loins.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads: we went into fire and into water, but thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.

13 I will go into thine <sup>1</sup>House with burnt offerings, and will pay thee my vows, 14 Which my lips have promised, and my mouth hath spoken in mine affliction.

15 I will offer unto thee the burnt offerings of fat rams with incense: I will prepare bullocks and goats. Selah.

16 Come and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what he hath done to my soul.

17 I called unto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 <sup>1</sup>If I regard wickedness in mine heart, the Lord will not hear me.

19 But God hath heard me, and considered the voice of my prayer.

20 Praised be God, which hath not put back my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

67 1 A prayer of the Church to obtain the favor of God and to be lightened with his countenance. 2 To the end that his way and judgment may be known throughout the earth. 7 And finally is declared the kingdom of God, which should be universally erected at the coming of Christ.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth.
A Psalm or song.

1 God be merciful unto us, and bless us, and <sup>1</sup>cause his face to shine among us. (Selah.)

2 That <sup>1</sup>they may know thy way upon earth, and thy saving health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 <sup>1</sup>Let the people be glad and rejoice: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon the earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall <sup>1</sup>the earth bring forth her increase, and God, even our God shall bless us.

7 God shall bless us, and all the ends of the earth <sup>1</sup>shall fear him.

68 1 In this Psalm David setteth forth as in a glass the wonderful mercies of God toward his people: 5 Who by all means and most strange sorts declared himself to them. 15 And therefore God's Church by reason of his promises, graces, and victories, doth excel without comparison all worldly things. 34 He exhorteth therefore all men to praise God forever.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm or song of David.

1 God <sup>1</sup>will arise, and his enemies shall be scattered: they also that hate him, shall flee before him.

2 As the smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou drive them away: and as wax melteth before the fire, so shall the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 <sup>1</sup>But the righteous shall be glad, and rejoice before God: yea, they shall leap for joy.

4 Sing unto God, and sing praises unto his name: exalt him that rideth upon the heavens, in his Name <sup>1</sup>Jah, and rejoice before him.

5 He is a Father of the fatherless, and a Judge of the widows, even God in his holy habitation.

6 God <sup>1</sup>maketh the solitary to dwell in families, and delivereth them that were prisoners in stocks: but the rebellious shall dwell in a <sup>2</sup>dry land.

7 <sup>1</sup>O God, when thou wentest forth before thy 66:9 <sup>1</sup> He signifieth some special benefit, that God had showed to his Church of the Jews, in delivering them from some great danger: whereof or of the like he promiseth that the Gentiles shall be partakers.

66:11 <sup>1</sup> The condition of the Church is here described, which is to be led by God's providence into troubles to be subject under tyrants, and to enter into manifold dangers.

66:13 <sup>1</sup> The duty of the faithful is here described, which are never unmindful to render God praise for his benefits.

66:16 <sup>1</sup> It is not enough to have received God's benefits and to be mindful thereof, but also we are bound to make others to profit thereby and praise God.

66:18 <sup>1</sup> If I delight in wickedness, God will not hear me, but if I confess it, he will receive me.

67:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, move our hearts with his holy Spirit, that we may feel his favor towards us.

67:2 <sup>1</sup> That both Jews and Gentiles may know God's covenant made with them.

67:4 <sup>1</sup> By these oft repetitions he showeth that the people can never rejoice sufficiently and give thanks for the great benefits that they shall receive under the kingdom of Christ.

67:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that where God favoreth, there shall be abundance of all other things.

67:7 <sup>1</sup> When they feel his great benefits both spiritual and corporal toward them.

68:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth that albeit God suffereth the wicked tyrants to oppress his Church for a time, yet at length he will be revenged of them.

68:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commodity and salvation of his Church, which praise him therefore.

68:4 <sup>1</sup> Yah and Jehovah are the names of God, which do signify his essence and majesty incomprehensible, so that hereby is declared that all idols are but vanity, and that the God of Israel is the only true God.

68:6 <sup>1</sup> He giveth children to them that be childless, and increaseth their families.

68:7 <sup>1</sup> He teacheth that God's favor peculiarly belongeth to his Church, as appeareth by their wonderful deliverance out of Egypt.

people: when thou wentest through the wilderness, (Selah.)

8 The earth shook, and the heavens dropped at the presence of this God: even Sinai was moved at the presence of God, even the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sentest a gracious rain upon thine inheritance, and thou didst refresh it when it was weary.

10 Thy Congregation dwelled therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy <sup>1</sup>goodness prepared it for the poor.

11 The Lord gave matter to the <sup>1</sup>women to tell of the great army.

12 Kings of the armies did flee: they did flee, and <sup>1</sup>she that remained in the house, divided the spoil.

13 Though ye have lain among <sup>1</sup>pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove that is covered with silver, and whose feathers are like yellow gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered kings <sup>1</sup>in it, it was white as the snow in Zalmon.

15 <sup>1</sup>The mountain of God is like the mountain of Bashan: it is an high mountain, as mount Bashan.

16 <sup>1</sup>Why leap ye, ye high mountains? as for this Mountain, God delighteth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord will dwell in it forever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand thousand Angels, and the Lord is among them, as in the Sanctuary of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone up on high: thou hast <sup>1</sup>led captivity captive, and received gifts for men: yea, even the rebellious hast thou led, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Praise be the Lord, even the God of our salvation, which ladeth us daily with benefits. Selah.

20 This is our God, even the God that saveth us: and to the Lord God belong the <sup>1</sup>issues of death.

21 Surely God will wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy pate of him that walketh in his sins.

22 The Lord hath said, I will bring my people again from <sup>1</sup>Bashan: I will bring them again from the depths of the Sea:

23 That thy foot may be dipped in blood, and the tongue of thy dogs in the blood of the enemies, even in <sup>1</sup>it.

24 They have seen, O God, thy <sup>1</sup>goings, the goings of my God, and my king, which art in the Sanctuary.

25 The <sup>1</sup>singers went before, the players of instruments after: in the midst were the maids playing with timbrels.

26 Praise ye God in the assemblies, and the Lord, ye that are of the fountain <sup>1</sup>of Israel.

27 There was <sup>1</sup>little Benjamin with their <sup>2</sup>ruler, and the Princes of Judah with their assembly, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy GOD hath appointed thy strength: establish, O God, that which thou first wrought in us, 29 <sup>1</sup>Out of thy Temple upon Jerusalem, and kings shall bring presents unto thee.

30 Destroy the company of the spearmen, and multitude of the mighty bulls with the calves of the people, that <sup>1</sup>tread under feet pieces of silver: scatter the people that delight in war.

31 Then shall the princes come out <sup>1</sup>of Egypt: Ethiopia shall haste to stretch her hands unto God.

32 Sing unto God, O ye kingdoms of the earth: sing praise unto the Lord, (Selah)

33 To him that rideth upon the most high heavens, which were from the beginning: behold, he will send out by his <sup>1</sup>voice a mighty sound.

34 Ascribe the power to God: for his majesty is upon Israel, and his strength is in the clouds.

68:10 <sup>1</sup> God blessed the land of Canaan, because he had chosen that place for his Church.

68:11 <sup>1</sup> The fashion then was that women sang songs after the victory, as Miriam, Deborah, Judith, and others.

68:12 <sup>1</sup> The prey was so great, that not only the soldiers, but women also had part thereof.

68:13 <sup>1</sup> Though God suffer his Church for a time to lie in black darkness, yet he will restore it, and make it most shining and white.

68:14 <sup>1</sup> In the land of Canaan, where his Church was.

68:15 <sup>1</sup> Zion the Church of God, doth excel all worldly things, not in pomp and outward show, but by the inward grace of God, which there remaineth, because of his dwelling there.

68:16 <sup>1</sup> Why boast ye of your strength and beauty against this Mountain of God?

68:18 <sup>1</sup> As God overcame the enemies of his Church, took them prisoners, and made them tributaries: so Christ, which is God manifested in the flesh, subdued Satan and sin under us, and gave unto his Church most liberal gifts of his Spirit, Eph. 4:8.

68:20 <sup>1</sup> In most extreme dangers God hath infinite ways to deliver his.

68:22 <sup>1</sup> As he delivered his Church once from Og of Bashan, and other tyrants, and from the danger of the red Sea, so will he still do as oft as necessity requireth.

68:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, in the blood of that great slaughter, where dogs shall lap blood.

68:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, how thou which art chief King goest out with thy people to war, and givest them the victory.

68:25 <sup>1</sup> He describeth the order of the people, when they went to the Temple to give thanks for the victory.

68:26 <sup>1</sup> Which come of the Patriarch Jacob.

68:27 <sup>1</sup> Benjamin is called little, because he was the youngest son of Jacob.

68:29 <sup>1</sup> Declare out of thine holy palace thy power for the defense of thy Church Jerusalem.

68:30 <sup>1</sup> He desireth that the pride of the mighty may be destroyed, which accustomed to garnish their shoes with silver, and therefore for their glittering pomp thought themselves above all men.

68:31 <sup>1</sup> He prophecieth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge and worship of God.

68:33 <sup>1</sup> By his terrible thunders he will make himself to be known the God of all the world.

35 O God, thou art <sup>1</sup>terrible out of thine holy <sup>2</sup>places: the God of Israel is he that giveth strength and power unto the people: praised be God.

69 <sup>1</sup> The complaints, prayers, fervent zeal and great anguish of David is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his members. 21 The malicious cruelty of the enemies. 22 And their punishment also. 26 Where Judas and such traitors are accused. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction, and offereth praises unto God. 32 Which are more acceptable than all sacrifices: whereof all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally, he doth provoke all creatures to praises, prophesying of the kingdom of Christ, and the preservation of the Church, where all the faithful, 27 And their seed shall dwell forever.

To him that excelleth upon <sup>1</sup>Shoshannim.
A Psalm of David.

1 Save me, O God: for the <sup>1</sup>waters are entered even to my soul.

2 I stick fast in the deep mire, where no <sup>1</sup>stay is: I am come into deep waters, and the streams run over me.

3 I am weary of crying: my throat is dry: mine <sup>1</sup>eyes fail, while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, and are mine enemies <sup>1</sup>falsely, are mighty, so that I restored that which I <sup>2</sup>took not.

5 O God, thou knowest my <sup>1</sup>foolishness, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed for <sup>1</sup>me: let not those that seek thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake have I suffered reproof: shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren, even an alien unto my mother's sons.

9 <sup>1</sup>For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen upon me.

10 I <sup>1</sup>wept and my soul fasted, but that was to my reproof.

11 I put on a sack also: and I became a proverb unto them.

12 They that <sup>1</sup>sat in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer unto thee in an <sup>1</sup>acceptable time, even in the multitude of thy mercy: O God, hear me in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, that I sink not: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the <sup>1</sup>deep waters.

15 Let not the water flood drown me, neither let the deep swallow me up: and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O Lord, for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And <sup>1</sup>hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble; make haste and hear me.

18 Draw near unto my soul and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproof and my shame, and my dishonor: all mine <sup>1</sup>adversaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heaviness, and <sup>1</sup>I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gave me gall in my meat, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their <sup>1</sup>table be a snare before them, and their prosperity their ruin.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that they see not: and make their <sup>1</sup>loins always to tremble.

24 Pour out thine anger upon them, and let thy wrathful displeasure take them.

68:35 <sup>1</sup> In showing fearful judgments against thine enemies for the salvation of thy people.

69:Title <sup>1</sup> Of Shoshannim, read Ps. 45.

69:1 <sup>1</sup> David signifieth by the waters, in what great dangers he was, out of the which God did deliver him.

69:2 <sup>1</sup> No firmity of stableness to settle my feet.

69:3 <sup>1</sup> Though his senses failed him, yet his faith was constant and encouraged him still to pray.

69:4 <sup>1</sup> Condemning me guiltless.

<sup>2</sup> They judged me poor innocent as a thief, and gave my goods to others, as though I had stolen them.

69:5 <sup>1</sup> Though I be guilty to theeward, yet am I innocent toward them.

69:6 <sup>1</sup> Let not mine evil entreaty of the enemies be an occasion, that the faithful fall from thee.

69:9 <sup>1</sup> When I saw thine enemies pretend thy Name only in mouth, and in their life deny the same, thine holy Spirit, thrust me forward, to reprove them and defend thy glory.

69:10 <sup>1</sup> My zeal moved me to lament and pray for my salvation.

69:12 <sup>1</sup> The more he sought to win them to God, the more they were against him both poor and rich.

69:13 <sup>1</sup> Knowing that albeit I suffer now trouble, yet thou hast a time wherein thou hast appointed my deliverance.

69:14 <sup>1</sup> He showeth a lively faith, in that that he assureth himself, that God is favorable to him, when he seemeth to be angry: and at hand when he seemeth to be far off.

69:17 <sup>1</sup> Not that he feared that God would not hear him, but that care made him to think that God deferred long.

69:19 <sup>1</sup> Thou seest that I am beset as a sheep among many wolves.

69:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is in vain to put our trust in men in our great necessities, but that our comfort only dependeth of God: for man rather increaseth our sorrows, than diminisheth them, John 19:29.

69:22 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God to execute his judgments against the reprobate, which cannot by any means be turned, Rom. 11:9.

69:23 <sup>1</sup> Take both judgment and power from them, Acts 1:20.

25 Let their <sup>1</sup>habitation be void, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whom thou hast smitten: and they add unto the sorrow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

27 Lay <sup>1</sup>iniquity upon their iniquity, and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be put out of the <sup>1</sup>book of life, neither let them be written with the righteous.

29 When I am poor and in heaviness, thine help, O God, shall exalt me.

30 I will praise the Name of God with a song, and magnify him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the Lord better than a <sup>1</sup>young bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The humble shall see this, and they that seek God shall be glad, and your heart shall live.

33 For the Lord heareth the poor, and despiseth not his <sup>1</sup>prisoners.

34 Let heaven and earth praise him: the seas and all that moveth in them.

35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah, that men may dwell there and have it in possession.

36 The <sup>1</sup>seed also of his servants shall inherit it: and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

70 1 He prayeth to be right speedily delivered. 2 He desireth the shame of his enemies, 4 And the joyful comfort of all those that seek the Lord.

To him that excelleth.

A Psalm of David, to put <sup>1</sup>in remembrance.

1 O <sup>4</sup>God, <sup>1</sup>haste thee to deliver me: make haste to help me, O Lord.

2 Let them be <sup>1</sup>confounded and put to shame, that seek my soul: let them be turned backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

<sup>a</sup>Ps. 40:13

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their <sup>1</sup>shame, which say, Aha, aha.

4 But let all those that seek thee, be joyful and glad in thee, and let all that love thy salvation, say always, God be praised.

5 Now I am <sup>1</sup>poor and needy: O God, make haste to me: thou art my helper, and my deliverer: O Lord, make no tarrying.

71 He prayeth in faith, established by the word of promise, 5 And confirmed by the work of God from his youth. 10 He complaineth of the cruelty of his enemies, 17 And desireth God to continue his graces toward him, 22 Promising to be mindful and thankful for the same.

1 In <sup>a-1</sup>thee, O Lord, I trust: let me never be ashamed.

2 Rescue me and deliver me in thy <sup>1</sup>righteousness: incline thine ear unto me and save me.

3 Be thou my strong rock, whereunto I may always resort: thou <sup>1</sup>hast given commandment to save me: for thou art my rock, and my fortress.

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand <sup>1</sup>of the wicked: out of the hand of the evil and cruel man.

5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, even my <sup>1</sup>trust from my youth.

6 Upon thee have I been stayed from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praise shall be always of thee.

7 I am become as it were a <sup>1</sup>monster unto many: but thou art my sure trust.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy glory every day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of <sup>1</sup>age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speak of me, and they that lay wait for my soul, take their counsel together,

11 Saying, <sup>1</sup>God hath forsaken him: pursue and 69:25 <sup>1</sup> Punish not only them, but their posterity, which shall be like unto them.

69:27 <sup>1</sup> By their continuance and increasing in their sins, let it be known that they be of the reprobate.

69:28 <sup>1</sup> They which seemed by their profession to have been written in thy book, yet by their fruits prove the contrary, let them be known as reprobate.

69:31 <sup>1</sup> There is no sacrifice, which God more esteemeth, than thanksgiving for his benefits.

69:33 <sup>1</sup> For as he delivered his servant David, so will he do all that are in distress, and call upon him.

69:36 <sup>1</sup> Under the temporal promise of the land of Canaan, he comprehendeth the promise of life everlasting to the faithful and their posterity.

70:Title <sup>1</sup> Which might put him in remembrance of his deliverance.

70:1 <sup>1</sup> He teacheth us to be earnest in prayer, though God seem to stay: for at his time he will hear us.

70:2 <sup>1</sup> He was assured that the more they raged, the nearer they were to destruction, and he the nearer to his deliverance.

70:3 <sup>1</sup> Hereby we are taught not to mock at others in their misery, lest the same fall on our own necks.

70:5 <sup>1</sup> Because he had felt God's help before, he groundeth on experience, and boldly seeketh unto him for succor.

71:1 <sup>1</sup> He prayeth to God with full assurance of faith, that he will deliver him from his adversaries.

71:2 <sup>1</sup> By declaring thyself true of promise.

71:3 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast infinite means, and all creatures are at thy commandment: therefore show some sign, whereby I shall be delivered.

71:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, from Absalom, Ahithophel and that conspiracy.

71:5 <sup>1</sup> He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of God's benefits, who did not only preserve him in his mother's belly, but took him thence, and ever since hath preserved him.

71:7 <sup>1</sup> All the world wondereth at me because of my miseries: as well they in authority as the common people, yet being assured of thy favor, I remained steadfast.

71:9 <sup>1</sup> Thou that didst help me in my youth, when I had more strength, help me now so much the more in mine old age and weakness.

71:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked both blaspheme God, and triumph against his Saints, as though he had forsaken them, if he suffer them to fall into their hands.

take him, for there is none to deliver him.

12 Go not far from me, O God: <sup>1</sup>my God haste thee to help me.

13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are against my soul: let them be covered with reproof and confusion, that seek mine hurt.

14 But I will wait continually, and will praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall daily rehearse thy righteousness, and thy salvation: <sup>1</sup>for I know not the number.

16 I will <sup>1</sup>go forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth even until now: therefore will I tell of thy wondrous works,

18 <sup>1</sup>Yea even unto mine old age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, until I have declared thine arm unto this generation, and thy power to all them that shall come.

19 And thy <sup>1</sup>righteousness, O God, I will exalt on high: for thou hast done great things: <sup>2</sup>O God, who is like unto thee!

20 Which has showed me great troubles and <sup>1</sup>adversities, but thou wilt return and revive me, and wilt come again, and take me up from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honor, and return and comfort me.

22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy <sup>1</sup>faithfulness, O God, upon instrument and viol: unto thee will I sing upon the harp, O Holy one of Israel.

23 My lips will rejoice when I sing unto thee, and my <sup>1</sup>soul which thou hast delivered.

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness daily: for they are confounded and brought unto shame, that seek mine hurt.

1 Give thy <sup>1</sup>judgments to the King, O God, and thy righteousness to the King's <sup>2</sup>son.

2 Then shall he judge thy people in righteousness, and thy poor with equity.

3 The <sup>1</sup>mountains, and the hills shall bring peace to the people by justice.

4 He shall <sup>1</sup>judge the poor of the people: he shall save the children of the needy, and shall subdue the oppressor.

5 They shall <sup>1</sup>fear thee as long as the sun and moon endureth, from generation to generation.

6 He shall come <sup>1</sup>down like the rain upon the mown grass, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shall be so long as the moon endureth.

8 His dominion shall be also from <sup>1</sup>sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the land.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness, shall kneel before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of <sup>1</sup>Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings <sup>2</sup>of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serve him.

12 For he shall deliver the poor when he crieth: the needy also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall be merciful to the poor and needy, and shall preserve the souls of the poor.

14 He shall redeem their souls from deceit and violence, and <sup>1</sup>dear shall their blood be in his sight.

71:12 <sup>1</sup>In calling him his God, he putteth back the false reports of the adversaries, that said, God had forsaken him.

71:15 <sup>1</sup>Because thy benefits toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate and rehearse them.

71:16 <sup>1</sup>I will remain steadfast, being upholden with the power of God.

71:18 <sup>1</sup>He desireth that as he hath begun, he would so continue his benefits, that his liberality may have perfect praise.

71:19 <sup>1</sup>Thy just performance of thy promise.

<sup>2</sup>His faith breaketh through all tentations, and by this exclamation he praiseth the power of God.

71:20 <sup>1</sup>As he confesseth that God is the only author of his deliverance: so he acknowledgeth that these evils were sent unto him by God's providence.

71:22 <sup>1</sup>He confesseth that his long tarrance was well recompensed, when God performed his promise.

71:23 <sup>1</sup>For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart: and therefore he promiseth to delight in nothing, but wherein God be glorified.

72:Title <sup>1</sup>Composed by David as touching the reign of his son Solomon.

72:1 <sup>1</sup>Endue the king with the Spirit of wisdom and justice, that he reign not as do the worldly tyrants.

72:3 <sup>1</sup>When justice reigneth, even the places most barren shall be enriched with thy blessings.

72:4 <sup>1</sup>He showeth wherefore the sword is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppress the wicked.

72:5 <sup>1</sup>The people shall embrace thy true religion, when thou givest a King that ruleth according to thy word.

72:6 <sup>1</sup>As this is true in all godly kings, so it is chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heavenly dew, maketh his Church ever to flourish.

72:8 <sup>1</sup>That is, from the red sea to the sea called Syriacum, and from Euphrates forward, meaning, that Christ's Kingdom should be large and universal.

72:10 <sup>1</sup>Of Cilicia, and of all other countries, beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the isles.

72:14 <sup>1</sup>Though tyrants pass not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preserve his subjects from all kind of wrong.

15 Yea, he shall live, and unto him shall they give of the <sup>1</sup>gold of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and daily bless him.

16 An handful of corn shall be sown in the earth, even in the top of the mountains, and the <sup>1</sup>fruit thereof shalt shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall flourish out of the city like the grass of the earth.

17 His name shall be forever: his name shall endure as long as the Sun: all nations shall bless <sup>1</sup>him, and be blessed in him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of Israel which only doeth <sup>1</sup>wondrous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious Name forever: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, even so be it.

73 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperity of the ungodly, <sup>14</sup> nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage God's children: but rather ought to move us to consider our Father's providence, and to cause us to reverence God's judgments, <sup>19</sup> forasmuch as the wicked vanish away, <sup>24</sup> and the godly enter into life everlasting, <sup>28</sup> in hope whereof he resigneth himself into God's hands.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 Yet <sup>1</sup>God is good to Israel: even to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well near slipped.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are <sup>1</sup>no bands in their death, but they are lusty and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 <sup>1</sup>Therefore pride is as a chain unto them, and cruelty covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatness: <sup>1</sup>they have more than heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, and speak wickedly of their oppression: they talk presumptuously.

9 They <sup>1</sup>set their mouth against heaven, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his <sup>1</sup>people turn hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they <sup>1</sup>say, How doth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Lo these are the wicked, yet prosper they always, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I have cleansed mine heart in vain, and washed mine hands in innocency.

14 For daily have I been punished, and chastened every morning.

15 If I say, <sup>1</sup>I will judge thus, behold the generation of thy children, I have trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painful for me,

17 Until I went into the <sup>1</sup>Sanctuary of God: then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, and castest them down into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and <sup>1</sup>horribly consumed,

20 As a dream when one awaketh! O Lord, when <sup>1</sup>thou raisest us up, thou shalt make their image despired.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a <sup>1</sup>beast before thee.

23 Yet I was always <sup>1</sup>with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

72:15 <sup>1</sup> God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

72:16 <sup>1</sup> Under such a king shall be most great plenty, both of fruit and also of the increase of mankind.

72:17 <sup>1</sup> They shall pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doth prosper them for his sake.

72:18 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth that except God miraculously preserve his people, that neither the king nor the kingdom can continue.

72:20 <sup>1</sup> Concerning his son Solomon.

73:1 <sup>1</sup> As it were between hope and despair he bursteth forth into this affection, being assured that God would continue his favor toward such as were godly indeed, and not hypocrites.

73:4 <sup>1</sup> The wicked in this life live at pleasure and are not drawn to death like prisoners: that is, by sickness which is death's messenger.

73:6 <sup>1</sup> They glory in their pride as some do in their chains, and in cruelty, as some do in apparel.

73:7 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, they pass the desires of the heart.

73:9 <sup>1</sup> They blaspheme God, and fear not his power and rail upon men, because they esteem themselves above all others.

73:10 <sup>1</sup> Not only the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall back, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorrows, thinking that God considereth not aright the estate of the godly.

73:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus the flesh moveth even the godly to dispute with God touching their poor estate, and the prosperity of the wicked.

73:15 <sup>1</sup> If I give place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposeth all things most wisely and preservest thy children in their greatest dangers.

73:17 <sup>1</sup> Until I entered into thy school and learned by thy word and holy Spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely and justly.

73:19 <sup>1</sup> By thy fearful judgment.

73:20 <sup>1</sup> When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heavenly felicity, we contemn all their vain pomp.

73:22 <sup>1</sup> For the more that man goeth about by his own reason to seek out God's judgments, the more doth he declare himself a beast.

73:23 <sup>1</sup> By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch always over me, to preserve me.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom have I in <sup>1</sup>heaven but thee? and I have desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my <sup>1</sup>portion forever.

27 For lo, that they withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that <sup>1</sup>go a whoring from thee.

28 As for me, it is good for me <sup>1</sup>to draw near to God: therefore I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

A Psalm to give instruction, committed to Asaph.

1 O God, <sup>1</sup>why hast thou put us away forever? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Think upon the congregation, which thou hast possessed of old, and on the <sup>1</sup>rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy <sup>1</sup>strokes, that thou mayest forever destroy every enemy that doeth evil to the Sanctuary.

4 Thine adversaries roar in the midst of thy congregation, and <sup>1</sup>set up their banners for signs.

5 He that <sup>1</sup>lifted the axes upon the thick trees, was renowned as one that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast thy Sanctuary into the fire, and razed it to the ground, and have defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their <sup>1</sup>hearts, Let us destroy them altogether: they have burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with us that knoweth <sup>1</sup>how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach thee? shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name forever?

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, even thy right hand? draw it out of thy bosom, and <sup>1</sup>consume them.

12 Even God is my king of old, working salvation <sup>1</sup>in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the <sup>1</sup>dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of <sup>1</sup>Leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be <sup>2</sup>meat for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest up the fountain and river: thou driest up mighty rivers.

16 The <sup>1</sup>day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sun.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Summer and Winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Give not the soul of thy <sup>1</sup>turtle dove unto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poor forever.

20 Consider thy covenant: for <sup>1</sup>the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruel.

21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed, but let the poor and needy praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintain thy <sup>1</sup>own cause: remember thy daily reproach by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: for the tumult of them that rise against thee, <sup>1</sup>ascendeth continually.

73:25 <sup>1</sup> He sought neither help nor comfort of any save of God only.

73:26 <sup>1</sup> He teacheth us to deny ourselves, to have God our whole sufficiency, and only contentment.

73:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, forsake thee to seek others.

73:28 <sup>1</sup> Though all the world shrink from God, yet he promiseth to trust in him and to magnify his works.

74:1 <sup>1</sup> The Church of God being oppressed by the tyranny, either of the Babylonians or of Antiochus, prayeth to God by whose hand this yoke was laid upon them for their sins.

74:2 <sup>1</sup> Which inheritance thou hast measured out for thyself as with a line or rod.

74:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, feet.

74:4 <sup>1</sup> They have destroyed thy true religion, and spread their banners in sign of defiance.

74:5 <sup>1</sup> He commendeth the temple for the costly matter, the excellent workmanship, and beauty thereof, which notwithstanding the enemies did destroy.

74:8 <sup>1</sup> They encouraged one another to cruelty, that not only God's people might be destroyed, but also his religion utterly in all places suppressed.

74:9 <sup>1</sup> They lament that they have no Prophet among them to show them how long their misery should endure.

74:11 <sup>1</sup> They join their deliverance with God's glory and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemy should be their deliverance.

74:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in the sight of all the world.

74:13 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Pharaoh's army.

74:14 <sup>1</sup> Which was a great monster of the sea, or whale, meaning, Pharaoh.

74:16 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that God by his providence governeth and disposeth all things, he gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children.

74:19 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth the Church of God, which is exposed as a prey to the wicked.

74:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, all places where thy word shineth not, there reigneth tyranny and ambition.

74:22 <sup>1</sup> He sheweth that God cannot suffer his Church to be oppressed, except he loose his own right.

74:23 <sup>1</sup> Or, increaseth more and more.

75 1 The faithful do praise the Name of the Lord, 2 Which shall come to judge at the time appointed: 8 When the wicked shall be put to confusion, and drink of the cup of his wrath. 10 Their pride shall be abated, and the righteous shall be exalted to honor.

To him that excelleth. <sup>1</sup>Destroy not.
A Psalm, or song committed to Asaph.

1 We will praise thee, O God, we will praise thee, for thy Name is near: therefore <sup>1</sup>they will declare thy wondrous works.

2 <sup>1</sup>When I shall take a convenient time, I will judge righteously.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: but I will establish the pillars <sup>1</sup>of it. Selah.

4 I said unto the foolish, Be not so foolish, and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn.

5 Lift not up your <sup>1</sup>horn on high, neither speak with a stiff neck.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South,

7 But God is the judge: he maketh low, and he maketh high.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a <sup>1</sup>cup, and the wine is red: it is full mixed, and he poureth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wring out and drink the dregs thereof.

9 But I will declare forever, and sing praises unto the God of Jacob.

10 All the horns of the wicked also will I break: but the horns of the <sup>1</sup>righteous shall be exalted.

76 1 This Psalm setteth forth the power of God, and care for the defense of his people in Jerusalem, in the destruction of the army of Sennacherib: 11 and exhorteth the faithful to be thankful for the same.

<sup>a</sup>Ps. 39
<sup>1</sup>Chron. 16:41

To him that excelleth on Neginoth.
A Psalm, or song committed to Asaph.

1 God is <sup>1</sup>known in Judah: his Name is great in Israel.

2 For in <sup>1</sup>Salem is his Tabernacle, and his dwelling in Zion.

3 There brake he the arrows of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah.

4 Thou art more bright and puissant, than <sup>1</sup>the mountains of prey.

5 The stouthearted are spoiled: they have slept their sleep, and all the men of strength have not <sup>1</sup>found their hands.

6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and horse are cast asleep.

7 Thou, even thou art to be feared; and who shall stand in thy <sup>1</sup>sight, when thou art angry!

8 Thou didst cause thy judgment to be heard from heaven; therefore the earth feared, and was still,

9 When thou, O God, arose to judgment, to <sup>1</sup>help all the meek of the earth. Selah.

10 Surely the <sup>1</sup>rage of man shall turn to thy praise; the remnant of the rage shalt thou restrain.

11 Vow and perform unto the Lord your God, all ye that be <sup>1</sup>round about him; let them bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

12 He shall <sup>1</sup>cut off the spirit of princes; he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

77 1 The Prophet in the Name of the Church rehearseth the greatness of his affliction, and his grievous temptations, 6 Whereby he was driven to this end to consider his former conversation, 11 and the continual course of God's works in the preservation of his servants, and so he confirmeth his faith against these temptations.

For the excellent Musician <sup>a</sup>Jeduthun.
A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 My <sup>1</sup>voice came to God, when I cried: my voice came to God; and he heard me.

75:Title <sup>1</sup> Read Ps. 57:1.

75:1 <sup>1</sup> He declareth how the faithful shall ever have just occasion to praise God, forasmuch as in their need they shall feel his power at hand to help them.

75:2 <sup>1</sup> When I see my time (saith God) to help your miseries, I will come and set all things in good order.

75:3 <sup>1</sup> Though all things be brought to ruin, yet I can restore and preserve them.

75:5 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet warneth the wicked that they would not set themselves against God's people, seeing that God at his time destroyeth them that rule wickedly.

75:8 <sup>1</sup> God's wrath is compared to a cup of strong and delicate wine, wherewith the wicked are made so drunk, that by drinking till they come to the very dregs they are utterly destroyed.

75:10 <sup>1</sup> The godly shall better prosper by their innocent simplicity, than the wicked shall by all their craft and subtlety.

76:1 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that God's power is evidently seen in preserving his people and destroying his enemies.

76:2 <sup>1</sup> Which afterward was called Jerusalem.

76:4 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the kingdoms full of extortion and rapine to the mountains that are full of ravening beasts.

76:5 <sup>1</sup> God hath taken their spirits and strength from them as though their hands were cut off.

76:7 <sup>1</sup> God with a look is able to destroy all the power and activity of the enemies, were they never so many, or mighty.

76:9 <sup>1</sup> To revenge the wrongs done to thy Church.

76:10 <sup>1</sup> For the end shall show that the enemy was able to bring nothing to pass: also thou shalt bridle their rage that they shall not compass their purpose.

76:11 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Levites, that dwell about the Tabernacle, or the people among whom he doth dwell.

76:12 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word signifieth to vintage, or gather grapes: meaning, that he shall make the counsels and enterprises of wicked tyrants foolish and vain.

77:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet teacheth us by his example to flee unto God for help in our necessities.

2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: <sup>1</sup>my sore ran and ceased not in the night: my soul refused comfort.

3 I did think upon God, and was <sup>1</sup>troubled: I prayed, and my spirit was full of anguish. Selah.

4 Thou keepest mine eyes <sup>1</sup>waking: I was astonished, and could not speak.

5 Then I considered the days of old: and the years of ancient time.

6 I called to remembrance my <sup>1</sup>song in the night: I communed with mine own heart, and my spirit searched <sup>2</sup>diligently.

7 Will the Lord absent himself forever? and will he show no more favor?

8 Is his <sup>1</sup>mercy clean gone forever? doth his promise fail forevermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be merciful? hath he shut up his tender mercies in displeasure? Selah.

10 And I said, This is my <sup>1</sup>death: yet I remembered the years of the right hand of the most High.

11 I remembered the works of the Lord: certainly I remembered thy wonders of old.

12 I did also meditate all thy works, and did devise of thine acts, saying,

13 Thy way, O God, is <sup>1</sup>in the Sanctuary: who is so great a <sup>2</sup>God, as our God!

14 Thou art the God that doest wonders; thou hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arm, even the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.

16 The <sup>1</sup>waters saw thee, O God: the waters saw thee, and were afraid: yea, the depths trembled.

17 The clouds poured out water: the heavens gave a <sup>1</sup>sound: yea, thine arrows went abroad.

18 The voice of thy thunder was round about; the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shook.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in the great waters, and thy footsteps are not <sup>1</sup>known.

20 Thou didst lead thy people like sheep by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

78 1 He showeth how God of his mercy chose his Church of the posterity of Abraham, 8 Reproaching the stubborn rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not only understand. 11 That God of his free mercy made his Covenant with their ancestors, 17 But also seeing them so malicious and perverse, might be ashamed, and so turn wholly to God. In this Psalm the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were, the sum of all God's benefits, to the intent the ignorant and gross people might see in few words the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.

A Psalm to give <sup>1</sup>instruction, committed to Asaph.

1 Hear my <sup>1</sup>doctrine, O my people: incline your ears unto the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of old.

3 Which we have heard and known, and our <sup>1</sup>fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come we will show the praise of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderful works that he hath done:

5 How he established a <sup>1</sup>testimony in Jacob, and ordained a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the <sup>1</sup>posterity might know it, and the children, which should be born, should stand up, and declare it to their children.

7 That they might <sup>1</sup>set their hope on God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments:

8 And not to be as their <sup>1</sup>fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not

77:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, mine hand was stretched out.

77:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we must patiently abide, although God deliver us not out of our troubles at the first cry.

77:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that his sorrows were as watchmen that kept his eyes from sleeping.

77:6 <sup>1</sup> Of thanksgiving, which I was accustomed to sing in my prosperity.

<sup>2</sup> Both the causes why I was chastened, and when my sorrows should have an end.

77:8 <sup>1</sup> As if he should say, It is impossible: whereby he exhorteth himself to patience.

77:10 <sup>1</sup> Though I first doubted of my life, yet considering that God had his years, that is, change of times, and was accustomed also to lift up them, whom he hath beaten, I took heart again.

77:13 <sup>1</sup> That is in heaven, whereunto we must ascend by faith, if we will know the ways of God.

<sup>2</sup> He condemneth all that worship anything save the only true God, whose glory appeareth through the world.

77:16 <sup>1</sup> He declareth wherein the power of God was declared when he delivered the Israelites through the red sea.

77:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, thundered and lightninged.

77:19 <sup>1</sup> For when thou hadst brought over thy people, the water returned to her course, and the enemies that thought to have followed them, could not pass through, Exod. 14:28, 29.

78:Title <sup>1</sup> Read Ps. 32.

78:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet under the name of a teacher calleth the people his, and the doctrine his, as Paul calleth the Gospel his, whereof he was but the preacher, as Rom. 2:16 and 16:25.

78:3 <sup>1</sup> Which were the people of God.

78:5 <sup>1</sup> By the testimony, and law, he meaneth the law written, which they were commanded to teach their children, Deut. 6:7.

78:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth wherein the children should be like their fathers: that is, in maintaining God's pure Religion.

78:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth wherein the use of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of God's benefits, and in obedience.

78:8 <sup>1</sup> Though these fathers were the seed of Abraham and the chosen people, yet he showeth by their rebellion, provocation, falsehood, and hypocrisy, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful unto God.

9 The children of <sup>1</sup>Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bow, turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the Covenant of God, but refused to walk in his Law,

11 And forgate his acts, and his wonderful works that he had showed them.

12 He did marvelous things in the sight of their <sup>1</sup>fathers in the land of Egypt; even in the field of Zoan.

13 <sup>a</sup>He divided the Sea, and led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heap.

14 <sup>b</sup>In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 <sup>c</sup>He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as of the great depths.

16 <sup>d</sup>He brought floods also out of the stony rock, so that he made the waters to descend like the rivers.

17 Yet they <sup>1</sup>sinned still against him, and provoked the Highest in the wilderness, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in <sup>1</sup>requiring meat for their lust.

19 <sup>e</sup>They spake against God also, saying, Can God <sup>1</sup>prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 <sup>f</sup>Behold, he smote the rock, that the water gushed out, and the streams overflowed: can he give bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry, and the <sup>g</sup>fire was kindled in Jacob, and also wrath came upon Israel, 22 Because they believed not in God, and <sup>1</sup>trusted not in his help.

23 Yet he had commanded the <sup>1</sup>clouds above, and had opened the doors of heaven, 24 And had rained down Manna upon them for to eat, and had given them of the wheat of heaven.

25 <sup>h</sup>Man did eat the bread of Angels: he sent them meat enough.

26 He caused the <sup>1</sup>East wind to pass in the heaven: and through his power he brought in the South wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and feathered fowl as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in the midst of their camp, even round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their <sup>1</sup>lusts, but the meat was yet in their mouths,

31 When the wrath of God came even upon them, and slew <sup>1</sup>the strongest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel.

32 For all this they <sup>1</sup>sinned still, and believed not his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years hastily.

34 And when he <sup>1</sup>slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God early.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their <sup>1</sup>heart was not upright with him: neither were they faithful in his covenant.

38 Yet he being merciful, <sup>1</sup>forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not, but oft times called back his anger, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were flesh: yea, a wind that passeth and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness? and grieve him in the desert?

41 Yea, they <sup>1</sup>returned and tempted God, and <sup>2</sup>limited the Holy one of Israel.

42 They <sup>1</sup>remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy,

43 Nor him that set his signs in Egypt, and his 78:9 <sup>1</sup> By Ephraim he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were unfaithful to God, and by their multitude and authority had corrupt all others.

78:12 <sup>1</sup> He proveth that not only the posterity but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God.

78:17 <sup>1</sup> Their wicked malice could be overcome by no benefits, which were great and many.

78:18 <sup>1</sup> Then to require more than is necessary, and to separate God's power from his will, is to tempt God.

78:19 <sup>1</sup> Thus when we give place to sin, we are moved to doubt of God's power, except he will always be ready to serve our lust.

78:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, in his fatherly providence, whereby he careth for his, and provideth sufficiently.

78:23 <sup>1</sup> So that they had that, which was necessary and sufficient: but their lust made them to covet that which they knew God had denied them.

78:26 <sup>1</sup> God used the means of the wind to teach them that all elements were at his commandment, and that no distance or place could let his working.

78:30 <sup>1</sup> Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath, the more it lusteth.

78:31 <sup>1</sup> Though others were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God.

78:32 <sup>1</sup> Thus sin by continuance maketh man insensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended.

78:34 <sup>1</sup> Such was their hypocrisy, that they sought unto God for fear of punishment, though in their heart they loved him not.

78:37 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever cometh not from the pure fountain of the heart, is hypocrisy.

78:38 <sup>1</sup> Because he would ever have some remnant of a Church to praise his Name in earth, he suffered not their sins to overcome his mercy.

78:41 <sup>1</sup> That is, they tempted him oft times.

78:42 <sup>1</sup> The forgetfulness of God's benefits is the root of rebellion and all vice.

wonders in the field of Zoan,

44 And turned their rivers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drink.

45 He sent <sup>1</sup>a swarm of flies among them, which devoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them.

46 He <sup>1</sup>gave also their fruits unto the caterpillar, and their labor unto the grasshopper.

47 He destroyed their vines with hail, and their wild fig trees with the hailstone.

48 He gave their cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to the thunderbolts.

49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of <sup>1</sup>evil angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life to the pestilence,

51 And smote all the firstborn in Egypt, even the <sup>1</sup>beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of <sup>2</sup>Ham.

52 But he made his people to go out like sheep, and led them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 Yea, he carried them out safely, and they <sup>1</sup>feared not, and the Sea covered their enemies.

54 And he brought them unto the borders of his <sup>1</sup>Sanctuary: even to this Mountain which his right hand purchased.

55 <sup>1</sup>He cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies,

57 But turned back, and dealt <sup>1</sup>falsely like their fathers: they turned like a deceitful bow.

58 And they <sup>1</sup>provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to wrath with their graven images.

Josh. 13:6

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel,

60 So that he <sup>1</sup>forsook the habitation of Shiloh, even the Tabernacle where he dwelt among men, 61 And delivered his <sup>1</sup>power into captivity, and his beauty into the enemy's hand.

62 And he gave up his people to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.

63 The fire <sup>1</sup>devoured their chosen men, and their maids were not <sup>2</sup>praised.

64 Their Priests fell by the sword, and their <sup>1</sup>widows lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and as a strong man that after his <sup>1</sup>wine crieth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetual shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of <sup>1</sup>Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Judah, and mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he <sup>1</sup>built his Sanctuary as an high palace, like the earth, which he established forever.

70 He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds.

71 Even from behind the ewes with young, brought he him to feed his people in Jacob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So <sup>1</sup>he fed them according to the simplicity of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

79 <sup>1</sup> The Israelites complain to God for the great calamity and oppression that they suffered by God's enemies, 8 and confessing their sins, flee to God's mercies with full hope of deliverance, 10 Because their calamities were joined with the contempt of his Name, 13 for the which they promise to be thankful.

1 O God, <sup>1</sup>the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple have they defiled, and made Jerusalem heaps of stones.

2 The <sup>1</sup>dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto fowls of the heaven, and the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they shed like waters, round about Jerusalem, and there was none to <sup>1</sup>bury them.

4 We are a reproach to our <sup>1</sup>neighbors, even a scorn and derision unto them that are round about us.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry, forever? shall thy jealousy <sup>1</sup>burn like fire?

6 <sup>a</sup>Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy Name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remember not against us the <sup>1</sup>former iniquities, but <sup>2</sup>make haste, and let thy tender mercies prevent us: for we are in great misery.

9 Help us, O God of our <sup>1</sup>salvation, for the glory of thy Name, and deliver us, and be merciful unto our sins for thy Name's sake.

10 Whereof should the heathen say, Where is their God? let them be known among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy servants that is shed.

11 Let the sighing of the <sup>1</sup>prisoners come before thee: according to thy mighty arm preserve <sup>2</sup>the children of death,

12 And render to our neighbors sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people, and sheep of thy pasture shall praise thee forever: and from generation to generation <sup>1</sup>we will set forth thy praise.

80 <sup>1</sup>A lamentable prayer to God to help the miseries of his Church, <sup>8</sup> Desiring him to consider their first estate, when his favor shined toward them, to the intent that he might finish that work which he had begun.

To him that excelleth on Shoshannim Eduth,
A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 Hear, <sup>1</sup>O thou shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like sheep: show thy brightness, thou that sittest between the <sup>2</sup>Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh stir up thy strength, and come to help us.

3 <sup>1</sup>Turn us again, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be saved.

4 O Lord God of hosts, how long wilt thou be <sup>1</sup>angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, and given them tears to drink with great measure.

6 Thou hast made us a <sup>1</sup>strife unto our neighbors, and our enemies laugh at us among themselves.

7 <sup>1</sup>Turn us again, O God of hosts: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou hast brought a <sup>1</sup>vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madest room for it, and didst cause it to take root, and it filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the <sup>1</sup>goodly cedars.

11 She stretched out her branches unto the Sea, and her boughs unto the <sup>1</sup>river.

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedges, so that all they, which pass by the way, have plucked her?

13 The wild <sup>1</sup>boar out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wild beasts of the field have eaten it up.

79:1 <sup>1</sup> The people cry unto God against the barbarous tyranny of the Babylonians, who spoiled God's inheritance, polluted his Temple, destroyed his religion, and murdered his people.

79:2 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth to what extremities God suffereth sometime his Church to fall, to exercise their faith, before he set his hand to deliver them.

79:3 <sup>1</sup> Their friends and kinsfolks durst not bury them for fear of the enemies.

79:4 <sup>1</sup> Whereof some came of Abraham but were degenerate: and others were open enemies to thy religion, but they both laughed at our miseries.

79:5 <sup>1</sup> Wilt thou utterly consume us for our sins, before thou takest us to mercy?

79:8 <sup>1</sup> Which we and our fathers have committed.

<sup>2</sup> And stay not till we have recompensed for our sins.

79:9 <sup>1</sup> Seeing we have none other Savior, neither can we help ourselves, and also by our salvation thy Name shall be praised: therefore, O Lord, help us.

79:11 <sup>1</sup> Who though in respect of God they were justly punished for their sins: yet in consideration of their cause were unjustly murdered.

80:3 <sup>1</sup> Join thy whole people, and all thy tribes together again.

80:4 <sup>1</sup> The faithful fear God's anger, when they perceive that their prayers are not forthwith heard.

80:6 <sup>1</sup> Our neighbors have continual strife and war against us.

80:7 <sup>1</sup> Because that repentance only cometh of God, they most instantly and oftentimes call to God for it as a means whereby they shall be saved.

80:8 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that of thy mercy thou hast made us a most dear possession to thee, and we through our sins are made open for wild beasts to devour us, declare again thy love, and finish the work that thou hast begun.

80:11 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Euphrates.

80:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, as well they that hate our religion, as they that hate our persons.

14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down <sup>1</sup>from heaven and behold, and visit this vine,

15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the young vine, which thou madest <sup>1</sup>strong for thyself.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut down: and they perish at the <sup>1</sup>rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand be upon the <sup>1</sup>man of thy right hand, and upon the son of man, whom thou madest strong for thine own self.

18 So will not we go back from thee, <sup>1</sup>revive thou us, and we shall call upon thy Name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

2 Take the song and bring forth the timbrel, the pleasant harp with the viol.

3 Blow the trumpet in the <sup>1</sup>new moon, even in the time appointed at our feast day.

4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a Law of the God of Jacob.

5 He set this in <sup>1</sup>Joseph for a testimony, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that <sup>2</sup>I understood not.

6 I have withdrawn his shoulder from the burden, and his hands have left the <sup>1</sup>pots.

A song or Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 Keep <sup>1</sup>not thou silence, O God: be not still, and cease not, O God.

2 For lo, thine <sup>1</sup>enemies make a tumult, and they that hate thee, have lifted up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and have consulted against thy <sup>1</sup>secret ones.

4 They have said, Come and let us <sup>1</sup>cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have consulted together in <sup>1</sup>heart, and have made a league <sup>2</sup>against thee:

A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 O <sup>1</sup>Lord of hosts, how amiable are thy Tabernacles?

83:1 <sup>1</sup> This Psalm seemeth to have been composed as a form of prayer against the dangers that the Church was in, in the days of Jehoshaphat.

83:2 <sup>1</sup> He calleth them God's enemies, which are enemies to his Church.

83:3 <sup>1</sup> The elect of God are his secret ones: for he hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, and preserveth them from all dangers.

83:4 <sup>1</sup> They were not content to take the Church as prisoner: but sought utterly to destroy it.

83:5 <sup>1</sup> By all secret means.

83:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, Zor.

83:8 <sup>1</sup> The wickedness of the Ammonites and Moabites is described in that they provoked these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren.

83:9 <sup>1</sup> By these examples they were confirmed, that God would not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed, Judg. 7:21 and 4:15.

9 Behold, O God, our shield, and look upon the face of thine <sup>1</sup>Anointed.

10 For <sup>1</sup>a day in thy courts is better than a thousand other where: I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tabernacles of wickedness.

11 For the Lord God is the sun and shield unto us: the Lord will give grace and glory, and no <sup>1</sup>good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

12 O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

85 1 Because God withdrew not his rods from his Church after their return from Babylon, first they put him in mind of their deliverance, to the intent that he should not leave the work of his grace imperfect. 5 Next they complain of their long affliction. 8 And thirdly, they rejoice in hope of felicity promised. 9 For their deliverance was a figure of Christ's kingdom, under the which should be perfect felicity.

To him that excelleth.

A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 Lord, thou hast been <sup>1</sup>favorable unto thy land: thou hast brought again the captivity of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, and <sup>1</sup>covered all their sins. Selah.

3 Thou hast withdrawn all thine anger, and hast turned back from the <sup>1</sup>fierceness of thy wrath.

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, and release thine anger toward us.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us <sup>1</sup>forever? and wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turn again and quicken us, that thy people may rejoice in thee?

7 Show us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy <sup>1</sup>salvation.

8 I will hearken what the Lord God will say: for he will speak <sup>1</sup>peace unto his people, and to his Saints, that they turn not again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him, that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth shall meet, righteousness and peace shall kiss one another.

11 <sup>1</sup>Truth shall bud out of the earth, and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the Lord shall give good things, and our land shall give her increase.

13 <sup>1</sup>Righteousness shall go before him, and shall set her steps in the way.

86 1 David sore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth fervently for deliverance: sometimes rehearsing his miseries, 5 Sometimes the mercies received. 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that he may fear him, and glorify his Name. 14 He complaineth also of his adversaries, and requireth to be delivered from them.

A prayer of David.

1 Incline <sup>1</sup>thine ear, O Lord, and hear me: for I am poor and needy.

2 Preserve thou my soul, for I am <sup>1</sup>merciful: my God, save thou thy servant, that trusteth in thee.

3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I <sup>1</sup>cry upon thee continually.

4 Rejoice the soul of thy servant: for unto thee,

84:3 <sup>1</sup> So that the poor birds have more liberty than I.

84:5 <sup>1</sup> Who trusteth nothing in himself, but in thee only, and learneth of thee to rule his life.

84:6 <sup>1</sup> That is of mulberry trees, which was a barren place: so that they which passed through, must dig pits for water: signifying, that no lets can hinder them that are fully bent to come to Christ's Church, neither yet that God will ever fail them.

84:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, for Christ's sake, whose figure I represent.

84:11 <sup>1</sup> But will from time to time increase his blessings toward his more and more.

85:1 <sup>1</sup> They confess that God's free mercy was the cause of their deliverance, because he loved the land which he had chosen.

85:2 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast buried them that they shall not come into judgment.

85:3 <sup>1</sup> Not only in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiving of sins, and in touching our hearts to confess them.

85:5 <sup>1</sup> As in times past they had felt God's mercies, so now being oppressed by the long continuance of evils, they pray unto God that according to his nature he would be merciful unto them.

85:7 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth that our salvation cometh only of God's mercy.

85:8 <sup>1</sup> He will send all prosperity to his Church, when he hath sufficiently corrected them, also by his punishments the faithful shall learn to beware that they return not like offences.

85:11 <sup>1</sup> Though for a time God thus exerciseth them with his rods, yet under the kingdom of Christ they should have peace and joy.

85:13 <sup>1</sup> Justice shall then flourish, and have free course and passage in every place.

86:1 <sup>1</sup> David persecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leaving the same to the Church as a monument, how to seek redress against their miseries.

86:2 <sup>1</sup> I am not enemy to them, but pity them though they be cruel toward me.

86:3 <sup>1</sup> Which was a sure token that he believed that God would deliver him.

O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

5 For thou, Lord, art good and <sup>1</sup>merciful, and of great kindness unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, Lord, unto my prayer, and <sup>1</sup>hearken to the voice of my supplication.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there is none <sup>1</sup>that can do like thy works.

9 All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and <sup>1</sup>worship before thee, O Lord, and shall glorify thy Name.

10 For thou art great and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone.

11 <sup>1</sup>Teach me thy way, O Lord, and I will walk in thy truth: knit mine heart unto thee, that I may fear thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorify thy Name forever.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me, and thou hast delivered my soul from <sup>1</sup>the lowest grave.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men have <sup>1</sup>sought my soul, and have not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a pitiful God and merciful, slow to anger, and great in kindness and truth.

16 Turn unto me, and have mercy upon me: give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the <sup>1</sup>son of thine handmaid.

17 Show a token of thy goodness toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast helped me and comforted me.

3 For my soul is filled with evils, and my life draweth near to the grave.

4 I am counted among them that go down unto the pit, and am as a man without strength,

5 <sup>1</sup>Free among the dead, like the slain laying in 86:5 <sup>1</sup>He doth confess that God is good to all, but only merciful to poor sinners.

86:6 <sup>1</sup>By crying and calling continually, he showeth how we may not be weary, though God grant not forthwith our request, but that we must earnestly and often call upon him.

86:8 <sup>1</sup>He condemneth all idols, forasmuch as they can do no works to declare that they are gods.

86:9 <sup>1</sup>This proveth that David prayed in the Name of Christ the Messiah, of whose kingdom he doth here prophesy.

86:11 <sup>1</sup>He confesseth himself ignorant till God hath taught him, and his heart variable and separate from God, till God join it to him, and confirm it in his obedience.

86:13 <sup>1</sup>That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none but only the almighty hand of God could deliver him.

86:14 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that there can be no moderation nor equity, where proud tyrants reign, and that the lack of God's fear is as a privilege to all vice and cruelty.

86:16 <sup>1</sup>He boasteth not of his own virtues, but confesseth that God of his free goodness hath ever been merciful unto him, and given him power against his enemies, as to one of his own household.

87:1 <sup>1</sup>God did choose that place among the hills, to establish Jerusalem and his Temple.

87:3 <sup>1</sup>Though thy glorious estate does not yet appear, yet wait with patience, and God will accomplish his promise.

87:4 <sup>1</sup>That is, Egypt and these other countries shall come to the knowledge of God.

<sup>2</sup>It shall be said of him that is regenerate and come to the Church, that he is as one that was born in the Church.

87:5 <sup>1</sup>Out of all quarters they shall come to the Church, and be counted as citizens.

87:6 <sup>1</sup>When he calleth by his word them into the Church, whom he had elected and written in the book.

87:7 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.

88:Title <sup>1</sup>That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalm was sung.

88:1 <sup>1</sup>Though many cry in their sorrows, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedy, as he did whom he confessed to be the author of his salvation.

88:5 <sup>1</sup>For he that is dead, is free from all cares and business of this life: and thus he saith, because he was unprofitable for all matters concerning man's life, and as it were cut off from this world.

the grave, when thou rememberest no more, and they are cut off from thy <sup>2</sup>hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, and in the deep.

7 Thine indignation lieth upon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy <sup>1</sup>waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine <sup>1</sup>acquaintance far from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: <sup>2</sup>I am shut up, and cannot get forth.

9 <sup>1</sup>Mine eye is sorrowful through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily upon thee: I stretch out mine hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou show <sup>1</sup>a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving kindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wondrous works be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land <sup>1</sup>of oblivion?

13 But unto thee, have I cried, O Lord, and early shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why dost thou reject my soul, and hidest thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and at the point of death: <sup>1</sup>from my youth I suffer thy terrors, doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations go over me, and thy fear hath cut me off.

17 They came round about me daily like water, and compassed me together.

18 My lovers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance <sup>1</sup>hid themselves.

89 <sup>1</sup>With many words doth the Prophet praise the goodness of God, 23 For his testament and covenant, that he had made between him and his elect by Jesus Christ the son of David. 38 Then doth he complain of the great ruin, and desolation of the kingdom of David, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally, he prayeth to be delivered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortness of man's life, and confirming himself by God's promise.

A Psalm to give instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 I will <sup>1</sup>sing the mercies of the Lord forever: with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

2 For I <sup>1</sup>said, Mercy shall be set up forever: thy truth shalt thou <sup>2</sup>stablish in the very heavens.

3 <sup>1</sup>I have made a covenant with my chosen: I have sworn to David my servant,

4 Thy seed will I stablish forever, and set up thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, even the <sup>1</sup>heavens shall praise thy wondrous work: yea, thy truth in the <sup>2</sup>Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heaven? and who is like the Lord among the <sup>1</sup>sons of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the <sup>1</sup>Saints, and to be revered above all that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hosts, who is like unto thee, which art a mighty Lord, and thy truth is about thee?

9 <sup>1</sup>Thou rulest the raging of the Sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten down Rahab as a man slain: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arm.

11 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: <sup>1</sup>Tabor and Hermon shall rejoice in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mighty arm: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 <sup>1</sup>Righteousness and equity are the stablishment of thy throne: mercy and truth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can <sup>1</sup>rejoice in thee: they 88:5 <sup>2</sup>That is, from thy providence and care, which is meant according to the judgment of the flesh.

88:7 <sup>1</sup>The storms of thy wrath have overwhelmed me.

88:8 <sup>1</sup>He attributeth the loss and displeasure of his friends to God's providence, whereby he partly punisheth and partly trieth his.

88:9 <sup>1</sup>Mine eyes and face declare my sorrows.

88:10 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that the time is more convenient for God to help, when men call unto him in their dangers, than to tarry till they be dead, and then raise them up again.

88:12 <sup>1</sup>That is, in the grave, where only the body lieth without all sense and remembrance.

88:15 <sup>1</sup>I am ever in great dangers and sorrows, as though my life should utterly be cut off every moment.

88:18 <sup>1</sup>Hebrew, were in darkness.

89:1 <sup>1</sup>Though the horrible confusion of things might cause them to despair of God's favor, yet the manifold examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to man's judgment they saw none occasion.

89:2 <sup>1</sup>As he that surely believed in heart.

<sup>2</sup>As thine invisible heaven is not subject to any alteration and change: so shall the truth of thy promise be unchangeable.

89:3 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet showeth what was the promise of God, whereon he grounded his faith.

89:5 <sup>1</sup>The Angels shall praise thy power and faithfulness in delivering thy Church.

89:6 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, the Angels.

89:7 <sup>1</sup>If the Angels tremble before God's majesty and infinite justice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himself against God?

89:9 <sup>1</sup>For as he delivered the Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will he eftsoons deliver it, when the dangers be great.

89:12 <sup>1</sup>Tabor is a mountain Westward from Jerusalem, and Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifieth that all parts and places of the world shall obey God's power for the deliverance of his Church.

89:14 <sup>1</sup>For hereby he judgeth the world, and showeth himself a merciful Father, and faithful protector unto his.

89:15 <sup>1</sup>Feeling in their conscience that God is their Father.

shall walk in the light of thy <sup>2</sup>countenance, O Lord.

16 They shall rejoice continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shall they exalt themselves.

17 For thou art the <sup>1</sup>glory of their strength, and by thy favor our horns shall be exalted.

18 For our <sup>1</sup>shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the Holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision unto <sup>1</sup>thine Holy one, and saidest, I have laid help upon one that is <sup>2</sup>mighty: I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I have found David my servant: with mine holy oil have I anointed him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arm shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not oppress him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I will <sup>1</sup>destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My truth also and my <sup>1</sup>mercy shall be with him, and in my Name shall his <sup>2</sup>horn be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the <sup>1</sup>floods.

26 He shall cry unto me, Thou art my <sup>1</sup>Father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.

27 Also I will make him my firstborn, higher than the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my Covenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seed also will I make to endure <sup>1</sup>forever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 But if his children forsake my Law, and walk not in my judgments:

31 <sup>4</sup>If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments:

32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with strokes.

33 <sup>1</sup>Yet my loving kindness will I not take from him, neither will I falsify my truth.

34 My Covenant will I not break, nor <sup>1</sup>alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I have sworn once by mine holiness, <sup>1</sup>that I will not fail David, saying, 36 His seed shall endure forever, and his throne shall be as the sun before me.

37 He shall be established for evermore as the moon, and as a faithful <sup>1</sup>witness in the heaven. Selah.

38 But thou hast rejected and abhorred, thou hast been angry with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast <sup>1</sup>broken the Covenant of thy servant, and profaned his <sup>2</sup>crown, casting it on the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his walls: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruin.

41 All that go by the way, spoil him: he is a rebuke unto his neighbors.

42 Thou hast set up the right hand of his enemies, and made all his adversaries to rejoice.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle.

44 Thou hast caused his dignity to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The days of his <sup>1</sup>youth hast thou shortened, and covered him with shame. Selah.

46 <sup>1</sup>Lord, how long wilt thou hide thyself, forever? shall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember <sup>1</sup>of what time I am: wherefore shouldst thou create in vain all the children of men?

48 What man liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest unto David in thy truth?

89:17 <sup>1</sup> In that they are preserved and continue, they ought to give the praise and glory only to thee.

89:18 <sup>1</sup> In that that our King hath power to defend us, it is the gift of God.

89:19 <sup>1</sup> To Samuel and to others, to assure that David was thy chosen one.

<sup>2</sup> Whom I have both chosen and given him strength to execute his office, as verse 21.

89:23 <sup>1</sup> Though there shall be evermore enemies against God's kingdom, yet he promiseth to overcome them.

89:24 <sup>1</sup> I will mercifully perform my promises to him, notwithstanding his infirmities and offences.

89:25 <sup>1</sup> He shall enjoy the land round about.

89:26 <sup>1</sup> His excellent dignity shall appear herein, that he shall be named the son of God, and the firstborn wherein he is a figure of Christ.

89:29 <sup>1</sup> Though for the sins of the people the state of this kingdom decayed: yet God reserved still a root, till he had accomplished this promise in Christ.

89:33 <sup>1</sup> Though the faithful answer not in all points to their profession, yet God will not break his Covenant with them.

89:34 <sup>1</sup> For God in promising hath respect to his mercy, and not to man's power in performing.

89:35 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, if I lie unto David, which is a manner of oath.

89:37 <sup>1</sup> As long as the Sun and Moon endure, they shall be witnesses to me of this promise.

89:39 <sup>1</sup> Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promise. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt and impatience.

<sup>2</sup> By this he meaneth the horrible dissipation and renting of the kingdom, which was under Jeroboam: or else by the Spirit of prophecy Ethan speaketh of those great miseries, which came soon afterward to pass at the captivity of Babylon.

89:45 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the kingdom fell before it came to perfection, or was ripe.

89:46 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet in joining prayer with his complaint, showeth that his faith never failed.

89:47 <sup>1</sup> Seeing man's life is short, and thou hast created man to bestow thy benefits upon him, except thou haste to help, death will prevent thee.

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy servants, which I bear in my <sup>1</sup>bosom of all the mighty people.

51 For <sup>1</sup>thine enemies have reproached thee, O Lord, because they have reproached the <sup>2</sup>footsteps of thine Anointed.

52 Praised be the Lord for evermore. So be it, even so be it.

90 1 Moses in his prayer setteth before us the eternal favor of God toward his, 3 who are neither admonished by the brevity of their life, 7 nor by his plagues to be thankful, 12 therefore Moses prayeth God to turn their hearts, and continue his mercies toward them and their posterity forever.

A prayer of Moses, <sup>1</sup>the man of God.

1 Lord, thou hast been our <sup>1</sup>habitation from generation to generation.

2 Before the <sup>1</sup>mountains were made, and before thou hadst formed the earth, and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting thou art our God.

3 Thou <sup>1</sup>turnest man to destruction: again thou sayest, Return ye sons of Adam.

4 <sup>1</sup>For a thousand years in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou hast <sup>1</sup>overflowed them, they are as a sleep, in the morning he groweth like the grass:

6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the evening it is cut down and withereth.

7 For we <sup>1</sup>are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are past in thine anger: we have <sup>1</sup>spent our years as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threescore years and ten, and if they be of strength, <sup>1</sup>fourscore years: yet their strength is but labor and sorrow: for it is cut off quickly, and we flee away.

11 <sup>1</sup>Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy fear is thine anger.

12 Teach us so to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto <sup>1</sup>wisdom.

13 Return (O Lord, <sup>1</sup>how long?) and be <sup>2</sup>pacified toward thy servants.

14 Fill us with thy mercy in the morning: so shall we rejoice and be glad all our days?

15 Comfort us according to the days that thou hast afflicted us, and according to the years that we have seen evil.

16 <sup>1</sup>Let thy work be seen toward thy servants, and thy glory upon their <sup>2</sup>children.

17 And let the <sup>1</sup>beauty of the Lord our God be upon us, and <sup>2</sup>direct thou the work of our hands upon us, even direct the work of our hands.

91 1 Here is described in what assurance he liveth, that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himself wholly to his protection in all temptations. 14 A promise of God to those that love him, know him, and trust in him to deliver them, and give them immortal glory.

1 Who so dwelleth in the <sup>1</sup>secret of the most High, shall abide in the shadow of the Almighty.

2 <sup>1</sup>I will say unto the Lord, O my hope, and my fortress: he is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely I will deliver thee from the <sup>1</sup>snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He will cover thee under his wings, and thou shalt be sure under his feathers: his <sup>1</sup>truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 <sup>1</sup>Thou shalt not be afraid of the fear of the 89:50 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth that God's enemies did not only slander him behind his back: but also mocked him to his face, and as it were cast their injuries in his bosom.

89:51 <sup>1</sup> So he calleth them that persecute the Church.

90:Title <sup>1</sup> Thus the Scripture useth to call the Prophets.

90:1 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast been as an house and defense unto us in all our troubles and travels now this four hundred years.

90:2 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast chosen us to be thy people before the foundations of the world were laid.

90:3 <sup>1</sup> Moses by lamenting the frailty and shortness of man's life moveth God to pity.

90:4 <sup>1</sup> Though man thinks his life long, which is indeed most short, yea though it were a thousand years: yet in God's sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three hours.

90:5 <sup>1</sup> Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.

90:7 <sup>1</sup> Thou callest us by thy rods to consider the shortness of our life, and for our sins thou abridgest our days.

90:9 <sup>1</sup> Our days are not only short, but miserable, forasmuch as our sins daily provoke thy wrath.

90:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, according to the common state of life.

90:11 <sup>1</sup> If man's life for the brevity be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie upon it, as they which fear thee, only know.

90:12 <sup>1</sup> Which is, by considering the shortness of our life, and by meditating the heavenly joys.

90:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, wilt thou be angry?

90:16 <sup>1</sup> Even thy mercy, which is the chiefest work.

<sup>2</sup> As God's promises appertained as well to their posterity, as to them, so Moses prayeth for the posterity.

90:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that is was obscured, when he ceaseth to do good to his Church.

91:1 <sup>1</sup> He that maketh God his defense and trust, shall perceive his protection to be a most sure safeguard.

91:2 <sup>1</sup> Being assured of this protection, he prayeth unto the Lord.

91:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, God's help is most ready for us, whether Satan assail us secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.

91:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, his faithful keeping of promise to help thee in thy necessity.

91:5 <sup>1</sup> The care that God hath over his, is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.

night: nor of the arrow that flieth by day:

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darkness: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noon day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come near thee.

8 Doubtless with thine <sup>1</sup>eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast said, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none evil come unto thee, neither shall any plague come near thy tabernacle.

11 <sup>1</sup>For he shall give his Angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walk upon the lion and asp: the <sup>1</sup>young lion, and the dragon shalt thou tread under feet.

14 <sup>1</sup>Because he hath loved me, therefore will I deliver him: I will exalt him because he hath known my Name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will hear him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliver him, and glorify him.

16 With <sup>1</sup>long life will I satisfy him, and show him my salvation.

92 <sup>1</sup> This Psalm was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stir up the people to acknowledge God, and to praise him in his works: the Prophet rejoiceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider, that the ungodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the end is described the felicity of the just, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

A Psalm or song for the <sup>1</sup>Sabbath day.

1 It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing unto thy Name, O most High,

2 To declare thy loving kindness in the <sup>1</sup>morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 Upon an <sup>1</sup>instrument of ten strings, and upon the viol, with the song upon the harp.

4 For thou Lord, hast made me glad by thy <sup>1</sup>works, and I will rejoice in the works of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

6 An <sup>1</sup>unwise man knoweth it not, and a fool doth not understand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grass, and all the workers of wickedness do flourish) that they shall be destroyed forever.

8 But thou, O Lord, art <sup>1</sup>most High forevermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O Lord: for lo, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquity shall be destroyed.

10 <sup>1</sup>But thou shalt exalt mine horn, like the unicorns, and I shall be anointed with fresh oil.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine ears shall hear my wish against the wicked, that rise up against me.

12 The righteous shall <sup>1</sup>flourish like a palm tree, and shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Such as be planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in their <sup>1</sup>age: they shall be fat and flourishing,

15 To declare that the Lord my rock is righteous, and that none iniquity is in him.

93 <sup>1</sup> He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateth down all people which lift them up against his majesty, 5 and provoked to consider his promises.

1 The Lord <sup>1</sup>reigneth, and is clothed with majesty: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power, the world also shall be established, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy <sup>1</sup>throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.

3 <sup>1</sup>The floods have lifted up, O Lord: the floods have 91:8 <sup>1</sup> The godly shall have some experience of God's judgments against the wicked even in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day when all things shall be revealed.

91:11 <sup>1</sup> God hath not appointed every man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to keep his, and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walk in without tempting God.

91:13 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt not only be preserved from all evil, but overcome it whether it be secret or open.

91:14 <sup>1</sup> To assure the faithful of God's protection, he bringeth in God to confirm the same.

91:16 <sup>1</sup> For he is contented with that life that God giveth: for by death the shortness of this life is recompensed with immortality.

92:Title <sup>1</sup> Which teacheth that the use of the Sabbath standeth in praising God, and not only in ceasing from work.

92:2 <sup>1</sup> For God's mercy and fidelity in his promises toward his, bind them to praise him continually both day and night.

92:3 <sup>1</sup> These instruments were then permitted, but at Christ's coming abolished.

92:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is the use of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate God's works.

92:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, the wicked consider not God's works, nor his judgments against them, and therefore most justly perish.

92:8 <sup>1</sup> Thy judgments are most constant against the wicked and pass our reach.

92:10 <sup>1</sup> Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, and bless them with all felicity.

92:12 <sup>1</sup> Though the faithful seem to wither and be cut down by the wicked, yet they shall grow again and flourish in the Church of God as the cedars do in mount Lebanon.

92:14 <sup>1</sup> The children of God shall have a power above nature, and their age shall bring forth most fresh fruits.

93:1 <sup>1</sup> As God by his power and wisdom hath made and governeth the world: so must the same be our defense against all enemies and dangers.

93:2 <sup>1</sup> Wherein thou sittest and governest the world.

93:3 <sup>1</sup> God's power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

lifted up their voice: the floods lift up their waves.

4 The waves of the sea are marvelous through the noise of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty.

5 Thy <sup>1</sup>testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine House, O Lord, forever.

94 <sup>1</sup> He prayeth unto God against the violence and arrogance of tyrants, 10 warning them of God's judgments. 12 Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himself, and did set in others, and by the ruin of the wicked, 23 whom the Lord will destroy.

1 O Lord God <sup>1</sup>the avenger, O God the avenger, show thyself <sup>2</sup>clearly.

2 Exalt thyself, O Judge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.

3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked <sup>1</sup>triumph?

4 They prate and speak fiercely: all the workers of iniquity vaunt themselves.

5 They <sup>1</sup>smite down thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.

7 <sup>1</sup>Yet they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Understand, ye unwise among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?

9 He that <sup>1</sup>planted the ear, shall he not hear? or he that formed the eye, shall he not see?

10 Or he that chastiseth the <sup>1</sup>nations, shall he not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou <sup>1</sup>chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of evil, while the pit is dug for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not fail his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 For <sup>1</sup>judgment shall return to justice, and all the upright in heart shall follow after it.

16 Who will rise up with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquity?

17 If the Lord had not <sup>1</sup>helped me, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I said, <sup>1</sup>My foot slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.

19 In the multitude of my <sup>1</sup>thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts have rejoiced my soul.

20 Hath the throne of iniquity <sup>1</sup>fellowship with thee, which forgeth wrong for a Law?

21 They gather them together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rock of mine hope.

23 And he will recompense them their wickedness, and <sup>1</sup>destroy them in their own malice, yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

95 <sup>1</sup> An earnest exhortation to praise God, 4 for the government of the world and the election of the Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the old fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness. 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

1 Come, let us rejoice unto the Lord: let us sing <sup>1</sup>aloud unto the rock of our salvation.

2 Let us come before his face with praise: let us sing loud unto him with Psalms.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all <sup>1</sup>gods,

4 In whose hand are the deep places of the earth, and the <sup>1</sup>heights of the mountains are his,

93:5 <sup>1</sup> Besides God's power and wisdom in creating and governing, his great mercy also appeareth in that he hath given his people his word and covenant.

94:1 <sup>1</sup> Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.

94:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, brag of their cruelty and oppression: or esteem themselves above all others.

94:5 <sup>1</sup> Seeing the Church was then so sore oppressed, it ought not to seem strange to us, if we see it so now, and therefore we must call to God, to take our cause in hand.

94:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gave themselves wholly to do wickedly.

94:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is impossible, but God should hear, see, and understand their wickedness.

94:10 <sup>1</sup> If God punish whole nations for their sins, it is mere folly for any one man, or else a few to think that God will spare them.

94:12 <sup>1</sup> God hath care over his, and chastised them for their wealth, that they should not perish forever with the wicked.

94:15 <sup>1</sup> God will restore the state and government of things to their right use, and then the Godly shall follow him cheerfully.

94:17 <sup>1</sup> He complaineth of them which would not help him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that God's help would not fail.

94:18 <sup>1</sup> When I thought there was no way but death.

94:19 <sup>1</sup> In my trouble and distress I ever found thy present help.

94:20 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked judges pretend justice in oppressing the Church, yet they have not that authority of God.

94:23 <sup>1</sup> It is a great token of God's judgment when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most, when they are destroyed in their own malice.

95:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's service standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving.

95:3 <sup>1</sup> Even the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight, much less the idols, which man's brain inventeth.

95:4 <sup>1</sup> All things are governed by his providence.

5 To whom the Sea belongeth, for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land.

6 Come, let us <sup>1</sup>worship and fall down, and kneel before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his <sup>1</sup>hand: today, if ye will hear his voice,

8 <sup>1</sup>Harden not your heart, as in <sup>2</sup>Meribah, and as in the day of <sup>3</sup>Massah in the wilderness,

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, though they had seen my work.

10 Forty years have I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that <sup>1</sup>err in heart, for they have not known my ways.

11 Wherefore I swear in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into <sup>1</sup>my rest.

96 <sup>1</sup> An exhortation both to the Jews and Gentiles to praise God for his mercy. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

1 Sing <sup>1</sup>unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord all the earth.

2 Sing unto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his salvation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is <sup>1</sup>great and much to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are <sup>1</sup>idols: but the Lord <sup>2</sup>made the heavens.

6 <sup>1</sup>Strength and glory are before him: power and beauty are in his Sanctuary.

7 Give unto the Lord, ye families of the people: give unto the Lord glory and <sup>1</sup>power.

8 Give unto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring <sup>1</sup>an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the <sup>1</sup>Nations, The Lord reigneth: Surely the world shall be stable, and not move, and he shall judge the people <sup>2</sup>in righteousness.

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is in it: let all the <sup>1</sup>trees of the wood then rejoice,

13 Before the Lord: for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he will judge the world with righteousness, and the people in his truth.

97 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet exhorteth all to rejoice for the coming of the kingdom of Christ, 7 dreadful to the rebels and idolaters, 8 and joyful to the just, whom he exhorteth to innocency, 12 to rejoicing and thanksgiving.

1 The <sup>1</sup>Lord reigneth: let the earth rejoice: let the <sup>2</sup>multitude of the Isles be glad.

2 <sup>1</sup>Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall go a fire before him, and burn up his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gave light unto the world: the earth saw it and was <sup>1</sup>afraid.

5 The mountains melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.

7 <sup>1</sup>Confounded be all they that serve graven images, and that glory in idols: worship him <sup>2</sup>all ye gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the <sup>1</sup>daughters of Judah rejoiced, because of thy judgments, O Lord.

95:6 <sup>1</sup> By these three words he signifieth one thing: meaning that they must wholly give themselves to serve God.

95:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the flock, whom he governeth with his own hand. He showeth wherein they are God's flock, that is, if they hear his voice.

95:8 <sup>1</sup> By the contemning of God's word.

95:10 <sup>1</sup> They were without judgment and reason.

95:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.

96:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth that the time shall come, that all nations shall have occasion to praise the Lord for the revealing of his Gospel.

96:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing he will reveal himself to all nations contrary to their own expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their own imaginations, and only as he hath appointed.

96:5 <sup>1</sup> Or, vanities.

<sup>2</sup> Then the idols, or whatsoever made not the heavens, are not God.

96:6 <sup>1</sup> God cannot be known, but by his strength and glory, the signs whereof appear in his Sanctuary.

96:7 <sup>1</sup> As by experience ye see that it is only due unto him.

96:8 <sup>1</sup> By offering up yourselves wholly unto God, declare that you worship him only.

96:10 <sup>1</sup> He prophecieth that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of God's promise.

96:12 <sup>1</sup> If the insensible creatures shall have cause to rejoice, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malediction and sin.

97:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that where God reigneth, there is all felicity, and spiritual joy.

<sup>2</sup> For the Gospel shall not be only preached in Judea, but through all isles and countries.

97:2 <sup>1</sup> He is thus described to keep his enemies in fear, which commonly contemn God's power.

97:4 <sup>1</sup> This fear bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away from God.

97:7 <sup>1</sup> He signifieth that God's judgments are in a readiness to destroy the idolaters.

97:8 <sup>1</sup> The Jews shall have occasion to rejoice, that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of God's favor.

9 For thou, Lord, art most High above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.

10 Ye that <sup>1</sup>love the Lord, hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his Saints: he will deliver them from the hand of the wicked.

11 <sup>1</sup>Light is sown for the righteous, and joy for the upright in heart.

12 Rejoice ye righteous in the Lord, and give thanks for his holy <sup>1</sup>remembrance.

98 1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercy and fidelity in his promise by Christ, 10 by whom he hath communicated his salvation to all nations.

A Psalm.

1 Sing <sup>1</sup>unto the Lord a new song: for he hath done marvelous things: <sup>4</sup>his right hand, and his holy <sup>2</sup>arm have gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord declared his <sup>1</sup>salvation: his righteousness hath he revealed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath <sup>1</sup>remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye loud unto the Lord: cry out and rejoice, and sing praises.

5 Sing praise to the Lord upon the harp, even upon the harp with a singing voice.

6 With <sup>1</sup>shalms and sound of trumpets sing loud before the Lord the king.

7 Let the sea roar, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountains rejoice together,

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world: and the people with equity.

99 1 He commendeth the power, equity, and excellency of the kingdom of God by Christ over the Jews and Gentiles, 5 And provoketh them to magnify the same, and to serve the Lord, 6 following the example of the ancient fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling upon God, were heard in their prayers.

CHAPTER 98

1 The Lord reigneth, let the <sup>1</sup>people tremble: he sitteth between the <sup>4</sup>Cherubims, let the earth be moved.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all the people.

3 They shall <sup>1</sup>praise thy great and fearful Name (for it is holy.)

4 And the King's power, that loveth judgment: for thou hast prepared equity: thou hast executed judgment and justice in Jacob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his <sup>1</sup>footstool: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priests, <sup>1</sup>and Samuel among such as call upon his Name: these called upon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Law that he gave them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a favorable God unto them, though thou didst take vengeance for <sup>1</sup>their inventions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God and fall down before his holy Mountain: for the Lord our God is holy.

100 1 He exhorteth all to serve the Lord, 3 who hath chosen us, and preserved us, 4 and to enter into his assemblies to praise his Name.

A Psalm of praise.

1 Sing <sup>1</sup>ye loud unto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Serve the Lord with gladness; come before him with joyfulness.

3 Know ye that even the Lord is God; he hath <sup>1</sup>made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

4 <sup>1</sup>Enter into his gates with praise, and into his courts with rejoicing: praise him and bless his Name.

97:10 <sup>1</sup> He requireth two things of his children: the one that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliverance.

97:11 <sup>1</sup> Though God's deliverance appear not suddenly, yet it is sown and laid up in store for them.

97:12 <sup>1</sup> Be mindful of his benefits and only trust in his defense.

98:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderful deliverance by Christ.

98:3 <sup>1</sup> God was moved by none other means to gather his Church of the Jews and Gentiles, but because he would perform his promise.

98:6 <sup>1</sup> By this repetition and earnest exhortation to give praises with instruments, and also of the dumb creatures, he signifieth that the world is never able to praise God sufficiently for their deliverance.

99:1 <sup>1</sup> When God delivereth his Church, all the enemies shall have cause to tremble.

99:3 <sup>1</sup> Though the wicked rage against God, but the godly shall praise his Name and mighty power.

99:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, before his Temple or Ark, where he promised to hear when they worshipped him, as now he promiseth his spiritual presence, whosoever his Church is assembled.

99:6 <sup>1</sup> Under these three he comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whom God made his promise.

99:8 <sup>1</sup> For the more liberally that God dealth with his people, the more doth he punish them that abuse his benefits.

100:1 <sup>1</sup> He prophecieth that God's benefit in calling the Gentiles shall be so great, that they shall have wonderful occasion to praise his mercy and rejoice.

100:3 <sup>1</sup> He chiefly meaneth, touching the spiritual regeneration, whereby we are his sheep and people.

100:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God will not be worshipped, but by that means which he hath appointed.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercy is <sup>1</sup>everlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.

101 <sup>1</sup> David describeth what government he will observe in his house and kingdom. <sup>5</sup> He will punish and correct, by rooting forth the wicked, <sup>6</sup> and cherishing the godly persons.

A Psalm of David.

1 I will <sup>1</sup>sing mercy and judgment: unto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will do wisely in the perfect way, <sup>1</sup>till thou comest to me, I will walk in the uprightness of mine heart in the midst of my house.

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate <sup>1</sup>the work of them that fall away: it shall not cleave unto me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me; I will know none evil.

5 Him that privily <sup>1</sup>slandereth his neighbor, will I destroy: him that hath a proud look and high heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be unto the <sup>1</sup>faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

7 There shall no deceitful person dwell within my house: he that telleth lies, shall not remain in my sight.

8 <sup>1</sup>Betimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land that I may cut off all the workers of iniquity from the City of the Lord.

102 <sup>1</sup> It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithful to pray in the captivity of Babylon. <sup>16</sup> A consolation for the building of the Church: <sup>18</sup> whereof followeth the praise of God to be published unto all posterity. <sup>22</sup> The conversion of the Gentiles, <sup>28</sup> and the stability of the Church.

A prayer <sup>1</sup>of the afflicted, when he shall be in distress, and pour forth his meditation before the Lord.

1 O Lord hear my prayer, and let my <sup>1</sup>cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine ears unto me, when I call, make haste to hear me.

3 For my days are <sup>1</sup>consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an hearth.

4 Mine heart is smitten, and withered like grass, because I forgot <sup>1</sup>to eat my bread.

5 For the voice of my groaning, my bones do cleave to my skin.

6 I am like a <sup>1</sup>pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the deserts.

7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.

8 Mine enemies revile me daily, and they that rage against me, have <sup>1</sup>sworn against me.

9 Surely I have <sup>1</sup>eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drink with weeping,

10 Because of thine <sup>1</sup>indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaved me up, and cast me down.

11 My days are like a shadow that fadeth, and I am withered like grass.

12 But thou, O Lord, dost <sup>1</sup>remain forever, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to have mercy thereon, for the <sup>1</sup>appointed time is come.

14 For thy servants delight in the <sup>1</sup>stones thereof, and have pity on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shall fear the Name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory,

16 When the Lord shall build up Zion, and shall appear <sup>1</sup>in his glory,

17 And shall turn unto the prayer of the desolate,

100:5 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that we ought never to be weary in praising him, seeing his mercies towards us last forever.

101:1 <sup>1</sup> David considereth what manner of King he would be, when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be merciful and just.

101:2 <sup>1</sup> Though as yet thou deferrest to place me in the Kingly dignity, yet will I give myself to wisdom and uprightness being a private man.

101:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that Magistrates do not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.

101:5 <sup>1</sup> In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about Kings, he declareth that he will punish all.

101:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is the true use of the sword: to punish the wicked, and to maintain the good.

101:8 <sup>1</sup> Magistrates must immediately punish vice, lest it grow to further inconvenience: and if heathen magistrates are bound to do this, how much more they that have the charge of the Church of God?

102:Title <sup>1</sup> Whereby is signified, that albeit we be in never so great miseries, yet there is ever place left for prayer.

102:1 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that in our prayer we must lively feel that, which we desire, and steadfastly believe to obtain.

102:3 <sup>1</sup> These excessive kinds of speech show how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the hearts of the godly.

102:4 <sup>1</sup> My sorrows were so great, that I passed not for mine ordinary food.

102:6 <sup>1</sup> Ever mourning and solitary, casting out fearful cries.

102:8 <sup>1</sup> Have conspired my death.

102:9 <sup>1</sup> I have not risen out of my mourning to take my refectation.

102:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the afflictions did not only thus move him, but chiefly the feeling of God's displeasure.

102:12 <sup>1</sup> Howsoever we be frail, yet thy promise is sure, and the remembrance thereof shall confirm us forever.

102:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, the seventy years which by the Prophet Jeremiah thou didst appoint, Jer. 29:12.

102:14 <sup>1</sup> The more that the Church is in misery and desolation, the more ought the faithful to love and pity it.

102:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, when he shall have drawn his church out of the darkness of death.

and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be <sup>1</sup>created, shall praise the Lord.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his Sanctuary: out of the heaven did the Lord behold the earth, 20 That he might hear the mourning of the prisoner, and deliver the <sup>1</sup>children of death.

21 That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 22 When the people shall be gathered <sup>1</sup>together, and the kingdoms to serve the Lord.

23 He <sup>1</sup>abated my strength in the way, and shortened my days.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast aforetime laid the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the work of thine hands.

26 <sup>1</sup>They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: even they all shall wax old as doth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

28 The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall stand <sup>1</sup>fast in thy sight.

103 1 He provoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his sins, delivered him from destruction and given him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he showeth like a most tender Father toward his children. 14 The frailty of man's life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

A Psalm of David.

1 My soul, <sup>1</sup>praise thou the Lord, and all that is within me, praise his holy Name.

2 My soul, praise thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefits.

3 Which <sup>1</sup>forgiveth all thine iniquity, and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the <sup>1</sup>grave; and crowneth thee with mercy and compassions.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy <sup>1</sup>youth is renewed like the eagle's.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his ways known unto <sup>1</sup>Moses, and his works unto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy, slow to anger and of great kindness.

9 He will not always <sup>1</sup>chide, neither keep his anger forever.

10 He hath not <sup>1</sup>dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heaven is above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As far as <sup>1</sup>the East is from the West: so far hath he removed our sins from us.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The days of <sup>1</sup>man are as grass: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the wind goeth over it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the loving kindness of the Lord endureth forever and ever upon them that fear him, and his <sup>1</sup>righteousness upon children's children,

18 Unto them that keep his <sup>1</sup>covenant, and think

102:18 <sup>1</sup> The deliverance of the Church is a most excellent benefit, and therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to have been dead, which by deliverance was as it were created anew.

102:20 <sup>1</sup> Who now in their banishment could look for nothing but death.

102:22 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's Name is never more praised, than when religion flourisheth and the church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished under the kingdom of Christ.

102:23 <sup>1</sup> The Church laments that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but have but few years and short days.

102:26 <sup>1</sup> If heaven and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of God's promise endureth forever.

102:28 <sup>1</sup> Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the world, and joined it to thee, it cannot but continue forever: for thou art everlasting.

103:1 <sup>1</sup> He wakeneth his dullness to praise God, showing that both understanding and affections, mind and heart are too little to set forth his praise.

103:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, the beginning and chiefest of all benefits, remission of sin.

103:4 <sup>1</sup> For before that we have remission of our sins, we are as dead men in the grave.

103:5 <sup>1</sup> As the eagle, when her beak overgroweth, sucketh blood, and so is renewed in strength, even so God miraculously giveth strength to his Church above all man's expectation.

103:7 <sup>1</sup> As to his chief minister, and next to his people.

103:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth first his severe judgment, but so soon as the sinner is humbled, he received him to mercy.

103:10 <sup>1</sup> Who have proved by continual experience, that his mercy hath ever prevailed against our offences.

103:12 <sup>1</sup> As great as the world is, so full is it of signs of God's mercies toward his faithful, when he hath removed their sins.

103:15 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that man hath nothing in himself to move God to mercy, but only the confession of his infirmity and misery.

103:17 <sup>1</sup> His just and faithful keeping of his promise.

103:18 <sup>1</sup> To whom he giveth grace to fear him, and to obey his word.

upon his commandments to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heaven, and his kingdom ruleth over all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye <sup>1</sup>his Angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandment in obeying the voice of his word.

21 Praise the Lord all ye his hosts, ye his servants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: my soul, praise thou the Lord.

104 1 An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world, and the governance of the same by his marvelous providence. 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

1 My soul, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art <sup>1</sup>clothed with glory and honor.

2 Which covereth himself with light, as with a garment, and spreadeth the heavens like a curtain.

3 Which layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his chariot, and walketh upon the wings of the wind.

4 Which <sup>1</sup>maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth upon her foundations, so that it shall never move.

6 Thou coverest it with the <sup>1</sup>deep as with a garment: the <sup>2</sup>waters would stand above the mountains.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountains ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound which they shall not pass: they shall not return to cover the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run between the mountains.

11 They shall give drink to all the <sup>1</sup>beasts of the field, and the wild asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these <sup>1</sup>springs shall the fowls of the heaven dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the mountains from his <sup>1</sup>chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy works.

14 He causeth grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the use of <sup>1</sup>man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth man's heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, even the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That the birds may make their nests there: the stork dwelleth in the fir trees.

18 The high mountains are for the <sup>1</sup>goats: the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed <sup>1</sup>the moon for certain seasons: <sup>2</sup>the sun knoweth his going down.

20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creep forth.

21 The lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat <sup>1</sup>at God.

22 When the sun riseth, they retire, and couch in their dens.

23 <sup>1</sup>Then goeth man forth to his work, and to his labor until the evening.

24 O Lord, how <sup>1</sup>manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is the sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There go the ships, yea that <sup>1</sup>Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 <sup>1</sup>All these wait upon thee, that thou mayest

103:20 <sup>1</sup> In that that we, which naturally are slow to praise God, exhort the Angels, who willingly do it, we stir up ourselves to consider our duty, and awake out of our sluggishness.

104:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth that we need not to enter into the heavens to seek God, forasmuch as all the order of nature, with the propriety, and placing of the elements, are most lively mirrors to see his majesty in.

104:4 <sup>1</sup> As the Prophet here showeth that all visible powers are ready to serve God: so the Apostle to the Hebrews 1:7, beholdeth in this glass how the very Angels also, are obedient to his commandment.

104:6 <sup>1</sup> Thou makest the sea to be an ornament unto the earth.

<sup>2</sup> If by thy power thou didst not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible, but the whole world should be destroyed.

104:11 <sup>1</sup> If God provide for the very beasts, much more will he extend his provident care to man.

104:12 <sup>1</sup> There is no part of the world so barren, where most evident signs of God's blessings appear not.

104:13 <sup>1</sup> From the clouds.

104:14 <sup>1</sup> He describeth God's provident care over man, who doth not only provide necessary things for him, as herbs and other meat: but also things to rejoice and comfort him as wine and oil, or ointments.

104:18 <sup>1</sup> Or, does, roes, and such like.

104:19 <sup>1</sup> As to separate the night from the day, and to note days, months and years.

<sup>2</sup> That is, by his course, either far or near, it noteth summer, winter and other seasons.

104:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, they only find meat according to God's providence, who careth even for the brute beasts.

104:23 <sup>1</sup> To wit, when the day springeth: for the light is as it were a shield to defend man against the tyranny and fierceness of beasts.

104:24 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth that no tongue is able to express God's works, nor mind to comprehend them.

104:26 <sup>1</sup> Or, whale.

104:27 <sup>1</sup> God is a most nourishing Father, who provideth for all creatures their daily foods.

give them food in due season.

28 Thou givest it to them, and they gather it, thou openest thy hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou <sup>1</sup>hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die and return to their dust:

30 Again if thou <sup>1</sup>send forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glory be to the Lord forever: let the Lord rejoice in his works.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth the mountains, and they <sup>1</sup>smoke.

33 I will sing unto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I live.

34 Let my words be acceptable unto him: I will rejoice in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners be <sup>1</sup>consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there be no more: O my soul, praise thou the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

105 <sup>1</sup>He praiseth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a peculiar people to himself, and having chosen them, never ceaseth to do them good, even for his promise's sake.

1 Praise the Lord, and call upon his Name: <sup>1</sup>declare his works among the people.

2 Sing unto him, sing praise unto him, and talk of all his wondrous works.

3 Rejoice in his holy Name, let the heart of them that seek the Lord, rejoice.

4 Seek the Lord and his <sup>1</sup>strength: seek his face continually.

5 Remember his <sup>1</sup>marvelous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the <sup>2</sup>judgments of his mouth,

6 Ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob, which are his elect.

7 He is the Lord our God: his judgments are through all the earth.

8 He hath always remembered his covenant, and promise, that he made to a thousand generations,

9 Even that which he <sup>1</sup>made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac:

10 And since hath confirmed it to Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant,

11 Saying, <sup>1</sup>Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

12 Albeit they were few in number, yea very few, and strangers in the land,

13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people,

14 Yet suffered he no man to do them wrong, but reprov'd <sup>1</sup>Kings for their sakes, saying,

15 Touch not mine <sup>1</sup>anointed, and do my <sup>2</sup>Prophets no harm.

16 Moreover, he called a famine upon the land, and utterly brake the <sup>1</sup>staff of bread.

17 But he sent a man before them: Joseph was sold for a slave.

18 They held his feet in the stocks, and he was laid in irons,

19 Until <sup>1</sup>his appointed time came, and the counsel of the Lord had tried him.

20 The King sent and loosed him: even the Ruler of the people delivered him.

21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance,

22 That he should bind his <sup>1</sup>princes unto his will, and teach his Ancients wisdom.

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger than their oppressors.

25 <sup>1</sup>He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deal craftily with his servants.

26 Then sent he Moses his servant, and Aaron

104:29 <sup>1</sup> As by thy presence all things have life: so if thou withdraw thy blessings, they all perish.

104:30 <sup>1</sup> As the death of creatures showeth that we are nothing of ourselves: so their generation declareth that we receive all things of our Creator.

104:32 <sup>1</sup> God's merciful face giveth strength unto the earth, but his severe countenance burneth the mountains.

104:35 <sup>1</sup> Who infect the world, and so cause God that he cannot rejoice in his works.

105:1 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the world, and were elected to be God's people, the Prophet willeth them to show themselves mindful by thanksgiving.

105:4 <sup>1</sup> By the strength and face he meaneth the Ark where God declared his power and his presence.

105:5 <sup>1</sup> Which he hath wrought in the deliverance of his people.

<sup>2</sup> Because his power was thereby as lively declared, as if he should have declared it by mouth.

105:9 <sup>1</sup> The promise which God made to Abraham to be his God, and the God of his seed after him, he renewed and repeated it again to his seed after him.

105:11 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that they should not enjoy the land of Canaan by any other means, but by reason of his covenant made with their fathers.

105:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, the king of Egypt and the king of Gerar, Gen. 12:17 and 20:3.

105:15 <sup>1</sup> Those whom I have sanctified to be my people.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the old fathers, to whom God showed himself plainly, and who were setters forth of his word.

105:16 <sup>1</sup> Either by sending scarcity, or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof.

105:19 <sup>1</sup> So long he suffered adversity as God had appointed, and till he had tried sufficiently his patience.

105:22 <sup>1</sup> That the very princes of the countries should be at Joseph's commandment, and learn wisdom at him.

105:25 <sup>1</sup> So it is in God, either to move the hearts of the wicked to love or to hate God's children.

whom he had chosen.

27 They showed among them the message of his signs, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkness, and made it dark: and they were not <sup>1</sup>disobedient unto his commission.

29 <sup>4</sup>He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.

30 <sup>6</sup>Their land brought forth frogs, even in their King's chambers.

31 He <sup>1</sup>spake, and there came swarms of flies and lice in all their quarters.

32 He gave them <sup>1</sup>hail for rain, and flames of fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees, and brake down the trees in their coasts.

34 <sup>1</sup>He spake and the grasshoppers came, and caterpillars innumerable,

35 And did eat up all the grass in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 <sup>4</sup>He smote also all the firstborn in their land, even the beginning of all their strength.

37 He brought them forth also with silver and gold, and there was <sup>1</sup>none feeble among their tribes.

38 Egypt was <sup>1</sup>glad at their departing: for the fear of them had fallen upon them.

39 He spread a cloud to be a covering, and fire to give light in the night.

40 They <sup>1</sup>asked, and he brought quails, and he filled them with the bread of heaven.

41 He opened the rock, and the water flowed out, and ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For he remembered his holy <sup>1</sup>promise to Abraham his servant,

43 And he brought forth his people with <sup>1</sup>joy, and his chosen with gladness,

44 And gave them the lands of the heathen, and they took the labors of the people in possession, 45 That they might <sup>1</sup>keep his statutes, and observe his Laws. Praise ye the Lord.

CHAPTER 106

106 <sup>1</sup>The people dispersed under Antiochus, do magnify the goodness of God among the just and repentant: <sup>4</sup>Desiring to be brought again into the land by God's merciful visitation. <sup>8</sup>And after the manifold marvels of God wrought in their deliverance forth of Egypt, And the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed. <sup>47</sup>They do pray and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the intent that they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise <sup>1</sup>ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercy endureth forever.

2 Who can express the noble acts of the Lord, or show forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that <sup>1</sup>keep judgment, and do righteousness at all times.

4 Remember me, O Lord, with the <sup>1</sup>favor of thy people: visit me with thy salvation,

5 That I may see the felicity of thy chosen, and rejoice in the joy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have <sup>1</sup>sinned with our fathers: we have committed iniquity, and done wickedly.

7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, even at the red sea.

8 Nevertheless he <sup>1</sup>saved them for his Name's sake, that he might make his power to be known.

9 And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried up, and he led them in the deep, as in the wilderness.

10 And he saved them from the adversary's hand, and delivered them from the hand of the enemy.

11 <sup>4</sup>And the waters covered their oppressors: not one of them was left.

12 Then <sup>1</sup>believed they his words, and sang praise unto him.

13 But incontinently they forgot his works, they waited not for his <sup>1</sup>counsel, 105:28 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Moses and Aaron.

105:31 <sup>1</sup> So that this vermin came not by fortune, but as God had appointed, and his prophet Moses spake.

105:32 <sup>1</sup> It was strange to see rain in Egypt, much more it was fearful to see hail.

105:34 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all creatures are armed against man when God is his enemy, as at his commandment the grasshoppers destroyed the land.

105:37 <sup>1</sup> When their enemies felt God's plagues his children by his providence were exempted.

105:38 <sup>1</sup> For God's plagues caused them rather to depart with the Israelites, than with their lives.

105:40 <sup>1</sup> Not for necessity, but for satisfying of their lust.

105:42 <sup>1</sup> Which he confirmeth to the posterity, in whom after a sort the dead live and enjoy the promises.

105:43 <sup>1</sup> When the Egyptians lamented and were destroyed.

105:45 <sup>1</sup> This is the end, why God preserveth his Church, because they should worship, and call upon him in this world.

106:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefits past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and despair.

106:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is not enough to praise God with the mouth, except the whole heart agree thereunto, and all our life be thereunto framed.

106:4 <sup>1</sup> Let the good will that thou bearest to thy people, extend unto me, that thereby I may be received into the number of thine.

106:6 <sup>1</sup> By earnest confession as well of their own, as of their fathers' sins, they show that they had hope that God according to his promise would pity them.

106:8 <sup>1</sup> The inestimable goodness of God appeareth in this, that he would change the order of nature, rather than his people should not be delivered, although they were wicked.

106:12 <sup>1</sup> The wonderful works of God caused them to believe for a time, and to praise him.

106:13 <sup>1</sup> They would prevent his wisdom and providence.

14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gave them their desire: but he sent <sup>1</sup>leanness into their soul.

16 They envied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and <sup>1</sup>swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt up the wicked.

19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their <sup>1</sup>glory into the similitude of a bullock, that eateth grass.

21 They forgat God their Savior, which had done great things in Egypt,

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and fearful things by the red sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had <sup>1</sup>not Moses his chosen stood in the breach before him to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned <sup>1</sup>that pleasant land, and believed not his word, 25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.

26 Therefore <sup>1</sup>he lifted up his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness,

27 And to destroy their seed among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countries.

28 They joined themselves also unto <sup>1</sup>Baal of Peor, and did eat the offerings of the <sup>2</sup>dead.

29 Thus they <sup>1</sup>provoked him unto anger with their own inventions, and the plague brake in upon them.

30 But <sup>1</sup>Phinehas stood up, and executed judgment, and the plague was stayed.

31 <sup>b</sup>And it was <sup>1</sup>imputed unto him for righteousness from generation to generation forever.

Ps. 95:8

32 They angered him also at the waters of <sup>1</sup>Meribah, so that <sup>1</sup>Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his Spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works,

36 And served their idols, which were their ruin.

37 Yea, they offered their <sup>1</sup>sons, and their daughters unto devils,

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons, and of their daughters whom they offered unto the idols of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stained with their own works, and went <sup>1</sup>a whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them were lords over them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled under their hand.

43 Many <sup>1</sup>a time did he deliver them, but they provoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought down by their iniquity.

44 Yet he saw when they were in affliction, and he heard their cry.

45 And he remembered his covenant toward them, and <sup>1</sup>repented according to the multitude of his mercies,

46 And gave them favor in the sight of all them that led them captives.

47 Save us, O Lord our God, and <sup>1</sup>gather us from among the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel forever and ever, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

106:15 <sup>1</sup> The abundance that God gave them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God cursed it.

106:17 <sup>1</sup> By the greatness of the punishment the heinous offence may be considered: for they that rise against God's ministers, rebel against him.

106:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glory, when instead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metal, or calves.

106:23 <sup>1</sup> If Moses by his intercession had not obtained God's favor against their rebellions.

106:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, Canaan, which was as it were an earnest penny of the heavenly inheritance.

106:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, he sware. Sometimes also it meaneth, to punish.

106:28 <sup>1</sup> Which was the idol of the Moabites.

106:29 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that whatsoever man inventeth of himself to serve God by, is detestable, and provoketh his anger.

106:30 <sup>1</sup> When all others neglected God's glory, he in his zeal killed the adulterers and prevented God's wrath.

106:31 <sup>1</sup> This act declared his lively faith, and for his faith's sake was accepted.

106:32 <sup>1</sup> If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others provoked him to sin, how much more shall they be subject to God's judgment, which cause God's children to sin?

106:37 <sup>1</sup> He showeth how monstrous a thing idolatry is, which can win us to things abhorring to nature, whereas God's word cannot obtain most small things.

106:39 <sup>1</sup> Then true chastity is to cleave wholly and only unto God.

106:43 <sup>1</sup> The prophet showeth that neither by menaces, nor promises we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercy overcover and hide our malice.

106:45 <sup>1</sup> Not that God is changeable in himself, but that then he seemeth to us to repent when he altereth his punishment, and forgiveth us.

106:47 <sup>1</sup> Gather thy Church, which is dispersed, and give us constancy under the cross, that with one consent we may all praise thee.

107 1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord and gathered unto him, to give thanks, 9 for this merciful providence of God governing all things at his good pleasures, 20 sending good and evil, prosperity and adversity to bring men unto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat rejoice, so shall the wicked have their mouth stopped.

1 Praise <sup>1</sup>the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth forever.

2 Let them, <sup>1</sup>which have been redeemed of the Lord, show how he hath delivered them from the hand of the oppressor,

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the <sup>1</sup>South.

4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no city to dwell in,

5 <sup>1</sup>Both hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.

6 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them from their distress,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men.

9 For he satisfied the thirsty soul, and filled the hungry soul with goodness.

10 They that dwell in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in misery and iron,

11 Because they <sup>1</sup>rebelled against the words of the Lord, and despised the counsel of the most High,

12 When he humbled their heart with heaviness, then they fell down, and there was no helper.

13 Then they <sup>1</sup>cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them from their distress.

14 He brought them out of darkness, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bands asunder.

15 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving-kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men.

16 For he hath broken the <sup>1</sup>gates of brass, and burst the bars of iron asunder,

17 <sup>1</sup>Fools by reason of their transgression, and because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soul abhorreth all meat, and they are brought to death's door.

19 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivereth them from their distress.

20 <sup>1</sup>He sendeth his word and healeth them, and delivereth them from their <sup>2</sup>graves.

21 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men, 22 And let them offer sacrifices of <sup>1</sup>praise, and declare his works with rejoicing.

23 They that go down to the <sup>1</sup>sea in ships, and occupy by the great waters, 24 They see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commandeth and raiseth the stormy wind, and it lifeth up the waves thereof.

26 They mount up to the heaven, and descend to the deep, so that their soul <sup>1</sup>melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their <sup>1</sup>cunning is gone.

28 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distress.

29 He turneth the storm to calm, so that the waves thereof are still.

30 When they are <sup>1</sup>quieted, they are glad, and he bringeth them unto the haven, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the <sup>1</sup>congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods to a wilderness, and the 107:1 <sup>1</sup> This notable sentence was in the beginning used as the foot or tenor of the song, which was oftentimes repeated.

107:2 <sup>1</sup> As this was true in the Jews, so there is none of God's elect, that feel not his help in their necessity.

107:3 <sup>1</sup> Or, from the sea: meaning the red sea, which is on the South part of the land.

107:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there is none affliction so grievous, out of the which God will not deliver his, and also exhorteth them that are delivered to be mindful of so great a benefit.

107:11 <sup>1</sup> Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his express commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to descend into themselves, forasmuch as none are punished but for their sins.

107:13 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the cause why God doth punish us extremely, is because we can be brought unto him by none other means.

107:16 <sup>1</sup> When there seemeth to man's judgment no recovery, but all things are brought to despair, then God chiefly showeth his mighty power.

107:17 <sup>1</sup> They that have no fear of God, by his sharp rods are brought to call upon him, and so find mercy.

107:20 <sup>1</sup> By healing them he declareth his good will toward them.

107:22 <sup>1</sup> Praise and confession of God's benefits are the true sacrifices of the godly.

107:23 <sup>1</sup> He showeth by the sea what care God hath over man, for in that that he delivereth them from the great danger of the sea, he delivereth them, as it were from a thousand deaths.

107:26 <sup>1</sup> Their fear and danger is so great.

107:27 <sup>1</sup> When their art and means fail them, they are compelled to confess that only God's providence doth preserve them.

107:30 <sup>1</sup> Though before every drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandment they are as still, as though they were frozen.

107:32 <sup>1</sup> This great benefit ought not only to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places and assemblies.

springs of waters into dryness,

34 And a fruitful land into <sup>1</sup>barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

35 Again he <sup>1</sup>turneth the wilderness into pools of water, and the dry land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungry, and they build a city to dwell in,

37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitful <sup>1</sup>increase.

38 For he blesseth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattle.

39 <sup>1</sup>Again men are diminished, and brought low by oppression, evil and sorrow.

40 He poureth <sup>1</sup>contempt upon princes, and causeth them to err in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet he raiseth up the poor out of misery, and maketh him families like a flock of sheep.

42 The <sup>1</sup>righteous shall see it, and rejoice, and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise that he may observe these things? for they shall understand the loving kindness of the Lord.

108 This Psalm is composed of two other Psalms before the seven and fiftieth and the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That David giveth himself with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 7 and assureth himself of the promise of God concerning his kingdom over Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seem to forsake us for a time, yet he alone will in the end cast down our enemies.

A song or Psalm of David.

1 O God, mine heart is <sup>1</sup>prepared, so is <sup>2</sup>my tongue: I will sing and give praise.

2 Awake viol and harp, I will awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the <sup>1</sup>people, and I will sing unto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

5 <sup>1</sup>Exalt thyself, O God, above the heavens, and let thy glory be upon all the earth,

6 That thy beloved may be delivered: <sup>1</sup>help with thy right hand and hear me.

7 God hath spoken in his <sup>1</sup>holiness: therefore I will rejoice, I shall divide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Judah is my lawgiver.

9 <sup>a</sup>Moab shall be my washpot: over Edom will I cast out my shoe: upon Palestine will I triumph.

10 Who will lead me into the strong city? who will bring me unto Edom?

11 <sup>1</sup>Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst forsaken us, and didst not go forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Give us help against trouble: for vain is the help of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he shall tread down our enemies.

109 1 David being falsely accused by flatterers unto Saul, prayeth God to help him, and to destroy his enemies. 8 And under them he speaketh of Judas the traitor unto Jesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be delivered, that his enemies may know the work to be of God. 30 Then doth he promise to give praise unto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 Hold not thy tongue, O God of my <sup>1</sup>praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened upon me: they have spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were my adversaries, <sup>1</sup>but I gave myself to prayer.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 <sup>1</sup>Set thou the wicked over him, and let the adversary stand at his right hand.

107:34 <sup>1</sup> Or, saltness.

107:35 <sup>1</sup> For the love that he beareth to his Church, he changeth the order of nature for their commodity.

107:37 <sup>1</sup> Continual increase and yearly.

107:39 <sup>1</sup> As God by his providence doth exalt men, so doth he also humble them by afflictions to know themselves.

107:40 <sup>1</sup> For their wickedness and tyranny he causeth the people and subjects to contemn them.

107:42 <sup>1</sup> They, whose faith is lightened by God's spirit, shall rejoice to see God's judgments against the wicked and ungodly.

108:1 <sup>1</sup> This earnest affection declareth that he is free from hypocrisy, and that sluggishness stayeth him not.

<sup>2</sup> Or, my glory, because it chiefly setteth forth the glory of God.

108:3 <sup>1</sup> He prophecieth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not hear the goodness of God.

108:5 <sup>1</sup> Let all the world see thy judgments in that that thou art God over all, and so confess that thou art glorious.

108:6 <sup>1</sup> When God by his benefits maketh us partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth us to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.

108:7 <sup>1</sup> As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he show himself constant, and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subject unto me.

108:11 <sup>1</sup> From the sixth verse of this Psalm unto the last, read the exposition of Ps. 60:5.

109:1 <sup>1</sup> Though all the world condemn me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocence, and that is a sufficient praise to me.

109:4 <sup>1</sup> To declare that I had no other refuge, but thee, in whom my conscience was at rest.

109:6 <sup>1</sup> Whether it were Doeg, or Saul, or some familiar friend that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of private affection, but moved by God's Spirit, that God would take vengeance upon him.

7 When he shall be judged, let him be condemned, and let his <sup>1</sup>prayer be turned into sin.

8 Let his days be few, and let another take his <sup>1</sup>charge.

9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds, and beg and seek bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let <sup>1</sup>the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the strangers spoil his labor.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to show mercy upon his fatherless children.

13 Let his posterity be destroyed, and in the generation following, let their name be put out.

14 <sup>1</sup>Let the iniquity of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sin of his mother be done away.

15 But let them always be before the Lord, that he may cut off their memorial from the earth.

16 Because <sup>1</sup>he remembered not to show mercy, but persecuted the afflicted and poor man, and the sorrowful hearted to slay him.

17 As he loved cursing, <sup>1</sup>so shall it come unto him, and as he loved not blessing, so shall it be far from him.

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as a garment to cover him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shall be always girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversary <sup>1</sup>from the Lord, and of them that speak evil against my soul.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deal with me according unto thy <sup>1</sup>Name: deliver me, (for thy mercy is good)

22 Because I am poor and needy, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the <sup>1</sup>grasshopper.

24 My knees are weak through fasting, and my flesh <sup>1</sup>hath lost all fatness.

25 I became also a rebuke unto them: they that looked upon me, shook their heads.

26 Help me, O Lord my God: <sup>1</sup>save me according to thy mercy.

27 And they shall know that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though <sup>1</sup>they curse, yet thou wilt bless: they shall arise and be confounded, but thy servant shall rejoice.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their confusion as with a cloak.

30 I will give thanks unto the Lord greatly with my <sup>1</sup>mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For he will stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him from them that would <sup>1</sup>condemn his soul.

110 1 David prophesieth of the power and everlasting kingdom given to Christ, 4 and of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

A Psalm of David.

1 The <sup>1</sup>Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of <sup>1</sup>Zion: be thou ruler in the midst of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling <sup>1</sup>thine army in holy beauty: the youth of thy womb shall be as the morning dew.

4 The Lord swear, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest forever, after the order of <sup>1</sup>Melchizedek.

5 The Lord that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

109:7 <sup>1</sup> As to the elect all things turn to their profit: so to the reprobate, even those things that are good, turn to their damnation.

109:8 <sup>1</sup> This was chiefly accomplished in Judas, Acts 1:20.

109:11 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that the curse of God lieth upon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their unlawfull gotten goods, are by God's just judgment deprived of all.

109:14 <sup>1</sup> Thus punisheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickedness of the parents in their wicked children.

109:16 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort that show themselves cruel toward others.

109:17 <sup>1</sup> Thus giveth the Lord to every man the thing wherein he delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are given up to their lusts and reprobate minds.

109:20 <sup>1</sup> For being destitute of man's help, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliver him.

109:21 <sup>1</sup> As thou art named merciful, gracious and long suffering, so show thyself in effect.

109:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.

109:24 <sup>1</sup> For hunger, that came of sorrow, he was lean, and his natural moisture failed him.

109:26 <sup>1</sup> The more grievously Satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer.

109:28 <sup>1</sup> They shall gain nothing by cursing me.

109:30 <sup>1</sup> Not only in confessing it secretly in myself, but also in declaring it before all the congregation.

109:31 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he showeth that he had not to do with them that were of little power, but with the judges and princes of the world.

110:1 <sup>1</sup> Jesus Christ in Matt. 22:44, giveth the interpretation hereof, and showeth that this cannot properly be applied unto David but to himself.

110:2 <sup>1</sup> And thence it shalt stretch through all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word.

110:3 <sup>1</sup> By the word thy people shall be assembled into thy Church whose increase shall be so abundant and wonderous as the drops of the water.

110:4 <sup>1</sup> As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both a King and Priest, so this effect cannot be accomplished on any king save only Christ, Heb. 7:26.

6 He shall be judge among the heathen: he shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the <sup>1</sup>head over great countries.

7 He shall <sup>1</sup>drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up his head.

111 1 He giveth thanks to the Lord for his merciful works toward his Church, 10 and declareth wherein true wisdom and right knowledge consisteth.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 I will <sup>1</sup>praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly and the congregation of the just.

2 The works of the Lord are <sup>1</sup>great, and ought to be sought out of all them that love them.

3 His work is beautiful and glorious, and his righteousness endureth forever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and full of compassion.

5 He hath given <sup>1</sup>a <sup>2</sup>portion unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath showed to his people the power of his works, in giving unto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The <sup>1</sup>works of his hands are truth and judgment: all his statutes are true.

8 They are established forever and ever, and are done in truth and equity.

9 He sent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant forever: holy and fearful is his Name.

10 <sup>1</sup>The beginning of wisdom is the fear of the Lord: all they that observe <sup>2</sup>them, have good understanding: his praise endureth forever.

112 1 He praiseth the felicity of them that fear God, 10 and condemneth the cursed state of the contempters of God.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Blessed is the man that <sup>1</sup>fearth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.

3 <sup>1</sup>Riches and treasures shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth forever.

4 Unto the <sup>1</sup>righteous ariseth light in darkness: he is merciful and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is merciful, and <sup>1</sup>lendeth, and will measure his affairs by judgment.

6 Surely he shall never be moved: but the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.

7 He will not be afraid of evil tidings: for his heart is fixed, and believeth in the Lord.

8 His heart is established: therefore he will not fear, until he see his desire upon his enemies.

9 He hath <sup>1</sup>distributed and given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth forever: his <sup>2</sup>horn shall be exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shall see it, and be angry: he shall gnash with his teeth, and <sup>1</sup>consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

113 1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence 7 in that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise, O ye servants of the Lord, <sup>1</sup>praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from henceforth and forever.

3 The Lord's Name is praised from the rising of the sun, unto the going down of the same.

4 The Lord is high above all <sup>1</sup>nations, and his 110:6 <sup>1</sup>No power shall be able to resist him.

110:7 <sup>1</sup>Under this similitude of a captain that is so greedy to destroy his enemies, that he will not scarce drink by the way, he showeth how God will destroy his enemies.

111:1 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet declareth that he will praise God both privately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himself wholly and only unto God.

111:2 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that God's works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefits toward his Church.

111:5 <sup>1</sup>God hath given to his people all that was necessary for them, and will do still even for his covenant's sake, and in this sense the Hebrew word is taken, Prov. 30:8 and 31:15.

111:7 <sup>1</sup>As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doth he declare himself just and true in the government of the same.

111:10 <sup>1</sup>They only are wise, that fear God, and none have understanding, but they that obey the word.

112:1 <sup>1</sup>He meaneth that reverent fear, which is in the children of God, which causeth them to delight only in the word of God.

112:3 <sup>1</sup>The godly shall have abundance, and contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God only.

112:4 <sup>1</sup>The faithful in all their adversities, know that all shall go well with them, for God will be merciful and just.

112:5 <sup>1</sup>He showeth what is the fruit of mercy to lend freely; and not for gain; and so to measure his doings that he may be able to help where need requireth, and not to bestow all on himself.

112:9 <sup>1</sup>The godly pinch not niggardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessity of the poor requireth, and as his power is able.

112:10 <sup>1</sup>The blessings of God upon his children shall cause the wicked to die for envy.

113:1 <sup>1</sup>By this oft repetition he stirreth up our cold dullness to praise God, seeing his works are so wonderful, and that we are created for the same cause.

113:4 <sup>1</sup>If God's glory shine through all the world, and therefore of all ought to be praised, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whom chiefly it shineth, if they should not earnestly extol his Name?

glory above the heavens.

5 Who is like unto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high.

6 Who abaseth himself to behold things in the heavens and in the earth!

7 He raiseth the needy out of the dust, and lifteth up the <sup>1</sup>poor out of the dung,

8 That he may set him with the princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a family, and a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

114 <sup>1</sup> How the Israelites were delivered forth of Egypt, and of the wonderful miracles that God wrought at that time. Which put us in remembrance of God's great mercy toward his Church, who when the course of nature faileth, preserveth his miraculously.

1 When <sup>4</sup>Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Jacob from the <sup>1</sup>barbarous people,

2 Judah was his <sup>1</sup>sanctification, and Israel his dominion.

3 The sea saw it, and fled: Jordan was turned back.

4 The <sup>1</sup>mountains leaped like rams, and the hills as lambs!

5 What ailed thee, O sea, that thou fleddest? O Jordan, why wast thou turned back?

6 Ye mountains why leaped ye like rams, and ye hills as lambs?

7 The <sup>1</sup>earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob,

8 Which <sup>1</sup>turneth the rock into waterpools, and the flint into a fountain of water.

115 <sup>1</sup> A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succor them, 9 trusting most constantly that God will preserve them in this their need, seeing, that he hath adopted and received them into his favor. 13 Promising finally that they will not be unmindful of so great a benefit if 113:7 <sup>1</sup> By preferring the poor to high honor and giving the barren children, he showeth that God worketh not only in his Church by ordinary means, but also by miracles.

114:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, from them that were of a strange language.

114:2 <sup>1</sup> The whole people were witnesses of his holy majesty, in adopting them, and of his mighty power in delivering them.

114:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that these dead creatures felt God's power, and after a sort saw it, much more his people ought to consider it, and glorify him for the same.

114:7 <sup>1</sup> Ought then his people to be insensible when they see his power and majesty?

114:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rock in most abundance, Exod. 17:6.

115:1 <sup>1</sup> Because God promised to deliver them, not for their sakes, but for his Name, Isa. 48:11, therefore they ground their prayer upon this promise.

it would please God to bear their prayer, and deliver them by his omnipotent power.

1 Not <sup>1</sup>unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy Name give the glory for thy loving mercy, and for thy truth's sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say, <sup>1</sup>Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heaven: he doeth whatsoever he <sup>1</sup>will.

4 Their idols are <sup>1</sup>silver and gold, even the work of men's hands.

5 They have a mouth, and speak not: they have eyes, and see not.

6 They have ears, and hear not: they have noses and smell not.

7 They have <sup>1</sup>hands, and touch not: they have feet, and walk not: neither make they a sound with their throat.

8 They that make them are <sup>1</sup>like unto them: so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for he is their help, and their shield.

10 <sup>1</sup>O house of Aaron trust ye in the Lord, for he is their help, and their shield.

11 Ye that fear the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper, and their shield.

12 The Lord hath been mindful of us, he will bless, he <sup>1</sup>will bless the house of Israel, he will bless the house of Aaron.

13 He will bless them that fear the Lord, both small and great.

14 The Lord will increase his <sup>1</sup>graces toward you, even toward you, and toward your children.

15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which <sup>1</sup>made the heaven and the earth.

16 The <sup>1</sup>heavens, even the heavens are the Lord's: but he hath given the earth to the sons of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that <sup>1</sup>go down into the place of silence.

ise as they imagine, they think there is no God.

115:3 <sup>1</sup> No impediments can let his work, but he useth even the impediments to serve his will.

115:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing that neither the matter nor the form can commend their idols, it followeth that there is nothing why they should be esteemed.

115:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what great vanity it is to ask help of them, which not only have no help in them, but lack sense and reason.

115:8 <sup>1</sup> As much without sense, as blocks and stones.

115:10 <sup>1</sup> For they were appointed by God as instructors and teachers of faith and religion for others to follow.

115:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, he will continue his graces toward his people.

115:15 <sup>1</sup> And therefore doth still govern and continue all things therein.

115:16 <sup>1</sup> And they declare enough his sufficiency, so that the world serveth him nothing, but to show his fatherly care toward men.

115:17 <sup>1</sup> Though the dead set forth God's glory, yet he meaneth here, that they praise him not in his Church and Congregation.

18 But we will praise the Lord from henceforth and forever. Praise ye the Lord.

116 1 David being in great danger of Saul in the desert of M[...], perceiving the great and inestimable love of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies. 13 and protesteth that he will be thankful for the same.

1 I <sup>1</sup>love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his ear unto me, when I did call upon him <sup>1</sup>in my days.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefs of the grave caught me: When I found trouble and sorrow.

4 Then I called upon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deliver my soul.

5 The Lord is <sup>1</sup>merciful and righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

6 The Lord preserveth the simple: I was in misery, and he saved me.

7 Return unto thy rest, O <sup>1</sup>my soul: for the Lord hath been beneficial unto thee,

8 Because thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I shall <sup>1</sup>walk before the Lord in the land of the living.

10 <sup>1</sup>I believed, therefore did I speak: for I was sore troubled.

11 I said in my <sup>1</sup>fear, All men are liars.

12 What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?

13 I will <sup>1</sup>take the cup of salvation, and call upon the Name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vows unto the Lord, even now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the <sup>1</sup>death of his Saints.

16 Behold, Lord: for I am thy servant, I am thy servant, and the son of thine handmaid: thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, and will call upon the Name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my <sup>1</sup>vows unto the Lord, even now in the presence of all his people,

19 In the courts of the Lord's house, even in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

117 1 He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished as well to them as to the Jews, the promise of life everlasting by Jesus Christ.

2 Let Israel now say, That his mercy endureth forever.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercy endureth forever.

4 Let them that fear the Lord, now say, That his mercy endureth forever.

5 I called upon the Lord in <sup>1</sup>trouble, and the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not fear what <sup>1</sup>man can do unto me.

116:1 <sup>1</sup> He granteth that no pleasure is so great as to feel God's help in our necessity, neither that anything more stirreth up our love toward him.

116:2 <sup>1</sup> That is in convenient time to seek help, which was when he was in distress.

116:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth forth the fruit of his love in calling upon him, confessing him to be just and merciful, and to help them that are destitute of aid and counsel.

116:7 <sup>1</sup> Which was unquieted before, now rest upon the Lord, for he hath been beneficial towards thee.

116:9 <sup>1</sup> The Lord will preserve me, and save my life.

116:10 <sup>1</sup> I felt all these things, and therefore was moved by faith to confess them, 2 Cor. 4:13.

116:11 <sup>1</sup> In my great distress I thought God would not regard man, which is but lies and vanity, yet I overcame this temptation, and felt the contrary.

116:13 <sup>1</sup> In the Law they used to make a banquet when they gave solemn thanks to God, and to take the cup and drink in sign of thanksgiving.

116:15 <sup>1</sup> I perceive that God hath a care over his, so that he both disposeth their death, and taketh an account.

116:18 <sup>1</sup> I will thank him for his benefits, for that is a just payment, to confess that we owe all to God.

117:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, the most certain and continual testimonies of his Fatherly graces.

118:1 <sup>1</sup> Because God by creating David King, showed his mercy toward his afflicted Church, the Prophet doth not only himself thank God, but exhorteth all the people to do the same.

118:5 <sup>1</sup> We are here taught that the more that troubles oppress us, the more ought we to be instant in prayer.

10 All nations have compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shall I destroy them.

11 They have compassed me, yea, they have compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

12 They came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thorns: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 <sup>1</sup>Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord hath helped me.

14 The Lord is my strength and <sup>1</sup>song: for he hath been my deliverance.

15 The <sup>1</sup>voice of joy and deliverance shall be in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

16 <sup>1</sup>The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

18 The Lord had chastened me sore, but he hath not delivered me to death.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast been my deliverance.

22 <sup>4</sup>The stone, which the builders <sup>1</sup>refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes,

24 This is the <sup>1</sup>day, which the Lord hath made: let us rejoice and be glad in it.

29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth forever.

ALEPH

1 Blessed are <sup>1</sup>those that are upright in their way, and walk in the Law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and seek him with their whole heart.

3 Surely they work <sup>1</sup>none iniquity, but walk in his ways.

4 Thou hast commanded to keep thy precepts diligently.

118:24 <sup>1</sup> Wherein God hath showeth chiefly his mercy, by appointing me king and delivering his Church.

118:25 <sup>1</sup> The people pray for the prosperity of David's kingdom, who was the figure of Christ.

118:26 <sup>1</sup> Which are the Priests, and have the charge thereof, as Num. 6:23.

118:27 <sup>1</sup> Because he hath restored us from darkness to light, we will offer sacrifices and praises unto him.

119:1 <sup>1</sup> Here they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their own judgment, nor which imagine to themselves a certain holiness, but they whose conversation is without hypocrisy.

119:3 <sup>1</sup> For they are ruled by God's Spirit and embrace no doctrine but his.

119:5 <sup>1</sup> David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reform it, that his life may be conformable to God's word.

119:7 <sup>1</sup> For true religion standeth in serving God without hypocrisy.

119:8 <sup>1</sup> He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succor not his infirmity in time.

119:9 <sup>1</sup> Because youth is most given to licentiousness, he chiefly warneth them to frame their lives betimes to God's word.

119:11 <sup>1</sup> If God's word be graven in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him daily more and more therein.

of thy mouth.

14 I have had as great <sup>1</sup>delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy ways.

16 I will delight in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL

17 Be beneficial unto thy servant, that I may <sup>1</sup>live and keep thy word.

18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Law.

19 I am a <sup>1</sup>stranger upon earth: hide not thy commandments from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy judgments always.

21 Thou <sup>1</sup>hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that do err from thy commandments.

22 Remove from me shame and contempt: for I have kept thy testimonies.

23 <sup>1</sup>Princes also did sit, and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.

24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counselors.

DALETH

25 My soul cleaveth to the <sup>1</sup>dust: quicken me according to thy word.

26 I have <sup>1</sup>declared my ways, and thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy wondrous works.

28 My soul melteth for heaviness: raise me up according to thy <sup>1</sup>word.

29 Take from me the <sup>1</sup>way of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.

30 I have chosen the way of truth, and thy judgments have I laid before me.

31 I have cleaved to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou <sup>1</sup>shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE

33 Teach <sup>1</sup>me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keep it unto the end.

34 Give me understanding and I will keep thy Law, yea, I will keep it with my whole <sup>1</sup>heart.

35 Direct me in the path of thy commandments: for therein is my delight.

36 Incline mine heart unto thy testimonies: and not to <sup>1</sup>covetousness.

37 Turn away mine <sup>1</sup>eyes from regarding vanity, and quicken me in thy way.

38 Stablish thy promise to thy servant, because he feareth thee.

39 Take away <sup>1</sup>my rebuke that I fear: for thy judgments are good.

40 Behold, I desire thy commandments: <sup>1</sup>quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU

41 And let thy loving <sup>1</sup>kindness come unto me, O Lord, and thy salvation according to thy promise.

42 So shall I <sup>1</sup>make answer unto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth: for I wait for thy judgments.

44 So shall I always keep thy Law forever and ever.

45 And I will <sup>1</sup>walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts.

46 I will speak also of thy testimonies before <sup>1</sup>Kings, and will not be ashamed.

47 And my delight shall be in thy Commandments, which I have loved.

119:14 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet not boast of his virtues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow God's word, and leave worldly vanities.

119:17 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we ought not to desire to live but to serve God, and that we cannot serve him aright except he open our eyes and minds.

119:19 <sup>1</sup> Seeing man's life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide?

119:21 <sup>1</sup> In all ages thou hast plagued all such which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

119:23 <sup>1</sup> When the powers of the world gave false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and counselor to teach me what to do, and to comfort me.

119:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, it is almost brought to the grave, and without thy word I cannot live.

119:26 <sup>1</sup> I have confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.

119:28 <sup>1</sup> If God did not maintain us by his word, our life would drop away like water.

119:29 <sup>1</sup> Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanity, and taught to obey thy will.

119:32 <sup>1</sup> By this he showeth that we can neither choose good, cleave to God's word, nor turn forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receive grace, and willing to obey.

119:33 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that he cannot follow on to the end, except God teach him oftentimes, and lead him forward.

119:34 <sup>1</sup> Not only in outward conversation, but also with inward affection.

119:36 <sup>1</sup> Hereby meaning all other vices, because that covetousness is the root of all evil.

119:37 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, all his senses.

119:39 <sup>1</sup> Let me not fall to thy dishonor, but let mine heart still delight in thy gracious word.

119:40 <sup>1</sup> Give me strength to continue in thy word even to the end.

119:41 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's mercy and love is the first cause of our salvation.

119:42 <sup>1</sup> By trusting in God's word he assureth himself to be able to confute the slanders of his adversaries.

119:45 <sup>1</sup> They that simply walk after God's word, have no lets to entangle them, whereas they that do contrary, are ever in nets and snares.

119:46 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the children of God ought not to suffer their father's glory to be obscured by the vain pomp of princes.

48 Mine hands also will I lift up unto thy Commandments, which I have loved, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN

49 Remember <sup>1</sup>the promise made to thy servant, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble; for thy promise hath quickened me.

51 The <sup>1</sup>proud have had me exceedingly in derision: yet have I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembered thy <sup>1</sup>judgments of old, O Lord, and have been comforted.

53 <sup>1</sup>Fear is come upon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Law.

54 Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my <sup>1</sup>pilgrimage.

55 I have remembered thy Name, O Lord, in the <sup>1</sup>night, and have kept thy Law.

56 <sup>1</sup>This I had because I kept thy precepts.

CHETH

57 O Lord, that art my <sup>1</sup>portion, I have determined to keep thy words.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy promise.

59 I have considered my <sup>1</sup>ways, and turned my feet into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste and delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The bands of the wicked have <sup>1</sup>robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight will I rise to give thanks unto thee, because of thy righteous judgments.

63 I am <sup>1</sup>companion of all them that fear thee, and keep thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: <sup>1</sup>teach me thy statutes.

TETH

65 O Lord, thou hast dealt <sup>1</sup>graciously with thy servant, according unto thy word.

66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.

67 Before I was <sup>1</sup>afflicted, I went astray: but now I keep thy word.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

69 The proud have imagined a lie against me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 <sup>1</sup>Their heart is fat as grease, but my delight is in thy Law.

71 It is <sup>1</sup>good for me that I have been afflicted, that I may learn thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better unto me, than thousands of gold and silver.

JOD

73 Thine hands have <sup>1</sup>made me and fashioned me: give me understanding therefore, that I may learn thy commandments.

74 So they that <sup>1</sup>fear thee, seeing me, shall rejoice, because I have trusted in thy word.

75 I know, O Lord, that thy judgments are right, and that thou hast afflicted me <sup>1</sup>justly.

76 I pray thee that thy mercy may comfort me, according to thy promise unto thy servant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may <sup>1</sup>live: for thy Law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be ashamed: for they have dealt wickedly and falsely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let such as fear thee <sup>1</sup>turn unto me, and they that <sup>2</sup>know thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart be upright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

119:49 <sup>1</sup> Though he feel God's hand still to lie upon him, yet he resteth on his promise, and comforteth himself therein.

119:51 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the wicked, which contemn God's word, and tread his Religion under foot.

119:52 <sup>1</sup> That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thyself to be judge of the world.

119:53 <sup>1</sup> That is, a vehement zeal to thy glory and indignation against the wicked.

119:54 <sup>1</sup> In the course of this life and sorrowful exit.

119:55 <sup>1</sup> Even when others sleep.

119:56 <sup>1</sup> That is, all these benefits.

119:57 <sup>1</sup> I am persuaded that to keep thy Law is an heritage and great gain for me.

119:59 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that none can embrace the word of God, except he consider his own imperfections and ways.

119:61 <sup>1</sup> They have gone about to draw me into their company.

119:63 <sup>1</sup> Not only in mutual consent, but also with aid and succor.

119:64 <sup>1</sup> For the knowledge of God's word is a singular token of his favor.

119:65 <sup>1</sup> Having proved by experience that God was true in his promise, he desireth that he would increase in him knowledge and judgment.

119:67 <sup>1</sup> So Jeremiah saith, that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calf untamed: so that the use of God's rod is to call us home to God.

119:70 <sup>1</sup> Their heart is indurated and hardened, puffed up with prosperity and vain estimation of themselves.

119:71 <sup>1</sup> He confesseth that before that he was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is.

119:73 <sup>1</sup> Because God leaveth not his work that he hath begun, he desireth a new grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.

119:74 <sup>1</sup> When God showeth his grace toward any, he testifieth to others, that he faileth not them that trust in him.

119:75 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in truth.

119:77 <sup>1</sup> He declareth, that when he felt not God's mercies, he was as dead.

119:79 <sup>1</sup> That is, be comforted by mine example.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that there can be no true fear of God without the knowledge of his word.

CAPH

81 My soul <sup>1</sup>fainted for thy salvation: yet I wait for thy word.

82 Mine eyes fail for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a <sup>1</sup>bottle in the smoke; yet do I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the <sup>1</sup>days of thy servant? When wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

85 The proud have <sup>1</sup>dug pits for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandments are true: they persecute me falsely: <sup>1</sup>help me.

87 They had almost consumed <sup>1</sup>me upon the earth: but I forsook not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy loving kindness: so shall I keep the testimony of thy mouth.

LAMED

89 O Lord, thy word endureth forever in <sup>1</sup>heaven.

90 Thy truth is from generation to generation: thou hast laid the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They <sup>1</sup>continue even to this day by thine ordinances: for all are thy servants.

92 Except thy law had been my delight, I should now have perished in mine affliction.

93 I will never forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am <sup>1</sup>thine, save me: for I have sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I <sup>1</sup>have seen an end of all perfection: but thy commandment is exceeding large.

MEM

97 Oh how love I thy law! it is my meditation <sup>1</sup>continually.

98 By thy commandments thou hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.

99 I have had more <sup>1</sup>understanding than all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understood more than the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might keep thy word.

102 I have not declined from thy judgments: for <sup>1</sup>thou didst teach me.

103 How sweet are thy promises unto my mouth! yea, more than honey unto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I have gotten understanding: therefore I hate all the ways of falsehood.

NUN

105 Thy word is a <sup>1</sup>lantern unto my feet, and a light unto my paths.

106 I have <sup>1</sup>sworn and will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments.

107 I am very sore afflicted: O Lord, quicken me according to thy word.

108 O Lord, I beseech thee, accept the <sup>1</sup>free offering of my mouth, and teach me thy judgments.

109 My <sup>1</sup>soul is continually in mine hand: yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me: but I swerved not from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an <sup>1</sup>heritage forever: for they are the joy of mine heart.

112 I have applied mine heart to fulfill thy statutes always, even unto the end.

SAMECH

113 I hate <sup>1</sup>vain inventions: but thy Law do I love.

119:81 <sup>1</sup> Though my strength fail me, yet my soul groaneth and sigheth, resting still in thy word.

119:83 <sup>1</sup> Like a skin bottle or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

119:84 <sup>1</sup> How long wilt thou afflict thy servant.

119:85 <sup>1</sup> They have not only oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.

119:86 <sup>1</sup> He assureth himself, that God will deliver his, and destroy such as unjustly persecute them.

119:87 <sup>1</sup> Finding no help in earth, he lifteth up his eyes to heaven.

119:89 <sup>1</sup> Because none should esteem God's word according to the changes of things in this world, he showeth that it abideth in heaven, and therefore is immutable.

119:91 <sup>1</sup> Seeing the earth and all creatures remain in that estate wherein thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and unchangeable.

119:94 <sup>1</sup> He proveth by effect that he is God's child, because he seeketh to understand his word.

119:96 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an end, only God's word lasteth forever.

119:97 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we cannot love God's word, except we exercise ourselves therein and practice it.

119:99 <sup>1</sup> Whosoever doth submit himself only to God's word, shall not only be safe against the practices of his enemies, but also learn more wisdom than they that profess it, and are men of experience.

119:102 <sup>1</sup> So then of ourselves we can do nothing: but when God doth inwardly instruct us with his spirit, we feel his graces sweeter than honey.

119:105 <sup>1</sup> Of ourselves we are but darkness and cannot see except we be lightened with God's Word.

119:106 <sup>1</sup> So all the faithful ought to bind themselves to God by a solemn oath and promises, to stir up their zeal to embrace God's word.

119:108 <sup>1</sup> That is, my prayers and thanksgiving which sacrifice Hosea calleth the calves of the lips, Hos. 14:3.

119:109 <sup>1</sup> That is, I am in continual danger of my life.

119:111 <sup>1</sup> I esteemed no worldly things, but made thy word mine inheritance.

119:113 <sup>1</sup> Whosoever will embrace God's word aright, must abhor all fantasies and imaginations both of himself and others.

114 Thou art my refuge and shield, and I trust in thy word.

115 <sup>1</sup>Away from me, ye wicked: for I will keep the commandments of my God.

116 Stablish me according to thy promise, that I may live, and disappoint me not of mine hope.

117 <sup>1</sup>Stay thou me, and I shall be safe, and I will delight continually in thy statutes.

118 Thou hast trodden down all them that depart from thy statutes: for their <sup>1</sup>deceit is vain.

119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth like <sup>1</sup>dross: therefore I love thy testimonies.

120 My flesh <sup>1</sup>trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgments.

AIN

121 I have executed judgment and justice: leave me not to mine oppressor.

122 <sup>1</sup>Answer for thy servant in that which is good, and let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes have failed in waiting for thy salvation, and for thy just promise.

124 Deal with thy <sup>1</sup>servant according to thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant: grant me therefore understanding, that I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is <sup>1</sup>time for thee, Lord, to work: for they have destroyed thy Law.

127 Therefore love I thy commandments above gold, yea, above most fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts most just, and hate all false <sup>1</sup>ways.

PE

129 Thy testimonies are <sup>1</sup>wonderful: therefore doth my soul keep them.

130 The entrance into thy <sup>1</sup>words showeth light, and giveth understanding to the simple.

131 I opened my mouth, and <sup>1</sup>panted, because I

CHAPTER 119

<sup>a</sup> Ps. 69:9
John 2:17

loved thy commandments.

132 Look upon me and be merciful unto me, as thou usest to do unto those that love thy Name.

133 Direct my steps in thy word, and let none iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Deliver me from the oppression of men, and I will keep thy precepts.

135 Show the light of thy countenance upon thy servant, and teach me thy statute.

136 Mine eyes gush <sup>1</sup>out with rivers of water, because they keep not thy Law.

TZADDI

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and just are thy judgments.

138 Thou hast commanded <sup>1</sup>justice by thy testimonies and truth especially.

139 <sup>a</sup>My zeal hath even consumed me: because mine enemies have forgotten thy words.

140 Thy word is proved <sup>1</sup>most pure, and thy servant loveth it.

141 I am <sup>1</sup>small and despised: yet do I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy Law is truth.

143 Trouble and anguish are come upon me: yet are the commandments my delight.

144 The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting: grant me understanding, and I shall <sup>1</sup>live.

KOPH

145 I have <sup>1</sup>cried with my whole heart: hear me, O Lord, and I will keep thy statutes.

146 I called upon thee: save me, and I will keep thy testimonies.

147 I prevented the morning light, and cried: for I waited on thy word.

148 Mine eyes <sup>1</sup>prevent the night watches, to meditate in thy word.

119:115 <sup>1</sup> And hinder me not to keep the Law of the Lord.

119:117 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God's continual assistance, lest he should faint in this race, which he had begun.

119:118 <sup>1</sup> The crafty practices of them that contemn thy Law, shall be brought to naught.

119:119 <sup>1</sup> Which infected thy people, as dross doth the metal.

119:120 <sup>1</sup> Thy judgments do not only teach me obedience, but cause me to fear, considering mine own weakness, which fear causeth repentance.

119:122 <sup>1</sup> Put thyself between mine enemies and me, as if thou were my pledge.

119:124 <sup>1</sup> He boasteth not that he is God's servant, but hereby putteth God in mind that as he made him his by his grace, so he would continue his favor toward him.

119:126 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth that when the wicked have brought all things to confusion, and God's word to utter contempt, then it is God's time to help and send remedy.

119:128 <sup>1</sup> That is, whatsoever dissenteth from the purity of thy word.

119:129 <sup>1</sup> Containing high and secret mysteries, so that I am moved with admiration and reverence.

119:130 <sup>1</sup> The simple idiots that submit themselves to God, have their eyes opened and their minds illuminated, so soon as they begin to read God's word.

119:131 <sup>1</sup> My zeal toward thy word was so great.

119:136 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what ought to be the zeal of God's children, when they see his word contemned.

119:138 <sup>1</sup> We cannot confess God to be righteous, except we live uprightly and truly, as he hath commanded.

119:140 <sup>1</sup> Gold hath need to be fined, but thy word is perfection itself.

119:141 <sup>1</sup> This is the true trial, to praise God in adversity.

119:144 <sup>1</sup> So that the life of man without the knowledge of God, is death.

119:145 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all his affections and whole heart were bent to Godward for to have help in his dangers.

119:148 <sup>1</sup> He was more earnest in the study of God's word, than they that kept the watch were in their charge.

149 Hear my voice according to thy loving kindness:
O Lord, quicken me according to thy <sup>1</sup>judgment.

150 They draw near that follow after <sup>1</sup>malice, and are far from thy Law.

151 Thou art near, O Lord: for all thy commandments are true.

152 I have known long since <sup>1</sup>by thy testimonies, that thou hast established them forever.

RESH

153 Behold mine affliction, and deliver me: for I have not forgotten thy law.

154 Plead my cause, and deliver me: quicken me according unto thy <sup>1</sup>word.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked, because they seek not thy statutes.

156 Great art thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy <sup>1</sup>judgments.

157 My persecutors and mine oppressors are many:
yet do I not swerve from thy testimonies.

158 I saw the transgressors and was <sup>1</sup>grieved, because they kept not thy word.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I <sup>1</sup>love thy precepts:
quicken me according to thy loving kindness.

160 The <sup>1</sup>beginning of thy word is truth, and all the judgments of thy righteousness endure forever.

SCHIN

161 Princes have <sup>1</sup>persecuted me without cause:
but mine heart stood in awe of thy words.

162 I rejoice at thy word, as one that findeth a great spoil.

163 I hate falsehood and abhor it, but thy Law do
I love.

164 <sup>1</sup>Seven times a day do I praise thee, because of thy righteous judgments.

165 They that <sup>1</sup>love thy law, shall have great prosperity, and they shall have none hurt.

166 Lord, I have <sup>1</sup>trusted in thy salvation, and have done thy commandments.

167 My soul hath kept thy testimonies: for I love them exceedingly.

168 I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies:
<sup>1</sup>for all my ways are before thee.

TAU

169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, and give me understanding <sup>1</sup>according unto thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliver me according to thy promise.

171 My lips shall <sup>1</sup>speak praise, when thou hast
<sup>2</sup>taught me thy statutes.

172 My tongue shall entreat of thy word: for all thy commandments are righteous.

173 Let thine hand help me: for I have chosen thy precepts.

174 I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delight.

175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee, and thy <sup>1</sup>judgments shall help me.

176 I have <sup>1</sup>gone astray like a lost sheep: seek thy servant, for I do not forget thy commandments.

120 <sup>1</sup>The prayer of David being vexed by the false reports of Saul's flatterers. <sup>5</sup>And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels, <sup>7</sup>Who were given to all kinds of wickedness and contention.

A song of <sup>1</sup>degrees.

1 I called unto the Lord in my <sup>1</sup>trouble, and he heard me.

2 Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.

3 What doth thy <sup>1</sup>deceitful tongue bring unto thee? or what doth it avail thee?

4 It is as the <sup>1</sup>sharp arrows of a mighty man, and as the coals of Juniper.

119:149 <sup>1</sup> Or, custom.

119:150 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the nature of the wicked to be to persecute against their conscience.

119:152 <sup>1</sup> His faith is grounded upon God's word, that he would ever be at hand when his children be oppressed.

119:154 <sup>1</sup> For without God's promise there is no hope of deliverance.

119:156 <sup>1</sup> According to thy promise made in the law, which because the wicked lack, they can have no hope of salvation.

119:158 <sup>1</sup> My zeal consumed me when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glory.

119:159 <sup>1</sup> It is a sure sign of our adoption, when we love the Law of God.

119:160 <sup>1</sup> Since thou first promised it, even to the end all thy sayings are true.

119:161 <sup>1</sup> The threatenings and persecutions of princes could not cause me to shrink to confess thee whom I more fear than men.

119:164 <sup>1</sup> That is, often and sundry times.

119:165 <sup>1</sup> For thy conscience assureth them that they please thee, whereas they that love not thee, have the contrary.

119:166 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we must first have faith before we can work and please God.

119:168 <sup>1</sup> I had no respect of men, but set thee always before mine eyes, as the judge of my doings.

119:169 <sup>1</sup> As thou hast promised to be the schoolmaster unto all them that depend upon thee.

119:171 <sup>1</sup> The word signifieth to pour forth continually.

<sup>2</sup> All his prayer and desire is to profit in the word of God.

119:175 <sup>1</sup> That is, thy provident care over me, and wherewith thou wilt judge mine enemies.

119:176 <sup>1</sup> Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and having no place to rest in.

120:Title <sup>1</sup> That is, of lifting up the tune and rising in singing.

120:1 <sup>1</sup> Albeit the children of God ought to rejoice when they suffer for righteous sake, yet it is a great grief to the flesh to hear evil for well doing.

120:3 <sup>1</sup> He assured himself that God would turn their craft to their own destruction.

120:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there is nothing so sharp to pierce, nor so hot to set on fire, as a slanderous tongue.

5 Woe is to me that I remain in <sup>1</sup>Meshech, and dwell in the tents of <sup>2</sup>Kedar.

6 My soul hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I seek <sup>1</sup>peace, and when I speak thereof, they are bent to war.

121 1 This Psalm teacheth that the faithful ought only to look for help at God, 7 who only doth maintain, preserve and prosper his Church.

A song of degrees.

1 I will lift up mine eyes <sup>1</sup>unto the mountains, from whence my help shall come.

2 Mine help cometh from the Lord, which hath made the <sup>1</sup>heaven and the earth.

3 He will not suffer thy foot to slip: for he that keepeth thee, will not <sup>1</sup>slumber.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleep.

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.

6 The sun shall not <sup>1</sup>smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.

7 The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall keep thy soul.

8 The Lord shall preserve thy <sup>1</sup>going out, and thy coming in from henceforth and forever.

122 1 David rejoiceth in the name of the faithful, that God hath accomplished his promise and placed his Ark in Zion. 5 For the which he giveth thanks, 8 And prayeth for the prosperity of the Church.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 I <sup>4</sup>rejoiced when they said to me, We will go into the house of the Lord.

2 Our <sup>1</sup>feet shall stand in thy gates, O Jerusalem.

3 Jerusalem is built as a city, that is <sup>1</sup>compact together in itself:

4 Whereunto <sup>1</sup>the Tribes, even the Tribes of the Lord go up according to the testimony to Israel, to praise the Name of the Lord.

5 For there are thrones set for judgment, even the thrones of the house of <sup>1</sup>David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: let them prosper that love thee.

7 Peace be within thy <sup>1</sup>walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.

8 For my <sup>1</sup>brethren and neighbors' sakes, I will wish thee now prosperity.

9 Because of the House of the Lord our God, I will procure thy wealth.

123 A prayer of the faithful, which were afflicted either in Babylon or under Antiochus, by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

A song of degrees.

1 I lift up mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of <sup>1</sup>servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress: so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy unto us, O Lord, have mercy upon us: for we have <sup>1</sup>suffered too much contempt.

4 Our soul is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, and of the despitefulness of the proud.

124 The people of God, escaping a great peril, do acknowledge themselves to be delivered, not by their own force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatness of the peril. 6 And praise the Name of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 If the Lord had not been <sup>1</sup>on our side, (may Israel now say)

2 If the Lord had [not] been on our side, when men rose up against us,

120:5 <sup>1</sup> These were people of Arabia, which came of Japheth, Gen. 10:2.

120:7 <sup>1</sup> He declareth what he meaneth by Meshech, and Kedar, to wit, the Israelites which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithful.

121:1 <sup>1</sup> Or, about the mountains: meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world, wherein he can trust, but only in God.

121:2 <sup>1</sup> He accuseth man's ingratitude, which cannot depend on God's power.

121:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's providence not only watcheth over his Church in general: but also over every member thereof.

121:6 <sup>1</sup> Neither heat nor cold, nor any incommodity shall be able to destroy God's Church, albeit for a time they may molest it.

121:8 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever thou dost enterprise, shall have good success.

122:1 <sup>1</sup> He rejoiceth that God had appointed a place, where the Ark should still remain.

122:2 <sup>1</sup> Which were wont to wander to and fro, as the Ark removed.

122:3 <sup>1</sup> By the artificial joining and beauty of the houses, he meaneth the concord and love that was between the citizens.

122:4 <sup>1</sup> All the tribes according to God's covenant shall come and pray there.

122:5 <sup>1</sup> In whose house God placed the throne of justice, and made it a figure of Christ's kingdom.

122:7 <sup>1</sup> The favor of God prosper thee both within and without.

122:8 <sup>1</sup> Not only for mine own sake, but for all the faithful.

123:2 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the condition of the godly, to servants that are destitute of all help, assuring that when all other helps fail, God is ever at hand and like himself.

123:3 <sup>1</sup> He declareth that when the faithful are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scornings of the wicked, there is always help above, if with hungry desires they call for it.

124:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God was ready to help at need, and that there was none other way to be saved, but by his only means.

3 They had then swallowed us up <sup>1</sup>quick, when their wrath was kindled against us.

4 Then the <sup>1</sup>waters had drowned us, and the stream had gone over our soul:

5 Then had the swelling waters gone over our soul.

6 Praised be the Lord, which hath not given us as a prey unto their teeth.

7 Our soul is escaped, even as a bird out of the <sup>1</sup>snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are delivered.

8 Our help is in the Name of the Lord, which hath made heaven and earth.

125 1 He describeth the assurance of the faithful in their afflictions. 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

A song of degrees.

1 They that trust in the Lord, shall be as mount Zion, which cannot <sup>1</sup>be removed, but remaineth forever.

2 As the mountains are about Jerusalem: so is the Lord about his people from henceforth and forever.

3 For the <sup>1</sup>rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand unto wickedness.

4 Do well, O Lord, unto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 <sup>1</sup>But these that turn aside by their crooked ways, them shall the Lord lead with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel.

126 1 This Psalm was made after the return of the people from Babylon, and showeth that the means of their deliverance was wonderful after the seventy years of captivity forspoken by Jeremiah, in Jer. 25:12 and 29:10.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 When the Lord brought again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that <sup>1</sup>dream.

124:3 <sup>1</sup> So unable were we to resist.

124:4 <sup>1</sup> He useth most proper similitudes to express the great danger that the Church was in, and out of the which God miraculously delivered them.

124:7 <sup>1</sup> For the wicked did not only furiously rage against the faithful, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

125:1 <sup>1</sup> Though the world be subject to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure, and be defended by God's providence.

125:3 <sup>1</sup> Though God suffer his to be under the cross, lest they should embrace wickedness, yet this cross shall not so rest upon them, that it should drive them from hope.

125:5 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites, and such as have no zeal of the truth.

126:1 <sup>1</sup> Their deliverance was as a thing incredible, and therefore took away all excuse of ingratitude.

126:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth how the godly ought to rejoice when God gathereth his Church or delivereth it.

2 Then was our mouth <sup>1</sup>filled with laughter, and our tongue with joy: then said they among the <sup>2</sup>heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we rejoice.

4 O Lord, bring again our captivity, as the <sup>1</sup>rivers in the South.

5 They that sow in tears, shall reap in joy.

6 They went weeping, and carried <sup>1</sup>precious seed: but they shall return with joy, and bring their sheaves.

127 1 He showeth that the whole estate of the world, both domestical and political, standeth by God's mere providence and blessing. 3 And that to have children well nurtured, is an especial grace and gift of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of Solomon.

1 Except the Lord <sup>1</sup>build the house, they labor in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the <sup>2</sup>city, the keeper watcheth in vain.

2 It is in vain for <sup>1</sup>you to rise early, and to lie down late, and eat the bread <sup>2</sup>of sorrow: but he will surely give <sup>3</sup>rest to his beloved.

3 Behold, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the fruit of the womb his reward.

4 As are the arrows in the hand of the strong man; so are the <sup>1</sup>children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quiver full of them: for they <sup>1</sup>shall not be ashamed, when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

128 He showeth that blessedness appertaineth not to all universally, but to them only that fear the Lord, and walk in his ways.

A song of degrees.

1 Blessed is everyone that feareth the Lord, and walketh in his <sup>1</sup>ways.

never show themselves sufficiently thankful.

126:4 <sup>1</sup> It is no more impossible to God to deliver his people, than to cause the rivers to run in the wilderness and barren places.

126:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, seed which was scarce and dear: meaning, that they which trusted in God's promise to return, had their desire.

127:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, govern and dispose all things pertaining to the family.

127:2 <sup>1</sup> Which watch and ward, and are also magistrates, and rulers of the city.

<sup>2</sup> Either that which is gotten by hard labor, or eaten with grief of mind.

<sup>3</sup> Not exempting them from labor, but making their labors comfortable, and as it were a rest.

127:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, endued with strength and virtues from God: for these are signs of God's blessings, and not the number.

127:5 <sup>1</sup> Such children shall be able to stop their adversaries' mouths, when their godly life is maliciously accused before Judges.

128:1 <sup>1</sup> God approveth not our life, except it be reformed according to his word.

2 When thou eatest the labors of thine <sup>1</sup>hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy <sup>1</sup>children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall <sup>1</sup>bless thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of <sup>2</sup>Jerusalem all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

129 1 He admonisheth the Church to rejoice though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be delivered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious show, shall suddenly be destroyed.

A song of degrees.

1 They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth (may <sup>1</sup>Israel now say)

2 They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth: but they could not prevail against me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back, and made long furrows.

4 But the <sup>1</sup>righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 <sup>1</sup>They shall be as the grass on the house tops, which withereth afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the gleaner his lap:

8 <sup>1</sup>Neither they which go by, say, The blessing of the Lord be upon you, or, We bless you in the Name of the Lord.

130 The people of God from their bottomless miseries do cry unto God, and are heard. 3 They confess their sins, and flee unto God's mercies.

A song of degrees.

1 Out of the <sup>1</sup>deep places have I called unto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears attend to the voice of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lord, straightly markest iniquities, O Lord, <sup>1</sup>who shall stand?

4 But mercy is with thee, that thou <sup>1</sup>mayest be feared.

5 I have waited on the Lord: my soul hath waited, and I have trusted in his word.

6 My soul waiteth on the Lord more than the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel wait on the Lord: for with the Lord is <sup>1</sup>mercy, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

131 1 David charged with ambition and greedy desire to reign, protesteth his humility and modesty before God, and teacheth all men what they should do.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 Lord, <sup>1</sup>mine heart is not haughty, neither are mine eyes lofty, neither have I walked in great <sup>2</sup>mat- ters and hid from me.

2 Surely I have behaved myself, like one weaned from his mother, and kept silence: I am in myself as one that is <sup>1</sup>weaned.

3 Let Israel wait on the Lord from henceforth and forever.

132 1 The faithful grounding on God's promise made unto David, desire that he would establish the same, both as touching his posterity, and the building of the Temple, to pray there as was forspoken, Deut. 12:5.

A song of degrees.

1 Lord, remember David with all his <sup>1</sup>affliction,

2 Who swore unto the Lord, and vowed unto the mighty God, of Jacob, saying,

128:2 <sup>1</sup>The world esteemeth them happy, which live in wealth and idleness: but the holy Ghost approveth them best that live of the mean profit of their labors.

128:3 <sup>1</sup>Because God's favor appeareth in none outward thing, more than in increase of children, he promiseth to enrich the faithful with this gift.

128:5 <sup>1</sup>Because of the spiritual blessing which God hath made to his Church, these temporal things shall be granted.

129:1 <sup>1</sup>The Church now afflicted ought to remember how her condition hath ever been such from the beginning to be molested most grievously by the wicked: yet in time it hath ever been delivered.

129:4 <sup>1</sup>Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his adversary, and deliver his, as oxen out of the plough.

129:6 <sup>1</sup>The enemies that lift themselves most high, and as it were approach near to the Sun, are consumed with the heat of God's wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humility.

129:8 <sup>1</sup>That is, the wicked shall perish, and none shall pass for them.

130:1 <sup>1</sup>Being in great distress and sorrow.

130:3 <sup>1</sup>He declareth that we cannot be just before God but by forgiveness of sins.

130:4 <sup>1</sup>Because of nature thou art merciful: therefore the faithful reverence thee.

130:7 <sup>1</sup>He sheweth to whom the mercy of God doth appertain: to Israel, that is, to the Church and not to the reprobate.

131:1 <sup>1</sup>He setteth forth his great humility, as an example to all rulers and governors.

131:2 <sup>1</sup>He was void of ambition and wicked desires.

132:1 <sup>1</sup>That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with how great zeal and care he went about to build thy Temple.

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come upon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleep, nor mine eyelids to slumber,

5 Until I find out a place for the <sup>1</sup>Lord, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in <sup>1</sup>Ephrathah, and found it in the fields of the forest.

7 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, to come into thy <sup>1</sup>rest, thou, and the Ark of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and let thy Saints rejoice.

10 For thy <sup>1</sup>servant David's sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David, and he will not shrink from it, saying, Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12 If thy sons keep my Covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sons also shall sit upon thy throne <sup>1</sup>forever.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loved to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest forever: here will I dwell, for I have a <sup>1</sup>delight therein.

15 I will surely bless her vittles, and will satisfy her poor with bread,

16 And will clothe her Priests with <sup>1</sup>salvation, and her Saints shall shout for joy.

17 There will I make the <sup>1</sup>horn of David to bud: for I have ordained a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crown shall flourish.

132:3 <sup>1</sup> Because the chief charge of the king was to set forth God's glory, he showeth that he could take no rest, neither would go about any worldly thing, were it never so necessary, before he had executed his office.

132:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Ark, which was a sign of God's presence.

132:6 <sup>1</sup> The common bruit was that the Ark should remain in Ephrathah, that is, in Bethlehem a plentiful place: but after we perceived that thou wouldest place it in Jerusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about only with hills.

132:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, Jerusalem, because that afterward his Ark should remove to none other place.

132:9 <sup>1</sup> Let the effect of thy grace both appear in the Priests and in the people.

132:10 <sup>1</sup> As thou first madest promise to David, so continue it to his posterity, that whatsoever they shall ask for their people, it may be granted.

132:12 <sup>1</sup> Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth, that the promise was spiritual.

132:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, for his own sake, and not for the plentifulness of the place: for he promiseth to bless it, declaring before that it was barren.

133 <sup>1</sup> This Psalm containeth the commendation of brotherly amity among the servants of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 Behold, how good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell even <sup>1</sup>together.

2 It is like to the precious <sup>1</sup>ointment upon the head, that runneth down upon the beard, even unto Aaron's beard, which went down on the border of his garments,

3 And as the dew of <sup>1</sup>Hermon which falleth upon the mountains of Zion: for <sup>2</sup>there the Lord appointed the blessing and life forever.

134 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth the Levites watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A song of degrees.

1 Behold, praise ye the Lord, all ye <sup>1</sup>servants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift up your <sup>1</sup>hands to the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord.

3 The Lord that <sup>1</sup>hath made heaven and earth, bless thee out of Zion.

135 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth all the faithful, of what estate soever they be, to praise God for his marvelous works. <sup>12</sup> And specially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hath declared his Majesty. <sup>15</sup> To the confusion of all idolaters and their idols.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise, the Name of the Lord; ye servants of the Lord, praise him.

2 Ye that <sup>1</sup>stand in the House of the Lord, and in the <sup>2</sup>courts of the House of our God,

3 Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises unto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

132:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe.

132:17 <sup>1</sup> Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promiseth to restore it.

133:1 <sup>1</sup> Because the greatest part were against David, though some favored him, yet when he was established king at length, they joined all together like brethren: and therefore he showeth by these similitudes the commodity of brotherly love.

133:2 <sup>1</sup> The ointment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head upon his Church.

133:3 <sup>1</sup> By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentiful country about Jerusalem.

134:1 <sup>1</sup> Ye that are Levites and chiefly appointed to this office.

134:2 <sup>1</sup> For their charge was not only to keep the Temple, but to pray there, and to give God thanks.

134:3 <sup>1</sup> And therefore hath all power, bless thee with his Fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Levites used to praise the Lord, and bless the people.

135:2 <sup>1</sup> Ye Levites that are in his Sanctuary.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the people: for the people and Levites had their courts, which were places of the Temple separate.

4 For the Lord hath <sup>1</sup>chosen Jacob to himself, and Israel for his chief treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever pleased the Lord, that <sup>1</sup>did he in heaven and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth up the clouds from the ends of the earth, and maketh the <sup>a</sup>lightnings with the rain: he draweth forth the wind out of his treasures.

8 <sup>b</sup>He smote the firstborn of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

10 <sup>c</sup>He smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings:

11 As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:

12 And <sup>1</sup>gave their land for an inheritance, even an inheritance unto Israel his people.

13 Thy Name, O Lord, endureth forever: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will <sup>1</sup>judge his people, and be pacified toward his servants.

15 The <sup>1</sup>idols of the heathen are silver and gold, even the work of men's hands.

16 They have a mouth, and speak not: they have eyes and see not.

17 They have ears and hear not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like unto them: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Levi; ye that fear the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

136 <sup>1</sup> A most earnest exhortation to give thanks unto God for the creation and governance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giveth us all of his mere liberality.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his <sup>1</sup>mercy endureth forever.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercy endureth forever:

3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth forever:

4 Which only doeth great wonders; for his mercy endureth forever:

5 Which by his wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth forever:

6 Which hath stretched out the earth upon the waters: for his <sup>1</sup>mercy endureth forever:

7 Which made great lights: for his mercy endureth forever:

8 As the Sun to rule the day; for his mercy endureth forever:

9 The Moon and the stars to govern the night: for his mercy endureth forever:

10 Which smote Egypt with their firstborn, (for his mercy endureth forever)

11 And <sup>1</sup>brought out Israel from among them; for his mercy endureth forever:

12 With a mighty hand and <sup>1</sup>stretched out arm; for his mercy endureth forever:

13 Which divideth the Sea into two parts; for his mercy endureth forever:

14 And made Israel to pass through the midst of it; for his mercy endureth forever:

15 And overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the red Sea; for his mercy endureth forever:

20 And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth forever:

135:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath freely loved the posterity of Abraham.

135:6 <sup>1</sup> He joined God's power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them, and hereby he willeth God's people to depend on his power which he confirmeth by examples.

135:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what fruit the godly conceive of God's power, whereby they see how he destroyeth his enemies, and delivereth his people.

135:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, govern and defend his people.

135:15 <sup>1</sup> By showing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offenses, seeing that idols have neither power nor life, and that their deliverance came not by idols, but by the mighty power of God, read Ps. 115:4.

136:1 <sup>1</sup> By this repetition he showeth that the least of God's benefits bind us to thanksgiving: but chiefly his mercy, which is principally declared towards his Church.

136:6 <sup>1</sup> This was a common kind of thanksgiving, which the whole people used, when they had received any benefit of God, as 2 Chron. 7:6 and 20:21, meaning, that God was not only merciful to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posterity.

136:11 <sup>1</sup> God's merciful providence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he delivered his Church from the thraldom of their enemies.

136:12 <sup>1</sup> In doing such a work as was never done before, nor that any other could do.

136:16 <sup>1</sup> Where for the space of forty years he showed infinite and most strange wonders.

136:18 <sup>1</sup> Declaring thereby that no power nor authority was so dear unto him, as the love of his Church.

21 And gave their land for an heritage; for his mercy endureth forever:

22 Even an heritage unto Israel his servant; for his mercy endureth forever:

man. 14 After declaring his zeal and fear of God, he professeth to be enemy to all them that contemn God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

- 1 O Lord, thou hast tried me, and known me.
- 2 Thou knowest my <sup>1</sup>sitting and my rising; thou understandest my thought afar off.
- 3 Thou <sup>1</sup>compasses my paths, and my lying down, and art accustomed to all my ways.
- 4 For there is not a word in my <sup>1</sup>tongue, but lo, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.
- 5 Thou holdest me strait behind and before, and layest thine <sup>1</sup>hand upon me.
- 6 Thy knowledge is too wonderful for me: it is so high that I cannot attain unto it.
- 7 Whither shall I go from thy <sup>1</sup>Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?
- 8 If I ascend into heaven, thou art there: if I lie down in hell, thou art there.
- 9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:
- 10 Yet thither shall thine hand <sup>1</sup>lead me, and thy right hand hold me.
- 11 If I say, Yet the darkness shall hide me, even the night shall be <sup>1</sup>light about me.
- 12 Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darkness and light are both alike.
- 13 For thou hast <sup>1</sup>possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.
- 14 I will praise thee, for I am <sup>1</sup>fearfully and wondrously made: marvelous are thy works, and my soul knoweth it well.
- 15 My bones are not hid from thee, though I was made in a secret place, and fashioned <sup>1</sup>beneath in the earth.
- 16 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without form: <sup>1</sup>for in thy book were all things written, which in continuance were fashioned, when there was none of them before.

- 17 How <sup>1</sup>dear therefore are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them!
- 18 If I should count them, they are more than the sand: when I awake, <sup>1</sup>I am still with thee.
- 19 Oh that thou wouldest [slay], O God, the wicked and bloody men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:
- 20 Which speak wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted up in vain.
- 21 Do not I <sup>1</sup>hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and do not I earnestly contend with those that rise up against thee?
- 22 I hate them with an unfeigned hatred, as they were mine utter enemies.
- 23 Try me, O God, and know mine heart: prove me and know my thoughts,
- 24 And consider if there be any <sup>1</sup>way of wickedness in me, and lead me in the <sup>2</sup>way forever.

143:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, as thou hast promised to be faithful in thy promise to all that trust in thee.

143:2 <sup>1</sup> He know that his afflictions were God's messengers to call him to repentance for his sins, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in God's sight all men are sinners.

143:3 <sup>1</sup> He acknowledgeth that God is the only and true physician and heal him: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long ago, and turned to ashes.

143:4 <sup>1</sup> So that only by faith and by the grace of God's Spirit was he upheld.

143:5 <sup>1</sup> To wit, thy great benefits of old, and the manifold examples of thy favor towards thine.

10 It is he that giveth deliverance unto kings, and rescueth David his <sup>1</sup>servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliver me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 <sup>1</sup>That our sons may be as the plants growing up in their youth, and our daughters as the corner stones, graven after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our <sup>1</sup>corners may be full and abounding with divers sorts, and that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousand in our streets.

14 That our <sup>1</sup>oxen may be strong to labor; that there be none invasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streets.

A Psalm of David of praise.

praised, and his greatness is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall praise thy works unto <sup>1</sup>generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beauty of thy glorious majesty, and thy wonderful works.

6 And they shall speak of the power of thy <sup>1</sup>dreadful acts, and I will declare thy greatness.

7 They shall break out into the mention of thy great goodness, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

8 <sup>a</sup>The Lord is gracious, and <sup>1</sup>merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are over all his works.

10 All thy works praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints bless thee.

11 <sup>1</sup>They show the glory of thy kingdom, and speak of thy power, 12 To cause his <sup>1</sup>power to be known to the sons of men, and the glorious renown of his kingdom.

13 Thy <sup>b</sup>kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord upholdeth all that <sup>1</sup>fall, and lifteth up all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of <sup>1</sup>all wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things living of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord is <sup>1</sup>righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

18 The Lord is near unto all that call upon him, yea, to all that call upon him in <sup>1</sup>truth.

19 He will fulfill the <sup>1</sup>desire of them that fear him;

144:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, a rare and excellent song, as thy great benefits deserve.

144:10 <sup>1</sup> Though wicked kings be called God's servants, as Cyrus, Isa. 45:1, forasmuch as he useth them to execute his judgments: yet David because of God's promise, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serve not their own affections, but set forth God's glory.

144:12 <sup>1</sup> He desireth God to continue his benefits toward his people, counting the procreation of children and their good education among the chiefest of God's benefits.

144:13 <sup>1</sup> That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings.

144:14 <sup>1</sup> He attributeth not only the great commodities, but even the least also to God's favor.

144:15 <sup>1</sup> And if God give not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

145:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable unto God, even praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God still continueth his benefits towards us, we ought never to be weary in praising him for the same.

145:3 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he declareth that all power is subject unto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure God's glory.

145:4 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as the end man's creation, and of his preservation in this life is to praise God, therefore he requireth that not only we ourselves do this, but cause all others to do the same.

145:6 <sup>1</sup> Of thy terrible judgments against the wicked.

145:8 <sup>1</sup> He describeth after what sort God showeth himself to all his creatures, though our sins have provoked his vengeance against all: to wit, merciful, not only in pardoning the sins of his elect, but in doing good even to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feel the sweet comfort of the same.

145:11 <sup>1</sup> The Praise of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithful are ever mindful of the same.

145:12 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that all things are out of order; but only where God reigneth.

145:14 <sup>1</sup> Who being in misery and affliction would faint and fall away, if God did not uphold them, and therefore they ought to reverence him that reigneth in heaven, and suffer themselves to be governed by him.

145:15 <sup>1</sup> To wit, as well of man, as of beast.

145:17 <sup>1</sup> He praiseth God, not only because he is beneficial to all his creatures, but also in that he justly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examineth his by the cross, giving them strength and delivering them.

145:18 <sup>1</sup> Which only appertaineth to the faithful: and this virtue is contrary to infidelity, doubting, impatience and murmuring.

145:19 <sup>1</sup> For they will ask or wish for nothing, but according to his will, 1 John 5:14.

he will also hear their cry, and will save them.

20 The Lord preserveth all them that love him; but he will destroy the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord, and all <sup>1</sup>flesh shall bless his holy Name forever and ever.

146 <sup>1</sup> David declareth his great zeal that he hath to praise God. <sup>3</sup> And teacheth, not to trust in man, but only in God Almighty. <sup>7</sup> Which delivereth the afflicted. <sup>9</sup> Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherless, and the widows. <sup>10</sup> And reigneth forever.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise thou the Lord, O my <sup>1</sup>soul.

2 I will praise the Lord during my life; as long as I have any being, I will sing unto my God.

3 Put not your trust in <sup>1</sup>Princes, nor in the son of man, for there is no help in him.

4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth; then his <sup>1</sup>thoughts perish.

5 Blessed is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God,

6 Which made <sup>1</sup>heaven and earth, the sea, and all that therein is; which keepeth his fidelity forever,

7 Which executeth justice <sup>1</sup>for the oppressed, which giveth bread to the hungry; the Lord looseth the prisoners.

8 The Lord giveth sight to the blind: the Lord raiseth up the crooked: the Lord <sup>1</sup>loveth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the <sup>1</sup>strangers: he relieveth the fatherless and widow: but he overthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lord shall <sup>1</sup>reign forever: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Praise ye the Lord.

147 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet praiseth the bounty, wisdom, power, justice, and providence of God upon all his creatures. <sup>2</sup> But specially upon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion. <sup>19</sup> Declaring his word and judgment so unto them, as he hath done to none other people.

1 Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing unto our God: for it is a <sup>1</sup>pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

2 The Lord doth build up <sup>1</sup>Jerusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are <sup>1</sup>broken in heart, and bindeth up their sores.

4 He <sup>1</sup>counteth the number of the stars, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord relieveth the meek, and abaseth the wicked to the <sup>1</sup>ground.

7 Sing unto the Lord with praise: sing upon the harp unto our God,

8 Which <sup>1</sup>covereth the heaven with clouds, and prepareth rain for the earth, and maketh the grass to grow upon the mountains:

9 Which giveth to beasts their food, and to the young ravens that <sup>1</sup>cry.

10 He hath no pleasure in the <sup>1</sup>strength of an horse, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.

11 But the Lord delighteth in them that fear him, and attend upon his mercy.

12 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For he hath made the bars of the gates <sup>1</sup>strong,

145:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, all men shall be bound to praise him.

146:1 <sup>1</sup> He stirreth up himself and all his affections to praise God.

146:3 <sup>1</sup> That God may have the whole praise: wherein he forbiddeh all vain confidence, showing that of nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, than in God the Creator.

146:4 <sup>1</sup> As their vain opinions, whereby they flattered themselves and so imagined wicked enterprises.

146:6 <sup>1</sup> He encourageth the godly to trust only in the Lord, both for that his power is able to deliver them from all danger, and from his promise sake, his will is most ready to do it.

146:7 <sup>1</sup> Whose faith and patience for a while he trieth, but at length he punisheth the adversaries, that he may be known to be judge of the world.

146:8 <sup>1</sup> Though he visit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment and such like, yet his fatherly love and pity never faileth them, yea, rather to his these are signs of his love.

146:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, all them that are destitute of worldly means and succor.

146:10 <sup>1</sup> He assureth the Church that God reigneth forever for the preservation of the same.

147:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth wherein we ought to exercise ourselves continually, and to take our pastime: to wit, in praising God.

147:2 <sup>1</sup> Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seem as it were for a time to be cut off.

147:3 <sup>1</sup> With affliction, or sorrow for sin.

147:4 <sup>1</sup> Though it seem to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed, yet nothing can be too hard to him that can number and name all the stars.

147:6 <sup>1</sup> For the more high that the wicked climb the greater is their fall in the end.

147:8 <sup>1</sup> He showeth by the examples of God's mighty power, goodness, and wisdom, that he can never want most just occasion to praise God.

147:9 <sup>1</sup> For their crying is as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved, but by God only, then if God show himself mindful of the most contemptible souls, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life everlasting?

147:10 <sup>1</sup> Though to use lawful means is both profitable and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraud God of his honor.

147:13 <sup>1</sup> He doth not only furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preserveth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force.

and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the <sup>1</sup>flour of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his <sup>1</sup>commandment upon earth, and his word runneth very <sup>2</sup>swiftly.

16 He giveth snow like wool, and scattereth the hoary frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can abide the cold thereof?

18 He sendeth his word and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He showeth his <sup>1</sup>word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with every nation, neither have they <sup>1</sup>known his judgments. Praise ye the Lord.

148 1 He provoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heaven and earth, and all places. 14 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath given to the same, after that he had chosen them and joined them unto him.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye the Lord from the heaven: praise ye him in the high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye <sup>1</sup>his Angels: praise him, all his army.

3 Praise ye him, <sup>1</sup>sun and moon: praise ye him all bright stars.

4 Praise ye him <sup>1</sup>heavens of heavens, and <sup>2</sup>waters, that be above the heavens.

5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them forever and ever: he hath made an ordinance, which shall not pass.

7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye <sup>1</sup>dragons and all depths:

8 <sup>1</sup>Fire and hail, snow and vapors, stormy wind, which execute his word.

9 Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees, and all cedars:

10 Beasts and all cattle, creeping things and feathered fowls:

11 <sup>1</sup>Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all judges of the world:

12 Young men and maidens, also old men and children:

13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name only is to be exalted, and his praise above the earth and the heavens.

14 For he hath exalted the <sup>1</sup>horn of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, even for the <sup>2</sup>children of Israel, a people that is near unto him. Praise ye the Lord.

149 1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victory and conquest, that he giveth his Saints against all man's power.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Sing ye unto the Lord <sup>1</sup>a new song: let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel rejoice in him that <sup>1</sup>made him, and let the children of Zion rejoice in their <sup>2</sup>King.

3 Let them praise his Name with the flute: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the meek glorious by deliverance.

5 Let the Saints be joyful with glory: let them sing loud upon their <sup>1</sup>beds.

6 Let the high Acts of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hands,

7 <sup>1</sup>To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and corrections among the people:

147:14 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, fat.

147:15 <sup>1</sup> His secret working in all creatures is as a commandment to keep them in order, and to give them moving and force.

147:19 <sup>1</sup> As before he called God's secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here by his word the doctrine of life everlasting, which he hath left to his Church as a most precious treasure.

147:20 <sup>1</sup> The cause of this difference is God's free mercy, which hath elected his in his Son Christ Jesus to salvation: and his just judgment, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

148:2 <sup>1</sup> Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach us to do our duty.

148:3 <sup>1</sup> In that God's glory shineth in these insensible creatures, their beauty is as a continual praising of God.

148:4 <sup>1</sup> Not that there are divers heavens, but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed stars and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heaven.

<sup>2</sup> That is, the rain which is in the middle region of the air, which he here comprehendeth under the name of the heavens.

148:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales and such like.

148:8 <sup>1</sup> Which come not by chance or fortune, but by God's appointed ordinance.

148:11 <sup>1</sup> For the greater gifts that any hath received, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither high nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this duty.

148:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, the dignity, power and glory of his Church.

149:1 <sup>1</sup> For his rare and manifold benefits bestowed on his Church.

149:2 <sup>1</sup> In that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore, Ps. 95:7, they were called the sheep of God's hands.

<sup>2</sup> For God as he is the creator of the soul and body, so wills he that both ... serve him and that his people be continually subject to him, as to their most lawful king.

149:5 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to that continual rest and quietness which they should have if they would suffer God to rule them.

149:7 <sup>1</sup> This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ when God's people for just causes execute God's judgments against his enemies: and it giveth no liberty to any to revenge their private injuries.

8 To bind <sup>1</sup>their kings in chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron,

9 That they may execute upon them the judgment that is <sup>1</sup>written: this honor shall be to all his Saints. Praise ye the Lord.

150 <sup>1</sup> An exhortation to praise the Lord without cease by all manner of ways for all his mighty and wonderful works.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye God in his <sup>1</sup>Sanctuary: praise ye him in the <sup>2</sup>firmament of his power.

2 Praise ye him in his mighty Acts: praise ye him according to his excellent greatness.

3 Praise ye him in the sound of the <sup>1</sup>trumpet: praise ye him upon the viol and the harp.

4 Praise ye him with timbrel and flute: praise ye him with virginals and organs.

5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.

6 Let everything that hath <sup>1</sup>breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

149:8 <sup>1</sup> Not only the people, but the kings that were their enemies should be destroyed.

149:9 <sup>1</sup> Hereby God bindeth the hands and minds of all his to enterprize no farther than he appointeth.

150:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, in the heaven.

<sup>2</sup> For his wonderful power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mighty work of God shineth.

150:3 <sup>1</sup> Exhorting the people only to rejoice in praising God, he maketh mention of those instruments which by God's commandment were appointed in the old Law, but under Christ the use thereof is abolished in the Church.

150:6 <sup>1</sup> He sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this duty, and much more God's children, who ought never to cease to praise him, till they be gathered into that kingdom, which he hath prepared for his, where they shall sing everlasting praise.

THE 1 PROVERBS OF SOLOMON

1 2 The power and use of the word of God. 7 Of the fear of God and knowledge of his word. 10 We may not consent to the enticings of sinners. 20 Wisdom complaineth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemn her.

1 The Parables of Solomon the son of David king of Israel,

2 To know wisdom, <sup>1</sup>and instruction, to understand the words <sup>2</sup>of knowledge,

3 To receive <sup>1</sup>instruction to do wisely, by <sup>2</sup>justice and judgment and equity,

4 To give unto the <sup>1</sup>simple sharpness of wit, and to the child knowledge and discretion.

5 And wise man shall hear and increase in learning, and a man of <sup>1</sup>understanding shall attain unto wise counsels,

6 To understand a parable, and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.

7 ¶ “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction.

8 My son, hear thy <sup>1</sup>father’s instruction, and forsake not thy <sup>2</sup>mother’s teaching.

9 For they shall be <sup>1</sup>a comely ornament unto thine head, and as chains for thy neck.

10 ¶ My son, <sup>1</sup>if sinners do entice thee, consent thou not.

Eccl. 1:16

11 If they say, Come with us, we will lay wait for <sup>1</sup>blood, and lie privily for the innocent without a cause:

12 We will swallow them up alive like a <sup>1</sup>grave, even whole, as those that go down into the pit:

13 We shall find all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoil:

14 Cast in thy lot among us, we will all have one <sup>1</sup>purse:

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them: refrain thy foot from their <sup>1</sup>path.

16 For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Certainly as without cause the net is spread before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay wait for blood, and lie privily for <sup>1</sup>their lives.

19 Such are the ways of everyone that is greedy of gain: he would take away <sup>1</sup>the life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Wisdom crieth without: she uttereth her voice in the <sup>2</sup>streets.

21 She calleth in the high street, among the prease in the enterings of the gates, and uttereth her words in the city, saying,

22 O ye <sup>1</sup>foolish, how long will ye love foolishness? and the scornful take their pleasure in scorning? and the fools hate knowledge?

Title <sup>1</sup>This word Proverb, or Parable, signifieth a grave and notable sentence, worthy to be kept in memory: and is sometimes taken in the evil part for a mock or scoff.

1:2 <sup>1</sup>That is, what we ought to know and follow, and what we ought to refuse.

1:3 <sup>1</sup>To learn to submit ourselves to the correction of those that are wise.

<sup>2</sup>By living justly and rendering to every man that which appertaineth unto him.

1:4 <sup>1</sup>To such as have no discretion to rule themselves.

1:5 <sup>1</sup>As he showeth that these parables containing the effect of religion as touching manners and doctrine, do appertain to the simple people: so doth he declare that the same is also necessary for them that are wise and learned.

1:8 <sup>1</sup>He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the universal Father of all creatures, or in the name of the pastor of the Church, who is as a father.

<sup>2</sup>That is, of the Church, wherein the faithful are begotten by the incorruptible seed of God’s word.

1:9 <sup>1</sup>Hebrew, increase of grace.

1:10 <sup>1</sup>To wit, the wicked which have not the fear of God.

1:11 <sup>1</sup>He speaketh not only of the shedding of blood with hand, but of all crafty practices which tend to the detriment of our neighbor.

1:12 <sup>1</sup>As the grave is never satiated, so the avarice of the wicked and their cruelty hath none end.

1:14 <sup>1</sup>He showeth whereby the wicked are allured to join together, because they have every one part of the spoil of the innocent.

1:15 <sup>1</sup>That is, have nothing at all to do with them.

1:18 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that there is no cause to move these wicked to spoil the innocent, but their avarice and cruelty.

1:19 <sup>1</sup>Whereby he concludeth, that the covetous man is a murderer.

1:20 <sup>1</sup>This wisdom is the eternal word of God.

1:22 <sup>1</sup>Wisdom reproveth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple which err of ignorance, and the mockers that cannot suffer to be taught, and the fools which are drowned in worldly lusts and hate the knowledge of godliness.

23 (Turn you at my correction: lo, I will pour out my mind unto you, and make you understand my words.)

24 Because I have called, and ye refused: I have stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.

25 But ye have despised all my counsel, and would none of my correction,

26 I will also <sup>1</sup>laugh at your destruction, and mock when your fear cometh.

27 When <sup>1</sup>your fear cometh like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come like a whirlwind: when affliction and anguish shall come upon you,

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer: they shall seek me early, but they shall not <sup>1</sup>find me,

29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsel, but <sup>1</sup>despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the <sup>1</sup>fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For <sup>1</sup>ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperity of fools destroyeth them.

33 But he that obeyeth me, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from fear of evil.

2 <sup>1</sup> Wisdom exhorteth to obey her. <sup>5</sup> She teacheth the fear of God. <sup>6</sup> She is given of God. <sup>10</sup> She preserveth from wickedness.

1 My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and <sup>1</sup>hide my commandments within thee,

2 And cause thine ears to hearken unto wisdom, and incline <sup>1</sup>thine heart to understanding,

3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, <sup>1</sup>and cryest for understanding:

4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for <sup>1</sup>treasures,

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the <sup>1</sup>knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giveth wisdom, out of his mouth

cometh knowledge and understanding.

7 He <sup>1</sup>preserveth the state of the righteous, he is a shield to them that walk uprightly,

8 That they may keep the ways of judgment: and he preserveth the way of his Saints).

9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness and judgment, and equity, and every good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soul,

11 Then shall <sup>1</sup>counsel preserve thee, and understanding shall keep thee,

12 And deliver thee from the evil way, and from the man that speaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leave the <sup>1</sup>ways of righteousness to walk in the ways of darkness:

14 Which rejoice in doing evil, and delight <sup>1</sup>in the frowardness of the wicked,

15 Whose ways are crooked, and they are lewd in their paths.

16 And it shall deliver thee from the strange <sup>1</sup>woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

17 Which forsaketh the <sup>1</sup>guide of her youth, and forgetteth the <sup>2</sup>covenant of her God.

18 Surely her <sup>1</sup>house tendeth to death, and her paths unto <sup>2</sup>the dead.

19 All they that go unto her, return not again, neither take they hold of the ways of life.

20 Therefore walk thou in the way of good men, and keep the ways of the righteous.

21 For the just shall dwell in the <sup>1</sup>land, and the upright men shall remain in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressor shall be rooted out of it.

1 My son, forget not thou my Law, but let thine

1:26 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying that the wicked, which mock and jest at God's word, shall have the just reward of their mocking.

1:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, your destruction, which thing you feared.

1:28 <sup>1</sup> Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their own grief.

1:30 <sup>1</sup> Showing that without faith and obedience, we can not call upon God aright.

1:31 <sup>1</sup> They shall feel what commodity their wicked life shall give them.

1:32 <sup>1</sup> That is, the prosperity and sensuality wherein they delight.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, keep them in thine heart.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> If thou give thyself to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisy.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that we must seek the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> Showing that no labor must be spared.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> This (saith he) is the true wisdom, to know and fear God.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Or, hideth the salvation.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> The word of God shall teach thee, and counsel thee how to govern thyself.

2:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, the word of God, which is the only light, to follow their own fantasies which are darkness.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> When they see any given to evil as they are.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that wisdom which is the word of God, shall preserve us from all vices: naming this vice of whoredom whereunto man is most prone.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, her husband, which is her head and guide to govern her, from whom she ought not to depart, but remain in his subjection.

2:18 <sup>1</sup> Her acquaintance with her familiars, and them that haunt her.

2:21 <sup>1</sup> They shall enjoy the temporal and spiritual promises of God, as the wicked shall be void of them.

heart <sup>a</sup>keep my commandments.

2 For they shall increase the length of thy <sup>1</sup>days and the years of life, and thy prosperity.

3 Let not <sup>1</sup>mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them on thy <sup>2</sup>neck, and write them upon the table of thine <sup>3</sup>heart.

4 So shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own wisdom.

6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy ways.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine own eyes: but fear the Lord, and depart from evil.

8 So health shall be unto thy <sup>1</sup>navel, and marrow unto thy bones.

9 <sup>1</sup>Honor the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.

10 So shall thy barns be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall <sup>1</sup>burst with new wine.

11 ¶ My son, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.

12 <sup>b</sup>For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loveth, even as the father doth the child, in whom he delighteth.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.

14 For the merchandise thereof is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof is better than gold.

15 It is more precious than pearls: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of days is in her right hand, <sup>1</sup>and in her right hand riches and glory.

17 Her ways are ways of pleasure, and all her paths prosperity.

18 She is a tree <sup>1</sup>of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.

<sup>a</sup>Deut. 8:1
Deut. 30:16

<sup>b</sup>Heb. 1:2,5
Rev. 3:19

19 The Lord by wisdom hath laid the <sup>1</sup>foundation of the earth, and hath stablished the heavens through understanding.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 My son, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but observe wisdom and counsel.

22 So they shall be life to thy soul, and grace unto thy <sup>1</sup>neck.

23 Then shalt thou walk safely by the way: and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid: and when thou sleepest, thy sleep shall be sweet.

25 <sup>1</sup>Thou shalt not fear for any sudden fear, neither for destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord shall be for thine assurance, and shall preserve thy foot from taking.

27 ¶ Withhold not the good from <sup>1</sup>the owners thereof, though there be power in [thine] hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbor, Go and come again, and tomorrow will I give thee, if thou now have it.

29 ¶ Intend none hurt against thy neighbor, seeing he doth dwell <sup>1</sup>without fear by thee.

30 ¶ Strive not with a man causeless, when he hath done thee no harm.

31 ¶ Be not <sup>1</sup>envious for the wicked man, neither choose any of his ways,

32 For the froward is abomination unto the Lord: but his <sup>1</sup>secret is with the righteous.

33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.

34 With the scornful <sup>1</sup>he scorneth, but he giveth grace unto the humble.

35 The wise shall inherit glory: but fools dishonor, though they be exalted.

4 <sup>1</sup>Wisdom and her fruits ought to be searched. <sup>14</sup>The way of the wicked must be refused. <sup>20</sup>By the word of

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Long life is the blessing of God which he giveth to his, so far forth as it is expedient for them.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> By mercy and truth he meaneth the commandments of the first and second table: or else the mercy and faithfulness that we ought to use toward our neighbors.

<sup>2</sup> Keep them as a most precious jewel.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> By this part he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneth all the benefits promised in the Law both corporal and spiritual.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23:19; Deut. 26:2, and by this they acknowledged that God was the giver of all things, and that they were ready to bestow all at his commandment.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> For the faithful distributor God giveth in greater abundance.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he that seeketh wisdom, that is, suffereth himself to be governed by the Word of God, shall have all prosperity both corporal and spiritual.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> Which bringeth forth such fruit that they that eat thereof have life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in paradise.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he showeth that this wisdom, whereof he speaketh, is everlasting, because it was before all creatures, and that all things even the whole world were made by it.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> Or, throat, read Prov. 1:9.

3:25 <sup>1</sup> For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will save his as he did Lot in Sodom.

3:27 <sup>1</sup> Not only from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keep it from them which have need of the use thereof.

3:29 <sup>1</sup> That is, putteth his trust in thee.

3:31 <sup>1</sup> Desire not to be like unto him.

3:32 <sup>1</sup> That is, his covenant and fatherly affection which is hid and secret from the world.

3:34 <sup>1</sup> He will show by his plagues, that their scorns shall turn to their own destruction, as Prov. 1:26.

God the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

1 Hear, O ye children, the instruction of a <sup>1</sup>father, and give ear to learn understanding.

2 For I do give you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's son, tender and dear in the sight of my mother,

4 When he <sup>1</sup>taught me, and said unto me, Let thine heart hold fast my words: keep my commandments, and thou shalt live.

5 Get wisdom: get understanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall keep thee: love her and she shall preserve thee.

7 <sup>1</sup>Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and above all thy possession get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honor, if thou embrace her.

9 She shall give a comely ornament unto thine head, yea, she shall give thee a crown of glory.

10 ¶ Hear, my son: and receive my words, and the years of thy life shall be many.

11 I have <sup>1</sup>taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gait shall not be <sup>1</sup>strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take hold of instruction, and leave not: keep her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, and go not by it: turn from it, and pass by.

16 For they cannot <sup>1</sup>sleep, except they have done evil, and their sleep departeth except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of <sup>1</sup>wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that <sup>1</sup>shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall.

20 ¶ My son, hearken unto my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keep them in the midst of thine heart.

22 For they are life unto those that find them: and health unto all their <sup>1</sup>flesh.

23 Keep thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh <sup>1</sup>life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips far from thee.

25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eyelids direct thy way before thee.

26 <sup>1</sup>Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be ordered aright.

27 Turn not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remove thy foot from evil.

1 My son, hearken unto my wisdom, and incline thine ear unto my <sup>1</sup>knowledge,

2 That thou mayest regard counsel, and thy lips observe knowledge.

3 For the lips <sup>1</sup>of a strange woman drop as an honeycomb, and her mouth is more soft than <sup>2</sup>oil.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormwood, and sharp as a two-edged sword.

5 Her <sup>1</sup>feet go down to death, and her steps take hold on hell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: <sup>1</sup>her paths are moveable: thou canst not know them.

7 Hear ye me now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keep thy way far from her, and come not near the door of her house,

9 Lest thou give thine <sup>1</sup>honor unto others, and thy years to the cruel:

10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy <sup>1</sup>labors be in the house of a stranger,

4:1 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in the person of a Preacher and Minister, which is as a father unto the people, read Prov. 2:8.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, David his father.

4:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that we must first begin at God's word, if so be we will that other things prosper with us, contrary to the judgment of the world, which make it their last study, or else care not for it at all.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> Solomon declareth what care his father had to bring him up in the true fear of God: for this was David's protestation.

4:12 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt walk at liberty without offence.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that to do evil is more proper and natural to the wicked than to sleep, eat or drink.

4:17 <sup>1</sup> Gotten by wicked means and cruel oppression.

4:18 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is when they shall be joined to their head in the heavens.

4:22 <sup>1</sup> That is, they shall have health of body: under the which all other blessings promised in the law are contained.

4:23 <sup>1</sup> For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of man's life.

4:26 <sup>1</sup> Keep a measure in all thy doings.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> Or, understanding.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, an harlot which giveth herself to another than to her husband.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> All her doings lead to destruction.

5:6 <sup>1</sup> She hath ever new means to allure to wickedness.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> That is, thy strength and goods to her that will have no pity upon thee: as is read of Samson, and the prodigal son.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> The goods gotten by thy travel.

11 And thou mourn at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)

12 And say, How have I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

13 And have not obeyed the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all evil in the midst of the Congregation and <sup>1</sup>assembly.

15 ¶ Drink the water of <sup>1</sup>thy cistern, and of the rivers out of the midst of thine own well.

16 Let thy fountains flow forth, and the rivers of waters in the streets.

17 But let them be thine, even <sup>1</sup>thine only, and not the strangers with thee.

18 Let thy <sup>1</sup>fountain be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of thy <sup>2</sup>youth.

19 Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfy thee at all times, and delight in her love continually.

20 For why shouldest thou <sup>1</sup>delight, my son, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosom of a stranger?

21 For the ways of man are before the <sup>1</sup>eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his own sin.

23 He shall <sup>1</sup>die for fault of instruction, and shall go astray through his great folly.

1 My son, if thou be surety for thy neighbor, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art <sup>1</sup>snared with the words of thy mouth: thou art even taken with the words of thine own mouth.

3 Do this now, my Son, and deliver thyself: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbor, go, and humble thyself, and solicit thy friends.

4 Give no sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5 Deliver thyself as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 ¶ Go to <sup>1</sup>the pismire, O sluggard: behold her ways, and be wise.

7 For she having no guide, governor, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in harvest.

9 How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of the sleep?

10 <sup>a</sup>Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, <sup>1</sup>a little folding of the hands to sleep.

11 Therefore thy poverty cometh as one that <sup>1</sup>traveleth by the way, and thy necessity like <sup>2</sup>an armed man.

12 The unthrifty man <sup>1</sup>and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He maketh a sign with his eyes: he <sup>1</sup>signifieth with his feet: he <sup>2</sup>instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth evil at all times, and raiseth up contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery.

16 ¶ These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, his soul abhorreth seven:

17 The haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, <sup>1</sup>feet that be swift in running to mischief,

19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth up contentions among <sup>1</sup>brethren.

20 ¶ My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not thy mother's instruction.

21 Bind them always upon thine <sup>1</sup>heart, and tie them about thy neck.

5:14 <sup>1</sup>Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to utter shame and destruction notwithstanding my good bringing up in the assembly of the godly.

5:15 <sup>1</sup>He teacheth us sobriety, exhorting us to live of our own labors and to be beneficial to the godly that want.

5:17 <sup>1</sup>Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reserve them for thyself, thy family and them that are of the household of faith.

5:18 <sup>1</sup>Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, showing that God blesseth marriage, and curseth whoredom.

5:20 <sup>1</sup>Or, go astray with a stranger?

5:21 <sup>1</sup>He declareth that except man do join to his wife both in heart and in outward conversation, that he shall not escape the judgments of God.

5:23 <sup>1</sup>Because he will not give ear to God's word and be admonished.

6:2 <sup>1</sup>He forbiddeth us not to become surety one for another, according to the rule of charity, but that we consider for whom and after what sort, so that the creditor may not be defrauded.

6:6 <sup>1</sup>If the word of God cannot instruct thee, yet learn at the little pismire to labor for thyself and not to burden others.

6:10 <sup>1</sup>He expresseth lively the nature of the sluggards, which though they sleep never so long, yet have never enough, but ever seek occasions thereunto.

6:11 <sup>1</sup>That is, suddenly, and when thou lookest not for it.

<sup>2</sup>It shall come in such sort, as thou are not able to resist it.

6:12 <sup>1</sup>He showeth to what inconvenience the idle persons and sluggards come, by calling them unthrifty, or the men of Belial, and slanderous.

6:13 <sup>1</sup>Hebrew, speaketh.

6:18 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, the raging affections, which carry a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doeth.

6:19 <sup>1</sup>Or, neighbors.

6:21 <sup>1</sup>Read Prov. 3:3.

22 It shall lead thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talk with thee.

23 For the <sup>1</sup>commandment is a lantern, and instruction a light: and <sup>2</sup>corrections for instruction are the way of life,

24 To keep thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her <sup>1</sup>eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsel of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 <sup>1</sup>Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man go upon coals, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth into his neighbor's wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever toucheth her.

30 Men do not <sup>1</sup>despise a thief, when he stealeth to satisfy his <sup>2</sup>soul, because he is hungry.

31 But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold, or he shall give all the substance of his house.

32 But he that commiteth adultery with a woman, he <sup>1</sup>is destitute of understanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his own soul.

33 He shall find <sup>1</sup>a wound and dishonor, and his reproach shall never be put away.

34 For jealousy is the rage of a man: therefore he will not <sup>1</sup>spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He cannot bear the sight of any ransom: neither will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

7 <sup>1</sup> An exhortation to wisdom and to the word of God. <sup>5</sup> Which will preserve us from the harlot. <sup>6</sup> Whose manners are described.

1 My son keep my words, and hide my commandments with thee.

2 Keep my commandments, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction, as the <sup>1</sup>apple of thine eyes.

3 Bind them upon thy fingers, and write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call understanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, even from the strange that is smooth in her words.

6 ¶ <sup>1</sup>As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window,

7 And I saw among the fools, and considered among the children a young man destitute of understanding,

8 Who passed through the street by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be <sup>1</sup>black and dark.

10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlot's <sup>1</sup>behavior, and <sup>2</sup>subtle in heart.

11 (She <sup>1</sup>is babbling and loud, whose feet cannot abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner)

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and <sup>1</sup>with an impudent face said unto him,

14 I have <sup>1</sup>peace offerings: this <sup>2</sup>day have I paid my vows.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seek thy face: and I have found thee.

16 I have decked my bed with ornaments, <sup>1</sup>carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning: let us take our pleasure in dalliance.

6:23 <sup>1</sup> By the commandment, he meaneth the word of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

<sup>2</sup> And reprehensions when the word is preached bring us to life.

6:25 <sup>1</sup> With her wanton looks and gesture.

6:27 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that she will never cease till she have brought thee to beggary, and then seek thy destruction.

6:30 <sup>1</sup> He reproveth not theft, but showeth that it is not so abominable as whoredom, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adultery was a perpetual infamy, and death by the law of God.

6:33 <sup>1</sup> That is, death appointed by the Law.

6:34 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth, that neither God's Law nor the law of nature admitteth any ransom for the adultery.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> By this diversity of words, he meaneth that nothing ought to be so dear unto us as the word of God, nor that we look on anything more nor mind anything so much.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> Solomon useth this parable to declare their folly, that suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seen, and also their own consciences did accuse them which caused them to seek the night to cover their filthiness.

7:10 <sup>1</sup> Or, garment.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> He describeth certain conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, she strengthened her face.

7:14 <sup>1</sup> Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she showeth him that she hath meat at home to make good cheer with: or else she would use some cloak of holiness till she had gotten him in her snares.

<sup>2</sup> Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seem holy and religious: both because they may the better deceive others, and also thinking by observing of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sins.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, carved work.

19 For mine husband is not at home: he is gone a journey far off.

20 He hath taken <sup>1</sup>with him a bag of silver, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yield, and with her flattering lips she enticed him.

22 And he followed her straightway, as an <sup>1</sup>ox that goeth to the slaughter, and <sup>2</sup>as a fool to the stocks for correction,

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that <sup>1</sup>he is in danger.

24 ¶ Hear me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways: wander thou not in her paths.

26 For she hath caused many to fall down wounded, and the <sup>1</sup>strong men are all slain by her.

27 Her house is the way <sup>4</sup>unto the grave, which goeth down to the chambers of death.

8 <sup>1</sup> Wisdom declareth her excellency, <sup>11</sup> riches, <sup>15</sup> power, <sup>22</sup> eternity. <sup>32</sup> She exhorteth all to love and follow her.

1 Doth <sup>4</sup>not <sup>1</sup>wisdom cry? and understanding utter her voice?

2 She standeth in the top of the high places, by the way in the place of the paths.

3 She crieth besides <sup>1</sup>the gates before the city at the entry of the doors,

4 O men, I call unto you, and utter my voice to the children of men.

5 O ye foolish men, understand wisdom, and ye, O fools, be wise in heart.

6 Give ear, for I will speak of excellent things, and the opening of my lips shall teach things that be right.

7 For my mouth shall speak the truth, and my lips abhor wickedness.

8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there

<sup>a</sup> Prov. 2:18

is no lewdness, nor frowardness in them.

9 They are all <sup>1</sup>plain to them that will understand, and straight to them that would find knowledge.

10 Receive mine instruction, and not silver, and knowledge rather than fine gold.

11 For wisdom is better than precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared unto her.

12 I wisdom dwell with <sup>1</sup>prudence, and I find forth knowledge and counsels.

13 The fear of the Lord is to hate <sup>1</sup>evil, as pride, and arrogance, and the evil way: and a mouth that speaketh lewd things I do hate.

14 I have counsel and wisdom: I am understanding, and I have strength.

15 By me <sup>1</sup>kings reign, and princes decree justice.

16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me: and they that seek me <sup>1</sup>early shall find me.

18 Riches and honor are with me: <sup>1</sup>even durable riches and righteousness.

19 My fruit is better than gold, even than fine gold, and my revenues better than fine silver.

20 I cause to walk in the way of righteousness, and in the midst of the paths of <sup>1</sup>judgment,

21 That I may cause them that love me, to inherit substance, and I will fill their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: I was <sup>1</sup>before his works of old.

23 <sup>1</sup>I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountains abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were settled: and before the hills, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.

27 When he prepared the heavens, I was there,

7:20 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, in his hand.

7:22 <sup>1</sup> Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his own destruction.

7:23 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, It is for his life.

7:26 <sup>1</sup> Neither wit nor strength can deliver them that fall into the hands of the harlot.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> Solomon declareth that man is cause of his own perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth to all men by his word, and by his works to follow virtue, and to flee from vice.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Where the people did most resort, and which was the place of justice.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the word of God is easy unto all that have a desire unto it, and which are not blinded by the prince of this world.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, except a man have wisdom, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent nor good counselor.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> So that he that doth not hate evil, feareth not God.

8:15 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he declareth that honors, dignity or riches come not of man's wisdom or industry, but by the providence of God.

8:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, study the word of God diligently, and with a desire to profit.

8:18 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that he chiefly meaneth the spiritual treasures and heavenly riches.

8:20 <sup>1</sup> For there can be no true justice or judgment, which is not rejected by this wisdom.

8:22 <sup>1</sup> He declareth hereby the divinity and eternity of this wisdom, which he magnifieth and praiseth through this book: meaning thereby the eternal son of God Jesus Christ our Savior, whom Saint John calleth that word that was in the beginning, John 1:1.

8:23 <sup>1</sup> He declareth the eternity of the Son of God, which is meant by this word, wisdom, who was before all time, and ever present with the father.

when he set the compass upon the deep:

28 When he established the clouds above: when he confirmed the fountains of the deep:

29 When he gave his decree to the sea, that the waters should not pass his commandment, when he appointed the foundations of the earth.

30 Then was I with him <sup>1</sup>as a nourisher, and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him, 31 And took my <sup>1</sup>solace in the compass of <sup>2</sup>his earth: and my delight is with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, unto me: for blessed are they that keep my ways.

33 Hear instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, and giving attendance at the posts of my doors.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtain favor of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his own soul: and all that hate me, love death.

1 Wisdom hath built her <sup>1</sup>house, and hewn out her <sup>2</sup>seven pillars.

2 She hath killed her victuals, drawn her wine, and <sup>1</sup>prepared her table.

3 She hath sent forth her <sup>1</sup>maidens, and crieth upon the highest places of the city, saying,

4 Who so is <sup>1</sup>simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith,

5 Come, and eat of my <sup>1</sup>meat, and drink of the wine that I have drawn.

6 Forsake your way, ye foolish, and ye shall live: and walk in the way of understanding.

7 He that reproveth a scorner, purchaseth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked,

8 Rebuke not a <sup>1</sup>scorner, lest he hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.

9 Give admonition to the wise, and he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the fear of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, is <sup>1</sup>understanding.

11 For thy days shall be multiplied by me, and the years of thy life shall be augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for <sup>1</sup>thyself, and if thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffer.

13 ¶ A <sup>1</sup>foolish woman is troublesome; she is ignorant and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at the door of her house on a seat in the high places of the city,

15 To call them that pass by the way, that go right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith also,

17 Stolen waters are sweet, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her guests are in the depth of hell.

10 In this Chapter, and all that follow, unto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by divers sentences, which he calleth Parables, to follow virtue, and flee vice: and also showeth what profit cometh of wisdom, and what hindrance proceedeth of foolishness.

THE PARABLE OF SOLOMON.

1 A wise <sup>a</sup>son maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is an heaviness to his mother.

2 The treasures of <sup>1</sup>wickedness profit nothing: but righteousness delivereth from death.

3 The Lord will <sup>1</sup>not famish the soul of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

8:30 <sup>1</sup> Some read, a chief worker: signifying that this wisdom, even Christ Jesus, was equal with God his father, and created, preserveth and still worketh with him, as John 5:17.

8:31 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is declared that the work of the creation was no pain, but a solace unto the wisdom of God.

<sup>2</sup> By earth he meaneth man, which is the work of God in whom wisdom took pleasure: inasmuch as for man's sake the divine wisdom took man's nature, and dwelt among us, and filled us with unspeakable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Christ hath prepared him a Church.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> He compareth wisdom with great princes that keep open house for all that come.

9:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, true preachers, which are not infected with man's wisdom.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> He that knoweth his own ignorance, and is void of malice.

9:5 <sup>1</sup> By the meat and drink, is meant the word of God, and the ministration of the Sacraments, whereby God nourisheth his servants in his house, which is the Church.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> For the wicked will contemn him and labor to defame him.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogs and swine: or he speaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked should not be rebuked, but he showeth their malice, and the small hope of profit.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what true understanding is, to know the will of God in his word which is meant by holy things.

9:12 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt have the chief profit and commodity thereof.

9:13 <sup>1</sup> By the foolish woman, some understand the wicked preachers, who counterfeit the word of God: as appeareth verse 16, which were the words of the true preachers, as verse 4, but their doctrine is but as stolen waters: meaning, that they are but men's traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh than the word of God, and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

10:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, wickedly gotten.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> Though he suffer the just to wait for a time, yet he will send him comfort in due season.

4 A <sup>1</sup>sllothful hand maketh poor: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He that gathereth in summer, is the son of wisdom: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is the son of confusion.

6 Blessings are upon the head of the righteous: but iniquity shall cover the mouth of <sup>1</sup>the wicked.

7 The memorial of the just shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall <sup>1</sup>rot.

8 The wise in heart will receive commandments: but the foolish in <sup>1</sup>talk shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh uprightly, walketh <sup>1</sup>boldly: but he that perverteth his ways, shall be known.

10 He that <sup>1</sup>winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and he that is <sup>2</sup>foolish in talk, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquity covereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth up contentions: <sup>b</sup>but love covereth all trespasses.

13 In the lips of him that hath understanding, wisdom is found, and <sup>1</sup>a rod shall be for the back of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the fool is a present destruction.

15 The rich man's goods are his <sup>1</sup>strong city: but the fear of the needy is their poverty.

16 The labor of the righteous tendeth to life: but the revenues of the wicked to sin.

17 He that regardeth instruction is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and he that inventeth slander, is a fool.

19 In many words there cannot want iniquity: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise:

20 The tongue of the just man is as fined silver: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous do <sup>1</sup>feed many: but fools shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doth add <sup>1</sup>no sorrows with it.

23 It is a pastime to a fool to do wickedly: but

<sup>b</sup> 1 Cor. 13:4

wisdom is understanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come upon him: but God will grant the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an everlasting foundation.

26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothful to them that <sup>1</sup>send him.

27 The fear of the Lord increaseth the days: but the years of the wicked <sup>1</sup>shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladness: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the upright man: but fear shall be for the workers of iniquity.

30 The righteous shall <sup>1</sup>never be removed: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the just shall be fruitful in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

11 1 False <sup>1</sup>balances are an abomination unto the Lord: but a perfect <sup>2</sup>weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh <sup>1</sup>shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The uprightness of the just shall guide them: but the frowardness of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 "Riches avail not in the day of wrath: but righteousness delivereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the upright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his own wickedness.

6 The righteousness of the just shall deliver them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their own wickedness.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the unjust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his <sup>1</sup>stead.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> Or, deceitful.
10:6 <sup>1</sup> When their wickedness shall be discovered, they shall be as dumb, and not know what to say.
10:7 <sup>1</sup> Shall be vile and abhorred both of God and man, contrary to their own expectation, which think to make their name immortal.
10:8 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, lips.
10:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, surely.
10:10 <sup>1</sup> That beareth a fair countenance, and imagineth mischief in his heart, as Prov. 6:13.
<sup>2</sup> For the corruption of his heart is known by his talk.
10:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, God will find him out to punish him.
10:15 <sup>1</sup> And so maketh him bold to do evil, whereas poverty bridleth the poor from many evil things.

10:21 <sup>1</sup> For they speak truth, and edify many by exhortations, admonition, and counsel.
10:22 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that all worldly things bring care, and sorrow, whereas they that feel the blessings of God, have none.
10:26 <sup>1</sup> He is but a trouble and grief to him about any business.
10:27 <sup>1</sup> The time of their prosperity shall be short because of their great fall, though they seem to live long.
10:30 <sup>1</sup> They enjoy in this life by faith and hope, their everlasting life.
11:1 <sup>1</sup> Under this word he condemneth all false weights, measures and deceit.
11:2 <sup>1</sup> When man so getteth himself, and thinketh to be exalted above his vocation, then God bringeth him to confusion.
11:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, shall enter into trouble.

9 An <sup>1</sup>hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbor: but the righteous shall be delivered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperity of the righteous the city <sup>1</sup>rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is joy.

11 By the <sup>1</sup>blessing of the righteous the city is exalted: but it is subverted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbor, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding will <sup>1</sup>keep silence.

13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a faithful heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsel is, the people fall: but where many <sup>1</sup>counselors are, there is health.

15 He shall be sore vexed, that is surety for a <sup>1</sup>stranger, and he that hateth suretiship, is sure.

16 A <sup>1</sup>gracious woman attaineth honor, and the strong men attain riches.

17 He that is merciful, <sup>1</sup>rewardeth his own soul: but he that troubleth his own <sup>2</sup>flesh, is cruel.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but he that soweth righteousness, shall receive a sure reward.

19 As righteousness leadeth to life: so he that followeth evil, seeketh his own death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are upright in their way, are his delight.

21 <sup>1</sup>Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout: so is a fair woman which <sup>1</sup>lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but the hope of the wicked <sup>1</sup>is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, <sup>1</sup>and is more increased: but he that spareth more <sup>2</sup>than is right, surely cometh to poverty.

25 The <sup>1</sup>liberal person shall have plenty: and he that watereth, shall also have rain.

26 He that withdraweth the corn, the people will curse him: but blessing shall be upon the head of him that <sup>1</sup>selleth corn.

27 He that seeketh good things getteth favor: but he that seeketh evil, it shall come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a leaf.

29 He that troubleth his own <sup>1</sup>house, shall inherit the wind, and the fool shall be <sup>2</sup>servant to the wise in heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that <sup>1</sup>winneth souls is wise.

31 Behold, the righteous shall be <sup>1</sup>recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner?

12 <sup>1</sup> He that loveth instruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a fool.

2 A good man getteth favor of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations will he condemn.

3 A man cannot be established by wickedness: but the <sup>1</sup>root of the righteous shall not be moved.

4 A <sup>1</sup>virtuous woman is the crown of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the just are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will <sup>1</sup>deliver them.

7 God overthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 He that is despised, <sup>1</sup>and is his own servant, is better than he that boasteth himself, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man <sup>1</sup>regardeth the life of his beast:

11:9 <sup>1</sup> A dissembler that pretendeth friendship, but is a privy enemy.

11:10 <sup>1</sup> The country is blessed, where there are godly men, and they ought to rejoice when the wicked are taken away.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> Or, prosperity.

11:12 <sup>1</sup> Will not make light report of others.

11:14 <sup>1</sup> Where God giveth store of men of wisdom and counsel: whose conversation he knoweth not.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> He that doeth not without judgment and consideration of the circumstances, puts himself in danger, as Prov. 6:1.

11:16 <sup>1</sup> Or, modest.

11:17 <sup>1</sup> Is both good to himself and to others.

11:21 <sup>1</sup> Though they make never so many friends, or think themselves never so sure, yet they shall not escape.

11:22 <sup>1</sup> Or, of uncomely behavior.

11:23 <sup>1</sup> They can look for nothing but God's vengeance.

11:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning them that give liberally, whom God blesseth.

11:25 <sup>1</sup> Or, generous.

11:26 <sup>1</sup> That provideth for the use of them that are in necessity.

11:29 <sup>1</sup> The covetous men that spare their riches to the hindrance of their families, shall be deprived thereof miserably.

<sup>2</sup> For though the wicked be rich, yet are they but slaves to the godly, which are the true possessors of the gifts of God.

11:30 <sup>1</sup> That is, bringeth them to the knowledge of God.

11:31 <sup>1</sup> Shall be punished as he deserveth, 1 Pet. 4:18.

12:3 <sup>1</sup> They are so grounded in the favor of God, that their root shall prosper continually.

12:4 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, strong, or painful.

12:6 <sup>1</sup> As their conscience is upright, so shall they be able to speak for themselves against their accusers.

12:9 <sup>1</sup> The poor man that is contemned and yet liveth of his own travail.

12:10 <sup>1</sup> Is merciful, even to the very beast that doeth him service.

but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 <sup>a</sup>He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of <sup>1</sup>understanding.

12 The wicked desireth the <sup>1</sup>net of evils: but the <sup>2</sup>root of the righteous giveth fruit.

13 The evil man is snared by the wickedness of his lips, but the just shall come out of adversity.

14 A man shall be satiate with good things by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompense of a man's hands shall God give unto him.

15 The way of a fool is <sup>1</sup>right in his own eyes: but he that heareth in counsel, is wise.

16 A fool in a day shall be known by his anger: but he <sup>1</sup>that covereth shame, is wise.

17 He that speaketh truth, will show righteousness: but a false witness useth deceit.

18 <sup>b</sup>There is that speaketh words like the prickings of <sup>1</sup>a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lip of truth shall be stable forever: but a lying tongue varieth incontinently.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil: but to the counselors of peace shall be joy.

21 There shall none iniquity come to the just: but the wicked are full of evil.

22 The lying lips are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight.

23 A wise man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the fools publisheth foolishness.

24 <sup>c</sup>The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the idle shall be under tribute.

25 Heaviness in the heart of man doth bring it down: but a <sup>1</sup>good word rejoice it.

26 The righteous <sup>1</sup>is more excellent than his neighbor: but the way of the wicked will deceive them.

27 The deceitful man roasteth not that he <sup>1</sup>took in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that pathway there is no death.

rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good things by the fruit <sup>1</sup>of his mouth: but the soul of the trespasser shall suffer violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lips, destruction shall be to him.

4 The sluggard <sup>1</sup>lusteth, but his soul hath nought: but the soul of the diligent shall have plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousness preserveth the upright of <sup>1</sup>life: but wickedness overthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himself rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himself poor, having great riches.

8 A man will give his riches for the ransom of his life: but the poor <sup>1</sup>cannot hear the reproach.

9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Only by pride <sup>1</sup>doth man make contention: but with the well-advised is wisdom.

11 The <sup>1</sup>riches of vanity shall diminish: but he that gathereth with <sup>2</sup>the hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart, but when the desire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth <sup>1</sup>the word, he shall be destroyed, but he that feareth the commandment, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the wellspring of life, to turn away from the snares of death.

15 Good understanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Every wise man will work by knowledge: but a fool will spread abroad folly.

17 <sup>a</sup>A wicked messenger falleth <sup>1</sup>into evil: but a faithful ambassador is preservation.

18 Poverty and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shall be honored.

19 A desire accomplished, delighteth the soul: but it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil.

12:11 <sup>1</sup> Or, defense.

12:12 <sup>1</sup> Continually imagineth means how to do harm to others.

12:15 <sup>1</sup> He standeth in his own conceit, and condemneth all others in respect of himself.

12:16 <sup>1</sup> Which bridleth his affections.

12:18 <sup>1</sup> Which seek nothing more than to provoke others to anger.

12:25 <sup>1</sup> That is, words of comfort, or, a cheerful mind which is declared by his words, rejoiceth a man, as a covetous mind killeth him.

12:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, more liberal in giving.

12:27 <sup>1</sup> Although he get much by unlawful means, yet will he not spend it upon himself.

13:2 <sup>1</sup> If he use his tongue to God's glory, and the profit of his neighbor, God shall bless him.

13:4 <sup>1</sup> He ever desireth, but taketh no pains to get anything.

13:6 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, way.

13:8 <sup>1</sup> For his poverty, he is not able to escape the threatenings, which the cruel oppressors use against him.

13:10 <sup>1</sup> When as every man contendeth to have the preeminence, and will not give place to another.

13:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, goods evil gotten.

13:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the word of God, whereby he is admonished of his duty.

13:17 <sup>1</sup> Bringeth many inconveniences both to himself and to others.

20 He that walketh with the wise shall be wise: but a companion of fools shall be <sup>1</sup>afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but unto the righteous, God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall give inheritance unto his children's children: and the <sup>1</sup>riches of the sinner is laid up for the just.

23 Much food is in the field of the <sup>1</sup>poor, but the field is destroyed without discretion.

24 <sup>b</sup>He that spareth his rod, hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentation of his mind: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

14 <sup>1</sup> A wise woman <sup>1</sup>buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her own hands.

2 <sup>a</sup>He that walketh in his <sup>1</sup>righteousness, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewd in his ways, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the <sup>1</sup>rod of pride: but the lips of the wise preserve them.

4 Where none <sup>1</sup>oxen are, there the crib is empty: but much increase cometh by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witness will not lie: but a false record will speak lies.

6 <sup>1</sup>A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easy to him that will understand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way: but the foolishness of the fools is deceit.

9 The fool maketh a mock of <sup>1</sup>sin: but among the righteous there is favor.

10 The heart knoweth the <sup>1</sup>bitterness of his soul, and the stranger shall not meddle with his joy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 <sup>b</sup>There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughing the heart is sorrowful, <sup>1</sup>and the end of that mirth is heaviness.

14 The heart that declineth, <sup>1</sup>shall be satiated with his own ways: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish will believe everything: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil, but a fool rageth, and is careless.

17 He that is hasty to anger, commiteth folly, and a <sup>1</sup>busybody is hated.

18 The foolish do inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil shall bow before the good, and the wicked <sup>1</sup>at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poor is hated even of his own neighbor: but the friends of the rich are many.

21 The sinner despiseth his neighbor: but he that hath mercy on the poor, is blessed.

22 Do not they err that imagine evil? but to them that think on good things, shall be mercy and truth.

23 In all labor there is abundance: but the talk of the lips bringeth only want.

24 The crown of the wise is their riches, and the folly of fools is foolishness.

25 A faithful witness delivereth souls: but a deceiver speaketh lies.

27 The fear of the Lord is as a wellspring of life, to avoid the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the <sup>1</sup>people is the honor of a King, and for the want of people cometh the destruction of the Prince.

29 He that is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom: but he that is of an hasty mind, exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the <sup>1</sup>flesh: but envy is the rotting of the bones.

31 <sup>c</sup>He that oppresseth the poor, reproveth him that made him: but he honoreth him, that hath mercy on the poor.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding, and is known <sup>1</sup>in the midst of fools.

13:20 <sup>1</sup> As he is partaker of their wickedness, and beareth with their vices, so shall he be punished alike as they are.

13:22 <sup>1</sup> Read Job 27:16, 17.

13:23 <sup>1</sup> God blesseth the labor of the poor, and consumeth their goods which are negligent, because they think they have enough.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, taketh pain to profit her family, and to do that which concerneth her duty in her house.

14:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, in uprightness of heart, and without hypocrisy.

14:3 <sup>1</sup> His proud tongue shall cause him to be punished.

14:4 <sup>1</sup> By the ox is meant labor, and by the crib the barn: meaning, without labor there is no profit.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> For the maintenance of his own ambition, and not for God's glory, as Simon Magus.

14:9 <sup>1</sup> Doth not know the grievousness thereof, nor God's judg-

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardness thereof is the breaking of the mind.

5 A fool despiseth his father's instruction, but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked is <sup>1</sup>trouble.

7 The lips of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doth not so.

8 The <sup>1</sup>sacrifice of the wicked is abomination unto the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable unto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that followeth righteousness.

10 Instruction is evil to him that <sup>1</sup>forsaketh the way, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

11 <sup>1</sup>Hell and destruction are before the Lord, how much more the hearts of the sons of men?

12 A scorner loveth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he go unto the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his own soul: but he that obeyeth correction, getteth understanding.

33 The fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom: and before honor goeth <sup>1</sup>humility.

16 <sup>1</sup> The <sup>1</sup>preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.

2 All the ways of a man are <sup>1</sup>clean in his own eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.

3 <sup>1</sup>Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be directed.

4 The Lord hath made all things for his own sake: yea, even the wicked for the day of <sup>1</sup>evil.

14:34 <sup>1</sup> Or, and the mercy of the people is a sacrifice for sin.

15:6 <sup>1</sup> For though they have much, yet it is full of trouble and care.

15:8 <sup>1</sup> That thing is abominable before God, which the wicked think to be most excellent, and whereby they think most to be accepted.

15:10 <sup>1</sup> He that swerveth from the word of God, cannot abide to be admonished.

15:11 <sup>1</sup> There is nothing so deep or secret that can be hid from the eyes of God, much less man's thoughts.

15:15 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, heart.

15:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, he ever findeth some let or stay, and dare not go forward.

15:22 <sup>1</sup> Read Prov. 11:14.

15:23 <sup>1</sup> If we will that our talk be comfortable, we must wait for time and season.

15:26 <sup>1</sup> That is, wholesome and profitable to the hearers.

15:31 <sup>1</sup> That suffereth himself to be admonished by God's word, which bringeth life: and so amendeth.

15:33 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God exalteth none but them that are truly humbled.

16:1 <sup>1</sup> He derideth the presumption of man, who dare attribute to himself any thing, as to prepare his heart or such like, seeing that he is not able to speak a word, except God give it him.

16:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth hereby that man flattereth himself in his doings, calling that virtue, which God termeth vice.

16:3 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, role.

16:4 <sup>1</sup> So that the justice of God shall appear to his glory, even in the destruction of the wicked.

5 All that are proud in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though <sup>a</sup>hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.

6 By <sup>1</sup>mercy and truth iniquity shall be forgiven, and by the fear of the Lord they depart from evil.

7 When the ways of a man please the Lord, he will make also his enemies at peace with him.

8 <sup>b</sup>Better is a little with righteousness, than great revenues without equity.

9 The heart of <sup>1</sup>man purposeth his way: but the Lord doth direct his steps.

10 A divine sentence shall be in the lips of the king: his mouth shall not transgress in judgment.

11 <sup>c</sup>A true weight and balance are of the Lord: and the weights of the bag are his <sup>1</sup>work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is stablished <sup>1</sup>by justice.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and the king loveth him that speaketh right things.

14 The wrath of a king is as <sup>1</sup>messengers of death: but a wise man will pacify it.

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life: and his favor is <sup>1</sup>as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 <sup>d</sup>How much better is it to get wisdom than gold? and to get understanding, is more to be desired than silver.

17 The path of the righteous is to decline from evil, and he keepeth his soul that keepeth his way.

18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high mind before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble mind with the lowly, than to divide the spoils with the proud.

20 He that is wise in his business, shall find good: and <sup>e</sup>he that trusteth in the Lord, he is blessed.

21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent and <sup>1</sup>the sweetness of the lips shall increase doctrine.

22 Understanding is a wellspring of life unto them that have it: and the <sup>1</sup>instruction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lips.

24 Fair words are as an honey comb, sweetness to the soul, and health to the bones.

25 <sup>f</sup>There is a way that seemeth right unto man, but the issue thereof are the ways of death.

26 The person that travaileth, travaileth for himself: for his mouth <sup>1</sup>craveth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggeth up evil, and in his lips is like <sup>1</sup>burning fire.

28 A froward person soweth strife: and a taleteller maketh division among princes.

29 A wicked man deceiveth his neighbor, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 <sup>1</sup>He shutteth his eyes to devise wickedness: he moveth his lips, and bringeth evil to pass.

31 Age is a crown of glory, when it is found in the way of <sup>1</sup>righteousness.

32 He that is slow unto anger, is better than the mighty man: and he that ruleth his own mind, is better than he that winneth a city.

33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is <sup>1</sup>of the Lord.

17 <sup>1</sup> Better is a dry morsel, if peace be with it, than an house full of <sup>1</sup>sacrifices with strife.

2 A discrete servant shall have rule over a lewd son, and he shall divide the <sup>1</sup>heritage among the brethren.

3 As is the fining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold, so the Lord trieth the hearts.

4 The wicked giveth heed to false lips, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.

5 <sup>e</sup>He that mocketh the poor, reproacheth him that made him: and he that rejoiceth at destruction, shall not be unpunished.

6 Children's children are the crown of the elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.

7 <sup>1</sup>High talk becometh not a fool, much less a lying talk a prince.

8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that have it: it prospereth, whithersoever it <sup>1</sup>turneth.

16:6 <sup>1</sup> Their upright and repenting life shall be a token that their sins are forgiven.

16:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the folly of man, which thinketh that his ways are in his own hand, and yet it is able to remove one foot except God give force.

16:11 <sup>1</sup> If they be true and just, they are God's work, and he delighteth therein, but otherwise if they be false, they are the work of the devil, and to their condemnation that use them.

16:12 <sup>1</sup> They are appointed by God to rule according to equity and justice.

16:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, he findeth out many means to execute his wrath.

16:15 <sup>1</sup> Which is most comfortable to the dry ground, Deut. 11:14.

16:21 <sup>1</sup> The sweet words of consolation, which come forth of a godly heart.

16:22 <sup>1</sup> Either that which the wicked teach others, or else it is folly to teach them that are malicious.

16:26 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, boweth upon him.

16:27 <sup>1</sup> For he consumeth himself and others.

16:30 <sup>1</sup> With his whole endeavor he laboreth to bring his wickedness to pass.

16:31 <sup>1</sup> That is, when it is joined with virtue: or else the elder that the wicked are, the more they are to be abhorred.

16:33 <sup>1</sup> So that there is nothing that ought to be attributed to fortune: for all things are determined in the counsel of God which shall come to pass.

17:1 <sup>1</sup> For whereas were many sacrifices, there were many portions given to the people, wherewith they feasted.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, shall be made governor over the children.

17:7 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the lip of excellency.

17:8 <sup>1</sup> The reward hath great force to gain the hearts of men.

9 He that covereth a transgression, seeketh love: but he that repeateth a matter, separateth the <sup>1</sup>prince.

10 A reproof entereth more into him that hath understanding, than an hundred stripes into a fool.

11 A seditious person seeketh only evil, and a cruel <sup>1</sup>messenger shall be sent against him.

12 It is better for a man to meet a bear robbed of her whelps, than <sup>1</sup>a fool in his folly.

13 <sup>b</sup>He that rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore, or the contention be meddled with, leave off.

15 <sup>c</sup>He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a <sup>1</sup>price in the hand of the fool to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?

17 A friend loveth at all times; and a <sup>1</sup>brother is born for adversity.

18 A man destitute of understanding, <sup>1</sup>toucheth the hand, and becometh surety for his neighbor.

19 He loveth transgression that loveth strife: and he that exalteth his <sup>1</sup>gate, seeketh destruction.

20 The froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a naughty tongue, shall fall into evil.

21 He that begetteth a fool, getteth himself sorrow, and the father of a fool can have no joy.

22 <sup>d</sup>A joyful heart causeth good health: but a sorrowful mind drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the <sup>1</sup>bosom to wrest the ways of judgment.

24 <sup>e</sup>Wisdom is in the face of him that hath understanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the <sup>1</sup>corners of the world.

25 A foolish son is a grief unto his father, and a <sup>1</sup>heaviness to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemn the just, nor that the princes should smite such <sup>1</sup>for equity.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words, and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Even a fool, (when he holdeth his peace) is counted wise, and he that stoppeth his lips, prudent.

18 <sup>1</sup> For the desire thereof he will <sup>1</sup>separate himself to seek it, and occupy himself in all wisdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in understanding; but that his heart may be <sup>1</sup>discovered.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh <sup>1</sup>contempt, and with the vile man reproach.

4 The words of a man's mouth are like deep <sup>1</sup>waters, and the wellspring of wisdom is like a flowing river.

5 It is not good to <sup>1</sup>accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in judgment.

6 A fool's lips come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fool's mouth is his own destruction, and his lips are a snare for his soul.

8 The words of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they go down into the <sup>1</sup>bowels of the belly.

9 He also that is slothful in his work, is even the brother of him that is a great waster.

10 The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth <sup>1</sup>unto it, and is exalted.

11 <sup>a</sup>The rich man's riches are his strong city: and as an high wall in his imagination.

12 <sup>b</sup>Before destruction the heart of a man is haughty, and before glory goeth lowliness.

13 He that answereth a matter before he hear it, it is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity: but <sup>1</sup>a wounded spirit, who can bear it?

15 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeketh learning.

16 A man's gift <sup>1</sup>enlargeth him, and leadeth him before great men.

17 <sup>1</sup>He that is first in his own cause, is just: then cometh his neighbor and maketh inquiry of him.

18 The lot <sup>1</sup>causeth contentions to cease, and 17:9 <sup>1</sup> He that admonisheth the prince of his fault, maketh him his enemy.

17:11 <sup>1</sup> By the messenger is meant such means as God useth to punish the rebels.

17:12 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he meaneth the wicked in his rage, who hath no fear of God.

17:16 <sup>1</sup> What availeth it the wicked to be rich, seeing he setteth not his mind to wisdom?

17:17 <sup>1</sup> So that he is more than a friend, even a brother that helpeth in time of adversity.

17:19 <sup>1</sup> Lifteth up himself above his degree.

17:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, secretly and out of the bosom of the rich.

17:24 <sup>1</sup> That is, wander to and fro, and seek not after wisdom.

17:26 <sup>1</sup> For their well doing.

18:1 <sup>1</sup> He that loveth wisdom, will separate himself from all impediments, and give himself wholly to seek it.

18:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, that he may talk licentiously of whatsoever cometh to mind.

18:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, such one as contemneth all others.

18:4 <sup>1</sup> Which can never be drawn empty, but bring ever profit.

18:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, to favor him and support him.

18:8 <sup>1</sup> They are soon believed, and enter most deeply.

18:10 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is the refuge of the godly against all trouble.

18:14 <sup>1</sup> The mind can well bear the infirmity of the body, but when the spirit is wounded, it is a thing most hard to sustain.

18:16 <sup>1</sup> Getteth him liberty to speak, and favor of them that are most in estimation.

18:17 <sup>1</sup> He that speaketh first, is best heard of the wicked judge, but when his adversary inquireth out the matter, it turneth to his shame.

18:18 <sup>1</sup> If a controversy cannot otherwise be decided, it is best to cast lots to know whose the thing shall be.

19 A brother offended is harder to win than a strong city, and their contentions are like the <sup>1</sup>bar of a palace.

20 With the fruit of a man's mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that <sup>1</sup>love it, shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 He that findeth a <sup>1</sup>wife, findeth a good thing, and receiveth favor of the Lord.

23 The poor speaketh with prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, ought to show himself friendly: for a friend is nearer <sup>1</sup>than a brother.

19 <sup>1</sup> Better <sup>1</sup>is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that abuseth his lips, and is a fool.

<sup>6</sup> Many reverence the face of the prince, and every man is friend to him that giveth gifts.

<sup>16</sup> He that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his own soul: but he that despiseth his ways, shall die.

<sup>17</sup> He that hath mercy upon the poor, lendeth unto the Lord: and the Lord will recompense him that which he hath given.

<sup>18</sup> Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his murmuring.

24 <sup>h</sup>The steps of man are ruled by the Lord: how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to <sup>1</sup>devour that which is sanctified, and after the vows to inquire.

26 A wise King scattereth the wicked, and causeth the <sup>1</sup>wheel to turn over them.

27 The <sup>1</sup>light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

4 A haughty look, and a proud heart which is the <sup>1,2</sup>light of the wicked, is sin.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance; but <sup>1</sup>whosoever is hasty, cometh surely to poverty.

6 <sup>c</sup>The gathering of treasures by a deceitful tongue, is vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The <sup>1</sup>robbery of the wicked shall destroy them; for they have refused to execute judgment.

20:27 <sup>1</sup> The word of God giveth life unto man, and causeth us to see and try the secret of our dark hearts, Heb. 4:12.

20:30 <sup>1</sup> Sharp punishment that pierceth even the inward parts, is profitable for the wicked, to bring them to amendment.

21:1 <sup>1</sup> Though Kings seem to have all things at commandment, yet are they not able to bring their own purposes to pass any otherwise than God hath appointed: much less are the inferiors able.

11 <sup>1</sup>When the scorner is punished, the foolish is wise, and when one instructeth the wise, he will receive knowledge.

12 The righteous <sup>1</sup>teacheth the house of the wicked; but God overthroweth the wicked for their evil.

13 He that stoppeth his ear at the crying of the poor, he shall also cry and not be heard.

14 A <sup>1</sup>gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a gift in the bosom, great wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgment; but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth pastime, shall be a poor man; and he that loveth wine and oil, shall not be rich.

18 The <sup>1</sup>wicked shall be a ransom for the just, and the transgressor for the righteous.

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and angry woman.

20 In the house of the wise is a pleasant treasure and <sup>1</sup>oil; but a foolish man devoureth it.

21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercy, shall find life, righteousness and glory.

22 A <sup>1</sup>wise man goeth up into the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 He that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from afflictions.

24 Proud, haughty, and scornful is his name that worketh in his arrogant wrath.

25 The desire of the slothful <sup>1</sup>slayeth him; for his hands refuse to work.

26 He coveteth evermore greedily; but the righteous giveth and spareth not.

27 The <sup>1</sup>sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: how much more when he bringeth it with a wicked mind?

28 <sup>1</sup>A false witness shall perish: but he that heareth, <sup>1</sup>speaketh continually.

16 If thou have found honey, eat that is <sup>1</sup>sufficient for thee, lest thou be overfull, and vomit it.

17 Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbor's house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbor, is like an hammer and a sword, and a sharp arrow.

19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a sliding foot.

20 He that taketh away the garment in the cold season, is like vinegar poured upon <sup>1,2</sup>nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heavy heart.

25:2 <sup>1</sup> God doth not reveal the cause of his judgments to man.

<sup>2</sup> Because the king ruleth by the revealed word of God, the cause of his doings must appear, and therefore he must use diligence in trying out of causes.

25:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is too hard for man to attain to the reason of all the secret doings of the King, even when he is upright, and doeth his duty.

25:4 <sup>1</sup> When vice is removed from a king, he is a meet vessel for the Lord's use.

25:5 <sup>1</sup> It is not enough that he be pure himself: but that he put away

4 Answer not a fool <sup>1</sup>according to his foolishness, lest thou also be like him.

5 Answer a fool <sup>1</sup>according to his foolishness, lest he be wise in his own <sup>2</sup>conceit.

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool, is as he that cutteth off <sup>1</sup>the feet, <sup>2</sup>and drinketh iniquity.

7 As they that lift up the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fool's mouth.

8 As the closing up of a precious stone in a heap of stones, so is he that giveth glory to a fool.

9 As a thorn standing <sup>1</sup>up in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.

10 <sup>1</sup>The Excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth the transgressors.

11 <sup>a</sup>As a dog turneth again to his own vomit, so a fool turneth to his foolishness.

17 He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not unto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the ears.

18 As he that feigneth himself mad, casteth fire-brands, arrows, and mortal things, 19 So dealeth the deceitful man with <sup>1</sup>his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the coal maketh burning coals, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 <sup>c</sup>The words of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they go down into the bowels of the belly.

13 <sup>b</sup>Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

14 He that <sup>1</sup>praiseth his friend with a loud voice, rising <sup>2</sup>early in the morning, it shall be counted to him as a curse.

15 A <sup>c</sup>continual dropping in the day of rain, and a contentious woman are alike.

26:4 <sup>1</sup> Consent not unto him in his doings.

26:5 <sup>1</sup> Reprove him as the matter requireth.

26:6 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of the messenger whom he sendeth.

26:9 <sup>1</sup> Whereby he both hurteth himself and others.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, God.

26:12 <sup>1</sup> For the fool will rather be counseled than he: also the fool sinneth of ignorance, and the other of malice.

26:13 <sup>1</sup> Read Prov. 22:13.

26:19 <sup>1</sup> Which dissembleth himself to be that he is not.

26:23 <sup>1</sup> They will soon break out and utter themselves.

26:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, many: he useth the number certain, for the uncertain.

26:26 <sup>1</sup> In the assembly of the godly.

27:1 <sup>1</sup> Delay not the time, but take occasion when it is offered.

27:4 <sup>1</sup> For the envious are obstinate, and cannot be reconciled.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> They are flattering, and seem friendly.

27:10 <sup>1</sup> Trust not to any worldly help in the day of thy trouble.

27:12 <sup>1</sup> Read Prov. 22:3.

16 He that hideth her, hideth the wind, and she is as the oil in his right hand that uttereth itself.

17 Iron sharpeneth iron, so doth <sup>1</sup>man sharpen the face of his friend.

18 He that keepeth the fig tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth upon his master, shall come to honor.

19 As in water face answereth to face, <sup>1</sup>so the heart of man to man.

20 The grave and destruction can never be full, so the eyes of man can never be satisfied.

21 <sup>d</sup>As is the fining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold, so is every man according to his <sup>1</sup>dignity.

22 Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar among wheat brayed with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

23 Be diligent to know the state of thy flock, and take heed to the herds.

24 For riches remain not always, nor the crown from generation to generation.

25 The hay discovereth itself, and the grass appeareth, and the herbs of the mountains are gathered.

26 The <sup>1</sup>lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.

27 And let the milk of the goats be sufficient for thy food, for the food of thy family, and for the sustenance of thy maids.

28 <sup>1</sup> The wicked <sup>1</sup>flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2 For the transgression of the land <sup>1</sup>there are many princes thereof: but by a man of understanding and knowledge a realm likewise endureth long.

3 A poor man, if he oppress the poor, is like a raging rain that leaveth no food.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keep the Law, set themselves against them.

5 Wicked men understand not judgment: but they that seek the Lord, understand all things.

6 <sup>a</sup>Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that perverteth his ways, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a child of understanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

Prov. 20:21

8 He that increaseth his riches by usury and interest, gathereth <sup>1</sup>them for him that will be merciful unto the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer shall be <sup>1</sup>abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to go astray by an evil way, shall fall into his own pit, and the upright shall inherit good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit: but the poor that hath understanding, can try <sup>1</sup>him.

12 <sup>b</sup>When righteous men rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked come up, the man <sup>1</sup>is tried.

13 He that hideth his sins, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall have mercy.

14 Blessed is the man that <sup>1</sup>feareth always: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into evil.

15 As a roaring lion, and an hungry bear, so is <sup>1</sup>a wicked ruler over the poor people.

16 A prince destitute of understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness, shall prolong his days.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee unto the grave, and they shall not <sup>1</sup>stay him.

18 He that walketh uprightly shall be saved: but he that is froward in his ways, shall once fall.

19 <sup>c</sup>He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shall be filled with poverty.

20 A faithful man shall abound in blessings, and <sup>d</sup>he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To have respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgress for a piece of <sup>1</sup>bread.

22 A man with a wicked <sup>1</sup>eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not that poverty shall come upon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shall find more favor at the length, than he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 He that is of a proud heart, stirreth up strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be <sup>1</sup>fat.

27:17 <sup>1</sup> One hasty man provoketh another to anger.

27:19 <sup>1</sup> There is no difference between man and man by nature, but only the grace of God maketh the difference.

27:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, he is either known to be ambitious, and glorious, or humble and modest.

27:26 <sup>1</sup> This declareth the great goodness of God towards man, and the diligence that he requireth of him for the preservation of his gifts.

28:1 <sup>1</sup> Because their own conscience accuseth them.

28:2 <sup>1</sup> The state of the commonweal is oftentimes changed.

28:8 <sup>1</sup> For God will take away the wicked usurer, and give his goods to him that shall bestow them well.

28:9 <sup>1</sup> Because it is not of faith which is grounded of God's word or Law, which the wicked contemn.

28:11 <sup>1</sup> And judge that he is not wise.

28:12 <sup>1</sup> He is known by his doings to be wicked.

28:14 <sup>1</sup> Which standeth in awe of God, and is afraid to offend him.

28:15 <sup>1</sup> For he can never be satisfied, but ever oppresseth and spoileth.

28:17 <sup>1</sup> None shall be able to deliver him.

28:21 <sup>1</sup> He will be abused for nothing.

28:22 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, him that is covetous.

28:25 <sup>1</sup> Shall have all things in abundance.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall be delivered.

27 He that giveth unto the poor, shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes, shall have many curses.

28 <sup>c</sup>When the wicked rise up, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

29 <sup>1</sup> A man that hardeneth his neck when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed, and cannot be cured.

2 <sup>a</sup>When the righteous <sup>1</sup>are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but <sup>b</sup>he that feedeth harlots wasteth his substance.

4 A king by judgment maintaineth the country: but a man receiving gifts, destroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbor, <sup>1</sup>spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an evil man is his <sup>1</sup>snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man contend with <sup>1</sup>a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is upright: but the just have care of his soul.

11 A fool poureth out all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his servants are wicked.

13 <sup>c</sup>The poor and the usurer meet together, and the Lord lightened both their eyes.

14 A <sup>d</sup>King that judgeth the poor in truth, his throne shall be established forever.

15 The rod and correction give wisdom, but a child set at liberty, maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Correct thy son, and he will give thee rest, and will give pleasures to thy soul.

18 <sup>1</sup>Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that keepeth the law is blessed.

19 A <sup>1</sup>servant will not be chastised with words: though he understand, yet he will not <sup>2</sup>answer.

20 Seest thou a man hasty in his matters? there is more hope of a fool, than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from youth, at length he will be even as his son.

22 <sup>c</sup>An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 <sup>d</sup>The pride of a man shall bring him low: but the humble in spirit shall enjoy glory.

24 He that is partner with a thief, hateth his own soul: he heareth cursing and declareth it not.

25 The fear of man bringeth a <sup>1</sup>snare: but he that trusteth in the Lord shall be exalted.

26 Many do seek the face of the ruler: but every man's <sup>1</sup>judgment cometh from the Lord.

30 <sup>2</sup> To humble ourselves in consideration of God's works. 5 The word of God is perfect. 11 Of the wicked and hypocrites. 15 Of things that are never satiate. 18 Of others that are wonderful.

THE WORDS OF <sup>1</sup>AGUR THE SON OF JAKEH.

1 The prophecy which the man spake unto Ithiel, even to <sup>1</sup>Ithiel, and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more <sup>1</sup>foolish than any man, and have not the understanding of a man in me.

3 For I have not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended up to <sup>1</sup>heaven, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fist? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell?

5 <sup>a</sup>Every word of God is pure: he is a shield to those that trust in him.

6 <sup>b</sup>Put nothing unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two <sup>1</sup>things have I required of thee: deny me them not before I die.

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me not poverty, nor riches: feed me with food convenient for me,

29:2 <sup>1</sup> Or, are increased.

29:5 <sup>1</sup> He that giveth ear to the flatterer, is in danger as the bird is before the fowler.

29:6 <sup>1</sup> He is ever ready to fall into the snare that he layeth for others.

29:9 <sup>1</sup> He can hear no admonition in what sort soever it is spoken.

29:18 <sup>1</sup> Where there are not faithful ministers of the word of God.

29:19 <sup>1</sup> He that is of a servile and rebellious nature.

29:25 <sup>1</sup> He that feareth man more than God, falleth into a snare and is destroyed.

29:26 <sup>1</sup> He needeth not to flatter the ruler: for what God hath appointed, that shall come to him.

30:Title <sup>1</sup> Who was an excellent man in virtue and knowledge in the time of Solomon.

30:1 <sup>1</sup> Which were Agur's scholars or friends.

30:2 <sup>1</sup> Herein he declareth his great humility, who would not attribute any wisdom to himself, but all unto God.

30:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to know the secrets of God, as though he would say, None.

30:7 <sup>1</sup> He maketh this request to God.

9 Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, <sup>1</sup>Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor and steal, and take the Name of my God in vain.

10 Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, <sup>1</sup>when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthiness.

13 There is a generation whose eyes are haughty, and their eye lids are lifted up.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their chaws as knives to eat up the afflicted out of the earth, and the poor from among men.

15 The horseleech hath two <sup>1</sup>daughters which cry, Give, give. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, four that say not, It is enough.

16 The grave, and the barren womb, the earth, that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father and despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the ravens <sup>1</sup>of the valley pick it out, and the young eagles eat it.

18 There be three things hid from me: yea, four that I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a stone, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: she eateth and <sup>1</sup>wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have not committed iniquity.

21 For three things the earth is moved: yea, for four it cannot sustain itself.

22 For <sup>1</sup>a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat,

23 For the hateful woman, when she is married, and for a handmaid that is <sup>1</sup>heir to her mistress.

24 These be four small things in the earth, yet they are <sup>1</sup>wise, and full of wisdom.

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in summer:

26 The conies a people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rock:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:

28 The spider taketh hold <sup>1</sup>with her hands, and is in king's palaces.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lusty greyhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou hast been foolish in lifting thyself up, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand <sup>1</sup>upon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milk, he bringeth forth butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out, so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

31 <sup>2</sup>He exhorteth to chastity and justice, 10 and showeth the conditions of a wise and worthy woman.

1 THE WORDS OF KING <sup>1</sup>LEMUEL: The <sup>2</sup>prophecy which his mother taught him.

2 What my son! and what the son of <sup>1</sup>my womb! and what, O son of my desires!

3 Give not thy strength unto women, <sup>1</sup>nor thy ways which is to destroy kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes <sup>1</sup>strong drink,

5 Lest he drink and forget the decree, and change the judgment of all the children of affliction.

6 Give ye strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto them that have grief of heart.

7 Let him drink, that he may forget <sup>1</sup>his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the <sup>1</sup>dumb in the cause of all the children of destruction.

9 Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and judge the afflicted, and the poor.

10 ¶ Who shall find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above the pearls.

11 The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shall have no need of <sup>1</sup>spoil.

30:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that they that put their trust in their riches, forget God, and that by too much wealth men have an occasion to the same.

30:10 <sup>1</sup> In accusing him without cause.

30:15 <sup>1</sup> The leech hath two forks in her tongue, which here he calleth her two daughters, whereby she sucketh the blood, and is never satiated: even so are the covetous extortioners insatiable.

30:17 <sup>1</sup> Which haunt in the valley for carrions.

30:20 <sup>1</sup> She hath her desires, and after counterfeiteth as though she were an honest woman.

30:22 <sup>1</sup> These commonly abuse the state whereunto they are called.

30:23 <sup>1</sup> Which is married to her master after the death of her mistress.

30:24 <sup>1</sup> They contain great doctrine and wisdom.

30:28 <sup>1</sup> If man be not able to compass these common things by his wisdom, we cannot attribute wisdom to man, but folly.

30:32 <sup>1</sup> Make a stay, and continue not in doing evil.

31:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, of Solomon, who was called Lemuel, that is, of God, because God had ordained him to be king over Israel.

31:2 <sup>1</sup> By this often repetition of one thing, she declareth her motherly affection.

31:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that women are the destruction of kings, if they haunt them.

31:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, the King must not give himself to wantonness, and neglect of his office, which is to execute judgment.

31:7 <sup>1</sup> For wine doth comfort the heart, as Ps. 104:15.

31:8 <sup>1</sup> Defend their cause that are not able to help themselves.

31:11 <sup>1</sup> He shall not need to use any unlawful means to gain his living.

12 She will do him good, and not evil all the days of her life.

13 She seeketh wool and flax, and laboreth cheerfully with her hands.

14 She is like the ships of merchants: she bringeth her food from afar.

15 And she ariseth, while it is yet night: and giveth <sup>1</sup>the portion to her household, and the <sup>2</sup>ordinary to her maids.

16 She considereth a field, and <sup>1</sup>getteth it: and with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loins with strength, and strength-eneth her arms.

18 She feeleth that her merchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 She putteth her hands to the wheel, and her hands handle the spindle.

20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poor, and putteth forth her hands to the needy.

21 She feareth not the snow for her family: for all her family is clothed with <sup>1</sup>scarlet.

22 She maketh herself carpets: fine linen and purple is her garment.

23 Her husband is known in the <sup>1</sup>gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of the land.

24 She maketh <sup>1</sup>sheets, and selleth them, and giveth girdles unto the merchant.

25 <sup>1</sup>Strength and honor is her clothing, and in the latter day she shall rejoice.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the <sup>1</sup>law of grace is in her tongue.

27 She overseeth the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.

28 Her children rise up, and <sup>1</sup>call her blessed: her husband also shall praise her, saying,

29 Many daughters have done virtuously: but thou surmountest them all.

30 Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vanity: but a woman that feareth the Lord she shall be praised.

31 Give <sup>1</sup>her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praise her in the <sup>2</sup>gates.

31:15 <sup>1</sup> Or, meat, as Ps. 111:5

31:16 <sup>1</sup> She purchaseth it with the gains of her travail.

31:21 <sup>1</sup> Or, with double.

31:23 <sup>1</sup> In the assemblies and places of judgment.

31:24 <sup>1</sup> Or, linen cloth.

31:25 <sup>1</sup> After that he had spoken of the apparel of the body, he now declareth the apparel of the spirit.

31:26 <sup>1</sup> Her tongue is as a book whereby one might learn many good things: for she delighteth to talk of the word of God.

31:28 <sup>1</sup> That is, do her reverence.

31:31 <sup>1</sup> Confess her diligent labors, and commend her therefore.

<sup>2</sup> Forasmuch as the most honorable are clad in the apparel that she made.

THE PREACHER

---

1 2 All things in this world are full of vanity, and of none endurance. 13 All man's wisdom is but folly and grief.

1 The words of the <sup>1</sup>Preacher, the son of David king in Jerusalem.

2 <sup>1</sup>Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanity of vanities, all is vanity.

3 What remaineth unto man in all his <sup>1</sup>travail, which he suffereth under the sun?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth <sup>1</sup>forever.

5 The sun riseth, and the sun goeth down, and draweth to his place where he riseth.

6 The <sup>1</sup>wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the wind goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

7 All the rivers go into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the rivers go unto the place <sup>1</sup>whence they return, and go.

8 All things are full of labor: man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 <sup>1</sup>What is it that hath been? that that shall be: and what is it that hath been done? that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.

10 Is there anything, whereof one may say, Behold this, it is new? it hath been already in the old time that was before us.

11 There is no memory of the former, neither shalt there be a remembrance of the latter that shall be, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ <sup>1</sup>I the Preacher have been king over Israel in Jerusalem:

13 And I have given mine heart to search and find out wisdom by all things that are done under the heaven: (this sore travail hath God given to the sons of men, <sup>1</sup>to humble them thereby.)

14 I have considered all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is <sup>1</sup>crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth, cannot be numbered.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excel in wisdom all them that have been before me in Jerusalem: and mine heart hath seen much wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gave mine heart to know wisdom and knowledge, <sup>1</sup>madness and foolishness: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much <sup>1</sup>grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

2 Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanity. 14 The wise and the fool have both one end touching the bodily death.

1 I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove <sup>1</sup>thee with joy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleas-

1:1 <sup>1</sup> Solomon is here called a preacher, or one that assemblheth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to pass their life in this transitory world.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> He condemneth the opinions of all men that set felicity in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanity and nothing.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> Solomon doth not condemn man's labor or diligence, but showeth that there is no full contentation in any thing under the heaven, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitory.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, even to the last day, which yet is subject to corruption.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> By the sun, wind and rivers, he showeth that the greatest labor and longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicity in this world.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veins thereof, the which pour out springs and rivers into the sea again.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they have been in times past, so come they to pass again.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> He proveth that if any could have attained to felicity in this world by labor, and study, he chiefly should have obtained it, because he had gifts and aids of God thereunto above all others.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend only upon God.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise than they do: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much less remedy them.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, vain things, which served unto pleasure, wherein was no commodity, but grief and trouble of conscience.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great pain of body and mind: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his mind never fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicity.

2:1 <sup>1</sup> Solomon maketh this discourse with himself, as though he would try whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

ant things: and behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, 'Thou art mad: and of joy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart <sup>1</sup>to give myself to wine, and to lead mine heart in <sup>2</sup>wisdom, and to take hold of folly, till I might see where is that goodness of the children of men, which they <sup>3</sup>enjoy under the Sun, the whole number of the days of their life.

4 I have made my great works: I have built me houses: I have planted me vineyards.

5 I have made me gardens and <sup>1</sup>orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruit.

6 I have made me cisterns of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I have gotten servants and maids, and had children born in the <sup>1</sup>house: also I had great Possession of beeves and sheep above all that were before me in Jerusalem.

8 I have gathered unto me also silver and gold, and the chief treasures of Kings and provinces: I have provided me men singers, and women singers, and the <sup>1</sup>delights of the sons of men, as a woman <sup>2</sup>taken captive, and women taken captives.

9 And I was great, and increased above all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom <sup>1</sup>remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any joy: for mine heart rejoiced in all my labor: and this was my <sup>1</sup>portion of all my travail.

11 Then I looked on all my works that mine hands had wrought, and on the travail that I had labored to do: and behold, all is vanity and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit under the Sun.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold <sup>1</sup>wisdom, and madness, and folly: (for who is the man that <sup>2</sup>will come after the King in things, which men now have done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisdom more than in folly: as the light is more excellent than darkness.

14 <sup>a</sup>For the wise man's <sup>1</sup>eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darkness: yet I know also that the same <sup>2</sup>condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth unto me, as it befalleth to the fool. Why therefore do I then labor to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there shall be no remembrance of the wise, nor of the fool <sup>1</sup>forever: for that that now is, in the days to come, shall all be forgotten. And <sup>2</sup>how dieth the wise man, as doth the fool?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the work that is wrought under the Sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labor, wherein I had travailed under the Sun, which I shall leave to the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wise or foolish? yet shall he have rule over all my labor, wherein I have travailed, and wherein I have showed myself wise under the Sun. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart <sup>1</sup>abhor all the labor, wherein I had travailed under the Sun.

21 For there is a man whose travail is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity: yet to a man that hath not travailed herein, shall he <sup>1</sup>give his portion: this also is vanity, and a great grief.

22 For what hath man of all his travail and grief of his heart, wherein he hath travailed under the Sun?

23 For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanity.

24 There is no profit to man, but that he eat and drink, and <sup>1</sup>delight his soul with the profit of his labor: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eat, and who could haste to <sup>1</sup>outward things more than I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, draw my flesh to wine.

<sup>2</sup> Albeit I gave myself to pleasures, yet I thought to keep wisdom and the fear of God in mine heart, and govern mine affairs by the same.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, paradises.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the servants or slaves, which he had bought: so the children born in their servitude, were the masters.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, whatsoever men take pleasure in.

<sup>2</sup> Which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in war, as Judg. 5:30. Some understand by these words, no women, but instruments of music.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> For all this God did not take his gift of wisdom from me.

2:10 <sup>1</sup> This was the fruit of all my labor, a certain pleasure mixed with care, which he calleth vanity in the next verse.

2:12 <sup>1</sup> I bethought with myself whether it were better to follow wisdom, or mine own affections and pleasures, which he calleth madness.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> He forseeeth things, which the fool cannot for lack of wisdom.

<sup>2</sup> For both die and are forgotten as verse 16, or they both alike have prosperity or adversity.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in this world.

<sup>2</sup> He wondereth that men forget a wise man, being dead, as soon as they do a fool.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> That I might seek the true felicity which is in God.

2:21 <sup>1</sup> Among other griefs that was not the least, to leave that which he had gotten by great travail, to one that had taken no pain therefore, and whom he knew not whether he were a wise man or a fool.

2:24 <sup>1</sup> When man hath all labored, he can get no more than food and refreshing, yet he confesseth also that this cometh of God's blessing, as Eccl. 3:13.

2:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to pleasures.

sinner he giveth pain to gather, and to heap to give to him that is good before God: this also is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

3 1 All things have their time. 14 The works of God are perfect, and cause us to fear him. 17 God shall judge both the just and unjust.

1 To all things there is an <sup>1</sup>appointed time, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.

2 A time to be born, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heal: a time to break down, and a time to build.

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be far from embracing.

6 A time to seek, and a time to lose: a time to keep, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sow: a time to keep silence, and a time to speak.

8 A time to love, and a time to hate: a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh of the thing wherein he travaileth?

10 I have seen the travail that God hath given to the sons of men, <sup>1</sup>to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made everything beautiful in his time: also he hath set the <sup>1</sup>world in their heart, yet cannot man find out the work that God hath wrought from the beginning even to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to rejoice, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that every man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commodity of all his labor. This is the <sup>1</sup>gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoever God shall do, it shall be <sup>1</sup>forever: to it can no man add, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should fear before him.

15 What is that that hath been? that is now: and that that shall be, hath now been: for God <sup>1</sup>requireth that which is past.

16 And moreover, I have seen under the Sun the place of judgment, where was wickedness, and the place of justice, where was iniquity.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will judge the just and the wicked: for time is <sup>1</sup>there for every purpose and for every work.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God had <sup>1</sup>purged them: yet to see too, they are in themselves as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are even as one <sup>1</sup>condition unto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they have all one breath, and there is no excellency of man above the beast: for all is vanity.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall return to the dust.

21 Who <sup>1</sup>knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend upward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better than that a man should <sup>1</sup>rejoice in his affairs, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

4 2 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Man's labors are full of abuse and vanity. 9 Man's society is necessary. 13 A young man poor and wise, is to be preferred to an old King that is a fool.

1 So <sup>1</sup>I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought under the sun, and behold, the tears of the oppressed, and none comforteth them, and lo, the strength is of the hand of them that oppress them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praised the <sup>1</sup>dead which now are dead, above the living, which are yet alive.

3 And I count him <sup>1</sup>better than them both, which

3:1 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh of this diversity of time for two causes: first to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetual: next to teach us not to be grieved, if we have not all things at once according to our desires, neither enjoy them so long as we would wish.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> Read Eccl. 1:13.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> God hath given man a desire, and affection to seek out the things of this world, and to labor therein.

3:13 <sup>1</sup> Read Eccl. 2:24, and these places declare that we should do all things with sobriety and in the fear of God, forasmuch as he giveth not his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, man shall never be able to let God's work, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to pass.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> God only causeth that, which is past, to return.

3:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, with God, howsoever man neglect his duty.

3:18 <sup>1</sup> And made them pure in their first creation.

3:19 <sup>1</sup> Man is not able by his reason and judgment to put difference between man and beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subject: for the eye cannot judge any otherwise of a man being dead, than of a beast, which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith we easily know the diversity, as verse 21.

3:21 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith believeth herein.

3:22 <sup>1</sup> By the often repetition of this sentence, as Eccl. 2:24; 3:12, 22; 5:17 and 8:15, he declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life, than to use the gifts of God soberly and comfortably: to know further, is a special gift of God revealed by his Spirit.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> He maketh here another discourse with himself concerning the tyranny of them that oppressed the poor.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> Because they are no more subject to these oppressions.

4:3 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh according to the judgment of the flesh, which cannot abide to feel or see troubles.

hath not yet been: for he hath not seen the evil works which are wrought under the sun.

4 Also I beheld all travail, and all <sup>1</sup>perfection of works, that this is the envy of a man against his neighbor: this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

5 The fool foldeth his hands, and <sup>1</sup>eateth up his own flesh.

6 Better is an handful with quietness, than two handfuls with labor and vexation of spirit.

7 Again I returned, and saw vanity under the sun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither son nor brother, yet is there none end of all his travail, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doth he think, For whom do I travail and defraud my soul of pleasures? this also is vanity, this is an evil travail.

9 <sup>1</sup>Two are better wages for their labor.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe unto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him up.

11 Also if two sleep together, then shall they have heat: but to one how should there be heat?

12 And if one overcome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold <sup>1</sup>cord is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poor and wise child, than an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the <sup>1</sup>prison he cometh forth to reign: when as he that is <sup>2</sup>born in his kingdom, is made poor.

15 I beheld all the living, which walk under the Sun <sup>1</sup>with the second child, which shall stand up in his place.

16 There is none <sup>1</sup>end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not rejoice in him: surely this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heed to thine <sup>1</sup>foot when thou enterest into the house of God, and be more near to hear than to give the sacrifice of <sup>2</sup>fools: for they know not that they do evil.

CHAPTER 5

<sup>a</sup>Deut. 23:21

5 <sup>1</sup>Not to speak lightly, chiefly in God's matters. <sup>9</sup>The covetous can never have enough. <sup>11</sup>The laborer's sleep is sweet. <sup>14</sup>Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him. <sup>18</sup>To live joyfully, and with a contented mind, is the gift of God.

1 Be not <sup>1</sup>rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hasty to utter a thing before God: for God is in the heavens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be <sup>2</sup>few.

2 For as a dream cometh by the multitude of business: so the voice of a fool is in the multitude of words.

3 <sup>a</sup>When thou hast vowed a vow to God, defer not to pay it: for he delighteth not in fools: pay therefore that thou hast <sup>1</sup>vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy <sup>1</sup>flesh to sin: neither say before the <sup>2</sup>Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreams, and vanities are also many words: but fear thou God.

7 If in a country thou seest the oppression of the poor, and the defrauding of judgment and justice, be not astonished at the matter: for he that is <sup>1</sup>higher than the highest, regardeth, and there be higher than they.

8 And the <sup>1</sup>abundance of the earth is over all: the king <sup>2</sup>also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loveth silver, shall not be satisfied with silver, and he that loveth riches, shall be without the fruit thereof: this is also vanity.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

4:4 <sup>1</sup>The more perfect that the work is, the more it is envied of the wicked.

4:5 <sup>1</sup>For idleness he is compelled to destroy himself.

4:9 <sup>1</sup>Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither help himself nor others, he showeth that men ought to live in mutual society to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

4:12 <sup>1</sup>By this proverb he declareth how necessary it is, that men should live in society.

4:14 <sup>1</sup>That is, from a poor and base estate, or out of trouble and prison, as Joseph did, Gen. 41:14.

4:15 <sup>1</sup>Which follow and flatter the King's son, or him that shall succeed, to enter into credit with them in hope of gain.

4:16 <sup>1</sup>They never cease by all means to creep into favor, but when they obtain not, their greedy desires, they think themselves abused, as others have been in time past, and so care no more for him.

4:17 <sup>1</sup>That is, with what affection thou comest to hear the word of God.

<sup>2</sup>Meaning, of the wicked, which think to please God with common uses, and have neither faith nor repentance.

5:1 <sup>1</sup>Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, that we should use all reverence to Godward.

<sup>2</sup>He heareth thee not for thy many words' sake, or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith and servant mind.

5:3 <sup>1</sup>He speaketh of vows, which are approved by God's word, and serve to his glory.

5:5 <sup>1</sup>Cause not thyself to sin by vowing rashly: as they do which make a vow to live unmarried, and such like.

<sup>2</sup>That is, before God's messenger, when he shall examine thy doing, as though thy ignorance should be a just excuse.

5:7 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, that God will redress these things, and therefore we must depend upon him.

5:8 <sup>1</sup>The earth is to be preferred above all things which appertain to this life.

<sup>2</sup>Kings and Princes cannot maintain their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellency of tillage.

11 The sleep of him that travaileth, is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the <sup>1</sup>satiety of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

12 There is an evil sickness that I have seen under the sun: to wit, riches <sup>1</sup>reserved to the owners thereof for their evil.

13 And these riches perish by evil travail, and he begetteth a son, and in his <sup>1</sup>hand is nothing.

14 <sup>b</sup>As he came forth of his mother's belly, he shall return naked to go as he came, and shall bear away nothing of his labor, which he hath caused to pass by his hand.

15 And this also is an evil sickness, that in all points as he came, so shall he go, and what profit hath he that he hath travailed for the <sup>1</sup>wind?

16 Also all his days he eateth in <sup>1</sup>darkness with much grief, and in his sorrow and anger.

17 Behold then, what I have seen good, that it is comely to <sup>1</sup>eat, and to drink, and to take pleasure in all his labor, wherein he travaileth under the sun, the whole number of the days of his life, which God giveth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to every man to whom God hath given riches and treasures, and giveth him power to eat thereof, and to take his part, and to enjoy his labor: this is the gifts of God.

19 Surely he will not much remember the days of his <sup>1</sup>life, because God answereth to the joy of his heart.

6 The miserable estate of him to whom God hath given riches, and not the grace to use them.

1 There is an evil, which I saw under the sun, and it is much among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches and treasures and honor, and he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth: but <sup>1</sup>God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a strange man shall eat it up: this is vanity, and this is an evil sickness.

3 If a man beget an hundred children and live many years, and the days of his years be multiplied: and his soul be not <sup>1</sup>satisfied with good things, and he be not <sup>2</sup>buried, I say that an untimely fruit is better than he.

4 For <sup>1</sup>he cometh into vanity, and goeth into darkness: and his name shall be covered with darkness.

5 Also he hath not seen the sun, nor known it: therefore this hath more rest than the other.

6 And if he had lived a thousand years twice told, and had seen no good, shall not all go to one place?

7 All the labor of man is for his mouth: yet the <sup>1</sup>soul is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more than the fool? what hath the poor that <sup>1</sup>knoweth how to walk before the living?

9 The <sup>1</sup>sight of the eye is better than to walk in the lusts: this also is vanity, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath been? the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot strive with him that is <sup>1</sup>stronger than he.

7 Divers precepts to follow that which is good, and to avoid the contrary.

1 Surely there be many things that increase vanity, and what availeth it a man?

2 For who knoweth what is <sup>1</sup>good for man in the life, and in the number of the days of the life of his vanity, seeing he maketh them as a <sup>a</sup>shadow? for who can show unto man what shall be after him under the sun?

3 <sup>b</sup>A good name is better than a good ointment, and the day of <sup>1</sup>death, than the day that one is born.

4 It is better to go to the house of <sup>1</sup>mourning, than to go to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the living shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better than laughter: for by a sad look the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to hear the rebuke of a wise man, than that a man should hear the song of fools.

8 For like the noise of the <sup>1</sup>thorns under the pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, his great abundance of riches, or the surfeiting, which cometh by his great feeding.

5:12 <sup>1</sup> When covetous men heap up riches, which turn to their destruction.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> He doth not enjoy his father's riches.

5:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in vain, and without profit.

5:16 <sup>1</sup> In affliction and grief of mind.

5:17 <sup>1</sup> Read Eccl. 3:22.

5:19 <sup>1</sup> He will take no great thought for the pains that he hath endured in time past.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that it is the plague of God when the rich man hath not a liberal heart to use his riches.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> If he can never have enough.

<sup>2</sup> As we see oftentimes that the covetous man either falleth into crimes that deserve death, or is murdered or drowned or hangeth himself, or such like, and so lacketh the honor of burial, which is the last office of humanity.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the untimely fruit whose life did neither profit or hurt any.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> His desire and affection.

6:8 <sup>1</sup> That knoweth to use his goods well in the judgment of men.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> To be content with that which God hath given, is better than to follow the desires that never can be satisfied.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, God who will make him to feel that he is mortal.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> There is no state wherein man can live to have perfect quietness in this life.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh thus after the judgment of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the end of all evils, or else, because that this corporal death is the entering into life everlasting.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> Where we may see the hand of God, and learn to examine our lives.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> Which crackle for a while and profit nothing.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man <sup>1</sup>mad: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The <sup>1</sup>end of a thing is better than the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

11 Be not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire <sup>1</sup>wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdom is good with an <sup>1</sup>inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sun.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, and in the shadow of silver: but the excellency of the knowledge of wisdom giveth life to the possessors thereof.

15 Behold the work of God; for who can make <sup>1</sup>straight that which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction <sup>1</sup>consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find <sup>2</sup>nothing after him.

17 I have seen all things in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his <sup>1</sup>justice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou just <sup>1</sup>overmuch, neither make thyself overwise: wherefore shouldst thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked <sup>1</sup>overmuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldst thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on <sup>1</sup>this: but yet withdraw not thine hand from <sup>2</sup>that: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdom shall strengthen the wise men more than ten mighty princes that are in the city.

22 <sup>4</sup>Surely there is no man just in the earth that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Give not thine <sup>1</sup>heart also to all the words that men speak, lest thou do hear thy servant cursing thee.

24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast <sup>1</sup>cursed others.

25 All this have I proved by wisdom: I thought, I will be wise, but it went far from me.

26 It is far off, what may <sup>1</sup>it be? and it is a profound deepness, who can find it?

27 I have compassed about, both I and mine heart to know and to inquire and to search wisdom, and reason, and to know the wickedness of folly, and the foolishness of madness,

28 And I find more bitter than death the woman whose heart is as nets and snares, and her hands as bands: he that is good before God, shall be delivered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the Preacher, this have I found, seeking one by one to <sup>1</sup>find the count:

30 And yet my soul seeketh, but I find it not. I have found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all have I not found.

31 Only lo, this have I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they have sought many <sup>1</sup>inventions.

8 <sup>2</sup> To obey Princes and Magistrates. <sup>17</sup> The works of God pass man's knowledge.

1 Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisdom of a man doth make his face <sup>1</sup>to shine: and <sup>2</sup>the strength of his face shall be changed.

2 I advertise thee to take heed to the <sup>1</sup>mouth of the king, and to the word of the oath of God.

3 <sup>1</sup>Haste not to go forth of his sight: stand not in an evil thing: for he will do whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the word of the King is, there is power, and who shall say unto him, What doest thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandment, shall know none evil thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the <sup>1</sup>time, and judgment.

6 For to every purpose there is a time and judgment, because the <sup>1</sup>misery of man is great upon him.

7:9 <sup>1</sup> A man that is esteemed wise, when he falleth to oppression, becometh like a beast.

7:10 <sup>1</sup> He noteth their lightness which enterprise a thing and suddenly leave it off again.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> Murmur not against God when he sendeth adversities for man's sins.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> He answereth to them that esteem not wisdom except riches be joined therewith, showing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisdom is far more excellent, and may be without riches.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Consider wherefore God doth send it and what may comfort thee.

7:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that cruel tyrants put the godly to death and let the wicked go free.

7:18 <sup>1</sup> Boast not too much of thine own justice and wisdom.

7:19 <sup>1</sup> Tarry not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickedness.

7:20 <sup>1</sup> To wit, on these admonitions that go before.

<sup>2</sup> Consider what desolation and destruction shall come, if thou do not obey them.

7:23 <sup>1</sup> Credit them not, neither care for them.

7:24 <sup>1</sup> Or, spoken evil of others.

7:26 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, wisdom.

7:29 <sup>1</sup> That is, to come to a conclusion.

7:31 <sup>1</sup> And so are cause of their own destruction.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, doth get him favor and prosperity.

8:2 <sup>1</sup> That is, that thou obey the king and keep the oath that thou hast made for the same cause.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Withdraw not thyself lightly from the obedience of thy prince.

8:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, when time is to obey, and how far he should obey.

8:6 <sup>1</sup> Man of himself is miserable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increase the same, but to work all things by wisdom and counsel.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 Man is not Lord <sup>1</sup>over the spirit to retain the spirit: neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliverance in the battle, neither shall wickedness deliver the possessors thereof.

9 All this have I seen, and have given mine heart to every work which is wrought under the sun, and I saw a time that man ruleth over man to his own <sup>1</sup>hurt.

10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and <sup>1</sup>they returned, and they that came from the holy <sup>2</sup>place, were yet forgotten in the city, where they had done right: this also is vanity.

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not <sup>1</sup>executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to do evil.

12 Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and God prolongeth his days, yet I know that it shall be well with them that fear the Lord, and do reverence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days: he shall be like a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity, which is done upon the earth, that there be righteous men to whom it cometh according to the <sup>1</sup>work of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it cometh according to the work of the just: I thought also that this is vanity.

15 And I praised joy, for there is no goodness to man under the sun, save <sup>1</sup>to eat and to drink and to rejoice: for this is adjoined to his labor the days of his life that God hath given him under the sun.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to behold the business that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleep,

17 Then I beheld the whole work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is wrought under the sun: for the which man laboreth to seek it, and cannot find it: yea, and though the wise man think to know it, he cannot find it.

9 1 By no outward thing can man know whom God loveth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wisdom

CHAPTER 9 excelleth strength.

1 I have surely given mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the just, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either love or <sup>1</sup>hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the just and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is evil among all that is done under the sun, that there is one <sup>1</sup>condition to all, and also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their hearts while they live, and after that, they go to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is joined to all the living, there is hope: for it is better to a <sup>1</sup>living dog, than to a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither have they anymore a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their love and their hatred, and their envy is now perished, and they have no more portion forever, in all that is done under the sun.

7 Go, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a cheerful heart: for God now <sup>1</sup>accepteth thy works.

8 At all times let thy garments be <sup>1</sup>white, and let not oil be lacking upon thine head.

9 <sup>1a</sup>Rejoice with the wife whom thou hast loved all the days of the life of thy vanity, which God hath given thee under the sun all the days of thy vanity: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy travail wherein thou laborest under the sun.

10 All that thine hand shall find to do, do it with all thy power: for there is neither work nor invention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of understanding, neither yet favor to men of knowledge:

8:8 <sup>1</sup> Man hath no power to save his own life, and therefore must not rashly cast himself into danger.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> As cometh oftentimes to tyrants and wicked rulers.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, others as wicked as they.

<sup>2</sup> They that feared God and worshipped him according as he had appointed.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> Where justice is delayed, there sin reigneth.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Eccl. 7:17.

8:15 <sup>1</sup> Read Eccl. 3:22.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, what things he ought to choose or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is, by prosperity or adversity, whom God doth favor or hate, for he sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly.

9:3 <sup>1</sup> In outward things, as riches and poverty, sickness and health, there is no difference between the godly and the wicked: but the difference is that the godly are assured by faith of God's favor and assistance.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> He noteth the Epicureans and carnal men, which made their belly their god, and had no pleasure, but in this life, wishing rather to be an abased and vile person in this life, than a man of authority, and so to die, which is meant by the dog and lion.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> They flatter themselves to be in God's favor, because they have all things in abundance.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> Rejoice, be merry, and spare for no cost, thus speak the wicked belly-gods.

9:9 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, regard the life.

but time and <sup>1</sup>chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his <sup>1</sup>time, but as the fishes which are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the evil time, when it falleth upon them suddenly.

13 I have also seen this wisdom under the sun, and it is great unto me.

14 A little city and few men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and built forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poor and wise man, and he delivered the city by his wisdom, but none remembered this poor man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom than strength: yet the wisdom of the poor is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise are more heard in quietness, than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Better is wisdom than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

1 Dead flies cause to stink, and putrefy the ointment of the apothecary: so doth a little folly him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a <sup>1</sup>wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a fool is at his left hand.

3 And also when the fool goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he <sup>1</sup>telleth unto all that he is a fool.

4 If the <sup>1</sup>spirit of him that ruleth, rise up against thee, leave not thy place: for gentleness pacifieth great sins.

5 There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, as an <sup>1</sup>error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folly is set in great excellency, and the <sup>1</sup>rich sit in the low place.

7 I have seen servants on horses, and princes walking as servants on the ground.

8 "He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he

CHAPTER 10

Prov. 26:27

that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that removeth stones, shall hurt himself thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more <sup>1</sup>strength: but the excellency to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babbler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man have grace: but the lips of a fool devour himself.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madness.

14 For the fool multiplieth words, saying, Man knoweth not what shall be: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labor of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the <sup>1</sup>city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a <sup>1</sup>child, and thy princes <sup>2</sup>eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the son <sup>1</sup>of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkenness.

18 By slothfulness the roof of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the living, but silver answereth to all.

20 Curse not the king, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the <sup>1</sup>fowl of the heaven shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

11 <sup>1</sup>To be liberal to the poor. <sup>4</sup>Not to doubt of God's providence. <sup>8</sup>All worldly prosperity is but vanity. <sup>9</sup>God will judge all.

1 Cast thy bread upon the <sup>1</sup>waters: for after many days thou shalt find it.

2 Give a portion to seven, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

3 If the <sup>1</sup>clouds be full, they will pour forth rain upon the earth: and if the <sup>2</sup>tree do fall toward the 9:11 <sup>1</sup> Thus the worldlings say to prove that all things are lawful for them, and attribute that to chance and fortune, which is done by the providence of God.

9:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, he doth not foresee what shall come.

10:2 <sup>1</sup> So that he doeth all things well and justly, where as the fool doeth the contrary.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> By his doings he betrayeth himself.

10:4 <sup>1</sup> If thy superior be angry with thee, be thou discrete, and not moved.

10:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that it is an evil thing when they that are in authority, fail and do not their duty.

10:6 <sup>1</sup> They that are rich in wisdom and virtue.

10:10 <sup>1</sup> Without wisdom whatsoever a man taketh in hand, turneth to his own hurt.

10:15 <sup>1</sup> The ignorance and beastliness of the wicked is such that they know not common things, and yet will they discuss high matters.

10:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, without wisdom and counsel.

10:17 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, when he is noble for virtue and wisdom, and with the gifts of God.

10:20 <sup>1</sup> Thou canst not work evil so secretly, but it shall be known.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, be liberal to the poor, and though it seem to be as a thing ventured on the sea, yet it shall bring thee profit.

11:3 <sup>1</sup> As the clouds that are full, pour out rain, so the rich that have abundance, must distribute it liberally.

<sup>2</sup> He exhorteth to be liberal while we live: for after, there is no power.

South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that observeth the <sup>1</sup>wind shall not sow, and he that regardeth the clouds, shall not reap.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the work of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening let not thine hand <sup>1</sup>rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or <sup>2</sup>that, or whether both shall be a like good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sun.

8 Though a man live many years, and in them all he rejoice, yet he shall remember the days of <sup>1</sup>darkness, because they are many, all that cometh is vanity.

9 <sup>1</sup>Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth: and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to judgment.

10 Therefore take away <sup>1</sup>grief out of thine heart, and cause evil <sup>2</sup>to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanity.

12 <sup>1</sup>To think on God in youth, and not to defer till age. <sup>7</sup>The soul returneth to God. <sup>11</sup>Wisdom is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

1 Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years approach, wherein thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them:

2 While the sun is not dark, nor the light, nor the moon, nor the stars, nor the <sup>1</sup>clouds return after the rain.

3 When the <sup>1</sup>keepers of the house shall tremble, and the <sup>2</sup>strong men shall bow themselves, and the <sup>3</sup>grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they wax dark that <sup>4</sup>look out by the windows:

5 Also they shall be afraid of the <sup>1</sup>high thing, and fear shall be in the <sup>2</sup>way, and the almond tree shall <sup>3</sup>flourish, and the <sup>4</sup>grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driven away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners go about in the street.

6 While the <sup>1</sup>silver cord is not lengthened, nor the golden <sup>2</sup>ewer broken, nor the <sup>3</sup>pitcher broken at the <sup>4</sup>well, nor the <sup>5</sup>wheel broken at the <sup>6</sup>cistern,

7 And dust return to the earth as it was, and the <sup>1</sup>spirit return to God that gave it.

8 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanity.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and caused them to hear, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an upright writing, even the words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails <sup>1</sup>fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are given by one <sup>2</sup>pastor.

12 And of other things beside these, my son, take thou heed: for there is none end in making many <sup>1</sup>books, and much reading is a weariness of the flesh.

13 Let us hear the end of all: fear God and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God will bring every work unto judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or evil.

11:4 <sup>1</sup>He that feareth inconveniences, when necessity requireth, shall never do his duty.

11:6 <sup>1</sup>Be not weary of well doing.

<sup>2</sup>That is, which of thy works are most agreeable to God.

11:8 <sup>1</sup>That is, of affliction and trouble.

11:9 <sup>1</sup>He derideth them that set their delight in worldly pleasures, as though God would not call count.

11:10 <sup>1</sup>To wit, anger, and envy.

12:2 <sup>1</sup>Before thou come to a continual misery: for when the clouds remain after the rain, man's grief is increased.

12:3 <sup>1</sup>The hands, which keep the body.

12:4 <sup>1</sup>The lips, or mouth.

<sup>2</sup>When the jaws, shall scarce open, and not be able to chew anymore.

<sup>3</sup>He shall not be able to sleep.

<sup>4</sup>That is, the wind pipes, or the ears shall be deaf and not able to hear singing.

12:5 <sup>1</sup>To climb high because of their weakness, or they stoop down, as though they were afraid, lest anything should hit them.

<sup>2</sup>They shall tremble as they go, as though they were afraid.

12:6 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, the marrow of the backbone and the sinews.

<sup>6</sup>That is, the heart, out of which the head draweth the powers of life.

12:7 <sup>1</sup>The soul incontinently goeth either to joy or torment, and sleepeth not as the wicked imagine.

12:11 <sup>1</sup>Which are well applied by the ministers, whom he calleth masters.

12:12 <sup>1</sup>These things cannot be comprehended in books or learned by study, but God must instruct thine heart that thou mayest only know that wisdom is the true felicity, and the way thereunto is to fear God.

AN <sup>1</sup>EXCELLENT SONG WHICH WAS SOLOMON'S

1 <sup>1</sup> The familiar talk and mystical communication of the spiritual love between Jesus Christ and his Church. <sup>5</sup> The domestical enemies that persecute the Church.

1 Let <sup>1</sup>him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.

2 Because of the <sup>1</sup>savor of thy good ointments, thy name is as an ointment poured out: therefore the <sup>2</sup>virgins love thee.

3 <sup>1</sup>Draw me: we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his <sup>2</sup>chambers: we will rejoice and be glad in thee: we will remember thy love more than wine: the righteous do love thee.

4 I am <sup>1</sup>black, O daughters of Jerusalem, but comely, as the tents of <sup>2</sup>Kedar, and as the <sup>3</sup>curtains of Solomon.

5 Regard ye me not because I am <sup>1</sup>black: for the <sup>2</sup>sun hath looked upon me. The <sup>3</sup>sons of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I <sup>4</sup>kept not mine own vine.

6 Show me, <sup>1</sup>O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noon: for why should I be as she that turneth aside to the stocks of <sup>2</sup>thy companions?

7 <sup>1</sup>If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flock, and feed thy kids by the tents of the shepherds.

8 I have compared thee, O my love, to the troupe of horses in the <sup>1</sup>chariots of Pharaoh.

9 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of stones, and thy neck with chains.

10 We will make thee borders of gold with floods of silver.

11 <sup>1</sup>While the King was at his repast, my spikenard gave the smell thereof.

12 My well-beloved is as a bundle of myrrh unto me: he shall lie between my <sup>1</sup>breasts.

13 My well-beloved is as a cluster of camphire unto me in the vines of En Gedi.

14 My love, behold, thou art <sup>1</sup>fair: behold, thou art fair: thine eyes are like the doves.

15 My well-beloved, behold, thou art fair, and pleasant: also our <sup>1</sup>bed is green.

16 The beams of our house are cedars, our rafters are of fir.

1 I am the rose of the field, and the lily of the valleys.

2 Like a lily among the thorns, so is my <sup>1</sup>love among the daughters.

3 <sup>1</sup>Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my well-beloved among the sons of men: under his shadow had I delight, and sat down: and his fruit was sweet unto my mouth.

Title <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, a song of songs: so called because it is the chiefest of those 1005, which Solomon made, as is mentioned, 1 Kings 4:32.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithful soul inflamed with the desire of Christ, whom she loveth.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> The feeling of thy great benefits.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> The faithful confess that they cannot come to Christ, except they be drawn.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> The Church confesseth her spots and sin, but hath confidence in the favor of Christ.

<sup>2</sup> Kedar was Ishmael's son, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.

<sup>3</sup> Which within were all set with precious stones and Jewels.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> Consider not the Church by the outward appearance.

<sup>2</sup> The corruption of nature through sin and afflictions.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> The spouse feeling her fault fleeth to her husband only for succor.

<sup>2</sup> Whom thou hast called to the dignity of pastors, and they set forth their own dreams instead of thy doctrine.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to go to the pastors to learn.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> For thy spiritual beauty and excellency there was no worldly treasure to be compared unto thee.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> The Church rejoiceth that she is admitted to the company of Christ.

1:12 <sup>1</sup> He shall be most dear unto me.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beauty.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, the heart of the faithful, wherein Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> Thus Christ preferreth his Church above all other things.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> The spouse testifieth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faileth her, and therefore she desireth to be comforted, and felt it.

4 He brought me into the wine cellar, and love was his banner over me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under mine head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor waken my love, until she please.

8 <sup>1</sup>It is the voice of my well-beloved: behold, he cometh leaping by the mountains, and skipping by the hills.

9 My well-beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: lo, he <sup>1</sup>standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windows, showing himself through the <sup>2</sup>grates.

10 My well-beloved spake and said unto me, Arise, my love, my fair one, and come thy way.

11 For behold, <sup>1</sup>winter is past: the rain is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appear in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The fig tree hath brought forth her young figs: and the vines with their small grapes have cast a savor: arise my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 My dove, that art in the <sup>1</sup>holes of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, show me thy sight, let me hear thy voice: for thy voice is sweet, and thy sight comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the <sup>1</sup>little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines have small grapes.

16 My well-beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies,

17 Until the daybreak, and the shadows flee away: return, my well-beloved, and be like a <sup>1</sup>roe, or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether.

3 <sup>1</sup>The Church desireth to be joined inseparably to Christ her husband. <sup>6</sup>Her deliverance out of the wilderness.

1 In my bed by <sup>1</sup>night I sought him that my soul loved: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise therefore now, and go about in the city, by the streets, and by the open places, and will <sup>1</sup>seek him that my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The <sup>1</sup>watchmen that went about the city, found me: to whom I said, Have you seen him whom my soul loveth?

4 When I had passed a little from them, then I found him whom my soul loved: I took hold on him, and left him not, till I had brought him unto my mother's house, into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 <sup>1</sup>I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor waken my love until she please.

6 Who is she that cometh up out of the <sup>1</sup>wilderness like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrh and incense, and with all the <sup>2</sup>spices of the merchant?

7 Behold his <sup>1</sup>bed, which is Solomon's: threescore strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in war, everyone hath his sword upon his thigh for the fear <sup>1</sup>by night.

9 King Solomon made himself a <sup>1</sup>palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, and the pavement thereof of gold, the hangings thereof of purple, whose midst was paved with the love of the daughters of Jerusalem.

4 <sup>1</sup>The praises of the Church. <sup>7</sup>She is without blemish in his sight. <sup>9</sup>The love of Christ towards her.

1 Behold, thou art <sup>1</sup>fair, my love: behold, thou art fair: thine eyes are like the doves: among thy locks

2:7 <sup>1</sup> Christ chargeth them which have to do in the Church as it were by a solemn oath, that they trouble not the quietness thereof.

2:8 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken of Christ, who took upon his our nature to come to help his Church.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as his divinity was hid under the cloak of our flesh. <sup>2</sup> So that we cannot have full knowledge of him in this life.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, sin and error is driven back by the coming of Christ, which is here described by the spring time, when all things flourish.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> Thou that art ashamed of thy sins, come and show thyself unto me.

2:15 <sup>1</sup> Suppress the heretics while they are young, that is, when they begin to show their malice, and destroy the vine of the Lord.

2:17 <sup>1</sup> The Church desireth Christ to be most ready to help her in all dangers.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> The Church by night, that is, in troubles, seeketh to Christ, but is not incontinently heard.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> Showing that although we be not heard at the first, yet we must still continue in prayer, till we feel comfort.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> Which declareth that we must seek unto all of whom we hope to have any succor.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> Read Song 2:7.

3:6 <sup>1</sup> This is referred to the Church of Israel, which was led by the wilderness forty years.

<sup>2</sup> Hebrew, powder.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> By the bed is meant the Temple which Solomon made.

3:8 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the watch which kept the Temple.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, chariot.

3:11 <sup>1</sup> All ye that are of the number of the faithful.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> Because Christ delighteth in his Church, he commendeth all that is in her.

"thine hair is like the <sup>2</sup>flock of goats, which look down from the mountain of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep in good order, which go up from the washing: which every one brings out twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy talk is comely: thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy neck is as the tower of David built for defense: a thousand shields hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two <sup>4</sup>breasts are as two young roes that are twins, feeding among the lilies.

6 Until the day break, and the shadows fly away, I will go into the mountain of myrrh, and to the mountain of incense.

7 Thou art all fair my love, and there is no spot in thee.

8 <sup>1</sup>Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, even with me from Lebanon, and look from the top of Amana, from the top of Senir, and Hermon, from the dens of the lions, and from the mountains of the leopards.

9 My <sup>1</sup>sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine <sup>2</sup>eyes, and with a chain of thy neck.

10 My sister, my Spouse, how fair is thy love? how much better is thy love than wine? and the savor of thine ointments than all spices?

11 Thy <sup>1</sup>lips, my Spouse, drop as honeycombs: honey and milk are under thy tongue, and the savor of thy garment is as the savor of Lebanon.

12 My sister, my spouse is as a garden enclosed, as a spring shut up, and a fountain sealed up.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweet fruits, as camphire, spikenard, 14 Even spikenard, and saffron: calamus, and cinnamon, with all the trees of incense, myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 <sup>1</sup>O fountain of the gardens, O well of living waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

16 Arise, O <sup>1</sup>North, and come, O South, and blow on my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out: let my well-beloved come to his garden, and eat his pleasant fruit.

1 I am come into my <sup>1</sup>garden, my sister, my spouse, I gathered my myrrh with my spice: I ate mine honeycomb with mine honey, I drank my wine with my milk: eat, O friends, drink, and make you merry, O well-beloved.

2 <sup>1</sup>I sleep, but mine heart waketh, it is the voice of my well-beloved that knocketh, saying, Open unto me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for mine head is full of dew, and my locks with the drops of the <sup>2</sup>night.

3 I have put off my <sup>1</sup>coat, how shall I defile [put] it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

4 My well-beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and <sup>1</sup>mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose up to open to my well-beloved, and mine hands did drop down myrrh, and my <sup>1</sup>fingers pure myrrh upon the handles of the bar.

6 I opened to my well-beloved: but my well-beloved was gone and past: mine heart was gone when he did speak: I sought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The <sup>1</sup>watchmen that were about the city, found me: they smote me, and wounded me: the watchmen of the walls took away my veil from me.

8 I charge you, <sup>1</sup>O daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my well-beloved, that you tell him that I am sick of love.

9 <sup>1</sup>O the fairest among women, what is thy well-beloved more than other well-beloved? what is thy well-beloved more than another lover, that thou dost

<sup>2</sup> He hath respect to the multitude of the faithful, which are many in number.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> Wherein are knowledge and zeal two precious jewels.

4:8 <sup>1</sup> Christ promiseth his Church to call his faithful from all the corners of the world.

4:9 <sup>1</sup> Christ calleth his Church sister, in respect that he had taken the flesh of man.

<sup>2</sup> In that he made his Church beautiful and rich, he loved his gifts in her.

4:11 <sup>1</sup> Because of thy confession and thanksgiving.

4:15 <sup>1</sup> The Church confesseth that all her glory and beauty cometh of Christ, who is the true fountain of all grace.

4:16 <sup>1</sup> She desireth Christ to comfort her and to pour the graces of his Spirit upon her, which Spirit is meant by the North and South wind.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> The garden signifieth the kingdom of Christ, where he prepareth the banquet for his elect.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> The spouse saith that she is troubled with the cares of worldly things, which is meant by sleeping.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> The spouse confesseth her nakedness, and that of herself she hath nothing, or seeing that she is once made clean, she promiseth not to defile herself again.

5:4 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, my bowels were moved towards him.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> The spouse which should be anointed of Christ, shall not find him if she think to anoint him with her good works.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> These are the false teachers, which wound the conscience with their traditions.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> She asketh of them which are godly (forasmuch as the law and salvation should come out of Zion and Jerusalem) that they would direct her to Christ.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> Thus say they of Jerusalem.

so charge us?

10 My well-beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest of ten thousand.

11 His <sup>1</sup>head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are like doves upon the rivers of waters, which are washed with milk, and remain by the full vessels.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, and as sweet flowers, and his lips like lilies dropping down pure myrrh.

14 His hands as rings of gold set with the <sup>1</sup>chrysolite, his belly like white ivory covered with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweet things, and he is wholly delectable: this is my well-beloved, and this is my lover, O daughters of Jerusalem.

17 <sup>1</sup>O the fairest among women, whither is thy well-beloved gone? whither is thy well-beloved turned aside, that we may seek him with thee?

6 <sup>1</sup> The Church assureth herself of the love of Christ. <sup>3</sup> The praises of the Church. <sup>8</sup> She is but one and undefiled.

1 My well-beloved is gone down into his <sup>1</sup>garden to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

2 I am my well-beloved's, and my well-beloved is mine, who feedeth among the lilies.

3 Thou art beautiful, my love, as <sup>1</sup>Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

4 <sup>1</sup>Turn away thine eyes from me: for they overcome me: <sup>1</sup>thine hair is like a flock of goats, which look down from Gilead.

5 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep, which go up from the washing, which every one bring out twins, and none is barren among them.

6 Thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.

7 There are <sup>1</sup>threescore Queens, and fourscore concubines, and of the damsels without number.

8 But my dove is alone, and my undefiled, she is the only daughter of her mother, and she is dear to her that bare her: the daughters have seen her, and counted her blessed: even the Queens and the concubines, and they have praised her.

9 <sup>1</sup>Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, pure as the sun, terrible as an army with banners!

10 I went down to the <sup>1</sup>garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flourished.

11 <sup>1</sup>I knew nothing, my soul set me <sup>2</sup>as the chariots of my noble people.

12 Return, return, O <sup>1</sup>Shulamite, return: return that we may behold thee. What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the company of an army?

7 <sup>1</sup> The beauty of the Church in all her members. <sup>10</sup> She is assured of Christ's love towards her.

1 How beautiful are thy <sup>1</sup>goings with shoes, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels: the work of the hand of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is as a round cup that wanteth not liquor: thy belly is as an heap of wheat compassed about with lilies.

3 <sup>1</sup>Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is like a tower of ivory; thine eyes are like the fish pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bath Rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head upon thee is as scarlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the king is tied <sup>1</sup>in the <sup>2</sup>rafters.

6 How fair art thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my love, in pleasures!

7 This thy stature is like a palm tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I will go up into the palm tree, I will take hold of her boughs: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the savor of thy nose like apples,

9 And the roof of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my well-beloved, and causeth

5:11 <sup>1</sup> She describeth Christ to be of perfect beauty and comeliness.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, Tarshish.

5:17 <sup>1</sup> Hearing of the excellency of Christ, the faithful desire to know how to find him.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, is conversant here in earth among men.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> Which was a fair and strong city, 1 Kings 14:17.

6:4 <sup>1</sup> This declareth the exceeding love of Christ toward his Church.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the gifts are infinite which Christ giveth to his Church: or that his faithful are many in number

6:9 <sup>1</sup> He sheweth that the beginning of the Church was small, but that it grew up to a great multitude.

6:10 <sup>1</sup> He went down into the Synagogue to see what fruits came of the Law, and the Prophets.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> I found nothing but rebellion.

6:12 <sup>1</sup> O ye people of Jerusalem: for Jerusalem was called Salem which signifieth peace.

7:1 <sup>1</sup> He describeth the comely beauty of the Church in every part, which is to be understood spiritually.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> Read Song 4:5.

7:5 <sup>1</sup> He delighteth to come near thee, and to be in thy company.

<sup>2</sup> Or, galleries.

the lips of the ancient to speak.

10 <sup>1</sup>I am my well-beloved's, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come my well-beloved, let us go forth into the field: let us remain in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vines, let us see if the <sup>1</sup>vine flourish, whither it hath budded the small grape, or whither the pomegranates flourish: there will I give thee my love.

13 The mandrakes have given a smell, and in our gates are all sweet things, new and old: my well-beloved, I have kept them for thee.

8 <sup>2</sup>The Church will be taught by Christ. <sup>3</sup>She is upheld by him. <sup>6</sup>The vehement love wherewith Christ loveth her. <sup>11</sup>She is the vine that bringeth forth fruit to the spiritual Solomon, which is Jesus Christ.

1 Oh <sup>1</sup>that thou werest as my brother that sucked the breasts of my mother: I would find thee without, I would kiss thee, then they should not despise <sup>2</sup>thee.

2 I will lead thee and bring thee into my mother's house: there thou shalt teach me: and I will cause thee to drink spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3 <sup>1</sup>His left hand shall be under mine head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

4 <sup>1</sup>I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that you stir not up, nor waken my love until she please.

5 (Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness, leaning upon her well-beloved?) I raised thee up under an apple tree: there the mother conceived thee: there she conceived that bare thee.

6 <sup>1</sup>Set me as a seal on thine heart, and as a signet upon thine arm: for love is strong as death: jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are fiery coals, and a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man should give all the substance of his house for love, they would greatly contemn it.

8 <sup>1</sup>We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister when she shall be spoken for?

9 <sup>1</sup>If she be a wall, we will build upon her a silver palace: and if she be a door, we will keep her in with boards of cedar.

10 <sup>1</sup>I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

11 <sup>1</sup>Solomon had a vine in Baal Hamon: he gave the vineyard unto keepers: everyone bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of silver.

12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Solomon, appertaineth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundred to them that keep the fruit thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the <sup>1</sup>gardens, the companions hearken unto thy voice: cause me to hear it.

14 O my well-beloved, <sup>1</sup>flee away and be like unto the roe, or to the young hart upon the mountains of spices.

7:10 <sup>1</sup> This the spouse speaketh.

7:12 <sup>1</sup> If the people that are called to Christ, bring forth any fruit.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> The Church called of the Gentiles, speaketh thus to the Church of Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> Or, me.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Read Song 2:6.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> Read Song 3:5.

8:6 <sup>1</sup> The spouse desireth Christ to be joined in perpetual love with him.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> The Jewish Church speaketh this of the Church of the Gentiles.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> If she be sure and fast, she is meet for the husband to dwell in.

8:10 <sup>1</sup> The Church promiseth fidelity and constancy.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> This is the vineyard of the Lord hired out, Matt. 21:33.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> Christ dwelleth in his Church, whose voice the faithful hear.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> The Church desireth Christ that if he depart from them, yet that he would haste to help them in their troubles.

ISAIAH

1 <sup>2</sup> Isaiah reproveth the Jews of their ingratitude and stubbornness, that neither for benefits nor punishments would amend. 11 He showed why their sacrifices are rejected, and wherein God's true service standeth. 24 He prophesieth of the destruction of Jerusalem, 25 and of the restitution thereof.

1 A <sup>1</sup>vision of Isaiah, the son of Amoz, which he saw <sup>2</sup>concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of <sup>3</sup>Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O <sup>1</sup>heavens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath said, I have nourished and brought up <sup>2</sup>children, but they have rebelled against me.

3 The <sup>1</sup>ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel hath not known: my people hath not understood.

4 Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity: a <sup>1</sup>seed of the wicked, corrupt children: they have forsaken the Lord: they have provoked the <sup>2</sup>Holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore should ye be <sup>1</sup>smitten anymore? for ye fall away more and more: the whole <sup>2</sup>head is sick, and the whole heart is heavy.

6 From the <sup>1</sup>sole of the foot unto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they have not been wrapped, <sup>2</sup>nor bound up nor mollified with oil.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fire: strangers devour your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the overthrow of <sup>1</sup>strangers.

8 And the daughter of <sup>1</sup>Zion shall remain like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged city.

9 Except the Lord of hosts <sup>1</sup>had reserved unto us even a small remnant, we should have been <sup>2</sup>as Sodom, and should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O <sup>1</sup>princes of Sodom: hearken unto the Law of our God, O people of Gomorrah.

11 What have I to do with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and of the fat of fed beasts: and I <sup>1</sup>desire not the blood of bullocks, nor of lambs, nor of goats.

12 When ye come to appear before me, who required this of your hands to tread in my courts?

13 Bring no more oblations, <sup>1</sup>in vain: incense is an abomination unto me: I cannot suffer your new moons, nor Sabbath, nor solemn days (it is iniquity) nor solemn assemblies.

14 My soul hateth your <sup>1</sup>new moons and your appointed feasts: they are a burden unto me: I am weary to bear them.

15 And when you shall stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, I will not hear: for your hands are full <sup>1</sup>of blood.

1:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, a revelation or prophecy, which was one of the two means whereby God declared himself to his servants in old time, as Num. 12:6, and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1 Sam. 9:9.

<sup>2</sup> Isaiah was chiefly sent to Judah and Jerusalem, but not only: for in this book are prophecies concerning other nations also.

<sup>3</sup> Called also Azariah, 2 Kings 15:1, of these Kings, read 2 Kings 14-21, and 2 Chron. 25-33.

1:2 <sup>1</sup> Because men were obstinate and insensible, he calleth to the dumb creatures, which were more prompt to obey God's word, as Deut. 32:1.

<sup>2</sup> He declareth his great mercy toward the Jews forasmuch as he chose them above all other nations to be his people and children, as Deut. 10:15.

1:3 <sup>1</sup> The most dull and brute beasts do more acknowledge their duty toward their masters, than my people do toward me, of whom they have received benefits without comparison.

1:4 <sup>1</sup> They were not only wicked as were their fathers, but utterly corrupt, and by their evil example infected others.

1:5 <sup>1</sup> What availeth it to seek to amend you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebel?

<sup>2</sup> By naming the chief parts of the body, he signifieth that there was no part of the whole body of the Jews free from his rods.

1:6 <sup>1</sup> Every part of the body as well the least as the chiefest, was plagued.

<sup>2</sup> Their plagues were so grievous, that they were incurable, and yet they would not repent.

1:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of them that dwell far off, which because they look for no advantage of that which remaineth destroy all before them.

1:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, Jerusalem.

1:9 <sup>1</sup> Because that he will ever have a Church to call upon his Name.

1:10 <sup>1</sup> Ye that for your vices deserved all to be destroyed, as they of Sodom, save that God of his mercy reserved a little number, Lam. 3:22.

1:11 <sup>1</sup> Although God commanded these sacrifices for a time, as aids and exercises of their faith: yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God detesteth them, Ps. 50:13; Jer. 6:20; Amos 5:22; Mic. 6:7.

1:13 <sup>1</sup> Without faith and repentance.

1:14 <sup>1</sup> Your sacrifices offered in the new moons and feasts: he condemneth hereby hypocrites, which think to please God with ceremonies, and they themselves are void of faith and mercy.

1:15 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that where men be given to avarice, deceit, cruelty and extortion, which is meant by blood, there God will show his anger, and not accept them, though they seem never so holy, as Isa. 59:3.

16 <sup>1</sup>Wash you, make you clean, take away the evil of your works from before mine eyes: cease to do evil.

17 Learn to <sup>1</sup>do well: seek judgment, relieve the oppressed: judge the fatherless, and defend the widow.

18 Come now, <sup>1</sup>and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins were as crimson, they shall be made <sup>2</sup>white as snow: though they were red like scarlet, they shall be as wool, 19 If ye <sup>1</sup>consent and obey, ye shall eat the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 How is the <sup>1</sup>faithful city become an harlot? it was full of judgment, and justice lodged therein, but now <sup>2</sup>they are murderers.

22 Thy <sup>1</sup>silver is become dross: thy wine is mixed with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of <sup>1</sup>thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the widow's cause come before them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hosts, the <sup>1</sup>Mighty one of Israel, Ah, I will <sup>2</sup>ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turn mine hand upon thee, and burn out thy dross, till it <sup>1</sup>be pure, and take away all thy tin.

26 <sup>1</sup>And I will restore thy Judges as at the first, and thy counselors as at the beginning: afterward shalt thou be called a city of righteousness, and a faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed in judgment, and they that return in her, in <sup>1</sup>justice.

28 And the <sup>1</sup>destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be confounded for the <sup>1</sup>oaks, which ye have desired, and ye shall be ashamed of the gardens that ye have chosen,

30 For ye shall be as an oak, whose leaf fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as <sup>1</sup>tow, and the maker thereof as a spark: and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

2 <sup>2</sup> The Church shall be restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the rebellious and obstinate.

1 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw upon Judah and Jerusalem,

2 <sup>a</sup>It <sup>1</sup>shall be in the last days, that the mountain of the House of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and <sup>2</sup>shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall <sup>3</sup>flow unto it.

3 And many people shall go, and say, Come, and let us go up to <sup>1</sup>the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths, <sup>b</sup>for the <sup>2</sup>Law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from <sup>3</sup>Jerusalem.

4 And <sup>1</sup>he shall judge among the nations, and

1:16 <sup>1</sup> By this outward washing, he meaneth the spiritual: exhorting the Jews to repent and amend their lives.

1:17 <sup>1</sup> This kind of reasoning by the second Table, the Scriptures use in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend most holiness and religion in word, but when the charity and love toward their brethren should appear, they declare that they have neither faith nor religion.

1:18 <sup>1</sup> To know if I do accuse you without cause.

<sup>2</sup> Lest sinners should pretend any rigor on God's part, he only will eth them to be pure in heart, and he will forgive all their sins, were they never so many or great.

1:19 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that whatsoever adversity man endureth, it ought to be attributed to his own incredulity and disobedience.

1:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, Jerusalem, which had promised fidelity unto me, as a wife to her husband.

1:22 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou have an outward show.

1:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, they maintain the wicked and the extortioners: and not only do not punish them, but are themselves such.

1:24 <sup>1</sup> When God will show himself merciful to his Church, he calleth himself, The Holy one of Israel, but when he hath to do with his enemies, he is called Mighty, as against whom no power is able to resist.

<sup>2</sup> I will take vengeance of mine adversaries the Jews, and so satisfy my desire by punishing them. Which thing yet he doeth with a grief, because of his Covenant.

1:25 <sup>1</sup> Lest the faithful among them should be overcome with his threatening, he addeth this consolation.

1:26 <sup>1</sup> It is only the work of God to purify the heart of man, which thing he doeth because of his promise, made concerning the salvation of his Church.

1:27 <sup>1</sup> By justice is meant God's faithful promise, which is the cause of the deliverance of his Church.

1:28 <sup>1</sup> The wicked shall not be partakers of God's promise, Ps. 92:9.

1:29 <sup>1</sup> That is, the trees and pleasant places, where ye commit idolatry, which was forbidden, Deut. 16:22.

1:31 <sup>1</sup> The false god, wherein ye put your confidence, shall be consumed as easily as a piece of tow.

2:2 <sup>1</sup> The decree and ordinance of God, touching the restoration of the Church, which is chiefly meant of the time of Christ.

<sup>3</sup> When the kingdom of Christ shall be enlarged by the preaching of the doctrine. Here also is declared the zeal of the children of God, when they are called.

2:3 <sup>1</sup> Alluding to mount Zion, where the visible Church then was.

<sup>3</sup> This was accomplished, when the Gospel was first preached in Jerusalem, and from thence went through all the world.

2:4 <sup>1</sup> The Lord, which is Christ, shall have all power given him.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us <sup>1</sup>walk in the Law of the Lord.

6 Surely thou <sup>1</sup>hast forsaken thy people, the house of Jacob, because they are <sup>2</sup>full of the East manners, and are sorcerers as the Philistines, <sup>3</sup>and abound with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of <sup>1</sup>silver and gold, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their chariots were infinite.

8 Their land was also full of idols; they worshipped the work of their own hands, which their own fingers have made.

9 And a man bowed himself, and a man <sup>1</sup>humbled himself: therefore <sup>2</sup>spare them not.

10 Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his Majesty.

11 The high look of man shall be humbled, and the loftiness of men shall be abased, and the Lord only shall be exalted in <sup>1</sup>that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hosts is upon all the proud and haughty, and upon all that is exalted: and it shall be made low.

13 Even upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and exalted, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high <sup>1</sup>mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every strong wall,

16 And upon <sup>1</sup>all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the haughtiness of men shall be brought <sup>c</sup> Hos. 10:8

Luke 23:30
Rev. 6:16
Rev. 9:6

low, and the loftiness of men shall be abased, and the Lord shall only be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols will he utterly destroy.

19 Then shall they go <sup>4</sup>into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he shall arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his silver idols and his golden idols (which they had made themselves to worship them) <sup>1</sup>to the moles, and to the backs,

21 To go into the holes of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he shall rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you from the man, whose <sup>1</sup>breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

3 <sup>1</sup> For the sin of the people, God will take away the wise men, and give them foolish princes. <sup>14</sup> The covetousness of the governors. <sup>26</sup> The pride of the women.

1 For lo, the Lord God of hosts will take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay <sup>1</sup>and the strength: even all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of war, <sup>1</sup>the judge, and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honorable, and the counselor, and the cunning artificer, and <sup>1</sup>eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint <sup>1</sup>children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 The people shall be <sup>1</sup>oppressed one of another, and every one by his neighbor: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honorable.

2:4 <sup>2</sup> That they may acknowledge their sins, and turn to him.

<sup>3</sup> He showeth the fruit of the peace, which the Gospel should bring: to wit, that men should do good one to another, whereas before they were enemies.

<sup>4</sup> He speaketh not against the use of weapons and lawful war, but showeth how the hearts of the godly shall be affected one toward another: Which peace and love doth begin and grow in this life, but shall be perfected when we are joined with our Head Christ Jesus.

2:5 <sup>1</sup> Seeing the Gentiles will be so ready, make you haste, and show them the way to worship God.

2:6 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet seeing the small hope that the Jews would convert, complaineth to God, as though he had utterly forsaken them for their sins.

2:7 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatry: next their covetousness, and thirdly their vain trust in worldly means.

2:9 <sup>1</sup> He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are never satisfied in their superstitions.

<sup>2</sup> Thus the Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeal of God's glory, and that he might fear them with God's judgment.

2:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, as soon as God shall begin to execute his judgments.

2:14 <sup>1</sup> By high trees and mountains are meant them that are proud and lofty, and think themselves most strong in this world.

2:16 <sup>1</sup> He condemneth their vain confidence, which they had in strongholds, and in their rich merchandise, which brought in vain pleasures, wherewith men's minds became effeminate.

2:20 <sup>1</sup> They shall cast them into most vile and filthy places, when they perceive that they are not able to help them.

2:22 <sup>1</sup> Cast off your vain confidence of man, whose life is so frail, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, and consider that you have to do with God.

3:1 <sup>1</sup> Because they trusted in their abundance and prosperity, he showeth that they should be taken from them.

3:2 <sup>1</sup> The temporal governor and the minister.

3:3 <sup>1</sup> By these he meaneth that God would take away everything that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselves.

3:4 <sup>1</sup> Not only in age: but in wit, manners, knowledge and strength.

3:5 <sup>1</sup> For lack of good regiment and order.

6 When everyone shall <sup>1</sup>take hold of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be under thine hand:

7 In that day he shall <sup>1</sup>swear, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtless Jerusalem is fallen, and Judah is fallen down, because their tongue and works are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The <sup>1</sup>trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sins, as Sodom, they hide them not. Woe be unto their souls: for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.

10 <sup>1</sup>Say ye, Surely it shall be well with the just: for they shall eat the fruit of their works.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it shall be evil with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

12 <sup>1</sup>Children are extortioners of my people, and women have rule over them: O my people, they that lead thee, cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth up to plead, yea, he standeth to judge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into judgment with the <sup>1</sup>Ancients of his people and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard: the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What have ye to do that ye beat my people to pieces, <sup>1</sup>and grind the faces of the poor, saith the Lord, even the Lord of hosts?

16 The Lord also saith, <sup>1</sup>Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with <sup>2</sup>stretched out necks, and with <sup>3</sup>wandering eyes, walking and <sup>4</sup>mincing as they go, and making a <sup>5</sup>tinkling with their feet, 17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion bald, and the Lord shall discover their secret parts.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the cauls, and the round tyres,

19 The sweet balls, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the slops, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparel and the veils, and the wimples, and the crising pins,

23 And the glasses and the fine linen, and the hoods and the <sup>1</sup>lawns.

24 And instead of sweet savor, there shall be stink, and instead of girdle, a rent, and instead of dressing of the hair, baldness, and instead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning instead of beauty.

25 Thy men shall fall by the <sup>1</sup>sword, and thy strength in the battle.

26 Then shall her gates mourn and lament, and she being desolate, shall sit upon the ground.

4 <sup>1</sup>The small remnant of men after the destruction of Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>The graces of God upon them that remain.

1 And in that day shall <sup>1</sup>seven women take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and we will wear our own garments: only <sup>2</sup>let us be called by thy name, and take away our <sup>3</sup>reproach.

2 In that day shall the <sup>1</sup>bud of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then he that shall be left in Zion, and he that shall remain in Jerusalem, shall be called holy,

3:6 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that this plague shall be so horrible, that contrary to the common manner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shall be found able or willing to be their governor.

3:7 <sup>1</sup> Fear shall rather cause him to forswear himself, than to take such a dangerous charge upon him.

3:9 <sup>1</sup> When God shall examine their deeds whereupon they now set an impudent face, he shall find the mark of their impiety in their forehead.

3:10 <sup>1</sup> Be ye that are godly, assured that God will defend you in the midst of these troubles.

3:12 <sup>1</sup> Because the wicked people were more addicted to their princes, than to the commandments of God, he showeth that he would give them such princes, by whom they should have no help, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fools and effeminate.

3:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the rulers and governors had destroyed his Church, and not preserved it, according to their duty.

3:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, ye show all cruelty against them.

3:16 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth the people because of the arrogancy and pride of their women, which gave themselves to all wantonness and dissolution.

<sup>2</sup> Which declared their pride.

<sup>5</sup> They delighted then in slippers that did creak, or had little plates sewed upon them, which tinkled as they went.

3:23 <sup>1</sup> In rehearsing all these things particularly, he showeth the lightness and vanity of such as cannot be content with comely apparel according to their degree.

3:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God will not only punish the women, but their husbands which have suffered this dissoluteness, and also the commonweal, which hath not remedied it.

4:1 <sup>1</sup> When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly shamefacedness, shall seek unto men, and offer themselves to any condition.

<sup>2</sup> Be thou our husband, and let us be called thy wives.

<sup>3</sup> For so they thought it to be without an head and husband.

4:2 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth the Church in this desolation, which shall spring up like a bud, signifying that God's graces should be as plentiful toward the faithful, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Isa. 45:8. Some by the bud of the Lord mean Christ.

and every one shall be <sup>1</sup>written among the living in Jerusalem,

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthiness of the daughters of Zion, and purge the <sup>1</sup>blood of Jerusalem out of the midst thereof by the spirit of <sup>2</sup>judgment, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create upon every place of mount Zion, and upon the assemblies thereof, <sup>1</sup>a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the <sup>2</sup>glory shall be a defense.

6 And a covering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heat, and a place of refuge and a covert for the storm <sup>1</sup>and for the rain.

1 Now will <sup>1</sup>I sing to my <sup>2</sup>beloved a song of my beloved to his vineyard, <sup>4</sup>My beloved had a <sup>3</sup>vineyard in a very fruitful hill.

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, <sup>1</sup>and he built a tower in the midst thereof, and made a winepress therein, then he looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth <sup>2</sup>wild grapes.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, <sup>1</sup>between me and my vineyard.

4 What could I have done anymore to my vineyard that I have not done unto it? why have I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wild grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I <sup>1</sup>will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up: I will break the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down:

<sup>4</sup> Jer. 2:21
Matt. 21:33

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor dug, but briars and thorns shall grow up: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 ¶ Surely the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant plant, and he looked for <sup>1</sup>judgment, but beheld oppression: for righteousness, but behold <sup>2</sup>a crying.

8 Woe unto them that join house to house, and lay field to field, till there be no <sup>1</sup>place, that ye may be placed by yourselves in the midst of the earth.

9 This is in mine <sup>1</sup>ears, saith the Lord of hosts. Surely many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines shall yield one <sup>1</sup>bath, and the seed of an <sup>2</sup>homer shall yield an <sup>3</sup>ephah.

11 ¶ Woe unto them, that <sup>1</sup>rise up early to follow drunkenness, and to them that continue until <sup>2</sup>night, till the wine do inflame them,

12 And the harp and viol, timbrel and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the <sup>1</sup>work of the Lord, neither consider the work of his hands.

13 Therefore my people <sup>1</sup>is gone into captivity, because they had <sup>2</sup>no knowledge, and the glory thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dried up with thirst.

14 Therefore <sup>1</sup>hell hath enlarged itself, and hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth among them, shall descend into it.

15 And man shall be brought down, and man

4:3 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the book of life, whereof read Exod. 32:32, meaning, God's secret counsel, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting.

4:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, the cruelty, extortion, avarice, and all wickedness.

<sup>2</sup> When things shall be redressed that were amiss.

4:5 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the pillar of the cloud, Exod. 13:21, meaning, that God's favor and protection should appear in every place.

<sup>2</sup> The faithful are called the glory of God, because his image and tokens of his grace shine in them.

4:6 <sup>1</sup> God promiseth to be the defense of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

5:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet by this song doth set before the people's eyes their ingratitude, and God's mercy.

<sup>3</sup> Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.

5:2 <sup>1</sup> He spared no diligence nor cost.

5:3 <sup>1</sup> He maketh them judges in their own cause, forasmuch as it was evident that they were the cause of their own ruin.

5:5 <sup>1</sup> I will take no more care for it meaning, that he would take from them his word and ministers, and all other comforts, and send them contrary plagues.

5:7 <sup>1</sup> Judgment and righteousness are true fruits of the fear of God, and therefore in the cruel oppression there is no religion.

<sup>2</sup> Of them that are oppressed.

5:8 <sup>1</sup> To wit, for the poor to dwell in.

5:9 <sup>1</sup> I have heard the complaint and cry of the poor.

5:10 <sup>1</sup> Which containeth about ten pottels: so that every acre should but yield one pottel.

<sup>3</sup> An Ephah containeth ten pottels and is in dry things as much as Bath is in liquors.

5:11 <sup>1</sup> That spare no pain nor diligence to follow their lusts.

<sup>2</sup> Which are never weary of their rioting and excessive pleasures, but use all means to provoke to the same.

5:12 <sup>1</sup> They regard not the provident care of God over them, nor for what end he hath created them.

5:13 <sup>1</sup> That is, shall certainly go: for so the Prophets use to speak, as though the thing which shall come to pass, were done already.

<sup>2</sup> Because they would not obey the word of God.

5:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the grave shall swallow up them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shall ever be satiate.

shall be humbled, even the eyes of the proud shall be humbled.

16 And the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and the holy God shall be sanctified in justice.

17 Then shall <sup>1</sup>the lambs feed after their manner, and the strangers shall eat the desolate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Woe unto them that draw iniquity with <sup>1</sup>cords of vanity, and sin, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, <sup>1</sup>Let him make speed: let him hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come, that we may know it.

20 Woe unto them that speak good of evil, <sup>1</sup>and evil of good, which put darkness for light, and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for sour.

21 Woe unto them that are <sup>1</sup>wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight.

22 Woe unto them that are <sup>1</sup>mighty to drink wine, and unto them that are strong to pour in strong drink:

23 Which justify the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the chaff is consumed of the flame: so their <sup>1</sup>root shall be a rottenness, and their bud shall rise up like dust, because they have cast off the Law of the Lord of hosts, and contemned the word of the Holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his <sup>1</sup>hand upon them, and hath smitten them that the mountains did tremble: and their carcasses were torn in the midst of the streets, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And he will lift up a sign <sup>1</sup>unto the nations afar, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speed.

27 None shall <sup>1</sup>faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleep, neither shall the girdle of his loins be loosed, nor <sup>2</sup>the latchet of his shoes be broken.

28 Whose arrows shall be sharp, and all his bows bent: his horse hoofs shall be thought like flint, and his wheels like whirlwind.

29 His roaring shall be like a lion, and he shall roar like lion's whelps: they shall <sup>1</sup>roar, and lay hold of the prey: they shall take it away, and none shall deliver it.

30 And in that day they shall roar upon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if <sup>1</sup>they look unto the earth, behold darkness and sorrow, and the light shall be darkened in their <sup>2</sup>sky.

6 <sup>1</sup> Isaiah showeth his vocation by the vision of the divine majesty. 9 He showeth the obstinacy of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserved.

1 In the year of the death of king Uzziah, <sup>1</sup>I saw also the Lord sitting upon an <sup>2</sup>high throne, and lifted up, and the lower <sup>3</sup>parts thereof filled the Temple.

2 The <sup>1</sup>Seraphims stood upon it, every one had six wings: with twain he covered his <sup>2</sup>face, and with twain he covered his <sup>3</sup>feet, and with twain he did <sup>4</sup>fly.

3 And one cried to another, and said, <sup>1</sup>Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole <sup>2</sup>world is full of his glory.

5:17 <sup>1</sup> God comforteth the poor lambs of his Church, which had been strangers in other countries, promising that they should dwell in these places again, whereof they had been deprived by the fat and cruel tyrants.

5:18 <sup>1</sup> Which use all allurements, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sin.

5:19 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what are the words of the wicked, when they are menaced with God's judgments, 2 Pet. 3:4.

5:20 <sup>1</sup> Which are not ashamed of sin, nor care for honesty, but are grown to a desperate impiety.

5:21 <sup>1</sup> Which are contemners of all doctrine and admonition.

5:22 <sup>1</sup> Which are never weary, but show their strength, and brag in gluttony and drunkenness.

5:24 <sup>1</sup> Both they and their posterity, so that nothing shall be left.

5:25 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God had so sore punished this people, that the dumb creatures, if they had been so plagued, would have been more sensible, and therefore his plagues must continue, till they begin to feel them.

5:26 <sup>1</sup> He will make the Babylonians to come against them at his beck, and to fight under his standard.

5:27 <sup>1</sup> They shall be prompt and lusty to execute God's vengeance.

<sup>2</sup> The enemy shall have none impediment.

5:29 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is declared the cruelty of the enemy.

6:1 <sup>1</sup> God showeth not himself to man in his majesty, but according as man's capacity is able to comprehend him, that is, by visible signs, as John Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the form of a dove.

6:2 <sup>1</sup> They were Angels, so called, because they were of a fiery color, to signify that they burnt in the love of God, or were light as fire to execute his will.

<sup>2</sup> Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightness of God's glory.

<sup>3</sup> Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them.

6:3 <sup>1</sup> This oft repetition signifieth, that the Holy Angels cannot satisfy themselves in praising God, to teach us that in all our lives we should give ourselves to the continual praise of God.

<sup>2</sup> His glory doth not only appear in the heavens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound, to praise him.

4 And the lintels of the door cheeks <sup>1</sup>moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, <sup>1</sup>Woe is me: for I am undone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, and Lord of hosts.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims unto me with an hot coal in his hand, which he had taken from the <sup>1</sup>altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity shall be taken away, and thy <sup>1</sup>sin shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send? and who shall go for us? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he said, Go, and say unto this people, <sup>1</sup>Ye shall hear indeed, but ye shall not understand: ye shall plainly see, and not perceive.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and he heal them.

11 Then said I, Lord, <sup>1</sup>how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate, 12 And the Lord have removed men far away, and there be a great desolation in the midst of the land.

13 But yet in it shall be <sup>1</sup>a tenth, and shall return, and shall be eaten up as an elm <sup>2</sup>or an oak, which have a substance in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

1 And in the days of <sup>a</sup>Ahaz, the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah king of Judah, Rezin the king of <sup>1</sup>Aram <sup>2</sup>came up, and Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel, to Jerusalem to fight against it, but he could not overcome it.

2 And it was told the house of <sup>1</sup>David, saying, Aram is joined with <sup>2</sup>Ephraim: therefore his heart was <sup>3</sup>moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved by the wind.

3 ¶ Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz (thou and <sup>1</sup>Shear-Jashub thy son) at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the path of the fuller's field,

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be still: fear not, neither be fainthearted for the two tails of these smoking <sup>1</sup>firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliah's son,

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsel against thee, and Ephraim and Remaliah's son, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and let us waken them up, and make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst thereof, even the son of <sup>1</sup>Tabel.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within five and <sup>1</sup>threescore years, Ephraim shall be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye believe not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask <sup>1</sup>a sign for thee of the Lord thy God: ask it

6:4 <sup>1</sup> Which things were to confirm the Prophet, that it was not the voice of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come upon the Jews.

6:5 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this for two causes: the one because he that was a mortal creature, and therefore had more need to glorify God than the Angels, did it not: and the other because the more near that man approacheth to God, the more doth he know his own sin and corruption.

6:6 <sup>1</sup> Of the burnt offerings, where the fire never went out.

6:7 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that man cannot render due obedience to God, till he have purged us.

6:9 <sup>1</sup> Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but he will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learn thereby to obey his will, and be saved: hereby he exhorteth the ministers to do their duty, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their own malice their heart is hardened, Matt. 13:14; Acts 28:26; Rom. 11:8.

6:11 <sup>1</sup> As he was moved with the zeal of God's glory, so was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people.

6:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was revealed to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophecy, that ten Kings should come before their captivity, as were from Uzziah to Zedekiah.

<sup>2</sup> For the fewness they shall seem to be eaten up: yet they shall after flourish as a tree, which in winter loseth leaves, and seemeth to be dead, yet in Summer is fresh and green.

7:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the King's house.

7:3 <sup>1</sup> That is to say, the rest shall return, which name Isaiah gave his son, to signify that the rest of the people should return out of their captivity.

7:4 <sup>1</sup> Which have but a little smoke and shall quickly be quenched.

7:6 <sup>1</sup> Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth, enemy to the house of David.

7:8 <sup>1</sup> Counting from the five and twentieth year of the reign of Uzziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, and now Isaiah confirmeth that the Israelites should be led into perpetual captivity, which thing came to pass within 20 years after that Isaiah did this message.

7:11 <sup>1</sup> For the confirmation of this thing that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preserved.

either in the depth beneath, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 Then he said, Hear you now, O house of David, is it a small thing for you to grieve men, that ye will also grieve my God?

14 Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and she shall call his name Immanuel.

15 Butter and honey shall he eat, till he have knowledge to refuse the evil, and to choose the good.

16 For afore the child shall have knowledge to eschew the evil, and to choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest, shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy Father's house (the days that are not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah) even the King of Assyria.

18 And in that day shall the Lord hiss for the fly that is at the uttermost parts of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Assyria,

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorny places, and upon all bushy places.

20 In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, even by them beyond the River, by the King of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shall a man nourish a young cow, and two sheep.

22 And for the abundance of milk, that they shall give, he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall everyone eat, which is left within the land.

23 And at the same day every place, wherein shall be a thousand vines, shall be at a thousand pieces of silver: so it shall be for the briers and for the thorns.

24 With arrows and with bow shall one come thither: because all the land shall be briers and thorns.

25 But on all the mountains, which shall be dug with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but they shall be for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheep.

1 Moreover the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write it with a man's pen, Make speed to the spoil: haste to the prey.

2 Then I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

3 After, I came unto the Prophetess, which conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.

4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoil of Samaria, before the King of Assyria.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet again unto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that run softly, and rejoice with Rezin, and the son of Remaliah,

7:12 <sup>1</sup> Not to believe God's word without a sign, is to tempt God, but to refuse a sign when God offereth it for the aid and help of our infirmity, is to rebel against him.

7:13 <sup>1</sup> You think you have to do with men, when ye contemn God's messengers: but it is God against whom you bend yourselves.

7:14 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as thou art unworthy, the Lord for his own promise sake will give a sign, which shall be that Christ the Savior of his Church, and the effect of all signs and miracles shall be revealed.

<sup>2</sup> Or, God with us, which name can agree to none, but to him that is both God and man.

7:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Christ is not only God, but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men until the age of discretion.

7:16 <sup>1</sup> Not meaning Christ, but any child: for before a child can come to the years of discretion, the kings of Samaria and Syria shall be destroyed.

7:17 <sup>1</sup> Since the time that the twelve Tribes rebelled under Rehoboam.

7:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Egyptians: for by reason the country is hot and moist, it is full of flies, as Assyria is full of bees.

7:19 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that no place shall be free from them.

7:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, that which is from the belly downward: meaning, that he would destroy both great and small.

7:21 <sup>1</sup> He that before had a great number of cattle, shall be content with one cow and two sheep.

7:22 <sup>1</sup> The number of men shall be so small, that a few beasts shall be able to nourish all abundantly.

7:24 <sup>1</sup> As they that go to seek wild beasts among the bushes.

7:25 <sup>1</sup> The mountains contrary to their wont, shall be tilled by such as shall flee to them for succor.

8:1 <sup>1</sup> That thou mayest write in great letters, to the intent it may be more easily read.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, after the common fashion, because all men might read it.

8:2 <sup>1</sup> Because the thing was of great importance, he took these two witnesses, which were of credit with the people, when he set this up upon the door of the Temple, albeit Uriah was a flattering hypocrite, 2 Kings 16:11.

8:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to his wife, and this was done in a vision.

<sup>2</sup> Or, make speed to the spoil: haste to the prey.

8:4 <sup>1</sup> Before any child be able to speak.

8:6 <sup>1</sup> Which was a fountain at the foot of mount Zion, out of the which ran a small river through the city: meaning, that they of Judah, distrusting their own power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they saw in Syria and Israel.

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of <sup>1</sup>the River mighty and great, even the King of Assyria with all his glory, and he shall come up upon all their rivers, and go over all their banks,

8 And shall break into Judah, and shall overflow, and pass through, and shall come up to the <sup>1</sup>neck, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O <sup>2</sup>Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heaps, O ye <sup>1</sup>people, and ye shall be broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and you shall be broken in pieces: gird yourselves, and you shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, yet, it shall be brought to naught: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with us.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me, in taking <sup>1</sup>of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A <sup>1</sup>confederacy, to all them to whom this people saith a confederacy, neither fear ye <sup>2</sup>their fear, nor be afraid of them.

13 <sup>1</sup>Sanctify the Lord of hosts, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shall be as a <sup>1</sup>Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rock to fall upon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall, and shall be broken, and shall be snared, and shall be taken,

16 <sup>1</sup>Bind up the testimony: seal up the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will wait upon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the <sup>1</sup>children whom the Lord hath given me, are as signs and as wonders in Israel, <sup>2</sup>by the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in Mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Inquire at them that have a spirit of divination, and at the soothsayers which whisper and murmur, <sup>1</sup>Should not a people inquire at their God? from the <sup>2</sup>living to the dead?

20 To the <sup>1</sup>Law, and to the testimony, if they speak not according to this word: it is because there is no <sup>2</sup>light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall go to and fro in <sup>1</sup>it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall even fret himself, <sup>2</sup>and curse his king and his gods, and shall look upward.

22 And when he shall look to the earth, behold trouble, and <sup>1</sup>darkness, vexation, and anguish, and he is driven to darkness.

9 <sup>1</sup>The vocation of the Gentiles. <sup>6</sup>A prophecy of Christ. <sup>14</sup>The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

1 Yet <sup>1</sup>the darkness shall not be according to the affliction, <sup>2</sup>that it had when at the first he touched lightly the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, nor afterward when he was more grievous by the way of the sea beyond Jordan in Galilee of <sup>3</sup>the Gentiles.

2 The people that <sup>1</sup>walked in darkness, have seen a great <sup>2</sup>light: they that dwelled in the land

8:7 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Assyrians which dwell beyond Euphrates.

8:8 <sup>1</sup> It shall be ready to drown them.

<sup>2</sup> He speaketh this to Messiah, or Christ, in whom the faithful were comforted, and who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed utterly.

8:9 <sup>1</sup> To wit, ye that are enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, etc.

8:11 <sup>1</sup> To encourage me that I should not shrink for the infidelity of this people, and so neglect mine office.

8:12 <sup>1</sup> Consent not ye that are godly, to the league and friendship that this people seek with strangers and idolaters.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that they should not fear the thing that they feared, which have no hope in God.

8:13 <sup>1</sup> In putting your trust only in him, in calling upon him in adversity, patiently looking for his help, and fearing to do anything contrary to his will.

8:14 <sup>1</sup> He will defend you which are his elect, and reject all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Jews should stumble and fall, Luke 2:34; Rom. 9:33; 1 Pet. 2:7, 8.

8:16 <sup>1</sup> Though all forsake me, yet ye that are mine, keep my word sure sealed in your hearts.

8:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, them that were willing to hear and obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to live.

<sup>2</sup> This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come unto them, but by the will of the Lord.

8:19 <sup>1</sup> Answer the wicked thus, Should not God's people seek succor only at him?

<sup>2</sup> This is, will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seek help at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan?

8:20 <sup>1</sup> Seek remedy in the word of God, where his will is declared.

<sup>2</sup> They have no knowledge, but are blind leaders of the blind.

8:21 <sup>1</sup> That is, in Judah, where they should have had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God.

8:22 <sup>1</sup> They shall think that heaven and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

9:1 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth the Church again after these great threatenings, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah.

<sup>2</sup> Wherewith Israel was punished, first by Tiglath-pileasar, which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterward by Shalmaneser, who carried the Israelites away captives.

<sup>3</sup> Whereas the Jews and Gentiles dwelt together by reason of those twenty cities, which Solomon gave to Hiram.

9:2 <sup>1</sup> Which were captivity in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing which should come to pass threescore years after, as though it were now done.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the comfort of their deliverance.

of the shadow of death, upon them hath the <sup>3</sup>light shined.

3 Thou hast <sup>1</sup>multiplied the nation, and not increased their joy: they have rejoiced before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide a spoil.

4 For the <sup>1</sup>yoke of their burden, and the staff of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressor hast thou broken, as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely every battle of the warrior is with noise, and with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be <sup>1</sup>with burning, and devouring of fire.

6 For unto us a child is born, and unto us a Son is given: and the government is upon his shoulder, and he shall call his name, Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting <sup>1</sup>Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his government and peace shall have none end: he shall sit upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to stablish it with judgment, and with justice, from henceforth, even forever: <sup>1</sup>the zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Jacob, and it lighted upon <sup>1</sup>Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of their heart,

10 The <sup>1</sup>bricks are fallen, but we will build it with hewn stones: the wild fig trees are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Nevertheless, the Lord will raise up the adversaries of <sup>1</sup>Rezin against him, and join his enemies together.

12 Aram before and the Philistines behind, and they shall devour Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the Lord of hosts.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to err: and they that are led by them are devoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord have no pleasure in their young men, neither will he have compassion of their fatherless and of their widows: for everyone is an hypocrite and wicked, and every mouth speaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickedness <sup>1</sup>burneth as a fire: it devoureth the briers and the thorns, and will kindle in the thick places of the forest: and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hosts shall the land be darkened, and the people shall be as the meat of the fire: no man shall <sup>1</sup>spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: everyone shall eat the <sup>1</sup>flesh of his own arm.

21 Manasseh Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shall be against Judah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

10 <sup>1</sup>Of wicked lawmakers. <sup>5</sup>God will punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroy them. <sup>21</sup>The remnant of Israel shall be saved.

1 Woe unto them that decree wicked decrees, and <sup>1</sup>write grievous things,

2 To keep back the poor from judgment, and to take away the judgment of the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may spoil the fatherless.

3 What will ye do now in the day of visitation, and of destruction, which shall come from <sup>1</sup>far? to <sup>3</sup> This captivity and deliverance were figures of our captivity by sin, and of our deliverance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospel, Matt. 4:15, 16.

9:3 <sup>1</sup> Their number was greater when they went into captivity, than when they returned, but their joy was greater at their return, Hag. 2:9.

9:4 <sup>1</sup> Thou gavest them perfect joy by delivering them, and by destroying the tyrants, that had kept them in cruel bondage, as thou didst deliver them by Gideon from the Midianites, Judg. 7:21.

9:5 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh of the deliverance of his Church, which he hath delivered miraculously from his enemies, but especially by the coming of Christ, of whom he prophesieth in the next verse.

9:6 <sup>1</sup> The author of eternity, and by whom the Church and every member thereof shall be preserved forever, and have immortal life.

9:7 <sup>1</sup> His singular love and care for his elect.

9:8 <sup>1</sup> This is another prophecy against them of Samaria, which were mockers and contemnors of God's promises and menaces.

9:10 <sup>1</sup> We were but weak, when the enemy overcame us, but we will make ourselves so strong, that we will neither care for our enemies, nor fear God's threatenings.

9:11 <sup>1</sup> Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slain by the Assyrians, after whose death Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistines.

9:18 <sup>1</sup> Wickedness as a bellows kindleth the fire of God's wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.

9:19 <sup>1</sup> Though there were no foreign enemy, yet they shall destroy one another.

9:20 <sup>1</sup> Their greediness shall be insatiable, so that one brother shall eat up another, as though he should eat his own flesh.

10:1 <sup>1</sup> Which write and pronounce a wicked sentence to oppress the poor: meaning, that the wicked magistrates, which were the chief cause of mischief, should be first punished.

10:3 <sup>1</sup> To wit, from Assyria.

whom will ye flee for help and where will ye leave your <sup>2</sup>glory?

4 <sup>1</sup>Without me everyone shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall down among the slain: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ O <sup>1</sup>Assyria, the rod of my wrath: and the staff in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will send <sup>1</sup>him to a dissembling nation, and I will give him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoil and to take the prey, and to tread them under feet like the mire in the street.

7 But he thinketh not so, neither doth his heart esteem it so: but he imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether Kings?

9 Is not Calno as <sup>1</sup>Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, seeing their idols were above Jerusalem, and above Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I have done to Samaria, and to the idols thereof, so do to Jerusalem, and to the idols thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished <sup>1</sup>all his work upon mount Zion and Jerusalem, I will visit the fruit of the proud heart <sup>2</sup>of the king of Assyria, and his glorious and proud looks,

13 Because he said, By the power of mine own hand have I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I have removed the borders of the people, and have spoiled their treasures, and have pulled down the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one that gathereth eggs that are left, so have I gathered all the earth: and there was none to move the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

15 Shall the <sup>1</sup>axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw exalt itself against him that moveth it? as if the rod should lift up itself against him that taketh it up, or the staff should exalt itself as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hosts send among his fat men leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be as a <sup>1</sup>fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shall burn, and devour <sup>2</sup>his thorns and his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful fields both soul <sup>1</sup>and flesh: and he shall be as the <sup>2</sup>fainting of a standard bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, stay no more upon him that smote them, but shall <sup>1</sup>stay upon the Lord, the Holy one of Israel in truth.

21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob unto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them return. The consumption <sup>1</sup>decreed shall overflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hosts shall make the consumption even <sup>1</sup>determined, in the midst of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Assyria: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee after the manner of <sup>1</sup>Egypt.

25 But yet a very little time, and the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall raise up a scourge for him, according to the plague of <sup>1</sup>Midian in the rock Oreb: and as his staff was upon the <sup>2</sup>Sea, so he

10:3 <sup>2</sup>Your riches and authority, that they may be safe, and that ye may receive them again.

10:4 <sup>1</sup>Because they have forsaken me, some shall go into captivity, and the rest shall be slain.

10:5 <sup>1</sup>God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

10:6 <sup>1</sup>That is, the Assyrians against the Jews, which are but hypocrites: and in the sixth and seventh verse is declared the difference of the work of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and act: for God's intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians' purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of God's justice, it is God's work, but in respect of their own malice, it is the work of the devil.

10:9 <sup>1</sup>Seeing that I have overcome as well one city as another, so that none could resist, shall Jerusalem be able to escape mine hands?

10:12 <sup>1</sup>When he hath sufficiently chastised his people (for he beginneth at his own house) then will he burn the rods.

10:15 <sup>1</sup>Here we see that no creature is able to do anything, but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his instruments to do his work, though the intentions be divers, as verse 6.

10:17 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, and a fire to burn his enemies.

10:18 <sup>1</sup>To wit, body and soul utterly.

10:20 <sup>1</sup>This is the end of God's plagues toward his, to bring them to him, and to forsake all trust in others.

10:22 <sup>1</sup>This small number which seemed to be consumed, and yet according to God's decree is saved, shall be sufficient to fill all the world with righteousness.

10:23 <sup>1</sup>God will destroy this land as he hath determined, and after save a small portion.

10:24 <sup>1</sup>As the Egyptians did punish thee.

10:26 <sup>1</sup>Read Isa. 9:4.

will lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of <sup>1</sup>the anointing.

28 He is come to <sup>1</sup>Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall he lay up his armor.

29 They have gone over the ford: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraid: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift up thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to hear, O poor Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim have gathered themselves together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Nob: he shall lift up his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hosts shall cut off the <sup>1</sup>bough with fear, and they of high stature shall be cut off, and the high shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thick places of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall have a mighty fall.

1 But there shall come a <sup>1</sup>rod forth of the stock of Jesse, and a grass shall grow out of his roots.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him: the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the Lord,

3 And shall make him prudent in the fear of the Lord: for he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove by the hearing of his ears.

4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and with equity shall he reprove for the meek of the earth: and he shall <sup>1</sup>smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And justice shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

6 The <sup>1</sup>wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie with the kid, and the calf, and the lion, and the fat beast together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed: their young ones shall lie together: and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock.

8 And the sucking child shall play upon the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand upon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountain of mine holiness: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as <sup>1</sup>the waters that cover the sea.

10 And in that day the root of Jesse, which shall stand up for a sign unto the <sup>1</sup>people, the nations shall seek unto it, and his <sup>2</sup>rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretch out his hand <sup>1</sup>again the second time, to possess the remnant of his people, (which shall be left) of Assyria, and of Egypt, and of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinar, and of Hamath, and of the isles of the sea.

12 And he shall set up a sign to the nations, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Judah from the four corners of the world.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy <sup>1</sup>Judah, neither shall Judah vex Ephraim:

14 But they shall flee upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall spoil them of the East together: Edom and Moab shall be the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall utterly destroy the <sup>1</sup>tongue of the Egyptian's sea, and with his mighty wind shall 10:27 <sup>1</sup> Because of the promise made to that kingdom, whereby Christ's kingdom was prefigured.

10:28 <sup>1</sup> He describeth by what way the Assyrians should come against Jerusalem, to confirm the faithful, when it should come to pass, that as their plague was come, so should they be delivered.

10:33 <sup>1</sup> Fear and destruction shall come upon Judah for the princes and the people shall be all led away captives.

11:1 <sup>1</sup> Because the captivity of Babylon was a figure of the spiritual captivity under sin, he showeth that our true deliverance must come by Christ: for as David came out of Jesse a man without dignity, so Christ should come of a poor carpenter's house as out of a dead stock, Isa. 53:2.

11:4 <sup>1</sup> All these properties can agree to none, but only unto Christ: for it is he that toucheth the hearts of the faithful, and mortifieth their concupiscences: and to the wicked he is the savor of death, and to them that shall perish: so that all the world shall be smitten with his rod, which is his word.

11:6 <sup>1</sup> Men because of their wicked affections are named by the names of beasts, wherein the like affections reign: but Christ by his Spirit shall reform them, and work in them such mutual charity, that they shall be like lambs, favoring and loving one another, and cast off all their cruel affections, Isa. 65:25.

11:11 <sup>1</sup> For God first delivered his people out of Egypt, and now promiseth to deliver them out of their enemies' hands as from the Parthians, Persians, Chaldeans, and them of Antiochia, among whom they were dispersed: and this is chiefly meant of Christ, who calleth his people being dispersed through all the world.

11:13 <sup>1</sup> Here he describeth the consent that shall be in his Church, and their victory against their enemies.

11:15 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, a corner of the sea, that entereth into the land, and hath the form of a tongue.

lift up his hand <sup>2</sup>over the river, and shall smite him in his seven streams, and cause men to walk therein with shoes.

12 A thanksgiving of the faithful for the mercies of God.

1 And thou <sup>1</sup>shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

2 Behold, God is my <sup>1</sup>salvation: I will trust, and will not fear: for the Lord God is <sup>4</sup>my strength and song: he is also become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye <sup>1</sup>draw waters out of the wells of salvation.

4 And ye shall say in that day, <sup>b</sup>Praise the Lord: call upon his Name: declare his works among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the world.

of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts numbereth the host of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of the heaven: even the Lord with the <sup>1</sup>weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howl <sup>1</sup>you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, and all men's hearts shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: anguish and sorrow shall take them, and they shall have pain, as a woman that travaileth: everyone shall be amazed at his neighbor, and their faces shall be like <sup>1</sup>flames of fire.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the <sup>1</sup>stars of heaven and the planets thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visit the wickedness upon the <sup>1</sup>world, and their iniquity upon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogance of the <sup>2</sup>proud to cease, and will cast down the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a <sup>1</sup>man more precious than fine gold, even a man above the wedge of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heaven, and the earth shall remove out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And <sup>1</sup>it shall be as a chased Doe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up; every man shall turn to his own people, and flee each one to his own land.

15 Everyone that is found, shall be stricken through: and whosoever joineth himself, shall fall by the sword.

12:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth how the Church shall praise God, when they are delivered from their captivity.

12:2 <sup>1</sup> Our salvation standeth only in God, who giveth us an assured confidence, constancy, and occasion, to praise him for the same.

13:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, the great calamity, which was prophesied to come on Babel, as a most grievous burden, which they were not able to bear. In these twelve chapters following, he speaketh of the plagues wherewith God would smite the strange nations (whom they knew) to declare that God chastised the Israelites as his children, and these others as his enemies: and also if that God spare not these that are ignorant, that they must not think strange, if he punish them which have knowledge of his Law, and keep it not.

13:2 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the Medes and Persians.

13:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, prepared and appointed to execute my judgments.

<sup>2</sup> Which willingly go about to the work whereunto I appoint them, but how the wicked do this, read Isa. 10:6.

13:5 <sup>1</sup> The army of the Medes and the Persians against Babylon.

13:6 <sup>1</sup> Ye Babylonians.

13:8 <sup>1</sup> The Babylonians' anger and grief shall be so much, that their faces shall burn as fire.

13:10 <sup>1</sup> They that are overcome shall think that all the powers of heaven and earth are against them, Ezek. 32:7; Joel 3:15; Matt. 24:29.

13:11 <sup>1</sup> He compareth Babylon to the whole world, because they so esteemed themselves by reason of their great empire.

<sup>2</sup> He noteth the principal vice, whereunto they are most given, as are all that abound in wealth.

13:12 <sup>1</sup> He noteth the great slaughter that shall be, seeing the enemy shall neither for gold, or silver spare a man's life, as verse 17.

13:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the power of Babylon with their hired soldiers.

13:16 <sup>1</sup> This was not accomplished when Cyrus took Babylon, but after the death of Alexander the great.

17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, nor be desirous of gold.

18 With bows also shall they destroy the children, and shall have no compassion upon the fruit of the womb, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glory of kingdoms, the beauty and pride of the Chaldeans, shall be as the destruction of God <sup>b</sup>in Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall not be inhabited forever, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the <sup>1</sup>Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall their shepherds make their folds there.

21 But <sup>1</sup>Zijm shall lodge there, and their houses shall be full of Ohim: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Satyrs shall dance there.

22 And Iim shall cry in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is ready to come, and the days thereof shall not be prolonged.

1 For <sup>1</sup>the Lord will have compassion of Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and cause them to rest in their own land: and the stranger <sup>2</sup>shall join himself unto them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

2 And the people shall receive them and bring them to their own place, and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the Lord, for <sup>1</sup>servants and handmaids: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captives they were, and have rule over their oppressors.

3 ¶ And in that day when the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou didst serve,

4 Then shalt thou take up this proverb against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased? and the gold thirsty Babel rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rod of the wicked,

<sup>b</sup> Gen. 19:24
Jer. 50:40

and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, he did <sup>1</sup>not let.

7 The whole world is at <sup>1</sup>rest and is quiet: they sing for joy.

8 Also the fir trees rejoiced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no hewer came up against us.

9 Hell beneath is moved for thee to <sup>1</sup>meet thee at thy coming, raising up the dead for thee, even all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shall cry and say unto thee, Art thou become weak also as we? art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the sound of the viols: the worm <sup>1</sup>is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O <sup>1</sup>Lucifer, son of the morning? and cut down to the ground, which didst cast lots upon the nations?

13 Yet thou saidest in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, and exalt my throne above beside the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation in the sides of the <sup>1</sup>North.

14 I will ascend above the height of the clouds, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt be brought down to the grave, to the side of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall <sup>1</sup>look upon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdoms?

17 He made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not <sup>1</sup>the house of his prisoners.

18 All the kings of the nations, even they all sleep in glory, everyone in his own house.

19 But thou art <sup>1</sup>cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch: like the raiment of those that are slain, and thrust through with a sword, which go

13:20 <sup>1</sup> Who useth to go from country to country to find pasture for their beasts, but there shall they find none.

13:21 <sup>1</sup> Which were either wild beasts, or fowls, or wicked spirits, whereby Satan deluded man, as by the fairies, goblins, and such like fantasies.

14:1 <sup>1</sup> He showeth why God will haste to destroy his enemies, to wit, because he will deliver his Church.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that the Gentiles shalt be joined with the Church, and worship God.

14:2 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the Jews should be superiors to the Gentiles, and that they should be brought under the service of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subjection of Christ, 2 Cor. 10:5.

14:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, he suffered all violence and injuries to be done.

14:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that when tyrants reign, there can be no rest nor quietness, and also how detestable a thing tyranny is, seeing the insensible creatures have occasion to rejoice at their destruction.

14:9 <sup>1</sup> As though they feared, lest thou shouldst trouble the dead, as thou didst the living: and here he derideth the proud tyranny of the wicked, which know not that all creatures wish their destruction, that they may rejoice.

14:11 <sup>1</sup> Instead of thy costly carpets and coverings.

14:12 <sup>1</sup> Thou that thoughtest thyself most glorious, and as it were placed in the heaven: for the morning star that goeth before the sun, is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchadnezzar is compared.

14:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Jerusalem, whereof the Temple was of the North side, Ps. 48:2, whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight against God, when they persecute his Church, and would set themselves in his place.

14:16 <sup>1</sup> In marveling at thee.

14:17 <sup>1</sup> To set them at liberty: noting his cruelty.

14:19 <sup>1</sup> Thou wast not buried in the sepulchre of thy fathers, thy tyranny was so abhorred.

down to the stones of the pit, as a carcass trodden under feet.

20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in the grave, because thou hast destroyed thine own land, and slain thy people: the seed of the wicked shall not be renowned forever.

21 <sup>1</sup>Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquity of their fathers: let them not rise up nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 ¶ For I will rise up against them (saith the Lord of hosts) and will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the son, and the nephew, saith the Lord:

23 And I will make it a possession to the <sup>1</sup>hedgehog, and pools of water, and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the Lord of hosts.

24 The Lord of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely like as I have purposed, so shall it come to pass, and as I have consulted, it shall stand:

25 <sup>1</sup>That I will break to pieces Assyria in my land, and upon my mountains will I tread him under foot, so that his yoke shall depart from <sup>2</sup>them, and his burden shall be taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsel that is consulted upon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out over all the nations,

27 Because the Lord of hosts hath determined, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it away?

28 ¶ In the year that king Ahaz died, was this <sup>1</sup>burden.

29 Rejoice not, (thou whole <sup>1</sup>Philistia) because the rod of him that did beat thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a cockatrice, and the fruit thereof shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 For the <sup>1</sup>first born of the poor shall be fed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and <sup>2</sup>it shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howl, O gate, cry, O city: thou whole land of Philistia art dissolved, for there shall come from the <sup>1</sup>North a smoke, and none shall be <sup>2</sup>alone, at his time appointed.

32 What shall then one answer the <sup>1</sup>messengers of the Gentiles? that the Lord hath stablished <sup>2</sup>Zion, and the poor of his people shall trust in it.

15 A prophecy against Moab.

1 The <sup>1</sup>burden of Moab. Surely <sup>2</sup>Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 <sup>1</sup>He shall go up to the Temple, and to Dibon to the high places to weep: for <sup>2</sup>Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howl: upon all <sup>3</sup>their heads shall be baldness, and every beard shaven.

3 In their streets shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets everyone shall howl, and come down with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard unto Jahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shall shout: the soul of everyone shall lament in himself.

5 Mine <sup>1</sup>heart shall cry for Moab: his fugitives shall flee unto Zoar, <sup>2</sup>an heifer of three years old: for they shall go up with weeping by the mounting up of Luhith: and by the way of Horonaim they <sup>3</sup>shall raise up a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried up: therefore the grass is withered, the herbs consumed, and there was no green herb.

7 Therefore what every man hath left, and their substance shall they bear to the <sup>1</sup>brook of the willows.

8 For the cry went round about the borders of Moab, and the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the skriking thereof unto Beer Elim,

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall be full <sup>1</sup>of blood: for I will bring more upon Dimon, even 14:21 <sup>1</sup> He called to the Medes and Persians, and all those that should execute God's vengeance.

14:23 <sup>1</sup> Or, tortoise.

14:25 <sup>1</sup> As I have begun to destroy the Assyrians in Sennacherib: so will I continue, and destroy them wholly, when I shall deliver you from Babylon.

14:28 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 13:1.

14:29 <sup>1</sup> He willeth the Philistines not to rejoice because the Jews are diminished in their power, for their strength shall be greater than ever it was.

14:30 <sup>1</sup> The Israelites, which were brought to most extreme misery.

14:31 <sup>1</sup> That is, from the Jews or Assyrians: for they were brought to most extreme misery.

<sup>2</sup> But they shall be all ready, and join together.

14:32 <sup>1</sup> Which shall come to inquire of the state of the Church.

<sup>2</sup> They shall answer that the Lord doth defend his Church, and them that join themselves thereunto.

15:2 <sup>1</sup> The Moabites shall flee to their idols for succor, but it shall be too late.

<sup>3</sup> For as in the west parts the people used to let their hair grow long, when they mourned, so in the East part they cut it off.

15:5 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites: or as one that felt the great judgment of God that God should come upon them.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that it was a city that ever lived in pleasure, and never felt sorrow.

15:7 <sup>1</sup> To hide themselves, and their goods there.

15:9 <sup>1</sup> Of them that are slain.

lions <sup>2</sup>upon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

16 The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

1 Send <sup>1</sup>ye a lamb to the ruler of the world from the rock of the wilderness, unto the mountain of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that <sup>1</sup>flieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsel, execute judgment, <sup>1</sup>make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab, be thou their covert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner <sup>1</sup>shall end: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be prepared, <sup>1</sup>and he shall sit upon it in steadfastness, in the tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgment, and hastening justice.

6 We have heard of the pride of Moab (he is very proud) even his pride, and his arrogancy, and his indignation, but his <sup>1</sup>lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howl unto Moab, everyone shall howl: for the foundations of Kir Hareseth shall ye mourn, yet they shall be <sup>1</sup>stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: <sup>1</sup>the lords of the heathen have broken the principal vines thereof: they are come unto <sup>2</sup>Jazer: they wandered in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went over the sea.

9 Therefore will <sup>1</sup>I weep with the weeping of Jazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh,

I will make thee drunk with my tears, because upon thy summer fruits, and upon thy harvest <sup>2</sup>a shouting is fallen.

10 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyards shall be no singing nor shouting for joy: the treader shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I have caused the rejoicing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my <sup>1</sup>bowels shall sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir Heres.

12 And when it shall appear that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his <sup>1</sup>temple to pray, but he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spoken, saying, <sup>1</sup>In three years as the years of an <sup>2</sup>hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be contemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

17 1 A prophecy of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 7 calamity moveth to repentance.

1 The <sup>1</sup>burden of <sup>2</sup>Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, for it shall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of <sup>1</sup>Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The munition also shall cease from <sup>1</sup>Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall be as the <sup>2</sup>glory of the children of Israel, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 And in that day the glory of <sup>1</sup>Jacob shall be made clean.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth <sup>1</sup>the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm,

<sup>2</sup> So that by no means they should escape the hand of God: thus will God punish the enemies of his Church.

16:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, offer a sacrifice, whereby he derideth their long delay, which would not repent when the Lord called them, showing them that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is upon them.

16:2 <sup>1</sup> There is no remedy, but you must flee.

16:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what Moab should have done, when Israel their neighbor was in affliction, to whom because they would give no shadow nor comfort, they are now left comfortless.

16:4 <sup>1</sup> The Assyrians shall oppress the Israelites, but for a while.

16:6 <sup>1</sup> Their vain confidence, and proud brags shall deceive them, Jer. 48:2.

16:7 <sup>1</sup> For all your mourning, yet the city shall be destroyed, even unto the foundation.

16:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Assyrians and other enemies.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that the country of Moab was now destroyed, and all the precious things thereof were carried into the borders, yea into other countries, and over the sea.

16:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that their plague was so great, that it would have moved any man to lament with them, as Ps. 141:5.

<sup>2</sup> The enemies are come upon thee, and shout for joy, when they carry thy commodities from thee, as Jer. 48:33.

16:11 <sup>1</sup> For very sorrow and compassion.

16:12 <sup>1</sup> They shall use all means to seek help of their idols, and all in vain: for Chemosh their great god shall not be able to help them.

16:14 <sup>1</sup> He appointed a certain time to punish the enemies in.

<sup>2</sup> Who will observe justly the time for the which he is hired, and serve no longer, but will ever long for it.

17:2 <sup>1</sup> It was a country of Syria by the river Arnon.

17:3 <sup>1</sup> It seemeth that the Prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these two kings of Syria and Israel, when as they had conspired the overthrow of Judah.

<sup>2</sup> The ten tribes gloried in their multitude and alliance with other nations: therefore he saith that they shall be brought down, and the Syrians also.

17:4 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the ten tribes, which boasted themselves of their nobility, prosperity, strength and multitude.

17:5 <sup>1</sup> As the abundance of corn doth not fear the harvest men that should cut it down: no more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, whom God shall appoint to destroy them.

and he shall be as he that gathereth the ears in the valley of <sup>2</sup>Rephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall <sup>1</sup>be left in it: as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the top of the upmost boughs, and four or five in the high branches of the fruit thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man look to his <sup>1</sup>maker, and his eyes shall look to the holy one of Israel.

8 And he shall not look to the altars, the works of his own hands, neither shall he look to those things which his own fingers have made, as groves and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs and branches, which <sup>1</sup>they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graft strange <sup>1</sup>vine branches.

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be gone in the day <sup>1</sup>of possession, and there shall be desperate sorrow.

12 <sup>1</sup>Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noise of the sea: for the noise of the people shall make a sound like the noise of mighty waters.

13 The people shall make a sound like the noise of many waters: but God shall <sup>1</sup>rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and as a rolling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And lo, in the evening there is <sup>1</sup>trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

18 <sup>1</sup>Of the enemies of the Church. <sup>7</sup>And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

1 Oh, the <sup>1</sup>land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia,

2 Sending ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of <sup>1</sup>reeds upon the waters, saying, <sup>2</sup>Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoiled, unto a terrible <sup>3</sup>people from their beginning even hitherto: a nation by little and little even trodden under foot: whose land the <sup>4</sup>floods have spoiled.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the world, and dwellers in the earth, shall see when <sup>1</sup>he setteth up a sign in the mountains, and when he bloweth the trumpet, ye shall hear.

4 For so the Lord said unto me, I will <sup>1</sup>rest and behold in my tabernacle, as <sup>2</sup>the heat drying up the rain, and as a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest, when the flour is finished, and the fruit is ripening in the flour, then he shall cut down the branches with hooks, and shall take away, and cut off the boughs:

6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the <sup>1</sup>beasts of the earth: for the fowl shall summer upon it, and every beast of the earth shall winter upon it.

7 At that time shall a <sup>1</sup>present be brought unto the Lord of hosts (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoiled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little even trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled) to the place of the name of the Lord of hosts, even the mount Zion.

19 <sup>1</sup>The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. <sup>18</sup>Of their conversion to the Lord.

1 The <sup>1</sup>burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord

17:5 <sup>2</sup> Which valley was plentiful and fertile.

17:6 <sup>1</sup> Because God would have his covenant stable, he promiseth to reserve some of this people, and to bring them to repentance.

17:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's corrections ever bring forth some fruit, and cause his to turn from their sins, and to humble themselves to him.

17:9 <sup>1</sup> As the Canaanites left their cities when God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants than bushes, when God shall send the enemy to plague them.

17:10 <sup>1</sup> Which are excellent, and brought out of other countries.

17:11 <sup>1</sup> As the Lord threateneth the wicked in his Law, Lev. 26:16.

17:12 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations.

17:13 <sup>1</sup> He addeth this for the consolation of the faithful which were in Israel.

17:14 <sup>1</sup> He compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which riseth overnight, and in the morning is gone.

18:1 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the sea, which was so full of ships that the sails (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea.

18:2 <sup>1</sup> Which in those countries were great, insomuch as they made ships of them for swiftness.

<sup>2</sup> This may be taken, that they sent others to comfort the Jews, and to promise them help against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength, that the Jews should not trust therein: or that they did solicit the Egyptians, and promised them aid to go against Judah.

<sup>3</sup> To wit, the Jews, who because of God's plague, made all other nations afraid of the like, as God threatened, Deut. 28:37.

<sup>4</sup> Meaning, the Assyrians, as Isa. 8:7.

18:3 <sup>1</sup> When the Lord prepared to fight against the Ethiopians.

18:4 <sup>1</sup> I will stay a while from punishing the wicked.

<sup>2</sup> Which two seasons are most profitable for the ripening of fruits, whereby he meaneth, that he will seem to favor them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off.

18:6 <sup>1</sup> Not only men shall contemn them, but the brute beasts.

18:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God will pity his Church, and receive that little remnant as an offering unto himself.

19:1 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 13:7.

<sup>2</sup>rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so everyone shall <sup>1</sup>fight against his brother, and everyone against his neighbor, city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the <sup>1</sup>spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst of her, and I will destroy their counsel, and they shall seek at the idols, and at the sorcerers, and at them that have spirits of divination, and at the soothsayers.

4 And I will deliver the Egyptians into the hand of the cruel lords, and a mighty king shall rule over them, saith the Lord God of hosts.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall <sup>1</sup>fail, and the river shall be dried up, and wasted.

6 And the <sup>1</sup>rivers shall go far away: the rivers of defense shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall be cut down.

7 The grass in the river, and at the <sup>1</sup>head of the rivers, and all that groweth by the river shall wither, and be driven away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall <sup>1</sup>mourn, and all they that cast angle into the river, shall lament, and they that spread their net upon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreover, they that work in flax of divers sorts, shall be confounded, and they that weave nets.

10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they that make ponds shall be heavy in heart.

11 Surely the princes of <sup>1</sup>Zoan are fools: the counsel of the wise counselors of Pharaoh, is become foolish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I <sup>2</sup>am the son of the wise? I am the son of the ancient kings?

12 Where are now the wise men, that they may tell thee, or may know what the Lord of hosts hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fools: the princes of <sup>1</sup>Noph are deceived, they have deceived Egypt, even the <sup>2</sup>corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirits <sup>1</sup>of errors: and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any work in Egypt, which the head may <sup>1</sup>do, nor the tail, the branch nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: for it shall be afraid and fear because of the moving of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a fear <sup>1</sup>unto Egypt: everyone that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereat, because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he hath determined upon it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt <sup>1</sup>speak the language of Canaan, and shall <sup>2</sup>swear by the Lord of hosts: one shall be called the city of <sup>3</sup>destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the midst of the land of Egypt, and <sup>1</sup>a pillar by the border thereof unto the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the Lord of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the Lord, because of the oppressors, and he shall send them <sup>1</sup>a Savior, and a great man, and shall deliver them.

21 And the Lord shall be known of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and do <sup>1</sup>sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow vows unto the Lord, and perform them.

<sup>2</sup> Because the Egyptians trusted in the defense of their country, in the multitude of their idols, and in the valiantness of their men, the Lord showeth that he will come over all their munitions in a swift cloud, and that their idols shall tremble at his coming and that men's hearts shall faint.

19:2 <sup>1</sup> As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites and Idumeans to kill one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2 Chron. 20:22; Isa. 49:26.

19:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, their policy and wisdom.

19:5 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the sea and Nile their great river, whereby they thought themselves most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them, that should keep them under as slaves.

19:6 <sup>1</sup> For the Nile ran into the sea by seven streams, as though they were so many rivers.

19:7 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word is mouth, whereby they mean the spring out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.

19:8 <sup>1</sup> The Scriptures used to describe the destruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fish, and such other things, whereby countries are enriched.

19:11 <sup>1</sup> Called also Tanis, a famous city upon the Nile.

<sup>2</sup> He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who persuaded the king that he was wise and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and so he flattered himself, saying, I am wise.

19:13 <sup>1</sup> Or, Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cairo.

19:14 <sup>1</sup> For the spirit of wisdom he hath made them drunken and giddy with the spirit of error.

19:15 <sup>1</sup> Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak.

19:17 <sup>1</sup> Considering that through their occasion the Jews made not God their defense: but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall fear lest the like light upon them.

19:18 <sup>1</sup> Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speech of Canaan, meaning the language wherein God was then served.

<sup>3</sup> Meaning, of six cities, five should serve God, and the sixth remain in their wickedness: and so of the sixth part there should be but one lost.

19:19 <sup>1</sup> There shall be evident signs and tokens, that God's religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the Patriarchs and ancient times, when God hath not as yet appointed the place, and full manner how he would be worshipped.

19:20 <sup>1</sup> This declareth that this prophecy should be accomplished in the time of Christ.

19:21 <sup>1</sup> By these ceremonies he comprehendeth the spiritual service under Christ.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heal it: for he shall return unto the Lord, and he shall be entreated of them and shall heal them.

23 In that day shall there be a path from <sup>1</sup>Egypt to Assyria, and Assyria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so the Egyptians shall worship with Assyria.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and Assyria: even a blessing in the midst of the land.

25 For the Lord of hosts shall bless it, saying, Blessed be my people Egypt and Assyria, the work of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

20 <sup>2</sup> The three years captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three years going naked of Isaiah.

1 In the year that <sup>1</sup>Tartan came to <sup>2</sup>Ashdod, (when <sup>3</sup>Sargon king of Assyria sent him) and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it,

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the <sup>1</sup>sackcloth from thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years as a sign and wonder upon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Assyria take away the captivity of Egypt, and the captivity of Ethiopia, both young men and old men, naked and barefoot, with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall fear, and be ashamed of <sup>1</sup>Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their <sup>2</sup>glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitants of this <sup>1</sup>isle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria, and how shall we be delivered?

<sup>a</sup> Jer. 51:8
Rev. 14:8

21 <sup>1</sup> Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persians and Medes. 11 The ruin of Idumea, 13 and of Arabia.

1 The burden of the <sup>1</sup>desert sea. As the whirlwinds in the South used to pass from the wilderness, so shall it <sup>2</sup>come from the horrible land.

2 A grievous vision was showed unto me, The <sup>1</sup>Transgressor against a transgressor, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go up <sup>2</sup>Elam, besiege Media: I have caused all the mourning <sup>3</sup>thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my <sup>1</sup>loins filled with sorrow: sorrows have taken me as the sorrows of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down when I heard it, and I was amazed when I saw it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearfulness troubled me: the night <sup>1</sup>of my pleasures hath he turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch tower: eat, drink: <sup>1</sup>arise, ye princes, anoint the shield:

6 For thus hath the <sup>1</sup>Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, to tell what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with two horsemen: <sup>1</sup>a chariot of an ass, and a chariot of a camel: and he hearkened and took diligent heed.

8 And he cried, A <sup>1</sup>lion: my Lord, I stand continually upon the watch tower in the daytime, and I am set in my watch every night:

9 And behold, this man's chariot cometh with two horsemen. And <sup>1</sup>he answered and said, <sup>2</sup>Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he broken unto the ground.

10 O <sup>1</sup>my threshing, and the <sup>2</sup>corn of my floor. That which I have heard of the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, have I showed unto you.

11 ¶ The burden of <sup>1</sup>Dumah, he calleth unto me out of <sup>2</sup>Seir, Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?

19:23 <sup>1</sup> By these two nations, which were then chief enemies of the Church, he showeth that the Gentiles and the Jews should be joined together in one faith and religion, and should be all one fold under Christ their shepherd.

20:1 <sup>1</sup> Who was captain of Sennacherib, 2 Kings 18:17.

20:2 <sup>1</sup> Which signifieth that the Prophet did lament the misery that he saw prepared, before the three years that he went naked and barefooted.

20:5 <sup>1</sup> In whose aid they trusted.

20:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Judea, which was compassed about with their enemies, as an isle with waters.

21:1 <sup>1</sup> On the seaside between Judea and Chaldea was a wilderness, whereby he meaneth Chaldea.

21:2 <sup>1</sup> The Assyrians and Chaldeans, which had destroyed other nations, shall be overcome of the Medes and Persians: and this he prophesied an hundred years before it came to pass.

<sup>3</sup> Because they shall find no succor, they shall mourn no more, or, I have caused them to cease mourning, whom Babylon had afflicted.

21:3 <sup>1</sup> This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians.

21:4 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth the death of Belshazzar, as Dan. 5:30, who in the midst of his pleasures was destroyed.

21:5 <sup>1</sup> While they are eating and drinking, they shall be commanded to run to their weapons.

21:6 <sup>1</sup> To wit, in a vision by the spirit of prophecy.

21:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, chariots of men of war, and others that carried the baggage.

21:8 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Darius, which overcame Babylon.

21:9 <sup>1</sup> The watchman whom Isaiah set up, told him who came toward Babylon, and the Angel declared that it should be destroyed: all this was done in a vision.

21:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Babylon.

21:11 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city of the Ishmaelites, and was so named of Dumah, Gen. 25:14.

12 The watchman said, The <sup>1</sup>morning cometh, and also the night. If ye will as he, inquire: return and come.

13 ¶ The burden against Arabia. In <sup>1</sup>the forest of Arabia shall ye tarry all night, even in the ways of Dedanites.

14 O inhabitants of the land of Tema, bring forth <sup>1</sup>water to meet the thirsty, and prevent him that fleeth with his bread.

15 For they flee from the drawn swords, even from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Yet a year <sup>1</sup>according to the years of an <sup>2</sup>hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail.

17 And the residue of the number of the strong archers of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Kedar shall be few: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

22 <sup>1</sup>He prophesieth of the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar. 15 A threatening against Shebna. 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

1 The burden of the <sup>1</sup>valley of vision. What <sup>2</sup>aiileth thee now that thou art wholly gone up unto the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of <sup>1</sup>noise, a city full of brute, a joyous city, thy slain men shall not be slain <sup>2</sup>with sword, nor die in battle.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bow: they shall be <sup>1</sup>bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall be bound together, which have fled from <sup>2</sup>far.

4 Therefore said I, Turn away from me, I will weep <sup>1</sup>bitterly: labor not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruin, and of perplexity by the Lord God of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the city: and a <sup>1</sup>crying unto the mountains.

6 ¶ And Elam <sup>1</sup>bare the quiver in a man's chariot with horsemen, and Kir uncovered the shield.

7 And thy chief valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array against the gate.

8 And he discovered the <sup>1</sup>covering of Judah: and thou didst look in that day to the armor of the house of the forest.

9 And ye have seen <sup>1</sup>the breaches of the city of David: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye numbered the houses <sup>1</sup>of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall,

11 And have also made a ditch between the two walls, for the <sup>1</sup>waters of the old pool, and have not looked unto the maker <sup>2</sup>thereof, neither had respect unto him that formed it of old.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call unto weeping and mourning, and to baldness and girding with sackcloth.

13 And behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine, <sup>1</sup>eating and drinking, for tomorrow we shall die.

14 And it was declared in the ears of the Lord of hosts. Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts.

15 Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Go, get thee to that <sup>1</sup>treasurer, to Shebna, the steward of the house, and say,

21:12 <sup>1</sup>He describeth the unquietness of the people of Dumah, who were night and day in fear of their enemies, and ever ran to and fro to inquire news.

21:13 <sup>1</sup>For fear, the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shall take.

21:14 <sup>1</sup>Signifying, that for fear they shall not tarry to eat nor drink.

21:16 <sup>1</sup>He appointeth them respite for one year only, and then they should be destroyed.

21:17 <sup>1</sup>Which was the name of a people of Arabia: and by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth the Jews that there is no place for refuge or to escape God's wrath, but only to remain in his Church, and to live in his fear.

22:1 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, Judea, which was compassed about with mountains, and was called the valley of visions, because of the Prophets, which were always there, whom they named Seers.

<sup>2</sup> He speaketh to Jerusalem, whose inhabitants were fled up to the housetops for fear of their enemies.

22:2 <sup>1</sup>Which was wont to be full of people and joy.

22:3 <sup>1</sup>And led into captivity.

22:4 <sup>1</sup>He showeth what is the duty of the godly, when God's plagues hang over the Church, and especially of the ministers, Jer. 9:1.

22:5 <sup>1</sup>That is, the shout of the enemies whom God had appointed to destroy the city.

22:6 <sup>1</sup>He putteth them in mind how God delivered them once from Sennacherib, who brought the Persians and Cyrenians with him, that they might by returning to God avoid that great plague which they should else suffer by Nebuchadnezzar.

22:8 <sup>1</sup>The secret place where the armor was: to wit, in the house of the forest, 1 Kings 7:2.

22:9 <sup>1</sup>Ye forfeited the ruinous places which were neglected in times of peace: meaning, the whole City, and the City of David, which was within the compass of the other.

22:10 <sup>1</sup>Either to pull down such as might hurt, or else to know what men they were able to make.

22:11 <sup>1</sup>To provide if need should be of water.

<sup>2</sup> To God that made Jerusalem: that is, they trusted more in these worldly means, than in God.

22:13 <sup>1</sup>Instead of repentance ye were joyful and made great cheer, contemning the admonitions of the Prophets, saying, Let us eat and drink for our Prophets say, that we shall die tomorrow.

22:15 <sup>1</sup>Because the Hebrew word doth also signify one that doth nourish and cherish, there are of the learned that think that this wicked man did nourish secret friendship with the Assyrians and Egyptians to betray the Church, and to provide for himself against all dangers: in the mean season he packed craftily, and got of the best offices into his hand under Hezekiah, ever aspiring to the highest.

16 What hast thou to do here? and whom hast thou <sup>1</sup>here? that thou shouldest here hew thee out a sepulcher, as he that heweth out his sepulcher in a high place, or that graveth an habitation <sup>2</sup>for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, the Lord will carry thee away with a great captivity, and will surely cover thee.

18 He will surely roll and turn thee like a ball in a large country: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the <sup>1</sup>shame of thy lord's house.

19 And I will drive thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.

20 And in that day will I <sup>1</sup>call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah,

21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hand, and he shall be a father of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the house of Judah.

22 And the <sup>1</sup>key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder: so he shall open, and no man shall shut: and he shall shut, and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a <sup>1</sup>nail in a sure place, and he shall be for the throne of glory to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, even of the nephews and posterity <sup>1</sup>all small vessels, from the vessels of the cups, even to all the instruments of music.

25 In that day saith the Lord of hosts, shall the <sup>1</sup>nail that is fastened in the sure place, depart and shall be broken and fall, and the burden that was upon it, shall be cut off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

23 1 A Prophecy against Tyre. 17 A promise that it shall be restored.

1 The <sup>1</sup>burden of Tyre. Howl ye ships of <sup>2</sup>Tarshish: for <sup>3</sup>it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the land of <sup>4</sup>Kittim: it is <sup>5</sup>revealed unto them.

2 Be still, ye that dwell in the isles: the merchants of Sidon, and such as pass over the sea, have <sup>1</sup>replenished thee.

3 The <sup>1</sup>seed of Nile growing by the abundance of waters, and the harvest of the river was her revenues, and she was a mart of the nations.

4 Be ashamed, thou Sidon: for the <sup>1</sup>sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I have not <sup>2</sup>travailed, nor brought forth children, neither nourished young men, nor brought up virgins.

5 When the fame cometh to the Egyptians, they shall be <sup>1</sup>sorry, concerning the rumor of Tyre.

6 Go you over to <sup>1</sup>Tarshish: howl, ye that dwell in the isles.

7 Is not this that your glorious city? her antiquity is of ancient days: her own feet shall lead her afar off to be a sojourner.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyre (that <sup>1</sup>crowneth men) whose merchants are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hosts hath decreed this, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Pass through thy land like a flood to the <sup>1</sup>daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand upon the sea: he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment concerning the place of merchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice when thou art oppressed: <sup>1</sup>O virgin <sup>2</sup>daughter of Sidon: rise up, go out unto Kittim: yet there thou shalt have no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Chaldeans: this was no people: <sup>1</sup>Assyria founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof:

22:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he was a stranger, and came up of nothing.

<sup>2</sup> Whereas he thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulcher, he died most miserably among the Assyrians.

22:18 <sup>1</sup> Signifying that whatsoever dignity the wicked attain unto, at length it will turn to the shame of those princes, by whom they are preferred.

22:20 <sup>1</sup> To be steward again, out of the which office he had been put, by the craft of Shebna.

22:22 <sup>1</sup> I will commit unto him the full charge and government of the king's house.

22:23 <sup>1</sup> I will establish him, and confirm him in his office: of this phrase, read Ezra 9:9.

22:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall have praise and glory by his faithful officer.

22:25 <sup>1</sup> He meaneth Shebna, who in man's judgment should never have fallen.

23:2 <sup>1</sup> Have haunteth thee, and enriched thee.

23:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the corn of Egypt, which was fed by the overflowing of the Nile.

23:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, Tyre, which was the chief part of the sea.

<sup>2</sup> I have no people left in me, and am as a barren woman that never had children.

23:5 <sup>1</sup> Because these two countries were joined in league together.

23:6 <sup>1</sup> Tyre willett other merchants to go to Cilicia, and to come no more there.

23:8 <sup>1</sup> Who maketh her merchants like princes.

23:10 <sup>1</sup> Thy strength will no more serve thee: therefore flee to other countries for succor.

23:12 <sup>1</sup> For Tyre was never touched nor afflicted before.

23:13 <sup>1</sup> The Chaldeans which dwelt in tents in the wilderness, were gathered by the Assyrians into cities.

they raised the palaces thereof, and he <sup>2</sup>brought it to ruin.

14 Howl ye ships of Tarshish, for your <sup>1</sup>strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten seventy years (according to the years of one King) at the end of <sup>1</sup>seventy years shall Tyre <sup>2</sup>sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harp and go about the city (thou harlot that hast been forgotten) <sup>1</sup>make sweet melody, sing more songs that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And at the end of seventy years shall the Lord visit Tyre, and she shall return to her <sup>1</sup>wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be <sup>1</sup>holy unto the Lord: it shall not be laid up nor kept in store, but her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to have durable clothing.

24 <sup>1</sup> A prophecy of the curse of God for the sins of the people. <sup>13</sup> A remnant reserved shall praise the Lord.

1 Behold, the Lord maketh the <sup>1</sup>earth empty, and he maketh it waste: he turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall be like people, like <sup>1</sup>Priest, and like servant, like master, like maid, like mistress, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giver, like taker to usury.

3 The earth shall be clean emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away, the world is feeble and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth <sup>1</sup>also deceiveth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the laws: they changed the ordinances, and brake the everlasting Covenant.

6 Therefore hath the <sup>1</sup>curse devoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are <sup>2</sup>burned up, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, do mourn.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that rejoice, endeth: the joy of the harp ceaseth.

9 They shall not drink wine with mirth: strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The city of <sup>1</sup>vanity is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets: all joy is darkened: the <sup>1</sup>mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the cities is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ Surely thus shall it be in the midst of the earth, among the people, <sup>1</sup>as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift up their voice: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall rejoice from <sup>1</sup>the sea.

15 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the valleys, even the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the isles of the sea.

16 From the uttermost part of the earth we have heard praises, even glory to the <sup>1</sup>just, and I said, <sup>2</sup>My <sup>2</sup> The people of the Chaldeans destroyed the Assyrians: whereby the Prophet meaneth, that seeing the Chaldeans were able to overcome the Assyrians which were so great a nation, much more shall these two nations of Chaldea and Assyria be able to overthrow Tyre. 23:14 <sup>1</sup> That is, Tyre by whom ye are enriched.

23:15 <sup>1</sup> Tyre shall lie destroyed seventy years which he calleth the reign of one King, or a man's age.

23:16 <sup>1</sup> She shall labor by all means to recover her first credit: as an harlot when she is long forgotten, seeketh by all means to entertain her lovers.

23:17 <sup>1</sup> Though she have been chastised of the Lord, yet she shall return to her old wicked practices, and for gain shall give herself to all men's lusts like an harlot.

23:18 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call Tyre to repentance, and turn her heart from avarice and filthy gain, unto the true worshipping of God, and liberality toward his Saints.

24:1 <sup>1</sup> This prophecy is as a conclusion of that which hath been threatened to the Jews, and other nations from chap. 13, and therefore by the earth he meaneth those lands which were before named.

24:2 <sup>1</sup> Because this was a name of dignity, it was also applied to them, which were not of Aaron's family, and so signifieth also a man of dignity, as 2 Sam. 8:18 and 20:25; 1 Chron. 18:17, and by these words the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shall be neither religion, order, nor policy, Hos. 4:9.

24:5 <sup>1</sup> That is, rendereth not her fruit for the sin of the people, whom the earth deceived of their nourishment, because they deceived God of his honor.

24:6 <sup>1</sup> Written in the Law, as Lev. 26:14; Deut. 28:16, thus the Prophets used to apply particularly the menaces and promises, which are general in the Law.

<sup>2</sup> With heat and drought, or else that they were consumed with the fire of God's wrath.

24:10 <sup>1</sup> Which as it was without order, so now should it be brought to desolation and confusion: and this was not only meant of Jerusalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

24:11 <sup>1</sup> Because they did not use God's benefits aright, their pleasures should fail, and they fall to mourning.

24:13 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth the faithful, declaring that in this great desolation the Lord will assemble his Church which shall praise his Name, as Isa. 10:22.

24:14 <sup>1</sup> From the utmost coasts of the world, where the Gospel shall be preached, as verse 16.

24:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, to God, who will publish his Gospel through all the world.

<sup>2</sup> I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the Church, both by foreign enemies and domestic. Some read, my secret, my secret: that is, it was revealed to the Prophet, that the good should be preserved, and the wicked destroyed.

leanness, my leanness, woe is me: the transgressors have offended: yea, the transgressors have grievously offended.

17 Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that fleeth from the noise of the fear, shall fall into the pit: and he that cometh up out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the <sup>1</sup>windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down: the earth is clean dissolved: the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be removed like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shall be heavy upon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 ¶ And in that day shall the Lord <sup>1</sup>visit the host above that is on high, even the kings of the world that are upon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be <sup>1</sup>visited.

23 <sup>1</sup>Then the moon shall be abashed, and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of hosts shall reign in mount Zion and in Jerusalem: and glory shall be before his ancient men.

25 A thanksgiving to God in that that he showeth himself judge of the world, by punishing the wicked, and maintaining the godly.

1 O Lord, thou <sup>1</sup>art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according to the counsels of old, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a <sup>1</sup>city an heap, of a strong city, a ruin: even the place <sup>2</sup>of strangers of a city, it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the <sup>1</sup>mighty people give glory unto thee: the city of the strong nations shall fear thee.

4 For thou hast been a strength unto the poor, even a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heat: for the blast <sup>1</sup>of the mighty is like a storm against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of the strangers, <sup>1</sup>as the heat in a dry place; he will bring down the song of the mighty, as <sup>2</sup>the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this <sup>1</sup>mountain shall the Lord of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, even a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountain <sup>1</sup>the covering that covereth all people, and the veil that is spread upon all nations.

8 He will destroy death forever: and the Lord God will <sup>1</sup>wipe away the tears from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: we have waited for him, and he will save us. This is the Lord, we have waited for him, we will rejoice and be joyful in salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the Lord rest, and <sup>1</sup>Moab shall be threshed under him even as straw is threshed in <sup>2</sup>Madmenah.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as he that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swim) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring down their pride.

12 The defense also of the height of thy walls shall he bring down and lay low, and cast them to the ground, even unto the dust.

26 A song of the faithful, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the salvation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

24:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God's wrath and vengeance should be over and under them: so that they should not escape no more than they did at Noah's flood.

24:21 <sup>1</sup> There is no power so high or mighty, but God will visit him with his rods.

24:22 <sup>1</sup> Not with his rods, as verse 21, but shall be comforted.

24:23 <sup>1</sup> When God shall restore his Church, the glory thereof shall so shine, and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sun and the moon shall be dark in comparison thereof.

25:1 <sup>1</sup> Thus the Prophet giveth thanks to God because he will bring under subjection these nations by his corrections, and make them of his Church, which before were his enemies.

25:2 <sup>1</sup> Not only of Jerusalem, but also of these other cities which have been thine enemies.

<sup>2</sup> That is, a place whereas all vagabonds may live without danger, and as it were at ease, as in a palace.

25:3 <sup>1</sup> The arrogant and proud, which before would not know thee, shall by thy corrections fear and glorify thee.

25:4 <sup>1</sup> The rage of the wicked is furious, till God break the force thereof.

25:5 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that as the heat is abated by the rain, so shall God bring down the rage of the wicked.

<sup>2</sup> As a cloud shadoweth from the heat of the sun, so shall God assuage the rejoicing of the wicked against the godly.

25:6 <sup>1</sup> To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his Church, which should under Christ be assembled of the Jews and the Gentiles, and is here described under the figure of a costly banquet, as Matt. 22:2.

25:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that ignorance and blindness, whereby we are kept back from Christ.

25:8 <sup>1</sup> He will take away all occasions of sorrow and fill his with perfect joy, Rev. 7:17 and 21:4.

25:10 <sup>1</sup> By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church.

<sup>2</sup> There were two cities of this name: one in Judah, 1 Chron. 2:49, and another in the land of Moab, Jer. 48:2, which seemeth to have been a plentiful place of corn, Isa. 10:31.

1 In that day shall <sup>1</sup>this song be sung in the land of Judah, We have a strong city: <sup>2</sup>salvation shall God set for walls and bulwarks.

2 <sup>1</sup>Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 By an assured <sup>1</sup>purpose wilt thou preserve perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord forever: for in the Lord God is strength forevermore.

5 For he will bring down them that dwell on high: <sup>1</sup>the high city he will abase: even unto the ground will he cast it down, and bring it unto dust.

6 The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the <sup>1</sup>poor, and the steps of the needy.

7 The way of the just is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the just.

8 Also we, O Lord, have waited for thee in the way of thy <sup>1</sup>judgments: the desire of our soul is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I seek thee in the morning: for seeing thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learn <sup>1</sup>righteousness.

10 Let mercy <sup>1</sup>be showed to the wicked, yet he will not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness will he do wickedly, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine high hand: but they shall see it, and be confounded with <sup>1</sup>the zeal of the people, and the fire of thine <sup>2</sup>enemies shall devour them.

12 Lord unto us thou wilt ordain peace: for thou also hast wrought all our works for us.

13 O Lord our God, other <sup>1</sup>lords beside thee, have ruled us, but we will remember thee only, and thy Name.

14 The <sup>1</sup>dead shall not live, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased <sup>1</sup>the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious, thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble have they <sup>1</sup>visited thee: they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth near to the travail, is in sorrow, and crieth in her pains, so have we been in thy <sup>1</sup>sight, O Lord.

18 We have conceived, we have born in pain, as though we should have brought forth <sup>1</sup>wind: there was no help in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of <sup>2</sup>the world fall.

19 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Thy dead men shall live: even with my body shall they rise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy <sup>2</sup>dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: <sup>1</sup>enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors after thee: hide thyself for a very little while, until the indignation pass over.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visit the iniquity of the inhabitants of the earth upon them: and the earth shall disclose her <sup>1</sup>blood, and shall no more hide her slain.

27 A prophecy against the kingdom of Satan. 2 And of the joy of the Church for their deliverance.

1 In that <sup>1</sup>day the Lord with his sore and great and mighty <sup>2</sup>sword shall visit Leviathan, that piercing serpent, even Leviathan, that crooked serpent, and 26:1 <sup>1</sup> This song was made to comfort the faithful when their captivity should come, assuring them also of their deliverance, for the which they should sing this song.

26:2 <sup>1</sup> He assureth the godly to return after the captivity to Jerusalem.

26:3 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast decreed so, and thy purpose cannot be changed.

26:5 <sup>1</sup> There is no power so high that can let God, when he will deliver his.

26:6 <sup>1</sup> God will set the poor afflicted over the power of the wicked.

26:8 <sup>1</sup> We have constantly abode in the adversities wherewith thou had afflicted us.

26:9 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learn to fear God.

26:10 <sup>1</sup> The wicked though God show them evident signs of his grace, shall be never the better.

26:11 <sup>1</sup> Through envy and indignation against thy people.

26:13 <sup>1</sup> The Babylonians, which have not governed according to thy word.

26:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the reprobate, even in this life shall have the beginning of everlasting death.

26:15 <sup>1</sup> To wit, the company of the faithful by the calling of the Gentiles.

26:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, the faithful by the rods were moved to pray unto thee for deliverance.

26:17 <sup>1</sup> To wit, in extreme sorrow.

26:18 <sup>1</sup> Our sorrows had none end, neither did we enjoy the comfort that we looked for.

26:19 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth the faithful in their afflictions, showing them that even in death they shall have life: and that they should most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as verse 14.

<sup>2</sup> As herbs dead in winter flourisheth again by the rain in the springtime: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise up to joy, when they feel the dew of God's grace.

26:20 <sup>1</sup> He exhorteth the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to wait upon God's work.

26:21 <sup>1</sup> The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunk, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

27:1 <sup>1</sup> At the time appointed.

he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard <sup>1</sup>of red wine.

3 I the Lord do keep it: I will water it every moment: lest any assail it, I will keep it night and day.

4 Anger <sup>1</sup>is not in me: who would set the briers and the thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or will he <sup>1</sup>feel my strength, that he may make peace with me, and be at one with me?

6 <sup>1</sup>Hereafter Jacob shall take root: Israel shall flourish and grow: and the world shall be filled with fruit.

7 Hath he smitten <sup>1</sup>him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that were slain by him?

8 In <sup>1</sup>measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when he bloweth with his rough wind in the day of the East wind.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the <sup>1</sup>fruit, the taking away of his sin: when he shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalk stones broken in pieces, that the groves and images may not stand up.

10 Yet the <sup>1</sup>defensed city shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken, and left like a wilderness. There shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs of it are dry, they shall be broken: the <sup>1</sup>women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of none understanding: therefore he that made them shall not have compassion of them, and he that formed them, shall have no mercy on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the channel of the <sup>1</sup>river unto the river of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpet be <sup>1</sup>blown, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Assyria, and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy Mount at Jerusalem.

28 Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel. 9 The untowardness of them that should learn the word of God. 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

1 Woe to the <sup>1</sup>crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty shall be a fading flower, which is upon the head of the <sup>2</sup>valley of them that be fat, and are overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and <sup>1</sup>strong host like a tempest of hail, and a whirlwind that overthroweth, like a tempest of mighty waters that overflow, which throw to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be trodden under foot, even the crown and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beauty shall be a fading flower, which is upon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as <sup>1</sup>the hasty fruit afore Summer, which when he hath looketh upon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the <sup>1</sup>residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for <sup>1</sup>strength unto them that turn away the battle to the gate.

7 But <sup>1</sup>they have erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drink: the Priest and the prophet have erred by strong drink: they are swallowed up with wine: they have gone astray through strong drink: they fail in vision: they stumble in judgment.

27:2 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.

27:4 <sup>1</sup> Therefore he will destroy the kingdom of Satan, because he loveth his Church for his own mercy's sake, and cannot be angry with it, but wisheth that he may pour his anger upon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thorns.

27:5 <sup>1</sup> He marveleth that Israel will not come by gentleness, except God make them to feel his rods, and so bring them unto him.

27:6 <sup>1</sup> Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the root spring again and bring forth in great abundance.

27:7 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God punisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in justice.

27:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, thou wilt not destroy the root of thy Church, though the branches thereof seem to perish by the sharp wind of affliction.

27:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments thereof be destroyed.

27:10 <sup>1</sup> Notwithstanding his favor that he will show them after, yet Jerusalem shall be destroyed, and grass for cattle shall grow in it.

27:11 <sup>1</sup> God shall not have need of mighty enemies: for the very women shall do it to their great shame.

27:12 <sup>1</sup> He shall destroy all from Euphrates to the Nile: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to have escaped.

27:13 <sup>1</sup> In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be delivered: but this was chiefly accomplished under Christ.

28:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the proud kingdom of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperity.

<sup>2</sup> Because the Israelites for the most part dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly prosperity, and were as it were crowned therewith as with garlands.

28:2 <sup>1</sup> He seemeth to mean the Assyrians, by whom the ten tribes were carried away.

28:4 <sup>1</sup> Which is not of long continuance, but is soon ripe and first eaten.

28:5 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the faithful, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperity, but made God their glory, shall be preserved.

28:6 <sup>1</sup> He will give counsel to the governor, and strength to the captain, to drive the enemies in at their own gates.

28:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the hypocrites which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting.

8 For all their tables are full of filthy vomiting; no place is clean.

9 <sup>1</sup>Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand the things that he heareth? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For <sup>1</sup>precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept, line unto line, line unto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a stammering <sup>1</sup>tongue, and with a strange language shall he speak unto this people.

12 Unto whom <sup>1</sup>he said, <sup>2</sup>This is the rest: <sup>3</sup>give rest unto him that is weary, and this is the refreshing, but they would not hear.

13 Therefore shall the word of the <sup>1</sup>Lord be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line unto line, line unto line, there a little and there a little: that they may go and fall backward, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people, which is at Jerusalem.

15 Because ye have said, We have made a <sup>1</sup>covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge run over, and pass through, it shall not come at us: for we have made <sup>2</sup>falsehood our refuge, and under vanity are we hid,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a <sup>1</sup>tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation. He that believeth, <sup>2</sup>shall not make haste.

17 Judgment also will I lay to the rule, and <sup>1</sup>righteousness to the balance, and the <sup>2</sup>hail shall sweep away the vain confidence, and the waters shall overflow <sup>3</sup>the secret place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall run over and pass through, then shall ye be trodden down by it.

19 When it passeth over, it shall take you away: for it shall pass through every morning in the day and in the night, and there shall be only <sup>1</sup>fear, to make you to understand the hearing.

20 For the bed is <sup>1</sup>strait, that it cannot suffice, and the covering narrow, that one cannot wrap himself.

21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount <sup>1</sup>Perazim: he shall be wroth as in the valley <sup>2</sup>of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I have heard of the Lord of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 Harken ye, and hear my voice: hearken ye, and hear my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all the day, to sow? doth he open, and break the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it <sup>1</sup>plain, will he not then sow the fitches, and sow cumin, and cast in wheat by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to have discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For fitches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cartwheel be turned about upon the cumin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and cumin with a rod.

28 Bread corn when it is threshed, he doth not always thresh it, neither doth the wheel of his cart still make a noise, neither will he break it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in works.

29 <sup>1</sup>A prophecy against Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.

28:9 <sup>1</sup> For there was none that was able to understand any good doctrine: but were foolish and as unmeet as young babes.

28:10 <sup>1</sup> They must have one thing oftimes told.

28:11 <sup>1</sup> Let one teach what he can, yet they shall no more understand him, than if he spake in a strange language.

28:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Prophet, whom God should send.

<sup>3</sup> Show to them that are weary and have need of rest, what is the true rest.

28:13 <sup>1</sup> Because they will not receive the word of God, when it is offered, it cometh of their own malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before, Isa. 6:9.

28:15 <sup>1</sup> They thought they had shifts to avoid God's judgments, and that they could escape though all others perished.

<sup>2</sup> Though the prophets condemned their idols and vain trust of falsehood and vanity, yet the wicked thought in themselves that they would trust in these things.

28:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, Christ, by whom all the building must be tried and upheld, Ps. 118:22; Matt. 21:42; Acts 4:11; Rom. 9:33; 1 Pet. 2:6.

<sup>2</sup> He shall be quiet, and seek none other remedies, but be content with Christ.

28:17 <sup>1</sup> In the restitution of his Church, judgment and justice shall reign.

28:19 <sup>1</sup> Terror and destruction shall make you to learn that, which exhortations and gentleness could not bring you unto.

28:20 <sup>1</sup> Your affliction shall be so sore, that you are not able to endure it.

28:21 <sup>1</sup> When David overcame the Philistines, 2 Sam. 5:20; 1 Chron. 14:11.

28:25 <sup>1</sup> As the plowman hath his appointed time, and divers instruments for his labor, so hath the Lord for his vengeance: for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen seed is beaten and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

1 Ah <sup>1</sup>altar, altar of the city that David dwelt in: add year unto year: <sup>2</sup>let them kill lambs.

2 But I will bring the altar into distress, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow, and it shall be unto me like <sup>1</sup>an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast up ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speak out of the <sup>1</sup>ground, and thy speech shall be as out of the dust: thy voice also shall be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of divination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, multitude of thy <sup>1</sup>strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaff that passeth away: and it shall be in a moment, even suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and shaking, and a great noise, a whirlwind, and a tempest, and a flame of a devouring fire.

7 And the <sup>1</sup>multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall be as a dream or vision by night: even all they that make the war against it, and strongholds against it, and lay siege unto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, <sup>1</sup>he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soul is empty: or like as a thirsty man dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soul longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

9 <sup>1</sup>Stay yourselves and wonder: they are blind, and make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drink.

10 For the Lord hath covered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut up your eyes: the Prophet, and your chief Seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of them all is become unto you, as the words of a book that is sealed up, which they deliver to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I <sup>1</sup>cannot; for it is sealed.

12 And the book is given unto him that cannot read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I cannot read.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people <sup>1</sup>come near unto me with their mouth, and honor me with their lips, but have removed their heart far from me, and their <sup>2</sup>fear toward me was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore behold, I will again do a marvelous work in this people, even a marvelous work, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall <sup>1</sup>perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe unto them that <sup>1</sup>seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord: for their works are in darkness, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Your turning of devices shall it not be esteemed <sup>1</sup>as the potter's clay? for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, He had none understanding?

17 Is it not yet but a little while, and Lebanon shall be <sup>1</sup>turned into Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

19 The meek in the Lord shall receive joy again, and the poor men shall rejoice in the Holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruel man shall cease, and the scornful shall be consumed: and all that hastened to iniquity, shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sin in the <sup>1</sup>word, and took him in a snare: which reproveth them in the gate,

29:1 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word Ariel signifieth the Lion of God, and signifieth the Altar, because the altar seemed to devour the sacrifice that was offered to God, as Ezek. 43:16.

29:2 <sup>1</sup> Your city shall be full of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.

29:4 <sup>1</sup> Thy speech shall be no more so lofty, but abased and low as the very charmers, which are in low places, and whisper, so that their voice can scarce be heard.

29:5 <sup>1</sup> Thine hired soldiers in whom thou trustest, shall be destroyed as dust or chaff in a whirlwind.

29:7 <sup>1</sup> The enemies that I will bring to destroy thee, and that which thou makest thy vain trust, shall come at unawares, even as a dream in the night. Some read, as if this were a comfort to the Church for the destruction of their enemies.

29:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, he thinketh that he eateth.

29:9 <sup>1</sup> Muse hereon as long as ye list, yet shall ye find nothing but occasion to be astonished: for your Prophets are blind, and therefore cannot direct you.

29:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that it is all alike, either to read, or not to read, except God open the heart to understand.

29:13 <sup>1</sup> Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Matt. 15:8.

<sup>2</sup> That is, their religion was learned by man's doctrine, and not by my word.

29:14 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that where as God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fools and without understanding.

29:15 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken of them which in heart despised God's word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

29:16 <sup>1</sup> For all your craft saith the Lord, you cannot be able to escape mine hands no more than the clay, that is in the potter's hands, hath power to deliver itself.

29:17 <sup>1</sup> Shall there not be a change of all things? And Carmel that is a plentiful place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as a forest, as Isa. 32:15, and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithful.

29:21 <sup>1</sup> They that went about to find fault with the Prophet's words, and would not abide admonitions, but would entangle them and bring them into danger.

and made the just to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord unto the house of Jacob, even he that redeemed Abraham: Jacob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my Name, and sanctify the Holy one of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, <sup>1</sup>shall have understanding, and they that murmured, shall learn doctrine.

30 <sup>1</sup> He reproveth the Jews, which in their adversity used their own counsels, 2 and sought help of the Egyptians, 10 despising the Prophets. 16 Therefore he showeth what destruction shall come upon them, 18 but offereth mercy to the repentant.

1 Woe to the <sup>1</sup>rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me, and <sup>2</sup>cover with a covering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sin upon sin:

2 Which walk forth to go down into Egypt (and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his <sup>1</sup>princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came unto Hanes.

5 They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profit them, nor help, nor do them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproach.

6 ¶ The <sup>1</sup>burden of the beasts of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent against them that shall bear their riches upon the shoulders of the colts, and their treasures upon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profit.

7 For the Egyptians are vanity, and they shall help in vain. Therefore have I cried unto <sup>1</sup>her, Their strength <sup>2</sup>is to sit still.

8 Now go, and write <sup>1</sup>it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the <sup>2</sup>last day forever and ever:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not <sup>1</sup>hear the Law of the Lord.

10 Which say unto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophecy not unto us right things: but speak flattering things unto us: prophesy <sup>1</sup>errors.

11 Depart out of the way: go aside out of the path: cause the Holy one of Israel to cease from us.

12 Therefore thus saith the Holy one of Israel, Because you have cast off this word, and trust in <sup>1</sup>violence, and wickedness, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be unto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potter's pot, which is broken without pity, and in the breaking thereof is not found <sup>1</sup>a shard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus said the <sup>1</sup>Lord God, the Holy one of Israel, In rest and quietness shall ye be saved: in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye have said, No, but we will flee away upon <sup>1</sup>horses. Therefore shall ye flee. We will ride upon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecutors be swifter.

17 A thousand as one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a ship mast upon the <sup>1</sup>top of a mountain, and as a beacon upon an hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord wait, that he may have <sup>1</sup>mercy upon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have compassion upon you:

29:24 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that except God give understanding, and knowledge, man cannot but still err and murmur against him.

30:1 <sup>1</sup> Who contrary to their promise take not me for their protector, and contrary to my commandment seek help at strangers.

30:4 <sup>1</sup> The chief of Israel went into Egypt in embassy to seek help, and abode at these cities.

30:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, a heavy sentence or prophecy against the beasts that carried their treasures into Egypt, by the wilderness, which was south from Judah, signifying that if the beasts should not be spared, the men should be punished much more grievously.

30:7 <sup>1</sup> To wit, to Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> And not to come to and fro to seek help.

30:8 <sup>1</sup> That is, this prophecy.

<sup>2</sup> That it may be a witness against them for all posterity.

30:9 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what was the cause of their destruction, and bringeth also all misery to man: to wit, because they would not hear the word of God, but delighted to be flattered, and led in error.

30:10 <sup>1</sup> Threaten us not by the word of God, neither be so rigorous, nor talk unto us in the Name of the Lord, as Jer. 11:21.

30:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in their stubbornness against God and the admonitions of his Prophets.

30:14 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shall be without recovery.

30:15 <sup>1</sup> Oftentimes by his Prophets he put you in remembrance of this, that you should only depend on him.

30:16 <sup>1</sup> We will trust to escape by our horses.

30:17 <sup>1</sup> Whereas all the trees are cut down save two or three to make masts.

30:18 <sup>1</sup> He commendeth the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

for the Lord is the God of <sup>2</sup>judgment. Blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will certainly have mercy upon thee at the voice of thy cry: when he heareth thee, he will answer thee.

20 And when the Lord hath given you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, thy rain shall be no more kept back, but thine eyes shall see thy <sup>1</sup>rain.

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, <sup>1</sup>walk ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall <sup>1</sup>pollute the covering of the images of silver, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say unto it, <sup>2</sup>Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give rain unto thy seed, when thou shalt sow the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and as oil: in that day shall thy cattle be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the young asses, that till the ground, shall eat clean provender, which is winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And upon every high <sup>1</sup>mountain, and upon every high hill shall there be rivers, and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shall fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the Moon shall be as the light of the <sup>1</sup>Sun, and the light of the Sun shall be sevenfold, and like the light of seven days in the day that the Lord shall bind up the breach of his people, and heal the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, <sup>1</sup>the Name of the Lord cometh from far, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire.

28 And his spirit is as a river that overfloweth up to the neck: it divideth asunder, to fan the nations with the fan of <sup>1</sup>vanity, and there shall be a bridle to cause them to err in the jaws of the people.

29 But there shall be a song unto you as in the <sup>1</sup>night, when a solemn feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go unto the mount of the Lord, to the Mighty one of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall declare the lighting down of his arm with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a devouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For with the voice of the Lord shall Assyria be destroyed, which smote with the <sup>1</sup>rod.

32 And in every place that the staff shall pass, it shall <sup>1</sup>cleave fast, which the Lord shall lay upon him with <sup>2</sup>tabrets and beards and with battles, and lifting up of hands shall he fight <sup>3</sup>against it.

33 For <sup>1</sup>Tophet is prepared of old; it is even prepared for the <sup>2</sup>King; he hath made it <sup>3</sup>deep and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a river of brimstone, doth kindle it.

31 <sup>1</sup> He curseth them that forsake God, and seek for the help of men.

1 Woe unto them that <sup>1</sup>go down into Egypt for help, and stay upon horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong; but they look not unto the Holy one of Israel, nor <sup>2</sup>seek unto the Lord.

2 But he yet is <sup>1</sup>wisest; therefore he will bring evil, and not turn back his word, but he will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the help of them that work vanity.

30:18 <sup>2</sup> Not only in punishing, but in using moderation in the same, as Jer. 10:24 and 30:11.

30:20 <sup>1</sup> Or, instructor.

30:21 <sup>1</sup> God shall direct all thy ways, and appoint thee how to go either hither or thither.

30:22 <sup>1</sup> Ye shall cast away your idols, which you have made of gold, and silver, with all that belongeth unto them, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.

<sup>2</sup> Showing, that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deed we show ourselves enemies to idolatry.

30:25 <sup>1</sup> By these divers manners of speech he showeth that the felicity of the Church shall be so great, that none is able sufficiently to express it.

30:26 <sup>1</sup> When the Church shall be restored, the glory thereof shall pass seven times the brightness of the Sun: for by the Sun and Moon, which are two excellent creatures, he showeth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdom of Christ.

30:27 <sup>1</sup> This threatening is against the Assyrians the chief enemies of the people of God.

30:28 <sup>1</sup> To drive thee to nothing: and thus God consumeth the wicked by that means, whereby he cleanseth his.

30:29 <sup>1</sup> Ye shall rejoice at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sung for joy of the solemn feast, which began in the evening.

30:31 <sup>1</sup> God's plague.

30:33 <sup>1</sup> Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, read 2 Kings 23:10.

<sup>2</sup> So that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked.

31:1 <sup>1</sup> There were two special causes, why the Israelites should not join amity with the Egyptians: first, because the Lord had commanded them never to return thither, Deut. 17:16 and 28:68, lest they should forget the benefit of their redemption: and secondly, lest they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatry of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, Jer. 2:18.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.

31:2 <sup>1</sup> And knoweth their crafty enterprises, and will bring all to naught.

3 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit; and when the Lord shall stretch out his hand, the <sup>1</sup>helper shall fall, and he that is helped shall fall, and they shall altogether fail.

4 For this hath the Lord spoken unto me, As the lion or lion's whelp roareth upon his prey, against whom if a multitude of shepherds be called, he will not be afraid at their voice, neither will humble himself at their noise: so shall the Lord of hosts come <sup>1</sup>down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds that fly, so shall the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem by defending and delivering, by passing through and preserving it.

6 O ye children of Israel, turn again, in as much as ye are <sup>1</sup>sunken deep in rebellion.

7 For in that day every man shall <sup>1</sup>cast out his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your hands have made you, even a sin.

8 <sup>1</sup>Then shall Assyria fall by the sword, not of man, neither shall the sword of man devour him, and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall faint.

9 And he shall go for fear to his <sup>1</sup>tower, and his princes shall be afraid of the standard, saith the Lord, whose <sup>2</sup>fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32 The conditions of good rulers and officers describeth by the government of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

1 Behold, <sup>1</sup>a King shall reign in justice, and the princes shall <sup>2</sup>rule in judgment.

2 And that man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and as a refuge for the tempest, as rivers of water in a dry place, and as the shadow of a great rock in <sup>1</sup>a weary land.

3 The eyes of <sup>1</sup>the seeing shall not be shut, and the ears of them that hear, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall be ready to speak distinctly.

5 A <sup>1</sup>niggard shall no more be called liberal, nor the churl rich.

6 But the niggard will speak of niggardness, and his heart will work iniquity, and do wickedly, and speak falsely against the Lord, to make empty the hungry soul, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 For the weapons of the churl are wicked: he deviseth wicked counsels to undo the poor with lying words, and to speak against the poor in judgment.

8 But the liberal man will devise of liberal things, and he will continue his liberality.

9 ¶ Rise up ye women that are at ease: hear my voice, ye <sup>1</sup>careless daughters, hearken to my words.

10 Ye women that are careless, shall be in fear <sup>1</sup>above a year in days, <sup>2</sup>for the vintage shall fail, and the gatherings shall come no more.

11 Ye women that are at ease, be astonied; fear, O ye careless women: put off the clothes; make bare, and gird sackcloth upon the loins.

12 Men shall lament for the <sup>1</sup>teats, even for the pleasant fields, and for the fruitful vine.

13 Upon the land of my people shall grow thorns and briers: yea, upon all the houses of joy in the city of rejoicing,

14 Because the palace shall be forsaken, and the <sup>1</sup>noise of the city shall be left: the tower and fortress shall be dens forever, and the delight of wild asses, and a pasture for flocks,

15 Until the <sup>1</sup>Spirit be poured upon us from above, and the wilderness become a fruitful field, and the 31:3 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

31:4 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the Jews, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: and so careful over them, as a bird over her young, which ever flieth about them for their defense: which similitude the scripture useth in divers places, as Deut. 32:11; Matt. 23:37.

31:6 <sup>1</sup> He toucheth their conscience, that they might earnestly feel their grievous sins, and so truly repent, forasmuch as now they are almost drowned and past recovery.

31:7 <sup>1</sup> By these fruits your repentance shall be known, as Isa. 2:20.

31:8 <sup>1</sup> When your repentance appeareth.

31:9 <sup>1</sup> This was accomplished soon after when Sennacherib's army was discomfited, and he fled to his castle in Nineveh for succor.

32:1 <sup>1</sup> This prophecy is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

<sup>2</sup> By judgment and justice is meant an upright government, both in policy, and religion.

32:2 <sup>1</sup> Where men are weary with traveling for lack of water.

32:3 <sup>1</sup> He promiseth to give the true light, which is the pure doctrine of God's word, and understanding, and zeal of the same, are contrary to the threatenings against the wicked, Isa. 6:9 and 29:10.

32:5 <sup>1</sup> Vice shall no more be called virtue, nor virtue esteemed by power and riches.

32:9 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth of such calamity to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore willet them to take heed and provide.

32:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one year were past, yet they should look for new plagues.

<sup>2</sup> God will take from you the means and occasions, which made you to contemn him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.

32:12 <sup>1</sup> By the teats he meaneth the plentiful fields, whereby men are nourished as children with the teat: or, the mothers for sorrow and heaviness shall lack milk.

32:14 <sup>1</sup> Or, multitude.

32:15 <sup>1</sup> That is, when the Church shall be restored: thus the Prophets, after they have denounced God's judgments against the wicked, used to comfort the godly, lest they should faint.

16 And judgment shall dwell in the desert, and justice shall remain in the fruitful field.

17 And the work of justice shall be peace, even the work of justice and quietness, and assurance forever.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it haileth, it shall fall on the forest, and the <sup>1</sup>city shall be in the low place.

20 Blessed are ye <sup>1</sup>that sow upon all waters, and <sup>2</sup>drive thither the feet of the ox and the ass.

33 <sup>1</sup> The destruction of them by whom God hath punished his Church.

1 Woe to thee that <sup>1</sup>spolest, and wast not spoiled: and doest wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt <sup>2</sup>cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, <sup>3</sup>they shall do wickedly against thee.

2 <sup>1</sup>O Lord, have mercy upon us, we have waited for thee: be thou, which wast <sup>2</sup>their arm in the morning, our help also in time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the <sup>1</sup>people fled: at thine <sup>2</sup>exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of <sup>1</sup>caterpillars: and <sup>2</sup>he shall go against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgment and justice.

6 And there shall be stability of <sup>1</sup>the times, strength, salvation, wisdom, and knowledge: for the fear of the Lord shall be his treasure.

7 Behold, <sup>1</sup>their messengers shall cry without, and the <sup>2</sup>ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The <sup>1</sup>paths are waste: the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant: he hath contemned the cities: he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanon is ashamed, and hewn down: <sup>1</sup>Sharon is like a wilderness, and Bashan is shaken and Carmel.

10 Now will I <sup>1</sup>arise, saith the Lord: now will I be exalted, now will I lift up myself.

11 <sup>1</sup>Ye shall conceive chaff, and bring forth stubble: the fire of your breath shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burning of lime: and as the thorns cut up, shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 Hear, ye that are <sup>1</sup>far off, what I have done, and ye that are near, know my power.

14 The <sup>1</sup>sinnners in Zion are afraid: a fear is come upon the hypocrites: who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with the everlasting burnings?

15 He that walketh in justice, and speaketh righteous things, refusing gain of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of gifts, stopping his ears from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing evil,

16 He shall dwell on <sup>1</sup>high: his defense shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him, and

32:15 <sup>2</sup> The field which is now fruitful, shall be but as a barren forest in comparison of that it shall be then, as Isa. 29:17, which shall be fulfilled in Christ's time, for then they that were before as the barren wilderness, being regenerate shall be fruitful, and they that had some beginning of godliness, shall bring forth fruits in such abundance, that their former life shall seem but as a wilderness where no fruits were.

32:19 <sup>1</sup> They shall not need to build it in high places for fear of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turn away the storms from hurting of their commodities.

32:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, upon fat ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance, or in places which before were covered with waters, and now made dry for your uses.

<sup>2</sup> The fields shall be so rank, that they shall send out their cattle to eat up the first crop, which abundance shall be signs of God's love and favor toward them.

33:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as were the Chaldeans and Assyrians, but chiefly of Sennacherib, but not only.

<sup>2</sup> When thine appointed time shall come that God shall take away thy power: and that which thou hast wrongfully gotten, shall be given to others, as Amos 5:11.

<sup>3</sup> The Chaldeans shall do like to the Assyrians, as the Assyrians did to Israel, and the Medes and Persians shall do the same to the Chaldeans.

33:2 <sup>1</sup> He declareth hereby what is the chief refuge of the faithful, when troubles come, to pray, and seek help of God.

33:3 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Assyrians fled before the army of the Chaldeans, or the Chaldeans for fear of the Medes and Persians.

33:4 <sup>1</sup> Ye that as caterpillars destroyed with your number the whole world, shall have no strength to resist your enemies the Chaldeans: but shall be gathered on an heap and destroyed.

33:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, in the days of Hezekiah.

33:8 <sup>1</sup> These are the words of the ambassadors, when they returned from Sennacherib.

33:9 <sup>1</sup> Which was a plentiful country, meaning, that Sennacherib would destroy all.

33:10 <sup>1</sup> To help and deliver my Church.

33:11 <sup>1</sup> This is spoken against the enemies, who thought all was their own: but he showeth that their enterprise shall be in vain, and that the fire which they had kindled for others, should consume them.

33:13 <sup>1</sup> His vengeance shall be so great, that all the world shall talk thereof.

33:14 <sup>1</sup> Which do not believe the words of the Prophet, and the assurance of their deliverance.

33:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that God will be a sure defense to all them that live according to his word.

his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall <sup>1</sup>see the King in his glory: they shall behold the <sup>2</sup>land far off.

18 Thine heart <sup>1</sup>shall meditate fear, Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a dark speech, that thou canst not perceive, and of a stammering tongue that thou canst not understand.

20 Look upon Zion the city of our solemn feasts: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that cannot be removed: and the stakes thereof can never be taken away, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the mighty Lord will be unto us, as a place <sup>1</sup>of floods, and broad rivers, whereby shall pass no ship with oars, neither shall great ship pass thereby.

22 For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our King, he will save us.

23 Thy <sup>1</sup>cords are loosed: they could not well strengthen their mast, neither could they spread the sail: then shall the <sup>2</sup>prey be divided for a great spoil: yea, the lame shall take away the prey.

24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein, shall have their iniquity forgiven.

34 1 He showeth that God punisheth the wicked for the love that he beareth toward his Church.

1 Come near, ye <sup>1</sup>nations and hear, and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear and all that is therein, the world and all that proceedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his wrath upon all their armies: he hath <sup>1</sup>destroyed them and delivered them to the slaughter.

3 And their slain shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their bodies, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of heaven <sup>1</sup>shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be folded like a book: and all their hosts shall fall as the leaf falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the fig tree.

5 For my sword shall be <sup>1</sup>drunken in the heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Edom, even upon the people of <sup>2</sup>my curse to judgment.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat and with the blood of the <sup>1</sup>lambs and the goats, with the fat of the kidneys of the rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in <sup>2</sup>Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the <sup>1</sup>unicorn shall come down with them, and the heifers with the bulls, and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

8 For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, and the year of recompense for the judgment of Zion.

9 And the rivers thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into <sup>1</sup>brimstone, and the land thereof shall be burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall go up evermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation; none shall pass through it forever.

11 But the pelican <sup>1</sup>and the hedgehog shall possess it, and the great owl, and the raven shall dwell in it, and he shall stretch out upon it the line of <sup>2</sup>vanity, and the stones of emptiness.

12 <sup>1</sup>The nobles thereof shall call to the kingdom, and there shall be none, and all the princes thereof shall be as nothing.

13 And it shall bring forth thorns in the palaces thereof, nettles, and thistles in the strongholds thereof, and it shall be an habitation for dragons, and a court for ostriches.

14 There shall <sup>1</sup>meet also Ziim and Iim, and the Satyr shall cry to his fellow, and the screech owl 33:17 <sup>1</sup> They shall see Hezekiah delivered from his enemies, and restored to honor and glory.

<sup>2</sup> They shall be no more shut in as they were of Sennacherib, but go where it pleaseth them.

33:18 <sup>1</sup> Before that this liberty cometh thou shalt think that thou art in great danger: for the enemy shall so sharply assail you, that one shall cry, where is the clerk that writeth the names of them that are taxed? another, Where is the receiver? another shall cry for him that valueth the rich houses, but God will deliver you from this fear.

33:21 <sup>1</sup> Let us be content with this small river of Shiloah and not desire the great streams and rivers, whereby the enemies may bring in ships and destroy us.

33:23 <sup>1</sup> He derideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction as they that perish by shipwreck.

<sup>2</sup> He comforteth the Church, and showeth that they shall be enriched with all benefits both of body and soul.

34:1 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth of the destruction of the Edomites and other nations which were enemies to the Church.

34:2 <sup>1</sup> God hath determined in his counsel, and hath given sentence for their destruction.

34:4 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in respect of man's judgment, who in great fear and horrible troubles, thinketh that heaven and earth perisheth.

34:5 <sup>1</sup> I have determined in my secret counsel, and in the heavens to destroy them till my sword be weary with shedding of blood.

<sup>2</sup> They had an opinion of holiness, because they came of the Patriarch Isaac, but in effect were accursed of God, and enemies unto his Church, as the Papists are.

34:6 <sup>1</sup> That is, both of young and old, poor and rich of his enemies.

34:7 <sup>1</sup> The mighty and rich shall be as well destroyed as the inferiors.

34:9 <sup>1</sup> He alludeth to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, Gen. 19:24.

34:11 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 13:21 and Zeph. 2:14.

34:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, here shall be neither order nor policy, nor state of commonweal.

34:14 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 13:21.

shall rest there, and shall find for herself a quiet dwelling.

15 There <sup>1</sup>shall the owl make her nest, and lay and hatch, and gather them under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her make.

16 Seek in the <sup>1</sup>book of the Lord, and read: none of <sup>2</sup>these shall fail, none shall want her make: for <sup>3</sup>his mouth hath commanded, and his very spirit hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the <sup>1</sup>lot for them, and his hand hath divided unto them by line: they shall possess it forever: from generation to generation shall they dwell in it.

35 <sup>1</sup>The great joy of them that believe in Christ. <sup>3</sup>Their office which preach the Gospel. <sup>8</sup>The fruits that follow thereof.

1 The <sup>1</sup>desert and the wilderness shall rejoice, and the waste ground shall be glad and flourish as the rose.

2 It shall flourish abundantly, and shall greatly rejoice also and joy: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it: the beauty of <sup>1</sup>Carmel, and of Sharon, they shall <sup>2</sup>see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

3 <sup>1</sup>Strengthen the weak hands, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say unto them that are fearful, Be you strong, fear not: behold, your God cometh with <sup>1</sup>vengeance: even God with a recompense, he will come and save you.

5 Then shall the eyes of the <sup>1</sup>blind be lightened, and the ears of the deaf be opened.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the dumb man's tongue shall sing: for in the <sup>1</sup>wilderness shall waters break out, and rivers in the desert.

7 And the dry ground shall be as a pool, and the thirsty as springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reeds and rushes.

8 And there shall be a path and a way, and the way shall be called <sup>1</sup>holy: the polluted shall not pass by it: for <sup>2</sup>he shall be with them, and walk in the way, and the fools shall not err.

9 There shall be <sup>1</sup>no lion, nor noisome beasts shall ascend by it, neither shall they be found there, that the redeemed may walk.

10 Therefore the <sup>1</sup>redeemed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with praise: and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

1 Now <sup>1</sup>in the <sup>2</sup>fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib King of Assyria came up against all the strong cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the King of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah, with a great host, and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the path of the fuller's field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah the <sup>1</sup>steward of the house, and Shebna <sup>2</sup>the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder.

4 And <sup>1</sup>Rabshakeh said unto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great king, the King of Assyria, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, <sup>1</sup>Surely I have eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the war: on whom then dost thou 34:15 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that Edom should be an horrible desolation and barren wilderness.

34:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, in the Law where such curses are threatened against the wicked.

<sup>2</sup> To wit, beasts and souls.

34:17 <sup>1</sup> He hath given the beasts and fowls Edom for an inheritance.

35:1 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth of the full restoration of the Church both of the Jews and Gentiles under Christ, which shall be fully accomplished at the last day: albeit as yet it is compared to a desert and wilderness.

35:2 <sup>1</sup> The Church which was before compared to a barren wilderness shall by Christ be made most plenteous and beautiful.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that the presence of God is the cause that the Church doth bring forth fruit and flourish.

35:3 <sup>1</sup> He willeth all to encourage one another, and specially the ministers to exhort and strengthen the weak, that they may patiently abide the coming of God, which is at hand.

35:4 <sup>1</sup> To destroy your enemies.

35:5 <sup>1</sup> When the knowledge of Christ is revealed.

35:6 <sup>1</sup> They that were barren and destitute of the graces of God, shall have them given by Christ.

35:8 <sup>1</sup> It shall be for the Saints of God and not for the wicked.

35:9 <sup>1</sup> As he threateneth to the wicked to be destroyed hereby, Isa. 30:6.

35:10 <sup>1</sup> Whom the Lord shall deliver from the captivity of Babylon.

36:1 <sup>1</sup> This history is rehearsed because it is as a seal and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatenings and promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliverance.

<sup>2</sup> When he had abolished superstition, and idolatry, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church to try their faith and patience.

36:3 <sup>1</sup> For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophesied, Isa. 22:20.

<sup>2</sup> This declareth that there were few godly to be found in the king's house, when he was driven to send this wicked man in such a weighty matter.

36:4 <sup>1</sup> Sennacherib's chief captain.

36:5 <sup>1</sup> He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, falsely charging him that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, whereas his only confidence was in the Lord.

trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staff of reed, on Egypt, whereupon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is <sup>1</sup>Pharaoh King of Egypt unto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say unto me, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah took down, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give hostages to my Lord the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 For how canst thou <sup>1</sup>despise any captain of the <sup>2</sup>least of my lord's servants? and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said unto me, <sup>1</sup>Go up against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, <sup>1</sup>Speak, I pray thee, to thy servants in the Aramite's language (for we understand it) and talk not with us in the Jews' tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words, and not to the men that sit on the wall? that they may eat their own thing, and drink their own <sup>1</sup> piss with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear the words of the great King, of the King of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us: this city shall not be given over into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make <sup>1</sup>appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may eat of his own vine, and every man of his own fig tree, and drink every man the water of his own well,

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your own land, even a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyards,

18 Lest Hezekiah deceive you, saying, The Lord will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where is the god of <sup>1</sup>Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharvaim? or how have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath delivered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they <sup>1</sup>kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, unto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

37 <sup>2</sup> Hezekiah asketh counsel of Isaiah, who promiseth him the victory. 10 The blasphemy of Sennacherib. 16 Hezekiah's prayer. 36 The army of Sennacherib is slain of the Angel. 38 And he himself of his own sons.

1 And <sup>a</sup>when the King Hezekiah heard it, he <sup>1</sup>rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth unto <sup>1</sup>Isaiah the Prophet the son of Amoz.

3 And he said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemy: for the children are come to the <sup>1</sup>birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

36:6 <sup>1</sup> Satan labored to pull the godly King from one vain confidence to another: to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weak and would deceive them, to yield himself to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any help of God.

36:9 <sup>1</sup> Or, turn back.

36:10 <sup>1</sup> Thus the wicked to deceive us, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we must try the spirits, whether they be of God or no.

36:11 <sup>1</sup> They were afraid, lest by his words, he should have stirred up the people against the King, and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him.

36:12 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, the water of their feet.

36:16 <sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word signifieth blessing, whereby this wicked captain would have persuaded the people, that their condition should be better under Sennacherib than under Hezekiah.

36:19 <sup>1</sup> That is, of Antioch in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how every town had his peculiar idol, and how the wicked make God an idol because they do not understand that God maketh them his scourge, and punisheth cities for sin.

36:21 <sup>1</sup> Not that they did not show by evident signs that they did detest his blasphemy: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vain to use long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they should have so much more provoked.

37:1 <sup>1</sup> In sign of grief and repentance.

37:2 <sup>1</sup> To have comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed and so his prayer be more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the only remedies, to seek unto God and his ministers.

37:3 <sup>1</sup> We are in as great sorrow as a woman that travaileth of child, and cannot be delivered.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath <sup>1</sup>heard the words of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Assyria his master hath sent to rail on the living God, and to reproach him with words, which the Lord thy God hath heard, then <sup>2</sup>lift thou up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the servants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said unto them, Thus say unto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the King of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a <sup>1</sup>noise, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Assyria fighting against <sup>1</sup>Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah King of Judah, saying, Let not thy God <sup>1</sup>deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the King of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the Kings of Assyria have done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed? as <sup>1</sup>Gozan, and <sup>2</sup>Haran, and Rezep, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it, and he went up into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, which <sup>1</sup>dwestest between the Cherubims, thou art very God alone over all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made the heaven and the earth.

17 Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

18 Truth it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Assyria have destroyed all lands and <sup>1</sup>their country,

19 And have cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, even wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, save thou us out of his hand, that <sup>1</sup>all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou only art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed unto me, concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, The <sup>1</sup>virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou railed on and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the <sup>1</sup>holy One of Israel.

24 By thy servants hast thou railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the top of the mountains to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut down the high cedars thereof, and the fair fir trees thereof, and I will go up to the heights of his top, and to the forest of his fruitful places.

25 I have dug, <sup>1</sup>and drunk the waters, and with the plant of my feet have I dried all the rivers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard how I have of old time made it, <sup>1</sup>and have formed it long ago? and should 37:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, will declare by effect that he hath heard it: for when God deferreth to punish, it seemeth to the flesh, that he knoweth not the sin, or heareth not the cause.

<sup>2</sup> Declaring that the minister's office doth not only stand in comforting by the word, but also in praying for the people.

37:7 <sup>1</sup> Of the Egyptians and Ethiopians, that shall come and fight against him.

37:8 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city toward Egypt, thinking thereby to have stayed the force of his enemies.

37:10 <sup>1</sup> Thus God would have him to utter a most horrible blasphemy before his destruction: as to call the author of all truth, a deceiver: some gather hereby that Shebna had disclosed unto Sennacherib the answer that Isaiah sent to the king.

37:12 <sup>1</sup> Which was a city of the Medes.

37:16 <sup>1</sup> He groundeth his prayer on God's promise, who promised to hear them from between the Cherubims.

37:18 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the ten tribes.

37:20 <sup>1</sup> He declareth for what cause he prayed, that they might be delivered: to wit, that God might be glorified thereby through all the world.

37:22 <sup>1</sup> Whom God had chosen to himself as a chaste virgin, and over whom he had care to preserve her from the lusts of the tyrant, as a father would have over his daughter.

37:23 <sup>1</sup> Declaring hereby that they that are enemies to God's Church, fight against him whose quarrel his Church only maintaineth.

37:25 <sup>1</sup> He boasteth of his policy, in that that he can find means to nourish his army: and of his power in that that his army is so great, that it is able to dry up whole rivers, and to destroy the waters which the Jews had closed in.

37:26 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that God made not his Church to destroy it, but to preserve it: and therefore he saith that he formed it of old, even in his eternal counsel which cannot be changed.

I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and laid on ruinous heaps, as cities defended?

27 Whose inhabitants have <sup>1</sup>small power, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the grass of the field and green herb, or grass on the house tops, or corn blasted <sup>2</sup> afore it be grown.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy <sup>1</sup>going out, and thy coming in, and thy fury against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come unto mine ears, therefore will I put mine <sup>1</sup>hook in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee back again the same way thou <sup>2</sup>camest.

30 And this shall be a <sup>1</sup>sign unto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this year such as groweth of itself: and the <sup>2</sup>second year such things as grow without sowing: and in the third year, sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And <sup>1</sup>the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take root downward and bear fruit upward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the King of Assyria, He shall not enter into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall return, and not come into this city, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant <sup>1</sup>David's sake.

36 ¶ <sup>1</sup>Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the camp of Assyria, an hundred fourscore, and five thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

<sup>2</sup> Chron. 32:21

<sup>a</sup> 2 Kings 20:1

37 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at <sup>1</sup>Nineveh.

38 And as he was in the Temple worshipping of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons slew him with the sword, and they escaped unto the land of <sup>1</sup>Ararat: and <sup>2</sup>Esrhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

38 <sup>1</sup> Hezekiah is sick. 5 He is restored to health by the Lord, and liveth fifteen years after. 10 He giveth thanks for his benefit.

1 About <sup>a</sup> that <sup>1</sup>time was Hezekiah sick unto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah <sup>1</sup>turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Go, and say unto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, and seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee <sup>1</sup>out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and this city: for I will defend this city.

7 And <sup>1</sup>this sign shalt thou have of the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath spoken,

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees (whereby it is gone down in the dial of Ahaz by the <sup>1</sup>sun) ten degrees backward: so the sun

37:27 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, are short in hand.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth that the state and power of most flourishing cities endureth but a moment in respect of the Church, which shall remain forever, because God is the maintainer thereof.

37:28 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, his counsels and enterprises.

37:29 <sup>1</sup> Because Sennacherib showed himself, as a devouring fish and furious beast, he useth these similitudes, to teach how he will take him and guide him.

37:30 <sup>1</sup> God giveth signs after two sorts: some go before the thing, as the signs that Moses wrought in Egypt, which were for the confirmation of their faith, and some go after the thing, as the sacrifice, which they were commanded to make three days after their departure: and these latter are to keep the benefits of God in our remembrance: of the which sort this here is.

<sup>2</sup> He promiseth that for two years the ground of itself should feed them.

37:31 <sup>1</sup> They whom God hath delivered out of the hands of the Assyrians, shall prosper: and this properly belongeth to the Church.

37:35 <sup>1</sup> For my promise sake made to David.

37:37 <sup>1</sup> Which was the chiefest city of the Assyrians.

37:38 <sup>1</sup> Or, Armenia.

<sup>2</sup> Who was also called Sardanapalus, in whose days ten years after Sennacherib's death the Chaldeans overcame the Assyrians by Merodach their king.

38:1 <sup>1</sup> Soon after that the Assyrians were slain: so that God will have the exercise of his children continually, that they may learn only to depend upon God and aspire to the heavens.

38:2 <sup>1</sup> For his heart was touched with fear of God's judgment, seeing he had appointed him to die so quickly after his deliverance from so great calamity, as one unworthy to remain in that estate, and also foreseeing the great change that should come in the Church, forasmuch as he left no son to reign after him: for as yet Manasseh was not born, and when he reigned, we see what a tyrant he was.

38:6 <sup>1</sup> He doth not only promise to prolong his life, but to give him rest and quietness from the Assyrians, who might have renewed their army to revenge their former discomfiture.

38:7 <sup>1</sup> For Hezekiah had asked for the confirmation of his faith, a sign, as verse 22, and 2 Kings 20:8, whereunto he was moved by the singular motion of God's spirit.

38:8 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 20:10.

returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone down.

9 <sup>1</sup>The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said in the <sup>1</sup>cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

11 I said, <sup>1</sup>I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord in the land of the living: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is removed from me, like a shepherd's tent: I <sup>1</sup>have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day <sup>2</sup>to night, thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckoned <sup>1</sup>to the morning: but he brake all my bones like a lion, from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I <sup>1</sup>chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes were lifted up on high: O Lord, <sup>2</sup>it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say, <sup>1</sup>for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walk <sup>2</sup>weakly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, <sup>1</sup>to them that overlive them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be known, that thou causest me to <sup>2</sup>sleep and hast given life to me.

17 Behold, for <sup>1</sup>felicity I had bitter grief, but it was thy pleasure to deliver my soul from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my <sup>2</sup>sins behind thy back.

18 For <sup>1</sup>the grave cannot confess thee: death cannot praise thee: they that go down into the pit, cannot

CHAPTER 39

* 2 Kings 20:12

hope for thy truth.

19 But the living, the living, he shall confess thee, as I do this day: the father to the <sup>1</sup>children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my song, all the days of <sup>1</sup>our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Isaiah, Take a lump of dry figs and <sup>1</sup>lay it upon the boil, and he shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah <sup>1</sup>had said, What is the sign, that I shall go up into the house of the Lord?

39 Hezekiah is reproved because he showed his treasures unto the ambassadors of Babylon.

1 At <sup>1</sup>the same time, <sup>1</sup>Merodach Baladan, the son of Baladan, King of Babel, sent <sup>2</sup>letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was <sup>1</sup>glad of them, and showed them the house of the treasures, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures; there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdom that Hezekiah showed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet unto King Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What have <sup>1</sup>they seen in mine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen; there is nothing among my treasures, that I have not showed them.

38:9 <sup>1</sup> He left this song of his lamentation and thanksgiving to all posterity, as a monument of his own infirmity and thankful heart for God's benefits, as David did, Ps. 51.

38:10 <sup>1</sup> At what time it was told me, that I should die.

38:11 <sup>1</sup> I shall no more praise the Lord here in this Temple among the faithful: thus God suffereth his dearest children to want his consolation for a time, that his grace afterward may the more appear when they feel their own weakness.

38:12 <sup>1</sup> By my sin I have provoked God to take my life from me.

<sup>2</sup> That is, in one day, or shortly.

38:13 <sup>1</sup> Over night I thought that I should live till morning, but my pangs in the night persuaded me the contrary: he showeth the horror that the faithful have when they apprehend God's judgment against their sin.

38:14 <sup>1</sup> I was so oppressed with sorrow, that I was not able to utter my words, but only to groan and sigh.

<sup>2</sup> To wit, sorrow and grief both of the body and mind.

38:15 <sup>1</sup> God hath declared by his Prophet that I shall die and therefore I will yield unto him.

<sup>2</sup> I shall have no release, but continual sorrows while I live.

38:16 <sup>1</sup> They that shall overlive the men that are now alive, and all they that are in these years shall acknowledge this benefit.

<sup>2</sup> That after that thou hadst condemned me to death thou restorest me to life.

38:17 <sup>1</sup> Whereas I thought to have lived in rest and ease being delivered from mine enemy, I had grief upon grief.

<sup>2</sup> He esteemeth more the remission of his sins, and God's favor than a thousand lives.

38:18 <sup>1</sup> Forasmuch as God hath placed man in this world to glorify him, the godly take it as a sign of his wrath, when their days were shortened, either because that they seemed unworthy for their sins to live longer in his service, or for their zeal to God's glory, seeing that there are so few in earth that do regard it, as Ps. 6:5; 115:17.

38:19 <sup>1</sup> All posterity shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duty toward their children shall instruct them in thy graces, and mercies toward me.

38:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what is the use of the Congregation and Church, to wit, to give the Lord thanks for his benefits.

38:21 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 20:7.

38:22 <sup>1</sup> As verse 7.

39:1 <sup>1</sup> This was the first king of Babylon, which overcame the Assyrians in the tenth year of his reign.

<sup>2</sup> Partly moved with the greatness of the miracle, partly because he showed himself enemy to his enemies, but chiefly because he would join with them whom God favored, and have their help, if occasion served.

39:2 <sup>1</sup> Read 2 Kings 20:13 and 2 Chron. 32:25, 31.

39:4 <sup>1</sup> He asketh him of the particulars, to make him understand the craft of the wicked, which he before being overcome with their flattery and blinded with ambition, could not see.

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts,

6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be <sup>1</sup>carried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sons, that shall proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be <sup>1</sup>eunuchs in the palace of the King of Babel.

8 <sup>1</sup>Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace, and truth in my days.

40 <sup>2</sup>Remission of sins by Christ. <sup>3</sup>The coming of John Baptist. <sup>18</sup>The Prophet reproveth the Idolaters, and them that trust not in the Lord.

1 Comfort <sup>1</sup>ye, comfort ye my people, will your God say.

2 Speak comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her <sup>1</sup>warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned; for she hath received of the Lord's hand <sup>2</sup>double for all her sins.

3 A <sup>1</sup>voice crieth in the <sup>2</sup>wilderness, <sup>3</sup>Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make straight in the desert a path for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every <sup>1</sup>mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked shall be straight, and the rough places plain.

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all <sup>1</sup>flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 A <sup>1</sup>voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the <sup>2</sup>grace thereof is as the flowers of the field.

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the <sup>1</sup>Spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the <sup>1</sup>word of our God shall stand forever.

9 ¶ O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high <sup>1</sup>mountain: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength: lift it up, be not afraid: say unto the cities of Judah, Behold <sup>2</sup>your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with power, and <sup>1</sup>his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

11 He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall guide them with <sup>1</sup>young.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his <sup>1</sup>fist? and counted heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and weighed the mountains in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath instructed the spirit of the Lord? or was <sup>1</sup>his counselor, or taught him?

14 Of whom took the counsel, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of judgment? or taught him knowledge, and showed unto him the way of understanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: behold, he taketh away the isles as a little dust.

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as <sup>1</sup>nothing, and they are counted to him, less than nothing, and vanity.

18 To whom then <sup>1</sup>will ye liken God? or what 39:6 <sup>1</sup>By the grievousness of the punishment is declared how greatly God detested ambition and vain glory.

39:7 <sup>1</sup>That is, officers and servants.

39:8 <sup>1</sup>Read 2 Kings 20:19.

40:1 <sup>1</sup>This is a consolation for the Church, assuring them, that they shall be never destitute of Prophets whereby he exhortheth the true ministers of God that then were, and those also that should come after him, to comfort the poor afflicted, and to assure them of their deliverance both of body and soul.

40:2 <sup>1</sup>The time of her affliction.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, sufficient, as Isa. 61:7, and full correction, or double grace, whereas she deserved double punishment.

40:3 <sup>1</sup>To wit, of the Prophets.

<sup>2</sup> That is, in Babylon and other places, where they were kept in captivity, and misery.

<sup>3</sup> Meaning Cyrus and Darius which should deliver God's people out of captivity, and make them a ready way to Jerusalem: and this was fully accomplished, when John the Baptist brought tidings of Jesus Christ's coming, who was the true deliverer of his Church from sin and Satan, Matt. 3:3.

40:4 <sup>1</sup>Whatsoever may let or hinder this deliverance, shall be removed.

40:5 <sup>1</sup>This miracle shall be so great, that it shall be known through all the world.

40:6 <sup>1</sup>The voice of God which spake to the Prophet Isaiah.

40:7 <sup>1</sup>The spirit of God shall discover the vanity in all that seem to have any excellency of themselves.

40:8 <sup>1</sup>Though considering the frailty of man's nature many of the Jews should perish, and so not be partakers of this deliverance, yet God's promise should be fulfilled, and they that remained, should feel the fruit thereof.

40:9 <sup>1</sup>To publish this benefit through all the world.

<sup>2</sup> He showeth at one word the perfection of all man's felicity, which is to have God's presence.

40:10 <sup>1</sup>His power shall be sufficient without help of any other, and shall have all means in himself to bring his will to pass.

40:11 <sup>1</sup>He shall show his care and favor over them that are weak and tender.

40:12 <sup>1</sup>Declaring that as God only hath all power, so doth he use the same for the defense and maintenance of his Church.

40:13 <sup>1</sup>He showeth God's infinite wisdom for the same.

40:17 <sup>1</sup>He speaketh all this to the intent that they should neither fear man nor put their trust in any, save only in God.

40:18 <sup>1</sup>Hereby he armeth them against the idolatry, wherewith they should be tempted in Babylon.

similitude will ye set up unto him?

19 The workman melteth an image, or the goldsmith beareth it out in gold, or the goldsmith maketh silver plates.

20 Doth not <sup>1</sup>the poor choose out a tree that will not rot, for an oblation? he seeketh also unto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image that shall not be moved.

21 Know ye nothing? have ye not heard <sup>1</sup>it? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood it by the <sup>2</sup>foundation of the earth?

22 He sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, he stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the judges of the earth, as vanity,

24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sown, as though their stock took no root in the earth: for he did even <sup>1</sup>blow upon them, and they withered, and the whirlwind will take them away as stubble.

25 To whom now will ye liken me, that I should be like him, saith the Holy one?

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, and bringeth <sup>1</sup>out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatness of his power and mighty strength nothing faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest O Israel, <sup>1</sup>My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgment is passed over of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord hath created the <sup>1</sup>ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is weary: there is no searching of his <sup>2</sup>understanding.

29 But he giveth strength unto him that fainteth, and unto him that hath no strength, he increaseth power.

30 <sup>1</sup>Even the young men shall faint, and be weary, and the young men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that wait upon the Lord, shall renew their strength: they shall lift up the wings, as the eagles: they shall run, and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint.

41 <sup>2</sup> God's mercy in choosing his people. <sup>6</sup> Their idolatry. <sup>27</sup> Deliverance promised to Zion.

1 Keep <sup>1</sup>silence before me, O islands, and let the people <sup>2</sup>renew their strength: let them come near, and let them speak: let us come together into judgment.

2 Who raised up <sup>1</sup>justice from the East, and called him to his foot? and gave the nations before him, and subdued the kings? he gave them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble unto his bow.

3 He pursued them, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought and done it? he that calleth the <sup>1</sup>generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the <sup>2</sup>first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The isles saw it, and did <sup>1</sup>fear, and the ends of the earth were abashed, drew near, and <sup>2</sup>came.

6 Every man helped his neighbor, and said to his brother, <sup>1</sup>Be strong.

7 So the workman comforted the founder, and he that smote with the hammer, him that smote by course, saying, It is ready for the soldering, and he fastened it with nails that it should not be moved.

8 ¶ But thou, Israel, art my <sup>1</sup>servant, and thou Jacob, whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

9 For I have taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chief thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant: I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and help thee, and will sustain thee with the <sup>1</sup>right hand of 40:20 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the rage of the idolaters, seeing that the poor that have not to suffice their own necessities, will defraud themselves to serve their idols.

40:21 <sup>1</sup> Have ye not the word of God, which plainly condemneth idolatry?

<sup>2</sup> Can you not learn by the visible creatures whom God hath made to observe your use, that you should not serve them nor worship them?

40:24 <sup>1</sup> So that his power appeareth in every place wheresoever we turn our eyes.

40:26 <sup>1</sup> Who hath set in order the infinite number of the stars.

40:27 <sup>1</sup> He rebuketh the Jews, because they did not rest on the providence of God, but thought that he had forsaken them in their troubles.

40:28 <sup>1</sup> And therefore all power is in his hand to deliver when his time cometh.

<sup>2</sup> Showing that men must patiently abide, and not curiously seek out the cause of God's delay in our afflictions.

40:30 <sup>1</sup> They that trust in their own virtue, and do not acknowledge that all cometh of God.

41:1 <sup>1</sup> God as though he pleaded his cause with all nations, requireth silence, that he may be heard in his right.

41:2 <sup>1</sup> Who called Abraham (who was the pattern of God's justice in delivering his Church) from the idolatry of the Chaldeans to go to and fro at his commandment, and placed him in the land of Canaan.

41:4 <sup>1</sup> Who hath created man and maintained his succession.

<sup>2</sup> Though the world set up never so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, unchangeable, which have ever been, and shall be forever.

41:5 <sup>1</sup> Considering mine excellent works among my people.

41:6 <sup>1</sup> He noteth the obstinacy of the idolaters to maintain their superstitions.

41:8 <sup>1</sup> And therefore oughtest not to pollute thyself with the superstition of the Gentiles.

41:10 <sup>1</sup> That is, by the force of promise, in the performance whereof I will show myself faithful and just.

my justice.

11 Behold, all they that provoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strive with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seek them and shalt not <sup>1</sup>find them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that war against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee.

14 Fear not thou <sup>1</sup>worm, Jacob, and ye men of Israel: I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy redeemer the holy One of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a roller, and a new threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the <sup>1</sup>mountains, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the Lord, and shalt glory in the holy One of Israel.

17 When <sup>1</sup>the poor and the needy seek water, and there is none (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will hear them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them:)

18 I will open rivers in the tops of the hills, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness as a pool of water, and the waste <sup>1</sup>land as springs of water.

19 I will set in the wilderness the cedar, the Shittah, and the myrrh tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wilderness the fir tree, the elm and the box tree together.

20 Therefore let them see and know, and let them consider and understand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the holy One of Israel

21 <sup>1</sup>Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons saith the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and let them tell us what shall come, let them show the former things what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them: either declare us things for to come.

23 Show the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good or do evil, that we may declare it, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of no value, and your making is of naught: man hath <sup>1</sup>chosen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I have raised up from the <sup>1</sup>North, and he shall come: from the East sun shall he <sup>2</sup>call upon my name, and shall come upon <sup>3</sup>princes as upon clay, and as the potter treadeth mire under the foot.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? or before time, that we may say, He is righteous? Surely there is none that showeth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth <sup>1</sup>your words.

27 I am the first, that saith to Zion, Behold, behold <sup>1</sup>them: and I will give to Jerusalem <sup>2</sup>one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when <sup>1</sup>I beheld, there was none: and when I inquired of them, there was no counselor, and when I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanity: their work is of nothing, their images are wind and confusion.

42 <sup>1</sup>The obedience and humility of Christ. <sup>6</sup>Why he was sent into the world. <sup>11</sup>The vocation of the Gentiles.

1 Behold, <sup>1</sup>my servant: <sup>2</sup>I will stay upon him: mine elect, in whom my soul <sup>3</sup>delighteth: I have put 41:12 <sup>1</sup> Because they shall be destroyed.

41:14 <sup>1</sup> Thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their own poor estate, should seek unto him for help.

41:15 <sup>1</sup> I will make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they never so mighty: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdom of Christ.

41:17 <sup>1</sup> That is, they that shall be afflicted in the captivity of Babylon.

41:18 <sup>1</sup> God will rather change the order of nature than they should want anything, that cry to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby that they shall lack nothing by the way, when they return from Babylon.

41:20 <sup>1</sup> That is, hath appointed and determined that it shall come so to pass.

41:21 <sup>1</sup> He biddeth the idolaters to prove their religion, and to bring forth their idols, that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can do all things: which if they cannot do, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idols.

41:24 <sup>1</sup> So that a man cannot make an idol, but he must do that which God detesteth and abhorreth: for he chooseth his own devices and forsaketh the Lord's.

42:25 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Chaldeans.

<sup>2</sup> That is, Cyrus, who shall do all things in my name and by my direction: whereby he meaneth that both their captivity and deliverance shall be ordered by God's providence and appointment.

<sup>3</sup> Both of the Chaldeans and others.

42:26 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that none of the Gentile gods can work any of these things.

42:27 <sup>1</sup> That is, the Israelites which return from the captivity.

42:28 <sup>1</sup> When I looked whether the idols could do these things, I found that they had neither wisdom nor power to do anything: therefore he concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanities.

42:1 <sup>1</sup> That is, Christ, who in respect of his manhood is called here servant. The Prophets used to make mention of Christ after that they have declared any great promise, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are made and ratified.

<sup>2</sup> For I have committed all my power to him, as to a most faithful steward: Some read, I will establish him: to wit, in his office by giving him the fullness of my Spirit.

<sup>3</sup> He only is acceptable to me, and they that come unto me by him: for there is no other means of reconciliation, Matt. 12:18; Eph. 4:1.

my Spirit upon him: he shall bring forth <sup>4</sup>judgment to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not <sup>1</sup>cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A <sup>1</sup>bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking <sup>2</sup>flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment in <sup>3</sup>truth.

4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged till he have <sup>1</sup>set judgment in the earth: and the <sup>2</sup>isles shall wait for his Law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord (he that created the heavens and spread them abroad: he that stretched forth the earth, and the buds thereof: he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein)

6 I the Lord have called thee in <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and will hold <sup>2</sup>thine hand, and I will keep thee, and give thee for a <sup>3</sup>covenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkness, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my <sup>1</sup>glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

9 Behold, the former things are <sup>1</sup>come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, the isles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the towns that <sup>1</sup>Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing: let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The Lord shall go forth as a <sup>1</sup>giant; he shall stir up his courage like a man of war: he shall shout and cry, and shall prevail against his enemies.

14 I have a long time held my peace: I have been still and refrained myself; now will I cry like a <sup>1</sup>travailing woman: I will destroy and devour at once.

15 I will make waste mountains, and hills, and dry up all their herbs, and I will make the floods islands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 ¶ And I will bring the <sup>1</sup>blind by a way, that they knew not, and lead them by paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned back: they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Hear, ye deaf: and ye blind, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blind but my <sup>1</sup>servant? or deaf as my <sup>2</sup>messenger, that I sent? who is blind as the <sup>3</sup>perfect, and blind as the Lord's servant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not? opening the ears, but he heareth not?

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousness sake, that he may magnify the Law and exalt it.

22 But this people is <sup>1</sup>robbed and spoiled, and shall be all snared in dungeons, and they shall be hid in prison houses; they shall be for prey, and none shall deliver: a spoil, and none shall say, <sup>2</sup>Restore.

23 Who among you shall hearken to this, and take heed, and hear for <sup>1</sup>afterwards?

24 Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because we have sinned against him? for they would not walk in his ways, neither be obedient unto his Law.

42:1 <sup>4</sup> He shall declare himself governor over the Gentiles, and call them by his word, and rule them by his Spirit.

42:2 <sup>1</sup> His coming shall not be with pomp and noise, as earthly princes.

42:3 <sup>1</sup> He will not hurt the weak and feeble, but support and comfort them.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the wick of a lamp, or candle which is almost out, but he will cherish it and snuff it, that it may shine brighter.

<sup>3</sup> Although he favor the weak, yet will he not spare the wicked, but will judge them according to truth and equity.

42:4 <sup>1</sup> Till he have set all things in good order.

42:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, unto a lawful and just vocation.

<sup>3</sup> As him, by whom the promise made to all nations in Abraham shall be fulfilled.

42:8 <sup>1</sup> I will not suffer my glory to be diminished: which I should do if I were not faithful in performing the same, and the idolaters thereby would extol their idols above me.

42:9 <sup>1</sup> As in time past I have been true in my promises, so will I be in time to come.

42:11 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the Arabians, under whom he comprehendeth all the people of the East.

42:13 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the zeal of the Lord, and his power in the conservation of his Church.

42:14 <sup>1</sup> I will haste to execute my vengeance, which I have so long deferred as a woman that desireth to be delivered, when she is in travail.

42:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, my poor people, which are in perplexity and care.

42:19 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Israel, which should have most light because of my Law.

<sup>2</sup> The Priest to whom my word is committed, which should not only hear it himself, but cause others to hear it.

<sup>3</sup> As the Priests and Prophets that should be lights to others?

42:22 <sup>1</sup> Because they will not acknowledge this benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliver them, he suffereth them to be spoiled of their enemies through their own fault and incredulity.

<sup>2</sup> There shall be none to succor them, or to will the enemy to restore that which he hath spoiled.

42:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, God's wrath.

25 Therefore he hath poured upon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battle; and it set him on fire round about, and he knew not, and it burned him up, yet he considered not.

43 1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiseth deliverance to the Jews. 11 There is no God but one alone.

1 But now thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>that created thee, O Jacob: and he that formed thee, O Israel, <sup>2</sup>Fear not: for I have redeemed thee: I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the <sup>1</sup>waters, I will be with thee, and through the floods, that they do not overflow thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Savior: I gave <sup>1</sup>Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honorable, and I loved thee, therefore will I give <sup>1</sup>man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Fear not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the <sup>1</sup>East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Give: and to the South, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Everyone shall be called by my <sup>1</sup>Name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and they shall have eyes, and the deaf, and they shall have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered <sup>1</sup>together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and show us former things? let them bring forth their <sup>2</sup>witnesses, that they may be justifified: but let them <sup>3</sup>hear, and say, It is truth.

10 You <sup>1</sup>are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my <sup>2</sup>servant, whom I have chosen: therefore ye shall know and believe me, and ye shall understand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Savior.

12 I have declared, and I have saved, and I have showed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliver out of mine hand: I will do it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For your sake I have sent to Babel, and <sup>1</sup>brought it down: they are all fugitives, and the Chaldeans cry in <sup>2</sup>the ships.

15 I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in <sup>1</sup>the Sea, and a path in the mighty <sup>2</sup>waters.

17 When he <sup>1</sup>bringeth out the <sup>2</sup>chariot and horse, the army and the power lie together, and shall not rise, they are extinct, and quenched as tow.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Behold, I do a new thing: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will even make a way in the <sup>1</sup>desert, and floods in the wilderness.

20 The wild <sup>1</sup>beasts shall honor me, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gave water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to give drink to my people, even to mine elect.

21 This people have I formed for myself: they shall show forth my praise.

22 And thou hast not <sup>1</sup>called upon me, O Jacob,

43:1 <sup>1</sup> After these threatenings he promiseth deliverance to his Church, because he hath regenerated them, adopted them, and called them.

<sup>2</sup> When thou seest dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefit and the love of thy God, and it shall encourage thee.

43:2 <sup>1</sup> By water and fire he meaneth all kind of troubles and perils.

43:3 <sup>1</sup> I turned Sennacherib's power against these countries, and made them to suffer that affliction which thou shouldst have done, and so were as the payment of thy ransom, Isa. 37:9.

43:4 <sup>1</sup> I will not spare any man, rather than thou shouldst perish, for God more esteemeth one of his faithful than all the wicked in the world.

43:5 <sup>1</sup> He prophesieth of their deliverance from the captivity of Babylon, and so of the calling of the universal Church, alluding to that which is written, Deut. 30:3.

43:7 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he could not be unmindful of them, except he would neglect his own Name and glory.

43:9 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous work, nor all their idols are able to do the like, as Isa. 41:22.

<sup>2</sup> To prove that the things which are spoken of them, are true.

knowledge of the truth, because they will not hear when God speaketh by his word.

43:10 <sup>1</sup> The Prophets and people to whom I have given my Law.

43:14 <sup>1</sup> By Darius and Cyrus.

<sup>2</sup> They shall cry when they would escape by my water, seeing that the course of Euphrates is turned another way by the enemy.

43:16 <sup>1</sup> When he delivered Israel from Pharaoh, Exod. 14:22.

43:17 <sup>1</sup> When he delivered his people out of Egypt.

43:19 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that their deliverance out of Babylon should be more famous than that from Egypt was, Jer. 23:7; Hag. 2:10; 2 Cor. 5:17; Rev. 21:5, 7.

43:20 <sup>1</sup> They shall have such abundance of all things as they return home, even in the dry and barren places, that the very beasts shall feel my benefits, and shall acknowledge them: much more men ought to be thankful for the same.

43:22 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast not worshipped me as thou oughtest to have done.

but thou hast <sup>2</sup>wearied me, O Israel.

23 Thou <sup>1</sup>hast not brought me the sheep of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honored me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou broughtest me no sweet <sup>1</sup>savor with money, neither hast thou made me drunk with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me to <sup>2</sup>serve with thy sins, and wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I am he that putteth away thine iniquities for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins.

26 Put me in <sup>1</sup>remembrance: let us be judged together: count thou that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy <sup>1</sup>first father hath sinned, and thy <sup>2</sup>teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have <sup>1</sup>profaned the rulers of the Sanctuary, and have made Jacob a curse, and Israel a reproach.

1 Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed <sup>1</sup>thee from the womb: he will help thee. Fear not, O Jacob, my servant, and thou righteous <sup>2</sup>whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon the <sup>1</sup>thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thy buds.

4 And they <sup>1</sup>shall grow as among the grass, and as the willows by the rivers of waters.

5 One shall say, I am the Lord's: another <sup>1</sup>shall be called by the name of Jacob: and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and name himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hosts, <sup>1</sup>I am the first, and I am the last, and without me is there no God.

7 And who is like me, that shall <sup>1</sup>call and shall declare it, and set <sup>2</sup>it in order before me, since I appointed the <sup>3</sup>ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let <sup>4</sup>them show unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee of old, and have declared it? <sup>1</sup>you are even my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanity, and <sup>1</sup>their delectable things shall nothing profit: and they are their own witnesses, <sup>2</sup>that they see not nor know: therefore they shall be confounded.

10 Who hath made a <sup>1</sup>god, or molten an image, that is <sup>2</sup>profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all that are of the <sup>1</sup>fellowship thereof, shall be confounded: for the workmen themselves are men: let them all be gathered together, and <sup>2</sup>stand up, yet they shall fear, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms, yea, he is <sup>1</sup>an hungered, and his strength faileth, he drinketh no water, and is faint.

<sup>2</sup> Because thou hast not willingly received that which I did command thee, thou didst grieve me. Whereby he showeth that his mercies were the only cause of their deliverance, forasmuch as they had deserved the contrary.

43:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, in true faith and obedience.

43:24 <sup>1</sup> Either for the composition of the sweet ointment, Exod. 30:34, or for the sweet incense, Exod. 30:7.

<sup>2</sup> Thou hast made me to bear an heavy burden by thy sins.

43:26 <sup>1</sup> If I forget anything that may make for thy justification, put me in remembrance and speak for thyself.

43:27 <sup>1</sup> Thine ancestors.

43:28 <sup>1</sup> That is, rejected, abhorred, and destroyed them in the wilderness and at other times.

44:2 <sup>1</sup> He treated and chose thee from the beginning of his own mercy, and before thou couldst merit anything.

<sup>2</sup> Whom God accepteth as righteous: or which haddest occasion thereunto because of the Law, and of thine holy vocation.

44:3 <sup>1</sup> Because man of himself is as the dry and barren land, he promiseth to moisten him with the waters of his holy Spirit, Joel 2:28; John 7:38; Acts 2:17.

44:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, thy children and posterity shall increase wonderfully after their deliverance from Babylon.

44:5 <sup>1</sup> By this diversity of speech he meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shall be holy, and receive the true religion of God, as Ps. 87:5.

44:6 <sup>1</sup> I am always like myself, that is, merciful toward my Church, and most able to maintain it, as Isa. 41:4 and 48:12; Rev. 1:17 and 22:13.

44:7 <sup>1</sup> And appoint them that shall deliver the Church.

44:8 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 43:10.

44:9 <sup>1</sup> Whatsoever they bestow upon their idols, to make them to seem glorious.

<sup>2</sup> That is, the idolaters seeing their idols blind, most needs be witnesses of their own blindness, and feeling that they are not able to help them, must confess that they have no power.

44:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that whatsoever is made by the hand of man, if he be esteemed as God, is most detestable.

<sup>2</sup> Whereby appeareth their blasphemy, which call images the books of the laity, seeing that they are not only here called unprofitable, but Isa 41:24 abominable, and Jeremiah calleth them the work of errors, Jer. 10:15; Habakkuk, a lying teacher, Hab. 2:18.

44:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, which by any way consent either to the making or worshipping.

<sup>2</sup> Signifying, that the multitude shall not then save the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselves thereby among men.

44:12 <sup>1</sup> He describeth the raging affection of the idolaters, which forget their own necessities to set forth their devotion toward their idols.

13 The carpenter stretcheth forth a line, he fashioneth it with a red thread, he planeth it, and he portrayeth it with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beauty of a man, that it may remain in <sup>1</sup>an house.

14 He will hew him down cedars, and take the pine tree and the oak, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest; he planteth a fir tree, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof; for he will take thereof, and <sup>1</sup>warm himself: he also kindleth it, and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it an idol, and boweth unto it.

16 He burneth the half thereof even in the fire, and upon the half thereof he <sup>1</sup>eateth flesh; he roasteth the roast, and is satisfied; also he warmeth himself and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have been at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his idol; he boweth unto it, and worshippeth and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god.

18 They have not known, nor understood: <sup>1</sup>for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their heart, that they cannot understand.

19 And none <sup>1</sup>considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burnt half of it, even in the fire, and have baked bread also upon the coals thereof: I have roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bow to the stock of a tree?

20 He feedeth <sup>1</sup>of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceived him, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 <sup>1</sup>Remember these (O Jacob and Israel) for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I have put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy sins as a mist; turn unto me, for I have redeemed thee.

23 <sup>1</sup>Rejoice ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth; burst forth into praises, ye mountains, O forest and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the Lord that made all things, that spread out the heavens alone, and stretched out the earth by myself.

25 I destroy the <sup>1</sup>tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that conjecture, fools, and turn the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishness.

26 ¶ He confirmeth the word of his <sup>1</sup>servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers, saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built up, and I will repair the decayed places thereof.

27 He saith to the <sup>1</sup>deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy floods.

28 He saith to <sup>1</sup>Cyrus, Thou art my shepherd, and he shall perform all my desire: saying also to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built, and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely laid.

45 <sup>1</sup>The deliverance of the people by Cyrus. <sup>9</sup> God is just in all his works. <sup>20</sup> The calling of the Gentiles.

1 Thus saith the Lord unto <sup>1</sup>Cyrus his <sup>2</sup>anointed, whose right hand I have holden to <sup>3</sup>subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loins of kings, and open the doors before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee, and make the <sup>1</sup>crooked straight: I will break the brazen doors, and burst the iron bars.

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and the things hid in secret places, that thou mayest <sup>1</sup>know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, even the God of Israel.

44:13 <sup>1</sup> To place it in some Temple.

44:15 <sup>1</sup> He setteth forth the obstinacy and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by daily experience that their idols are no better than the rest of the matter whereof they are made, yet they refuse the one part, and make a god of the other, as the Papists make their cake god, and the rest of their idols.

44:16 <sup>1</sup> That is, he either maketh a table or trenchers.

44:18 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet giveth here an answer to all them that wonder how it is possible that any should be so blind to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts.

44:19 <sup>1</sup> Hebrew, turneth.

44:20 <sup>1</sup> He is abused as one that would eat ashes, thinking to satisfy his hunger.

44:21 <sup>1</sup> Showing that man's heart is most inclined to idolatry, and therefore he warneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleave to any but to the living God, when they should be among the idolaters.

44:23 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that the work of the Lord toward his people shall be so great, that the insensible creatures shall be moved therewith.

44:25 <sup>1</sup> He armeth them against the soothsayers of Babylon, which would have borne them in hand, that they knew by the stars, that God would not deliver them, and that Babylon should stand.

44:26 <sup>1</sup> Of Isaiah and the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of God's favor and deliverance.

44:27 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that God's work should be no less notable in this their deliverance, than when he brought them out of Egypt, through the sea.

44:28 <sup>1</sup> To assure them of their deliverance, he nameth the person by whom it should be, more than an hundred years before he was born.

45:1 <sup>1</sup> To assure the Jews of their deliverance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person and the means.

<sup>2</sup> Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliverer, God called him his anointed for a time, but after another sort than he called David.

<sup>3</sup> To guide him in the deliverance of my people.

45:2 <sup>1</sup> I will take away all impediments and lets.

45:3 <sup>1</sup> Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but he had a certain particular knowledge as profane men may have of his power, and so was compelled to deliver God's people.

4 For Jacob my servant's <sup>1</sup>sake, and Israel mine elect, I will even call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none other; there is no God besides me: I <sup>1</sup>girded thee, though thou hast not known me.

6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I form the <sup>1</sup>light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Ye heavens send the dew from above, and let the clouds drop down <sup>1</sup>righteousness: let the earth open, and let salvation and justice grow forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord have <sup>2</sup>created him.

9 <sup>1</sup>Woe be unto him that striveth with his maker, the potsherd with the potsherds of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, <sup>2</sup>It hath none hands?

10 Woe unto him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the only one of Israel, and his maker, Ask me <sup>1</sup>of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the works of mine hands: commend you me.

12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, whose hands have spread out the heavens, I have even commanded all their <sup>1</sup>army.

13 I have raised <sup>1</sup>him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for <sup>2</sup>price nor reward, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labor <sup>1</sup>of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabceans, men of stature shall come unto thee, and they shall be <sup>2</sup>thine: they shall follow thee, and shall go in chains: they shall fall down before thee, and make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verily, thou O God <sup>1</sup>hidest thyself, O God, the Savior of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For this saith the Lord (that created heaven, God himself that formed the earth, and made it: he that prepared it, he created it not in vain: he formed it to be <sup>1</sup>inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I have not spoken in secret, neither <sup>1</sup>in a place of darkness in the earth: I said not in vain unto the seed of Jacob, Seek you me: I the Lord do speak righteousness, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble yourselves, and come: draw near together, <sup>1</sup>ye abject of the Gentiles: they have no knowledge, that set up the wood of their idol, and pray unto a god, that cannot save them.

21 Tell ye and bring them, and let them take counsel together, who hath declared this from the beginning, or hath told it of old? Have not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside me, a just God, and a Savior: there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and ye shall be saved: all <sup>1</sup>the ends of the earth shall be saved: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I have sworn by myself: the word is gone out of my mouth in <sup>1</sup>righteousness, and shall not return, That every <sup>2</sup>knee shall bow unto me, and every tongue shall swear by me.

45:4 <sup>1</sup> Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthiness.

45:5 <sup>1</sup> I have given thee strength, power and authority.

45:7 <sup>1</sup> I send peace and war, prosperity and adversity, as Amos 3:6.

45:8 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth the Jews, as if he would say, Though when ye look to the heavens and earth for succor, ye see nothing now but signs of God's wrath, yet will cause them to bring forth most certain tokens of your deliverance, and of the performance of my promise: which is meant by righteousness.

45:9 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he brideth their impatience, which in adversity and trouble murmur against God, and will not tarry his pleasure: willing that man should match with his like, and not contend against God.

45:11 <sup>1</sup> Instead of murmuring, humble yourselves, and ask what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shall be sure of it, as ye are of these things which are at your commandment. Some read it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the similitude.

45:12 <sup>1</sup> That is, the stars.

45:13 <sup>1</sup> To wit, Cyrus, that I may show by him the faithfulness of my promise in delivering my people.

45:14 <sup>1</sup> These people were tributaries to the Persians, and so king Artaxerxes gave this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra 7:27.

<sup>2</sup> Whereas to fore they were thine enemies, they shall now honor thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ.

45:15 <sup>1</sup> Hereby he exhorteth the Jews to patience, though their deliverance be deferred for a time: showing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

45:18 <sup>1</sup> To wit, of men, but chiefly of his Church.

45:19 <sup>1</sup> As do the false gods, which give uncertain answers.

45:20 <sup>1</sup> All ye idolaters which though you seem to have never so much worldly dignity, yet in God's sight you are vile and abject.

45:22 <sup>1</sup> He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to look unto him with the eye of faith.

45:23 <sup>1</sup> That is, that the thing which I have promised shall be faithfully performed.

<sup>2</sup> The knowledge of God and the true worshipping shall be through all the world, Rom. 14:11; Phil. 2:10, whereby he signifieth that we must not only serve God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.

24 Surely <sup>1</sup>he shall say, In the Lord have I righteousness and strength: he shall come unto him, and all that <sup>2</sup>provoke him shall be ashamed.

25 The whole seed of Israel shall be justified, and glory in the Lord.

46 <sup>1</sup>The destruction of Babylon and of their idols. <sup>3</sup>He calleth the Jews to the consideration of his works.

1 Bel is bowed down: <sup>1</sup>Nebo is fallen: their idols were upon their <sup>2</sup>beasts, and upon the cattle: they which did bear you, were laden with a weary burden.

2 <sup>1</sup>They are bowed down, and fallen together, for they could not rid them of the burden, and their <sup>2</sup>soul is gone into captivity.

3 Hear ye me, O house of Jacob, and all that remain of the house of Israel, which are <sup>1</sup>born of me from the womb, and brought up of me from the birth.

4 Therefore unto <sup>1</sup>old age, I the same, even I will bear you until the hoary hairs: I have made you: I will also bear you, and I will carry you, and I will deliver you.

5 ¶ To whom will ye make me like, or make me equal, or <sup>1</sup>compare me that I should be like him?

6 They draw gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bow down and worship it.

7 They bear it upon the shoulders: they carry him and set him in his place: so doth he stand, and cannot remove from his place. Though one cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliver him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it again to <sup>1</sup>mind, O you transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning, and from of old: the things that were not done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do whatsoever I will.

11 I call a <sup>1</sup>bird from the East, and the man of my <sup>2</sup>counsel from far: as I have spoken, so will I bring it to pass: I have purposed it, and I will do it.

12 Hear me ye stubborn hearted, that are far from <sup>1</sup>justice.

13 I bring <sup>1</sup>near my justice: it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: for I will give salvation in Zion, and my glory unto Israel.

47 <sup>1</sup>The destruction of Babylon, and the causes wherefore.

1 Come down and sit in the dust: O <sup>1</sup>virgin, daughter Babel, sit on the ground: there is no <sup>2</sup>throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans; for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and <sup>1</sup>grind meal; loose thy locks: <sup>2</sup>make bare the feet: uncover the leg, and pass through the floods.

3 Thy filthiness shall be discovered, and thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a <sup>1</sup>man.

4 <sup>1</sup>Our redeemer, the Lord of hosts is his Name, the holy One of Israel.

5 <sup>1</sup>Sit still, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans; for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people: I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand, thou didst show them no <sup>1</sup>mercy, but thou didst lay thy very heavy yoke upon the ancient.

7 And thou saidest, I shall be a lady forever, so that thou didst not set thy mind to these things, neither 45:24 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the faithful shall feel and confess this.

46:1 <sup>1</sup> These were the chief idols of Babylon.

<sup>2</sup> Because they were of gold and silver, the Medes and Persians carried them away.

46:2 <sup>1</sup> The beasts that carried the idols, fell down under their burden.

46:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth the difference between the idols and the true God: for they must be carried of others, but God himself carrieth his, as Deut. 32:11.

46:4 <sup>1</sup> Seeing I have begotten you, I will nourish and preserve you forever.

46:5 <sup>1</sup> The people of God, setting their own calamity, and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to think that their God was not so mighty as the idols of their enemies: therefore he describeth the original of all the idols to make them to be abhorred of all men: showing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to prove them vile.

46:8 <sup>1</sup> Become wise, meaning, that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like mad men.

46:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as a bride, and fight against Babylon.

<sup>2</sup> Him by whom I have appointed to execute that which I have determined.

46:12 <sup>1</sup> Which by your incredulity would let the performance of my promise.

46:13 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that man's incredulity cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom. 3:3.

47:1 <sup>1</sup> Which hast lived in wealth and wantonness, and hast not yet been overcome by any enemy.

47:2 <sup>1</sup> Thou shalt be brought to most vile servitude: for to turn the mill was the office of slaves.

<sup>2</sup> The things wherein she setteth her greatest pride, shall be made vile, even from the head to the foot.

47:3 <sup>1</sup> I will use no humanity nor pity toward thee.

47:4 <sup>1</sup> The Israelites shall confess that the Lord doeth this for his Church's sake.

47:5 <sup>1</sup> For very shame, and hide thyself.

47:6 <sup>1</sup> They abused God's judgments, thinking that he punished the Israelites, because he would utterly cast them off, and therefore instead of pitying their misery, thou didst increase it.

didst thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now hear, thou that art given to pleasures, and dwellest careless, She saith in her heart, I am and none else: I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall know the loss of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee suddenly on one day, the loss of children and widowhood; they shall come upon thee in their <sup>1</sup>perfection, for the multitude of thy divinations, and for the great abundance of thine enchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness; thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy <sup>1</sup>wisdom and thy knowledge, they have caused thee to rebel, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof; destruction shall fall upon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come upon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine enchanters, and in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whom thou hast <sup>1</sup>wearied thyself from thy youth) if so be thou mayest have profit, or if so be thou mayest have strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the stargazers, and prognosticators stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver their own lives from the power of the flame: there shall be no coals <sup>1</sup>to warm at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shall they serve thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, even thy merchants from thy youth; every one shall wander to his own <sup>1</sup>quarters: none shall save thee.

48 1 The hypocrisy of the Jews is reproved. 12 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliver- ance out of Babylon.

1 Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are <sup>1</sup>called by the name of Israel, and are come out of <sup>2</sup>the waters of Judah: which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth nor in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy city, and stay themselves <sup>1</sup>upon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

3 I have declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, and I showed <sup>1</sup>them: I did them suddenly and they came to pass.

4 Because I knew that <sup>1</sup>thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass,

5 Therefore I have declared it to thee of old: before it came to pass, I showed <sup>1</sup>it thee, lest thou shouldst say, Mine idol hath done them, and my carved image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not ye <sup>1</sup>declare it? I have showed thee new things, even now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of old, and even before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldst say, Behold, I <sup>1</sup>knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither didst know them, neither yet was thine ear opened of old; for I knew that thou wouldest grievously transgress: therefore have I called thee a transgressor from the <sup>1</sup>womb.

9 For my Name's sake will I defer my wrath, and for my praise, will I refrain it from thee, <sup>1</sup>that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have fined thee, but <sup>1</sup>not as silver: I have <sup>2</sup>chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, for mine own sake will I do it; for how should my Name <sup>1</sup>be polluted? <sup>2</sup>surely I will not give my glory unto another.

12 Hear me, O Jacob and Israel, my called, <sup>1</sup>I am,

47:9 <sup>1</sup> So that thy punishment shall be so great, as is possible to be imagined.

47:10 <sup>1</sup> Thou didst think that thine own wisdom and policy would have saved thee.

47:12 <sup>1</sup> He derideth their vain confidence, that put their trust in anything but in God, condemning also such vain sciences, which serve to no use, but to delude the people, and to bring them from depending only on God.

47:14 <sup>1</sup> They shall utterly perish, and no part of them remain.

47:15 <sup>1</sup> They shall flee everyone to that place, which he thought by his speculations to be most sure: but that shall deceive them.

48:1 <sup>1</sup> He detecteth their hypocrisy which vaunteth themselves to be Israelites, and were not so indeed.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, the fountain and stock.

48:2 <sup>1</sup> They make a show, as though they would have none other God.

48:3 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that they could not accuse him in anything, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoever he had promised.

48:4 <sup>1</sup> I have done for thee more than I promised, that thy stubbornness and impudence might have been overcome.

48:5 <sup>1</sup> How thou shouldst be delivered out of Babylon.

48:6 <sup>1</sup> Will ye not acknowledge this my benefit, and declare it unto others?

48:7 <sup>1</sup> Showing that man's arrogance is the cause why God doth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their own wisdom.

48:8 <sup>1</sup> From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliverance was as the birth of the Church.

48:9 <sup>1</sup> As it was my free mercy that I did choose thee: so it is my free mercy that must save thee.

48:10 <sup>1</sup> For I had respect to thy weakness and infirmity: for in silver there is some pureness, but in us there is nothing but dross.

48:11 <sup>1</sup> God joineth the salvation of his with his own honor: so that they cannot perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32:27.

48:12 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 41:4.

I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call them, <sup>1</sup>they stand up together.

14 All you, assemble yourselves, and hear: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved <sup>1</sup>him, he will do his will in Babel, and his arm shall be against the Chaldeans.

15 I, even I have spoken it, and I have called him, I have brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come near unto me: hear ye this: I have not spoken it in secret from the <sup>1</sup>beginning: from the time that the thing was. I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath <sup>2</sup>sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee <sup>1</sup>to profit, and lead thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

18 Oh, that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy prosperity been as the flood, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea.

19 Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the fruit of thy body like the gravel thereof: his <sup>1</sup>name should not have been cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 <sup>1</sup>Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Chaldeans with a voice of joy: tell and declare this: show it forth to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they <sup>1</sup>were not thirsty: he led them through the wilderness: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: for he clave the rock and the water gushed out.

22 There is no <sup>1</sup>peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

49 <sup>1</sup>The Lord God exhorteth all nations to believe his promises. <sup>6</sup>Christ is the salvation of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyranny of their enemies.

1 Hear ye me, O isles, and hearken, ye people from far. The Lord hath called <sup>1</sup>me from <sup>2</sup>the womb, and made mention of my name from my mother's belly.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp <sup>1</sup>sword: under the shadow of his hand hath he <sup>2</sup>hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quiver,

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant <sup>1</sup>Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I have <sup>1</sup>labored in vain: I have spent my strength in vain and for nothing; but my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

5 And now saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, that I may bring Jacob again to him (though Israel be not gathered, <sup>1</sup>yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord; and my God shall be my strength.)

6 And he said, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also give <sup>1</sup>thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the world.

7 Thus saith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his holy One, to him that is despised in soul, to a nation that is abhorred, to a <sup>1</sup>servant of rulers, Kings shall see, and <sup>2</sup>arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the holy One of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and will give <sup>2</sup>thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayest raise up the <sup>3</sup>earth, and obtain the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

48:13 <sup>1</sup>To obey me, and to do whatsoever I command them.

48:14 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, Cyrus, whom he had chosen to destroy Babylon.

48:16 <sup>1</sup>Since the time that I declared myself to your fathers.

48:17 <sup>1</sup>What things shall do thee good.

48:19 <sup>1</sup>That is, the prosperous estate of Israel.

48:20 <sup>1</sup>After that he had forewarned them of their captivity, and of the cause thereof, he showeth them the great joy that shall come of their deliverance.

48:21 <sup>1</sup>He showeth that it shall be as easy to deliver them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt.

48:22 <sup>1</sup>Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse God's promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as Isa. 57:21.

49:1 <sup>1</sup>This is spoken in the person of Christ, to assure the faithful that these promises should come to pass: for they were all made in him, and in him should be performed.

<sup>2</sup>This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Ps. 2:7.

49:2 <sup>1</sup>By the sword and shaft, he signifyeth the virtue and efficacy of Christ's doctrine.

<sup>2</sup>God hath taken me to his protection and defense: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.

49:3 <sup>1</sup>By Israel is meant Christ, and all the body of the faithful, as the members, and their head.

49:4 <sup>1</sup>Thus Christ in his members complaineth, that his labor and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God.

49:5 <sup>1</sup>Though the Jews refuse my doctrine, yet God will approve my ministry.

49:6 <sup>1</sup>To declare my Gospel, to the Gentiles, Isa. 42:6; Acts 13:47; Luke 2:32.

49:7 <sup>1</sup>Meaning, the Jews, whom tyrants kept in bondage.

<sup>2</sup>The benefit of their deliverance shall be so great, that great and small shall acknowledge it, and reverence God for it.

49:8 <sup>1</sup>Thus he speaketh of his Church when he would show his mercy toward it, 2 Cor. 6:2.

<sup>3</sup>Signifying, that before Christ renew the earth by his word, there is nothing but confusion and disorder.

9 That thou mayest say to the <sup>1</sup>prisoners, Go forth; and to them that are in darkness, Show yourselves; they shall feed in the ways, and their <sup>2</sup>pastures shall be in all the tops of the hills.

10 They shall not be hungry, neither shall they be thirsty, neither shall the heat smite them, nor the sun, for he that hath compassion <sup>1</sup>on them, shall lead them; even to the springs of water shall he drive them.

11 And I will make all my mountains, as a way, and my paths shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and lo, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of <sup>1</sup>Sinim.

13 Rejoice, O <sup>1</sup>heavens; and be joyful, O earth; burst forth into praise, O mountains; for God hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The Lord hath <sup>1</sup>forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, and not have compassion on the son of her womb? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palm of mine <sup>1</sup>hands: thy <sup>2</sup>walls are ever in my sight.

17 Thy builders make <sup>1</sup>haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift up thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely <sup>1</sup>put them all upon thee as a garment, and gird thyself with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that dwell devour thee, shall be far away.

20 The children of thy barrenness shall say again in thine ears, The place is strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captive and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the <sup>1</sup>Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sons in their arms: and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And Kings <sup>1</sup>shall be thy nursing fathers, and Queens shall be thy nurses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick up the <sup>2</sup>dust of thy feet: and thou shalt know that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

24 Shall the prey be <sup>1</sup>taken from the mighty? or the just captivity delivered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, <sup>1</sup>Even the captivity of the mighty shall be taken away: and the prey of the tyrant shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children,

26 And will feed them that spoil thee, with <sup>1</sup>their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine; and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Savior and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

50 <sup>1</sup>The Jews forsaken for a time. <sup>2</sup>Yet the power of God is not diminished. <sup>5</sup>Christ's obedience and victory.

1 Thus saith the Lord, Where is that <sup>1</sup>bill of your mother's divorcement, <sup>2</sup>whom I have cast off? or who is the creditor <sup>3</sup>to whom I sold you? Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

49:9 <sup>1</sup> To them that are in the prison of sin and death.

<sup>2</sup> Being in Christ's protection, they shall be safe against all dangers, and free from the fear of the enemies.

49:10 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that there should be nothing in their way from Babylon that should hinder or hurt them: but this is accomplished spiritually.

49:12 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the South country, so that Christ shall deliver his from all the parts of the world.

49:13 <sup>1</sup> Read Isa. 44:23.

49:14 <sup>1</sup> He objecteth what the faithful might say in their long affliction, and answereth thereunto to comfort them, with a most proper similitude, and full of consolation.

49:16 <sup>1</sup> Because I would not forget thee.

49:17 <sup>1</sup> I have continual care to build thee up again, and to destroy thine enemies.

49:18 <sup>1</sup> He showeth what are the ornaments of the Church: to have many children, which are assembled by the word of God, and governed by his Spirit.

49:22 <sup>1</sup> He showeth that Christ will not only gather this great number of the Jews, but also of the Gentiles.

49:23 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that Kings shall be converted to the Gospel, and bestow their power and authority for the preservation of the Church.

<sup>2</sup> Being joined with the Church, they shall humble themselves to Christ their head, and give him all honor.

49:24 <sup>1</sup> He maketh this as an objection, as though the Chaldeans were strong, and had them in just possession.

49:25 <sup>1</sup> This is the answer to their objection, that none is stronger than the Lord, neither hath a more just title unto them.

49:26 <sup>1</sup> I will cause them to destroy one another, as Judg. 7:22; 2 Chron. 20:22; Isa. 19:2.

50:1 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, that he hath not forsaken her, but through her own occasion, as Hos. 2:2.

<sup>2</sup> Which should declare that I have cut her off: meaning, that they could show none.

<sup>3</sup> Signifying, that he sold them not for any debt or poverty, but that they sold themselves to sins to buy their own lusts and pleasures.

2 <sup>1</sup>Wherefore came I, and there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so <sup>2</sup>shortened, that it cannot help? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea: I make the floods desert; their fish rotteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with darkness, and make a <sup>1</sup>sack their covering.

4 The Lord God hath given <sup>1</sup>me a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is <sup>2</sup>weary; he will raise me up in the morning, in the morning he will waken mine ear to hear, <sup>3</sup>as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned I back.

6 I gave my back unto the <sup>1</sup>smiters, and my cheeks to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will help me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is near that justifieth me: who will contend with me? Let us stand together? who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will help me: who is he that can condemn me? lo, they shall wax old as a garment: the moth shall eat them up.

10 <sup>1</sup>Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him hear the voice of his servant: he that walketh in darkness and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all you kindle <sup>1</sup>a fire, and are compassed about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand: ye shall lie down in sorrow.

51 <sup>1</sup>To trust in God alone by Abraham's example. <sup>7</sup>Not to fear men. <sup>17</sup>The great affliction of Jerusalem, <sup>22</sup>and her deliverance.

1 Hear me <sup>1</sup>ye that follow after righteousness, and ye that seek the Lord: look unto the <sup>2</sup>rock, whence you are hewn, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are dug.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert <sup>1</sup>like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: joy and gladness shall be found therein: praise, and the voice of singing.

4 Hearken ye unto me my people, and give ear unto me, O my people: for a <sup>1</sup>Law shall proceed from me, and I will bring forth my judgment for the light of the people.

5 My <sup>1</sup>righteousness is near: my salvation goeth forth, and mine <sup>2</sup>arm shall judge the people: the isles shall wait for me, and shall trust unto mine arm.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the <sup>1</sup>heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my salvation shall be forever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken unto me ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Law. Fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wood: but my righteousness shall be forever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

9 Rise up, Rise up, and put on strength, O arm of the Lord: rise up as <sup>1</sup>in the old time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut <sup>2</sup>Rahab, and wounded the <sup>3</sup>dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, even the waters of the great deep, making the 50:2 <sup>1</sup>He came by his Prophets and ministers, but they would not believe their doctrine and convert.

<sup>2</sup>Am I not able to help you, as I have helped your fathers of old, when I dried up the red Sea, and killed the fish in the rivers, and also afterward in Jordan?

50:3 <sup>1</sup>As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure, Exod. 10:21.

50:4 <sup>1</sup>The Prophet doth represent here the person and charge of them that are justly called to the ministry of God's word.

<sup>2</sup>To him that is oppressed by affliction and misery.

<sup>3</sup>As they that are taught, and made meet by him.

50:6 <sup>1</sup>I did not shrink from God for any persecution or calamity. Whereby he showeth that the true ministers of God can look for none other recompense of the wicked, but after this sort, and also what is their comfort.

50:10 <sup>1</sup>Showing that it is a rare thing that any should obey aright God's true ministers, though they labor to bring them from hell to heaven.

50:11 <sup>1</sup>You have sought consolation by your own devices, and have refused the light, and consolation which God hath offered: therefore ye shall remain in sorrow, and not be comforted.

51:1 <sup>1</sup>He comforteth the Church, that they should not be discouraged for their small number.

<sup>2</sup>That is, to Abraham, of whom ye were begotten, and to Sarah, of whom we were born.

51:3 <sup>1</sup>As plentiful as Paradise, Gen. 2:8.

51:4 <sup>1</sup>I will rule and govern my Church by my word and doctrine.

51:5 <sup>1</sup>The time that I will accomplish my promise.

51:6 <sup>1</sup>He forewarneth them of the horrible changes and mutations of all things, and how he will preserve his church in the midst of all these dangers.

51:9 <sup>1</sup>He putteth them in remembrance of his great benefit for their deliverance out of Egypt, that thereby they might learn to trust in him constantly.

depth of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall <sup>1</sup>return, and come with joy unto Zion, and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain joy and gladness: and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I am he that comfort you. Who art thou that thou shouldst fear a mortal man, and the son of man, which shall be made as grass?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressor, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressor?

14 The captive <sup>1</sup>hasteneth to be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that divided the sea, when his waves roared: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

16 And I have put my words in thy <sup>1</sup>mouth, and have defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the <sup>2</sup>heavens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the <sup>1</sup>cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all her sons, whom she hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.

19 These two <sup>1</sup>things are come unto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction and famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sons have fainted, and lie at the head of all the streets as a wild bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore hear now this, thou miserable and drunken, but <sup>1</sup>not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, even God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drink it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoil thee, which have said to thy soul, Bow down that we may go over, and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the streets to them that went over.

52 <sup>1</sup> A consolation to the people of God. <sup>7</sup> Of the messengers thereof.

1 Arise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beauty, O Jerusalem, the holy City: for henceforth there shall no <sup>1</sup>more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the <sup>1</sup>dust, arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose the bands of thy neck, O thou captive daughter Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye were sold for <sup>1</sup>naught; therefore shall ye be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went <sup>1</sup>down afore time into Egypt to sojourn there, and Assyria <sup>2</sup>oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for naught, and they that rule over them, make them to howl, saith the Lord? and my Name all the day continually is <sup>1</sup>blasphemed?

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day, that I am he that do speak: behold, it is I.

7 How <sup>1</sup>beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him, that declareth and publisheth peace! that declareth good tidings, and publisheth salvation, saying unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 <sup>1</sup>The voice of thy watchmen shall be heard: they shall lift up their voice, and shout together: for they 51:11 <sup>1</sup> From Babylon.

51:14 <sup>1</sup> He comforteth them by the short time of their banishment: for in seventy years they were restored, and the greatest empire of the world destroyed.

51:16 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, of Isaiah, and of all true ministers, who are defended by his protection.

<sup>2</sup> That all things may be restored in heaven and earth, Eph. 1:10.

51:17 <sup>1</sup> Thou hast been justly punished and sufficiently as Isa. 40:2, and this punishment in the elect is by measure, and according as God giveth grace to bear it: but in the reprobate it is the just vengeance of God to drive them to an insensibleness and madness, as Jer. 25:15, 16.

51:19 <sup>1</sup> Whereof the one is outward, as of the things that come to the body, as war, and famine, and the other is inward, and appertaineth to the mind: that is, to be without comfort: therefore he saith, How shalt thou be comforted?

51:21 <sup>1</sup> But with trouble and fear.

52:1 <sup>1</sup> No wicked tyrant, which shall subvert God's true religion, and oppress the conscience.

52:2 <sup>1</sup> Put off the garments of sorrow and heaviness, and put on the apparel of joy and gladness.

52:3 <sup>1</sup> The Babylonians paid nothing to me for you: therefore I will take you again without ransom.

52:4 <sup>1</sup> When Jacob went thither in time of famine.

<sup>2</sup> The Egyptians might pretend some cause to oppress my people because they went thither, and remained among them, but the Assyrians have no title to excuse their tyranny by, and therefore will I punish them more than I did the Egyptians.

52:5 <sup>1</sup> To wit, by the wicked, which think that I have no power to deliver them.

52:7 <sup>1</sup> Signifying, that the joy and good tidings of their deliverance should make their affliction in the mean time more easy: but this is chiefly meant of the spiritual joy, as Nah. 1:15; Rom. 10:15.

52:8 <sup>1</sup> The Prophets which are thy watchmen shall publish this thy deliverance: this was begun under Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah, but was accomplished under Christ.

shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion.

9 O ye desolate places of Jerusalem, be glad and rejoice together, for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The Lord hath made <sup>1</sup>bare his holy arm in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 <sup>1</sup>Depart, depart ye: go ye out from thence, and touch no unclean thing, go out of the midst of her, be ye clean, that <sup>2</sup>bear the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not go out <sup>1</sup>with haste, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel will gather you together.

13 Behold, my <sup>1</sup>servant shall prosper: he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee (his visage was so <sup>1</sup>deformed of men, and his form of the sons of men) so <sup>2</sup>shall he sprinkle many nations: the Kings shall shut their <sup>3</sup>mouths at him: for that which had not been told them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard shall they <sup>4</sup>understand.

53 <sup>1</sup> Of Christ and his kingdom, whose word few will believe. <sup>6</sup> All men are sinners. <sup>11</sup> Christ is our righteousness, <sup>12</sup> and is dead for our sins.

1 Who <sup>1</sup>will believe our report? and to whom is the <sup>2</sup>arm of the Lord revealed?

2 But he shall grow up before him as a branch, and as a <sup>1</sup>root out of a dry <sup>2</sup>ground; he hath neither form nor beauty: when we shall see him, there shall be no form that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men: he is a man full of sorrows, and hath experience of <sup>1</sup>infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely, he hath born our infirmities, and carried <sup>1</sup>our sorrows, yet we did judge him as <sup>2</sup>plagued and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions: he was broken for our iniquities: the <sup>1</sup>chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes are we healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath laid upon him the <sup>1</sup>iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet did he not <sup>1</sup>open his mouth: he is brought as a sheep to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearer is dumb, so he opened not his mouth.

8 He was taken out from <sup>1</sup>prison, and from judgment: <sup>2</sup>and who shall declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 <sup>1</sup>And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickedness, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would break him and make him subject to infirmities: when <sup>1</sup>he shall make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed and shall prolong his days, and the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see of the <sup>1</sup>travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied; by his knowledge shall my <sup>2</sup>righteous servant justify many: for he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I give him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because <sup>1</sup>he hath poured out his soul unto death; and 52:10 <sup>1</sup> As ready to smite his enemies, and to deliver his people.

52:11 <sup>1</sup> He warneth the faithful not to pollute themselves with the superstitions of the Babylonians, as Isa. 48:20; 2 Cor. 6:17.

<sup>2</sup> For the time is at hand that the Priests and Levites chiefly (and so by them all the people, which shall be as the Levites in this office) shall carry home vessels of the Temple which Nebuchadnezzar had taken away.

52:12 <sup>1</sup> As your fathers did out of Egypt.

52:13 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, Christ, by whom our spiritual deliverance should be wrought, whereof this was a figure.

52:14 <sup>1</sup> In the corrupt judgment of man, Christ in his person was not esteemed.

<sup>2</sup> He shall spread his word through many nations.

53:1 <sup>1</sup> The Prophet showeth that very few shall receive this their preaching of Christ, and of their deliverance by him, John 12:38; Rom. 10:16.

<sup>2</sup> Meaning, that none can believe, but whose hearts God toucheth with the virtue of his holy Spirit.

53:2 <sup>1</sup> The beginning of Christ's kingdom shall be small and contemptible in the sight of man, but it shall grow wonderfully, and flourish before God.

53:3 <sup>1</sup> Which was by God's singular providence for the comfort of sinners, Heb. 4:15.

53:4 <sup>1</sup> That is, the punishment due to our sins: for the which he hath both suffered and made satisfaction, Matt. 8:17; 1 Pet. 2:24.

<sup>2</sup> We judgeth evil, thinking that he was punished for his own sins, and not for ours.

53:5 <sup>1</sup> He was chastised for our reconciliation, 1 Cor. 15:3.

53:6 <sup>1</sup> Meaning, the punishment of our iniquity, and not the fault itself.

53:7 <sup>1</sup> But willingly and patiently obeyed his father's appointment, Matt. 26:63; Acts 8:32.

53:8 <sup>1</sup> From the cross and grave, after that he was condemned.

<sup>2</sup> Though he died for sin, yet after his resurrection he shall live forever and this his death is to restore life to his members, Rom. 6:9.

53:9 <sup>1</sup> God the Father delivered him into the hands of the wicked, and to the powers of the world to do with him what they would.

53:10 <sup>1</sup> Christ by offering up himself shall give life to his Church, and so cause them to live with him forever.

53:11 <sup>1</sup> That is, the fruit and effect of his labor, which is the salvation of his Church.

<sup>2</sup> Christ shall justify by faith through his word, whereas Moses could not justify by the law.

53:12 <sup>1</sup> Because he humbled himself, therefore he shall be extolled to glory, Phil. 2:7-12.

he was counted with the transgressors, and he bare the sin<sup>2</sup> of many, and prayed for the trespassers.

54 1 More of the Gentiles shall believe the Gospel than of the Jews. 7 God leaveth his for a time, to whom afterward he showeth mercy.

1 Rejoice, O <sup>1</sup>barren that didst not bear: break forth into joy and rejoice, thou that didst not travail with child; for the <sup>2</sup>desolate hath more children than the married wife, saith the Lord.

2 <sup>1</sup>Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtains of thine habitations: spare not: stretch out thy cords, and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seed shall possess the Gentiles, and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Fear not: for thou shalt not be ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not be put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy <sup>1</sup>youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy <sup>2</sup>widowhood anymore.

5 For he that <sup>1</sup>made thee, is thine husband, (whose name is the Lord of hosts) and thy redeemer the holy One of Israel, shall be called the God of the whole <sup>2</sup>world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a <sup>1</sup>young wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a little while have I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a little season, but with everlasting mercy have I had compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is unto me as the <sup>1</sup>waters of Noah; for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.
